Radio in Baltimore is BIG!

The only way to reach every family in the Baltimore Trading Area is by radio. Radio offers 98.6% penetration of the whole Baltimore metropolitan area. No other advertising medium offers anything like this penetration. The only way to get your message to everybody is radio! Yes—

Radio in Baltimore is BIG!

And the big bargain buy in Baltimore radio is W-I-T-H. Top Nielsen circulation in the home county goes to W-I-T-H. Combined with low, low rates, W-I-T-H delivers more listeners-per-dollar than any other radio or TV station in Baltimore. Ask your Forjoe man for the whole story!

AROUND FARGO, WDAY-TV PITCHES A SHUTOUT!

LATEST Fargo-Moorhead Hoopers credit WDAY-TV with an almost clean sweep of audience-preference honors. The chart shows that between 5 and 6 times as many Metropolitan Fargo families tune to WDAY-TV as to the next station.

Look at the sets-in-use—a whopping big 65% at night!

Although Metropolitan Fargo represents an important segment of WDAY-TV's coverage, it's not the whole story. WDAY-TV is also the preferred station in most of the heavily-saturated Red River Valley. Ask Free & Peters for the proof.

FOUNDATION AID SOUGHT • New technique in fact-finding inquiries by Congress being undertaken by Senate Commerce Committee in its television investigation through enlistment of big foundations like Ford and Carnegie. Chairman Magnuson (D-Wash.) and his chief counsel, Sidney Davis, it's learned, have been working quietly to get Ford and Carnegie to research political and free speech aspects in broadcasting for committee's benefit and preliminary reaction is understood to be favorable.

CHAIRMAN Magnuson 10 days ago conferred with Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, head of Ford's Fund for the Republic, on project on political broadcasting (Section 315 of existing law specifying equal time for qualified candidates for public office) which has engendered controversy in Hill and among broadcasters. And Mr. Davis last Friday was in New York to pitch to Carnegie executive suggestion that exhaustive study of censorship (Sec. 326) be undertaken for Congress' benefit. Projects, if undertaken, would be conducted alongside ad hoc engineering committee set up under Magnuson mandate [BT, July 27, 20], as advisory to committee.

DE-INTERMIXTURE DATE • Broadcasting's two top chairmen—Magnuson of Senate Commerce Committee and McCaughey of FCC—huddled last Friday on state of communications, with selective de-intermixture of uhf-vhf at top of list. FCC chairman advised that there's little prospect of deciding bellweather de-intermixture cases argued last month [BT, July 4] after Labor Day. He advised there were several weeks of staff work to be done, and that issue is too important to rush off with curbstone opinions. Assurance reportedly given that FCC isn't slowing down its consideration of mixed allocations problem because of functioning of Magnuson's ad hoc engineering allocations committee.

BOMBSHELL tossed at FCC meeting last Friday on de-intermixture by Comr. Rosel H. Hyde, who suggested FCC take look at whole problem of tv allocations from economic, rather than pure allocations aspect. Comr. Hyde reportedly urged re-examination of allocation principles because present principles don't take into account operation of "economic forces" in such manner as to encourage development of full competitive tv service. Since de-intermixture was not on agenda, Comr. E. M. Webster reportedly questioned consideration at this time and matter went over for further discussion, presumably this week or next.

MRS. HOBBY'S PLANS • Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby will submit her resignation as Secretary of Health, Education & Welfare any day now; in fact it's said she proffered it to President Eisenhower last Friday at White House. Once resignation is announced, Mrs. Hobby will become president of Houston Post Co., which owns KPRA-AM-FM-TV. Her husband, former Gov. W. P. Hobby, will move to board chairmanship. Mrs. Hobby, prior to acceptance of Cabinet post, had been executive vice president of Houston properties and originally had intended resigning earlier. Police fascinating case since her efforts to defer action rather than retire under fire, however ill-merited.

SOMETHING new will be awarded at Radio Advertising Bureau's first radio advertising conference this fall. Gold medals will go to national and regional advertisers and their agencies for radio commercial copy judged best by group of agency top-notchers, according to plans now being formulated. Conference, designed as full-dress convention of RAB with agency and advertiser executives collaborating with FCC in deciding set of winners on best uses of radio as advertising medium, will be held Oct. 13-14 at Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

UHF IN HARTFORD • CBS purchase of ch. 18 WGHJ-TV Hartford (see story page 86), after NBC bought Hartford area uhf months ago, gave rise to question of whether this weekend uhf station in area thus making Hartford market scene of three-network operation in uhf. Top ABC executive told BT, however, network now has no plans for uhf acquisition anywhere.

NEW nationwide television set census will be undertaken by As. A. Nielsen Co.), if industry, now being circularized, indicates support of such project. Count would be along lines similar to count made by Nielsen in spring of 1952. Firm currently is querying all segments of industry—stations, networks, advertisers, agencies— for views as to need.

TELEVISION CITY • Despite whooped up talk of new tv city on Long Island, major networks are still thinking in terms of wide open spaces, probably north of Manhattan, where horizontal structures rather than skyscrapers can be built to accommodate tv needs, notably other room required for color production. Whereas proposal pitched by New York City Construction Commissioner Robert Moses contemplated about 10 acres, experts feel that to accommodate only two networks (say CBS and NBC) at least 50 acres would be needed. If and when decisions are reached on development of tv town in New York area, it's probable that events in Hollywood would be duplicated. After first broadcast studios were established in downtown Hollywood by CBS others moved into same general area and related businesses, notably advertising agencies, flocked in from Los Angeles proper to Hollywood "Radio City" radius.

APPLICATION for transfer of KMYR Denver to group headed by William B. Dolph and Herbert L. Pettey expected to be announced this week as part of formation of Dolph-Pettey Broadcasting Co., broadcast station management group. Transaction, overall, may involve $150,000. Denver independent, now operating on 1340 kc with 250 w, holds construction permit for 370 kc with 5 kw. Station would be purchased from F. W. (Bill) Meyer and his brother Al G., latter now general manager. Sequel to this move is filing of intent with Securities & Exchange Commission to issue securities to cover KMYR and also one-third of capital stock of KULA-AM-Hoveland, owned by Dolph-Pettey group, plus associates. Security underwriters in Cleveland and Chicago will be involved.

TOAST COMPETITION • ABC-TV, now dickering for Class A quality feature films—reports have dates of films as recent as 1953—to place on Sunday, 7:30-9 p.m. period next fall, is said to be close to decision. Ninety-minute film program would be offered to advertisers on participation basis. It's understood, Network believes this formula could compete with highly rated Toast of the Town on CBS-TV in 8-9 p.m. period and also with Colgate-Palmolive on NBC-TV whose Comedy Hour only few weeks ago (June 26) suffered 35-56 to-5.0 drop in Dock by Toast in Trendex ratings. That showing against Ed Sullivan's seventh anniversary program reportedly has C-P pondering change.

LOOK for big push by RCA on color tv set sales this fall—in competition with NBC's color spectacles (CBS is giving heavily into colorcasts this fall, too.) Unconfirmed report is that RCA will halve price of color sets through new development, whether single gun tube, simplified circuitry or what is unknown. Price of RCA 21-in. color set today is $795.

ANSWER TO TODAY • In its determination to come up with children's show to compete successfully with J. Fred Muggs and Dave Garroway on NBC-TV's Today, CBS-TV is retaining Martin and Alan Stone and Eddie Kean to create and produce new format for hour-long kinescope. Show would replace current Morning Show and be based on familiar world of child rather than fantasy, with emphasis on education in variety type structure.

Gleason Returns to DuMont To Use Electronnic System

JACKIE GLEASON's The Honeymooners, 30-minute film show to start Oct. 1 on CBS-TV, will be filmed beginning Aug. 16 by DuMont's Electronnicam tv film system, Ted Bergmann, managing director of Allen B. DuMont Labs' Broadcast Div., was to announce today (Mon.). Contract, signed by Jackie Gleeson Enterprises and DuMont, runs for three years and calls for production each season of 39 programs in black-and-white on 35mm film. Jack Philbin was named executive producer.

Honeymooners was part of high-priced contract negotiated by Mr. Gleason with Buick Div. of General Motors.

Production will be at Adelphi Teletheatre, New York, where comedy-Gleason, as star of DuMont's Cavalcade of Stars, started on road to tv fame. Mr. Gleason said that DuMont's system will permit his group to retain spontaneity and both live and filmed shows, using film crew as in live production and permitting cast to work as before. Electronnicam will allow show to be produced in about same time that was necessary for film telecast, he said. Played before audience, filmed show will permit reaction as if it were live, Mr. Gleason noted, adding that no canned laughter will be used.

CBS Radio Thinks Stations Will Buy One-Rate Plan

CBS Radio officials said Friday that station response to their new affiliation contracts—which among other things set up single rate for day and evening time (but without reducing actual costs to advertisers) and provide for one-year reduction of 20% in station compensation [804, July 4]—is "just terrific." They figure that, with last Monday's holiday, affiliates for most part didn't get new contract forms until Tuesday or Wednesday. By Friday they estimated they had received acceptances from around 50 stations. These represent 40-42% of network's U. S. rate card—almost half of 85% needed to put new plan into operation. Nor had there been any turn-downs. July 15 is target deadline for reply. One-rate plan and one-year cut in station payments would become effective Aug. 25.

WMID Is Cleared In Initial Decision

CLEAN bill of health for WMID Atlantic City, N. J., was given Friday in initial decision by FCC Chief Hearing Examiner James D. Cunningham which recommended that WMID be granted renewal of license and transfer of control from Richard Endicott to Arthur A. Handler and Joseph F. Bradway. Examiner found WMID had discontinued questionable horse race programs, now carries only three shows during racing season and they are not of value to any illegal gambling interest. Examiner said there is no probative evidence which would support a determination that Joseph J. Stotoroff, Richard Endicott or Edwin E. Kohrn ever held an ownership interest in the applicant which was concealed from the Commission."

CLINCHER

SIGURD S. LARMON, Young & Rubicam president, who has spent many hours attempting to sell Washington politicians on virtues of advertising in accomplishing difficult tasks, probably presented his most effective argument Thursday, when his Madison Avenue touch on five-iron gave him hole-in-one on 155-yard third hole at Burning Tree course in Washington. His impressed audience included President Eisenhower and Reps. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) and Peter Frelinghuysen (R-N. J.), other members of foursome.

Orson Welles, CBS-TV Plan 90-Minute Color Programs

SIGNING of Orson Welles by CBS-TV to direct and star in series of 90-minute filmed color productions during 1955-56 season is being announced today (Monday) by Hubbell Robinson Jr., CBS-TV vice president in charge of programs. Mr. Welles will be supported by all-star casts in vehicles based upon contemporary and classical plays and novels, with George Du Maurier's "Trilby" being considered as first production, in which Mr. Welles would enact role of Svengali. Series will be co-directed by Theodore Sills and produced by Harry Saltzman. Mr. Robinson said starting date of series, number of programs and other details will be announced shortly.

MGMT, ABC-TV Detail Plans

NEW ABC-TV MGM Parade program [B*; July 27] will be telecast 9 p.m. EDT Wednesdays, following ABC-TV Disneyland, starting Dec. 14, network and studio decided at Hollywood meeting last week. Appointment of Leslie Peterson as executive producer and George Murphy as host-director of series also announced with Thomas M. Lufkin ABC-TV coordinator at MGM studios.

British Buy U. S. Shows For Their Commercial Tv

NBT Film Division announced Friday its Inner Sanctum and half-hour Hapalong Cassidy programs have been sold to Associated Rediffusion Ltd., London, to be placed on British commercial television. These programs will be carried in London area this fall.

HUNTER IS HIT

OFFICIAL Films, New York, is set to announce one of largest spot sales in syndication history, involving purchase of Official's The Hunter series in about 250 markets by Tafon Distributors Inc., Los Angeles (health products). More than $1 million in one and product said to be involved in transaction. Series will kick off in mid-August. Agency for Tafon is Frank J. Miller Adv., Los Angeles.

BUSINESS BRIEFLY

ROYAL RADIO SPOTS • Standard Brands (Royal Instant desert), N. Y., planning radio spot announcement campaign to start late July for six weeks in about 20 markets. Ted Bates & Co., N. Y., is agency.

BISHOP BUYS • Hazel Bishop Inc. (Hazel Bishop lipstick, Complexion Glow, nail polish and compact make-up), through Raymond Specter Co., buys Douglas Edwards' 12:12:05 p.m. newscasts on Wendy Warren and the News (Mon.-Fri.) and five-minute Mon.-Fri. segment of Fred Robbins Show (3:30-4 p.m.), both on CBS Radio.

EVERY OTHER RIDE • American Dairy Assn., Chicago, has signed for alternate-week sponsorship of ABC-TV Long Range with Jack Barry as m.c., on ABC-TV, beginning July 31, Sundays, 9:30-10 p.m. EDT. Program was seen on ABC-TV from October 1930 to March 1952, then switched to DuMont.

REGIONAL PLAN • Greyhound Bus Lines reportedly preparing to sponsor Gross-Kramer produced half-hour tv show, weekly for 52 weeks, placing it regionally by various offices of its agency, Beaumont & Hohman.

JOINT SPONSORS • Carter Products and Pharmaceuticals Inc. sign to co-sponsor Joe and Mabel on CBS-TV, Tues., 9-9:30 p.m., effective Sept. 20. Agencies: Sullivan, Stauffer, Colwell & Bayles, N. Y., for Carter, and Edward Kletter Assoc., N. Y., for Pharmaceuticals.

CLOCKS ON TV • General Electric Telechron Div. (clocks), in midst of media plans for fall campaign, is understood to be considering spot television. Agency is N. W. Ayer & Son, N. Y.

KEDD (TV) Sued But Owner Says It's Still in Business

STANLEY H. DURWARD, president of ch. 16 KEDD (TV) Wichita, Kan., told BFT Friday that creditors' suit against station, filed earlier in week, was not important. He said station was enjoying good business, that Wichita was 99.4% converted and that board approved its request to move reserved ch. 8 from Manhattan, Kan., to Wichita, station was prepared to construct 1,200-ft. tower and boost power to 316 kw to cover greater Wichita area. Station now operates from 711-ft. tower with 245 kw, is affiliated with NBC.

Suit asked that station be placed in receivership, was filed in Sedwick County court by MCA-TV Ltd., for $5,200, and by Atlantic TV Co., for $1,400. It listed liabilities of station as follows: Durward Theatres, $270,000; RCA, $103,000; S. H. Durward, $67,000, and GE, $61,000.

SURPRISE

DISCLOSURE that CBS had bought WGTW-TV Hartford (story page 86) brought from one NBC executive expression of "surprise." Speaking unofficially, he said he had not expected CBS TV to move into uhf in same market where NBC had already made similar move (NBC has bought WKNB-TV New Britain in Hartford area; both this purchase and CBS-TV's are subject to customary FCC approval).

Ward Heads ANA Group Studying Co-op Advertising

ELMER WARD, executive vice president of Palm Beach Co., has been appointed chairman of Assn. of National Advertisers' Cooperative Advertising Steering Committee. ANA will announce today (Monday). Mr. Ward succeeds Walter Lowy, former vice president of The Formfit Co., whose June 1 assumption presidency of Richard G. Krueger Co.

Committee is currently preparing study of cooperative advertising expenditures designed to produce data on co-op advertising budgeting in relation to total advertising and promotion appropriations.

Providence UHF Suspends

WNET (TV) Providence, R. I., was to suspend operations yesterday (Sunday) due to continued large operating losses. Ch. 16 station advised FCC it hoped to return to air in future pending favorable Commission action on proposal to allocate ch. 1 to Westerly, R. I., or fundamental change in uhf picture. WNET cited "failure of the television networks to equitably distribute their programs to uhf stations" and "refusals" of timebuyers to invest clients' money in uhf time. Two uhf stations remain operating in Rhode Island, WJAR-TV and WPRO-TV, both Providence.

Guillotte Named Chief Of CBS Am Operations

HORACE R. GUILLOTTE is being named today (Monday) by CBS Radio President Arthur H. Hayes as vice president in charge of operations for CBS Radio network. Headquarters will be in Hollywood.

Mr. Guillotte, with CBS for 22 years, joined as technician in technical operations dept. and in 1941 was named supervisor in network operations dept., becoming in 1942 manager of that department and in July 1951, director of network operations, shifting from New York to West Coast last October.

Storer Notes Upswing In Radio Business

EXTREMELY optimistic statement on radio business issued Friday by George B. Storer, president of Storer Broadcasting Co., in status report on company's seven owned radio properties.

Mr. Storer said time sales on these stations "have shown marked increases" over last year. To illustrate, he compared last June with same month of 1954, noting that one station more than doubled its business and another increased by more than 20%.

Mr. Storer said: "The trend throughout the entire radio division [of SBC, which also owns and operates seven tv stations] has definitely been on the upgrade. We have detected a re-awakening among advertisers to the effectiveness of radio. "Storer stations look for, and are making preparations for, the biggest summer business radio has enjoyed in several years."

THOSE WHITING GIRLS

BACK in the B.B. era (before broadcasting), book publishers used to bring out a line of summer reading that was known as "hammock fiction," books guaranteed not to tax the reader's mind nor arouse his emotions. Today, the same function of mild sedation is performed by television's summer replacement programs. There is enough activity on the screen to keep the viewer awake, but not awake enough to get out of his chair to switch the set to another channel.

A case in point is Those Whiting Girls, which on July 4 began a summer run on CBS-TV in the Monday evening half-hour (9:30 p.m. EDT) occupied during the fall-winter-spring season by I Love Lucy, whose slap-stick antics were apparently considered too strenuous for hot weather watching. It may be definitely stated that there is nothing strenuous about Those Whiting Girls.

The first program shows the Whiting girls at home with their mother. Barbara, a co-ed, is getting ready for a date with the boy who is staging the junior varsity show; older sister Margaret is mildly complaining about Barbara borrowing her perfume, scarf, sweater and skirt for the event. The boy friend arrives and is bowled over when he discovers that his date's sister is the Margaret Whiting, whose recordings he has long collected. He gets her to sing, much to Barbara's annoyance.

Barbara tells him she can sing as well as Margaret, arranges for an audition and persuades Margaret to sing back of a curtain while she mouths the words, a performance whose phoniness is obvious to the varsity kid. Grief sets in all around until mother solves the dilemma by getting the girls to do a sister act for the show. They do, singing songs written by their father, the late Richard Whiting: "Sleepy Time Gal," "Too Marvelous for Words" and "Beyond the Blue Horizon."

The dialogue is in keeping with the plot. Sample: Margaret, seeing her bedroom in wild disarray, "Either we've had a burglary or Barbara's getting ready for a date." Sample two: Barbara, after her deception has been discovered: "I'm going to become a monk and spend the rest of my life in a monastery." The singing, particularly Margaret's, is more professional.

Liveliest item of the half-hour was the next-to-closing commercial for Post Toasties, an animated cartoon with a catchy jingle, "Who Ate My Post Toasties?" Production cost: Estimated as $30,000. Sponsored alternately by General Foods Corp. through Young & Rubicam and Procter & Gamble Co. through Biow-Beirn-Toigo, on CBS-TV, Monday, 9:30 p.m. EDT.

THE SOLDIERS

TO THE millions of American veterans of the various military services and wars, NBC-TV's The Soldiers is a nostalgic re-introduction to that specialized form of bitter-and-very-little-sweet comedy known under the generic term of G.I. humor.

Basicly, the form is that of the picturesque gries, with the practitioners vying with each other in the expression of their disapproval with the military system and all its works—including the food, the equipment, the questions of rank etc.—in the most vivid terms.

The Soldiers follows this form closely. In fact, this is the series—a succession of gries against the enforced servitude of military service. There is little characterization beyond the elementary and well-known types of The Loud-Mouthed Sergeant, The Apolectic Officer and The Sad Sack Private. There is very little plot, with what little which does exist only a peg on which to hang further observations, sometimes funny and always pungent.

The story line is that of two perennial privates, creators-stars Tom D'Andrea and Hal March, and their perennial fight against authority. Unfortunately, some confusion exists whether the two soldiers are intended to be stupid and vocal, cunning and vocal, or clever and vocal.

The basic idea and its execution, with variations, wore a little thin during the first two shows. The question thus arises whether this idea, no matter how well executed or varied, can exist for a long 13 weeks. On the basis of two viewings, a negative vote must be cast. Network: NBC-TV, Saturdays, 8-8:30 p.m.

BOOKS

On July 4, 1855, Richard Teller Crane poured the first brass molding in his new foundry in Chicago. Commemorating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Crane Co., this handsome volume presents the story of American business and the changes it has wrought on the American scene. Most impressive are the hundreds of illustrations which dramatically depict the differences in the lives of the average American citizens that have occurred in the past century.

THIS booklet, written for technicians and engineers, deals with the major points of design in the theory and design of fm receivers from the am pattern—detectors and limiters. An entire chapter is devoted to the operation and adjustment of the gated-beam detector.

Operation un-Alert

EDITOR:
I refer to your editorial in your June 27 issue of B&T, "Operation un-Alert," wherein you state that, "There's something very wrong—or phony—about our civil defense organization." As public relations officer for the Missouri Civil Defense Agency, I believe that your statement may have some merit as far as it goes, but you apparently deem it "phony" because Conelrad was not used during the June Alert.

Either this organization or your magazine is laboring under a misapprehension. The responsibility for Conelrad lies with the Federal Communications Commission and not with Civil Defense. I believe that Civil Defense would have welcomed the participation of Conelrad in the June Exercise on a national level and I know it would have been welcomed on this state level.

There are other things to consider, though, when you ask a radio station to go off the air. I left the radio industry as a program director for a 5,000 watt radio station here in Jefferson City to work for the Missouri Civil Defense Agency; so I know that the dollars and cents angle will enter into any station's consideration. The radio industry could have gained valuable experience from the exercise only by going "all out" and I sincerely doubt the willingness on their part to do so since time off the air means money out the window.

There is no question about the necessity of Conelrad in the overall defense planning of our country. I can appreciate the fact that the radio industry has invested three million dollars out of their pocket, but an actual participation in an exercise would have doubled this amount. Can we ask them to do that?

Dean Lapkey, Pub. Rel. Officer
Missouri Civil Defense Agency
Jefferson City, Mo.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: We agree that silencing all radio except 660 and 1260 kc for the full three days of "Operation Alert" would have been unreasonable, but we believe that periodic tests in the 60 cities under simulated attack would have been of value and would not have unduly discommoded commercial schedules.]

Reader Response

EDITOR:
... Your publication is certainly outstanding in both coverage and presentation. A word of praise, too, is in order for the rapidity with which news is compiled. Only recently an important Transfilm event was reported to your New York editors. In less than four days, your magazine was on my desk carrying an accurate account of that event.

Its effective layout, binding, photographic coverage and typographical accuracy has not prevented your publication from often exceeding in timeliness the more easily produced dailies and weeklies of the radio-tv field. This is certainly a credit to you and your staff.

Hooray!

EDITOR:
Hooray for Zenith!

Now, every advertiser, sales manager, account executive and copywriter will conceive and execute commercials with the hot breath of the "Flash-matic" gun [B&T, June 15; Editor's Note, June 27] on back of neck.

This is absolutely the finest gadget since the perfection of basic tv equipment! Much better for everyone than color could ever be! Just think: no more screaming audio—no more dull "demonstrations" of corn plasters and fly-swat ters! Nothing will survive but commercials which are so good people won't want to flash 'em off!

When the entire nation adopts "Flash-matic," agencies, networks and stations beware, because now, instead of just doing a pedestrian, lima\tive job that gets by, an advertiser whose creative appreciation is confined to designing lock washers, turned out by the agency man who used to do the layouts on the back cover of True Romances, you'll have to produce something that won't get the "flash" like Major Bowes' amateurs used to get the gong!

Mid-Gulf States

EDITOR:
"The Mid-Gulf States" running in your June 27 issue appears to spell out the tremendous growth that is occurring in these states. We have experienced it ourselves and know that the South is emerging into a very important market.

I wish there were more hours in the day so I could absorb every word of it, because your statistics are staggering.

'Practical' Praise

EDITOR:
With all the radio-tv call letters, the many radio-tv electronic and related industry organization abbreviations, plus all the government alphabet soup, a magazine like B&T fairly bristles with ABCs, FCCs, NATRFDS, UHFICCs and ZPTVS. (And that last code isn't "Nadit," here.) Quite often RETMA is mentioned or reported in your magazine, and once in a while we see a mention of IRE.

But when both are compared, as occurred on page 27, fourth paragraph, of the June 27 issue, the comparison is interesting, if not in-

Hardly. These three men are KCMO's walking and talking Farm Department. Headed by Jack Jackson, with George Stephens as Market Reporter and Jack Wise as Farm Reporter, they roam Mid-America for farm news from the grass roots up. Their constant contacts reap a harvest of 55 farm and market radio and television reports every week.

Such successful promotions as KCMO's Community Corn Club Contest and 2 European Farm Tours were planned and carried out by this able trio. Their active work with County Agents, 4-H Clubs, Extension Service Groups and Rural Civic Organizations has landed them a top spot in their field. Jackson, former president of the National Association of Radio and Television Farm Directors, last year was recognized as the nation's outstanding farm director.

These men of the KCMO Farm Department are headquartered right in the big middle of things — Kansas City's Livestock Exchange Building. From there, they offer Mid-America its finest, and only complete, radio and television farm service programming.

lawrence donino

on all accounts

"you can't buy a station with a slide-rule only," maintains lawrence (larry) donino, timebuyer for kenyon & eckhardt, new york.

a firm believer in the importance of the "imponderables" of a station in making his selections, mr. donino is of the opinion that "each station has its own character and personality which must be weighed equally with its coverage figures before any intelligent judgment can be made!" buying a station exclusively by statistics," observes mr. donino, "is a little like buying a suit of clothes by its size alone."

one of the new generation of timebuyers, the penetrating mr. donino is just 26 years old. born in greenwich, conn., he was educated at fairfield u., fairfield, conn., where he prepared for a law career which he abandoned at the first call of broadcasting, a job as announcer on station wgh (fm) greenwich.

he served also as a salesman before moving to an announcing post at wgat utica, n. y. in 1950 he left utica to accept a position with harry b. cohen inc., new york.

he joined ben sackheim agency in 1952 as a time and space buyer. in that post he bought time for such clients as flexi watch band, peter pan foundatons, watham watch co. and the farm bureau insurance co.

in april 1953 he joined kenyon & eckhardt, new york, as a timebuyer. his first year with that agency he worked on the lincoln-mercury account. at present he buys time for the national biscuit co., which sponsors rin tin tin on abc-tv and in addition is buying participations on children's shows in regional markets; radio corp. of america, which sponsors alternate weeks of producers' showcase; whirlpool, another network advertiser which will underwrite part of the martha raye and milton berle programs next fall on nbc-tv, and the industrial portion of shell oil co.

currently well over half of the agency's clients are in some form of television. in 1953, the agency billed about $42 million, 31% of which was in television and radio. today, the agency bills about $80 million and approximately $23.5 million of that total was devoted to radio and television during the last season.

larry donino has been married to the former ruth templeton since last november. they live in an apartment in pelham, n. y., but they are buying land in greenwich, conn., expecting to build there.

larry's hobbies include hi-fi and antique refining.

THOMAS ADAMS MCAVITY

AT NBC, this is the era of Sylvester L. Weaver Jr., network president and creator of new programming concepts in tv (and also radio). With his ascendency have come the "magazine concept" and such terminology as the spectacular, the "bonanza," the "telementary" (semi-documentary), the communicator and a host of others, all describing NBC-TV's approach to the exciting and different in 20th century network tv.

Ideas, however, usually go only as far as the effort behind them. Thus, with the rise of Mr. Weaver's concepts, a number of executives—most picked at one time or another by Mr. Weaver—have worked hard and long as a team to bring these ideas to logical fruition.

One of these executives is Thomas A. McAvity, vice president in charge of the NBC television network. Mr. McAvity is no novice. The Canadian-born network vice president was U. S. radio-bred and is a veteran of 26 years in broadcasting.

Mr. McAvity has an uncanny ability of squeezing out the superfettous—a characteristic that is a special asset in program production—and placing his thoughts squarely on the line.

In a nutshell, Mr. McAvity says, this is what NBC-TV is trying to achieve: "Success." The path to success? Well, Mr. McAvity reflects, one never really succeeds if one never really tries. And to "try" in tv, means to conceive and program something "new".

From this credo—much the same slogan of courage chalked on schoolroom blackboards: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again"—have come Today, Home and Tonight with their sponsors, many entirely new to either tv or radio; the "spectacular" with its big-name talent and quality production, and many other new programming concepts.

The day may be not too far off, according to Mr. McAvity, when all of network tv will find the advertiser buying a "position" in programs just as an advertiser must do today when he purchases space in a national magazine. Of course, Mr. McAvity hastens to add, there are many—both clients and their agencies—who resist change, who adhesive-like, stick to the status quo.

Mr. McAvity sees network tv continuing to depart from the radio format of regularly scheduled, sponsored shows. The breaking away not only has begun, he notes, but will increase. Take Milton Berle, for example. Mr. McAvity observes that even the veteran tv comic will have special shows—or spectarketacts—for each of his third-Tuesday colorcasts next fall.

Thomas Adams McAvity was born Sept. 8, 1907, at St. John, New Brunswick, the son of oil businessman Allen G. McAvity and the former Amy F. Adams. He attended Ridley College at St. Catherine's, Ontario, and McGill U. in Montreal. He left school and worked a couple of years with the Royal Bank of Canada, then became advertising manager of his father's Canadian Independent Oil Ltd. He decided to put on a one-hour local radio show.

That was Mr. McAvity's starting point in radio-tv. Once involved in this show, he was announcing, producing, writing and hiring talent. The station (then CFBO St. John) asked him to do this regularly and Mr. McAvity doubled as ad man in oil and general manager of CFBO.

In 1929 Mr. McAvity visited New York on business. For kicks he dropped by NBC. That was his introduction to networks. He was hired as a producer, which in those days meant simply to set up a show and get it on the air. It also brought him into contact with clients and agencies and with the production of 15 shows a week.

He rose rapidly through various capacities in programming and in 1932 left NBC to work at the Lord & Thomas agency on the production of such radio shows as Your Hit Parade, Lucky Strike Magic Carpet and The Magic Key of RCA. In 1937 he was on the West Coast, helping to set up L&T's Hollywood office. He became manager of that office and helped to inaugurate and produce the first Bob Hope Show. In 1941 he was back in New York as L&T's vice president in charge of radio.

At the end of that year Mr. McAvity left the agency and set up a freelance operation, producing such shows as Corliss Archer (he wrote some of the series' episodes), The Hardy Family, The Saint (also partly written by him), Date with Judy, and still others. He also was a vice president of Famous Artists Corp., a talent agency.

By May 1930 tv beckoned and Mr. McAvity let himself be persuaded to join CBS as production supervisor (both radio and tv) on the West Coast. Mr. Weaver, then vice president in charge of the NBC television network, and Frederic W. Wbe Jr. (then vice president in charge of programming at NBC-TV and now vice president, tv network programs, Pacific Division), beckoned. Mr. McAvity returned to NBC in October 1951 and became vice president in charge of television network programs in January 1954. He was elevated Jan Febrary to his present position.

The McAvitys—his wife is Helen Mack, former motion picture actress and a producer-director in her own right—live in Manhattan. Their children are John, 19, a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Tommy Jr., 13, who stars at Exeter next fall. They have a summer home at Marion, Mass., where Mr. McAvity furthers his interests in golf, fishing and sailing.

Four new WMAQ stars join the most exciting program line-up in Chicago

KARIN WALSH is city editor of “Night Desk” Monday through Friday, 10:00-10:30 p.m., an action-packed presentation of the Chicago night scene... as it happens. It's all on the air as Walsh, city editor of the Chicago Sun-Times, covers the news with direct short-wave communication with on-the-scene reporters, police radio calls, and telephone conversations with important public officials and private sources.

ETTA MOTEN, who scored a triumph as Bess in Gershwin's immortal “Porgy and Bess”, presents a program of songs and reminiscence that puts Mid-America in a nostalgic mood every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9:15-9:30 p.m.

VIRGINIA MARMADUKE, feature writer for the Chicago Sunday Tribune magazine section, delights the huge daytime audience with warm, wonderful human interest stories as “The Duchess”, Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons, 1:30-1:45. “The Duchess”, a newspaperwoman for 25 years, was recently the surprised subject of a “This is Your Life” telecast.

AUSTIN KIPLINGER brings an unusual background of publishing and journalism to two new programs Monday through Friday. “Austin Kiplinger and the News”, 5:00 - 5:30 p.m. and “Kiplinger Says” from 11:00 - 11:15 p.m.

And all of Chicago's old favorites are still playing to packed houses on WMAQ. If you'd like to increase your sales in America's second largest market, there are now four new reasons to call WMAQ or your NBC Spot Sales representative. You'll get all the facts about the specialized local programming and intensive local promotion that make sure THE PAY-OFF IS AT THE POINT OF SALE.

TELEVISION films are a $300 million a year business.
That's an estimate, but it's a conservative estimate.
The activity by major tv film producers and distributors this summer, a just-completed BT survey reveals, will push the volume of film telecasts this coming fall and winter to new heights which, before the year has ended, may add another $50 million to the time-and-program value of the year's telecasting on film, for a 1955 total sum of $350 million.

Nearly 50 new film series are now in preparation for fall showing by the nation's tv stations and networks, the survey discloses. Pilot films, made or in the making, need only the o.k. of broadcaster or sponsor to be rushed into production and add another score of programs to the new film series to hit the air this year.

Some of these newcomers, it is true, will utilize time formerly occupied by other film programs which have fallen by the wayside. But the majority will not. Most of the tv film shows of last season will be back this fall by popular demand. Most of the newcomers will perform to move into new time, some of it taken from live program schedules, some provided by an extension of the tv broadcast day.

The tv networks this fall expect to decrease their total air time by 4.5% in comparison to last spring. Their hours of live programming will be down by 11.3%.

Last March, 30% of station time was devoted to non-network film programs. Say that this fall, films will get 40% of station time—a most conservative estimate in view of the statement of T. Gentry Veal, research associate at Kodak Research Laboratories, that film programming accounts for approximately 60% of all tv time.

Now apply these figures to the estimates of the 1955 gross tv business volume, as announced by Oliver Trezy, president of Television Bureau of Advertising [BT, July 4]: network, $588 million; spot and local, $503 million.

The results are: network film volume, $118 million; station non-network film volume, $201 million, or a total of $319 million which the telecasting of film programs will bring to the television broadcasters during this year.

Production costs of tv films for the year 1955 will amount to $80 million, according to an estimate of the year's production budget for these film properties in the annual report of the Motion Picture Assn. of America.

The swing to film for network tv programming may shortly see the tv networks as film producers as well as buyers. ABC-TV last week admitted that plans are being made to produce its own film programs at its own facilities on the West Coast. A network spokesman told BT that a survey of its plant on the coast is currently underway to determine the feasibility of such a move. He said ABC_TV hopes to have its film studio in operation by next May.

The ABC Television Center in Hollywood consists of 23 acres, formerly a Warner Bros. motion picture lot. In December 1953, the network spent more than $100,000 to refurbish one studio for live tv programming. It is assumed that an extensive remodelling project would be instituted should the network's plans to produce films there materialize.

New tv film programs now being screened for telecasting starting in the fall include the following, according to reports made to BT by leading producers and distributors:

Adventures of Champion
Gene Autry's horse, actor Jim Bannon, 11-year-old Barry Curtis and a dog will be featured in this series which Flying A Productions is filming in Arizona for CBS-TV Film Sales.

Adventures of Long John Silver
The character created by Robert Louis Stevenson is the central figure of this series, to be produced by Joseph Kaufman and distributed by CBS-TV Film Sales. The half-hour adventure series is designed for initial national sales and later for local spot sales. Robert Newton stars as Long John Silver. The series was produced in studio in Sydney, Australia.

Adventures of Dr. Fu Manchu
Glen Gordon plays the insidious Chinese mastermind in the tv series based on the novels of Sax Rohmer, which Studio City Television Productions is filming for fall distribution by Hollywood Television Service.

Adventures of the Scarlet Pimpernel
Romance, intrigue and adventure make up this half-hour series, starring Marius Goring, which is being produced abroad by Towers of London and will be distributed by Official Films. The series deals with the exploits of the romantic hero of the French Revolution. It will be Official's first new series in full syndication for 1955-56 and is now being sold.

Alfred Hitchcock Presents
This series of 39 half-hour suspense films, produced by Revue Productions with Mr. Hitch. cock directing, will be launched Oct. 2 in the Sun., 9:30-10 p.m. EST period on CBS-TV, sponsored by Bristol-Myers Co., replacing Stage Seven.

Alias Jimmy Valentine
The turn-of-the-century comedy-drama of the adventures of a dapper safecracker is the basis for a 39-week series of half-hour TV programs which Gross-Kraesten Inc. is scheduled to start shooting this month. MCA TV Ltd. will distribute the series.

Andy’s Gang
Successor to the Smillie Ed’s Gang juvenile series, with Andy Devine succeeding the late Ed McConnell as gangmaster, this new series of 52 half-hour films is being filmed by Frank Ferrin Productions and will start Aug. 1 on more than 100 tv stations under sponsorship of Brown Shoe Co.

Behind the Scenes
The adventures of two girls trying for movie careers in Hollywood are related in Behind the Scenes, featuring Sally Fraser and Jill Jarmyn. Studio City Television Productions has completed two pilots of this series, scheduled for fall distribution by Hollywood Television Service.

Brother Mark
This adventure story, now being filmed in Munich, in 39 half-hour episodes, tells of an ex-man-about-the-world who dedicates his life to trapping criminals and upholding justice. To be distributed by Guild Films, the series is being directed by Marion Parsonnet and stars Richard Kiley.

Confidential File
Newsmen Paul Coates is originator and narrator of this Guild Film Co. documentary series, part live, part film, that supplies behind-the-scenes views of the nation, spotlighting racketeers, narcotics and the plight of various groups living under the shadow of injustice and sorrow. The program has won praise from community leaders and civic groups for its public service.

Count of Monte Cristo
Georg Dolenz and Faith Domergue are starred in this series, now being produced by Television Programs of America. It has not been decided whether the program will be carried network or offered for syndication. The half-hour films will be costume dramas, based on the adventures of Edmond Dantes, the Count of Monte Cristo in Victor Hugo’s classic novel.

Crunch and Des
Deep sea fishing adventures make up this half-hour dramatic series that is being produced by Bermuda Productions Ltd. for distribution by NBC Film Division. The series being filmed by RKO-Pathe Inc. on Darrell’s Island, a former commercial seaplane base in Hamilton Harbor, Bermuda. The series is based on the Saturday Evening Post stories of Philip Wylie. Forest Tucker plays Crunch Adams, skipper of a 41-foot cruiser; Sandy Kenyon is featured as his partner, Des, and Joanne Bayes is his wife, Sari.

The Crusader
Brian Keith is starred in the title role of this series, based on the files of Radio Free Europe, which Dick Lewis is producing for Revue Productions. The 39-film half-hour series will be sponsored, by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. on CBS-TV.

The Dancers
Jack Denove Productions is filming this NBC-TV series, starring the Show of Shows dancers, Bambi Linn and Rod Alexander. George Bradshaw is writing the fall series, with Val Rosing as director.

Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal
First work of noted novelist Lloyd C. Douglas to reach tv, this story of an eminent brain surgeon (first mentioned in the Douglas best-seller "Magnificent Obsession"), is being produced in Hollywood and set at the Playhouse, headed by Brewster Morgan and Eugene Solow, who are shooting 39 half-hour installments for distribution by MCA TV Ltd. John Howard is starred in the title role.

Gangbusters
Like the radio program, this is a half-hour series based on the actual cases of local police departments throughout the country. It is produced in Hollywood by Visual Drama Inc. and will be distributed by the General Teleradio Film Division. In each program of the series different actors and actresses are featured.

Darkroom Shortage?
PRE EDITION that there will be "a great shortage" of skilled personnel in the film laboratory field in the near future unless the industry takes positive action was made last week by Herbert E. Pitzer, president of Circle Film Labs, New York. He said the demand made upon the film laboratory field by tv and color films have caused such an expansion that the pool of skilled help has been depleted. He recommended that a training program be conducted on an industry basis with the help of trade unions, and that schools be induced to conduct courses in motion picture laboratory work.

The Goldbergs
Currently in production in New York by Guild Films, which will also distribute the series, this is a continuation of the familiar radio and later tv series starring Gertrude Berg, author of the scripts, in her role of Molly. Other stars include her "family:" Robert Harris, Eli Mintz, Arlene Quade and Tom Taylor. A new twist applied by Guild is the move of the Goldbergs from the Bronx to a small community, Haverville, U. S. A.

Grand Ole Opry
After more than 25 years on radio, this grandpappy of all folk musical, country comedy programs has been transferred to tv by Flamingo Films, which anticipates that the series will be showing in more than 200 markets by the end of the year.

Great Gildersleeve
Based on the popular long-time radio series, this half-hour tv show is being produced by Matthew Rapf at the Hal Roach Studios for distribution by the NBC Film Division. It is a comedy program, concerned with the misadventures of Throckmorton B. Gildersleeve, Summerfield’s water commissioner and bumbling bon vivant. Willard Waterman is starred.

Gunsmoke
Inevitable consequence of the success of Gunsmoke as a CBS Radio program, the series is now moving into television and will start on CBS-TV this fall, with the same sponsor as in radio, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. Producer-director Charles Marquã Warren has signed Film master Productions to film the 52-installment adult Western series, which is budgeted at $37,500 per half-hour program.

Ina Ray Hutton Show
This variety-musical, produced and distributed by Guild Films, is directed by Duke Goldstone, who also directs Liberace and Florian ZeBoch shows. The series, in half-hour episodes, features Ina Ray Hutton with her 16-piece band, made up of girl musicians and studded with singing, dancing, and comedy. The show was telecast live on KTTV (TV) Los Angeles for four years before being filmed.

I Spy
Actor Raymond Massey, distinguished on stage and screen, is star of this thriller series now being produced by Guild Films in New York. The program traces dramatic episodes of espionage through the pages of history. Edward Montaigne is director of the show that also stars Dorothy Hart.

It’s Always Jan
Janis Paige is starred in this film series about a night club entertainer which Desilu Productions is producing for CBS-TV. Series will make its air debut Sept. 10, sponsored by Procter & Gamble Co. through Compton Advertising.

It’s Fun to Reduce
As its title indicates, this Guild Films daytime program deals with the problem of overweight. Margaret Firth is starred.

Jane Wyman
New series, at yet untitled, will star Miss Wyman in 20 of the 36 half-hour films which will be sponsored by Procter & Gamble Co. on NBC-TV, replacing Fireside Theatre. Revue Production is filming the series.

Jungle Jim
This is a half-hour outdoor action series starring Johnny Weismuller with Martin Huston playing Skipper, his 12-year-old son, and Tamba, a pet chimpanzee. The background and atmosphere are primarily jungle, and Mr. Weismuller enacts the role of a hunter-guide. Produced and distributed by Screen Gems, the series is available for local and regional syndication.

M-G-M Parade
Scenes from forthcoming Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer theatrical releases and a variety of material from old M-G-M short subjects will be utilized in the half-hour weekly series to start this fall on ABC-TV. American Tobacco Co. has been reported as a possible sponsor for the series, which marks M-G-M’s entry into television.

Mickey Mouse Club
Second Walt Disney venture on ABC-TV, Mickey Mouse Club starts Oct. 3 as a Monday-Friday program at 5-6 p.m., with Armour & Co., Bristol-Myers Co., Campbell Soup Co., Carnation Co., General Mills, Mars Inc., and Welch Grape Juice Co., already signed as sponsors.

Mr. and Mrs.
Ida Lupino and Howard Duff are co-starred in this sophisticated situation comedy series, which Four Star Productions is doing in partnership with Arc Productions.
My Friend Flicka

TCF Television Productions is filming My Friend Flicka, juvenile horse opera based on the Mary O'Hara properties and featuring Anita Louise, Gene Evans and Johnny Washbrook, as well as Flicka, for tv use by CBS-TV, Friday, 7:30-8 p.m.

Navy Log

Exploits of Navy personnel form the basis of this factual adventure series, produced by Sam Gallu in cooperation with the U.S. Navy, to be telecast on CBS-TV, Tues., 8-8:30 p.m., with Maytag Co. and W. A. Sheaffer Pen Co. as co-sponsors.

Thomas Mitchell portrays O. Henry in this series of 39 half-hour programs based on O. Henry's famed short stories which Gross-Krasne Inc. is producing for distribution by MCA Tv Ltd.

Patti Page Show

Produced and distributed by Screen Gems, this 15-minute program features Miss Page, the Page Five Singers and Jack Rael's Orchestra. The variety show will be seen twice a week in 107 markets, beginning in July, and it is expected that more than 150 stations will broadcast the program.

People's Choice

Jackie Cooper is starred in this situation comedy series which McCadden Corp. is producing for NBC-TV, which will start it on the air this fall with Borden Co. as sponsor.

Red Ryder

This half-hour series will be produced by Flying A Productions and syndicated by CBS-Tv Film Sales. The series is based on the exploits of the popular cartoon cowboy, whose adventures have been appearing in newspapers for nearly 30 years.

Robin Hood

Produced by Saphire Films of London for distribution by Official Films, this series based on the exploits of the legendary outlaw has been sold nationally to Johnson & Johnson and Wildroot Co. for telecasting on CBS-TV starting in September.

Science in Action

This half-hour film series, produced by the California Academy of Sciences and distributed by Television Programs of America, dramatizes the miracles of modern science. Dr. Earl S. Herald is host for the program, which has been sponsored by the American Trust Co. in San Francisco for five years over KRON-TV. The series has just been placed in syndication by TFA.

Screen Directors Playhouse

Through an unusual arrangement with Screen Directors Guild, the entire SDG membership is available for directing assignments for this series of 52 half-hour films which Hal Roach Jr. is to produce for Eastman Kodak Co. sponsorship on NBC-TV. Budget of approximately $50,000 per program has been established for the series.

Sergeant Preston of the Yukon

Charles E. Skinner Productions, a company new to the West Coast, is shooting 52 half-hour episodes of this tv version of the longtime radio serial, which will go on CBS-TV this fall under sponsorship of Quaker Oats Co. Much of the shooting is being done on location in Aspen, Colo.

Sheena, Queen of the Jungle

Produced by Don Sharpe and distributed by ABC Film Syndication, this half-hour adventure series presents Sheena, a beautiful, young African queen who champions justice and peace in her jungle domain. The role of Sheena is played by Irish McCalla. Christian Drake plays the role of Bob the hunter, her friend, and Neil, a chimpanzee, who, in a sense, is cast as "Chim," mascot to Sheena.

Showtime

A musical, variety revue, produced and distributed by Studio Films Inc., this series has been filmed in half-hour episodes, with 39 ready for local sponsorship. A host of talent—of song, dance and comedy—appear in the program that is hosted by comic Frankie Fontaine.

Tabor the Great

An eight-foot mechanical robot is the title character in this series of half-hour films now in preparation by Dudley Television Corp. Based on the Dudley Pictures Republic-released feature film of the same name, Tabor the Great is being shot for tv in color in Hollywood, London and various locations in France.

Tales of the Foreign Legion

Errol Flynn, as the commandant of a Foreign Legion battalion, is starred in this half-hour series, being produced by the Jersey Corp. and Aubrey Baring Assoc. in England and Spain for distribution by CBS-TV Film Sales. Centering around the men of the Legion, each story in the series deals with one man, telling why he joined the Legion and what its effect has been on him.

Tales of the Texas Rangers

This half-hour adventure series about the famed law enforcement body of the Lone Star State is produced and distributed by Screen Gems. It will premiere on CBS-TV on Sept. 3 (Sat., 11:30 a.m. EDT) under the sponsorship of General Mills. Tales of the Texas Rangers will star Willard Parker as Jace Pearson, Texas Ranger, and will include Harry Lauter as Clay Morgan, his sidekick.

The Texas Rangers

Based on true life stories of the Texas Rangers, using material from the files of this renowned peace-keeping body, this series is being produced by Four Star Productions in association with International Television Productions of Houston.

Those Whiting Girls

Margaret Whiting, the songstress, and her sister Barbara are starred in a situation comedy series with lots of songs worked into the plot. Show is now on CBS-TV, co-sponsored by Procter & Gamble Co. and General Foods Corp., as summer replacement for I Love Lucy, whose producer, Desilu Productions, also turns out Those Whiting Girls.

Thunder

Horses and kids are featured in this half-hour drama-adventure series which will be carried...
Uncommon Valor

Half-hour dramatic presentations showing history-making exploits of the U. S. Marines. This series covers the years between 1914 and 1955 through the eyes of men who participated in the action. It was produced by Executive Production Inc., with the cooperation of the U. S. Marines and is being distributed by the General Teleradio Film Division. Most of the sequences are from the official motion picture film library of the Marine Corps, with additional passages from the files of the U. S. Navy and National Archives.

Warner Brothers Presents

New hour-long weekly series (Tues., 7:30-8:30 p.m.) on NBC-TV will include 13 "Cheyenne" Western segments, 13 "Kings Row" romance segments, and 13 "Casablanca" adventure segments. Sponsors are: General Electric Co., Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., Monsanto Chemical Co. Sunset Productions, tv subsidiary of Warner Brothers, has begun work on the programs.

Wyatt Earp

Desilu Productions is handling production of this ABC-TV series about the most famous of all Western sheriffs, which will be sponsored alternately by Parker Pen Co. and General Mills.

You Can't Take It With You

Based on the original play by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, this half-hour comedy series is being produced and distributed by Screen Gems. The tv series stars Cecil Kellaway as Grandpa, George Givot as the hungry dancing in front; Barbara Britton as the normal member of the family; Nydia Westman as Grandpa's daughter, and Joyce Holden as the granddaughter least likely to succeed as a ballet dancer.

In addition to the tv film series which are already set to start on the air this fall, scores of others are in preparation for telecasting at some future time and many pilot films are now being shown to prospective sponsors as ready to go into production on short notice.

In the past seven years since tv film production became a reality, it has passed through several distinct phases. Several years ago enthusiasm ran high and new production companies by the score announced that they were in business and preparing many new tv film series, most of which never came to pass.

Then came an era of ultraconservatism, with advertisers and broadcasters willing to do business only with the established firms who had proven their ability to deliver what they promised. Instead of widely making pilots or even series on spec, the practice was not to turn a camera unless a signed contract for the series was in hand. At that time the network syndication division divvied up the time and sold tie-ins to such shows as CBS-TV with Desilu, NBC-TV with Hal Roach Jr.

Can Afford Pilots

Today, the major tv film companies can afford to make pilots for their own package programs, in addition to those made on order from advertisers, networks or major tv film distributors. Some firms, like Ziv, handle the whole deal themselves, making, producing, selling and distributing their film series.

With the gain of film jurisdiction rights in their new contracts with NABET [B+T, April 11], NBC-TV and ABC-TV are beginning to farm out production assignments for a number of network pilots. The same is true of CBS-TV, which led the way for this practice with its IATE contract.

Pilots which CBS-TV has had completed for the fall market include "The High O," dealing with a Coast Guard cargo vessel, filmed by Hal Roach Studios and starring Craig Stevens and Alan Hale Jr., produced by Bill Brennan; "Henry Aldrich," filmed by Desilu; "Daniel Boone," produced by E. D. Leshin and based on legends of this American pioneer; "Miss Pepperdine," starring Marie Wilson as a receptionist to a dress manufacturer, filmed by McCadden; "Delightful Imposter," filmed by Klingen Studios.

CBS-TV Hawaiian Series

A major item on CBS-TV's upcoming list is "Hart of Honolulu," to be filmed in that city with Dennis O'Keefe and an all-Hawaiian supporting cast. Series, expected to be shot beyond the pilot, is the story of a Honolulu-born American novelist en route to the Far East.

NBC-TV has either completed or just about completed pilot films for "My Man Sing," situation comedy concerning a young lady who inherits a Chinese houseboy, produced by Hal Roach as an "Indish Ompa Dope," comedy with a newspaper background, featuring Bill Goodwin and Cliff Arquette, also filmed by Roach with Matthew Rapf as producer; "Hildegarde Withers," with Agnes Moorehead playing the mystery-solving lady created by author Stuart Palmer, produced by Tom McKnight; "Skip Taylor, USAF," dealing with the adventures of three air cadets, produced by Stuart Reynolds; "Submarine, underwater adventures of World War II, produced by John Fiore.

Also Frontier, filmed by Roach Studios with Matthew Rapf as producer and reportedly scheduled for sponsorship by Reynold's Metals as the fall replacement for "Mister Peepers;" another Rapf-produced pilot, "Challenger," a documentary, "Impact," filmed by McCadden, and "Delightful Imposter," a joint NBC-McCadden venture.

In addition, Hal Roach Studios has completed pilots of "Just Plain Folks, with Zsa Zsa Gabor and Cy Howard, program's creator, and "Have Camera, Will Travel, with Paul Gilbert, for NBC-TV.

Four Star Productions has pilots on a new Mr. Blandings series with MacDonald Carey in the title part, a series called "Grand Motel," based on the current novel of that name.

Reed Has Pilots

Roland Reed Productions has pilots in the can for "The Baxter Boy," a teen-age situation comedy starring Johnny McGovern, and "Alarm," a dramatic human interest series based on an actual fire.

Studio City Television Productions is preparing an original series, "Frontier Doctor," which scheduled for early production.

Hal Roach Jr. is working on a tv format for a series to start the comedy team of Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, in addition to the John Nesbitt Passing Parade series which reportedly is ready to be signed for sponsorship.

Desilu Productions has completed pilot films of "Mr. Tutt," based on the Arthur Train stories and starring Walter Brennan; "Just Off Broadway," with Rose Marie, Peggy Ryan and Ray MacDonald; "Buckley, starring Dorothy Lamour: The Web, for Goodson-Todman; and It's a Great Country for ABC-TV.

Authors Playhouse, the Brewhouse Mortgage-Eugene Solow firm, has on its upcoming slate a series also named Authors Playhouse, whose individual programs will be drawn from stories by such top American writers as John Hersey, Ben Ames Williams, William Saroyan, John Steinbeck, Christopher Lefarge and Kirk Barber.

John W. Loveton Radio & TV Productions is showing half-hour pilot film of projected Scattergood Baines series, based on the Clarence Buddington Kelland stories, with Bill Williams starred, Mr. and Mrs. North, formerly on NBC-TV, which the Loveton firm has had in syndication, may go into production for a new series on CBS-TV for which negotiations are reportedly now in progress.

Revue Productions has State Trooper, starring Rod Cameron as a modern Western law officer, in the works as a successor to City Detective, Revue series also starring Mr. Cameron. New series will be syndicated by MCA-TV.

Two in Preparation

Screen Gems is also making preliminary preparations on Circus Boy and Tales of the Bengal Lancer, but production has not started on these programs and they are not expected to be available for fall distribution.

Charles E. Skinner Productions' future book includes a Western series, Riders of the Pony Express, and one of earlier days in American history, based on the novels of James Fenimore Cooper.

Roy Rogers Productions is preparing a new series, Brave Eagle, for CBS-TV.

A number of the film producers and distributors are not putting new tv programs on the market this fall but are concentrating on preparing additional sequences for already-established series begun last year or earlier (such as Desilu's "Cinco Kids" which is expected to be shot in television this fall), for which there is a continuing demand from stations and sponsors.

There is neither space nor need to list these programs here, but it should be noted that they comprise a major part of the tv film fare which will be televised during the months ahead.

Not all the films shown on tv are specially made for this medium. Feature films originally screened for theatrical showings have also been proven to be popular on tv. Last March, B+T found that 16.6% of station air time was devoted to these films, slightly more than the time given to films made expressly for telecasting, which received 13.8% of the total station air time.

There are no indications of any curtailment in the telecasting of feature films in the immediate future. MCA-TV, distributor of 56 hour-long Gene Autry pictures and 67 Roy Rogers pictures of the same length, now released to tv for the first time, reported sales of $3 million in the first three weeks [B+T, May 21]. National Telefilm Associates achieved $736,000 worth of sales of its "Fabulous Forty" package of British feature films in the first month [B+T, June 13].

NBC-TV 'First'

On Oct. 9, NBC-TV will set a tv "first" by telecasting in color the full-length color feature picture, The Constant Husband, preceding its release to motion picture houses [B+T, June 6]. NBC-TV will also colorcast The Magic Box on its network, obtaining from NTA the rights to the picture, one of the "Fabulous Forty," a step which required releases by the 18 tv stations which had already purchased the package [B+T, July 4].
CREAM of WHEAT to STRESS NIGHT TV; FIVE OTHERS SET RADIO-TV CAMPAIGNS

Increase in tv budget to $675,000 announced by cereal firm for its drive in 56 markets. Robert Hall Clothes plans radio-tv splurge.
Others: 'Digest,' Muriel cigs, Blue Bonnet, Seabrook Farms.

CREAM of Wheat Corp., Minneapolis, is putting $675,000—representing an increase of more than 40% over its broadcast budget of last year—into a television campaign using station identifications in Class A evening time.

The company is one of several advertisers active in radio and television spot planning last week. Others include Muriel cigs, Reader's Digest magazine, Blue Bonnet margarine, Seabrook Farms and Robert Hall Clothes.

Cream of Wheat will pour its $675,000 into 56 markets, using three to four Class A nighttime ID's effective Aug. 15 for 52 weeks. The 52-week contract will prevail everywhere except in the South and Southwest, where a 39-week campaign will take place, since the firm will not use the 13 summer weeks in those areas.

The schedule marks the first time that Cream of Wheat is using nighttime television. Last year the firm used alternate weeks of daytime radio and television in each market. But this season the plans call for television only, with an increase of $200,000 in the budget over last year.

BBDO, Minneapolis, is the agency preparing and placing the campaign.

Other Ad Drives

P. Lorillard Co. (Muriel cigs), New York, starts a radio spot campaign this month in about a half-dozen markets through Lennen & Newell, New York.

Reader's Digest, through Schwab & Beatty, New York, is preparing a one-week spot announcement campaign in a number of Midwest markets, using both radio and TV. The schedule starts Aug. 15.

Standard Brands (Blue Bonnet margarine), New York, effective today (Monday) is entering a radio and TV spot announcement schedule in 40 to 50 markets. Ted Bates & Co., New York, is the agency.

Seabrook Farms (frozen vegetables and fruits), Bridgeton, N. J., now making up its plans, is expected to run its annual 26-week campaign Oct. 1 through April 1, most likely using both radio and television as in the past.

NEW CHESBROUGH-POND'S To Retain Same Agencies

CHESBROUGH-POND'S Inc., new firm formed by the merger of Chesbrough Mfg. Co. (Vaseline brand products), and Pond's Extract Co. (cosmetics), will continue the advertising agency associations of both predecessor companies, Albert B. Richardson, who has been named vice president in charge of advertising, announced last week.

The Pond's agency is J. Walter Thompson Co. 20th Century-Fox has that account, with the agency since 1886. Chesbrough will continue with McCann-Erickson. Their affiliation dates back to 1912. Mr. Richardson succeeds Basil L. Emery, who was elected vice president and assistant to the president.

'Channel 4 Store' Plan Includes Over 6,500 N. Y. Food Stores

GROUP of food chain outlets in the New York metropolitan area, comprising more than 6,500 stores with an estimated volume of $3 billion, has signed to participate in WRCA-TV New York's "Channel 4 Store" plan, designed to merchandise and promote, at point of sale, food products advertised on the station.

The plan will be put into operation Thursday on behalf of Dilbert's Markets for one week. On succeeding weeks the promotion will be extended to other participants, including thus far, Acme Super Markets, Food Fair, Shopwell Markets, Associated Stores, Key Food Stores, Shop-Rite Stores, Duane Markets, Sunriser Market, Diamond Foods, Key Kitchens, and Kings Markets.

Max E. Buck, director of advertising and merchandising for WRCA-AM-TV, reported that advertisers eligible for the plan must sponsor an on-the-air schedule of $1,500 in announcements or participations in daylight hours, or run schedules of $5,000 or more per week for announcements or programs regardless of time classification. The WRCA-TV merchandising coordinator, will supervise a field staff that will arrange for manufacturer participation and work closely with retail outlets.

During each chain promotion, WRCA-TV will use its TV personalities and on-the-air announcements to build traffic and stimulate sales. In turn, advertisers in the "Channel 4 Store" plan will receive promotional assistance from 6,500 participating stores in the form of store displays, newspaper promotion in the chain advertisements, bulletins to store managers ordering product promotion, and sales reports on each promotion.

Nielsen Index to 12 Stations

SIGNING of 12 additional stations, including NBC-owned KRCA (Los Angeles) and KNBC San Francisco, for Nielsen Station Index (NSI) surveys has been reported by A. C. Nielsen Co. Others, bringing station total to 61, were WMCA and WNEW New York, WITL Baltimore, WERD and WAOK Atlanta, KTTV (TV) and KTLA (TV) Los Angeles, WVDW Boston and WN2 Chicago and KFJO St. Louis. Six new agency contracts also reported, bringing agency advertiser total to 75 (75 agency, 12 advertiser), are: Campbell-Ewald and Ogilvy, Benson & Mather, both Detroit; Godman & Shop and Wasser, Kay & Phillips, Pittsburgh; Advertising Co. of America, and Erwin, Wasey & Co., Los Angeles, and Wherry, Baker & Tilden, Chicago.

MORE FIRMS SPEND MORE ON TV YEARLY

TvB finds repeated re-orders are key to television's success.

FACTS and figures pointing out television's performance as a salesman are highlighted in a 67-page presentation released by Television Bureau of Advertising last week.

The presentation incorporates the findings of the first two major research projects commissioned by TvB—the survey of the television market by A. C. Nielsen Co., and the "market basket" survey of supermarket shoppers by the Institute for Research in Mass Motivations [WBT, May 21].

These findings, first made public by TvB President Oliver Treyz in the TVB session at the NARTB convention, and other research data are used to spell out answers to three basic questions with which the presentation, called "The Three 'How's' of Television," is concerned:

How many prospects does tv reach? How much does it cost to reach them? How effective are its sales messages?

As of May 1, the study shows, "more than nine of every ten U. S. homes are in areas covered by tv . . . more than seven of every ten U. S. homes own a television set . . . and in the first four months of 1955, the average television home used its set five hours, 28 minutes per day—more than 38 hours per week."

While magazine circulation-per-dollar has dropped 14% and newspapers 12% in the past four years, the presentation continues, the numbers of homes reached per dollar by television has increased 38%. Cost data also are cited to show that "television not only reaches the prospects an advertiser wants to reach, but it reaches them at low unit cost, regardless of whether he uses network, national spot [or] local television."

The Test: Re-orders

Citing the sales maxim that says, "You haven't completed a sale until you get a re-order," the study maintains that "here lies the key to television's success." The following table, using Publishers Information Bureau figures on network advertisers and N. C. Rorabaugh Co.'s spot advertisers, shows how the number of national and regional users of tv has grown since 1949:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Number of television advertisers</th>

<th>267</th>
<th>52</th>
<th>1950</th>

</table>

Moreover, the presentation points out, "of the top national advertisers who used one or more of the four major media, 93 are eligible for television advertising"—and 90 of these 93 did use tv last year, while one of the year's five eligible holdouts has started in television this year. [Eligibility refers to acceptability of products, hard selling advertising, for instance, is not accepted by broadcast stations.] Also, it was noted, whereas the "top national advertisers" spent 8.3% more in the four major media in 1954 than in 1953, their expenditures in network television alone were up a whopping 45%.

TvB also cites the tv record of Procter & Gamble Co. , "one of the largest—and considered hardest to penny-conscious—advertisers in the world." The presentation points out that P&G spent an estimated $34.5 million in network and national spot television time (not including talent expenditures) in 1954—"4.7 times more than they spent in newspapers and supplements [and] 5.2 times more than they spent in general and farm magazines."

"But you don't have to be a Procter & Gamble to appreciate the impact of television as an advertising medium," the presentation assures. It presents the following table, from PIB figures, to show how some of the smaller advertisers, advertisers not to be found among the top 100 spenders—have "reorded" television over the years. Nor do these figures include spot tv expenditures:

Wrapping up its presentation on the effectiveness of advertising, final results of the study made by the Institute for Research in Mass Motivations among shoppers in Fresno and San Francisco, Calif., and in Peeskill, Tarrytown and Syracuse, N. Y. The surveyed shoppers credited television with having been the medium most responsible for purchases representing 49.4% of the dollars they had spent. The study also showed that television was the leading influence in 14 of 17 product categories—and the dominant [more than 50%] influence in 9 of 17.

Klau-Van Pietersom-Dunlap Elects Five in Top Echelon

ELECTION of Frank V. Birch from president to chairman of the board of Klau-Van Pietersom-Dunlap Inc., Milwaukee advertising agency, has been announced. Coupled with this action, the election was of A. R. McGinnis to treasurer, to president and treasurer of the agency, which celebrates its 50th anniversary in 1956.

The board also named George J. Callos, executive vice president since 1951, to the post of executive vice president and general manager.

An alumnus of Phillips Exeter Academy, he was graduated from Amherst College, Amherst, Mass., in 1916. He served in the U. S. Navy during World War I and following the war he headed the JWT London office three years.

He leaves his wife, the former Milena Miller; three sons, John of Westport, Conn., and Richard and Christopher of New York, and a daughter, Mrs. Fred Jones of Sewickley, Pa.

B&T Names Christopher

APPOINTMENT of Lawrence Christopher as associate editor in charge of western news operations was announced last week by Sol Taishoff, editor and publisher of BROADCASTING & TELECASTING.

Mr. Christopher's appointment is effective July 15. He will headquarter in BWT's Hollywood bureau.

A veteran of 12 years' service with BWT, Mr. Christopher has covered most branches of the federal government, in recent years specializing in FCC activities. He is a graduate of American U., Washington, a member of Sigma Delta Chi (national journalism fraternity) and the National Press Club. He is 31.

Also announced last week were the resignations of Leo Krieger, western news editor and Marjorie Ann Thomas as tv film editor in Hollywood.

At Washington headquarters of the magazine, Frank Gentile was appointed subscription fulfillment manager, reporting to John P. Cosgrove, manager of circulation and readers' service. Mr. Gentile joined BWT last October.

JOHN U. REBER, 62, a vice president and director of J. Walter Thompson Co. and head of its radio department, died following a heart attack July 3, at his home country at State Hill, Reading, Pa.

Reber was a native of Reading. He joined the agency in 1917 and was named a vice president in 1929. In 1933 he became a director. He was radio-tv supervisor of the Kraft Foods Co. account and was credited for the company's successful use of those media including Kraft Theatre. He developed many famous radio programs, including the Major Bowes, Eddie Cantor and Burns & Allen shows. An alumnus of Phillips Exeter Academy, he was graduated from Amherst College, Amherst, Mass., in 1916. He served in the U. S. Navy during World War I and following the war he headed the JWT London office three years.

He leaves his wife, the former Milena Miller; three sons, John of Westport, Conn., and Richard and Christopher of New York, and a daughter, Mrs. Fred Jones of Sewickley, Pa.

Top 1955 Ad Student Picked

THE Assn of Advertising Men & Women last week announced that John William Sorrano of Fresno, Calif., a June graduate of the U. of Notre Dame, has been named Advertising Student in America, 1955. Mr. Sorrano was chosen over 49 other top advertising and marketing seniors on the basis of his participation in the AAM&W's fifth annual "Inside Advertising Week," May 30, April, and his scholarly and extra-curricular record.

New Thompson Group Issues Operational Credo

THE NEW management team of J. Walter Thompson Co. spelled out its operational credo last week. President Norman H. Stouse, Vice Chairmen Henry C. Flowers Jr. and Samuel W. Meek, elected in the realignment which also elevated Stanley Resor from president to chairman of the board [B&T, July 4], issued a statement which said in part:

“The new executive team of the J. Walter Thompson Co. is designed to take advantage of the growing and expanding opportunities of our company in the years ahead. It is in line with the best management strategy which is developing in American business as a whole.

The statement also said, “We believe there is greater opportunity for young people in advertising and selling than ever before because the years ahead will undoubtedly see greatly expanded use of products and services to meet the requirements of a much higher standard of living.”

The statement also reported that “Mr. Resor will continue active in the management of our company. Mr. Stouse will make his headquarters in New York but will continue to take a direct interest in our Detroit office,” which he headed before elected to the presidency.

on top of the wide

Last week NBC Television transported 40,000,000 viewers out of their living rooms into the Wide Wide World. Forty cameras, 32,000 miles of cable and relays, a thousand technicians turned a continent into a playground; turned ninety-minutes of a Monday evening into a national holiday.

That was the first Wide Wide World. The mobile units are organizing new assignments, searching out new places, new faces, new surprises for the next performance.

And NBC is staying right on top of the world. Out of the problems and realities of this troubled century a series of compelling programs is being created — programs with the impact of a banner headline. "1976," an exciting look at your world of tomorrow, is a telementary scheduled for October 9. Later this fall you will see "Nightmare in Red," an hour-long dramatic history of Russian communism, and "The Jazz Age," a report on America's boisterous "bubble" years, both part of NBC's "Project 20." "Young India," a study of what India is today, has been filmed in color by NBC and is scheduled for November showing.

All this is a part of the NBC design for television . . . to present the real world — the world of entertainment, of enlightenment, of information, of conflict and debate.

Television like this has given NBC its commanding leadership in audience. And wise advertisers will make it a point to be where the audience is.

Exciting things are happening on NBC television

Sioux City Sue favors the rectangular look

Fashion plays a large part in Sioux City Sue's life — she keeps a close eye on the Paris couturiers — but this particular "look" refers to the shape of TV screens, not clothes.

Sue (plus 152,875 of her 204,500 neighbor families) owns a TV set, and television fashions a lot of her spare time. She's an inveterate viewer, true — but discriminating, too. She looks mostly at KVTV Channel 9.

A recent Telepulse Survey clearly pointed to Sue's viewing preference — KVTV rated a 77% share of audience from 6 to 12 weeknights . . . with the top 10 shows plus the top 23, and 24 of the top 25!

To set the style for advertisers, this should be titled "Sioux City Sue favors KVTV Channel 9". But no matter if the moral hit home . . . the best way to reach Sue and her $991 million buying income is KVTV television.

Your Katz man is as close to you as your telephone.

Most comprehensive survey ever made of a radio audience

There's a new report out on radio listening. Advertisers will find it absorbing . . . for a good many reasons.

- It measures audience quality as well as quantity.
- It measures station preference as well as program preference.
- It measures listening habits 24 hours a day, upstairs, downstairs, indoors and out.
- Its sample is big—so big that the report is conclusive, definitive.

The survey was made by Alfred Politz Research, Inc., in an area that includes parts of four states. There are 197 radio stations to choose from in that area. But survey results show that 41.4 per cent of the adult listening audience is tuned daily to one station—WJR, Detroit.

Whether it's news, drama, farm reports, sports, homemaking shows, music, or variety—makes no difference. Morning, afternoon, evening, all night—no difference. The overwhelming percentage of people prefers WJR.

That's because WJR is a radio station with a personality. The personality accounts for circulation—millions of steady listeners who tune to WJR for the kind of programming they want.

The Politz report is fascinating—don't fail to read it! Either write WJR, Detroit 2, Michigan, or ask your local Henry I. Christal Company representative for a free copy.

ATTENDANCE AT RAB CLINICS UP 31%

Kevin Sweeney, president, in announcing report on first series of 1955, sees success of series, along with a new series slated to begin this month, contributing to an expected 20% increase in total radio local sales volume for 1955.

In a progress report on RAB's first series of 1955 sales clinics, which ended last week, Kevin Sweeney, RAB president, announced that approximately 2,700 radio station managers, sales managers and salesmen participated in the sessions. He estimated that attendance was 31% larger than any clinic series confined to RAB member stations only.

Mr. Sweeney called the sessions the "most successful" and predicted that, along with a new clinic series slated to begin next month, they will contribute toward a 20% increase expected in radio local sales volume this year.

The RAB clinics since last January focused on the theme of "Six Small Steps to the Big Sale," and, according to Mr. Sweeney, hundreds of sales executives who attended the sessions "already have made substantial progress toward the Big Sale." The clinics consisted of 65 city meetings in 39 states.

Since January each Mr. Sweeney, Arch L. Madsen, director of station relations, or R. David Kimble, director of local sales and services, has been on the road every other week. They have preached the philosophy of selling "a whopper order" to one of the top five advertisers in the station's home city.

"During these clinics," Mr. Sweeney said, "we asked salesmen to spend 60 hours of planning and selling to a single account over and above any other time they planned to give this account; and what's so gratifying is that hundreds are doing it and dozens already made a 'Big Sale' for their station and usually for all the other stations in the area."

Radio Conversion Formula

RAB's "Six Small Steps" formula, designed to convert important advertisers to the use of radio on an extensive basis, encompasses the following:
1. Believe in Your Product and Know It. RAB acquainted station salesmen with new research pointing up radio's "virility and future";
2. Prepare Your Story—the Whole Story. RAB demonstrated how all pertinent facts about the advertiser, his business and the radio proposal could be assembled for use in a presentation;
3. Plan the Right Selling Approach and Close. RAB gave tips on the organization of a major presentation and suggested the "close" that seemed to work best on big budget advertisers;
4. Make Your Presentation With Showmanship. RAB showed a 45-minute slide presentation, illustrating the technique of a major presentation made to a local advertiser for each area;
5. Trigger the Sale With the Right Idea. RAB stressed the importance of giving the advertiser something specific to buy, particularly the handling of his proposed radio commercial;
6. Put Your Client on the Air and Keep Him There. RAB emphasized that the salesman's responsibility did not end with the contract signing, and showed radio salesmen how to lay out a campaign for maximum results for various types of advertisers.

Plans for Second Series

"This was our most successful series of clinics, measured both in attendance and enthusiasm," Mr. Sweeney said. "In about seven weeks, we will begin our second series for 1955 in which we will cover approximately 35 cities with a new clinic program, designed to follow up on the pattern laid out in the first series. We think that these clinics will play a major role in the 20% increase in local sales volume which we see for this year as a definite possibility for radio."

Here's How

HOW BIG is television? How fast is it growing? Television Bureau of Advertising put the answer in 24-hour terms in its "Three Hows of Television" (see page 32), released last week. Thus:

"Since this same time yesterday, television added 15,000 more homes to its total audience—now over 34 million families."

"Since this same time yesterday, the nation's advertisers have spent 29 million more dollars for television—an investment now nearing the billion-dollar-a-year mark."

"And since this time yesterday, television has helped move a mountain range of goods..."

Philadelphia Group Names Erickson, Dannenbaum

THE TELEVISION & Radio Assn. of Philadelphia has elected for the coming year Walter M. Erickson, media director of Gray & Rogers, chairman and Alexander W. Dannenbaum Jr., commercial manager of WPTZ (TV) Philadelphia, president.

The group was formerly known as the Television Assn. of Philadelphia, but a resolution adopted at the annual banquet last month enlarges the association's activities to embrace radio. Formal invitations to local radio stations and the actual change in the organization's structure will take place during the summer and fall.

Other officers elected for 1955-56 are: vice president, Robert Dome, Headley-Reed; vice president-general counsel, lawyer Morton Simon; treasurer, Mary Dunlavey, Towne Advertising; secretary, Howard Machmeier, WFFIL, and assistant secretary, Doris Scheuer, Adrian Bauer agency.

Elected to the board of directors of the association are: Nathan Alexander, Weightman Inc.; Franklin Tooko, KYW; Alice Mooney, Richard A. Foley Advertising; Sherman Gregory, WFFIL-TV; Bernard Kramer, Gresh & Kramer; Ed Wallis, WPTZ; David Kugler, DeFranz Bros.; Walter Tillman, TV Guide, and Robert McGredy, WCAU-TV.

RAB to Sell Radio To Home Furnishers

CAMPAIGN to sell radio to home furnishing retailers throughout the nation got underway last week, according to an announcement made by Kevin Sweeney, president of Radio Advertising Bureau, New York. RAB's member stations will be assisted in their sales drive by sales material supplied by RAB.

The material includes a 16-page presentation, "Radio Furnishes Homes," a booklet describing how 267 different furniture and floor covering dealers use radio, an analysis of program and announcement preferences by city size and type of dealer, a furniture information folder, a report on operating methods of furniture dealers, and an appliance information folder providing similar information on appliance dealers.

Mr. Sweeney said the sales aids are part of RAB's Big Sale strategy (see page 2). Every month stations will receive a complete sales plan with all important sales tools included to make presentations to retailers who represent "Big Sale" potential, Mr. Sweeney said.

"Before next spring, we will have delivered 10 of these completely integrated packages of sales tools aimed at major retailers to our stations. We think they will contribute importantly to the 25% increase in retail business we are after in 1956," he said.

AFTRA Mail Vote Condemns Aware Inc.

LONG-SIMMERING feud within the New York Chapter of the American Federation of Television & Radio Artists took a new turn last week with an announcement that a referendum of the chapter's members resulted in the upholding of the condemnation of The AWARE Inc. by a vote of 592 to 514.

This action was the latest in a series of skirmishes within the local between factions favoring or opposing the condemnation of The AWARE Inc. by a vote of 592 to 514. Several AFTRA members had contended that AWARE's anti-communist activity, had found their way into the hands of talent firms, advertising agencies and sponsors and served as a "blacklist." AWARE insists it has no "blacklist" but acknowledges comment on "persons with significant and unrepudiated records of aid to the communist apparatus."

Since its organization in December of 1953, AWARE has been issuing publications to its members only, but made Publication Number 12, analyzing the New York AFTRA election, available to the public. It was after this latter bulletin was issued that a movement for condemning AWARE emerged, although for several months there had been an undercurrent of resentment against AWARE. Several AFTRA members had contended that AWARE's furor over the AWARE Inc. statement declaring that "the condemnation of AWARE Inc. is meaningless and hurts AFTRA more than us."

Cameramen for Pay-Tv Films May Get Special Wage Scale

SPECIAL wage scale for cameramen working on theatrical films destined for subscription tv use, if approved, will be asked in forthcoming negotiations between major producers and film unions of the International Alliance of Theatrical & Stage Employees. This was disclosed a fortnight ago by Herbert Aller, business agent, IATSE cameramen's Local 659, Hollywood.

Some form of pay-tv is "inevitable," Mr. Aller told B&F, adding this "will mean fewer theatrical pictures . . . and less employment [for film workers]."

Another demand, to be introduced into Hollywood negotiations between IATSE and the Alliance of TV Film Producers next month, will be for 5% of gross receipts realized on tv films made by IATSE cameramen, according to Mr. Aller. This is the second time cameramen have introduced this demand, which producers summarily dismissed last year. Informed sources indicate 5% is only a bargaining proposal, to be used in later "horse-trading."

Screen Directors Ratify Pact With Producers Alliance

TERMS of the new contract with the Alliance of Television Film Producers have been ratified by the Screen Directors Guild board and the three-year contract, retroactive to April, now goes before the AFTRA for formal approval. Salary increases for directors include raises from $110 to $120 for daily minimum and from $550 to $600 for weekly minimum. The re-run fee, payable on the third run, goes from $275 to $300 for a half-hour tv film and from $350 to $600 for an hour-long film. If the director's contract with the producer stipulates the re-run fee is payable immediately, the director now will receive $225 for a half-hour and $450 for an hour-long film.

For first assistant directors, the proposed increase is from $225 to $250 weekly minimum. Under a 46-week contract, the first assistant goes from $270 to $300 weekly; under a 23-week contract from $300 to $325 weekly, and under an 11-week contract from $325 to $350 weekly. Second assistant directors are raised from $185 to $200 weekly minimum.

AFTRA Signs San Diego Tvs

THREE-YEAR contracts covering announcing pay scales have been signed by KFMB-TV and KFMB-TV San Diego, the American Federation of TV & Radio Artists, Hollywood, announced last week.

Among other points, KFMB-TV's contract sets $95 as the weekly salary for the first year; $98.75, second year, and $100, third year, plus extra in-shift announcement and program fees.
Perhaps the best compliment paid the entirely new Gates 3-speed transcription turntable at last NARTB Convention was by a visiting British engineer. He commented, after continually trying to foul the speed shifting system, "This turntable is bloody idiot proof!"

The CB-100 mechanism eliminates triple ganged idler wheels, spring tension adjustments, gravity type speed changing, cam arrangements, plungers, auxiliary levers and all touchy adjustments.

In place of all of this, by using Monoball swivel bearings, the direct speed shift method is employed. Instead of falling into speed or springing into speed, the Gates CB-100 is shifted quickly and effectively — by one simple lever, to the speed you select. It is the correct speed too because here is the first 3-speed turntable that may be reset to speed as wear occurs.

25,000 fan letters

hailed its TV sneak preview . . .

now The Great Gildersleeve Comedy Series is ready to sell for YOU!

"The Great Gildersleeve," top-rated comedy favorite on radio for 13 years, is ready to open broad new sales opportunities for television advertisers. He's the same lovable, laughable Gildy—chortle and all—but with the tremendous added impact of television's visual values.

"The Great Gildersleeve" just can't miss as a syndicated TV film series. It's pre-tested!

With no advance warning, "The Great Gildersleeve" was sneak-previewed in a half-hour period on the NBC Television Network. Viewers were asked to send in their reactions. No incentives were offered. From this single exposure more than 25,000 enthusiastic letters, many signed by every member of the family, clamored for Gildy as a regular TV attraction. They looked forward to weekly visits with Gildy, nephew Leroy, niece Marjorie, housekeeper Birdie, druggist Peavey, barber Floyd, Mayor Terwilliger, and all the other popular favorites of "The Great Gildersleeve."

"The Great Gildersleeve" is a TV comedy series with extra-special values for advertisers:

- a big-time, established, well-loved personality
- a wholesome approach that appeals to the whole family and will serve to cement community relations for the sponsor
- powerful backing by NBC Film Division's all-out merchandising
- a pre-tested capacity for attracting and holding audience

Act fast to make sure Gildersleeve cuts his comic capers in your behalf...first! Write, wire or phone now!

NABISCO'S BEST FRIEND IS SCREEN GEMS' 'RINTY'

$2.7 MILLION IN RADIO-TV BOOMS SALES

THEM blew the bugle over at National Biscuit Co. for a new advance in distribution, and to carry the message they called on Rin-Tin-Tin.

The old war-dog has responded with a spectacular break-through that has carried the company show to a fourth place stand-off with I Love Lucy in the network film division. Sales of Milk Bone dog biscuits have increased 20% since the campaign began, and Nabisco Shredded Wheat has risen 7% in sales.

To launch its new policy of wholesale distribution of its non-perishable products, the National Biscuit Co. has invested its entire radio and television budget of $2.7 million in the Rin-Tin-Tin program. A Screen Gems presentation, the show is carried currently on 89 ABC-TV stations. A radio version is broadcast by 574 Mutual outlets.

Laid in the post-Civil War era of the 1870's, when the old west was very much the wild west and Indians needed little encouragement to go on the war path, the TV series portrays life at Fort Apache, a military post deep in Indian country. Attached, albeit somewhat unofficially, to the post and to the 101st Cavalry, the Bluedevils, who are stationed there, is ten-year-old Rusty, an orphan boy, and his dog Rinty. The adventurous characters of this pair keep life from getting monotonous for their self-appointed guardian, Lt. Rip Masters.

Rinty is portrayed by Rin-Tin-Tin the Fourth, great grandson of the most famous dog star the movies have ever known. Rusty is played by Lee Aaker and James Brown takes the role of Lt. Masters. The series is produced for Screen Gems by Herbert B. Leonard.

The program made its TV debut on Oct. 15, 1954. By January of this year it had crashed into the select 25 circle, registering 24th in popularity, according to ARB figures. Today — in addition to its number four status in network film rankings — the show rates a remarkable 14th in overall film and live list-

AT KRON-TV San Francisco, the station ID has cut loose from its moorings and now roams about the screen in animated form. Each day's schedule includes at least five of these lively ID's, using 20 different films, with a similar number in storyboard form.

Moving ID's are the brain child of Art Director Bill Wagner, who produces them by using a simplified form of animation he calls "art progression photography." This term he defines as being "something like time-lapse photography, only the time element is not important."

The production technique employs artwork, miniatures or a variety of different materials in a series of developmental stages toward completion, and in most cases eliminates the use of cells.

LIFE BEGINS IN KRON-TV'S ID'S

This is coupled with frame-by-frame exposure on 16 mm color film of the subject during the course of its execution. When completed, Mr. Wagner has a series of still photographs of his subject in a constantly changing aspect. Since each of these photographs has a direct relation to those which precede and follow, the result is motion when the film is run through the projector.

The only trick, he says, is in knowing the exact amount of progression for each stage to produce smooth-running motion of the right degree on the film. This initially was something of a problem, requiring an experimental period during which Mr. Wagner ruined a quantity of film. However, all production problems now have been licked, and Mr. Wagner can turn out at least 10 new ID's a day. He has found 100 ft. of 16 mm enough for 15 different ideas.

Among the materials used so far, in addition to artwork and cutouts, are colored sand, net, yarn, chain, clay and rocks. But the possibilities are limitless, because almost any material found in a TV station's art department can be utilized.

Mr. Wagner admits most of the ID's are not pre-planned. They are impromptu ideas developed as he works and might be called instantaneous expression. Not all are successful, nor are they expected to be. But those that fail to make the grade the first time around are used as the nucleus of the storyboard for the next series. If the idea doesn't jell after a second take, then it is discarded completely.

It takes wbns-tv to give you the true, complete picture of product testing in Columbus, Ohio.

The nation's leading advertisers have found wbns-tv's showmanship facilities, backed by valuable merchandising and promotion, a guarantee for successful test campaigns. A wide range of products, from appetizers to zippers, finds a reliable consumer demand in wbns-tv's rich industrial, agricultural and metropolitan area.

The new distribution pattern that led to the fortuitous recruiting of the canine campaigner represents in itself a radical change in tactics for the conservative National Biscuit Co.

For 57 years—since its inauguration in 1877 with Uneeda Biscuits—the company had distributed its products directly to the retailer through its own sales and delivery force. This year, for the first time, Nabisco turned to the use of wholesalers for the distribution of its non-perishable items, of which Shredded Wheat and Milk Bone dog biscuits are two.

With the changes in distributive policy has come a change and expansion in the company itself. A new special products division with Hal M. Chase, general manager, was instituted to expedite the operation of the new sales approach.

Commenting on the new division, Lee S. Bickmore, vice president in charge of sales for the company, explained: "We thought it advisable to set up direct responsibility for the non-perishable products and divorce them entirely from the thinking of a cookie and cracker house."

Divorced from the need to shepherd its non-perishables across the counters, the company has been freed to extend its manufacturing interests. Recently Nabisco purchased the Ranger Joe Cereal Co., Chester, Pa., and the Blue Streak line of dog foods from Schooley & Son.

It is the new special products division which has enlisted television and Rin-Tin-Tin to carry its standard.

The firm's decision to ride with Rinty was on the recommendation of its agency, Kenyon & Eckhardt. William King Jr., vice president and account supervisor; Donald Smith, account executive on Nabisco Shredded Wheat and Milk Bone, and Sidney B. Silleck Jr., account executive for presweetened Nabisco 100% Bran & Cereal, comprise the agency team for Nabisco.

IN little more than a year on his own, Earl Klein has made a group of seemingly unorthodox animated tv film commercials pay off in both selling power and artistic recognition. Three of the ten New York Art Directors Club and six of the Detroit Art Directors Club award-winning video commercials were produced by him as president.
TO FILM
A SUCCESSFUL SHOW...

It takes more than just a good script to insure the success of a top-rated network program. The on-stage performances of the stars and supporting cast must be outstanding, carefully timed, superbly directed. And the camera must perform flawlessly in its vital role of recreating the superior quality of the show for millions of TV viewers.

Mitchell cameras—internationally famous—provide the matchless photographic performances so necessary to the successful making of the finest theater quality films. That is why, wherever top quality filming is the foremost consideration, Mitchell Cameras are to be found... bringing success into focus.

MITCHELL The only truly Professional Motion Picture Camera
Each year America's rooftops yield a new harvest—a vast aluminum garden spreading increasingly over the face of the nation.

The past season produced a bumper crop on all counts: 3½ million new antennas bringing the total number of television homes to 34,567,000.

The average television family spent more time watching its screen than ever—5 hours and 20 minutes a day.
Day and night CBS Television broadcast the majority of the most popular programs and during the past season extended its popularity by enlarging the network to 209 stations—a 75% increase in a year.

Today CBS Television delivers more homes for less money than any other network, and in comparison with its closest competitor, offers an even better buy than it did a year ago. CBS Television advertisers invested $165,268,000 over the past 12 months—a 20% greater investment than was made on any other network.

By demonstrating television’s ability to move our expanding national product into the American home most efficiently, CBS Television has become the world’s largest single advertising medium.

Business-wise Philadelphia station WCAU-TV realized that more coverage delivers more customers who spend more cash for advertisers' products . . . which brings in more revenue to the station.

So WCAU-TV management decided in 1954 to replace their 737-foot tower . . . acting on the good old American saying “Up and At ‘Em” . . . UP with a 978-foot IDECO tower, AT ‘EM with maximum 316 kw power.

Today this profitable combination is reaching into counties with 46% more customers . . . more than 2 million more people in twice the coverage area. WCAU-TV now taps for its advertisers counties with a total effective buying income of over 13.4 billion dollars.

Your station, too, can benefit from this aggressive “up and at ‘em” attitude. Whether it's a higher tower . . . or your new station's first tower . . . you can profit by IDECO’S long experience in tower design and construction.

Tall towers? Over 40% of the country's over-1,000-foot towers are IDECO, including the world's tallest structure at 1,572 feet. Other heights? Hundreds of under-1,000-foot IDECO towers are reliably serving stations all over the country. Guyed? Self-supporting? Fixed base? Pivoted base? Insulated? Yes, IDECO makes all types.

In fact, when it comes to towers you'd do well to come to IDECO. Write IDECO . . . or contact your nearest RCA Broadcast Equipment representative.

HOW CINEMASCOPE WAS CONVERTED FOR A TV FILM COMMERCIAL

NEXT OCTOBER Universal-International Pictures will release "To Hell and Back," a full-length motion picture filmed in Cine-mascope and in Technicolor and starring war hero-actor Audie Murphy.

To test TV's effectiveness as an advertising medium for major productions, U-I decided on a nationwide pre-release spot announcement campaign—reportedly the first for a motion picture—that goes into high gear on 67 stations in just a few days and will run through September [B&T, June 27].

It's a ticklish operation to properly blend film taken from a feature with the hard "sell" in copy, narration and sound effects. But the problem becomes stickier, technically, when Cine-mascope film, which requires special projection, must be converted into normal aspect film suitable for TV projection.

U-I produced a large number of TV spots (also a series of 20-second lengths) for the Audie Murphy film at its Hollywood studios and at National Screen Service, which specializes in the making of previews.

To accomplish the film conversion, U-I found it necessary to "unsqueeze" the film. This nimble feat entailed the use of an optical printer (an elaborate camera which copies motion picture film) that was equipped with a special conversion lens. Unsqueezed, the film assumed a 1:1.85 ratio, considered practical for wide-screen theatre projection but still too wide for TV projection. This ratio would show a black area on the top and bottom of the picture if used without still further change. Thus, the final processing step during which titles are superimposed on the film, the picture area is blown up slightly to a normal 3:4 ratio, which has proved very successful on TV.

For the preliminary campaign, specially animated titles were furnished by National Screen. In some of the spots, the titles were in the form of continuous overlapping zooms. Superimposition of titles on the film was done in the normal way for TV spots—titles were hand-lettered, photographed against black backgrounds and then superimposed in the optical printer.

U-I has budgeted more than $50,000 for its pre-release spot campaign. The production cost is not included in this figure since

This optical printer was especially designed to convert Cine-mascope film into standard film at a ratio of 1:1.85. At left at top of page is a frame of Cine-mascope film before it is "unsqueezed" into the 1:1.85 ratio, and at right top is frame after "unsqueezing."

For television, film must be still further blown up to a 3:4 ratio after it has been converted from Cine-mascope.

In the 60-second spot narration, U-I combined animated titling—to make visual the "parading" of former war pictures topped by "To Hell and Back"; scenes of Audie Murphy in close battle action to illustrate that the story is of a real-life war hero; with girls in a Naples cafe to point up that "This is the way it was . . . for the girls who loved them and let them go . . . on the way . . . 'To Hell and Back'"; with children in a Texas farmhouse to establish that the hero grew up on a farm in that state, and still other shots establishing the star's loves, trials and tribulations (such as an episode showing Mr. Murphy and others in a dramatically tense moment while being drenched by a downpour. Smaller doses of the same are supplied for the shorter commercials.

Testimonials on the Street

THE PICTURE of the satisfied customer, probably the most used art work of any advertising campaign, has been lifted from the artist's hands and entrusted to the realism of the camera lens.

Pfeiffer Brewing Co., selling its liquid refreshment in the Detroit and Flint (Mich.) trading area, has gone onto the street with a camera and asked shoppers and passersby what they think of Pfeiffer's beer. Generally three questions are asked: "Have you ever tried Pfeiffer's beer?" "When did you first try it?" and "Why do you like it?"

Needless to say some of the answers have been surprising and many have been an agencyman's dream. One man, who recently moved into the area, said he tried all the local brands and chose Pfeiffer's because, "It's got what all the others say they have."

Pfeiffer feels the honesty of approach and realism of the films offers a change of pace and pleasant respite from the usual tv commercial.

Permission to telecast the filmed interview is obtained from those people whose answers are used. The on-the-street testimonials are filmed by Video Films, Detroit, for Maxon Inc., Pfeiffer's agency.

With recent design advances, RCA engineers have increased the power output of the TT-10AL VHF transmitter. This popular transmitter now delivers a full 11 KW of peak visual power (low band)—measured at the output of the sideband filter. If you need this extra KW, it's yours now.

Costs no more than the original 10-KW design—and of course it can handle color.

With power increased to 11 KW, RCA’s exclusive TT-10AL—in combination with an RCA 12-section antenna—is the most outstanding VHF system in the industry, delivering 100 KW ERP at the lowest operating cost of any VHF equipment package now available.

RCA 11 kilowatts are ready to ship. Order yours now for early delivery. For complete details, see your RCA Broadcast Sales Representative. In Canada, write RCA VICTOR Company Ltd., Montreal.

Ask your Broadcast Sales Representative for literature describing RCA’s new 11-KW design for channels 2 to 6.

Ziv Sales Show Increased
Tv Activity in Europe

AS EVIDENCE of increased television activity in Europe, Edward J. Stern, head of the international division of Ziv Television Programs, 4 week reported sales of various Ziv tv series in France, Monte Carlo and Germany. Ziv Television's Mr. District Attorney, Mr. Stern said, has been sold to Radio Diffusion Francaise for its seven-station network, starting in September. This French version of the series also has been sold to Tele-Monaco for Monte Carlo.

In Germany, Mr. Stern said. Favorite Story, dubbed in German, has been sold to Tele-Saar. It is said to be the first German-language tv series offered by an American producer.

Mr. Stern voiced belief that tv has a bright outlook in Germany, with some 15 million tv sets to be in operation in the near future. In France, he said, there currently are about 200,000 receivers but influx of "high-quality programming" from the U.S. is expected to accelerate sale of sets.

KNXT (TV) Rejects Film For Excess of 'Brutality'

A SECOND segment of Death Valley Days, syndicated CBS Film Sales series, has been refused clearance by the editing staff of KNXT (TV) Hollywood, CBS o&o station.

Edward Nathan, network west coast manager of editing [B&T, June 20], declared that the "I Am Joaquin" episode contained "too much brutality," commenting that there are seven "vicious killings" shown.

Another Death Valley Days episode, "Love on and Leave 'Em," was refused clearance because one of the female characters, portraying a dance hall girl of the old west, displayed what the editing department considered "too much anatomy."

The half-hour film series is shown on KNXT on alternate Thursdays at 7 p.m. PDT, which is early enough to be viewed by children, station spokesmen pointed out.

Production Staff Readied For 'Warner Bros. Presents'

COMPLETION of the Warner Bros. production staff for the forthcoming ABC-TV Warner Bros. Presents series was announced in Hollywood last week, to function under the personal supervision of Jack L. Warner, studio head.

Gary Stevens remains general manager of the Warner Bros. division, with Oren Hellund as production manager, Richard Diggs as story editor, Sally Baiano as casting director and Perry Ferguson as art director. J. English Smith will serve as liaison between Warner Bros. and ABC-TV.

Actor Gig Young will host the complete series of Warner Bros. Presents, which will include the "Casablanca," "King's Row" and "Cheyenne" series and "Behind the Cameras at Warner Bros.," an hour-long feature.

Tv Premiere Airlines Film

AMERICAN AIRLINES will use tv stations of more than 60 cities along the non-stop New York to Los Angeles D-7 flight route for the "premiere" of its motion picture, "The Mercury," next week.

According to the Tele-Div. Association Films the premiere precedes by several weeks the actual release of the 29-minute film to tv stations and community organizations. The film, which documents a coast-to-coast flight and produced by MPO Productions, is being offered to stations for free showings.

Filmservice Buys Mutual Film

PURCHASE of property and accounts of Mutual Film Laboratories, Hollywood, by Filmservice Laboratories Inc., same city, was announced last week by Gil Scott and Lou Vincent, Filmservice owners.

Present plans call for all daily and 35mm rushes of both firm's clients to be supplied by Filmservice Laboratories at 6327 Santa Monica Blvd. Meanwhile, Filmservice will rebuild the developing and chemical facilities of the Mutual plant to process 16 and 35mm film.

MINIMUM OF INDUSTRY FETTERS ESPOUSED BY FCC COMR. MACK AS HE TAKES OFFICE

Florida Democrat assumes post formerly held by Frieda Hennock. A veteran of telephone and telegraph regulation, he intends to 'sit and listen' at FCC until he becomes familiar enough to vote.

NEW FCC Comr. Richard A. Mack, who was sworn in as a member of the FCC last Thursday, makes it clear that he knows more about telephone and telegraph regulations than broadcast matters at this time.

But he has a philosophy—stemming from his eight years as a member of the Florida Railroad & Utilities Commission—that applies to broadcasting as well as utilities. He explained it at a news conference thusly:

A regulatory agency must concern itself with the overall function of seeing that the businesses it regulates meet the obligations imposed by law; otherwise management must have its head. Although Mr. Mack's knowledge of broadcasting is no more that of a listener and viewer at this time, he has had some contacts with the broadcast media.

In 1948 and again in 1952, Mr. Mack successfully stood for election to the Florida commission. In both campaigns he used radio and tv.

His experiences in these vote-getting elections left him sympathetic toward broadcasting. The only problem he ran across, he said, was in buying time early enough. He found, he said, that if he didn't get his orders in at the start of the campaign, the stations he wanted to use had not have the time he sought available.

The difficulty, he explained, was not with the stations, but with the fact that there were so many other candidates for other offices running—governor, county sheriffs, etc.

Stations would ask him for advance scripts, he related, and he was glad to oblige. While on the air and felt the need to depart from his script, he just went ahead and did so, he said with a grin. He never experienced any censorship attempts, he said.

In answer to one question, implying that the FCC should weigh more heavily program content in renewing licenses, Mr. Mack said he thought if the public didn't like something on the air, it would let the FCC know about it.

He added that he personally had never heard or seen anything objectionable on the air.

The first Democrat to become an FCC commissioner in three years, Mr. Mack succeeds the controversial and oft-times stormy Frieda B. Hennock of New York. Miss Hennock, also a Democrat, has joined the Washington law firm of Davies, Richberg, Tydings, Beebe & Landa. Mr. Mack's term runs to 1962.

The last Democrat appointed to the FCC...
G.E.'s packaged relay systems provide superior switching at the cost of conventional switching equipment

Your station—large, medium or small...monochrome or color—can benefit from a G-E packaged relay switching system...now available at an initial cost comparing favorably with conventional switching.

For small or medium stations, the G-E TS-1-A controls up to eight non-composite and two composite inputs, with outputs for full line monitoring. Laps, fades, dissolves are smoother, faster and positive.

For larger stations, G.E.'s TS-2-A offers exceptional quality of previews, switching, fading, and dissolves. Up to 12 non-composite inputs, with preview and switching facilities for two composite inputs.

For all stations regardless of size, General Electric relay switching means clean, transient-free switching, distortion-free pictures in either monochrome or color. It provides flexible by-pass for studio rehearsals and preview of superimpositions. Bounce and low-frequency distortion are eliminated by clamps in the mixing amplifier.

Find out how a G-E Packaged Relay System can provide your station with better, more economical switching. Contact your nearest G-E representative today. Or, write: General Electric Company, Section X275-25, Broadcast Equipment, Electronics Park, Syracuse, N. Y. In Canada, write: C.G.E. Electronics, 830 Lansdowne Ave., Toronto.

Only Relay Switching can give you these advantages:
• Relays minimize cross talk.
• DC control of video signals gives noise-free manual laps and fades.
• Simplified installation and maintenance because all non-composite coaxial connections are in the rack and not at the control panel.
• Removal of heat and microphonic problems by rack-mounting those tubes and amplifiers usually found at the panel and in the console.

G-E TS-1-A SWITCHER. For up to 8 non-composite and 2 composite inputs.

G-E TS-2-A SWITCHING SYSTEM
FOR LARGE STATIONS—block-build switching facilities to fit needs. Plug-in relay chassis assemblies, transfer, video mixing, and sync mixing amplifiers, together with power supply and control panel, offer an almost unlimited variety of switching combinations.

Progress Is Our Most Important Product

GENERAL ELECTRIC
Mr. Mack was appointed to the Florida Commission in 1947, elected in 1948 and again in 1952. He was chairman of the FR&UC in 1951 and 1952. The chairman of the Florida unit serves on a rotating basis.

Mr. Mack was nominated by President Eisenhower May 27 and confirmed without opposition by the Senate June 17.

Born in Miami in 1909, Mr. Mack was graduated from the U. of Florida with a B.S. and B.A. degrees (business administration) in 1932. He was a general insurance agent in Tampa, credit manager for General Motors Acceptance Corp., and Hector Supply Co., both Miami.

During World War II, he entered as an infantry first lieutenant and served in the European Theatre of Operations. He was released from active duty in 1946 as a lieutenant colonel and is on the active list of the Organized Reserve Corps.

Upon his return to civilian life, Mr. Mack became general manager of the Port Everglades Rock Co., Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He was appointed to the Florida Commission in 1947.

Mr. Mack is a Protestant, a member of Sigma Nu and the honorary Blue Key society.

His hobbies are golfing, fishing and swimming.

Sally Lindo Promoted

LAST official act of FCC Comr. Frieda B. Hennoch before ending her seven year term June 30 [BT, July 4] was the endorsement of a promotion for Sally Lindo to assistant chief of FCC's Office of Reports & Information, second in command to Chief George Gillingham. Mrs. Lindo has been with the FCC since 1937, in news office 15 years.

Tampa Ch. 13 Losers Take Fight to Court

ATTACK on the FCC's decision granting Tampa-St. Petersburg ch. 13 to Tampa TV Co. was made last week by Tampa Times Co. and Orange TV Broadcasters Inc., of which are the unsuccessful applicants [BT, Feb. 28].

In briefs filed with the U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington, both appellants directed their arguments to the Commission's "white-wash" of the operation of WALT Tampa. WALT is owned by W. Walter Tison, majority stockholder and prospective general manager of the Tampa TV Co. operation. WALT, the pleadings declared, had not only failed to live up to FCC's standards in programming, but it had been in trouble with the FCC for various violations.

Both also took the FCC to task for permitting Mr. Tison to withdraw his original personal application and to substitute a new application with other stockholders at the very last minute before the deadline preventing new applications.

Tampa Times Co. owns WDAE; Orange is owned by Tampa-St. Petersburg department store interests.

WDAE claimed it was better able to carry out its tv proposals than is Tampa Tv. It also argued that it better met the test of integration of ownership and management and that its past broadcast record and proposed staff and programming were superior to that of other applicants.

Use of the FCC's diversification policy as a point against Tampa Times was "completely irrational," the newspaper declared. It pointed out that only 28 days before, the Commission had awarded a tv permit to the Tampa Tribune. Orange claimed that it should have been preferred on the basis of its proposal to originate live broadcasts during prime evening hours, using kinescope recordings of network programs at times other than when broadcast live. It also said the FCC erred in not judging its proposed St. Petersburg programs with that proposed by Tampa TV Co.

The FCC last fall issued its final decision in the ch. 13 case, finding in favor of Tampa TV. This reversed the examiner's initial decision, favoring the WDAE application. The Commission in January, affirmed this decision, with Chairman George C. McConnaghey and Comr. John C. Doerfer dissenting.

'Banko' Bingo Held Illegal

In Wisconsin Court Ruling

THE television game of "Banko" as performed in LaCrosse, Wis., is a form of lottery and illegal, according to the Wisconsin Supreme Court, upholding a LaCrosse County court ruling. The court held unconstitutional Subsec. 2 of Sec. 348.01 of the Wisconsin Statutes. This subsection reads:

"In order for a radio or television show or program to be held in violation of this section it shall be necessary to show that consideration involves either the payment of money, or requires an expenditure of substantial effort or time. Mere technical contract consideration shall not be sufficient. Listening to a radio, or listening to and watching a television show shall not be deemed consideration given or received."

Banko cards, following a sort of bingo pattern, were available at stores, firms providing prizes, tv station or the viewer could make his own form. The court held that Subsection 2 is void because it authorizes some lotteries under some conditions and violates Art. IV Sec. 24 of the state constitution.

MINNESOTA MINING AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY

St. Paul Minnesota
SENATE GROUP HEARS PROS & CONS ON CHANGES IN 'PROTEST' PROVISIONS

FCC Chairman McConnaughy favors Senate proposal amending the controversial Sec. 309 (c) of Communications Act. Comr. Doerfer, lawyers and broadcasters also testify before Pastore Unit.

SENATORS had their turn last week at hearing the pros and cons about the FCC-sponsored measure (S 1648) to amend the "protest" section of the Communications Act. The Senate Communications Subcommittee, in its second hearing this session on communications matters, received testimony from six witnesses.

Meanwhile, a companion measure (HR 5614) in the House, on which hearings were held June 22 and 24, has cleared two House committees—Commerce and Rules—and is expected to be acted upon on the House floor this week (see story, page 84).

The Senate hearing last Thursday aired divergent views on the proposal:

FCC Chairman George C. McConnaughy favored it, along with two minor amendments suggested by the Federal Communications Bar Assn. and already approved by House committees in HR 5614.

Comr. John C. Doerfer reiterated his earlier statements that the present "protest" provision—Sec. 309 (c) of the Communications Act—should be repealed, but in the alternative he would favor the proposed bill over the present law.

FCBA President Percy H. Russell Jr., of Kirkland, Fleming, Green, Martin & Ellis, representing a majority of FCBA's executive committee, favored the bill's aims, and said he was in agreement with the FCC about two minor FCBA-suggested changes in the bill.

Benedict P. Cottone, Cottone & Scheiner, representing Ultra High Frequency Industry Coordinating Committee, objected to the passage in the bill which would give the FCC discretionary power on whether to stay a grant pending a hearing or ensuing court decision on a protest. The former FCC general counsel charged big vhf stations with trying to move their transmitters around in attempts to "straddle" markets.

Ervin F. Lyke, president-general manager of WTV and WVET-TV Rochester, N. Y., the latter sharing time with WHEC-TV on ch. 10, there, favored the bill. He said that if WSYA Rochester, which has a protest against the ch. 10 grant in the U. S. Court of Appeals for D. C. is upheld by the court, then the ch. 10 stations will have to go off the air until the FCC decides on the case at a hearing.

Gordon Brown, president-general manager of WSYA, charged that WHEC-TV and WVET-TV, former competing applicants for ch. 10, held a secret meeting to work out a share-time arrangement which has now been allowed.

The hearing generated some unexpected heat when Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S. C.), who long has ranked over the protest which has kept WSPA-TV Spartanburg, S. C., off the air since its CP was granted in 1954, found out a witness he was questioning was a lawyer representing one of the two uhf stations protesting the Spartanburg ch. 7 grant.

Subcommittee members present were Chairman John O. Pastore (D-R.I.), Sens. A. Mike Monroney (D-Okl.), John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) and Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.).

Sen. Thurmond is a member of the parent Senate Commerce Committee.

Chairman McConnaughy said the FCC and the FCBA have agreed on two amendments submitted by FCBA which (1) give the protestant a chance for oral argument on decisions FCC might make that facts in a protest do not provide sufficient grounds for staying the grant, and (2) change the language of the bill to make it clear the FCC may revise issues presented in the protest to conform to facts or matters asserted by the protestant.

He said Sec. 309 (c) has "opened the door" to those concerned "not with the public interest" but their own competitive interests, and that the section is used as an instrument for delaying new grants. Repeatedly, he said that the Commission, and some unnecessary, have taxed the FCC staff and involved much time, he said.

He said court decisions have made "extremely broad interpretations of parties in interest" and cast much doubt on the FCC's authority to dispose of insubstantial protests without hearing or without staying a protested grant.

PUBLIC INTEREST SUFFERS

He said the "built-in stay provisions" deprive the public of a new radio or TV service until all proceedings are concluded and that the public interest thereby suffers.

Sen. Pastore said he was concerned about a case where a station might be allowed to go on the air, only to be put silent later by an appeals court reversal upholding a protestant. He compared this with giving a child a lollipop, then taking it away from him. He said he would rather not give the lollipop in the first place. Expressing his sentiment for the public, not the business interests themselves, he asked: "How about the people who (then) have no buttons to turn?"

Sen. Pastore said that when two or more applicants merge and receive a quick grant, he thinks a hearing ought to be held so the public can know the facts.

Comr. Doerfer reiterated his position that Sec. 309 (c) should be repealed, but told the subcommittee that in the alternate he is in favor of the proposed bill.

He said the section conflicts fundamentally with the philosophy of the Communications Act, in that the Act emphasizes free competition while Sec. 309 (c) gives protection to competitors of the grantee.

He said it is the Commission, and not private individuals, who should protect the public interest. "If the commissioners cannot be trusted to carry out their high public trust, they should be removed from office," he said. While the FCC is "forced to consider individual concepts of what constitutes the public interest, then the original purpose of the administrative process to promptly expeditious matters is seriously impaired," he said.

He said Sec. 309 (c) "opens a door for harassment by the powerful and the wealthy or even extortion by the unscrupulous." He cited a recent two-week period in which he said FCC members in conference spent 28% of their time on protest matters (6.6 hours of 23.3). He recounted high man-hour totals and costs caused by FCC action on protest cases. He also expressed fear that thousands of other FCC

Case History No. 10

It was the start of a routine day. At Station WMRE, Monroe, Ga., Al Brown was at the microphone. Manager Deral Morris studied a list of sales prospects. In nearby Mansfield, the Bank of Mansfield opened as usual for another day of business.

At 9:20 a.m., a bandit entered the Mansfield bank, pulled a gun on the cashier and scooped up $6,300. He escaped by car.

Morris got the word—fast—from Walton County law enforcement officers. He reached Brown in the newsroom.

"Al! The Bank of Mansfield has just been robbed! I'm going after the details!"

Morris raced to the sheriff's office and relayed details to Brown, who called The Associated Press bureau in Atlanta. Between them, Morris and Brown also called the bank... interviewed the officials...called AP again.

WMRE covered all the angles of the robbery for its listeners and for all other AP members as well.

Cooperation? At the time of the robbery, WMRE had not begun to receive AP teletype service because technical difficulties encountered by the wire company had delayed completion of a line to the station.

"But," says Brown, "we wanted to cooperate because we know that our fellow members also cooperate."

Al Brown and Deral Morris are two of the many thousands of active newsmen who make The AP better...and better known.

actions may be delayed when the "full implications" of the protest provision become known. Mr. Cottone said UHFICC's delay object to objections in the bill requiring the FCC to hold hearings only on protests raising questions of public interest, law violations, FCC rules and established policies, and other serious questions concerning the validity of FCC grants.

UHFICC's objections, he said, go to the provision which would give the FCC discretion on whether a non-hearing grant should be stayed pending the Commission's decision after hearing on a protest. For the FCC to set a hearing on a protest means that the grant is of doubtful public interest, he added. "It is difficult to see how the Commission could decide in one breath that there are serious questions of public interest that must be determined in a hearing, and in the next breath to say that the authorization must be permitted to become operative pending the very hearing held in order to determine its validity."

The injury threatened by the grant becomes an "immediate reality," he said, and such operation becomes an "almost insuperable obstacle" to an ultimate decision after the hearing establishing the protestant's public interest case. This "psychological obstacle" would shake even the most firm judicial temperament in denying the grant because public reliance on the continuance of the station would be allowed to take hold, he said. The protestant would be intrepid who would continue into the hearing under such conditions, he said, but he certainly would pause at risking his money in the "great expense of going ahead with the hearing."

Mr. Cottone then described what he called "market-straddling" or "floating transmitter" vhf broadcasters. He said "super-power and super-height" vhf stations often are not satisfied with their locations under the allocations plan, since they may not be able to get a major network affiliation because their high power causes overlap with another station on the same network. This causes duplicated coverage, which network advertisers will not pay for, he said. The station then seeks to move its transmitter to a place where it can get greater unduplicated coverage, he added.

Vhf Encroachment Cited

He said it has been a "common occurrence" in the past two years for the FCC to approve "these distant moves" of vhf stations without a hearing. "Almost invariably, these moves result in severe encroachment by the vhf station on the market in which a uhf station is already desperately struggling to survive." If the uhf station has an affiliation with the same network, it is then lost to the vhf station, he said.

The "protest" section at present gives uhf stations a chance to demonstrate that public interest is involved because such vhf moves "rot away the tissues" of the allocations plan, aggravate uhf-vhf intermixture and allow a network's business policies to determine the location of stations instead of encouraging many local outlets, Mr. Cottone said.

Mr. Cottone asked that if the stay provision is not deleted, the bill be amended to allow the grant to remain in effect only if the FCC finds "on the record" from facts stated by the protestant "under oath" that the public interest requires that the grant remain in effect. The FCC also would consider facts sworn to by the protestant that "such authorization to the applicant may reasonably result in the loss to the public the service is otherwise authorized to be rendered by one or more existing permittees or licensees."

Mr. Cottone's reference to vhf stations which move their transmitters drew a scrunching rejoinder from Sen. Thurmond, who has been concerned about the great interest in the bill regarding ch. 7 WSPA-TV Spartanburg, S. C., in getting on the air. (WSPA-TV's operation has been stayed since its 1954 grant because of protests by two uhf stations in the same area. The vhf station has received a cp for a transmitter on Hogback Mt., near Spartanburg. The station later received a STA for Paris Mt., 6 miles from Greenville, S. C., and when the two uhf stations — WAIM-TV Anderson and WGVL [TV] Greenville — protested, asked for and received a permanent cp. The uhf stations then went to court.)

Sen. Thurmond asked Mr. Cottone if he knew about the Spartanburg case and when Mr. Cottone replied that he not only was familiar with the case, but was representing WAIM-TV, the South Carolina Democrat leveled a forefinger at Mr. Cottone and said:

"The people of Spartanburg have no television station. You are denying them service. We object to that."

Later he asked, rhetorically, "Aren't there some attorneys who are using this section 309 (c) to collect fees for their own private gain by tying up stations?"

"I am trying to explain that," replied Mr. Cottone.

"Since you are their attorney, I don't care to go into it," retorted the South Carolinian. Then he got up and walked out of the hearing room.

Two Amendments Asked

Mr. Russell said FCBA's executive committee had agreed on the bill, although not unanimously, with two amendments providing (1) the right of the protestant to an oral argument before the Commission prior to any FCC decision that the facts in the protest are insufficient, even if true, for setting aside a hearing, and (2) language making it clear that the FCC may revise issues in the protest to conform to the facts or matters presented by the protestant.

He said FCBA believes the FCC has a right to demur to protests in accordance with established legal procedure; that the discretionary stay also is desirable, and that the FCC should be empowered to draft issues charged by the protestant to make them consistent with facts alleged in the protest. Mr. Lyke said that if WSAY's protests against the 1955 grant of ch. 10 Rochester to WVET-TV and WHEC-TV on a share-time basis is upheld by the Appeals Court, then the stations will have to go off the air until a final FCC decision.

He said WSAY did not file its application for ch. 10 until several days after the grant to WVET-TV and WHEC-TV. If the stations go silent, he said, an area of more than a million people will lose its second tv service, a $700,000 plant will be idled and a $50,000 monthly payroll stopped.

Mr. Brown presented a statement he issued when WSAY first appealed to the U. S. Appeals Court. The statement charged the FCC with being "afraid" of its "quickie" FCC grant after a secret meeting of WVET-TV and WHEC-TV officials on a share-time agreement.

He said the agreement was effected because WHEC-TV, owned by the Gannett newspaper interests, was afraid of FCC "reluctance" to grant tv facilities to a newspaper in competition with a non-newspaper applicant. WVET-TV, he said, was afraid its case would be weakened because of its "fair portion of out-of-town stockholders, the FCC generally preferring local ownership of radio and television stations."

He quoted criticism by former FCC Comr. Frieda B. Hemneck against "quickie" grants.
SAFETY is a far greater problem now!

MAYBE you have memories of scenes like the one above when the "horseless carriage" was just beginning to roll along our roads and streets. You may remember, too, how careful the drivers were and how everyone took precautions to avoid accidents with the new and wonderful machines.

Automobile safety was important then, but it is far more so now. This is because the modern car is such a sensitive and powerful machine... and because today our streets and highways are crowded with over 58 million registered motor vehicles. Furthermore, most city streets were laid out when horse-drawn vehicles were the principal means of transportation.

Safe motoring is, of course, vital the year round if the toll of lives from motor vehicle accidents is to be reduced. That toll now amounts to more than 36,000 fatalities a year.

During the summer, motorists on weekend outings or long distance touring are especially tempted to be careless. Such drivers are frequently in a hurry to reach their destinations, and often try to crowd too much mileage into too little time.

This get-there-quick urge may lead to dangerous situations... and rob motoring of its fun. So, before you get behind the wheel this summer, would it not be a good idea to take a look at your driving habits? Here is a quiz that you can take. Your score may determine how safe you, your family and others on the road will be.

Every time you take the wheel... remind yourself that your driving is, at the moment, your most important responsibility. Then you will be doing your part to make our streets and highways less hazardous.

FCC CLARIFIES STAND ON ‘PROTEST’ CHANGES

Chairman McConnaughey’s letter explains FCC views on disposition of pending cases if House and Senate bills pass. IF THE House and Senate enact into law the proposals before both groups to amend Sec. 309(c) “protest” provisions of the Communications Act, would the new law be invoked retroactively by the FCC to (1) reconsider previous FCC designation of a protest case for evidentiary hearing? (2) reconsider whether a grant, already protested, should be stayed or allowed to go on the air pending final outcome of the case?

The FCC revealed it has clarified itself on these issues last week in inserting a letter from Chairman George C. McConnaughey to the House Commerce Committee in the record of a Senate subcommittee’s hearing on the sec. 309(c) amendment proposal (see story page 74).

The FCC letter was a reply to a letter from Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.), chairman of a House subcommittee which held hearings last month on the House version of the proposed amendment, asking what the FCC would do about the Clarksburg, W. Va., protest case if the bill were enacted.

The FCC chairman said other commissioners were in agreement with him that “the public interest would not be served by reconsidering the designation of the case for evidentiary hearing or (by reconsidering) the postponement of the effective date of the grant which has been protested,” should the bill be passed by Congress.

“It is our opinion that in the absence of any congressional statement of intent,” the FCC might be legally empowered to reconsider such pending matters, Chairman McConnaughey said. “In general we believe, however, that the public interest would not be served by any such reconsideration.”

The only exception is that the FCC believes it should have an opportunity to invoke such an enacted law if the FCC has been reversed by a court of appeals in a case where the Commission has issued a final decision denying a protest, either before or after hearing, and in which, pending a court appeal, the grantee has constructed its station and begun operation.

In the Clarksburg case, the FCC’s denial of a protest was reversed by the U. S. Court of Appeals of D. C. and the Commission was ordered to reopen the case and hold further hearings (B&T, June 13).

Testimonial Dinner Slated To Honor Frieda B. Hennock

FORMER President Harry S. Truman, who in 1948 appointed Frieda B. Hennock to the FCC, will head the list of notables who are sponsoring a July 20 testimonial dinner in her honor. Miss Hennock on June 30 completed her seventh year as an FCC commissioner.

Others sponsors include Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt; Gov. Harriman of New York; Gov. Ed Winn Johnson of Colorado; Sen. Alben Barkley (D-Ky.), former vice president; Sen. Herbert Lehman (D-N.Y.); FCC Chairman George C. McConnaughey, and Commr. Hyde, Webster, Bartley, Doerfer and Lee.

The testimonial dinner will be given at 6:30 p.m. at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington.

FCC Bcst. Bureau Opposes New Britain Issue Change

REQUESTS by ch. 8 WNCT-TV New Haven and ch. 53 WATR-TV Waterbury, Conn., for enlargement of issues in FCC’s hearing on NBC’s $600,000-plus purchase of WKBK-AM-TV New Britain (see story, page 86) were opposed in general last week in a brief filed with the Commission by its Broadcast Bureau. The Bureau, however, agreed that an NBC-AM debate whether the sale would comply with FCC’s multiple ownership rules should be investigated.

Hearing on the purchase of WKBK-AM-TV, institution on the basis of protest petitions by WNCT-TV and WATR-TV, meanwhile, has been postponed by the Commission without date. FCC delayed the original “oral argument” hearing pending reconsideration of whether a full evidentiary hearing is required in view of the recent court ruling in the Clarksburg, W. Va., case where a local newspaper has won hearing on FCC’s 1954 grant of ch. 12 to WBLK there (B&T, July 4).

Also before the Commission is a petition by ch. 2 WGR-TV Buffalo calling for a joint hearing on several NBC purchases, including the WKBK transaction. The others include the network’s $312,000 buy of ch. 17 WBUF-TV Buffalo and its swap of Cleveland-located WTAM and WNBK (TV) plus $3 million for Westinghouse-owned KYW and WPTZ (TV) Philadelphia. The WGR-TV brief has met with prompt opposition from both NBC and Westinghouse.

To Fete McConnaughey

COMMITTEE on Radio and Television Broadcasting of Advisory Council on Federal Reports, which consults with the Bureau of the Budget in simplifying and improving questionnaires and reporting procedures of federal agencies, will be host Tuesday at a small dinner in Washington to salute FCC Chairman George C. McConnaughey. The committee annually has feted the FCC chairman and Commission members.

Clarksburg Grant Stayed

IN Accord with the ruling of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the FCC for further proceeding the Clarksburg, W. Va., economic protest case brought against ch. 12 WBLK-TV there by a local newspaper (B&T, June 13), the Commission last week stayed the mid-1954 grant of ch. 12 to WBLK pending the renewed hearing. No date for the further proceeding was set. WBLK-TV was planning commencement. The decision of the court that the protestant, Clarksburg Publishing Co., is entitled to full evidentiary hearing (it received an FCC consideration before), has required FCC to change its approach to numerous protest cases now underway (B&T, July 4). FCC also has told Congress, in seeking relief from the existing protest requirements now contained in Sec. 309(c) of the Communications Act, that a flood of new protests is expected in view of the court’s Clarksburg decision (B&T, June 27).
Storer Cites Expenses In Promoting Miami Uhf

More than $1 million laid out in establishing outlet, company says in reply to oppositions to its de-intermixture petition for southern Florida.

STORER Broadcasting Co. has spent or is obligated for more than $1 million in establishing uhf in the Miami area, that company has reported in filing replies with the FCC to oppositions to its petition to de-intermix the southern Florida area [BT, April 18, May 9].

Opposing the proposed uhf have been Biscayne Tv Corp. and WKAT Inc. [BT, May 23, 30]. Both are favored in initial decisions for chs. 7 and 10, respectively.

Answering charges of "bad faith" in filing its petition for de-intermixture while at the same time applying for Miami's ch. 10, Storer itemized these expenses since acquiring what is now ch. 23 WGBS-TV Miami in December 1954.

• Purchase of WMIE-TV Miami grant and WFTL-TV Fort Lauderdale facilities, $340,400.
• Improving facilities of WGBS-TV, including 500 ft. tower and higher power, $114,790.
• Construction of new transmitting plant and purchase of site at Miami antenna farm, $238,380.
• Contract let for 1,000-ft. tower, $266,310.

Target date for the tall tower is Aug. 1.

• Promotion of uhf, including crew of 12 canvassers to contact dealers and householders, newspaper promotion and five-man technical crew to supervise and inspect uhf installations, $24,604.

• Operating loss as of April 30, $124,140.

Since December, when Storer took over the ch. 23 station, almost 25,000 uhf converters or all-channel sets have been sold in the Miami area, Storer said. This is about a 56% conversion ratio in Dade County (Miami), it added.

In addition, Storer stated, the staff of the station has been increased from 23 to 55, and it is now operating 105 hours per week.

Early in May, Storer filed an application for ch. 10 Miami. This was after the Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington ruled in favor of Storer in its attack on the Commission's multiple ownership rules. Storer appealed following the FCC's refusal to accept a similar application for Miami's ch. 10. The Commission said then that since Storer already owned the then limit of five tv stations, it could not apply for more.

In the appellate opinion, the court said that it was sure the FCC would reconsider Storer's application for Miami's ch. 10. However, when Storer refiled, the FCC declined to accept it again. The Commission held that Storer had never appealed from its original refusal to accept the application and that since the hearing for Miami ch. 10 had concluded, the Storer application was too late. Storer announced it would not further prosecute the ch. 10 application.

The FCC has asked the U. S. Supreme Court to review the Court of Appeals ruling on multiple ownership [BT, June 27].

In an engineering exhibit associated with the Storer reply, it was stated that a measurement survey of WGBS-TV (operating on ch. 23 with 174 kw power from an antenna 323 ft. above average terrain) showed that 80 dbu signal strength was received at 24.5 miles, 74 dbu at 31.0 miles and 64 dbu at 39.5 miles. This is substantially better than signal strength computed from FCC curves, T. A. M. Craven, consulting engineer, reported.

WHY GRAYBAR RECOMMENDS

MACHLETT ELECTRON TUBES

When you buy Machlett electron tubes via Graybar, you get stable, reliable, long-term tube performance backed by carefully-controlled Machlett production methods.

1. Machlett vacuum firing at higher than operating temperatures . . . thoroughly frees internal components from occluded gases, for greater stability.

2. Special Machlett processing of filament wires and other internal components . . . assures lifetime, stress-free, alignment of electrodes. X-Ray of all hidden electrodes after assembly detects (and rejects) misalignments and potential grid-filament shorts.

3. Machlett high-voltage techniques during final pumping . . . smooths electrode surfaces and minimizes arcing.

Add Machlett's comprehensive customer engineering service and you can see why Graybar recommends the products of this 55-year old manufacturer of quality electron tubes.

For tubes or any other Broadcast or TV equipment need, make it a point to call Graybar first. Your local Graybar office will be happy to provide complete price information as well as technical data. 14 TRANSFERS TOTAL OVER $1 MILLION Involved are one tv, two fms and 13 am stations.

GRANTS for 14 transfers of control involving one tv station, two fms and 13 standard broadcast stations and totaling nearly $1 million cash plus stock considerations were announced by the FCC Thursday.

Chattanooga, Tenn., led the way with the sale of 80% of WAPO-AM-FM to Gordon W. Gambill, Hubert M. Martin, Humphrey B. Heywood and R. T. Russell for 80% of the difference between $300,000 and the amount of liabilities of licensee at the closing date. Transferor was Ramon G. Patterson, who is 50% owner of Mountain City Television Inc., which was favored in an initial decision looking toward the grant of another tv station in Chattanooga.

Current WAPO assets were set at $27,000 and total assets at $275,000.

The new WAPO principals were simultaneously granted FCC approval for the sale of WAGC Chattanooga, of which they had been 100% owners, to WAGC Broadcasting Co. for $105,000. WAGC Broadcasting is owned by Mid-South Broadcasting Corp., operator of WHHM Memphis, Tenn.

KVOD Denver, Colo., license was granted to San Luis Valley Broadcasting Co. for a $225,000 consideration to Colorado Radio Corp. San Luis is licensee of KSLV Monte Vista, Colo.

WOV New York was granted assignment of its license to WOV Broadcasting Corp. for $150,000 plus. Principal WOV Broadcasting stockholder is Morris S. Novick, who is divesting himself of minority interests in WLIR New York.

Sale of KSO-AM-FM Des Moines, Iowa, to KSO Inc. by Murphy Broadcasting Co. for $125,000 was approved. The principals own Radio Indianapolis Inc., licensee of WXWL Indianapolis.

Approval was given the Boston Broadcasting Corp. to sell WVOM Brockline, Mass., to the Champion Broadcasting System Inc. for $86,000. Prior to the grant two of the three Champion principals each owned 323 shares of the 1,400 outstanding shares of WVOM stock.

John F. Malloy was permitted to sell his 50% interest in KJF Seattle, Wash., to Lester M. and Virginia L. Smith, and Lincoln and Sylvia Deller for $8,000 cash plus assumption of $75,000 indebtedness. Mr. Deller owns KXOA-AM-FM Sacramento, Calif.

WMPA Aberdeen, Miss., was granted assignment of license, for $30,000, to E. O. Roden, sole owner of WBIP Booneville, and 30% owner of WTUP Tupelo, both Miss.; James A. Reese; W. I. Dove, 40% owner of WTUP, and G. A. Pribbenow. Principals own WAZF Yazoo City and WSUH Oxford, both Miss.

M & N Broadcasting Co. was granted transfer of control of WGM Medford, Wis., to Harold R. Murphy who was permitted to purchase stock, held by Charles H. Nelson, for $4,000 plus relinquishment of all voting stock of the Flambeau Broadcasting Co. which controls WLDY Ladysmith, Wis. Mr. Nelson will now sole owner of WLDY.

FCC granted assignment of the construction permit of WHHN Harrodsburg, Ky., for $15,000 from the Pioneer Broadcasting Co. to a new equal partnership of the same name composed of C. H. Hulse, Charles R. Shuffett and Frank Orwin.

KBST-TV Big Spring, Tex., ch. 4, changed its construction permit from the Big Spring Broadcasting Co. to Big Spring Television Inc. with the same majority principals.

Redwood Empire Broadcasting Co. was permitted assignment of its license for KAFP Petaluma, Calif., to a new partnership of the same name with former principals Jeffrey E. Evans and Stephen H. Evans surrendering their interests in return for cancellation of any liabilities from the partnership. The remaining partners will give Aubin D. Thomas a 10% interest.

C. H. Simpson was permitted to increase his ownership of WPXY Punxsutawney, Pa., from 48% to 89% through the purchase of 41% of the station's stock from Farm & Home Broadcasting Co. for $1,265 and assumption of $4,424 indebtedness.

KAPB Marksville, La., was granted relinquishment of control by W. L. Billups to his family.

Ikard Hopes for Prompt Study Of Bill to Kill Uhf Set Tax

THE HOUSE Ways & Means Committee may consider today (Monday) or tomorrow a House bill (HR 4070) to exempt uhf-equipped tv sets from the 10% federal excise tax, the bill's author, Rep. Frank Ikard (D-Tex.) said last week.

Rep. Ikard said he "hoped" the committee, of which he is a member, can get to the bill today or tomorrow, adding that it is "away down the list" of tax measures under committee consideration.

He said a Treasury Dept. report on the bill, disapproved of it both because of revenue losses and "in principle" because it would in effect "provide a subsidy for particular industries or products" through "differential tax treatment."

The Treasury Dept. letter to the Ways & Means Committee is not very encouraging, Rep. Ikard said, and has "scared off" some committee members "at the moment." However, he said, he hopes the committee can get to the bill this week so its chances for getting out early in the second session of Congress will be increased.

The letter from the Treasury Dept. said FCC estimates it would cost $7 to $15 per unit more to manufacture tv sets equipped for both uhf and vhf tuning, at factory prices running from $70 to $150 per set. The Treasury Dept. said the revenue loss, if all manufacturers turned to uhf- vhf sets, would be $1 million. "The problem of uhf stations is a difficult one," the letter added, "but we believe it should not be dealt with through differential tax treatment."

Return of Sen. Johnson Not Expected Till January

RETURN of Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) to his senatorial duties is not expected before the second session of Congress which begins next January, it was indicated last week.

Sen. Johnson, whose wife, Claudia T. (Lady Bird), is president and chief owner of KTBC-AM-TV Austin and KANG-TV Waco, both Texas, suffered a heart attack July 2. Meanwhile, Sen. Earle C. Clements (D-Ky.), majority whip, was named to assume duties as Senate majority leader until Sen. Johnson's return.

Physicians at Bethesda ( Md.) Naval Hospital said last week Sen. Johnson is "progressing satisfactorily."

FCC CHAIRMAN and Mrs. George C. McConnaughey fly to Paris July 22 on a quasi-official tour of Europe which will include visits with top communication officials in various countries [CLOSED CURTAIN]. They will inspect International Telecommunication Union at Geneva later in month, swing into Germany first week of August (Bonn, Munich and Heidelberg) and then to Stockholm (Aug. 8-11), Oslo (11-14), Copenhagen (14-17), Amsterdam (17-19), Scotland (20-22) and London (23-26). August is vacation month at FCC and no regular meetings are scheduled.

Publishers, Agencies Given More Time to Answer Suit
DEADLINE for filing replies to the Justice Dept's civil anti-trust suit against the American Assn. of Advertising Agencies, the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. and four other print media associations (B&T, May 16) was extended last week one month, to Aug. 5. A reply to the complaint was due last week in Federal District Court in New York, but the deadline was extended at the request of the respondents. A spokesman for ANPA said it had requested and been granted an additional extension until Sept. 6. An AATAA official told B&T his group had not sought additional time. Other groups named in the complaint are the Publishers Assn. of New York City, the Periodical Publishers Assn., the Associated Business Papers and the Agricultural Publishers Assn.

The Justice Dept.'s complaint charged that the operation of the advertising agency recognition system, with its "uniform" provisions for a 15% commission, prohibition against rebates by agencies to advertisers and its refusal to recognize "house" agencies, constituted restraint of trade in violation of Section I of the Sherman Act.

Five AM Applications
Set for FCC Hearings
HEARINGS on applications last week were designated by the FCC on applications for stations in Morgantown, W. Va., Columbia-Savannah, Tenn., and Signal Hill-Oceanaide-Inglewood-Escondido, Calif.

WCLG Morgantown application for a power increase from 300 W to 1 kw day on 1300 kc was set for hearing and WPXY Punxsutawney, Pa., was made a party to the proceeding. Requests for new AM stations to operate on 1280 kc, 1 kw day in Columbia and Savannah, Tenn., Belden by Columbia-Mt. Pleasant & Spring Hill Radio Corp., Columbia, and Savannah Broadcasting Co., Savannah, were designated for consolidated hearing.

Cerrillos Broadcasting Co. and Oceanaide-Carlsbad Broadcasting Co. applications for stations to operate on 1450 kc, 100 W unlimited time at Signal Hill and Oceanaide, respectively, were set for consolidated hearing with applications of Palomar Broadcasting Co., Escondido, for a station on 1450 kc, 250 W unlimited, there. Application of Albert John Williams, Inglewood, for 1460 kc, 500 W, day with directional antenna was added to the proceeding. KPAL Palm Springs, KVEN Ventura, KPRO Riverside and KWIZ Santa Ana, all Calif., were made parties to the proceeding.

Nat'l Audience Board

by Leo Mishkin

A FEW WEEKS AGO, Dr. Frank Stanton, president of CBS, and himself a research analyst and social statistician of no mean achievement, made public the wishful suggestion that a committee be organized of public-minded citizens, civic leaders, welfare groups and even, God save the mark, television critics, to find out not only how many people are watching TV, but also how, and more importantly, why. It was Dr. Stanton's idea that such a committee might draw up a list of pertinent questions on this matter, and that teams of research workers would then go out into the streets and highways asking these questions of all sorts of people who own receiving sets. The result then to be collated and annotated, indexed and cross-indexed, with the final compendium serving as a possible guide to future television programming and production.

WELL, THIS IS TO report that there is already at hand just such an organization, dedicated to just such a purpose, and that out in Hollywood and San Francisco it is already at work. It is called the National Audience Board, and its membership is made up of the city's club leaders, Parent-Teacher Associations, American Legion and Legion Auxiliary officials, educational executives, child welfare workers, and local chambers of commerce. In process now is the formation of a similar group in New York, to be allied with the two West Coast branches already established, and future hopes are that additional chapters will eventually be set up in Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Detroit and other major cities throughout the country.

---

THE PRESIDENT OF THE National Audience Board is one Peter Goelet, a descendant of the famed Goelet real estate family, who for the present is backing the organization of the NAB with his own money. Of which it may be presumed he has enough. Eventually, however, Mr. Goelet hopes that the actual work of the new Board will be self-sustaining, through donations made by the member groups, circulation sales of a weekly news letter, and perhaps even financial tokens of esteem from the television industry itself. It is Mr. Goelet's not altogether unreasonable expectation that the broadcasters will eventually be quite happy to pay hard money to find out whether their programs are any good or not. In the light of Dr. Stanton's recent statement, in which he also said CBS would be quite willing to underwrite just such a study, it would appear that the only thing remaining to be done is to get Dr. Stanton's signature on a check.

---

MR. GOELET HIMSELF is a former broadcaster, once having operated a radio and TV station in Newburgh, N. Y. And since for some years he was also closely associated with the National Board of Review for Motion Pictures, it is his feeling that much of the same procedures that marked the work of that movie organization might be applied to television as well. Out in Hollywood, for instance, members of the National Audience Board have been welcomed by none other than Walt Disney, for previews of his "Disneyland" and "Davy Crockett" TV shows, and it was at the suggestion of Hubbell Robinson, Jr., vice president of CBS Television in charge of programming, that invitations have also been issued by the NAB to Eddie Cantor, Dick Powell, Jack Webb and other TV stars to take part in the NAB's activities. A number of TV executives on the West Coast are already members.

THE ACTUAL FUNCTION of the National Audience Board, in Mr. Goelet's view, is to serve as a liaison between the public and the television industry. Differing from other civic groups who make a constant practice of merely criticizing, Mr. Goelet has hopes that his people will spend just as much time commending certain things on TV as they will in denouncing them. One of the things the NAB plans, for instance, is an annual, or semi-annual award to the best commercials on the air. And on the questionnaires distributed to members attending previews of forthcoming films, or in reviews of live programs, comments are requested on whether it was entertaining not only to you, but to your children, whether it was on the proper time or not, was there anything you found offensive in the offering, was there anything instructive, and would the reviewer like to see more of the same.

Dr. Stanton, meet Peter Goelet. I have an idea that the two of you may find much in common.

U. S., Mexico Renew Efforts for Am Pact

Mexico is understood to be seeking an additional clear channel, recognition of its Class I-A claim, use of 540 kc and secondary privileges on certain U. S.clears.

RENEWING efforts to settle differences between the U. S. and Mexico on utilization of radio (am) frequencies, delegations from the two countries met in Washington Thursday, exchanged expressions of hope for an early allocation agreement and heard the Mexican delegation chief, Carlos Nunez, voice the desire to "start work immediately."

The two countries were unsuccessful in continuing a treaty at an initial conference last fall in Mexico City, but FCC Comr. Rosel H. Hyde, chief of the American delegation, indicated that the U. S. would cooperate in every effort to reach a solution which would be fair and acceptable to both nations.

Mexico is understood to desire an additional clear channel above its present six (at least on a share basis), to seek greater secondary privileges on certain U. S. clears and to obtain recognition of its Class I-A claim and use of 540 kc, said to have been made in advance of a target date established by the 1947 Atlantic City agreement. The U. S. is reported to be firm in its position that America also is entitled to an equitable use of 540 kc.

The bilateral talks stem from the fact that Mexico was not signatory to the 1950 North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement, which still is pending before the Senate for ratification. Mexico has been negotiating with Cuba preparatory to the renewed meeting with the U. S. in Washington.

Following a welcome by Thorsten V. Kalijjarvi, U. S. Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Economic Affairs, Comr. Hyde informed the opening plenary session that the principal delegates of the two nations would meet on Friday to plan working sessions for this week. Several dozen U. S. industry representatives were present and will participate in the meetings as advisors or observers. Mexican industry spokesmen also are expected to attend.

In addition to Comr. Hyde, the U. S. delegation includes Assistant Chief John S. Cross, chief of radio services and international communications, State Dept. Telecommunications Policy Staff; James F. Barr, chief of Broadcast Facilities Division, FCC Broadcast Bureau; Joseph M. Kittner, assistant chief, FCC Broadcast Bureau; Bruce S. Longfellow, chief, allocation and technical branch, Broadcast Facilities Division, FCC Broadcast Bureau; and Raymond L. Harrell, telecommunication attaché of the U. S. Embassy in Mexico City.

Sr. Nunez is chief of the International Affairs Dept. of the Mexican Ministry of Communications and Public Works. With him Thursday was Lazaro Barajas, chief of the Ministry's Technical Dept. Others of the Mexican delegation yet to arrive include Ignacio Ramirez Caraza, Manuel Zorilla, Hector O’Campo Guerra, Guillermo Salas and Jose Luis Fernandez.

Sr. Nunez, in his response to Comr. Hyde's welcome, cited radio's effectiveness in reaching the people "intimately" and its role in a nation's efforts to better serve its citizens. Because of this important role and radio's "universal" nature as a natural resource available to all, he said the distribution of radio facilities must be made in the most equitable manner possible.

Treble Damage Rule Opposed

JUSTICE Dept. has asked Congress to amend the antitrust laws to permit Federal judges to award less than treble damages in private antitrust suits. This is in line with the recommendation of Attorney General's Committee to Study Antitrust Laws (BT, April 4). Justice Dept. views, made to House Judiciary subcommittee, said that discretionary powers for judges to award less than mandatory treble damages would aid the complainants, since many times judges and juries feel threelfold awards are too steep for "unwitting" violations.

WTPS NEW ORLEANS FAVORED FOR CH. 4

Examiner Smith’s initial decision denies application of Loyola U. James A. Noe & Co., bid not in comparative analysis.

VIRTUALLY splitting hairs to determine the better of two well-matched competitors, FCC Examiner Elizabeth C. Smith last week issued an initial decision proposing to grant ch. 4 at New Orleans to the Times-Picayune (WTPS) and to deny the bid of Loyola U. (WWL).

She also found that James A. Noe & Co. (WNOE) failed to establish its basic financial qualifications, hence was not considered in the comparative analysis.

Examiner Smith made her final conclusion in favor of Times-Picayune on the basis of its proposals for regular programs of particular interest to outlying communities and its plans for regular color tv programming, especially live. She found Times-Picayune to have only “slight” preference over Loyola in the area of participation in New Orleans civic and community life. She preferred the newspaper for its longer service to the community although citing the strong record of Loyola’s WWL.

New Orleans presently has two operating tv stations, ch. 6 WDSU-TV and ch. 61 WMRT-TV. Permit for ch. 26 WCKG (TV) is outstanding.

The initial decision noted that Loyola first filed for tv in 1944, but dropped the bid in 1946 pending further study of conflicting claims as to monochrome vs. color tv. Examiner Smith also cited Times-Picayune’s initial tv grant in 1948 for WTPS-TV which was surrendered because of the reallocation and freeze.

“Those facts, under all of the circumstances, form no valid basis for an adverse conclusion with respect to either of the two applicants,” she said. “From the present pinnacle of hindsight, each of them now doubtless rue the decision then made.”

Appraisal Is Necessary

In her summary, Examiner Smith wrote, “In the final analysis, there must be an appraisal of the relative importance of the several factors around which center the comparison of these applicants. . . . An evaluation of the proposals shows neither of them to be deficient in any important aspect.

“Each has proposed well-balanced and meritorious programming and there is well-founded basis in the record for concluding that each of the proposals can and will be effectuated satisfactorily. It has been herebefore concluded that Loyola merits a preference with respect to its past operation and experience in the use of one of the most important and powerful am radio facilities in the nation and the concomitant assurance which that experience gives that the needs of the area generally will be ascertained and met on a continuing basis.

“This preference is, however, largely offset by the long and meritorious record of Times-Picayune in ascertaining and serving the needs of the community through its newspapers, as well as its experience of much shorter duration and extent garnered from the operation of its much less powerful radio station.”

Examiner Smith continued, “Times-Picayune has been awarded preference, albeit slight, on the factor of greater participation in the civic and community life of New Orleans. The deciding factor, under the record in this proceeding, is the fact that Times-Picayune merits preference on two important facets of proposed programming, namely, regularly scheduled programs of particular interest to residents of outlying communities located within the area to be served; regularly scheduled color tv programs.

“The proposal to provide programs of particular interest to outlying communities is not a proposal to program for some special group, such as, for example, a racial group, but is a proposal to provide on a regular basis programs of local interest and participation for residents within outlying communities which have no television outlet other than through New Orleans stations. This will provide some degree of local expression to such communities on a regularly scheduled basis, as well as make for broader interest and utilization of talent found in such areas.

Now Ampex frees your staff for other duties

NEW AUTOMATIC BROADCAST PROGRAMMING SYSTEM

Here’s a major step in radio progress — pre-taped programs precisely cued to pre-taped announcements for continuous automatic broadcasting for anything from 15 minutes to 15 hours. Two Ampex 450 tape reproducers are operated alternately, automatically cued by sub-audible trigger signals, automatically time-cor rected every 30 minutes. And it’s a versatile system, that can be operated with conventional broadcasts at any time.

dominant station in the entire Gulf Coast area," while other Jesuit institutions held part interests in tv applications at St. Louis and Mobile and operate WEW St. Louis and noncommercial educational fm stations WFUV New York, KSCU Santa Clara, Calif., and WUSB Scranton, Pa. The Times-Picayune involves two of the three daily papers in the city in addition to WTPS, she noted.

Concerning the charge that the Times-Picayune has engaged in restrictive advertising practices because of its compulsory unit rate for classified and general advertising (but not retail display) in both the morning and evening papers, Examiner Smith cited the 1953 court ruling which found that the paper was not operating in violation of the anti-trust laws since single ownership is involved. She observed there is a competing paper in the market as well.

The examiner refused to rule against Loyola on several questions raised by its competition over the 'Jesuit question.' On this matter she wrote in her conclusions:

"A matter which must receive early consideration is whether the manner of appointment and selection of the officers and directors of the Loyola corporation is relevant to the issues in this proceeding. All reference to, or consideration of, this matter which Loyola termed the 'Jesuit question' is objected to by it on the ground that (a) Times-Picayune has offered no point of reliance directed to such matter; (b) it is an attempt to 'smuggle in' an issue going to Loyola's legal qualifications; (c) it is an attempt to introduce a religious issue; and (d) no control by the Society of Jesus has been shown.

"With respect to the first ground of objection, Times-Picayune's points of reliance as to 'background and experience,' particularly the reference therein to stability of corporate management, the method of appointment or election of officers and directors, and local residence, clearly encompass consideration of the method and manner of appointment or selection of officers and directors of the Loyola non-stock corporation, their tenure, residence and related factors.

"With respect to the second ground, the question here is not one of legal qualifications, but factors which relate to claims of superiority by Loyola on the basis of integration of ownership and management, local residence, etc. from a comparative standpoint.

"With respect to the third ground, no consideration has been, or will be, given in this proceeding to the religious faith of any individual or group and none has been urged by Times-Picayune. The evidence has been evaluated on the basis of fact apart from any religious consideration whatsoever.

"With respect to the last ground, control by the Society of Jesus over the selection, appointment and tenure of the officers and directors of Loyola has been clearly established. . . . It should be noted that this is not due to any provision of canon law but to the express provisions of the charter of Loyola granted by the state of Louisiana at the request of the incorporators of Loyola."

Commission Amends Sec. 3.150

SEC. 3.150 of the FCC rules—the section setting forth the directional antenna data necessary on new standard broadcast applications—was amended by the Commission to read that daytime directional antenna information must be supplied only "in those instances where radiation at angles above the horizontal plane is a pertinent factor in station allocation."

Civil Liberties Union Opposes Anti-Red Bill

THE AMERICAN Civil Liberties Union has objected to a bill pending in the Senate that would deny requests by certain political candidates for equal radio or tv time. ACLU, in a letter to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.), chairman of the Senate Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee, also has asked to be heard on the bill, if and when a hearing is set.

The bill was introduced in January by Sen. John M. Butler (R-Md.). Under its terms, broadcasters could refuse equal time to persons, even though legally qualified candidates, if they had been convicted of subversive activities or belong to organizations determined to be pro-communist (BT, Jan. 31).

ACLU's objections were based on "the American idea that in free and open debate, the truth of democracy can defeat the arguments of totalitarianism," Patrick Murphy Malin, ACLU executive director, said.

Mr. Malin, in noting that he was transmitting the views of ACLU's radio-tv panel, said objections were six in number. Candidates, the panel said, should be entitled to present their ideas to the electorate. "The use of radio and tv is becoming more and more recognized as the prime requisite for political campaigning, and to shut off the candidate from the voters through this vital medium of communication is an attack on our political process, which thrives on the exchange of political views," the panel found.

Other objections were that the bill was both discriminatory and showed "fear of opinion and ideas"; that it would bar from political office (as a principle) people who have served a prison sentence; that it would prevent "sincere reformed" or any other ex-Communist from running for political office; that it would make Communists the victims and thus accord them political respectability and that passage would make the U. S. look ridiculous abroad.

House to Vote on Bill To Amend 'Protest' Section

A HOUSE bill (HR 5614) to amend Sec. 309 (e) "protest" provisions of the Communications Act is scheduled to be considered on the floor this week. The measure, open to amendment on the floor, is limited to one hour of debate. The bill was expected to be passed by the House with little if any opposition, spurred by congressmen with complaints from constituents about delays of new services caused by the present provisions.

The Senate Communications Subcommittee heard testimony on a companion bill last week (see story page 74).

The House bill was reported on the floor Thursday after clearing the House Rules Committee. It had been reported favorably the week before by the House Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee (AT DEADLINE, July 4).

The House Commerce Committee approved the measure after recommending two amendments suggested by a representative of the Federal Communications Bar Assn. and agreed to by the FCC, both of which testify at hearings June 22 and 24 (BT, June 27).

Non-Communist Oath Asked

ATTORNEYS practicing before federal departments and agencies (including the FCC) or appearing before a federal court or a congressional committee would be required to file non-communist affidavits under the provisions of a bill (HR 7070) introduced by Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr. (D-N. J.).
GOP Politicking on TV Charged by Sen. Neuberger

A CHARGE that Republicans are using "composite political telecasts" has been made by Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) in a statement on the Senate floor. He said he hoped Congress and the FCC will soon consider measures to "set standards of honesty in television broadcasts of public affairs."

Sen. Neuberger introduced an article from The Reporter magazine, titled "Every Congressman a Television Star." The article criticized the National Republican Congressional Committee for dubbing in filmed shots of GOP congressmen with "spectacular" films showing military planes in action, federal atomic installations or "travelogues of Washington." The committee also splices "discussions" by individual congressmen with high administration officials into films which make it appear as if the official and the congressman were having a question-and-answer session, the article said.

Such films, Sen. Neuberger said, then may be telecast as nonpolitical public service features by the congressman's hometown TV station.

Sen. Neuberger said that "as in the case of radio, the role of television is justly conceived to be both in the field of entertainment and in the field of enlightenment. But the medium itself does not differentiate between the two, and therein lies an opportunity for the political hackster, and a danger to the democratic process."

The Oregon Democrat recently introduced a bill which would require that stations make it known to the television audience when a political speaker is using face make-up or prompting devices on telecasts.

Will Probe News Suppression

A SUBCOMMITTEE of the House Government Operations Committee has been named to investigate whether government departments and agencies have withheld or suppressed information to radio and TV broadcasters, other communications media and congressional committees, Rep. William L. Dawson, committee chairman, has announced. Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.), who will head the subcommittee, said staff members already have started the investigation. Rep. Dawson's statement said that "charges have been made that government departments and agencies have denied or withheld pertinent and timely information from those who are entitled to receive it."
CBS BUYS 2D UHF, WGTH-TV HARTFORD, FROM GENERAL TELERADIO FOR $650,000

Acquisition will match CBS and NBC for the first time in the ownership and operation of uhf stations in the same market, NBC owning WKNB-TV New Britain.

CBS bought its second uhf television station last week, signing with General Teleradio Inc., to acquire ch. 19 WGTH-TV Hartford, Conn., for $650,000.

Purchase of the Connecticut capital city outlet will pit CBS and NBC against each other for the first time in the ownership and operation of uhf stations in the same markets—assuming the necessary FCC clearance.

NBC has bought ch. 30 WKNB-TV New Britain, also subject to FCC consent [B&T, Jan. 10].

Both are in the rich, populous Connecticut River Valley area, which is the target of one of the de-intermixture cases heard by the FCC two weeks ago [B&T, July 4].

The CBS-General Teleradio agreement, announced Friday afternoon by CBS-TV President J. L. Van Volkenburg, in reality involves a three-way sale. General Teleradio owns 53% of WGTH-AM-TV but committed itself to acquire the remaining 45% owned by the Gannett Newspapers' Hartford Times and to deliver all of WGTH-TV to CBS. What GT will pay for this 45% interest was not disclosed.

Mr. Van Volkenburg said that transfer applications will be prepared promptly for early submission to the FCC.

"Operation of WGTH-TV by CBS television," Mr. Van Volkenburg said, "will assure the many thousands of families in the important and rich Hartford area of a complete schedule of the outstanding CBS-TV programs.

"The FCC clearance of the network's confidence in uhf and is in compliance with the commitments of CBS to foster the development of uhf by acquiring the maximum number of uhf and vhf stations permitted under the rules of the FCC.'"

Seven Tv Limit

The FCC multiple ownership rules permit the ownership of up to seven tv stations by a single entity, provided no more than five are in the vhf band. These rules have been nullified by a U. S. Circuit Court decision, but the FCC has asked for the U. S. Supreme Court to review that ruling.

CBS acquired its first uhf outlet—WXIX (TV) Milwaukee, on ch. 19—last October when it paid $335,000 for WOKY-TV Milwaukee and a net $500,000 for the facilities of WCAN-TV Milwaukee.

In an active move last fall, CBS proposed to buy ch. 9 WSTV-TV Steubenville, Ohio, for $3 million. The agreement was pinned on FCC approval of the move of the station to a new location. The purchase has been under investigation by the FCC on the question of overlap between NBC's ch. 9 WRCA-TV New York and WKNB-AM.

Both WNHC-TV New Haven and WATF-TV Waterbury, Conn., have objected to this purchase (see story page 78). WKNB-TV has been affiliated with CBS-TV.

Hartford is less than 10 miles northeast of New Britain. It is 98 air miles from New York. It is 34 air miles from New Haven, where ch. 8 WNHC-TV has been the NBC affiliate for that part of New England for the last seven years. WNHC-TV is NBC affiliation Oct. 4 [B&T, July 4].

The agreement between CBS and General Teleradio was negotiated by John B. Poor, vice president of GT and executive vice president of Mutual Broadcasting System, and H. V. Akerberg, CBS-TV vice president in charge of station relations.

General Teleradio, majority owner of MBS, also owns WOR-AM-FM-TV New York, WNAC-AM-FM-TV Boston, KJH-AM-TV Boston, WBBM-AM-FM-TV Chicago, WBBM-AM-FM-TV Los Angeles, WHBQ-AM-TV Memphis, KFRC San Francisco and last month entered into an agreement to buy WATF-AM-TV West Palm Beach, Fla. [B&T, July 4].

Started in 1954

WGTH-TV commenced Sept. 25, 1954. It is affiliated with ABC and DuMont, and is represented by H.R. Television. It will, of course, become a CBS-uhf basic under the new ownership.

It is licensed to General Times Television Corp. WGTH (5 kw on 1410 kc) is not involved in the CBS purchase, but will be completely owned by General Teleradio when it buys out the Gannett interest.

No decisions have been made regarding changes in WGTH-TV management if the FCC approves its acquisition by CBS. Mr. Van Volkenburg indicated.

WKOZ Marks Power Increase

LUNCHEON to honor more than 100 local businessmen who have used the station's facilities was held July 1 by WKOZ Koscusko, Miss., to mark its increase in power and new independent program format. Up to now WKOZ has been an ABC affiliate with 250 w fulltime. It is now a daytimer with 5 kw and operates as an independent, featuring music, news, sports and local events.

At the luncheon, owner Cy N. Bahakel presented plans to increase WKOZ's service on a regional basis and "to make the station an even greater medium of information and entertainment." Mits Boswell Jr. is general manager and has been with WKOZ since its founding in 1947.

WEOA Safe Completed

FINAL PAPERS have been signed transferring WEOA Evansville, Ind., from Consolidated Television & Radio Broadcasters Inc. to Ohio Valley Television Co. (WEHT [TV] Henderson, Ky.) for $116,000 [B&T, June 27]. The sale was consummated on June 30, following Commission approval June 22.

Harry M. Bilter is president of Consolidated, which owns WFBM-AM-TV Indianapolis; WORC-AM-TV Grand Rapids and WDFD Flint, Mich., and WTCN-AM-TV Minneapolis. WEHT, which covers Evansville, is wholly owned by Malco Theatres Inc. Herbert R. Levy is president.

HOSTS as WM BY-AM Marion, Ill., held an informal party at the opening of its Green Bay studios were (for 1) Jim McConnell of New York and Howdie Meyers of Chicago, Bill of Venkus, Ronoul & McConnell, WMBV-AM's national representative, Charlie Dietz, Green Bay manager for WMBV-TV, Joseph D. Mackin, WMAM-WMBV-AM general manager; W. E. Walker, president of licensee M&M Broadcasting Co., and William R. Walker, tv station manager. The ch. 11 station is the NBC affiliate for the Green Bay area.
WOR-AM-TV SALES HEADED BY DIX

IN A REALIGNMENT of the sales staffs at WOR-AM-TV New York announced last week by Gordon Gray, general manager, William F. Dix Jr., WOR sales manager, was made sales manager of both WOR and WOR-TV.

As part of the re-shuffling of duties, Perry Bascom was advanced to the post of assistant sales manager of WOR-TV from that of account executive with the station. William McCormick continues as assistant sales manager of WOR.

In assuming sales command at WOR-TV, Mr. Dix takes over the duties relinquished by Charles Phillips, who has been named manager of the sales development department of the television division of Edward Petry & Co. (see story below).

Mr. Dix joined WOR as sales manager in January 1954, leaving a similar post at WTAM Cleveland.

Mr. McCormick, who was named assistant sales manager of WOR last February, joined the station in October 1946 and later was promoted to regional sales manager. He is credited with having compiled a record of more than $2 million in billings during his tenure with WOR.

An account executive with WOR since August 1954, Mr. Bascom previously was a sales representative for WIP Philadelphia for more than six years.

Phillips to Head Petry TV Sales Development

ESTABLISHMENT by Edward Petry & Co. of a sales development department within its Television Div., with Charles Phillips as manager, effective Aug. 1, was announced last week by the station representative company.

Mr. Phillips joins Petry from WOR-TV New York, where he has been sales manager since February 1954 (see above). He will report to Tom Knodle, vice president and general manager of Petry tv.

Mr. Phillips previously had spent 11 years with NBC, from 1943 to 1954, starting as sales promotion manager for KOA Denver and progressing through various executive posts, including sales manager of WNBA Cleveland. He also has been with Ball & Davidson, Denver advertising agency, and with The Denver Post.

The new department will endeavor to secure new advertisers for spot tv, sell current spot tv advertisers on expanding their use of the medium, and acquaint top advertiser management in the national field with the full story of each Petry-represented tv station. The department's efforts will be supported by Petry tv promotion and research, and its activities will be closely coordinated with those of the Petry tv sales department.

New Tennessee Daytime Goes on Air July 1

CEREMONIES heralding the start of WSEV Sevierville, Tenn., were held July 1 with representatives from state and local governments and civic and veteran's organizations attending a two-hour celebration. WSEV, licensed to Smoky Mountain Broadcasting Corp., is on 930 kc with power of 1 kw daytime only.

Keynote speaker was James McCord, Tennessee Conservation Commissioner and former governor of the state, who discussed radio in modern day civilization. Among other officials present were Donald McSween, Tennessee Employment Security Commissioner; Glenn Nicely, executive assistant to Gov. Frank Cle-ment; state senator Carrol Oaks; state representa-tives Fred C. Atchley, L. S. Nease, A. R. McCorman, Bryce Wisecarver, and Dr. James A. Crabtree, former Deputy Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Clay Cline, for 12 years with WJZM Clarks-ville, Tenn., is general manager of WSEV.

Privett to WBRC Sales Staff

APPOINTMENT of G. O. Privett to the sales staff, WBRC Birmingham, Ala., was announced last week by Lionel F. Baxter, sales manager. Mr. Privett, who has been in broadcasting since 1930, served most recently as sales manager of WWSG and previously had been local sales manager of WAPI, both Birmingham.

WRCA-AM-TV Is Host For Day at Monmouth Park

WRCA-AM-TV New York took 'em to the races. Some 300 persons, including a wide representation of advertising agencies along with users of the NBC-owned outlets' time, plus executives of two stations and of NBC Spot Sales, were on hand for the excursory from New York to the Monmouth (N. J.) Park track which WRCA-AM-TV staged June 29 for grocery manufacturers' representatives of New York [B'T, July 4].

The party traveled by boat, was dined en route and entertained by WRCA-AM-TV talent. Guests with limited time were flown to the track by helicopter.

WLEE Richmond Names 3; Hudson to Radio & Sales Mgr.

HARVEY HUDSON, assistant manager in charge of operations for Lee Broadcasting Corp.'s WLEE Richmond, Va., has been named manager of radio and sales for the station, effective immediately, the corporation has announced. Simultaneously announced were the appointments of Thomas J. Kita and Lud Sterling as chief engineer and program director, respectively.

Mr. Hudson, 33, was associated with WRVA Richmond from 1940 to 1946 when he joined WLEE at its inception. In addition to management functions he has continued in the entertainment phase of radio and still produces the daily Harvey Hudson variety show.

Mr. Kita, 29, formerly assistant chief engineer in charge of studio control remote broadcasts and maintenance of equipment, has been with WLEE since 1948.

Mr. Sterling, 37, has been WLEE chief announcer for the last three years, joining the station as a disc m.c. in 1947. He has become well-known as "Uncle Lud" on the program of that name over WLEE.

Gainesville Stations Protest U. of Fla. Football Decision

TWO Gainesville, Fla., radio stations have protested the granting of exclusive rights for the U. of Florida football games to the university's WRUF there.

In the protest, made to the Board of Control, which sets the broadcast policy, WGGG President R. M. Chamberlain, who said he also served as spokesman for WDVH, asked the board to change its ruling, pointing out that in other cities with two or more stations the commercial stations have a right to bid for the broadcast privilege.

Acknowledging Mr. Chamberlain's charge that WRUF was "a commercial station," board member Hills Knorr said it became commercial only because the legislature ruled it had to be run as a commercial enterprise. But, he added, "WRUF has certain prerogatives it must enjoy over commercial stations." He cited educational advantages and added "... We look to it as the voice of the university."

Mr. Chamberlain countered that outside of a half-hour farm program, WRUF did very little university work. He said, "... I carry more university programming than WRUF."

Mr. Rinehart suggested the matter be taken under advisement. To enable the Board of Control to make a better study of the matter, board member Fred Kent called for a statement from each station concerning its educational programming and other phases of operation.

WWIL Sets Programming For Late Summer Debut

PROGRAM format of news and music stressing hi-fi sound will be featured on WWIL Fort Lauderdale, Fla., when it makes it debut sometime between Aug. 15 and Sept. 1. Construction of a new one-story building that will house all the station's operations was started June 18. The complete installation is expected to cost between $65,000 and $70,000.

Nick Pagliara, vice president, said WWIL will program about 20 hours a day, from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m.

WWIL is owned by the Missouri Broadcasting Corp., owners of WIL St. Louis. L. A. Benson, president, and Mr. Pagliara have been at the helm since WWIL was founded. WWIL will operate on 1580 kc with 1 kw fulltime. Collins Radio Co. equipment will be used.

KEYD-TV Names Fransen, Day in Expanded Activity

EXPANSION in sales and programming was announced last week at KEYD-AM-TV Minneapolis by General Manager Lee M. Whiting. Two appointments were made.

Richard M. Day, with KEYD since 1950 was named local television sales manager, and Robert Fransen, operations manager of KEYD-TV since it has been on the air, was promoted to assistant general manager in charge of tv.

Mr. Whiting said the appointments reflect intensified local sales activity and an expanded program of film purchases. He said still other programming moves were being made as a result of a rapid growth in audience during the first six months of tv operation.

An Early Start

A LITTLE business was combined with a lot of pleasure as the sales forces of WKZ0-AM-TV Kalamazoo, Mich., held a sales clinic at the cottage of Carl Lee, Fetzer Broadcasting Co. vice president.

As the stations relate, Jim White, WKZO-TV account executive, made the first "presentation" at 4:30 a.m. in the form of bacon and eggs. The salesmen got off to an early start and headed for Benton Lake. Don DeSmit, tv sales manager, landed the first "client," a small bass. The way it worked out, what little business was transacted proved more successful than the fishing.

Bonus Mentions Offered In KABC-AM-TV Sales Plan

INTEGRATION of picture or product mention into the format of all local programs is offered theatrical film producers and other advertisers as part of KABC-AM-TV Hollywood's "Operation Saturation" promotion plan.

Mentions are offered as a bonus for placement of all or most of local advertising budgets with the stations, explains Hunt Stromberg Jr., KABC-TV programming director.

Mentions are integrated into the local programs in several ways. During the recent promotion of M-G-M's theatrical release, "Love Me or Leave Me," KABC designated Wednesday, June 15, when the picture opened in Los Angeles, as "Doris Day," after the picture's star. The designation "This Is Doris Day," was incorporated into all station identifications during the day.

WNBF Using 'Double Decker'

WNBF Binghamton, N. Y., began operating July 1 on its new "double decker" antenna, which consists of two completely separate half-wave antennas placed one above the other. It is the first time, the station believes, that an antenna of that type has been used in the am broadcasting field. The station said that measurements have verified that the "apparent power" is more than triple that from the usual "minimum height" antenna. Jansky & Bailey, Washington, handled the engineering.
Agricultural World Tour
Sponsored by KCMO-AM-TV

AGRICULTURAL world tour sponsored by KCMO-AM-TV Kansas City for persons interested in world conditions affecting the agricultural economy of this country has been announced by E. K. Hartenbower, general manager of the stations. The tour, to visit the chief agricultural regions and political centers of 24 countries on four continents, will leave Kansas City Nov. 1. Jack Jackson, director of agriculture for the stations, will be in charge of the group.

The tour will leave in three sections, the first visiting European countries and to be completed in October. The second will involve an additional 14 days and will include a stop in Yugoslavia, expected to be the first private American group to observe agriculture in that country, according to Mr. Hartenbower. The third section will continue to the Near and Far East and return via either Hawaii or Alaska. A KCMA representative presently is on an advance trip to arrange details with officials of the countries to be visited.

According to Mr. Hartenbower, the farm project is the first of its type ever to be conducted. A similar project which took 25 midwestern farm leaders to 10 European countries was conducted by Mr. Jackson in 1950.

FCDA Taped Phone Interviews Available to Radio Stations

FIRST of a series of taped telephone interviews between individual radio station personalities and Federal Civil Defense Administration officials was made June 29 in a 10-minute interview of Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson by Heloise Parker Brog, WEEI Boston's "Mother Parker," on atomic fallout.

Nat S. Linden, chief of FCDA's radio-TV branch, said Mrs. Brog, immediate past chairman of American Women in Radio & Television's special projects committee, was chosen for the first interview because of her work in interesting AKRT members in FCDA's public information program.

In announcing the series of interviews, Mr. Linden said any station may arrange for taped talks with FCDA officials for use on the station, with FCDA "picking up the tab" for the telephone costs. He said FCDA also would furnish free a disc of the interview to any station which does not have recording facilities. The station personality may talk on any civil defense topic he chooses, including problems peculiar to his own community, Mr. Linden said.

Interested stations should contact FCDA as follows: Nat S. Linden, Chief of Radio-TV Branch, Federal Civil Defense Administration, Battleground Creek, Mich.

Ballplayers May Discuss Fee Charge for Interviews

DECISION by some ballplayers to charge stations for radio interviews at major league parks has stemmed from a "misinterpretation" and may be brought up at a meeting of player representatives in Milwaukee this week.

A movement to survey the sentiments of players has been started by John Harrington, sports director of WBBM Chicago [BET, June 6]. In an interview with Special Events Director Hugh Hill, Brooklyn Dodgers pitcher Carl Erskine explained to listeners how the "misinterpretation" occurred.

He said the idea of levyng fees resulted after one National League club made a persistent practice of requesting certain players to appear frequently at dinners and other functions without fee. The players, in turn, decided to curb the practice by starting to charge for their services. He added. Mr. Harrington claims the fees are "discriminatory" against broadcast media.

WBAY (FM) Format Defined

COMMERCIAL announcements at WBAY (FM) New York, new outlet which began operation on July 28, will be limited to 30 seconds and broadcast four times each hour. Ted Deglin, president, announced last week. Program plans call for broadcast of high-fidelity records and tapes, Mr. Deglin said. No classical music will be played, Mr. Deglin said, adding that the station hoped to gain its audience by offering the kind of music that large groups of people actually listen to, not merely say for prestige reasons they would like to listen to.

STATION SHORTS

KFMB San Diego, Calif., reports 70.6% business volume increase in first quarter of 1955 over same period last year and recorded February high with 111% increase over February 1954.

GE REORGANIZES NATL. TV SALES FORCE

Firm cites key appointments as move to counteract tougher competition, more complicated business conditions in tv.

GENERAL ELECTRIC will counteract "tougher competition and more complicated business conditions" in the tv broadcast field by reorganizing its national sales force, the company said Wednesday.

New positions will be created and assigned sales territories accordingly changed, Albert F. Wild, manager of GE's broadcast equipment product department at Syracuse, N. Y., said.

The field "is a fluctuating business with periodic peaks and valleys," Mr. Wild said and "right now the industry is between peaks." GE's reorganization, according to Mr. Wild, will mean an increased sales effort against the background of a "bright future" promised by the advent of color television and automatically operated television stations.

The new appointments included:

John Wall, a district sales manager for broadcast equipment, who is elevated to northeast regional sales manager with headquarters in Cincinnati. He has been with GE since 1928.

Charles T. Hoist, district sales manager for broadcast equipment on the West Coast, who now becomes western regional sales manager with his office in San Francisco. He has been with GE since 1946.

Vernon H. Russell, formerly with Allen B. DuMONT Labs and in his first year with GE, becomes district sales manager for the north-west with headquarters at Seattle. In the Virginia-Maryland area, Lewis F. Page, with his office at Washington, D. C., becomes a district sales manager. He formerly was a special representative for GE for broadcast equipment in Washington, and has been with the company since 1947. Earl H. Platt, with GE since 1948 and most recently a member of the Syracuse broadcast equipment headquarters staff, has been named district sales manager of the Kentucky-Virginia area.

Mr. Wild emphasized that business has shifted to modernization of existing stations' facilities as compared to previous stress on selling tv broadcasting equipment before stations went on the air. He noted also that the bulk of new station business now is in smaller markets and that this alone requires more sales coverage and effort.

GE Appoints Berry, Weeks To Electronic Tube Posts

ROY E. BERRY, associated with the General Electric Co. in various engineering and commercial capacities since 1947, has been appointed district sales manager in the central region of the equipment sales organization of GE, with responsibility for electronic tube sales to radio and tv manufacturers and to other manufacturers associated with the electronics industry.

In another shift in GE electronic tube sales, Frank A. Weeks Jr., distributor salesman of the tube department of General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y., has been appointed sales manager of the company's newly created electronic tube sales district, covering most of Indiana and part of Kentucky.

Pacific Mercury Tv Sticks To Experimental Color Tv

A LARGE PART of the experimental program of Pacific Mercury Tv Mfg. Corp., Van Nuys, Calif., is being devoted to color tv set production, but "until such time as sets can be constructed at prices assuring ready customer acceptance, we intend to continue our present policy of...confining our color construction to experimental purposes," President Joe Benaron informed stockholders in the firm's annual report issued last week.

Noting that while some progress had been made toward lowering color tv set construction costs, he said overall costs are still too high to permit entry into the distribution field.

He also noted a familiar pattern among western tv set manufacturers of lowered dollar sales volume, but increased profits. Net sales for the fiscal year ended March 31 was declared to be over $12 million, from the nearly $14 million in the previous like period. However, net income after taxes rose to over $225,000 from the nearly $200,000 the previous year.

RETMA Asks FTC to Postpone New Rules to End of Year

POSTPONEMENT of the new trade practice rules for the radio-tv set manufacturing industry, published by the Federal Trade Commission a fortnight ago [B&T, July 4], was requested last Thursday by the Radio-Electronics-Tv Mfrs. Assn.

RETMA asks that the effective date of the 32 rules be put off until Dec. 28. At present the rules are to become law July 28, with the exception of three which are to become effective Dec. 28.

Addressing the association's feeling to FTC

Broadcasting • Telecasting
Chairman Edward F. Howrey, Glen McDaniel, RETMA general counsel, said, "We think that certain rules will cause such confusion and uncertainty that they may lead to a more misunderstanding and deception than would exist without such rules."

He cited six rules in particular the association objected to during public hearings at the time the code was proposed:

Misrepresentation of cabinet composition; deception as to size of picture; deception as to being "new"; deception as to identity of manufacturer when products are repaired, reconditioned or rebuilt by other than the original manufacturer; use of lottery, and prohibited discrimination.

Tube Sales Running Well Ahead of 1954

A MILLION more picture tubes and 51 million more receiving tubes were sold by radio and television manufacturers in the first five months of 1953 than for the same period in 1954, Radio-Electronics Mfrs. Assn. reported last week.

However, manufacturers' sales of cathode ray and receiving tubes experienced their usual seasonal decline in May from April's level, RETMA explained.

Picture tubes sales from January through May totaled 4,207,129 valued at $81,649,060, compared with 3,275,301 tubes valued at $69,052,136 for the same period in 1954.

Receiving tube sales for the first five months of this year totaled 185,682,583 valued at $137,421,579 compared with 134,677,745 tubes valued at $99,025,891 sold in the same 1954 period.

'55 Electronics Output Expected Near '53 Record

PRODUCTION of electronic products in 1955 is expected to reach $6.2 billion, slightly less than the 1953 record of $6.3 billion, according to a mid-year survey conducted among 25 industries by the Bureau of Business and Defense Services Administration. Production in 1954 was $5.8 billion.

The number of black-and-white tv receivers produced in the first half of this year reached a near-record mark of 3.75 million units, the survey shows, with total value of factory production expected to exceed $1 billion in spite of a decline in average unit price.

The report, prepared by the Administration's Electronics Div., indicates that total factory sales of color tv receivers in 1955 will reach at least $15 million and that a substantial increase in production will take place in 1956.

Production of radio receivers continues at a high level, the survey notes.

Radio-Tv Set Sales in May Increase Over April Levels

RETAIL sales of radio and tv receivers during May moved above April levels, the Radio-Electronics Mfrs. Assn. announced today (Monday). Same upward climb for both products held true for the first five months of 1955 compared with the same period in 1954, RETMA said.

In May, 398,449 radios were sold, compared with 367,841 in April. For the five 1955 months, 2,007,631 radios were sold, compared with 1,873,399 for the comparable 1954 period.

There were 416,908 tv receivers sold through retail outlets in May, compared with 411,748 in April. For the five 1955 months, 2,772,648 tv sets were sold, compared with 2,453,875 for the same period in 1954.

DuMont Builds L. A. Plant

NEW electronics center for Allen B. DuMont Labs is under construction in Los Angeles to handle the company's increased electronic activity on the West Coast, Dr. Allen B. DuMont, president, announced last week. The building, at 11800 W. Olympic Blvd., will have approximately 30,000 square feet of floor space and will have a railroad siding and parking facilities. Dr. DuMont said occupancy is scheduled for October. Ralph B. Austrian, DuMont's west coast manager, will headquartered in the new building.

Volume Control Device Offered

DEVICE to permit those with a hearing loss to enjoy radio without disturbing others, through the use of a tiny, inexpensive, adiop, has been announced by Zenith Radio Corp. William N. Brown, manager of the company's hearing aid division, pointed out that the hard-of-hearing person can obtain the extra volume he needs by using the radio adapter with an individual headphone set, or if he uses a hearing aid, by plugging a special cord directly into the air or bone conduction receiver of the hearing aid. Suggested retail price: $2.50.

Tárzin, Camera Vision Sign

SARKES TARZIAN Inc. will manufacture all electronic equipment to be used in the Camera Vision electronic-and-film camera system [B-7T, May 2, et seq.], according to an agreement reached between Camera Vision Productions Inc., Hollywood, and the Bloomington, Ind., tv equipment makers. Philip Rivero and Arthur S. Lyons are co-owners of Camera Vision.
McAvity says NBC-TV will have five times as many 'mammoth' programs as those of any other network during 1955-56.

NBC-TV, in heralding "the greatest season in the history of any network," will program 75 "one-shot" productions and spectaculars in the 1955-56 period, thus moving further along the path of high-budget shows, featuring top-flight talent.

The array of talent, caliber of shows and diversification of entertainment was chronicled in a statement last week by Thomas A. McAvity, vice president in charge of NBC-TV, who described the upcoming season as the "greatest" and claimed NBC-TV was scheduling at least five times as many "mammoth" productions "as those announced by any other network."

Included in the NBC-TV "sights" for 1955-56 are as many as 39 color spectaculars (90-minute shows), eight Maurice Evans productions on Hallmark Hall of Fame, six operas, three or four holiday "spectacles" and plans for 20 or 30 "telemetary productions" (semi-documentaries).

Presentations will run the gamut in entertainment: original musicals, operettas, motion pictures, contemporary and classical dramas, telemetaries, historical dramas, operas and ballet.

Among top performers from stage, tv, screen and concert stage scheduled to appear on the network: Mr. Evans, Mary Martin, Frank Sinatra, Helen Hayes, Maurice Chevalier, George Abbott, Patrice Munsel, Rex Harrison, Eva LeGallienne and the Sadler's Wells Ballet Company.

Top directors and producers for the NBC-TV shows will include Sol Hurok, Max Liebman, Fred Coe, Samuel Chotzinoff and Mr. Evans.

Ambitious productions include Our Town, The Skin of Our Teeth, Alice in Wonderland, Richard III, Amahl and the Night Visitors, Sleeping Beauty, a repeat of Peter Pan, Madame Butterfly, Babes in Toyland and The Devil's Disciple. In addition, the network will present the premiere of two American operas, Grifelkin and La Grande Breteteche. A production of The Magic Flute is scheduled to be presented on the 200th anniversary of the birth of Mozart.

More of the so-called telemetaries are slated. Among them: 1976, a live, one-hour program (on Oct. 9) on how life in the U.S. will be 299 years after the American revolution; more of the Wide Wide World type of telecast which was first presented June 27; the program, Meeting at the Summit, set for July 17 (8-9 p.m. EDT) that will explore the Big Four meeting in Geneva; a drama of the history of the rise of communism in Russia, for telecast in the fall (At Deadline, June 13).

Still others: Young India, a 90-minute color film now being made, featuring Chester Bowles, former U. S. ambassador to India, assaying the country's future; The Rise and Fall of a Dictator, a history of Adolph Hitler depicted on impounded German film; Austria, an hour-long history of that country to be scheduled with the re-opening of the Vienna State Opera next November; a documentary on Russia, showing life within that country, and a repeat telecast of Three, Two, One—Zero on nuclear energy and its world significance. Series in the planning stage will include a 60-minute program on total mobilization; two one-hour features on juvenile delinquency and another on desegregation in the public schools.

The fall single-show schedule starts Sept. 11 with the Thornton Wilder, Pulitzer prize-winning play, Skin of Our Teeth, to be shown in color.

Saturday evening Max Liebman Presents, 90-minute color shows, again will be sponsored by Oldsmobile Division of General Motors; Sunday evening Color Spread Spectaculars will be sponsored by different advertisers, and the Monday evening Producers' Showcase spectaculars will again be co-sponsored by Ford Motor Co. and RCA, according to NBC-TV's schedule.

N. Y. Seeks New Grip On TV Production

RENEWED efforts to maintain New York as a major tv production center were announced last week when CBS-TV and NBC-TV confirmed that Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Robert Moses, New York City construction coordinator, had conferred with top network officials on the subject.

Gov. Harriman reportedly urged CBS-TV and NBC-TV to consider establishing large, permanent plants in New York as the city has done in Hollywood. He pledged the cooperation of his office to enable television networks to effect economies by centralizing their operations and said they could count on help from the New York City administration.

The CBS-TV meeting, held May 31, was attended by Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the boards of RCA and NBC; Mr. Moses; David L. Weaver, NBC president; Joseph V. Heffernan, NBC financial vice president; William S. Paley, CBS board chairman, and Daniel T. O'Shea, CBS vice president.

The discussion was said to be "very preliminary," with various suggestions offered by Gov. Harriman and Mr. Moses, including the possibility of a huge television center in which all the networks would participate. Mr. Moses noted one possible site for such a center might be at the Deepdale golf course at Great Neck, Long Island.

For several years, New York City officials have held various talks with network officials with a view toward curbing the movement to Hollywood by networks and other television production organizations.

It was said that Gov. Harriman invited only NBC-TV and CBS-TV to the meeting because he felt that if the two major networks agreed to cooperate, ABC-TV and DuMont would follow suit. It was reported that both NBC-TV and CBS-TV would take the governor's proposals under consideration. NBC-TV, at least, reportedly is not inclined toward such a joint venture if all networks do not cooperate.
ADVERTISING, PROMOTION STAFF EXPANDED BY ABC

Eckstein, Fields and Seton promoted. Three added to department with other appointments to be announced soon.

EXPANSION of ABC's advertising, promotion and publicity services and staff in New York and Hollywood, was announced last week by Gene Accas, ABC director of advertising, promotion and publicity. [CLOSED CIRCUIT, July 4]

Those promoted to newly-created positions are John H. Eckstein, supervisor of advertising and promotion for the network's WABC-AM-TV New York, to assistant to the director of advertising, promotion and publicity for ABC; Jack Fields, exploitation writer, to chief of the newly-formed exploitation unit; Adolph L. (Al) Seton, trade news editor, to assistant to manager of publicity.

Mr. Eckstein joined ABC as a promotion writer in July 1953 and was advanced to supervisor of advertising and promotion for WABC-AM-TV in January 1955. He formerly was associated with Time Inc. and National Screen Service Corp.

Mr. Seton has been with ABC since 1953. Previously, he had been with John Irving Fields Assoc, servicing radio and television shows and personalities and specializing in exploitation, publicity and promotion.

Mr. Seton, who joined the network in May 1953 upon his release from the U. S. Navy, was promoted to trade news editor in November 1953.

It's Greet to Me

CBS RADIO sports reporters and newsmen who are puzzled about pronunciation of such names as Ted Kluszewski, Ed Cereghino and Mike Fornieles have a helpmate in need in Prof. Cabell Greet, CBS speech consultant. With the help of John Derr, CBS director of sports, Prof. Greet has compiled a new list of recommended pronunciations of names of major league baseball players. Prof. Greet notes the pronunciation of the name Cereghino, New York Yankees pitcher, is "suhr-eh-gee-no," adding the "first syllable is pronounced like the word 'sir,' rhyming with 'fur' and 'John Derr.'"

Ex-KRCA (TV) Commentator Sues NBC for $3 Million

TWO suits, seeking a total of $3 million from NBC-TV, were filed in Los Angeles Federal District and Superior courts by George Todd, former KRCA (TV) Hollywood news commentator.

Mr. Todd, whose program was terminated by the NBC odo station, charged that his discharge was the result of a statement on his Sept. 5, 1954 telecast that, "The United Nations charter was inspired, in part, by the traitor Alger Hiss and should not have supremacy over the Constitution of the United States." The "eastern management" of NBC-TV discharged him on the following day and as a result, his contract with the advertising agency handling the account was terminated, he contends.

The commentator is seeking $600,000 in the federal suit and $2.4 million in the Superior Court suit. He charges that the material for the Sept. 5 telecast was submitted to and approved by KRCA personnel before the program.

CBS Adds Two Canadian Tvs

SIGNING of CJON-TV St. John's, Newfoundland, and CKVR-TV Barrie, Ont., as secondary affiliates of CBS-TV, was announced last week by Herbert V. Akervig, network's vice president in charge of station relations. The affiliations come effective Aug. 1 and Sept. 15, respectively.

CJON-TV, ch. 2 outlet, and CKVR-TV, on ch. 3, are both represented by Canadian Broadcasting Corp., Toronto. Commercial manager of CBC is Walter Powell.

NBC Names Bengtson

APPOINTMENT of C. Allan Bengtson as station contact representative for NBC was announced last week by Donald J. Mercer, director of station relations for the network. Mr. Bengtson moves to his new assignment from the New York State Electric & Gas Corp., Binghamton, N. Y., where he has been executive assistant to the vice president in charge of advertising, sales promotion and publicity. He was formerly general manager of WINR Binghamton, NBC affiliate there.

NBC Switches Mueller

NBC news correspondent Merrill (Red) Mueller was appointed last week as Mediterranean director of NBC news with headquarters in Rome. He replaces Jack Begon and assumes responsibility over a territory that includes Italy, Austria, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Israel, Spain, Portugal and part of Africa.

Martin Leaves DuMont; Koblenzek Succeeds

GERRY MARTIN, director of sales, DuMont Television Network, has resigned effective July 17, it was announced last week. He has been director of sales since July 1953. His future plans have not yet been announced.

Mr. Martin's duties will be assumed by William Koblenzek, manager of network sales.

Prior to his DuMont association Mr. Martin was at Lennen & Newell, as vice president and executive contact on the P. Lorillard account. He previously had been with Duane Jones Co. as vice president in charge of radio-tv and William Esty Co. as business manager of the radio department, radio producer and finally assistant director in the tv department. Before entering the agency field Mr. Martin was with NBC on the promotion and publicity staff as manager of guest relations and successively on the local, spot and network sales staffs.

'Four-Poster' for 'Showcase'

PLAN to present "Four-Poster" in a 90-minute version of the original Broadway play on NBC-TV's Produents Showcase July 25 has been announced. Telecast will star Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn, who also played the lead roles on stage. Mr. Cronyn will stage and produce.

NETWORK SHORTS

Keystone Broadcasting System has added eight new affiliates bringing total to 849: KWMA Holbrook, Ariz.; WMEN Tallahassee, Fla.; WAAG Adel, Ga.; WFTW Fairfield, Ill.; KMRC Morgan City, La.; KTBT Missoula, Mont.; KVIN Vinna, Okla.; WAKN Aiken, S. C.
East Canada Broadcasters Seek Lift of Liquor Ad Ban

Canadian broadcasters of the four Atlantic coast provinces at their mid-June annual convention [B&T, July 4] decided to approach their local provincial governments to review liquor legislation. No advertising of beer, wine or liquor is now allowed in these provinces.

The Atlantic Assn. of Broadcasters also backed the stand of the Canadian Assn. of Radio & Television Broadcasters for a change in government policy to allow competitive television in major Canadian markets [B&T, July 27].

Film Footage Tax Replaces 10% Sales Tax on Production

Canadian advertisers using film commercials on Canadian TV stations will be able to buy more films with the same budgets as a result of a tax revision made by the Canadian government on production of commercial films, both 16mm and 35mm. Where formerly the 10% Canadian sales tax was charged on the production costs of a film, under the revision, which went into effect July 1, a straight 9½ cent footage tax is charged. Thus on a 1,000 ft. film the tax is now $9.50, irrespective of cost of production. The 10% sales tax will still apply on the cost of additional prints.

Effect of the tax revision will mean more Canadian film production, which previously had been done in the U.S.

Schwerin TV Testing System To Be Established in England

The TV program and commercial testing system used by the Schwerin Research Corp., New York, will be extended to England, where commercial TV will get underway in the fall. Horace Schwerin, president, announced last week. Mr. Schwerin said the firm's British service will be headed by Eric Boden, who has had 20 years experience in broadcasting in England, Ireland, and the U.S.

Temporary offices for Schwerin in London are at 1 Old Burlington St., London W. 1. The company will relocate at Television House when it is completed. Mr. Schwerin said work has already begun on the training of a staff and on the first test sessions, Mr. Schwerin reported. The research executive expects to visit England in July to meet with advertisers and agencies.

The general testing pattern in England will be the same as the U.S. and Canada.

Thomson Transfers Stations

Change in ownership of three Northern Broadcasting Co. stations has been approved by the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. at its board meeting in Ottawa on June 24. The stations, CKGB Timmins, CFCH North Bay and CIKL Kirkland Lake, all owned by Roy H. Thomson, Toronto, have been turned over to his three children, one station to each. New owners are: CIKL, Mrs. Irma Jacqueline Eliott; CKGB Timmins, Kenneth Thomson, president of the Thomson Co., newspaper chain, and CFCH North Bay, Mrs. Phyllis Audrey Campbell.

INTERNATIONAL SHORTS

Radio Surtidora, Mexico City, Mex., has been appointed exclusive Mexican distributor of hi-fi components and packaged merchandise of Pilot Radio Corp., Long Island City, N. Y.

Astn. Screen News Ltd., Toronto, is producing series of films on Canadian Army activities to be shown on Canadian TV stations this fall under auspices of Canadian Dept. of National Defense.

INTERNATIONAL PEOPLE

Wib A. Perry, radio director, Leo Burnett of Canada Ltd., Toronto, to Robert Otto & Co. (Canada) Ltd., Toronto, as vice president and general manager, succeeding Gordon Ferris, now president, Radio Representatives Ltd., Toronto.

Charles Jennings, program director, Canadian Broadcasting Corp., appointed assistant controller of broadcasting, headquarters in Ottawa.

Bob Lewis, CJON St. John's, Nfld., appointed producer; Bill Jamieson, formerly with CJAD Montreal, and James Regan, formerly with CFAB Windsor, N. S., to CJON as announcers.

Color in Britain

Britain reportedly will begin experimental broadcasts of color TV this fall. Informed sources say the BBC will conduct live tests of still and action material from its transmitters at Alexandria Place north of London. Several systems are to be tested. BBC hopes to begin regular transmission of color TV in 1958.
EMERY WILL HEAD N. Y. STATE TV STUDY

A STUDY of the value of educational tv, as well as New York State's progress in the field, got under way last week for the State Education Commission in New York.

Impetus was given by the appointment of Dr. Walter B. Emery, for the past three years general consultant to the Joint Committee on Educational Television at Washington, to head the study. The commission also appointed an 11-member advisory committee made up of educators and headed by Dr. Kenneth A. Bartlett, vice president and dean of public relations at Syracuse U., to assist Dr. Emery.

Dr. Emery, former professor of speech at the U. of Oklahoma and Ohio State U. and one-time legal assistant to then FCC Chairman Paul A. Walker, will serve for four months (starting last Tuesday) for which he will receive $6,850.

After that period, he will report to the New York Board of Regents his recommendations as to how he was taken by the education department in the tv field. The advisory committee includes, among others, Drs. Arthur Hungeford of the Metropolitan Educational Television Assn., New York, and James F. MacAndrew, director of broadcasting of the New York City Board of Education.

College Publicists Discuss Tv Impact on Education

TELEVISION'S impact on education in American universities was explored at the 39th annual meeting of the American College Public Relations Assn. in Chicago a fortnight ago.

Over 800 administrators from leading schools attended the June 29-July 2 meeting, to hear talks on program techniques, audience reception, program costs and utilization of tv in classrooms and for medical purposes.

Cost of film prints highlighted an audio-visual panel June 30. Also explored were such problems as how tv can best serve college public relations; opportunities of the relationship between colleges and commercial video stations; training of school tv personnel and program standards; use of commercial broadcast facilities; university attitude toward educational tv stations; faculty remuneration for appearances on university television shows.

Orbert J. Hruby, tv supervisor, U. of Chicago, and Richard L. Rider, tv supervisor, U. of Illinois, were panelists.

Public Relations Committee of the National Assn. of Educational Broadcasters, headed by Jim Miles, director of U. of Purdue's WBAA Lafayette, held an organization meeting June 28 before the convention.

Radio and tv techniques were explored June 30 by Garnet Garrison, tv director, U. of Michigan; Romulo Soldevilla, assistant director of radio-tv public relations, Northwestern U., and Colby Lewis, production manager for WTTW (TV) Chicago, forthcoming educational station.

Television's relationship to medical education was the subject of a July 1 panel including Lynn D. Poole, public relations director, Johns Hopkins U., Baltimore; and Jack McRide, director of KUON-TV Lincoln, U. of Nebraska station.

A July 2 session was to be devoted to "who Pays for the Program?" with Merrill C. Ludwig, assistant to the director, WOI-AM-TV Ames, Iowa, recounting methods used by the Iowa State College commercial tv outlet, and Lyle M. Nelson, assistant to the president, Educational Television Center, Ann Arbor, Mich. Second panel covered "Public Relation Value of Educational Tv for Adults."

U. S. Educational Tv to Get Comprehensive Examination

A COMPREHENSIVE appraisal of the status of educational television in the U. S. will be undertaken during the 1955-56 academic year by the Educational Television & Radio Center at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Announcement of the study was made by H. K. Newburn, president of the center, who also made known the appointment of Richard B. Hull as director of the project. Mr. Hull will take a year's leave of absence from his post as director of radio-tv for Iowa State College (WOI-AM-FM-TV Ames) to head the study.

The detailed appraisal of educational tv being made possible by a grant from the Fund for Adult Education, presented to the center's executive committee at its meeting in New York June 25.

The project will encompass the gathering of first-hand information on the operations of all educational tv stations now on the air and those scheduled to begin broadcasting in the near future. Mr. Hull also will meet with educational and civic authorities to evaluate the successes, failures and potentialities of tv as applied to education.

Children's Tv Programming Improved, Natl. Group Finds

IMPROVEMENT in tv programming for children during the past year was termed "the most impressive and encouraging in the history of television," according to the fifth annual report on Children's Radio & Tv Programs, released by the National Assn. for Better Radio & Tv last week in Hollywood.

During the first week of May, chosen as a test period by the NAFBRAT evaluation committee, the volume of "excellent" and "good" programs increased 253%, the study shows. However, NAFBRAT warns that on seven Los Angeles tv stations, there are still 28 hours of undesirable "crime" programming in time periods specifically aimed at children and, additionally, "26 hours of theatrical westerns featuring crime and violence in action and story theme" during the hours preceding 9 p.m.

But the report indicates that "The force of [the crime shows'] influence is being dispelled by two factors: (1) the steadily declining audiences for crime shows, and (2) the availability of programs with positive values."

"Dismaying" was the term used by NAFBRAT to describe radio programming for children on the eight Los Angeles area stations tested (KFI, KABC, KFWB, KNX, KMPC and KJH—no children's programs on KFAC and KLAC). Commenting on this, the report noted that in 1951 there had been 13 1/4 hours rated "excellent" by NAFBRAT. Currently, there are only three such hours of programming, the 1955 survey shows.

The organization also condemned the growth of the "hard pitch" tv commercial aimed specifically at children.

The NAFBRAT evaluation committee, made up of individuals and representatives of civic, religious and educational groups, used program-judging standards based on recommendations of the U. S. Office of Education and the Science Research Assn. booklet—"Your Children and Radio, Tv, Comics and Movies."

WOAI PROMOTES 'MONITOR'

PROMPTED by queries of listeners and advertisers concerning Monitor, NBC Radio's new weekend programming concept, WOAI San Antonio, the network's affiliate there, has distributed mimeographed forms describing the program. Monitor, the form says, is "designed to bring listeners into instantaneous touch with everything important, interesting or entertaining anywhere in the world, will be heard on WOAI radio throughout every Saturday and Sunday during regular broadcast hours with occasional breaks for locally sponsored programs. The services and type of entertainment provided by the program are described. A section explaining the typical structure of a Monitor segment also is included. "Because Monitor is a new form," the sheet concludes, "it will use material in a way it has never been used before. The content will determine the form instead of having the form determine the content."

WBS SCORE 'ENTHUSIASTIC'

THE SCORE on World Broadcasting System's "Big Little Man" radio promotion stands at "enthusiastic response" from broadcasters and an addition of 54 stations to World's membership, Pierre Weis, World general manager, said last week. Mr. Weis said more than 1,000 stations already had enrolled with World. The radio promotion, which will materialize in the fall, is being talked about as "the biggest thing done for radio in the past 10 years," he said.

PRETTIEST RADIO COVERAGE

COLORFUL, statistic brochure has been distributed to advertisers and agencies by WHO Des Moines, Iowa. Titled "Data on America's Prettiest Radio Coverage From WHO," the booklet lists extensive county and city market statistical analyses for both Iowa and outside Iowa areas. Included are color maps showing density of listening by counties in both daytime and nighttime, based on the 1952 Standard Audience Measurement Report projected against consumer market estimates for the Jan. 1, 1954, population. WHO claims 648,320 daytime and 623,940 nighttime families with the nighttime audience of at least 10% regular listeners reaching as far west as Montana, Wyoming and Colorado.

FROM OUTER SPACE

TIE-IN contest with the science-fiction feature film, "This Island Earth," playing at the Paramount Theatre in Denver and the tv film series, Science Fiction Theater, was staged by KBTB (TV) there. Viewers were asked to draw a "creature from outer space" with a cash prize and theatre passes donated by the Paramount awarded for the best entries. A display in the theatre lobby promoted the film series and featured some of the drawings submitted by the more than 300 entrants.

WRUM IKE 'EXCLUSIVE'

WRUM Rumford, Me., claims an exclusive for its remote coverage of President Eisenhower's visit to the Rangeley Lakes resort region during his trip to New England. A last minute change on the President's schedule to include the stop was made after the Rangeley publicity bureau requested him to accept a baby deer on behalf of Washington, D.C., children from the Rangeley children to help promote the centennial celebration of the region. When WRUM received word of the stop, Mel Stone, president, and Edward Tremblay, chief engineer, hurried to the scene and aired a remote of the President's informal remarks and the gift presentation. WRUM also originated other special broadcasts during Ike's fishing visit to nearby Parmachenee Lake.

AF ACADEMY DEDICATION

TV COVERAGE of the dedication ceremonies for the new Air Force Academy is scheduled to be beamed today (7-7:30 p.m. EDT) by KLZ-TV Denver for CBS-TV. The telecast is being staged from Lowry Air Force Base near Denver, temporary site of the school. The academy's permanent home is now under construction at Colorado Springs. The show, narrated by Walter Cronkite, is featuring the administration of oath to the first 300-man class of Air Force Cadets. Participating in the event is Harold Talbot, Secretary of the Air Force, as well as the Air Force Band and honor color guard units from West Point and Annapolis.

WHLI MARKET BROCHURE

Business, Booms & Broadcasting

Two years ago leading economists were sounding ominous warnings. They foresaw a break in the business boom. They advised caution.

Today, with the first half of 1955 behind us, business generally surges ahead. Secretary of Commerce Weeks predicts new production and sales records for 1955. And the economists have changed their tune to the extent of predicting that the boom will continue through 1956—at least.

Why the double-dome boys went awry a couple of years ago is not explained. We don't profess to know the answers. But we suspect they failed to take into account the part played by advertising in creating the demands for goods and services while jobs are plentiful and spendable income is at its peak.

All advertising has contributed. But there was one brand new medium—television—that got underway after World War II and did more to stimulate public spending than any other medium. Before the war, the aggregate expenditures for advertising in all media ran about $3 billion a year. This year, total advertising expenditures, according to Standard & Poor, should approximate $8.7 billion and might even reach $9 billion—the ninth consecutive record-breaking year. In 1954, they were $8.15 billion.

Television's evolution affected other media in varying degrees, but undeniably it boosted overall expenditures for advertising. Network radio, because of an inferiority complex from which it now appears to be emerging, suffered most. But local and national spot radio seem to be capitalizing on tv's advent, by selling harder and by proof of sales performance.

Without the basic equations, the story of tv's success in selling America's national product to Americans, thereby maintaining prosperity, is simple. It changed the whole concept of selling. Tv demonstrated as it sold. It became an ubiquitous Fuller Brush man with both feet in millions of living rooms and the product in hand. To quote C. Wrede Petersmeyer, president of KOTV (TV) Tulsa and a partner in J. H. Whitney & Co., tv "fundamentally changed the lines of communication between the manufacturer and the community."

Television set sales, despite the imminence of color, are far ahead of last year. (But the phenomenon of the entire electronics field continues to be radio set sales. With saturation presumably reached years ago, set sales for the first four months of 1955 totalled 1,610,000 excluding auto sets. The story in the trade is that the public doesn't bother to repair a radio set these days; it simply buys a new one.)

Every politician knows of the impact of television upon the populace (which constitutes the electorate). He knows, too, that prosperity is real and that the national product is at an all time high. But he probably is not aware of the lock-and-key relationship between our national economy and the advertising dollar—notably spent in the broadcast media.

It behooves those identified with the broadcast media to focus the attention of our policy-makers on this relationship. It behooves them, too, to take this significant development into account in considering national policy on subscription television, which, if authorized, would compete with and seek to retard commercially sponsored television. Would this cut that line of communication between the consumer and the manufacturer which appears to be one big reason for the economic boom that has continued since World War II?

Yippe, Hiyo Tv!

Television horse operas are good for children, according to expert opinion which has been rounded up—a phrase used advisedly—by the NARTB TV Information Committee.

It's good to have experts confirm a conclusion that we had already come to unconsciously but prolonged observation of small fry television viewers. Unvaryingly we have seen the good guys admired and the bad scorned.

True, in the head-'em-off-at-Eagle-Pass school of drama, the good guys are insufferably good and the bad unremittingly bad, but subtler concepts would be difficult for youngsters to grasp. As long as the good guys go on winning and the bad receive the punishment they deserve, the television medium will not hurt America's juveniles. Don't take our word; take the experts'.

The Burdett Lesson

The public confession of Winston Burdett and the condemnation of AWARE Inc. by the American Federation of Television & Radio Artists again demonstrate the dangers of the Communist conspiracy and the difficulties of resisting it without destroying the very principles which the Reds hope to undermine.

Mr. Burdett, a respected CBS correspondent since 1942, has testified before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee that he was a Communist spy in 1940-42 but broke with the party before joining the network.

By his own admission Mr. Burdett performed an extreme disservice to the U.S. in his party years, but his recantation has obviously been complete. It was with wisdom that CBS decided to retain him after he had made a full explanation to the network and to the FBI in 1951. It would have been an easier decision for CBS to have summarily dismissed him. That the network first satisfied itself that his transformation to loyal citizen had been final and then agreed to retain him despite adverse publicity that would inevitably ensue constituted corporate courage that is not common.

The process of Mr. Burdett's repudiation of the Reds, his investigation by the network and the FBI and, on the basis of that investigation, the network's decision to keep him represents the orderly way to treat the Communist question. A somewhat less orderly way is that represented by the wholly unofficial and not always reliable activities of AWARE Inc.

AWARE is a private organization which has taken upon itself the job of ferreting out what it calls the "Communist conspiracy" in the entertainment and communication fields. It pursues its objectives by compiling information on alleged associations with Red or Red-led causes. That sort of scattergun technique is almost as apt to hit the innocent as the guilty. It is ineffective except to create fear and distrust.

Unfortunately, the resolution opposing AWARE and adopted by a vote of 982 to 514 by AFTRA was ineffective, too. While it correctly condemned unwarranted smear attacks, it contained nothing to indicate that AFTRA, as a union, recognized the possibility that any of its members might have party ties. It smeared the smears.

That the international Communist conspiracy has for years tried to infiltrate radio, television, the press and other fields from which it could influence the public cannot be denied; Mr. Burdett's testimony is emphatic proof of it. That these fields remain alert to the potential of Communist subversion is imperative.

Management of radio and television has a particular responsibility to screen itself and its employees. But that screening can be most effectively done without recourse to unsupported evidence and innuendo.

WOODLAND-TV is big territory!

Kelvinator, division of American Motors Corporation, produces a full line of ranges, refrigerators, food freezers and ice cream cabinets in this modern Grand Rapids plant — recently expanded to provide a production capacity of 850,000 units annually.

Kelvinator in Grand Rapids shares the growth of this rich, Michigan market

Kitchens are brighter these days... thanks to the new Kelvinator ranges and refrigerators, now available in eight decorator colors. And WOODlanders... approximately 3,000 of them... are taking home bigger pay checks as a result.

Since 1881, both the company and the community have experienced tremendous growth. Today, Kelvinator is a recognized leader in its field; Grand Rapids is the second largest city in Michigan and trading center of the entire WOODland area. WOOD-TV's newly expanded facilities are the natural result of this sound economic development. For top coverage of Grand Rapids — plus Muskegon, Battle Creek, Lansing and Kalamazoo — schedule WOOD-TV, Grand Rapids' only television station.
