ALBUM PICKS OF THE WEEK

"The Sesame Street Book & Record" stars the regulars of the popular television show for kids of all ages. Delightfully packaged (Columbia CS 1089).

"Susan Sings Songs from Sesame Street" is self-explanatory. Loretta Long, who plays Susan, has a perky voice, awareness and simpatico (Scepter SPS 584).

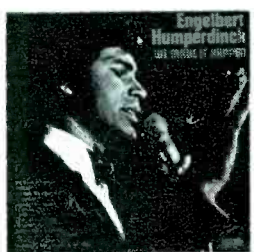

"Bob McGrath from Sesame Street" sings bright new songs written by Robert Allen, Bob Hilliard and Al Stillman. Winning packaging (Affinity A 1001S).

"Blood, Sweat & Tears 3" is the long-awaited album from the multi-Grammy winners. The fellows fuse rock and classical dynamically (Columbia KC 30090).

"The Association 'Live'" is an electrifying reprise of some of the Association's greatest hits, like "Cherish," "Never My Love" (Warner Bros, 2WS 1868).

Engelbert Humperdinck sings "We Made It Happen," "Words," "Something," "My Cherie Amour" and plenty of other swooners (London XPAS 71038).

"Bessie Smith the World's Greatest Blues Singer" is the first in a comprehensive Columbia tribute to her. Her first and last 16 sides (GP 33).

Capitol East Going Up

HOLLYWOOD — Capitol Industries, Inc., will centralize its various Manhattan facilities and functions with a move into new offices at 1370 Avenue of the Americas when that building is completed in late 1970. The New York structure will be named the Capitol Industries Building to complement the firm's Capitol Tower corporate headquarters in Hollywood. The announcement was made by Stanley M. Gortikov, Capitol Industries President.

"This action," said Gortikov, "emphasizes the continuing expansion of our New York activities. We chose this location after a careful search lasting almost two years. In our new facilities we will have more than doubled the space we currently utilize throughout the city."

Capitol Industries has entered into a longterm lease for 91,500 sq. ft. covering ten complete floors of the 33-story building. The company plans to use a major portion of the space and sublet the balance.

Oppenheimer Realty, Inc., New York, represented by Vice Presidents E. William Judson and Arthur Rosenbloom, were the exclusive leasing agents for Capitol and will also be in charge of the subleasing.

Executives and employees of various Capitol Industries divisions will be housed in the new East Coast center with the majority of the space occupied by Capitol Records, Inc. Commenting on the move, CRI President Salvatore J. Iannucci stated:

"We expect to reap numerous benefits from this fine new facility in the very heart of New York's entertainment industry area. In particular, the new location will facilitate dealings with top recording talent, agents, the television networks, and other vital aspects of artist management and development. A major factor will be Capitol's new, highly-advanced recording studios, utilizing the latest in 16-track recording equipment, to be installed in the Capitol Industries Building as a replacement for our present recording facilities on West 46th Street. We expect to offer East Coast talent the finest recording facilities available in the entire industry."

Chief administrative officer of the new center will be M. Richard Asher, CRI Vice President, Eastern Operations. In addition to the expanded artists and repertoire functions, offices will be provided for sales, promotion, merchandising, legal, business affairs and administrative personnel of Capitol Records, Inc., Merco Enterprises, Inc., Audio Devices, Inc., and Beechwood/Capitol Music Publishing.

The building is owned by St. Andrews Associates, New York, and Emery Roth & Sons is the owner's architect. The building is being constructed by HRH Construction. The firm of Welton Becket & Associates, Los Angeles and New York, has been retained by Capitol Industries to design its New York office interiors.

London Sales Meet in Fall

London Records is planning a major convention of all its distributors and regional and district sales and promotional personnel next September. The full-scale, three-day conclave will take the place of the company's usual July regional distributor meetings, according to National Sales and Distribution Manager Herb Goldfarb, who is blueprinting the sessions.

Goldfarb asserted that the affair will be the first full-scale distributor convention the company has held in New York. "These meetings are being given class A priority all the way," Goldfarb asserted, adding that a number of dramatic new departures in both product and packaging are to be unveiled at that time. The sessions will be held at the Summit Hotel, commencing Monday evening, Sept. 14 and continuing all day Tuesday the 15th, and culminating in a final luncheon on Wednesday the 16th.

The normal July release, which usually is the subject of annual distrib sessions, will be sold this year. Goldfarb indicated, by personal, market-by-market visits by the company's regional sales execs. The release, as in the past, will represent all segments of the firm's activity, including London, Derram, phase 4 stereo, Hi, Sire, classical and the first LP product for the Nashville-based Ashley label.

The July grouping is next on the firm's release list except for current rush-release LPs by the Brotherhood of Man and White Plains, the company's big singles hitmakers.

Col Single Spurred By Record World Story

When a recent Record World article asked for help in the music industry's "Bust a Pusher" campaign against drug abuse among the nation's youth, over 300 radio stations became part of the special program.

Throughout the country these stations have been airing specially prepared commercial messages geared to educate, inform and spur on the country's young radio audiences against the harmful use and abuse of drugs. In line with this campaign, Earl Shuman, a well-known songwriter, discussed with Record World Publisher Bob Austin a single he had written entitled "Veronica." This tune, though

Okun 'Songs of Sixties' Published by Times

By DAVE FINKLE

NEW YORK—Arranger-producer Milt Okun has compiled a songbook, including over 80 tunes, called "The Great Songs . . . of the Sixties," that the New York Times will publish in October.

Herbert Nagourney, Associate Director of the New York Times, made the announcement at a press conference last week, noting that the musical tome, with an introduction by Tom Wicker, will be the Times' first wholly-independent publishing venture.

Random House will distribute the book, which will sell at a suggested retail price of $14.95.

Okun, who spoke at the luncheon, said that the musical ferment of the '60s, which surpassed that of previous decades in his estimation, prompted his venture. "If you'd told me a few years ago that I, somebody who'd always been interested in folk music, would be compiling a list of popular songs, I'd have said that was ridiculous," he said.

Okun reported that, with the exception of one song, he received complete cooperation from artists and publishers concerned with the songs he selected.

Among the songs are four each by John Lennon and Paul McCartney, Bob Dylan, Burt Bacharach and Hal David and Paul Simon—the songwriters he considers the most important of the decade.

Among Songs

Among the songs included are "Alfie," "Blowin' in the Wind," "Both Sides Now," "Bridge Over Troubled Water," "I Want to Hold Your Hand," "I Wish I Knew How It Would Feel to Be Free," "The Impossible Dream," "Leaving, on a Jet Plane," "Like a Rolling Stone," "Moon River," "Mrs. Robinson," "Never on Sunday," "Ode to Billy Joe," "People," "Satisfaction," "Spinning Wheel," "Up, Up and Away," "Walk On By," "The Weight," "Yesterday" and "You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin'."

"I used shifting standards for the choice of songs," Okun said. "For instance, I wouldn't say that the Beatles' 'I Want to Hold Your Hand' is a great song, but it is of historical importance because it started the Beatles."

The songwriters represented are Bacharach, David, Arlo Guthrie, James Rado, Gerome Ragni, Galt McDermot, Dylan,

The book, which, Nagourney said, will be backed by an extensive promotion campaign, will be 9" x 12" with a special spiral binding.

Okun also said, "Above all, the music of the '60s had a creative urge that could better compare with the classic and romantic composers of the 18th and 19th centuries than the profession craftsmen who immediately preceded them in American commercial music."

SESAC Exec at IBFM

Sidney H. Guber, Director of Marketing Services for SESAC, Inc., has accepted an invitation from the Institute of Broadcasting Financial Management to participate in a panel discussion on music licensing at the 10th Annual IBFM Conference scheduled to be held in the nation's capital on Sept. 22. The panel will be chaired by Dick Percival of KRNT, Des Moines, Iowa.

Uni Familiarizes Sales Force

LOS ANGELES — Close on the heels of MCA's newly created manufacturing, marketing and distribution organization announced recently by J. K. Maitland, President of MCA, Inc., the Uni Records Division, under VP, General Manager Russ Regan, has instituted a plan designed primarily to familiarize MCA's sales force with the label's wares.

A number of "care" packages comprised of existing and new materials from Uni's promotion, advertising and press information departments is now shipping to MCA distribution centers. "They contain," said Rick Frio, Uni's National Sales Manager, "a potpourri of merchandising aids on current targets like Daybreak ("Good Morning Freedom"), England's Elton John, Dewey Martin and consistent sellers like Bill Cosby, Fever Tree and Neil Diamond."

The varied assortment includes four-color consumer tabloids on Neil Diamond and Fever Tree, European press reprints pertaining to Elton John, merchandisers for use in conjunction with Dick Glasser's "Artistry in Sound" LP, including a radio spot transcription and a primer on Uni Records executive staff. Additionally, a weekly wrap-up, the Uni Form, from Pat Pipolo, Uni's National Promotion Director, is in the works.

"What it all adds up to," said Frio, "is Uni's compliance to the basic philosophy that in the final analysis a knowledgeable sales-promo man can make the difference between a 'hit' or a 'smash' record." He further stated: "Product can derive a large amount of 'built-in' exposure if presented properly. Then, of course, the 'in the groove' requisite takes over. A good example is our forthcoming album, 'Dewey Martin and Medicine Ball.' By itself, it is merely a name and a title; however, a well informed representative would know that Martin is the last member of the legendary Buffalo Springfield, and the title is also the name of the artist's new group. Certainly worth noting in lieu of other Buffalo alumni who have gone on the stardom, i.e. Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young, Poco etc."

Further attesting to Uni's logic in providing a consistent flow of information to the field is the momentary debut of "Bad-foot Brown and the Bunions Bradford Funeral and Marching Band." The LP actually spotlights a new facet to the seemingly unending talent of Bill Cosby. A serious endeavor, it composed by the actor-comedian and also showcases his prowess on a number of instruments. The full orchestra, with Cosby at the helm, will launch the LP at the Newport Jazz Festival July 12.

Becker, Fagen Join ASCAP

NEW YORK — Composer/artists Walter Becker and Donald Fagen have signed an exclusive ASCAP songwriter's contract, announces Vic Catala, General Manager of Jata Enterprises.

Becker and Fagen wrote the soundtrack music for a new film, "You've Got To Walk It Like You Talk It." The score was produced by Kenny Vance for Jata Enterprises. The music is being co-published with Jata's High Life Music, Inc., by the Peer Southern Organization.

A WBCR 'First'

WBCR, the radio station of Brooklyn College, reports that it is the first station in the country to air "Blood, Sweat & Tears III," according to Music Director Lenny Bronstein. Columbia will release the album this week.

Donovan Adds Permanent Backing

Donovan has added the permanent backing of Mike Thomson (left) on bass, lead guitar and vocals, and John Carr (right) on drums and vocals, and the resulting trio call themselves Open Road. They can be heard on Donovan's latest LP on Epic, called "Open Road."

NEW YORK — Mac Davis, whose songwriting has brought him fame, is making it as an artist.

He was in town in conjunction with the release of his second Columbia single, "I'll Paint You a Song" which he wrote for the Glen Campbell film "Norwood." His first Columbia single, "Whoever Finds This I Love You," did very well and Mac is encouraged by the response his singing is getting.

He'll be guesting on many TV shows including "The Everly Brothers Show," David Frost, "Scene '70," Johnny Carson, Smothers Brothers and a special entitled "America or Bust."

Davis Paints Interesting Interview

Davis wrote "Something's Burning" which was recorded by the First Edition. Recently FCC Commissioner Robert E. Lee attacked the song as "lewd" and called that record and several others "filth." Davis replied, "With a name like Robert E. Lee, I'd like to see the back of his neck. Making love is a beautiful thing; it has its moments when something is burning. I think it's one of the most tender songs I've ever written; my mother loves the song though she does get red when she hears it." He warned, "I've got a lot worse than 'Something's Burning.'" 'Greatest Thrill'

Many top artists, including Elvis Presley ("In the Ghetto"), have recorded his songs. Now that Bob Dylan is doing other writers' songs, we asked him how he would feel if Dylan recorded a Mac Davis composition. He said, "The greatest thrill of my life would be for Bob Dylan to say 'Mac Davis? 'Yeah, I've heard of him'."

Davis' involvement in the record business goes back many years. He was a district manager for Vee Jay and Liberty for five years, all the while continuing to write songs. "I would guess I've written between three to five hundred songs—they're not all good, I'll tell you that," he confessed. "The songs I wrote in 1962 sound just like 1962."

He is currently writing six new songs and will have another album out sometime in the future. He reassured us that "we've got gobs of material." —Bob Moore Merlis.

Cap Music Gets Bugaloos Series

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusive publishing rights have been acquired by Capitol Music Corp. to music from "The Bugaloos," new Sid and Marty Krofft weekly television series debuting in September over NBC, VP and General Manager Samuel S. Trust announces.

Trust said one or two songs will be featured in each episode of the show, which stars Martha Raye and a four-member musical group assembled by the Kroffts. The "Bugaloos" are four British teenagers, three boys and a girl, organized earlier this year in an open competition conducted in England. Their adventures will form the basis of the series, to blend live-action and cartoon fantasy in a fashion similar to the Kroffts' successful "H. R. Pufnstuf" series. Capitol also is publisher of the "Pufnstuf" TV tunes.

Queen Booking Expands

By MIKE SIGMAN

NEW YORK — Queen Booking Corp., a rapidly expanding organization, has recently added Sammy Davis and Chuck Jackson to its long roster of talent.

Record World spoke to Murray Swartz, the agency's Secretary-Treasurer, about these and other developments in what has so far been the most important (if not the only) booking agency not only to book black acts but to be staffed and run by black personnel.

QBC's genesis was in the field of management. Company President Ruth Bowen was Dinah Washington's manager, Swartz was involved with Jerry Butler, the Impressions and others, and both were concerned with the way other agencies handled the acts which they managed. So they started their own agency, hoping merely to service their own acts. What grew out of this modest enterprise is now a thriving company which is opening offices in Las Vegas and expanding its facilities in New York.

The growth of the agency has occurred simultaneously with the growth of its stars, with each stimulating the other. Attractions like Aretha Franklin and the Dells have been working with Ruth Bowen and the QBC for a long time, and the firm is at the point now where they must expand simply to meet the needs of their current clientele. At the same time, according to Swartz, they hope to keep as much of the family image which has made them famous as possible. (For instance, the new offices will replace the traditional conference room with a living room setting.)

As for future direction, the major expansion now underway will hopefully allow the agency to handle new acts, possibly including hard rock groups and other white acts. Swartz emphasized that they have not done this in the past simply because they did not have the facilities or personnel, noting that "the worst thing we could do is sign an act and then not give them attention." He also pointed out that Mrs. Bowen has been a tremendous force in the mounting success of the Queen Booking Corp.

Elektra Hosts ARD

Elektra Records hosted a dinner for the Association of Record Dealers, an organization made up of retailers and one-stops in the New York area, at Al and Dick's Restaurant on Tuesday night, June 16.

In addition to Elektra President Jac Holzman and General Manager Bill Harvey, other record company executives attending the occasion were Buck Rheingold and Ed Charles of Buddah Records and Cy Spiegelman of Ranwood. Also present were Dave Seidman of Futura Tone Distributors, Jerry Winston of Wendy Distributors and ARD President Mickey Genzler.

Following a discussion of upcoming Elektra product, Elektra President Holzman spoke about ARD's membership's ability to help record manufacturers to promote new artists. "ARD can become an essential force," said Holzman, "in keeping the life's blood of the industry flowing with new talent."

Elektra's General Manager Bill Harvey offered Elektra's services in making ARD a more effective organization.

'Outlaw Media' Proposed At Alternative Meet

By BOB MOORE MERLIS

The Alternative Media Project conference held in rural Vermont last week wasn't all fun and games. Much serious discussion and debate were held regarding the record business and alternative (to profit motivated) means of communication.

The workshop titled "Free Enterprise & the Cultural Revolution" saw skillful guerilla theater engineered by WBAI's Bob Fass and friends which was an uniquely successful manipulative device. It gave the meeting structure and dimension. Fass carried his routine so far that he had to be wrestled to the ground and bodily ejected from the meeting after a while. One can only surmise that this was his initial intention.

The chaos which typified the start of the meeting was called "reflective of urban insanity" by one participant. She added, "You can't run away from it." The workshop settled down to a look at the imprisonment of Timothy Leary, among others, and ended in a calming group chant of "Om" which itself ended with talk of a more exciting and evocative nature.

"There's a revolution going on; what are you doing here?", was the view of one man. "The media thinks it's special, elite. It's not CBS or Atlantic Records, it's the people in the community we have to relate to."

The suggestion was made that "radio and records are tools which must be used" without the medium corrupting the message. A call was issued for new form media which was called "outlaw media." These means of communication would include newspapers which pay no taxes; radio stations set up in trucks and buses which would have no F.C.C. licences; festivals without permits; and records without profit.

Workshop Attracts Many

Another workshop, an examination of the relationship of recording companies and the underground press, attracted many industry people. Richard Robinson, Director of A&R for Kama Sutra, pointed out the similarities between R & B, Top 40 and FM progressive programming. His comment was, "They're all playing the same game." Steve Harris of Elektra expressed the feeling that the underground press is not all that vital to record sales and most industry people and former industry people tended to agree that airplay is the one simple key to sales.

Robinson opined, "Is the artist part of your revolution? I doubt it." He pointed out that big advances and sales are part of ego gratification for the artists. The statement drew heavy criticism from many participants.

Question of How To . . .

The question of how to get records to people with becoming "another record company" then presented itself. The problem was laid out as follows: "Our energy is in the music, but this energy gets siphoned off by the very companies which isolate the artists from the community through their need to make a profit." Another man put it this way: "We must ask ourselves how we can get music, which is a revolutionary force, to the people without a profit." Co-op and movement record labels and means of distribution were then discussed.

Apocalyptic Vision

One person had an apocalyptic vision of the future of record companies which he directed to the industry people present (Eleuthera, Elektra, Douglas, Atlantic, Kama Sutra, Vanguard, Blue Thumb): "You will create a colossal put-on and dupe everybody. When they realize what you have done, you will fall."

Douglas' Kenny Schaefer saw the problem in very practical terms: "The freedom of the record medium is governed, in essence, by the freedom of the radio medium—that's our biggest problem."

Traded Experiences

A workshop on the "Future of Creative AM Radio" had participants trading experiences. Most had encountered problems with advertisers. Owners felt there would be a loss in ad revenue if they switched their format to free form. One disk jockey commented, "We may lose some accounts but we gain a lot morally." He continued, "The management likes it when we bring in the money and that's fine, but we're here to serve the community."

Many found it difficult to get cooperation from management

Kasenetz, Katz Go British

NEW YORK—Kasenetz and Katz are currently revamping their label, Super K Records, and groups Ohio Express, Crazy Elephant, Music Explosion and Kasenetz and Katz Super Circus for a British approach.

The only act standing pat is the 1910 Fruitgum Company.

According to Kasenetz & Katz, "We realize after 45 chart singles and a lay-off of the record scene for nearly six months that it has become important that we begin again with groups that are outstanding musicians and vocalists capable of setting lasting images. The reason for the British movement is that we find it easier to communicate with British artists. We are going after a particularly new sound and approach to the record industry."

"We intend to release most of our product in England first, allowing us to have 10 different artists with singles out at the same time in different countries. For example, we have just released a Freddie and the Dreamers single, 'Susan's Tuber,' in France only, and in one week it has hit the charts and will soon be out in Germany. This allows us to test our records. All big European hits will be released on Super K, as well as other choice singles."

"By turning our groups European, it makes it easier to promote singles in Europe as well as giving the act enough work and experience so that when they come to the U.S. they will be ready to mix with the heavy acts. Our first release will be by Graham Gouldman," stated Kasenetz and Katz.

Elektra Coast Appointments

LOS ANGELES — Jac Holzman, President of Elektra Records, announces the appointment of Brian Ross-Myring as Chief Engineer, effective immediately.

Ross-Myring's home base will be Elektra's West Coast office. His most recent assignment was as engineer at Columbia Records for three and a half years. He recently received a gold album for his work on Sly and the Family Stone's "Stand" album and is about to receive one for the double-set "Chicago." Ross-Myring will be most actively involved with mastering records from disk to lacquer for Elektra's new lacquer channel.

Two other appointments to Elektra's West Coast office were announced by Holzman. Curb Donahue is now A&R Administrative Assistant, and Bruce Morgan is a new engineer.

Donahue was most recently a music columnist and reviewer for Daily Variety. Prior to that, he has held positions as Press Secretary for the Fred Farr campaign in Monterey County, Director of Public Relations for the Peace Corps and Producer and Associate Producer for KHJ-TV on such shows as "Groovy," "Boss City" and "Ninth Street West." In his new position, Donahue will be responsible for scouting new talent, in addition to offering general assistance to VP Russ Miller.

because many of these executives were totally unfamiliar with the life styles to which free form radio caters.

And so the workshops went. Some were stormy sessions, some were idyllic. Aside from talk, much was accomplished on a practical level. Radio people increased their contact with those who provide tape services; information useful in one area was transferred to another and stations with servicing problems had them straightened out.

The meeting to a great degree, were really a show of strength (and weaknesses). A collective stock-taking helped people get a better grasp and vision of exactly where they are and what they are up against. (Pictures on page 20.)

Glass Bottle Spinning

NEW YORK — Last week Record World spoke to Gary Criss, leader and spokesman for the Glass Bottle, a new group on the Avco Embassy label.

The group has recently released its first album, entitled "The Glass Bottle," and has now come out with a single from the LP, "Sorry Suzanne," which has instantly received heavy air play.

Gary also revealed other current happenings with the group, which include recording the feature song ("Wonder Wheel") for the Eli Wallach-Julie Harris film, "People Next Door." They will also be appearing at a July 4 show in California with Raquel Welch, and have taped a segment of the Clay Cole show, hosted by James Brown, to be shown sometime in July.

The Glass Bottle consists of six members (all of whom sing), and Gary described the group as "definitely not a heavy group, and definitely not a bubblegum group . . . we're probably more like the Fifth Dimension." As for the future, they will concentrate on promoting the album, and might release "Wonder Wheel" as a single.

Sherlock on Tour

Prophecy Imports German Groups

NEW YORK — Prophecy Records, an organization recently formed as an independent division of Gulf Pacific Industries, is bringing two German groups to the United States.

Mickey Shapiro, Prophecy's President, has studied the rock scene in Germany and believes it to have a high potential for success in the U. S. market. As a result, it was announced at a Bell Records luncheon last week that Prophecy will be the first American company to bring contemporary German product into this country. The product will be distributed by Bell Records.

The two groups to be brought over, both of which have created much excitement in Germany, are Amon Duul (an entire commune consisting of approximately 24 people, of whom eight are regulars) and Birth Control, a hard-rock quintet patterned after the Doors. Both Prophecy and Bell are looking forward to releasing LPs from these groups in the U.S. in the near future.

NOTES FROM THE UNDERGROUND

By CARL La FONG

The Vanguard album, "I Was So Much Older Then . . .", contains material by Bob Dylan, Leonard Cohen, Neil Young. It is sung by Abraham Feinberg, Rabbi Abraham Feinberg now 70 years old.

The Rabbi is an incredible man, a true rebel, an honest pursuer of human dignity. In 1930 he renounced organized religion as "loaded with material glory and bereft of life" and turned away from the pulpit. His sermon was quoted in both the New York Times and Pravda. Turning to an early love of singing, Rabbi Feinberg changed his name to Anthony Freme, and became the Poet Prince of Radio to the tune of $1500 a week.

However, Hitler changed all that "frivolous" activity by declaring war. The Rabbi explains, "I just couldn't endure the thought that I was communicating on the radio songs about love/dove, however sincerely I felt them, when Hitler was using the same medium to emit poison all over the world. I just couldn't endure it. I got sick of myself and the role I was playing."

He changed his role and went back to the Synagogue and has preached militant pacifism ever since. In 1967 he went to Hanoi and talked peace with Ho Chi Minh. Since that time he has continually led anti-war demonstrations and has two books, one dealing with his personal upheavals, the other with his historical trip to North Viet Nam.

Despite his advanced age, Rabbi Feinberg finds himself allied with the young, the most dissident. He states, somewhat uniquely, "the older I get the more radical I become."

Although he claims allegiance to pacifism, the Rabbi does not believe in totally turning the other cheek. "I might say there are situations where violence is inevitable."

However, although he finds violence a possibility, the Rabbi does not regard it as a favorable alternative to constructive action. "What can be done, and what is being done, is organization. I conducted a Jewish service and Memorial tribute to the Kent State Martyrs and I marched with Dr. Spock and the others on May 8 and 9 at the White House. There was a significant change in this demonstration, a change from all the others I had attended. It was quieter, more thoughtful; a difference in tone. The students have gone from demonstration to organization, from the verbiage of protest to the writings of legal briefs. Reasoning is taking place."

Attention Record World Advertisers

Due to the July 4th Holiday, the ad deadline for the Record World July 11 issue will be Wednesday, July 1.

Bernard Maps Barnaby Plans

HOLLYWOOD — Alan Bernard, whose Barnaby Records is currently hot with the Ray Stevens smash, "Everything is Beautiful," recently stated the philosophy behind the label and his plans for the future.

A successful personal manager and agent for several years, Bernard gave up the personal management business seven months ago except for the management of Andy Williams, his partner in Barnaby. He did this so he would be able to devote his full time to the label. He stated that the first aim of the label will be "total involvement" with the artists signed, which can be accomplished through his years of contact in the management, TV, concert fields and thus allowing the label to work with managers and agents in "opening doors" for the talent.

The present example of this is that the record company, through Steven's managers and agents, was highly responsible for getting him the summer replacement show for the Andy Williams show. It is this type of development that Bernard hopes to accomplish with other acts signed to Barnaby. In order to do this, the label will be highly selective in signing artists, while still maintaining an open door policy in search of product, material and talent.

Alan Bernard

Newly signed artists that the company hopes to develop in this manner are Ken Berry of TV's "Mayberry RFD," Jimmy Buffett, a new singer-composer from Nashville, and young singer Payton Hoag.

Product Planned

Product planned for early release includes a new single, "America, Communicate with Me," an album by Stevens and one by the Crickets, plus a "Best of the Everly Brothers." LP garnered from the Cadence catalog owned by Barnaby. Sales offices are located in Nashville with Mike Sheppard as Sales Manager. Both the Nashville and the Los Angeles offices are now actively seeking product and material.

Distribution is through Columbia Records which Bernard described as "a very successful and satisfactory arrangement."

Allen/McGrath/'Sesame'

McGrath, the lanky, smiling, adult Sesame Street citizen, sauntered over to Record World last week to talk of his "Sesame Street" activities, most notably his Affinity (Stereo Dimension-distributed) album cut under the supervision of label topper, Robert Allen. By more than coincidence, Allen was with McGrath.

"The people on the show have been asked to endorse all sorts of products and to become involved with all sorts of projects," McGrath reported, "but because of the nature of our show, which is not just another television show, we can't become involved in any exploitative enterprise. Our contracts with the show prohibit our endorsing any products. On other matters, we are expected to exercise our taste."

"This album," McGrath continued, referring to Allen's opus, "is the first album I've consented to do beside the original cast album because I think it extends the philosophy of the show rather than duplicate material we have already done on the show. I don't think there has ever been a more carefully-conceived children's album. There have been entertaining albums, of course, but never, I think, an album that contains the philosophy of this album."

"I intended the album as an amplification of the possibilities of the show," Allen said. The "idea was to illuminate and entertain at the same time. Recently something has gone out of life to an extent—joy. 'Sesame Street' has joy, and not a Pollyanna joy. It's the joy of being receptive to the world."

Songwriter Allen has written a number of new tunes for his album, some by himself, some with Al Stillman or Bob Hilliard and expects they'll be incorporated into the next "Sesame" shows. "You'll notice that none of the songs includes the word 'they.' It's all 'I,' 'you,' 'we,' 'us' and 'our.' It's the philosophy of individual fulfillment, dignity as a person. It's important that the child realize he is important. In fact that's not limited to children. After all, children are just the microcosm of the adult."

Single Coming

As of now, Allen will keep his promotion of the album discreet. He is planning to provide stores with full displays and then figures to have the package itself sell the album.

He calls the packaging "entertainment-activity," because there are cut-outs and connect-the-dots games and a general do-it-yourself approach built into the jacket. Allen is going to release a single from the album as well, "Groovin' on the Sunshine." "Will it be a smash?," Allen asked. "I don't know, but people are excited about it. It's just important that it's happening, that steps are being taken to spread 'Sesame Street' ideas."

McGrath will also make as many appearances as he can fit in before "Sesame Street" resumes its heavy second year schedule (over 150 segments). So far he and the cast members have presided at all kinds of children's confabs and that includes block parties. McGrath, who was one of Mitch Miller's singers for quite a while (he's trying to have Mitch worked into the "Sesame Street" fabric) and also carved quite a singing career for himself in Japan, said of "Sesame Street," "I've done many wonderful things in my career, bigger productions, but I don't think anything to compare with what I've done on 'Sesame Street.' I've had things happen to me you can't buy."

Allen, who has a number of ambitious "Sesame" ideas for McGrath running around his head, echoed McGrath's open Sesame enthusiasm. "I get credit for producing this album, but everybody got into the production end, even the kids had ideas. It's everybody's production. I have never had more fun on any project I've ever worked on."

Immediate plans for the group include public performances at several pop festivals this summer, the scoring of two motion pictures from the Cannon Group and an album to be recorded in September.

Sue Blu, Star on Rise

HOLLYWOOD — A talent to watch is diminutive singer Sue Blu, who recently completed an engagement Ye Little Club in Beverly Hills. Only 22, her presence on stage shows her to be a seasoned newcomer with a solid background of stage and club appearances. Possessed of a big voice in spite of her petite appearance, she can belt out a tune in a style reminiscent of Vikki Carr and comes across on stage like a young Judy Garland.

Recently returned from a tour of Vietnam, Sue next plays "Desert Song" in Sacramento with Kay Medford and then embarks on a concert tour of the East Coast with George Jessel.

With her style and her voice, Sue Blu should make a good bet for recordings and at present is negotiating for a label contract.

Reporting to him will be the TMC branch managers in Boston, Baltimore, Atlanta, Miami, Dallas, Chicago, Denver and Albany. Also reporting to Schlang will be Joseph Dean, Vice President of Merchandising for the Eastern Region.

Reporting to him will be the branch managers in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle and Phoenix. Larry Nunes, a Senior Vice President, will be in charge of the company's promotional activities in the Western Region, in addition to his other executive responsibilities.

Jupiter Looks To Future

Chris Crosby's Jupiter Productions has embarked on its most ambitious project to date via the production of an album by a newly formed 10-man rock band called the Salvation Army Band of the 23rd Century.

The LP called "Shine" makes extensive use of the Moog and is being A & R'd by Crosby and Jim Lowe with all tracks original and composed by Lowe/Jack Williams and Cros-

TMC Expands In Middle-Atlantic States

NEW YORK — Transcontinental Music Corporation's middle-Atlantic states' operations headquartered in Baltimore have been expanded to better service its customers in New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia, Maryland, East Pennsylvania and The District of Columbia, and to meet the substantial increases in the company's business in those areas, announces Charles Schlang, Executive VP in charge of the Eastern Region.

As part of the expansion, the company has leased a new warehouse at 72 Alco Place in Baltimore, which contains over 10,000 square feet of space. Larry Goldberg, VP and Branch Manager, as well as National Sales Manager for military sales, said the new facility would be a full-time warehouse where records, tapes, accessories and electronic equipment would be inventoried. He added that the new location would enable the branch's sales force, headed up by Paul Hennessy, to widen its merchandise radius beyond its present scope.

Carlton Resigns

Carlton, one of the best-known executives in the recording industry, has operated the Command/Probe division for the past two years. He was responsible for initiating and developing the Probe label and signed such groups as Zephyr, Rare Bird and Soft Machine. In addition, Carlton contributed significantly to the strong modernization of the Command label, scoring with innovations in pop electronic and Moog synthesizer music that pushed Dick Hyman's Moog album into the 58-week album best-seller class. Carlton re-signed Doc Severinsen to the Command label and promoted the Ray Charles Singers into a position of enjoying a current bestseller chart single.

Consolidating on Coast

ABC Records, Inc., probably will consolidate all operations of Command/Probe under the ABC/Dunhill aegis on the West Coast. "The ABC people asked me to stay," said Carlton, "but I thought it preferable to entertain other challenges which would allow me more creative control and more direct application of my business experience."

Music world notables will approach topics of interest to everybody in attendance. Friday's panel will be "Those Oldies but Goodies." Some of the top men in music will discuss modern music from its beginning, starting with John Hammond of Columbia Records, Milt Gabler of Decca Records, Dave Kapp of many labels and companies and Hugo and Luigi of Avco-Embassy.

There will be three other panels on Friday. All radio people in attendance will be allowed to participate in the Music Day presentations.

On Saturday, July 18, the setting will be "Radio Day." Prominent radio people will be very much in evidence on the four panels scheduled. "Lyric content" will be discussed under the direction of Capitol Cities' Jefferson Kaye Program Director of WKBW in Buffalo. It is scheduled as the first meeting on the agenda for Saturday. The meeting is being called "Darn It—Or Damn It." The other three panels scheduled for Saturday will feature topics like "FM—Today's Radio" and "Radio's Big Question," which will feature people who have not been present on many national gatherings.

Charity Ball

After the big Saturday night "Scenes '70 Banquet," there will be the first annual charity ball to benefit, as Lorenz expresses it, "Our business and the people in it." The organization to receive all monies from the ball will be the Linda Jaspas Cohen Cancer Foundation. It will be strictly by donation.

In keeping with the open door policy established for this gathering, the sessions will wind up with a pool-side breakfast starting at 10:30 Sunday morning. At 11:30 that morning a group of female judges will preside over a male bathing contest that will be conducted at pool-side.

Murrulaid at Spice

Ted Murrulaid, former Assistant A & R Director at Mercury Records, has joined Spice Productions, Inc., as Secretary, Treasurer.

Murrulaid mentioned that there would be two albums forthcoming from the company, both on Mercury. One is "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" by Alexander Rabbit.

Lew Firm Formed

NEW YORK—Ralph Lew announces the formation of an independent production and promotion concern with temporary offices at 324 East 52nd St. (phone 753-3671).

After thorough research and experience at numerous Latin labels, Lew feels that "a totally different" approach is needed in order to be profitably involved in the growing international Latin market. "Latin rock and Latin soul are directions that I favor, as my emphasis is on product that will appeal to the pop market as well as the straight Latin market."

The total A&R operation for the Cotique label has been signed, and the new company has production deals with Ismael Quintana, a favorite of Latin dancers as the singer in the Eddie Palmieri orchestra; Ralph Roig and his Orchestra; Louie Ramirez and Orchestra; Tommy Olivencia and a single based on "Come Together" by the Love Child, Latin soul and Afro-blues band.

Hago votos por su pronto restablecimiento . . . La RCA se ha anotado dos triunfos de gran impacto, su José-José con "La Nave del Olvido" y Estela Núñez con su "Una Lágrima". Me encanta ver como la RCA se activa y se lanza a la batalla en los mercados, sobre todo en Estados Unidos, donde su actividad se había reducido en los últimos años considerablemente. ¡Nuestro saludo y felicitaciones a sus ejecutivos! . . . Agradezco carta de Jorge E. Quiroga en la cual me manifiesta entre otras cosas: "Le agradezco su nota publicada en la revista Record World de fecha 9 de Mayo sobre nuestra modesta compañía. Gracias a ella hemos entablado muy interesantes relaciones comerciales." . . . Ud. se merece eso y mucho más amigo Quiroga . . . Sigue Miguel Ríos ascendiendo en las tablas de éxitos nacionales de Estados Unidos con su interpretación de "A Song of Joy" en Inglés. Quizás el dueto femenino más vendedor de México en este momento, en un repertorio de primera. Se destacan en "La Nave del Olvido," "Una Lágrima," "Puñalito," "Tú que Me Das," "A Besos" y otros temas. Producida por Paco de la Barrera. ¡Fuerte vendedor!

One of the outstanding female duos from Mexico in an astonishing repertoire, most of them best-sellers. "La Nave del Olvido," "Tú que me Das," "Mi Loca Pasión," "Puñalito," more. Strong seller in Mexico, on the West Coast and moving nicely in New York.

Dr. Roig Dead

Dr. Gonzalo Roig, composer of "Quiereme Mucho," which became an international hit under its English title "Yours," died in Havana on June 13.

Before his retirement Dr. Roig was head of the music department at University of Havana. He was also a conductor and a founder of the Havana

Philharmonic. He was 80 and died in the same house in which he was born. As in the case of his compatriot Ernesto Lecuona, E. B. Marks Music Corporation, Dr. Roig's American publisher, was largely responsible for promoting his compositions in U.S.A. and other parts of the world.

Dr. Roig is survived by his wife, two daughters and a son.

sido llamado el gran intérprete, mantiene un poder de ventas espectacular en Norteamérica. De muy tarde en tarde se presenta al mundo un espectáculo como lo es James en escena. Sus interpretaciones en acetato transmiten su mensaje, sincero, profundo y de gran impacto . . . Muy interesante la declaración pública del grupo "Génesis XXI" del sello Peerless en México al mencionar: "No queremos ser copia de grupos norteamericanos" . . . y verdaderamente lo logran. Prueba de ello son "La Lluvia Terminó" y "Ahora Estoy Enamorado" que bajo sus interpretaciones las han colocado de impacto en el mercado. Son integrantes de "Génesis XXI", Alberto Alvear, Antonio Alvares, Fernando González, Luis Pacheco y Sergio Mares, grupo de estudiantes mexicanos del Conservatorio Nacional de Música . . . Por primera vez y antes que nadie daremos a conocer una lista completa de distribuidores, fabricantes y tiendas de discos, establecidas en todo el territorio norteamericano y Puerto Rico. Esta información aparecerá en nuestra "Edición Especial del Año," próxima a salir a la luz pública . . . Y ahora reportándoles desde Perú para la próxima columna, quedo . . . ¡Hasta pronto!

Lend an Ear . . . In English

Provi Garcia, International Manager of the Peer-Southern Organization Latin American Division, has appointed Augusto Monsalve Manager of PSO's Florida Territory, effective July 1. Monsalve is a talent scout and coordinator for recording talent at Peer-Southern's Latin department . . . Xiomara Alfaro was rushed to the hospital last week in Manhattan for surgery . . . RCA is having two smashing hits all over Latin America and the states: José-José with "La Nave del Olvido" and Estela Nuñez with "Una Lágrima." Congratulations! . . . We are grateful for the letter from Jorge E. Quiroga of Argentina in which he states: "I deeply appreciate your comments printed several weeks ago in Record World. Because of them I was able to establish great commercial relations with other firms."

Johnny Ventura is back in Santo Domingo after successful performances in New York . . . "Pacheco Once Upon a Time" by Johnny Pacheco, released several weeks ago by Alegre, is selling nicely. Of course, this album contains terrific hits such as "El Guiro de Macorina," "Pita Camión," "Vuela Paloma" and others already considered as standard in latin music and Johnny renders them beautifully . . . José-José is also a smash in Columbia . . . Polydor released in Mexico "Mr. James Brown." "The King of Soul" is starting to move well in the City of the Palaces due to the promotion granted by Polydor. Such a great American artist should be promoted everywhere. Because of his talent, sincerity and ability to project his feeling, James should be as big in all Latin America as he is in the states. It all depends on the companies representing the label releasing his records . . . Genesis XXI, a new Mexican group from Peerless, declared last week "We do not want to be a carbon copy of American groups." And they mean it as we can hear via their performances of "La Lluvia

By MARTHA BELLO

Chico Buarque De Hollanda—Luego de un año fuera de sus país, Chico vuelve a Rio de Janeiro y ha lanzado al mercado su más reciente LP: "Chico Buarque de Hollanda No. 4" que nos muestra a un músico más maduro, con varias ideas originales que hacen de este álbum un seguro éxito comercial para la compañía editora. Destacamos entre las doce nuevas composiciones — "Gente Humilde" con unos hermosos versos del poeta brasileño Viniçius de Moraes, y también "Os Inconfidentes" basado en la obra poética de la incomparable Cecilia Meireles. Nuevamente en su ambiente, rodeado de sus múltiples amigos y de las innumerables bellezas de Rio de Janeiro, Chico Buarque de Hollanda sigue siendo uno de los jóvenes compositores brasileños que buscan nuevos horizontes para la música popular de este país. El autor del éxito mundial "A Banda," ha comenzado una serie de programas de televisión donde muestra a su público lo mucho que ha aprendido en el continente europeo y las razones por las cuales ha logrado conquistarlo.

Elis Regina—En estos días la popular cantante espera su primer hijo, lo que no le ha impedido presentarse durante veinte noches consecutivas en el "Canecão," pintoresco local nocturno de esta ciudad de Rio de Janeiro. Simultáneamente con sus actuaciones, Elis Regina grabó su disco . . . "Em pleno verão," que está colocado en el primer lugar de ventas en esta ciudad. Excelente repertorio con novedades como "Vou deitar e rolar" del guitarrista Baden Powell, "Fechado p'ra balanço" de Gilberto Gil y "Nao tenha medo" de Caetano Veloso, que fueron compuestas especialmente para Elis Regina y enviados desde Londres donde se encuentran Caetano y Gil. Otro punto alto de este álbum son los arreglos y acompañamientos musicales realizados por el maestro Erlon Chaves y el guitarrista Roberto Menescal.

Hasta aquí, nuestros comentarios sobre discos en el Brasil. En el próximo número nos ocuparemos del V Festival de la Canción Popular de Rio de Janeiro. ¡Hasta ya!

Brian Fuses Rock, Jazz

NEW YORK — Brian Auger and the Trinity, now recording for RCA, are in New York to begin a tour of the U. S., and Brian dropped in at Record World last week to talk about his current musical happenings. Having just finished a mammoth tour of Germany, the group is now coordinating a tour of New York (they'll be at Ungano's and the Action House), Milwaukee, Chicago and other cities with the release (probably June 20) of their latest album—and first on RCA—Belfour."

Brian, whose musical career started with copying notes off a player piano at age three, describes the new album as consistent with the past music of the group in that it works toward a "fusion of rock rhythms and jazz harmonies." He has been working toward this fusion since even before 1965, when the group first got together, and long before the current trend toward returning to the big band sound and other jazz influences on rock. And his years of experience in the jazz-rock field allow him to combine technical knowhow with the improvisational freedom that characterizes Brian Auger and the Trinity. (Evidence of the success of this venture was provided in the group's recent tour of Germany, where Brian won polls in the top German pop magazine, TWEN, as top organist in both the rock and jazz categories.)

Unique Arrangements of Jazz and Rock

The new LP contains unique arrangements of music from both jazz and rock, from Traffic's "No Time to Live" to Herbie Hancock's "Maiden Voyage."

Brian thinks that the kind of music his group is playing is rapidly coming into its own, and predicts that within a year, influenced by similar developments in the styles of Hendrix, Jack Bruce and many others, rock and jazz will be joined in a purely natural musical process. If he is right, Brian Auger and the Trinity should be enjoying a long continuation of their present success.

LET IT BE

CHARLIE BYRD—Columbia CS 1053.

That Byrd charm, that Byrd understanding of "Frank Mills," "Let It Be," "Bridge Over Troubled Water," "Sabia." There's something in Byrd's art that enables him to imbue the contemporary with a touch of timelessness. Nice work.

★★★★ EXPANSIONS

McCOY TYNER—Blue Note BST 84338.

Some extremely modern things are going on on this package, which goes from mood to mood with aplomb. Pianist Tyner finds quite a few new things to do with the pianoforte—some piano, some forte. The rest of the fellows feel their oats, too.

★★★★ HUMAN MUSIC

JON APPLETON & DON CHERRY—Flying Dutchman FDS 121.

Way out fooling around from Jon Appleton and Don Cherry. Appleton noodles with synthesizers, while Cherry doubles, triples, quintuples on brass and percussion. The pieces are called, humorously, "Boa," "Oba," "Abo," "Bao." Those who get it will get it.

★★★★

HUNTINGTON ASHRAM MONASTERY
ALICE COLTRANE—Impulse! AS 9185.

For harpist-pianist Alice Coltrane, this album is a religious experience as she explains in her lucid liner notes. The buyer will certainly find it introspective, contemplative, evocative. All the compositions are new ones penned by Mrs. Coltrane.

Self-Contained Warner Label Opens in Australia

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA — Australia will become the third foreign country in which Burbank-based Warner Brothers Records, Inc., has established its own local and totally self-contained record company, it was announced here by Phil Rose, Vice President and Director of Overseas Operations for the firm.

Warner Brothers Records of Australia, which formally begins operations Oct. 1, will be headed by Paul M. Turner, successful Australian-born record industry executive.

Rose emphasized that the Australian company, to be headquartered in Sydney, will be an entirely autonomous unit in the growing and lucrative Australian market.

Turner and staff will have complete control of release and promotion policy in the country to fit local needs and conditions. Patterned after the United Kingdom operation, formed June 1, 1969, with resulting phenomenal success, the Australian operation will, according to Rose, be a tight, aggressively promotion-oriented operation. Turner will report directly to Rose.

Warner Brothers Records has severed its arrangement with its Australian licensee by allowing its contract to elapse. Pressing and distribution functions of the new company will be leased out to various Australian firms.

Both Turner and Rose stressed that the new firm would be a "recording" company in every sense of the word. A talent building campaign is already in operation.

"Any Australian artists signed by our new label," Rose emphasized, "will have the added windfall of international exposure and exploitation via our American concern, our companies in Great Britain and Canada, and our network of licensees around the world.

Turner said that he is currently completing the formation of a nation-wide promotion staff.

Mo Ostin and Joe Smith, President, respectively, of the parent Warner Bros. Records Inc., stressed that the formation of Warners' own company in Australia was a "natural step" hard on the heels of the unprecedented success of its Canadian firm, founded in 1967 and now headed by Kenneth N. Middleton, and its British unit, which is headed by Ian Ralfini.

However, both Ostin and Smith emphasized that the company had no plans "in the immediate future" for the formation of any other company in foreign countries.

Organgrinders' First Cross-Country Tour

NEW YORK — The Organgrinders, a rising group on the Mercury label, is starting their first cross-country tour.

They will be traveling around the country in their brightly-painted Ford school bus, singing and playing wherever and whenever possible. Their goal is to play "for anyone who wants to listen," and so far they have evidenced this by performing for free at many benefits, rallies, hospitals and other charity functions. Other recent appearances by the group include shows at the Bitter End and Cheetah in New York.

As far as records go, the group has released two singles (one produced by Mama Cass); but their biggest development is the recent release of their first LP, on Mercury, entitled "Out of the Egg." The Organgrinders want to convey a message of truth, honesty and peace, and hope that their records and concerts will reach as many people as possible.

From Soul to Soundtracks

By AL KASHA

VP, Music Divisions, National General

Over the past 10 years, record companies which have made the greatest impact on the world have been the ones which reflect the roots and rhythms of our heritage. The unique blend of influences which make up this melting pot of music center heavily on church music and the blues. The blues have always caused the greatest response from people, outlasting every trend in their path. My own career as a writer bears this out. When I was beginning, I was fortunate enough to have hit recordings by Jackie Wilson, Etta James, Hank Ballard and Aretha Franklin, and nine years later these records are still selling and being performed.

One of the first artists I signed to National General is Barbara Mason, and her record of "If You Knew Him Like I Do"/"Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head" is high on the Rhythm and Blues charts. Another group on the label is Body & Soul, a self-contained unit of seven men with all the excitement of an Isaac Hayes or a Sly and the Family Stone. Most of the artists I plan to sign have a grass-roots derivation, and these will include Silver Metre and Chariot.

I feel fortunate that National General has retained Buddah as its distributor, which I believe to be one of the best promotional forces available. It offers us the outstanding skill of Cecil Holmes, who is recognized as one of the strongest men in the Rhythm and Blues area, as well as the acquisition of Jerry Sharell, Joe Field in album development, and, of course, Neil Bogart's overall product concepts. These men work in tandem with our head of sales and promotion at National General who is Freddy DeMann, whose background and success at Bell Records have given him knowledge and insight into roots music, and an understanding of the talent we are looking for.

Free, Limitless Facilities

The General Manager of our A&R department, Freddie Piro, has provided National General with the free and limitless facilities of his recording studio, which are available for all our artists. He has the option to produce for National General, while being able to produce for other companies under our banner. He will also listen to, and acquire, independent masters. Mike Gruber operates as coordinator of artists relations, an important factor in our company, to keep a constant line of communication open between the acts and the record company so that each are aware of the other's activities. Mike has worked extensively with groups, and was formerly road manager for the Rolling Stones and Moby Grape.

The tie-in between National General Records and National General motion pictures and its other entertainment subsidiaries will furnish opportunities for our artists to expand their horizons and translate their talents into other areas. What makes National General so unique is that these entertainment subsidiaries are young, dynamic and open-minded enough to recognize and make use of these talents in all forms, whether as actor, writer, scorer or producer. As an example, "The Grasshopper" is our first soundtrack album and is one of the first steps in bringing together the record world and the cinema. Not only through our own acts, but by acquiring people whose material is representative of what the record buying public wants. In the case of "The Grasshopper" we used Bobby Russell, the composer of "Little Green Apples" and "Honey," who wrote and performed the title song "As Far As I'm Concerned." The Brooklyn Bridge is also featured singing "Look Again," and all of the soundtracks will have a contemporary sound about them, and not be merely cues.

Irving Levin, President of National General Corporation, has always stressed the synergism between divisions. As an example of the steps taken in this direction, Body & Soul will be appearing in the National General productions of "Running Scared." Our television department has made use of their abilities on several of the Ralph Story specials.

Whenever the opportunity arises, National General acts will all benefit from this multifaceted entertainment complex. Even though the company is large in size, executives on all levels are always available, and this atmosphere of intimacy and communication is tailored to the needs of today's performers.

Atlanta NARAS In Member Drive

The Board of Governors of the Atlanta NARAS Chapter voted at their recent meeting to begin an extensive membership drive that is to climax with a social-business function at the end of the summer.

Wade Pepper was selected by the Board to serve as Chairman of their first Membership Committee. Serving with Pepper on the Membership Committee will be Mary Tallent, Meurice LeFevre, Gy Waldron, Larry King, Gwen Kesler and Herb Lance.

Plans and committees for hosting the Sept. 12-13 National NARAS Trustees meeting were made by the Board of Governors. Wade Pepper, who presided in lieu of Chapter President Bill Lowery, said, "We are elated that our Atlanta Chapter will host the National Trustees meeting and are making extensive plans for the comfort and enjoyment of our visitors."

In an enthusiastic report, Zenas Sears, Chairman of the Chapter's Education Committee, related that tentative working plans are in progress to establish a contemporary record library in conjunction with the Atlanta Public Library.

Harum Here

NEW YORK—Record World got a chance to speak with A&M's Procol Harum last week. The group was in town to kick off a United States tour with an engagement at the Fillmore East, and will be traveling to Philadelphia, Detroit, Atlanta and many other cities for concerts.

Also on the agenda for the English group will be promotion of their new album, "Home," on the A&M label. The LP will probably be released here around June 26, and contains many of the songs they are performing on the present tour.

Gary Brooker, lead singer and pianist for Procol Harum, remarked that the new album is virtually "free of the gimmicks and special effects which characterize so many records today." Most of the songs were recorded once without overdubbing ("Piggy, Pig, Pig" is the only cut with any substantial effects), and the result is "a very live, clean sound." The group also has a current single with two strong sides, "Quite Rightly So" and "In the Wee

In a recent "rap session" on jazz-rock "Fatha" commented, "The young rock groups are beginning to learn the definition of sound. They are learning that sound comes from the instrument and the group and that it does not come from the volume."

Martin Sauser, Headmaster of the Atlanta Symphony and oftentimes session man, is heading for the Penninsula Music Festival in Fishcreek, Wisc. Aug. 2-23. Sauser will be the guest Concert Master, while Dr. Thor Johnson will serve as Music Director . . . Originally pegged to cost $16 million, guess now is that it'll be a $20 million undertaking. Mike Downs, General Manager of the enterprise, says computerized estimate predicts 900,000 people will patronize the park during first year's operation. Incidentally, Downs said that some of the original antique pews of the present Grand Ole Opry House (downtown) are to be used—functional and decorative—in the new setup. Opryland will be open seven days and nights from Memorial Day (May 30) through late September, and operate on limited (mainly weekends) schedule during months. "A part of the place will be open year-round," Downs reports.

Faron Young Back on Job

Faron Young, who suffered painful facial injuries in an automobile collision in suburban Nashville June 5, is sufficiently recovered to resume his career. He's currently on a five-day tour which includes one-nighters in Las Vegas, Phoenix and Albuquerque, after which he'll return home before going to Houston, then to Hawaii on a 10-day working vacation (military clubs) with his manager Billy Deaton and their wives (one each). The Houston visit will be a non-performing date at the Space Center, where he'll present an "Ambassador of Country Music" citation (Via CMA) to astronaut Pete Conrad, a long-time fan and country music buff. (Conrad played some of Young's and Charley Pride's tapes on his moon flight.) Recalling the accident, Young said, "It happened at night and I cut to dodge an old discarded muffler in the lane I was traveling and hit a car coming from the other direction. Frankly, I was lucky to get out of the mishap alive. My tongue was almost severed in two. The plastic surgeon said another fraction of an inch and I would have lost the tongue." Faron's current Mercury release, "If I Ever Fall In Love (with a Honky Tonk Girl)," is high on the music charts. It was written by hot writer Tom T. Hall. "I asked Tom T. to write me a song," Young explained, and he brought me 'If I Every Fall in Love.' I recorded it. Tom T. told me that it was the first time that anybody had asked him to write a song for them and actually recorded it."

Small Hours of Sixpence," and do not have any plans to release any cuts off the album as singles. According to Brooker: "We record singles as singles and albums as albums."

Classification of Procol Harum's music is difficult, and the new album presents a wide range of styles. Many of the group's fans assume that the musicians have had classical training, but Brooker, who writes much of the music for the group, has picked up everything he knows by ear, and none of the rest claim any rigorous training in the classics.

But whatever their background, things are looking up for Procol Harum, and they are counting on the new album and their current tour to stimulate even more success.

Hank Williams, Jr., to Star In C & W TV Series

NASHVILLE — MGM has bought and will produce a 26-week country variety show to be taped in Culver City, Calif., for syndication. MGM recording artist Hank Williams, Jr., will host the series. Announcement of the show was made June 25 by producers Miles Harmon and Larry Murray at a press conference held at the Country Music Hall of Fame. The 60-minute series will be filmed in color and is the third major TV project centered around Nashville's country music celebrities.

According to Hank Jr.'s personal manager, Buddy Lee the show will operate on $1½ million budget. Lee will handle talent and research for the prime-time program. Initial filming will begin in early August at MGM's permanent sound stage in Culver City. Guest artists for each week's show will be drawn from country music entertainers based in Nashville. Regulars on the show will include A&M Records' the Dillards and Evie Sands Capitol's Linda Ronstadt and Bell's Merrilee Rush. Also included in the format will be a songwriters spot which will introduce writers of national hits to TV audiences.

According to producer Murray, "No big orchestra will be used. We will stick to a five or six-piece group. We want to present basic and realistic concert situations. Although we're working in Culver City because of the physical facilities the guts of the show will be Nashville people."

Hank Jr. will work with his traveling group the Cheatin' Hearts, who will also share the stage with the late Hank Sr.'s band, the Drifting Cowboys. MGM sales officials are currently in the process of selling the syndicated product to approximately 150 major markets.

Unique among major TV shows, the Hank Williams, Jr., effort is being sold without the aid of a pilot program.

Girls Gang Up

By CHUCK NEESE

NASHVILLE — When the girls gang up, things begin to happen.

Lorene Allen and Peggy Sue Wells wrote a song called "Another Man Loved Me Last Night." RCA producer Bob Ferguson cut "Another Man" on Oklahoman Norma Jean. The fourth girl to enter the picture is Decca's Loretta Lynn, who published the song through her Coal Miners Music.

The RCA release, which was mailed in late May, has run into some problems, so think the girls. "I understand we're having some trouble getting airplay in the Bible Belt," Lorene said at a recent "What Are We Gonna Do" meeting.

"Maybe it's because Norma Jean quit working the road," somebody else chimed in.

"Whatever it is, we're gonna work it out. It's a great song and Norma Jean is a great artist," Loretta told the group.

Although three weeks is a short time for a record to be on the market, the girls feel it should have already been in the charts and they have begun a campaign to put it there.

Record World's John Sturdivant, songwriter Lorene Allen and Loretta Lynn discuss Norma Jean's record of "Another Man Loved Me Last Night."

Loretta, who is an exclusive writer with Sure Fire Music, opened her Coal Miners Music office late last year in the Capitol Records building.

"This is our first single," Loretta told Record World. "We've had only album cuts prior to this."

"We've got just the follow up," Lorene said. "It's called 'The Grass May Be Greener, But It's Just As Hard To Mow'."

According to RCA promo man Wally Cochran, "The record is doing very well as a starter. Looks like it will be one of Norma Jean's better records."

Concert Review

Arts Center Show a Treat

HOLMDEL, N. J. — If you like "Hee Haw," you would have loved the show at the Garden State Arts Center here last Friday (19).

As part of the Country Music Festival, a presentation of WJRZ radio (Newark, N. J.), dj Lee Arnold hosted a concert featuring many of the stars of the popular television series. And though the crowd could hardly have been described as large, those who did turn out proved to be genuine C&W enthusiasts happy to see real country music brought up north.

Among the veterans performing were Grandpa Jones, Curtis Potter and the Brazo Valley Boys (who backed all the individual performers), songstress Mary Taylor (singing her parody of Roger Miller's "King of the Road" entitled "Queen of the House"—a number which might not have gone over so well had there been any Women's Liberationists in the audience) and "Hee Haw" writer and comedian Archie Campbell.

All were enjoyed by the fans, but the Arts Center didn't really come to life until the second half of the show, which featured Dot country great Hank Thompson and "Hee Haw" star Roy Clark.

Thompson came first and captured the crowd with his easygoing (though repetitious) ballads, including "The Green Light," "Humpty Dumpty Heart" and "Smokey the Bar." And finally Dot's Clark, whom some say is the fastest guitar picker in the world, played a combination of instrumentals and vocals (after speaking at some length on the difference between the two) which were as lively as music can be.

In all, the Country and Western Festival featuring the "Hee Haw" stars was a treat for anyone who enjoys the spirit of country music.

Country Artists Form Pubbery

NASHVILLE — William G. Hall has announced the opening of Artists, Composers Talent Society, Inc. (ACTS).

ACTS is a Tennessee corporation operating three divisions—Arawak Music, ASCAP; Bannock Music, BMI, and Sauk Music, SESAC. The firm has leased space in the SESAC building formerly occupied by Metromedia Records.

Stockholders in ACTS are some 20 leading country recording artists and independent producers. A list of the stockholders will be announced at a later date.

Hall told Record World that participation as stockholders in ACTS will not interfere with present publishing affiliations or commitments of the artists or producers. ACTS is actively seeking material and signing writers. "We've already had songs cut since we first started pushing material earlier this month," Hall said.

Allsup Heads GRT In Nashville

NASHVILLE — Len Levy, President of the GRT Record Group, announces the opening of a Nashville office for GRT Records to be located at 1512 Hawkins St. In addition, Levy announced the appointment of Tommy Allsup as executive producer in charge of Nashville operations.

In announcing Allsup's appointment, Levy said: "I have always felt strongly that any well-rounded record label must be represented by product from Nashville, which is one of the most creative and productive contributing centers to the recording industry. I am particularly pleased that our representative in this area is a man of such talent and knowledge of the industry as Tommy Allsup."

Allsup, one of Nashville's outstanding producers and musicians, worked with Levy most recently when Levy was President of Metromedia Records.

Allsup began in the music business as lead guitarist with Buddy Holly and the Crickets. In 1960 he joined Liberty Records under the direction of Snuff Garrett where he was head of Country A&R for five years. In 1965, Allsup opened his own studio and independent production office in Texas. During the next four years he discovered, produced and directed the Zager and Evans hits, including the single "2525."

Allsup joined Metromedia as head of Country product in 1969, a post he left to join Levy at GRT at this time.

I WITNESS LIFE

TOM T. HALL—Mercury SR 61277.

Tom's new hit single, "Salute to a Switchblade," was pulled from this album. The whole collection of new tunes is based on T. T. H.'s own experiences. Tom even plays harmonica on one cut and introduces Sandy Scruggs on the banjo. Quite a display.

record world Country From The Continent

By MURRAY KASH

LONDON — George Hamilton IV came through London on his way back to the states after a tour of Germany. George was interviewed on BBC "Country Style" and was in conference with the BBC-TV executives about hosting a forthcoming country music series . . . Plans are also underway for Tex Williams to do a short tour of Ireland. . . Slim Whitman due to do an extended visit to the Emerald Isle in September, playing in 33 different venues!

Roger Ryan, President of the Country Music Association of Ireland, visiting London this week as part of his vacation. Roger reports that more and more Irish show bands are dropping their brass instruments and going over to the fiddle and guitar for a more country music sound that is becoming all the rage. The CMA of Ireland is less than two years old, and is adding to its membership weekly. They issue a monthly newsletter, giving all the news both national and international; provide a 10% discount for members on disk purchases; and a discount on tickets to country music concerts. The most popular American country stars in Ireland are Johnny Cash, Buck Owens, Hank Locklin and Slim Whitman, says Roger. Of the Irish groups, the Smokey Mountain Ramblers, the Cotton Mills Boys, the Virginians, the Nashville Ramblers, Big Tom and the Mainliners, Gene Stewart and the Mighty Avons, Larry Cunningham and the Country Blue Boys. The Irish CMA has presented beautiful hand-printed scrolls to Hank Locklin, Hank Snow and Buck Owens when they came to play there.

The Orange Blossom Sound are doing a four-month stint around Scandinavia as part of Jack Daly Show. Meanwhile, in Stavanger, Norway, the recent Scandinavian Country and Western Festival has been a great success. The music ranged from old-time to modern. It ran for two days in the Kuppelhallen, a 2500-seater that was filled to capacity. On the first day they held the Norwegian Country Competition, with groups and soloists from all over Norway participating. Judges were Otto Waldoff, Denmark; Ingvar Holm, Norway; Erik Heyerdal, Norway; and Lillies Ohlssen, Sweden. The major criticism of this first-ever type of competition was the lumping together all the different types of music, from bluegrass to modern. In future (another is being planned for 1971), they intend to set up different categories. The music included songs made famous by Buck Owens, Merle Haggard, Hank Williams, Charley Pride, Tammy Wynette and others. Clive Scott and the Skywegians were very much in evidence as performers, representing Bergen and as a backing group. They plan to be in London in July to play the Nashville Room.
