New Leader for New Orleans
WTIX rockets from
11th to 1st in 10 months

July's Hooper climaxes a cyclonic ten-month change in New Orleans radio listening. Last September found WTIX 11th in audience in this 11-station market. Suddenly, with new ownership, new programs, new ideas, WTIX became a radio station in a hurry. January saw WTIX pass the other six independents. By March only one network affiliate was left to pursue in the morning, two in the afternoon.

In July WTIX overtook everybody—with an average share-of-audience (7 a.m.—6 p.m.) of 18.5%. Second station, 15.4%; third, 13.9%.

Talk to Adam J. Young, Jr., national representative, or call WTIX Manager Fred Berthelson.
When Midwest America plans its county and state fairs or community celebrations of any kind WLS is the place they look to for proved stage entertainment.

For Midwesterners have relied on WLS talent to spark their shows for more than three decades — so long that WLS is a "must" for wholesome, clean down-to-earth talent that will draw the crowds and send them away happy.

This is another form of WLS results — the demand that has resulted in WLS providing the talent for more than 200 outdoor events this summer — that brought over 400,000 people to see WLS acts during the first half of 1954 — that will cause WLS entertainers to travel a total of more than a quarter million miles this year.

This friendliness—this neighborliness—this listener loyalty to WLS prevails throughout the Midwest. On such listener loyalty depends advertising RESULTS!

New York  Los Angeles  Chicago  San Francisco
RIVALRY between RCA-NBC and CBS, now that latter is almost horizontally competitive in manufacturing as well as broadcasting, has intensified rather than diminished, in eyes of those attending extraordinary sessions in Chicago last week. Fighting ad lib speech of RCA-NBC Board Chairman David Sarnoff in which he named names, seen as touching off new round in continuing battle, with CBS Inc. President Frank Stanton having demonstrated that he's not one to duck a fight.

WITH FORMAL organization of Quality Radio Group in Chicago last week (story page 34), participants are talking it up as perhaps ultimate nighttime surviving radio network. They point out that major radio networks are experiencing greatest difficulty in competing with tv during evening hours but that remote listeners and out-of-home listeners would sustain at least one nationwide operation interchanging low budget programs and QRG could be it.

ONE new feature of Quality Radio Group Inc.: Dues plan is adoption of formula calling for payment of 20 times each station's "average" daytime hourly rate. Plan differs from that originally suggested in that latter used basis of highest "prevailing" rate. Rejection was understood to be premised on belief this would penalize certain stations in higher rate category.

INFLUENTIAL groups trying to interest Frank M. Folsom, RCA president, in returning to Montgomery-Ward to spearhead reorganization of giant mail-order house, but are getting nowhere. Mr. Folsom, who was high executive of Ward before joining RCA in 1944, is wedded to his RCA post and is stiff-arming all proposals.

PROBLEM of community antennas in tv, i.e., whether existing law is adequate to deal with them or whether new legislation is needed, is developing into new issue for FCC. Comr. John C. Doerfer, by virtue of his background as chairman of Wisconsin Public Service Commission, is grappled with this novel question and shortly may expound his views.

THEY'RE keeping their eyes on two executives in RCA-NBC—Mannie Sacks, RCA staff vice president and expert in records and entertainment field who is doubling as vice president of NBC, and Tom Knolle, manager of station relations of NBC who has moved up from station publicity post in Washington (before World War II in which he won top citations in combat).

CBS, planning to get rid of minority interests in WTOP-AM-FM-TV Washington and WCCO-AM-TV Minneapolis [B•T, Aug. 30], already has had $3 million nibble for its 47% of WCCO stations. On behalf of owners of WBUF-TV Buffalo, Goby L. Cohen, executive vice president and also one of principal stockholders, put $3 million, 10-year proposition to CBS-TV officials last week. Reaction understood to be noncommittal, with indications CBS would give WCCO controlling owners (Mid-Continent Radio-Television Inc.) first chance. Washington Post Co., which owns 55% of WTOP stations, hopes to buy out CBS' 45% of those properties.

BOB LILLIAN, assistant advertising manager, Whitehall Pharmaceutical, will join Bryan Houston Inc. as media buyer (including radio, television, newspapers, etc.).

FCC CHAIRMAN Rosel H. Hyde returns to desk tomorrow (Tuesday) after vacation in home state of Idaho and will preside Wednesday at first nearly-full Commission meeting in several weeks. Comr. Robert E. Lee, who was acting chairman of part time Mr. Hyde was away, will be vacationing this week. It was not known if Comr. George E. Sterling would return this week in time for meeting.

JOE MERKLE, regional manager, station relations, ABC-TV, New York, resigning to become general manager of WTCN (TV) Minneapolis effective Sept. 20.

WILL Theodore C. Streiberg, who last month completed one year tenure as director of U.S. Information Agency, leave soon to return to private industry? Former president of WOR-AM-TV and chairman of Mutual, Mr. Streiberg accepted appointment by President Eisenhower with assurance that he would leave after 12-month term but those close to him say he's talking in terms of future projects which do not indicate any determination to leave anytime soon.

Appointed NBC V. P.s

APPOINTMENTS of three new vice presidents of NBC announced Friday by President Sylvester L. (Pat) Weaver Jr. following monthly board meeting. Davidson Taylor, director of public affairs, and Richard A. Pinkham, director of new participating programs department, were named vice presidents in charge of their respective departments, and Kenneth W.
Bilby of Carl Byoir & Assoc., public relations firm, was appointed vice president for public relations, with supervision over NBC's press, advertising, promotion, and research activities.

Executive Vice President Robert W. Sarnoff, to whom Mr. Bilby will report, said alignment of press, advertising-promotion, and research departments under one head was "a natural grouping." Reporting to Mr. Bilby, 35-year-old former newspaperman whose three years with their public relations department include 2 1/2 years on Camden, N. J., on firm's RCA account and past six months as representative at NBC, will be Sydney H. Eagles, vice president in charge of public relations, and Robert A. Evans, director of national advertising and promotion, and Hugh M. Beville Jr., director of research and planning.

Vice Presidents Taylor, 47, and Pinkham, 40, will continue to report to Thomas A. McCay, vice president in charge of network programs. Mr. Taylor, in radio since 1929 and vice president and director of public affairs and vice president and director of programs for CBS before joining NBC in 1951, is in charge of public affairs programs for both NBC Radio and NBC-TV. Mr. Pinkham, credited with large share of success of NBC-TV's Home and Today programs, as head of participating programs department, is in charge of NBC-TV's three magaazine-concept programs sold under participation sales plan: Home and Today, and forthcoming
Tonight, which opens Sept. 27 in 11:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. spot Mondays through Fridays.

Washington News Staff
Of MBS Resigns En Masse

RESIGNATIONS of Mutual's two remaining newsmen in Washington, Wallace R. Fanning Jr., and Les Higbie, followed that of Everett Holles, MBS news chief in nation's capital, in developments last week.

Mr. Holles, who will be succeeded by Robert Hurleigh (see story page 71), remains with MBS until Sept. 20. He said he will take another job in industry but did not disclose its nature. Mr. Fanning leaves at end of his vacation (Sept. 13) and Mr. Higbie Sept. 17.

In New York, Milton Burgh, MBS director of news to whom Washington news operation is responsible, was not available for comment on resignations of Messrs. Fanning and Higbie. But MBS spokesman said network had not been apprised of "mass exodus" of its newsmen in Washington. He emphasized MBS considers its news operation in capital's important and certainly would replace newsmen that left.

MONEY'S IN O & O's

OWNED-and-operated stations, especially tv, provide lion's share of network profit before taxes, according to data released by CBS counsel Friday as related earlier in week by CBS President Frank Stanton in off-record session at St. Louis ch. 11 hearing before Examiner Thomas H. Donahue (59T, Aug. 30). Total CBS net income before taxes from all operations in 1954 was almost $21.4 million.

In stipulation prepared for record to review Dr. Stanton's explanation, following data was set forth on CBS income breakdown:

FACTS FORUM TAX STATUS

Questioned by Rep. Hays

REPORT denying Facts Forum claim it is non-parisian and calling for re-examination of its tax-exempt status issued last week by Rep.
Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio), ranking minority member of the Special House Foundations Investigations Committee.

Hays said Facts Forum, founded by wealthy oilman H. L. Hunt and which produces or un-derwrites several radio-tv shows, receives free time over "many radio and television stations . . .
... because it claims to be nonparisian." Far from this, Rep. Hays said, it "consistently and aggressively campaigns to avoid the point of view. Other opinions are included simply to camouflage its bias."

Authorities connected with Facts Forum broadcast operations have cited appearances of politicians of diverse views to prove shows are impartial.

will be officially opened by New York Mayor
Robert F. Wagner at ceremonies Thursday at

The U. S. Bureau of the Census — methodically — has compiled a list of 453 different manufacturing activities represented in America's industrial economy. You'll find 310 of them within metropolitan Cleveland — aggressively pursued by some 3,000 companies whose vast investment in specialized production machinery creates a yearly industrial income of five billion dollars.

By the happy osmosis of business, much of this manufactured money flows back into the three billion-plus annual earnings of Clevelanders...enough to peg their family buying power at fourth highest among all U.S. metropolitan markets.

Money is a restless commodity — and the more of it people have, the more they like to spend it. Whether they spend it for what you sell depends upon how effectively you persuade them. For this assignment, we recommend ourselves as the one Cleveland television station geared closest to the tastes and preferences of Cleveland customers.

Gears make things move. So does WXEL — as many advertisers are finding out, week after week, when they move in more goods to meet WXEL-created demand.

If you'd like to take part in this profitable circulation of dollars (and who wouldn't?), the first step is easy as getting in touch with the KATZ agency.

MICKEY ROONEY SHOW

Network: NBC-TV
Time: Sat. 8:15 p.m. EST
Title of Aug. 28 show: Hey Mulligan!
Producer: Joseph Santley
Director: Leslie Martinson
Writer: John Weston Murray, Benedict Freedman.
Sponsors: Green Giant Co., Pillsbury Mills, alternates.
Agency: Leo Burnett, Chicago.
Estimated Production Costs: Approximately $30,000 per program.

THE YOUNG FELLOW who is cartooned on Green Giant Co. food containers walked off the label and onto the screen the night of Aug. 28. The clever commercial was a bit different and interesting.

This is more than can be said about the new half-hour Mickey Rooney Show (Hey Mulligan!) which made its debut at eight that night, sponsored by the subject of the novel commercial. A second commercial used on the program was minus the animated trademark but featured the star of the show, which added another unfortunate choice to the original misplay in a selection of a dull script.

Not that the "acting" was below average. The character actors, and Mr. Rooney, himself, are all familiar Hollywood faces and have appeared at one time or another in any half-dozen (or 100, depending on the actor's age) Grade B movies in past years. The story itself revolves about Mickey Mulligan, an NBC page boy in Hollywood, played by guest-who. It ranges from the situation comedy to slapstick, when it's lucky; otherwise, the script is utterly boredom. A must for the Rooney fans. A filmed quickie for the undiscriminating "movie fan." For the rest of the millions of TV viewers, a take it or leave it type show.

LUX VIDEO THEATRE

Network: NBC-TV
Time: Thurs., 10-11 p.m. EST
Host: James Mason
Stars: Dorothy McGuire, Gene Barry, Edward Ashley, Mary Anderson (Aug. 28).
Producer: Cal Kuhl
Executive Producer: Cornel Jackson
Director: Buzz Kulik, Richard Goodge, Earl Rhi.
Set Director: William Craig Smith
Writer: Sanford McNatt and Richard McDaniel.
Musical Director: Rudolph SchEAR
Sponsor: Lever Brothers Co. (Lux products)
Agency: J. Walter Thompson Co.
Origin: NBC-TV studios in Burbank, Calif.
Estimated Production Cost: $40,000.

It would be hard to find a more appropriate drama for soap company sponsorship than "To Each His Own," opening program of the new hour-long Lux Video Theatre series, which started Aug. 26 on NBC-TV. This story of a mother's fight for her son's love had all the tear-jerking elements so beloved by soap opera addicts.

There were several notable features of the evening telecast, however, that clearly took it out of the class of the run-of-the-mill daytime drama. First, the long-suffering mother is an unmarried mother, glaringly violating the basic soap opera tenet of the wholesome purity of American womanhood. Next, the single 60-minute telecast covered 25 years of heartache, enough to fill 10 years of quarter-hour five-a-week installments. Finally, both direction and acting were of a caliber many cuts above that of the typical serial drama.

But the plot was not. Jody Norris, lovable young daughter of a lovable old small town druggist, meets a lovable young aviator in 1917. He goes to France and is killed; she goes to the city to have his baby; then embarks on an involved and implausible scheme so that she may have her son to bring up and no one the wiser. The scheme misfires and when her success in business (stated but not plausibly explained) gives her a financial lever to force the boy's foster parents to send him to her, the boy is unhappy and she tearfully sends him back home.

All this is told in flashbacks from a London railway station on Christmas Eve, 1944, where Jody drives away her rich and titled admirer to wait for her son, now a soldier in World War II. Again she is rebuffed; his thoughts are all for his future. Complicating this situation are cancelled leaves and distraught lovers are magically solved by the aforesaid r. t. a. who wangles a special marriage license from the Archbishop of Canterbury, no less. After the ceremony, the son suddenly sees all and turns to Jody with the curtain line, "My dance, mother."

Dorothy McGuire and a fine supporting cast, aided by good overall production-directing, kept this sissy story on a plane of high sentiment that never became maudlin, a notable achievement under the circumstances provided by the plot.

The drama was followed by a sort of after piece, in which James Mason, the program's host, interviewed Alfred Hitchcock about his latest film "Rear Window" and showed excerpts from this mystery thriller, a change of pace that completely destroyed the mood which had been so carefully built up in the preceding 50 minutes.

BOOKS

BIG BUSINESS is neither the hero nor the villain of this objective study which, with considerable success, avoids the emotional approach of the trust-busters on the one hand or the idolaters of big business on the other. The author's own conclusion: "In our economy big business undertakes the role of coordinating individual efforts and resources into collective achievement. This is a function that must be undertaken under modern technology, whether by private enterprise or by the state. In the U. S. it has been possible, to mix dispersion with centralization so that the major job can be left to private competition, under government regulation. Big business has not merely been kept effectively subject to a competitive system; on the whole it has also made an essential contribution to its scope, vitality and effectiveness."

THE TITLE of this book tells the story. Radio, the author argues, caused the depression of the 1930's by encouraging people to sit at home, day after day, night after night, not consuming, not buying, just listening. The war saved us but now the war is over and TV is compounding the crime. The book would be easier to read if the author had identified the first part as being written circa 1942; until the reader realizes that, the statistics cited as current are somewhat bewildering.

MORE "FIRSTS" FOR WLAC'S ESSO REPORTER

Nashville station pioneered in election coverage 25 years ago. Still leads the field.

9:30 PM, SENATOR ESTES KEFauVER, in his headquarters in the Maxwell House, came to WLAC's Esso Reporter first to broadcast his (2 to 1) victory message.

10:30 PM, CONGRESSMAN J. PERCY PRIEST discussed his landslide win with F. C. Sowell, WLAC's general manager, a practice the two have observed for 14 years. The popular Tennessee Congressman always makes WLAC his first port of call.

11:25 PM, GOVERNOR FRANK G. CLEMENT made the first acknowledgment of his overwhelming victory to listeners tuned to WLAC. As always, Your Esso Reporter was "ready."

Much Ado About O

EDITOR:

In the issue of Aug. 30 in the first paragraph in your lead article I note that "American advertisers will be using television time at a rate of better than $6 million a month."

This statement leads me to several conclusions:

1. "Better than" is a phrase used in Broadcasting • Telecasting to signify 10 times the printed figure, or

2. A number of American advertisers are getting a bargain we would like to know more about, or

3. The sentence should read "an American advertising agency (which shall be nameless) will be using television time at the rate of better than $6 million a month."

Having discounted the possibility of a typographical error, it would be very gratifying to uncover the real truth in this statement of yours. Would you please clarify this in your next issue?

Rod Erickson

Young & Rubicam

EDITOR:

The next important piece of research the broadcasting industry should undertake is whether the editors or the typographers ball up the figures.

For instance—the Aug. 30 issue of Broadcasting • Telecasting says in the headline and in the first paragraph of the lead story that television time sales will be $6,000,000 a month this fall. With B'T publishing office in Washington, little bitty figures like $6,000,000 should never be tolerated. You mean $60,000,000, don't you?

Newspaper headline writers and typographers do it, too. And even on the financial pages. Really, B'T, we ought to take better care of our millions and billions.

Sound Economic Principles

EDITOR:

We were both pleased and flattered to be the subject of a feature article in Broadcasting • Telecasting's Aug. 9 issue.

However, I take issue with your implication that television mail-order is simply a vehicle "for the pitchman to unload the contents of his duffel before the cops arrive."

Television mail-order, as stated in the article, is founded on the soundest economic principles. While I agree that in tv mail-order, as in any business enterprise, there may be problem-children in our midst, most of the items offered for sale in mail-order films are legitimate buys backed by a standard manufacturers' guarantee; most of the firms operating in this field are well founded financially and are represented by recognized agencies who would disagree that mail-order is an unpleasant medicine to be swallowed because the doctor has money.

You might be interested to know that we are mightily impressed by the readership B'T commands. Our address was incorrectly given as 208 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago (actually it's 218 S. Wabash Ave.). Through this morning [Aug. 25], in addition to a flood of calls and notes from old friends in the industry with whom I have been out of touch for years, we have had 42 pieces of mail addressed to 208 S. Wabash.

Readers Want Radio Logs

EDITOR:

With what we believe is one of the shortest editorial notes testifying to the effectiveness of radio, we enclose the following clipping from the Hutchinson News-Herald.

The background of it stems from the fact that Hutchinson currently has Kansas' only vhf tv station which has been in operation for more than a year. The tv logs were maintained during the interim the radio logs were deleted . . .

Thought you might be interested that radio is still effective in a market which has prided itself upon its degree of tv saturation.

EDITOR:

I must call your attention to an error in the Aug. 23 issue of your usually most reliable publication.

WHY does a newspaperman get into the broadcasting business?

North Carolina broadcaster and publisher Ed Anderson saw the "electronic" light during World War II when he became interested in the medium's rapid dissemination of news and public service. When he saw radio stations spring up all over the country after the war "like mushrooms," he decided that "if the communities served by our newspapers were to have radio stations, too, I might as well own and operate them, and operate them on a local basis just as the newspapers are operated."

How does a newspaperman, etc., etc.

Ed Anderson shows a likely sagacity on that one: "I started the hard way at the top and then worked from the bottom up, using a full staff that was experienced in radio."

Today he is president of two North Carolina station properties, with direct management over one (WBBO-AM-FM Forest City), and supervision and majority ownership of another (WPNF Brevard), while holding vice presidencies and part ownerships in two others (WIFM-AM-FM Elkin and WBRM Marion). Still a fifth is planned.

Edward Moore Anderson was born 49 years ago this month on a farm outside Reidsville, N. C., and was one of the five children of John I. and the late Maggie Moore Anderson. His family moved into town and he attended Reidsville High School and later the U. of North Carolina in the class of 1926.

Torn between journalism and law, he took the easy way out for two years as a schoolteacher, then plunged into the newspaper business. Mr. Anderson went up and up the newspaper ladder and for the past 12 years has been publisher of four weeklyes and one semi-weekly. This summer he was elected president of the National Editorial Assn.

Mr. Anderson went into radio in August 1946 when he formed the Rutherford County Radio Co. and applied to the FCC for a grant at Forest City. It was approved in December and WBBO went on the air Sept. 14, 1947, with 1 kw daytime on 780 kc. WBBO-AM (1 kw, 93.3 mc) was added the following year to provide nighttime service.

By this time applications had been made for Brevard and plans were underway for one or two more. "Realizing that it costs a lot of money to establish and operate even a small station, I decided it would be best for me personally to learn the radio business and that the best way to do it would be to get some on-the-job training."

"So in addition to publishing duties, I became president and manager of WBBO and have served in those capacities since that time."

WBBO serves a county of about 50,000 population, according to Mr. Anderson. Two of the newspapers are located in the county and they work closely together in all matters, "particularly in the function of disseminating local news and rendering public service." The staffs of the newspapers and stations are entirely separate, Mr. Anderson says. Emphasis is placed by all the stations on local programming, public service and local news, he says.

Radio is a "fascinating business," Mr. Anderson feels. He thinks he could "write a book about the experiences of securing radio station grants, going through hearings, erecting buildings, buying equipment, employing staff and getting started in the radio business as a greenhorn newspaper publisher."

The Anderson newspapers, as the stations, all are in the western end of North Carolina. They are the Transylvania Times at Brevard, Forest City Courier, Spindale Sun, Skyland Post at West Jefferson and Alleghany News at Sparta.

Mr. Anderson is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity; two country clubs; Elks Club; the Brevard College board of trustees; Brevard Music Foundation; North Carolina Symphony Society; U. of North Carolina Journalism Foundation, is a director of the Forest City Chamber of Commerce and has organized five merchants associations. He is a former director of the North Carolina As-n. of Broadcasters.

Interested in music from an early age, he studied piano as a lad. He also likes hunting and golfing, and shoots in the 80's. He is married to the former Stella Williams and they have one daughter, Billie, 18.

He believes it takes a lot of hard work to have a good radio station operation and thinks good moral among members of the staff is equally important. Small stations, he says, must be well operated if they are to be regarded as community institutions. In radio, he says, "We seek to make money and to have the best station possible."

The advent of television has not changed Mr. Anderson's mind about the functions of radio in small communities, as evident by the purchase of WIFM Elkin last June. In fact, he says, he may buy another one "soon" to make the operation five stations and five newspapers. About tv, he says:

"Our markets are much too small for tv stations. We are sure that with good local programming, good promotion and selling, radio in small markets can operate without worrying about tv coverage, especially in the daytime and with the use of local sports at night. We are strong on local nighttime sports coverage. It lick's tv."

Some of the smartest advertisers we know are sure of one thing—the best way to move goods fast is to pinpoint their advertising on big markets. That's why they buy spot radio, on key stations. They know, too, that every dollar counts when they buy time on the handful of good stations that cover just about everybody. WJR, for example, reaches 15 million people—some 10 per cent of U. DICK LONG is an avid believer in the importance of market research and media analysis for his clients.

A youthful veteran of Rockford, III., advertising circles, Mr. Long at 31 already has made his mark as a research specialist. He also knows his broadcast media from the research standpoint.

Mr. Long is an account executive at O'Leary Adv., one of the four top agencies in Rockford, which handles the accounts of WREX (TV) and WBEL Beloit, Wis. Now in its seventh year, the agency is still expanding, and Mr. Long has played a vital role in its growth.

Born in Bradford, Ill., near Peoria, on April 10, 1923, Richard Bertram Long moved to Rockford at the age of six, attending grammar school and St. Thomas High.

Then Mr. Long went to work—and started moving around. He took a job with the advertising department of the Rockford Register Republic and Morning Star. That same year, he joined the National Lock Co., becoming assistant advertising manager. After Pearl Harbor, Mr. Long enlisted in the U. S. Air Corps, serving at Sheppard Field in Texas and later, March Field, California.

Returning to the business world, Mr. Long attended Northwestern U. and joined McCann-Erickson, Chicago, beginning a progression of jobs that took him through traffic, research, copy, publicity, media and time-space buying. He ultimately was assigned to client contact work.

McCann-Erickson persuaded him to drop his courses at Northwestern (he was majoring in English and psychology) and embark on a Four-Year Farm Study undertaken by Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

In 1947 he returned to Rockford and went with Cummings, Brand & McPherson, handling work on industrial accounts. A year later, he moved to Hollingsworth & Collins (now E. R. Hollingsworth & Assoc.)

From 1950 to 1952, Mr. Long was advertising and merchandising director for Blue Star Foods, where his interest in radio and TV was developed. He started at O'Leary Adv. in January 1953.

Among accounts he services in addition to WREX and WBEL are Hansen clock, Allied Home Producer, American Wilbert Vault Corp. and Illinois Water Treatment Co.

Mr. Long married the former Alice Marie Carlin May 3, 1947. They have one child, Stephen, 4. He belongs to the Elks Club, Industrial Marketeers and Rockford Sales Executives Club. Hobbies: golf and gardening.

NEW CBS-RCA RIVALRY FLARES IN LIVELY CHICAGO SESSIONS

In a week of important meetings in Chicago, Television Bureau of Advertising gets off ground and Quality Radio Group is formed. But affiliate meetings of CBS Radio and NBC-TV dominate the scene with eruptions of competitive challenges.

AN INTENSIFIED struggle for power between two giants of broadcasting-manufacturing—CBS and RCA—was brought into the open last week during history-making meetings in Chicago.

In all, five events of great significance to the industry took place, including the organizational meetings of Television Bureau of Advertising and of Quality Radio Group. But dominating all was the flare-up of new rivalry between CBS and RCA.

These are the five events, in thumbnail fashion:

- NBC-TV affiliates found their routine autumn planning session turned into a historic preview of what's to come in color tv and other electronic arts (Detailed stories begin on page 30.) plus the prediction by Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, RCA-NBC board chairman, that network radio may fade out only "a poor existence." (Full story page 78.)
- CBS Radio affiliates, too, met for a routine session and found themselves inspired by Gen. Sarnoff's dim view of network radio. Their meeting turned into a vociferous pep rally for radio and the creation of a new custom—an affiliate meeting in which the stations pick up the check. A second meeting is planned next year, possibly in Colorado Springs. (CBS stories begin on page 28.)
- Television Bureau of Advertising Inc. got off the ground. It is now a going corporation and a committee will propose the name of a president within a few days. It will match radio's BAB as a tv sales promotion agency. (See story page 34.)
- Quality Radio Group Inc. plans to name Wardi Qual, WLW Cincinnati, as president. With 24 stations committed, it will soon start a co-op tape program service fed to its members, described as top outlets in their markets. (See story page 34.)
- CBS-Columbia unveiled a line of 205-square-inch color tv sets and a $135 black-and-white 17-inch set, right under the RCA-NBC nose, and heard its distributors stand up and cheer as they looked at the live and filmed color programs. (See page 80.)

Most dramatic phase of the week's developments was an unscheduled "Battle of the Centurys" between Gen. Sarnoff and Dr. Frank Stanton, CBS president.

Gen. Sarnoff, possibly stung by the appearance of large-size CBS-Columbia color receivers in the same hotel as the NBC-TV affiliates meeting, threw away his prepared speech last Tuesday and for over an hour held the NBC affiliate group spellbound while he laughed at what he termed petty achievements of a competitor and then unfolded a preview of tv in the next few years. He said there would be no tubes at all—not even a cathode tube—in approaching tv receivers. A cigar-box control with transistors will feed a big picture to a wall-mounted screen.

Color—economical, practical and widespread color—is coming faster than you think, Gen. Sarnoff said. He added it will involve so little extra cost that broadcasters won't be limited to monochrome.

RCA will unveil a new 21-inch tube and simplified color sets Sept. 15, he said, raising speculation that the price of the sets may come within mass reach in 1955. He said nobody is going to pre-empt RCA's equipment leadership.

Gen. Sarnoff commented at length on such topics as the Bricker probe, affiliate-network relations, editorializing and the penalties of scientific pioneer.

Dr. Stanton, too, spoke Thursday from notes. In his address to CBS Radio affiliates he failed to use the word "television" a single time, as well as his hearers could recall. Taking the cue from Gen. Sarnoff after hearing broadcaster versions "from the scene of the crime," as he indirectly labeled the general's attack on network radio, Dr. Stanton extolled radio's proud past, emphasized its present strength and then detailed what CBS Radio is doing for its affiliates. He flew to Chicago for the second visit in four days, having spoken Monday to CBS-Columbia distributors. He had testified in Washington Wednesday after being cross-examined before an FCC examiner in the St. Louis ch. 11 case.

The Sarnoff-Stanton battle produced some of the roughest intra-industry competition in years. The general said NBC is emerging from its first year of color telecasting as CBS starts its experimental year. He said color television has shifted from an era of fancy claims to an era of performance.

Dr. Stanton confined his talk to network radio and chided those who don't believe in the medium and try to wreck it. Enthusiasm of CBS Radio affiliates didn't appear to be quelled by the awareness of an approaching 20% discount in nighttime payments to stations as the result of a leveling of night-day charges. Dr. Stanton charted network radio's postwar growth and its audience potential.

The NBC-TV meeting drew an attendance of 120 registrants. CBS Radio attendance included roughly 150 affiliates. Thursday noon Dr. Stanton spoke to over 300.

A side skirmish centered around the network editorializing views of Gen. Sarnoff and CBS. The general said network right to editorialize, but he felt it was a dangerous weapon and would tend to impose the network's position on affiliates as well as consume prime time in permitting opposition replies. CBS outlined its views after completing its first report of a radio network, as an instrument of national service and national defense, would compel such a service to continue in one form or another. To be able to make instantaneous contact with all of the people of the country, wherever they may be, in millions of automobiles or elsewhere—in times of national emergency or national disaster—is an instrument of national defense . . .

I don't say that radio networks must die. Every effort is being made and will continue to be made to find new patterns, new selling arrangements and new types of programs that may arrest the declining revenues. It may yet be possible to eke out a poor existence for radio networks, but I don't know . . .
STANTON PEP TALK CHEERS CBS RADIO AFFILIATES RALLY

Stanton’s optimism for CBS Radio contrasts with Sarnoff’s fears for network radio. Radio affiliates exude enthusiasm as CBS Radio executives tell how the network stacks up against competitors.

CBS Radio affiliates, provided with a ready-made battle cry by the bearish radio appraisals at the earlier NBC-TV affiliates meeting, held a pre-autumn Wednesday-Thursday rally at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago.

Sounding the theme that CBS Radio is on the way upward, and is far ahead of its nearest network competitor, network executives laid their fall program-promotion plans before affiliates (see story).

Their meeting was capped by CBS President Frank Stanton’s reply to RCA-NBC Board Chairman David Sarnoff’s fears for network radio’s future. (See Sarnoff story page 78.) Dr. Stanton used a set of quick facts to show how CBS Radio lines up against other networks, and then uncorked his answer this way: “The industry should do a lot more to strengthen radio’s position. You must believe in it—CBS always has. If others don’t believe in radio, let them make way for people who do and not undercut the vitality of this magnificent medium.”

He wound up his address to the affiliates with this reassurance: “I pledge you are in a healthy family. Take a look at the record, and at the turnout in this room. CBS Radio is in a family that’s healthy and going places on all fronts.”

No network or affiliate executive had anticipated such a large attendance at the meeting nor had they any indication that affiliates would exude so much enthusiasm.

Meeting attendance was about 100%. Few controversies developed aside from normal discussion on such topics as co-op policies, editorializing, football roundups and networking routine. Sig Mickelson, CBS Inc. vice president in charge of news and public affairs, outlined the network’s editorializing position to the affiliates (see story page 29).

Succeeding Kenyon Brown, KWFT Wichita Falls, Tex., as chairman of the CBS affiliates group is John F. Patt, veteran Midwest broadcaster and president of WJR Detroit. Also elected was Arnold F. Schoen Jr., WPRO Providence, R. I., who becomes secretary-treasurer succeeding Hubert Taft, WKRC Cincinnati. Mr. Brown was given an ovation for his work during the past year, and by unanimous ballot the affiliates favored an annual session with the network following the same pattern.

The common zest of CBS Radio and the affiliate group first burst out at a Wednesday evening news conference in which President Adrian Murphy and retiring Chairman Brown told how the network and affiliates were teaming up to give network radio a new lease on life rather than bury it in the manner of its chief competitive network.

President Murphy summed it up this way: “Business is good for fall. Daytime is solid, nighttime well sold and future prospects promising, depending on how strips sell.” Then he added, “The year 1955 might well reverse the trend of network radio.”

Tempering enthusiasm, of course, was the frank explanation that a 20% night rate cut might soon go into effect. This cut, bringing the rate down to the day level, was approved by the affiliates last spring, Mr. Brown said.

Mr. Brown tackled the radio-network “obituary talk” head-on by saying CBS Radio affiliates take a diametrically opposite view from Gen. Sarnoff.

“We feel network radio has been through tough times but is now on the upgrade,” he said. “We can do business with a salable structure. The situation is improving.

“CBS Radio has a great story—a story that’s never really been properly told, including the auto radio audience. It’s a story that television can’t tell. Affiliates are impressed by the fall network programming. This year offers a much brighter picture. CBS Radio affiliates have discussed nothing but radio at the meeting whereas NBC-TV affiliates heard radio babbled.

“CBS is completely interested in radio and is doing a hard selling job—harder than many affiliates, and many of us have both radio and television. We find no evidence of the fear Gen. Sarnoff is said to have voiced. Our affiliate group has no subsidy from CBS. The network has gone along with many of the things we have asked and a better affiliate-network understanding has developed.”

Messrs. Murphy and Brown agreed confidence and cooperation is at a peak, with 150 stations represented by over 250 delegates. This is the largest attendance in history, they reminded, adding that much of it is ownership interest. This was described as impressive because the gathering had not been billed as a fall or special meeting but merely as a discussion of fall plans and problems.

The CBS Radio-affiliate answer to Gen. Sarnoff is “Confidence in Radio,” Mr. Murphy said. Mr. Brown added that an affiliate-network study group is looking into the economics of network radio.

Then I got into radio a couple of years ago I wondered if I was being sent to Siberia,” Mr. Murphy said. “But radio has not died. It has more than held its own. It is a constant thrill to work with our affiliates.”

Mr. Brown suggested “Perhaps Gen. Sarnoff is annoyed by the large share of CBS Radio affiliates that are now first in their markets.”

Asked about the Quality Group’s plans, Mr. Murphy said it appeared to combine programming and some of the top stations in many markets—including affiliates of all networks. “If it is a way to sell—for the network’s future—fine,” he said. “Then they can do a better local promotion and selling job, and this will be reflected in the position of our affiliate stations. If they can sell their stations, more power to them. Most CBS affiliates don’t care for it.”

Mr. Brown said strong CBS Radio program making made it easy to sell adjacencies.

Called to the phone during the news conference, Mr. Murphy returned with the announcement he had just told NARTB President Harold E. Fellows that CBS Radio is rejoining the industry trade association after several years’ absence.

“We feel the broadcasters’ association is doing a good job for the industry and we have decided to help carry our share,” Mr. Murphy said. He said the affiliation is effective as of that day (Sept. 1). CBS Television is a member of NARTB’s television unit, with Merle Jones sitting for the network on the TV Board.

Mr. Brown, an association board member, added: “We are very happy to have CBS Radio back in the association.”

The network had resigned from NARTB on the occasion of statements in an interview with the association’s then top management in which color TV was described as being possibly a decade away.

George Bristol, CBS Radio director of sales promotion and advertising, said for the second time in the network’s history it is going into cooperative newspaper advertising with stations on a 50-50 basis, budgeting a bigger sum than before.

Sales promotion tools for the season, he said, include a new program promotion campaign with its co-op advertising; new sales promotion film (“Tune In Tomorrow”); new ARF radio census and new Nielsen auto-listening measurement service.

Another note of confidence was sounded by John Karol, CBS Radio sales vice president, when he said the network and affiliates have “the single objective of preserving and promoting the strength of radio as advertising’s greatest medium.” He said all can agree on the need for a better and stronger radio medium although some may feel there is conflict between network and local-national spot.

Mr. Karol said all must work harder "to win our share of the advertising dollar." While radio is the only medium to suffer a decline in the past few years, according to Mr. Karol, he cited figures showing 1953 was better than 1952, with the network decline being offset approximately by the increase in spot radio. He noted that TV shows the greatest gains.

Looking into the future, he said the color-monochrome TV pattern will be important in the media picture, with magazines suffering. Increase in auto radios, with billboards disappearing from superhighways, will be a factor and suburban newspapers will compete with metropolitan dailies, he said.

As to radio, he said it "will become a more important medium, due to its combination of size, frequency, audience accumulation, low cost and the potency of spoken advertising. It will be the major medium for many advertisers and it will be the complement of television for the largest advertisers.

Some of the network's best advertisers are shifting from radio to TV, he said, but other top advertisers are turning to network radio. He called for strong selling and better sales ammunition, citing the new CBS promotion film as an aid. The selling season now covers the whole year, he explained, with few advertisers making long-term commitments for network radio. He made a plea for unity between network and affiliates.

Mickelson Outlines CBS Editorial Stand

CBS has adopted policy rules governing network editorializing, Sig Mickelson, CBS Inc. vice president in charge of news and public affairs, told B&TT Thursday as the network prepared to broadcast the opposition portion of its first venture in editorials. The network has no idea when the next editorial will appear, he said.

Network editorials are the result of a top policy decision, he said, based on careful research and analysis as well as careful writing. "No editorial will be undertaken until CBS has invited an outstanding opposition spokesman and stations have been notified of all the facts," he said. "These facts include: subject and description of contents; exact time of broadcast; name of speaker; plans for opposition spokesman; time to be given the opposition spokesman."

If no spokesman has been picked at the time the broadcast originates, Mr. Mickelson said, CBS will specify the time of reply and hold the time available.

"It will be management policy not to speak out except when the issue is of sufficient importance to broadcasters and public to warrant action and we have time to analyze as well as make certain we are justified in taking the action," he said.

STANTON STANDS BEHIND RADIO

CBS president defends the aural medium, cites figures to prove it healthy and growing.

CBS PRESIDENT Frank Stanton took up the network radio diet-of-"nibbles" theme of Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, RCA-NBC board chairman, sounded earlier last week, in topping off the two-day Chicago meeting of CBS Radio affiliates (main affiliate story page 28; Sarnoff story page 78).

Dr. Stanton lined up several rows of what he termed indisputable facts to show that radio is healthy and growing, and to show CBS Radio's "top position" in the radio network field.

Several hundred affiliates, with their wives and guests, listened Thursday noon as he started off with this reference to the NBC-TV affiliates meeting and Gen. Sarnoff's radio views:

"Someone else had something to say on the same subject." With this reference to "the scene of the crime" he reaffirmed the network's belief in radio's worth to the public and to advertisers.

He proceeded to analyze three sets "of hard postwar facts"—dollars spent on radio advertising; where the advertiser puts his dollars and set ownership. Advertisers spent $454 million in radio in 1946 compared to $650 million in 1955, up 43%, he said.

Set ownership has risen from 58 million in 1946 to 110 million in 1953, up 90%; 12,900-000 radio sets were sold in 1953.

"Radio is a very, very vital business," he observed.

The number of stations increased from 1,215 in June 1946 to 2,584 in 1953, up 111%.

"You can't quarrel with these facts," he said. Comparing the 1951-53 period with the pre-television years of 1946-48, he said dollars spent in radio were up 21%, station income up 43% and the number of sets up 154%.

As to CBS-Radio's competitive position, he said its billings in 1946 were 10% behind its leading competitor; in 1953 they were 38% ahead; in 1954 (Jan.-July) they are 62% ahead.

Taking up program popularity, he said that in the regular season during the last three years CBS Radio had the equivalent of 8.7 of the top 10 nighttime programs and 9.7 of the top 10 daytime programs.

Dr. Stanton praised the imagination and courage of CBS Chairman William S. Paley, recalling his May address to the NARTB convention. He lauded CBS Radio President Adrian Murphy and other executives as he recalled how radio and TV network direction had been separated in 1951. Two years before the split, he said, CBS Radio was running 7% ahead of its nearest competitor. Two years after the split, he said, it was 31% ahead.

Calling on affiliates to support and believe in radio, he warned others who don't believe in it to step aside and not undercut the vitality of "this magnificent medium."

"Sure we have problems," he said, "but we have fewer problems than some others." He explained the radio network gets top attention... at CBS, including program promotion as well as programs, in the fight to maintain leadership. He noted that the presidents of the radio and tv divisions sit on the top board of CBS Inc.

"Our record shows ingenuity in meeting competition," he said, recalling how the phonograph record business fell off from 1927 to 1932. Everything went down except radio, he added. Today the record business is "very healthy," he noted. First, CBS got 10 million retail sales in 1937 to $250 million in 1953.

"Some record firms got the hell out of the record business because of radio," he said, "just the same as some radio firms got the hell out of the radio business because of television."

Among elements in the record industry cited by Dr. Stanton were the swing from 78 rpm shellac to 33 rpm vinylite discs; emphasis on albums instead of single records; colored packaging; addition of retail outlets, including even super-markets.

Magazines and newspapers can print fewer pages when sales fall off, Dr. Stanton said, but CBS Radio President Adrian Murphy "not only loses the revenue but has to reach in his other pocket to fill the time."

The only way to good sales is good programming, he said, and getting a break in the stereotyped approach to sales problems and adoption of new sales techniques.

GOTTLEIB UNFOLDS CBS FALL PLANS

"RADIO is the world's most flexible and fluid advertising medium, but it cannot stand still or rest on its well-earned laurels."

With these views as his keynote, Lester Gottlieb, vice president in charge of network programs for CBS Radio last Wednesday unfolded the network's fall programming plans, which were bolstered throughout the affiliates meeting at the Edgewater Beach Hotel with expressions of confidence in the future of the aural broadcast medium.

"Our program budget is higher today than ever before," Mr. Gottlieb told affiliates as he reviewed fall programming plans. He said that the board of across-the-board strips of stories and personalities for daytime hours "should even be more advantageous at night, when sponsors can reach the daytime audience, plus some 60,000 million others among the nation's working men, its housewives, women, its students, day-time shoppers and travelers."

Noting that across-the-board early evening strips have "always been an anchor of network radio," Mr. Gottlieb recounted how CBS Radio decided to put Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll (Amos 'n Andy) on the same basis once again. Their Music Hall series debuts Sept. 13 at 9:30 p.m. as one of the legs of CBS Radio's fall schedule.

Surrounding this 25-minute program will be Perry Como (Mon.-Wed.-Fri.) at 9 p.m. sponsored by Liggett & Myers, Mr. & Mrs. North (Mon.-Fri.) at 9:15, five minutes of news at 9:25 and Mr. Keen at 10-10:15 p.m. CBS Radio also has high hopes for the new Tennessee Ernie show as a strip across the board at 7-7:30 p.m. Still other personalities are Robert Q. Lewis and Peter Lind Hayes.

CBS Radio also plans other "significant" changes involving Tuesday night and Sunday afternoon. Noting NBC's solid commercial lineup for Tuesday evening, Mr. Gottlieb felt the new version of Stop the Music might provide a better approach. On Sunday, after the New York Philharmonic concerts, the network plans to refurbish its summertime On a Sunday Afternoon aimed at automobile radio listeners, with continued stress on National Safety Council caution messages.

Mr. Gottlieb promised the network would use its good-sized program budget "to give our radio audience the best shows we can and maintain that restless energy to make it better and better." Radio's attraction for people with varied interests, he continued, "when blended into a local station's own community coverage, make big difference between just a radio station and a transmitter, and a radio station with a point of view."

Mr. Gottlieb reminded affiliates that CBS Radio's success hinged into its fold such established personalities as Arthur Godfrey and Art Linkletter, along with others like Jack Benny, Edgar Bergen and Bing Crosby, "gave our network an immediate leadership that has yet to be headed. And despite tv's obvious inroads these are programs that still do attract a substantial majority of the nation's radio listeners."

At a news conference later Wednesday, CBS Radio's newest efforts were described by CBS Radio President Adrian Murphy as conforming to a "wholly new concept of nighttime programming."

This, he said, "is much better and brighter this year."

Both Mr. Murphy and Mr. Kenyon Crow, KWFT Wichita Falls, Tex., chairman of the CBS Radio affiliates group, concurred in the conviction that, once affiliates were apprised of the problems involved, they were "determined" to retaining CBS Radio's "strong programming lineup and strong adjacencies." Such adjacencies, around programs like Amos 'n Andy, are relatively easy to sell, it was emphasized.

Mr. Murphy stressed, too, that CBS Radio's combined programming-sales picture for fall is especially good on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings.

CBS AFFILIATES VOTE CONFIDENCE

CBS RADIO Affiliates gave a vote of confidence to CBS management and the future of network radio as the last official act of the Chicago meeting last week. Text of the resolution follows:

WHEREAS, CBS Radio Affiliates have been in session at a special meeting at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, Sept. 1 and 2; and

WHEREAS, such meeting was jointly sponsored by the board of directors of CBS Radio Affiliates and the CBS Radio Network as a new aspect of affiliate and network expression of common interest and cooperation; and,

WHEREAS, CBS Radio management has presented program and sales plans for 1954-55 which again demonstrate aggressiveness in maintaining the dominant position of CBS Radio as America's leading network; and has presented research and promotion plans which will of value to each affiliate and to radio broadcasting in general.

Now, therefore, be it resolved that CBS Radio Affiliates, assembled this date, express appreciation to the board of directors and to network management for arranging this convention, and

Be it further resolved that this resolution serve as a reaffirmation of confidence by its affiliates in CBS Radio management and in the continuing viability, importance and effectiveness of network radio as a national advertising medium in the competitive framework of America's free enterprise system.

TOP FALL SEASON IS IN VIEW FOR NBC-TV BASIC AFFILIATES

Plight of optional affiliates draws multiple solutions during Chicago meeting. Color tv is coming faster than expected by many forecasters and station costs for network color will not be excessive, the delegates hear. Problems aired in two-day session.

NBC TELEVISION affiliates, especially basic stations, approach the fall season, after a two-day meeting in Chicago, convinced that:

- Network business is fine, for basic stations, as a result of a nighttime sellout for fall and good daytime prospects.
- Business will get better.
- Color is coming faster, much faster, than most forecasts had indicated, and station costs for network color will not be excessive.
- Many optional stations face formidable problems.
- Network radio's future is gloomy, if Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff's appraisal as RCA-NBC chairman is accepted (see page 78).

Much of the Tuesday-Wednesday session was spent airing affiliate problems, with network executives taking them up one by one, and in network reviews of business, promotion and program plans for the fall-winter season (story page 32).

The plight of optional stations, whose region and local facilities are by-passed by many major tv advertisers, was considered at length. NBC and affiliates have been working for weeks on this problem and they talked over a three-way experimental plan designed to increase the volume of network programming and sales on optional affiliates.

Stations have a fortnight in which to decide if they will accept an option plan that:

(a) Gives stations not ordered for three specified programs a chance to run them and insert local co-op advertising.
(b) Sets up a sales unit to sell optional stations by selected groups.
(c) Gives network salesmen new research and market material to induce NBC clients to buy more stations.
(d) Provides a discount plan to help carry out the project.

This discount arrangement stirred some affiliate opposition as optional stations argued it showed rate-cutting. Some of the optional were openly apprehensive Others were unhappy, but wondered what to do about it. Still others said, they planned to go along and thought it was a fine idea.

Large numbers of options agreed that the network and a small committee of affiliates had done an excellent job in bringing up this solution to their critical problem.

Some of the affiliate delegates seemed convinced that the transition to color will come at

Broadcasting • Telecasting
Many of them wandered down the corridor of the Drake Hotel to take a look at the new CBS-Columbia color receivers, being shown to distributors. What they saw convinced some that manufacturers will be able to turn out sets on a production basis, and do it this winter. Many, too, revised upward their opinion of the quality of color pictures the public will see.

The price of new color sets is high—$690 to $1,100 in the CBS-Columbia line—but they figured it would come down before another six months. Some wondered if RCA would be tempted to take the lead in pricing when it shows new 21-inch sets Sept. 15. All agreed the price must come down near the $500 range before a mass market will develop. (See CBS-Columbia Sets Every parish.)

Gen. Sarnoff himself convinced affiliates the price will be in that range, perhaps quite a bit lower, in the not too distant future.

The cost of color caused considerable discussion. Here Gen. Sarnoff set the pace when he said nearly all television may be color soon, with the increased cost so slight that stations won't be justified in broadcasting monochrome only.

The affiliates, in turn, were convinced their transmission costs won't be heavy in carrying network or film color. The basic issue, of course, was what to do about rates. An informal poll indicated strong sentiment against charging premium rates for color time. The technical costs, from a network standpoint, aren't too heavy for the affiliates when equipment costs are spread over several years.

Stations showed interest in station color rates based on this type of formula: no premium charge for color time; if card rate for time is to be increased, this should not be ascribed to color; additional color expense should be incorporated in production-talent-studio charges.

In the gripe-airs discussions at the two-day meetings, optional stations asked such questions as these—Why such a small list of stations on some schedules? Isn't the four-week plan with "spectaculars" rough on options? Why can't options find out sooner if they are to be included? Isn't the new three-way network optional plan a rate-cutting deal?

All questions brought direct answers from network officials, with stations showing mixed reactions depending on their own problems.

The option stations readily agreed among themselves that there is too much unsold option time but many left the meeting with the belief NBC-TV will make a serious effort to do something about it.

Heading the NBC-TV executive contingent was Gen. Sarnoff. Flanking him were Sylvester L. Weaver, NBC president; Robert W. Sarnoff, executive vice president, and station relations, sales, program and other top officials.

Walter J. Damm, WTMJ-TV Milwaukee, presided at the meeting as chairman of the NBC Television Affiliates Committee. Heading the Optional Affiliates Subcommittee were Fred Mueller, WEEK-TV Peoria, Ill., chairman; David Baltimore, WBRE-TV Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and James H. Moore, WSLS-TV Roanoke, Va., secretary-treasurer.

In introducing Gen. Sarnoff at the opening luncheon, Mr. Damm said the network for making good its promises to affiliates following a May 1953 meeting at which troubled stations had complained vigorously about their relations with the network. He conveyed confidence of the affiliates in Gen. Sarnoff, his leadership and "the future of NBC's leadership in television." He said Mr. Weaver had revitalized the organization with the aid of Robert Sarnoff.

He mentioned such programs as Today and Home and reminded that the network is sold-out for fall in the evening while the daytime problems are being solved. He said NBC color "is so far ahead that there isn't even a close second in sight." He noted that the network "spectaculars" were sold out—$14 million worth—months ago.

Tribute to Sarnoff

He closed with a ringing tribute to Gen. Sarnoff for achievements that "laid the early foundations for the whole business of broadcasting."

At the concluding NBC-TV session Wednesday afternoon the affiliates told NBC they have accepted an announcement-white space exchange with Curtis Pub Co, on a six-month basis. A flat-rate proposal for a major schedule of General Electric Co. spots was rejected, it was indicated.

The three-way plan to aid optional stations was developed at an Aug. 13 meeting of Messrs. Mueller and Baltimore with the network. The subcommittee at that time endorsed an NBC proposal that grew out of a network working group named by Mr. Weaver last April.

Three programs are offered unordered optional affiliates under the plan, beginning in early October. They are Home, Howdy Doody and Imogene Coca. The three are to be fed from the interconnected network without increase in NBC's line costs. Kinescopes will be offered unordered stations in the case of Howdy Doody and Imogene Coca for the standard NBC sustaining kine charge. It is specified the affiliates must be serving an area where the program is not received from another NBC-TV outlet ordered by the advertiser. Cueing arrangements are being made.

Unordered options will fill commercial time with NBC or local promotional material, the proposal provides. What interested the options most in this plan was the right to sell commercial positions locally to advertisers other than those using the program on a network basis—with product protection to the network advertiser.

The station will pay a co-op fee to NBC-TV for each announcement sold locally. Co-op spots on Home will be subject to recapture on 28 days notice. On Howdy Doody and Imogene Coca, stations will be protected from network recapture for 13-week cycles, with 28 days recapture notice before the end of a cycle.

The network is conducting a special drive to sell optional stations to network advertisers sponsoring the programs before the plan becomes effective.

The group rate plan for sale of options, described as voluntary, "seeks progressively to expand commercial lineups by sales emphasis on those unordered stations of particular value to particular accounts." Regional groups of five to eight stations are to be offered advertisers.

The group rate averages out about 20% lower than the total of the stations' individual rates, a feature some critics of the plan did not like. Another rate angle also stirred discussion—two hours of time sold would be treated as one hour in compensating stations. In the case of orders of an individual station in a group, this station would get its normal pay.

These advantages were cited for optional stations not now attracting substantial network business; cost-per-thousand for advertisers compares favorably with those of stations enjoying substantial network business; groups are small and distinctively regional, designed to attract clients interested in particular areas who find the addition of a number of small-market stations too costly in relation to circulation gained.

The station is described as having a better chance to get more network programs, which some options are said to desire more than the network revenue at this stage of development. An increase in network business on such stations could more than make up for the cut in compensation under business sold; the reduced group rate "would not devalue the station as an individual buy" because it is based on the "wholesale principle."

Stations participating in the group rate plan would have to give six months notice before withdrawing. The network will decide, on the basis of returns received Sept. 15, if enough stations wish to participate to justify going ahead with the project. If it goes ahead, final specifications on grouping and rates will be prepared.

NBC-TV FALL COLOR PREVIEWED

Plans for 'comprehensive nationwide color tv network' and series of 'spectaculars' unfolded at Chicago affiliates meeting.

FAR-REACHING plans for its fall programming lineup and series of color "spectaculars," along with a promise for creation of "the most comprehensive nationwide color television network," were laid before NBC-TV affiliates in Chicago last week by NBC President Sylvester L. (Pat) Weaver Jr. and others in the network's top echelon.

NBC plans to launch 37 new shows, including daytimers, described as "the greatest number ever introduced by any network for a new season." In a series of presentations to affiliates at the Drake Hotel Tuesday, NBC's top executives promised "continued tv leadership" in the fields of programming, sales and color television in its battle with CBS-TV for network tv dominance.

Highlights of NBC-TV activity, detailed by Mr. Weaver and NBC Executive Vice President Robert W. Sarnoff, among others, were these:

• Promise that a total of 82 NBC-TV affiliates will be equipped to transmit network color programs by year-end, with 87% of American tv families in the range of that network's color service.
• Plans for three series of 90-minute "spectaculars," coast to coast, giving NBC 494 hours of color shows this fall.
• Plans for the "complete sellout" of NBC's fall evening schedule, with at least one color program each evening of the week.
• Review of NBC's expanded participating programs lineup (Tonight, Home and Today), with the claim the network has "attracted to television more advertisers, big and little, than any other network."
• Projected exploration of means of bringing operas, plays and other works to television on a broadcasters scale; for development of plans to offer prize and first performance presentations of new operas, symphonies and concerts in both radio and tv, and for financing initial performances of new works of art in certain fields.

Reviewing the network's plans and accomplishments, Mr. Weaver cited three basic tenets underlying its overall planning—policies involving advertising, circulation and public service programming.

He told affiliates that "our advertising policies are to build a pattern of uses in national television that will range from five-second identifications to all night explosions, from 365 day continuity to once-a-year spectaculars and all other uses in all the different patterns—so that every advertiser can find what he needs available to him through NBC."

As to circulation, the NBC president asserted that NBC policies are to "so program that every segment of our population—no matter what ethnic, racial, cultural, age level or other grouping that may be—will find attractive, interesting and entertaining programs of interest to him or her."

Mr. Weaver declared that NBC's intention is to provide this broad audience with "enlightenment, and enriching, and inspiring and informing, as well as entertaining, fare required to meet the critical problems which our world faces."

NBC's planned enlargement of its public service operations will take the form of "new repertoire" and the development of new writers and artists.

Robert Sarnoff exuded the confidence of his famous father when he told affiliates there could be no doubt that color tv will be the major broadcast medium of the future. He singled out the knowledge and experience NBC had gained from its "color introductory year."

With that period over, he noted, NBC is prepared to put color operations to work on behalf of the network's advertisers, affiliates and audience.

Mr. Sarnoff reported that NBC will be equipped, color production-wise, to handle 60 hours of color programming each month, covering all types of programs by the start of 1955.

NBC also plans to televise a two-hour color showing of "Macbeth," in addition to various "major film shows."

These facilities comprise the Colonial Theatre and Studio 3F (which has been doubled in size) in New York and, within a few weeks, a former Warner Bros. studio in Brooklyn, site for the projected "spectaculars." By Jan. 1, additionally, NBC will be able to utilize its new $3.5 million West Coast color studio in Burbank, Calif.

Sales activities and NBC's new nighttime program schedule were reviewed respectively by George E. Frey, vice president in charge of tv network sales, and Thomas A. McAvity, vice president in charge of tv programs.

NBC is concentrating right now, saleswise, on the daytime schedule, Mr. Frey reported, noting the gain of $7 million worth of time gross billings covering 14 quarter-hour segments in recent weeks. He added that NBC will average 88 stations (19 more than last year) for its evening program lineup this fall.

Mr. McAvity expressed conviction that the 1954-55 schedule "will give NBC domination in all the rating services and that this will be the biggest year in NBC history from the standpoint of overall program strength."

Citing the two Max Liebman and one Leland Hayward spectaculars, Mr. McAvity also listed NBC's other offerings this fall, including Sid Caesar and The Medici on Monday evenings; 10 programs with Martha Raye, in addition to those with Bob Hope and Milton Berle, and It's a Great Life on Tuesdays; Big Town on Wednesday; Lux Video Theatre on Thursday; Red Buttons and Jack Carson on Friday; Mickey Rooney, Imogene Coca, Claudette Colbert, Jimmy Durante, Donald O'Connor and George Gobel on Saturdays, and People Are Funny and Robert Cummings on Sundays.

Report on NBC's new Participating Programs Div. was presented by Richard A. Pinkham, its director.

"We concentrate on smaller advertisers (those with a promoting budget a 10 or less) because we can dazzle them with consumer impact and marketing prestige of a big-time television show together with the personal salesmanship of a great star who can be merchandised," he told affiliates. He observed that many national advertisers also are coming into such programs as Today, Home and Tonight. Already 75 of the smaller firms have bought participations on the projected Today and Home shows.

Jacob A. Evans, director of advertising and promotion for NBC, reported plans for the "greatest audience promotion campaign" in the network's history. He said that the major stress will be laid on the color spectaculars, of course, but Tonight will be the subject of the biggest overall promotional explosion on the sales front, with full-page ads in New York and Chicago papers and trade press.

J. George Knaus, NBC vice president for press and publicity, reviewed the network's plans for the fall publicity drive.

NBC Calls to RCA?

SPECULATION abounded last week that NBC shortly would seek to establish a closer public association with RCA by changing the calls of its New York and Los Angeles stations to incorporate the initials of the parent company. Although officials declined comment, it was felt—largely because of the recent emphasis in network identifications upon NBC as being "A Service of RCA"—that NBC would ask FCC to change the call letters of WNBC and WNBT (TV) New York to WRCA and WRCATV, and of KNBH (TV) Los Angeles to KRCA. None of the "RCA" calls is currently in use.
QUALITY RADIO GROUP
SETS TAPE PROGRAM PLANS

QRG files incorporation papers in Delaware and starts with commitments from 24 stations and promise of other 'substantial additions' soon. Aggressive nighttime radio sales push set.

A COOPERATIVE tape programming project, enlisting the participation of more than a score of leading "power" stations and designed to sell aggressively nighttime radio on a national basis to national advertisers, got off the ground last week.

Quality Radio Group Inc. got underway officially Friday, with the filing of incorporation papers in Delaware, after an organizational steering committee met the day before in Chicago to clear the field of procedural matters.

The new organization, bolstered with firm commitments from 24 stations and the promise of other "substantial additions" in the next fortnight, hopes to begin operation by Oct. 1 in time to "take advantage of fall business."

Ward Quaal, Crosley Broadcasting Corp., who has been handling legal and financial activities, will head QRG Inc. as president, his election by the board of directors being conceded "fait accompli" "soon," once it convenes at a time and place yet to be determined.

The project, two years in the making and with discussions conducted in comparative secrecy, is seen by its organizers as the answer to so-called deficiencies in nighttime network radio selling and a definite boon to radio.

The organizing or steering committee, meeting Chicago's Palmer House last Thursday, comprised John H. DeWitt Jr., WSM Nashville, acting chairman, working with Frank Fogarty, WOW Omaha, as acting vice chairman; Ralph Evans and William Wagner, WHO Des Moines, the latter secretary-treasurer, as well as Mr. Quaal. Mr. DeWitt will serve as temporary chairman of QRG until Mr. Quaal's election.

The name Quality Radio Group was selected in preference to such titles as "Quality Stations Network," "Quality Stations Assn." and "Quality Stations of America."

A maximum number of 50 stations tentatively has been set in the by-laws, but this total may be expanded at the discretion of the board of directors which will vote on any new applicants. Actually, the needs of advertisers themselves was held out as a primary governing factor in this respect.

A number of top broadcast names head the list of 12 directors elected at last Thursday's session—directors recommended by broadcasters in attendance and formalized in the appointment of an operating group.

In addition to Messrs. Quaal, DeWitt, Evans and Fogarty, they include Charles T. Lucy, WRVA Richmond, Va.; W. H. Summerville, WWL New Orleans; Frank Schrieber, WGN Chicago; James Gaines, WOAI San Antonio; Donald W. Thornburgh, WCAU Philadelphia; Chris Witting, Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. (WBZ-WB, Boston-Springfield; KDKA Pittsburgh; KEX Portland, Ore.; Charles H. Crutchfield, WBT Charlotte, N. C.)

Stations already "definitely committed"—and represented at last week's meeting—to QRG Inc., as of last Thursday, were the following:

WOR New York; WGN Chicago; KFI Los Angeles; WBZ-WBZA Boston-Springfield; KDKA Pittsburgh; WVLW Cincinnati; KCMO Kansas City; KEX Portland, Ore.; WWL New Orleans; WSB Atlanta; WOW Omaha; WRVA Richmond; WSM Nashville; WHO Des Moines; WBT Charlotte; KVOO Tulsa; KPRC Houston; WOAI San Antonio; WFAA-WBAP Dallas-Fort Worth; WCAU Philadelphia; KIRO Seattle; WPTF Raleigh, N. C.; KOB Albuquerque, N. M.

Advertisers would be required to buy the full Quality Radio Group station lineup on a "must buy" basis. The plan is for participating stations to submit their best local and/or network originated programs to the group, comprising varying types—serial, drama, opera and other formats.

Quarter-hour and greater time segments will be sold but not spot. Time costs will be set on the basis of current rate cards of the stations themselves, allowing for a maximum 25% discount on the sale of programs over a 52-week period or more. QRG hopes to take advantage of programs developed by agencies and package firms as well as stations.

On dues, stations would pay in 20 times the "average" daytime hourly rates. Dues, it was stressed, will not go for programming itself. After all expenses have been deducted for a year, 95% of the monies then on hand will be returned to the "patronage" or participating stations. The remaining 5% would be maintained for overhead expenses at the QRG Inc. New York office, where the sales force will be maintained.

It was the feeling of the organizing committee that the project "will help the entire radio business" by leaving the local market available to smaller station operators. Consensus of broadcasters attending was that "radio is a tremendous buy." As one power station operator put it: "I'll find it easy to adjust nighttime availabilities with spot advertisers and the network on a delayed."

It was stressed that advertisers may want certain select markets, to conform to their distribution patterns and that stations would be added, from time to time, with that selective feature in mind.

ALL-INDUSTRY TV SALES PUSH SET FOR FALL BUYING SEASON

Television Bureau of Advertising, formed to fight for advertiser dollars against other media, is put into action at Chicago meeting. Four-man committee may select president this week.

AN ALL-INDUSTRY sales and promotion project to capture a substantial share of television advertising dollars against the competition of other media emerged last week with a sturdy set of organizational teeth in Chicago.

Thus, within a relatively short space of time, TVB (Television Bureau of Advertising Inc.) has materialized as an all-facet operation following ratification of the merged promotion bureau proposal by NARTB and the original TVB [Beat, Aug. 23].

Organizational groundwork was laid at an all-day meeting in Chicago's Blackstone Hotel last Thursday, with the go-ahead flashed for actual operation in time for the fall-buying season and the election of a president to head up the independent advertising bureau. The proposed $400,000 budget mentioned earlier was approved by the steering board.

Steps will be taken this week by a four-man committee to select a president. Wheels also were set in motion for procedural activities with the appointment of three other committees—on finance, by-laws and dues—and the election of Clair R. McCollough, Steinman Stations, and Richard A. Moore, KTV (TV) Los Angeles, as co-chairmen.

Incorporation papers for the new industry project were filed last Tuesday, it was announced, in advance of the first official board meeting of TVB, which drew four NARTB board members and four TVB directing heads—eight of the original 16-man group that drew up the original NARTB-TVAB merger plan and who were elected at the time of incorporation. Only Merle S. Jones, CBS-TV, and George B. Storer Jr., Storer Broadcasting Co., were absent from last week's session.

Chosen as a committee of four to select a president were Messrs. McCollough and Moore; Roger Clipp, WFIL-TV Philadelphia, and Campbell Arnoux, WTAR-TV Norfolk, Va. This activity is expected to be launched this week, but it's possible the new TVB head may not be named until the following week.

Along with Messrs. McCollough and Moore as co-chairmen, the new board also chose W. D. Rogers Jr., KDUB-TV Lubbock, Tex., as secretary, and L. H. Rogers, WSAZ-TV Huntington, W. Va., as treasurer.

It was stressed that while a $400,000 budget has been approved, the new president of TVB will decide what actually will be spent the first year. Dues for member stations will be the highest published non-network quarter-hour one-time rate on each member's rate card. Mr. Moore estimated that originally a total of 110 stations had indicated a willingness to join such an advertising project, with perhaps 90% firm.

Under the plan embracing all facets of industry, active membership will comprise stations and networks. An associate list will include representatives and other groups. Under such a plan, it was held possible that a network and its o&os outlets could become active members and that network spot sales departments would be acceptable under associate listings.

The new TVB has authorized the rental of

* Ty Cobb set this major-league record in 1911, playing with the Detroit Tigers.
With TODAY, starring Dave Garroway, NBC gave network television advertising a new dimension. Flexibility and low cost were its measurements. TODAY has become the biggest grosser in TV.

Then, to give advertisers the strongest possible hold on the nation's homemakers, NBC developed HOME, starring Arlene Francis. In six short months, HOME has established itself as the outstanding woman's service program.

And now ... with TONIGHT, starring Steve Allen (debut: September 27) ... the advertiser's day is complete! Now for the first time, advertisers can reach television's late-night audiences with "live", top-calibre, network programming. Now, for the first time, small change can buy big-league nighttime television.

WHAT'S GOING ON ... TONIGHT? From 11:30 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. in the East ... 11:00 p.m. to 12 midnight in Central Time zones ... Steve Allen, the brainy, zany, big-time salesman, master of the unfrantic antic, who's as likely to shave, take off his socks, or milk a cow, as he is to spin out a tune, presides over these great goings-on:

1) TONIGHT takes America to Broadway during its most glamorous hours. It will go backstage and out front on glittering opening nights.

2) TONIGHT brings world-famous stars, critics and nightclub entertainers to the hearthsides of the nation.

3) TONIGHT gives the very latest news, weather reports and sports results ... and brings in special events by remote pick-up.

Like its big brother (TODAY) and sister (HOME), TONIGHT offers important new television values to advertisers:

- big-time network TV at low cost
- complete flexibility —you buy only as much as you need, when you need it
- showcasing of your product by celebrities—at no additional cost
- minimal production costs for commercials
- special services by NBC Merchandising Department — unique in the TV industry
- TONIGHT makes the last commercial impression of the day ... and it's the last impression that LASTS!

TONIGHT's low advertising costs will be even lower under NBC's new "T-H-T" Combinability Discount Plan — which gives you TODAY, HOME, and TONIGHT, at great savings. TONIGHT also offers additional savings under its Charter Client Plan — with exceptional advantages for the new program's first advertisers.

TONIGHT, by itself or in combination with TODAY and HOME, is ready to go to work for you! Better check with your NBC representative!

Y & R FORMS UNIT FOR DAYTIME SHOWS

Agency expands tv production staff to produce three network five-times-a-week programs in belief closer control will bring better and lower-cost serials.

YOUNG & RUBICAM, New York, a strong proponent of the agency-produced daytime television serial, within the past eight months has developed its own production department to include an expanded staff of experts to produce three network five-times-a-week shows.

Y & R claims that it can do the best job at the lowest possible cost to its clients if it is in absolute control of the daytime shows. The daytime serial is becoming one of the most important of all outlets for advertising its clients' products, the agency maintains.

The television production staff, excluding all executive personnel working on the shows, has now expanded to include 15 producers and production assistants.

Three new executives have joined the department within the past three weeks. Charles Irving has just joined as producer of Portia Faces Life. Two weeks ago the firm employed Marguerite Bowman, Hunter as daytime serial consultant and Tom Riley as the new producer of The Golden Windows.

Mr. Irving has been producer of Search for Tomorrow since 1952 and has a background of 20 years with Procter & Gamble, announcing and playing leading serial roles in Chicago and New York. He is bringing his own working unit, Hollis Productions, which includes Charles Gussman, serial writer, to the production of Portia Faces Life.

"Pat" Bowman Hunter has devoted a generation to daytime shows. She started with Frank and Ann Hummert and worked with them for 10 years while they were building their daytime (radio and tv) serial empire. For more than 10 years she produced and directed Aunt Jenny in radio. Her duties will be the monitor-of all Y & R daytime radio and television shows, reading scripts and storylines, meeting at regular intervals with the producers and writers, and in general, giving objective guidance on all daytime program problems.

Mr. Riley has pioneered in television since 1939 when he began doing experimental work. From 1934 to 1938 he worked in the NBC production department as assistant and then director of The O'Neill's, produced for Procter & Gamble. He was producer-director of the General Motors radio series Cheers From the Camps, from 1942 to 1943.

He has worked for the U. S. State Dept., under the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs as radio director in Chile, and has done production, programming and creative writing for national advertising accounts.

Young & Rubicam entered the daytime television production field last January and is currently producing three five-days-a-week shows. They are: The Brighter Day (CBS-TV), sponsored by Procter & Gamble; Portia Faces Life (CBS-TV), sponsored by General Foods, and The Golden Windows (NBC-TV), which is under the sponsorship of Procter & Gamble.

HUMBLE OIL BUYS

ABC-TV FOOTBALL

SECOND regional sale of all its NCAA football teletcasts to Humble Oil & Refining Co. was announced last week by ABC-TV. Humble Oil will sponsor the 13-game schedule in Texas. First advertiser to sign, Carnation Co., contracted a week ago to underwrite the schedule, which starts Sept. 18, on the ABC-TV Pacific Coast Regional Network [At Deadline, Aug. 30].

ABC-TV hailed its sale to Humble Oil, which was completed last Tuesday, as the second NCAA pact in two days. Before these sales on a regional basis were made, ABC-TV, unable to get a sponsor for the full slate, was considering selling the contests on a "per game" basis.

Agency for Humble Oil is McCann-Erickson, Houston.

ABC-TV said it will teletcast three games on a regional basis Oct. 23, deviating that day from the regular national pattern of coverage of the 12 other games. For the regional telecast, Texas viewers will see the Pittsburgh-Northwestern game, to be played at Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile, the network produced details of what it called a "lavish" full-hour telecast, "Football '44," which is planned for Sept. 11 at 8-9 p.m. EDT as a prelude to ABC-TV's football season. Program will feature Bill Stern; Ted Husing; Frank Wallace; Albie Booth; entertainer Bob Hope; the Winged Victory Chorus; dancer Johnathan Lucas; a dance team, the Bench Warmers; Alta Burg, baton twirler, and Harry Sonisk and the ABC Orchestra.

Gillette Again Takes 'Series'

GILLETTE Safety Razor Co., Boston, again this year will sponsor the play-by-play coverage of the World Series on Mutual and on NBC-TV, plus five tv stations identified with Mutual ownership. It is the 16th consecutive year Mutual has carried the series radio coverage, which will include shortwave broadcasts to Alaska, Hawaii, Canada, Latin and South America and other points around the world. Gillette agency is Maxon Inc., New York.

Radio listening habits in San Francisco-Oakland and the northern California market changed markedly in the last few years. With huge population growth, more automobile commuting, increased outdoor living, larger families, multiple set ownership and television maturity, the market posed new programming and selling challenges to KSFO. The big independent station adapted its shows to fit the new fluidity of listening and captured the biggest audiences and most business in its history.

Radio’s New Sound

By Paul Speegle

Radio’s “new sound” in programming and advertising is KSFO, San Francisco. The big independent by the Golden Gate has proved that, with progressive techniques and imagination, radio today can be a more influential medium than ever before.

In the past two years, despite the San Francisco market reaching TV maturity, KSFO has piled up the largest audiences in its independent history and has more than kept pace in national, regional and local advertising. KSFO has an average 61% more daytime listening now than before, and 5% more nighttime listening.

Aside from its excellent In-Home Ratings the latest measurement surveys show that KSFO has also accumulated the largest Out-Of-Home Audience in Northern California.

Behind these percentage increases lay months of research, analysis and planning by KSFO management. Headed by General Manager Alan Torbet, these studies indicated the necessity for a complete program overhaul which was started in October, 1952.

Keynote of the revamping to meet changing times was the increased “fluidity” of radio listening—the trend away from living room listening and into increased radio usage in kitchens, bedrooms, workshops, dining areas, automobiles, patios and portables in many outdoor areas.

KSFO went into all corners of its market to learn how and where it could be of the greatest service to northern California and become a more dominant factor in supplying entertainment and information to its $3 million residents. The new programming was then tailored to these specifications.

Northern Californians were getting adequate drama, comedy, variety, mystery and panels on TV and AM network outlets. KSFO’s research indicated that what they really wanted was an improved block music service. They were sick of dull, unimaginative record programs with no sparkle or personality. Some stations were playing loud raucous music. Others offered monotony. Most were using run-of-the-mill staff announcers with long commercials of the shouting variety.

The listeners indicated their overwhelming preference for friendly “personalities” as opposed to straight staff announcers. They didn’t want too much talk and they certainly wanted no one yelling at them.

They showed a keen interest in news, but they wanted it in short takes, preferably condensing the important news into 3-minute and 5-minute editions straight up on the hour, “Where we know we can count on it.”

With over half of all California radio listeners preferring music and news over other program types, KSFO knew that the station which could command the lion’s share of that audience would top all other independent stations, lead the network outlets in many periods and actually create new listeners.

With the largest music library in the west, the station had a complete choice of the types of music it needed. After intensive study of musical tastes at different hours of the day, a music policy was set up by Program Director Bob Hansen to provide the widest possible appeal.

But to be a "music" station, KSFO management faced the sorry task of cancelling thousands of dollars worth of "talk" programs, in 15-minute and 30-minute units which were on the schedule and sold to leading sponsors. Notices were given to all of these talk shows and they were transferred to other independent and network stations. This opened the KSFO schedule to the new "Music, Personalities and News All-day" format.

Knowing the difference between playing a stack of records and a "show," KSFO then set out to get the best voices, the most interesting, experienced and music-wise personalities available. Some of these performers came as freelance artists; some joined the KSFO staff.

Lead-off man was Don Sherwood, with musical comedy background and 10 years' experience on the networks as staff announcer. In Sherwood's previous announcing work, his natural flair for humor had been somewhat systematically stifled. He had actually been fired for excessive gaiety.

Paradoxically, after KSFO developed Sherwood's style on the morning show, offers poured in from all sides, Hollywood, Chicago, Honolulu, even from the network which fired him for being funny. All KSFO performers have deep backgrounds in music, drama and journalism.

Bob Hansen, KSFO program director, has an outstanding musical background. He toured Europe with an orchestra, is an arranger and musician and even taught music and drama. His radio experience is equally impressive. It includes news editing and reporting, financial reporting, interviewing, sports and of all things—disc jockeying.

Herb Kennedy, with 20 years in radio, also has a unique expertise in news reporting. He started as an orchestra vocalist. His pleasant voice and easy Sunday-morning manner have built the highest Sunday morning ratings of any local station, including the networks.

Bob Colvig, another 20-year man with network experience as chief announcer and journalism degree from the University of Oregon, is well known for his authoritative news delivery and clean, concise reporting.

Bill Heyward, still another 20-year man with a wide radio background of acting on many network dramatic shows, is a prime example of the smooth, articulate, yet friendly approach which typifies KSFO.

Wally King, with 12 years of radio and stage experience, is known throughout the Bay Area as an MC and entertainer. His following of dial-devotees is most impressive.

Glen Hurlbut, talented pianist and composer, has a show which is a rare combination of live piano and song interspersed with recorded music and Glen's own off-beat brand of humor. KSFO's music librarian, Nadine Simms, is vitally interested in music on the job and as a hobby. She attends all the big national Hi-Fi conventions in the interest of keeping up with the latest developments in recording, both technically and musically. She is currently engaged in the study of piano.

Person by person, KSFO is staffed by people who are dedicated to the ideals of better radio shows, listenable programming and the maintenance of high professional standards.

With a lineup of top personalities, a format including the most desired music, frequent time and temperature checks, well-edited, concise newscasts on the hour spotlighting local news, special high-speed sports flashes, and flash bulletins of top news stories as they broke, KSFO had the merchandise northern Californians wanted. It was wrapped up in a friendly, intimate style with no sound in between announcements or long commercials. It was designed to fit the new fluid pattern of radio in a TV era.

Next step was to tell the public about the innovations. Newspapers, exterior traveling billboards, a system of non-directional outdoor billboards and extensive on-the-air promotion highlighted the campaign. Direct mail was employed to let every restaurant, bar, tavern, barber shop, beauty salon and shoe shine parlors know that KSFO was the station to tune in any time of the day or night for music, news and its personal personalities.

With its favorable 560 frequency, KSFO is the first station on the dial and the easiest to find. Withers came a wall to wall ground system and non-directional antenna combined with the efficient 560 frequency, KSFO had no worries about signal. The effective coverage is superior to the most 50,000 watt stations.

As audiences grew, additional advertisers were attracted to KSFO and KSFO, a trend which has accounted for as much as 315% increase in national billings, comparing this year with last.

In keeping with programming improvements, the KSFO sales department, under Commercial Manager Gary Gordon, was expanded and equipped with new sales tools, widespread research and merchandising service which provides advertisers with big, display cards on bills; 24-sheet outdoor displays; extensive retail promotions, direct mail, tie-ins on KSFO billboards, trade magazine insertions, in-store display and personal selling and other services make KSFO's merchandising outstanding in its field.

Although northern Californians enjoy their "product" on television, it's hard to find anyone today who doesn't listen to KSFO. They hear the music they want, the news in their favorite personalities, sports flashes, the weather, correct time, temperature and local color. They awaken to KSFO on their bedside radio. They start their day, dishes, do the ironing, drive to work, relax at lunchtime, sun on the patio accompanied by KSFO music, jump into the beach, around the pool, at the workshop, at the grocery store, around the yard, on the son-in-law's desk, in the barber chair, on the shine stand and at the corner tavern, KSFO is with them.

In northern California KSFO has proved that radio is a vital part of everybody's life. TV is great, but it doesn't provide the newscasts, the block music shows, the sports flashes, the intimacy, the friendly local personalities that people find on KSFO. And KSFO goes with them to every room of the house, in their car and around the outside of their house.

KSFO advertisers are quick to point out the important volume of business that KSFO supplies through its honest, sincere, person-to-person commercial approach.

As a national magazine article recently pointed out, television is okay . . . but they still love radio. In northern California they love KSFO.

GENERAL TELERADIO SEeks NEW FILMS

Sales of feature film group offered three months ago encourage GT to seek similar properties.

AFTER an encouraging sales tally of its feature film group offered stations three months ago, General Teleradio is announcing today (Monday) that it seeks additional and similar feature film properties.

The optimistic view of sales is reflected in a statement by Thomas F. O’Neill, MBS and General Teleradio president. He said sales for June through August, the period following GT’s initial offer of the films, “conclusively demonstrate that television stations need high-grade program material and will pay the price to get it.”

Mr. O’Neill said sales already have passed the figure of the original investment when GT last March negotiated an agreement with the Bank of America making General Teleradio the licensing agent in the U. S. and Canada for a group of 30 top-flight feature films.

Although no figures were given, it was learned that sales for the 90 days may range in the $1.4-1.5 million bracket. GT paid an estimated $1.25 million for the Bank of America film properties [B•TV, March 15].

Mr. O’Neill said GT films will be shown now in one of every five U. S. tv markets, and—“as a result of this successful venture, General Teleradio is in the market for any available comparable pictures.” According to GT officials, the stress is on “high quality, top grade” films around which stations could build their programming.

Mr. O’Neill scoffed at “skeptics who felt the price was too high to attract those who knew anything about the film business,” saying they “have changed opinions, proving that television is still a field for experiment.”

He referred also to Peter M. Robeck’s (sales manager, GT’s film division) report that stations are placing the features in Class A periods and “not merely using them in sign-off spots.” Mr. Robeck asserted the films’ sales vindicate GT’s original contention that the features would be used by stations as integral parts of their programming and thus land in Class A time position.

Touching on the advertiser point of view, Dwight Martin, the film division’s general manager, said sponsors are finding the films “a good investment.” He said markets sold are nationwide and include the top ones in the country.

GT’s other properties and production plans include a 39-episode, 15-minute documentary series, Great Dramas, now sold in 56 markets; a 13-episode (with another 13 to be produced), quarter-hour fairy tale series, and, others, including a 30-minute Gangbusters film series still to be unwrapped.

VITAPIX SCHEDULES 26 FOOTBALL FILMS

Film firm to distribute two series produced by Ray Gordon Productions to coincide with start of football season. Thirteen films comprise each series, one on professional games, the other on college.

TWENTY-SIX quarter-hour football films, 13 dealing with the professional game and 13 devoted to the college brand, will be offered in two series to tv audiences this fall. The films, produced by Ray Gordon Productions Inc. and distributed nationwide by the Vitapix Corp., New York, will be released to coincide with the regular football season.

Both series will present a complete story and will feature stars of past and present. Marty Glickman, well-known sports announcer, will provide narration for the film sequences which are said to have never been seen on television.

Pro Grid Classics will present memorable National Football League games with such former and present day stars as Sid Luckman, Sammy Baugh, Otto Graham, Steve Van Buren, and Elroy “Crazylegs” Hirsch.

College Grid Classics will feature such well-known players as Illinois’ Red Grange, Michigan’s Tom Harmon, Yale’s Albie Booth and Princeton’s Dick Kazmaier.

GUILD FILMS Co. reported last week that the featured personalities on its tv film shows are available for participation in individual, custom-made commercials. The stars are Liberace and his brother, George, Betty White, Joe Kirkwood, Cathy Downs, Florian Zabach, Frankie Laine and Connie Haines.

Designed to give sponsors of Guild Films programs the benefit of associating the star of the program with the product of the sponsor, the plans feature 24 types of commercials: (1) a full-endorsement commercial, timed from 30 seconds to one minute, with the star exhibiting the product and discussing it in the permanent setting of the show; or (2) an eight- to ten-second commercial in which the star mentions the product and leads into the conventional commercial. If the sponsor wishes, officials said, special settings, props, lettering and overlay of titles, stop motion animation, and other effects will be employed as needed.

The number of sponsors of Guild Films programs was estimated at around 500.

Art Gross, client relations director of Guild Films, has been put in charge of the new service. He said a number of commercials already have been produced for clients by Liberace, George Liberace and Betty White.

Meanwhile, Guild Films’ producer Walp Kaufman announced the signing of contracts under which the Liberace show will be carried on every Canadian tv station in operation this year or next—in all, a total of 22 English-language stations and three French-language outlets. Robin Hood Flour and the John Inglis Stores will sponsor the series on the English stations and Robin Hood Flour alone will underwrite the program on the French stations. Liberace will do integrated commercials for Robin Hood cakemix.

Contracts for the four company were negotiated by Norman Brown, advertising director of Robin Hood, and Bill Byles of Young & Rubicam, Toronto. For Inglis, negotiations were handled by E. E. M. Bastingwaighe, advertising director, and Peter Charles, of Spitzer & Mills, Toronto. Guild Films was represented by Spence Caldwell of Toronto.

Guild Films also reported that all five of its tv series—Life with Elizabeth, Joe Palooka, Liberace, Florian Zabach, and Frankie Laine shows—have been signed by James Henry, president of KTVE (TV) Longview, Tex., with showings there to start during the first two weeks of September.

Hollywood Tt to Release Old Autry, Rogers Films

HOLLYWOOD Tt Service, Republic Pictures tv subsidiary, is “going right ahead” with plans to release old Gene Autry and Roy Rogers theatrical films to television, Earl Collins, company president, reported last week.

Attorneys for both actors last week filed requests with the U. S. Supreme Court, asking a review of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals’ decision of last June allowing such showings.

While considering numerous offers received since the decision, Hollywood Tt Service probably will not make any definite commitment until after the Supreme Court convenes in October and a possible ruling is made on the cowboy actors’ requests, Mr. Collins said.

‘Favorite Story’ Adds 54

RENEWALS of Ziv Tt’s Favorite Story film series have reached 94% and, with 54 new markets added during the second run, the program currently is carried in more than 140 markets, M. J. Rifkin, vice president in charge of sales for Ziv Television Programs, announced last week. He said the series is offered in every one of its original markets. Additionally, he reported, Cisco Kid, now in its fifth year, has a renewal rate of 96%, and 75% of the advertisers who signed up for it four years ago are still sponsoring it.

A CREEPING BONDAGE is over 'casting radio-tv's most powerful truth-telling media in the world today," the American Legion Convention in Washington was told Thursday by NARTB President Harold E. Fellows.

The decision of the Watkins Committee, Senate restrictions and pending legislation are evidences of this stifling of freedom, he said, adding that at least one state has a law prohibiting radio-tv pickups in courtrooms.

Thus the principle of a free press is threatened in America today, he said, charging that "these freedoms are being limited by those who hold the greatest public trust: the elected members of our legislative bodies." Newman, he continued, may cover Congressional hearings with the old-fashioned pencil "but not with other modern instruments, cameras and microphones."

Mr. Fellows remarked that the Communications Act of 1934 charged radio-tv licensees to perform in the public interest yet "by rule of the senior body of the Congress, the legislators limit the ability of the licensees to meet that requirement."

He answered the charge that tv disturbs decorum of proceedings by explaining that the tv camera operates without sound or special lighting and pooling arrangements can be set up to serve all networks and stations. He told of the coverage of a criminal trial by WKY-TV Oklahoma City by a tv film camera, with the judge lauding the conduct of tv personnel and lack of interference with the trial.

"Is it progress that the scientist should open the door to greater knowledge and the law-maker close it?" Mr. Fellows asked. "Controlled by government, broadcasting can be employed insidiously to whip a nation's people into a fervor of hate—and spawn such a catastrophe of lies that truth has no face."

"Unfettered, this medium takes its rightful place as a free public's detector—a circumstance much to be desired in these days of silent witnesses and iron curtains."

Montana Radio Group Elects Clark President

V. V. (BUD) CLARK, general manager of KOOK-AM-TV Billings, Mont., has been elected president of the Montana Radio Stations Inc., broadcasters' group, succeeding Ian A. Elliot, general manager, KATL Miles City. It was announced last week.

The broadcasters held their fall meeting last Monday and Tuesday near Flathead Lake and were addressed, informally, by FCC Chairman Rosel H. Hyde, who then was vacationing in the East.

Two resolutions were adopted by the group:

(I) Urging a fact-finding survey, through NARTB, to study usage of music licensed by SESAC Inc. and payment for that use.

The Montana group contends the license fee charged by SESAC is out of proportion to the percentage of SESAC-controlled music used by the stations.

(2) Requesting the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. to study the standards of lines used for transmission of radio programs.

NARTB was represented by John F. Magaur, vice president in charge of radio, who made a public offer to SESAC to participate in a survey. W. F. (Jim) Meyers, SESAC manager of station relations, spoke for the firm in a floor discussion.

Joseph P. Wilkins, president, KBBF-AM-TV Great Falls, was re-elected vice president, and Charlotte Brader, general manager, KOJM Havre, was elected secretary-treasurer.

IBA Protests 45 Rpm Switch

A RESOLUTION has been adopted by the board of directors of the Indiana Broadcasters Assn. protestting the action of the "recording manufacturers changing to 45 rpm without prior consultation with the broadcasting industry." The resolution was adopted at a meeting in Indianapolis a fortnight ago and claims the manufacturers' action "constitutes a breach of faith and subjects IBA member stations to unnecessary expense."

Broadcasters Challenge W. Va. Insurance Ruling

WEST VIRGINIA Broadcasters Assn. will ask the state attorney general to rule on constitutionality of a law passed by the last legislature which forbids broadcast or telecast of advertising for any insurance company not licensed by the state.

The association contends the law is unconstitutional. President L. H. Rogers, WSAZ-AM-TV Huntington, requested Alice Shein, WTVM Williamson, to investigate steps necessary to test the insurance law. New members added to the association's legislative committee at its Aug. 27-28 meeting held at White Sulphur Springs' Greenbrier Hotel were Robert W. Ferguson, WTRF-TV Wheeling; Walter Paterson, WHAR Clarksburg; Aud N. Archer, WCOM Parkersburg; Pat J. Flanagan, WHIS Bluefield, and Robert R. Thomas, WOAY Oak Hill.

The association is greatly expanding its legislative activity and plans to retain counsel to watch legislative developments affecting radio.

Warned Away

COMMITTEE of Conference of California Judges, a voluntary group of state and municipal judges in courts of record, advised members not to appear on commercially sponsored TV programs, even if programs are of a public benefit nature and that they accept no compensation for such appearances.

NARTB President Harold E. Fellows also announced that KOB Albuquerque has joined the association to bring total membership of Time Inc. radio and TV properties to 1000.

Adrian Murphy, CBS Radio president, announced the network and its owned and operated stations have joined NARTB effective last Wednesday. CBS-TV and its owned TV stations already are NARTB members.

Other Time Inc. properties are: KOB-TV Albuquerque; KLX-AM-TV Denver, and KDYL and KTVT (TV) Salt Lake City.

Advertisers Increase
Spot Buying on Radio

GENERAL increase in the number of radio stations being used by major national spot advertisers was reported last week by Executives Radio-TV Service, Larchmont, N. Y.

Citing data contained in its monthly "Spot Radio Report," the firm said a check of 50 leading national advertisers in 14 different product categories showed they are currently buying time on a total of 2,013 radio stations as compared with 1,883 stations used during the same month in 1953.

NETWORK BILLINGS SHOW 19% GAIN

Gross time sales for first seven months of '54 reach $257 million for radio for tv networks. Gross time sales for the national radio and television networks during the first seven months of 1954 reached a total of $257,051,500 for a gain of almost 19% over those for the comparable period of 1953.

These figures were computed from data compiled by Publishers Information Bureau, which showed that while gross time sales on the four nationwide radio networks declined almost 11.5% in the 1954 January-July period, television network gross time sales climbed approximately 42.7% over the same span.

Television network figures aggregated $172,957,857 as against $81,990,227 for the first seven months of 1953, while radio network totals were $84,093,643 for January-July this year as compared to $95,001,140 for the same period a year ago.

For July 1954 alone, network radio's gross time sales totaled $9,567,329, representing a drop of approximately 22% from the July 1953 total of $12,226,249. ABC was the only radio network to show a gain (about 3.3%) over July 1953. Network television's July 1954 figure of $22,944,803 represented an increase of 41%—almost the same growth for the entire seven-month period—over July 1953's $16,217,790.

The PIB figures show seven-month television totals for 1954, network by network, as follows: CBS-TV $77,777,963; NBC-TV $70,443,559; ABC-TV $17,517,945, and DuMont, $7,218,390.

For radio, the 1954 January-July totals are listed as follows: CBS Radio $33,604,356; NBC Radio $20,697,370; ABC Radio $17,269,420; Mutual $12,522,497.

'CAROL' STORMS THROUGH NEW ENGLAND TOPPLING ONE TV, TEN RADIO TOWERS

Many New England stations suspend regular programming to carry hurricane warnings and disaster information.

NEW ENGLAND'S disastrous "Hurricane Carol," which last week wrought up to $375 million dollars in destruction, killing 50 persons and injuring about a thousand, also was disastrous for a number of radio-tv facilities in the area, first reports indicated last week.

Coinciding to the high winds were the 649-foot tower of WBZ-TV Boston, which toppled and also destroyed some of the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. outlet's second floor offices; a 375-foot directional tower operated by WTAG-AM-FM Worcester; the tower of WVOV-Brookline (Boston), and two towers of WPJB-AM-FM Providence. WNAC Boston lost the tops of two of its three radio towers to the hurricane and the two towers of WEAN Providence were downed.

The fm tower of WPRO Providence was flattened, putting the WPRO-FM facility off the air, and a power failure put WPRO-AM off the air for two hours Tuesday afternoon. Except for that interruption, WPRO-AM operated at full power. The tower of WICE Providence was knocked down and its transmitter and sight washed away from its location at Bold Point in West Providence. WICE will be off the air at least 60 days.

Electric power failures were presumed to have put many stations off the air. Broadcasters rose to the emergency both before and after the storm struck Tuesday. WTAG's directional tower was two-thirds knocked down but broadcasting was not affected. The station used one of its three gas-powered generators at its transmitter at Holden.

Warning Bulletins

WTAG had been airing hurricane warning bulletins since the previous evening, maintaining contact with the Weather Bureau in Boston, the Worcester airport and civil defense headquarters. Station personnel manned telephones, answering queries from listeners mindful of last year's tornado disaster there. A WTAG mobile unit went to Holden and taped an interview with station news commentator Jim Little and Cliff Davis, weatherman, of the Forecasting Gadgete, Special bulletins warned listeners to beware of fallen wires and other hazards.

Lyda Flanders, on her weekday Modern Kitchen, rallied her listeners to act quickly to preserve fruits from trees by the wind, air- ming emergency canning recipes.

WBZ General Manager Paul Mills was credited with some quick thinking which possibly saved many lives. Acting on a "hunch," he ordered all employees out of the sales, traffic and promotion offices to the first floor a few seconds before the tower fell at 12:10 p.m.

Damage to WBZ-AM-FM-TV facilities was estimated at a half-million dollars when the tower snapped at the 200-foot mark and tons of steel fell across the nearby two-story building which houses the stations. Cost of a new tower was estimated at a quarter-million dollars. Instructed his employes to stay out of the building.

WBZ-TV was off the air from 12:10 p.m. to 9:10 p.m., resuming telecasting with the use of a 216-foot standby tower, installed in 1951 for emergencies. WBZ was off the air for less than three minutes because of a power failure. One employee, Joyce Johnson, 20, received minor injuries when debris fell around her.

W. C. Swartley, WBZ-TV general manager, in Chicago at an NBC affiliate meeting, returned to Boston by air, and W. H. Hauser, chief engineer, drove back from a vacation on Cape Cod.

A 100-man emergency clean-up crew removed the debris of the tower within an hour to clear a roadway. Films of the destroyed tower were made by WBZ-TV and fed to NBC-TV by WNAC-TV Boston, CBS affiliate. WBZ radio supplied news to WJAR-TV Providence, cut off from news wire service to Boston by power failures. WJAR-TV, operating on emergency power, could transmit only network programs. The station resumed regular programming Friday with the arrival of a Caterpillar mobile electric set which enabled the station to return to full power.

When the tops of two of WNAC's three radio towers were downed at 10:40 a.m. Tuesday, the station continued on the air under emergency power from a diesel-operated generator.

The Yankee Network key station continued on the air all day with messages from state police, Gov. Christian Herter's office, civil defense agencies, municipalities and others. Storm warnings were broadcast about every 10 minutes, the station said.

The WNAC radio towers are in Burlington, Mass. A 40-foot segment was blown from one, a 50-foot portion was bent over from the second and the third was left intact.

WNAC-TV was put off the air at 11:02 a.m. because of a power failure, but returned to operation sometime later.

It was the second time WEAN Providence, another Yankee outlet, had lost its two radio towers. The first time was during the hurricane of 1938.

WWLP (TV) Springfield instituted an emergency program under direction of William L. Putnam, treasurer and stockholder. The tv station claims it was the only one in that area on the air without interruption, with John Quill, weatherman for the ch. 61 outlet, on the air almost continuously.

The telephone company sent a truck to WBNH from mountain transmitter location to keep a studio quiz show—depending upon telephone calls—from being interrupted. When network service was interrupted, the station maintained service by its own microwave link.

WPRO Providence was thrown off the air when its two transmitter towers were blown down.

WMTW (TV) Poland, Me., with transmitter located on the top of Mt. Washington, N. H., remained standing up unscathed but no damage to its transmitter. When the hurricane hit, WMTW was installing a microwave disc and the end of the transmitter building was opened but the disc was anchored down.

WYDA Boston stayed on the air throughout the hurricane, breaking into programs from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. to air information on the disaster, according to Lambert Beeuwkes, general manager. The station had four crews of newsmen roving the area from Gloucester, Mass., to Newport, R. I., with tape recorders and beeper phones.

A newsman interviewed other newsmen at WBZ-TV regarding the destruction of the latter's tower. Rod MacLeish, WYDA chief, fed ABC an all-New England round-up or the hurricane, Mr. Beeuwkes said.

WBKS Minot, N. D., reported it gave continuous barometer readings from Montauk Point to New York City during the hurricane and was able to predict for listeners the exact center of the storm as it approached and hit Long Island.

Telephones Out

WEIM Fitchburg, Mass., was cut off the air and for a while both power and telephone services were interrupted as falling trees pulled down poles and wires in three places along the feed to its transmitter on Alpine Road.

Power was restored first and WEIM operated as usual from its studios by using its mobile unit to replace the downed telephone wires. Telephone wires were back to normal two hours after power was restored, with Chief Engineer Ted Kalin and engineers Jim Gould and Cliff Ely helping restore the station to the air.

WOPR Boston remained on the air without interruption, abandoning all regular programs in favor of transmitting reports on progress of the hurricane, flashes from stricken communities and warnings.

Roland C. Hale, chief engineer and assistant station manager, ordered an auxiliary gasoline-driven generator out to take over power problems. Bill Marlowe aired reports furnished by the Boston Post editorial staff. He was relieved by Ellie Dierdorff, Jim Brokaw and Carl Stuart. Boston Post Promotion Manager Mark Finley coordinated radio news coverage.

New York stations as a whole stepped up presentations of special programs and bulletins on progress of the hurricane, traffic reports, accounts of damage, etc. WNBC was off the air for 29 seconds while auxiliary equipment was put into use when power failed.

On Long Island, in the hurricane's path, some stations were less fortunate. WPAC and WALK Patchogue were reported off the air through Tuesday evening, all damage reported.

WHLI Hempstead, L. I., using its emergency generator from sign-on Tuesday morning, missed no airtime, called in off-duty personnel, and provided listeners with bulletins every five minutes plus occasional on-the-spot interviews in flooded areas. WHLI estimated at least 100 special spot announcements were bought by utilities companies, stores announcing postponements of scheduled sales, and the like.

NBC SPOT SALES SETS AUGUST HIGH

RECORD $4.25 million in radio and television billings was signed by NBC Spot Sales during August for a 30% gain over the total for the same month last year, Spot Sales Director Thomas B. McFadden announced last week.

"These figures represent net dollars for confirmed orders, making this the best August in terms of sales in the history of NBC Spot Sales," Mr. McFadden said.

A breakdown of the August totals showed radio billings up approximately 30% over August 1953 while tv billings gained 28%, he reported.

Mr. McFadden found the increase in radio sales "particularly noteworthy, because it reflects a growing cultivation of radio as an advertising medium by those who recognize that radio is still the most economical and best buy for advertisers."

He continued:

"The television increase reflects the growing practice of clients not to relinquish their time periods during the summer months in order to safeguard their time franchises. At the same time, part of the increase is due to the fact that other advertisers are buying time earlier each year in order to obtain the best remaining availabilities."

NBC Spot Sales represents 16 radio and tv stations, including NBC o&o's, plus the Crosley group of radio-tv outlets in markets outside New York and Chicago.

40,000 requests for seeds from 209 Texas counties and Louisiana parishes in five weeks!

"OPERATION SEEDS"—a public service promotion campaign which resulted in the distribution to listeners of forty thousand packets each of cantaloupe and cockscomb seeds—brought mail in classifiable quantities from 125 Texas counties and Louisiana parishes shown in darker shading on the mail map, and from 84 “heard from” counties. OVER FIVE MILLION PEOPLE live in this area in 1,423,000 RADIO HOMES. They earned a CONSUMER SPENDABLE INCOME of $6,402,205,000 in 1953, and spent $4,965,559,000 of it in RETAIL PURCHASES. KTRH can reach this fabulous market with your advertising message just as it did in “OPERATION SEEDS.”
Radio Railroaded by the Sante Fe

Radio's been working on the railroad—but without deserved recognition—G. B. McDermott, president of KBUR Burlington, Iowa, declared in a letter to Sante Fe Railroad President F. G. Gurley.

If anything came about, Mr. Gurley had inserted a "paid for" advertisement in the Burlington Hawkeye Gazette praising individuals, groups and companies for services rendered in connection with the crackup of the Sante Fe "Chief" in Lomax, Iowa, but made no mention of the part radio had played in reporting the disaster.

Mr. McDermott spoke up for KBUR as well as neighboring stations (KSG Madison, WGIL Galesburg and WKAI Macomb) when he protested the complete disregard of radio's contribution during the emergency—in spite of the fact that radio told the story "...almost as it happened..." while the Hawkeye Gazette did not have an issue on the streets "until 24 hours after the accident."

Here are some of KBUR's credits on the Lomax scene:

• A brief flash to the radio audience as soon as the report was received.

• A radioed request for doctors and ambulances.

• Regularly-scheduled broadcasts and station break news briefs, as often as every five minutes.

ALLEN CRIME PROGRAM CONCEALS MR. 'X' NAME

Steve Allen admits bowing to pressure not to use the name of a garment manufacturer with a police record.

COMEDIAN Steve Allen undertook a "serious" anti-crime documentary Tuesday night on NBC's WNB TV New York, which the station claimed drew favorable response but which also created something of a "whodunit" with Mr. Allen the chief character.

During the special program, which was sustaining and on the New York station only, Mr. Allen mentioned that he had bowed to "pressure" not to use the name of a garment manufacturer with a police record. The person was referred to on the program only as a "Mr. X." New York newspapers identified Mr. X as Benjamin Levine, garment maker, whose whole record, according to Jack O'Brien, New York Journal-American columnist, "extends through 'Murder Inc.' back to 1910."

At a news conference later, Mr. Allen explained that the decision not to mention Mr. X's name on the program was his own because he feared that the station, although he believed it would have backed him, may have been obliged to postpone or cancel the program. The show, called "The Tenth Commandment," was slated to run from 11:20 to midnight, but ran over some 35 minutes. The anti-crime, anti-racketeering program was scheduled in the place of Mr. Allen's usual weekly variety show on at that time.

The alleged "pressure" was in the form of telephone calls to Mr. Allen and to station officials. Mr. Allen, whose avocation is study- ing crime, was said by WNB to have collected for some six years the material used in the program's script. The station said NBC at-

Bartell Starts Stock Plan, Gives Shares to 22 Employees

STOCK PLAN covering employees at three stations—WOKY-AM-TV Milwaukee, WMTV (TV) Madison and WAL Appleton, all Wisconsin—has been announced by Bartell Broadcasters Inc. and Bartell Television Corp.

Shares of stock were distributed to 22 employees of the three stations Aug. 29 at a breakfast meeting in Milwaukee's Schroeder Hotel. Lee Bartell, secretary-treasurer of Bartell Broadcasters Inc. (WOKY-AM-TV and WAPL), said it was "just the beginning of a plan" which ultimately will cover about 75 employees. Gerald Bartell, president of Bartell Broadcasters Inc. and Bartell Television Corp. (WMTV), issued this statement:

"Every employee wants to feel he is in a large measure working for himself and his fellow workers. As we spread the ownership of our companies, to those who make them what they are, we know that a greater effort and greater success will result."

Between two and 20 shares will be distributed to each employee on the basis of "loyalty, service and other qualities" and under any contractual requirements, according to Lee Bartell. Selections will rest with the board of directors of each firm.

THE HEIGHT which man may reach has been demonstrated by KWTV (TV) Oklahoma City which, with the placing of the antenna atop its tower last Wednes- day, brought the height of "the world's tallest man-made structure" to 1,372 ft. Edgar T. Barrett, executive vice president of the station, reports that it expects to be operating at full 50 kw power Oct. 1.
Station Uses AP News To Build More Revenue From Present Sponsors

WPLH, at Huntington, W. Va., was carrying a heavy load of "spots" but had room for additional sponsorships of its popular five-minute AP news programs.

General Manager F. J. Evans analyzed his list of sponsors. One of the heavy "spot" users was Lawrence Drug, which had been a sponsor with the station since WPLH went on the air in 1946. The "spots" had done a good job for the firm. Wouldn't one of the five-minute news programs do a better one? A WPLH account executive talked it over with the druggist, and he agreed.

Within a month Evans had shifted two more satisfied "spot" buyers to five-minute AP news. One was B&B Food Market, featuring its own brand of coffee. The other was Pilgrim Laundry. And in each case, the sponsor's satisfaction increased.

In a multi-station community, Evans says, "Make the most of what you already have. In our case, it paid off for the station and for our sponsors."

Super Salesmanship

Many of New York's agencymen can't get away from it all—even on Saturday. WNBC New York reports it has hired an airplane to cruise around Long Island Sound on Saturdays, towing such messages as: "Ad Men! Time is Going Fast on WNBC—Buy Now!" The plane flies along the shores of Long Island, Westchester County and lower Connecticut. According to Max Buck, promotion director of WNBC-AM-TV, the heavy concentration of advertising personnel in those areas on weekends makes the "cost per thousand of airplane advertising mighty low."

Jones Promoted at WTOP-TV

THOMAS BOWIE JONES, creative producer-director for WTOP-TV Washington, has been promoted to program director succeeding H. Thomas Tausig who has resigned to go into other television activities. Mr. Tausig will remain with the station as a program department consultant until Sept. 11.

Mr. Jones majored in speech and drama at the U. of Maryland. He was one of the first students chosen by WTOP-TV in June 1951 to launch a special student training program in cooperation with that university.

WNBT (TV) Hits New High In Monthly Net Billings

The HIGHEST monthly net billings total in the station's history—$2.5 million—was recorded by NBC-owned WNBT (TV) New York in August, helping to insure 1954's being WNBT's best year yet, General Manager Hamilton Shes announced last week.

He reported that the station's sales figures for the first two months of the third quarter of 1954 "surpassed that same period of 1953 by well over 60%, already establishing 1954 as the banner year in the station's history."

The August surge was attributed to heavy purchases by advertisers in such product categories as food, department store, automotive, beverage, and tobacco. New orders included Fiel's beer, Chevrolet Motors, Ballantine beer, Wrigley chewing gum, Brown & Williamson tobacco, Guild wine, Standard Brands and Nestle Co.

"These increases reflect broad advances," said WNBT Sales Manager Jay Helin. "For instance, sale of time to beverage products was 50% ahead of August 1953, with drugs 153% ahead, and with the entertainment industry buying 236% more than last year. Longer contracts and fewer summer hiatus were exercised, all of which has contributed substantially to the growth and stability of the 1954 record."

WBTV (TV) Color 'First'

"FIRST station in the South to originate and transmit a colorcast" is the claim of WBTV (TV) Charlotte, N. C., after the Aug. 22 presentation of several color slides and an Aug. 24 locally originated 20 minute color film show. CBS-TV's The Big Payoff was telecast by the station on Aug. 25.

WBTV licensed to The Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Co., reports it has been on the air with the color bar test pattern since last May 14 and now runs a color test pattern each weekday morning.

FCC, NARTB TO WORK ON ALCOHOL PROBE

Beer-wine, advertising data asked by House Commerce Committee in lieu of reporting out Bryson bill.

FCC and NARTB apparently will consider ways to cooperate in answering a mandate by the House Commerce Committee asking data on radio-tv time taken up by beer and wine advertisers and the amount of revenues involved.

This was indicated last Thursday when the Commission approved a proposal that members of the FCC staff confer with NARTB to study ways to obtain the information sought by the House group.

The House Commerce Committee just before Congress adjourned asked for radio-tv beer and wine advertising and program data in a report issued in lieu of reporting out the Bryson bill (HR 1227) on liquor advertising (B-T, Aug. 23).

The House group, headed by Rep. Charles A. Wolverton (R-N.J.), also asked similar information from the beer and wine industries, but it was not indicated immediately how the latter would collect such information.

Meanwhile, before the FCC action last week, NARTB was preparing confidential questionnaire to send to the nation’s broadcasters in carrying out the House Commerce Committee request.

The House group’s report rebuked broadcasters and the beer and wine industries for an excess of beer and wine commercials and asked the radio-tv industry to report back Jan. 1 on what it is doing to curb liquor advertising.

Questionnaire in Mail

Robert K. Richards, NARTB administrative vice president, said earlier that the questionnaire was expected to be completed and the forms put in the mails this week.

Working out the contents of the questionnaire at NARTB were Mr. Richards; Ralph Hardy, government relations vice president; Richard Allerton, research department manager, and Vincent T. Wasilewski, chief attorney.

The House Commerce Committee held hearings last spring (T&T, May 31, 24) on the Bryson bill, which would have prohibited advertising of alcoholic beverages on radio and tv and in newspapers and most other media. The House group’s report, however, singled out broadcasters for criticism, saying, “The efforts of the broadcasting industry and particularly the television industry at self-regulation in this highly sensitive field of advertising and programming, have not been as successful as the committee might justifiably have expected.”

The proposed conference between the FCC and NARTB is intended to eliminate duplication in questioning broadcasters. The proposal for the conference was made to the FCC membership by Comr. Robert E. Lee.

Comr. Lee last week told B-T there “is no reason why we can’t coordinate this matter with NARTB and cut out unnecessary work. After all, we’re here to help the industry and not to hurt it.”

It is expected that Curtis Plummer, chief of the FCC Broadcast Bureau, will designate the Commission staff members who will meet with NARTB. The Commission left to the staff the details of working out a date and place for the conferences, it was learned.

Progress Sat This One Out

ONE OF THE oldest tricks in pictorial journalism was being employed by NBC-TV last week to offset advantages given to printed media by a special Senate committee’s proscription of radio-tv at its hearings.

FOLLOWING an ingenious idea reminiscent of the 19th Century sketch-to-woodcut days, the network hired well-known cartoonist Leo Hershfield to sketch principals in action at the hearings. The drawings are being used daily to illustrate coverage of the hearings on John Cameron Swayze’s Camel Caravan news show.

McCArTHY COVERAGE ON ‘MAKE DO’ BASIS

Cameras and microphones stationed outside censure hearing catch participants as they come and go.

CONFRONTED with a ban on live radio and television coverage of a special Senate committee’s hearings last week, broadcasters were using what means were left to them to bring the story to the nation’s listeners and viewers. (Also see box story above).

Trained on the door of the Senate Office Bldg.’s Caucus Room, where six senators are holding hearings on a Senate motion to censure Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), was a battery of sound film cameras on the ready for interviews of principals who step outside the door.

They were manned by cameramen from Telenews-Hearts Metrotone News, United Press-Fox Movietone News, CBS-TV Newfilm and NBC-TV News Film. All furnish film to television.

ABC Radio was making three live news pick-ups daily from a table outside the door, with commentator John Edwards putting together the quarter-hour summaries, “including a lot of the testimony,” using reports relayed to him from inside the hearing room. ABC also was taping interviews for network pool coverage.

Before the sessions opened Tuesday morning NBC-TV made three live pickup from the Caucus Room, with a color commentary by Earl Godwin.

NBC-TV had scheduled a live interview with Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utaht), chairman of the special committee, for 8:45 a.m. Tuesday, but the six-man committee, meeting the night before, vetoed the interview.

After the first day’s hearing, NBC-TV interviewed Sen. McCarthy and Sen. Ed. C. Johnson (D-Colo.), following a clash between Sens. Watkins and McCarthy about the latter’s claim that Sen. Johnson should be disqualified from the committee because of what the Wisconsin senator said was prejudice against him by the Coloradan.

A Washington Post news story, referring to the McCarthy-Watkins rhabar, commented: “It immediately proved at least one thing, if it needed proof: That even without television and the photographers who were barred during the actual hearing, the temperament of the participants would be the chief guide to the atmosphere in the hearings.”

Broadcasters, on the other hand, have maintained the electronic media only reflect what is happening, but do not create such scenes.

Oklahoma TV denies perjury charge

Post-grant fight for ch. 12 goes into second round as Oklahoma TV disputes charges made by Columbia Empire Telecasters.

THE POST-GRANT fight for ch. 12 at Portland, Ore., went into the second round last week before the FCC as Oregon Television Inc. denied the charge of Columbia Empire Telecasters Inc. that principals of Oregon Television testified falsely about the "resignation and disappearance" of Walter J. Stiles Jr. during the hearing [B*T, Aug. 30]. Mr. Stiles was to have become Columbia Empire's partner.

Winner of the decision in the two-year ch. 12 contest, Oregon Television requested that the petition of Columbia Empire for further hearing "be forthwith and summarily dismissed."

The reply of Oregon Television contained affidavits by Mr. Stiles and his engineering associate, Paul Bennewitz. These, it claimed, denied that the pair earlier had told counsel for Columbia Empire that they were willing to testify in further proceeding.

"Since the very persons alleged to be in a position to furnish new evidence have stated they are not in such a position, there is no sufficient ground to support rehearing," the Oregon Tele reply relented.

Furthermore, the reply held, as has been Oregon Television's position from the outset of the proceeding, "the so-called 'Stiles incident' has no probative weight on any of the issues before the Commision in this cause. Walter J. Stiles was not an officer, director or stockholder of Oregon Television Inc., he was an employee. The employer-employee relationship was terminated and that fact was brought to the Commission's attention early in the hearing. The hearing was completed and the Commission quite properly found that Oregon Television Inc. was legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified and that it should prevail over its competitor applicants."

Columbia Empire "has alleged no facts which gainsay the soundness of this decision," the Oregon Tele reply continued, "but would have the Commission reopen this matter purely on the basis of inferences and conclusions of third persons which are not only without foundation in fact but which are immaterial to the issue of the public interest as between Oregon Television Inc. and Columbia Empire."

Oregon Television is headed by industrialist Henry A. White and Julius L. Meier Jr. of Meier & Frank Dept. Store. Columbia Empire is part owned by the Oregon Journal-KPOJ Interests. Also part owner is Wesley D. Dunn, operator of KSFO San Francisco who recently sold KPIX (TV) San Francisco to Westinghouse Electric Corp. for $6 million. Third contestant for ch. 12 was Northwest Television and Broadcast Co., headed by John D. Keating, part owner of KONA (TV) Honolulu and KYA San Francisco.

The affidavit of Mr. Stiles, dated Aug. 28 and attached to the Oregon Tele reply, said that on Aug. 27 he received a call while at work in Tucson (KOPO-TV) from West Coast attorney who wished to show him two documents in the ch. 12 controversy. Mr. Stiles said he met Mr. Brenner at a local hotel later that day and was presented the affidavits of Mr. Brenner and Dick Bell, assistant to Mr. Dunn. Mr. Stiles' affidavit continued:

"After reading these documents in his presence I immediately departed from the hotel without any discussion or depositions."

I would like to state categorically that I have never read any part of the hearing transcript and did repeatedly so inform Mr. Brenner and Mr. Bell. Furthermore, I never authorized Mr. Brenner or Mr. Bell at any time to make any statement on any subject whatsoever, nor did I knowingly provide them with any information upon which they could have based the statements made in the aforementioned affidavits, and I do hereby reject and repudiate any and all statements made by Mr. Brenner and/or any other documents by the aforementioned gentlemen were made without my consent.

Further, I would like to state that Oregon Television, Columbia Empire, or any other group or individual have not exerted pressure on me or made any improper or improper influence or any other consideration of any kind or nature for the preparation of this statement.

Mr. Bennewitz' affidavit said:

"That having read the affidavits of Joseph Brenner, Richard D. Bell, Alfred E. Towne (KPIX-TV), I wish essentially to state that I do not now have nor have at any time had any personal or contact with Oregon Television-Columbia Empire controversy. Any statements made by me in the aforementioned affidavits and/or any other documents by the aforementioned gentlemen were made without my consent.

In furtherance of the above statement, I declare under penalty of perjury that I have no knowledge of the statements made or reports that are the basis of the affidavits furnished.

'Further, I would like to state that Oregon Television, Columbia Empire, or any other group or individual have not exerted pressure on me or made any improper or improper influence or any other consideration of any kind or nature for the preparation of this statement.'"

Lamb sells Whoo to Mowry Lowe

Former WEAN manager to pay $295,000 for Orlando outlet.

BROADCASTER-publisher Edward Lamb is to dismiss his tv bid.

EDWARD LAMB has sold WHOO-AM-FM Orlando, Fla., for $295,000 to Mowry Lowe, the former owner of KONA (TV)-TV) Honolulu and KYA San Francisco.

The license renewal application of WICU is in hearing status before an FCC examiner with issues involving charges by the Commission that Mr. Lamb falsely told FCC in earlier statements that he never had community relations. Mr. Lamb continues to deny such associations and has petitioned FCC to postpone the WICU case, now set for Sept. 15, and to provide a more detailed bill of particulars on the charges [B*T, Aug. 30].

WHOO is an ABC affiliate on 990 kc with 10 kw day and 5 kw night directional. WHOO FM is a Class B outlet.

Mr. Lowe joined WEAN in 1931 and was general manager from 1930 until April of this year, the application stated. WEAN a fortnight ago was sold by General Teleradio Inc. to the Providence Journal Co. for about $280,000.

Proposing to sell his home in Providence and move to Orlando, Mr. Lowe was an organizer and 2.8% stockholder in Hope Broadcasting Co., one of several original contestants for ch. 12. Mr. Lowe is now in Nashville, Tenn., seeking toapper before WPRO following a merger proposal. The ch. 12 grant was proposed by ch. 12 WNET (TV) there and the case now is before FCC.

Proposed as manager of the prospective Hope Broadcasting ch. 12 station, Mr. Lowe believes he can fulfill the WHOO sale application that the Providence merger was worked out without his knowledge or consent. He explained he was to get 0.7% interest in the merger venture with no management prospect, so he protested.

When told he would have to resign from WHOO if he wished to acquire the 0.7% interest in the ch. 12 grantee, Mr. Lowe refused, the application continued. Amended from his WHOO post in April by John B. Poor, president of Hope Broadcasting, "in his (Poor's) capacity as general counsel for General Teleradio Inc.," the application asserted, pointing out the controversy "has not been resolved."

No change in the WHOO staff is contemplated, the application said. Mr. Lowe expects to take over general supervision in cooperation with the present personnel. Carl F. Hallberg is general and commercial manager; Walter Mitchell is program director, and Donald E. Compton is chief engineer.

The bid said WHOO grossed $225,000 in 1952 and $250,000 in 1953. The balance sheet for the station as of June 30 showed current assets of $48,931.37, total assets of $151,613.30 and current liabilities of $71,430.03.

At Atlanta, new facilities on ch. 225 (92.9 mc) with ERP of 3 kw were granted to Glenkaren Assoc, Inc. Glenkaren is owned by Locke E. Glenn, associated with firms selling sound equipment.

NEITHER the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New Orleans nor the Society of Jesus has any control over Loyola U. and its WWL. New Orleans stations are as far as the construction and operation of the school's proposed ch. 4 tv station is concerned, the Very Rev. W. Patrick Donnelly S. J., Loyola president, asserted last week in a statement filed with FCC. His affidavit was in response to an order by Hearing Examiner Elizabeth C. Smith granting in a pending case by ch. 4 competitor WNOE seeking to require WWL to produce data on the world-wide scope of the religious order and its educational and commercial interests. [B&T, July 26, 12]. The ch. 4 hearing also includes a third applicant, WTPS New Orleans. Rev. Donnelly stated there are no other radio-television stations or other media of mass communication under common control with Loyola U. though the various colleges of the university, such as liberal arts, law dentistry or music "may in a sense be considered as media of mass communication. Also from time to time the university publishes various catalogs, year-books, a student newspaper and similar items which may be considered media of mass communication."

Rev. Donnelly explained that administration of the Jesuit Order, founded in 1540, is by provincials and within these individual corporations are created for the purpose of operating churches, schools and colleges. Loyola U., he said, is under the administration of a board of seven directors, all of whom, by charter, must be members of the Society of Jesus.

Of the seven directors, he said, three are chosen by the president of Loyola and the other four—the president, vice president, secretary and treasurer—are directors ex-officio. The vice president, secretary and treasurer are appointed by the Provincial of the New Orleans Province from names submitted by the president of the university while the president is appointed by the Superior General on the recommendation of the New Orleans Provincial, the statement explained.

"If it could be said that the Society of Jesus exercises any control over the construction and operation of the proposed television station, this could be said only hypothetically by reference to the power of appointment above described," Rev. Donnelly said. He continued: "I am not aware of any such exercise of power or attempted use thereof. Loyola U. has operated WWL since March 30, 1922. I do not know of any instance nor have I been informed of any instance where the so-called power of appointment has been used to influence the conduct and operation of WWL."

GOP TO USE FILMS, TAPES IN CAMPAIGN

Local and state candidates to add their comments to film clips and tape excerpts from talks by President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

REPUBLICANS plan to use 15-minute films and tape containing clips and excerpts from talks by President Dwight Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon on radio and television stations during the fall election campaigns, it was indicated last week at a three-day "workshop" meeting of the GOP National Committee in Cincinnati.

A committee spokesman said each quarter-hour film and tape would contain about nine minutes of talks by the President or Mr. Nixon, allowing local and state candidates to add their own comments to each quarter-hour production.

The film clips and tape excerpts will be supplied by the GOP National Committee, but details of working-in candidates' tapes by local and state Republican aspirants for office remained to be completed, the spokesman said.

He said also that the national committee plans to use extensive spots made up the same way in both radio and tv.

He said the national committee also expects to buy a 15-minute period of time on full networks for live speeches by top Republican figures. The number of such periods will depend on the funds available and the "situation," he said.

Republican officials have asked the President to make a nationwide radio-tv address Oct. 7 to headline a special precinct-level drive.

He said some states are planning statewide radio and tv regional networks for candidates. Among these are Ohio Republicans, who plan to have Vice President Nixon in that state in mid-September to make talks on behalf of GOP candidates.

The Republican National Committee workshop sessions were held Monday through Wednesday at Cincinnati's Netherland Plaza Hotel, with five subcommittees conducting separate sessions.

Examiner Favors WREC for Ch. 3

INITIAL decision proposing to grant ch. 3 in Memphis to WREC there and denial of the competing application of WMPS was issued last week by FCC Hearing Examiner Claire W. Hardy.

The examiner concluded that each applicant was fully qualified to receive the grant. He said that in all the major areas of comparison, except that of inintegration of ownership and management and of local and state support the differences between them were not significant.

In support of his preference for WREC in the area of past programming, the examiner said that the noncommercial spot announcements of WREC were greatly in excess of WMPS; that WMPS carried percentage-wise more hours of commercial programming, and that WMPS carried about three times as many commercial spot announcements as did WREC.

The decision further stated that "has allowed the broadcasting of several recorded songs which were vulgar and suggestive" and has allowed the broadcast of "bait and switch" advertising. The examiner placed the fault upon WMPS for not exercising greater supervisory care to eliminate these from its programs.
Huntington, Grand Rapids
Tv Decisions Made Final

FCC last week made effective 'immediately two initial decisions promoting to grant new TV stations at Huntington, W. Va., and Grand Rapids, Mich. Both grants were enabled by the withdrawal of competitive applications.

- At Huntington, the ch. 13 facility was granted to WHTN there. The grant was made possible by the withdrawal last March of the competing application of WCMJ and the dismissal in July of the bid of WLPH, both in Huntington. WHTN has agreed to reimburse WLPH $25,000 and WCMJ $12,500 for expenses incurred [B&T, Aug. 9].

- At Grand Rapids, grant for a new tv station on ch. 23 went to Peninsula Broadcasting Co. The grant was enabled by the dismissal with prejudice of the competing application of WGRD Grand Rapids. WGRD dismissed its bid in view of the testimony before the recent Senate Communications subcommittee on uhf television [B&T, Aug. 9, July 5].

FCC Approves Transfers
Of WSIX, WTBO Properties

TRANSFERs of radio- tv properties receiving FCC approval last week included WSIX-AM-TV Nashville, Tenn., and WTBO-AM-TV Cumberland, Md.

New owners, with one-third interest each, are W. H. Chriswell, real estate broker, and Robert Stanford, lumber and business supplies merchant. Louis R. Draughon, present owner and general manager, retains one-third interest and continues as general manager of the stations [B&T, Aug. 16, July 12].

- At Cumberland, WTBO-AM-TV was sold by the Chernoff-Baer families to Tennessee Valley Broadcasting Corp. for $110,000. Ch. 17 WTBO-TV is not on the air.

Messrs. Howard L. Chernoff and Frank A. Baer and families are associated in the ownership of ch. 15 WFAF (TV) Parkersburg, W. Va. Mr. Chernoff is former general manager of KFMB-TV San Diego.

Original grant to KGPL-TV specified site near Galveston with ERP 59 kw and antenna 550 ft.

Schoeppel Favors Action
On Pay-as-You-See Tv

SEN. ANDREW F. SCHOEPPEL (R-Kan.), a member of the Senate Commerce Committee and of its Potter communications subcommittee which held hearings last spring on uhf problems, has entered a statement in the Congressional Record asking that the FCC look into subscription television "with a view to action."

The Kansas Republican said pay-as-you-see tv is the only suggestion he has heard "that seems broad enough and bold enough to have some major possibilities" in relieving what he described as an "economic drought" in television.

Sen. Schoeppel said he first heard of the possibilities of subscription tv in a talk by Dr. Mildred C. Faught to the National Small Businessmen's Assn. in Washington. He said the talk "made so much sense to me that on April 7 ... I requested its insertion in the Congressional Record." He said FCC Chairman Rosel Hyde has assured the Senate Commerce Committee that the FCC has enough authority to explore subscription tv and authorize its use if such is found in the public interest.

WKOW-TV Asks That Ch. 3 Be Made Non-Commercial

WKOW-TV Madison, Wis., CBS affiliate operating on ch. 27, petitioned FCC last week to initiate a rule-making proceeding to change the educational reservation there from ch. 21 to ch. 3 so as to keep all commercial outlets on the same competitive par in uhf in that market.

WMVT (TV) Madison operates on ch. 36 as ABC, DuMont and NBC affiliate. Educational WHA-TV there is on ch. 21. Ch. 3 is in contest between Badger Tv Co. and WISC, with Badger favored in an examiner's initial decision [B&T, Aug. 9].

ABC RADIO SETS FALL PROMOTION

ABC Radio unveiled its fall advertising and promotion plans last week, describing them as the "most comprehensive and complete" ever furnished by a network.

"Conceived, designed and executed as though we were a local station," according to Gene Accas, radio sales promotion director, the campaign ammunition was developed with affiliates' assistance and is contained in specially-built file drawers already sent to all 561 of the ABC Radio outlets.

The cabinets contain complete promotion kits for all ABC commercial shows that the stations carry and for several currently unsponsored programs which ABC regards as having a high commercial potentiality. In all there are 28 such kits on individual programs or program blocks (about half are nighttime programs, Mr. Accas estimated). The average station was said to carry about 24 or 25 of the 28 programs or program blocks.

In addition to the cabinetful of kits sent to stations, ABC plans within about three weeks to start putting 10- or 30-second program promotion announcements, using the voices of the stars of the programs, on closed circuit for affiliates to record for local broadcast.

The kits, Mr. Accas said, contain about 20% more material than those sent out last year. Innovations this year include substitution of 10- and 30-second promotion announcements—a large selection for each program—for the 40- and 60-second announcements which were used in 1953 but whose length was found undesirable by stations, ABC reported.

Another innovation is "Editorial Reader Ads." For these, affiliates take copy prepared by ABC and have their local newspapers set it in their own particular typeface, so that the ad looks like a local news story. ABC-owned stations have used this device for some time.

Other material provided affiliates include 100- and 70-line ad mats, mats for jumbo postcards to help sponsors merchandise their programs and products, pictures, publicity releases, etc.

Meanwhile, details of ABC-TV's fall advertising and promotion campaign, described by spokesmen as "the biggest" in the network's history, will be made public this week.

RADIO-TV HANDICAP CITED BY MEDINA

LIVE coverage of government hearings and similar proceedings by television, radio and "the like" raises "a psychological and very real barrier which, for all practical purposes, makes it impossible to get at the truth." This contention was advanced by U. S. Court of Appeals Judge Harold R. Medina last Thursday night in CBS radio and television broadcasts. CBS had volunteered the time to him to answer CBS President Frank Stanton's Aug. 26 broadcast editorial arguing radio-tv's right to equality with other news media in providing on-the-spot coverage of hearings [BT, Aug. 30].

"Brushing aside" other arguments, Judge Medina said his point is this: "Whenever there is a proceeding the object of which is to ascertain the truth, from conflicting testimony of witnesses and other proofs, whether it be in a courtroom or at a legislative hearing, or anywhere else, the questioning of the witnesses before television apparatus, radio, and the like furnishes such an impediment and handicap that the ascertainment of the true facts becomes well nigh impossible."

Judge Medina emphasized the difficulty of determining the truth under any circumstances, then observed:

"But when the judge, the witnesses and the lawyers, or their counterparts, perform their functions in legislative hearings, for example, before the microphones and batteries of floodlights, knowing that perhaps ten millions of people or more are listening and watching their every move, the temptation to put on an act becomes almost irresistible. And that is what they do. You have all seen it again and again, in the recent proceedings which must still be fresh in the minds of everyone. Amidst all this confusion, with witnesses and interrogators making speeches, interrupting one another, tossing in asides, with or without looks of astonishment, surprise, dismay or what not, how is one to find that submerged but precious kernel of truth?"

"Years ago the radio began to find its way into some of the courtrooms. But that has now pretty generally been stopped. I well remember listening over the radio to the broadcast of the board of steamboat inspectors who were investigating the Morro Castle disaster. Hundreds of witnesses were interrogated. One of them, in the midst of his testimony, seized the microphone and said, "How am I doing, Mom?" But all that was stopped. Are we to go through the whole weary business of fighting it again, now that the public has had a taste of what it is to watch proceedings over television?"

Judge Medina conceded that "of course people like to see and hear these proceedings over radio and television," that it's "lots of fun" and "instructive, too, in a way." But he denied that the fact that courts are open to the public conveys to the public the right to see the proceedings on tv or hear them on radio.

"The reason our courts are open to the public is not to provide a creation or instruction in the ways of government, but to prevent the possibility of Star Chamber proceedings, where everything is secret and corruption or flagrant judicial abuses might flourish unseen and be impossible of detection and exposure," he argued.

"Just right and just that the people should see the wheels of justice in motion and that the press should have free access to every court from the lowest to the highest. But the comings and goings of the many witnesses are orderly and easily controlled. They present no such psychological barrier to the ascertainment of truth as do the radio and television."

Judge Medina felt that "advances in radio and television techniques will come to an end without further elimination objections based upon the presence of the lights and cameras," for example. Of complaints that participants in hearings would "seize the opportunity for personal publicity and the airing of their pet views," he said that "none of these complaints can fairly be leveled at television and radio. If there is injustice, it must be blamed on those conducting the trial or the hearing."

AT&T TO ADD 17 CITIES FOR NETWORK TV LINK

Network service will go into three new states, with 28 stations getting their first intercity connections in September.

SEVENTEEN additional cities are slated to get network television service this month, AT&T's Long Lines Dept. announced last week, pointing out that the group includes cities in three states that have not had network service before.

In all, 28 tv stations will be linked with the AT&T intercity facilities during September, according to present plans. Currently, some 309 stations in 193 cities are interconnected for network tv service.

AT&T said approximately 1,400 miles of new microwave facilities were required to put the following cities on network routes: Albuquerque, C., Las. ; Asheville, N. C. ; Cape Girardeau, Mo. ; Duluth; Durham, N. C. ; Enid, Okla. ; Fargo, N. D. ; Hartford, Conn. ; La Crosse, Wis. ; Las Vegas, Nev. ; Manchester, N. H. ; Marquette, Wis. ; Mobile; Pensacola; Pittsburg, Kan. , and Poland, Ohio. "捌Add, Medina, last August, that AM and FM also have not had such service before.

In September interconnections also would provide additional network outlets in Charleston, S. C. ; Charleston, W. Va. ; Harrisburg, Pa. ; Lake Charles, L. ; Salt Lake City, and Sioux City.

States which are slated to get network service this month for the first time are North Dakota, New Hampshire and New Mexico.

Stations and cities scheduled to be interconnected with AT&T's nationwide tv intercity facilities during September were listed as:

Folsom Sees Benefit
In Switch to 45 Rpm

RCA president says the newer discs will be as valuable to stations as they have been to the general public.

THE SHIFT from 78- to 45-rpm recordings, which stirred up a tempest a few weeks ago when record manufacturers made clear they intend to supply only 45s to broadcast stations,
"will prove to be the same material benefit to the radio stations as it already has to the public and to the industry as a whole," RCA President
Frank Folsom said last week.

Asserting that eventually the sale of all 78-rpm records will be so small they will be discontinued, Mr. Folsom cautioned that "radio broadcasters desirous of providing audiences with the best in popular music in the period ahead will, therefore, find themselves at a loss to maintain high listening standards, unless they join the change-over to 45-rpm recordings."

After tracing a trend which he said "became markedly visible two years ago," Mr. Folsom said that "this year, the sale of '78' popular records is dropping at such a rate, and '45s' are increasing so fast in public esteem that we now foresee the end of records of the old speed." He continued:

"Many radio stations aware of this trend have taken steps to stay abreast of the times by taking over to 45-rpm. Many others are in the process of doing so. A number of recording companies including RCA Victor have anounced that from now on only '45s' will be shipped as disc jockey records.

"It is recognized that the furnishing of records to stations is of tremendous mutual benefit to the stations and the recording companies.
Looking forward to the time when 78-rpm records are no longer available, it is clearly evident that we will both lose if stations are unprepared to play the new microgroove records.

"The most popular record merchandise for all companies in dealers' stores throughout the country at the present time is the 45-rpm 'extended play' albums. In many cases, these selections are not available in any other speed. The only way we can get them to radio stations is on the 45-rpm speed.

"We sincerely believe that the problem of providing radio stations with good programming material will get more and more acute in the future for stations that are not geared to play what record customers are buying, what dealers are stocking, and what the industry is recording...""

Muzak Sues Restaurant
For 'Pirating' Music

LAWSUIT accusing a suburban New York restaurant of pirating Muzak-copyrighted music that is transmitted by a New York fm station was filed by the Muzak Corp. last week.

In a complaint filed Wednesday in the U. S.
District Court for the Southern District of New York, the background music firm charged that Wilker's Inc., a restaurant in the new multi-million-dollar Westchester County shopping center, "gave public performance for profit" of compositions copyrighted by Muzak.

A spokesman for Muzak said the issue is whether anyone has a right to install a sound system containing an electronic device to eliminate commercials and other vocal material—similar to the receiving units which Muzak customers have—for the purpose of blocking up and playing the same programs and copyrighted selections for which Muzak licenses its clients.

The New York station carrying Muzak programs is WGG (FM). Commercial, vocal material, etc., are eliminated for Muzak customers by a special device installed in their receivers.

Harry Houghton, Muzak president, said in a statement issued coincident with filing the suit, which asks that Wilker's be enjoined from making unlicensed public use of Muzak music and be required to pay damages:

"I have been greatly alarmed at the increasing number of incidents involving the unlicensed use of music and programming from our Muzak library. The result of this has left us with no other alternative than to bring action against Wilker's Inc."

"In bringing this action we are not only directly seeking damages and an injunction against this particular defendant, but through this legal process seek to put others on notice that action similar to Wilker's is unauthorized and a violation of our rights and that we will not hesitate to go to the courts for such redress and protection that we shall from time to time doom expedient to protect our interests."

RCA Thesaurus Adds
'Attention Getters' Aids

RCA Thesaurus announced last week the addition of a new group of transcribed sales aids, "Echo Attention Getters," to its "sell effects" calendar section which includes various sales aids such as commercial sound effects, commercial time and weather, and gift occasion ingles, audition discs, program signatures and transcribed holiday shows.

At the same time, the transcription library service announced plans for its annual college football show series, Pigskin Parade, that features predictions, big game highlights, sidelight stories and other features. First broadcast of the 15-minute show series will cover
Sept. 18 games.

The "Echo Attention Getters" consist of single words, such as "new," "refreshing," or "bargain" etc. to obtain audience attention by repeating the words in diminishing volume.
The effect, according to RCA Thesaurus, is to present a big production sound to local commercials.

LEGION AUXILIARY HONORS SIX SHOWS

Golden Mike awards are presented for three radio and three tv programs at Washington ceremonies.

SIX PROGRAMS, three radio and three tv, were honored last Wednesday at the fifth annual Golden Mike awards presentation of the American Legion Auxiliary at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C.

The programs were selected by a nationwide poll of auxiliary members in three categories: Americanism, child welfare and the welfare of the family as a whole. Mrs. Harold S. Burdett, national president of the auxiliary, presented the awards.

Awards for the best "patriotic, dramatic" programs of 1954 went to: tv, Cavalcade of America, ABC-TV, and radio, I Was a Communist for the FBI, produced by the Frederic W. Ziv Co. The I Was a Communist award is the first Golden Mike presented to a non-network show. Cavalcade received its fifth consecutive award and a special Mike plaque, commemorating the event, was presented to Edward Peckin, division manager of the DuPont Co. advertising department, sponsor of the series, and Patrick O'Neal, a Cavalcade actor. Robert Flood, Ziv publicity, accepted the award for Ziv.

Awards for the best children's programs were presented to: tv, Ding Dong School, NBC-TV, and radio, the Lone Ranger, ABC. Judith Waller, of NBC, Chicago, received the award on behalf of Dr. Frances Horwich, producer of Ding Dong. Raymond J. Mauer, vice president of the Lone Ranger Inc., and Bonita Granville Wrather, wife of Jack Wrather, president of the firm, received the award for the program. Actor Brace Breemer, Lone Ranger star, put in a surprise appearance.

The "best all-round family" programs to receive Golden Mikes were: tv, I Love Lucy, CBS-TV, and radio, One Man's Family, NBC. The Lucy Mike was accepted by "Johnny" of Philip Morris Co., sponsor of the show, on behalf of Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz. William S. Hedges, NBC vice president for integrated services, received the Mike for One Man's Family on behalf of writer Carlton E. Morse.

A special award for past service to the American Legion was presented to Doris Corwith, NBC supervisor of religious broadcasts and talks, who is a past president of the Auxiliary and past chairman of the radio committee. She also is past president of the American Women in Radio & Television.

AWARD SHORTS

WJAS Pittsburgh presented award from U. S. Marine Corps. for "cooperation and generous assistance extended in 1954 to the local U. S. Marine Corps."

John Rust, producer, Justice, NBC-TV, presented citation from standing committee on legal aid, American Bar Assn., for "... uniting efforts and years of devoted service to legal aid . . ." Joe Grady and Ed Hurst, co-m.c.'s, WPEN Philadelphia 950 Club, presented certificate of award for public service work during 1954 National Convention of VFW, that city.

TWA FOLDS AFTER LOSING STRIKE

TELEVISION Writers of America no longer exists, western regional President Ben Starr informed the membership by letter last week. The letter followed a count of votes on the issue last Tuesday.

Referring to a recent unsuccessful strike against the networks, Mr. Starr said TWA had proved itself "a principled union" by refusing to sign a bad contract just to perpetuate itself. He praised TWA for its "forthright stand against blacklisting . . . this very important blight in our industry."

Meanwhile, individual TWA members are reported joining Writers Guild of America West (see story below).

Writers Approve WGAW By Ballot of 325-12

CONSTITUTION of Writers Guild of America West Inc., formed of former Screen Writers Guild, SWG-TV Writers Group, and Radio Writers Guild, was approved 325-12 at a Beverly Hills SWG meeting last month. The concurrent RWG meeting approved 73-23 [Bet, Aug. 16].

The SWG meeting also voted a constitutional amendment, to be included in the .Nov. 17 election of permanent officers, which bars present Communists and sympathizers from WGAW membership.

A joint WGAW meeting followed separate SWG and RWG voting. F. Hugh Herbert, SWG president, was named temporary president. Other temporary officers include Gomer Cool, vice president, RWG western region, as vice president; Morgan Cox, chairman, SWG-TWG, secretary-treasurer; and as directors, Jerome Lawrence, national RWG president; David Dortort, SWG tv vice president; Frank Nugent, SWG vice president; Richard Breen, former SWG president, and Warren Duff, chairman, SWG reorganization committee. Frances Ingles, SWG executive secretary, continues temporarily in a similar WGAW position.

Mr. Lawrence said the vote answered charges made by five RWG members before the meeting that the new group leadership would be "loaded" in favor of SWG membership.

Other business included a report by Mr. Cox on tv negotiations with major studios, disaffiliation with Author's League of America effective Aug. 28, and appointment of a committee to plan affiliation with an overall writers group to be called Federation of American Writers.

Previously, Screen Analysts Guild, previously affiliated with SWG, voted to change to IATSE. Business agent Kay Lenard said while Analysts and SWG have much in common, "since Analysts are wage-and-hour employees, their interests can best be served in a craft union, such as IATSE."

Examiner Recommends NLRB Ruling Against KFSD-TV
A CEASE and desist order has been recommended by a National Labor Relations Board trial examiner in San Francisco refraining Airfan Radio Corp., licensee of KFSD-TV San Diego, from engaging in certain unfair labor practices.

The trial examiner after findings recommended that KFSD-TV cease and desist from:
(a) Restricting its employees by rule or otherwise from engaging in union activities on company property during non-working time;
(b) Unlawfully assisting the National Assn. of Broadcast Employees Technicians (NABET) by permitting only that labor organization to meet with its employees on company property.
(c) Making pre-election speeches to employees on company time and property so long as it maintains a rule prohibiting union access to company property on non-working time.
(d) In any like or related manner interfering with, restraining, and coercing employees in the exercise of the right to self-organization.
(e) To form labor organizations, to join or assist International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees & Moving Picture Machine Operators (IATSE), or any other labor organization, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, to engage in concerted activities for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection, or to refrain from any or all of such activities, except to the extent that such right may be affected by an agreement requiring membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment, as authorized in Section 8 (a) (3) of the Act.

They live on the Pacific Coast...

they listen to DON LEE RADIO*

*Don Lee IS Pacific Coast Radio

For high score in coverage, choose six letters . . . D-O-N L-E-E, the 45-station network that sells 45 important Pacific Coast markets from within. It's the nation's greatest regional network.
“WE DRIVE like hell on Main Street, not Madison Avenue. We are satisfied with a reasonable profit and a comfortable operation, geared for the long haul. You see, we think radio is here to stay.”

That graphic statement epitomizes the working philosophy of Ben Sanders, president and general manager of KICD Spencer, Iowa, a minuscule 250 w station set in a town with fewer than 8,000 inhabitants.

It’s a philosophy that pays off, too. In 1945, when Mr. Sanders took over operations of the then three-year-old KICD, the station’s gross revenue was $5,600. Last year, KICD time sales totaled $199,913 before agency commissions, and this with a base rate of $50 an hour on a one-time basis. After meeting a payroll of well over $100,000 for the year and paying federal income taxes of about $12,000, the profit described as “reasonable” by Mr. Sanders came to $12,303, better than 10% of the station’s gross.

Mr. Sanders’ allusion to Madison Avenue (“I don’t think you’ll find a Main Street in New York City”) is uttered without a trace of envy. The bulk—better than 90%—of KICD’s business is local, with roughly 5% coming from regional advertisers, 4% from national spot accounts and 1% from network (MBS) business.

Mr. Sanders explains: “We take what we get in the national and regional fields but we don’t spend time or money going after the ivory towers. When they try us we produce. In most cases they stay.”

Summing up his theory of station operation in a credo he has frequently expounded at industry meetings, Mr. Sanders states: “Invest in radio as a medium and it will yield ample returns. But, first, invest. Too many stations put the cart before the horse.

“Staff is the most important ingredient. First, we secured thoroughly experienced men. The best way to get them is to pay them the coin of the realm. Pay ‘em enough that they can’t afford even to listen any place else. [Total KICD salaries run $100,971 per year, including commissions to the two salesmen.] Next, get good material and build it around these men, good local boys and girls.

“The FCC says you shall serve the public interest, convenience and necessity. Our policy is to do it all the way. Give the public what they want, when they want it, in a friendly easy-going manner. Live and broadcast the lives they live—local news, local music, local sports, local names. Play network as merely an added prop, not a foundation.

“Our audience is our most valued possession, even more so than our sponsors. Sponsors leave us if we don’t have the audience. If we have the audience, they can’t afford to leave us.

“Charge a fair rate. Make it stick. Lose the business before cutting your rate.

“We are interested only in advertising services and merchandise that are good enough for our audience. And our audience knows that. We don’t try to sell them Christmas tree ornaments. Nor do we brag about our mail count. We don’t even keep track of it. The only thing an advertiser is interested in is results.”

When it comes to programming, Mr. Sanders’ first principle is, “Spend money. Spend it wisely, but spend money,” he declares. “Buy good men, buy good music, and get out of the studio. Go to the audience. Tape interviews with farmers, remote from sports, remote from special events, on-the-spot pickups from news happenings, sponsored or not, get ‘em. Stay away from ‘productions’ a la long hair. Just give ‘em what they want. Insert the advertising in an easy manner, effectively, without ‘bothering.’

“Get the right newsmen, then give him a free hand. He’s one of your most important men. Let him have ‘sources,’ even if they cost money . . .”

Mr. Sanders places no more importance on “success stories” of KICD’s advertisers than he does on the station’s mail count. Noteworthy, despite this attitude, are the experiences of several KICD clients. One, Spencer Sewing Machine Co., offered a $50 allowance for old machines and a certain new model and, using its regular daily show plus a few spots, sold 27 machines worth $5,088 in ten days. This same company used 28 announcements on KICD for a contest to locate the oldest sewing machine in the area and, even with this limited appeal, pulled 1,636 replies from 118 towns in three states—Iowa, Minnesota and Nebraska.

Chozen’s department stores in Spirit Lake (25 miles from Spencer) and Jackson, Minn. (35 miles away), involved KICD in an effectiveness test when, after using newspaper ads in Jackson and some spots on a nearby radio station with results, Mr. Sanders described as “indifferent,” the Spirit Lake store took a package of ten announcements on KICD. Result: the biggest sale-opening in the history of the Spirit Lake store and an upsurge of sales in Jackson.

Another Spirit Lake retailer, Herschell Hill, disposing of his store because of ill health, used $132 worth of spots on KICD to advertise his closing out sale. After moving over $18,000 worth of merchandising he had to cancel some spots because he was sold out.

Mr. Sanders probably has it right when he looks at his station’s list of more than 225 regular local advertisers and comments: “Most of them have attained success or they wouldn’t continue to use KICD.”

Aside from being a money-maker, KICD also seems to be happy working grounds for employees, most of whom have been with station for number of years. A MAJOR SPEECH ON MAJOR ISSUES

SARNOFF SPEAKS HIS MIND ON COLOR, RADIO, THE FUTURE

WHAT will be the respective positions of radio and television networks?

What is color television's future? Black-and-white?

Should networks editorialize?

What should networks do in the Bricker investigation?

Do affiliates owe networks an obligation in such an investigation?

How is the science of electronics shaping the world? What will the future offer?

What about TV receivers with no tubes—not even a cathode tube?

How soon?

These questions, and many others, were answered in detail and with no-holds-barred courage last Tuesday by Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, RCA-NBC board chairman, in an historic address to NBC-TV affiliates at the Drake Hotel, Chicago.

Throwing away a prepared speech, or "boiler plate" as he termed it, Gen. Sarnoff indulged in one of the infrequent ad lib dissertations that have given him a national reputation as an extemporaneous speaker.

Herewith are excerpted portions covering all the principal points of an hour-and-a-half talk that revealed his private thoughts about many of the major issues confronting radio and TV broadcasters—

THE FUTURE OF RADIO NETWORKS

Gen. Sarnoff showed deep concern over the future of radio networks as he faced NBC-TV affiliate operators, a large share of whom are NBC Radio affiliates.

"... I might call your attention to the plight of the radio networks, for example. You know there is an awful lot of misinformation about them. I sometimes thought, although I wasn't always sure, that perhaps one of the best things that could happen would be for all the networks to publish their figures of income and profits both in radio and television, and I don't want to exclude losses, by the way—income, profits, and losses. And if they were kept on a uniform basis, if all networks kept their books on the same basis, so you could really have an intelligent comparison between them, oh, how surprising to some that information would be.

"Some people who claim or think they are making profits might discover that it wasn't the apples but the oranges that were making the profits, or vice versa.

"I think I need not dwell upon the fact," he said, "that if you were today making your will, and you had to decide on securities that you would select for your wife and children, for their sustenance and future after you are gone, that you are not likely to make that investment today in a radio network. I mean just a radio network and nothing else. I shouldn't think the advice you would get from financially-minded experts would be that a profitable, growing and promising enterprise in the United States is a radio network.

"I have had the thought for some time that there was only one direction, incomewise, for radio networks to go, and that is down instead of up. I was challenged in that view and I had hoped right along that I might be wrong because there is no statement I would rather be wrong in than in that one, but what are the facts today?

"Every now and again you hear about some national advertiser cancelling his programs on radio networks. Daytime as well as nighttime.

"If a business starts going down, it is very difficult to arrest the decline, and it is not so easy to readjust your appetite to the dwindling victuals that are placed on your plate.

"We do have this advantage, speaking for NBC. We have been dieting for the last few years on the radio network, and we have gotten slenderized—our figures are trimmed in that respect, while some of our competitors have been more fortunate in the last two or three years, and they still have to learn how to get along on the reduced rations of a radio network diet. I hope that the rate of their radio decline will not be so violent or rapid as to interfere with the health of their remaining organisms.

"While that is going on, some independent radio stations as well as affiliated stations have been doing very well. They have been doing well through local business, through spot business, through all the names that you gentlemen invent from day to day that even I can't keep up with—station breaks and other kinds of breaks—but that hasn't helped the radio network to grow and remain healthy. It may be that in radio perhaps you can get along fairly well without a network because of the recorded programs and revenues you derive from local and other sources.

"If this be so, and if the radio network declines to a point where it no longer has sufficient energy to sustain its body, you know what happens under those conditions. If you think that a radio station, particularly an important radio station in an important center, can remain prosperous regardless of whether it has a national network or not, if you believe that, then, of course, you will have no interest in the continued life of a radio network. On the other hand, if radio networks should cease to exist, I believe you would find that the importance of a radio network, as an instrument of national service and national defense, would compel such a network to continue in one form or another.

"To be able to make instantaneous contact with all of the people of the country, wherever they may be, in millions of automobiles or elsewhere, in times of national emergency or national disaster, is an instrument of national defense that must not be overlooked.

"I don't say that radio networks must die because every effort is being made and will continue to be made to find new patterns, new selling arrangements, and new types of programs that may arrest the declining revenues. It may yet be possible to eke out a poor existence for radio networks, but I don't know."

RCA-CBS COLOR BATTLE

The competitive position of color television has shifted from an era of "fancy claims" to "performance," according to Gen. Sarnoff. "I advise you to discount most statements on color achievements," he said, belittling claims of fast tube production and charging those who make the claims aren't providing the tubes. "If you have a tube, set and programming, watch the performance of the tube, set and programs and you will know as much as the company executive," he said.

Obviously angered by CBS-Columbia color claims and their demonstration of color and monochrome sets in the Drake Hotel while NBC-TV affiliates were meeting, he said there is room for everybody in color without running down competitors. "Within a decade everything that exists today will be obsolete," he predicted. "This industry lives on obsolescence which means replacement by better equipment and services."

Gen. Sarnoff got down to specifics—CBS—in referring to a Monday slogan at the CBS-Columbia distributor meeting: "Aren't you glad you waited for CBS-Columbia color?" He said, "What is CBS color?"

"Is it the incompatible system," he asked. "We still are waiting. We welcome CBS into the respectable society of compatible color television. We expect they will do a first class job. But for CBS to claim credit for having brought color to its present stage reflects a degree of shyness, modesty and self-effacement I wish I had," he said. "NBC's competitor is just now starting its introductory year as we have concluded ours. We mean to continue keeping ahead and to broaden the base of commercial color television."

Looking into color's future, he recalled the Army's combat television maneuvers in August [BT, Aug. 16] and observed, "Man can now see the world from one place." He continued, "The time will soon come when the broadcast can no more ignore color than a movie producer can ignore sound. The added cost of color will be so slight that the broadcast will not be justified in broadcasting black-and-white only."

As to commercials, he said advertisers will demand color programs and especially color commercial messages. He reminded that many millions are spent on color in printed media and for packaging. Both impact and recollection are strengthened by color, he said.

Gen. Sarnoff announced the RCA 21-inch tube and simplified receiving set will be demonstrated Sept. 15 at the Princeton laboratory. The tube is to cost $175, same as the CBS 19-inch tube. Referring again to competitive color tubes, he said the rejection problem in mass production is of first importance. Other problems, besides rejections, are uniform color across the entire tube face, brightness, resistance to temperature, ability to stand shipping and simplicity of production.

"We believe we have solved the problems," he said.

Color set sales will increase with great rapidity, awaiting readiness of service, simplicity of operation and the right price, he explained. "Once the price is down to $500 retail, color will develop to an astonishing degree," he said. "Then $400, $300 and so on. The $500 21-inch set is not so far away—possibly only a year."

SCIENCE

Two years ago Gen. Sarnoff asked his organization to give him three birthday gifts within five years when he would observe his 50th anniversary in electronics. They were magnetic tape recording of television, an electronic air conditioner and amplification of light.

NBC-TV will use tape recordings of TV programs experimentally within a matter of months, he predicted. Substantial progress has been made in electronic air conditioning but it still is in the laboratory stage. Progress has been made in amplification of light, with a possibility it will be achieved some time in the future—"five years on a guess."

Within a few years there will be no tubes in a television receiver, not even a cathode tube, Gen. Sarnoff predicted, scoffing at competitors who speak in terms of one and three-gun tubes, masks and similar details "that belong to the language of the past."

He pictured a day, not many years away, when a "tv box no larger than a cigar box, with tuning and volume controls, will produce a tv picture of any desired size on a wall screen in every room in the house. The image will be black-and-white or color and neither the control box nor screen will use any tubes. This electro-luminescent screen will resemble in some ways 16 and 35mm movie screens. The new "television language" will utilize transistors, whose universal employment awaits practical production developments.

INVESTIGATIONS AND AFFILIATES

Gen. Sarnoff hit the Washington probe situation head-on. "We don't welcome it," he said, but we don't fear it. We have no apologies for what the network is doing. Since it was decided to conduct a 'study,' we welcome the opportunity to cooperate and to present our case, telling what we know about network operations.

"This is an opportunity for us, and other networks, to start educating the public and even legislators about what the network is doing and its place in the American system of broadcasting."

If it is a constructive inquiry to get at the facts, he welcomes it, Gen. Sarnoff said. "If otherwise (I don't suggest it is), then we will meet it as it comes and defend ourselves as best we know how."

"Let's take a constructive attitude. Nothing can be gained by being apprehensive. They asked for information—if proper, we want to supply it."

As to the role of NBC affiliates, he said, "if you feel the fate of networks is not important, I think there is no reason for you to take our troubles on your shoulders. If you feel the future of networks is your business as well as ours, if you want freedom for your business to be run without undue pressure, if you believe there is no conflict of interest between the network and affiliated stations"—if these premises are accepted, he said, affiliates can decide their role in the investigation. He added that national networks naturally attract the interest of legislative bodies.

EDITORIALIZING BY NETWORKS

Asked if networks and corporate entities should take editorial positions, Gen. Sarnoff said he has thought "a good deal about this vital question." He was in "complete agreement" with Dr. Frank Stanton in the CBS president's Aug. 26 simulcast editorial in regard to the claim that radio and tv networks should have the same chance as the press to cover hearings.

He distinguished between an editorial dealing only with a network problem and one covering controversial public questions. He separated, too, the right to editorialize and the execution of this right. "A policeman carries a loaded gun," he said. "Firing it is another matter."

Newspapers have the right to be Republican or Democratic, he continued. With only a few networks operating, all might be Democratic, for example, raising the question of control of public opinion. Then he asked if a network, like a newspaper, should editorialize once a day and face the problem of granting other sides the opportunity to answer on prime time. "You could go bankrupt," he said.

NBC does not editorialize, Gen. Sarnoff explained, but it is not ready to abandon the privilege of editorializing. He warned that editorializing could easily raise the question of network licensing. Getting to another basic phase, he distinguished between editorializing by networks and by individual stations and pointed out the special problems involved if a network imposes its views on affiliated stations. "It's not enough just to say that an affiliate can reject the editorial," he continued.
CBS-COLUMBIA COLOR TELEVISION SETS

DRAW APPLAUSE AT CHICAGO SHOWING

CBS-Columbia's new color sets, priced from $950 to $1,100, merited immediate enthusiasm from tv dealers and distributors when they were shown last Monday in Chicago. Plans were announced to deliver 2,000 to 2,500 sets per month.

COLOR television blossomed last week into a fully competitive medium supported by mass-promotion. CBS-Columbia unveiled its new line of sets at a world premiere staged at the Drake Hotel, Chicago. CBS-Columbia also introduced a new line of sweep-tuning black-and-white sets that replace the familiar turret tv tuners.

CBS-Columbia's color sets feature the Colortron 205-square inch tube, giving a picture described as close to the 21-inch black-and-white tube. Prices range from $950 to $1,100, depending on cabinet.

The new color sets were shown last Monday night to distributors from all over the nation via 30 minutes of film programming on closed circuit from New York. First pictures on the large color screens brought cheers from distributors and their sales representatives.

The four sets shown at Chicago were turned out on a production basis at the CBS-Columbia Lake Island Co., N.Y., plant. A fortifying anticipation of orders, distributors were told. They were informed CBS-Columbia is ready to deliver 2,000 to 2,500 sets per month, and will be able to step up this quota as demand develops.

CBS-Columbia's sets are based on tubes having the fluorescent colored dots printed by a photographic process on the inside face of the tube (BW, July 12).

New Monochrome Set for $135

A feature of the Chicago show was announcement of a 17-inch table model monochrome set designed to retail at $135. This was shown in mockup form but the rest of the new line appeared in working models. The new sweep-tuner uses a horizontal channel selector in the form of a bar that covers the full tuning range. Channels are indicated by boxed squares and tuning is achieved by moving the bar to the desired box followed by fine tuning via a small knob. Uhf strips can be added, it was stated. Seymour Mintz, CBS-Columbia president, said the industry "might conceivably produce 30,000 color receivers by the end of this year," though adding that availability of components is still a big obstacle. He predicted 30 to 40 million color tv sets may be sold by the end of 1960, followed by replacements at the rate of 6 million a year.

The color premiere opened with a slide showing a red-haired girl, augmented by a checked test pattern. This image, plus a color film showing the moving wings of a multi-colored parrot, led to cheers and applause from the dealer group. Films were in Technicolor.

A series of film shots showed plastic products, satins, plaids, multi-colored fabrics and similar commodities. Detail was sharp in most cases, and familiar packages appeared in faithful color. A series of shots were taken that would be ideal for the picture scene in which cigarettes were lighted.

Salads, seafood and beverage displays were presented in realistic manner. Cosmetic displays were shown, as were cigarette packages. On the receiver observed, a Pall Mall red appeared a little on the bronze side. Package patterns and lettering were sharp. Other views showed a chicken dinner, carpeting, roof shingles and decorator sketches followed up by views of the finished room.

New York studio shots showing CBS color shipping tag display appeared on the observed set to be at the left and greenish-gray at the right, but these effects were not noticed when the Technicolor films were shown.

A Technicolor short subject on the theory of atomic energy was sharp and realistic. None of the observers contacted offered any criticism of this reproduction.

The new CBS-Columbia sets carried two live programs Tuesday—NBC-TV's Today and CBS-TV's Danger. Observers who were contacted felt the reproduction was superior in every respect. One of the four sets observed during Danger was marred by evidence of a lavender tint and another was a little off the orange side across the top of the screen, but these details may have been due to the fact that the sets were installed just a few minutes before the Danger program to accommodate the crew.

Live programs, picked up off the air from Chicago stations, seem to confirm performance promises made by CBS-Columbia executives during the closed circuit film demonstrations.

Among those at the demonstration for CBS were Dr. Peter Goldmark, research vice president; Louis Hausman, CBS-Columbia executive vice president; Anthony Wright, CBS-Columbia engineering vice president. Dr. Frank Stanton, CBS president, addressed the all-day distributor meeting.

CBS-Columbia sets use a 44-tube chassis and have six customer-operating controls, two more than standard monochrome receivers. A hue control changes color to individual tastes and a chroma-brightness knob changes the amount of color in the picture. Other controls include an 82-channel uhf-uhf tuner, horizontal-vertical hold knob, contrast knob and a mute-tone control, and a light switch. The Columbia "360" high-fidelity audio system is included, using two speakers and two sound outlets at opposite sides of the cabinet. Black-and-white images are received without adjustment of controls. Cabinets, by Paul McCobb, feature simplicity.

The black-and-white line utilizes a 41 mc 15-tube chassis said to guard against plane interference and similar signals. Prices range from $135 to $245 in black-and-white.

"The world's smallest portable radio" was displayed. It includes a four-inch speaker and is 6x5x6 x 4 1/4 inches in size. Civil Defense bands are marked. Retail price is $29.95.

Sales Increase Predicted

Harry Schecter, CBS-Columbia sales vice president, predicted the industry would sell more than twice as many radios as tv receivers this year. "The industry can anticipate a volume of over 60 million dollars from the sale of 500,000 million portable radios during 1954," he said.

The cabinet designs of tv sets include louvered sides to create the illusion of smaller size, brass legs as a sales feature simplicity and a pecan-color finish suited to both modern and conservative surroundings.

In its advertising, CBS-Columbia plans to spend over $2 million to promote tv and radio sets during the August and September advertising and sales promotion director, said the campaign will be spearheaded by the Amos 'n Andy radio program sponsored alternate weeks on the full CBS Radio network. Sun., 7:30 p.m., starting Sept. 26. A major merchandising effort is planned.

Theme of the campaign for color sets will be, "Aren't You Glad You Waited for CBS-Columbia Color?" and will be used plus dealer co-op schedules. Black-and-white sets will be similarly promoted and radio spot copy is planned for the radio line. Ted Bates & Co. is agency for the campaign.

Reeves Announces Thin 'Plus 50' Tape

DEVELOPMENT of a new, longer playing, stronger, and less expensive magnetic recording tape was announced last week by Reeves Soundcraft Co.

Known as "Plus 50," the new tape was said to play 50% longer than standard acetate-base tape because, due to Plus 50's thinness, each reel can accommodate 50% more.

Although only half as thick as standard tape it is stronger because of a new "Mylar" polyester film, the company said, pointing out that this is the same material used as the base for Soundcraft's Lifetime tape, which the firm "unconditionally guarantees will never break or curl when used under normal conditions of recording and playback."

"The magnetic oxide coating of Plus 50 tape is full depth, with the same bias characteristics, frequency response and level of sub-individual quality tapes," according to Frank B. Rogers Jr., vice president and general manager. Thus, he said, "Plus 50 can be interspersed with lifetime or standard acetate tape, and recorders do not have to be adjusted to it." Mr. Smith said Plus 50 had been market-
Every 10th U.S. paycheck depends on trucks!

Some 6,773,000 men and women are now employed directly by the trucking industry or in jobs which depend on the trucking industry for continuing success. With a total U.S. labor force of some 62 million, this means that one out of every ten employed Americans looks to the trucking industry for his or her livelihood. Only agriculture provides more jobs to more people.

The industry has met its responsibilities as the No. 2 U.S. employer with improved working conditions and a pay scale that, more often than not, exceeds the average for U.S. industry as a whole. For example, the average yearly wage in the trucking industry in 1952 was $4,333 while that of private industries was $3,428.

President, American Trucking Associations

AMERICAN TRUCKING INDUSTRY / American Trucking Associations

THE one-legged giants now poking their noses in the sky in increasing numbers are a breed of broadcasting towers currently gaining acceptance for sound and efficient construction. Truscon Steel Div. of Republic Steel Corp. is one of the builders of radio-tv towers, and claims to have constructed the two largest steel towers in the world, both one-leggers, measuring 1,218 feet. They are Air Force radio transmitting towers and are located at Thule, Greenland, and Fostport, N. Y.

Truscon, which has constructed four- and three-legged towers, and still builds the latter, built its first one-legger in 1935. It was a 374-foot tower for WOAR Cleveland. Tracing the history of tower building, Truscon describes how bridge-type construction was tried years ago. Flat surfaced girders and heavy angled iron, as in Paris’ Eiffel Tower, were used at first. Some of the heavy ones settled in the ground, and some were knocked over by high winds. It was found that flat surfaces offered half again as much resistance to the wind as rounded surfaces. Today’s towers are built of steel “rod.”

The firm’s 1,218-foot giants are 80 times as high as they are wide. Each weighs 2,280,000 pounds and is constructed of steel poles eight inches in diameter. The tower rests on a base two feet wide, which fits into a ball and socket arrangement upon a casting. From there on down the load is distributed to a pyramid-shaped concrete base 30 feet long, 28 feet wide and seven feet high.

Minnesota Mining Develops ‘Extra-Play’ Magnetic Tape

DEVELOPMENT of a new magnetic tape, Scotch brand “Extra-Play,” that automatically increases the recording time of any tape recorder by 50% has been announced by the Minnesota Mining & Mfg. Co.

Key feature of the new No. 190 tape is a high-potency oxide coating only half as thick as standard coatings and a thinner backing of tough cellulose acetate, the company stated. As a result, half again as much of this thinner tape can be wound on standard-size reels, allowing a 50% increase in recording and playback time, either dual or single track, according to the firm.

Retail prices for the 190 tape are $14.40 for the 3,600-ft. length on a NARTB hub and $28.80 for the 7,200-ft. length.

GE’s Brandt Expects Sales Of Monochrome to Stay Up

BLACK and white tv set sales will continue at high level for several years, with color set introduction eventually adding “its tremendous volume at higher and still higher levels as time passes,” according to Arthur A. Brandt, manager of radio-tv sales, GE, Syracuse.

Speaking before 1,500 Southern California dealers, trade press members and guests at “premieres” showing of the 1955 GE radio-tv line at Carthay Circle Theatre, Los Angeles, a fortnight ago, Mr. Brandt forecast, “As monochrome tv sales gradually decline over a period of years, color tv sales will gradually increase so that the industry will enjoy a volume of about 6 to 7 million units annually.”

Radio set sales will reach about 6.1 million units in 1954 and continue over 6 million during next two years, he said, “Don’t think of radio as a static business or one which will diminish due to tv,” Mr. Brandt warned. “We’ve seen it thrive and prosper right through the tv boom. And new technical advantages will continue to keep it alive, vigorous and profitable to all of us.”

Net income for the first seven months this year was $3,612,592, or $2.93 per share, compared to $4,598,702, or $3.74 per share for the same period last year.

Perfect Balance!

Perfect balance makes the big difference in the terrific new Houston-Fearless Cradle Heads! No matter how the camera is tilted, it is always in absolute balance... resulting in wonderful new ease of operation and remarkable new smoothness never before achieved.

This perfect balance is made possible by the cradle action of the head. When the camera is tilted up or down, the cradle rotates around a constant center of gravity, maintaining positive balance at all times. Added weight, such as long lenses and camera accessories, is easily compensated for by simply moving the camera and the top plate of the head forward or back by means of a lead screw. This adjustment does not require loosening the camera hold-down screws.

The Cradle Head rides on four phenolic-covered ball bearing rollers for smooth, quiet, easy tilting. Panning is also smooth and easy, accomplished by two precision ball bearings in the base. Drag adjustments and brakes are provided on both pan and tilt.

FOR MONOCHROME AND COLOR TV CAMERAS

The new Houston-Fearless Cradle Heads are available in two types: Model MCH for standard black and white cameras. Model CH-1 for the RCA Color TV camera.

Like all Houston-Fearless products, these new Cradle Heads are soundly engineered and precision built of the finest materials to give a maximum of dependable service. Send the coupon below for complete information today.

U. S. Tv Shows Lead Elliott-Haynes Listing

U. S. network and film programs continue to be most popular with Canadian television viewers, according to the August national ratings report of Elliott-Haynes Ltd., Toronto. The report covers the cities of Toronto, Hamilton, Montreal, London and Vancouver. In the Toronto area at least two-thirds of the audience still tunes in nearby United States border stations instead of the local stations, according to this report.

At Toronto the most popular programs seen on CBLT (TV) Toronto, are "Toast of the Town with rating of 32.3, Four Star Playhouse 26.9, Wrestling 26.1, Our Miss Brooks 25.9, and CBC News Magazine (Canadian) 23.1. The same audience views WBEN-TV Buffalo, rates "Drood of 157.3, The Web 55.4, Kraft Theatre 50.1, Summer Theatre 49.2 and Top Plays of 1954 49.1."

At Hamilton, where nearby U. S. stations and Toronto can also be tuned in, top shows on CHCH-TV Hamilton, are Friday Feature 43.8, "House of Chills 40.9, Janet Deen 36.8, Charley Chan Theatre 34.8, and Inner Sanctuary 33.8."

At London, which has little reception from the United States, most popular shows on CFPL-TV London, are "Four Star Playhouse 78.6, Toast of the Town 71.7, Life with Elizabeth 74.9, Ruggles Family 73.5, and Liberace 73.3."

At Montreal, with both English and French-language stations, most popular English-language programs in August on CBMT (TV) Montreal, were "Travel Unlimited 74.3, Toast of the Town 72.6, Four Star Playhouse 72.2, Douglas Fairbanks Presents 72.1, and Stage Show 67.9."

At Vancouver, with competition from U. S. border stations, highest rated shows on CBUT (TV) Vancouver, were Our Miss Brooks 39.7, Toast of the Town 36, Four Star Playhouse 35.5, Stock Car Races 33.3 (Canadian), and Amos 'n Andy 32.2."
'Dragnet' Goes North

WHAT was described by MCA TV Ltd. as the largest film transaction in the history of Canadian television has been announced: Sale of Dragnet by MCA TV, which represents the series outside of continental U.S., to Canadian Broadcasting Corp. for two full years. CBC has sold the show for the first year to S.C. Johnson Co. and Elna Sewing Machine Co. for alternate-week sponsorship over CBC's entire English-speaking network at 9 p.m. on Monday, starting Sept. 6. MCA TV also reported that David Sutton, vice president in charge, currently is negotiating with BBC for Dragnet, which also has been sold to KONA (TV) Honolulu and KFIA (TV) Anchorage, Alaska. Dragnet sale to CBC was negotiated by Stuart Smith, in charge of MCA (Canada) Ltd., with Stuart Griffiths of CBC.

Canadian Union Bars AGVA

INTER-UNION STRIFE between the American Federation of Musicians and the American Guild of Variety Artists has resulted in the Canadian AFM affiliate, Toronto Musicians Union, closing the international border to AGVA members. Walter Murdoch, president of the Toronto Musicians Union, has informed booking agencies throughout the U.S. that AFM musicians will not play for AGVA artists in Canada. New contracts are shortly to be signed by the Musicians Union and the Canadian Broadcasting Corp., as well as theatres and nightclubs hiring live talent. All new contracts are to have a clause stipulating that musicians will not be required to play for AGVA members. While the move is expected to be felt in vaudeville theatres, it is not expected to have much affect on Canadian radio or television, since these already hire primarily Canadian talent, most of whom since early this year joined AFM. AGVA officials in Canada have announced plans to start an all-Canadian union.

German Press Anticipates U. S. Army Television Plans

POSSIBILITY of introduction of U. S. Army television in Germany is being discussed by domestic trade papers in West Germany after reports from Washington indicate that Pentagon officials plan establishment of tv stations in places with "concentrated numbers of military personnel." Up to now filmed American TV shows have been shown with motion picture projectors in soldiers' clubs.

There apparently would be no frequency difficulties in Germany since there is no body comparable to the FCC. All radio and TV allocations are made by joint American, French and British bodies, one of the few government functions still under Allied supervision.

Canadian Year Book Includes Broadcasting Data

A REVIEW of broadcasting in Canada is contained in the 1954 edition of the official Canadian government's Canada Year Book (Queen's Printer, Ottawa, $3) on pages 887-895. The review deals with 1953 and 1952 statistics of Canadian broadcasting, both the government-owned stations and the independent stations. Details on the Canadian Broadcasting Corp.'s operations cover development of television in Canada, list networks of CBC and independent stations, and deal with domestic and international program services and CBC finances.

The review on independent stations was prepared for the Canada Year Book by the Canadian Assn. of Radio & Television Broadcasters. It reports that 139 independent stations in 1953 had a combined capital investment of about $30 million, employed 3,800 persons, with annual payroll of about $10 million, and paid annual transmitting licenses to CBS of $187,000.

THE UNEXPECTED happened in Chicago last week—and much more.

What were to have been casual family meetings of NBC and its TV affiliates at one end of town, and of CBS and its radio affiliates at the other, erupted into a full-blown conflict on all fronts in which the two biggest entities in broadcasting compete. It wasn't planned that way. It seemed to come naturally, another episode in the continuing struggle for leadership.

The first blast came from Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff. Whether or not one agrees with him on all counts (and we think he went overboard on his gloomy appraisal of radio's future), none disputes his genius, his vision and his courage. He tossed aside his prepared script (he called it boilerplate) and regaled his NBC-TV affiliates with a brilliant, sometimes acid, hour-long treatise on the electronics world in which we live. He discussed every facet of concern to the broadcaster. He talked regulatory philosophy and he talked business.

He foresaw all-color TV to the exclusion of black-and-white faster than you think, with tubeless sets and no picture tubes at all. He posited station operation without networks. He saw further trouble for network radio and, in the minds of some, was disposed to write it off in five years. And he tossed the gauntlet to the Bricker committee on its "study" of networks.

Because we believe Gen. Sarnoff's observations chart new history we publish in this issue a detailed summary (page 78). Over the years Gen. Sarnoff's comments have been prophetic. His first was as a young man—before the birth of RCA. In 1916 he predicted that every home one day would have a little "music box" without wires, which would bring events and news and entertainment into the home with the spark of light. He was the pioneer in black-and-white TV, and he ramrodded compatible color even after the battle seemingly had been lost. His contributions to the military are only partly known. History will record them.

What prompted Gen. Sarnoff to discard his "boilerplate" is his own secret. CBS-Columbia, the manufacturing subsidiary, had an elaborate color-set display, with its 19-inch tube, in the hotel in which NBC-TV was having its session. CBS-TV had released publicity about its leadership in color. That must have ignited the Sarnoff fuse. He held little back.

Uptown, at about the same time, CBS Radio met with its affiliates and charted elaborate plans for the new network radio season. Where Gen. Sarnoff was anything but encouraging about the network radio outlook, CBS President Frank Stanton and other network spokesmen exuded confidence. Dr. Stanton didn't meet the Sarnoff challenge head-on on all counts. But there's no question about the beginning of a new sanguinary round in the competition.

Gen. Sarnoff's dismal view of radio's future is reminiscent of the late M. H. Aylesworth, first president of NBC, who, nearly a decade ago, predicted the demise of "ear radio" in three years.

The CBS answer came not only from Dr. Stanton who inferred that those who have no confidence in the business should get out of it, but also in the apparent enthusiasm of the CBS affiliates in giving rousing approval to the biggest radio program and promotion budgets in years for the new fall season.

Only on one point is there substantial agreement. That is what Gen. Sarnoff called the "bone and marrow" relationship of networks and their affiliates, whether its radio or tv. And that's where the Bricker inquiry comes in. The notion that Mr. Bricker is interested only in licensing of the networks was transparent from the start.

Radio and TV have not fared badly in the competitive climate in which they exist. In a competitive economy there will always be the struggle for leadership. Where there ceases to be, the media will become decadent, service will deteriorate and government will step in. Networks are indispensable, in some form, in this atomic era. What form they may take will be dictated by economics and the march of science.

No matter what motivates Chairman Bricker, the story of radio and television in America will be told. It is a dramatic story of related arts that have measured their progress in mere decades while other industries have required generations. It is a story of scientific genius, risk capital and free enterprise unequalled in our times. It has given to America the finest broadcasting—and the freest—in the world.

Million, Billion; Who Counts?

ANTICIPATED advertising expenditures in excess of $60 million a month for the fall season (inadvertently decremented to $6 million by a printer's error in this publication last week) indicate that TV's climb into the advertising stratosphere is continuing without slackening.

Nor is there any sign of a slowdown in the foreseeable future. NBC statisticians, who put the overall TV advertising total for this year at an average of more than $75 million a month, making even BT's full strength estimate seem modest, predict that next year when colorcasting will add a new kick to the upward trend, the TV advertising bill will top $100 million a month and that by 1956 TV's monthly billings will exceed $150 million (BT, Aug. 2).

That ain't hay, brother, and already the more timorous members of the advertising fraternity are beginning to wonder how American businessmen can afford to spend that kind of money and how they can possibly expect to get it back.

The answer to those worries is no dazzling new truth. It's an old, familiar truism, so old and so familiar that we all tend to ignore it, if not forget it completely. To state it simply, it's that the American public has an insatiable desire for more and better and later model goods and services, that somehow the public finds the money to buy what it wants and that what it wants most is what is advertised best.

Since TV, combining sight, sound, motion and, now, color, is a better-than-best way of delivering that best advertising to its most receptive audience, the answer is obviously: Yes, no matter how high the bills for TV advertising get, the profits from it will go even higher for those who use it wisely and well.

The Not-So-Good Old Days

IN ADHERING to its decision to exclude radio and television from its hearings on the McCarthy censure resolution, the Watkins Committee has succeeded in setting journalism back to the 19th century.

With its modern devices of instant visual and aural communication barred from the hearing room, NBC-TV fell back upon a practice prevalent in newspapers before the invention of photography. The network hired an illustrator to sketch personalities at the hearing. The sketches were then put on TV.

In forcing television to retrogress to techniques of last century news coverage, the committee has wiped out the scientific progress of a hundred years. It has deprived the American public of communications to which it has become accustomed and is entitled. By now the idiocy of trying to ignore the facts of contemporary journalism ought to be evident to every legislator.
