Everclear Members Charged With Fan Assault

EVERCLEAR MEMBERS HAVE reportedly denied a 17-year-old girl's accusations of assault at their concert at the Austin Music Hall in Texas July 31st. According to the Austin American-Statesman newspaper, warrants were issued for frontman Art Alexakis, 37, and backup guitarist Brian Lehfeltd, 32, after the minor filed assault charges August 6th in Austin Municipal Court. She claimed Lehfeltd kicked her and Alexakis hit her with a water bottle he had thrown.

Alexakis was charged with assault by contact and Lehfeltd faces a more serious charge of assault with injury.

A statement, which was released August 10th and attributed to the entire band, reportedly said the group was hit with objects from the 1,000-strong crowd during its If You Don't Know, You Do 't Go concert. After a cup of liquid hit Alexakis in the face, the group left the stage. Then, the girl admitted she threw the cup and was escorted from the venue.

IT'S A NICE DAY for a white wedding at Woodstock '99 as Epic Records senior veep Vince Bannon removes the garter from Metropolitan Entertainment Group's leggy, construction boot-wearing Debra Rathwell July 25th. The wannabe bride showed up shotgun-style in one of her former wedding gowns determined to see Bannon make good on his word to marry her if his label was granted the rights to Woodstock's double album. The marriage was a joke but the record deal was real.

"As she neared the stage, she started screaming, cursing, and spitting at Art and the band," the document stated. At that point, a member of its road crew poured water on her. She grabbed his leg, attempting to pull him off the stage. He pulled free, shoving her away. She was ejected from the premises, and the police questioned the band and determined no injury had occurred.

The teen's lawyer, Glynn Turquand, reportedly agreed his client was escorted out and said she was not hospitalized. However,

FORMER TEEN IDOL Leif Garrett performs with his band, Godspeed, at the Rhino Retrofest August 14th. His appearance outside the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium in Southern California came two days after he pleaded guilty to one charge of drug possession. Garrett, 37, has been ordered to participate in a two-year drug rehab program for first-time offenders. He was able to play at the three-day nostalgia fest organized by Rhino Records after posting $10,000 bail.

he supposedly laughed at the band's denial August 11th, saying, "I have at least a dozen witnesses who will contradict that story."

According to the Statesman, witnesses told police Alexakis threw a fit after being hit by a plastic cup, which was among several objects thrown by the concert-goers. They said he called the crowd "redneck." Then, security guards dragged the girl to the stage and accused her of throwing the cup.

"He was saying how he was going to beat the person down. ... I couldn't believe they did it to the girl," concert-goer Abbe Carter, 18, said.

"The singer and guitarist confronted the person they thought was responsible for throwing the drink," said Austin Police Department spokesperson Kevin Buchman in the Statesman. "The victim in this case did not throw anything. ... After investigating the incident and doing interviews, we determined that charges were warranted and those charges were made."

According to reports, bond was set at $6,500 for Lehfeldt and no bond was set for Alexakis. The frontman is scheduled to appear in court August 24th, where he will face a fine of up to $475; no court data was available regarding Lehfeldt.

Motley Rant Gets Sixx Arrested

MOTLEY CRUE BASSIST Nikki Sixx was jailed August 10th after Las Vegas police accused him of encouraging violence during a concert. He was booked on a charge of provoking a breach of the peace at the Mandalay Bay Event Center.

Pros On The Move

Metropolitan Entertainment artist manager Rob Kos is rumored to be leaving the company to become senior VP of international marketing for Epic Records Group. That would be right up his alley since he's also been head of Metropolitan's international operations. Neither company would confirm if and when Kos will make the move.

Ricochet drummer and co-founder Jeff Bryant has left the band after a long battle with carpal tunnel syndrome (an ailment that affects the hands and arms). He was recently advised by doctors to have surgery immediately to prevent further damage. Bryant has since taken a position as national director of operations for Movie Music Inc., which manufactures and places CD vending machines in movie theatres.

Joel Ralph has tried to retire from the events business more than once, but just can't tear himself away. He has agreed to return to become the First Union Center's project manager for the Republican National Convention in Philadelphia next August. Ralph retired in 1998 after helping to open the CoreStates Center, which is now the First Union Center. Before that, he was SMG's COO in charge of 40 facilities in the U.S. and Europe.

Steve Tipp has been named GM of Kneeling Elephant Records, where he will oversee day-to-day operations. The label is operated by ARTISTdirect in a co-venture with RCA Records. Tipp most recently served as senior VP promotion for Reprise Records. ARTISTdirect has also recently named Allan Kass VP of sales, in charge of overseeing all aspects of the company's online advertising and sponsorship sales campaigns. Kass was formerly VP of sales at Turner Sports.

Production Resource Group has named Anne Valentino VP of marketing for its Lighting Group. Valentino will direct the marketing efforts for all of the PRG lighting companies, including Production Arts, Light and Sound Design, Cinema Services, Vanco and Production Lighting Systems. Valentino was most recently director of marketing for Vari-Lite International.

"The fking cops won't let us be fking Motley Crue!" Sixx told the audience, according to police reports. "If they don't like it, we can start flipping over cop cars like we did a couple of years ago."

Las Vegas Police Lt. Richard Alba said the crowd of 8,000 began to get violent, trying to pick up and throw connected folded chairs. A Mandalay Bay spokesperson said no damage was reported.

When police went to arrest Sixx after the show, three crew members tried to interfere and wound up getting arrested themselves. Sixx spent the night in jail on the breach of peace charge and was released on $200 bail.

Alba said police had met with the band's management in order to avoid the problems the Crue experienced in past Las Vegas visits. During a 1997 performance at the Aladdin Theatre, a fight erupted and singer Vince Neil was punched in the face.

In other Motley legal news, lead singer Vince Neil is suing Rocketdyne over the mysterious cancer death of his daughter. The multimillion dollar lawsuit claims Rocketdyne deliberately dumped toxic materials at its rocket engine test site on the property adjacent to Neil's former Simi Valley, Calif., home. That site also once housed 10 nuclear reactors.

Four-year-old Skylar Neil died in 1995 of a rare liver cancer.

There were several accidents at the site, including a partial fuel meltdown in 1959. Nuclear research was halted in 1989 but last month, state health officials announced plans to remove 3,200 cubic yards of contaminated soil from the Rocketdyne fuel lab.

NetAid Concerts

PLANS ARE UNDER WAY FOR an international concert event à la Live Aid. A slew of is seeking two assistants for its New York office. Spanish language skills a must, Portuguese a plus. Concert industry experience is necessary for the more senior position; the junior is entry level. Microsoft Word and Excel skills a must.

international hit-makers will perform during NetAid, a fund-raising initiative created by Internet technology giant Cisco Systems and the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP). NetAid is a long-term project developed to end the growing problem of extreme poverty.

Three overlapping NetAid concerts will be held October 9th at Giants Stadium in New Jersey, Wembley Stadium in London and Palais des Nations in Geneva, Switzerland. Among the artists scheduled to appear are Bono with Wyclef Jean, Celine Dion, Bush, Robbie Williams, Pete Dinklage, Eurythmics, George Michael, The Corrs, Jewel, Jimmy Page, Counting Crows, and Michael Kamen and Orchestra.

The lineups for the specific sites have not been announced. More details on the London show were expected late last week. Tickets for the London concert go on sale August 24th and on September 8th for the New York-area concert. The Geneva concert is by invitation only.

Among those involved in producing or financing NetAid are Harvey Goldsmith, Ken Kragen, Cisco Systems, KPMG and Real Networks.

NetAid is going several steps beyond television in its broadcast efforts. VH1 and MTV will air the concerts in the U.S., and BBC television and radio will carry them in the U.K. Radio and TV feeds will also be available to other countries.

The big difference between NetAid and previous mammoth benefit concerts comes courtesy of the Internet. The entire event will be webcast live on two channels – one carrying the concerts and the other showing backstage scenes. The www.netaid.org site launches on September 8th and will continue indefinitely after the concerts. The site will be able to handle 125,000 simultaneous live streams, about 10 times what most other streaming sites can manage. The cybercast will be supported by 1,500 servers in more than 90 locations around the world.

The integration of the webcast, TV and radio is designed to give audiences the ability to “choose their own means to fight extreme poverty,” according to NetAid. Proceeds from the concerts will be earmarked to help the refugees of Kosovo and needy African countries.

Counterfeit Tickets On The Increase

THE GORGE AMPHITHEATER in Washington is warning its customers about increasing incidents of counterfeit tickets at its sold-out events.

The problems are similar to those operator Universal Concerts is facing at Atlanta's Lakewood Amphitheatre. Gorge officials have taken steps to warn consumers about buying tickets from unauthorized sources. These include teaming with local law enforcement agencies and Ticketmaster to stop counterfeit-wielding scalpers, as well as asking media outlets to warn patrons.

Venue GM Bill Parsons told POLLSTAR that multiple arrests were made at recent Shania Twain and Summer Jam concerts. On the downside, though, hundreds of patrons with counterfeit tickets have been turned away at shows including OZZfest and Dave Matthews Band.

In a July 22nd statement, Gorge officials acknowledged that the problem is ongoing. “Some of these operators have been arrested, but there is fear other operations still exist.”

Among other concerns noted by shed officials, counterfeiting creates a public-safety issue when attendance exceeds capacity. “The addition of hundreds of patrons holding illegal tickets would ... jeopardize the safety and enjoyment of shows for our bona fide ticket patrons.”

Ticket takers at the Gorge distinguish the real tickets from the fakes by feeling the paper stock and looking for other discrepancies, Parsons said. However, the venue warned, “The reproductive quality of these fraudulent tickets is excellent and often not noticeable to the deceived ticket buyer.”

Police are making progress in stemming the tide of counterfeit ticketing operations. In Seattle, Parsons said, police arrested a printing company employee, who duplicated tickets to OZZfest. Authorities in Milwaukee are charging Marcus D. Leonard with felony forgery for allegedly selling bogus tickets to the African World Festival.

At the Lakewood shed, venue officials and local police have netted seven arrests for counterfeit ticketing. More than 1,500 fake ducats have turned up at recent sold-out shows at the venue.

In New York, Madison Square Garden exec Joel Peresman told POLLSTAR that counterfeiting has been an ongoing problem at many of the arena's high-demand events. However, he said he hasn't noticed an increase in incidents.

Observers agree that the only way for consumers to avoid getting burned by scalpers selling fake tickets is to make purchases at authorized outlets.

A Ticketmaster spokesperson said, "When consumers elect to purchase tickets from a reseller, it clearly becomes a buyer-beware concern."

Weiland Jailed

STONE TEMPLE PILOTS frontman Scott Weiland may spend a year in prison after his latest brush with the law. The troubled singer acknowledged in a Los Angeles Superior Court August 13th that he had violated his probation by using heroin.

It was his second admission of parole violation in two months.

Judge Larry Paul Fidler refused a defense request to send Weiland to a court-ordered drug program because the rocker has a history of disappearing from residential treatment centers. The judge instead ordered him to the Los Angeles County Men's Central Jail "to show him that this will not be tolerated ... [and] to help him make up his mind to stop killing himself."

Weiland has been in and out of court since 1995, when he was arrested for possession of heroin and cocaine in Pasadena. In 1997, he was convicted of possessing a small amount of heroin and finished a 90-day drug treatment program the following year. This June, he admitted to violating his probation and was allowed to enter a residential drug treatment program. He was kicked out of that facility during the July 4th weekend and quickly overdosed on heroin.

Deputy District Attorney Norm Montrose told the press that "Mr. Weiland came to the courthouse in a limousine and left in a sheriff's van. The judge warned him last time that he was going to spend a year in jail. ..."

Short Items Of Note

Spin Doctors lead singer Chris Barron has been diagnosed with a rare paralysis of his vocal cords, according to Universal Records. Doctors have indicated that he may never gain full use of his voice. Presently, he cannot speak above a whisper, thus all promotional activities for the band have been put on hold. The Spin Doctors recently released their first studio album in more than three years.

SFX Entertainment announced last week that it was offering 7.5 million shares of Class A common stock at $41 per share. The offering is being made through a group of underwriters led by Bear, Stearns and Lehman Brothers. The offering was scheduled to end on or around August 23rd. The entertainment giant plans to use the proceeds from the offering to finance acquisitions as well as pay fees and expenses in connection with future acquisitions.

Mannheim Steamroller mastermind Chip Davis has been given the green light for his proposed Nebraska amphitheatre—again. The Cass County Planning Commission has recommended approval of zoning changes to allow the amphitheatre complex to go forward. The $35 million, 174-acre project near Mahoney State Park won zoning approval last year, but as a single entity. Now, the commission has recommended approval of a conditional-use permit for the shed and another for a children's music camp.

Country legend Sheb Wooley was in a Nashville hospital last week receiving treatment for pneumonia, a bronchial infection and a large blood clot in his right leg. Agent Marty Martel said the actor/singer/comedian was responding to treatment for the blood clot but was in very fragile condition. Wooley has been battling leukemia for three years.

Barry White's health has improved since he had to cancel the first leg of his tour with Earth Wind & Fire earlier this summer. White was suffering from exhaustion and ordered home to rest for a few weeks. The two acts will play makeup dates in California but postponed shows in Detroit, Dallas and Nashville have not been rescheduled yet. The co-headlining tour starts with a sold-out September 10th stop at the Fleet Center in Boston and wraps October 1st at the Concord Pavilion in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Mississippi's Tupelo Coliseum has a new name, BancorpSouth Center. The Tupelo-based bank signed a naming rights agreement with the city and the Tupelo Coliseum Commission August 13th. BancorpSouth will pay $2.5 million over 12 years for rights to the venue name.

A new $3.2 million amphitheatre was unveiled in Sandy, Utah, this past weekend as part of a move to bolster the area's culturally starved image. The 2,500-capacity shed, which has 500 fixed seats, overlooks Salt Lake Valley and is located 10 miles south of Salt Lake City. The venue's first two shows were a gospel concert and a symphony performance. City officials plan to follow the new amphitheatre with a community arts center, a children's theatre and an indoor performing arts center.

Wu-Tang Clan rapper ODB faced a bench warrant August 12th after failing to appear in a Los Angeles courtroom to answer charges of possessing body armor. According to his lawyer, Robert Shapiro, the performer was receiving drug-addiction treatment in New York and could not appear in court. ODB was arrested in February for being a felon in possession of body armor. The rapper is also due to answer misdemeanor drug possession charges in New York next month.

A photographer has accused a security guard for Sean "Puffy" Combs and Jennifer Lopez of attacking him and taking his film during a Cleveland photo op. Donnell Mitchell told Cleveland police that he was hired by Arista Records to photograph the stars while they were in town August 12th for a radio station promotion. In a police report, Mitchell said he was grabbed by a security guard who threw him against a car several times and took his film after he snapped Lopez's picture. A witness said Lopez had consented to be photographed but Combs' body-guard announced no one was to take pictures. Police are investigating the incident.

UTAH JAZZ OWNER Larry Miller looks at the damage to the Delta Center a day after a brutal tornado ripped through Salt Lake City.

The night before Weiland appeared in court, Stone Temple Pilots performed at the House of Blues in Las Vegas as part of the Miller Genuine Draft Blind Date concert series. During the show – which was tight and professional, according to STP’s online fans – the band debuted some new material. The group’s next album, No. 4, is set for a late fall release.

Weiland is scheduled to return to court September 5th.

Delta Center Reopens

THE DELTA CENTER IS BACK in business a lot sooner than originally expected following the freak tornado that rocked Salt Lake City August 11th.

The venue opened its doors for a benefit concert August 20th featuring country singer Neil McCoy. The next night, it hosted the regular season finale for the WNBA’s Utah Starzz.

After the twister broke windows and ripped pieces of roof from the Delta Center, causing an estimated $5 million in damage, the venue was expected to be closed for six weeks. But facility booking exec Brent Allenbach told POLLSTAR repairs are moving ahead of schedule.

“The building is nowhere near where it needs to be as far as being put back together. However, we’ve got boards in the windows and we’ve got a makeshift roof,” he said. “It still looks a little rough around the edges and it will be that way for quite awhile. But we felt like there was enough sound and safe spots to have the public come and participate in events that we’re not going to cancel anything.”

The Delta Center took a direct hit when the tornado churned through downtown Salt Lake during the day’s busy lunch hour. Afterward, sunlight shone through 40-foot gaps in the facility’s roof and the floors were drenched.

Despite the damage, Delta Center and Utah Jazz owner Larry Miller were thankful.

“The Delta Center was designed to withstand much more than the tornado threw at it yesterday,” he said. “We’re pleased with how well the building actually came through.”

An inspector has declared the arena structurally sound.

Police Take Advance Pot Shot

AFTER ENDURING EXTREME criticism from locals over Motley Crue’s recent Idaho show, local concert promoters are again addressing concerns – although considerably less harsh – from Wyoming officials about an upcoming Ziggy Marley show.

Jackson Police Chief Dave Cameron has asked the promoters – Gemini Presents and Bravo Entertainment/Bill Silva Presents – to tell Marley not to promote marijuana during his September

3rd concert at the Snow King Center.

“We said we would submit a letter of some of their concerns to the artist,” Gemini’s Michael Dean Goettsch told POLLSTAR. “I don’t even know if he openly condones his use of marijuana as religious anyway. ... In the past, I have never noticed that in any live show.”

Police concerns over Marley’s concert come in the wake of a local Widespread Panic show, which yielded 16 arrests, 12 for use or possession of controlled substances. Cameron said many who came to the show “just used the parking lot and had an all-night beer party.”

Additionally, the Jackson officials’ worries follow the massive opposition encountered by the promoters over the July 27th Motley Crue/Scorpions show at the Eastern Idaho State Fairgrounds. Area citizens said the bands promoted rape, devil worship and murder.

That highly disputed show finally went off “without a hitch” after much debate, Goettsch said, but the show “undersold because of the nature of the publicity.”

Goettsch acknowledged that the Marley show is not under the same level of scrutiny from Jackson officials as the Crue concert. “The nature of this is much more relaxed than the Scorpions/Motley Crue show,” he said. “[City officials] were very concerned about the artist becoming upset. They were real empathetic toward the artist’s concerns.”

In addition to passing on the city’s requests, Goettsch said his company is providing additional security and arranging a neighborhood trash cleanup after the show. During the Widespread show, nearby residents complained of noise and trash left behind.

SCENES FROM A DAY IN THE GARDEN '99

WOODSTOCK VETERANS Arlo Guthrie (L) and Melanie reminisce about the past with others at the concert, which marked the 30th anniversary to the day of the original festival.

THIRTY YEARS after his opening performance at Max Yasgur's farm, Richie Havens returns to perform in Bethel, N.Y., with drummer Emile Latimer.

PERFORMERS and concert-goers alike pay tribute to the spirit of '69 at this year's festival. The concert's main-stage lineup featured all original Woodstock performers, including David Crosby, Richie Havens, and Arlo Guthrie.

WHILE RAIN and thunderstorms dampened the morning and previous night, the skies cleared up above the concert site for a dry afternoon and evening of performances. Music commenced at 11 a.m. and wrapped up after midnight.

LINGERING TRACES of the '60s were unmistakably floating around the concert, which drew around 12,000 spectators, some of whom converged on the site 30 years ago.

NOSTALGIA was abuzz at the A Day in the Garden at Yasgur's Farm in Upstate New York August 15th. Although it was a celebration of the fabled 1969 event and was located on the original site, the event's promoters could not use the Woodstock name.

THIS YEAR'S festival kicks off with a set from Country Joe McDonald, who made his mark at the original Woodstock with his protest tune, "Fish Cheer."

A Day In Bethel

MAX YASGUR'S OLD FARM in Upstate New York played host this month to a 30th anniversary salute to the event that carved the site into history. Although 1969 mainstays such as acid, pot and granola were noticeably absent at this year's A Day in the Garden festival, many of Woodstock's original performers and concert-goers were on hand to take a trip anyway – down memory lane, that is. More than 12,000 flocked to the Bethel site August 15th, 30 years to the day of the original festival's kick-off date, executive producer Bruce Weinstein told POLLSTAR. The event – produced by GF Entertainment and unrelated to the previous Woodstock productions – featured a main stage with 10 performers, an emerging artists stage with six bands, and some 70 food and crafts vendors. Performers on hand to give peace another chance included original Woodstock opener Richie Havens, Country Joe McDonald, Melanie, Arlo Guthrie, David Crosby, Johnny Winter, and old Band-mates Rick Danko and Garth Hudson. Music started at 11 a.m. and ran through 1 a.m. "It went a little later than we had anticipated," Weinstein said. "But these guys were digging it. They didn't want to get off the stage. ... The audience was really supportive."

Among the day's memorable moments, Havens roused the crowd with "Freedom," Melanie garnered massive applause for her performance of Jimi Hendrix's "Purple Haze" and Country

Joe dished out his signature anti-Vietnam War tune, "Fish Cheer." "I don't remember much about the first time I was here," Guthrie said from the stage. "I had to wait for the movie to come out."

The anniversary event was close to becoming a waterlogged imitation of the 1969 concert; rain soaked the site in the morning and during the previous day, but cleared up in time for the performances.

While no ATMs were looted and no trailers were torched, state police made four arrests for possession of marijuana, according to a trooper.

The Day in the Garden festival is a not-for-profit event, Weinstein said, dedicated to revitalizing the economy of Sullivan County. "Alan Gerry, who is the owner (of the site), thought that the best way would be through the arts, music," he said, adding that a great majority of the festival's employees were from the county.

During the previous day, nearly 8,000 spectators attended the A Day in the Country festival with headliners Reba McEntire, Randy Travis, Bill Engvall, The Clark Family Experience, Clay Walker, and New Frontier.

Tickets to the country festival cost $25 in advance and $35 at the door, while A Day in the Garden ran $19.69 and $25.

The busy weekend closed out the site's '99 season, which totaled three events this year, including a July 4th Britney Spears concert. Weinstein hopes to stage between five and eight events at the historic location next year.

Shed Fined
For Curfew Violations

BOB DYLAN AND PAUL Simon apparently don't need a curfew to tell them when a show ends.

When the duo performed a two-night stand, July 22-23, at the Tweeter Center (formerly known as Great Woods) in Mansfield, Mass., both nights exceeded the venue's 11 p.m. curfew. As a result, the town fined the venue approximately $5,300 for the violations, which were 10 minutes the first night and 15 minutes the second.

The fines for exceeding curfew were the first levied against the venue under its 1998 agreement with the city, which was the first year to include the clause. However, it's not the monetary punishment that has SFX/Don Law venue officials concerned.

"The fine is not the issue," venue GM Bruce Montgomery told POLLSTAR. "Our real concern is we work very hard to maintain good relations with our neighbors. ... And this sort of activity seriously undermines our relationship with the community."

Montgomery said he discussed the issue with the artists. He said power has been cut on performers who exceed curfew, but "when you're dealing with an artist of this caliber," it isn't an option.

Following the incident, a letter of apology was sent to the Mansfield town officials. "Their position is that they know that we do work diligently to make sure our events end (before curfew) and they know that we regret it

New Warner Music Man Ames For Success

TIME WARNER INC. IS putting British record industry veteran Roger Ames in charge of its troubled global music division, filling the second half of a void soon to be left by Bob Daly and Terry Semel.

Ames, who was hired by Daly and Semel four months ago to jump-start the company's struggling music sector, will take over October 4th, when the management duo departs. He will report to Time Warner President Richard Parsons.

The company also said it will relocate the music group's headquarters from Burbank to New York, where it was located before Daly and Semel took over three years ago.

The duo unexpectedly resigned as co-chairmen of Warner Music and the Warner Bros. film and television studio in July. They had restored order to the company after several years of turmoil that gutted the management team and alienated some of Warner's biggest stars.

But Ames' sudden promotion is viewed as a positive step for the company.

"This is the first time in the history of the company where we have a music person as the CEO of the Warner Music Group," Time Warner Chairman Gerald Levin said. "From my perspective, this is the end of a very long journey for me - one with a terrific result."

Ames, who spent 20 years at PolyGram before joining Warner Music International as president in April, faces a big challenge. Warner Music used to dominate the U.S. record business but its share of album sales has dwindled to about 17 percent, down from 22 percent in 1995, according to SoundScan.

Levin reportedly said Warner Music will now be run by someone who has experience in distribution and marketing of music worldwide. Under Ames' direction, the company will no longer divide its marketing functions between domestic and overseas structural divisions, Ames told The Wall Street Journal.

The new Warner Music topper owns the London Records U.K. label and has worked out a deal with Time Warner to license and distribute its recordings worldwide.

Tramps To Close Next Month

FAMED MANHATTAN CLUB Tramps is set to close its doors after a pending deal is finalized September 3rd.

Owner Terry Dunne told POLLSTAR, "We're just closing the doors; we're not selling the name. We've had a lot of problems with the landlord. That's the reason we're closing."

While Dunne, who started Tramps in 1975, would not release the landlord's name because the property owner must still approve the deal, he said he has spent up to $2,000 a month on attorney fees after the unnamed party took legal action against the club.

According to the Ireland-born Dunne, the building owner leased space above Tramps to daytime businesses, which then complained about the music joint's afternoon sound checks. "You can't operate a club without sound checks," Dunne said.

The soon-to-be owners are New York businessmen Bob Ferl, David Baxley and Tom Sisk. Among their Manhattan operations are Drinkland in the East Village, the 10th Street Lounge and Aubette.

"We'll honor club bookings through September," Dunne said, ending with Son Volt. The greats who have played the venue include Bob Dylan, Little Richard, George Jones, Merle Haggard, and Jerry Lee Lewis, all booked by Steve Weitzman, who has worked for Tramps for 10 years.

"I hope to re-emerge," Dunne said. He added that he's already looking for another space to open a club with the same name.

"It's been a great party. We hope to continue the endeavor."

Police Plot Better Meadows Security

HARTFORD, CONN., POLICE have come up with a plan to prevent the kind of parking lot violence that erupted during a run of Dave Matthews Band concerts at the Meadows Music Theatre August 7-8.

Officials met with Meadows prexy Jim Koplik August 12th to discuss security improvements after an unexpected weekend of mayhem, in which scores of intoxicated people without concert tickets confronted police in a parking lot near the venue.

From now on, each concert will be evaluated. Police will increase security in parking lots around the theatre complex during certain events and restrict parking to ticket-holders when warranted.

"We're not banning tailgating, but the parking lots aren't there for people to go to and never leave," Assistant City Manager Patricia Williams said. "We're

About 50 people were arrested during the final two nights of the Dave Matthews Band shows at the Meadows. Charges ranged from rioting and assault to disorderly conduct after crowds torched and vandalized cars, and threw rocks and bottles at police officers.

NOW Targets Woodstock Sexual Assaults

THE NEW YORK CITY chapter of the National Organization of Women has declared war on Woodstock's promoters.

The regional chapter contends that the Woodstock staff ignored reports of sexual assault and rape against women during the three-day festival, a claim that the promoters fiercely deny. NOW's Big Apple officials have launched a campaign, which, in part, demanded a police investigation into the matter.

"It appears that those responsible for concert safety at Woodstock were experiencing an acid flashback to 1969," chapter president Galen Sherwin said in an August 11th press release.

The group's recent efforts in generating support for its cause peaked with an intimate press conference staged in front of Metropolitan Entertainment's New York headquarters August 12th. At the news conference, the handful of NOW representatives attending shared what they called anonymous firsthand accounts of assaults on women at the festival.

Woodstock spokesperson Hayley Sumner said those reports have been delivered to state police officials, who are also investigating other reports of sexual assault as well as the riots that ended the July 23-25 event.

Promoters John Scher, Michael Lang and Ossie Kilkenny said in a statement they have asked authorities to conduct an investigation into the local chapter's accusations, which they said "blatantly misrepresent our position on the subject of these allegations of violence against women."

"While we, too, would like to use this situation as a springboard to generate public awareness of violence against women in an effort to facilitate legislation in support of women's issues, this is not the way to do it," the promoters said.

"We consider even the possibility that rapes occurred at the festival as a very serious situation and we will continue to work with the appropriate law enforcement agencies in an effort to resolve this terrible problem."

San Antonio Spurs On New Arena

A NEW ARENA FOR THE NBA'S San Antonio Spurs may come to rest next to the Freeman Coliseum.

Team officials have selected a Bexar County plan to build the tax-payer funded arena in the coliseum's parking lot, shooting down a city proposal to build an arena complex next to the Alamodome.

A final agreement to build the $175 million facility was expected to be signed last week. Under the pact, which is expected to go before voters in November, hotel and car rental taxes would increase to finance the building, the San Antonio News-Express reported.

The Spurs would reportedly pay $28.5 million of the cost, an annual lease payments of $1.3 million for 25 years and $1 million each year for a maintenance fund.

"We think this is the best for the community," Spurs Chairman Peter Holt told a news conference August 11th. "This is the right decision and this is what we're going to go forward with."

AP Photo / San Antonio Express News

A PLAN TO CONSTRUCT an arena for the Spurs at the Freeman Coliseum just east of downtown San Antonio has city officials concerned over lost revenue at the Alamodome.

However, the city doesn't see the situation quite the same as the team. The announcement of the Spurs' decision has encountered harsh criticism from San Antonio Mayor Howard Peak.

According to the paper, Peak has raised concerns about how the proposed tax increases will affect the city's tourism market. The mayor has also pointed out that the Alamodome - where the Spurs currently play - could lose some $1 million a year in event revenues.

The team has complained that operating in the Alamodome is unprofitable and that a new arena would provide more lucrative luxury suites as well as a naming rights deal.

million, the revised complaint now names Universal Music Group and claims breach of contract.

The duo allege that A&M Records was decimated when Seagram Co.'s Universal Music acquired PolyGram for $10.4 billion last year. In the wake of the purchase, A&M was folded into a consolidated imprint, which also consists of Geffen and Interscope.

The basis of their suit is a clause stemming from PolyGram's purchase of A&M in 1989 that requires maintaining the label for 20 years. The pair reportedly claim that the elimination of A&M has permanently harmed their reputation in the music industry.

"We are pleased the court granted our motion and allowed Jerry and Herb to sue UMG for what they've done to A&M," said plaintiff attorney Richard Posell.

Universal spokesperson Bob Bernstein had no comment on the litigation.

Alpert and Moss' original suit against PolyGram sought damages for unpaid earnings as well as a mishandled Canadian tax refund claim.

Prince's Garage & Bus Fare

PRINCE ADVERTISED A garage sale on his Web site and more than 300 fans flocked to his Paisley Park Studios in the Minneapolis suburbs the weekend of August 14th, hoping to snatch his CDs, tapes, T-shirts, posters, props and tour souvenirs at bargain basement prices.

While the goods didn't disappoint, the Artist was nowhere in sight.

"I was hoping to come and see Prince sitting on a lawn chair, marking down prices," said Kii Arens of St. Paul. Arens, a member of the local band Flipp, who, along with a friend, spent a total of $300 on neon tubes, guitar strings and electric arrows used in the "Sign o' the Times" video.

Throughout the weekend, garage sale-goers happily hunted among the discarded offerings, most of which were priced at less than $10. There were, however, some higher priced items, including keyboards ($100-$200), tambourines emblazoned with the symbol Prince uses for his name ($50) and equipment cases with "PRN Productions" stenciled on the front ($75).

Because there was only one cashier, buyers had to stand in line for up to two hours Saturday to pay for their purchases.

It was unknown where proceeds from Prince's weekend sale would go; however, two days after the sale began, Thides Leasing Corp. of Detroit sued the Artist, claiming he owes $42,109 for renting its tour bus between May and October 1998. The company also wants $116,000 for seven months that he promised to use the motor coach but didn't, preventing Thides from renting it to other performers.

Grammy Man Of The Times

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES continues to scrutinize Grammy chief Michael Greene, recently reporting that he – in so many words – threatened Time Warner after the media giant declined to contribute songs to a fund-raiser CD sponsored by the National Academy for Recording Arts and Sciences.

The paper said Greene "lashed out" at Time Warner music execs in a July 21st letter, which reportedly read: "So be it, we will move forward without the Warner Music Group.... Please be aware that some of the Warner artists in question are members of the Academy and are keenly aware of the project. They and most everyone else will find your refusal to be included in this collection as unconscionable...."

He ended the letter with: "Hey, this is certainly your call but just be ready for the short and long term ramifications," the Times reported.

Following receipt of the letter, Time Warner officials apparently changed their minds and agreed to provide several tracks for the proposed 40th Grammy Anniversary boxed set, to benefit NARAS' MusiCares charity. Sources inside the company told the Times that record execs feared that crossing Greene could jeopardize their chance at a coveted performance or presenter slot on the annual Grammy telecast.

The academy initially proposed the recording as a three-CD set that would be released during the third fiscal quarter, the Times said. Warner reportedly agreed to contribute about a dozen tracks, but while in the process of clearing those for release, the academy asked for more songs, saying that the project had grown into a four-CD set and had been pushed back to a fourth-quarter release.

HOLLYWOOD HONORARY MAYOR Johnny Grant (center) gives KISS his tongue of approval as the band celebrates its star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame August 11th. Meanwhile, the $14 million movie, "Detroit Rock City," produced by Gene Simmons, which chronicles teens' journey to a KISS concert, is bombing at the box office after an opening weekend gross of only about $2 million.

Warner execs objected, telling Greene they thought the boxed set would cannibalize sales during the industry's most competitive quarter, which includes the lucrative Christmas season, sources told the Times. The company pulled out of the project in May.

The paper has kept a watchful eye over Greene for many months now, questioning his ethics and noting he is the nation's highest paid executive of a not-for-profit organization. ✦

GIGS & BYTES

► It seems as if Tickets.com is one of the latest Web darlings with not one, but two major players throwing big bucks at the ticket seller.

Cox Interactive Media (CIMedia), a subsidiary of Cox Enterprises, dug into its deep pockets and came up with $15 million to invest in Tickets.com and plans on investing another $15 million within 30 days. As part of the deal, CIMedia lands exclusive rights among its competitors for ticket sales in the largest 65 markets in the U.S., plus those markets already serviced by CIMedia's city guides.

The quid pro quo of the deal has Tickets.com announcing a three-year, $13.5 million media buy throughout Cox Enterprises, including CIMedia and other Cox properties such as newspapers, broadcasting and cable.

For CIMedia, the deal will strengthen its e-commerce offerings and its name awareness on the local level. Tickets.com's exposure through Cox Enterprises' companies will increase its own brand awareness.

As they say on those late-night infomercials, "But wait, there's more." The same week CIMedia announced its investment in Tickets.com, Excite@Home, the broadband Web portal, announced its own "strategic investment" by plowing $15 million in Tickets.com. Excite@Home plans to drop an additional $40 million on the company, subject to regulatory approval, which is expected to take 30 days. For Tickets.com, the combined investments of Excite@Home and CIMedia total $85 million.

Tickets.com's content and event ticket inventory will be integrated throughout the Excite Web portal and the @Home broadband portal. In return, Tickets.com will pay Excite@Home $25 million. Said George Bell, president of Excite@Home, "We believe ticketing online is projected to be one of the top five online commerce categories and Tickets.com will emerge as a leader in the online ticket-buying category."

► Michigan-based ticket service Tickets PLUS has added Tickets.com's Internet ticketing module to its own system, resulting in real-time tickets being offered for Tickets PLUS venues throughout that state. Tickets for venues such as the Kewadin Casinos, Central Michigan University and the Soaring Eagle Casino will be available day or night, seven days a week.

► Atlantic Records is selling "Bliss," the first single from Tori Amos' upcoming album, to venus and back, via secure download through multiple online retailers. The move makes it the first single to be sold by a major label through e-commerce sites across the board. Merchants participating in the promotion include Musicland, Wherehouse, CDNow, Tower Records, Transworld Entertainment, Virgin and EveryCD.

► Want a definition of loss leader? How about a Ricky Martin CD for only $7.50? How about Smash Mouth's Astro Lounge for $7.50? Or Kid Rock's Devil Without A Cause for only — you guessed it — $7.50? For a limited time, Internet record label SpinRecords.com is selling the top 10 CDs on Billboard's Top 200 chart for only $7.50 each. The CDs are the only non-SpinRecords.com CDs to be sold on the site. SpinRecords.com considers itself a "farm label" for undiscovered talent and sells its own music via MP3 and other audio download formats.

"The purpose of this 60-day offer," said Wayne Irving, SpinRecords.com president and CEO, "is not to undersell other e-commerce sites or retailers, rather to draw more visitors to SpinRecords.com to introduce them to the as-yet undiscovered talent we are so proud to highlight."

► Emusic.com is paying America Online to gain access to its customers. The two companies reached an agreement that allows Emusic.com to sell music downloads to AOL subscribers as well as AOL's ICQ, Spinner and Winamp services. The deal calls for cross promotion between the two companies and co-branded sites with ICQ, Spinner and Winamp.

► Digital On-Demand has already made deals with Sony and EMI to sell music downloads through its secure high-speed RedDotNet system to record store customers. Now, Digital has inked a deal with Wherehouse Music that will put Digital's kiosks in selected stores across the country. Through the RedDotNet, customers will have access to a much larger selection of catalog material not usually available in record stores. Along with the music, the network will also be able to download the original art work and liner notes for the CDs. ✦

THE MAN – Johnny Winter – and his guitar stand poised to give 'em what they want at the Big Blues Festival in Luxembourg last month.

United Kingdom: AS POST-ECLIPSE reports filtered through, organisers appeared to have learned a hard lesson about creating special one-off music events around a natural or time-related celebration.

Promoter Ish Ali of Essential, who co-promoted the Total Eclipse festival in Devon with Harvey Goldsmith Entertainments and Megadog, likened the experience to a "dress rehearsal for the millennium." He told POLLSTAR that the attendance was disappointing. "We didn't get the numbers we wanted but that was largely due to the hysteria regarding the traffic. There was a lot of scare-mongering about huge delays and roadblocks, and the rain didn't help. On the main day, we had 10,000, as Orbital was a big draw, and the other days averaged at around 7,000."

Competition from other festivals was also a factor but there was no indication that any one event was a clear winner in terms of ticket sales. The eclipse special-event market was heavily oversubscribed and the fact is that people wanted to see the eclipse first and foremost, and a music festival was always going to be just part of the package and not a first choice.

Ali added wryly, "If we could have moved the eclipse to the weekend, it would have been great. ... The site was great, the media response was good, the vibe was good ... but seven days is too long and there was too much competition centered around the eclipse. It was a steep learning curve."

- TICKETS GO ON sale in London August 24 for the NetAid concert at Wembley Stadium. NetAid is a trans-global multimedia campaign to fight world poverty. The London concert will link with two other October 9 concerts at Giants Stadium in New York and the Palais des Nations in Geneva, and there will be live TV, radio and webcasts.

Artists performing include Bono, Bush, The Corrs,

Counting Crows, Eurythmics, Jewel, George Michael, Robbie Williams, Jimmy Page, Pete Townshend, and Wyclef Jean.

The sponsors are Cisco Systems and the United Nations Development Programme; Harvey Goldsmith Entertainments is the U.K. promoter.

- SIR ELTON JOHN PERFORMED HIS first show since undergoing surgery for a pacemaker last month. The concert took place at a private party at Disneyworld in Florida.

John will play five rescheduled open-air shows August 29 and 30 at Harewood House in Leeds, and at Leeds Castle on September 4, 5 and 6.

The star was back in the news following his TV interview with Sir David Frost in which he spoke openly about the rift with former manager John Reid. He confessed he feels "partly to blame" for the split with Reid, but said that he doesn't expect to ever speak to him again.

"As far as I'm concerned, he doesn't exist anymore, which is very sad," he told Frost in the interview, which was scheduled for broadcast in the U.S. as well. John went on to say, "I was partly to blame for this whole thing, I suppose, with John Reid because I never audited it in 28 years and when I did, it was a shock.

He was my first relationship and there was that element of trust, which is so necessary to have."

He also spoke critically of the problems following the takeover of his record company, PolyGram, by Universal.

- LONDON ARENA IS PITCHING for a title-sponsorship deal and has appointed two new directors to spearhead the drive for a suitable candidate. Following a £10 million refurbishment programme and the opening of new transport links to the Docklands area, the arena is poised to enter the millennium on a high note and fulfill its potential as a thriving multipurpose 12,500-capacity venue. Simon Mayes was appointed the new sponsorship director and Justine Waddell was promoted to associate director sales and sponsorship. They will focus on attracting new sponsorship deals to the SMG-owned venue.

Mayes said, "For companies interested in the naming-rights sponsorship, we can create a tailor-made deal. ... There is no doubt that the millennium will be the catalyst for Docklands and London Arena is one of the area's prime sites that companies can utilize."

John Drury, who joined London Arena's marketing team three months ago, confirmed that there is increasing interest in the venue. On sale are the Disney Channel Awards, promoted by Harvey Goldsmith Entertainments, which will feature pop acts Steps and B*Witched, and Disney on Ice.

"This year has been busier than ever in terms of interest," Drury told POLLSTAR, "and that interest has to convert into confirmations. The changes both in and around the building can only be good for business."

- YET ANOTHER "RETIRED" BAND has re-formed with Deacon Blue set to embark on a full U.K. and Ireland tour this autumn, following the success of a handful of shows earlier this year. The band will start a 16-date city hall tour October 7, promoted by MCP. The tour is selling well so far and a confirmation of a second date at the Royal Albert Hall is expected soon.

The tour agent is Steve Parker at Miracle Artists. He took on Ricky

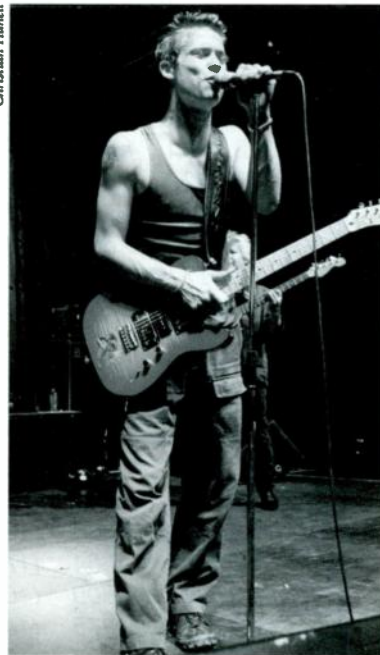

Ross as a solo act 18 months ago and helped to rebuild his career. When Ross toured as "the voice and soul of Deacon Blue," the response from the band's core fanbase was so great they agreed to do three shows in Glasgow during the BBC Music Live week a few months ago.

"Those shows were all sellouts," Parker said, "with 8,000 tickets sold, and both the audiences and the band loved it." He added that the band will soon confirm news of a record deal.

- VETERAN SLASHERS BLACK Sabbath were named artist of the millennium by rock magazine Kerrang! at its annual awards bash. The band members were not present to collect their gong, but sent their various offspring to attend on their behalf.

Other winners included Stereophonics for best British band and best album, as well as Marilyn Manson, Terrorvision, Three Colours Red, System of a Down, The Offspring, Dave Mustaine of Megadeth, Hellacopters, and newcomers Cay and Buckcherry. Jimmy Page was inducted into Kerrang!'s hall of fame.

BIG BLUES FESTIVAL promoter Joybringer delivered Jonny Lang, who sings some soulful songs July 24 in Luxembourg.

THRONGS OF FESTIVAL-GOERS cram themselves into the Pepsi Sziget Festival site August 6 for a chance to see Finland's Apocalyptica. In addition to music, the August 4-11 festival in Budapest included exhibitions and art-dance shows.

* A BRITISH JUDGE HAD THE FINAL say on Mick Jagger and Jerry Hall's turbulent relationship August 13 when he ruled their marriage invalid in England and Indonesia, where the couple celebrated a 1990 wedding ceremony.

Last month, the couple agreed they were never married in the eyes of the law and announced a formal separation.

The official annulment brought the non-divorce proceedings to a close and the lawyers for the two parties issued a statement saying the two were "greatly relieved that the formal legal process was now at an end."

Details of the financial settlement will remain confidential.

Germany: TICKET SALES AT THE Zillo Festival (August 14-15) were down from last year's figure by 5,000, with an audience of 15,000. Promoter Guenther Linnartz at Scorpio said this was due to a very strong bill last year with The Cure and Rammstein, which helped swell the crowd to 20,000. He said it was hard to compete this year, despite strong performances from New Model Army and Apocalyptica. He added that 15,000 was still a good turnout.

The company has a busy autumn stretching ahead with tours by Pavement, Guided by Voices, Stereolab, Tindersticks, Low, and Deine Lakaien, plus more to come.

Hungary: ATTENDANCE FIGURES exceeded expectations at the 1999 Pepsi Sziget Festival, although a tragic accident at the fairground marred proceedings. The site was overseen by an independent operator with a very good reputation, but the collapse of a key structure led to one death and two serious injuries. Festival organisers held no liability for the area.

The August 4-11 festival played host to about 50,000 people per day with around 13,000 tickets good for all eight festival days sold. There were between 14,000 and 27,000 additional tickets purchased, and around 10,000 total performers, guests, staff, security and media. Sales peaked during the weekend and the eclipsed sales at the event's end as many people headed south in search of cosmic totality.

Festival organiser Dan Panaiteacu told POLLSTAR, "Everybody left satisfied, wishing to return as soon as possible, and everybody appreciated the event and the way it was organised."

Booker Nick Hobbs at Charmenko said it was the best Sziget festival to date. Outstanding performances came from Suede, Brand New Heavies, Jovanotti, Faithless, Kool & The Gang, Apocalyptica, Baaba Maal, Germany's Guano Apes and Mambo Kurt, Tankcsapda, Anima Sound System from Hungary, Tribal Drift from Australia, and Rachid Taha from France.

"As for the future plans," said Panaiteacu, "we would like to work harder in making the international audience understand that this is not simply a rock festival. ... All who came and saw it realised it - they went to our theatres, saw our exhibitions, enjoyed our 11 stages with various styles of music, saw our performance and art-dance shows, etcetera ... and said, 'Why didn't we know about all that?'"

"Our intention, in terms of timing, is to stick to this period of the year, even if it is the worst from the point of booking international artists, but is best from the point of good weather in Hungary."

Denmark: DANISH PROMOTER Erik Thomsen has launched a new company with Brian Nielsen in association with ICO. The new partnership at ETC rekindles the long-standing working relationship between Thomsen and Arne Worsoe of ICO.

Thomsen and Nielsen previously worked at SCP. Thomsen described the move as a way to strengthen the company's position in the face of the EMA-DKB-Motor monopoly in Scandinavia.

"As I see it, there's a big monopoly, which is tough for a lot of people," he told POLLSTAR. "We want to try to break that monopoly with a new setup and offices in Stockholm."

Thomsen added that existing relationships with local promoters in Norway and Finland will be maintained and he plans to continue developing the concert market in the Baltic States, where he has promoted Status Quo, David Lee Roth, and Johnny Winter this summer.

* AS THE END OF ANOTHER festival summer draws near, John Christopherson said the Danish open-air market seems to have settled down again. Christopherson has booked acts onto various festival bills, including two headlining Boyzone shows, a sellout All Saints event as part of the Green Concerts fund-raising gigs, plus Mike Oldfield at Langelands and Crash Test Dummies at Skandeborg.

"There were concerns after last year's disappointing turnouts that maybe people didn't want to go to festivals anymore," he told POLLSTAR, "but this year, it seems that simply there was less conflict with stadium shows and the weather was better and most events have been very successful."

PART OF THE 50,000-PER-DAY crowd gathers around one of the 11 stages at the 1999 Pepsi Sziget Festival to listen to a lineup that included Suede, Brand New Heavies, Jovanotti, Faithless, and Kool & The Gang. The eight-day event took place in Budapest, Hungary, earlier this month.

• THE STATE OF NEW SOUTH WALES' coroner and attorney general announced there are no plans to reopen the investigation into the death of Michael Hutchence. The statement was issued after the late INXS singer's girlfriend, Paula Yates, appeared in a British TV documentary insisting he did not commit suicide in a Sydney hotel room two years ago but died during an autoerotic act.

"In Excess: The Death of Michael Hutchence" was screened in England August 17. Yates wants the suicide verdict changed but the possibility of accidental death was ruled out in February 1998 by NSW Coroner Derrick Hand. A spokesperson for NSW Attorney General Jeff Shaw said the office is not aware of any additional evidence.

Two weeks ago, INXS' Sydney-based accountant, Hughes Pettit, complied with a Queensland Supreme Court writ allowing Hutchence's family lawyers to view financial records tracing $25 million worth of "hidden" royalties.

INXS denied speculation that Hutchence's family took legal action against the group. Similarly, Yates rejected claims that she received $250,000 from a "secret account" belonging to Hutchence, reportedly from a Liberian-registered company linked to the singer's former financial adviser, Colin Diamond.

• IN THE WAKE OF GISBORNE, New Zealand's New Year's Eve millennium event cancellation, co-headliner Split Enz is talking to another promoter who was planning to run an event in Auckland. The legendary Enz, which is re-forming for the show after working on new songs in the studio, wants the performance to be televised and asked the other co-headliner, David Bowie, to join the show. For more information, check out www.frenz.com.

• THIS YEAR'S AUSTRALIAN MUSIC Week celebrating local music will be held October 4-10. Major retail chains will dedicate space to Australian-only products, while artists will conduct in-store performances and signings. Radio and TV shows will play Australian music, and acts will hold national showcase gigs under the banner. Get additional information from the Web page at www.ausmusic.org.au.

One of the features of this year's Australian Music Week is the inaugural Live Music Industry Awards in Melbourne October 8. It is organized by the Australian Music Foundation (AMF), which is also coordinating Australian Music Week.

POLLSTAR was among those invited to submit nominations for the six categories, which include best live act, best live emerging act, best tour/road manager, best live venue, best live event and best promoter of Australian acts, venue or event.

The awards night also marks two launches - the AMF and the Black Box venue at Concert Hall Riverside, formerly the Victorian Performing Arts Museum.

• WELL-KNOWN TOUR AND personal manager Gregg Donovan has joined WCM (Well Connected Management) as co-manager. Donovan, who works closely with Pavcorp, Frontier Touring and Harbour Agency, was asked by Eddie Vedder and Shawn Mullins to relocate to America to work with them. WCM director Karen-Lee Goody looks primarily after Utopian Babies, which is touring Germany, and Sean Ikin, who is in Memphis, Tenn., recording his debut album for Universal Records with producer Joe Hardy.

Donovan continues as Mick Hart's personal manager. Goody and Donovan will co-manage Lime (Air Recordings), Max22 (2UP), Liquid (Warner), and Sodium, with other additions to be announced.

THE RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS turn up the heat at Moscow's Red Square August 14. Russian fans flocked to the concert, which was held in front of St. Basil Cathedral.

• MICHAEL COPPEL PRESENTS announced the Eurythmics' world tour hits the Brisbane Entertainment Centre October 25, Sydney Entertainment Centre (27) and Melbourne Park (30). The act was once the third largest seller in Australia, shifting 1 million albums and notching up 20 Top 20 singles.

After performing at the 1984 Narara Festival near Sydney, the Eurythmics returned in 1987 for the highest grossing tour in Australian touring history, playing to more than 200,000 in 22 sold-out arena shows.

Dave Stewart and Annie Lennox last toured here in 1989, performing 12 arena shows to more than 100,000 people.

• MUSHROOM HAS ADDED TWO new acts to its roster. The Badloves has officially split and singer Michael Spibey was inked as a solo act. Also, new pop band Sneak, managed by Peter Hoyland of H.I.T. Management, has a single due next year.

• AFTER A SUCCESSFUL NEW Zealand tour, where five shows sold out in advance, The Living End's self-titled album has gone gold there. The band is on the road in Europe and Japan before returning for The Riot Tour in September. Supports in various shows will include Stereophonics, Bodyjar and Eskimo Joe.

FLEA (L) jumps in on cue as Anthony Kiedis does his part during the Red Hot Chili Peppers' concert at Moscow's Red Square August 14.

• DANCE MAESTRO MOBY is expected to announce return dates in November while the Dixie Chicks are pencilled in for dates during the time that Moby is not performing. The Chicks' first album went platinum here (It sold 6 million in the U.S.) and its second album, Fly, is due September 9.

• DURING THE U.S. LEG OF THE Warped Tour, Jay of Frenzal Rhomb was captured by the Fox network for an episode of "World's Worst Drivers" after smashing into Less Than Jake's tour bus with a piece of wood, jumping into the driver's seat and ploughing the site in Orlando, Fla. – with Less Than Jake still snoring in the back. No wonder Rhomb's Oz tour (September 24-October 3) with LTJ is called the Gambling, Vomit and Sleeping in the Bin tour.

• DANISH ARCHITECT JOERN UTZON and Sydney authorities have smoked the peace pipe. Utzon designed the Sydney Opera House but quit in 1966, seven years before it was finished, after scandals about cost blowouts and design arguments. The state government appointed its own architects to finish the job.

The Opera House will soon undergo an interior revamp, following criticism that it's showing its age. Utzon has been signed as a consultant to update the interior. The 82-year-old will not journey to Australia, but will send his son and business partner, Jan. New South Wales Premier Bob Carr said Utzon's return will preserve his initial "extraordinary vision" of the venue.

The Opera House is considered an architectural masterpiece but its concert hall is regularly criticised for poor acoustics, and there is a lack of performance and backstage space in the Opera Theatre.

• THE LATEST ADDITIONS TO THE hard rock (Loudmouth) stage at Brisbane's Livid Festival (October 2) are Suicidal Tendencies, Supersuckers, Less Than Jake, 22 Jacks, plus local acts Area 7, 28 Days, and John Lee Spider.

Frontier Touring is bringing Mercury Rev for its first tour downunder, playing the Metro in Sydney (September 29) and Melbourne's Corner Hotel (30).

Ron Sexsmith returns September 17-27 to perform seven shows in five cities. He is promoting his third album, Whereabout, on Universal.

World Rhythm Entertainment, a new Australian company aiming to promote Latin music and culture downunder, brings New York's Proyecto Uno to the Hordern Pavilion in Sydney (August 31) and the Palais Theatre in Melbourne (September 3).

• THE IN YOUR EYE EXHIBITION at the Weymyss Gallery in Sydney pays tribute to rock posters from the '60s, '70s and '80s. An entire culture grew around impressive and brightly designed posters advertising venues and gigs by the likes of Do Re Mi, Beasts Of Bourbon, Riptides, Bhagavad Guitars, and Mental As Anything. But the arrival of free music magazines with cheap advertising rates led to their demise.

After the exhibition winds up August 27, the posters will be sold starting at $100 each.

• HEY, WHAT'S THIS FASCINATION with U.S. bands desecrating Aussie classics? Following the Phantom Surfers' destruction of "Tie Me Kangaroo Down, Sport" comes news that Pennywise has manhandled the country's unofficial national anthem, "Downunder," for a local single.

• WHITLAMS SINGER TIM Freedman was among 21 subpoenaed to testify September 14 at the three-day hearing of the bashing death of journalist Jennifer Smith. The 32-year-old left friends in Sydney's Kings Cross area at 4:40 a.m. and caught a taxi to Newtown to visit Freedman, an old friend from the university whom she'd watched perform earlier that night. Freedman was not home. She bought a kebab from an eatery at the end of his street. Later, people heard screams and shortly afterward, at 5:40 a.m., her body was discovered.

The Metronome Canada Culture/Heritage Foundation received charitable-status approval in June from Revenue Canada and the 99-year lease agreement for the Canada malting site was executed with the city in April. The project received an official endorsement from the City of Toronto's Millennium Task Force July 19 and an extensive fund-raising campaign is well under way.

• UNIVERSAL CONCERTS CANADA has announced that The Tragically

Hip will close out this century and bring in the new century at Toronto's Air Canada Centre. The rock band will play December 31 and New Year's Day.

The shows, billed as The Tragically Hip and Friends, will have three additional bands each night TBA. Complete show details will be announced September 7 and tickets go on sale September 11. Dinner packages will also be available from the ACC.

• VANCOUVER'S FLASH BASTARD was kicked off the Motley Crue/Scorpions Maximum Rock tour, which was supposed to last two months. The band was scheduled to play before a hometown crowd August 1 at GM Place but Scorpions lead singer Klaus Meine reportedly demanded the group be promptly "removed" from the tour after Flash Bastard singer Donal Finn told a Washington, D.C., audience he wanted to "bomb America off the map."

Motley Crue fought for the band – it recorded an album for Nikki Sixx's record label, Americoma – but the Scorpions issued an us-or-them ultimatum after an altercation between Finn and Meine backstage at the Rose Garden in Portland, Ore.

Flash Bastard has asked fans to bring a Scorpions album to its next Vancouver gig in exchange for one of its albums. All the Scorpions albums will then be destroyed in one big defiant rock 'n' roll gesture. ★

BROOKE

If all it took was remarkable talent and intense passion to back it up, Jonatha Brooke would have success beyond her wildest dreams. But the spirited singer/songwriter found out the hard way that the record business doesn't always make sense. So she's taken matters into her own hands, releasing her latest album, Jonatha Brooke Live, on her own Bad Dog Records label.

Brooke, a former professional dancer, was one-half of Boston-based musical duo The Story in the early '90s. Record exec Tommy LiPuma signed The Story to Elektra, which released two of the duo's albums, but as the label reorganized, The Story came to its conclusion. LiPuma, being a strong supporter of Brooke's talent, signed her to his new home under the MCA umbrella.

As Brooke released the solo album she was most proud of, 10¢ Wings, LiPuma's imprint fell apart, leaving the artist in limbo and looking for another home in the MCA group of labels. But nothing worked out quite right and MCA let her go.

"I was just so in love with [the record] and so ready to do whatever anyone asked of me to work for it. So to be kind of dropped in the middle of a national tour was just kind of bad business," Brooke told

POLLSTAR from her home in Southern California.

It was time to make a decision about her career: Curl up and go away or get back on the horse. "It was really devastating and there was definitely a two-week moping-on-the-couch hiatus," she said. But there were still tour dates booked to support 10¢ Wings. "So I decided, 'OK, I'm gonna do something positive with this.'"

Brooke's manager, Patrick Rains, had a lot of influence in convincing her to go independent. "I don't think I could have done it without him saying, 'Look, this is really great and this will keep the momentum going; it'll keep you from tearing your hair out because we all know 10¢ Wings was really beautiful and was wasted, and let's just keep moving....' [MCA] wouldn't even give us back the record so that we could sell it ourselves, so he really kept me moving through a rough stretch."

While being her own boss is a little scary, she said, "It's so satisfying at the end of the day when it's like, 'Wow, we kicked MCA's ass and we had nothing.' We had my life's savings and an '89 Mazda, and we shipped more than MCA did of this little record that could."

Her Bad Dog Records release has garnered Brooke rave reviews and better-than-expected sales. Initially, the intention was to release Jonatha Brooke Live solely through her Web site, jonathabrooke.com.

That site gives fans insight into Brooke as a person. The voice is not that of a publicist; it's hers, written by her own hand. "At first, it scared me, like do I really want to be this casual and accessible?" she said. "But it's the way I am anyway, so why pretend that I'm a snotty, distant diva, you know?"

The record sold so well on the Web site that Brooke made a distribution deal with KOCH International to go to retail.

While the Internet served its purpose as a great introduction tool for Brooke, she doesn't think it can replace retail. "Maybe it's generational," she said. "People above 30 or maybe even a little older still act like me. I want to go to a record store and I want to buy it. I want the booklet; I want to see it or I want to hear it."

"If you're a new artist, I don't know that the Internet's gonna be a real exciting sales opportunity. I think no matter what, if you want to be around for a while, if you really want to have a career, you have to tour your ass off. There's just no two ways about it."

As for more commercial means of exposure, Brooke has gotten some radio play and it certainly hasn't hurt, but it's not something she relies on. "Triple A radio has been my home and my sort of bastion of support so I can't belittle their role in developing my career," she said. "But I don't know how many of my fans actually even listen to the radio because it's so hard to find intelligent radio. Barring a huge crossover hit, I'm not sure how much radio is really helping me at this point. I think touring is what really helps me."

Though radio exposure could bring a whole new level of success to Brooke's career, she has a very grounded view of what that means.

"It's funny, the older and more experienced I get, I wonder more and more about that, like, wait a minute, I'm successful now. What else could I want? I make a really decent living, I live a perfectly lovely lifestyle, I do what I love and it totally fuels me spiritually. So what is success? Is it being on MTV and having designers throwing see-through gowns at me and showing up at every sexy party? That's just not part of my definition," she said.

"Of course, I would love to sell a good trillion records and have my sense of what substantial music is actually appeal to the masses of teen-age girls. I think that would be just so fulfilling to feel like something more important got through. Not that I'm touting myself as some brilliant poet, but I happen to think that the caliber of the marketplace is just crazy right now."

Brooke is taking her music, which, by the way, has been called brilliant by many a critic, to festivals, theatres and clubs this summer. ★

BRUCE HOUGHTON

Both of the original keyboardists for the Jerry Garcia Band, Merl Saunders and Melvin Seals, will be touring together for the first time as Merl & Melvin in October and early November with an all-star band. This tour, being booked in conjunction with American Artists, is in support of Melvin's new solo CD on House of Blues Records and Merl's Funky Friends release on Sumertone. Merl Saunders also has a few dates left in September on the West Coast and in November in the deep South. ⤴ Just back from a triumphant European tour, Johnny Winter has a few Northeast availabilities in October, then heads South in November. ⤴ Rick Danko has a fabulous new CD out in conjunction with Greenpeace, and is on tour both solo and with a band in October-November. ⤴ John Sebastian is on tour in support of his new Hollywood Records' J Band release. ⤴ Tom Rush has a retrospective release coming out on Sony in October and will be on tour throughout the fall. ⤴ Bernie Worrell & The Woo Warriors head South and into Texas in mid-October in support of the new Parliament/Funkadelic reunion CDs and their Woodstock appearance.

⤴ Commander Cody & The Lost Planet Airmen have Texas availabilities November 9-14 and Southeast availabilities November 15-20. ⤴ New Orleans Klezmer Allstars will tour the West Coast in December in support of their Shanachie release. ⤴ Other fall tours include John Hall (new CD), The Four Bitchin' Babes, Royal Fingerbowl, Illuminati (new CD), Ben Orr, John Cafferty & The Beaver Brown Band, Ceili Rain, and The Ventures.

RICK LEVY MANAGEMENT:

RICK LEVY

Legendary gospel and southern-soul B-3 organist Wayne "Butane" Smith has joined '60s hitmakers Jay & The Techniques featuring Jay Proctor. After lengthy discussions with Proctor, Butane joined the group at Hollywood Casino in Tunica, Miss., August 13th. Known for screaming solos and lush chording, the addition of Smith makes Jay & The Techniques' show a true classic American soul/R&B experience. Aside from Jay's hits, "Apples, Peaches, Pumpkin Pie," "Keep the Ball Rollin,'" and "Baby Make Your Own Sweet Music," the group delivers powerful renditions of Otis Redding, Sam & Dave, Al Green, Delfonics, Temptations, Box Tops, Smokey Robinson, and more. The Techniques' band is perfect for packages, conventions, corporate, casinos and fundraisers. ⤴

THE BOX OFFICE BOYS

► At the Concert Industry Consortium a couple of years ago, Canadian promoter Donald Tarlton couldn't stop talking about a certain group. Without giving its name, he predicted that these young guys would one day dominate the concert market. Deke was talking about the Backstreet Boys. And he was right.

Tickets for the Boys' 53-date Into The Millennium tour went on sale August 14th and all of them – about 600,000 – were gone in record time; most were sold in the first hour. When the first 40 dates sold out in the blink of an eye, 13 additional shows were added to accommodate fans, many of whom had lined up days in advance to buy tickets priced at $28.50 and $38.50.

The Backstreet Boys will play four nights in the New York area – two each at Nassau Coliseum and the Continental Airlines Arena. The group also plays multiple shows in Ft. Lauderdale; Washington D.C.; Boston; Philadelphia; Chicago; Anaheim; Los Angeles; San Jose; Salt Lake City and Detroit.

Half of the tour dates are being handled by SFX while local and regional promoters have the other half. The 11-week trek doesn't start until September 14th and it's already grossed about $27 million.

The Sears-sponsored North American leg follows the group's 42-city European tour and the production is going to be even bigger than the already elaborate one that toured the Continent.

The Backstreet Boys' Millennium album has moved 12 million units worldwide since its May 18th release. If you're interested in more statistics, check out the POLLSTAR Top 50 chart and see how the group dwarfs the touring competition on the Internet.

NO HEALTH BLUES HERE

► John Lee Hooker's absence from the Sunflower River Blues Festival in Mississippi wasn't due to health problems, as many were led to believe. According to agent and manager Mike Kappus at the Rosebud Agency, festival officials never signed a contract with the agency for the blues legend to appear.

The organizers of the 12th annual festival in Clarksdale negotiated for Hooker's appearance through the blues legend's daughter Diane but Rosebud is the only agency representing Hooker, who turned 82 August 22nd.

Rosebud never received an offer and Hooker was never scheduled to perform at the festival, Kappus told POLLSTAR. Organizers subsequently blamed the absence on health-related problems, which Kappus said are untrue. Hooker, who is on hiatus this month, has shows scheduled every weekend in September.

Festival co-chairman Nancy Kossman said she negotiated with Diane for about three months. His appearance was intended as part of a regional music celebration.

"The festival started as a tribute to Coahoma County musicians and he is our greatest living musician," Kossman said.
