State Fairs are an important part of the daily living of people in Midwest America. WLS took the State Fairs to our friends who could not visit the Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin expositions this year, with daily broadcasts from each fairgrounds. We went to the fairs to meet personally our listeners who did attend. We took the full WLS National Barn Dance to the Indiana Fair... put on three free stage shows daily in the WLS-Prairie-Farmer tent. This tent is always "home" to our listeners — a place to check their parcels, to eat their lunch, to meet their friends. For Illinois, which had no Fair this year, WLS broadcast a week-long "State Fair of the Air." Being so closely in touch with these homey, honest, hard-working people is one reason why "WLS is one of the family in Midwest America"... and a reason why WLS Gets Results!

For the past 23 years the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College at Stillwater has conducted a Farm and Home Week during August. Featuring the combined services of the Agricultural experiment station and the Extension Division, this annual event has been the high point in farm educational activity in Oklahoma. This year, as a result of wartime restrictions on travel, a cancellation was deemed necessary. But the need was greater than ever. Recognizing this, and knowing from past experience that KVOO could probably do something about it, College officials called Sam Schnieder, KVOO farm Editor, into consultation.

The result of this conference is history, and very good history for the Farm and Home Week. Four broadcasts a day, each day of the week, planned, directed, and broadcast direct from the college campus by the KVOO Farm Department, brought this important week's events to Oklahoma's farms. What this vital extra service meant to Oklahoma agriculture in wartime is impossible of appraisal. But we know that here is a first in farm service that means something!

Giving farmers what they want in authentic, timely information is a policy that has made KVOO the Southwest's leading farm station.

Yes, suh! Nashville and the whole Nashville trade area are poppin' open with prosperity. Nashville is the market hub for a wide and rich agricultural area, now cashing in on 1943's record-breaking crops and livestock. Industry, too, keeps on setting new high records. Every type of business is on a sustained boom.

The way to "take" this market is now, more than ever before, through WSIX. Our 5,000 watts (day and night) on 980 kc blankets the Nashville market.
Performance Perfectionists

- Technical progress depends upon tireless experiment to perfect performance.

Sylvania circuit engineers are performance perfectionists. They conduct never-ending tests on new circuit and tube combinations using experimental equipment. They constantly improve radio and electronic tube quality. And they compile data that is the raw material of invention.

This long-range Sylvania research policy, which maintained our standard of quality in peacetime, has proved invaluable in wartime. It has contributed to the improvement of military communications, to the volume production of cathode ray tubes, and to the development of timesaving electronic devices for war industry.

And it will prove no less valuable when victory widens the radio-electronics field. It will contribute to the development of FM radio and practical television. It will help to convert electronic military secrets of today into everyday miracles for better life and work tomorrow.

COLUMBUS IS NOW GEORGIA'S 2nd CITY!

With one of the largest percentage population gains of any American city—25.9% increase in civilian population between April 1st 1940 and March 1st 1943—Columbus has now moved into second place among Georgia's metropolitan cities.

In addition, Columbus offers the advertiser a bonus of Fort Benning, the nation's largest permanent infantry school, with a greater officer personnel than any other post in the country. The pre-war payroll at Ft. Benning amounted to $4,000,000 a month and is now much larger.

If you aren't covering Columbus, you aren't covering Georgia—and the best way to cover Columbus is with WRBL, which Hooper shows blankets Columbus with a rating of 81.2% low to 96.8% high. Any hour of the day or night, at least four out of five Columbus listeners are tuned in on WRBL.
YOU'VE read the Henty stories for boys—read dozens of them, probably. Well, John Elmer has lived them. Orphaned as a child, John began shifting for himself at ten. First at odd jobs while attending grammar school. Then newspapers—then advertising. But the double-wing-back-shift John made for himself (and for advertisers) was when he entered radio in 1930. In thirteen years he has built WCBM into one of the finest buys on the Atlantic Coast. And still serves as both President and Sales Manager...

As it happens, all of our sixteen fellows here at F&P were luckier (or unluckier) than John Elmer, in that we didn't start work at ten. But, praised be the Lord, we have come up the hard way so far as our careers in radio are concerned. Every man in our outfit started at the bottom of the ladder and literally learned this business from the ground up.

So what? Well, so we know what radio advertising is, and where it fits into merchandising plans, and how to help make it the most effective medium you can use. That's our primary conception of good radio selling, here in this pioneer group of radio-station representatives.
Decca Pact Covers Fees Direct to Union

Will Be Used for AFM’s Private Relief

FORMAL contracts between the American Federation of Musicians and Decca Records Inc. and World Broadcasting System, which were reported in the final stage of preparation on Friday, permit these companies to employ AFM members for the making of phonograph records and transcriptions in exchange for the payment of royalty fees by the companies directly to the union, according to A. Rex Riccardi, assistant to AFM President James C. Petrillo.

Acceptance of this principle, which has been vigorously rejected by the recording industry including both World and Decca when the AFM first proposed it last February, is considered a major victory for Mr. Petrillo and his union, which is understood to have exclusive administration of the revenue, to be used for a relief fund for the benefit of the federation’s unemployed members.

Six other transcription companies last week stood pat on their refusal to support “a private AFM relief roll!”

No ‘Unfair’ Clause

Contract does not require the withholding of the World library transcription service from stations labeled unfair by the AFM, Mr. Riccardi said. This had been suggested by the union as a possible means of settling its ban on transcriptions during earlier negotiations with the transcription companies which had turned it down at the time as being both illegal and bad business practice.

Contract terms, said Jack Kapp, Decca president and WBS chairman, “cover a period of four years beginning Jan. 1, 1944, but allow for the making of new phonograph records and transcriptions immediately. The contract provides that Decca will pay fees equal to the transcription scale plus 2% of the retail price of every phonograph record sold, ranging from 3½% on a record sold to the public for $3.50 cents to 6 cents for a record selling for $2, and 2% of the retail price above that amount.

“For electrical transcriptions used for broadcasting, Decca subsidiary, World Broadcasting System, is assumed to pay 3% on the rental revenue from transcriptions used more than once. For commercial transcriptions used only once and then discarded, there will be no fee other than the normal payment of wage scales to musicians.

“None of these fees will be passed on to the consumer,” Mr. Kapp stated.

Importance the AFM attaches to the principle of payment directly to the union may be gauged from the fact that the union was willing to accept a contract which, if accepted by every company making phonograph records or transcriptions, will produce fees of less than $500,000 a year, a feeble sum when contrasted with the $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 a year which Mr. Petrillo estimated the AFM could get from the phonograph record companies alone, “with any sort of a fee” (Broadcasting, June 28).

Union also agreed to let the contract run more than twice as long as the two-year term it originally set as the maximum.

The contract terms were outlined to the other transcription companies—Associated Music Publishers, Empire Broadcasting Corp., Lang-Worth Feature Programs, C. P. MacGregor, NBC Radio Recording Division and Standard Radio whose appeal to the Government for a moratorium on the transcription ban had resulted in the appointment of a War Labor Board panel to conduct hearings on the matter during an off-the-record session of those hearings in New York last Tuesday morning.

WOR New Recording

These six companies declined the union’s offer to let its members return to work for them at once if they would agree to accept any agreements that might be negotiated between the AFM and World.

WOR Recording Studios, which has no library service and therefore is not required to pay any fee to the union or anyone else beyond the normal wages to musicians, on Tuesday, signed such an agreement with the AFM for commercial transcriptions only, receiving permission to begin recording immediately, although no transcriptions are to be released until the final contracts have been signed. WOR was not a party to the WLB panel hearings.

In rejecting the offer, A. Walter Socolow, attorney for the six companies, said that information about the contract revealed to them during an off-the-record session with the AFM on Tuesday morning included terms that were “thoroughly abhorrent” to his clients, whom he described as “completely and totally” unwilling to accept them. This statement had been made clear, he said, in a letter written to the union on Feb. 23 by a number of companies making phonograph records and transcriptions, including both Decca and World.

Mr. Socolow did not then amplify his statement, made Tuesday afternoon during a public session of the hearing, but at the conclusion of the session he told the press, “It’s a slush fund and we won’t subscribe to it.”

Attitude of WLB

“ ‘The letter referred to was a rejection of an AFM proposal to call off its ban on recording in exchange for the companies agreement to pay to the union a fee on each record sold. This money was to be used by the AFM for the benefit of members who render no service to the recording companies. The destructive and dangerous fallacy of the company position,” the industry letter stated, “is that it assumes that a specific industry owes a special obligation to persons not employed by it—an obligation based only on such persons’ membership in a union...

“Any such private and isolated system of unemployment relief within an industry is not only contrary to public policy, but would be in direct conflict with the various plans under discussion in Government circles for the expansion of uniform and nationwide social security measures.’ “

After announcing his clients’ rejection of the union proposal, Mr. Socolow asked the panel for a WLB order to the union to make its members available to his clients as well as to World, to eliminate any competitive advantage to this company. He also requested an immediate resumption of the panel’s hearing on the recording ban.

The panel postponed action on these requests until the following Monday (Sept. 27), pointing out (Continued on page 64)
Brown Quits CBS in Censor Protest

Winchell Joins Attacks Against White Rule On Editorializing

Cecil Brown, whose stormy career as a CBS foreign correspondent saw him banned from the air by both the Italian and the British governments at a time as he saw it despite censorship restrictions, has resigned from CBS. Announced reason is disagreement with the network's news policy forbidding editorializing. This opinion by commentators, which has recently been under fire from H. V. Kaltenborn, editor of Broadcasting, has been put up the cudgels by CBS Viewpoint, an organ of the network, effective with the Sept. 27 broadcast.

CBS Viewpoint

Following a statement Sept. 9 by Paul White, CBS director of news broadcasts, to the AP managing editors that there would be no more editorializations, Kaltenborn and many other commentators have been born up the cudgels for the radio correspondents at a meeting of the NAB Radio News and Public Relations Committees on Sept. 15 to which Mr. White rejoined in making public the network's instructions to its news editors. This memo was published as a full-page advertisement in one Washington and two New York newspapers.

CBS contention basically is that the commentators should help listeners to interpret the facts on controversial issues, but, according to their own opinion, CBS policy is being violated. Kaltenborn's memo was debated on the CBS People's Platform last Saturday by Morris L. Ernst, author, lecturer and attorney for the Newspaper Guild, and Sydney Kaye, executive vice-president and general counsel of BMI.

Mr. Brown announced he was leaving CBS at a conference at his New York residence last Wednesday, when he made public a letter written that day to Paul White, in which he states: "My resignation was submitted because, as an American citizen, I feel it is impossible to continue my work under the network's policy you have formulated for CBS."

Brown Contradicts White

Taking issue with a statement in PM, New York newspaper, that "White said that Brown's departure was in no manner connected with the present censorship row ... (that) Brown's departure was quit five or six weeks ago," Mr. Brown's letter states: "It is quite obvious that the reasons I requested on Sept. 9, 1943 to be released from my contract, relations inseparable from the 'present censorship row' were news editorial opinion on CBS. You said so in a memorandum to me on Aug. 27."

This memo followed a broadcast of Mr. Brown's on Aug 25, during which he declared that "any reasonably accurate observer of the American scene at this moment knows that a good deal of the enthusiasm for this war is evaporating into thin air" and that "the need for sacrifice in America is becoming less acceptable to the people."

Terming this "nothing but an editorialization on the air," Mr. White wrote in the memo: "Your judgment is indulging in the defeatist talk that would be of immense pleasure to Dr. Goebbels and his boys." Sponsor Canceled

Mr. Brown said his broadcast was based on conversations with random groups of people of all walks of life in towns and cities, during a 40-day cross-coutry tour last summer, and therefore was reporting and not editorializing. The network had broadcast, which he read to the news gathering, did not, however, mention that his information had come from this source.

On Aug. 24, the day before this broadcast, Mr. Brown said he received a notice of cancellation from his sponsor, Johns-Manville Corp., effective Sept. 24. Following receipt of Mr. White's memo, he said, he wrote to William S. Paley, CBS president, asking to be released from his contract not later than Sept. 27.

CBS News Policy Explained by White

Responsibility to Serve the Public Interest Stressed

REITERATING the "long-established" CBS policy of forbidding its commentators to editorialize the news, and at the request of the listener, Paul White, CBS director of news broadcasts, last Thursday spoke before a luncheon meeting of the Asn. of Radio News Analysts at the Hotel Algonquin, New York.

His talk, in which he further explained the CBS news policy, followed closely on the heels of recent criticism against it by such commentators as Walter Winchell and H. V. Kaltenborn [Broadcasting, Sept. 20].

Public Interest

"In view of the limitation on frequencies and the number of possible networks reaching coast-to-coast audiences," Mr. White said, "a considerable responsibility to serve the public interest rests upon individual station and network managers. . . . Complete journalistic freedom probably is not an ideal, but the fact that it is difficult if not impossible to attain does not seem to me to impair the ideal itself, nor excuse the broadcast of news from a constant and vigilant effort to attain it."

"To sum up," Mr. White added, in conclusion, "every item of genuine news interest, irrespective of what it is, facts, will be presented fearlessly and fairly over CBS. Our schedules are wide open to the most partisan speakers on every major controversial issue in the news, where the battle of opinion can be waged as (and where it is announced as) such. This is most important to us because it eliminates the camouflaged, the disguised, and the opinionated reporters could otherwise insinuate into a field which we think should remain sinom-pure, honestly objective, and editorially correct.

After the meeting Maj. George Fielding Eliot, association president and CBS military commentator, was quoted as saying CBS has not censored his scripts. William Shirer, CBS commentator, also said he was in a similar position, saying that he hasn't "had any trouble."

World Series on One Network Opposed by Senator Maybank

WORD, Spartanburg, to Carry Games Following Protest Submitted by Station to FCC

Effort by Senator Maybank (D-S.C.) to make the World Series available to all stations irrespective of network affiliation was revealed last week in a letter the Senator wrote to Judge Eme saw Mountain Landis, baseball, in which he urged that an event of such universal public interest should not be confined to one network or particular group of stations. Judge Landis's reply was not altogether satisfactory to him, Senator Maybank said, and he has written the Judge for clarification.

COMPLAINT TO FCC

Senator Maybank's view was highlighted recently when Roger Shaffer, manager of WORD, telegraphed the FCC soliciting its cooperation in securing the series broadcasts for the 25,000 soldiers of nearby Camp Croft and the citizens of Spartanburg. He said Mutual had reportedly refused to feed the stations, and that WORD on the ground that WMRC, 250-watt Greenville station 30 miles distant, provided satisfactory coverage. The telegram stated that an engineering survey had indicated WMRC does not have a satisfactory signal over Camp Croft and Spartanburg.

The situation was resolved, however, when Richard F. Connor, Mutual station relations executive, telegraphed WORD: "Please be advised that neither Mutual nor WMRC have any objections to your carrying the world series broadcasts. Any arrangements you make with the advertising agency, Maxon, Inc., are acceptable to us." Mr. Connor also telegraphed to this effect after it had quired Mutual about the case.

Plans are going ahead by Gillette to purchase WORD to carry the games in addition to WMRC, ac-according to Maxon.

R. A. Jolley, owner of WMRC wrote Mutual Aug. 30, according to the network, stating that WMRC would be glad to feed the series to WORD, and expressing the belief that WMRC had objected to the arrangement last year only "because it was represented to the agency that WMRC did not cover Camp Croft and Spartanburg when we knew it did."

Troops abroad will hear the Mutual broadcast of the World Series by shortwave under sponsorship of Gillette. Red Barber, announcer of the up-broadcast, will do the play-by-play report. Gillette paid $100,000 for radio rights, which will be contributed to the charity pool from which the network obtains benefit.

The series will open in New York's Yankee Stadium Oct. 5.

Radio Prepares Nationwide Retail Drive

116 Cities To Hear Presentation By Broadcasters

Radio undertakes its most ambitious drive for business — the retail field — with the world premiere of its retail promotion plan, in Washington Oct. 12. The campaign is concluded Nov. 10, entailing an overhead of approximately $125,000, a coast-to-coast itinerary of 116 cities will have been covered with master showings. Retailers and advertisers representing a substantial percentage of the entire field will have viewed the Jam Handy-produced talking motion picture and companion slide film.

The Washington premier, at the Statler Hotel, culminates a year and a half of planning and production by the Retail Promotion Committee of the NAB, headed by Paul W. Morency, general manager of WTIC Hartford, and one of the most aggressive men in radio. Sheldon R. Coons, expert in retailing and advertising, did the spade work, assisted by Dr. Julius Hirsh, economist and author of standard text books on distribution costs and Dr. Paul Lazafred of Columbia University radio research branch. They made surveys among consumers, radio listeners, stations, advertisers and agencies.

Lewis H. Avery, director of Broadcast Advertising of the NAB and secretary of the Retail Promotion Committee, has coordinated the planning and arranged the immediate direction of Mr. Morency. A bird's-eye view of the project, supported by more than 400 stations, has been given to broadcasters at district meetings held during the last few weeks.

Preview to 1,000

The premier in Washington under the auspices of Washington stations will be before a representative audience of retailers, industrial and government officials expected to exceed 1,000. Thereafter, showings will be made in 120 cities having a population of 75,000 and over. It was estimated that at least 25,000 of the country's leading retailing and radio executives will view the presentation.

The comprehensive survey and showing will delineate what a retailer can do with radio, as well as how radio can serve them, as the largest single industrial entity in the nation, in the same way it has served practically all other fields engaged in merchandising products and services. Radio, while steadfastly increasing its clientele among retailers, has not been able to gain industry-wide acceptance in the field of retailing.

Following the Washington kickoff, 15 broadcasters, selected to serve as masters of ceremonies for the industry showings, will begin their sectional tours. These men, carefully trained in their duties, will go to specially arranged schools, one to be held in Detroit the week of Oct. 4 and another in New York the week of Oct. 11, will be equipped with films and projectors and will work through local committees of broadcasters.

Although national networks and their managed and operated stations, as well as many of the larger stations in the committee, probably will reap no real benefits from the campaign, because of national contestants, the film pitched in whole-heartedly in helping to underwrite the project, according to the NAB committee breakdown. The National Retail Dry Goods Association, John Nell Worsham, compact film, and gave the committee helpful cooperation all down the line.

The Washington committee handling the film includes Carleton Smith WRC, Carl Bunker WTOP, Henry Seay WOL, Ben Baylor WMAL, and Ben Larson WWDC. This showing will set the pattern for all other presentations.

Traveling M.C.'s

Broadcasters selected to serve as masters of ceremonies for the traveling sectional exhibits include M. F. "Chick" Allison WLW - WSAI; Lewis H. Avery NAB, Harry Burke WOW, Donald D. Davis WBH, James Gaines NBC, Arthur Hull Hay WABC, Kingsley P. Horton WEWI, Walter Johnson WTC, John Nell WOR, John M. Outler WSB, Clyde Pemberton KFJZ, William R. Ruchey WTVI, Frank P. Wrigley San Francisco Retail Radio Bureau, and E. Y. Planigan WSPD. All the cities in which the master showings are to be made have been notified of the dates, and as soon as confirmations are received a complete schedule will be released.

C. A. Arndt, NAB secretary-treasurer, was in New York last week arranging the itinerary.

The presentations are designed to cement friendly relations and understanding between retailers and broadcasters by showing in detailed dramatic form the mutual problems of both. The whole plan is one of rendering a service to retailers that will produce results for both client and medium.

Inertia in use of radio by retailers led to the launching of the promotion plan at the NAB Convention in Cleveland in May. Following an exhaustive study by an industry committee headed by Mr. Morency, the campaign was agreed upon at the most premature basis ever undertaken in radio.

The problems to be coped with, it was agreed, were lack of understanding of retailers' problems by broadcasters and, conversely, too little knowledge of the broadcast advertising on the part of retailers.

Five Sections

The master showing of the plan consists of the following five sections:

1. History and Development of the Radio Retailing Project — a talking motion picture featuring Sheldon R. Coons; (2) Distribution Tomorrow — a critical analysis of postwar problems by the master of ceremonies, using prepared charts; (3) "America Takes to the Air" — a talking slide film detailing advertising and development of broadcasting in the United States; (4) "Why Radio Works" — a talking motion picture based on new and original research by the Radio Research Board, Columbia University; (5) "Retailing's Future in Radio".

After the "closing commercial," which is intended to educate booklets, designed to aid retailers in the use of broadcast advertising will be presented. These five booklets are intended to convert the立项 in one integrated through the presentation into action by retailers. They cover: How to Buy Radio Time; How to Measure Radio Advertising; How to Promote Your Radio Program; Elements of a Successful Radio Program; Radio and Retailing in 1943.

The Committee appointed at the NAB Convention in Cleveland in May, 1942, to study the whole retail problem and to recommend a course of action, headed by Mr. Morency, included:

A. Howard Wish, Gene L. Cagle, Texas State Network; Dietrich M. Kehr, NBC; James V. McConnell NBC, Kenneth K. Hathcock ABC; George F. Claffy WOR, Walter Johnson WTC, C. L. McCarthy ABC, John Skar, WBZ, Charles Rushley KOL, William Crawford WOR, and Lewis H. Avery, director of broadcast advertising NAB, who was named secretary of the Committee.

Approval of Blue Sale to Noble Is Seen

FCC Cites Stand On Freedom of Speech

ACQUISITION of the BLUE Network Co. by Edward J. Noble from RCA for an 8 million dollar cash figure was seen as a virtual certainty despite a culling given the New York's Battery-operated industrialist on network programming policies at the concluding hearing before the FCC sitting en banc in Washington last Monday.

Obviously using the hearing as a vehicle for commitments on future policies of the BLUE regarding sale of time for exploitation of "ideas" as well as products, FCC Chairman James A. Lawrence held the record on the transformer hearing open until Mr. Noble supplies a broad statement of proposed policy regarding "Freedom of speech", Mr. Noble was subjected to the same sort of questioning, largely by Chairman Fly and Commissioner C. J. Durr, as that fired at Mark New York-NEW president, during his appearance Sept. 10.

Code Criticized

There appeared to be no basis upon which the Commission could deny the transformer, which involves only the assignment of the licenses of the three BLUE-owned stations—WXY, WENR New York, and KGO San Francisco. It was expected however, that the opinion, supported at least by a majority of the Commission, would criticize sharply the provisions of the NAB Code of Ethics, adhered to in principle by the networks.

These provisions deny sale of time for discussion of controversial issues, and exclude membership in labor unions or cooperative groups from the air for spreading of their ideologies and solicitation of membership.

Because Mr. Noble's agreement with three New York banks covering a loan of 4 million dollars expires Nov. 1, it was expected that Commission action would be forthcoming prior to that time. Mr. Noble's statement of policy regarding sale of time to labor unions, cooperatives and other groups not identified with brand name exploitation, is anticipated, will be filed within a fortnight.

Several points were clared up first hand by Mr. Noble in testimony before the FCC:

(1) Retention of the name "BLUE Network Co." for the foreseeable future. American Broadcasting System Inc. is simply a holding company and there is no present idea of substituting that name for the BLUE.

(2) Executive personnel of the BLUE, including Mark Woods as president and Edgar Kobak as executive vice-president will be retained.

(3) Mr. Noble has no immediate plan of taking in partners on the BLUE. On a long-range basis he proposes to offer stock amounting to less than control, to the BLUE management, to affiliates of the network and, possibly later on, to the public.

(4) James H. McGraw Jr., chairman of McGraw-Hill, business paper publishers, was definitely interested in a possibility of tender for control with Mr. Noble but dropped out at the eleventh hour because of health. He is "definitely and permanently" out of the picture and will not join in the venture.

(5) An independent survey will be made by Mr. Noble of Blue Network program policies with a view to redefinition of standards that will best serve the public interest.

(6) Mr. Noble has no plans on future additional financing, particularly in connection with new broadcasting services, but is in a position himself to acquire funds through his own resources.

(7) The $8,000,000 price established for the BLUE did not embrace a separate figure for each of the three owned stations and he had made no attempt to "reconstruct" values for the stations. The network was purchased as a going concern based on "ordinary public practices".

Despite repeated statements by Mr. Noble that he had an "open mind" on the whole matter of program acceptance, Mr. Fly insisted on nailing him down by citing specific program sponsors as compared to hypothetical guilds or organizations which might desire to spread their gospels via radio. He took the position that time should be allowed to organizations, labor unions included, where they have "ideas" to sell in the public interest.

Sale of 'Ideas'

The network regulations came into focus during the hearings, with Mr. Woods recalled to the stand in connection with station complaints on refusal of the BLUE to provide programs desired over these non-network outlets by advertisers. These related particularly to the Jergens-sponsored Walter Winchell program Sunday nights. A case cited by both Chairman Fly and Commissioner Paul Walker as a "violation" of the network regulations involved WRAL Raleigh, Mutual outlet, which won the Winchell program and evidently convinced Lennen & Mitchell, Jergens agency, that it should have the program. Mr. Woods explained that WRAL sought only the Winchell program at full card rate but, despite negotiations, had not come to terms on a regular affiliation agreement with the BLUE.

The whole tenor of the two days of hearing on the BLUE transfer was viewed as tiring in the newly-founded authority of the FCC stemming from the May 10 Supreme Court action on network regulation. This opinion, forming the basis for the industry drive for remedial legislation at this session, appears geared to gaining Commission control over the "composition of the traffic" over the air, dealing with programs. It also confers expansive powers relating to business operations of the industry upon the Commission.

Renewed efforts by Philip Handelman, New York attorney representing Donald Flamm, former owner of WMCA, in his suit against Mr. Noble seeking rescission of the latter's purchase of WMCA in 1941, were unceremoniously blocked by Chairman Fly at last Monday's hearing. Mr. Handelman sought to appear in his own right as an attorney and a citizen on the question of Mr. Noble's fitness to own a network. Mr. Fly, however, was all prepared with a formal opinion he read, and excluded any statement by the New York counsel. A subsequent petition to intervene filed by Mr. Handelman was tentatively denied prior to adjournment of the hearing, but a formal ruling would come from the Commission, Mr. Fly declared.

CIO Statement

A prepared statement by Len deCaux, national publicity director of CIO, was placed in the record prior to adjournment. Mr. deCaux reiterated previous CIO statement calling for an end to forced labor, and for an end to sale of time to labor organizations. He criticized present practices and favored particularly the NAB Code. He advocated more free time for (Continued on page 21)

Cox Probe Invites FCC Side in Testimony on RID and FBI

Hearings Expected To Resume In Washington This Week With Craven on Stand at Start

RESUMPTION of hearings in Washington by the House Select Committee investigating the FCC is expected this week. The FCC, it is learned, has been invited to present its side of the case involving the activities of the Intelligence Division and the Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service.

While no date has been set, it was learned at Cox Committee headquarters that a meeting of the five man investigating group would be held probably today (Monday) with the hearings to start a day or two afterward. Absence from Washington last week of Rep. Wiggleworth (R.-Mass.) precluded the setting of a resumption date.

Garey to Call Craven

It was expected that the Committee general counsel, Eugene L. Garey, first would call Commissioner T. A. M. Craven to the stand to resume his interrogation on the so-called war activities of the FCC, begun last July. In his previous appearance Commissioner Craven, often at loggerheads with Chairman Fly on the subject of policy, said he would be disposed to follow the recommendation of the joint chiefs of staff that RID activities be transferred to the military and that FBI activities be curtailed. But he urged that some war agency authorize any and all FBI activities considered important by the war agencies themselves.

Meanwhile, Chairman Wheeler of the Senate Post Office and Postmasters Committee disclosed that hearings on the White-Wheeler bill, originally slated to begin May 25, have been again postponed. The Senator indicated that it will be four or five weeks before he can go ahead with the hearings.

Senator Wheeler explained that other legislative matters will demand his attention in the immediate future. He referred to his bill to delay the drafting of fathers, debate on which is expected to begin on the floor of the Senate this week, and a bill concerning railroad rates, on which hearings have not yet been concluded.

Senator White (R-Me.), who had hoped to begin hearings on the measure by Oct. 1 [Broadcasting, Sept. 20] was out of town last week.

Radio Puts Columbia Studio Traces Film Success to Novelty Spots

WHEN executives of Columbia Pictures Corp. in New York, sat down last March to figure out what promotion to do for the spring release of "The More the Merrier", they little thought they would hit on an advertising scheme resulting in the largest schedule ever taken in by any Columbia picture.

According to Nate G. Spingold, vice-president of Columbia Pictures, promotion on the film posed a definite problem. The story was not based on any well-known book or event about which the public could have any previous knowledge, and therefore, it was necessary to select a medium with an already established audience, a large percentage of which could be counted upon as part of the movie-going public.

A second phase of the promotion problem was to discover a technique geared to the high comedy angle of the picture itself, the story of a girl in Washington who patriotically shares her apartment with two strange men.

Radio Solves Problem

Radio in the form of 53 programs commanding established audiences solved the problem. Highly amusing one-minute radio announcements, which registered high in the Gallup Audience Research Poll of "publicity penetration", overcame the second requirement. Results were "more than satisfying", Mr. Spingold stated, adding that "radio was definitely the major factor in the amazing success of the picture."

Announcements consisted of radio as the prime medium backed up by newspaper ads plus local merchandising, the question arose as to which programs to use in which cities.

Columbia Pictures because of its branch locations divided the United States territorially to cover 31 key cities; programs in 53 cities were chosen on the basis of popularity and established audience, and the final result was a simultaneous campaign promoting "The More The Merrier", actually covering 290 cities day and date bookings throughout the country. Total advertising appropriation for the picture was $15,000, $90,000 of which went to radio.

Quarter-hour news programs were scheduled in the majority of cases, and where newscasts were unavailable, 5 and 10-minute programs were presented. Selections from Hollywood "chit-chat" shows to recorded musical programs. The radio campaign started April 5 on a nationwide basis, and ran eight weeks prior to the picture's release between May 12 and May 17.

This eight-week schedule was especially arranged to allow for six weeks of advance "teaser" announcements, and two weeks of plugs while the picture played at the first run theatres and for the subsequent playing at neighborhood theatres. Authorized by Carrol Carroll of J. Walter Thompson Co., Hollywood, and two other writers, clowns, Cal spots (80) were prepared in advance of the campaign so that Columbia could prepare a merchandising folder for managers of the 53 radio stations, and for the managers of the company's branches. This folder contained preliminary examples of the unusual announcements, which ranged from 30 seconds to one-minute in length, with numerous suggestions on advance and "after-opening" promotion.

The campaign for "The More The Merrier" stands out among picture promotions for its ingenuity and humor in the commercials. Columbia felt it had a "selling" story, with three such stars as Jean Arthur, Joel McCrea and Charles Coburn, and a well-known comedy director, George Stevens. All of these naturally received considerable mention, but in writing the Columbia scripters, they were little thought they would be using "Dingle"—Coburn's name in the picture—as the theme of most of the announcements. For example:

ANNOUNCER: "If you think a Dingle's stupid... then you don't believe in Cupid. If you don't believe in Cupid... then you're not the type who laughs... and if you're not the type who laughs... you're not the type to see "The Merrier", the only picture in the world absolutely guaranteed to give you a Dingle."

TIDBIT VOICE: "Did you say Dingle?"

ANNOUNCER: "No, Dingle! D-I-n-g-i-l... "The More The Merrier" proves that all good things come in twos. It's a new comedy with two jokers and a queen are not only three of a kind, they're also a full-house... etc.

And another:

ANNOUNCER: "The More The Merrier"—it's the funniest and most delightfully delectable love story you ever saw—a romance that's absolutely guaranteed to give you a Dingle.

GIRL'S VOICE: "Did you say Dingle?"

ANNOUNCER: "No, Dingle! D-I-n-g-i-l...! And the nicest Dingle you ever heard of... Another blurb, not using the "Dingle" theme—

ANNOUNCER: "How did you meet the person you love? Was it on the way from the shower to your spare bedroom? If that sounds funny... it is! And that's how kids-meets-boy in "The More The Merrier"...

These "teaser" announcements, which ran on a schedule of two to seven days weekly in the 53 select markets, were included in the large list surveyed weekly for "publicity penetration" by Audience Research Inc., New York. Reports to Columbia Pictures from ARI showed that the retentiveness of the word "Dingle" had contributed to an unusually fast and sharp gain in "publicity penetration". Of all the people surveyed by ARI, 84% had heard of the picture "The More The Merrier", before it was shown, while 78% of that group had expressed a desire to see it.

There was only one hitch in purchasing programs and time in the entire eight-week setup. This occurred in New York where WABC had previously been scheduled. At the last moment, WABC notified Columbia of a policy permitting only "temperate and restrained" commercials before or after its new broadcasts during wartime, which necessitated a shift in schedule to WJZ's five weekly 6:40-6:45 p.m. "The Name You Will Remember program.

Other than this, the campaign worked out so smoothly that only two persons in Columbia's advertising department were required to supervise it after preliminary plans had been made. After that, the committee was freed to handle other jobs, and the ahead of the campaign's release, the picture received about $60,000 worth of free promotion announcements, together with special cooperation from radio merchandising, not measurable in terms of cash outlay. Mr. Spingold said, "Radio certainly did the job."

INSPIRED by the recent "pioneerering" action taken by CBS to stop "cow-catcher" and "hit-chike" announcements on commercial CBS programs, leading station owners and managers gathered in Chicago last Monday, unanimously adopted four resolutions to eliminate "listener annoyance." The meeting was called at the request of William B. Way, vice-president and general manager of KVOO Tulsa, and author of the "Broadcasters' Declaration of Independence." The resolutions adopted were:

DURR RENEWS COX OUSTER PETITION

(See Editor's Story on Page 13)

RELENTLESSLY pursuing the campaign to have Rep. E. E. Cox Select Committee to investigate (D-Ga.) ousted speaker of the FCC, Commissioner C. J. Durr last Friday again petitioned Speaker Rayburn to bring the matter before the House itself. The letter came on the heels of an editorial in the Washington Post the same day, which chastised the "inexcusable" of Speaker Rayburn and called upon him to correct the "omission" in the most open and direct manner.

Mr. Durr in a nine-page release, including letters previously sent to Speaker Rayburn and to Chairman Hatton W. Summers (D-Tex.) of the House Judiciary Committee, asserted he again appealed to the Speaker because of previous action of Chairman Summers in holding that his committee had no jurisdiction in the matter. Speaker Rayburn had referred the original petition to the Judiciary Committee for action.

Mr. Durr filed his original petition on May 13. It was promptly referred to the Judiciary Committee. He notified Speaker Rayburn that after four months, on Sept. 22, he was notified by Chairman Summers that the opinion seemed general among members of the Committee that it had no jurisdiction and no action was going to be taken. Mr. Summers said he concurred in this view.

The absence of procedure for presenting his petition before Congress would be a constitutional right of petition "meaningless," Mr. Durr continued. He said he had been in the House, with full knowledge of the facts, would endorse Congressman Cox as a suitable person to serve as the Chairman or even a member of the Select Committee.

Due to his 37 years at CBS, Sill directed the promotion for the CBS Network and stations. In his position he was the manager of the station services in the station relations department.
This is the Army, Mr. Jones!

Not the way it looks—but the way it sounds. This is the army marching to the front or tramping down a dusty road. This is the army on parade up Main Street.

It fools you every time. When the command, "Company, ha—alt!" rings out, you hear hundreds of feet stop in their tracks with a snap. When the Sergeant bellows, "On the double—march!"—you hear those feet kicking up the dust just as if you were standing beside them.

This is the army, Mr. Jones, the way you hear it on your NBC radio programs. A few dozen sticks clicking against a board.

A clever gadget, to be sure. Yet the thought, the skill, the experiments and the experience that went into its creation would floor you! Because making sound effects devices that are so realistic, so authentic, so dramatic they will sound better than the real thing, is a full time job for a staff of experts at NBC!

Today, a script may call for any conceivable sound made by man or nature—and your NBC sound effects expert will reproduce it with absolute fidelity.

NBC has pioneered in the development of sound effects; it has built up the largest and most complete sound effects department in radio—for a very good reason. Sound effects add drama, interest, and realism to broadcasting. Good sound effects make a good program better. And NBC is interested in offering the best in broadcasting.

Which is one of the reasons why NBC is "The Network Most People Listen to Most."

WEILAND PROTESTS WAC ADVERTISING

A COMPLAINT against Government WAC recruiting advertising in newspapers as being discrimination has been made to Palmer Hoyt, Domestic Director of OWI, by Jonas Weiland, owner of WACE West Atlantic City, N. J. Last week to Mr. Hoyt's office disclosed that a reply to a letter received from Mr. Weiland would soon be forthcoming.

The letter follows:

Dear Mr. Hoyt:

A situation arose recently, which I think may be unpleasant, and which, I am sure, you will not approve of. An officer in the WAC's approached our one-woman newspaper, and asked us to aid them in their recruiting on a sustaining basis. In order to meet all the war effort, we gave them the time.

We asked them first whether they were buying any space and they said no. They were quite surprised, as we were, when we were later reminded that a paid ad in the local papers, was paid for by the War Department.

We think this is very unfair and at first we refused, I cancelled the program and the spots. The officers of the WAC's didn't blather on us too much.

However, I decided that in spite of the fact that the WAC's was not really fair, I would co-operate with these WACs because of the grave and immediate need for the WAVES, and their need for further enlistments.

An expert in programming, he also is familiar with the agency field, where he served prior to joining CBS. Since Mr. Lewis' retirement from CBS, no one has been head of that operation, so in the meantime, Mr. Paley himself has supervised program operations of the network.

The goal of the Lewis survey is to learn on the scene the opinions of listeners and broadcasters on program services now rendered to check new ideas and suggestions and responses for its future improvement.

Spots for Sponsorship Offered By OWI in Conservation Drive

Under Plan, Announcements May Be Sold to Fuel Dealers and Public Utility Companies

COMMERCIAL sponsorship of transcribed announcements in the Government's overall campaign for conservation of critical resources is scheduled under the OWI Domestic Radio Bureau.

In a memorandum to station war program managers, John D. Hymes, chief of the Bureau's station relations division, asked that sales managers be immediately advised of the commercial possibilities of the announcements which have been recorded short to allow ample time for sponsor tie-ins.

Commercial Possibilities

The announcements call upon the public to conserve coal and oil, gas, electricity, water, transportation, and communications. All but the water conservation spot have obvious commercial possibilities, according to the memorandum. Stations will be sent the copy used in the announcements for advance showing to prospective clients and transcriptions will also be sent in time for audition purposes.

Stations are asked, however, that regardless of whether or not they obtain sponsors, the announcements are legitimate Government requests and should be broadcast according to schedule as part of their regular OWI allocation commitments. They were asked, also, to run all six announcements and not concentrate on one or two subjects, either commercial or sustaining, as the announcements all tie in with the broad conservation campaign.

The radio phase of the conservation program got under way last week with 32 network shows assigned to the campaign under the OWI Network Allocation Plan. During the week of Oct. 25, the transcribed announcements are scheduled for 891 stations under the Station Allocation Plan. Stations are committed to broadcast at least three of the announcements daily, whether sponsored or sustained, with all six announcements given as nearly equal distribution as possible during the week.

The conservation campaign calls for voluntary measures by the public and industry to effect important savings in the use of resources and to conserve manpower, materials and equipment. Emphasis is given to aggregate savings by householders and commercial establishments.

The vital role of coal in the production of steel, explosives, synthetic rubber, and many other war products is accentuated. The public is being told that the total supply may fall dangerously short of unprecedented needs and that 65,000,000 tons can be added to our supply if a 10% conservation goal is realized.

In asking the public to conserve fuel oil, the campaign stresses the fact that more and more crude oil is needed for production of aviation gasoline, gas for heating and manufacturing and that less and less is available for heating purposes. Reduction of waste in home heating is urged.

Conservation of natural and manufactured gas is being asked in the interest of war production, transportation and essential materials. Economy in the use of manufactured gas, it is emphasized, means savings in coal, coke and oil which are required for its production.

Materials Saved

Critical shortage of fuels needed in producing electricity prompt the need for conserving power. A vigorous conservation program, it is pointed out, can save annually 75 million lamp bulbs, which in turn saves such critical materials as copper, tungsten and molybdenum. Saving electricity means saving coal, oil, gas, and manpower.

The campaign stresses the importance of water as a basic war material, calling attention to increased demands upon water systems as a result of war industry and population shifts. Conservation of water, the public is being told, saves critical metals used in maintenance and repair of water systems, chemicals used in treatment which are needed for war industry, and fuel used for pumping water. Told that one leaky faucet may waste over 400 gallons per day, domestic and industrial consumers are being urged to adopt necessary measures.

Possibilities for conservation in connection with the communications phase of the campaign are being emphasized through presentation of facts regarding use of materials required to maintain telephone service. Emphasis is given to rapid increase in demand for service in face of sharp declines in materials and manpower needed.

The transportation conservation phase of the program intensifies the "Don't Travel" campaign of the Government. (For a regular advance listing of OWI campaigns on the Network, Station and National Spot Allocation plans, see page 28.)

Pepto - Bismol Extends Spots Through Winter

NORWICH PHARMACAL CO., Norwich, N. Y., is continuing its radio spot advertising for Pepto-Bismol through the fall and winter for the first time since it entered radio three years ago. The extension is in line with the company's gradual increase in radio advertising. The schedule of one-minute transcribed announcements on 45 stations from six to eight times weekly has been extended for an additional seven weeks through November. Commercials are one-minute musical jingles prepared by Phil Cook and presented by the "Song Spinners." A 13-week renewal has been effected for a five-minute program Monday through Friday on WJZ, New York, featuring Grace Morgan, singer, with piano, violin and organ accompaniment. Musical jingles are being written by Allen Kent and Ginger Johnson. New cycle starts Oct. 18. Agency is Lawrence Gum- bearer Adv., New York.

Ad Club Food Sessions

TWENTY-EIGHT local war food meetings following the pattern of the recent regional meetings in New York, Chicago and San Francisco were conducted with the cooperation of advertising clubs affiliated with the Advertising Federation of America. APA reports that some of the meetings have already been held. Their purpose is to launch local campaigns to put over the War Food Administration's program to "Produce, Conserve, Share," by Saturday Nov. 27, selected as the time for these special campaigns, is also the month when the Food Fights for Freedom campaign, which reached its height in publication advertising and in radio schedules prepared by the OWI Bureau, under the OWI, Station, and National Spot Allocation plans. At present the drive is being carried by radio on OWI's Special Assignment plan.

Annual Mike Contest Has Slight Rules Change

ANNOUNCEMENT of the 11th annual competition for the H. F. Davis Memorial Announcers' Awards was made last week in a pamphlet distributed to NBC affiliates and NBC affiliated and operated stations. The competition again will be directed by Marjory Stewart of the Microphone Playhouse in Pittsburgh.

For the first time since the contest was established in 1938 by the H. F. Davis, pioneer broadcaster, the rules have been changed to allow three entries instead of only one. Each station, as well as for the presentation of honorable mention certificates to entrants who lose-out in first place judging, will be selected on the basis of personality, diction, voice, versatility and mastery of the high standard in presentation of programs.

One day it will happen. Just when, it would be folly to predict. But one day, surely, war will end. For the first time in the world's gory history, broadcasting will have the proud privilege of flashing the message for which mankind waits and prays: "Peace..."

For the stations of Westinghouse, it will be the culmination of ceaseless effort to help... by service to the communities in which the voice of Westinghouse is a power for good... and through service to the nation at large.

Only a miracle can bring peace before another year or two... but it will come. In the meantime, let's buy that extra War Bond we thought we couldn't afford. The rewards for working and saving will be beyond the power of pen to express.
Why, What and When of New Radio Law Told in Mimeographed Outline

TO ANSWER the constantly rising tide of inquiries from Congressional and other Governmental quarters about the need for a new radio law, the Supreme Court opinion of May 10 (Frankfurter decision) giving the FCC a virtual blank check, there has been prepared a mimeographed statement titled "The Why, What and When of a New Radio Law". Along with this document, an analysis of the White-Wheler Bill (S. 314) and its proponents and opponents to it has also been mimeographed. The "three W" mimeograph follows in full text:

I. WHY

1. There is substantial unanimity on the need for a new law.
   a. President Roosevelt stated as early as January 21, 1930:
      "I have come to the inescapable conclusion that new legislation is necessary to effectuate a satisfactory organization of the Commission. New legislation is also needed to lay down clearer Congressional and administrative standards on the substantive side—so clear that the new administrative body will have no difficulty in following them or administering them."
   b. Bills for amending the Communications Act of 1934 were presented during the past two sessions of Congress.
   c. Industry representatives and representatives of the National Association of Broadcasters (representing a majority of all radio stations) have consistently cited the need for a new law in Congressional hearings in 1934 and in private discussions since that time.
   d. Even Justice Frankfurter apparently looked to Congress, for in his May 10 decision he said: "It is not surprising to say that the public interest will be furthered or retarded... the responsibility belongs to the group of valid legislative authority."

The Frankfurter decision of May 10, 1938, in some respects narrowed the narrow issues involved in the network regulations, but in other respects either never contemplated or intended by Congress. Mr. Justice Frankfurter stated that the "common wisdom" had misunderstood the "composition of that traffic" (which simple phrase is intended to determine what programs go on the air). The decision recognizes to discernible limitations in applying the test of "public interest, convenience and necessity" and in effect, denies any review of FCC findings because that body's "expertise" in the field of radio. Under this decision:

(a) The FCC can tell broadcasters what must be broadcast whether it is newsworthy or not, and what must be broadcast whether it is newsworthy or not.
(b) The Commission can regulate the business arrangements by which broadcasters operate, subject, of course, to the management of each individual radio station. It can effectively shut down small stations by the issuance of new licenses based upon business affiliations.

The effect, clearly, is to destroy the substance, if not the form, of competitive governmental operation of radio—and this country has in the past been unique in its system of radio operation as well as in the excellence of its radio service.

II. WHAT

1. A specific and watertight statutory provision that the FCC shall not concern itself with program policies and business practices.

2. Workable provisions for insuring "fairness" in the treatment of controversial public issues.
3. Putting the radio industry on the same basis as other industries with respect to the antitrust laws and substitution of other and usual penalties for "death sentence" (i.e., loss of license) except for failure to comply with technical requirements.
4. A division of the Commission into two parts, one for the substantive issues involved in the "burden of proof" on the FCC to show the existence of valid public interest, the other for the enforcement of the FCC's orders.
5. A procedural reform to insure licensees and applicants fair hearings and their "day in court.""}

III. WHEN

Legislation is urgently needed now, because:
1. All present new radio construction is frozen. If the quickest and most effective development—based on the new wartime discoveries in radio and electronics—is to be stimulated, the rules of the game must be known now.
2. If American broadcasters are to do their full share in post-war development of new radio facilities, they must have some assurance that what they build may be operated by them.
3. The world-wide scramble for frequencies will follow the close of the war. The position of the United States will be a large contribution to the anti-substitution of values and the substitution of other frequencies unless American broadcasters stand ready to accept them.
4. No interference with the war effort would result—either from the restrictions on frequency use or from the loss of the FCC's use of enacting it. The broadcasters' all-law, all-rule bendings are; at least, a matter above law or compulsion, and all interested elements, except the FCC itself, went for a new law.

Elmer Davis Answers Taber's Attack on OWI

REPLYING to charges by Rep. A. R. (R.-N.Y.) that OWI overseas operations are "getting worse instead of better," Elmer Davis, OWI director, last week declared that the OWI's overseas operations take a different view. He cited, as testimony to the effectiveness of OWI activities, Japanese broadcast on Sept. 3 which asserted: "We must realize how skillfully the British and Americans are working, and we must see in the collapse of Italy an example of this in simple reality." Rep. Taber had criticized OWI activities as "a continuous menace," and urged a reorganization of the agency and the removal of Mr. Davis and Robert Sherwood, director of the Overseas Branch. Asserting that Mr. Davis "has neither the capacity nor the desire to reorganize the agency," he used the terms of his "kind of business specialist" to handle operations.

Canadian Drive

ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE, Dept. of National Defense, Ottawa, starts a new network show C for Charlie, with stations not carrying the program being urged to carry the carrying version of the program. The show will deal with the adventures of a Wellington bomber crew, and interviews of the crew will be included. Account is placed by the combined Advertising Agencies of Canada, Toronto.

QUARTER CENTURY

In Radio, Bill Koter is A Veteran at 40-

Bill Koter (standing) with Herb Lee

WILLIAM J. KOTERA, chief engineer of WOW Omaha, is a young man just 40, but he already has a quarter century of experience in the radio field.

Chief Koter received his amateur license at 15, and four years later went into commercial radio with WIAK, the Daily Journal Stockman station in South Omaha. He was a combination engineer-announcer and gave livestock reports.

On the same job he was the first man in the Omaha area to broadcast World Series games.

The UP operator who holds the Series reports in code and gave them to Koter to broadcast was Herb Lee, who for several years has been a rewrite man in the WOW news department working in the office next to Bill's. The Woodcock of the World station was only two years old when Koter left WIAK, early Oct. 1925, to join WOW and do WOW.

In the picture, Bill is seen using the original telephone type mike he used years ago when the Washington House was using the telegraph sounder, just as he did when they broadcast the news in 1922.

Here's Mexico' Series

FIRST MEXICAN series to be aired Mutual under its arrangement with Radio Mil, Mexico City, for an interchange of programs [BROADCASTING, June 21] started Sunday, Sept. 18, 12:30-1 p.m., titled Here's Mexico. Featuring Mexican stars, the series attempts to demonstrate the similarity between Mexican customs and arts and our own, and at the same time to bring to our attention the country's contribution to the war effort. Tata Nacho and his orchestra, and Miss Maria Cristina Hugs, vocalist, were heard on the first broadcast.

New OWI Committee

FORMATION of a Weekly Newspaper Advisory Committee to consult with OWI on problems of weekly newspapers was announced last week by Elmer Davis. The committee is composed of 12 outstanding weekly newspaper publishers.

More Used Car Dealers Are Entering Spot Radio

LIMITATIONS on the size of newspaper display ads is drawing many used-car dealers into spot radio, according to J. R. Kupsack, New York agency handling five such accounts. Agency's latest account is a deal with a chain of car dealers in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and New Orleans, including: H. C. Bonfig, general sales manager; his brother, assistant general sales manager; and two assistant sales managers—Vance C. Woodcox, director of commercial advertising, and director of research of the RCA Laboratories; Thomas F. Joyce, manager of the radio, phonograph and television department.

Planning for Postwar

MEETINGS for RCA Victor distributors and executive personnel drew large crowds in Los Angeles, New York, and particularly with Westinghouse, Pittsburgh, died Sept. 15 of a cerebrovascular accident at Ft. Monmouth Post Hospital, N. J. An outstanding technician in the radio field, particularly on ultra-high frequency equipment, Lt. Col. P. E. Watson was executive officer of the Signal Corps radar laboratory, having much to do with development of radar. He leaves a widow, his mother and two children.

Esther to Biow

FOLLOWING recent announcement that the Biow Co. of Chicago, and Pedlar & Ryan, New York, had severed relations [BROADCASTING, Sept. 20], Lady Esther has appointed the Biow Co., New York, as its agency, effective immediately. The company currently promotes its cosmetic products on the Screen Guild Theater program, heard on the full CBS network every Sunday, 10:30-11:00. No change in the program will be made for the present, says Biow.

Cannam Starts

It was fun to let the spieler play you for a sucker at the county fair. But there’s no need to gamble on the 3 P’s in the Western Michigan Market. Only one station between Chicago and Detroit has the combination of POPULATION, PROGRAMS and POWER to do the job in Michigan’s second market. That’s WOOD—Grand Rapids.

GRAND RAPIDS — outstate Michigan’s largest city. The Grand Rapids Market is second only to Detroit. WOOD broadcasts from the very center of this high wage territory of over a million listeners. Obviously no station on the fringe can do the job.

NBC PROGRAMS. For eight straight years the only NBC outlet in Western Michigan. The dials stay tuned to WOOD for the Parade of Stars, the best entertainment in radio. No wonder Grand Rapids listeners prefer WOOD 14 to 1 over any other 5000-watt station in the state.

5000 WATTS—second to none in outstate Michigan. WOOD is the only high-powered station transmitting from Grand Rapids.

Don’t gamble. Follow the Rule of 3 P’s. Only WOOD can deliver the listeners you need in Michigan’s second market.

labor; elimination of blanket restrictions on labor's right to purchase time and on its right to use radio for solicitation of membership or in organization campaigns.

There was no specific criticism of the BLUE transaction. Mr. deCaux admitted he asked the opportunity to testify because of the broader question of establishment of machinery for the "relief" of labor and other organizations in cases where there is a discriminatory denial of their right to buy or receive free time on the air.

WMCA Official Heard
First witness called Monday was C. Nicholas Priaulx, president and general manager of WMCA and secretary-treasurer of ABS. Examined on direct by Floyd P.
Toomey, member of the firm of Alvord & Alvord, as counsel for Mr. Noble, Mr. Priaulx identified a number of exhibits filed with the publication application for acquisition of the BLUE. He explained the manner in which the $8,000,000 purchase price is being raised and covered other fiscal aspects of the transaction.

Assistant General Counsel Rosel
H. Hyde sought to establish an individual price for the three stations but Mr. Priaulx reiterated
Mr. Wood's testimony that no values were attributed to any of the stations. The $8,000,000 figure was arrived at by Mr. Noble after examination of the balance sheets of the BLUE and based solely on the going concern value of the network and the future of radio as indicated by Mr. Noble.

Mr. Priaulx said his position with the BLUE had not been decided. It is presumed he will leave the executive direction of WMCA, apparent indication of his abdication by Mr. Noble to Nathan Straus, former administrator of U. S. Housing Authority, sale of which was consummated Sept. 13 for $1,255,000 subject to FCC approval. An accountant by profession,

Mr. Priaulx said Mr. Noble had been his client for some 20 years before he joined his organization.

Mr. Noble, who occupied the stand last Monday for most of the 5½-hour session, outlined in detail how he proposed to finance the BLUE transaction. He said there was no necessity to raise additional outside capital. As to the possibility of raising capital for necessary expansion, he said he could provide the additional money from his "operations room".

Declaring he had not yet formulated his long-range plans, Mr.
Noble said he would not do any-	hing until he had actually oberved the BLUE Network operations and determined how safe and good an investment it would be.
He said he looked toward a "conservative venture with a safe investment" which might not be as attractive as other stock offerings.
He declared he would be "very careful about the kind of money I bring in from the public interest standpoint." Asked by Commissioner Durr whether it is his plan to sell stock to affiliates, so as eventually to make the BLUE an "affiliate owned network", Mr.
Noble said this was not his intention and that his commitments in connection with his bank loans contemplated his retention of control.
He added that his only worry is "that I'll devote so much time to the BLUE that my other interests will suffer."

Praises Management
Discussing present management of the network, Mr. Noble said he had yet to hear a single criticism of its directing heads. He declared he did not anticipate any changes in the officers and directors of the BLUE except for those who are employees of RCA". He said these directors already had tendered their resignation.

Under brisk questioning by members of the Commission, Mr. Noble backed the Woods' position that he felt time should be sold to sell products but not philosophies.
If the Ford Motor Co. indulged in the sale of "ideas" or anything other than in products or services, he wished to be disposed to terminate such sponsorship.

Expounding his views on sponsorship as an advertiser himself, by virtue of his chairmanship of the Life Savers Corp. and his interest in United Drug Inc. as well as other business enterprises.
Mr. Noble said the ultimate purpose is to sell goodwill. The value of advertising is cumulative, he declared. He said Life Savers could sell 20 times what it is able to manufacture, because of wartime demand. He added, however, that "he wouldn't think of stopping our advertising" because other new brands are on the market.

In this view he that the sale of ideas may be just as important as promotion of products. He observed that operation of a netrwork "is one of giving the responsibilities in the country" and he did not feel that networks were under any duty to defend "any code," obviously referring to the WMCA.

After a hot colloquy, participated in by several Commissioners
Mr. Fly observed that he thought the Commission was desirous of have "a formulated policy" in the record. Brushing aside Mr. Noble's observations that it was difficult for him to enunciate policy before he had acquired the business,
Mr. Fly said himself "to go to school!",
Mr. Fly said the Commission would in- consist upon submission of such a statement of policy from Mr. Noble before action by transfer.

Winchell Case
He said such policy would not bind the network to sell to every "Tom, Dick and Harry" and that if radio operated on that basis the "management might as well be turned over to the office boy." Mr.
Fly told Mr. Noble he could have "all the time you want" to prepare the statement but that the Commission would not act until it knew his views. He declared the Commission did not seek specific answers in specific cases but rather, the thinking to develop a
"code" mechanism of free speech.

Returning to the stand to reply to unanswered questions put at the initial hearing, Mr. Woods exmplified the situation presented with the Jergens-Walter Winchell program. He said it involved the cases of the three stations—WWL
New Orleans, WIXN Washington, KWKH Shreveport — which had never carried the Winchell program before but which were desired by the client. The request was made because of turnover of stations in these cities carried the program, covering adequately.

In the case of WRAL Raleigh, he said, the station had refused an affiliation contract with the BLUE but wanted only the single Winchell program at card rates.

Mr. Fly commented he believed the network's refusal to provide the station this service desired by the sponsor violated the network regulations and that it was exactly the sort of thing the rules were designed to terminate. John T.
Cahill, counsel for Mr. Noble, for the BLUE, contended it was no violation of the regulations and there was no matter of "exclusivity" involving.

Commissioner Walker insisted that the station has a right to "buy that program" under the rules.

Mr. Hyde also asked about the situation with the view that which he declared had sought an affiliation with the network but was refused. The BLUE had sub-mited for approval of coverage areas from its affiliations in Shreveport and Fort Worth, Mr. Woods said. He added, however, that KFRO was "under consideration".
In this case, he said, the station was seeking a network affiliation while in the WRAL case only one program was sought. He said there was no "exclusive contract with any station" which prevents the addition of other stations to the network. When Mr. Hyde observed that KFRO claimed a nighttime coverage of 48,000 and a daytime coverage of 75,000 population, Mr.
Woods observed that the case was "not yet concluded."

After a discussion of Winchell in which both Mr. Woods prevented their broadcasts, designed to show there was no effort to control their views, Mr. Woods concluded his statement by answering a question from Mr. Durr answering a question from Mr. Durr regarding the NAB code. He declared there was no "substantial conflict" between the BLUE and the code proposed for adoption of the code influenced the BLUE's judgment.

and that conclusions were independently reached.
RADIO PROVES ITS ABILITY TO EASE WAR TIME LABOR SHORTAGES

Miss Lowe rates high at WWVA

Faced with manpower problems, many stations today are finding a happy answer in womanpower. For example, Miss Margaret Lowe—engineer at WWVA, Wheeling, West Va.—who operates the station’s Western Electric console like a veteran.

Miss Lowe, a former telephone operator, joined WWVA in November, 1942, and quickly learned the ropes. Today she can handle any type of program, can change fuses and tubes, and is now learning to make recordings.

She feels that an engineer’s job should no longer be considered a man’s job only. WWVA agrees!

... To Make Men Free!

A series of 13 weekly half-hour programs selling the theme “To Make Men Free,” was undertaken by the faculty and students of the Kansas State Teachers College. Object: to sell War Bonds and Stamps.

Orchestras, bands, choruses, soloists, and the staff of KTSW, Emporia, worked together to prepare, produce and manage the broadcasts, which were keyed closely to local interests and activities.

Programs originating at KTSW were distributed by wire or transcription to seven other stations: KANS, Wichita; KCKN, Kansas City; KGOF, Coffeyville; KGNO, Dodge City; KSAL, Salina; KXGB, Great Bend; WREN, Lawrence.

With the combined coverage of this Kansas “War Bond Network,” listeners were reached in every part of the state. Fine teamwork!

... KROW draws blood in first round

A new program, “Blood Relative”—broadcast by KROW, Oakland, Calif.—brought in 17 blood donors in its first 15 minute period. On the air Monday through Friday, this program is one of many that are helping to save the lives of our wounded fighting men.

... KMBC calls in the Dogs of War

A recent 15 minute broadcast on KMBC, Kansas City, resulted in the procurement of 183 dogs for the Army K-9 Corps. Hearing the program, approximately 500 listeners volunteered their dogs for this service, and 153 dogs met breed, age and other requirements. They are now being trained by the Army for various military tasks, such as guarding railroad lines, bridges, war plants and other vital points. Too bad for any Fifth Columnist who meets up with one of these sentries!

... WNAX aids farmers

Serving a vast farm audience, WNAX, Sioux City-Yankton, broadcasts from the tallest tower in America—devotes its attention to helping the farmer meet the worldwide need for food. WNAX sends its farm director into an average of three homes a day transcribing actual stories of how farmers have met labor shortages, overcome—implement difficulties, increased production. These programs have been an inspiration to listeners.

Let’s talk about YOU!

If your station has done a war job you are proud of, send your story to Radio War-Gram Editor, Western Electric Co., Room 928, 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y. If suitable, we will use it in one of this series of War-Grams.

Directing Arm of Combat

In modern battle, our fighting units may be many miles apart. Yet every unit, every movement, is closely knit into the whole scheme of combat—through communications. Much of this equipment is being made by Western Electric: radio command sets for planes, tanks, PT boats—field telephones, wire, switchboards—P.A. equipment for ships and air fields—are delivering fighting words on every front.

... Be Careful!

In an effort to maintain a high standard of self-censorship in the interest of national security, KVOO, Tulsa, has put up poster warnings in its studies and waiting rooms to warn against improper release of information. The poster warns especially against ad lib slips which can be made to easily on guest, quiz or audience participation programs—gives a list of taboo subjects.
Fly Denies Cross-Examination Right To Flamm’s Attorney at Blue Hearing

EPPORTS of Philip Handelman, New York attorney with the firm of Handelman and Ives, to participate in the hearing on the sale of the BLUE Network by RCA to Edward J. Noble were frustrated by Chairman F. Flamm, because of the pendency of litigation by Donald Flamm, Mr. Handelman’s client, against Mr. Noble.

When Mr. Handelman later sought the right to cross-examine Mr. Noble, Mr. Fly interrupted to read a ruling prepared in advance denying him that right. He promptly called a one-minute recess. Mr. Handelman, during the recess, prepared a statement expressing his agreement with the Chairman’s views that the Flamm case should not be tried at the hearing. He said he would not appear for Mr. Flamm in this proceeding but merely as a member of the bar and “a representative of the press” solely on the question of the fitness of Mr. Noble to head a network.

Handelman’s Reply

“The course of my investigation of Mr. Noble, I have come upon many things which reflect upon the question of his fitness. Some of these are the property of Mr. Flamm now privileged to him. On the other hand, some of the information which Mr. Noble himself admitted to me today as to his fitness is a matter of which I have knowledge and which are matters of public record, and as to these matters I desire direct several questions to Mr. Noble, and only upon the subject of his fitness.”

Chairman Fly tentatively ruled that the right to cross-examine would be denied, particularly since Mr. Noble had been excused as a witness. He said the Commission would later render a formal opinion to Mr. Handelman the right to cross examination.

Following is the text of Mr. Fly’s statement initially refusing Mr. Handelman the right to cross-examination:

Donald Flamm has not moved to intervene as a party in this proceeding; for that matter, it is not at all clear how Flamm could have either a legal or material interest in the outcome of the present proceeding. With these circumstances the question as to whether or not he be allowed to introduce testimony or cross-examine witnesses is one addressed to the discretion of the Commission.

During December and January of 1940-1941, charges of coercion and improper influence in the sale of the BLUE Network were made which led to the complaint in the present proceeding. Without these circumstances, the question as to whether or not he be allowed to introduce testimony or cross-examine witnesses is one addressed to the discretion of the Commission.

FCC INVESTIGATES RACE WIRE SERVICE

TO CONSERVE critical materials and speed up production to improve the speed and quality of telegraph service, the FCC last week ordered an immediate investigation of telephone and telegraph facilities leased for such non-essential uses as the dissemination of racing and gambling information.

Western Union has over 12,000 miles of circuits leased for racing information, and was learned from testimony presented in hearings on the merger application of Western Union and MICA that critical materials and skilled personnel are required to install, maintain and disconnect these facilities. The Commission ordered an immediate use of wire facilities for transmission of racing information in the interest of informing the general public.

The FCC is charged under a Board of War Communications order with formulation of principles for regulating the leasing of telephone circuits during the war period and of recommending the closure of unnecessary circuits.

Following the application of Valley Broadcasting Co., West Point, for a construction permit to move to West Point. Valley Broadcasting Co. is a partnership of L. J. Dunbar, Josefine A. Rawls and Effie H. Allen, who are asking for the 1490 kc frequency with 250 watts unlimited [BROADCASTING, Sept. 13]. Valley Broadcasting Co. licensee of WDAC, was granted a construction permit to move to West Point, from West Point to nearby Columbus on the ground that the West Point operation was not profitable.

Ration Book No. 4 ‘Sold’ by OWI War Messages Scheduled for Week of Oct. 18

SMOOTH and complete registration for Ration Book No. 4 during the last 10 days of October, is the objective of the latest campaign in the war message schedule of OWI. It will be supported by the Station Announcement plan for the week of Oct. 18 (see table), but the announcements will be live, rather than transcribed, and will be supplied by Station Relations deputies to those stations which will agree to carry them. These announcements will vary because the registration dates are not the same in all states.

The material on Ration Book No. 4 will explain the plan for use of tokens as ration currency to make change for the red and blue stamps in the book. There will be 48 stamps per page and the book in good for 96 weeks. Green point stamps and black “unit” and “spare” stamps are included.

Because of the interest of both consumers and merchants in the plans for Ration Book 4, it is expected that a large number of stations will accept the announcements.

Subjects Listed

The accompanying table lists all the subjects to be featured on the regular allocation schedule of the OWI Network, Station Announcement and National Spot plans. By consulting the table, any station can determine what messages it is scheduled to broadcast the week of Oct. 18. Terms “KW” and “OI”, used in table, refer to stations which are carried by the OWI and to the sending of identical material to all stations. Originally OWI divided stations into four national mailing lists, approximately equal, and designated K, W, O and I. Lists have since been combined as two.

As in the week of Oct. 11, the announcement schedule for the week of Oct. 18 lists no spots for sale to sponsors, but offers such material of interest to those sponsors who like to include certain types of war messages in their programs.

“National War Fund” announcements, supplied live, like the ration book spots, are scheduled on both KW and OI stations, as well as on the Network Allocation plan, as in the preceding week (BROADCASTING, Sept. 20, p. 24). National War Fund is the joint OWI and national relief and service organizations and hundreds of local community relief agencies to raise funds for their varied charity and relief projects.

Can Salvage Spots

“Hold Prices Down,” featured live in the National Spot Plan for the week of Oct. 11, goes on the Network and Station Announcement Plans for the week of the 18th. On both KW and OI discs, the transcribed announcements will describe the government’sseven-point program to hold prices in check. The fact that signs indicate that “Can Salvage” is being held is used as a springboard to urge listeners to join in the war against inflation.

“Stick to Your War Job,” on both KW and OI stations the preceding week, is switched to the OWI Network Plan in the form of live announcements for the week of Oct. 18.

“Careless Talk” is the subject of a number of National Spot transmissions for the week, and “Pin Can Salvage” is added to the Network Plan and to the schedule of transcribed announcements for both KW and OI independent stations. Thus, affiliates will get the announcements over their network wires, while independents get them from records.

“Tin Can Salvage” is revived because collections are running about 50% below the goal set by WPA. Cans are urgently needed as a source of supply for tin, copper and scrap steel for the war effort. The goal is a continuous flow from kitchen to smelter at the rate of 450,000 tons of cans per year.

Official weather forecasts authorized for the air were broadcast every half hour by WNOE New Orleans during the Sept. 17-19 period when warnings of an approaching hurricane were being posted.

Wailes, general manager of Westinghouse Radio; Leroy Miller, conductor of the Musical Clock program; Harold Coulter, sales promotion manager; Leslie W. Pel- liam, WIRE Indianapolis; Harry Spence, KKRO Aberdeen; Maj. E. M. Stoen, Hearst Radio, New York; Niles Rammell, NBC president; Lee B. Fidler Statement Brings Ban by Warner on Blue

BAN forbidding guest appearances of Warner Bros. players on BLUE sponsored programs was clamped down following Jimmy Fidler’s broadcast on Sept. 12, in which he allegedly criticized appearance of servicemen in the film and play “This is the Army”. Fidler asked the Red Cross what was the “insulting response” of these few fathers from draft if ex-actors now in uniform were sent to battles fields instead of to New York and Hollywood.

The film studio has demanded apology from both Fidler and BLUE to the Army Emergency Relief Fund. Armys men appear- ing in the film, and Warner Bros. Don E. Gilman, BLUE Western division vice-president, supporting the commentator, has also received a letter from S. Charles Einfeld, publicity-acting director of Warner Bros. asking for network time to refute the attack. Army Relief Fund executives have reportedly declared that if the BLUE agrees to the request, they will make available many of the AERF beneficiaries for the program.

‘Monitor’ on WMCA

WHEN Mutual starts its Christian Science Monitor newscasts [BROAD- CASTING, Sept. 13] New York list-eners will hear the Monday through Friday 6:30-6:45 p.m. pro-grams on WMCA, instead of on WOR, MBS New York station. Ostensible cause of this shift in outlets is WOR’s previous commitment for Frank Singiser’s news program at 6:30 p.m. on week nights under alternate sponsorship of Consolidated Cigar Corp. and B. C. Remedy Co.

Mutual stated the series would not be available for local sponsor- ship during the first 60 days starting Sept. 20.

SOCIETY of Motion Picture En- gineers will hold its 54th semi-annual technical conference at the Hollywood-Roosevelt Hotel, Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 18-22.
On September 25 and 26 the stations of the Columbia Network, acting in planned synchronization, open, in more than 119 cities of the United States, the most formidable, realistic and aggressive campaign of program-promotion ever undertaken in the history of radio. The purpose of this report is to advise you of its strategy and tactics.

STRATEGY: To notify the American public in certain terms, as the curtain rises on the 1943-44 fall and winter season of Columbia Network programs, of the specific offerings of the greatest pageant of entertainment, instruction, music and comedy ever broadcast by any network—and thus steadily to broaden their audiences.

TACTICS: The “arms” to be used in coordination are, in the order of their relative emphasis:

1. RADIO
2. NEWSPAPERS
3. TRANSPORTATION ADVERTISING
4. POSTERS
5. DIRECT MAIL
6. PERSONAL CONTACT
7. BROCHURES

Let us examine the tactical plan for each in detail:
CBS Stations plan to broadcast upwards of 50,000 Special Announcements, each of which invites the entire listening audience to hearken to a specific forthcoming program. What astronomical total of listeners will be reached by these announcements, no man dare say exactly, but shall we say millions on millions?

... PLUS upwards of 75,000 Special Star Invitations broadcast by the artists themselves who participate in the CBS Network programs, and who have made special recordings for this purpose. Again there can be no exact prediction of the millions reached by these Star Recordings, but only a deaf hermit can fail to hear them!
CBS Stations will open their campaign with a full-page, and continue regular advertising using every major newspaper in every station-city on a strong schedule (reaching a total daily circulation exceeding 12,000,000 ABC Net Paid), promoting every full-network program, every broadcasting day.

CBS Stations (in every station-city in which transportation advertising is available) will use car cards in color (mostly giants, 11 x 42 ins.), bearing photographs of the principals of full-network programs every broadcasting day, to a monthly total of riders exceeding 860 millions.

CBS Stations are now posting throughout their communities upwards of 65,000 posters inviting listening to all full-network CBS programs—each poster measuring 26½ x 40 inches, printed in color. Over 25 of the subjects were drawn by James Montgomery Flagg; others by artists equally competent in capturing the spirit of other programs.
CBS Stations are issuing skillful and detailed direct mail information, including well over 500,000 unusually effective post cards concerning the "Forward March" to those affected in their communities, to the total of millions of additional circulation. Clients and agencies are planning to use this material for their dealers, as well.

CBS Station Managers, in close contact with the civic leaders and the mercantile customers and representatives of their CBS Network Clients, have advised them of the "Forward March" and (as we go to press) are working 24 hours a day to cooperate with them.

These brochures, booklets, and envelopes are designed to give full program information to CBS stations, and to present a comprehensive program promotion plan with the material to carry it out. Over 90 programs will be promoted this Fall...by CBS stations using their material with consummate skill.

We'll keep going as long as the postman does...

FIVE years ago, the Country Journal went on the KMOX air. It was written for the 500,000 farm people in our 78 county primary area.

The show began to break all-time mail records. And it should have. It is built around personalities who are record-breakers. For instance:

Pappy Cheshire and his Hillbilly Champions: They have received over 250,000 pieces of mail since they started singing their way down the KMOX air lanes.

Charles Stookey, KMOX and CBS Farm Reporter: A while back he got 80,000 letters from farmers in 1 month.

Cousin Emmy and Her Kinfolk: A few months ago, when they offered their pictures, 16,354 letters came in four weeks.

Sponsors get the same kind of response. Kerr Glass offered canning advice to those who wrote in. A thousand letters a week asked for it.

There are two basic reasons for this consistent record: First - KMOX has long been the favorite station for rural Mid-America (as it is for urban St. Louis). Folks listen, believe, respond.

Second - the Country Journal is the kind of program that sparks response. Good entertainment. (So good that Pappy regularly takes time off for making pictures in Hollywood). Good service. (Charles Stookey has won nationwide recognition for his farm reporting—on KMOX and, coast to coast, on CBS). Good timing. (The Country Journal uses news from AP, UP, CBS, PA—to bring to our listeners the first news of the day—an hour and a half before any other St. Louis station broadcasts the news!)

The KMOX Country Journal is on the air every weekday morning from 5:30 to 7:00 a.m. Through these ninety minutes the Country Journal brings to KMOX more rural listeners than are tuned to all other St. Louis stations combined. Participations are not only desirable but available. Ask us or Radio Sales.

Dear Mr. Brandels:

Your recent enlargement of wire service has given us an excellent new selling slogan for our six daily quarter-hour news periods. We thought this might be of interest or value to you.

We use an opening something like this: "Here is the latest world news summary taken from the twenty-four hour a day sixty word minute of International News Service," then add the round-the-clock news coverage given by International News Service and bring out the sixty words a minute phase.

In reality, counting the overlap of the day and night wire, we have more than twenty-four hours actual service, but to mention more than twenty-four hours of service would probably confuse the public and not be as clear as the phrase we use.

Hoping this may be of some service to you, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

VQ/EK

All your life you’ve thought Buffalo Bill shot hundreds of Buffaloes—and probably all your radio life, you’ve thought you could cover Western Michigan from some big Chicago or Detroit radio station.

Sorry—but on both counts, you’ve been wrong! Western Michigan is covered by only one radio station in the world—WKZO. Others can reasonably claim small segments, but only WKZO does a complete job. And the cost is so low that any fair-sized advertiser can add WKZO to his list without difficulty . . . Want all the facts? Telephone Free & Peters—or write us direct!

NATIONALLY REPRESENTED BY EDWARD PETRY & CO., Inc.
Thou Shalt Not Covet

THE CURTAIN has rung down on Act 2 of the newest radio regulatory extravaganza now showing in Washington. Or is it a travesty?

The FCC has wound up its public hearing on the sale of the BLUE Network to Edward J. Noble, who meanwhile has contracted to sell his WMCA to Nathan Straus of New York. But the hearing record is being kept open until Mr. Noble supplies the FCC with a "statement of policy" on what FCC Chairman Fly calls the "mechanism of free speech".

It is clearly evident that the Commission will approve the $8,000,000 transaction. It can't very well do otherwise. But it is driving a bargain. It wants Mr. Noble to commit himself to such matters as the sale of time for the discussion of controversial issues—time that now is freely given away. It wants him to agree to sell time to labor unions and cooperatives for membership drives and for the spread of ideologies and creeds. It wants to put the dollar sign on radio.

It really doesn't matter what Mr. Noble says. Under the Commission's own rules he can't commit the stations on the BLUE Network he proposes to acquire. He can't commit the other three networks. And whatever he says won't make much difference anyway in the result. The Commission, in its opinion approving the transfer of the three BLUE-owned stations, can be expected to vent a blistering criticism of industry policies on sale of time and of the NAB Code of Ethics because the Code deprecates sale of time for controversial issues, and for membership drives.

All this grows out of the Supreme Court opinion of last May 10 assigning to the FCC the control of the "composition of the traffic". The Commission majority, of which Chairman Fly is the spokesman, covets that authority.

If the Fly philosophy—heartily concurred in by Commissioners Durr and Walker and perhaps inferentially by Commissioner Wakefield—were adhered to, the air would be filled with pleadings for special causes. Those with the most money would monopolize the ether. The public wouldn't tolerate that sort of radio.

What our free-thinking, liberal zealots fail to understand is that the radio audience—practically the entire nation—was not built by the FCC or its predecessor, or those who run the labor unions or big business, or the geniuses who devised the spectrum allocation. Rather it was built by the broadcasters. They built the programs and were sensitive to the wishes of the people. Radio must present a balanced programming structure, not a babble of voices preaching, shouting or lobbying.

Let's take a hypothetical case of the "free and easy" time theory advanced during the BLUE hearing, since several members of the Commission tried it. There's the prohibition issue. Could the Anti-Saloon League, on a paid-time basis, cope with the nation's distillers? Radio doesn't sell the distillers on a network basis today because liquor itself constitutes a controversial issue.

What, for example, would this corruption of what is called "free speech" do in the case of a Father Coughlin? It would give him as many networks as he could buy—the test would be the dollar sign, nothing else.

Whatever may be said of the NAB, certainly the provisions of its code are sound on these very issues now trotted out by the FCC majority. Mr. Noble and Mark Woods, BLUE president, were sound in adhering to the basic concepts that time should not be sold for controversial issues or for the exploitation of membership campaigns, as against products.

All this adds up to one thing. The Supreme Court challenge to Congress must be met this year, lest it become the permanent law. The BLUE hearing is a harbinger of what's ahead.

We suggest that the subject is of sufficient importance to warrant prompt consideration by the Congressional leadership identified with radio legislation. We should like to see a conference of Chairman Wheeler, of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee; Chairman Lea of the House Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee; Chairman Cox of the House Select Committee investigating the FCC; Senator White and Rep. Holmes, as authors of pending radio bills, to settle procedure.

There isn't any doubt, except in the mind of the FCC majority, about the need for a clear expression from Congress. This group should express itself as to the Congressional plan for consideration of legislation before the FCC embarks upon control of "the composition of the traffic" and cripples free American radio—freest and best in the world.

Parasite Lost

FOR YEARS the notion has been prevalent that broadcasters would rather fight than partake of the finer things— with everyone except their clients. That results can be accomplished through a meeting of the minds is evidenced by the CBS action to eliminate cow-catcher and hitch-hiker announcements—parasite growth which fed upon radio's refusal to say "no".

The CBS action didn't just happen. A number of broadcasters got up on their hind legs about it. Resolutions were adopted condemning the practice. Bill Way of KVOD, Tulsa, spent time, effort and money to start the movement, in the interest of having radio run its own business. The speed with which CBS has acted is in keeping with the policy enunciated by its President William S. Paley at the last NAB convention that radio must retrieve its full independence.

Shifting to a somewhat different practice, complaints have been heard over the years about the kind of copy used by American Tobacco Co. Way back, when it put Cremo cigars on the air, it talked about "spit". It's more recent "Best Tunes of all Come from Carnegie Hall" grated on a nation's nerves. Now it's the constant repetition "LS-MST", whatever that means.

Mr. George Washington Hill, of American Tobacco, advertising genius that he is, apparently feels he doesn't care what his company is called, just so there's talk about his product. He has worked the constant repetition theme to a fare-thee-well.

But is it good radio?

Our Respects To —

COL. HARRY CONVERSE WILDER

Leading his battalion through Grand Pre during the great push toward Sedan in World War 1, or leading his Syracuse based WSYR into untried airways, the command of Col. Harry C. Wilder is always "Forward".

The WSYR president has just proved the success of his watchword by celebrating the 21st anniversary of his station on September 15—and in a most novel manner. Col. Wilder asked for ideas for the celebration, and there was one he especially liked. "Why not," it said, "emphasize the 21 years of WSYR's existence by creating and producing 21 brand new radio shows, one to be broadcast each day for the 21 days leading up to the final anniversary date."

"Why not?" asked the colonel. "Let's get started."

That was on the 22nd day before the celebration date, leaving exactly one day in which to "get started". But the staff, electrified for action under Col. Wilder did get started, and on the next day began one of the most ambitious schedules ever undertaken by a radio station staff—21 daily programs, drama, music, human interest features, unique news treatment, and even the first episode of an adventure serial, written, cast and produced entirely within the station.

All led triumphantly up to the hour-long anniversary program. Col. Wilder's father, Mark S. Wilder, founder and vice-president of WSYR, cut the birthday cake and was portrayed in the dramatization of the station's history. Special feature was two shortwave broadcasts from England, from a Syracuse-staffed army hospital, and a Syracuse flying colonel hero veteran of Dieppe, all saying "Happy Birthday".

In the 11 years Col. Wilder has been WSYR president he has developed the station from an obscure 100 watt to the progressive 5,000 watt station of today, always beamed to new ideas, with a "go" signal on continually for personalities that can reach past the microphone to the hearts of listeners.

Born in 1891, Col. Wilder is a graduate of Phillips Exeter and Amherst, 1913. He is also a graduate of the "war years" when he served in four major campaigns overseas.

It was during the advance toward Sedan in 1918 when the 27-year-old major distinguished himself. The Germans were unleashing all they had to stem the push of the Allied Army. Major Wilder and his battalion were in

Dick Tracy Aired
LOUIS MELIND Co., Chicago (Justrite Drawing Ink) new 15-minute radio, has started sponsorship of the quarter-hour late-afternoon Dick Tracy show Tuesday and Thursdays on WENR Chicago, in a test campaign. Commercials are slanted for children interested in cartooning, with a Nick Nichols Cartooning Course as a giveaway feature. Agency is Brand Adv. Co., Chicago.

Despite your efforts, the Grand Pre region, in the thick of it. During the action, Wilder was gassed. But refusing to be evacuated, he stuck with his men and continued in command. His battalion drove through German lines past Grand Pre and on to their objective, Sedan. It was for this deed that he was cited for bravery in action. Later, he was an area military governor with the army of occupation in Germany.

After the war, Wilder, then a colonel, turned to the selling field. He was sales manager for wire, copper, rubber, utility and refrigeration companies. He became a partner in an advertising agency and advertising manager for power and rubber companies, then president of light and power companies, and vice-president of a copper wire company. He also tried his hand in magazine publishing. Then in 1932 he entered radio. Besides being president of WSYR he also heads WTRY Troy and WKNE Keene, N. H., and two years ago, he sold WJTN Jamestown. Practically every civic movement in Syracuse includes the name of Col. Wilder. He is a director of the Century Club and the Skaneateles Country Club, vice-president and director of the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce and a member of the University and Triton Club (Canada). He was one of the first New York state commanders of the American Legion.

Married to Isabel Howard since 1916, before going overseas, Col. Wilder has one daughter, Nancy, the wife of Lt. Roderick Burlington. He resigned from the Field Artillery reserves 15 years ago.

But Wilder's status in this war is far from inactive. In civic affairs, his Legion activities, and especially in his stations, pushing the war effort on the home front is his objective. And Col. Wilder is not one to give up until the objective has been reached.

Recordings on Sweden Made Available by OWI
TO PROJECT a fuller understanding of Sweden to American audiences, the OWI is making available to stations a series of 13 recordings made under the supervision of OWI outpost representatives under the auspices of the Swedish government. The recordings have been requested by stations in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and Washington.

The series is the first in a large-scale "exchange" plan being developed by OWI. The agency is already at work on programs in Australia, China, New Zealand, South Africa, Iceland and Turkey. Within the next two or three months, the first of these series will be offered to broadcasters. A limited number of pressings of the Swedish series is available to stations. Requests are being handled by the OWI Station Relations regional offices.

The OWI is also developing two series of programs made in America to be played over Swedish stations.

Don Franks: I've gone and stuck my neck out, and I'm wondering if you'll help me out next time you see Margaret Wygle of J. Walter Thomson at Chicago. A couple of weeks ago she wrote me all about the "WHCH's 50th Club of the Air." Course I went the limit in mentioning such salient points about the show as the 360 signed members. I agree to listen and buy the sponsors' merchandise, program attended toward women, with recipes, household hints, etc. etc. etc. etc. But what is really put me in the middle is the fact that I told her the show has no copyright. You should know how to make it copyrightable. I even went so far as to intimate that I thought it would be a good idea for someone alert to the advertising. Well, don't you, Frank? I'll bet this magazine had no more than hit the street, when zingo, a smart advertisement, such as I just mentioned, stepped up and jabbed up this one available in print, so if you'll explain this, I'll be more than grateful.

Believe me, I'd feel worse than I do about this, if it weren't for the fact that a Brecken man has all the dope on other equally good WHCH availability.

A Complete Mail Study!

- Who writes to radio stations—men or women?
- Do people on farms write more than people in cities?
- What makes people write—contests, premium offers, free information, etc.?
- If an advertiser wants to use a mail offer, how long should he feature it on the air?

These, and scores of other questions, are answered in the most complete mail study ever made. It will soon be released by KMA, Shenandoah, Iowa, long recognized as one of the outstanding mail stations of the country.

The study is based on the 493,479 pieces of commercial mail the station received from April, 1942 through March, 1943. A special corps of mail clerks tabulated the commercial response all year according to county, program, sex of writer, etc., for a firm of certified public accountants. The accounting firm then compiled monthly and quarterly reports and is now completing the final, summary analysis.

Because of current restrictions, copies of the printed study will be limited. So—if you want one—reserve your copy now. But only agency men and company advertising managers, please!

There are a number of requirements for new transmitter equipment which broadcast station managers, their engineers and consultants must always bear in mind.

1. The equipment must function in a manner consistent with FCC performance requirements.

2. The equipment must meet FCC safety requirements for the protection of operators.

3. The equipment design must include safeguards which effectively protect it from damage due to overload.

4. The equipment design must include maximum assurance against failure during broadcasting.

RCA provides these assurances—"hedges" against trouble.

From microphone to antenna, RCA offers the broadcast station complete equipment of coordinated design—assuring superior performance, maximum operating economy and convenience, and definitely fixed responsibility.

RCA Victor Division, RADIO CORPORATION OF AMERICA, Camden, N. J.

RCA BROADCAST EQUIPMENT

* RCA's line of apparatus includes more of the equipment necessary for the efficient operation of modern broadcasting stations than that of any other manufacturer.

* RCA is the only broadcast equipment supplier manufacturing a complete line of measuring and test equipment.
ONE of the outstanding features of the three county fair held annually at Northampton, Mass., is the horse racing. This year WHYN Holyoke secured the contract for the daily broadcast of the races, run off during the week of Sept. 5. The station also managed to originate a WHYN handicap which carried a WHYN purse and was one of the most heavily bet upon races of the entire meet. All publicity released on the meet naturally carried WHYN call letters as the handicap was a daily feature.

KEEP THIS MARKET IN YOUR MIND

Now a teeming city of over 101,400 people, Corpus Christi rates as one of America's six fastest growing cities with best prospects of retaining wartime growth, according to Philip M. Hauser of the Census Bureau. Surely, here is a market to keep in mind... one to cultivate today for sales today and tomorrow. Its oil, cotton, farm lands, cattle raising, chemicals, and shipping facilities assure Corpus Christi of even greater growth in the future. And KRIS, the only major Corpus Christi station carrying network shows, offers you Hooper-authenticated domination at surprisingly small cost. Call in your Brachman man for full information today.

Merchants' Show

ORANGE MERCHANTS Assn. are presenting a series of daily shows over WAAT Newark. Members use their own newspaper space and other advertising media to promote the shows. Ribbon badges showing broadcasting schedules are worn by Orange stores' personnel. Cards promoting the programs were inserted in packages sold by the stores before the campaign got under way.

Rural Survey Book

TWENTY page file size booklet just released by KMBC Kansas City, titled "Home From the Heart" contains a survey of the farm listening habits throughout the "Heart of America" area. Comparison is made with other stations in the area regarding listener coverage on service programs such as news, farm talks, markets, farm programs and home service features. Cover of the book is reproduction from an oil painting made by a Kansas City artist for KMBC. Preceding the book was a postcard addressed to secretaries suggesting they be sure the "boss" receives his copy.

Movie Promotion

RADIO was effectively used to break a twenty-one year attendance record at the Golden Gate Theater when KPO San Francisco promoted RKO's picture "Behind the Rising Sun". Aside from the routine weekly theater promotion (newspaper and paper and billboard) all publicity was via the air. Tie-in, for two weeks, included special round-table discussions, interviews by KPO personalities, quarter-hour transcribed teasers, spot announcements, tours of a color photo to James E. Young of four major shipyards, and radio appearances of the picture's star, Margo.

Better Humor Cards

LOCAL distribution of small "better humor" cards by WMAZ Macon, Ga., an area overrun with war workers and with the usual letdown in service, has aroused favorable comment according to reports. Cards are about 4x9 inches and printed on cardboard stock. Various sayings on the cards suggest increased friendliness and courtesy. Only reference to WMAZ is signature at the bottom of each card.

Direct Mail

FULL-PAGE color advertisement of WLW Cincinnati which appeared in the Aug. 16 issue of Broadcasting has been printed on heavy cardboard stock and sent out as direct mail advertising. Ad is one of three listener coverage series currently being used by WLW and gives facts and data of recent C. E. Hooper report.

War Coverage Ads

KYW PHILADELPHIA, for several days after Italy surrendered, ran front page advertisements in the Inquirer and Recorder, calling attention to newscasts during the day, air time of the news commentator and the fact that any program would be interrupted at once for important invasion bulletins.

Fall Lineup

KSD, NBC outlet for St. Louis, recently ran a full page ad which has been shown on the back of the St. Louis Post Dispatch rotogravure section giving the lineup of the fall parade of stars and shows to be heard over KSD.

'Times' Editorial

FOLLOWING is the full text of an editorial in the New York Times Sept. 23, titled "Why Petrocco Wins":

One of the phonograph record companies has succumbed in large part to Mr. Petrocco's demands. It has signed a four-year contract with him agreeing to pay fees on every record it sells, ranging from one-quarter of a cent on records selling for 35 cents to 3 cents on a $2 disk. It has not been made entirely clear to whom these fees are to be paid. According to earlier reports they were to be paid to the musicians actually engaged in making the recordings. It was understood that the musicians, in turn, would be taxed by the Petrocco union to aid its unemployed members. Later reports, however, are that the fees will be paid by the record company direct to the union and not to the musicians making the disks.

Either of these arrangements would be unsound in principle, though the second would be the worse. In either case Mr. Petrocco would be levying a private tax—in one case on employers, in the other on members of his own union. The second arrangement would be unobjectionable if the members of his union were in fact as well as theoretically voluntary members free to remain with or to leave the union as they saw fit. But their membership is, in fact, obligatory. Through the irresponsible powers that Mr. Petrocco is free to exercise under existing law a musician, no matter how competent, can be effectively prevented from making a livelihood unless he be a member of the Petrocco union. Nevertheless, the membership of the union would presumably retain at least a nominal control over the funds that they were forced to turn into its treasury.

If the fees on record sales are to be paid directly to the Petrocco union, however, the resulting situation would be much worse. In that case Mr. Petrocco would be levying his private tax on employers. At best he would be administering a private system of unemployment relief. But there would be no public control whatever of the manner in which he be used these funds. If only a small part of the funds actually went for paying unemployed musicians, if the bulk of them were used instead to increase the salaries or expense accounts of Mr. Petrocco and other union leaders, neither the record companies nor the consuming public that ultimately paid this private excise tax through higher record prices would have anything to say about the matter.

If Mr. Petrocco can succeed in getting this principle established, he will render himself and his fellow union leaders financially independent even of the members of their own unions.

It would be lacking in clarity of thought to put the primary blame for the resulting situation either on Mr. Petrocco personally or on any record company that succumbs to his terms. The primary blame must be placed on the Administration and Congress, who, by their official labor policy, have placed in the hands of labor leaders the private irresponsible powers which enable them to drive such anti-social bargains.

R. Denny, FCC general counsel, about presentation of rebuttal testimony in the Commission's behalf on the FBIS-RID issues. Chairman Fly has consistently complained that the FCC has not been permitted to defend itself and that the proceedings were "star chamber." Until the Committee completes presentation of its testimony regarding these phases, it is doubted whether the lineup of FCC rebuttal witnesses will be formulated. But it was anticipated that before the Cox Committee files its interim report with the House, testimony from the FCC will be added.

Based on investigations made by the Cox Committee staff, it was presumed the Committee would inquire into the cleavage between Chairman Fly and NAB President Neville Miller over activities of the trade association and opposition of Mr. Fly to Mr. Miller. Thereafter, based on Committee investigations, it was thought individual station cases, such as those involving WMCA New York, and its transfer in 1941 to Edward J. Noble, as well as other station acquisitions and transactions, would be covered. No agenda, however, has been released.

Efforts of Commissioner C. J. Durr to have Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), chairman of the Committee disqualified by the House on grounds of alleged "bias and personal interest" were brushed aside last week by the House Judiciary Committee. Mr. Durr had petitioned Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) last May to have Rep. Cox ousted. The petition was referred by the Speaker to the Judiciary Committee.

No Jurisdiction

Last Thursday it was revealed that Chairman Summers (D-Tex.) of the Committee notified Mr. Durr that Committee members, along with himself, felt that they had no jurisdiction and no responsibility with reference to the complaint. Mr. Durr's last letter, dated Sept. 14, charged that the activities of the Cox Committee "have more than confirmed my original feeling that an investigation by a Committee created and staffed as this one is, could serve no purpose save to prostitute the investigatory powers of Congress."

The Cox Committee has begun preparation of its interim report. It was learned, as well as proposed accompanying legislation. The intention of the Committee to have Chairman Fly cited for "contempt of Congress" because of his refusal to produce documents and answer questions in connection with the Neville Miller trial by the Board of War Communications in his only appearance before the Committee on July 9 already has been disclosed [Broadcasting, Sept. 13].

Planning the Record

The record of the hearings, carried on both in New York and Washington since July 2, now is being planned. It was expected that completion of the FBIS-RID-FBIS phases might consume another two or three weeks. In addition to Commissioner Craven, Dr. Richard D. Leigh, chief of FBIS, other members of the staff and Matthew Gorden, OWI Overseas Branch official, are expected to be called.

WDBJ is one of those several unique stations scattered over the U.S. which give their advertisers this unmatchable value - the exclusive listenerness of important markets which are satisfactorily served by no other stations.

Yes, WDBJ covers only some 27 day-time primary counties. But in those 27 Roanoke - Southwest Virginia counties, WDBJ is the only station that can be heard (without fading or interference) at all times. And, in those 27 counties are 28.6% of Virginia's radio homes, 25.8% of its buying power, 25.7% of its total retail sales?

Moral: You get two or three or four times your normal money's-worth when you use WDBJ. Write for all the facts - now.
Vital Need of Advertising During War Shown in Summary by Commerce Dept.

THAT the Federal Government is on record as favoring continuance of advertising schedules in all media as a contribution to the war effort is the subject of a booklet just published to be drawn from a 96-page illustrated compilation on Advertising and its Role in War and Peace, issued by the Dept. of Commerce.

The booklet, which quotes leading government officials, from President Roosevelt down, is described as an answer to those who have said the Administration is unfriendly to advertising.

News release which accompanied the booklet quotes its recognition of advertising as "a vital cog in our free enterprise system" and a "potent medium for distributing information" to the people at a time when the need for accurate information is greatest.

'Information Industry'

The publication is stated to be addressed "to those who short-sightedly" view advertising as "an economic waste in wartime", and informs them that the Government "strongly disagrees with this attitude."

The Commerce Dept. "in adhering to its statutory function—to foster, promote and develop foreign and domestic commerce—has watched advertising develop into a powerful information industry, a consistent builder of business," the booklet says in its introduction.

"With the attack on Pearl Harbor, the department immediately recognized that advertising would be a major weapon on the home front. People had to be informed. Talents used effectively in creating a desire for goods could with equal effectiveness show how to win the war.

"At the same time, the department sensed the danger of a gradual decrease or cessation of advertising, either by companies that had converted wholly to war production or by those whose civilian output had been curtailed. In either case carefully built brand names, trademarks and goodwill would suffer."

Refering to advertising as a "mighty force for social good" the department states it has continually reminded both business and Government of the necessity of advertising. Business has shared this viewpoint, as shown by continued use of all media, and the Commerce Dept. offers its evidence of government's approval in the booklet just published. Exhibits are headed by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau's testimony May 28, 1943, before the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, in which he stated the now well-known attitude of the Internal Revenue Bureau on deductibility of advertising expenditures in tax returns.

The booklet says that the trend toward maintenance of advertising schedules indicates that business is not inclined to the mistakes made in the last war, when some companies dropped from sight and "by the end of the war discovered just how forgetful is the public."

Advertising and its Role in War and Peace was compiled by Corrie Cloyes of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Copies may be obtained by writing to the Bureau in Washington or to any of the Commerce Dept. field offices.

*The test of whether expenditures for advertising are deductible is whether they are ordinary and necessary and bear a reasonable relation to the business activity in which the enterprise is engaged. This is not intended to exclude institutional advertising in reasonable amounts, or good will advertising calculated to influence the buying habits of the public.

Rep. Jones Claims Chairman
Keeps Data From House
REFUSAL of Chairman Fly of the FCC and Director of the Budget
Harold Smith to produce documents called for by the Cox select committee in the early part of its inquiry was the subject of criticism in the House last week by Rep.
Jones (R-Ohio).

In an attack on waste in the Government during which he charged the executive agencies with a "studed effort" to withhold important information from Congress, Mr.
Jones asserted that "the pattern of keeping Congress in the dark also worked with congressional committees".

Confidential Papers
"I saw convincing evidence of it a few days after Congress adjourned," he continued. "The Cox select committee presented a subpoena duces tecum to James Lawrence Fly, chairman of the Board of War Communications and chairman of the FCC, and to Harold Smith as Director of the Bureau of the Budget. Both men refused to bring the papers called for . . .
on the grounds that they were conidential and to this day the select committee does not have the information."

"To me, this presents a fundamental issue that the Congress . . .
ought not take long in settling and I hope that the Cox select committee brings the matter to the floor of the House for contempt charges against Mr. Fly and Mr. Smith because this Congress is entitled to any facts requested and any documents having to do with an agency that Congress created."

The incident referred to by Rep.
Jones occurred during the second week of the Cox committee hearings. Mr. Fly refused to produce documents relating to a "secret investigation" by the BWC of Neville Miller, NAB president, on the grounds that release of the data would adversely affect the national security. Mr. Smith told the committee he had been directed by the President to withhold Budget Bureaus files dealing with recommendations by the Army and Navy for the transfer of the Radio Intelligence Division of the FCC to the military (BROADCASTING, July 12).

OWI Radio Group Will Meet Oct. 5
Elmer Davis Air Talks Among Topics to Be Discussed

PALMER HOYT, OWI Domestic Director, last week called the Radio News & Policy Committee to meet with him Oct. 5 in Washington for a general exploratory discussion of OWI operations of interest to broadcasters. This will be the first meeting of the committee, membership of which was announced last month [Broadcasting, Aug. 23].

The meeting will provide an opportunity for the committee to bring up matters concerning the radio job in the war. No agenda has been arranged.

Elmer Davis, OWI director, is expected to attend the discussion of resuming his weekly talks on the air will be taken up. Mr. Davis has expressed a preference for a Sunday night spot instead of his previous Friday evening period and has stated that he would be satisfied with one or two networks rather than the four allotted to him.

Wants More Time

One of Mr. Davis’ principal objections to the Friday period is that it affords him little time to write his talk and that he could do a better job if he were not forced to rush from his office to the studio.

Mr. Hoyt plans to give the committee an overall picture of the OWI organization, to outline changes which have been made in the Domestic Branch and to discuss problems involving program clearance which resulted from the cut in OWI appropriations. The operations of the new voluntary control centers established by the industry to clear programs with the OWI regional station relations offices may come up for discussion.

Members of the Committee are: William S. Paley, CBS president; Niles Trammell, NBC president; Mark Woods, BLue president; Miller McClintock, Mutual president; Lewis Allen Weiss, vice-president and general manager, Don Lee; Leo Fitzpatrick, executive vice-president and general manager, WJR Detroit; Herbert L. Petrey, director, WHN New York; Martin B. Campbell, managing director, WFAA WBAP KGKO Dallas-Fort Worth; and Neville Miller, NAB president.

NBC Newspaper Drive Claims Best Shows Aired

FIRST major consumer newspaper campaign to be used by NBC started last Friday in all newspapers in the six cities where NBC has M&O stations—New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, San Francisco and Washington. Scheduled to run daily from Sept. 26 for several weeks in those cities, as well as locally by many NBC affiliated stations, the campaign is placed by J. Walter Thompson Co., New York.

The initial full-page advertisement, captioned “The Greatest Shows in Radio Are on NBC,” mentions current star shows, saying the programs have reached “a new peak in entertainment... better than that of previous seasons... in which national listener surveys repeatedly rated NBC shows the best nine out of the first 10... the best 16 out of the first 20... the best 34 out of the first 50 among all programs on the air.”

New Brass Rail Program

LATEST radio venture of the Brass Rail Inc., New York restaurant chain, is for the wartime purpose of avoiding additional business while still maintaining a trade name through to the post-war period. The restaurant has discontinued its recorded music on three New York stations, and on Sept. 26, 12-12:15 p.m., started a 52-week institutional series on WJZ New York. The program, Moments of Memory, features live music by Chester Gaylord, pianist. In line with the company's policy not to attract more patrons, the commercials merely suggest dropping in for a Sunday dinner. Jack Steiner is account executive for Blackstone Co., New York agency.

Hear Censor Case, CIO Urges FCC

Wants to Know If Stations Violated Free Speech

DOUBLE-BARRELLED protest by the United Automobile Workers (CIO) has been registered on discrimination by radio stations in alleged violation of the principle of free speech. Richard T. Frankenstein, UAW vice-president, filed a petition with the FCC last week for an informal hearing on censorship and operation contrary to public interest by WHK Columbus, O., while R. J. Thomas, UAW president, stated he would protest to the FCC "to determine whether the radio stations are using their Government-given monopolies to protect food profiteers and their agents in Congress, at the expense of free speech".

Says 9 Refused Spots

Mr. Thomas charged that nine major radio stations are refusing to sell time for a radio campaign supporting the President's program to roll back prices, having "thrown out" transcribed programs for which the union had sought to buy time. Stations said to have refused the program are WJZ New York, WTOP Washington, WMAL Washington, KNX Hollywood, KMOX St. Louis, WMAQ Chicago.

ing listeners to write their Congressmen to support it, was the subject of a letter to NAB members last July 23 in which Willard Ercif, assistant to NAB president Miller, pointed out that the material was controversial within the meaning of the NAB Code, which forbids sale of time for broadcasting controversial material, and urged that station management "should accept the responsibility of considering this matter as a controversial issue and allot time to both sides or schedule it on a public forum broadcast, if consistent with the public interest."

Mr. Frankenstein's petition charges that in deleting from his speech on WHKC Aug. 8 [BROAD-CASTING, Aug. 12, 1943] criticism of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio) and praising Senator Burton (R-Ohio) for their voting records, WHKC did not carry out any uniform policy, but discriminated against him and the UAW-CIO. Carl M. Everson, station manager, stated he had acted in accordance with the NAB Code.

LARGE-SIZE VIDEO PATENTS CLAIMED

LARGE SCREEN television reception, either in black-and-white or full color, will be available for homes, schools, churches and theatres after the end of the war through patents recently granted Scophony Corp. of America, Arthur Levey, SCA president, announced last week. "The color process," he said, "is based on the same method that is used in the Technicolor and Kodachrome processes."

In a talk before the American Television Society in New York last Wednesday evening, Mr. Levey said large pictures are necessary in the home, as small screens are not adequate for sports picks. Commenting on the view that television broacasting will develop as a subscriber service for economic reasons, Mr. Levey said Scophony has patented a television method for transmitting scrambled signals which can be unscrambled only by the users of subscribers.

THE FCC last week granted the petition of Ralph A. Horton, owner of WFTL Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and The Fort Industry Co., head ed by Lt. Com. George R. Storer, asking that the hearing be expedited on applications of Mr. Horton for assignment of WFTL to Fort Industry, and on application of Fort Industry for license to cover construction permit authorizing WFTL to change its frequency from 1400 to 710 kc, increase its power from 200 to 1000 watt [BROADCASTING, Sept. 13], and move from Ft. Lauderdale to Miami, Fla. (contingent on approval of the transfer). Hearing was set for Oct. 11 in Miami.

The petition to speed the hearing set forth that an approved operation of WFTL, now on a temporary license, is and has been losing money for a long time. The hearings were consolidated.

that the full text of the World-Decca contract with the union had been promised by that date. Panel, however, pointed out that it "retains full jurisdiction of this dispute in all particulars," including "terms and conditions of contracts and agreements entered into to the extent that they are matters of national concern under the broad powers of the WLB."

This statement opens the possibility that the WLB might refuse to approve the Decca-World contract with the union if in fact it does call for the payment of fees on recordings directly to the AFM, on the ground that such a contract would be contrary to public policy.

The board has set a precedent for such action in its refusal to ratify the portal-to-portal contract between the United Mine Workers and the Illinois mine operators.

Announcement of the agreement between the AFM and Decca-World was made the preceding Saturday in a joint statement made by Petrick and Kapp, that "a complete understanding" had been reached "which will make the services of members of the AFM available to those companies for the recording of phonograph records and electrical recordings, respectively."

Their statement added that "the agreement is the result of discussions over a period of months during which the mutual problems of management and labor were considered with sympathetic appreciation and reflect a genuine purpose of cooperation."

Tenor Changed

The atmosphere of the hearings, which resumed on Monday afternoon after a recess of more than a week, granted at the request of AFM for time to prepare its reply argument to that of the transcription companies [BROADCASTING, Sept. 13] and extended at the union's further request, was considerably altered by the news that one of the companies had settled with the union. Panel Chairman Arthur S. Meyer opened the session with a request for a statement from Milton Diamond, attorney for Decca-World, who said that a complete accord had been reached and that final contracts were expected to be signed before the end of the week. He said he did not care to disclose terms until the contracts had been signed.

Mr. Socolow said his clients were anxious to achieve the same result as World and asked the AFM, which had permitted World to resume employment of its members on its verbal agreement, to grant the same privilege to World's competitors, with the terms of any agreement finally negotiated retroactive to the date of employment.

AFM Counsel Joseph A. Padway stated that the union would not consent to any such arrangement. "We expect," he said, "to bring all lawful pressure on the other companies to get them to accept the same terms we have negotiated with World." He added that while Decca is outside the jurisdiction of the panel, the same principle applies to its competitors in the phonograph record field.

Pointing out that the other transcription companies had the same opportunity as World to negotiate with the AFM, whose "door was open all the time," Mr. Padway said that they had stayed away but that now they want the chance to examine World's deal to see whether they like it or not, and meanwhile they want to be able to store up a backlog of recordings that would make them independent of the AFM for two years. "We aren't that dumb," he declared.

AFM Offered Its Terms

Asked by Gilbert E. Fuller, industry representative on the panel, if he thought it fair to give World a temporary advantage over its competitors, Mr. Padway replied that any company willing to take the terms agreed to by World "can have them and can start making recordings five minutes after they agree to accept them."

At Mr. Socolow's request the hearing became an executive session which continued through the afternoon and the following morning, during which time the panel conferred both jointly and separately with the transcription companies and the union. In these closed sessions the union gave the companies the general outline of its agreement with World, which calls for a royalty of 3% on the revenue from library transcriptions and other transcriptions used more than once, but places no fees above normal wage payments to musicians employed on commercial transcriptions used only once. It was learned that AFM then offered these same terms to any other company, agreeing to make its members immediately available if the company would agree to accept all terms of the final contract between World and the AFM, regardless of what they may finally be, and to withdraw from the hearing.

While the transcription companies were considering this offer, NBC representatives voluntarily withdrew from the session, so as not to influence the decision of the other companies who, lacking the resources of a network, might be more inclined from economic pressure to make an immediate settlement with the union.

At the resumption of the public hearing Tuesday afternoon, Henry A. Friedman, AFM attorney, said that at the request of Mrs. G. A. Kelleher, owner of Empire Broadcasting Corp., he had prepared a memorandum for her signature, but Mr. Socolow stated that she had informed him she did not intend to sign it at that time. Thomas Kelleher of WOR's recording department (no relation) said he also had a copy of the union statement which he wanted more time to consider.

Socolow Asks Order

Mr. Friedman repeated Mr. Padway's statement that the contract with World was being prepared and upon its completion and signing, expected within a few days, it would be submitted to the other companies for their acceptance if they so desired.

Mr. Socolow then made his request for an order to the union to resume work for his clients as well as for World, and for an immediate resumption of hearings on the union strike, declaring that "we are faced with the worst kind of unfair discrimination". He said that the terms of the AFM-World agreement, as revealed in the private sessions, were "thoroughly abhorrent" to the companies he represents, which, he said, made clear in their letter to the union on Feb. 28, adding that both World Broadcasting System and Decca Records were also signatories to this letter.

"I do not believe," he declared, "that when the terms of the union's agreement with World and Decca are fully disclosed, they will be such as can be made the basis for any industry agreement."

Stating that the panel would take no action on Mr. Socolow's request at that time, but would adjourn the hearings until Monday, Chairman Meyer said: "It appears certain that by that time the situation will be somewhat clarified. Both Mr. Diamond and Mr. Padway have assured us that the contract with Decca and World will be completed this week. The remaining companies will have had an opportunity to consider the terms of that contract. If it is found to be acceptable to them, the problems which now concerns Mr. Socolow will be speedily resolved. If it is not acceptable, the problem as it is now presented will have vanished because the remaining companies by rejecting the proffered settlement will have themselves chosen to continue their competitive disadvantage of which they now complain and the panel will resume consideration of the dispute.

Panel Awaits Terms

"The panel does not deny the relief requested," Chairman Meyer continued, "since the competitive disadvantage may continue. It merely postpones its decision. There also exists the possibility that the choice to which I have referred cannot be made by reason of failure to complete the contract within the allotted period."

"In view of the panel retains full jurisdiction of this dispute in all particulars, including not only relief which might later be requested with respect to the situation as it exists at the present time or as it may develop during the period of adjournment, but also the panel retains jurisdiction of the terms and conditions of contracts and agreements entered into to the extent that they are matters of national concern under the broad powers of the National War Labor Board."

"If any party decides to withdraw from the case, the panel wishes to make clear that such withdrawal can only mean that the party withdrawing will no longer participate; no agreement of withdrawal, though acceded to by the panel, implies that the panel has surrendered its jurisdiction nor does it mean that other withdrawals will be permitted in cases which the panel may believe are not analogous."

CAMEL CO. Shifts Program Plans

ALTHOUGH R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C., announced two weeks ago that Abbott & Costello would return Oct. 7 to NBC in the 10:10-11:30 p.m. spot, now filled with the Durante-Moore show, also for Camel cigarettes, plans have changed and the company has worked out an unusual solution until Lou Costello is well enough to return to the air. Announcers Durante and Garry Moore will continue on the NBC half-hour they now occupy, and in addition, Oct. 8, they will move to CBS, thus putting on two completely different shows each week.

According to Wm. Esty & Co., New York, the arrangement will continue until mid-October when Costello is expected back. Phil Cohan will be production director for both programs, while George Faulkner will serve as script editor, operating from the West Coast.

HOYT REV AMPS OWI DOMESTIC BRANCH

A REALIGNMENT of personnel in the OWI domestic branch, designed to effect economies and to improve the agency’s effectiveness in its war work, was announced last week by Palmer Hoyt, Domestic Director.

Mr. Hoyt divided the work of the branch and its agencies under a new system in which each under an OWI deputy director who will be responsible for the information and propaganda programs of the agencies assigned under the area. Hereafter, the deputies will be responsible only for policy in their respective areas and for liaison with the departments concerned.

OWI functions with respect to domestic radio were left unchanged, the Radio Bureau continuing as the channel between war agencies and the broadcasting industry, coordinating and allocating government requests for time, preparation of war messages, and clearance of government programs.

Entertainment Council Tells War Effort Plans

The Entertainment Council, as reported here in brief extracts, was the number of activities coordinating war efforts of the entertainment industry. Network and local radio was planning to fill six spots in United Nations Night, Sept. 30, with a four-hour performance at the 5th annual CBS Radio Rally in New York, broadcast by New York stations every half-hour, from 8 p.m. to midnight, and networks will contribute time as available.

The NEIC’s radio projects committee met in New York Sept. 24, at the call of George Heller, chairman, to discuss with network and agency representatives means of making radio talent available for show units to present non-broadcast entertainment at camps and hospitals in the New York area. Project would be tried out there and extended if successful. Postponed from Oct. 5, the NEIC’s pledge rally in Times Square, will be the occasion for announcing the pledges of cooperation of NEIC members and for the unveiling of a service flag of the entertainment industry displaying 75,000 blue stars and 35 gold. Second general council meeting of the NEIC is scheduled at the Hotel Astor, New York, Sept. 28, with James Sauter, coordinator, presiding.

Radio Promoting Third Loan As Drive Nears $15 Billion Goal

Stations Continue Individual Promotion; Nets And Non-Affiliates Have Special Bond Days

MAGNITUDE of the effort and intensity of the radio industry has been directing toward the success of the Third War Loan Drive becomes more apparent and significant as the 15 billion dollar goal approaches fulfillment.

As requested by the Treasury Dept., the various network bond days have been run off as scheduled and the four major nets and the non-affiliates plugged the campaign on their respective days with round-the-clock consistency. Indecently the various stations have continued promotion of the effort, as reports from all over the country show [Broadcasting, Sept. 20].

Net Bond Days

Some 14 consecutive hours were devoted to the drive by MBS on its Bond Day, Sept. 20. All the broadcasts via the BBC and programs from Canada were part of the Mutual schedule. The Blue, whose Bond Day was Sept. 19, aired War Bond programs from 9 a.m. to 12 a.m. the following day. Included were remotes from abroad, and from hospitals in this country where wounded veterans were interviewed. Kate Smith carried the “Back the Attack” torch for CBS whose day was Sept. 21. She broadcast in behalf of the loan more than 60 times in a 23 17 25 schedule and wound up her all-day effort by appearing on a recorded musical program of WABC, Columbia’s New York outlet, aired from 1-2 a.m. Sept. 22.

Stars of radio, stage and screen in addition to all of NBC’s regular network programs took part in the NBC Bond Day campaign. Sept. 20. From 8 a.m. to 1 a.m. the following day, all NBC sustaining programs and many commercial shows carried War Bond messages. In the form of script continuity or announcements. Every station break included such messages. Telephone in NBC studios were manned by stars who took pledge calls from listeners.

Independent’s Day

Cross-section view of the non-affiliate stations shows that they came forth in behalf of the Third War Loan on Independent’s Day, Sept. 22, with an array of special programs and events. KXL Portland, Ore., devoted the entire day’s schedule to the promotion of War Bonds. No single announcer had nor a single commercial firm’s name was mentioned, KMTR Los Angeles released its entire facilities for 24 hour participation and top city office officials and Hollywood stars made guest appearances.

Six special half-hour programs were scheduled by WJJD Chicago. WJER Greenville, Miss., arranged two full days for War Bond promotion in connection with Independent’s Day. WJW New Orleans directed its entire schedule to Bond promotion. KBPS Portland, Ore., owned and operated by Portland school district No. 1 broadcast a special War Bond half hour program from the auditorium of a local high school with transcribed repeat aired three times. Pupils in Portland’s 70 public schools heard the program.

Both Italian and English programs aired over WOV New York on Sept. 23 were special War Bond programs. WEW St. Louis plugged the Third War Loan Drive with station break announcements and three and a half hours of special bond programs. Local organizations were given time on WSLB Ogdensburg, New York, for bond selling. Talent of WDGY Minneapolis combined for a two and a half hour show for the campaign in addition to numerous announcements and special bond emphasis on other programs. WQXR New York ran special features with appeals by war correspondents returned from the front.

Victory Network

The Washington State Victory Network, now almost two years old, functioning in behalf of the Third War Loan Drive. All 26 stations in the unique hookup are taking part. To launch the drive in that region, a half hour broadcast was aired from Seattle’s Victory Square. Two half hour dramas followed for Bond promotion, one from Seattle on Sept. 13 and the other from Spokane on Sept. 20. A roundtable discussion with representative people from various groups was presented Sept. 25.

Washington’s Victory Network was set up the week after Pearl Harbor in cooperation with the State Defense Council and Army and Navy communications officials to assure immediate emergency action on the part of all stations. Since then the network has been behind all war drives and loans. The Victory Network planning committee for the Third War Loan Drive was appointed at the end of last August with Bert Fisher of KOMO-KJR Seattle as chairman and Bill Mosher, also of KOMO-KJR, as vice chairman. Traffic, program, promotion and publicity, and sponsor cooperation committees were also set up. Every station is represented on one or more of the committees for whatever project is taken up.

$40,825 in War Bond purchases were made in a War Bond auction by WBLK Clarksburg, W. Va., broadcast Sept. 16. Even those pigeons were some of the items auctioned. Similar stunt was used by WBLK during the Second War Loan. While the KDKA Pittsburgh Bond Wagon has been cruising about the country in the interest of War Bond sales—more than $200,000 worth so far in cash sales—KDKA has been aids the cause by purchasing five $10,000 bonds. WJNO West Palm Beach, Fla., during two and a half hours of special programs devoted to the Campaign obtained $125 per minute in pledges and subscriptions.

Three weekly programs sponsored on KLZ Denver by a large Denver department store are broadcast from a booth erected on the main floor of the store. Bond buyers may participate in the program by interview, song or reading. The city of Pittsburgh on Sept. 12 staged a big Bond rally with a vast array of Hollywood talent and sold admission tickets for Bond purchases. Preceding the affair WWST broadcast a 25 word special announcement promoting the show but was soon asked over the network to stop all broadcasts in connection with the show as the response was so great that the crowds awaiting tickets were getting out of hand.

WDAY Fargo, North Dakota, sent ten of its entertainers on a Bond drive tour about the state from Sept. 13 to 20. The group staged special shows and auctions in the interest of Bond sales. Local merchants contributed merchandise for Bonding broadcast on WPAR Parkersburg, W. Va. Two nights’ selling effort netted $83,650 in Bonds. Baseballs, autographed and personally by many of the stars. Members of the Indianapolis Indians, were auctioned Sept. 12 for War Bonds by Byron Taggart, WIBC Indianapolis sports announcer. $70,000 worth of merchandise by WIBC WIBC-3 WIBC-bill-hillary talent have been competing in a War Bond popularity contest.

Indiana-Colorado Stunts

Special Indiana statewide broadcast in behalf of the Third War Loan Drive recently originated from WIRE Indianapolis. Gov. Henry F. Schricker spoke on behalf of the state and various other leaders spoke for their groups. Remote pickups were made of the capital at Ft. Benjamin Harrison where a wounded soldier purchased the first Bond to open Indiana’s drive to fill a $1,000 quota. Musical highlights for the half-hour show were presented by Lt. Rudy Vallejo and his 11th Naval Diet. Costed Grand Bond. The program was carried by 16 Indiana stations and WLW Cincinnati.

Round table discussion in behalf of the Third War Loan between the governors and states of the Rocky Mountain and Plains States region was broadcast over KOA Denver on Sept. 12. The program, which included the Governor of CO, required special wires into the capitals of the seven states from which the respective governors spoke, using WIOA San Francisco.

A governors’ conference on mutual state problems was held in Denver Sept. 17 and 18 with the governors of 18 southern and western states. On Sept. 18, from Central City, Col., a half-hour program was broadcast by KOA Denver with the 18 governors participating and reporting on War Bond sales in their states.

Novel “Bonderee” series of WCED DuBuis, Pa., sold nearly $14,000 worth of bonds during one week of remote broadcasts which included station talent. WOA1 San Antonio, launched the drive in its area with a “Bond Voyage” program. Wives of servicemen overseas took pledges by phone during the broadcast.

Sept. 16, the Chamber of Commerce of Fitchburg, Mass., and WSTM-Fitchburg helped produce an outdoor show for the Third War Loan Drive American Heroes’ Day. Heroes returned from combat overseas, local merchants contributed $1,500 worth of merchandise which was auctioned for $35,000 in bonds. Auction was so successful WEIM broadcast it all through at the end of the hour as planned.

The RCA 833 became the RCA 833-A long before Pearl Harbor—when important design changes made improved ratings possible.

Now the price is 10% lower—$76.50 instead of $85.00 because fine performance has meant wide acceptance, resulting in production economy.

Zirconium-Coated Anode: This famous RCA anode gives the 833-A a 44% higher input rating and 33% higher plate dissipation. To a designer, that means wider application possibilities; to a user, it means the 833-A will give longer life than the 833 it replaced.

Emission Reserve: The 100-watt thoriated tungsten filament of the 833-A has a tremendous reserve of emission. That means less chance of damage in case of unexpected overloads, plus longer filament life.

Filament Shielding: The 833-A's plate is specially constructed to shield the filament, thus eliminating bulb bombardment by stray electrons.

Forced Air Cooling: Design refinements in the 833-A made it possible for RCA to announce increased ratings when forced-air cooling is used. That means you can increase power by the use of 833-A's instead of 833's—or, you can operate at the same power and run the 833-A's cooler.
