is a lot of TIME

During the last quarter century, we have sold time for some of the greatest radio and television properties in America—hundreds of millions of dollars worth. As the original station representative in the advertising industry, we are proud to have done this, always maintaining the high principles on which our Company was founded.

LOG JAM • In rare if not unique move, William Esty Co. has sent letters asking station representatives to supply as quickly as possible, for each of their stations carrying Esty spot business, a photostatic copy of "official broadcasting log as supplied to FCC" for 7:30 a.m. period during week of Jan. 21-25. Though purpose not explained, it obviously relates, at least in part, to Esty's known concern that stations carrying NBC Radio's new hourly newscasts may "bump" Esty spot business—notably Reynolds tobacco products, since Brown & Williamson is co-sponsor of NBC newscasts—out of strong early-morning positions or, presumably, give them less than normal protection.

IN EARLY reaction to Esty request (see above), station reps and their clients—and it stations individually who must make final decision—appear splitting into three camps: (1) those who feel advertiser has absolute right to such information, just as print advertiser is entitled to get checking copies, and who therefore indicate readiness to supply logs; (2) those who resist on grounds that turning over logs is equivalent to turning over balance sheet, that FCC logs are for "composite" rather than specific week and that FCC logs are not public record anyway, and (3) those who feel advertisers are entitled to such data if they want it but who fear that providing it for all would impose almost impossible burden and expense.

MUSIC GOES 'ROUND • Having had their tumultuous inning last year before House Antitrust (Celler) Subcommittee, organized ASCAP songwriters now are trying to get to bat before Senate Commerce Committee. Walker Buel, representing Songwriters Protective Assn., has asked committee staff members for hearing, alleging ASCAP writers are being discriminated against by BMI through purported selection for recording of non-ASCAP numbers, with allegation that old-line writers are not getting on air.

SONGWRITERS public relations man was told to submit brief to committee. BMI, or any other groups which may be cited by SPA, will be given opportunity to counter arguments before committee decides on hearing request. ASCAP writers stirred up big rumpus before Celler committee last fall, with Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N. Y.) questioning propriety of network stock ownership in BMI, which is wholly owned by broadcast licensees.

MANANA • Bilateral treaty between U. S. and Mexico on use of am broadcast frequencies—in negotiation for over two years—signed last week, but U. S. State Dept. did not have "clean" copy so details were unavailable at week's end. Five-year treaty expected to be in hands of officials this week with return from Mexico City of FCC Commr. Rosel H. Hyde who signed for U. S. As far as could be ascertained, U. S. agreed to give Class I-A protection to Mexican outlets on 540 kc (Canadian clean); agreed to no changes regarding present practice on 800 kc, 850 kc, 1050 kc or 1220 kc.

MEXICO has clear channel rights on 800 kc, but U.S. has KINY Juneau, Alaska full time on that channel. KOA Denver is Class I-B outlet on 850 kc. Present "gentle-man's agreement" with Mexico provides no U. S. outlet on Mexican clears with more than 1 kw daytime and no operation at night; only exceptions are WMGM New York on 1050 kc and WGR Cleveland on 1220 kc.

PRESSURE FOR PAY TV • Advocates of subscription television are putting plenty of pressure on FCC for early action—which they hope will be favorable—on long-pending petition for approval of commercial toll tv. Pressure is being skillfully applied through friends and friends of friends of individual commissioners and through Congress. In one case relative of commissioner was offered (but quickly declined) financial arrangement with proposed local subscription enterprise.

WHILE pro-subscription pressure mounts, FCC staff is putting finishing touches on detailed digest of subscription case. Digest—which won't contain recommendations—is expected to be given FCC sometime this month, and commissioners then will buckle down to job of digesting digest and preparing for vote.

LONGER LICENSES • FCC will throw full weight behind House bill to extend radio-tv station license period to five years from present three [Bt, Jan. 28]. Chairman George G. McConnaughey will ask to appear personally when bill is discussed in committee hearings and, with support of most if not all commissioners, will make strong appeal for passage.

EXPANSION indicated for Walter Patterson & Roberts interests with entrance of Frederick L. Allman, former WSKA-AM-TV Harrisonburg, Va., owner, into partnership. PAR group, as it will be known, hopes to increase station ownership. It owns WKYR Keystor, W. Va., and WTRX-AM-FM Belleaire, Ohio, recently sold WHAR Clarksburg, W. Va. Mr. Allman was charter stockholder in WAAM (TV) Baltimore, Md.

DELAYED REPORT • Odds are against release by Senate Commerce Committee of its reports on (1) subscription tv and (2) networks before its wind-up hearing when FCC members will appear March 5. Special Counsel Kenneth Cox has completed rough drafts of reports in both of these areas but has not yet received committee instructions on conclusions.

FINAL report on allocations phase presumably will follow phases mentioned above. Committee previously had heard other members of FCC except Commr. T. A. M. Craven, who took office last July. Mr. Craven is acknowledged allocations expert, and committee probably will devote major attention to so-called "Craven Plan" on tv allocations which would drop table of assignments so that allocations could be handled on city-by-city basis.

UPWARD CURVE • Add to signs radio is on upswing: Radio Advertising Bureau's income during January was running at $851,000 annual level—well above expectations. RAB had budgeted first six months of 1957 on estimates that income for that period would average out to be about $820,000 annual rate, though probably starting somewhat lower during January and February. Their interpretation of better-than-expected send-off in January is (1) that radio's comeback may be even further along than most people think, and (2) radio broadcasters are digging in to increase their share of advertising dollar substantially.

SPEAKING of RAB, Kevin B. Sweeney, organization's president, may acquire radio station interest. In tentative negotiation is acquisition by him and H. G. (Jock) Fearnhead, vice president-general manager of WINS New York, of possible majority in WRNY Rochester, N. Y., from Arthur C. Kyle Jr. and associates.

HITS WITH SPOT • Pepsi-Cola Co., whose "Pepsi Please" radio contest brought such phenomenal results in test markets [Bt, Aug. 20, 1956, et seq], is getting ready to expand same type campaign into approximately 100 other cities. Expansion will be gradual, over period of around six months, with contest running about one month in each city. Approximately 65 cities are in Midwest, around 20 on West Coast, 5 in South, rest in East. In latest test, on KRES St. Joseph, Mo., "Pepsi Please" contest drew entries at cost of about eight-tenths of one cent apiece. Kenyon & Eckhardt, New York, is handling the account.

Foote Leaves McCann-Erickson, Says Future Plans Undeveloped

IN SURPRISE announcement Friday, McCann- Erickson announced resignation of Emerson Foote, executive vice president of agency. M-E said Mr. Foote would announce his plans at later date. He had been with agency since October 1951, and prior to that was head of Foote, Cone & Belding.

In a statement following McCann-Erickson's announcement, M-E said that "I wish McCann-Erickson and the wonderful people who make it up all good fortune in continuing and expanding their success. Concerning myself, the reason I have no future plans to announce is that I have not yet lifted a finger to develop any. I long ago concluded that if I should ever decide to leave McCann-Erickson I must—because of the degree of trust and respect given me and generous way I've been treated—let M-E be the first to know. Thus I have had no contact with any other opportunity. This much I can say: I will be in the advertising business. But whether it will be East—or a large or small agency—I have at this time no way of knowing."

Budweiser Invites Reps
To Bid on $3 Million Drive

SEVERAL station representatives are invited to submit availabilities in week-long series of meetings with D'Arcy Adv. Co. starting today (Mon.) in connection with proposed $3 mil- lion spot radio-television campaign for Anheuser-Busch's Budweiser beer. While extent of drive not certain, it's understood brewery will use top 100 markets for saturation, with probably larger share going into radio (following pat- tern set last year) and use of magazines and supplements in smaller markets.

Proposals threshed out at D'Arcy executive meeting Friday morning. Revelation of drive follows disclosures of similar multi-million dollar spot campaign by Jos. Schlitz Brewing Co. (Schlitz beer).

No Action Taken by Senate
On 'Martin Luther' Request

STAFF spokesmen of Senate Commerce Com- mittee said Friday they have taken no action on request by Congregational Christian Churches that committee investigate action of WGN-TV Chicago in cancelling scheduled tv showing of motion picture "Martin Luther." They said, however, that they have discussed matter with Washington representative of the Protestant denominational group.

WGN-TV cancelled planned showing of film on Protestant Reformation, amid charges from Protestant groups that Catholic groups had used pressure against station [B+T, Dec. 24, 1952].

CCC's Office of Communication and its Council for Social Action, at CCC's midwinter meeting last week at Buck Hill Falls, Pa., voted unanimously to ask Senate committee probe on grounds WGN-TV skirted controversial issue and refused to broadcast recognized re- ligious viewpoint, making station "twice guilty of violating constitutional and statutory require- ments." Church's request also called that "re- medial legislation" be considered to insure "freedom of expression" on radio and tv.

COLOR LINE

Speaking in Washington today (Mon.), Brig. Gen. David Sanfilippo of RCA will tell conference on combating job dis- crimination that "we cannot be con- cerned about a man's race or creed or color. We [at RCA] ask only two ques- tions: Can he do the job? Is he a loyal American?...I can tell you from personal experience that in television when we talk about 'color,' we are referring to that new dimension in entertainment that brings rainbow hues right into our living room—color television. That is the only color we are interested in."

Three RCA Color Television Sets
Go Up $45-50, May Go Higher

PRICES of three of RCA's 10-model color tv set go up today (Mon.) $45-50, and by next summer RCA may find it necessary to "make further increases on all models." Announcement to distributors and dealers was to be made over weekend. Unaffected is RCA's table model (Alfrich) that still will sell at nationally advertised price of $495. Highest priced RCA color set is $850 console.

Reason for price hike—It had been indicated late last year by RCA President Frank Folsom that no reductions were forthcoming on color sets and that RCA would possibly raise some of its suggested prices—was pegged to "up- ward trend in the cost of material and labor," by Charles P. Baxter, vice president and gen- eral manager of RCA Victor Television Div., in a letter to distributors. Mr. Baxter noted that RCA has been trying to hold color price line but could not continue without "sacrificing the present high quality" of its sets.

Three models affected by boost are con- soles. Style name, old and new price: Wescott, $595 to $645; Dartmouth, $650 to $695 and Whitley, $695 to $745.

Syndicated Films Holding Own
Against Movies, Keever Avers

EVIDENCE that syndicated film shows, despite alarmist talk, are more than holding their own against influx of new feature film libraries was claimed Friday by Jake Keever, NBC Television Films director of sales. His study of 10 top ranking feature films in five metropolitan mar- kets—Boston, Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles and New York—compared ratings with syndi- cated shows in same time periods, using ARB figures.

Results of study claimed most syndication properties outranked even best feature films when they met in hand-to-hand battle in same time period. Survey showed that when all fea- ture film and all syndicated show ratings were lumped, syndication shows overwhelmingly dominated lists, Mr. Keever said. Thus, in De- troit, when syndicated properties were pitted against feature films, syndicated shows swept first 10 places. In Boston, a feature film took sixth place, but syndicated shows took all other nine. In Los Angeles, features were listed first and 10th, syndication taking other eight spots, he noted.

JUNE IN FEBRUARY

It's still dead winter, but hot-weather coolers already are beginning to plan summertime campaigns. Royal Crown Cola, for Royal Crown and Nehi soft drinks, going into total of 250 radio and tv markets about 150 tv—for drive to start March 10 and run 'til fall, through Compton Adv., N. Y. Joe Lowe Corp. (Popisciles) reported planning to underwrite full sponsorship of syndicated show on ABC-TV (Sat., 5:30-6 p.m.), starting May 18 for nine weeks. Approximately 120- station lineup contemplated, with show to be part live and part film, featuring such comics as Ben Blue, Jerry Colonna, Senator Sternes, Olson & Johnson, and Paul Witchell & Jerry Mahoney. Joe Lowe agency is Paris & Pearl, N. Y.

FIGHT FOR TIME

Battle of children's sneaker is on with three major rubber compa- nies out for television availabilities around children's shows, preferably in the afternoon.

Hood Rubber Co., maker of P-F canvas shoes, starts spot activity March 11 with contracts running from 10 to 13 March, in addition to participation in ABC-TV Mickey Mouse Club Agency: McCann-Erickson, N. Y. U. S. Rubber Co., maker of Keds, through Fletcher D. Richards, N. Y., has had local men buying time in field. Mishawaka Rubber & Woolen Mfg. Co., for Jet shoes, looking for similar availabilities through Campbell-Mithun, Chi- cago.

RADIO VS. PRESS

Swiss Pine Co. (room deodorant and bath oil), N. Y., planning radio and newspaper campaign in about 15 western markets, starting Feb. 10 and 15. In some markets radio spots plus newspapers will be used; in others, radio or newspapers alone. Additionally, room deodorant will be promoted in some markets, bath oil in others. Latter product will be plugged from cosmetic standpoint and also as relax- pick-me-up type product. Entire test will run for three months. Wesley Assoc., N. Y., is agency.

CONFLICT OF INTERESTS

Lever Bros., N. Y., understood to have placed order for alternate Tues., 8:30-9 p.m., on CBS-TV. Ad- vertiser would underwrite the Brothers' full end of season and then put in another show. Network and advertiser currently working out difficulties on product clearance, since half-hour preceding, Phil Silvers Show, is alternately spon- sored by another soap company, Procter & Gamble. Latter firm has first choice on products.

CHAFING AT BIT

NBC-TV reportedly in slight dilemma on Sunday night 9-10 p.m. pe- riod for next fall, with network wanting to assign number of Sunday segments to Che- rolet for Dinah Shore show within next few weeks—while Alcoa and Goodyear, current alternate sponsors of that time period, do not have to let network know until May 1 whether they will renew next year, take fewer shows or none at all. Alcoa is serviced by Fuller & Company.

Two File for New Tvs: Amarillo, San Francisco U
TWO individuals filed applications with FCC Friday for new tv stations to operate on ch. 7 in Amarillo, Tex., and ch. 38 in San Francisco.

Multiple-station owner Kenyon Brown requested Amarillo facility, seeking 9.3 kw with antenna 655 ft. above average terrain located 3.9 miles north of Amarillo. He proposed $202,500 for construction and first year operation expenses at $275,000. Principals of KMAQ Amarillo have filed for same facility [BT, Sept. 24, 1956].

Mr. Brown owns KLYN Amarillo and KWFT Wichita Falls, Tex.; 49% of KANS Wichita and KBYE Oklahoma City; 25% of KPQ-AM-TV, Milwaukee; 50% of WJNP Mobile, Mo.; and 20% of KGCL Miami, Okla.

Marvin Kratter, New York realtor, filed for San Francisco u/f, proposing 16.8 kw with antenna 481 ft. above average terrain located atop Max Hopkins Hotel. Construction cost estimated at $85,755, with first year operation expenses $175,000. Mr. Kratter also applicant for ch. 11 Fargo, N. D. [BT, Jan. 14].

Nelson Buys WKTl for $55,000
SALE of WKTl Kendaldville, Ind. (250 w., daytime on 1570 kc), by Charles R. Palmquist Jr. to Ted Nelson for $55,000 announced Friday. Mr. Nelson, former manager of WEJE-AM-TV Evan-vilse, Ind., has majority interests in WOHP Bellefontaine, Ohio, and WILO Frankfort, Ind. Transaction handled by Blackburn-Hamilton Co., station broker.

Poransky In for Muntz at Muntz
APPOINTMENT of Walter Poransky as general manager in full charge of all Muntz TV Inc. operations reported Friday following resignation of Earl W. Muntz as president of tv set manufacturing firm. In tv field since 1948, Mr. Muntz gave no reason for resignation. Mr. Poransky is president of Poray Inc., Chicago metal stamping firm.

GE Shifts Hanna to Head Industrial Heating Department
ROBERT B. HANNA, manager of General Electric Co. broadcasting stations department (WGY-WGFM [FM]-WRG [TV] Schenectady, N. Y., and short-wave outlets), has been appointed general manager of GE's industrial heating department in Shelbyville, Ind., effective May 1. He will resign as NARTB Dist. 2 director, representing New York and New Jersey on Radio Board and will not attend this week's board meeting in Miami.

Harold E. Strong, GE vice president, said no successor to broadcast post has been named. Mr. Hanna has been in charge of GE broadcast stations since 1949 and was named department manager in 1951. He has served also as president-general of Maga Co., GE printing affiliate, since 1955.

Chicago Paper Loads for Bear, Out to Stop Video Violence
TWIN-BARRELED attack being mounted by Chicago Daily News against television is raising eyebrows in local tv circles. Avid campaigner for years against alleged violence in children's programs, Knight newspaper radio-tv column has accelerated drive by (1) printing culpable sponsors' names and addresses and (2) more recently, by listing network tv programs (with sponsors) cancelled or being dropped.

Theme of "high mortality" rate among shows, authorities note, is similar to tack frequently taken by Newspaper Ad Execuatives Assn. [BT, Jan. 28]. News is owned by John S. Knight interests, which also has radio-tv holdings.

St. Petersburg Asks Educators To Exchange Ch. 3 for Ch. 38
RECOMMENDATION that St. Petersburg-Tampa educational tv exponents agree to join in switch of educational reservation from ch. 3 to ch. 38 has been made by St. Petersburg City Manager Ross E. Windom. City now operates ABC-affiliated WSUN-TV on ch. 38, claims approximately 250,000 conversions compared to 350,000 vhf sets claimed by rival ch. 8 WFLA-TV (NBC) and ch. 13 WTVT (TV) (CBS). In proposal to West Coast of Florida Educational Tv Inc. (headed by Robert Guthrie, local businessman), St. Petersburg official offered one hour daily immediately on WSUN-TV facilities pending changeover, also proposed to turn over 270 kw transmitter and antenna worth about $200,000 when and if facilities swap is okayed by FCC. WSUN-TV began operation May 1953, has cost city $500,000 in capital investment and is breaking even now, according to Fred P. Shaw, general manager.

IN REVIEW

TODAY!

THERE was a day when early risers scheduled early evening naps so they could stay up for Tonight. It could go on as NBC-TV's new version of Tonight! (sic) beguiles insomniacs and those who feed on gossip columns. We doubt it.

Unlike its studio-bound predecessor, the new Tonight races around the country like a sighted Monitor, picking up nonsense at Hollywood parties, gambling casinos and night-owl beauty parlors, offering awesome glimpses of atomic robots, helicopter taxis, bits of music, sports, drama and wisdom. It's an incredible buffet, some of it digestible, even delectable, some of it not.

This new format probably was inevitable. It represents maximum physical use of the medium, and many viewers will accept it in the name of progress. But some may balk at the features that don't go down easily. One such is the show's subservience to print. The stars, except for m.c. Jack Lescoque, are all columnists, replete with the notebook badge. And some of the quotes they get from guests this week (Dean Martin's tirade against Jerry Lewis, the hair-raising interview with Jayne Mansfield) would probably be quashed before they ever got into print.

Another sour note in the show's new score is the viewer's nervous misgiving that some party interviewees are not at their sober best. But maybe there's no way out of this in a show that attempts to portray "America After Dark".

There are indications that the revised Tonight will shake down into something seaworthy. The fact the print-orientated stars pocketed their notes by the second night of the new production is a hopeful sign they may master the visual art.

Sponsored by participating advertisers on NBC-TV, Mon.-Fri. (11:15 p.m. to 1 a.m. EST; 11 p.m.-midnight CST, 11:30 p.m.-12:30 a.m. PST).

Executive producer: Dick Liukkonen; producer: Norman Frank.

THERE are two mysteries behind NBC-TV's new Hold That Note. The first is why Break the $250,000 Bank, which it replaces, was scrapped in mid-stream. The second is why, in a time when quiz programs are concentrating on intellectual candidates and tough questions, the network elected to return to the old gambit of identifying songs.

Whatever the reasons, the result is lackluster programming. The show's greatest claim to fame was contestant Ethel Waters, who went on Bank several weeks ago after telling the world that she was broke. That claim was eliminated with her last Tuesday when a college student beat her out in the evening's second round. She earlier had eliminated bandleader Bobby Sherwood, in what can most kindly be described as a suspicious contest. Mr. Sherwood who by profession should win hands down over almost anyone, couldn't identify "Banana Boat Song," "Lady of Spain," and "Dardanella.

As for Miss Water's she took her loss philosophically. She also took home $20,400 in winnings from her appearances on Bank and Note.

Production costs: $25,000 to $30,000.

DREW PEARSON REPORTS ON THE HOLY LAND

NBC-TV took on Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser and the entire Arab League Jan. 27. In a frankly biased report on Israel, filmed on location by columnist Drew Pearson and Baruch Dienar's Orb Films, NBC-TV in effect pledged its allegiance to David Ben-Gurion,
OLD HANDS IN A YOUNG INDUSTRY

Once you've made the spot buy on WNCT, they take over in your behalf. These are the skilled hands of a TV pioneer's experienced staff, any one of whom could qualify as your right-hand man or Gal Friday.

They are the hidden part of your purchase of TV station time, working in the area Hollywood christened "Behind-The-Scenes". And yet, so few buyers ever see it or give it consideration.

Their job is to get your message on the air as you would if you could do it yourself.

Neither surveys nor industry reference books list this information. However, those who have used WNCT know of it from personal experience.

Whether it's on Madison Avenue, or Boule Miche—on Montgomery Street, or the famed Peachtree Street down South—you will find the Hollingbery men out “selling.” Twenty years ago the Hollingbery Company was started by a salesman, and “selling” has been the keynote ever since. This means every station is ably represented and every prospect completely covered. This day in, day out selling exercise makes strong salesmen and strong salesmen make more sales—the real purpose of a National Sales Representative.

and by doing so, probably incurred the complete wrath of the Arab Information Office and its vast, smoothly-oiled lobbying machine. Despite the fact that "Drew Pearson Reports . . ." may have said many things that needed saying, it seems to this reviewer that the Arabs now have an incontestable right to demand—and get—equal time.

The network apparently is prepared for this. It was indicated that the film was personally screened and approved by NBC's high command. Israel's ambassador to the U.S., Abba Eban, told B-T that he too had seen an advance screening and found it "superlative in concept."

No doubt. As visual propaganda for Israel, Mr. Pearson's report lacked nothing. As a document, it left us with mixed emotions. While shocking to the eye with its gruesome panorama of death and destruction inflicted upon Israel by the Egyptian "Fedayeen" raiders, with close-up shots of Russian and Czech arms abandoned to the Israelis by the Egyptians during the heat of last autumn's Sinai campaign, it disturbed us with its naivete and sheer prejudice. When Mr. Pearson wasn't tossing off platitudes, he was forging ahead with leading questions. (Reportedly, he would ask of his subjects, "What does Israel need most?" and just as inevitably, the reply was "peace." We cannot argue with this sentiment, but we do object to the almost boring consistency of the question).

SEEN & HEARD

If radio drama's supposed to be a dead thing, we suggest somebody had better tell CBS. For consistently hot radio—material that would make tv drama look to its laurels—we cite as case-in-point the 4-5 p.m. EST time period Sundays following the broadcast of the N. Y. Philharmonic Symphony Society concerts from Carnegie Hall. The programs: CBS Radio Workshop and Suspense—both professionally conceived and executed and boasting a batting average that even Mickey Mantle would be envious of.

Mixed feeling department: Franchot Tone and all concerned turned in a brilliant performance on last Tuesday's "Throw Me a Rope" (Kaiser Aluminum Hour, NBC-TV). It was a story of high-salaried publishing executive out of a job, and his tribulations in finding another (strongly reminiscent of "They Tell Me I'm Too Good to Hire," article written anonymously for B-T by a broadcasting executive, Nov. 28, 1955). It was enjoyable right up to the end, when it ran out either of time or plot. A friend simply gave him a job, causing the viewer to wonder what all the stir was about.

Plaudits for the Critic

EDITOR:

I've been wanting to write for some time to comment on the reviews in your In Review section.

They're unusually good!

Somewhere along the way you put somebody on this shore who has brought to it not only a fine critical sense, but a fine writing style, as well.

Whoever he (or she) is, the reviews show even-handedness of adult judgment. And something that's so often lacking in such reviews—constructive criticism.

Do you purposely keep him (or her or them) anonymous? I'd like, if possible, to know who is writing them. At any rate, please give my congratulations and plaudits to the responsible person.

Broadcasting • Telecasting
The rise of television in the last decade has been as swift as it has been far-reaching. Already there are 36,500,000 television homes in the country.

But the pace of voluntary health insurance in the United States has been equally spectacular. In fact, even more Americans have it—60 million Americans are covered by insurance companies for hospital protection alone—plus the millions of persons insured for surgical expense, medical expense, and loss-of-income. And most of this growth has come in recent years, the TV years.

While every step of the meteoric rise of television has been highly publicized, far less attention has been paid to the nationwide swing to voluntary health insurance. We believe this is a truly sound and impressive story of a people determined to help protect themselves against the financial losses and expenses incurred by illness and injury.

Serving as a central source of health insurance information for the public on behalf of the nation's insurance companies, we hope to interpret the exciting advances still ahead with clarity, insight, and accuracy so that, with the help of the country's communication channels, they will become an inspiration and example to the American public.

"COLOSSAL," is the word used by pioneer station representative Ed Voynow to describe probably his "greatest thrill"—that of selling a $2 million spot radio schedule to Plymouth nearly 27 years ago.

"This would be quite a sale even today, but in 1930, in the depression, a few dollars bought a great deal of radio time," he recalls nostalgically, discussing experiences which antedated his quarter-century with Edward Petry & Co.

After five years of "time-brokering" with National Radio Adv., Mr. Voynow joined with Mr. Petry as a principal partner—and the rest is 23 years of station representative history (see story this issue).

Today, Edward Voynow is executive vice president, as well as one of the principal partners, with supervision of Petry's Chicago and five other branch offices and top-level station relations responsibilities.

Edward Everett Voynow's career in electronic media, including his development of the country's first recorded radio program, had its roots in Hearst journalistic enterprises. Born in Chicago on June 4, 1903, he attended the U. of Illinois in Urbana, graduating with a journalism degree in 1922.

For two years he was a newspaper reporter and served as classified, local and national advertising salesman with the old Chicago Herald-Examiner.

In 1924 he joined McJunkin Adv. Agency as copywriter and account service representative, working on the Orange Crush account and later moving over to Orange Crush Co. as advertising manager. He was appointed promotion manager of King Features Syndicate in late 1925, working out of its New York office. He returned to Chicago in February 1927 to marry the former Romola Schutz and become associated with National Radio Adv., pioneer "time broker."

Mr. Voynow's decision to enter radio was prompted by two factors: (1) receivers had progressed from the crystal set to "all-electric," making it "easy to listen"; (2) he was impressed, after agency training, with the ease of placing copy and programs on stations compared to the chore of preparing copy and plates weeks in advance for print media.

Shortly after joining National, Mr. Voynow conceived and developed the idea of putting a radio program on phonograph records. He and his associates used seven 12-inch 78 rmps for a half-hour show. They located double turn-table equipment in movie houses (only one talkie had been made and released at that time) and arranged for its purchase. National was forced by economic circumstances to place the equipment free at radio stations, which felt they might not recover the $1,000 cost from shows sold by the firm. (Advertisers wouldn't buy unless the stations were "delivered").

Maytag Washing Machine Co. was the first client to use recorded, half-hour dramas—a series using original plays by top-name authors. The first program was beset with problems (author Courtney Riley Cooper was late finishing the script, complaining it was difficult to constantly bear in mind that his play "could only be heard and not seen," Mr. Voynow recalls). There were other difficulties; that of simulating "the roar of an angry leopard" in the absence of any known sound effects and that of getting cast members up before the solo microphone (from which came, eventually, the mixing panel).

Armed with a sample program, machine and a sale, and knowledge of need for ad agency cooperation, Mr. Voynow toured radio stations and set up a "second 15% commission" arrangement for sales representatives. Stations agreed to the method he notes, because without National's reproduction machine, they couldn't play the records to meet other station competition.

After joining Petry in 1932 Mr. Voynow opened western offices in Chicago, Detroit and elsewhere. He was elected executive vice president in 1951.

Mr. Voynow is optimistic about spot radio in 1957 but evinces concern over competitive aspects of spot tv, particularly in view of the growing emergence of feature film.

Mr. Voynow joined the U.S. Air Force as a lieutenant in June 1942, serving with the 58th Bomb Wing (B-29s) in China and India, and had reached the rank of colonel by July 1945. He served as Air Force liaison officer attached to the Joint and Combined Chiefs in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Voynow live in Chicago's near north side. He belongs to the local Standard and Tavern Clubs, Lotos Club of New York, Broadcast Adv. Club of Chicago and the Thunderbird Golf Club and Tamarisk Country Club in Palm Springs, California. They have two children—Ann, 19, soon to be married, and Edward Jr., 11.

ANITA WASSERMAN

on all accounts

DURING the past five months, the radio-tv department of Lawrence C. Gumbinner Adv., New York, has grown from a staff of three to 11 people. This is good news not only to the brothers Gumbinner—President Larry and Radio-tv Vice President Paul, both of whom foresee at least $10 million in total billing this year—but also to a pixie-like, perpetually-smiling redhead named Anita Wasserman.

With the agency since July 1949 (first as "Girl Friday" to Paul Gumbinner and as timebuyer since 1952), Miss Wasserman has been, to all intents and purposes, half of the agency's radio-tv department up to the end of last year, when a rash of new business (including American Tobacco Co.'s Herbert Tareyton cigarettes and a sizable hunk of Block Drug Co. products) literally forced the expansion of Gumbinner's broadcast department. Under the new timebuying set-up at the agency, Miss Wasserman handles American Tobacco, Q-Tips, Savarin Coffee, Chap Stick and Sacramento tomato juice.

Miss Wasserman has been in broadcasting since her 'teens. Admittedly a frustrated actress ("I didn't doubt for a minute that Katherine Cornell could be replaced—by me") she "graduated" from the late Claire Tree Major's Children's Theatre into walk-on dramatic parts on WNYC New York, and, from there, into a production-writing job with the New York office of World Wide Broadcasting System (WRUL Boston) while attending night classes at Hunter College (B.A., '48: History-English).

By the time she graduated from Hunter, the acting bug was fairly well out of her system, and her next connection was with Popular Publications, New York, a pulp magazine house where Miss Wasserman ended up editing a saucy item titled "Love Novels." But when the publishers assigned her to edit "New Sports" magazine, she felt the time was at hand to return to radio-tv, which she did by joining Gumbinner.

Her plans? To see as many Broadway plays as humanly possible and to take another European vacation—her third—before another year passes.
With the same outstanding management that has successfully guided one of the nation's outstanding radio stations for the past 30 years, Channel 12 is on the air with the full power of 316,000 watts, the latest RCA equipment and the only live, unduplicated program coverage in the rich South Texas market. And Channel 12's rate structure has been realistically set to accommodate advertisers who are interested in reaching San Antonio with the hottest, livest television station in the Southwest!

Complete programming of the vigorous ABC television network is combined with top film packages and some fine local shows. For FRESH, NEW availabilities in San Antonio the H-R folks or Clarke Brown Co. will be delighted to give you the full picture.

WDAY-TV OBEYS SEC. 315, GETS SUED

- North Dakota tv faces $150,000 libel suit for candidate's talk
- Plaintiffs hold medium liable despite no-censorship provision
- Case shapes up as classic test of political broadcasting law

WDAY-TV Fargo, N. D., last week found itself defending a $150,000 libel suit because it complied in meticulous detail with the federal law governing political broadcasting.

If carried to full court review, the suit could prove to be a classic test of a law which requires broadcasters to give equal treatment to all political candidates, no matter how insignificant, and prevents them from editing candidates' speeches, no matter how libelous, inflammatory or inane.

Here's why the suit may properly be called a classic:
- It is based on broadcasts by a U. S. senatorial candidate who had no conceivable chance for election. (Running as an independent against Republican and Democratic nominees, he polled 93 votes out of a total of 244,161).
- The broadcasts were arranged at the independent candidate's demand after the two party candidates had appeared on the station.
- Although knowing that the independent was headed for political extinction, the station granted his request. To have refused it would have been illegal.
- The candidate's speech was filmed and, although containing charges which were patently dangerous, was aired without interference from the station—again in obedience to the law.

The ensuing libel suit is regarded by attorneys as the first to embrace all the major problems created by Section 315 of the Communications Act—the law which rigidly controls the presentation of politics on the air.

There have been other cases in the courts and before the FCC touching on parts of Section 315, but none to date as squarely to the point as the one now facing WDAY-TV.

The U. S. senatorial race which produced the disputed broadcasts featured as principals the incumbent, Sen. Milton R. Young, Republican, and a Fargo attorney, Quentin N. Burdick, Democrat. The third candidate was A. C. Townley, a figure of the political past. Mr. Townley was a leader in the pre-World War I formation of the Non-Partisan League—the populist movement that once dominated politics in some north central states—but in recent years he had fallen into obscurity.

During the campaign WDAY-TV sold time to Sen. Young and Mr. Burdick. Mr. Townley demanded and got equal treatment. Last Oct. 29, in paid time, the station presented a filmed Townley speech in the morning, afternoon and evening.

The speech was a violent attack on the Farmers Educational & Cooperative Union of America and on Sen. Young and Mr. Burdick. Here are excerpts, as quoted in the libel suit:

"The Farmers Union program fully carried out as planned, not as it is planned by the farmer members, but as it is planned by the Farmers Union dictators, would establish a Communist Farmers Union Soviet right here in North Dakota ...."

"For 10 years, Sen. Young has used the power and prestige of the high office that he holds to serve this Farmers Union. He has not raised his voice or hand to stay the Communist vipers gnawing at your private ownership and liberty ...."

"Young and Burdick both support the Democratic Farmer program. Both men take orders from Communist controlled Democratic Farmers Union and now this amazing fact—Communist infiltration and power has gone so far in North Dakota that the Democratic Party supports 100% the Democratic Farmers Union candidate and the Republican Party supports 90% the Democratic Farmers Union candidate...."

SECTION 315 ON TRIAL

Here is the full text of the federal law which WDAY-TV disobeyed and, doing so, exposed itself to the $150,000 libel suit now pending. This is Section 315, which has historically caused more dilemmas—for both the regulators and the regulated—than any other section of the Communications Act.

Sec. 315. (a) If any licensee shall permit any person who is a legally qualified candidate for any public office to use a broadcasting station, he shall afford equal opportunities to all other such candidates for that office in the use of such broadcasting station: Provided, That such licensee shall have no power of censorship over the material broadcast under the provisions of this section. No obligation is hereby imposed upon any licensee to allow the use of its station by any such candidate.

(b) The charges made for the use of any broadcasting station for any of the purposes set forth in this section shall not exceed the charges made for comparable use of such station for other purposes.

(c) The Commission shall prescribe appropriate rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this section.

*Editor's Note: Elsewhere the Communications Act requires stations to operate in "the public interest." By implication the FCC has implied that the public interest cannot be served if a station entirely avoids political broadcasts."
The Communists can’t lose unless the Americans wake up and wake fast.”

The effect of Mr. Townley’s speech was less violent than its contents. In the November election, Sen. Young received 135,305 votes, Mr. Burdick 87,919 and Mr. Townley 937.

Two weeks ago the Farmers Union served WDAY Inc., licensee of WDAY-AM-TV, with a suit for $150,000 libel damages. Mr. Townley was named co-defendant. As of last Thursday he had not been found by the Farmers Union process servers.

One of the attorneys for the Farmers Union action was Mr. Burdick, the defeated Democratic candidate for U. S. Senate.

The suit quoted Mr. Townley’s speech and alleged that in various parts it defamed the Farmers Union, was “deliberately designed to and did convey the impression and statements that the plaintiff was unpatriotic, guilty of treasonable conduct, violated the Constitution and law of the land, was engaged in illegal and immoral activities, and held the plaintiff up to ridicule, contempt, hatred and obloquy, caused the plaintiff to be shunned and avoided, and injured it in its occupation, and constituted libel and slander per se.”

The Farmers Union seeks $50,000 special damages “on account of loss of members and loss of membership dues,” $50,000 general damages for its alleged exposure to “the hatred, contempt, ridicule and obloquy that is accorded by society generally to those labeled or characterized as Communists,” and $350,000 exemplary damages.

The action was brought in North Dakota state court. It will serve as a test of a North Dakota state law which excludes broadcasting stations from liability for “any damages for any defamatory statement published or uttered in or as a part of a visual or sound radio or television broadcast, by one other than such owner, licensee or operator, or agent or employee thereof.”

This state statute is a truncated version of the “model law” which was originally drafted by the NARTB and has been adopted by several states. The NARTB model, which was designed to at least mitigate the broadcaster’s liabilities in political broadcasting, is less sweeping in its application than the North Dakota statute.

Coincidentally, the Farmers Union action comes at a time when broadcasters are opening a campaign for repeal of Section 315. A month ago Harold E. Fellows, NARTB president, urged elimination of the section in testimony before the Special House Committee to Investigate Campaign Expenditures (BT, Dec. 24).

At that time Mr. Fellows argued that the present law prevents the public from receiving full coverage of political campaigns, for broadcasters must severely limit the amount of time accorded major candidates to avoid having to squander time on splinter party candidates or those, like Mr. Townley, who run as independents without significant voter support.

Officials of WDAY were in Washington last week to enlist the aid of NARTB in the North Dakota action. It was understood that Mr. Fellows had pledged full support to the station, although the NARTB will not actively intervene in the case at this stage. Confering with Mr. Fellows and other NARTB executives were Tom Barnes, WDAY-TV general manager, and Harold W. Bangert, the station’s Fargo attorney.

WDAY was not the first victim to be trapped by Section 315 in the campaign preceding the national elections of last November.

All major networks were embroiled with the law after they carried an Oct. 31 speech by President Eisenhower on foreign policy. On Nov. 1 the FCC majority announced it could not decide whether other presidential candidates were entitled to equal time, as Mr. Eisenhower had presumably been speaking as chief of state, not as a candidate. On Nov. 5 the FCC majority decided the speech was not political and hence the networks were not obliged to give rival candidates equal time.

In the meantime, the networks had settled the issue the safe way by broadcasting appearances of Adlai Stevenson and several splinter party candidates.

Section 315 problems did not end with the national election last November.

The FCC last week ruled on one case and was considering another.

The ruling was asked by KTTV (TV) Los Angeles. An auto dealer, who is a candidate for mayor in a Los Angeles election next April, has been sponsoring an amateur program on KTTV. He acts as m.c. and delivers his own commercials. Would the station be required to give other candidates equal time, even though the auto dealer’s appearances were non-political? The FCC’s answer last week was yes.

Now pending at the FCC is a case involving another local election.

Allan H. Blondy, a candidate for a Common Pleas Court judgeship in Detroit in an election next April, asked WWJ-TV Detroit for equal time after the swearing-in of the incumbent judge—just appointed—was included on a newscast. Mr. Blondy said that the incumbent, Judge Elvin L. Davenport, would not stand for election in April (BT, Jan. 28).

The station refused Mr. Blondy’s request, on the grounds that Judge Davenport’s induction was a legitimate news event. Mr. Blondy took his appeal to the FCC.

POLITICAL BROADCASTING BILLS

DURING the last session of Congress, five bills affecting the political broadcasting section of the Communication Act were introduced in the Senate. Five similar measures were sponsored in the House. All died in committee. The bills:

In the Senate

1. Withdrawal from persons convicted of surreptive activities and members of surreptive organizations of equal time opportunities in political broadcasts was proposed in a bill by Sen. John M. Butler (R-Md.).

2. Implementation of a proposal by CBS President Frank Stanton to authorize stations and networks to present candidates of major political parties on news, interview, forum, debate and similar programs without giving time to candidates of minority parties was proposed in a bill by Sen. Frederick G. Payne (R-Me.).

3. Limitation of equal time rights to presidential and vice presidential nominees of major parties was offered in a bill by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.). The proposal would also raise from $3 million to $12.3 million the amount a political committee may spend in a presidential campaign.

FEATURE FILMS: WILL ADVERTISERS SEEK THEM ON A NATIONAL BASIS?

- Distributors expect a rash of new business
- Agencies cautious, but admit sponsor interest
- Clearance, expense among drawbacks cited

WARNER-LAMBERT Pharmaceutical Co.'s $2.7 million investment in feature films on the NTA Film Network in 128 markets, starting this spring (see story, p. 30) is expected to provide at least a partial answer to a question that has been uppermost in the minds of many radio and television officials during the past several months: will the feature film come into its own in 1957 as a substantial carrier of national advertising?

From a series of interviews that BET has conducted with leading feature film distributors and advertising agency executives, the following highlights emerge:

- Distributors are confident that the fall of 1957 will see a rash of national advertisers sponsoring feature films in an increasingly larger number of markets, with some holding out the possibility that such films even will be carried on the major networks.
- Distributors believe that funds for such sponsorship will come from "new money" and partly from funds previously allocated to syndicated-half-hour films.
- Agencies are more cautious about such a move but acknowledge that many exploratory talks are being conducted and that some advertisers will experiment with program sponsorship of feature films in one or more markets.

The distribution company that perhaps made the strongest, concerted effort to garner national sponsorship for feature films is Associated Artists Productions, New York, which established a national sales department headed by Paul Kwartin in 1955 to ferret out such business. Though some advertising agencies regard distributors' direct contact with sponsors with a jaundiced eye, AAP and other distributors point out they do not bypass the advertising agencies, bringing them into consultation during the discussion stages.

As far back as the spring of 1955, according to Mr. Kwartin, AAP has been completing national sales. It was at that time that Procter & Gamble used AAP's pre-Warner Bros. "movie land" package, sponsoring the once-a-week, 10:30 p.m.-12 midnight segment on WOW-TV Omaha. Subsequently, Whitehall Pharmacal Co. sponsored the same AAP package in 12 markets, contracting for one-half of the feature film time on a weekly basis. Parenthetically, AAP also has had success with national sponsorship of its other Hollywood product—Popeye and Bugs Bunny cartoons—having arranged for large market sales with American Character Doll, Remco Electronics (electronic toys), Flav-R-Straw and Post cereals.

Perhaps the outstanding national sales of a feature film package up to the time of the Warner-Lambert transaction was the purchase by Colgate-Palmolive Co. of the MGM films for KTTV (TV) Los Angeles through MGM-TV for one year for about $750,000. C-P bought the prime time of Friday & P.M. once a week, and the consistently high ratings achieved by the films, in competition with network programs, commanded trade attention throughout the country.

C&C Television, which distributes the RKO Radio library, notes that WFIL-TV Philadelphia has sold full program sponsorship to the Ford Motor Co. Erwin Ezzes, vice president in charge of sales, believes other such transactions will be completed by the fall. He maintains that in order to have continuity of programming available to a national advertiser, a station should have at least two—and perhaps all—of the major libraries.

Another noteworthy national sale was the purchase by Bristol-Meyers last November of a feature film program one a week on the four Triangle stations—WFIL-TV Philadelphia; WNCH-TV New Haven, Conn.; WFBG-TV Altoona, Pa., and WNBF-TV Binghamton, N. Y. The investment on the four stations totaled about $750,000, with the outlets using RKO, 20th Century-Fox and MGM feature films.

Admittedly the pickings in the national advertising field have been meager to date, but both agencies and distributors agree invariantly has more than one agency and differences arise as to what type of tv programming to use.

Despite obstacles that will continue to exist, distributors still contend that feature films can make an effective contribution to an advertiser's national effort. Among the "pulses" attributed to feature films are: they can be adjusted to a sponsor's marketing pattern so that programming can be spotted in cities the advertiser requires; commercials can be adjusted to geographical conditions with an advertiser's different products exposed in different markets; major studio films can attract large, loyal audiences. In essence, distributors insist that feature films of top caliber can provide an advertiser with the advantages of flexibility of spot broadcasting and the prestige of network programming. Though John Mitchell, vice president in charge of sales for Screen Gems, New York, said several weeks ago that it is "highly possible" that each of the three major networks will be presenting feature films in prime time this fall, Agency officials queried by BtT were inclined to disagree. They pointed out that the presentation of a feature film of top quality on a network basis would be "highly expensive" and questioned the availability of a sufficient number of such films for regular weekly exposure. The NTW Film Network venture will be watched carefully not only by distributors and agencies but by advertisers and television networks, who also have a stake in the outcome. From a long-range view, should feature films woo the national advertisers on an expanding basis in years to come, the face of television is likely to undergo drastic changes and result in a reduction in live programming. A warning along such lines was sounded last month by Robert Sarroff, NBC president, when he spoke to network affiliates in Miami about "the film invasion." He declared that television today is "at a crossroads," and added: "One fork has color signposts and points to programming created for the medium itself, with emphasis on live service. The other fork follows a detour to a reservoir of motion picture film, built up over the past 20 years."

WARNER-LAMBERT GOES FOR FILM NETWORK

NATIONAL Telefilm Assoc.'s three-month search for a national sponsor on the NTA Film Network bore fruit last week with the signing of Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., New York, to a contract approximating $2.7 million for one hour of feature film on 128 stations, starting April 1.

The purchase was announced jointly at a news conference in New York by Ely A. Landau, president of the NTA Film Network, a subsidiary of NTA; former New Jersey Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, president of the Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., and Robert G. Urban, executive vice president of the Lambert-Hudnut division of that company. The contract, Mr. Landau said, contains options running through 1959 and the exercising of all options by Warner-Lambert will bring its total time and program costs to more than $10 million.

Mr. Landau revealed that sponsorship of the remaining half-hour of the one and one-half hour weekly program of feature films originally produced by 20th Century-Fox, was expected to be announced by the end of last week. He said the revenue to be derived from full sponsorship of the program for 39 weeks is about $4 million.

The transaction is believed to represent the largest investment in program sponsorship of feature films by a single national advertiser to date. Though several national advertisers currently are using full or partial-program sponsorship of features in one or more markets and many are buying announcements, the scope of the Warner-Lambert purchase is unrivalled and appears to be the test of more widespread use of feature film (see story page 29).

Mr. Landau said the purchase marked the first time a national advertiser has bought feature films on a nationwide basis and the first time a television feature film will receive the benefit of national advertising and merchandising. The agreement, Mr. Landau added, also marks the first time in the history of tv that "a network dedicated exclusively to film presentations has become a commercial operating reality."

Warner-Lambert was represented by John Bates, vice president in charge of television and radio of Lambert & Feasley, New York, its advertising agency; Elmer Bobst, board chairman of the company; and Mr. Driscoll and Mr. Urban. NTA Film Network executives who participated in discussions were Mr. Landau and Raymond E. Nelson, vice president and general manager, and William Koblenzer, sales manager.

Warner-Lambert will use the network filmed programs on behalf of its nationally-distributed products, which include Listerine Antiseptic, Richard Hudnut Quick Home Permanent, Richard Hudnut Pin-Quick Home Permanent, Richard Hudnut Creme Shampoo, Richard Hudnut Creme Rinse, Bromo Seltzer, Anasht, Sportsman Talc, Sportsman Men's line of toiletries, and Prophylactic toothbrush. All the commercials will be integrated on film, Mr. Landau said, and the sponsor will be able to make changes on individual stations to conform to local marketing patterns.

The NTA Film Network is owned 50% by NTA and 50% by 20th Century-Fox with operations in the hands of NTA. Among the Fox features to be shown on the film network for the first time are: "The Razor's Edge," "Come to the Stable," "Gentlemen's Agreement," "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "The Ghost of Mrs. Muir," "Stanley and Livingston," "Lloyds of London," "Blood and Sand," "Grapes of Wrath," and "Forever Amber."

Mr. Bates replied to a question from reporters on the company's advertising investment in the Warner-Lambert Film Network, saying it was "new money" and the company's expenditures in network radio, network and spot television and other media would continue. He declared that the company has been conducting an expansion program for the past several years, having acquired several pharmaceutical companies, and the needed additional national exposure.

Mr. Landau reported that the 128 station-lineup provides coverage in 90% of U. S. television homes, with the network having gained 24 affiliates from last Oct. 15 when it began operations. It has been supplying one and one-half hour of feature film programming since the Film Network's program sold in some of the markets by the local stations. In the absence of a national sponsor, stations, which completed local sales, have been allocating 50% of the net revenue to the NTA Film Network.

Mr. Landau frequently has contended that NTA Film Network affiliates "get a better shake" from his arrangement than under conventional network procedure. He explains that although networks provide approximately a 70-30 division, the station gains only 22% net after provision is made for the first 30-hour concession to the network; for the cost of coaxial cable and the agency commission. He claims NTA film affiliates gain 30% net after provision is made for both agency and station representatives' commissions on gross revenues.

Though film network officials had tried to keep negotiations with Warner-Lambert under cover, reports circulated that the company was buying feature films on an extensive basis [At Deadline, BtT, Jan. 28]. Other agencies involved on behalf of various company products are Sullivan, Stauffer, Colwell & Bayles; Lennen & Newell and Norman, Craig & Kummel, all New York.

JWT MOBILIZES FOR COLOR IN TV

COLOR TELEVISION has "arrived" at J. Walter Thompson Co. in New York. JWT officials, as hosts last week to four network executives and to newsmen, demonstrated what they are doing with, and about, color tv.

Two statements, among many, stood out to peg the agency's thinking on the medium. As expressed by President Norman H. Strouse: "We believe that practical commercial color television is just over the horizon." Said Dan Seymour, JWT's director of radio and television, the agency finds it should no longer "pay lip service to the medium but experiment with it."

At the session Monday, the agency disclosed that a three-day workshop now is preparing commercials in color. Color facilities have been added to its tv "station" at 480 Lexington Ave. from which closed-circuit broadcasts in black-and-white and color are originated for viewing—under actual broadcast conditions—by the agency's headquarters at 420 Lexington Ave. JWT uses "private channel 3."

Only a week before, another top advertising agency, McCann-Erickson, unveiled its transmission-screening and control room radio and tv facilities housed at the new M-E home office quarters at 485 Lexington Ave. M-E's equipment is designed for color as well as black-and-white although transmissions now are in monochrome only [BtT, Jan. 28].

Highlights of the session:
• An estimate by Mr. Strouse that it may be another one or two years before the proportion of color to total advertising in commercial programming is "great." While color

WHY J. WALTER THOMPSON IS BANKING ON COLOR

J. WALTER THOMPSON CO. is bullish about color tv. Any doubt on that point was resolved last week when the agency inaugurated new color facilities in its tv workshop, and especially when President Norman H. Strouse delivered the remarks which follow.

ALTHOUGH color tv was introduced so long ago that it seems always to have been with us, actually its growth has been disappointingly slow. The problems of price and tune-in simplicity were deterrents to mass purchase. However, color tv has been slowly getting off the ground—but even yet the progress has been far more noticeable in the number of color programs broadcast than in the sale of sets.

It is our feeling now, however, that the beginning of a rapid growth in color tv set ownership is just over the horizon. It may be another year or two, to be sure, before there is any significant percentage of color set ownership in relation to black-and-white—even though the numbers may look big. But acceleration is beginning, and the J. Walter Thompson Co. is taking a significant step to make certain that we keep well ahead of the requirements of this new and challenging medium—and I say new medium advisedly, because the jump from black-and-white to color opens up such a new dimension of selling opportunity as to stamp color tv justly as a new medium.

From the outset of color, J. Walter Thompson has experimented with and actually telecast many of its advertising commercials and shows in color. Two years ago we produced and telecast 13 Ford Theatre shows in color—both the programs themselves and the commercials. The Ford Star Jubilee was, of course, broadcast in color, and the commercials were also in color. During the past year, two shows sponsored by our clients, the Kraft Theatre and Lux Video Theatre, have telecast 107 hours of color television. This experience, and the experiments we have conducted in our tv workshop, have given us a pool of knowledge in color television that we believe puts us well ahead of other advertising agencies.

The installation of a color camera in our tv workshop brings us to the ultimate usefulness of this unique facility. Our television workshop was first opened in January 1955 for the purpose of developing television production especially in the commercial area and testing it under actual broadcast conditions in advance of expensive production costs. The addition of color facilities to our television channel will continue to offer this advantage even more significantly as well as enabling us to face with confidence the special problems of color. We know that these problems will arise in color, and we hope through our work in the tv workshop to solve them just as we have done in black-and-white.

We believe that the addition of color to television broadcasting will have tremendous effect on advertising, in particular, and television production in general. I remember in 1945 when I first went to Detroit to work on Ford advertising, the automobile people there had an expression, which they used frequently when looking at a piece of art for magazines. They would say, “that’s a juicy car.” It was, of course, for a color ad. There was no such thing as a “juicy car” in black-and-white pictures. It took color to produce this effect.

With color tv we will be able to show a “juicy car” to the public, but in motion.

Color will put “appetite appeal” into food advertising. You wouldn’t enjoy a breakfast of ham and eggs, richly buttered toast, and coffee in black-and-white—color will make that kind of difference in television commercials. During the past months when we have been broadcasting Kraft Theatre in color we have learned what a difference this “appetite appeal” makes. It adds a mouth-watering new dimension.

Another factor which should not be overlooked in the value of tv color is that of packaging. As retail merchandising continues to convert to self service, effective packaging becomes extremely important. According to Vernon L. Pladager, in his new book, The Selling Power of Packaging, the national expenditure for packaging materials and equipment already totals at least $10 billion, and he predicts this figure will rise to $15 billion by 1965. If these investments are justified, the importance of presenting these packages in color on tv must be obvious.

Aside from its demonstration qualities—the ability to show a product more realistically—the addition of color in television has a very definite “emotional mood” quality that adds greatly to the overall effect. I recall very vividly watching the Ford Star Jubilee presentation of Judy Garland with two sets before me—one color, the other black-and-white. As we glanced from black-and-white to color we were able to recognize the increased glamour of the costume and stage sets. I had the same experience during “The Caine Mutiny” show. Here the impact of emotional mood, although the show was enjoyable in black-and-white, was so compulsive in the case of “Caine Mutiny,” that it was difficult to look at black-and-white, even though it was there for comparison tests.

Two years ago when we established our television workshop, we did so because we realized that there were infinite problems to be faced in television production and tests to be made of commercial advertising that could be done at greatly reduced expense over actual on-the-air experimentation. We knew that experiments had to be made, and under actual telecasting conditions, but we knew also we could do these both creatively and at less cost in our own studios. You will recall the famous Scott “apple test,” which was developed in the Thompson television workshop [BT, Jan. 24, 1955].

However, there is an even greater asset to be gained from our color television facilities. With all forecasts pointing to a nearly $600 billion economy before 1965, it will be the challenge of those in the art and science of selling to assure the movement of our national product. To do this, we must develop talent and, conversely, the development group (age 25 to 45) from which supervisory and management personnel will come is relatively smaller than the other populations groups—due of course, to the dearth of our depression born.

By such devices as the television workshop, and now by adding color to its facilities, J. Walter Thompson is providing an atmosphere in which creative personnel can develop. In the specific addition of color, we have not only the opportunity to perform a greater service to our clients, but the opportunity as well to develop new talent so that their ideas can generate in a climate of color and they will learn to think in color.
growth has been "disappointingly slow" with programs more noticeable than set ownership, he said color set ownership as a real factor was "just over the horizon," that the acceleration in color was just beginning and that JWT wanted to keep ahead of the requirements. To him, color will add a new dimension of selling opportunity. (Also see condensed text of Mr. Strouse's formal talk, page 31.)

- Interpretation by Mr. Seymour that color as a "requirement" for the client will be based on cost. He estimated the additional production cost of color in commercials as between 15 and 25%. Mr. Strouse added that the "requirement" varies, depending on the client and his needs.

- JWT can transmit both live and film in color or black-and-white. Its studio equipment includes a Dage color live-film camera, a color control monitor and associated equipment, black-and-white cameras and associated monochrome equipment for monitor control, black-and-white, and black-and-white monitors for color.

FLAV-R-STRAW BUYS IN 170 TV MARKETS
• To sponsor AAP cartoons
• Other AAP sales made

FLAV-R-STRAWS Inc., Mt. Vernon, N. Y., confirmed last week that it plans to invest almost $3 million this year to sponsor Associated Artists Productions' "Popeye" and "Bugs Bunny" cartoons in 170 markets [CLOSED CIRCUIT, Jan. 28]. Agency for Flav-R-Straw is Rutherford & Ryan, New York.

The firm currently is in 40 markets with the cartoons, using three one-minute commercials per week. The lineup will be expanded as AAP sells the cartoons to stations in the other 130 markets, with Flav-R-Straw using the same number of announcements on new stations. Paul Kwartin, AAP director of national sales, arranged the agreement with Flav-R-Straw.

AAP also announced sales on "Popeye" to Post Cereals Div. of General Foods, through Benton & Bowles, New York, using five one-minute announcements per week in six markets, and to Hostess Baking Co., through Ted Bates Inc., New York, contracted for 10 copies to six announcements per week in four markets. Post cereals intends to use "Popeye" in 80-old markets as soon as the cartoons become available to stations, according to an AAP spokesman.

General Foods, Park & Tilford Join ABC Radio Morning Block

GENERAL FOODS Corp. (Jell-O instant pudding), White Plains, N. Y., and Park & Tilford (Tintex), New York, have bought into ABC Radio's Morning Block (Jell-O), announced Monday in New York, and two other advertisers renewed their participation, George Comtois, ABC Radio's national sales manager, reported last week.

General Foods, through Young & Rubicam, New York, is adding additional participations to its Breakfast Club schedule and also has picked up segments of When a Girl Marries, effective today (Monday). Tintex participations, through Emil Mogul, New York, will be in When a Girl Marries and Whispering Streets, starting this Wednesday.

Renewals included Food Specialties Inc. (Appian Way pizza pie), Worcester, Mass., through Charles F. Hutchinson Inc., Boston, for its segment in Breakfast Club (effective April 9) and Sandra Co., Philadelphia, through Hicks & Greist, New York, its Thursday segments of Club (effective Feb. 21).

M-E Names Twiggs to New Post

REG W. TWIGGS, account supervisor in the Los Angeles office, McCann-Erickson Inc., has been elected a vice president and appointed manager of that office, it was announced last week by Marion Harper Jr., M-E president. He succeeds Burt Cochran, a McCann-Erickson veteran since 1926, who will remain as manager of the agency's advisory committee. Mr. Twiggs joined McCann-Erickson last April after two years as account supervisor in the Los Angeles office of Erwin, Wasey & Co.

Special Nielsen Reports Ready For All NCS No. 2 Subscribers

SPECIAL reports on station "bonus" audiences—with separate daytime and nighttime listings and including in-home and out-of-home listening data—are now available to radio-tv advertisers of Nielsen Coverage Service No. 2, it was announced Monday (Jan. 28) by A. C. Nielsen Co.

Reports are designed to certify weekly audiences for the total of all areas which the coverage minimum of 10% automatically excludes from the basic NCS No. 2 county-by-county reports.

John M. Churchill, president of the market research firm, emphasized that "bonus" audiences "will not affect any counties already reported for a station, since the NCS No. 2 data for those counties have already been reported in full." These and other reports, he added, "will serve to correct certain misconceptions regarding the full extent of the information available from this study."

NCS station subscribers can use the supplementary data "to refine his total audience counts to include those outside homes not otherwise reported geographically," Mr. Churchill pointed out.

CC Opens Oklahoma Office

OPENING of an Oklahoma office and appointment of Charles W. Alexander as office manager was announced last week by Communications Counselors Inc., public relations affiliate of McCann-Erickson Inc. New quarters, bringing total of CC offices in the U. S. to six, in addition to one each in Brussels and London, are located at 1501 Republic Bldg., Oklahoma City 2. Telephone Regent 6-1633.

Big Spot Campaign Set By Schlitz Brewing Co.

A MULTI-MILLION dollar spot radio-tv campaign in several major markets is planned for Schlitz Brewing Co. (Schlitz beer), comprising an extensive schedule of announcements and programs, it was learned last week.

Through J. Walter Thompson Co., Chicago, the brewery is setting up a schedule that reportedly calls for heavier broadcast media expenditures than allotted last year. An estimated $1 million will be spent in Chicago and $200,000 in Florida alone.

Spot plans are currently being worked out for key cities in Texas, Iowa, Nebraska, California, Florida, and other states, it was reported. Schlitz is buying half-hour syndicated film properties on a 52-week basis in many cities and short-term 10- and 20-second spots in others, depending on the markets involved. Spot radio involves 20- and 60-second announcements. The schedule is expected to be fairly well set by March 1 and will be accelerated this summer.

Additionally, the McCann-Erickson Adv. Agency, Milwaukee, Schlitz has signed to sponsor the third consecutive year Kansas City Athletics' baseball broadcasts on KMBK that city, with station feeding a regional network.

Typical of Schlitz' film buys was its recent contract for "State Trooper" on WBQ (TV) Chicago (its rival, Falstaff Brewing Co., has the property in over 70 markets).

Shaw Agency Prepares Answer To Suit Filed by Tony Martin

LEGAL counsel for John W. Shaw Adv. Inc. is preparing a reply to a suit filed by Tony Martin Productions, charging the Chicago agency with non-payment for a们的cope of The Tony Martin Show on NBC-TV last year.

The singer-actor charged in his suit, filed in Chicago District Court Jan. 15, that the Chicago agency failed to pay him $13,250 for one week's show, which was pre-empted by the network Jan. 2 and eventually aired Feb. 27 last year.

The reply is being prepared by Andrew Hamilton, member of the law firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green, Martin & Ellis, and probably will be filed this week.

Electrical Campaign Discussed

AMERICA's electrical appliance manufacturers and electrical utilities sponsoring tv programs (e. g. General Electric and its G. E. Theatre on CBS-TV, Westinghouse Electric Corp. and its Studio One, also CBS-TV), "met" through the facilities of a 53-city closed circuit tv hookup last Wednesday from 1 to 2 p.m. to discuss their 1957 "Live Better Electrically" campaign. Drive is geared to coincide with the spring consumer buying and building period. The closed circuit conference, placed through BBDO, New York, and staged by Nate Halpern's Theatre Network Television Inc., originated from New York and featured John Daly, Gisele MacKenzie, Arlene Francisc, Betty Furness and Ronald Reagan.

Merle Jones Outlines Day Tv Advantages

IMPORTANCE of daytime television as an advertising medium was pointed out last week by Merle S. Jones, president of CBS-TV, in a talk before the Minneapolis Advertising Club.

Mr. Jones described the growth of tele- vision over the past 10 years in terms of set ownership, hours of viewing, influence on attitudes and advertising investments. He singled out daytime television as a develop- ment that has not been fully explored by persons in the advertising field. Employed people who are not home during the day- time and therefore not exposed to the medium, would be "surprised" by the actual dimensions of daytime television, he said.

"While all of us have been at the office these last few years," Mr. Jones continued, "the American housewife decided television is time well spent. She has rearranged her life and made room for television. How much room is dramatically underscored by the fact that last fall the television sets in 7 million homes were turned on during the average minute between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.—to account for a nationwide total of 49 million hours of viewing per day. Last fall's average minute audience of 7 million is 25% larger than during the autumn of 1955 . . . and the figure is still rising." Mr. Jones said that daytime television is programmed in such a way that the large women's audience will establish a habit, and added:

"Continuity in programming and fre- quency in viewing are still further validated by the hand-and-glove relationship they have with the shopping habits of American women. It has been established that every day of the week half of all housewives go shopping. The purchasing power represented by this daily exodus from the home, impelled in some measure by daytime television's commercial messages, constitutes a force which should bring a glitter to the eyes of the most skeptical advertiser."

As other evidences of the importance of daytime television to advertisers, Mr. Jones reported that between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. more than 60% of the audience—on CBS-TV—is made up of women and in the evening only 43%; the cost per thousand per commercial minute is two-thirds of the cost of nighttime tv, and the daytime cost is 70% lower than the best buy among the women's magazines.

UPCOMING: SHORTER, PITHIER COPY

NEXT TEN YEARS will see a marked change in advertising techniques as they apply to copy content and art form in all media, according to Jack Tarcher, senior vice pres- ident and account supervisor on Benrus Watch Co. at L. E. Rubicam and Merle Newell. He voiced his opinion Friday night before the Assn. of Advertising Men & Women at The Adver- tising Club of New York. He saw three developments in the decade:

- The social and economic movement: as tv audiences and magazine readership increase along with the growing popula- tion, Americans will be "assaulted by a vast number of impressions," and not being able to absorb all tv spots and all print media messages confronting them, they will become more "selective . . . sophisticated and, I hope, rational."

- As sales figures for art books and pre- ference for the pictorial magazine (due to television's influence) show, U. S. tastes for the visible are on the upswing.

- The movement's consequences: this demand for the ultimate in pictorial pres- entation will force a trend towards "far greater simplicity in art and presentation . . . toward shorter and pithier copy.” Paradoxically, the “enormous increase in education” will force the agencies to pro- duce more explanatory copy. This copy, however, to be effective must be put across with “far greater creative ingenu- ity . . . honesty and integrity.” [Mr. Tar- cher cited examples, such as the current Bert and Harry tv spot drives for Piel Bros. beer and the “etabanaana” radio-tnv spot campaign for United Fruit Co. out of Young & Rubicam and BBDO, respec- tively, as “a payoff in amusement and pleasure . . . ingenious in concept and execution”]. “We cannot continue to treat the consumer as a hack or a boob,” Mr. Tarcher counseled.

- How to make the most of the chal- lenge: “Creative people have got to take the position that they can only bring out in new combinations that things are al- ready in their minds.” The new crop of copywriters and art directors, Mr. Tar- cher said, “must have broader educa- tional backgrounds . . . they not only have to read, but they must see. They must always be aware of what’s going on around them—even in Europe, so far as advertising art is concerned—so that be- fore long, they themselves will take the daring and exciting approach of crack- ing through the curtain of constant same- ness.”

The TIMEBUYER was urged last week to go beyond fishing out availabilities and rates, and his boning up on tv and radio stations, newspapers and magazines, by getting to know his account.

This stand was taken by G. A. Vernon, associate media director of J. Walter Thomp- son Co., New York, at a buying and selling seminar held in New York by the Radio & Television Executives Society.

"You all know of the existence of broad objectives, and how marketing and copy strategy is developed to meet them," Mr. Vernon stated. "You know, too, that media plans are drawn up based on this strategy, and as a backdrop for all this, you are aware of the importance of research—both market and media."

Marketing and copy plans, he said, can convey basic considerations for the time-buyer’s use: "who your prospects are, what kind of people they are, and where they live . . . what are we going to tell them and how . . . long copy or short copy? . . . demonstration, package identification?"

These plans and data can help the buyer plan his purchase and contact the salesman. Mr. Vernon advised, and at the same time stimulate suggestions on the part of the station salesman after he is acquainted with the account’s “objectives and problems.” Explaining, Mr. Vernon went on:

"Anyone who has been on the other side of the fence selling, has experienced the frustration of not being able to get enough information on a problem to permit anything more than a submission of availabilities. This reflects poorly on the buyer because a salesman will assume the buyer just doesn’t know or won’t tell because perhaps he is unsure of himself. So you not only fail to enlist the salesman’s help, but put yourself in a bad light to boot."

Mr. Vernon gave a few illustrations of how knowledge of the account can help in time purchases, one involving a radio an- nouncement test campaign that was aided by the suggestion of a salesman, and another—a network tv campaign—that got off the ground after the buyer had suggested a new approach to the account group following the indication that print media would be the most efficient.

Said Mr. Vernon: "Under normal circum- stances, the account would have overlooked an extremely valuable plan for peaking their summer advertising, but the buyer through his knowledge of both the copy and marketing plans was able to evaluate all media, to transmit the problem to the salesman and, most important of all, to play it back to the account group, resulting in a change of this advertiser’s entire television strategy.

Mr. Vernon also touched on the thorny issue of the buying specialist vs. the all media buyer. He indicated JWT leaned toward the latter, and, in a question and answer ses- sion, emphasized that at his agency the "aim and objective" was to have all the buyers know about all marketing and media plans for a account.

He noted, too, that it was important for buyers to "recognize real research and not that which attempts to prove a point," warn- ing of the pitfalls of research or review which tell only part of the story.

A session on "media comparisons," billed as "a comparison of the cost and efficiency of major media and limitations of such comparisons," is set by RTES tomorrow (Tuesday). Speaker will be Sam Frey, of Colgate-Palmolive.

Merle Jones Outlines Day Tv Advantages

IMPORTANCE of daytime television as an advertising medium was pointed out last week by Merle S. Jones, president of CBS-TV, in a talk before the Minneapolis Advertising Club.

Mr. Jones described the growth of tele- vision over the past 10 years in terms of set ownership, hours of viewing, influence on attitudes and advertising investments. He singled out daytime television as a develop- ment that has not been fully explored by persons in the advertising field. Employed people who are not home during the day- time and therefore not exposed to the medium, would be "surprised" by the actual dimensions of daytime television, he said.

"While all of us have been at the office these last few years," Mr. Jones continued, "the American housewife decided television is time well spent. She has rearranged her life and made room for television. How much room is dramatically underscored by the fact that last fall the television sets in 7 million homes were turned on during the average minute between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m.—to account for a nationwide total of 49 million hours of viewing per day. Last fall's average minute audience of 7 million is 25% larger than during the autumn of 1955 . . . and the figure is still rising." Mr. Jones said that daytime television is programmed in such a way that the large women's audience will establish a habit, and added:

"Continuity in programming and fre- quency in viewing are still further validated by the hand-and-glove relationship they have with the shopping habits of American women. It has been established that every day of the week half of all housewives go shopping. The purchasing power represented by this daily exodus from the home, impelled in some measure by daytime television's commercial messages, constitutes a force which should bring a glitter to the eyes of the most skeptical advertiser."

As other evidences of the importance of daytime television to advertisers, Mr. Jones reported that between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. more than 60% of the audience—on CBS-TV—is made up of women and in the evening only 43%; the cost per thousand per commercial minute is two-thirds of the cost of nighttime tv, and the daytime cost is 70% lower than the best buy among the women's magazines.

AN AWARD OF APPRECIATION TO RADIO STATION KMPC

By their accurate dissemination of facts they contributed to the public understanding of the grave problems besetting the L.A. County Fire Department and its allied agencies during the disastrous fires in the Malibu area.

By their devotion in the factual reporting of these fires, they thereby contributed to the eventual control of the major conflagrations. I therefore believe a new standard has been set by the news media of America in its relationship to the coverage of the major fire disaster.

On behalf of the L.A. County Fire Department, I therefore present this scroll.

Awarded this 30th day of January, 1957.

HAMM PLANS FILMS FOR 55 MARKETS

- To place Ziv 'Harbor' show
- New tv policy formulated

THEO. HAMM Brewing Co., St. Paul, has instructed its agency, Campbell-Mithun, Minneapolis, to scout for availabilities in a 55-market area in the Midwest, Southwest and Rocky Mountain states for placement of its newly-purchased Harbor Command package. Signed for last week in an agreement between the agency and Ziv Television Programs officials (At DEADLINE, Jan. 28), the series will be shown for a full 52-week season (39-13 basis) starting Oct. 1, Ziv spokesmen said last week.

The Ziv officials said that the Hamm deal —estimated at $1.5 million gross billing — was the largest pre-release sale for a new syndicated property in Ziv's history. Among major cities which will get Harbor Command under Hamm sponsorship are Chicago, Denver, Kansas City, Dallas-Fort Worth, Minneapolis, Omaha, Des Moines and Milwaukee.

Originally titled Harbor Patrol, the name of the series was changed to Harbor Command after reports that P. Ballentine & Sons, which sponsors Ziv's Highway Patrol, objected to the similarities in title, especially after learning of sponsorship by a competing brewery.

For Hamm, purchase of the Harbor Command series represents a switch in broadcast strategy. Hamm has been spending $3.5 million annually in all media and has been sponsoring on a participating basis feature film packages, Westerns, sports, local TV newscasts and such series as I Led Three Lives and Stars of the Grand Ole Opry. This strategy may be revamped to achieve what Ziv National Sales Manager Walter Kingsley calls "program uniformity and maximum merchandising effectiveness." i.e. realignment of Hamm's schedule to sponsorship of one series, Harbor Command. Also being discussed, according to the Ziv executive, is possible expansion of the 55-market lineup, taking Hamm out of its traditional mid-country marketing area to achieve "near-national status."

Meanwhile, Ziv's sales vice president, M. J. Rifkin, in New York last week predicted a "general upbeat in purchases by national advertisers in spot-placed telefilm" for 1957, indicating that "at least 20% of these increased purchases will be traceable directly to syndication's ability to solve specialized marketing problems for major national sponsors."

Syndication's biggest advantage to a national advertiser, according to Mr. Rifkin: Ability to fill the "need for additional advertising impact to support other tv and non-tv media." Spot-placed syndicated shows, Mr. Rifkin feels, have successfully "beefed up" sagging markets, have helped launch new products in test campaigns and have overcome "seasonal problems" encountered by, for example, major oil companies who must sell anti-freeze in one part of the country while selling summer lubricants in other areas.

Screen Gems Names Adler As National Sales Manager

APPOINTMENT of S. L. (Stretch) Adler, for two years senior account executive at Screen Gems, New York, to the newly-created post of national sales manager of Guild Films Co., New York, was announced last week by John Cole, Guild vice president for sales.

In his new post, Mr. Adler will supervise the planning and selling of Guild Films programs on a national level. Before he joined Screen Gems, Mr. Adler had been with the William Morris Agency as head of its tv department in Chicago and as tv sales agent in New York, and with Crosley Broadcasting Corp. and Frederic W. Ziv Co. as a sales executive.

Utica Beer Buys 'David Grief' For 10-City Area in N. Y. State

SALE of Captain David Grief to West End Brewing Co. (Utica Club beer), Utica, N. Y., for sponsorship in a 10-city area in upper New York State, was announced Thursday by John Cole, vice president for sales of Guild Films. This marks the fifth regional sale of the series.

The contract is for a firm 52 weeks and was negotiated through Ed Rosenwald, vice president and account executive of Harry B. Cohen Adv., New York.

West End is the third large beer company to sponsor Captain David Grief, the other two being Stroh Brewery of Detroit and the Pearl Brewing Co. of Texas. The two other regional sponsors are Standard Oil of California and D-X Sunray Oil of Tulsa. Mr. Cole also announced that Pearl Brewing has added San Antonio to the list of cities where it will sponsor the series.

The Utica Club beer contract embraces Albany-Schenectady-Troy, Buffalo, Syracuse, Binghamton, Utica, Watertown, Plattsburgh, all N. Y., and Altoona, Pa.

'ANNIE' SNEAKED IN

IN what was claimed to be a television "first," Television Programs of America, New York, presented a sneak preview of its new Tugboat Annie series last Friday in a Chicago theatre for regular patrons. The pilot film of the series was shown before the start of late-evening double feature program without advance notice to the audience. Spectators were asked at the conclusion of the tv film to give their opinion. A TPA spokesman said that audiences have been invited in the past to view and evaluate tv programs shown in a theatre, but, to his knowledge, this marked the first time that a sneak preview of a tv series was shown in a motion picture house.

Switch to TV Overseas Seen Easy For Theatrical Film Ad Makers

PRODUCERS of commercial film for theatre use overseas easily adapt themselves to tv film commercial production as tv stations open up in foreign markets, according to Don E. Widlund, J. Walter Thompson Co., supervisor of production for films for overseas use.

Mr. Widlund made this point in a discussion of "Theatre Screen and Television Advertising," presented Thursday at a luncheon meeting in New York of the International Advertising Assn.

The ease of conversion can be traced, he said, to the growth of theatre screen advertising that has kept pace by an expanding international export business. The agency, he indicated, uses the facilities of overseas film producers for both theatre and tv needs.

While the agency's step up of overseas film production for theatre screen advertising continued, Mr. Widlund noted that "television stations started to open up." Stations demanding commercial film, he explained, now operate in Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Guatemala, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Uruguay and Venezuela.

His talk detailed problems of production and distribution, emphasizing, for example, the importance of the film producer who goes overseas, in having the proper translation for scripts in advance. A script in English, he said, gains in words when translated into Spanish, French and other languages, thus making it difficult for the overseas' narrator to keep within a 38-second period allowed for a sound track on a minute commercial.

Other problems discussed by Mr. Widlund were selection of production crew, interior set design and construction, casting, presentation of the product, choice of film stock, shooting, rushes, color processing, editing budget, and expediting the movement of the finished film product to its destination for showing.

Am-Par to Put $3 Million In Films for Theatre Use

PLANS to invest about $3 million for the production of motion pictures in the next six months were announced last week by Irving H. Levin, president of Am-Par Pictures Corp., subsidiary of American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres Inc.

Mr. Levin said that Am-Par is considering some 40 properties for production, but added that titles are being withheld pending the completion of negotiations. He reported that Am-Par recently had completed its first motion picture, "Beginning of the End."

Am-Par was formed last November by AB-PT [BET, Nov. 19, 1956], and at that time, officials said the move was "aimed at helping to overcome the shortage of pictures for theatres." It was pointed out the company had no immediate plans to produce films for television.
It seems to us particularly apt that the broadcasting industry do something to honor Thomas A. Edison. His birthday comes up next week and the electrical industry celebrates it annually with National Electrical Week.

The reason we feel a sense of obligation is that without Edison we might not be in the broadcasting business. Simple deduction: no electricity—no radio or TV.

WBC has planned a week-long tribute (February 10-16) on all its stations. Spot announcements... interviews with public officials... station tours... free plugs for local utilities—the works.

Those are our plans—how about joining us?

Sincerely,

Donald H. McGannon, President

P. S.: National Electrical Week materials for radio and TV stations can be obtained by contacting the National Electrical Week Committee, at either 290 Madison Ave., New York 17; or c/o Fleishman-Hillard, Inc., 407 N. Eighth St., St. Louis 1, Mo.
Loew's, AAP Pact Hinges On Tom & Jerry Inclusion

LOEW's Inc. continued to hold discussions last week with Associated Artists Productions, New York, for the leasing of the domestic tv rights to more than 900 MGM short subjects to AAP for more than $4.5 million.

The disposition of 125 Tom and Jerry cartoons reportedly is delaying the signing of a contract. MGM is said to be willing to sell the shorts, excepting the Tom and Jerry cartoons, to AAP for $4.5 million but is insisting on about $6 million if these cartoons are included. AAP is asking for these cartoons and other short subjects at $4.5 million.

Jaffe Leaves Official Films

RESIGNATION of Herb Jaffe as vice president of Officials Films, New York, was announced last week by Harold L. Hackett, president. No reason was given but it was reported that Mr. Jaffe planned to enter into an association in “the literary and legitimate theatre fields.”

No successor has been named to assume Mr. Jaffe’s post. His place on the board of directors of Official Films, Mr. Hackett said, will be filled by Leonard O. Fisher, general partner in the brokerage and underwriting firm of John H. Kaplan & Co., New York.

Oldtime steamboat races along our Ohio River Valley were often close, and hazardous to put your money on. Quite different from today's audience race among TV stations. When you put your money on WSAZ-TV, you've picked THE winner. Survey after survey gives the title to this 69-county giant — and the latest Nielsen is no exception. Consider these WSAZ-TV margins over the next-best station:

95,670 more homes per month
99,430 more homes per week
101,130 more daytime homes, weekdays
100,580 more nighttime homes, weekdays

WSAZ-TV steams with comparable popularity across a four-state domain wherein almost $4,000,000 buying power awaits advertisers who like to ride with the winner. The gangway is down at any Katz office.

NETWORKS

ABC-TV CONTINUES FORWARD PUSH

• Talent acquisitions: Singers Pat Boone, Guy Mitchell
• Network signs Chevrolet, appoints Accas, Rabinovitz

TWO new talent acquisitions, a new sponsor, and two new executive appointments highlighted developments at ABC-TV last week as that network continued jockeying for a position for a tighter race with NBC-TV and CBS-TV next fall (B&T, Jan. 28).

In addition, at least two TV stations reported privately that they had had talks with ABC-TV authorities in which the possibility of their receiving special compensation inducements, in return for switching their primary affiliations to ABC-TV, was discussed. They said the implication was that ABC-TV would be willing to grant them terms — including waiver of all free hours — that in effect would give them as much as 40% to 50% more compensation than they were getting from affiliation with other networks. One station said it decided to reject the "offer."

ABC-TV officials — who earlier had refused to confirm reports that they might offer "special inducements" if necessary to gain entree into key markets where ABC-TV currently has no outlets for live programming — maintained that "we have approached no stations but some stations have approached us" regarding possible affiliation changes.

Asked whether such discussions encompassed the possibility of special inducements, Oliver Treyz, vice president in charge of ABC-TV, replied: "No comment."

In the talent, sales, and executive field, the week brought these results:

• Signing of Pat Boone, young singing star, for a series of weekly half-hour programs starting next fall and signing of Chevrolet Div. of General Motors to sponsor him. The series is slated to start the first week in October and is expected to go into a Thursday or Friday night spot. Campbell-Ewald is agency for Chevrolet and the sponsorship contract was reported to be for 52 weeks.
• Signing of Guy Mitchell, another singing name, also for a half-hour musical series.
• Appointment of Gene Accas, TVB vice president and operations director, and Jason Rabinovitz, now in business management for ABC-TV, as key administrative assistants to Mr. Treyz.
• The Pat Boone-Chevrolet deals and the signing of Guy Mitchell had not been officially announced late last week, though authoritative sources had confirmed them. The Accas-Rabinovitz appointments are being announced today (Monday) by Mr. Treyz.

Mr. Accas is slated to return to ABC-TV from Twb in mid-February. He will handle special assignments in the areas of advertising, promotion, publicity, research and sales, and also will be responsible for the development of sales and program concepts for "tomorrow," Mr. Treyz reported. Mr. Rabinovitz will be responsible for the financial and business matters and will coordinate operating and service departments.

Mr. Accas served ABC in several executive posts before he moved to Twb early last year, and before that he was with NBC as a sales presentation writer and with Foote, Cone & Belding in research. He joined ABC in July 1951 as manager of radio sales development and was successively advanced to radio sales development manager and consultant; manager of radio sales development and owned TV stations sales development, and director of sales promotion. In September 1954 he was named director of ABC advertising, promotion, publicity and continuity acceptance, and in November 1955 was appointed director of sales development and research for ABC.

Mr. Rabinovitz joined United Paramount Theatres in December 1949 as assistant to the secretary-treasurer and became head of stockholder and financial public relations in early 1953. Following the merger of UPT with ABC to form American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres, he moved to the ABC division in mid-1953.

ABC-TV Buys VTRs
To Ease DST Trouble

ABC-TV has purchased three Ampex videotape recording units which it will place into large-scale use in April for Daylight Saving Time delayed telecasting.

Current blueprint is to install the recorders in Chicago in February and March to allow unlimited local time zone repeats of tv programs when DST is in effect. Live shows will be repeated to many other time zones within an hour after their original presentation in the East. Last year, ABC had installed at Chicago a film video delay system for DST, making possible storage of programs for an hour before replay.

Frank Marx, ABC's vice president in charge of engineering and general services, explained ABC Radio and Ampex Corp. just after World War II had developed equipment for delayed radio broadcasts during DST periods.

NBC-TV already is taping a number of programs at the time of their broadcast in the East for repeating to the Far West three hours later, and in the case of Truth or Consequences, originating in the West, network tapes show the night before it is seen in the East and West.

ABC-TV has three Ampex units, which it has placed into large-scale use in April for Daylight Saving Time delayed telecasting.
Designed to keep pace with ever-improving programming techniques, RCA "MICRO-MESH" Image Orthicons are being acclaimed by station men as the finest camera tubes ever used in commercial television.

With a mechanical exactness heretofore unattainable, RCA MICRO-MESH design has increased the mesh fineness of camera tubes from 500 lines per inch to 750 lines per inch! This improvement works for you three ways. (1) It enables you to "kill" mesh pattern and moiré effect without need for defocussing the picture—whether you are on black-and-white or color. (2) It substantially improves picture-detail contrast. And (3) RCA Image Orthicons with MICRO-MESH are particularly effective in permitting the use of adequate aperture correction to improve detail contrast when the tube is operated below the "knee" of its transfer characteristic—as occurs in color television.

MICRO-MESH design—another RCA original development in TV camera tubes—exceeds all present-day requirements for high-quality pictures in all RCA Image Orthicons and Vidicons—at no extra cost to you. RCA camera tubes with MICRO-MESH are available from your RCA Tube Distributor. For technical data on RCA camera tubes, write RCA Commercial Engineering, Harrison, N. J.

Why Station Men like MICRO-MESH
- Eliminates mesh pattern and moiré effect without defocussing.
- More than meets all technical requirements of 525-line TV system.
- 750-mesh tube with aperture-correction circuit provides 100% response for 350-line information. 500-mesh tube without aperture-correction circuit permits only about 60% response for 350-line information. Although correction circuit can be used with 500-mesh tube, such use emphasizes moiré and beat-pattern problems.
- Micro-Mesh minimizes beat pattern between color subcarrier and frequency generated by beam scanning mesh-screen pattern.
- Improves detail of color pictures.

NBC-TV moves last week to counteract any ABC-TV bid—direct or otherwise—to lure NBC affiliates into the ABC-TV fold.

The move was in the form of research data pointing up NBC-TV gains in daytime program ratings and sponsorships particularly.

Although they did not say so specifically, the NBC officials present seemed plain: by indirectness to caution any affiliate with a wandering eye that he stood to lose if he should switch to ABC-TV. ABC-TV has virtually no sponsored programming in the daytime before 5 p.m., although ABC-TV officials are confident of an improved position in this respect next fall.

The NBC-TV data came on the heels of the disclosure in BET of ABC-TV's planning for fall, its claims of substantial advances in the last few months, and its obvious confidence that it will soon be able to get into several key markets to which it currently has no live access [BET, Jan. 28; also see story, page 48].

Gain Over Last Year

The figures released by NBC-TV included computations showing that the average NBC-TV program between 12 noon and 5:30 p.m. in December 1955 was reaching 43% more homes, by a "general" evening situation, but point out that they have a number of plans for next fall and are developing them in consultation with their affiliates advisory board.

Although some changes already have been scheduled for the next few weeks—Wells Fargo to replace Stanley in March, Monday, 8:30 to 9 p.m. rather than the current 8 to 9 p.m. slot for network new ones to succeed Hiram Holliday, Wednesday, 8 to 8:30 p.m.—most of the planning is concentrated on next fall's lineup.

Among the latter plans, but not yet definite, is one to rotate comics in a weekly series tentatively slated for Saturdays at 9-10:30 p.m. or alternatively, in a shorter version Fridays at 9-10 p.m.

NBC Joins Semantics Bureau

TO HELP heighten radio's advertising effectiveness, the NBC Radio network has joined the Professional Service Bureau of the New York Society for General Semantics, becoming the first industry member of the society, it was announced jointly last week by Matthew J. Culligan, vice president, NBC Radio, and Dr. Robert Holston, president of the New York Society for General Semantics.

In announcing the association, Mr. Culligan explained: "In applying the principles of general semantics to broadcast advertising, we hope to maximize the value of radio as an advertising medium and make it the best possible communications bridge for the written and spoken word. Our immediate objective will be further exploration of the scientific and psychological basis for NBC Radio's increasingly popular imagery transfer concept."

Koop Praises Use Of Ampex Video Tape

TELEVISION is excited about the wider use of Ampex video tape, Theodore F. Koop, CBS Washington director of News and Public Affairs said last week before U.S. Department of Agriculture's fifth annual visual workshop.

Mr. Koop, who is also president of the Radio and Television News Directors Assn., pointed to the inaugural coverage of the public oath-taking by the President and the Vice President which was played back by CBS and NBC soon after the actual swearing in ceremonies.

He told the dinner meeting in Washington that the new technique will give news coverage greater depth. The wider use of video tape will give tv greater exposure for news and at the same time expand one of the great means of mass communication, Mr. Koop declared.

The CBS news official then took up the fight for greater freedom of information. While he praised USDA information officials both for their techniques in disseminating information and its free flow, he told the workshop audience, many of whom were information specialists, that a copy of the Bill of Rights should be above the desk of all government officials.

The American people were granted freedom of the press, he said, and the media of mass communications are only the agents for the people.

Mr. Koop urged the government officials to keep standards of news high and to avoid publicity. He asked them to avoid the tendency to cover up unfavorable news and mistakes.

The CBS official said he hopes to see Section 315 of the Communications Act eliminated. That is the section referring to equal time for political candidates.

Mr. Koop stated that the broadcasting industry is made up of people who understand their responsibility toward the public. Equal time, he said, for political candidates is an accepted practice of responsible industry officials. The law is outmoded; the public would quickly respond to violations by individual owners or networks, he added.

"News coverage today is not letter perfect," he said. "But, I hope it never will be."

Television coverage of the national conventions in 1960 will be "gavel to gavel" in the view of Mr. Koop.

Mr. Koop pointed out both parties would have new personalities and new aspirants in the presidential race. Mr. Koop said that new issues would grow in the coming years. The intra-party battles before and during the conventions will necessitate complete coverage, he predicted.

Mr. Koop admitted that his personal views are contrary to the popular belief that the 1960 conventions will receive less intensive coverage than those of last summer.

ABC-TV Signs Four Sponsors

SIGNING of four advertisers as participating sponsors of ABC-TV programs was announced last week by William C. Gillogly, eastern sales manager of ABC-TV. New sponsors: Bauer & Black Div., Kendall Co., Chicago, through Leo Burnett, Chicago, for Circus Time (Thurs., 8-9 p.m. EST); Blue-Jay Sales Div. of Kendall, through Burnett, for Afternoon Film Festival (Mon.-Fri., 3-4:30 p.m. EST); Bon Ami Co., New York, through Ruthrauff & Ryan, New York, for Circus Time, and Yardley of London Inc., New York, through N. W. Ayer & Son, New York, for Famous Film Festival (Sat., 7:30-9 p.m. EST).

* Significant change in last ten months (new station, power change, or network affiliation change)
On February 11, 1957, ARB will release complete reports on television station reception and tuning preference in over 150 key TV markets not regularly covered by syndicated rating reports. Most of these have been influenced by important television station changes during the past 10 months—new stations added, power increases, antenna moves, and new network affiliations. The only TV information you can afford to use for these markets is the latest.

Data for this third annual “A to Z” report are produced by research techniques superior to any in the field. Here are the three outstanding advantages the study brings to the TV industry:

1. Really large samples... in most cases 500 completed interviews per area.
2. Information obtained by interviewer... no mail ballots used.
3. Delivery of results two weeks later... not 8 months.

For every area covered figures will be furnished showing percentage of homes having TV, UHF saturation, if any, number of TV homes able to receive each station covering the market, frequency of viewing, and viewing preferences for both daytime and evening.

One wise decision made possible by this study will more than save its modest cost. Your nearest ARB office has all the details. Publication date... February 11, 1957.

MBS may have a dramatic new plan of radio network operation ready by NARTB convention time, April 7-11, if first affiliate reaction to the idea [B&T, Jan. 26] is any criterion.

First views of a segment of the proposed network program structure, based on a heavy news format, were obtained Thursday at the Mutual Affiliates Advisory Committee meeting in Chicago. Representing mostly medium and small markets, MAAC delegates heard a rundown of the idea by MBS President John Poor.

After hearing details of the plan, some of the committee members offered ideas of their own. For the most part, however, they spoke enthusiastically of the projected 7:30 a.m.-11:30 p.m. half-hourly news service. This would be interlocked with present MBS features such as Fulton Lewis jr., Queen for a Day, dramas, an expanded music service and more public service features.

Next MBS step will be to discuss details with 100 major-market affiliates. This will be done during February. If reaction continues to be overwhelmingly favorable, MBS can proceed with its program overhaul during March.

Willard Deason, president-general manager of KVET Austin, Tex., was elected MAAC chairman; Ralph McElroy, president-general manager of KWML Waterloo, Iowa, vice chairman, and Donald J. Horton, president of WVLK Lexington, Ky., secretary.

While MBS would not give out official details, it was apparent the network plans to give stations five-minute newscasts every half-hour from 7:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m., retaining the newscasts on the half-hour for its own sponsorship. In turn, stations would be permitted to sell on-the-hour newscasts and keep all the revenue. No affiliate, basic or bonus, would be required to pay extra line charges to the network, it was indicated.

This plan combines a network press association type of service with the basic entertainment features now provided by MBS. The network, however, likely would continue its present option-time schedule of commercial religious broadcasts.

The expanded news service would place heavier emphasis on Washington news, according to affiliates having some knowledge of the new project. More news commentators would be added to the staff and correspondents would supply news from strategic foreign spots.

"None of us would be socked a dime," one source reported. "The network will still be in the radio advertising business, geared for expanded programming. If we switched all the way to a press association type of news service, then everything would be lost if the news emphasis didn't work out."

Plenty of music will be available from morning to night for local sponsorship.

It's understood MBS would expect stations to use its on-the-half-hour newscasts, which would be sold to national sponsors.

There appeared to be sentiment in favor of moving the network's news headquarters to Washington.

Attending besides MBS officials and the new MAAC officers were Sam W. Anderson, KFFA Helena, Ark.; Edward Breen, KVFD Fort Dodge, Ia.; Victor C. Diehm, WAZL Hazleton, Pa.; E. Z. Jones, WBBB Burlington, N. C.; Mike Layman, WSFC Somerset, Ky.; Richman G. Lewin, KTRE Luftin, Texas; Wayne Phelps, KALG Algoma, N. M., and Berton Sonis, WTIW Charleston, W. Va.

Freund to ABC Labor Post

APPOINTMENT of Richard L. Freund, NBC attorney specializing in labor law, as director of labor relations at ABC, was announced Thursday by Morton Weinbach, ABC vice president and general counsel. Mr. Freund had served as an attorney with R. H. Macy & Co., was assistant to the director of personnel and labor relations of Publix Short Corp. and was associated with Lauterstein, Spiller, Berman & Dannett, all New York, before he joined NBC.

WKWF Key West Joins ABC

AFFILIATION of WKWF Key West, Fla., with ABC Radio effective Feb. 1 was jointly announced by John M. Spottswood, WKWF general manager, and Edward J. Degray, ABC radio stations relations director. The station, owned and operated by Mr. Spottswood, also is affiliated with MBS. It operates with 500 w on 1600 kc.
A 31.0 Pulse rating for a public service show—and if that isn't making friends and arresting people's interest, we'd like to know what is! That rating makes Police Call the highest rated local once-a-week show in the area—commercial, sustaining or public service! How's that for producing and programming?

What's it to you? It's another example of the programming and producing thinking that keeps the dials of the great Miami Valley Area market tuned to WHIO-TV. The same emphasis and techniques employed in our regular commercial efforts are always used in our public service presentations. And so—as Police Call introduces our citizens to our Police department in a 15-minute, once-a-week film plus live studio show conceived, produced and purchased under our direction—we get a big audience plus instead of incessant minuses.

Your program belongs on a station like this in a market like this. Get facts and figures from our national rep.—Plain-clothes man First Class George P. Hollingbery.

Mickelson Talk Cites Growth of Video News

DESPITE criticism that televised political speeches during the 1956 campaign were "dull," its extensive coverage probably was a significant factor in bringing out an all-time high of over 62 million voters, Sig Mickelson, CBS vice president in charge of news and public affairs, asserted last week.

He told a Broadcast Adv. Club of Chicago luncheon Monday that obviously "political managers regarded television as an important factor in the campaign" and that "the number of hours of air time they bought indicates their respect for the need." Mr. Mickelson said he felt it more important that news coverage "caught the candidates not in a prepared speech situation, not in a prepared script roundtable but rather in informal situations."

KWG Becomes Mutual Affiliate

KWG Stockton, Calif., today (Monday) becomes a fulltime affiliate of the Mutual-Don Lee radio network, but with no effect on the station's affiliation with ABC, according to Douglas D. Kahl, president of Western Broadcasting Co. and general manager of KWG.

Reif Promoted by NBC Radio

FLORENCE REIF has been appointed supervisor of religious programs and educational features for the NBC Radio Network, Edward Stanley, NBC manager of public service programs, announced Thursday. She succeeds Mrs. Dorothy Culbertson, who was named last week as one of the producers of NBC's educational television program (story page 76).

Miss Reif, a 1953 graduate of Syracuse U., joined NBC in July 1953 and has been a member of the public service program department since then.

KBS Adds 10 New Affiliates; Celebrates 17th Anniversary

KEYSTONE Broadcasting System announced Wednesday that 10 new affiliates last Wednesday, simultaneous with the observance of its 17th anniversary as a trans- cision network.

The contracts give KBS a total of 920 affiliates, with prospect of 1,000 subscribing stations by the end of 1957, according to Sidney J. Wolfe, Keystone president.

Additional clients, as reported by Blanche Stein, station relations director, are WGEA Geneva, Ala.; WGWS Tifton and WSFB Quitman, both Ga.; WAMW Washington, Ind.; KAYL Storm Lake, Iowa; WFLW Monticello, Ky.; WMOMG Milford, Mass.; WAMY Amory, Miss.; KGFT Fremont, Neb., and KIRT McAllen (Mission), Tex.

NBC to Drop 'Ark' for 'Panic'; L&M, Factor Set Sponsorship

MARK VII LTD.'s all-color Noah's Ark series definitely will be dropped at the end of this month, it was announced last week by NBC-TV. Effective March 5, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. (through McCann-Erickson, New York) and Max Factor of Hollywood (through Doyle Dane Bernbach, New York), will alternate on a new film package by McCadden Corp., Hollywood.

The series, which now is titled Panic, was originally titled Crisis, and later changed to Impact. Both L&M (Chesterfield) and Max Factor had been considering the series over a month before signing it [B&T, Jan. 14].

Montagne Gets CBS-TV Promotion

PROMOTION of Edward J. Montagne from supervisor of film production for CBS-TV to the newly-created post of executive producer in charge of all film operations for the network was announced last week by Hubbell Robinson Jr., CBS-TV executive vice president in charge of network programs.

Martin M. Heller, formerly with legal staff, RKO Radio Pictures, N. Y., joins ABC's legal department.

Stephen Strassberg, publicity director, WABC-AM-TV New York, promoted to assistant director of press information for ABC. Heyward Ehrlich, formerly with CBS Radio program promotion, succeeds Mr. Strassberg.

Robert Maley, assistant director of continuity acceptance for MBS and WOR New York, promoted to director of department, succeeding Walter Law, who joins CBS Radio as assistant to director of editing.

CBS Inc. Joins L. A. Turf Club To Develop Ocean Park Area

CBS INC. and the Los Angeles Turf Club Inc., will be joint owners of a new corporation which will take over the Oceanic Wonderland project of the turf club, it was announced Wednesday by Dr. Frank Stanton, CBS Inc. president and Charles H. Strub, executive vice president of the Los Angeles Turf Club.

The new corporation will develop the Ocean Park pier area in Los Angeles-Santa Monica into a popular-priced family amusement park for 1958 opening. This projected development is expected to get under way soon and has received the enthusiastic support of the Santa Monica city council, which has voted to grant a 25-year lease on the tidelands, CBS said. The 30-acre Pacific Ocean park is planned as a year-round recreational and tourist attraction.

Zenith Reports Record Month; Directors Announce Dividend

DESPITE a lower sales total, earnings of Zenith Radio Corp. probably will amount to about $12.25 per share in 1956, E. F. McDonald Jr., Zenith president, reported Monday in announcing that directors have declared a dividend of 75c per share.

The dividend is payable March 29 to stockholders of record March 8.

Radio Set Shipments Continue to Increase

RADIAL set shipments from factories to dealers in the first 11 months of 1956 ran over a million above the 1955 level, according to Radio-Electronics-Tv Mfrs. Assn. The 11-month 1956 shipments totaled 6,877,836 sets compared to 5,803,541 radios in the same 1955 months. Auto sets are not included in the figures since they move directly to motor industry channels.

RETMA reported 797,011 radio shipments last November compared to 751,795 in October and 849,264 in November 1955. Following are radio set shipments to dealers by states during the first 11 months of 1956 (auto sets not included):

Lindsey G. Riddle, Chief Engineer, WDSU-TV, New Orleans

"WDSU-TV relies on G-E camera-tube quality, both for studio and remote work!"

"From earliest times, New Orleans has insisted on the best in entertainment. General Electric camera tubes help us hold to this tradition by giving viewers clear, sharp TV pictures, whether they originate in our studios or at remote locations served by WDSU-TV's mobile unit.

"Besides the quality performance of G-E camera tubes, we like the prompt service and all-around cooperation we get from local General Electric distribution. Fast tube deliveries are made to our door... any claims or adjustments are handled fairly and with a minimum of paperwork and delay.

"Packaged for safe handling and compact storage, G-E camera tubes have proved to be a sound inventory investment for WDSU-TV, as well as a help to us in maintaining high picture standards. Our experience has been favorable in every way."

Magna-Striped Tape Put on Sale by Reeves

AVAILABILITY of Magna-Stripped raw stock magnetic recording tape on a commercial basis was announced last week by Reeves Soundcraft Corp., New York. Reeves noted that the “striped magnetic” process has been accepted for TV spot news programming, specifically CBS-TV’s use on its Douglas Edwards and the News (BET, Dec. 17, 1956).

The process is said to produce a live sound quality not possible with conventional photographic sound tracks. According to F. B. Rogers Jr., executive vice president of Reeves Soundcraft, commercial use of the tape opens a “new era” for both network and local TV spot news coverage and ends distorted sound on TV filmed news pickups. Existing film equipment, he said, can be easily and inexpensively converted to handle the magnetic process.

As explained by Reeves Soundcraft: “The raw stock is produced by applying magnetic stripes to undeveloped film in total darkness. The magnetic stripes must not affect the photographic sensitivity of the film or be affected in any way by the developing process. The raw stock is then used in a 16mm motion picture camera which has been equipped with a magnetic recording system.

“During filming, the sound is recorded on the magnetic stripes in much the same manner as a tape recorder. Since the film developing process does not affect the stripes or the quality of sound recording on them, the processors can develop the film for the best possible picture.”

“It was in the developing process that optical sound tracks became distorted. Strong light on the film had to be developed for picture clarity rather than sound quality, the optical track never received the proper photographic development; hence the poor sound quality.”

Soundcraft to Pay 1st Dividend; Sales up 30% Last Half of ’55

REEVES SOUND CRAFT Corp., New York, manufacturer of magnetic recording products, will pay a 5% stock dividend March 15 on stock held on company record as of Feb. 15, according to Hazard E. Reeves, president. This is the first stock dividend to be paid by Soundcraft, he said. There are reportedly 2,400,000 shares of common stock outstanding (over-the-counter).

According to Frank B. Rogers Jr., executive vice president, the company anticipates an increase in sales and profits during 1957 due primarily to the commercial adoption by industry of several new Soundcraft products. The company has been working on data processing, telemetering and the new video recording processes.

Warner Brothers, MGM, Universal-International, 20th Century-Fox, Columbia Pictures, RKO, Allied Artists and Hal Roach Studios are all very active licensees under Soundcraft’s exclusive Magna-Stripe process. In addition, CBS-TV has just announced the adoption of Magna-Stripe on raw stock for network and local news reporting.

Mr. Rogers said that magnetic product sales during the last six months of 1956 were 30% above the corresponding period of 1955.

RCA Tube Div. to Promote National Tv Serviceman’s Week

TV AND RADIO will be among the media used by RCA Tube Div. in its promotion campaign for this year’s National Television Serviceman’s Week, to be observed March 25-30, H. S. Stamm, manager of advertising and sales promotion for the division, reported last week.

RCA has begun the mailing of dealer ad material to RCA tube distributors. Mr. Stamm noted that trade and service dealer reaction yearly to the two-year old observance has mounted with a new high of interest expected this year.

The week salutes the nation’s 125,000 TV technicians who install about 7 million sets annually and maintain the 39 million receivers already in use.

Sylvania Forms New Division

IN A MOVE attributed to expanding activities in the development and production of transistors and diodes, Sylvania Electric Products Inc., New York, last week announced the formation of a semiconductor division. Concurrently, the company also has established a special tube operations unit for special-purpose electron tubes for military and commercial applications. Headquarters for the semiconductor division and special tube operations is at Sylvania’s plant in Woburn, Mass.

Kay Lab Ships Equipment

KAY LAB, San Diego, Calif., recently shipped studio and transmitter facilities to KWTO Casper, Wyo., including two vidicon studio cameras, vidicon film system, a 500 w RCA transmitter and three-bay antenna.

Shipment of a vidicon studio camera chain also recently was made to KTR-E-TV Lufkin, Tex., Kay reported.

The firm has contracted to ship complete studio facilities to up-coming CFIC-TV Kamloops, British Columbia, within 30 days. CFIC-TV is the first low power tv station in Canada.

CLERICS DEMAND SPONSOR RIGHT

- Evangelicals insist on freedom of access for paid programs
- National council criticized for broadcasting policies

MEMBERS of National Religious Broadcasters took a firm stand on freedom of radio-tv for paid religious programs at the 12th annual convention held last Wednesday and Thursday in Washington, D. C.

NRB adopted as association policy a series of statements in an address by Dr. Eugene R. Betermann, director of the Lutheran Hour, who asserted the basic freedom of a radio-tv station to sell time, if it desires, to individuals and groups for religious broadcasting purposes. It endorsed, also, the liberty of a religious group to buy time, if it desires, for broadcasting.

A stand by the Broadcasting & Film Commission, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., adopted last summer, was criticized for its opposition to paid religious time and for its charge that sponsored religious programming "cannot be considered an adequate discharge of the public service obligation to religion by a network or station" [BT, Sept. 3, 1956].

NRB and the national council take sharply divergent views on most phases of the subject of paid religious time. NRB members belong to the evangelical Protestant wing, with its members spending $10 million a year for broadcast time. Dr. James DeForest Murch, NRB president, said the association follows a code of ethics designed to maintain a high calibre of religious broadcasting.

The controversy over cancellation of the Martin Luther film by WGN-TV Chicago was reviewed at the convention, but no formal action was taken. A review of the situation was given by Rev. Charles J. Anderson, a council of the midwest office, National Council of Evangelicals. [Also see AT DEADLINE for latest development in the Chicago cancellation controversy].

Parallel Cited

Dr. Betermann said it would be "a travesty" if tobacco and alcohol beverage interests could buy radio-tv time "while this same avenue is closed to the saving Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the message which, through the power of God's Holy Spirit, can strengthen the moral and spiritual foundations of our country."

He endorsed "a dual approach" by which religious programming can secure a greater aggregate amount of radio and television time, explaining that NRB does not in principle oppose the national council's free-time policy. He explained how government-operated radio-tv systems provide for a limited amount of time for religious programs.

Warren E. Baker, FCC general counsel, said the Commission "has no authority to require a station to carry or refrain from carrying any particular program. It has no authority to require that a specified number of hours be devoted to any one subject."

He explained the alternative is complete government supervision and control.

"There aren't enough hours in the broadcast day for stations to meet all the requests for time," he said, explaining they have achieved "a remarkable record of service and fairness."

Mr. Baker said the FCC believes each licensee should reserve a reasonable amount of time for sustaining programs, adding that some types of programs are not suitable for commercial sponsorship. "Religious programs are in this category of programming which cannot be ignored by a service purporting to serve in the interest of the public," he said.

The claim of undue interference with broadcast freedom when FCC takes some step on a station's programming at renewal time may have no validity, he said. "It is the Commission's hope that churches and religious groups of all kinds will take advantage of every opportunity to present radio and television programs that will serve these social and moral ends and strengthen our democratic way of life," he told the delegates.

Closer Liaison

NAR TB President Harold E. Fellows urged religious leaders to set up close relationships with broadcasters, including workshops and seminars. He reminded the licensee is directly responsible for the conduct of his facility and can judge how best to serve all portions of the community.

Mr. Fellows described Elvis Presley as "one of the biggest problems" facing broadcasters and all American society, but added there is little that broadcasters can do "about a thing like the Presley craze."

George F. Hartford, president of WTOP Inc., Washington, explained why the station does not accept paid religious time. He recalled the history of WTOP-TV's religious policy, saying that CBS-TV network programs had been dropped because the station wanted to tie in its religious broadcasts to the needs of the community. A schedule of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish broadcasts is carried every week, produced locally with the cooperative help of both theologians and telecasting specialists.

The same reasons that led to concentration on local religious programs lie behind the opposition to paid religious telecasts, Mr. Hartford said, explaining the programs it has seen "show a lack of any specific relation to the particular community we serve." He said local participation in the WTOP-TV telecasts "has been of tremendous value" and provides great satisfaction.

"Religion is not a product to be sold with a little white price tag on it," he said. We sell our time and services to sponsors with a product to sell—to the Procter & Gambles, the Lever Brothers and the Remington Rand—but when there is a community service to be done, be it in the field of religion, education, health or welfare, we envision this as a responsibility to be carefully weighed and presented in the best manner possible, and not to be sold."

"It is our feeling," he added, "that this responsibility can best be met by the presentation of local religious programs, conceived locally, produced locally, using local people and remaining in constant contact and consultation with representative bodies of the Washington spiritual community." He noted that the station donates time to political candidates for local political office and will not sell time to them.

In a message to the convention, President Eisenhower said:

"In the worldwide competition for the allegiance of the minds of men, your presentation of truth and loyalty can be most effective. Through your broadcasts to the people of our country and abroad, the message you preach helps to reinforce the spiritual stamina needed by mankind everywhere."

Peter Eidersfeld, of the Back to God Hour, Chicago, said in a speech prepared for the convention that it is the responsibility of the religious broadcaster, not the broadcasting industry, to see that "the real message" of Christianity is properly presented in an era of confusion.

Herbert Hoover to Get NARTB Keynote Award

HERBERT HOOVER, former President of the United States and a significant figure in the early regulation of broadcasting, will receive NARTB's Keynote Award April 9 at the association's annual convention in Chicago.

Under a new policy making non-broadcasters eligible to receive the award (Closed Circuit, Dec. 17, 1956), Mr. Hoover was picked "because of the major role he played in establishing an orderly system for use of the spectrum and determining the role of government in this field." As Secretary of Commerce in 1922, he called the first conference of broadcasters and manufacturers, working cooperatively with them until the first Radio Act was passed in 1927. This act set up the Federal Radio Commission, replaced by FCC in 1934.

Mr. Hoover presided at the first world conference in which 76 nations set up treaties covering wavelength assignments. Provisions of these treaties are still in effect. He opposed giving the government any power over content of broadcasts on the ground such action would establish censorship throughout the whole field of ideas.

A three-man NARTB committee notified Mr. Hoover last Monday of his selection as keynoter. It consisted of NARTB President Harold E. Fellows; Campbell Arnoux, WTIC-TV Norfolk, Va., TV Board chairman, and John M. Butler, WSB Atlanta, Radio Board chairman.

The Keynote Award was set up in 1953. Its recipients have been Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, RCA chairman; William S. Paley, CBS chairman; Mark Ethridge, WHAS-AM-TV Louisville vice president; Robert E. Kinney, then ABC president.

John R. Sheehan Joins tvb

JOHN R. SHEEHAN, formerly a vice president and director of tv and radio at Cunningham & Walsh, New York, has joined Television Bureau of Advertising in a sales capacity, it is being announced today (Monday) by Halsey V. Barrett, tvb's national director of sales.

Mr. Sheehan, who is credited by tvb as having created the tv department at C&W and having "sold" tv to Sunshine Biscuits, Bell Telephone's "Yellow Pages," and to A&T, handled other clients contacts including Chase Manhattan Bank, Smith Corona, Folger's coffee and Universal pictures.

Tribute to the nation's farm families

Tribute to the nation's farm families was paid Saturday (Feb. 2) on Farm Broadcasting Day by radio and tv stations throughout the country. Arranged by NATRFD and Dept. of Agriculture, the day featured programs devoted to recognition of the contributions made to the nation's welfare by farm families and their rural communities. Signing official proclamations for the day were governors of Ohio and Colorado.

Above: Witnessing Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill's proclamation signing (l to r): George Zeiss, farm director, WLWC Columbus; Bob Gela, director of radio for Ohio Farm Bureau Federation; W. B. Wood, director, agricultural extension service, Ohio State U.; John Babcock, program director, Crosley Bestg. Corp., Cincinnati; Luster Cooley, legislative agent, Ohio State Grange; Charles Migh, farm service director, WMRN Marion; Clyde Keathley, farm service director, WRFD Worthington and Ohio committee chairman for Farm Broadcasting Day, and Bill Zipf, farm service director, WBNS-AM-TV Columbus.

At right: Colorado Gov. Stephen L. R. Nichols (c) signs executive order before Phil Hoffman (l), president, and Harry Holm, secretary-treasurer, of the Colo. Assn. of Broadcasters and Telecasters, which arranged the state's salute to farm families.

President Eisenhower Commends Farm Broadcasters' Service

THE "essential service" provided by radio and tv farm broadcasters keeps farmers and ranchers up to date "on matters which daily, even hourly, affect their crops and livestock, their personal health and prosperity," President Eisenhower said last week in a message honoring the first Farm Broadcasting Day, Feb. 2.

The President added "With dependable weather and marketing information, accurate reporting of the latest scientific findings, and more efficient use of labor and machinery, the lives of all Americans, farm producers and consumers are strengthened."

Over a thousand stations reported participation in the day, sponsored by the National Assn. of TV & Radio Farm Directors. NATRFD provided kits for station use. Jack Timmons, KWKH Shreveport, La., is NATRFD president.

FCC Chairman George C. McConnaughhey was scheduled to salute Farm Broadcasting Day on NBC's National Farm and Home Hour last Saturday as part of that program's salute to farm rural service programs across the country.
Most Philadelphians don't say, "turn on the radio." They usually say, "turn on WCAU." This is our 35th anniversary and they've been saying it all these years. Apparently the people like what they hear on WCAU.

A gallery of local public service awards and the size of our audience make that point eloquently. More than 930,000 different families reach for WCAU's dial position each week, and we reach them. That makes WCAU your best radio buy here. In other words, to reach the most Philadelphians, reach for WCAU yourself.

NARTB Sets Clinic On Labor Relations

NARTB will stage a clinic on labor relations during its annual Chicago convention, with Monday afternoon (April 8) selected as the time, the association's Employer-Employee Relations Committee was told at a meeting held Thursday in Washington. Leslie C. Johnson, WHBF Rock Island, Ill., is committee chairman.

Peter Seitz, until recently industrial relations vice president of Liebherr Breweries, will be featured speaker at the clinic. NARTB's labor relations staff, headed by Charles H. Tower, will give a presentation, and a question-answer period is scheduled.

Ray Rodgers, member of the National Labor Relations Board, spoke at the committee luncheon Thursday, discussing the legislative outlook and NLRB activities. John Forsythe, majority counsel of the Senate Committee on Labor & Public Welfare, was a luncheon guest. William C. Fitts, CBS labor relations vice president, reviewed the recent contract settlement between the networks and AFTRA.

Mr. Tower brought committee members up to date on labor developments and described department services. James H. Hub- bert, assistant manager of the department, showed types of informational aid provided stations in their collective bargaining activities. Harold Ross, NARTB labor economist, reviewed case histories involving NARTB arbitration material. The committee adopted a resolution voicing confidence in NARTB's labor policies.

Attending the meeting, besides Chairman Johnson, were Joseph J. Bernard, WGR-TV-TV Buffalo; Richard M. Brown, KPOI Portland, Ore.; Robert B. Jones Jr., WFBK Baltimore; Herbert R. Ohrt, KGLO-TV Mason City, Iowa; Calvin J. Smith, KFAC Los Angeles; B. Lowell Jacobsen, NBC; William Regan, MBS; Mortimer Weinbach, ABC, and Mr. Fitts. Representing NARTB were President Harold E. Fellows; Thad H. Brown, tv vice president; John F. Meagher, radio vice president; Vincent T. Wastelwski, government relations manager; Joseph M. Stitrick, publicity-information manager, and Messrs. Tower, Hubbert and Ross.

State Associations Conference To Hear McConnaughy, Humphrey

SECY. GEORGE M. HUMPHREY, Treasury Dept., and FCC Chairman George C. McConnaughy will speak at the Second Annual NARTB Conference of State Broadcasters, to be held Feb. 21-22 at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington. Howard H. Bell, NARTB assistant to the president and state coordinator, said Secy. Humphrey will speak the afternoon of Feb. 21 with Chmn. McConnaughy speaking at the luncheon that day.

NARTB President Harold E. Fellows will address the Feb. 22 luncheon. On the agenda also is Dr. Sydney Head, president of the Assn. for Professional Broadcasting Education.

State delegates will be guests at the 10th anniversary Voice of Democracy awards banquet Feb. 22. Thirty-eight state presidents have indicated they will attend the conference.

Farm Directors to Meet in April

MEMBERS of Region Six of the National Assn. of Television & Radio Farm Directors are to meet April 26-28 at the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas, Tex., it was announced by Regional Chairman Marvin Vines, KTHS Little Rock, Ark.

Plans call for the convention to begin at 6 p.m. April 26 with registration and a social hour, to include a tour the next day of the Texas Research Foundation, Renner, Tex.; a panel discussion on "The Successful TRFD" April 27, and a breakfast and business meeting April 28. Farm Directors Murray Cox of WFAA Dallas and W. A. (Doc) Ruhmann of WBAP Fort Worth are handling arrangements.

NEW DAYTIME COLOR ON NBC-OWNED TVS

- Early afternoon hour added
- Network-type show promised

AN INCREASE in color schedules that will add five hours per week of colorcasting for all of the seven NBC-owned tv stations will begin Feb. 18.

The novel plan encompasses Monday-through-Friday group color programming in the 1:30-2:30 p.m. EST time period which normally is local station time. Advertisers will be sought to buy into the program, with participation by all seven stations, any one of the local stations, or a combination.

Details of the project—designed to make use of WNBQ (TV) Chicago color facilities as well as to provide the outlets with programs which have equal audience appeal to those broadcast over the full network—were revealed last week by Thomas B. McFadden, vice president of NBC owned stations and NBC Spot Sales.

Although NBC's formal announcement did not mention it, the daily afternoon colorcasts should prove of additional aid to dealers in demonstrating their color tv sets in stores. Nearest all-color, five days per week, network show is Maumee Theatre, seen 3-4 p.m. EST.

Stations included are WRCA-TV New York; WRCV-TV Philadelphia; WRC-TV Washington; WNBC (TV) Hartford-New Britain, Conn.; WBUF (TV) Buffalo; KRCA (TV) Los Angeles, and WNBQ.

The color program, originating at WNBQ, will be a “full-scale production—with a big-name master of ceremonies, an orchestra, and new and established supporting talent.”

A new show in black-and-white will precede at 1-1:30 p.m. EST the color program. The monochrome show, featuring Tex and Jinx McCrary interviews with guests from the entertainment, politics and arts fields, will originate at WRCA-TV and also will be for sale to advertisers on the same basis as the color program.

Present morning network service ends at 1 p.m. EST at the conclusion of It Could Be You and resumes at 2:30 p.m. with The Tennessee Ernie Ford Show.

The hour-long colorcast will be telecast from WNBQ studios at the Merchandise Mart in Chicago and, according to NBC, “will be comparable with nighttime television variety programs broadcast from New York and Hollywood.” WNBQ has been operating in color since last April.

Top direction for the new programming is being handled by Jules Herbuveaux, NBC vice president and general manager of WMAQ-WNBQ. Other executives working on the project: Harry Trigg, WMAQ-WNBQ director of programming, and George Heinemann, director of program planning and development for NBC owned stations.

WCOV-TV's Bob Underwood points to bullet hole in windshield of his car.

WCOV-TV Newscaster Target In Race-Troubled Montgomery

BOB UNDERWOOD, WCOV-TV Montgomery, Ala., newscaster, was the target of two bullets by unknown assailants last Monday as he drove his auto from the station parking lot. He suffered face scratches from flying glass as one bullet pierced the windshield.

The shooting was ascribed to heated racial feeling in the city. Mr. Underwood has been accused of bias by both sides in the racial controversy while operating under a strict policy of impartiality, the station reported. He has received many phone threats from Negroes unhappy about his handling of racial news, according to WCOV-TV.

The first bullet glanced off the car, but the second shattered the windshield, penetrating just to the right of center. Mr. Underwood fell down on the seat until the attackers drove away. In one of the phone threats, a voice said, “I see your two kids (Randy and Richey) riding their silver tricycles every day. They look like nice kids. If you don’t want anything to happen to them . . .” A third child, Rita, is 18 months old.

Hugh M. Smith, general manager of WCOV-TV, spoke on CBS News Jan. 28, stating he felt Mr. Underwood has always presented the news without bias.

Mr. Underwood told B&T he has never attempted to crusade or to slant the news in any way. He said both sides of the race issue literally “chew my ears off” for broadcasts on the integrationist movement. He has taken steps to obtain protection for his wife and children.

“This incident has served to reillustrate to me the power of this medium,” he told B&T. “I have always felt that it makes no difference if you are selling soap or delivering a news story, you are doing a good job only if you can make the individual think you are talking to him alone. With this thought in mind, I have not been too surprised to learn that people on both sides of the segregation issue in Montgomery have felt that from time to time I have been stepping on their toes. I do not believe the person or persons who fired on me really intended to kill me, but rather meant the shots to be some sort of warning or shock treatment.”
WABD(TV) Promotes Korn; Adler Resigns

EXECUTIVE realignment at DuMont Broadcasting Corp.'s owned and operated WABD(TV) New York was made last week with the elevation of Bennet H. Korn, sales vice president, to vice president and station manager. Ted Cott, vice president and general manager of DuMont Broadcasting Corp., continues in that capacity, but will relinquish active management of WABD(TV) to Mr. Korn, a station spokesman indicated.

Meanwhile, it was learned that William J. Adler, sales manager of the station, resigned last Friday and that Mr. Adler will join Grey Adv., New York, as an account executive on Necchi-Elna Sewing Machine Corp. Confirmation of Mr. Adler's new association is expected to be made this week by Grey. However, WABD(TV) officials pointed out that Mr. Adler's resignation was a "wholly separate matter" from Mr. Korn's new assignment.

Both Mr. Cott and Mr. Korn, as well as James Anderson, station manager of the other DuMont station, WTTG(TV) Washington, will continue to report to Bernard Goodwin, president of DuMont Broadcasting Corp.

Telerad Buys Georgia Outlet; Meer Gets Fort Worth Station

SALE of daytime WHIE Griffin, Ga. (1 kw on 1320 kc) by John A. Boling and associates to Telerad Inc. for $100,000 in the aggregate was announced last week. Telerad principals are W. C. Courson, WHIE salesman, and Fred L. Watkins, WHIE announcer, each owning 50%.

Buyers are paying $7,500 down, assuming liquidation of a $56,827 note and paying off the remainder of the sales price over a five-year period.

Also reported last week were changes in ownership of KCUL Fort Worth, Tex., and WMIE Miami, Fla. Kurt A. Meer, KCUL president-40% stockholder, is buying out E. D. Rivers' 60% interest in KCUL by surrendering his 25% interest in WMIE to Mr. Rivers. KCUL operates with 10 kw day, 1 kw night on 1540 kc. WMIE operates with 10 kw day, 5 kw night on 1140 kc.

The purchase of WGFS Covington, Ga., by R. W. Hoffman for $30,000 was announced last week, by Blackburn-Hamilton Co. broker. WGFS, operating with 1 kw daytime on 1430 kc, is owned by the Coley-Whatley interests (who also own WRFS Alexandria City, Ala.) Mr. Hoffman is half-owner of WKBL Covington, Tenn.

Crosley Gets Redlegs Contract

TWO-YEAR contract between Crosley Broadcasting Corp. and the Cincinnati Redlegs has been reported by John T. Murphy, Crosley's vice president in charge of TV. The pact includes exclusive rights for 53 baseball telecasts, and was made jointly with Cincinnati District Ford Dealers' Assn. and Hudepohl Brewing Co. The entire schedule will be on WLWT(TV) Cincinnati and WLWD(TV) Dayton. Handling for Ford and Hudepohl was William A. Smith, Cincinnati manager, J. Walter Thompson.

EDWARD PETRY & Co. Inc. may not have fathered spot radio, but there can be no question that it introduced legitimacy into what had been until then a genuinely bastard situation. And it is generally acknowledged to be the father of spot representation as it is known today.

Go back 30 years to 1927, five years before the Petry company was formed. A broadcasting man who was about to lose his job decided that maybe somebody could make money by advertising on the radio "out of town," instead of merely picking up a few dollars here and there from the local undertaker, corn doctor or dance hall. He talked an advertising agency into trying the new medium to sell wire fences to farmers. But they weren't sure how they should go about it.

"Let a guy talk for five minutes about the product," the entrepreneur suggested. When the question of cost was raised, he had to do a bit more head-scratching. Finally he decided a dollar a minute would be about right.

So the agency sent him—watch this arithmetic—seven minutes of copy, five dollars, and a letter saying, "Here's your five-minute copy and your five dollars." Using a similar arithmetical concept, the entrepreneur forwarded the seven-minute copy to the station with a note saying "here's your three-minute copy and your three dollars. If you do well on this, more may follow."

What followed is now a business nearing $150 million a year. It is spot broadcasting.

The seven-minute, three-dollar talk did indeed sell wire fences to farmers. The venture was repeated by other advertisers, and as its success was also repeated, the practice spread rapidly. Within a year there were recognized "radio time brokers" in the field, and confusion rapidly became compounded.

Agencies, fearful that their own revenues were being menaced, began to squawk—and soon the sidetracking of dollars on route from the buyer to the station became a respectable "second 15" commission for the broker. The broker meanwhile was operating on a strictly non-exclusive basis, getting the best price he could from any station, and competing brokers were quoting widely varying rates to the same advertiser for the same station. If the confused buyer turned to the station itself for clarification, he was up to get an even lower third price from stations—for the sum of $80 a month.

This traveling buyer not only refused to deal with time brokers but strongly counseled station managers against them too. The rate practices then in vogue, he warned, could lead to nothing but more confusion and more trouble—and loss of revenue. He pressed exclusive representation, and was so persuasive that managers suggested he become an exclusive representative.

Thus it was that Edward Petry, heeding these suggestions, began making the rounds of major stations which he thought would understand his concepts, soliciting their representation on an exclusive basis and, in an odd twist for a man seeking a business, spelling out the conditions on which he would accept them as clients.

On Feb. 1, 1932, formation of Edward Petry & Co. was formally announced as the first exclusive sales representation company for radio stations. "Our time is not on the block" was the keynote.

The response from agencies was quick and emphatic. Announcement of the company's creation, and of its objectives, was followed by more than 400 letters from agency people offering congratulations.

Looking back, Ed Petry recalls: "It wasn't easy, right in the middle of the depression, to persuade radio station owners and managers that they needed an exclusive sales representative, especially when I had to tell them that they would probably lose a considerable amount of business at first because of the new arrangement.

"I told them we would recommend their turning down excessive copy, products in bad taste or over-priced, and all 'special price' deals—and that they must back me up in all instances and no longer take business from the several successful time brokers then operating."

His experience in signing WSB Atlanta points up a different kind of crisis he had to face in those formative days.

He figures he had made 18 trips to Atlanta to talk to officials of WSB and the Atlanta Journal, which owned it. He had talked repeatedly with John Brice, executive vice president and general manager of the Journal; with Lambdin Kay, then manager of WSB; and Johnny Outler, now manager of WSB.

"Finally," he recalls, "one day Brice said, 'OK, I'll take you up to the top man.' Up till then I'd thought Brice was the top man. I pictured another 18 trips to Atlanta trying to sell his boss, Major Cohen.

"However, on that day we finally got to the point where the major had his fountain pen poised over the contract. Then suddenly he asked me: 'Young man, what would you do if you knew there was a campaign scheduled for the Atlanta Journal but not for WSB?'"

Mr. Petry could see the contract slipping... away, but he took a deep breath and answered:

"I'm in the radio business, Major. I'd do everything I could to get that campaign out of the Journal and on to WSB."

Major Cohen went right on signing. Mr. Petry was surprised, and finally mustered the courage to say so.

"Young man," the major replied, "if you'd given me any other answer, I would have known you were lying. It's time these newspaper reps got a little competition. Furthermore, I do not care which pockets the money goes into, as long as all the pockets are in the same pair of trousers. Goodbye and good luck, young man."

This was the only meeting they ever had.

The Petry company had 13 stations on its list when it opened for business: WSB Atlanta, WFAA Dallas, KPRC Houston, WDAF Kansas City, WHAS Louisville, WTMJ Milwaukee, WSM Nashville, WSMB New Orleans, W TAR Norfolk, KVOO Tulsa, KF H Wichita, WB BM Indianapolis, and KSD St. Louis.

The Petry company of necessity was a small organization at the outset—the New York office was staffed by Mr. Petry, Henry I. Christal, formerly with Scott Howe Bowen, and Mrs. Christal. Edward E. Voynow, who currently is executive vice president of the company (see OUR RESPECTS, page 22), opened the Chicago office with one salesman—George Kercher, now in charge of the St. Louis office—and one secretary.

Times were not always prosperous for the company, but it stuck to its basic concepts and its clients came to be known, for the prestige and power of the stations themselves, as the "Tiffany list" among station representatives.

When Ruthrauf & Ryan, which was placing a campaign for Dodge cars on 150-200 stations, wanted him to place the entire business on all the stations involved, Mr. Petry refused to do more than handle it for the Petry list even though his refusal to place the campaign on other stations meant the loss of thousands in commissions. This action convinced agencies and advertisers that there was a dependable organization to work with.

In his time Mr. Petry has spent countless hours in countless "entertainment suites" at innumerable conventions, but he can also recall some much less fancy entertaining done in those earlier days. Take the time he "entertained" Walter Damm, of WTMJ Milwaukee, on one of Mr. Damm's visits to New York.

"I had one dollar to take Walter to lunch," he remembers. "I took him to Child's restaurant and ordered a cup of coffee for myself. I checked carefully on the cost of everything Walter was ordering—and was pleased to see that I was going to have 15 cents left over to tip the waitress. Then Walter asked for a pack of cigarettes—and he got no tip."

Many Things Have Changed

Like the price of cigarettes, things have changed since then. Indeed, by the end of the first year the Petry company had added 12 stations to its list, bringing the total to 25, and it had become clear that the young firm was on the road to success. Not many years later, the annual combined spot billing of the Petry stations was not far behind the billings of the two major networks of that period.

Gradually the Petry sales organization expanded. An office was opened in Detroit by Joseph Spadea, now with the Henry I. Christal Co. in Detroit; in Los Angeles by Chester Matson, who still is manager there; and in St. Louis by George Kercher, also still in charge there. More recently, the Atlanta office was opened by Dick Hughes and Joe Sierra. Bill Cartwright now heads the Detroit office.

While expanding the sales operation, Mr. Petry also tackled major problems both in and out of his own organization. Outside groups were almost continually trying to beat down the principle of exclusive representation—but the Petry stations stood firm. Within, he worked with his stations to get them to standardize rates, policies, informational material. He estimates that in the Petry company's first year he was on the road for 37 weeks, and in the second year for 32, not only soliciting new stations but conferring with existing clients in an effort to work out firm, uniform standards and stable rate and discount structures.

He also instituted "spot conventions" of his clients.

"In 1933 I called a meeting of our stations to be held in Chicago. This was the first meeting ever called to discuss the problems of the stations and to suggest improved operations in the field of spot broadcasting. It was a highly successful meeting, and through the years was followed by others like it, usually held at the time of the national industry conventions."

The exclusive representation idea meanwhile was catching hold. Other stations saw the advantages, and other exclusive rep firms were opening. The stations were drawn together, as in the case of the Petry list, by a desire to rid themselves of helter-skelter practitioners who were preying on the business and whose main contribution, if it could be called that, was confusion and instability.

Says Mr. Petry:

"The stations on our list had a common interest and they often consulted each other about such problems. In most cases they took a common stand—and a firm one.

"Because of the high standing of the stations on our list, many other fine stations followed the policies which the Petry-represented stations set up to guide the industry. I am proud that the actions of the owners and managers of the stations on our list have had such an influence in molding the growth of the spot broadcasting business."

Like other representation companies, the Petry firm in the first half of the 1940's...
FORTY MEN met Nov 7-9, 1934, at the Medinah Athletic Club, Chicago, for the second annual meeting of the Petry organization and station it then represented. Thirty-three of them are pictured here. Their names, with their association in 1934 and, where B&T could determine, their present affiliation, follow:
(1) Hugh A. L. Half, WOAI, San Antonio, still WOAI; (2) Cliff Taylor, WBEN Buffalo, deceased; (3) Osborne Bond, Petry, New York, unknown; (4) Bill West, KSD St. Louis, now in real estate in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; (5) Martin Campbell, WFBB Dallas, retired; (6) Scott Hamilton, KTHS Hot Springs, Ark., unknown; (7) Hanque Ringold, Petry, New York, advertising consultant, Scarsdale, N.Y.; (8) Purnell Gould, KSL Salt Lake City, unknown; (10) Harvey Wixson, KHQ Spokane, unknown.

(21) Nat Bauer, WIOD Miami, unknown; (22) Dean Fitzpe, WDAF Kansas City, still WDAF; (23) Bill Meyer, KLZ Denver, unknown; (24) Larry Field, Petry, New York, now in manufacturing in Miami; (25) Lambdin Kay, WSB Atlanta, retired; (26) Paul Heitmeier, KGW Portland, unknown; (27) John Ashenhurst, Petry, Chicago, still Petry, Chicago; (28) Leo Fitzpatrick, WJR Detroit, retired; (29) Bob Boniel, Petry, Chicago, deceased; (30) Joe Spadea, Pe ty, Detroit, now Christal, Detroit; (31) George Kercher, Petry, Chicago, now Petry, St. Louis; (32) Lewis Allen Weiss, WJR Detroit, deceased; (33) John Outler, WSB Atlanta, still WSB.

Also in attendance at the Chicago convention but not in picture: Burt Squire, WGN Cleveland, BMI; Ed Craig, WSM Nashville, still WSM; Cecil Price, KFH Wichita, Kan., deceased; Lee Coulsen, WHAS Louisville, deceased; Harold Hough, WBAP Ft. Worth, still WBAP; Ed Zimmerman, KPRC Houston, deceased, and K. G. Marshall, WBRC Birmingham, deceased.

shared in the wartime boom in radio advertising and, also like the others, temporarily lost the talents of several important members of the staff who went into the armed forces.

But all Petry people received full pay from the company for the full terms of their military service.

"We thought it was the right thing to do," Mr. Petry explains. "We had enough money to do it—so we did it."

In the late 1940's the operations of the Petry company—which until then had been about as serene as anything could be in this fast-growing, still developing field—experienced a severe strain. Mr. Christal, treasurer of the company, and Mr. Petry, the president, found themselves at odds on policy issues.

Mr. Petry has never discussed the controversy, feeling that it is better relegated to the past, but he told B&T that "as I look back on it, I can only say with the utmost sincerity that I am sorry it happened. I regret that we parted."

The late '40's brought another key development: the Petry company "discovered" television. As early as 1941 the firm set up a separate tv division which Mr. Petry regards as the first of its sort in the representation field.

At the outset, Lloyd George Venard, now with Venard, Rintoul & McConnell, was the entire tv department. Television then was just beginning to show some promise of becoming an important commercial factor, but the company took the plunge and went ahead with establishing a regular department to handle the budding medium. WFAA begins firm ground "25 year relationship" with EDWARD PETRY & COMPANY

WFAA Radio was one of the very first to join forces with the Edward Petry organization... back when such shows as "One Man's Family" and The Maxwell House "Showboat" premiered... when such stars as Ed Wynn, Jack Benny, Jack Pearl, and Groucho Marx first hit the airwaves. Today, some 25 years later, this fine relationship continues — the past 8 years with the addition of Dallas' outstanding television outlet, WFAA-TV. cause there were few television stations to represent in those first years, the department necessarily operated at a loss.

From the original staff of seven back in 1932, the company has grown to approximately 140 now—about 60 in the radio division and 80 in television. The firm currently represents 27 television and 18 radio stations. Of the radio stations, 10 have been on the Petry list for more than 20 years.

Thomas E. Knodle is vice president in charge of television, and last fall added the responsibilities of chairman of the company’s plans board, while William Maillifert is vice president in charge of radio.

While not adverse to remiscing, Mr. Petry prefers to look ahead.

He views his own company today as “a new Petry company”—operating on the same basic principles on which it was established but employing a new concept of selling.

One of the features of this “new concept” is heavy behind-the-lines support for the salesmen who are up front doing the selling. For instance, there are entirely separate promotion departments for the radio and TV divisions. The radio promotion department has five full-time members and the TV promotion department seven, working up presentations to get new business into spot broadcasting generally and onto the Petry stations specifically; analyzing audience surveys, studying ratings, and generally supplying the salesmen with all the ammunition available for sales-making.

Similarly, there are traffic, sales service and sales development departments at work behind the scenes to expedite the selling process, while the salesmen themselves are under strict policy orders that “no salesman will lose an order without going back for the second time around.” The “second time around” means “repeatedly.”

In addition, the plans board was created last fall, composed of key executives. Its function is to chart courses and adopt policies, under the overall direction of President Petry, and to see that those courses and policies are followed. It also serves an additional function: “to make sure that we don’t try to live on the glory of the past.”

“Our past is a pleasant thing to remember,” Mr. Petry asserts, “but the future looks better.”

Radio “is coming back alive again,” he points out, noting for emphasis that the Petry company’s radio billings in 1956 ran 34% ahead of 1955. In television he feels that “we haven’t scratched the surface yet,” that TV will continue to grow and become increasingly powerful, that color will add even more power, and that it is more than possible that one of the Petry’s ventures in television will become as influential as universal radio has come to be, with television sets five or ten years from now retailing at perhaps the $15-$20 level that radio sets have attained.

He does feel that television’s future would be even brighter if it were not for the rash of governmental investigations to which the networks and other elements of TV are being subjected. Television, he maintains, would not be what it is today without the great contributions that networks have made, and it is his view that television will not advance as fast as it should if the networks and the TV business are forced to devote vast sums of money and manpower to defending themselves against governmental critics.

WBC Meet to Feature McConnaughay Speech

FCC CHAIRMAN George McConnaughay is among the persons prominent in public service, broadcasting and allied fields who have accepted the invitation of Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. to participate in an industry-wide conference on local public service programming. The conference will be held in Boston Feb. 27-March 1 under WBC auspices.

Richard M. Pack, WBC vice president in charge of programming and supervisor of the Boston conference, said that Mr. McConnaughay will deliver one of the principal addresses of the three-day working meetings at the Thursday luncheon. He said that to date representatives of more than 50 radio and TV stations from Maine to California have accepted invitations to attend.

James MacAndrew, director of broadcasting for the New York City board of education and moderator of the award-winning Camera Three and The Living Blackboard, has been named educational consultant for the conference. It will cover public service broadcasting in its larger sense, including news, cultural and educational programming, whether and other service announcements.

Mr. MacAndrew will serve as moderator of the Wednesday evening panel discussion on “Showmanship in Education.”

WICE Providence Protests Courthouse Ban of Newsmen

A COURT HOUSE ban of a radio newsmen who reported on a murder trial in Providence directly from the courthouse courtroom was protested last week by the station’s owner, Tim Elliot, president-general manager of WICE Providence, R. I.

WICE reported that newsmen Bob Lape was not permitted to remain in the building Tuesday, a day after the opening of the trial of John F. Nazarin on a murder charge. The coverage refusal—Mr. Lape’s reports were put on the air after they were received at intervals—was by order of presiding judge, Eugene Jalbert, according to WICE. Station officials indicated they would seek a court writ—or other necessary legal action—to have Mr. Lape reinstated. Mr. Elliot said: “The radio and TV news reporter and his professional equipment have unlimited access to the proceedings of any public agency including courts of law. We challenge the right of any public official to pull the plug on the electronic media’s coverage of the news. We will vigorously oppose any ‘electronic blackout’ that interferes with our responsibility to report the news to our audience.”

Bill Would Force College To Quit Big Ten Because of TV

A BILL was introduced in the Ohio Legislature last week by Rep. James J. McGet-trick, House minority leader, and Rep. Francis D. Sullivan, providing that “no state college or university shall maintain a member-ship in any intercollegiate association which imposes restrictions on the type of or number of athletic games or exhibitions which such college or university may tele- vide.” Should the law pass it could cause Ohio State University to be barred from Big Ten and NCAA competition.

WWJ Detroit Sets Sales Record

SALES at WWJ Detroit during 1956 exceeded the 1955 total by 35.2% and set a new record in history of the station, Robert J. McIntosh, station manager, said. Mr. McIntosh said he anticipated 1957 billings to equal or exceed the 1956 record.

Texas Telecasting Inc. Begins Operation of Ch. 4 KBST-TV

TEXAS Telecasting Inc., Lubbock, Tex., assumed operation of ch. 4 KBST-TV Big Spring last Saturday under a five year lease.

The company owns and operates KDUB-AM-TV Lubbock and KPAR-TV Sweetwater, also in Texas.

Under operation plans, all three television stations are affiliated with CBS-TV. The station in Lubbock serves as anchor for the three, which are inter-connected.
Congratulations—Ed Petry!

WIND Announces Sponsors

For 1957 Chicago Cub Games

SPONSORS for WIND Chicago's coverage of the 1957 Cubs baseball schedule was reported by the Westinghouse station last week.

Actual play-by-play will be co-sponsored by Pabst Brewing Co., through Leo Burnett Co.; Oklahoma Oil and Perfect Power (Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey), Maryland Adv. Agency; General Finance Co., Gordon Best Co. and Sidney Smith Enterprises (Peter Pan and Richards Drive-In restaurants), through W. B. Doner & Co. Broadcast adjacencies have been purchased by Banner Tire Div., of General Tire & Rubber Co., through D'Arcy Adv. Co.; Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Chicago, McCann-Erickson Inc.; Z. Frank Chevrolet, Doner agency, and Chicago's Last Dept. Store, Robert Platt agency.

Plans have not been completed for the Cubs Midwest Baseball Network but regional feeds are expected to include some 25 to 30 stations.

Jim Shott, WHIS Owner, Dies

Mr. Shott served as state Republican chairman from 1944 to 1948 and state finance chairman from 1954 to 1956. One of two sons of the late Hugh Ike Shott, former congressman and United States senator from West Virginia, Mr. Shott became president of the Daily Telegraph Printing Corp. when his father died in 1953.

He is survived by his wife, Martha Easley Shott; five sons, a sister and a brother.

WFIE-TV Issues Rate Card

WFIE-TV Evansville, Ind. (ch. 62), recently authorized to begin operation on ch. 14, uhf, has issued a new rate card (No. 7) effective Feb. 1, announced Promotion Manager Ed Yalowitz. On the new rate card one hour Class AA time will be $400, he said.

PERSISTENCE Rewarded

WORL. Boston may have started a hit record on its way to fame—in spite of itself.

Norm Tulin, WORL disc jockey, tried hard to discourage the Melody Macs, a young singing group, when they brought him a record they had cut, telling them that the station couldn't use a home-cut record. Instead of being discouraged, the group had 3,000 copies cut professionally. Mr. Tulin finally gave in and spun both sides, "Lovelight in the Starlight" and "Apple Blossom Lane."

The resulting music was notable more for its flats than its sharpness. Listeners called in amazement to find out what it was. But publicity pays off. Other DJ's in Boston picked up the record, and Bob and Ray featured it on their Mutual show. Music stores started getting requests, and record companies started bidding for the disc. ABC-Paramount finally got the master for $1250. This for a record the group couldn't give away the month before.

The record has been pressed, and is being distributed nationally. And the Melody Macs (Xena, George, Agnes, and Madeline Macattich) may have a hit on their hands.

WRAJ Anna, Ill., Goes on Air

THE TOWN of Anna, Ill., and Union County now have their first radio station, WRAJ, which went on the air Jan. 10. Formal opening ceremonies for the 300 w, 1440 kc station were held Jan. 27 at the studios in the Anna Hotel. Local news and farm programming from 6 a.m. to local sunset highlight the new station's activities.

Manager of WRAJ is Robert P. Joseph, formerly on the staff of WGBS Miami and of WHOP Hopkinsville, Ill. The station is owned by Pierce E. and F. Ernest Lackey.

WGTO Has Record Sales Month

WGTO Haines City, Fla., signed $160, 436.55 worth of new and renewed business in December 1956, for its top sales month since it went into regional radio operation 16 months ago.

The station's three sales representatives, G. Max Kimbrel, W. H. Fritts and Louis C. Candedo, turned in an average of $6,500 each working day during the month, topping by more than $60,000 the hoped-for goal of $100,000 in signed business.

Rep. John McCormack Lauds WNAC-TV on House Floor

HOUSE Majority Leader John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) took the floor of the House of Representatives Jan. 30 to commend WNAC-TV Boston, Vice President-General Manager Norman Knight, station license RKO-General Teleradio Pictures Inc. and President Thomas F. O'Neil for the station's public service film, Suffer the Little Children.

The half-hour film was shot in Vienna by a three-man team sent by the station to cover the refugee situation there. It will be followed next month by an hour film, Weltschmerz. Producer-director H. Jeff Forbes, cameraman Edward Gilman and songwriter Frank Luther, film narrator, were mentioned in the McCormack speech, for their work in Austria (in cooperation with CARE), as were executive producer James Pike and writer Kenneth Macaskill, WNAC-TV staffers who prepared the show.

STATION PEOPLE

Jerry Danford, formerly national account executive, Radio Adv. Bureau, N. Y., named eastern sales manager for KWK Inc. (KWK-AM-TV St. Louis and WGTO Haines City, Fla.).

James F. Jae Jr., regional sales manager, KLIX Jefferson City, Mo., named assistant general manager.

A TOAST TO PETRY

You're the bubbles in our champagne!

It's the bubbles that make champagne something extra special...something more than just fine wine.

Representation by Petry has given KMTV that important "extra"—a better service to our national accounts. Coupled with the biggest TV coverage in a giant 2 1/2 billion dollar market area, it has meant a year 'round ranking among the nation's top 20 TV stations in national spot accounts.

Our sincere thanks and best wishes, Ed, on the 25th Anniversary of your organization.

CLOSED CIRCUIT TV URGED FOR SCHOOLS

- California educator gives views
- Sees relief in teacher shortage

EXPERIMENTATION with closed circuit television in the public school system as a means of relieving the critical teacher shortage in the country was recommended last week by Dr. Alexander J. Stoddard, educator who retired last year as superintendent of schools in Los Angeles.

Dr. Stoddard's proposal was contained in a report, "Helping Our Schools For Tomorrow: An Educator's Blueprint," prepared for The Fund for the Advancement of Education, an independent organization established by The Ford Foundation. The report was based on studies by Dr. Stoddard and on interviews with more than 1,000 persons in 72 communities last year.

Dr. Stoddard said the universal incorporation of television in the country's public schools could conceivably bring a saving of 100,000 teaching positions and more than $500 million in teaching salaries. He acknowledged that the schools must learn how to use tv most effectively, and suggested that experiment be conducted to determine:

(1) Whether there is a practical way to incorporate television into the school program so as to substitute for and lessen what the regular teacher must do, thus enabling her to do the remainder of her work better;

(2) Which phases and types of learning experience lend themselves best to the television medium of presentation and (3) Whether a high level of teaching efficiency can be attained with fewer trained teachers than are involved in the usual school organization.

As a possible plan for the elementary school level, Dr. Stoddard offered the following: For part of the day, half of the children in a class could be learning from regular teachers such subjects as English, reading, writing, arithmetic and social studies, while the other half would be participating in class experiences in a "resource room," utilizing television programs and any other aids to instructions. After lunch, the two schedules would be reversed.

Dr. Stoddard reviewed, in his report, the progress that has been made with television on the college level and, to a lesser degree on the high school level. His studies indicated, he said, that "relatively little" television education has been done on the elementary school level, except for the "enrichment, supplementary type."

The possible advantages to schools incorporating a television plan, Dr. Stoddard said, are that teachers, such as art, music, modern languages and many phases of regular subjects, can be taught by specialists in these fields at time not usually available in the normal classroom organization; some teaching positions obviously can be absorbed in this way, though demonstration is required to determine the number and the savings involved could be earmarked for teacher raises or employment of teacher aides.

Also, he said, fewer classrooms required would make possible, without added cost, the construction of various-sized rooms for special subject areas and also provide for television facilities.

Dr. Stoddard conceded there are "real roadblocks" that must be overcome to bring about the general use of television in the school program and listed the problems of cost and budgeting; of adapting present buildings and other physical facilities not planned with television in mind; of planning for the place of television in the school program, and of finding and training skillful television teachers.

WTHS-TV SOUNDS SOS PLEA

THE two-year saga of educational ch. 2 WTHS-TV Miami, Fla., can be summed up in one word, according to Vernon Bronson, assistant director of radio and television for the Dade County Board of Public Instruction: Exhaustion.

Unless a proper budget and staff can be set up for the new 1957-58 school year, Mr. Bronson has told his superiors, WTHS-TV will have to go dark June 15 and remain off the air.

WTHS-TV began operating on reserved ch. 2 Miami in August 1955, with an estimated $300,000 capital investment ($100,000 from the Fund for Adult Education and donated equipment). It operates with 10 kw from a 300 ft. tower. Studios and transmitting equipment are housed in the new jam-packed WTHS (FM) quarters. Staff comprises eight school personnel who work overtime and on weekends, plus 18 volunteers. WTHS-TV operates 4-5 hours daily, with one-third of its program fare from the Educational Television & Radio Center, Ann Arbor, and the other two-thirds local live and film programs secured from outside sources. The school board also operates WTHS (FM).

Not only are the personnel of WTHS-TV, physically exhausted by the overwork entailed in doing their regular school work plus the activities with WTHS-TV, but even tube replacement stocks have been utterly depleted, Mr. Bronson declared.

"If our present staff and the director can hold up physically, and we can keep our present supply of volunteers and conscience to get emergency help from WTVJ (WTVJ [TV], ch. 4 Miami), we will be able to stay on the air until the end of this current school year, or approximately June 15, 1957," Mr. Bronson said. "At that time, we would normally go off the air for the summer hiatus anyway, but when we do we must notify the FCC, and state the reason, and the exact time of return to the air. During the hiatus we must overhaul our equipment and plan and perfect the program schedules for the new season. But these people cannot go on—they are exhausted physically and otherwise."

For the coming year, Mr. Bronson suggested a budget of $117,800. He wants three engineers, two producer-directors, one film manager-technician, one camera-man-floor manager, one artist, one secretary-script writer-receptionist—total salaries, $41,600 yearly; plus an operations budget of $76,200.

This would permit WTHS-TV to operate six hours daily and amount to about $45 per hour of air time operations. Mr. Bronson said. This comes to $44 per child per year, he added.

At present, WTHS-TV is being run by school personnel on double time and by volunteers, Mr. Bronson observed. The transmitter rent ($1,800), transmitter power and telephone lines ($3,600) and tube replacements are being furnished by WTVJ. There also is a $4,800 bill due to the Educational Television & Radio Center. The school board furnishes administration, housing, lighting, postage, television service, etc., he pointed out.

Also, he said, fewer classrooms required would make possible, without added cost, the construction of various-sized rooms for special subject areas and also provide for television facilities.

Dr. Stoddard conceded there are "real roadblocks" that must be overcome to bring about the general use of television in the school program and listed the problems of cost and budgeting; of adapting present buildings and other physical facilities not planned with television in mind; of planning for the place of television in the school program, and of finding and training skillful television teachers. Dr. Stoddard also has been superintendent of schools in Bronxville, N. Y., Schenectady and Providence. He was for 10 years chairman of the Educational Policy Commission of the National Education Assn.

NBC-TV School Plan Will Begin March 11

THE first regularly scheduled transmission of NBC-TV originated and produced programming to 25 non-commercial tv outlets, announced as part of the network's educational tv project [B&T, Dec. 17, 1956, et seq.] has been set for March 11. At that time the network will feed on its regular transmission facilities five separate programs dealing with mathematics, government, literature, music and economics, which will in turn be picked up on local loops especially provided for by Educational Television & Radio Center at Ann Arbor, Mich. These loops, operating from 6:30-7 p.m. (EST) Mon.-Fri., will connect the NBC-TV network line with the educational stations.

NBC named four producers to the staff of David Lowe, recently named overall producer of the project [B&T, Jan. 28]. They are Bric Howard, NBC senior unit manager just connected with the Hallmark Hall of Fame program, who will produce the American government series; William White Parish, NBC supervisor of public service programs and at one time with Wide Wide World, who will take over the contemporary U. S. literature program; Charles Polacheck, associate producer of the NBC Opera Co. and former Voice of Firestone producer, who will produce the music program, and Mrs. Dorothy Culbertson, supervisor of religious programming at NBC Radio, who will supervise the economics program. Mr. Lowe will handle the mathematics series.

RCA ESTABLISHES NEW SCHOLARSHIPS

RCA last week announced a scholarship program for students preparing to teach science and mathematics. A total of 30 colleges and universities is included.

While unique among corporate educational aid programs, the new project actually extends RCA's long-standing scholarship and fellowship program, according to Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, RCA board chairman. He emphasized that eventually some of the students taught by the would-be teachers would become "tomorrow's scientists"—making valuable advances in electronics.

A greater supply of teachers will help attain the goal of increasing the number of engineers and scientists, Gen. Sarnoff said, adding that he is urging RCA's 75,000 employees taking part in local school endeavors to increase their efforts.

Grants of $800 each will be made to 10 specified colleges and universities, and awarded to prospective science and mathematics teachers studying in the sophomore, junior and senior years, with an unrestricted contribution of $500 made to each of seven independent colleges in the group.

Another 10 annual grants of $800 each will go to selected teacher training colleges for science and mathematics students in the junior or senior years, and 10 scholarships of $250 each to freshmen and sophomores in those colleges.

An RCA Educational committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. C. B. Jolliffe, RCA vice president and technical director, conducted a study of science teacher shortages and set up the scholarship in those states showing the most acute need.

Colleges and universities specified: Berea College, Berea, Ky.; Adelphi College, Garden City, N. Y.; Clark College, Atlanta, Ga.; U. of Delaware, Newark, Del.; Goucher College, Baltimore; W. Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, W. Va.; U. of Wyoming, Laramie; Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.; St. Louis U., St. Louis; U. of Rhode Island, Kingston, R. I.; New Jersey State Teachers Colleges at Trenton and Montclair; Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond, Ky.; New York State College For Teachers, Albany; Georgia State College For Women, Milledgeville; Henderson State Teachers College, Arkadelphia, Ark.; Western State Teachers College, Macomb, Ill.; New Mexico Highlands U., Las Vegas; Arizona State College, Flagstaff Ariz., and Western Washington College of Education, Bellingham, Wash.

NEARLY $10 MILLION IN RADIO-TV SPENT IN POLITICAL CAMPAIGNS

- Senate Elections Subcommittee gives $9,907,006 total
- Expenditures made from Sept. 1 to Nov. 6 of last year
- Report based on questionnaires sent 4,000 stations

A TOTAL of $9,907,006 was spent on radio-tv in behalf of political candidates—presidential down through local offices—from Sept. 1 to Nov. 6 last year, the Senate Elections Subcommittee reported yesterday (Sunday).

The subcommittee, which held hearings last fall on political campaign expenditures under the chairmanship of Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn), made its report to the parent Senate Rules & Administration Committee. Other subcommittee members are Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) and Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neib.), the latter dissenting on grounds the labor union picture was not properly presented. Subcommittee counsel was James H. Duffy, with John P. Moore special counsel.

The radio-tv figures in the comprehensive and voluminous report were based on questionnaires to the nation's 4,000 radio and tv stations, answered by about 90% of am and fm stations, 97% of tv stations and all the radio and tv networks.

The report shows by individual and total radio and tv networks and collectively for all stations, as well as total stations state-by-state, the amounts spent in behalf of candidates for President, senator, representative and "all other offices." Expenditures are broken down showing amounts spent for spot time, program time and other charges such as production and pre-emption costs.

Also listed are the amounts of "free time" in minutes given to each type of candidate or one of his supporters by networks and stations. The report did not distinguish between free time given to candidates and to persons supporting candidates.

The document also presents the arguments for and against proposals that networks and stations be required by law to give free time to candidates, as well as broadcasters' criticism of Sec. 315 ("equal political time") of the Communications Act, as presented in testimony before the subcommittee last fall.

Total national estimates for newspaper and periodical political advertising are presented, as well as that for outdoor advertising and other categories of expenditures.

Finally, the document lists contributions of $500 or more by individuals, classifying them according to certain selected industries they represent. Thus, the report lists $500-plus donations by officials of the ten largest radio-tv licensees and similar contributions by executives of the 37 largest advertising agencies, where such contributions have been made.

The committee appended final figures from late replies by 48 radio stations and seven tv stations, which are included in the total figure at the beginning of this story, but are not listed in the tabulations which are the basis for the breakdowns as used hereinafter. These total figures do not break down expenditures as spot, program or production and pre-emption costs except where noted.

Grand total expenditures in radio and tv for all offices were: Democrats $4,120,712, Republicans $5,381,891 and "other" (third party and non-partisan candidates) $315,739. This includes these radio-tv expenditures for the national offices: $1,949,865 (Democrats), $2,739,103 (GOP) and $34,179 (other); for senator $591,031 (Dem.), $788,280 (GOP) and $97,992 (other); for congressman $330,247 (Dem.), $509,552 (GOP) and $3,804 (other); all other offices $1,149,569 (Dem.), $1,344,956 (GOP) and $267,764 (other).

Grand total for radio—networks and stations—was $1,373,924 for Democrats, $1,644,728 for Republicans and $163,744, other. For tv, $2,746,788 for Democrats, $3,737,163 for Republicans and $151,995, other.

In the presidential race Democrats spent $477,305 in radio, $1,472,560 for tv, while Republicans spent $558,352 for radio, $2,180,751 for tv. In senatorial races, Democrats spent $235,902 in radio, $455,129 in tv, while the GOP spent $302,608 in radio, $485,672 in tv. In contests for congressman, Democrats $143,457 in radio, $136,780 in tv; GOP $215,730 in radio, $293,822 in tv. For all other offices Democrats spent $157,250 in radio, $632,319 in tv, while the GOP spent $568,038 in radio, $776,918 in tv.

Network radio grand total for all offices was $176,295 by the Democrats and $144,645 by Republicans (mostly for the national offices). On tv networks, Democrats spent $1,197,441 and Republicans $1,733,073 (also mostly for national office).

Total radio and tv network expenditures were $1,373,736 for Democrats and $1,877,718 for Republicans (again, mostly for national office).

Total free time granted by radio networks was 600 minutes to Democrats, 714 minutes to Republicans and 705 minutes to others (mostly for national office). On tv networks gave 595 minutes to Democrats, 714 minutes to Republicans and 637 minutes to others (mostly national office). Grand total free time given by both radio and tv networks was 1,195 minutes to Democrats, 1,428 minutes to Republicans and 1,342 minutes to others.

ABC Radio totals: Democrats $38,874, Republicans $19,070. ABC-TV: Democrats

HE MOVES FOR CHANGE

LABOR organizations would be prohibited from expending in primaries and election campaigns for presidential, vice presidential, senatorial and congressional offices, under provisions of a bill (HR 3629) introduced last week by Rep. Edgar W. Hiester (R-Calif.). The bill also would increase the legal ceiling for expenditures in a year by a national political committee from the present $3 million to around $12 million.

Because of the last-minute receipt of the Labor Subcommittee report, the legislation did not have time to double-check what appears to be obvious errors in some identifications.

As far as this magazine knows, Robert H. Hinckley is Washington vice president of ABC and has no connection with Westinghouse Broadcasting.

Under another heading, the report lists a William O'Neill of General Tire & Rubber Co. as contributing $5,000 to Republicans. O'Neill owns RKO Telepictures Inc. and Thomas F. O'Neill, president of RKO Teleradio, is the son of William O'Neill, president of General Tire & Rubber Co.

Dear Ed:

I suppose that there comes a time in the relationship between every Station and its Representative when the Station feels an uncontrollable urge to tell its "Rep" just what it thinks of him.

That's what I intend to do...and no holds barred.

Perhaps you think that just because WTAR and WTAR-TV have been with Edward Petry since 1932 that you can count on us being with you indefinitely.

You can!

Perhaps you know that we have been approached by numerous of your competitors. We have listened earnestly and politely to all they have to say and offer. Our answer has always been the same:

"No thank you."

So far as we are concerned, we subscribe to your own advertising slogan and say "VALUE INCREASES WITH TIME".

With sincere congratulations on "our" 25th Anniversary.

Campbell Arnoux, President

P. S. I showed this letter to Bob Lambe. He's suggested that we ought to let the world know just what we think of you. With your permission, we'd like to reproduce this letter in an advertisement, and pay for the ad! I guess that clinches it!

The breakdown of expenditures of all campaign committees which filed reports with the Clerk of the House of Representatives showed direct expenditures of $20,685,387 in behalf of Republican candidates and $11,919,061, including labor committees, for Democratic candidates for the period Sept. 1 to Nov. 30, 1956, the Senate unit reported. Breakdown was:

Radio: Democratic $559,979; Republican $877,230.

Television: Democratic $2,292,228; Republican $3,006,412.

Newspaper and periodical advertising: Democratic $694,923; Republican $1,373,944.

Printing, purchase and distribution of literature: Democratic $1,900,076; Republican $2,187,199.

Outdoor: Democratic $195,507; Republican $393,905.

Other (travel, quarters, salaries and other overhead): Democratic $4,429,179; Republican $7,334,971.

Volume of newspaper advertising from July 1 to Nov. 30, obtained by the subcommittee from Media Records Inc., New York, from a survey of political advertising lineages in 410 newspapers in 129 cities, accounting for 74% of daily newspaper circulation and 90% of Sunday circulation, indicated a total of $4,283,072, Democrats spending $745,453 and Republicans $1,068,510. Of the total, undifferentiated and miscellaneous spending by both parties was $2,469,109.

The report said its radio-tv figures were the most complete ever achieved, due largely to cooperation from the networks and the approximately 500 tv stations and 3,500 am and fm radio stations. It noted that California and Pennsylvania were the leading states in radio-tv expenditures—$457,000 in each state by both parties.

It also was pointed out that while networks reported to the subcommittee as of Oct. 2 that $2,426,000 had been spent for tv and that the two parties anticipated spending an additional total of $2,094,000 for tv, the final reports by networks and stations show that this $2,094,000 total estimate was exceeded by $1,961,000—the Democrats spent an additional $868,000 and the GOP an additional $3,093,000. This shows both parties boosted their tv spending considerably more in the late stages of the campaign, it was said.

The report said total radio-tv expenditures did not show a significant increase in 1956 over 1952 for presidential, senatorial and congressional offices ($7,056,035 total in 1956, $6,062,377 in 1952), but added: "However, as might be expected, there was marked increase in the 1956 television expenditures over 1952, and a significant decrease in 1956 in radio expenditures compared to 1952."

Accompanying figures showed total expenditures of $3,111,049 for radio and $2,951,328 for tv in 1952 and $1,956,625 for radio and $5,099,848 for tv in 1956. It noted the growth and spread in tv stations as one reason for higher tv costs, but said expenses might have been even higher last year had it not been for the increased use of spot programs and announcements of less expense than regular programs, pre-election coordination by networks with political parties to reduce pre-emission costs and advent of the 5-minute program.

The report showed that individual radio stations gave 575 hours of free time to political candidates and individual tv stations 185 hours, while radio networks gave 34 hours and tv networks 32 hours.

The document said witnesses from the four networks and NARTB President Harold Fellows were "practically unanimous" in testimony last fall that Sec. 315 'ought to be repealed or drastically amended.' While Sec. 315 appears to be fair and equitable, its application has created many problems," the report said, citing demands by minority parties.

Proposals by some witnesses for free time were described, along with broadcaster objections to it. It noted that its figures on free time includes that given to persons supporting candidates as well as to candidates themselves. The document also described the dilemma in which the broadcaster is prohibited by the FCC from censoring political speeches, but made liable to libel by many state laws (see story, page 27).

SALE DISSENTERS RECEIVE SETBACKS
- Protests turned down
- Hearing held on KOBY

A WILMINGTON, Del., court last week turned down a minority stockholder who was fighting to upset the sale of a Washington, D.C., radio station. At the same time, the FCC dismissed protests filed by two persons who claimed they had been bilked out of their right to buy a Florida radio and TV station. And, an FCC hearing on the protest of a minority stockholder against the sale of a San Francisco station was completed in one day last week.

* Chancellor Collins J. Seitz, of the Wilmington, Del., court of chancery last week dismissed the complaint of Lawrence M. C. Smith against the sale of WGMS-AM-FM Washington, D.C., to RKO Teleradio Pictures Inc., last year for $400,000. Mr. Smith, 16½% stockholder of WGMS, had brought suit to abrogate the sale on the ground that the station could have been sold for more. He also objected to the five-year management contract with Mr. and Mrs. M. Robert Rogers. The Rogers and Pierson Underwood own 83½% of WGMS.

Judge Seitz held that there was no showing that the sales price was "less than the fair value of the assets sold." He also declared there was no other firm offer that could have been considered by the WGMS board. Mr. Smith had maintained that Nathan Strauss, WMCA New York, had offered more than $400,000 for the station.

Judge Seitz justified the management cons-sulliance contract between RKO and the Rogers as compensation for agreeing not to compete with RKO in the Washington market.

An FCC hearing on Mr. Smith's charges, submitted as a protest following FCC approval of the sale, began two weeks ago and will resume today (Monday). Among those who be heard will be public witnesses who have banded together as "Friends of Good Music." WGMS operated as a good music station in the nation's capital city.

A request that the "Friends of Good Music" be allowed to intervene as a party in the protest hearing, with the right to submit witnesses and cross-examine other witnesses, was denied by Chief Hearing Ex-aminer James D. Cunningham two weeks ago. This ruling was appealed to the FCC.

RKO planned to operate WGMS as its Washington outlet for MBS originations, with WGMS-FM generally continuing the good music policy. Although the purchase was consummated shortly after the FCC's approval last year, RKO was required to return the station to its original owners when Mr. Smith went to federal court and received a stay order against the transaction.

It is understood that the Wilmington court's ruling will be incorporated in the FCC hearing record.

Florida Protests Dismissed
- The FCC dismissed the protests of Theod-ore Granik (American Forum of the Air) and William H. Cook against the sales of WFMJ and WESH-TV Daytona Beach, Fla., by W. Wright Esch. WFMJ was sold in 1955 to Emil Arnold and Harold Kaye; WESH-TV in 1956 to WCOA Inc. (John H. Perry interests). The Commission said that since a Florida court ruled against the claims of Messrs. Granik and Cook they were no longer a party in interest and thus had no standing to protest the sales.

Messrs. Granik and Cook claimed they had a contract with Mr. Esch permitting them to buy the two Daytona Beach stations. But, they claimed, Mr. Esch went ahead and sold them to others. The Florida circuit court held that the two men had no stake in the facilities.

- A hearing on the protest of Milton Stern—claiming to be a minority stockholder because he and others responded to an appeal for funds to keep KEAR San Francisco going as a good music station—against the FCC's approval of the sale of that station to Mid-America Broadcasting Co. (David M. Segal) opened and closed in one day last week.

Mr. Stern claimed that the station should have been sold to another group. Frank V. DeBellis, former station director, testified that he was among a group which tried to buy the station and maintain it as a good music station. KEAR (now KOBY) was sold by S. A. Citron & Co. to Segal for $500,000 last year. Mid-America also owns KOSI Aurora-Denver, Colo., and WGVM Green- ville, Miss.

Senate Group to Hear FCC on TV Allocations

THE FCC will go before the Senate Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee at 10 a.m. March 5 to explain the "progress" it has made and "its expectations as to future developments in the allocations field."

Announcement that tv hearings would be resumed on that date was made last Tuesday by committee Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.), who said he felt it important that the FCC advise the committee of its progress and expectations in tv allocations.

Sen. Magnuson noted that members of the committee or staff may well have questions in "other related fields." In announcing resumption of hearings, he drew attention to the committee's interim report, issued last July 23, in which the Senate group said:

"That it will follow very closely the Commission's progress toward achievement of both its interim and long range proposals and that it would call for periodic reports as to such progress."

The interim report [BT, July 16, 1956] generally supported the FCC's plan offered in late June [BT, July 2, 1956] for studying the feasibility of a long-range move of all tv to uhf, research on improving uhf equipment, stimulation of manufacture of all-channel sets through tax relief and intermediate selective deintermixture and other proposals.

FCC Grants Cp's for Stations
In Casper, Wyo., Florence, Ala.

CONSTRUCTION permits for a new uhf station in Casper, Wyo., and a uhf in Florence, Ala., were awarded by the FCC last week. The Casper grant had been recommended earlier in an initial decision, after the only competing applicant dropped out [BT, Jan. 21].

Donald Lewis Hathaway, owner of KSPR Casper, received the grant for ch. 6 there. He will operate with 12.9 kw visual power and spend approximately $147,375 on construction.

Florence ch. 41, went to Television Music Shoals Inc. The new station, to cost about $76,376 to construct, will use 15.8 kw visual power. Richard B. Biddle, controlling stockholder of WOWL Florence and 25% owner of WQAD Gadsden, Ala., owns 25% of Television Music Shoals. Also 25% owner is Radio Music Shoals, applicant for a new arm in Huntsville, Ala., and owned by WOWL-WQAD principals. Other stockholders are Alabama businessmen.

Fort Worth, Tulare Sales Receive Approval of FCC

AMONG station transfers approved by the FCC last week were the purchases of KNOK Forth Worth by John W. Kluge and KVVG (TV) Tulare, Calif., by James Stacy, independent film producer.

Mr. Kluge purchased KNOK from Associated Broadcasters Inc. (John J. Flood Jr., president) for $220,000. The daytime oper- erates on 970 kc with 1 kw. Mr. Kluge is president-majority stockholder of KXLLW St. Louis, WILY Pittsburgh, WKDA Nashville and WAGY Silver Spring, Md. He also owns 37% of WLOF Orlando, Fla., which he has contracted to sell to 15% owner, Harris H. Thomson, and 37% of Mid-Flor- ida TV Corp., applicant for ch. 9 in Orlando.

Ch. 27 KVVG was purchased by Mr. Stacy from equal owners Joseph J. Just- mann and M. B. Scott for $10,000 plus the assumption of approximately $300,000 in liabilities.

For other sale approvals, see FOR THE RECORD, Page 124.

Vhf Tax Boost Urged To Bring Uhf Equality

UHF operator Edward Breen, KQTV (TV) Fort Dodge, Iowa (ch. 21)—noting that the Treasury Dept. opposes the removal of the 10% federal manufacturer's excise tax from all-channel tv sets—has proposed that the tax on vhf-only sets be increased to 20% as "an easier way of obtaining a tax advantage for all-channel sets."

In a letter to fellow uhf broadcasters, Mr. Breen, president-general manager of KQTV, said, "With Congress facing the biggest peacetime budget in history it would appear that we are not going to be able to sell that tax reduction. The Treasury has come out firmly against it."

"So let's work with them."

Mr. Breen said he had written his congressmen and both Iowa's senators and asked other uhf broadcasters to write theirs. "I already have the promise of support."

Rep. Merwin Cord (D-Iowa), who represents Iowa's 6th District in which KQTV is located, said he had received a request for help from Mr. Breen. He is studying "considerable material" on the proposal but has taken no action. He said he had discussed the problem with Mr. Breen and is studying a group of new items, tax bills and other material but any action is in the "preparatory stage," although he added that the FCC has issued a declaration of policy stating that something must be done to save uhf.

Spokesmen for Iowa Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R) and Thomas E. Martin (R) said they had received Mr. Breen's requests, but have taken no action, Sen. Hickenlooper's office noting that tax bills customarily originate in the House.

Whitney Nominated for Post

JOHN HAY (Jock) WHITNEY, financier and owner of broadcast stations, was formally nominated Tuesday as Ambassador to Great Britain. President Eisenhower had earlier indicated the appointment would be made [BT, Dec. 31, 1956]. Mr. Whitney is to succeed Winthrop W. Aldrich, resigned. The Whitney interests last year paid $10 million for WISH-AM-TV Indianapolis and WANE-WINT (TV) Fort Wayne-Waterloo, Ind. They own 90% of KQTV-Valleyston-Houston and of KOTV (TV) Tulsa, as well as a number of community antenna systems in the Midwest. Mr. Whitney is a brother-in-law of William S. Paley, CBS board chairman.

CBS Again Rebutts KTTV Charges Made Before Senate Committee

CBS told the Senate Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee last week that Richard A. Moore's refutation of CBS President Frank Stanton's testimony (which was a rebuttal of Mr. Moore's original charges that tv network practices conduce to monopoly) is erroneous.

The network filed two documents with the Senate committee last week. One was a 27-page point-by-point rejoinder to Mr. Moore's most recent charges [B+T, Jan. 28]. The other was a reply memorandum of law in answer to Mr. Moore's reply memorandum of law on the antitrust aspects of option time and must buy practices.

Mr. Moore is president-general manager of independent ch. 11 KTTV (TV) Los Angeles. He made his attack on tv network practices—particularly option time and must buys—last March in an appearance before the Senate committee.

Mr. Stanton, who appeared before the Senate investigators last June, rebutted Mr. Moore's charges. Mr. Moore's committee on Mr. Stanton's testimony were supplied to the Senate group last fall.

In its counter rebuttal to Mr. Moore's refutations, CBS made these points among others:

- That KTTV erred in making some of its points, that it misquoted or misapplied some of CBS' answers.
- That KTTV's allegations of network "straddling" practices were erroneous since stations have the right to refuse programs which run past option time. Straddling, according to Mr. Moore, is a network practice where a program begins in option time but continues past that period. This extends network time on an affiliate beyond the agreed-on time, according to Mr. Moore.
- That KTTV's charge that syndicated film producers were cutting back on programs because networks were pre-compressing good station time was "erroneous or at the least misleading."

Contracts With Screen Gems

According to CBS, KTTV claimed Screen Gems was dropping three shows formerly produced for network broadcast; in fact, CBS said one is still on CBS-TV network and the other two are still being syndicated. CBS also said that Screen Gems recently announced it intends to produce 18 new film series.

KTTV said Guild Films produced or offered no new programs for syndication during 1956, CBS said. This is incorrect, CBS stated. Guild Films is offering two new shows currently, Capt. David Grief and Kingdom of the Sea.

KTTV said National Television Associates is presently offering only one new series, CBS said. This is wrong, the network said; NTA is offering three new film series, Sheriff of Cochise, Lili Palmer Theatre and Combat Sergeant. NTA recently announced, CBS said, that it intends to produce 10 new series.

KTTV claimed that Televeision Programs of America said it was producing or offering other programs for syndication. This is in error, CBS averred. It is currently offering Hawkeye and the Last of the Mohicans, and has announced plans to produce five new film series.

Hal Roach planned a 1956 series called Blondie which was, according to KTTV, abandoned, CBS asserted. "KTTV thus implies that it was abandoned because of time clearance problems," CBS said. The network declared that of the 12 markets where CBS Television Spot Sales then represented stations, nine offered time, two were not on the advertisers' lists and only one did not offer availabilities. Actually, CBS said, the advertisers (Wesson and Sunblast) could not come to terms with Hal Roach.

The implication made by KTTV that Ziv is ceasing to produce programs for syndication, CBS said, is contradicted by the Ziv announcement that it intends to produce 10 new series. This also goes for Official Films, CBS said; it has announced its plans to produce two new series.

Error Charged

KTTV's claim that CBS Television Film Sales Inc. released no syndicated programs in 1956 is in error, CBS declared. CBS-TV Film released four film series for syndication and one for national spot in 1956. Two new series have already been released in 1957 and others are being planned.

CBS said that there were 16 new syndicated series released in 1956 compared to 15 in 1955 and that the total half-hour series syndicated in 1956 totaled 240 compared to 170 in 1955. CBS also said KTTV did not include other companies in the syndication field. It added that Gross-Krasne has reportedly sold O Henry Playhouse in 65 markets for more than $1 million; that Walter Schrimer reported a 40-market sale of the Eddie Arnold Show and the release early this year of All Star Golf (36 shows for $600,000 investment); that MCA-TV's State Trooper was sold recently in five markets to one advertiser with 100% Class A time clearance and in 71 other markets to another advertiser, with 91% Class A time clearance; and that Minot TV produced The Tracer which premiered in the New York market last October. CBS mentioned that RKO Tel eradio has announced three new properties for syndication: Aggie, Sailors of Fortune and The Big Idea.

CBS concluded this refutation of the attack with these words:

"This brief recital of facts belies the alleged 'sad state of television film syndication brought about by the effects of option time.' Furthermore KTTV has overlooked a number of factors which might cause a partic-

FCC HEAD EXPLAINS MIAMI CH. 10 CASE
- Says CAB didn't intervene
- Monroney, Bible hit back

THREE members of the Senate Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee's Aviation Subcommittee received an answer last week from FCC Chairman George C. McConnaughey to their letter regarding the possible grant of ch. 10 in Miami, Fla., to a subsidiary of National Airlines.

In a letter to Subcommittee Chairman A. S. (Mike) Monroney (D-Okl.), Mr. McConnaughey stated that the Commission had not sought an opinion from the Civil Aeronautics Board on the question of whether or not a tv grant should be made to an airline or its subsidiary. He also said the board had not attempted to intervene in the proceeding and that the FCC did not think it would be appropriate for the Commission, prior to the issuance of a decision in the case, to indicate its views as to whether such questions have been properly raised on the record.

Original Grant Queried
Sen. Monroney originally questioned a possible grant to Public Service Inc., National subsidiary, in a letter dated Dec. 28, 1956, because certificated airlines "are granted guarantees of a fair return on their investment," and asked that the FCC defer action on the case. Mr. McConnaughey's answer to this letter was unsatisfactory to Sens. Monroney, Alan Bible (D-Neve.) and Frederick G. Payne (R-Me.), subcommittee members. They promptly wrote a second letter to the FCC chairman. Mr. McConnaughey's answer. dated Jan. 30:

Dear Sen. Monroney:

This is with further reference to your letter of Dec. 28, 1956, and will acknowledge your letter of Jan. 22, 1957, concerning the possible grant of television licenses to a certificated airline or its wholly owned subsidiary. In these letters you raise questions with respect to the impact of such a grant upon aviation policy matters over which the Aviation Subcommittee of the Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee has cognizance. You request information as to "(1) whether the matter of public policy has been considered by the Commission as to such ownership, and (2) whether the advice or an opinion, was asked of the Civil Aeronautics Board as to the effect of such ownership upon certificated airlines."

As you have indicated, the only instance in which the Commission has been called upon to consider an application for a television license by a certificated airline or its subsidiary is with respect to the application of Public Service Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of National Airlines, for ch. 10 in Miami, Fla. The issues which have been designated for hearing in the proceeding make no specific reference to the policy question discussed in your letters. None of the parties to the proceeding has ever sought to enlarge the issues to encompass this question. The Commission has not sought an opinion from the Civil Aeronautics Board on this question, nor has the board attempted to intervene in the proceeding to state any position with respect to the matter.

It is our understanding, however, that certain questions have been raised by some of the parties during the course of the Miami proceeding as to the appropriateness of a subsidiary of a certificated airline becoming a licensee of a television station. However, since this matter is now pending before the Commission in its adjudicatory capacity, we do not think it would be appropriate for the Commission prior to the issuance of a decision in the case to indicate its view as to whether such questions have been properly raised on the record or, to the extent they may have been, their scope, relevance or ultimate disposition.

Apparent Winner of Boston V
Challenged by Rival Newspaper
CHARGING the Boston Herald-Traveler with unfair business practices, the Globe Newspaper Co., publisher of Boston Globe, last week petitioned the FCC for permission to intervene in the Boston ch. 5 case. The Boston hearing was closed February 1955 and an initial decision favoring Greater Boston Tv Corp. was issued in January 1956. The Herald-Traveler is one of four applicants for the channel and reportedly has received a 4-1 vote of approval by the Commission [BT, Jan. 21] but announcement of this decision has not been made public. Other applicants for the vhf channel are Massachusetts Bay Telecasters Inc. and Allen B. DuMont Labs. A fifth applicant, (Boston) Post Publishing Co., is no longer an applicant.

Globe charged the Herald-Traveler with using its WHDH to give it an unfair advantage as a newspaper by "persistent efforts to eliminate the competitive situation now existing in the newspaper field in Boston"; threats against Globe that if the Herald-Traveler secured ch. 5 in Boston, it (Herald-Traveler) would use same "to injure the Globe" and "drive you (the Globe) out of business," and attempts by the Herald-Traveler to upset loan agreements secured by the Globe, thereby attempting to force a merger and eliminate the present competitive newspaper situation in Boston.

The petition stated that with the demise of the Boston Post, the Globe papers and Herald-Traveler papers are the only two Boston papers which compete directly with each other. The Globe's morning and evening circulation is 385,000 with a Sunday circulation of 440,000, compared to the Herald-Traveler's 400,000 daily circulation and 305,000 Sunday, the petition stated.

Davis Taylor president of the Globe, stated that Robert Choate, publisher of the Herald-Traveler, has repeatedly tried to affect a merger between the papers and stated that "if I get ch. 5 I may drive you out of business."

Army Names Maj. Cranston
Radio-Tv Chief in PIO Division

NEW CHIEF of the Army's radio-television branch of its public information division is Maj. Robert Cranston, appointed Jan. 25 to replace Maj. Thomas B. Clagett, who has been reassigned to Oslo, Norway, for duty with NATO's Northern Command headquarters.

Maj. Cranston, a 16-year Army vet eran who has served 12 years working in radio and tv activities, was the first Army officer to be designated television officer in the information field. He is again headquartered in the Pentagon, his second tour of duty there.

In his new post Maj. Cranston will direct all Army radio and tv activities and supervise its weekly tv series The Big Picture. Son of George Cranston, general manager of WBAP-AM-TV Fort Worth, Tex., he is married and has three daughters.

C-C Hoped for Tax Write-offs
Of $3.4 Million in Bitter Buy

CROWELL-COLLIER hoped to realize $3-400,000 through tax write-offs if it could have purchased Consolidated Television & Radio Broadcasters Inc. [Bitter stations] for $16 million.

That is what Edward Elliot, senior partner of Elliot & Co., New York brokerage, told the Securities and Exchange Commission in testimony last week. Before establishing his own brokerage firm, Mr. Elliot was chairman of the finance committee of C-C.

That amount, together with an anticipated $6 million profit from book-selling, would have enabled the publishing firm to continue putting out its two magazines, Collier's and Woman's Home Companion. Both suspended publication late last year after the deal for the Bitter properties fell through [BT, Nov. 26, 1956].

Mr. Elliot told the SEC that the publishing house, under the direction of President Paul C. Smith, sought to diversify its interests. Mr. Smith, through this policy, had created a climate of confidence, Mr. Elliot testified.

SEC is examining the private sale of $4 million in C-C debentures in an effort to learn if such sales were in violation of regulations since they had not been registered with the commission.

Mr. Elliot testified that the plans organized under the direction of Mr. Smith underscored a bright future for the company. National figures were informed of the de-

Lee Adresses Meeting On Crowded Spectrum

FCC COMR. Robert E. Lee told a group of non-broadcast radio users that a plan of geographical allocations (vs. block usage) might be the long-awaited answer to their burgeoning demands for more spectrum space. At present the FCC allocates blocks of frequencies for each individual service.

In a speech last week to the Special Industrial Radio Service Assn. convention in Hollywood Beach, Fla., Mr. Lee referred to the scheduled April 1 hearing on allocations above 890 mc as indicating FCC concern with the crowded spectrum. He said the question of an allocation study of assignments below 890 mc was being pondered, but whether this would be undertaken or not was still uncertain.

"There is considerable discussion of such a move within and without the Commission," Mr. Lee said. "The examination of the more crowded spectrum below 890 mc presents an extremely difficult administrative problem. While this should be no excuse, I hope that all who appreciate the limitations of our overburdened staff which, as a practical matter, must be given great weight . . ."

Although the geographical assignments of frequencies would raise problems (need more funds, more personnel), Mr. Lee said he favored such a move. "I am finding it increasingly difficult to explain why a steel company in a large community, desperate for additional frequency space, cannot use a frequency assigned, let us say, to the forest service in an area where there are no trees."

Among other methods which Mr. Lee favored in order to ameliorate the tight frequency problem of non-broadcast users were (1) narrowing channel widths; (2) moving certain services to higher bands and (3) more use of shared channels.

Triangle Seeks FCC Permit For Tv Experimental Station

REQUEST for authority to construct and operate a tv experimental station has been filed with the FCC by the radio-tv division of Triangle Publications Inc. Triangle proposes to spend $60,000 to build the station in Johnstown, Pa., using ch. 10, 150 watts and a tower not to exceed 100 ft. above ground to rebroadcast the signal of Triangle's ch. 10 WFBG-TV Altoona, Pa.

Johnstown is 28 miles from Altoona, normally within the Grade A contour of WFBG-TV, but most areas of the city cannot receive the station because of the rough terrain, according to Triangle. With the experimental station, Triangle hopes to prove "the feasibility and reliability of vhf co-channel amplifying transmitters, particularly when used to remedy coverage deficiencies within a station's Grade A contour," the application stated.

Johnstown stations now on the air include ch. 6 WJAC-TV and ch. 56 WARD-TV. Triangle also owns WFIL-AM-FM-TV Philadelphia, WNBF-AM-TV Binghamton, N. Y., WNH-C-AM-FM-TV New Haven, Conn., 50% of WHGB Harrisburg, Pa., WFBG Altoona and its purchase of new dark WLBR-TV Lebanon, Pa., is the subject of a protest hearing.

Hearing Set on Phoenix Grant; Poole Claims Contract Breach

FCC last week ordered a hearing on the charges that the owners of KEUQ Phoenix, Ariz. (1 kw on 740 kc), breached a contract with John Poole Broadcasting Co. [B+T, Jan. 7]. The Commission also stayed the Dec. 1956 grant to KEUQ.

John Poole Broadcasting Co. alleged that it was ready to file an application for the same Phoenix facilities late last fall but did not do so when an agreement was reached with KEUQ principals. Poole claimed this was never honored after the FCC granted the KEUQ application.

The Commission ordered the hearing into the facts of the alleged agreement, the character and financial qualifications of KEUQ,

Antitrust Group Gets Figures From ASCAP

ASCAP credits for copyrighted music performances on radio in 1955 accounted for 84.05% of performances in 1955 and 89.64% of performances on television, according to information furnished the House Antitrust Subcommittee last week by Herman Finkelstein, representing ASCAP.

The non-ASCAP proportion of credits, excluding works in the public domain, for radio was 15.95% and for TV 10.36%, Mr. Finkelstein reported, replying to a request by Sam Pierce Jr., associate counsel for the subcommittee. The House group, which held hearings in Washington and New York last year on alleged monopoly among the TV networks, plans to issue a report during the latter part of this month.

Also entered in the record was material from Rosenman, Goldmark, Colin & Kaye, representing BMI—accused by ASCAP witnesses last September of working to keep ASCAP music off the air to the benefit of BMI performances.

Noting the ASCAP witnesses, Stanley Adams and Jack Lawrence, were not under oath at the September hearings by the House unit, RGCK said they since have testified in a federal court in New York in the Songwriters of America suit against BMI—and have changed their tunes.

Transcripts Submitted

Transcripts of testimony by Messrs. Adams and Lawrence were submitted to support RGCK's contention that the two would not confirm under oath in court the statements they made to the House subcommittee, headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.).

The testimony indicated Mr. Adams was unable to cite any instances of discrimination by BMI and broadcasters against ASCAP music. Mr. Lawrence was unable to name any publisher who played favorites against ASCAP and said he could name no ASCAP members who have "lost their touch" in selling their songs since the advent of BMI.

Mr. Lawrence also was unable to verify in his court testimony the dates and occasions when an "electronic curtain" had been drawn against ASCAP music. He could not cite any evidence that BMI had undergone a "money buildup," the testimony transcript indicated.

He also refused to verify statements made before the Celler subcommittee that RCA and CBS Records "controlled" such artists as Perry Como, saying his earlier statements were only opinions.

RGCK also presented several court opinions to support their stand that BMI's structure does not violate antitrust laws, and is not illegal per se, as they said has been claimed by ASCAP counsel.

RGCK presented figures on 1955 performances comparable to those submitted by Mr. Finkelstein and claimed that BMI music is played less by broadcasters than on juke boxes and private records.

Defense Dept. Bans Servicemen From Commercial Radio-Video

MEMBERS of the Armed Forces are not to make commercially sponsored radio-tv appearances, according to a Dept. of Defense release which reiterates the department's policy of non-competing with civilian employment.

Pentagon approval is required for all appearances on national programs, except for individual appearances on audience participation shows.

Exceptions are as follows: a program observing a national holiday or dedicated to the Armed Forces; a program originating from a military location; a program which contributes to the services or the nation; informative programs.

Requests for approval should be submitted to Robert Tripp Ross, Assistant Secretary of Defense.

Radio-Tv Coverage Granted For Mayland Senate, House

RADIO and television have been given coverage rights to sessions of the Maryland Senate and House of Delegates. Under an amended rule (S Rule 85), admission to the floor is permitted "of a reasonable number of representatives of radio and television broadcasting stations (together with necessary equipment) as determined by the president."

The step was taken after the Maryland-

D. C. Radio & Tv Assn., of which Joseph L. Brechner, WGAY Silver Spring, Md., is chairman, had asked equal rights with other media in covering legislative sessions. Sen. Louis L. Goldstein, president of the Senate, notified Mr. Brechner of the action.

FCC Dismisses NABET Petition Against Dunkirk Buy of WFCB

FCC last week dismissed a petition by the National Assn. of Broadcast Employees & Technicians to intervene in the sale of WFCB Dunkirk, N. Y., by Dunkirk Broadcasting Co. (A. A. Schmidt) to James Broadcasting Co. (WJTN-AM-FM Jamestown, N. Y.) for $51,102.

The petition charged that Dunkirk had refused to bargain collectively with NABET and that the primary service area of WJTN and WFCB would overlap. NABET asked that it be made a party in interest and that Commission approval of the sale (granted Dec. 5, 1956) be stayed until Dunkirk agreed to bargain and enter into a written collective bargaining agreement. WFCB has been off the air since Oct. 15, 1956, because of a strike by the station's employees.

The Commission ruled that NABET had failed to show that the transfer would adversely affect it or cause it to be aggrieved, that the Commission was not an appropriate forum for the private labor controversy between WFCB and NABET and that there is no overlap between 2 mv/m service contours of the two stations.

AFM Local President Sees Solution to Battle

POSSIBILITY that the battle between the American Federation of Musicians national organization and the members of AFM Local 47 in Hollywood over the disposition of record royalty fees and film re-use payments may be resolved within the federation rather than in the courts was raised Monday by Elliot Daniel at his installation as president of the Hollywood local.

"We believe that our problems can be solved within the framework of the federation and we intend to offer our full cooperation to that end," Mr. Daniel told the local's membership, reminding them that a similar offer of cooperation with the local has already been made by national officers.

Mr. Daniel and his fellow officers, who were elected in December for two-year terms [B&T Dec. 24, 1956], represent the local's rebellious element, who have resisted the trust fund payment policy both within the AFM and in the courts [B&T Nov. 26, 1956, et seq].

He said "that the concept of a residual right has been firmly established in the industry," has been recognized by AFM in extra fees to performing musicians when music from one medium is used in another.

"AFTRA has secured residual rights for its members, based not on a right that stems from common law but negotiated by them through contracts," Mr. Daniel said.
Charles Wright New Partner In A.D. Ring & Assoc. Firm

NEW PARTNER in the firm of A.D. Ring & Assoc., consulting radio engineers in Washington, D.C., is Charles S. Wright, a member of the company since July, 1948. The promotion was effective Jan. 1.

With the firm Mr. Wright has participated in the planning and designing of standard broadcast, frequency modulation and television broadcasting facilities in the United States, and of U.S.-sponsored medium wave and short wave facilities overseas.

He has designed, adjusted and conducted “proofs of performance” of many critical directional antenna systems, both in this country and abroad, and also has conducted many field intensity surveys on fm and tv stations.

Mr. Wright is a registered professional engineer in the District of Columbia, and is a senior member of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Phil Dean Assoc. Affiliation With Swift Assoc. Announced

AFFILIATION of Phil Dean Assoc., New York public relations firm serving various radio-tv stations, with the newly-organized industrial advertising-publicity office of Thomas P. Swift Assoc., was announced last week by the two major principals. Although under one roof—6 E. 39th St., New York 16—the two offices will retain their present corporate names.

The expanded operation will offer clients servicing in all phases of general public relations—tv, radio, industrial, financial, stockholder relations and advertising.

Mr. Dean, former NBC exploitation director and publicity head of WRCA-AM-TV New York, formed his own organization three years ago. Mr. Swift, former New York Times financial news writer had been with Bozell & Jacobs Inc., New York, as financial public relations director since 1955.

BETTER
PROGRAMMING

Russell W. Holcomb, Mgr. of WCEN, Mount Pleasant, Michigan writes:

"SESAC provides the balance for our music programming that is needed to complete our "sound". WCEN programs music to bring "recall" to its audience more than "escape". Consequently, old favorites are much needed in our library along with recent popular releases.

"But the other facet of balanced music programming is novelty, as well as country and serious music. It's here that SESAC serves WCEN best: the "C" section is wonderful for our serious segments...the other sections give me the novelty and country music I need to complete my library.

"It seems to me the radio listener, without always knowing it, "feels" more friendliness, companionship and appreciation for, say, a musical afternoon, if SESAC is the balancing factor."

KGGF DIALS ITS SPOTS

A NEW WRINKLE in station automation by the do-it-yourself method has been devised by Don V. R. Drenner, of the engineering staff of KGGF Coffeyville, Kan. Mr. Drenner has constructed a tape recorder machine, operated by push-buttons, to make and play back a series of one minute spot announcements.

Mr. Drenner reports the machine will perform the following functions: Forty-five one minute announcements are recorded on tape at the conventional 7.5 inches per second speed. Each announcement is assigned a code, consisting of two tone bursts of one half second each. The tone code, however, is recorded at 45.0 inches per second speed. Following each announcement, a single tone code is recorded at 7.5 inches per second speed.

The code for each announcement is selected by telephone dial. The stepping relays associated with the dialing system select a series of any two Parallel T networks, which are part of the dual selective amplifiers controlling the machine. When the code is dialed, the machine automatically switches to the search, or 45.0 inches per second speed.

A digital read-out counter tells the operator whether to search forward or in reverse to find the particular spot he has dialed. The machine searches until it has found the spot whose code has been dialed and then stops. Upon stopping, the speed is automatically reduced to the 7.5 inches per second playback speed. In addition, when searching, the output of the machine is automatically switched from the station’s audio input facilities and restored only when the machine stops at the spot dialed.

The machine will search at the high speed either forward or in reverse. The usual facility of editing by fast-forward or fast-rewind is also possible, without stopping the tape. Thus, it is possible to shuffle the tape back and forth and edit a single word.

All functions are interlocked, so the machine will perform only those functions dialed or selected. Search, play, record, etc., are all selected by using one push-button and the dial for any one operation.

Twenty-one relays, twenty tubes, four motors and miles of wire constitute the control functions of the machine. It is basically a hi-fi recorder-playback machine, with the addition of the dual speeds and the selector-control mechanisms.

The conventional one hour program may be recorded and played back. But the main function is to automatically select any one of forty five one minute spots.

An additional code is available which will start, or stop, another mechanism, such as a turntable or tape machine, for automatic unattended operation.

"I read Ad Age faithfully every week"

says GERALD C. SHAPPELL
Advertising Manager
Sealy, Incorporated

"I find the only way I can keep up with what's new and news in this advertising business is to read Advertising Age regularly. Frankly, I don't think there is any other publication nearly so important to the average advertising man. I read it faithfully every week."

GERALD C. SHAPPELL
Production manager, copywriter, art director and advertising manager are highly responsible positions in any advertising office, but Mr. Shappell used them as stepping stones to his present position. Previously, he had positions with such leading department stores as Gimbel Brothers and Hecht Company.

At Sealy, Mr. Shappell supervises the national advertising campaigns and coordinates the advertising efforts of 31 individually owned Sealy plants throughout the U.S. and Canada. He is active in the Association of National Advertisers and is vice-president of Chicago's Advertising Executives' club.

Whether it's first-thing-Monday morning, Monday evening at home or later in the week—you can count on finding the executives who are important to you concentrating in one spot every week: Advertising Age. Keeping up with what's new in the advertising business is a vital necessity in marketing's picture today—not only for those who activate, but those who influence important market and media decisions.

Broadcast advertising has played an important role in Sealy's growth to one of America's largest manufacturers of bedding and establishing the well-known Posturepedic mattress. In tv alone, Sealy ranked 93rd among top spot advertisers, with an estimated expenditure of $595,000 during the first nine months of 1956.*

During the year, 52 paid-subscription copies of Ad Age keep Sealy executives informed on "what's new" in advertising. Further, 2600 paid-subscription copies—50 every week—serve the agency placing Sealy's advertising, Weiss & Geller.

Add to this AA's over 35,000 paid circulation, its tremendous penetration of advertising with a weekly paid circulation currently reaching over 10,000 agency people alone, its intense readership by top executives in national advertising companies, its unmatched total readership of over 131,000—and you recognize in Advertising Age a most influential medium for swinging broadcast decisions your way.

IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

Radio-Oriented Safety Program Submitted to Governors by MBS

MUTUAL Broadcasting System has released details of a three-point program sent for consideration to the Governors’ Conference Committee on Highway Safety meeting in Washington.

The network drew up its suggestions after a four-week survey of its affiliates on their methods of obtaining information of road and traffic conditions. Richard J. Puff, MBS vice president for research and public relations, said the survey revealed “a paucity” of data from official sources on road conditions and traffic, though 95.6% of affiliates regularly broadcast road and traffic information, gathered from such diverse sources as telephoning officials in various states, a closed-circuit link established by affiliates in a particular region and from long-distance bus drivers.

Included in Mutual’s program: a suggestion that governors take the necessary steps to expand available state police information on road and traffic conditions so that data may be made available on a more regional basis; make such information available regularly to interested radio stations and news services; sit in session with a representative broadcast group to effect a plan that would be practicable.

Mr. Puff pointed out that the increase of cars on the road and the construction of super-highways resulting in speedy travel require that news of road and traffic conditions be given to motorists several hours before they are to reach their destination, so that they may decide on alternate routes. He indicated that the 40,000 radio-equipped autos, busses and trucks could make a valuable contribution to highway safety if official information on a regional basis could be made available to stations regularly and speedily.

WCKT (TV) Raises $450,000

MORE THAN $450,000 went to the Cerebral Palsy Assn. from a telethon staged last month by WCKT(TV) Miami, Fla. Milton Berle, Billy Eckstine and other stars co-operated with local talent in raising the money, termed by WCKT a record amount for telethons in Florida.

Viewers Do a Double Take

PEDESTRIANS and motorists in Harrisonburg, Va., may be embarrassed when they watch the evening news shows on WSVA-TV—and see still shots of themselves caught in minor traffic violations.

News Director Wip Robinson and his staff have been stationing themselves at busy traffic corners photographing traffic offenders. The pictures are used on two evening news shows, and the safety feature has proved effective in discouraging minor violations.

KDKA-TV Fills Blood Bank

KDKA-TV Pittsburgh, Pa., in cooperation with the American Red Cross, obtained the comparatively rare blood type needed to save the life of a young airman. KDKA-TV made the appeal on two tv newscasts, and within 24 hours the Red Cross had completely filled its blood bank.

KIOX Appeal Aids Family

A TWO-HOUR appeal on KIOX Bay City, Mich., for a family which lost five of its nine children in a fire brought more than $300. Food, clothing, and furniture also were contributed by listeners who organized a city-wide assistance movement in response to the plea.

10 Minutes Did the Job

QUICK ACTION on the part of WQAM Miami, Fla., helped save a child’s life. The night of Jan. 22, a call was received that a child suffering from hemophilia needed blood immediately. Two requests, aired on the Alan Courtney program at 10:50 p.m., brought in more than the needed supply from listeners by 11 o’clock.

Practicing What They Preach

WTVN-TV Columbus, Ohio, helped publicize the polio vaccine program last month when 44 staffers received their first Salk shots during regularly-scheduled programs on Jan. 25.

MILESTONES

EUGENE KATZ (I), president of The Katz Agency, congratulates Morris S. Kellner, radio sales manager, who this month celebrates his 25th year with the representative firm. Occasion was a recent luncheon party given in Mr. Kellner’s honor.

J. P. Wilkins, president-general manager of KFBB-AM-TV Great Falls, Mont., celebrated his 25th anniversary with KFBB on Jan. 8.

WSAU Wausau, Wis., observed 20th anniversary Jan. 30.

KRCA (TV) Los Angeles celebrated its eighth anniversary Jan. 16.

CBS-TV’s What’s My Line? panel quiz marks its ninth year on tv.

ANOTHER “anniversary” is celebrated by officials of the Katz Drug Co. of Kansas City, Mo., with the renewing of a contract for sponsoring Million Dollar Movie on KCMO-TV Kansas City. The drug chain is sponsoring this series of film features each Saturday and Sunday for the third successive year. At the singing (l to r): seated, E. K. Hartenbower, general manager of KCMO broadcasting; Morris Shlen- sky, executive vice president and general manager for Katz; standing, (l to r) Lee Marts, KCMO-TV local sales manager, and Ben H. Allmayer. Fox & Reshkin Agency Inc.

Thomas in Washington. The honor was presented by Secretary Thomas (l) for Mr. Murrow's presentation of Navy activities and on his See It Now series. Most recent of the Navy activity programs presented on the See It Now series was "Revolution in the Navy" (Nov. 18, 1956), an hour-long show on the changes imposed on the service by the introduction of atom power and guided missiles into modern warfare.

GEORGIA Assn. of Broadcasters through President L. H. Christian, WRPC Athens, presented to B+T and its Editor-Publisher Sol Taishoff a plaque in commemoration of the magazine's 25th anniversary. The presentation was made to Eleanor Manning, sales service manager, New York, by GAB President Christian, at the 12th annual session of the Georgia Radio and Television Institute, [B+T, Jan. 28], held at the University of Georgia's Henry W. Grady School of Journalism in Athens. Miss Manning spoke at the session.
Government Aid to CBC
To Drop During Fiscal Year

CANADIAN Broadcasting Corp. will receive almost $1 million less from the government in the forthcoming fiscal year, starting April 1, than in the present year, according to estimates tabulated by Finance Minister Walter Harris at Ottawa. CBC estimates for the new fiscal year total $36,138,615 compared to $37,263,976 in the current fiscal year.

The drop is accounted for mainly by lowered receipts from the 15% excise tax on radio and television receivers and parts, all of which is allocated for the CBC. The decline in excise tax receipts is due in part to lower prices for tv and radio receivers and a drop in sales in tv sets over the past year. In the current fiscal year about $17 million in excise tax was collected; next year this is expected to drop to $16 million.

CBS also receives, as part of total revenues, a government grant of $6,250,000 for radio, and $12 million for television, and a sum for operating an international shortwave service for the government.

CARTB March Conference
To Feature Open Sessions

THE THREE-DAY annual meeting of the Canadian Assn. of Radio and Television Broadcasters at Quebec City, March 25-27, will be divided into three main sessions. The opening day, to be devoted entirely to matters of radio broadcasting, will be open to non-members. The last day will be devoted entirely to television discussions and speeches and also will be open to non-members.

This differs from last year's sessions when radio and television matters were discussed at simultaneous meetings open to members, associates, advertisers and agency executives. The open sessions this year will include several panel discussions.

On Tuesday, March 26, closed business meetings of the CARTB will be held for both radio and television sections. The report of the Royal Commission on Broadcasting is slated to be presented to the Canadian government shortly before the CARTB annual meeting, and it is expected that the report will be a major topic at the closed session.

CHAB'S CANDIDATES

CHAB Moose Jaw, Sask., claims to be the only station in Canada with two candidates for the forthcoming Canadian federal election on its staff. Louis H. Lewy, 37, sports director of CHAB, for the past seven years has been mayor of Moose Jaw. He will represent the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation (Socialist) party in the Canadian elections next June. Dick Lilllico, 35, announcer at CHAB for the past 12 years, will be candidate for Moose Jaw as Liberal party member. He ran as an independent in the last Saskatchewan provincial election, coming in third, and making the best showing against the Socialist candidate in the past 12 years. Saskatchewan is the only province in Canada with a Socialist government.

CBC Copyright Fees Set

CANADIAN Broadcasting Corp. will pay about $256,000 in fees to the Composers, Authors & Publishers Assn. of Canada (CAPAC)—the Canadian ASCAP—for 1957, according to a ruling of the Canadian Copyright Appeal Board.

The fees are based on 1.6 cents per capita on Canada's population—about 16,080,000—as last reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The performing rights fees paid by CBC to CAPAC formerly were based on 1 cent per capita of population plus 13 1/4% of CBC's gross commercial revenue.

Also to be used are NBC Radio's weekend Monitor. Agencies are Grey Adv. for RCA Victor "45" records and Kenyon & Eckhardt for radios, phonographs and tape recorders.
3-D TV WINS BY A NOSE

With a standard pocket mirror rotated lengthwise at the end of their noses, home viewers were to see a train race into their living rooms, a balloon burst, and have a chance to dance with a beautiful model.

In noting that his 3-D television technique requires no special glasses or electronic devices, Dr. Klein offered the following “simple” instructions for viewers:

“Sit in front of your set, about one or two feet away, and directly in the middle of the screen. Put a pocket mirror up to your nose, lengthwise, the reflecting surface to the right. Now fix your vision on the picture. Rotate the mirror until the right image [on the electronically split screen] is superimposed on the left image.”

Dr. Klein explained that “the principle of all three dimensional viewing is based on taking two pictures simultaneously of the same subject from different angles.”

In his 3-D tv demonstration, two television cameras, each representing one eye, transmit pictures simultaneously of the same subject, Dr. Klein said. The left eye camera image is transmitted unaltered, but the right eye camera is electronically reversed, he said thus splitting the screen.

“To see the results in 3-D now requires that we direct each half of the screen to one eye. This can be done simply by using a pocket mirror,” Dr. Klein said.

Most people object to wearing special lenses, so “we developed a technique for 3-D television—the ‘Reticulated Lenticular Electronic 3-D System’—which requires no glasses,” he added.

Dr. Klein noted that this system, soon to be adopted for commercial tv, requires a special television tube.

Georgia’s State-Wide Newscast

WAGA Atlanta, WGAC Augusta, WMAZ Macon, WRFC Athens and WRGA Rome, all Ga., have combined efforts to bring their listeners a state-wide news broadcast. A 15-minute newscast, originating from WAGA, is broadcast, picked up and then re-broadcast to the other four cities. Program features up-to-the-minute happenings in and around the state capitol scene and frequently asks member stations for news reports from their areas that might be of state-wide interest.

GE Promotes Community Relations

A PROMOTION song, “Kentucky,” placed on six of seven Louisville radio stations by General Electric Co., has joined the list of popular local tunes and is being played frequently on a sustaining basis. All Louisville stations but WINN accepted the recording on a sponsored basis, with George R. Nelson Inc., Schenectady, N. Y., as GE agency. Mr. Nelson was credited with writing the song for use in connection with GE’s community relations program. The Louisville appliance plant employs 16,000 persons. Charles K. Rieger, GE vice president in charge of major appliance production, was credited with the musical promotion idea. WINN felt the song was so good that it deserved performance on a sustaining basis, according to Glen A. Harmon, vice president and operations director. Copies of the record have been sent to chambers of commerce in Kentucky as a suggested guide to campaigns designed to bring in new industries.

Ohio Station Advertises in N. Y.

If NEW YORK advertisers and timebuyers are unaware of the pulling power of WBNS-TV Columbus, Ohio, it won’t be because the station has failed to promote itself. It has bought the 1D’s of WCBS-TV New York to advertise the Columbus market it serves. WBNS-TV thought using N. Y. tv time to sell tv time would be a good idea because such “an attractively high percentage of tv timebuyers live, and watch tv in N. Y.” The campaign will run from Feb. 8 through Feb. 11 and will be followed up by prestige magazine ads, direct mail tie-ins and supplementary trade magazine ads.

KPRK Salutes Its Sponsors

IN CONNECTION with the celebration of its tenth anniversary, KPRK Livingston, Mont., presented a special program to salute the sponsors who had been with the station since it started in 1947. The advertisers were presented with a “lucky buck,” a personal letter and an “Ode to a Ten Year Sponsor.” The station also played the original recordings of its first program in 1947 and held an open house for its sponsors.
King and Queen of Hearts

PERRY COMO and Dinah Shore were declared the winners in a nationwide poll conducted among U. S. DJs to determine America's "King and Queen of Hearts" in support of the 1957 American Heart Assn.'s Heart Fund Campaign. Both won the crown in 1954. "Coronation" ceremonies will take place on a program to be aired on NBC Radio Feb. 13, 9:30-10 p.m., and repeated on ABC Radio the following night at 8 p.m.

New Constitution for N. Y.

QUESTION of whether New York state should have a new constitution was taken up in a series of five discussion programs which started Jan. 24 on WQXR New York. Titled "New York State Constitution—Time for a Change?" the series, featuring leading civic and educational officials, has been scheduled on the 2:30-3 p.m. Alma Dettinger program, Other People's Business.

Remote of Priests' Ordination

WZB-TV Boston was scheduled to pre-empt its regularly scheduled shows last Saturday from 9 a.m.-12 noon EST to present a special remote pick-up of the ordination of 38 priests from the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston. A station spokesman said last week that the program would mark the first time ordination ceremonies have been telecast from the Cathedral.

Economic conditions today may give pause to those who are considering a transaction in the broadcasting field.

That's why "Financial Advisers" now appears in our advertising. It is an honest decider of a service we can perform. Brokers aren't bankers, but we have developed many specialized investment and lending sources who value highly our reputation and appraisal of a given situation. We can get your hopes and problems to sympathetic ears—quickly.

"Evaluations" also now appears in our advertising because such a service has an interlocking relationship with financing and loan requirements.

We see these two functions properly "belong" as constructive contributions to the broadcasting business.

Station owners, or those contemplating entering the industry, are invited to contact us.

EDITORIALS

Now Is the Time . . .

HATS off to Rep. Withrow (R-Wis.) for his bill (HR 3514) to extend the licenses of radio and television stations to five years, instead of the current three-year limit set in the law. And thanks to his worthy constituent, Herbert H. Lee, president of WKYJ La Crosse, for suggesting it.

Last fall, FCC Chairman George C. McConnaughney announced publicly that he favored five-year licenses, extending to broadcasters the same treatment accorded other services licensed by the FCC. Other members of the FCC, almost to a man, have endorsed the idea, recognizing the iniquity of a three-year license in the light of the investments involved in television and radio station construction and operation.

The FCC appears before the Senate Commerce Committee on March 5. It has a golden opportunity to mete out a big dose of justice by urging the committee to amend the law and adopt a Senate companion of the Withrow bill. There can be no valid ground for opposition. Only those who would like to see free broadcasting bewildered and bedeviled could object.

Once licenses are extended, there appears to be no reason why network affiliation contracts should not be extended to the same limit. That's the shortest route to stability in broadcasting.

Sen. Wheeler's Re-Emergence

F ORMER Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, a formidable power in communications legislation during his long tenure (1923-47) on the Hill, has issued a blast against "monopoly" in television and a call for federal approval of subscription TV.

Mr. Wheeler is the author of "TV Networks' Grab for Monopoly Power" in the current issue of Spotlight, a pamphlet periodically issued by the Committee for Constitutional Government. Spotlight is circulated to a mailing list of 30,000 including government and business leaders and editors. It is an organ of conservative, if not right-wing, persuasion.

Mr. Wheeler fears that the public is in danger because "the two men who control NBC and CBS have almost absolute power over what is seen and heard on TV." Further, he says, these two networks have "the power of economic life and death over most independent TV stations." Hence local programs and "public utterance by station owners" are "carefully tailored to the networks' position because the owners are all too well aware of the economic whip that the networks hold over them."

Mr. Wheeler is horrified at proposals to eliminate an existing restraint—Section 315 of the Communications Act which requires broadcasters to give equal opportunities to all candidates for public office. Repeal of that section, he says, might make it possible for the networks in the home to provide monopoly with an end to senatorial "sit-down in conference and select the next President of the United States."

The network grip on television can be broken, Mr. Wheeler suggests, "only by making . . . stations financially independent of networks, by means of subscription TV."

At this point, we ask the former senator to yield.

We would first quarrel with his vision of two-man control over television and hence over the U. S. public. The repeal of Section 315 would give to broadcasters only the freedom to present political issues and candidates intelligently—an impossibility under present rigidities of the law. To suggest that affiliated stations—or the audience—would for a moment submit to network political control is to cruelly underestimate their intelligence and integrity.

We would also find considerable fault with Mr. Wheeler's support of subscription television, although it is consistent with his views of long standing. Mr. Wheeler, who was at one time an attorney for Zenith, the foremost protagonist of toll TV, has previously expressed himself in favor of it.

But his advocacy of subscription television as an antidote to TV monopoly is a relatively new argument. So far the proponents of toll television have rested their case chiefly on the proposition that a box-office in Fox would provide more and better TV programs. The more and better programs that free television has delivered consistently, year by year, have pretty well deprived the subscription interests of that argument.

The main direction of attack may be switched, now that Mr. Wheeler has set the course. Being keen to sense an opportunity, the toll TV interests may be tempted to join those who, for other reasons, have charged the networks with monopoly.

Yet we suggest they think twice about the consequences. If subscription television were approved, the entities which could make the most of it would be those who controlled the best programs. Can anyone suggest an organization which has a larger supply of popular programs than the television networks?

If there is monopoly today in television, and we do not admit there is, it would only be intensified by the installation of home box-offices. Any station which hoped to make a living from subscription TV would have to first acquire a steady supply of popular programming. What better source to turn to than a major network?

It is ridiculous, of course, to say that two men now control television or would control it if toll television were authorized. Yet if a trend toward monopoly exists, it would only be accentuated by the procedure which Mr. Wheeler proposes.

The Petry Story

A N IDEA, a glib tongue, a strong pair of legs, the knack of picking people and a fierce regard for ethics launched Edward Petry into the field of exclusive station representation 25 years ago. It wasn't a one-man job, as he will relate to anyone willing to listen.

Ed Petry, Henry L. (Hank) Christal, who now operates his own exclusive radio station representation firm, and Ed Voynow, midwestern vice president and partner, constituted the young, eager triumvirate that began a new kind of business in 1932. They didn't invent exclusive representation, but they did elevate it into the big league of advertising, in days when program brokering and bookcaneering were in full swing.

Timebuying then was like flying blind. There was a need for ethical spot selling. None knew this better than Messrs. Christal and Voynow, who were in the brokerage business. And Mr. Petry was buying time signals direct for Arde Bulova, who became the biggest merchandiser of watches in the country because he discovered radio long before his competitors and because he had a man of Ed Petry's acumen to do his buying for him.

Before Petry there were other representatives. But there also were the non-exclusive brokers, who sold transmissions along with their representation, and collected two commissions. They had the business locked.

Ed Petry was a controversial figure in the business of broadcasting from the day he entered it in 1925. But he was controversial in a pioneering sense, pulling against the tide.

The years may have mellowed Petry, the man, but not Petry, the salesman. He slugs it out wherever the opposition may be—networks, newspapers or magazines. And his men must fit the pattern.

The contributions of Edward Petry & Co. to the business and ethics of broadcasting echo today, loud and clear. In broadcasting, the appellation "a Petry man"—past or present—has a special meaning.
