TELSTAR & THE WORLD'S LARGEST AIRLINE

World's largest airline makes world's first reservation via Telstar!

Place: A reservations desk in the Air France reservations center at Idlewild Airport. There is an important difference in the phone call that is being received at this moment, however. It was placed at Air France headquarters in Paris, transmitted to the Telstar communications satellite in space, then back again to earth!

ellite in space, then back again to earth!
This historic "first" is one of many Air
France has established. Other examples: first international passenger flight, Paris/London, in 1919; first flight with a passenger across the South Atlantic, in 1930; first jet passenger flight over the North Pole, Paris/Tokyo, in 1960; first airline to equip its entire Boeing 707 Intercontinental Jet fleet with Doppler radar, an automatic navigational system. And Air France was first to order a remarkable new communication system that now links its 41 offices in North America with over 500 offices around the world. Air France's network covers 201,043 miles of unduplicated route miles, the largest of any airline in the world.

Maintenance and personnel training programs are other areas in which Air France strives for perfection. Pilots as well as crews constantly undergo refresher training. No other airline has higher standards for its personnel. Or for any phase of operations, in fact.

This kind of dedication to excellence has always been a hallmark of Air France, the world's largest airline, through 43 years of international flying experience.

PGW Television Colonels worked for advertising agencies for 70 years before they joined us. Our Radio Colonels put in nearly half a century with companies that market goods and services. Altogether, we have been on the other side of the advertising desk for 173 years.

They were very productive years for many of us. Because of them, the PGW Colonel is very much at home with advertisers . . . and advertisers are at home to the Colonel.

That's why the Colonel is always on the go!

RADIO, TELEVISION HAVE GOOD YEAR

- Average station shows business improved over 1961
- Prospects for future bright as economy picks up speed
- Increases in sets per home, listening, number of stations

Broadcasting continued to grow in

As the year drew to a close both radio and television showed signs of increasing prosperity and most economic factors pointed toward continued growth in the months ahead.

National studies by BROADCASTING in the final quarter of 1962 showed both radio and television billings ahead of the same period a year earlier, with the average station showing considerable improvement in financial status.

In radio 78% of stations reported their business increased in 1962 as compared with only 55% showing an increase a year earlier. Local billings were up for the same percentage of stations, 78%, while in 1961 only 65% showed such an increase. Spot too, was encouraging, with increases reported by 56.5% of radio stations as compared with 46%

More Radios - A September study by A. C. Nielsen revealed that 51,690,000 of the 54,870,000 homes in the country were radio equipped, a total of 94%. In the northeast area of the country 96% of the homes have radios; in the East Central area 95%, and West Central and Pacific areas both showed 95%. Only in the South was the figure slightly under-average with 91% of homes radio equipped.

Radio listening in the average home is one hour, thirty-eight minutes a day with the Monday-Friday average one hour, forty-two minutes. In an average week 40,676,000 homes listen to radio (for details see page D-32). Radio stations on the air increased in 1962 to 3,794 am's and 1,062 fm's.

Tv Spot Demand = In television December found nine of ten television stations reporting fewer spot availabilities unsold than a year ago. The average gain was an estimated 24%. Most stations reported tv spot sales throughout the year ahead of those in 1961. These findings supported a similar survey three months earlier, which showed fourth quarter spot television billings promised to be record breaking. At that time 80% of stations showed an increase in spot business.

Network billings also increased throughout the year. The Television Bureau of Advertising report for the first six months of 1962 showed gains of 11.6% over the same period in 1961.

A. C. Nielsen reports that in September there were 49,800,000 television homes among the 54,800,000 in the country which is a penetration of 91%. As in radio all parts of the country except one were at the national average or above with the Northeast showing 94%, East Central and Pacific 92% each and West Central 91%. The exception was the South which had 85% penetration.

Viewing High • Average television viewing time continued high with 5 hours, 6 minutes per day, per home. Winter viewing totalled 5 hours, 40 minutes, while summer was down to 4 hours, 31 minutes. The average years of set ownership increased to 8.4 as compared to 7.7 in 1961.

The number of television stations on the air increased to 577 commercial stations and 68 non-commercial. Of commercial outlets 486 were vhf.

FM showed increasing popularity with an estimated audience of 14 to 15 million homes and fm homes being added at the rate of two million a year.

The year was not without its problems, especially on the government front. At the FCC there was increasing interest in programming with a hearing in Chicago on tv programs there and another scheduled for Omaha.

Program Regulation • At press time the members of the commission were inquiring into what appeared to be staff efforts to regulate program schedules through delay in license renewals. The question reached a climax when it was discovered that most California am, fm and tv stations were not receiving new licenses as scheduled because of staff inquiries into programming in prime time. Other stations had received renewals only after altering their program plans in line with FCC suggestions.

A stricter enforcement and interpretation of the laws and rules was noticeable throughout the year. Several stations were fined and other licenses were revoked. Some received short-term renewals. The network study staff at the FCC delivered recommendations that would create under federal law a system of self-regulation in which all radio and tv broadcasters would be required to belong to a government approved trade association which, under the guidance of the FCC, would formulate codes and enforce them. Expulsion from the association would mean disqualification as a broadcast licensee.

All-Channel Law • On the Hill the 87th Congress adopted bills requiring manufacturers to make all-channel tv receivers, provide federal aid for educational television and creating a private corporation to own and operate a U.S. portion of the proposed international communications satellite system. The latter move came after the spectacular success of Telstar which made crossocean telecasts possible.

When final 1961 television figures came from the FCC in August, revenues were shown to have reached a new high of $1.3 billion. Profits before taxes increased in all categories but one-network operations-but this drop was sufficient to bring television's overall profits down to $237 million as compared to $244.1 million in 1960.

Final 1961 Tv Figures In 1961 network tv income (not counting o&o stations and before federal taxes) slipped from $33.6 million in 1960 to $24.7 million in 1961—a decline of $8.9 million. Income by the networks' o&o stations and by 525 other tv stations moved up $1.8 million in 1961 compared with the prevoius year, thus leaving the industry with a $7.1 million decline. The three networks and their 15 o&o stations continued to move ahead with total revenues of $675.3 million; profits before taxes were $87 million. Overall network operations brought in total revenues of $526.5 million; the 15 o&o stations had total revenues of $148.8 million and 525 other tv stations had total revenues of $643 million.

Income before taxes from network operations was $24.5 million; from the 15 o&o stations $62.3 million, from 525 other tv stations $150 million. Although network and national spot time sales were up in 1961 local sales declined by $4.5 million.

Final 1961 Radio Figures • In 1961 before-tax profits in radio came to $29.4 million which was the lowest figure in this column since 1939 when profits of $23.8 million were reported on total revenues of $123.9 million. Networks reported an increase in the earnings picture with profits of $206,000 as compared with a loss of $3 million in 1960. While revenues were off about $1.4 million expenses dropped $4.6 million which improved the profit picture. For the nation's 3,591 am and am-fm stations billings dropped slightly and expenses increased bringing a drop in profit before taxes of 38%.

Of stations reporting a loss about twothirds had losses of less than $15,000. At the same time almost two-thirds of the stations making a profit reported less than $15,000. Some 2,261 stations reported profit or loss of less than $15,000.

Revenues of independent fm stations were $7.1 million, up $1.3 million from 1960. Expenses totaled $9.7 million, up $1.5 million resulting in a loss of $2.6 million compared with 2.4 million in 1960.

An NAB study showed a typical radio station earned a 4.8% profit on its 1961 operations before federal taxes. This compares to a 7.6% profit in 1960.

The typical tv station, according to the same source, made a profit of 12.5% in 1961 compared to 15.4% profit in 1960.

Prediction of an overall increase for both radio and television stations in 1962 was based on four months of reports for the first part of the year which showed a 3.5% increase in radio revenue and a 6.7% increase in tv revenue.

Anniversaries • In 1962 141 radio stations celebrated their fortieth birthdays, all which remained of nearly 500 which went on the air in 1922. [Broadcasting, May 14, 1962.]

A study of radio and television accounts indicated that J. Walter Thompson with estimated broadcast billings of $133 million was first for the fifth straight year. Other top agencies included Ted Bates $115 million; BBDO $100 million; Leo Burnett $98.5 million; Young and Rubicam $97.2 million; Benton & Bowles $84 million; Dancer-Fitzgerald-Sample $75 million; William Esty $72 million, Compton $71 million and McCann-Erickson $66.3 million [BROADCASTING, Nov. 19, 1962.]

^{*}In 1948 FCC reported only "total revenues" (from time, talent and services) from "network programs" and from business "sold directly by stations." Hence figures for that first year of financial reporting are not comparable with time sales in ensuing years.

Tv programming: live, film, video tape

HOW THE STATIONS AND NETWORKS BREAK DOWN THEIR SCHEDULES

Analyses of programming, based on questionnaire returns from U. S. television stations and networks, have been a continuing feature of Broadcasting since 1953. The current year's statistics cover the week of June 3-9, 1962. The figures on video tape for the networks and stations have been introduced into the survey only for the latter years when video tape installations became of sufficient numbers to warrant consideration.

Prior to 1958, tv's growth fluctuated more and semi-annual surveys were conducted to pinpoint the trends. However, since then the total number of stations and hours of programming have become more stabilized, hence the survey has been changed to a once-a-year basis.

In comparing returns of network affiliates against nonnetwork stations, consideration should be made for the fact that approximately 93% of the questionnaire returns received this year were furnished by television stations affiliated with at least one of the major networks.

To bring to Los Angeles' 11/2 million school children a better understanding of their government, its history and function, KNXT produced "For Which We Stand," a two-part filmed record of 12 Southern California students' experiences on a KNXT-sponsored tour of the nation's capital. Summing up the enthusiastic reaction of local audiences and critics alike, the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner saluted the two hour-long programs as "an uplifting show for all Americans."

Only a mass medium like television can make community service so meaningful, for so many. And in Los Angeles, only Channel 2 does the job so well. Which is one reason why the number one television station with viewers throughout the nation's second market is-has always been-CBS Owned KNXT.

Washington conversation stopper...WRC-TV wins 5 out of 6 Emmies! It was an overwhelming vote of confidence. WRC-TV programs and personalities made it virtually a clean sweep in the 14th Annual Emmy Awards: "Decade of Crisis" honored in two categories—"outstanding educational program" and "most outstanding interview and/or discussion program." "Profile: City in the Civil War"—judged "most outstanding public affairs program." Bryson Rash, WRC-TV's distinguished news analyst and commentator, voted "outstanding local personality." And "Bozo the Clown" named "best children's program." These are typical of the people and programs that have made WRC-TV truly the leadership station in the nation's capital!

"KEEP AT HAND THROUGHOUT YEAR"

"We at BBDO find the BROADCASTING Yearbook an invaluable reference which we keep at hand throughout the year. By listing the facilities and other pertinent data for every radio and television station in every market, it is helpful in our day-to-day buying activities."

> Herb Maneloveg V.P. & Media Director Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn New York

A man who likes to generate action

who believes that things are more apt to happen in business when he makes them happen, is probably also a great believer in reading the advertising in his businesspaper. For he knows from experience that when information featured in these pages is acted upon it can help him do his job better, help him get ahead faster, help build profits for his company.

That's one good reason why advertisers find this publication so effective. You, and other readers like you, find the facts about their products so useful in your work. The fact is:

advertising in businesspapers means business for you-and for the advertiser.

The plus value of paid circulation is "wantedness"

A scene from Gilbert & Sullivan's operetta classic, "The Mikado," as performed by the students of Evanston Township High School, and broadcast during 90 minutes of prime time on Chicago's Television 2, as part of its regular "Repertoire Theatre" series. Reception? Fit for an Emperor! Variety, for example, called the show "Remarkable. Superb." And then went on with special applause for

"the handsome mounting of the production. the impeccable staging, first-rate setting and costumes, and near-perfect camera work."

there was a little mouse who had no home. One cold winter night, he found his way into a church. And he liked it there very much, because it was nice and warm and safe. So he decided to stay. When the children came to Sunday School, they were delighted to see him. And he soon became their pet. They even gave him a name - "Timothy Churchmouse"!

Before very long he grew to be so popular, that his fame spread and spread . . . until one day he became the star of a Sunday School program. on WLW-I. And there he lived happily ever after!

"Timothy Churchmouse" is just one of the many WLW-I public service programs. WLW-I devotes over 25% of its air time to more than 150 public service accounts, for which it has received 50 awards and citations in only 4 years on the air. This is a public service broadcasting record and another example of the Crosley Stations' fine tradition of service . . . of their warm and friendly spirit that has made them good neighbors in their communities.

Our pride and our privilege.

THIS FARM COVERS

13,688,960 ACRES
421,700 TELEVISION HOMES
in Iowa & Illinois*

Somewhat unusual as farms go; we've spent nearly a million dollars buying and improving it. Our 1020 foot tower actually covers more than 13½ million acres, but ARB measures our audience only in that area. We recently finished a new transmitter facility in the pasture, complete with standby projection and studio facilities; and, even though there's good, clean country air around, we electronically filter every breath that enters the building.

Our former transmitter building and towers are maintained on a "fired-up" standby basis about as far away as from here to the privy.

We thought you might be interested in knowing how we doubly insure WOC-TV viewers and sponsors of the best and most reliable service in town... ("town" is right... you see our farm is actually within the metropolitan city limits of the nation's 52nd market). Feb. '62 Television Magazine.

Incidentally, while we were in the modernization mood, we started a $2,000,000 color studio facility downtown. Should be ready for us in the summer of '63. It'll make for a good place to go on Saturday nites off the farm — and for smart advertisers' dollars, 'most any nite — or day.

KANSAS IS WIBW AND WIBW IS KANSAS!

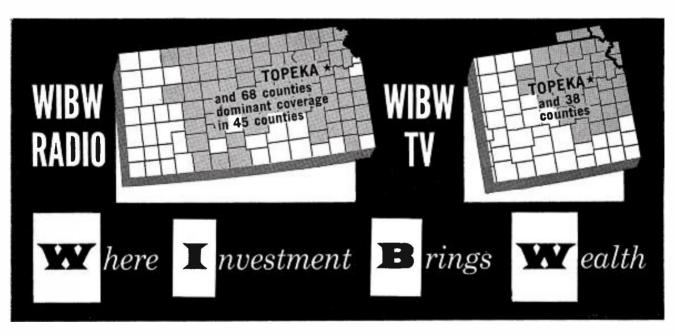

Sure, you need to cover KANSAS. Who wants an 82,000-square-mile hole in his marketing plan? There are many ways to do it, but ONLY ONE sure-fire way—with WIBW air media. Look at the maps. And look at the figures in the current Sales Management Survey of Buying Power. Here are a few of them:

HOMES IN WIBW-KANSAS—355,700. More than Cleveland, Houston or Dallas.

TOTAL RETAIL SALES in 1961—$1,377,992,000. An increase of $36 million over 1960.

PER HOUSEHOLD RETAIL SALES— Of 300 leading national county areas, the Topeka area ranks 71st, ahead of Wichita, Omaha, St. Louis or Tulsa.

Schedule WIBW air media for complete area or local coverage. Use all three or the combination that fits your budget. Merchandisable at all levels. Ask Avery-Knodel or WIBW for detailed sales figures, rates and availabilities.

Have Persona Stations DO

LES BIEDERMAN, PRESIDENT

In the case of the Paul Bunyan stations, the personality is that of its founder and president, Les Biederman.

A northern Michigan broadcast pioneer, Les built his seven stations - one community at a time. 🔏

The stations carry the "stamp" of Les Biederman. A local businessman recently referred to Les as the "conscience of the community" and as "guardian of the public trust", because of his community and editorial stands.

This is the image of Les and of his stations. This is the kind of image that established the "trust" of the audience in the station (and in the products it sells).

The sad part about push-button circulation figures is that the advertiser pays for them - and pays handsomely. And the cost of tickets to The Numbers Game, already pretty high, goes up every time a publisher pushes a button and says: "Add another 3,000 names, George."

In ABP businesspapers, on the other hand, no amount of button pushing is going to produce 3,000 circulation -for this circulation has to be paid for . . . and new subscribers just don't jump into line when a publisher pushes a button. Advertising rates that go up at a publisher's decision are somehow harder to swallow than those that rise in response to reader demand.

We have nothing against numbers, understand - when they have dollar signs attached. But we feel that numbers per se are not the be-all and end-all in judging publication values. And we go so far as to say that a man who pays $x to subscribe to a publication is more meaningful, even as a sheer number, than one who pays nothing. He wants the publication more than he wants $x.

If you feel, as an advertiser, that the reader should meet you half way by paying for a publication, you can be sure you're putting your money on the right numbers when you put it in publications bearing this symbol:

The plus value of paid circulation is "wantedness" ■BROADCASTING

Circa 1880, when scores of amateur orchestras flourished throughout the St. Louis area. A colorful era recalled recently on "Theme with Variations," Channel 4's recreation of St. Louis' rich musical past seen in prime time. Narrated by Earl Wrightson, this locallyproduced program served to underscore an urgent plea by Mayor Raymond R. Tucker for a heightening of civic cultural activities. as part of a general revitalization program for the entire St. Louis community.

The city's past made meaningful in terms of its present and future-this is community service at its vital, practical best. And this is one of the things St. Louis audiences look for, and get, when they look at CBS Owned KMOX-TV, Mid-America's favorite television station month after month, year after year.

The brand-new Delacorte amphitheatre in the heart of New York's Central Park, scene of Channel 2's historic 21/2-hour broadcast of "The Merchant of Venice." The first presentation by a commercial television station of a complete play by Shakespeare direct from the theatre of origin, the program drew a mammoth audience of 1,600,000 viewers, leading all New York television stations during the peak viewing hours of 8:30 to 11 pm.

The broadcast-pace-setting, compelling -is an example (one of many!) of community service programming that consistently captures the spirit and imagination of audiences in the nation's largest, most dynamic metropolis. Programming New Yorkers find only on (where else?)... CBS Owned WCBS-TV, the leading station year after year after year.

Have you ever heard of our "Party Line"?

WE don't want to spoil it by trying to compress the whole story of our "Party Line" program into this brief space.

Suffice it to say here that "Party Line" is a participating program on the most popular TV station anywhere near the great Red River Valley. It is producing big results for some big advertisers. For example, we recently offered a Party Line Pattern Book, at $1 a throw. Result: 14,928 copies!

Ask PGW, will you? They have the whole story of this spectacular program.

there was talk about something twice as fantastic around the Wright Brothers' bicycle shop. The rumor was that Wilbur and Orville Wright were tinkering with more than just bicycles. They were working on an idea for a flying machine! And that was how a bicycle sprouted wings! Which made Dayton famous as the cradle of aviation and one of the most important cities in America.

Here's a diversified, progressive industrial center combined with a wealthy agricultural region . . . a 13-county trading area of over one million people with $1500 above U.S. average yearly income per person . . . and a total of one-and-a-half billion dollars of annual spendable income! This is Dayton. This is your opportunity. Call your WLW-D Representative. You'll be glad you did!

for response from Oregon Consumers, What Do HARRINGTON, RIGHTER and PARSONS recommend?

Mr. Harrington recommends KOIN-TV, the station with by far the largest share of audience (Nielsen Total Homes, Daytime or Nighttime) in its explosively populous market area. Mr. Righter recommends the "Oregon station with the most Oregon coverage." And KOIN-TV has it—the widest coverage... 7 out of 10 homes in Portland, and 34 surrounding Oregon and Washington counties.

Mr. Parsons agrees with Mr. Harrington and Mr. Righter. He suggests that you heed their recommendations. Buy KOIN-TV. And watch your sales figures soar!

One of the world's great conductors, Eugene Ormandy, leading the Philadelphia Orchestra in a full-hour television concert of American music. Produced by Philadelphia's TV10 at the city's world famous Academy of Music, "Eugene Ormandy's Sound of America" was seen in prime evening time on all five CBS Owned stations. And subsequently, as part of CBS Television Stations' second International Program Exchange, it was enjoyed by millions more viewers in eight other nations.

Imaginative, venturesome-the Eugene Ormandy broadcast is just one example of local programming of extraordinary stature and scope. But Philadelphians have long known who consistently broadcasts programs of the highest interest and the widest appeal. CBS Owned WCAU-TV...that's who!

... you'll have confidence in knowing that an ARB Overnight Survey team was on the job the night before. The audience estimates you need will be on hand, ready for those all-important decisions you'll face today.

ARB Overnight Surveys truly build this confidence. More and more regular clients prove it. Telephone coincidentals are designed to give fast information to aid in the solutions of your most pressing audience problems . . . such as checking the audience to a new program or spotting an audience trend since the last regular ARB report. And they provide this information quickly, because on short notice a large staff of trained and experienced telephone interviewers is available. Whether it's a current program rating or a timely share of audience index, an ARB Overnight Survey is equally adept at providing answers for key decisions in any U.S.

Consistently reliable audience estimates at a practical price is an offer worth investigating. Call your ARB representative and discuss it today.

HANGOVER

A few media buyers still suffer from a hangover of misinformation. They'll tell you New Orleans is much larger than Nashville . . . and so are Louisville and Birmingham. It depends . . . on whether you count noses or TV homes. Nashville, 38th in America with 442,800 TV homes, beats them all . . . and quite a few more. Sobering, isn't it?

MOUSTON

Carrying an attaché case won't make you a vicepresident overnight. Putting advertising on KPRC-TV in Houston, Texas, won't do it either. But it will help you make sure your customers see your commercials in a clean, crackly environment with an inviting, colorful presentation. Use KPRC-TV in Houston. Commercials on KPRC-TV have a better chance of getting read, heard, seen, remembered and acted upon. Besides, they look good. And they cost less than you think.

See your Edward Petry & Co. man. Use KPRC-TV, Channel 2 in Houston for your next Houston sales campaign. KPRC-TV, NBC in Houston, Texas.

Status Report:

COMMUNITY ANTENNA TELEVISION

Community antenna television systems have been constructed in more than 1,000 U.S. communities. serve a total of more than 1 million homes and do a gross business of $51.3 million a year. These figures were calculated by Television Magazine in a special study of catv in the magazine's June 1962 issue.

Catv has come a long way since it began developing in the hills of Oregon and Pennsylvania in 1949-50. Originally conceived as a means of delivering television reception to communities beyond easy reach of on-the-air stations, catv has developed into a sophisticated system of home entertainment and enlightenment. Nowadays the average catv system carries four or five television signals (picked up from stations by high antennas or, in some cases, microwave relays). Some systems carry as many as nine television services, and many provide audio services like fm stereo background music.

Some catv operators see catv as the nucleus of a national system of subscription tv. In rudimentary form some systems have already been used for that purpose. TelePrompTer Corp., which owns several catv systems, has fed several championship fights to catv systems. Not all catv operators favor the development of pay tv. Some, especially those with smaller operations, are content to stick with the profitable status quo.

The obvious appeal of subscription television is its promise of increased catv revenue. Most catv systems now charge monthly subscription fees ranging from $2.50 to $6.50, for an average of about $4. Pay tv advocates see the addition of metering devices that will provide the physical means of collecting special fees for special subscription programs.

Even without the additional attractions of subscription tv, catv systems are, however, still growing. The recent trend has been toward installations in larger communities, and if it continues it will considerably reshape the size and nature of the business. At the time the Television magazine article appeared, the average catv system served only 800 subscribers; only 16 of all the catv systems in the country had more than 5,000 connections and only two had more than 10,000.

From the beginning, catv has had troubles with some broadcasters. When caty has moved into small communities which were already served by one television station, the station has sometimes lost enough audience to cause severe loss of advertising revenue. The problem has been especially acute when the catv brought into town a network service from a remote station that duplicated the network service of the station on the scene. But more stations have

In the mountains of Pennsylvania, for instance, caty is actively encouraged by broadcasters whose direct signals do not penetrate into valleys that catv can serve. The three uhf stations in Scranton-Wilkes-Barre claim that some 110,-000 homes, a third of their total circulation, are reached through community antenna systems. This plus coverage is calculated in the stations' rates.

Prompted mostly by broadcasters who have felt hurt by catv operators, the been helped by catv than hurt by it.

to regulate community antennas. (A bill that would have provided stiff rules over catv was narrowly defeated in the Senate in 1959.) What the FCC has requested is authority to impose: 1. Some requirement that a catv sys-

FCC has asked Congress for the power

- tem carry the signal of a local station if the latter desires it.
- 2. Some requirement that if the local signal is carried, its quality is not degraded on the cable.
- 3. Some protection of the local stations against duplication on the cable system of programs originating from distant stations and of programs broadcast simultaneously by local stations.

This legislation is being opposed by the National Community Television Assn., the trade association of catv. The National Assn. of Broadcasters has formed a special catv committee to work out its policy on the proposals.

The NAB's deliberations are complicated by recent ventures into caty by some of the broadcaster association's most influential members. The Cox Stations (WSB-AM-FM-TV Atlanta, WHIO-AM-FM-TV Dayton, WSOC-AM-FM-TV Charlotte, WCKR Miami) have begun buying catv systems; RKO General, one of the major multiple owners of broadcast stations, also is one of the biggest catv operators with 19 systems and some 30,000 subscribers.

Something more than $450 million has been estimated as the total investment in catv, and the figure is rising, as fast as systems develop in larger communities. In 1959 the average catv community had a population of about 9,000. The trend is into cities of 50,000 to 100,000.

The trading in existing systems has also increased. Bill Daniels, of Denver, the leading broker of catv properties, told Television: "We are in a sellers' market. For every property we get listed we have five to six buyers eager to begin negotiations. And many systems seekers are broadcasters." It is no longer uncommon for caty systems to bring as much as $1 million in a sale. "Four years ago," said Mr. Daniels, "a system brought three-and-a-half to four times its cash flow. Today this is often up to eight times cash flow."

Catv advocates see a promising future. They feel their business will develop at least as fast as television broadcasting. If uhf stations come on the air in substantial numbers, the opportunity for catv will be expanded, the catv people feel, because with uhf's shorter range than vhf's there will be need to fill in gaps in station coverage. If pay tv begins to move, the catv systems will be ready to move with it.

CATV IS GOING WIDE BAND... SKL IS LEADING THE WAY!

As more and more CATV owners make the wide band decision for the construction of new systems and the conversion of old ones, they turn to SKL for equipment and engineering with experience.

First in the wide band field, SKL pioneered the all-channel CATV system a decade ago. Since then, thousands of SKL wide band distributed amplifiers and their associated equipment — over many millions of actual operating hours — have demonstrated their high fidelity performance, their continuing reliability, their low maintenance cost year after year.

They have built SKL's solid reputation for top quality. They have proved that in every way, SKL is first in wide band systems.

Just a Few of SKL's Wide Band "Firsts":

1950 First wide band distributed main line amplifier.

1952 First automatic level control unit for wide band

First Multivider line splitter for wide band use.

First Chromatap line tap for wide band application.

1958 First wide band distributed feeder line amplifier.

1959
First "Thermatic" gain control for wide band systems.

1960 First "Thermatic" wide band line equalizer.

First high gain thermally controlled wide band distributed amplifier.

. . . And in 1962, the first automatic pilot controlled slope equalizer for wide band systems.

For the most advanced wide band equipment — backed by the most experienced engineering — call the leader in the field. Call SKL first!

STATUS REPORT-

INTERNATIONAL TELEVISION

Foreign television looms more and more as a major investment market for U.S. broadcasters.

They now have money and knowhow invested in stations and/or supporting services in some 25 countries dotting all of the world's continents but one-Antarctica.

The present size of this market is suggested by two statistics: There are currently approximately 40 free-world countries offering some sort of commercial television, and these countries have close to 44 million television sets. The countries include those with government-operated systems—Iraq, Colombia, Italy, Austria-which permit some degree of limited commercial tv.

By the standards U. S. broadcasters are accustomed to, the average tv market in most foreign countries is still far from big. Market set counts as low as 5,000 homes are unusual, perhaps, but not unique. Except in Canada, Britain and Japan, saturation is at best some distance away.

Thus it's clearly a market with much growth potential. The biggest question comes in trying to forecast the probable rate of growth.

The Big Investors • Thus far, the chief U.S. investors in the foreign broadcasting market have been the three tv networks and, more recently, Time Inc.'s Time-Life Broadcast International. But the field also includes such others as Screen Gems and Bartell Broadcasting (MacFadden-Bartell), both of which own stations outside the U.S.; ex-NBC executive Al Capstaff, who has a community antenna set-up in operation in the Virgin Islands, and Warner Bros., which is among the owners of ABC Television, the British programming contractor.

There seems little doubt that foreign tv, as an investment market, is on the way up. There are some clear differences, however, as to how fast it will

"We're sitting on the edge of a real boom," says one knowledgeable inves-

Another expert takes a much more conservative, long-range approach:

"The development of television throughout the world is more or less falling into a pattern of state operation rather than private operation. This leaves, broadly, a strictly minority—a very minority-position from which you hope to gain benefit by identification and some small income in terms of dividends while you're making some contribution to the more rapid development of television throughout the world."

A More Optimistic View • Whether it has any significance in terms of their respective outlooks, the more optimistic viewpoint represents a company which is approaching the break-even point on its foreign investments; the more cautious view comes from one that already is making a profit (but has been an overseas investor somewhat longer). Both companies are currently examining prospects for further investment.

Some investors feel that, with the FCC's limitations on station ownership in the U. S. and at the prices currently commanded by tv stations here, their best profit potential lies overseas.

Program Sales Hit $52 Million Gain of $8 Million over 1961

The world market for U. S. television programs, which is expanding at a steady and substantial pace, is expected to reach a peak of approximately $52 million in gross sales in 1962, a gain of $8 million over 1961.

This glowing picture of the international tv distribution field emerged after talks with officials of leading U. S. distribution companies and at the two trade associations—the Television Program Export Assn. and the tv division of the Motion Picture Export Assn.

The business outlook for the future is even brighter. Industry projections are that the 1963 gross should rise to about $62 million.

Net is Good Impressive as gross figures are, net income results are reported to be even more formidable. Though there are understandable variations from company to company, many distributors acknowledge that overseas sales account for at least 40-50% of the net income of overall syndication (market-by-market) sales.

Overseas sales have been rising steadily in different parts of the world, keyed to an upsurge in the number of stations (meaning more customers for U. S. films) and to a rise in set ownership (meaning higher prices generally for programs). The U. S. has been the prime outside source for programming (largely film but some tape), because, in the words of one key distributor, "we got there first with the most and the best."

Television is growing throughout the world, but citing precise statistics can be difficult and even misleading. For example, the latest published figures of the United States Information Agency show that at the end of 1961 there were 2,047 transmitting stations (excluding the U. S., Armed Forces and Canada), including all types of outlets such as relay and experimental stations. It is estimated that at least 400 new transmitting stations will be added in 1962.

Tv costs, sets in use in leading tv countries

	Average Price (each half-hour episode)	Sets In Use (in Millions)
United Kingdom Canada	$2,800 $3,000 (English)	12 5
Japan Australia	$2,250 (French) $800 $1,300	12 1.5
Germany Latin America (minus Brazil)	$3,000 $3,800	6.7 5
Italy	$600	3.3

Price applies to a single network run in the country, except Latin America where figure is projected for all stations, except those in Brazil. In Germany, approximately $1,500 is spent by the distributor to dub each episode; in Latin America distributor bears about $800 in dubbing expenses. In other countries there is no dubbing or it is performed by the buyer. Set figures are estimates as of Sept. 15, 1962.

Originators Important *But several film officials note that the significant number for the seller centers around originating stations. Italy is cited as a case in point. It has approximately 550 transmitting stations stretched across the country but sales are made only to the two networks and two individual stations. In Canada, the CBC-TV and the commercial network are the two prime customers, although more and more, individual stations of the CBC-TV and the commercial network are buying film.

Authorities estimate that for practical purposes there are 300 potential clients for film programs, embracing networks in a country, individual stations within the networks and single stations in a particular nation. In the Communist bloc, only Hungary and Poland buy a limited number of U. S. films. But film exporters agree that the number of originating stations and networks is increasing and will expand even more within the next few years.

A better index of the growth of tv abroad is set ownership. It reached 54 million at the end of 1961, and, on the basis of present growth, should reach 58 million by the end of the year. As overseas set circulation expands, the prices paid for programs tend to rise (although, in some highly competitive markets, such as the United Kingdom, this does not necessarily follow).

The new areas of opportunities for the U. S. distributors in the immediate future are the emerging nations that will be starting television services; countries in which tv already is established but in which station facilities are being expanded; and nations in which tv set ownership is proliferating. The African nations are typical of the first example, Australia of the second, and Japan of the third. There are countries, too, which combine two or more of these characteristics.

Wide Distribution • U. S. television programs are being sold in more than 70 countries, according to distribution officials, but in some nations buying is so sporadic and limited, 55 are considered active buyers. During 1962, television service began in Eire and is scheduled to start in Kenya, Taiwan and Singapore. Next month stations are scheduled to open in Trinidad and other outlets are bieng planned for other nations in Africa and Southeast Asia.

Admittedly, revenues from the socalled underdeveloped nations will be skimpy for some time to come. Based on prices currently received in similar population areas (Lebanon, $30-$35 per half-hour program and Haiti, $20 per half-hour program), distributors are aware that sales in the new tv nations will not represent a financial windfall by any stretch of the imagination. But past experience has taught American distributors that a limited market can develop into a flourishing one as set distribution widens.

The two geographical areas that distributors are eyeing carefully are Japan and Australia. Both are in boom periods. Japan has more than 60 tv stations on the air and others in the planning stages. There are almost 12 million tv receivers in Japan and this total is being supplemented by more than 200,000 a month. Australia has more than 50 stations on the air and other outlets are planned for the remainder of this year and next year. There are more than 1.5 million receivers there in an area that has more than 10 million people.

Best Markets = The consensus is that Canada, the United Kingdom, Australia, Japan, and Latin America as a whole are the most lucrative markets for the U. S. distributor. It is noteworthy that these are the nations in which commercial television flourishes. In other areas, advertising either is extremely limited or does not exist.

In both Italy and Germany, for example, commercials are used sparingly, and are placed in a special daily program. These "sell" programs are popular and bring in handsome revenues and advertisers are "waiting in line" for time periods, according to U. S. sources.

Distribution Rights Vital

The key to the money drawer in television film sales overseas lies more in the distribution rights than in the much more widely publicized profit-participation rights.

Importance of the distribution fee comes not only from its size (35 to 40 percent) but from the fact that it's taken "off the top" in foreign sales (in domestic sales, residual payments come out before the distribution fee is computed).

Thus a $30,000 foreign sale—typically the first-run foreign return from a single-hour negative—can yield the distributor $12,000. Print costs and other expenses may come to $3,000, leaving $15,000 to be divided by the owners. If the profit participation is 50-50, each gets $7,500, as compared to the distributor's $12,000. And if one of the profit participants is also the distributor—as is usually the case—his total share, then, is $19,500 of the $30,000 sale.

On a total basis, distribution fees on this year's estimated $52 million in foreign tv film sales will come to about $20 million.

There are no figures on how this $20-million pie is split up.

Producers understandably cling to distribution rights for their properties if they have strong sales organizations of their own. The major motion picture producers, foreign sales arms predating television, to a great extent have dominated the syndication of U. S. television programming abroad.

Just how big these inroads are remains a matter for speculation.

The networks reportedly have agreed to furnish dollar figures on their revenues from (1) overseas distribution, (2) domestic distribution and (3) profit participation as part of FCC's years-old network study.

U. S. Broadcasters and Programmers Interests Abroad

Here are the principal foreign broadcasting interests of leading U.S. broadcasters and programmers, as compiled—in most cases—from the companies involved. One exception is the data on NBC: NBC officials declined for competitive reasons to give detailed information on their foreign interests and activities; the information shown here was compiled from an article in the spring issue of Electronic Age, a publication of NBC's parent, RCA. All companies are reluctant to give figures on the extent of their interests; in the

The new ARB TV Market Digest is another major step in providing media planners with the most comprehensive television market and marketing information available. This one volume puts an end to costly searching time — no more checking through several sources of set counts, station circulation, market rankings and all the 'must-know' data necessary to effectively plan television campaigns. It's all here in the Market Digest, ready to become a valuable part of any research library. And what's more, it is all comparable data based on the same survey period, using the same research techniques.

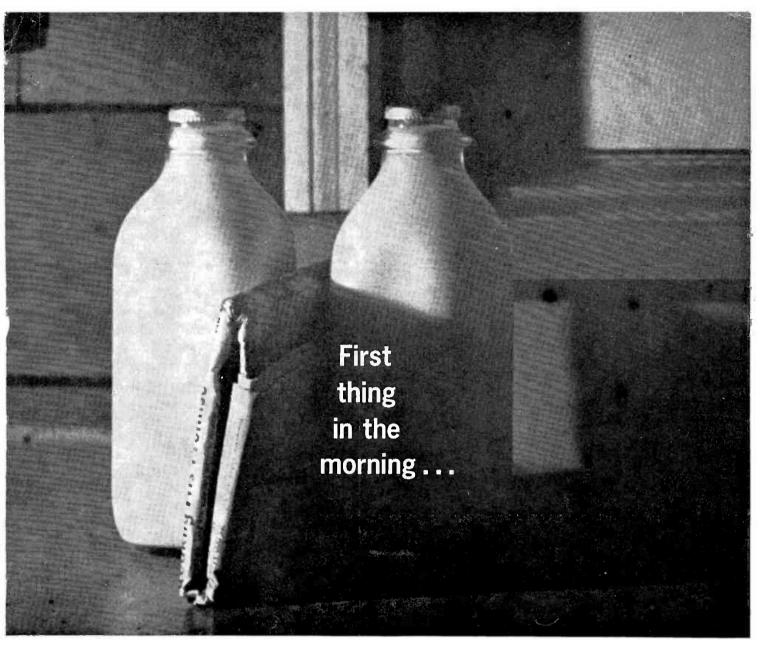

Whether it is the county-by-county set count estimates by states, serviceable market and station rankings by varied criteria, or thorough individual market data for more than 220 television markets, the Digest proves itself a unique planning tool with extra dividends of convenience every time it is used. This new report, another in the Media Management Series, is available now from your ARB representative.

And they know that a single media decision can put a selling message into this entire area. BEELINE RADIO does it. The McClatchy stations reach more radio homes than any other combination of stations here - at the lowest cost per thousand. (Nielsen Coverage Service 1961, SR&D.)

The Quint-City Metropolitan Area, located on the banks of the Mississippi, is a unique combination of cities in two states — five integral municipalities (Davenport and Bettendorf in Iowa; Rock Island, Moline and East Moline in Illinois). The Quint-Cities are as close together as the boroughs of New York.

Each of the counties within the WOC coverage area ranks in the top 18% of all the U. S. counties in gross farm income and three of the major farm machinery manufacturers are located here.

Responsibility Inspires Response

WHAS Radio programming responsibility produces dramatic listener response. For example: In 1961, 558 listeners in 31 states paid to telephone long distance to JUNIPER 5-2385, WHAS Radio's nightly party-line program. And in March, 1962, more than 22,000 listeners entered a WHAS Radio basketball contest with a top prize valued at $192.00.

This Response Ability also is demonstrated in the sales figures of many long-time WHAS advertisers including automotive accounts, American Tobacco, A&P, DuPont, Firestone, Folger's, General Foods, Hamilton Overalls, International Nickel, Nestle, Gulf Oil, Ralston Purina, R. J. Reynolds, Spencer Chemical, Sterling Drugs, Texize, Union Carbide and others.

Kentuckiana listeners depend upon specialized WHAS personnel for News, Farm, Sports, Home and Public Affairs programs as well as entertainment. Commercial separation and rigid advertising standards protect WHAS advertisers and listeners alike. WHAS Radio and our advertisers are proud of the company we keep.

There is a close kinship between Responsibility and Response Ability.
