KPRC-TV IS REPRESENTED NATIONALLY BY EDWARD PETRY & CO.
Thanks to the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc. for the honor they have bestowed on radio WNAX-570 and her famous air sales personality, Wynn Speece. The entire staff of WNAX-570 is extremely proud of the accomplishments of Wynn Speece. And all of Wynn’s friends here in Big Aggie Land are as happy for her as we are. Congratulations to Wynn as the Top Award Winner in the GMA Life Line competition. Personalities like Wynn Speece have made WNAX-570 the long-time favorite in Big Aggie Land. To effectively sell the 609,000 radio homes in the five-state, 175 county region of Big Aggie Land, sell on the station more people listen to and depend on—WNAX-570.

WGAL-TV

Annual food sales $968,282,000 — The families in the WGAL-TV market area live well and spend well, carrying on a prosperous tradition. They are prime prospects for your product . . . have an annual income of $6 1/4 billion, spend $3 3/4 billion in retail sales. Backing up the quality of this market is the fact that ARB and Nielsen show the WGAL-TV audience to be greater than the combined audience of all other stations viewed in this area.
Outside work • Not all members of House Legislative Oversight Subcommittee approve of propriety of staffer Richard N. Goodwin’s article in Nov. 16 Life magazine on subcommittee’s probe. Though Mr. Goodwin said Chairman Harris approved publication of bylined, paid-for piece on condition it not purport to speak for committee, one committee member, who declined to be quoted, said members had agreed following exposures given to newspapers by onetime chief counsel Bernard Schwartz that staffers would be allowed to make no comments, written or oral, about House group’s activities. Other members, both GOP and Dem- crats, privately have expressed dis- content with article.

ABC flexes muscles • Look for ex- tensive bedding up of ABC public serv- ice programming, both radio and tv. AB-PT President Leonard H. Goldenson last week told FCC Chairman Doerfer and other commissioners that network intends to become just as competitive in public service field as it is in commercial end John Daly. ABC vice president in charge of news, special events and public affairs, has been given big increase in budget and several specials already are in works.

Mr. Goldenson, accompanied by Joseph J. Jacobs, assistant to president and Washington attorney, informed Commission that ABC is in radio net- working business to stay and also will seek its full quota of seven out stations (it now has five, plus one-half of WLS Chicago, and last week contracted to acquire balance of Chicago outlet). It’s understood radio network in 1959 will show loss of about $2 million, as against $3 million loss, preceding cal- endar year.

More time? • Although FCC wants to move without delay on hearings cover- ing programming and commercial practices, to determine scope of its au- thority and need for legislation, it rec-ognizes that it hasn’t given prospective participants much time to prepare. Hearings are scheduled to begin Dec. 7, with preliminary comments due this Wednesday. Given reasonable grounds, it’s expected FCC would be disposed to postpone proceedings, perhaps as much as 30 days.

While appearances for FCC’s Dec. 7 hearings into programming and com- mercial operations in broadcasting are not due until this Wednesday, one mil- luant figure in controversy over quiz rigging already has notified FCC he’s ready to testify when hearings open Dec. 7. He is Philip Cortney, president of Coty Inc. and Coty International, who has been crusading against exist- ing sponsorship structure and lately has favored pay tv (story page 65).

Dead earnest • If anybody doubts CBS-Tv’s seriousness about taking charge of its programming—and there have been some skeptics, inside word is that such doubters should have wit- nessed top-level meeting which pre- ceded issuance of so-called “Aubrey Memo” (see page 98) last week. It consisted of two full-weekend ses- sions, Nov. 14-15, with key officials from Hollywood as well as New York on hand, chaired by CBS President Frank Stanton and with Board Chair- man William S. Paley participating. Sessions covered not only new rules circulated later by network Executive Vice President James T. Aubrey Jr. but also reportedly explored areas yet to be dealt with in detail.

Program balance, one of those ques- tions yet to be solved (see above) is expected to be handled via fairly pre- cise standards delineating various types of programming which network thinks should be presented within given range of time periods. There’s no indication just how soon such standards may be completed, but network authorities while not inclined to delay longer than necessary, reportedly don’t want to be stampeded. There are existing con- tracts to be honored, for one thing. Same careful approach expected to be taken to other problems, including commercial standards and plug-and- payola probe.

FTC wherewithal • There’s one thing certain about federal budget to be sub- mitted to Congress in January: It will include request for increase in Federal Trade Commission’s funds to permit more extensive monitoring of radio-tv commercials, if FTC Chairman Earl W. Kintner has his way. While chair- man is pleased with industry’s inten- sified self-regulation, he has stated pri- vately that FTC must have more peo- ple and money if monitoring of com- mercials is to be properly done.

Arson at KXLF-TV • Could there have been sabotage in $150,000 fire for- night ago which knocked KXLF-TV Butte, Mont., off air and rendered transmitter facility total loss? Charge hasn’t been made by Ed Crane, owner of outlet and XL, stations, but Mont- ana State police are exploring possibil- 350 hearings cases.

Notables on the Tire • Dr. Ed-ward A. Severance, vice president of John Deere, has been appointed to the board of Ford Motor Co. In another move, Ford has also given its bench of board members a new name. Now the board is the board of directors. Mr. Severance has been a director for many years.

Peanut allergy • Pressure of FCC meetings last Monday—plus appear- ance of Drew Pearson’s legman Jack Anderson on panel—caused FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer to call off interview recording session sched- uled by News Assoc., Washington, for Radio News International, New York, list of radio stations. Mr. Doerfer was heavily engaged in all-day FCC meet- ing (one result was setting of Dec. 7 date for programming hearing) and he is making a trip to Canada, Sydney and Copper- range, as well as London, Paris, and Rome.

“I don’t intend to ask Congress to revise the Constitution.” This was Chairman Doerfer’s remark recently to questions about his attitude toward broadcasting industry’s problems arising from tv quiz show notoriety. This sums up Mr. Doerfer’s basic thinking about hammering he has been under- going because he has publicly an- nounced he is not in favor of new reg- ulation giving FCC jurisdiction over programming on grounds it would con- stitute censorship.

Am applications freeze? • FCC officials are rather glum at results of cut- off procedure for standard broadcast- ing processing line and there is talk freeze might be imposed—but probably not before Comrs. Hyde and Craven return from international conferences in Geneva toward end of year. Cut-off tactics were instituted last April, but what has occurred is excessive filing of radio applications. This has permitted whittling down of processing line, but most applications are now shunted over to hearing division which has begun to holler uncle. Imposition of freeze would permit hard-pressed staff to clean out pending cases in processing line, now numbering over 1,000, and at same time help hearing division cut into over 350 hearing cases.

WEEK IN BRIEF

MR. COHEN

Automation for the paper jungle • Checking performance affidavits for broadcasting of radio and TV spot commercials is a job that shouldn’t happen to people. Let’s give it to the machines, “dreams” Norman Cohen, comptroller and assistant to the president, Mogul Williams & Saylor Inc., New York. He tells about his ideas in this week’s Monday Memo. Page 19.

JWT hits $124.5 million level • Broadcast billing of No. 1 agency gains $11 million in 1959. McCann-Erickson reaches $108 million, Y&R goes up to $102.5 million and Ted Bates scores with $95 million, all-time highs for each. Broadcasting’s eighth annual survey of the top 50 starts on page 37.

Clyne’s call to arms • It’s time to defend and to look ahead, he advises broadcast industry. He favors some advertiser control and warns you can’t legislate programming quality. Page 58.

Cortney speaks again • Phillip Cortney, president of Coty Inc. takes his “hands-off entertainment code” crusade to Chicago. Calls TV “prostitute of merchandising.” Page 65.

NAB code board and chairman get tough • Last week’s L.A. meeting saw a stern amendment drafted to TV code aimed at prohibiting misrepresentation in both programs and commercials. Chairman McCannon took to closed-circuit TV to plead for adherence to the code and self-regulatory practices by TV people before the government lends a “helping hand.” Page 68.

Network gains • Gross billings hit over $451 million for Jan.-Sept., a 10.5% gain. Page 72.

Ratings on the pan • MBS President Robert F. Hurleigh predicts Senate probe will show how riggings and misrepresentations are undermining value of ratings; predicts exposures will have profound effect on industry. Page 78.

Doerfer serves notice • Addressing TVB, FCC chairman warns that closer scrutiny is to be given programming and advertising; says broadcasters must be given full responsibility with immediate steps necessary to remove deception. Page 86.

Senate warning • Commerce Committee Chairman Magnuson assails abuses in TV, charges laxity by broadcasters, FCC and FTC in preventing them and calls present TV Code “ineffective.” He says he’ll call all three up for reckoning next year. Page 92.

No delay here • FCC to take first testimony Dec. 7, in its broad inquiry into radio and TV programming and advertising. Prospective witnesses asked to notify the Commission by Nov. 25. Page 94.

CBS-TV issues program rules • Policies designed to make sure programming is what it purports to be are distributed, but no strict “magazine concept” of programming and selling is foreseen. Page 98.

ANTICIPATION.

Like a lawyer, a salesman must anticipate. Anticipate and have answers ready for the buyer's objections. Also anticipate the sales points most likely to receive favorable response. And, like a lawyer, arrange the sequence of sales points to build to the logical and inescapable conclusion: the sale.

The salesmen must also anticipate what his competitors may offer and be prepared to prove his merchandise superior.

Use anticipation liberally in all your selling. You'll make more sales.

P.S. Another sales tip: put wings to your sales in Dayton with WING. Top ratings—a great record of sales performance!

Monday Memo

from Norman Cohen, comptroller and assistant to president, Mogul Williams & Saylor, New York

Automation for the paper jungle

Like death, taxes and old movies on TV, the checking of performance affidavits for spot broadcast is as inevitable as it is unpleasant to contemplate.

The broadcast industry has matured considerably in less than 40 years. Yet in all that time, nobody has devised a new or sufficiently different methodology for affidavit checking which will eliminate some of the effort.

Current practice requires each affidavit to be checked against the original order or estimate—spot for spot. To those fortunate few who have never been exposed to the paper jungle that burgeons after any spot campaign is set in motion by an agency, the sight would be a revelation. Take the case of a single invoice for 100 spots. Incredibly, although there may seem 100 separate clerical operations must be performed to match affidavit of performance and original estimate. Clerical time for affidavit checking is expensive. Yet the tendency for even a modest spot buy is enormous—and disproportionately costly.

Solution Possible • Although I may be tilting at windmills with a drinking straw, I cannot be convinced that the situation is hopeless.

How long must we put up with a method which requires the identical clerical effort for $2,000 spots as for $5 spots? And in cases where commission earned on one spot is small because of its low rate, the cost of affidavit checking is out of line with the realities of sensible costs for record keeping.

The answer? No single advertising agency can provide one. Like so many other aspects of business, a solution requires concerted action. Either all agencies utilizing spot broadcast media must agree to accept certain uniform operating procedures or else we must abandon ourselves to a continuance of our most annoying cost headache.

My own theory on the subject is tinged with elements of science fiction. It does not eliminate authentication of performances which, of course, would be a complete but unacceptable solution. The basic notion requires “togetherness.” A few imaginative and far-sighted agencies can easily get the ball rolling within the next year or two.

It came to me in a garish dream. An endless torrent of invoices, estimates and affidavits fluttered before my eyes and piled up about me. Suddenly, a flash of inspiration cut a swath through the paper walls. Why not establish a central bureau—a clearing house to provide a home for the millions of vagrant forms that constitute our paper prison?

Mechanical Marvel • I dreamed on. A magnificent structure materialized before me. The towering white-marble building appeared to be a classic example of modern architectural opulence. It looked as though the Taj Mahal had been re-designed and renovated by H. G. Wells and George Orwell with the help of Frank Lloyd Wright. Inside, a pervasively antiseptic atmosphere indicated cold efficiency and a minimum number of human beings. All around me were gigantic machines. The flashing lights and the quiet rumble held me spellbound.

A moment later an attendant approached me. He was vaguely familiar, but it was not for some time that I recognized him as a member of my staff. When I had last seen him, he was sinking below a tidal wave of affidavits. He told me he was the only human attached to the new Affidavit Center, a central bureau that had been established in 1970 by all agencies engaged in air media advertising. Waving aside my questions, he proceeded to explain the operation:

“These machines are the penultimate in electronic data processing equipment. The communications center receives estimates from each agency which are automatically transcribed on common order cards. Orders are then transmitted directly to stations on duplicate cards that are electronically printed and punched for mark-sensing operation at the stations. (Mark sensing is being done by humans at some stations and computers at others. The mark sensing puts a carbon coating by pencil permitting electronic impulses to pass through and activate the equipment.) Stations receive punch cards with sufficient printing to include the order. If an order is long or complex, several cards are used.

“Mark-sensed cards are returned, along with the corresponding bills, to the center which runs the cards through the equipment. If the spots utilized match the spots ordered, the bill is passed on to the agency’s accounting department. If a discrepancy is uncovered, an automatic process pinpoints the error and sends the card down for investigation.”

The attendant informed me that the automatic operation saves immense sums of money and considerable time over the method used as late as 1960. Moreover, he said, in a few short years, the center will have perfected a far superior operation.

“Stations will submit to the center all information pertaining to actual broadcasts. Bills would be transmitted on common language magnetic tape. After a thorough check, requiring seconds to complete, a single bill for all spot broadcast performances would be made up for each agency. Of course, the system of common language tape would require common language facilities at each station.”

Bank Experiment • He predicted an intermediate step would precede the common language system. This would involve magnetically imprinted invoices and affidavits, a concept based on experiments undertaken by banks.

My fantasy ended as suddenly as it began. I knew it was nothing more than a reflection of my concern over a problem that cries out for corrective action. It was a disturbing thought. But then I relaxed as I recalled the lines of the little-known poet, George Williams Curtis:

I walked beside the evening sea
And dreamed a dream that could not be.

The waves that plunged along the shore
Said only: “Dreamer, dream no more”

Norman Cohen splashed into the sea of performance affidavits when he first joined Emil Mogul Co. as comptroller in 1955. Before then he had been a certified public accountant. He became assistant to the president in 1956, assuming additional management responsibilities including personnel. Mr. Cohen earned his M.A. at Columbia School of Business.

Sales promotion duties
EDITOR:

... thanks ... for figuring out the percentages on replies to our survey ("100 sales promotion mgr.'s duties," page 76, Nov. 9). This is typical of BROADCASTING's digging ... a plus I've begun to expect from your magazine.
Incidentally, we may not have made it clear that the survey was not mailed to sales promotion managers. We sent it to 100 sales managers. Why? Because our fellow sales promotion managers may not have told the truth and also because we wanted to open some sales management eyes.

However, we could well have listed a one-hundred-and-first job. That would have been "fill out questionnaire for sales manager." Because many promotion managers got stuck with it.

Quiz scandal opinion polls
EDITOR:

I have just read your article stating that the public is disillusioned with tv (Nov. 9, page 37). I don't know where you made a poll. ... I do know that the people I have talked to about his uproar have an entirely different opinion and so do we...

We all like quiz programs and would like to see them all come back. And why not? It didn't cost the public any-
The standard by which others are judged

This is ARBITRON, the unique new electronic measuring instrument which records instantly on a central board the number of television sets turned on at any given moment, and the channels to which they are tuned. This revolutionary new research tool has answered the demand of the television industry for instantaneous audience measurement around the clock. It was developed, in ARB's typical pioneer fashion, for multi-network, multi-million population areas, to furnish immediate audience data.

This research brain, a logical development of ARB research which perfected the Diary (still a backbone of ARB service in most markets) lets television and sales executives actually watch minute-by-minute changes in viewing in a metropolitan market—such as New York, where it was introduced. It embodies the tomorrow of television research today, offering instant ratings on any show within a 90-second period.

ARBITRON is currently providing round-the-clock audience information for the Nation's largest TV market in weekly and monthly summary reports. ARBITRON also provides a network rating index from a multi-market area made up of 7 cities where each network is represented. Clients receive daily reports of network audience activity as well as a monthly summary booklet. Immediate ratings may be had by telephone or any other fast means. On special order, printed breakdowns by 90-second segments can also be furnished... all for the ultimate in...

BOOKS

Mr. Seehafer, media supervisor at Needham, Louis & Broby, and Mr. Laemmich, account executive at J. Walter Thompson, have designed this book as a text for college students and a refresher course for broadcast advertising “practitioners.” It’s an updated version of their 1951 effort: Successful Radio and Television Advertising, which has been widely used in colleges and universities presenting courses on the subject.

This new work gives increased emphasis to television and presents radio in its new-found advertising role. Areas covered include: elements of the commercial broadcasting system, creative...
Read what Chief Engineer C. E. Smith of WKOW-TV in Madison, Wisconsin, has to say about the RCA-6448 beam power tube:

“One of our RCA-6448's has clocked 12,000 hours of service in our visual power amplifier. Another just passed the 10,500 hour mark in our aural power amplifier. Both tubes are still delivering top performance. Long tube life like this is a big item in keeping transmitter operating expenses down.”

Many UHF-TV stations all over the country have discovered that proper care of their RCA-6448's often pays off in extended service far beyond normal tube life expectancy. Result: reduced transmitter maintenance and downtime, more hours of service per tube dollar.

Contact your RCA Electron Tube Distributor whenever you need tubes for broadcasting and telecasting operations. He also carries a complete line of high-quality RCA Sound Tape for your convenience.

tv-radio programs and commercials, tv-radio advertising research, retail and national tv-radio campaigns and tv-radio station management.

Prior to compiling the book, the authors interviewed 196 leaders in all facets of the broadcasting industry and received special counsel from the NAB, TYB, RAB, Station Representatives Assn. and Canadian Assn. of Radio & Television Broadcasters. The forward was written by Dr. Frank Stanton, president of CBS.

No aspiring Huntley-Brinkley should be without this informative manual which is designed to offer a comprehensive study of media news writing and editing.

Aside from the familiar style manual and usual "how to" fare, the book explores the lesser known realms of press release rewrites, advice from lawyers regarding libel and slander, special tv news techniques, the problem of taste, and the fascinating topic of news brief humor.

Writing for aural presentation demands special techniques, the authors point out, a fact too many broadcasters choose to ignore. To prove their point, copy conversion from wire services to broadcast scripts are cleverly illustrated.

Although primarily designed for beginners, the book's wide range of topics makes it almost indispensable as well for the hardened veteran.

Designed for the practicing announcer and the career-minded student, this book is composed primarily of drills of actual commercial continuity supplied by radio-tv stations, sponsors and ad agencies.

The book is a worthy candidate as an announcer's text if for no other reason than it seeks on its opening pages to de-glamorize the profession a bit by warning neophytes that the announcer's lot is not as glamorous as it appears to the public.

Taking a realistic approach, the authors point out such routine chores at small stations as answering telephones, pulling teletype copy, taking remote transmitter readings and the proverbial "emptying the ash trays."

The drills run the gamut from newscasts to re-creation of sports events via telegraphed accounts and foreign language drills.

Dressed for the occasion... ready to enjoy the rewards of maturity and success... to participate with others in the exciting events of the season... a "metropolitan" personality.
Beauty through simplicity, so often overlooked by the novice, but paramount in the hands of one who possesses a quality touch.

This symbolic tribute to the season is offered to convey our wishes for a bountiful harvest to each of you. And, too, may we take this opportunity to say thanks again for your recognition and help in making this quality touch a highly rewarding facet of our own operations.

Payola probers to quiz disc jockeys, others

House Legislative Oversight Subcommittee will spend next two weeks questioning disc jockeys and others in radio-tv in six cities—Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, New York and Detroit—about all phases of "payola racket." They may also go to Miami, but can't possibly cover all cities where there have been complaints, Raymond W. Martin Jr., subcommittee staffer, said.

He said House group has received complaints from parents and others about rock-and-roll and music aimed at teenagers and that some complain about suggestive lyrics. Subcommittee is not probing content and will investigate these only when they are connected to payola, he said.

Probe will cover payoffs to d.j.s to plug tunes, secret payments for plugging products and persons on radio and tv and alleged interests held by disc jockeys and other performers in recording and music publishing firms. Mr. Martin said staffers talked to tv star Dick Clark and his manager last week but aren't telling what they found (see story page 96). Some of complaints to House unit involve other name air personalities, he said.

Record books seized

In offshoot of Congressional investigation into alleged "payola practices" by disc jockeys (see story page 96), New York District Attorney's office has subpoenaed books and records of 11 companies in New York. District Attorney Frank Hogan noted that "no inferences should be drawn from issuance of subpoena... There is no reflection on any of the companies whose records have been subpoenaed. Companies were listed as: Dot Records Inc., Kapp Records Inc., S & S Assoc. Inc., Cadence Records Inc., Jay Gee Records Co., Roulette Records Inc., King Records Inc., Liberty Records Inc., Gone Recording Corp., Coral Records Inc. and Imperial Records Inc.

Quiz secrets buried

Ruling against making public 12,000-word grand jury findings used by House Legislative Oversight Subcommittee as basis of its probe into tv quiz programs was issued Nov. 19 by General Sessions Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer, who turned over presentment to House group last August. Judge Schweitzer said: "Where private citizens are involved, the function of the grand jury ends when it determines that no crime has been committed."

TVB drafts sales plans, defers film action

Sales Advisory Committee of Television Bureau of Advertising meeting in Chicago has drafted plans for 1960 sales clinics, scheduled in May and June. Appointed co-chairmen of committee were John Dickinson, of Harrington, Rights & Parsons, and H. P. Lasker, Crosley Broadcasting Corp. They succeeded John Denninger, Blair Tv, and Jay J. Heitin, WRCA-Tv New York (early TVb story page 69).

Speakers were Watts Wacker, vice president-media director, D. P. Brother & Co.; Joseph McMahon, advertising director, Joseph Schiltz Brewing Co.; Herman McEvoy, senior vice president, and Fred Davis, vice president-marketing director, Cunningham & Walsh; William Hamilton, of Pro Bros., Chicago radio-tv-appliance chain.

No decision reportedly was taken Nov. 19 by TVb board on whether to admit film distributors and dealers to full or associate membership (CLOSED CIRCUIT, Nov. 16).

GM signs Danny Kaye

Exclusive tv contract for services of Danny Kaye signed Nov. 19 by General Motors Corp., Detroit. Pact covers three-year period. No network, time or show has been selected. Mr. Kaye will appear once each year in one-hour show, starting in fall of 1960. Campbell-Ewald, Detroit, is agency. General Motors said programs will mark commercial tv debut of comedian, who has appeared on medium for United Nations charities.

CBS exile ends

Soviet Union will allow CBS network to reopen news bureau in Moscow, network announced Nov. 19. Network was barred from country 13 months ago following Soviet protest of Playhouse 90 production entitled "The Plot to Kill Stalin." John F. Day, director of CBS News, said correspondent will be named shortly and bureau reopened immediately thereafter. Paul Niven, who held post at time Soviets ejected network, is considered likely for assignment.

Doerfer states views on procedural bills

FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer told Senate subcommittee Nov. 18 that if pending bill designed to curb ex-parte contacts is passed, "a great deal of litigation may result which would challenge..." FCC decisions. He appeared before Judiciary Subcommittee on Administrative Practices & Procedures to express FCC views on S 2374, establishing standards of conduct for agency hearings, and S 600, which would establish an Office on Federal Administrative Practice.

Comr. Doerfer said FCC is in complete accord with objective of S 2374—to make unlawful improper ex-parte communications—but that Commission's own proposal, S 1734, would better accomplish that end. S 1734 has been approved by Senate Commerce Committee and will be on calendar when Congress resumes in January.

Chairman Doerfer also expressed opposition to S 600.

Sarnoff tweaks 'Time'

NBC Chairman Robert Sarnoff on Friday (Nov. 20) answered Time magazine's Nov. 16 attack on television by suggesting that Time Inc. might disfellow its stations, one of which is on NBC-TV (WFBM-TV Indianapolis) and "open new horizons for tv by developing their own creative programming, concentrating on the type of cultural, informational and educational fare that the editors of Time find in such short supply on the air today." Writing one of his regular "letters" to tv-radio editors, Mr. Sarnoff also suggested that Time "use its news columns to keep the public, and the rest of the industry, apprised of its progress in developing its own published standards of television quality. To that type of news, the industry would pay close attention indeed."

Asks prop-card ruling

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) of Senate Commerce Committee wants to know what Federal Trade Commission is doing about prop cards carrying sponsor's or his product's name throughout tv program and whether FTC considers whole period to be advertising with "performance merely designed to attract viewers to the advertisement."

He asked FTC head if agency needs legislation to protect public interest in this matter and asked for full report on FTC's monitoring program (see page 92).

Hayes says CBS Radio is on profitable basis

Less than a year after it was started, Program Consolidation Plan (PCP) has put CBS Radio "on a workable—and profitable—basis," Arthur Hull Hayes, network president, reaffirmed in speech prepared for delivery Nov. 20 before Chicago Broadcast Advertising Club. He said that as result of PCP, which pays stations primarily in programs rather than money, "we’re making a profit" and that fourth quarter this year "will be the most profitable quarter experienced by the CBS Radio Network in four years." In line with his earlier statements on PCP profitability, this was construed to mean CBS Radio was making profit in fourth quarter but not for full year 1959.

Mr. Hayes also had some apparent criticism for NBC Radio's new plan, in which most entertainment programming will be sold for fee rather than fed on conventional networking basis. In furnishing entertainment programming, he said, CBS Radio hopes "that our affiliated stations will then not be one of the pack but one apart from the pack in each market."

CBS signs 5, loses 2

CBS Radio signed five affiliates last week, but also was served notice it would lose two southern affiliates early next year. WKNE Keene, N.H., which withdrew from CBS Radio affiliation last year when network’s Program Consolidation Plan went into effect, yesterday (Nov. 22), re-tied bond. Also announced are new affiliations with WBRK Pittsfield, Mass.; WKVT Brattleboro, Vt., and KREX Grand Junction, Colo.

CBS meanwhile confirmed reports that WBRC Birmingham, Ala., is dropping its affiliation Jan. 4, 1960, and that WPLO Atlanta is leaving on same date to go independent, like other Plough Inc. stations. Officials said replacements in network lineup would be announced shortly.

WEEK’S HEADLINERS

JOSEPH H. REAM, vp in charge of Washington office of CBS Inc., transferred to New York headquarters as vp in charge of newly created department of program practices, Television Network. He will be succeeded in Washington by EDMUND C. BUNKER, now vp and general sales manager of CBS TV Network. Both appointments effective today (Monday). Mr. Ream, 56, former executive vp of CBS, rejoined network in September 1957 after four-year retirement in Tallahassee, Fla. For year prior to rejoining CBS, he was deputy director of National Security Agency in Washington. In his new post, Mr. Ream will implement new network program policy enunciated by CBS Inc. President Frank Stanton as outgrowth of Congressional inquiry into programming and covered in Nov. 17 “memo” of James T. Aubrey, Jr., executive vp, Television Network (see page 98). Herbert A. Carlborg, director, editing department, will report to Mr. Ream. Mr. Bunker joined CBS-TV as account executive in 1955 and was sales manager of KNXT (TV) Los Angeles and general manager of WXIX (TV) Milwaukee prior to moving into vice presidential ranks at headquarters. Mr. Bunker, 44, was born in Balboa, Panama Canal Zone, but was reared in Charleston, S.C. Prior to war, in which he served as Navy pilot, he worked at WCSC Charleston, WTOP Savannah and WIS Columbia, S.C. Mr. Bunker has legal background also. Mr. Ream will move to New York Jan. 1 and until then will divide his time between offices.

KENNETH W. BILBY, NBC executive vp for public relations, is slated to move over to parent RCA organization in similar position about Jan. 1, it was reported last week. He joined NBC in 1954 after about two years on RCA and NBC accounts for Carl Byoir, public relations firm. His successor was not disclosed immediately. Mr. Bilby will succeed Ewen C. Anderson, public relations executive vp, who has been ill. Mr. Bilby was on New York Herald Tribune as United Nations and foreign correspondent before joining Byoir.

Bennet H. Korn, Harvey L. Glascock Jr. and Jack G. Thayer were appointed to new posts by Metropolitan Broadcasting Corp. last week. Mr. Korn, vp in charge of television operations and general manager of WNEW-TV New York, has been elected executive vp in charge of television for Metropolitan. Firm’s other tv properties are WTFT (TV) Washington and two new purchases which await FCC approval, WTVH (TV) Peoria, III., and KOVR (TV) Stockton, Calif. Mr. Glascock, vp and general manager of WHK Cleveland, has been appointed assistant to John W. Kluge, president of Metropolitan. Mr. Thayer, general manager of KFRF San Francisco, joins Metropolitan organization as general manager of WHK. Mr. Korn, before assuming tv operations vice presidency of Metropolitan, was sales vp of WNEW-TV and previously account executive for WNEW. Mr. Glascock was national sales director for Kluge Radio in 1958-59 and earlier was executive vp-general manager of WKDA Nashville and commercial manager of WMAL-AM-FM-TV Washington. Mr. Thayer was general manager of WGDY Minneapolis before going to San Francisco. Metropolitan’s radio stations are WNEW-AM-FM, WHK-AM-FM and (pending FCC approval of its purchase) WIP Philadelphia.

LESTER GOTTLIEB, CBS-TV program executive, has resigned to join General Artists Corp. as staff vp assigned to tv effective Nov. 30. He has been with CBS for 12 years in various programming capacities, including vice president in charge of network radio programs. Earlier, Mr. Gottlieb had been with Young & Rubicam, New York, for four years, initially as head of publicity division and later as supervisor of radio talent division and producer of We, the People.

Manufacturing is California’s major industry — a fact often surprising to those who think of the state mainly in terms of fruit or film. In just six years following World War II, California’s industrial production more than doubled.

In helping west coast industries get a greater share of America’s consumer dollars, Spot Television has played a big part. And in 25 key markets, the stations that consistently deliver top selling-power per dollar are represented by Blair-TV.

Efficient time-buying demands accurate down-to-the-minute data on these markets and stations — data instantly available to the Bay Area through our San Francisco office.

Blair-TV operates on this basic principle: that alert informed representation is a service vital not only to stations but also to all Advertising, and to the businesses dependent on it for volume and profit. From the first, our list has been made up of stations and markets we felt in position to serve effectively. Today these stations cover 56 percent of America’s population — virtually 60 percent of its effective buying power.

In its area, each of these stations stands as a power-house of selling force. To help advertisers and their agencies make most profitable use of that force, is the constant objective of our entire organization.

"A little idea goes a long way on a good radio station," writes Courtland Ferguson, president of the Washington advertising agency of the same name. "A little teaser campaign on WRC Radio—10-second spots, 22 times a week, for our client Parchey's Restaurant—asked the question 'How do you pronounce it, Parcheese or Parshay's?' As a result, innumerable people came into the restaurant and asked the proprietor and the waiters, 'How do you pronounce it, Parcheese or Parshay's?'

This kind of new-customer curiosity is living proof of the positive action—buying action—that advertisers earn from the use of "The Sound of Quality" on WRC.

THE TOP 50 AGENCIES IN RADIO-TV

- J. Walter Thompson leads with new record billings
- McCann-Erickson, Young & Rubicam rank second, third
- Ted Bates still is biggest agency in spot broadcasting

J. Walter Thompson Co. is No. 1 in the ranking of top radio-tv agencies. Its mark is $124.5 million for 1959, or $11 million more than its record billing in 1958.

The new JWT level was achieved in a year when most of the top 50 agencies increased their radio-tv billing, a number of individual agencies breaking through their broadcast ceilings.

Total 1959 broadcast billings of the top 50 agencies included in BROADCASTING's eighth annual survey of the leading broadcast agencies in the U.S. came to $1.5 billion, up from $1.3 billion in 1958.

JWT created a new all-time high in tv billing, compiling a weighty $110.5 million during the year. Its tv network servicing alone ran to a first-time level of $92 million—this figure topping the network-spot combined tv billing of any of the other leading agencies.

According to the survey McCann-Erickson shot to a new level of $108 million to remain firm in second place; Young & Rubicam soared to $102.5 million as the agency in third position. Ted Bates increased both network and spot tv to come in fourth (passing BBDO) with $95 million, a gain of $11 million.

Bates scored on another point. The agency retained its lead in spot supremacy. The total: $50 million, and a new record compiled by Bates. BBDO was a high spot biller, its total (radio and tv) coming to $41 million, while McCann-Erickson billed $37 million in combined spot.

Others in the "Top 10" in total broadcast billings were BBDO with $88 million; Benton & Bowles with $75.9 million, a gain of $9.4 million; Leo Burnett at $58.6 million, up $4.3 million; Dancer-Fitzgerald-Sample with $58 million, an increase of $9.3 million; N. W. Ayer with $51.8 million, a boost of $6.8 million, and Kenyon & Eckhardt with $47 million, a hike of $9.8 million.

Agency toppers in radio found McCann-Erickson at the pinnacle with $18 million billing; Ayer next with $16 million; BBDO just behind at $15 million, followed closely by JWT with $14 million and Y&R with $13.5 million.

Generally, radio showed up quite well among the top 20 agencies, despite some nibbling away in network radio levels at many of the agencies.

In tv-only billings, JWT was first with its $110.5 million; McCann and Bates shared the second spot with $90 million each; Young & Rubicam next with $89 million; Benton & Bowles' $73.7 million in tv edged BBDO's $73 million.

Interviews with spokesmen of the top agencies indicated that network provided the hypo for most increases which were substantial. Few cited high costs of tv, though in certain instances this may have been a factor. Some agencies increased their radio billing—for example, JWT was up $2 million, McCann increased $3 million; Ayer went up $1 million.

JWT has been in the No. 1 spot for the second straight year and now is billing nearly five times the annual combined radio-tv figure it registered eight years ago when BROADCASTING's survey was first taken.

The figures represent expenditures for time and talent in both network and spot during the calendar year but do not include commitments made for next year.

Among the tv network boosters were numerous specials, a number of advertisers entering this form of sponsorship for the first time.

Also recorded were many advertisers going into network tv for the first time. They are detailed in the summary of the agencies listed, starting on page 38.

In the list of 50 agencies the "cut off" level has risen in accord with the increased billing all down the line. Last year the 50th agency billed $5 million, this year the last agency on the list came in at $6 million.

THE BILLINGS OF ALL 50, PROFILES: pages 38-39
AGENCY PROFILES:

Here are the top 50 agencies and summaries of their broadcast business in 1959:

J. WALTER THOMPSON CO.

Combined tv-radio billing: $124.5 million; $110.5 million in television ($92 million in network, $18.5 million in spot); $14 million in radio ($4.5 million in network, $9.5 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 45%.

JWT's billing in 1959 hit a new all-time high of $124.5 million in tv-radio, a pickup in a year of $11 million. The new billing solidifies the J. Walter Thompson grip on the No. 1 spot among the top 50 broadcast billers.

In reaching the new level, JWT increased the $11.5 million lap over McCann-Erickson that existed in 1958 to a $16.5 million difference this year. JWT's broadcast billing now represents nearly five times what it billed in the media only seven years ago.

Largest chunk of the $11 million added this year was provided in network by higher-budgeted series, such as Ford's Startime and Kraft Foods' Perry Como sponsorships on NBC-TV.

The fourth quarter, as it did a year ago at this time, looms lush and bright. Once again moving spokesmen at the agency to speak of full-year estimates as being possibly "conservative."

The ribs of JWT's network tv structure include the Kraft-Como sponsorship; Ford's Startime as well as Tennessee Ernie Ford and half of Wagon Train (all NBC-TV); Lever's full backing of Jack Benny-George Gobel on CBS-TV; Eastman-Kodak's half of Ed Sullivan Show (CBS-TV); Scott Paper and Lever togetherness in Father Knows Best (CBS-TV); Eastman and Quaker Oats on Ozzie & Harriet (ABC-TV); Lever's half of Have Gun, Will Travel on CBS-TV; Joseph Schlitz' full tab of Markham on CBS-TV.

Added to these basic shows are 7-Up's participation in Alaskans, Adventures in Paradise and The Untouchables on ABC-TV; Elgin Watch's specials; Brewery Foundation's specials and Pharma-Craft's alternate-week sponsorship of Richard Diamond—Detective on NBC-TV. A number of daytime network shows are represented in the purchases of JWT's clients.

Spot tv is up at least $1 million more (nearly all of the clients listed in network are also in spot).

Standard Brands, which along with RCA and Oscar Mayer, was a new account in 1959, is represented by JWT in its alternate-week sponsorship in *Indicates agency was not listed in top 50 last year.

Fibber McGee & Molly, a new show on NBC-TV. RCA's considerable network investment (all NBC-TV) will be showing up in JWT's billing next year. Sylvania and Church & Dwight left the client roster during the year.

In radio, Ford Dealers upped their use of spot; network remained about the same. Ford Div. of Ford Motor Co. made liberal use of Monitor on NBC radio, particularly to introduce its Falcon entry in the compact car field.

McCANN - ERICKSON: Combined tv-radio billing $108 million; $90 million in television ($69 million in network, $21 million in spot); $18 million in radio ($2 million in network, $16 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 52.5%.

McCann-Erickson in 1959 hit the highest radio-tv level in the agency's history by billing $108 million in broadcasting. Similar to the JWT pattern, McCann-Erickson picked up the most in network tv, an $8 million increase that more than made up for a drop in spot tv. The agency also registered a gain in radio billing.

In network tv, McCann-Erickson billed some $47 million in regularly scheduled nighttime programming; about $11 million more in specials and another $11 million in daytime shows. During the year, network billing at M-E came from Chesterfield, Bulova, Buick, Helene Curtis, Bell & Howell, Tums, Swift, Nestle, National Biscuit and Coca-Cola. While Exso, Nestle, Liggett & Myers (Chesterfield and Duke), Coca-Cola, Corn Products, National Biscuit, Tums and Swift were the major spot advertisers.

Included among the shows were Chesterfield includes participation in including Steve Canyon, Pete Kelly's Blues, Eddie Fisher and Black Saddle on NBC-TV. This season's lineup for Chesterfield includes participation in Bonanza and along with Tums and Bulova in ABC-TV's Untouchables, Alaskans and Adventures in Paradise. Swift and Nestle were tied to Colt 45 on ABC-TV, National Biscuit to Rawhide on CBS-TV and Wagon Train on NBC-TV.

YOUNG & RUBICAN: Combined tv-radio billing $102.5 million; $89 million in television ($67 million in network, $22 million in spot); $13.5 million in radio ($4 million in network, $9.5 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 41%.

For Y&R 1959 was a record $102.5 million billing year. The surge in total broadcast billing placed the agency solidly in the No. 3 spot.

Its activity in network alone is substantial. A sampling this season: ABC-TV's Maverick (Kaiser and Drackett); ABC-TV's Rebel (Procter & Gamble alternate weeks); Alfred Hitchcock Presents on CBS-TV (Bristol-Meyers); ABC-TV's Alaskans, Cheyenne and Donna Reed Show (Johnson & Johnson); NBC-TV's Peter Gunn, ABC-TV's Bronco-Sugarfoot, NBC-TV's Staccato, CBS-TV's I've Got A Secret (all Bristol-Meyers' alternating); Goodyear Tire & Rubber's continuing with its Theatre (alternate weeks) on NBC-TV; CBS-TV's Hennessey, Betty Hutton Show and Twilight Zone (General Foods alternating); NBC-TV's Fibber McGee & Molly (Singer Sewing Machine alternating); CBS-TV's Millionaire (Gulf Oil alternating); NBC-TV's Bachelor Father and ABC-TV's 77 Sunset Strip (American Home Products' participations); ABC-TV's Dick Clark Show (Beech-Nut); NBC-TV's The Deputy (General Cigar Co. alternating); CBS-TV's Gunsmoke (Remington Rand alternate weeks).

P&G, General Foods, Johnson & Johnson and others are active also in daytime network shows through Y&R, while tv spot users are led by American Airlines (newly acquired), American Bakeries, American Home Products, Beech-Nut, Borden, Bristol-Meyers, General Electric, General Foods, Gulf Oil, International Harvester, Johnson & Johnson, Kaiser, Thomas J. Lip ton (moved recently to SSC&B), Piel Bros., P&G and Travelers Insurance. A fair share of these advertisers also are in radio spot, including such stalwarts as P&G, General Foods, Gulf Oil, Kaiser and Bristol-Meyers. Network radio draws from American Home, Borden, Bristol-Meyers, General Cigar, Time Inc. and American Airlines.

Y&R's billing rise in general is attributable to increased spot via testing of new products, which included nationally and by the application of additional billing on established products to daytime shows.

TED BATES & CO. Combined tv-radio billing $95 million; $90 million in tv ($43 million in network, $47 million in spot); $5 million in radio ($2 million in network, $3 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 80%. Ted Bates registers an $11 million gain over last year. The greatest increase was in tv spot, up $8 million. Network tv rose by $4 million. All spot billing at Bates climbed from $41 million last year to $50 million for 1959. Total radio billing is down $1 million from the previous year. While network radio was $2 million less, radio spot gained by $1 million.

The big jump at Bates is due to both new clients and new products of regular advertisers. Heavy spot campaigns by new advertisers, International Latex and Chase Manhattan Bank, led the way.

Four sponsors of programs on all three tv networks are based at Bates. Each is also a heavy spot user. They are: Brown & Williamson (ABC-TV's Bourbon Street Beat, Philip Marlowe, Wednesday Night Fights; NBC-TV's Five Fingers and CBS-TV's The Lineup, Mr. Lucky, The Texan and Wanted: Dead or Alive). Colgate - Palmolive (NBC-TV's Laramie; CBS-TV's The Millionaire, Perry Mason Show and Ed Sullivan Show and ABC-TV's The Untouchables, plus participations in ABC-TV daytime shows). Whitehall Labs (NBC-TV's Bachelor Father; CBS-TV's Have Gun, Will Travel, Sunday News Specials, Edwards With the News [last two are shared with another Bates client, Carter Products), and ABC-TV's Hawaiian Eye, Lawman, Philip Marlowe and 77 Sunset Strip, besides participation in daytimers on ABC-TV). Louis Marx & Co. is heavy seasonal spender on various children's programs on all networks.

Other big network users are American Chicle with four western and private-eye shows on ABC-TV, Standard Brands with participations in many daytime shows, Warner-Lambert with three ABC-TV programs and Continental Baking, which sponsors NBC-TV's Howdy Doody, the syndicated Annie Oakley series and participates in daytime shows. All of Bates clients, with the exception of Fleischman Distilling Corp., use the broadcast media in one form or another.

BBDO: Combined tv-radio billing $88 million; $73 million in television ($44 million in network, $29 million in spot); $15 million in radio ($3 million in net-that enough its on ABC -TV, CBS -TV, Campbell Soup's which BBDO the network spending can this work, U.S. BBDO (TOP 50 parts of Connecticut and New Jersey. The broadcast campaign for the seasonal the Caroling the year. This mainstay radio saw most of the difference. This McGuire's loss. But the partial pull-out of network tv by a blue-chip client named most of the difference. This was American Tobacco, which nipped short its network spending for Lucky Strike of Jack Benny on CBS -TV, moving to Men Into Space on alternate weeks on the same network, while Your Hit Parade, also on CBS -TV, was dropped. Another casualty: Lever's Wisk, for which BBDO had been agency on record for NBC -TV's You Bet Your Life.

The big guns at BBDO, which sponsor on a regular basis, include Armstrong Cork whose Circle Theatre is still a mainstay on CBS -TV's schedule: Campbell Soup's Losie continues on CBS -TV as does its Donna Reed Show on ABC -TV; General Electric still has GE Theatre on CBS -TV; Pittsburgh Plate Glass' participation in Garry Moore Show on CBS -TV continues, and U.S. Steel's dramatic offering still makes its alternate week run on CBS -TV. BBDO also is the agency of "specials" on network tv. Last season Du Pont, Rexall, Sheaffer Pen, Westelock, Philco and Minnesota Mining sponsored this way. The list is about the same this season, but with the addition of General Mills, B.F. Goodrich, U.S. Steel along with Chrysler's Valiant and the deletion of Minnesota Mining. Du Pont added to its schedule of tv specials. The advertiser also debuted with June Allyson Show on CBS -TV and is participating in ABC -TV's hour-long programs.

Daytime participations run high for BBDO clients as of course does spot tv and spot radio. Minnesota Mining and Gallo wine this quarter alone have entered spot tv for the first time. Bristol-Myers is active in network radio as are a number of the other blue-chips already named.

BENTON & BOWLES: Combined tv-radio billing $75.9 million; $73.7 million in television ($40.53 million in network, $33.17 million in spot); $2.2 million in radio ($250,000 in network, $1.95 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 69%.

Benton & Bowles' major billing comes from Procter & Gamble's and General Foods' formidable network lineup and spot activity. P&G's shows include This Is Your Life and Wichita Town on NBC -TV. The Real McCoys on ABC -TV and participations in such programs as Laramie on NBC -TV, Cheyenne on ABC -TV. It also is in ABC -TV's Rifleman, Leave It to Beaver, Rebel and the Robert Taylor detective show.

General Foods' lineup includes such vehicles as Danny Thomas and Ann Sothern on CBS -TV. In addition, Philip Morris is in Rawhide and Perry Mason on CBS -TV and Loreta Young and Trouble Shooters on NBC -TV, and Johnson's Wax figures in such network shows as Johnny Ringo, Garry Moore and Red Skelton on CBS -TV.

Other network advertisers serviced by Benton & Bowles include Parliament cigarettes, Anseco, and, in spot, Schick Electric Razor, Conoco and Norwich Pharmacal along with P&G. General Foods and Philip Morris.

LEO BURNETT CO.: Combined tv-radio billings $58.6 million; $55.7 million in tv ($36.2 million in network, $19.5 million in spot); $2.9 million in radio ($0.4 million in network, $2.5 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 1.8%.

Predominance in tv network programs by blue-chip clients enables Burnett to hold down the No. 7 position for a second year. Advertisers and their tv properties include: Allstate, CBS -TV's Playhouse 90; Brown Shoe Co., CBS -TV's Captain Kangaroo; Campbell Soup Co., CBS -TV's Losie; Chrysler Corp., Another Evening with Fred Astaire (repeat on NBC -TV); Cracker Jack, My Friend Flicka and ABC -TV's Rin Tin Tin; Hoover Co., CBS -TV's Arthur Godfrey Special; Kellogg Co., Dennis the Menace, Garry Moore Show, Hotel de Paree, and House Party all CBS -TV, The Deputy on NBC -TV and What's My Line? on CBS -TV, and spots in several tv vehicles; Kendall Co., NBC -TV's Concentration; Philip Morris, ABC -TV's Pro Football, CBS -TV's The Many Lives of Dobie Gillis, CBS -TV's To Tell the Truth, ABC -TV's Tombstone Territory and NBC -TV's Trouble Shooters; Pillsbury, CBS -TV's As the World Turns, and Edge of Night, ABC -TV's Real McCoys, CBS -TV's Search for Tomorrow, ABC -TV's The Detectives, NBC -TV's This Is Your Life and ABC -TV's Wyatt Earp.

These and other clients, like Commonwealth Edison, Maytag, Pfizer, Pure Oil, Swift & Co. and Tea Council are active in spot radio and/or tv. Burnett lost Bissell carpet sweeper during the year.

DANCER-FITZGERALD-SAMPLE: Combined tv-radio billing $58 million; $51.3 million in television ($37 million in network, $14.3 million in spot); $6.7 million in radio ($2.2 million in network,

Carolining for Coke • The Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of New York is out to demonstrate again that December sales can top July's. Here the McGuire Sisters, who have been Coca-Cola's commercial voices this year, deliver the seasonal tv message. The cold weather sales feat has been done before, the company says, and to bring it off again, it has launched a record ad campaign for six weeks throughout New York City, upstate New York, parts of Connecticut and New Jersey. The broadcast phase covers 22 radio stations for a total of 2,575 announcements (also by the McGuires) and seven tv stations with 205 commercials. It is placed by Marschall & Pratt Co., a division of McCann-Erickson Inc., New York.
Interview: Wade Advertising Media Associate tells why he selects the WLW TV Stations and WLW Radio for Alka Seltzer.

“The Crosley Broadcasting Cooperation — that’s what we call it. Because the 6 WLW Stations sure give complete cooperation to advertisers.”

“So, one good answer to your ad broadcast problems is just a WLW Station away.”

Call your WLW Stations Representative... you'll be glad you did!
$4.5 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 65%.

D-F-S picked up almost $10 million in billing over 1958, attributed largely to adding new products of companies already handled, such as Procter & Gamble, General Foods, Sterling Drugs and American Chicte. These advertisers were particularly active in participating sponsorship of various daytime network tv shows.

Among the nighttime network television sponsors during the past year were Liggett & Myers (L & M Cigarettes), General Mills, Falstaff Brewing, Sterling Drug, American Chicte and Frigidaire (heavy in daytime too). These accounts also were substantial users of spot radio and television.

N.W. AYER & SON INC.: Combined tv-radio billing $31.8 million; $35.8 million in tv ($20 million in network, $15.8 million in spot); $16 million in radio ($3 million in network, $13 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 37%.

Television network billings by N.W. Ayer rose this fall with addition of the Steve Allen Show for Plymouth on NBC-TV and assumption by Sealtest of the entire Bat Masterson program, also NBC-TV, which the sponsor shared last year with Kraft. Other tv network stalwarts at Ayer: AT&T, with two Bell Telephone Hours per month and a half dozen Bell Science Series specials a year on NBC-TV; new Breck products which participated with other Breck goods (handled by Reach, McClintoon) in the NBC-TV Sunday Showcase and a few early-season Shirley Temple Storybook re-runs on ABC-TV; Corning Glass, which is in and out of several shows, and Hills Bros., which participates in the ABC-TV Walt Disney Presents and underwrites Bat Masterson in the West.

In tv spot, United Air Lines doubled its allocation this year with the introduction of jet service. Hills Bros., Armour, Atlantic Refining and a host of regional restaurant, drug store, dairy and other accounts all were in tv spot.

A rise in radio spot billings was spearheaded by Plymouth which this fall is spending a record amount (subject to changes in the steel strike situation) and the ATKT Long Lines Div., promoting long-distance phone service. Another impetus to Ayer billings: Whitman Chocolates' broadcast debut with a special showing of The Wizard of Oz movie on CBS-TV and the Liberty Bowl game on NBC-TV, both in December.

All told Ayer has 58 accounts using radio and 46 using television.

KENYON & ECKHARDT: Combined tv-radio billing $47 million; $39.9 million in television ($32 million in network, $7.9 million in spot); $7.1 million in radio ($1 million in network, $6.1 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 50%.

K&E's rise in broadcast billing this year parallels closely its rise in network tv, in which Ford institutional, Mercury, RCA, Lever, Nabisco and Harold F. Ritchie all had a hand.

Ford institutional and Mercury shared in the Startime series on NBC-TV, and Mercury also featured in Wagon Train on NBC-TV and Ed Sullivan Show and CBS News on CBS-TV.

Ritchie, which had no network tv in 1958 is putting $3.4 million this year into such shows as ABC-TV's Cheyenne, 77 Sunset Strip, Colt 45, American Bandstand, Hawaiian Eye and Bronco. Nabisco shows have included Rin Tin Tin on ABC-TV, Howdy Doody, Treasure Hunt and Price Is Right on NBC-TV and Love of Life and Edge of Night on CBS-TV. RCA's participation has included Steve Allen, Bonanza, Perry Como, Kaleidoscope, Fisher-Gobel, Ely-Queen, Sunday Showcase, Moon & Sixpence specials, all on NBC-TV. Lever has featured in Texan and Rawhide on CBS-TV, while Capital Airlines underwrote the Orange Bowl game on CBS-TV, Max Factor sponsored the Miss Universe contest, and American Safety Razor figured in World Championship Golf on ABC-TV and St. Lawrence Seaway coverage.

Blatz, Pabst and H.P. Hood are among the leading regional tv advertisers in the K&E roster.

COMPTON ADV.: Combined tv-radio billing $43.9 million; $41.6 million in television ($23.4 million in network, $18.2 million in spot); $2.3 million in radio ($0.8 million in network, $1.5 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 56%.

Compton dropped more than $3 million in broadcast billing in the past year, attributed to an increased emphasis by its advertisers in the print media (tv-radio share down from 63%) and the loss of Chase & Sanborn account to J. Walter Thompson. During the year, Compton gained the Eversharp Pen Co., Chase Manhattan Bank, Pertussin and Guild wine accounts.

The overwhelming portion of the agency's billing, as usual, was derived from a host of Procter & Gamble products. P&G tv network programs this year included NBC-TV's Wells Fargo and ABC-TV's The Real McCoys and Wyatt Earp, plus various daytime serials. Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. (Neolite Div.) shared in sponsorship of the Goodyear Theatre on NBC-TV and Chesebrough-Pond's was active on network daytime tv programs. Active spot advertisers included P&G's Chesebrough-Pond's, El Producto cigars, R.T. French Co. (sauces) and General Baking Co.

LENNEN & NEWELL: Combined tv-radio billing $42.1 million; $38.2 million in television ($29.4 million in network, $8.8 million in spot); $3.8 million in radio ($0.1 million in network, $3.8 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 53%.

L&N picked up more than $2 million this year, although the agency lost the substantial American Airlines account to Young & Rubicam, effective last June. The agency recouped this loss by adding new products of P. Lorillard Co. and Colgate-Palmolive and increasing activity by some of the other regular clients of the agency.

Lorillard, as usual, was a heavy investor in network tv programs, including on its roster such programs as CBS-TV's Johnny Ringo and Hennessey, ABC-TV's World of Talent and Bourbon Street Beat and NBC-TV's Arthur Murray Party. Other active network sponsors were Colgate-Palmolive on CBS-TV's The Millionaire; Reynolds Metals Co. on ABC-TV's Adventures in Paradise and Bourbon Street Beat; Corn Products Co. on NBC-TV's Riverboat and American Gas Assn. on CBS-TV's Playhouse 90.

Spot radio-tv users in the L&N shop included Colgate-Palmolive, Stokely-Van Camp, Corn Products and Lorillard.

WILLIAM ESTY CO.: Combined tv-radio billing $41.5 million; $36 million in television ($30.5 million in network, $5.5 million in spot); $5.5 million in radio ($2 million in network, $3.5 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 60%.

R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. continues to account for a large chunk of Esty broadcast billing, with nine network television shows on the air and heavy radio commitments in both spot and network. Radio spot was used increasingly by Esty clients including Thos. Leeming & Co., one of the top advertisers in the medium for Ben-Gay rub, along with Pacquin's hand cream and Silk 'n Satin lotion. Leeming also used NBC-TV daytime shows this year. National Carbon was on a half dozen or more network tv shows on a six-week seasonal basis for its Prestone antifreeze, with radio support. P. Ballantine and Sun Oil are substantial regional tv clients. Esty began billing this fall for Nestle's Nescafe (formerly with the old Bryan Houston agency), which has been buying NBC-TV daytime.

FOOTE, CONE & BELDING: Combined tv-radio billing $40.3 million; $35.7 mil-

A look toward the future of electronic journalism and a close-up acquaintance with all facets of radio and TV news broadcasting. Those were the rewards of an eager group of teenage school paper editors and faculty advisors who attended the First Annual WSB Radio-TV News Broadcasting Conference in November.

Offering a creative contest with a year's college tuition scholarship as first prize, the conference was sponsored by the stations in association with the University of Georgia School of Journalism. It was the first ever held by an individual broadcaster in conjunction with a major university.

Participants observed and discussed broadcast news techniques, heard personal messages from NBC Radio newsmen from all points of the globe. They viewed a specially-prepared closed-circuit television report by David Brinkley, who held a stimulating question-answer period.

As an annual event the High School Conference will rank high among WSB's many other endeavors in the public interest.
lion in television ($28.9 million in network, $6.8 million in spot); $4.6 million in radio ($900,000 in network, $3.7 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 45%.

FC&B's increase in tv is paced by the network activity of Equitable Life Assurance Co. (which moved from Kenyon & Eckhardt and is now to network ty), Armour, S.C. Johnson, Kimberley-Clark and Lever and in daytime network by General Foods, Lever and Armour. Equitable's sponsorship includes two American Heritage programs before Jan. 1 and Douglas Edwards and the News, both CBS-TV. Armour participates in ABC-TV's hour-long nighttime shows, Hall Bros. continues with Hallmark Hall of Fame on NBC-TV; S.C. Johnson is in CBS-TV's Red Skelton and participates in others; Kimberley-Clark's alternate-week Twilight Zone is on CBS-TV. Lever products participate in several nighttime shows via FC&B. Other participants: S. O. S. Lincoln (before it returned to Kenyon & Eckhardt); General Foods and Pepsi-Cola. Spot advertisers: General Foods, Lever, Armour, Savarin coffee, Clairol, Stauffer Foods, Sunkist, Halo and Hawaiian Pineapple, among others.

SULLIVAN, STAUFFER, COLWELL & BAYLES: Combined tv-radio billing $32 million; $25.6 million in television ($17.2 million in network, $8.4 million in spot); $6.4 million in radio (all spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 68%.

SSC&B was up $2 million over the previous year. It is primarily heavy in network tv. Among the advertisers: Noxzema in Love and Marriage on NBC-TV; Lipton Tea in Father Knows Best on CBS-TV; American Tobacco (Pall Mall) in Tales of Wells Fargo; Block Drug in Richard Diamond on NBC-TV; Carter Products in To Tell the Truth on CBS-TV; Lever in You Bet Your Life. Tv spot advertisers include Carter, H-O Oats, Presto cake flour, Clapp's baby foods, Lever's Breeze and Silver Dust, Pall Mall and the new Rivera as well as S&H Green Stamps. Pall Mall is in spot radio as are Block Drug, Carter, Duffy-Mott. Lever, Noxzema and S&H.

CAMPBELL-Ewald Co.: Combined tv-radio billing $30 million; $25.5 million in television ($20.5 million in network, $5 million in spot); $4.5 million in radio ($3 million in network, $1.5 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 33%.

Campbell-Ewald compensated for its loss of the Hertz-Rent-A-Car account ($4-$4.5 million) with the gain of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.'s new series of 14 Eyewitness to History programs on CBS-TV. Its bulwark network shows: Chevrolet's Chevy Show With Dinah Shore on NBC-TV and Fat Boone Chevy Showroom on ABC-TV. It also debuted the new Art Carney Show on NBC-TV for United Motors Service Div. of General Motors Corp. and Delco products. It dropped Lowell Thomas on CBS Radio and added spot radio for Delco-Remy products. Goebel Brewing Co. continued in radio-tv spot and sports (Detroit pro football, baseball). Chevrolet used spot and network radio. The Hertz loss was not keenly felt broadcast-wise because, outside of some spot tv, it was not a heavy broadcast user.

CUNNINGHAM & WALSH: Combined tv-radio billing $30 million; $21 million in television ($8 million in network, $13 million in spot); $9 million in radio ($2.5 million in network, $6.5 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 50%.

Cunningham & Walsh moved up in billing as Texaco stepped up its use of network tv. The advertiser has a 52-week news show on NBC-TV, plus specials. Sunshine Biscuit was active in daytime network tv, while Swiss Watches sponsored a network special. Spot tv advertisers included Stephan's hair tonic (an account which moved out of the agency during the year), Folger's coffee and Jergens. These are the principal spot users along with Texaco, which also sponsors the Metropolitan Opera broadcasts on CBS Radio.

GREY ADV.: Combined tv-radio billing $22.1 million; $15.4 million in television ($11.1 million in network, $4.3 million in spot); $6.7 million in radio ($1.25 million in network, $5.45 million in spot); tv radio share of overall billing: 48.5%.

Grey's broadcast share rose 25% over the 1958 share, attributed largely to spot activity on behalf of a new client—Ward Baking Co.—and larger budgets from its regular accounts. Grey's air activities were spotlighted by Greyhound's sponsorship of Art Linkletter on ABC-TV and the Jack Benny special programs (the latter co-sponsored by another Grey client, Benrus Watch Co.). Other tv network advertisers were the General Electric Photo Lamp Div. on ABC-TV's Man With a Camera; Westminster on Desilu Playhouse and the Mennen Co., which bought into various network shows during the year.

Sales animus • Dancer-Fitzgerald-Sample, New York, created a hungry family of animated youngsters to dramatize to mothers “animated appetites” for Nucoa margarine. The new family is making its debut this fall in national spot and on ABC-TV daytime shows where the Best Foods Div. of Corn Products Co. has bought announcements. Minute and 20-second announcements in a few dozen selected markets as well as network commercials emphasize the product's new theme: "Only new Nucoa has a flavor secret." Credits for the Nucoa commercial: Stan Baum and Jim Blier, copy; Joe Harris, art and visualization, with Ernie Pittaro producing (all of D-F-S). Filming was by HFH Productions, New York.
WADE ADV.: Combined tv-radio billing $21.84 million; $20.79 million in television ($13.73 million in network, $7.06 million in spot); $1.05 million in radio (all in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 82%.

Wade upped its broadcast billings an estimated $3.2 million. It has a stable of clients that includes Miles Labs and Alberto-Culver, with no turnover and remaining heavily radio-tv oriented. Network was up substantially, while spot was down a bit. Radio was off, largely through curtailment of network buys.

Miles Labs. continued prominent in network tv. In addition to daytime participations, it is in ABC-TV's The Rifleman, Wednesday Night Fights and Man From Blackhawk and in NBC-TV's Laramie and Bonanza.

Large gains were registered for Alberto-Culver, which became an $8 million client. The hair preparation firm bought into ABC-TV's Black Saddle, Bob Cummings Show and American Bandstand, plus participations on NBC-TV's Lawless Years, Jack Paar Show, It Could Be You and other shows. A-C also was in tv spot in about 30 key markets.

D'ARCY ADV.: Combined tv-radio billing $21.52 million; $15 million in television ($6 million in network, $9 million in spot); $6 million in radio (all in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 36%

Accelerated spot radio-tv activity by old-line clients plus a spurtage by a new account—Butternut Coffee—raised D'Arcy air billing by about 40%. Among other busy spot advertisers, who helped boost D'Arcy's broadcast business by about $6 million in 1959 were Gerber Products (also active in daytime network), Colgate-Palmolive (for Procter & Gamble), Banquet Canning Co., Reardon Co. (paints), Krey Packing Co., Anheuser-Busch, Studebaker-Packard, Nehi Corp. The agency's most ambitious undertaking this year in television was placing the Olin Matheson Chemical Corp. business on CBS-TV's Small World series. Other network tv business accrued from Studebaker-Packard on NBC-TV's Jack Paar Show and Halo on CBS-TV's Perry Mason.

TATHAM - LAIRD: Combined tv - radio billing $20.2 million; $18.1 million in television ($11.9 million in network, $9.5 million in spot); $2.2 million in radio ($600,000 in network, $1.6 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 66%

Tatham-Laird's star was in ascendency this year. It virtually doubled its combined radio-tv billings (from $11 million to $20.2 million). The major reason: Procter & Gamble's Mr. Clean tv campaign (in excess of $5 million in spot, $2 million in network). Whitall Pharmaceuticals' Dristan tablets and nasal spray also played a major role.

During 1959 T-L lost the $1.5 million George Wiedemann Brewing account (with a heavy chunk in spot radio and tv), but gained Dristan, Boyle Midway Div. of American Home Products, Inc. (including Easy-Off oven cleaner) and window spray and Griffin shoe polish (worth $2 million) plus Formfit Co. and Brach candy. (And, in the past fortnight, Libby, McNeill & Libby Canned Meat Div. from J. Walter Thompson, effective Feb. 1, 1960, estimated at $500,000).

Among its most active network tv clients: General Mills, Procter & Gamble, Whitehall Pharmacal and Toni (Prom and White Rain), plus, toward year's end, Easy-Off and Griffin. Active spot tv clients were P&G's Mr. Clean and American Family soaps and detergents, Wander Co. (Ovalexine), Parker Pen, Wiedemann and Butter Nut coffee (division of Paxton & Gallagher, for which T-L handles advertising east of the Mississippi). Dristan and Parker have been active in both network and spot radio, while spot includes these clients: Clark Oil & Refining Co. (regional), Wiedemann, Butter Nut coffee and Campbell Soup Co.

NEEDHAM, LOUIS & BRORBY: Combined 1959 estimated tv-radio billing $19.2 million; $15.2 million in television ($13 million in network, $3.2 million in spot); $3 million in radio ($100,000 in network, $2.9 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 51%

NL&B boosted its total tv-radio billing $2.4 million, with television accounting for $2.3 million of this sizable increase. Broadcast accounts gained were Philips Electronics and Massey-Ferguson Ltd.; only account lost was Renault Inc.

NL&B network broadcast activity in 1959 was supplemented by Brown & Sharpe, and Lever Bros', purchase on a long list of network tv programs. Other advertisers on network tv were Massey-Ferguson, Renault and Campbell Soup. Spot was placed for Household Finance Corp., Johnson's Wax, Lever Bros., Oklahoma Oil, Peoples Gas and State Farm Insurance. Activity in spot radio covered Campbell Soup, Household Finance Corp., International Minerals & Chemical, Kraft Foods, Massey-Ferguson, Monsanto Chemical, Morton Salt, Oklahoma Oil, Renault and State Farm Insurance.

MAXON INC.: Combined tv-radio billing $17 million; $15.9 million in television ($14.2 million in network, $1.7 million in spot); $1.1 million in radio ($0.7 million in network, $0.4 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 51%

Radio-tv billings rose slightly, maintaining last year's 55% broadcast share. A slight dip in Heinz' tv activity in the last quarter has been offset by increases for Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., which added a segment of CBS-TV's Garry Moore Show. Gillette stayed high with spot radio, while spot includes these activities: NBC Radio. General Electric dropped Cheynne on ABC-TV, but picked up other broadcast interests. Charles E. Hires Co. is a consistent spot tv spender. Maxon gained National Van Lines, D.W.G. Cigar Co. and Jacob Schmidt Brewing.

ERWIN WASEY, RUTHRAFF & RYAN: Combined tv-radio billing $17 million; $10.7 million in television ($6.5 million in network, $4.2 million in spot); $6.3 million in radio ($2.8 million in network, $3.5 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 39%

ERWIN'S broadcast exposure rose by $500,000 in 1959 as its investment in radio was increased and its expenditures in tv were reduced slightly. Network television advertisers included Van Camp on CBS-TV's The Verdict Is Yours, The Carnation Co. on CBS-TV's As the World Turns, and Dutch Masters Cigars on ABC-TV's Take a Good Look. Spot radio-tv users included Sun Oil, KLM Airlines, General Electric Co. (home heaters and air conditioners). Carnation, Rootes Motors Inc., Tuborg Breweries Ltd. and Minnesota Mining & Mfg. Co. An active network radio advertiser was Campana Sales Co.

PARKSON ADV.: Combined tv-radio billing $16.48 million; $16.2 million in tv ($15.75 million in network, $450,000 in spot); $280,000 in radio (all spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 90%

Parker's billing hasn't changed much

$741 smile

"Smile when you say that" is a dangerous policy to apply to commercials. Neche-Elna Sewing Machine Center refused to pay a $741 bill to KWTX (TV) Oklahoma City because, they claimed, the announcer laughed during the reading of the Center's commercial, hurting the company's sales. Oklahoma County Common Pleas Court ruled that a smile does not necessarily mean insincerity and that the bill must be paid. Ken Carriker, the announcer, said he usually smiles while doing commercials.

over the year but its shows have. All of this agency's activity comes from one heavy network sponsor, Pharmaceuticals Inc., which also has the subsidiary J.B. Williams product line. The network shows include Tightrope and the alternate week of Person to Person and The Texan, all on CBS-TV, and It Could Be You and You Bet Your Life (alternate week), both NBC-TV. Early in 1959, Pharmaceuticals was associated with such network personalities as Arthur Godfrey and Jackie Gleason, both CBS-TV. Still other shows have included Peck's Bad Girl on CBS-TV (now off), Amateur Hour, Rawhide (a third) and Adventure Showcase, also all CBS-TV, and Arthur Murray Party for alternate weeks on NBC-TV. Billing also included network daytime participations.

CAMPBELL - MITHUN: Combined tv-radio billing $16 million; $12 million in television ($8.4 million in network, $4 million in spot); $4 million in radio (all in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 44%. The Minneapolis-based agency picked up about $500,000 in combined tv-radio billings this past year, with a dip in tv and a boost in spot radio. C-M picked up portions of Helene Curtis plus the Scudder Food and Our Own Hardwood Co. accounts. It lost the John Morrell pet food business.

Leading network tv advertisers were Pillsbury Mills sponsoring Thursday segments of CBS-TV daytime serials (As the World Turns, Edge of Night and Art Linkletter's House Party; Gold Seal Co. with Treasure Hunt, Queen for a Day and Split Personality) on NBC-TV. Other active tv network sponsors were: Theodore Hamm Brewing Co. (Hamm's beer) and American Dairy Assn. Prominent among radio and tv clients included Hamm Brewing Co.; Gold Seal Malt-O-Meal Co. (cereal) Ballard Flour Co.; Kroger Co.; Top Value Stamps, and Northwest Orient Airlines.

OGILVY, BENSON & MATHER INC.: Combined tv-radio billing $14.8 million; $12.8 in television ($8.4 in network, $4.4 in spot); $2 million in radio ($300,000 in network, $1.5 in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 62%. Billings for Ogilvy, Benson & Mather shot up nearly 50% with continued broadcast activity by old accounts and acquisition of General Foods' Maxwell House coffee, Bristol-Myers' Ban deodorant and Vick's cold tablets (OBM also is agency of record for other Vick products on nighttime tv network shows).

Ogilvy's big spot tv users are Pepperidge Farms bread, pastry and cookies, Helena Rubenstein cosmetics and Vick cold tablets. Vick also uses two CBS-TV shows, Rawhide and The Lineup, for its whole line. Ban, acquired by OBM last July, uses some spot tv to supplement exposure on Bristol Myers' nighttime tv shows. OBM continues to share billings for the CBS-TV Armstrong Circle Theatre with BBDO. Maxwell House is on the CBS-TV Zane Grey Show, supplemented with spot tv. OBM's Lever products, Dove soap and Good Luck margarine, sponsor Mr. Lucky on CBS-TV and NBC-TV's nighttime color version of The Price Is Right. Lever's Lucky Whip dessert toppings uses some spot tv. Berkshire Hose this year entered tv on the Today show, NBC-TV. Tetley tea continues to lead with radio, splitting its money between network and spot. Schweppe's still uses a seasonal radio-tv spot mix.

GRANT ADV. INC.: Combined tv-radio billing $14.65 million; $12 million in tv ($8.5 million in network, $3.5 million in spot); $2 million in radio ($0.1 million in network, $2.5 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 33%.

Grant's domestic radio-tv billing dipped from last year's $15.5 million, largely because of the loss of Plymouth's network tv billings which alone fell by $4 million. The tv-radio share of 33% is down from 1958's estimate of 35- 40%.

Grant has acquired the Dodge Dart account, which conflicted with Plymouth, and Schlitz Old Milwaukee Beer.

Among other steady broadcast clients: Dr. Pepper Co. (now expanding into northern markets with heavier radio-tv expenditures); KVP Co. (paper products) on ABC Radio's Breakfast Club; Swanson Co. (Archway cookies); Comet rice; Warren Petroleum, and Electric Auto-Lite Co.

NORMAN, CRAIG & KUMMEL: Combined tv-radio billing $14.6 million; $13.6 million in television ($6.2 million in network, $7.4 million in spot); $1.0 million in radio (all in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 50%.

NC&K's broadcast billing remained at the same level as in 1958, but the figure does not reflect the substantial business acquired by the agency during the latter part of the year, the overwhelming portion of which will make itself felt in 1960. New accounts totaling about $12 million, of which at least 50% will be in radio-tv and which will contribute mainly to 1960 totals are: various products of Chesapeake-Pond's Inc., Hertz-Rent-A-Car and Jacob Ruppert. Portions of this business reflected in 1959 offset the loss of the $1.3 million Hudson Pulp & Paper Corp. account.

Network advertisers handled by NC&K included Speidel Corp. on NBC-TV's The Price Is Right; Willys Motors on ABC-TV's Maverick and Colgate-Palmolive on CBS-TV's Big Payoff and Top Dollar. Spot business was placed for Maiden Form Brasriere Co., Colgate-Palmolive, Hertz-Rent-A-Car, Jacob Ruppert, Chesbrough-Pond's, Schenley Industries and Chanel Inc.

DOHERTY, CLIFFORD, STEERS & SHENFIELD: Combined tv-radio billing $14.5 million; $12.1 million in television ($10 million in network, $2.1 million in spot); $2.4 million in radio ($0.5 million in network, $1.9 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 57%. DC&S' stepped-up activity in network television was a strong factor in raising its broadcast business by $1.5 million over last year. The network tv billing resulted from the Bristol-Myers Co. sponsorship of NBC-TV's Peter Gunn, CBS-TV's I've Got a Secret and Alfred Hitchcock's Herculean serials, plus the ABC network's purchase of the Ed Sullivan Show. Busy in spot radio during the year were the Borden Co., Grove Labs. and J. G. Paton Co. Active spot television advertisers included Chennwy Corp., C. F. Mueller Co. and Nozex Salmon Chemical Co. New accounts obtained during 1959 were Chennwy Corp., C. F. Mueller Co. and Nozex Salmon Chemical Co. DC&S lost the Pharmaco Inc. business this year.

GARDNER ADV. CO.: Combined tv-radio billing $14.24 million; $11.5 million in tv ($5.3 million in network, $5.2 million in spot); $2.74 million in radio ($0.57 million in network, $2.17 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 53.8%.

W.B. DONER: Combined radio-tv billing $11.7 million; $7.1 million in television ($4.8 million in network, $2.3 million in spot); $4.6 million in radio ($500,000 in network, $4.1 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 58%.

Doner's bid for tv billing comes in the form of specials on ABC-TV and NBC-TV for Timex watches and a substantial spot register that includes Naional Brewing and Speedway Petroleum hookups. A heavy broadcast billing comes from Doner’s five offices, including buys for regional clients (it handles Gordon Baking’s Silverscup Bread via Detroit and Bohemian Breweries on the West Coast, through Chicago).

FULLER & SMITH & ROSS: Combined tv-radio billing $11 million; $10.25 million in television ($9.6 million in network, $650,000 in spot); $750,000 in radio (all network); tv-radio share of overall billing: 24%.

F&S&R is up $2 million, scoring the highest billing gain ($2.6 million in network tv). Aluminum Co. of America continued with Alcoa Theatre on NBC-TV and early this year began sponsorship of Alcoa Presents on ABC-TV. Libbey-Owens-Ford switched from last year’s sponsorship of Perry Mason (CBS-TV) to Bourbon Street Beat (ABC-TV). Other network television users were Edison Electric with The Price Is Right, Treasury Hunt and Split Personality, all NBC-TV, and Sterling Silversmiths, Sherwin-Williams and Williamson-Dickie. Heavy tv radio advertisers included Coats & Clark (Arthur Godfrey), Aluminum Co. of America and G.T. Financial Corp. (Monitor), both NBC. Spot tv users were Volkswagen, Williamson-Dickie, Wearever Aluminum, Pennzoil and Waring Products Corp.

GUILD, BASCOM & BONFIGLI: Combined tv-radio billing $10.6 million; $8.7 million in television ($4.9 million in network, $3.8 million in spot); $1.9 million in radio (all in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 80%.

Increased tempo of business in spot radio and spot tv added $2.3 million to GB&’s billing over 1958. Active spot users were Best Foods Div. of Corn Products Inc., Carling Brewing Co., Clougherty Packing Co., Mary Ellen’s Distributors, Mother’s Cake and Cookie Co.,Ralston Purina Co., Rival Packing Co. and Tidy House Products Co. Ralston-Purina was its big-gun advertiser on network tv, sponsoring John Gunther’s High Road, Cheyenne and Leave It to Beaver on ABC-TV while Skippy Peanut Butter Div., Corn Products Inc., shared sponsorship of NBC-TV’s Riverboat.

FLETCHER RICHARDS, CALKINS & HOLDEN INC.: Combined tv-radio billing $10.1 million; $7.4 million in tv ($2.84 million in network, $4.56 million in spot); $2.7 million in radio ($100,000 in network, $2.6 million in spot); radio-tv share of overall billing: 33.3%.

Fletcher Richards gained through mergers early this year with Bryan House-lo-ton and Calkins & Holden, but such prime broadcast accounts as Houston’s Dristan and Nescafe were pre-merger losses. Some of these billings reflect in the 1959 total for the merged agency. One Houston carry over, Heublein Inc., is heavily committed in television, allocating virtually its entire budget to spot for Maypo and Malteez cereals. Heublein’s Andersen’s soups are on spot tv in the West (with expansion in the cards for the coming year). Folger’s coffee is another western regional client in tv and radio spot.

U.S. Rubber, an active Richards client over the past year in network tv, during 1959 switched to spot television, tailoring buys for its various products, some of them also in radio spot. Eastern Airlines is a big factor in spot radio, with a smattering of spot tv support. FRC&H is using the NBC-TV Today show and spot tv for an account added this year, Arvida Corp. Another addition to billings this year: production costs for the National Guard, which uses public service time on radio and some on tv.

KEYES, MADDEN & JONES: Combined tv-ratio billing $9.83 million; $8.44 million in television ($2.35 million in network, $6.09 million in spot); $1.39 million in radio ($350,000 in network, $1.04 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 48.8%.

Brown & Williamson participations in network and spot tv activity (for Raleigh cigarettes and Sir Walter Raleigh tobacco), plus similar activity by Congoleum-Nairn head KM&J’s billing picture. Also included are participations for Raleigh in Five Fingers on NBC-TV, by Presto in Today on NBC-TV. Spot advertisers also include Florists Telegraph Delivery Assn. in radio and tv; Presto and Revere Camera in tv; Pinex and Dr. West’s toothpaste in radio.

DOYLE DANE BERNBACH: Combined tv-radio billings $9.75 million; $8.6 million in television ($5.3 million in network, $3.3 million in spot); $1.15 million in radio ($50,000 in network, $1.1 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 35%.

DBB upped its tv-radio business by almost $2 million, reflecting business from West End Brewery Co. and Philip Morris’ Alpine cigarettes. Its tv network advertisers included Chambers Corp. (Perry Como and The Man & The Challenge on NBC-TV); Polaroid Land Cameras (Perry Como, Steve Allen and Jack Paar on NBC-TV, Garry Moore on CBS-TV, Adventures in Paradise and Leave It to Beaver on ABC-TV), Alpine cigarettes (ABC-TV’s Pro Football and Tombstone Territory: CBS-TV’s To Tell the Truth, Rawhide, Dobie Gillis and Perry Mason; NBC-TV’s Troubleshooters and Loretta Young). Its spot radio-tv clients included American Export Lines, Barton’s candy, Dorman & Co. (Endoco cheese), Drey- fus & Co., Levy’s bread, Melville Shoe Corp., Philip Morris (Alpine cigarettes), West End Brewing and Sav-On Drugs.

MOGUL WILLIAMS & Saylor: Combined tv-radio billing $9.6 million; $7.4 million in television ($2.7 million in network, $4.7 million in spot); $2.2 million in radio (all spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 50%.

MW&S boosted its broadcast business by $2.1 million over 1958, resulting largely from increased activity in the air media by its regular accounts. Spot business perked up considerably at the agency this year, paced by such advertisers as Revlon, Esquire Shoe Polish, Rayco, Breakstone Foods, Gold Medal candy, National shoes, Lite Diet bread and Howard Clothes. Its tv network billing accrued from various Revlon products, including Hi & Dri, Top Brass and Aqua Marine line, on various programs. Ronzoni Macaroni Co. was a sponsor of syndicated tv film programs.

GEYER, MOREY, MADDEN & BAL- LARD INC.: Combined tv-radio billing $9.6 million; $5.1 million in television ($2.6 million in network, $2.5 million in spot); $4.5 million in radio ($2 million in network, $2.5 million in spot); tv-radio share: 33%.

The agency’s broadcast billings are shared chiefly between American Motors (Rambler and Kelvinator divisions) and Sinclair Oil Corp., both of which are in strong in radio-tv spot. Sinclair also sponsored the Music From Shubert Al- ley special on NBC-TV. One active broadcast media user, Boyle-Midway Div. of American Home Products, was lost during the year, but the agency picked up Dayton Rubber and Fiesta Foods Div. of General Baking, neither of which is currently active in radio or tv.

NORTH ADV.: Combined tv-radio billing $9.45 million; $9.25 million in television ($7.35 million in network, $1.9 million in spot); $200,000 in radio (all spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 63%.

North moved up from $8.4 million to $9.45 million in the past year, reversing a dip from $11 million in 1957. Agency is stepping up other media activities, its broadcast share of all billings is now 63% compared to the previous 76%.

An example of its tv spot activity was

Season after Season, Radio is Greater Than Ever ...and the Reason is Great Radio Stations!

Radio is the “companion medium” that goes with people everywhere ... that talks to them engagingly, persuasively, at low cost. Radio is greater than ever. And what makes it great are the great stations. These are the leaders that command respect by outstanding service, that hold audiences by solid programming and important features. No midway barkers, no questionable offers, no triple spots! In most markets there is one leader, like the 18 listed at the right.

And you need add only 30 to these 18 to have leadership radio across America. Get the facts about today’s greater than ever value in radio ... documented by Alfred Politz Research. Just call any Christal office.

Toni's rotation of various brands in a saturation schedule during the summer. Toni continued as charter member of ABC-TV's "Operation Daybreak" (daytime) and American Bandstand. North was producing agency on behalf of Toni for NBC-TV's Loretta Young Show; CBS-TV's To Tell the Truth, House Party and The Verdict Is Yours and some syndicated shows. North added these broadcast accounts: Gillette's Torexin cold capsules, Toni's Colorcades and Reddi-Wip which is inherited from D'Arcy.

D.P. BROTHER: Combined tv-radio billing $9.4 million; $8.5 million in tv ($8 million in network, $0.5 million in spot); $0.9 million in radio ($0.25 million in network, $0.65 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 30%.

Oldsmobile is the top broadcast media client for D.P. Brother. Its shows this season include Dennis O'Keefe Show on CBS-TV, Bing Crosby specials on ABC-TV, and Lowell Thomas on CBS Radio. Client General Motors AC Spark Plug Div. is co-sponsoring the Art Carney series of specials on NBC-TV.

WARWICK & LEGLER: Combined tv-radio billing $8.9 million; $7.3 million in television ($3.8 million in network, $3.5 million in spot); $1.6 million in radio ($0.9 million in network, $0.7 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 40%.

W&L gained $1 million in billing this year, resulting largely from business of new product accounts of Carter Products and expanded activity by Mennen and Revlon. Its network tv billing resulted from sponsorship by Revlon of CBS-TV's Big Party and Carry Moore Show and Mennen on NBC-TV's Cimarron City. An active network tv advertiser during the year was Ex-Lax. Spot radio tv business was placed for Carter, Ex-Lax, Bromo Seltzer, Revlon, Mennen and Hoffman Motors on the West Coast.

COHEN, DOWD & ALESHERE: Combined tv-radio billing $8.7 million; $4.6 million in television ($1.1 million in network, $3.5 million in spot); $4.1 million in radio ($1 million in network, $3.1 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 55%.

CDA& picked up considerable billing during the year with a $1.7 million increase in the broadcast media, reflecting the merger of Dowd, Redfield & Johnstone with Cohen & Aleshere. This move brought Cott Beverages, active in radio and tv, and the Lanvin and Cone Mills accounts, both spot tv users, to the agency. Grove Labs. continued as the biggest broadcast account, utilizing spot and network tv (Jack Paar and Today shows, both NBC-TV) as well as network radio and spot. Another active radio user was Kiwi shoe polish.

KNOX REEVES ADV. INC.: Combined tv-radio billing $7.8 million; $7.4 million in tv ($5.5 million in network, $1.9 million in spot); $400,000 in radio (all spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 73%.

Knox Reeves is a new entry in the top 50 listing. Its largest network tv clients during 1959 were General Mills for Wheaties breakfast cereal, which sponsored telecasts of baseball, football, basketball and track events, and Mars Inc., which was in Disneyland and Broken Arrow. Leading spot advertisers were Wheaties, Minneapolis Brewing, Art Instruction Inc. General Mills' Refrigerated Foods Div. and hot cereals. Although Knox Reeves loses the heavy-spending Mars Inc. account at the end of this year, the agency has gained such clients as Minneapolis Gas Co., part of Wood Conversion Co. and half a dozen new General Mills products.

DONAHUE & COE: Combined tv-radio billing $7.5 million; $5.5 million in television ($2 million in network, $3.5 million in spot); $2 million in radio (all spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 30%.

This agency's broadcast billing is chiefly in Best Foods Egg Corn Products, Tri-Nut margarine, Squibb Div. of Olin Mathieson, Scripto pen and Carolina rice. Earlier in the year its Best Foods account participated in ABC-TV's "action strips."

The total billing is about the same as it was in 1958.

HONIG-COOPER, HARRINGTON & MINER: Combined tv-radio billing $7.5 million; $6.25 million in tv (all spot); $1.25 million in radio (also all spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 47%.

Broadcasting of Honig-Cooper, Harrington & Miner has increased 50% from the $5 million tv-radio billing of 1958 which got this West Coast agency into the top 50 list for the first time as the 50th rating agency and the only one with no network billing in either tv or radio. Again this year, all of its broadcast billing is in spot.

Accounts in broadcast include: Interstate Bakeries, Italian Swiss Colony Wines, Thrifty Drug Stores, Squirt Beverages, Farmers Insurance Group, Hoffman Electronics and Bu-Tay Products, all using both tv and radio; Roy Rogers Enterprises, tv; Blue Cross hospital insurance, Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp. and Von's Grocery Co., radio.

REACH, MCLINTON & CO.: Combined tv-radio billing $7.5 million; $7 million in television ($4 million in network; $3 million in spot); $0.5 million in radio (all spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 33.3%.

The Prudential Life Insurance Co. of America's 20th Century on CBS-TV continues as RM's network showcase and top billing account. The agency acquired some Breck products during the year but most of the added billing will come in late this year and in 1960. RM at the first of the year becomes agency of record on Breck's Sunday Showcase series of specials (about one a month) on NBC-TV, sharing billing with N.W. Ayer. International Latex continues as a substantial spot tv user.

EDWARD H. WEISS & CO.: Combined tv-radio billing $7.5 million; $7.1 million in television ($5.6 million in network, $1.5 million in spot); $400,000 in radio ($300,000 in network, $100,000 in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 40%.

Weiss beefed up its radio tv billings slightly less than $2 million during 1959, though its broadcast share dropped 3%. It picked up Midas Mufflers, an active NBC Radio account, and lost none, continuing heavy participation in network shows and spot. Its network tv clients: Purex Corp., Mogen David Wine Corp. of America and Helene Curtis. Active radio and/or tv spot clients were Carling's beer, Sealy (mattress products), Perk dog food, Little Crow Milling, Corina cigars, Helene Curtis, Mogen David and Purex.

GORDON BEST: Combined tv-radio billing $6.8 million; $5.7 million in tv ($2.1 million in network, $3.6 million in spot); $1.1 million in radio ($0.4 million in network, $0.7 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 63%.

The year's broadcast billings match the activity of a year ago, with only slight changes in network and spot radio reported. Active clients include: Dumas Milner Corp. (spot tv for Pine-Sol, Perma starch and other products); General Finance Corp., sponsor of Chicago White Sox baseball on regional basis; Maybelline Co., a prime spot advertiser, and Helene Curtis Industries, which recently shifted its network and spot business to Campbell-Mithun.

MacMANUS, JOHN & ADAMS: Combined tv-radio billing $6.4 million ($4.4 million in television ($2.9 million in network, $1.5 million in spot); $2 million in radio ($600,000 in network, $1.4 million in spot); tv-radio share of overall billing: 16.4%.

TV PREVIEW

Managers of Montgomery Ward stores are finding tv film commercials a valuable source for augmenting their promotions and local merchandising efforts.

In fact, there’s been an increasing number of requests for such material which managers incorporate in local tv schedules, according to Don Glassell, Ward’s tv-radio supervisor. Over one-third of Ward’s approximate 550 stores in the U.S. regularly request the films. And, he adds, these 180 stores are the major volume producers in the chain.

Most recent example of Ward activity is the series of two 50-second spots just completed by Fred A. Niles Productions for the Christmas season. One utilizes the stop-motion technique, featuring a one-toy item and advertising Ward’s Toyland section; the other features three items (stereo consoles, shirts and irons), stressing Christmas gift values and tying in with Ward’s December newspaper and mail circular promotion (see below).

Ad Autonomy • Montgomery Ward store managers, operating with relative advertising autonomy, decide whether to use tv. They buy the time locally, using parent company films but not money. It’s estimated that the 180 stores spend about $600,000 annually (or 5% of their aggregate ad budgets) for time to air the factory-provided spots. They’ve participated in the project since 1956. The chain itself is not active in either spot or network tv.

Tv material supplied to store managers falls into two categories: special promotion and library commercials, with both being used in short-term schedules. Promotion announcements carrying price copy are used only in conjunction with major newspaper and circular campaigns. Filmed library spots feature specific items but do not include prices; they can be utilized any time during a specific selling season. Final 15 seconds in the commercials are reserved for local copy to spotlight a particular item covered in the film, together with price. Managers also get “tv tear sheets” for the edification of store personnel.

Such filmed tv commercials are effective for local merchandising, Mr. Glassell believes, because (1) local managers are offered hard-sell spots which they may use at their discretion on short-term schedules (with one, two or three items getting the full pictorial and copy treatment), and (2) employees are also apprised by the tear sheets of what merchandise is being advertised on television.
The tv industry must stand up and fight, and look ahead to betterment of the product it provides the public.

The call to arms came last week in a frank appraisal of tv by C. Terence Clyne, senior vice president in charge of radio and tv at McCann-Erickson. At M-E, Mr. Clyne laments over a radio-tv billing that totals $108 million this year ($69 million in network tv).

What's needed, he said, is leadership among networks, station associations and station representatives. He called on tv spokesmen to "emerge and defend to the public what has been done and assure the public as to what is going to be done to correct the few things that are bad."

Mr. Clyne also asserted that neither legislation nor a car can solve the ills because neither can improve entertainment nor put a stop to "larceny."

Advertising agencies, he said, believe the tv advertiser should "continue to have a strong voice" in the program it sponsors. Basic reason for his position, Mr. Clyne said in an appearance before the Radio & Television Executives Society's timebuying and selling seminar in New York, is:

"The sponsor has the same direct access, the same availability of talent, and programs as the networks, and the sponsor, because the program is presented under his name, is possibly more sensitive for quality and not so concerned with maximum audience. Shows like Dinah Shore are put on the air because the sponsor insists upon quality association and is not obviously concerned with his cost per thousand."

With Mr. Clyne on the rostrum was NBC-TV Vice President David Levy, programming and talent chief. He spoke up for balanced network program schedules.

Mr. Clyne used the RTES platform to advocate "a plan, and let's call it a white paper how we can see ahead," an objective he assigned to networks, agencies and sponsors and to "all the stations and their representatives."

Mr. Clyne pointed to several areas needing a housecleaning, throwing in his recommendations for good measure:

Commercial - "We have too many on the air per minute of entertainment." He asked for a review of the double spot between programs, noting they have run their course and suggesting that "at least, the 30 seconds [spot] if it is going to go commercial, should be restricted to our product."

Bad Taste - He charged many commercials with being in "extremely bad taste in terms of going into the living room." Mr. Clyne asked for a new standard practice that will be "made to stick." The degree of "deceptive" commercials, he said, is but a small percentage of one per cent and could be easily eliminated along with "extraneous plugs" which are "wrong" because, first, they give added commercial time against entertainment, and second, "a sponsor is really subcontracting his time."

Mr. Clyne, in calling upon broadcasters, particularly station management, to assume leadership, asked: "Where are the leaders of principle among our station ownership? They are not very vocal. I know they are there."

Network or agency control—he said networks are responsible for total balance of programming and "accountable" for what is on the air regardless of program source.

Programming Hours - Mr. Clyne said there are some 10,000 hours yearly programmed by networks alone. In prime time they program over 3,000 hours a year. Yet the best 200 tv hours in a year compared to Hollywood's best 200 hours of features it can produce in a year would "win hands down in appeal and relaxation and entertainment value."

The problem, he declared, is "that of the qualitative keeping up with the quantitative."

No Picnic - Mr. Clyne also stressed the casualty rate in tv and the difficulty of even top tv shows to gain 50% of the people tuned in (only six over a period of 12 years achieved this percentage, he said).

Consensus of the pontificators on how tv can better its entertainment comes to this, according to Mr. Clyne: Sponsors should be out of tv and networks should have complete control. And this sentiment goes: American tv ought to be operated as the British system.

Mr. Clyne's answer—30% of all evening programs are controlled by the networks and presented by them—"so one-third of our nighttime network programming is under the British system right now."

Another 40%, he said, are presented by advertisers on an alternate-week basis but controlled by network full or partial ownership.

This, he continued, leaves about 30% at the most to the sponsor to "have the right to put in completely what he wants." Do we want to go the other 30% he asked. He cited various series initiated over the years by advertisers themselves and found, too, that in the past five years more than two-thirds of

Not Qualified • “We do not think that the networks want this total responsibility. We do not think that the networks would at this time say they are staffed and qualified to do the job.”

Mr. Levy said NBC programs with something for everyone in mind. This means minorities as well as majorities because “as it happens, minority views can very often become the majority view—given time.”

“Television cannot achieve, though it can aim for, consistent high standards of excellence every hour on the hour,” Mr. Levy acknowledged. “For whatever the deficiency or excellence, it starts with people,” he explained. As for the viewers, “we are dedicated to satisfying a wide range of tastes and interests. There is room for adventure programs and there must be room for programs that are adventurous in substance, concept and form. . . We’ll try to satisfy everyone. We can—be it by a western or by a ballet, by a private eye or an opera, by an original drama or a news special, by a comedy or by a political report, by a “Project 20” or a sport event—in black-and-white and color.”

Wanted in ads—a return to reality

The greatest need in advertising: To get back in touch with reality.

—Mr. Nelson, creative director of Hoen, Diethrich & Brown, San Francisco, called on the advertising industry to return to fundamentals in an address Nov. 20, to the final NAB Fall Conference at Seattle (other NAB coverage, page 68).

In a detailed critique on the type of advertising messages fed the American public, Mr. Nelson said, “My message is simply this: Quit smoking that stuff. Get back in touch with reality. Go outdoors and talk to some real people. Find out what kind of thing really makes their eyes light up, and makes them say, ‘Gee whiz! Look at that!’ ”

Mr. Nelson qualified his comments this way, “I am well aware that there are agencies and advertisers who take the trouble to try to communicate with me in their ads, who recognize that I’m an individual and not a Mass Market; and who try to talk to me with sense, with humor, with dignity, with sincerity.”

Dull Ads • A lot of advertisers are talking “to themselves,” he said. “They suffer from being imitative; from addressing themselves not to flesh and blood but to a set of statistics; from being a too-perfect marriage of the insignificant with the unbelievable. In short, they’re dull. We get tired of the thousands of visual cliches thrown at us daily; so tired that the only reaction these images inspire in us is a glazed eye and yawn.”

He described some of the cliches in this language: “I get tired of beer ads in which an unseen hand has just finished pouring a glass perfectly full of amber liquid. I get tired of otherwise realistic ads in which the models hold cans or bottles by the itty-bitty tips of their fingers so they won’t cover any part of the sacred label.

“I get tired of seeing people in ads get such a big charge out of activities which I know are a bore to most people, such as ironing, opening and closing oven doors, polishing cars, loading dishwashers, pointing at soaps or taking The Product off the supermarket shelf.

“I get tired of those men in white coats with pencils and clipboards—they’re always putting the advertiser’s product through some grueling test which it invariably passed well ahead of all competition.”

Models, Too • “I get tired of models . . . those perfectly perfect models, the kind that never perspire or spit or go to the bathroom and who don’t go to bed at night; they just go back into their coats.

“In other words, I get tired of seeing people in ads who live a life that seems to bear absolutely no relationship to my life, or to the life of anyone I know. I see all those fine young people in the Oasis ads, having such a jolly time sitting in their sports cars, each one holding up a package of cigarettes for me to look at. I see an ad like that—or any one of thousands like it—and all I can do is shake my head and figure: I must be missing something.

“I know this, the manufacturer is missing something. Me, Me, multiplied by countless indifferent millions.”

Gillette, NBC differ on bouts

NBC, The Gillette Safety Razor Co. and its agency, Maxon Inc., New York, are working up a rich lather over the Friday night boxing telecasts. The network is eager to cancel its pact for the bouts; the agency and sponsor think these telecasts are “sharp” and want to continue them.

NBC acknowledged last Wednesday (Nov. 18) that it had made overtures to Gillette for termination of the bouts and issued a bare statement saying:

“We have been reviewing the Friday night situation with Gillette on an amicable basis but we have not yet arrived at a decision.”

Though NBC officials declined to amplify on the statement, it was reported that the network is disturbed by disclosures of alleged corruption and gangsterism within and on the fringes of the boxing industry. Sources close to the network said the audience for the bout has diminished and added that a collateral consideration is the network’s desire to “play it safe” in this tv investigation era.

Gillette and Maxon have been quick to point out to NBC, it was reported, that the Friday night boxing telecasts still attract a substantial and responsive male audience. One official said the pact covering the fights runs through 1961 and Gillette is not inclined to easily surrender its franchise.

Though no meetings are scheduled for this week, it is probable that the network and advertiser will be persuaded to sit down and talk shortly, now that the dilemma has received widespread publicity.

Neither network nor agency officials would reveal the cost to Gillette of sponsoring the Friday night bouts on both NBC-TV and NBC Radio, but it is believed to be in the neighborhood of $6 million. In addition, Gillette sponsors other sports attractions on NBC-TV, including the All-Star Game (there were two this year), the World Series and the Rose Bowl Game.

Gillette has been sponsoring the Friday night bouts over the air since 1944. They were on network radio over Mutual and ABC for several years and later shifted to NBC.

Toilet companies push
Christmas sales on TV

While U.S. toy sales race ahead to a predicted record retail volume of more than $1.6 billion for the year 1959, toy manufacturers are spending an estimated $6.5 million in tv advertising, according to the Toy Manufacturers of America Inc., New York. Two of the top spenders are American Character Doll Corp., New York, and Remco Industries Inc., Newark, N.J., both currently in the midst of a 13-week pre-Christmas campaign directed by Webb Assoc., Inc., New York.

Using filmed minute-length commercials to promote a line of seven basic items for boys and girls, Remco industries is buying $1 million worth of tv spots in the top 50 markets during this 13-week period, it was reported last week by Elaine B. Hudson, tv director at Webb Assoc. The number of spots per week vary from a minimum of 10 in the smaller cities to a total of 75 a week in New York. All spots are placed in children's shows.

During this same period Remco and American Doll are investing some $200,000 as participants in CBS-TV's morning show, Captain Kangaroo, and as co-sponsors of CBS-TV's Thanksgiving Parade Jubilee (BROADCASTING, Nov. 9).

Remco also allocated an additional $35,000 to sponsor a series of special local telecasts around the country during November. Feature movie programs, each hosted by personalities who are popular with children, were scheduled for Nov. 15 and 29 in San Francisco and New York; Nov. 15 and 22 in Philadelphia, and Nov. 28 in Chicago. Telecasts of local parades will be sponsored by Remco in Baltimore on Nov. 26 and in Los Angeles on a partial basis the night of Nov. 25 and in full on Thanksgiving Day when the taped show will be repeated.

SHADOWS OVER ADVERTISING
AFA meet discusses corrections needed to forestall intervention by government

The spectre of government advertising control hung over the first all-day seminar of the reorganized second district, Advertising Federation of America, last week in New York.

It was a day for soul-searching—in the wake of Washington TV quiz investigations—for blame-placing, answer-seeking and explanations. Thomas D’Arcy Brophy, retired chairman of Kenyon & Eckhardt, called his feature address, “The Need for Higher Standards & Ethics in Advertising.” Arthur H. Motley, president of Parade Publications, said the effects of the TV quiz record extend to all media. Don Durgin, NBC-TV sales vice president, manfully tried to set the record straight from his network’s and a TV point of view as well as to parry what he considered false allegations and impractical remedies.

C. James Proud, president and general manager of the AFA, charged district representatives at the end of the day to use their influence to protect advertising and “put integrity above all else.”

Some 150 members of local ad clubs in the Atlantic States came to the (Nov. 17) meeting, presided over by district Governor Alfred P. Rexford of The Poor Richard Club in Philadelphia and president of the R.W. Rexford Co. in that city. Second district clubs range from New York to Washington and Baltimore.

Ad Policing • TV’s troubles have spotlighted advertising’s need for a code of ethics, Mr. Brophy said. The ad veteran called for self-policing to prevent government crackdown or consumer boycott. “We’re not a profession, but we’re professional men,” he said, explaining that lawyers, doctors—even stockbrokers and accountants, all have formal business ethics. “Why shouldn’t we impose greater discipline on ourselves,” he asked, “because I’m sure if we don’t, it will be done for us.”

Media have traditionally performed a screening function in advertising but with TV networks this has lapsed, he said. These have “in effect abdicated their responsibility to advertisers and their agencies” in Mr. Brophy’s opinion. Concerned as they are with sales, the advertiser and agency simply are not qualified to determine what goes into media, what goes on television shows today. Advertisers and agencies “must submit willingly to control by media,” he counseled. But media alone should not be expected to do the job, he feels. Such organizations as the American Assn. of Adv. Agencies and the Assn. of National Advertisers should take steps for self-policing, Mr. Brophy said.

Taking over from Mr. Brophy, Mr. Motley condemned “the ethics of the market place” which allow deception. Laws are not the answer, the publisher said, but old-fashioned virtues are.

Look at the Record • Mr. Durgin entered a plea for AFA members to study the record in a situation where facts have become obscured, he said, by a lot of talk. He referred his audience to Capitol Hill testimony by NBC President Robert E. Kintner and CBS Inc. President Frank Stanton and to statements of Robert W. Sarnoff, NBC chairman of the board. “There is no question that the public was deceived by certain quiz shows, but from that dfact sweeping misunderstandings grow about all quiz shows, all advertising.”

He offered networks’ continuity departments as a factor overlooked in charges of lack of network control.
Dealing with Mr. Brophy’s opinion that networks have abdicated control of their medium, Mr. Durgin said that putting together a schedule of 70 hours weekly involves large numbers of peoples, and “no one organization can corner the brains.” Complete network control is not the answer in NBC-TV’s view. He cited Mr. Kintner’s Washinton testimony that networks are “whipsawed” between conflicting points of view as to whether it is in the public interest for networks to control and produce all programs.

The NBC-TV sales head said he didn’t think it fair to say the nation’s advertisers typically “seek the low road in a battle for ratings.” On the contrary, he said, they constantly come to his medium seeking “the high road” in such sponsored series as American Heritage on NBC-TV and CBS Reports. Even the “bread-and-butter” weekly programs seek to portray a company in a favorable light rather than to succeed in terms of circulation alone, he said.

CORTNEY CRUSADES IN CHICAGO
Suggests suspension of commercial tv for two-or-three-year pay-tv experiment

Cortney of Coty took his “hands-off entertainment code” to Chicago last week, charging that television has become “the prostitute of merchandising” and calling for more morality and honesty in business.

Philip Cortney, president of Coty
Inc. and Coty International, addressed an Advertising Executives Club dinner, held Tuesday in cooperation with the Chicago Federated and Women’s Advertising Clubs, Broadcast Advertising Club and the local chapter of the Academy of Tv Arts & Sciences.

Earlier, he embossed his campaign during a noontime news conference at which he:

• Suggested the suspension of free, commercial tv operations for a two-or-three-year period in favor of pay tv experiments.

• Reported unfavorable reaction to his campaign from larger advertising agencies.

• Chided the Assn. of National Advertisers for the apparent reluctance of its members to keep hands-off tv programing and branded ANA as “monopolistic” and an organization in which “powerful voices prevail.”

• Expressed some misgivings about network-advertiser-agency dedication to ratings.

The Crusade • Mr. Cortney reiterated the details of his crusade against repetition of the “shameful tv quiz hoax” for which he has been running a continuing series of newspaper advertisements. His prepared talk, while covering the tv quiz scandal, emphasized advertising as the country’s economic foundation.

At his news conference Mr. Cortney said he favored pay tv if for no other reason than it would reduce the sheer quantity of programs and obviate the excuse of many viewers that they watch tv “just to kill time.” Additionally, he seriously questioned the theory of “getting something for nothing.”

Mr. Cortney evaded a newsmen’s question as to whether a suspension of free, commercial tv operations would be practical or feasible. But, he felt, a two or three-year test of pay tv might well be an alternative to complete government control of programming.

Embarrassing Question • Networks have a responsibility for upgrading program standards (“the tastes of the people have been degraded”), a challenge which might well be forced by toll television, Mr. Cortney asserted. He was plainly embarrassed when a Chicago newspaper tv-radio critic asked him if he considered such programs as The Gale Storm Show, American Bandstand and Beat the Clock (on which Coty has participations) as upgrading.

Mr. Cortney warned that “If the goal of advertisers is simply to get the highest ratings, they are bound to cater to the lowest tastes and masses.” In response to questioning, he indicated he finds no particular fault with the mechanics of audience measurements themselves. “There is probably nothing wrong with ratings per se,” he said, “But I don’t know whether the sample is adequate or not.”

Discussed reaction to his “hands-off entertainment code,” Mr. Cortney said the larger agencies seemed to oppose it (because “their pocket book is involved”) in contrast to smaller ones. Appraised of the reluctance of large advertisers to such a recommended hands-off policy for programming (BROADCASTING, Nov. 16), Mr. Cortney described the Assn. of National Advertisers as typical of big associations in which “powerful voices prevail.”

Mr. Cortney repeatedly urged a clearer definition of the “public interest” as applied by the FCC. He charged anew that agencies, networks and sponsors “will do anything” to assure the highest ratings. He advocated the magazine concept of advertising applied to tv, claiming advertisers should have no control over editorial matter. The issue is simple, he suggested: Are stations to serve the public interest or not?

Cooperation Permissible • Programming should be the “sole responsibility” of the networks, he declared. But this doesn’t obviate the possibility of cooperation with producers and packagers.

In his prepared speech, Mr. Cortney said “the only thing which seems to matter in the choice of programs is the rating... The desperate fight for high ratings had lead the tv industry to devote 24 hours a week during the scarce prime evening hours of the networks to so-called adult westerns.” He suggested that “The deplorable choice of programs to get the highest ratings for the advertisers tends to destroy the moral fibre of our homes and to demoralize them.”

Apparently, manufacturers, networks and producers have decided that they must cater to the lowest public tastes to get the largest mass-audiences, Mr. Cortney declared. Networks should give viewers “not what is considered popular” but programs “which inspire the desire for a good life.” He added, “We doubt the people want to be played constantly for suckers or for immature children.”

Mr. Cortney indicated that, despite the “helplessness” of FCC and FTC, the guilty could be prosecuted under the Federal Trade Commission Act governing “unfair methods of competition” and “unfair and deceptive acts or practices” in commerce.

The Coty executive renewed his plea for adoption of the “magazine concept” in broadcasting (hands-off program content), charging that tv advertising has become “a dangerous force for abnormal power and an instrument of monopoly.”

• Business briefly

Time sales • Hertz Rent-A-Car System, Chicago, will increase its 1960 national advertising budget from an estimated $5 million to $6.5 million. The expenditure calls for an expansion of its regional tv spot campaign in key markets, plus heavier use of other media. Agencies: Norman, Craig & Kummel for rent-o-car advertising, slated to be $5.8 million, and Needham, Louis & Brorby for car-and-truck lease, expected to run about $700,000. The new budget represents an all-time high for Hertz which started national advertising in 1947 with a limited allocation of $242,000.

Fifth season • Christmas Sing With Bing, starring Bing Crosby, returns to CBS Radio Dec. 24, (9:05-10 p.m. EST) for the fifth successive year under sponsorship of Insurance Co. of North America, Philadelphia, Agency: N.W. Ayer & Son Inc., Phila.

Agency appointments • Mars Inc. (candy), Chicago, appoints Needham, Louis & Brorby to handle its $3 million account. Approximately two-thirds of its 1959 budget was allocated for tv. Advertising previously was handled by Knox-Reeves, Minneapolis. Herbert H. Lehr- ter has resigned as Mars’ general advertising manager effective Dec. 1.

nation’s top 100 advertisers did to maintain their sales (and those of advertising generally) during last year’s recession. They spent $92 million less in newspapers and $10 million less in other media, which would have prompted a total ad business decline of $2 million. However, they also spent $45 million more in both network and spot tv. Television thus turned a recession into a record year, creating $36 million in new advertising dollars.

In terms of tv reach, the average audience claimed by the lowest-rated programs hit over six million homes per telecast. TVB members and guests were invited to compare this figure “with the potential audience of other media. You’ll find these latest successful tv programs deliver more than the most successful of other medium.”

Faster The Profits • Noting the function of advertising is to increase sales, TVB said: “From sales comes the profit. From profit comes the money for more advertising. The faster this cycle of advertising to sales to profit to dollars for more advertising, the faster the profits. Advertising that reaches people now and not weeks from now, is in the best position to create sales now, profits now...

“But the speed of reaching people does not mean just attracting their attention whether you attract, intrigue or intrude. It means the speed with which you implant your idea, register your message, convince. And this speed of conviction depends upon the tools for selling you have. The availability of the right tools to do the job makes the difference between an amateur and a professional...”

“In manufacturing, the better your tools, the better your product. In advertising, the better your tools, the better your product.”

“Television’s tools (color, videotape) have not been measured, few are even counted. But count them for yourself, consider them when you compare media for your advertising-manufacturing dollar.”

Also featured during the TVB presentation was Walter Reisinger, regional brands advertising manager for Anheuser-Busch. He said television has changed the map of America, by creating a new marketing concept. No longer is a market’s boundaries set by city limits or by reach of newspapers in other media. Today the market is judged by the reach of the television signal.

NIELSEN HITS BACK

Criticism of ratings unfair, he tells TVB

Arthur C. Nielsen Sr. of the pioneer audience measurement service firm is plainly roiled about charges that ratings are ruining tv and might even be rigged.

At the Television Bureau of Advertising annual convention in Chicago Friday (see story, page 69), he said he had decided “the time has come to face up to this nonsense right now” and scored the attacks as “vicious and unjustified.” Said he: “It is too serious to go unanswered.”

Mr. Nielsen, chairman of A.C. Nielsen Co., went a step further. He revealed he had wired the FCC and House Legislative Oversight Subcommittee, Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) Tuesday inviting an inspection of Nielsen’s Chicago headquarters and broadcast division.

Before discussing the importance of marketing in distribution of consumer goods and tv from the researcher’s viewpoint, Mr. Nielsen took this tack on tv ratings:

“Our is a complex business; one that is little understood by non-professionals. One result has been the vicious and unjustified attacks made on Nielsen broadcast audience measurement based upon complete lack of knowledge of audience measurement or even inclination to learn what our business is all about. Outspoken individuals in Congress condemn sampling in tv research and yet base important decisions on government statistics produced by these very same sampling methods.

“We have maintained a long standing policy of keeping our doors open to all clients and prospects who wish to obtain a clearer understanding of

Prophecy reminder

Members of Television Bureau of Advertising are getting plaques recalling a prophecy made five years ago with the birth of the bureau. The plaques, designed for network, station and station representative members, carry the inscription: “Five years ago it was prophesied, ‘The more advertisers know about television, the more they will use it’... and TVB was born. Today they know more and television is the leading national advertising medium. For your inspiration and continuing support, we express our appreciation.” It’s signed by Roger W. Clipp, TVB board chairman, and Norman E. Cash, TVB president. The plaques are being distributed to some 256 members in connection with the fifth anniversary convention in Chicago.

70 (THE MEDIA)

BROADCASTING, November 23, 1959
Code on closed circuit • Members of the NAB TV Code Review Board appeared on a special closed circuit telecast Nov. 18 to appeal for united support. All three TV networks played the half-hour program—ABC-TV at 1:30 p.m., CBS-TV and NBC-TV 5:30 p.m. All stations, affiliated or independent, were asked to watch and were encouraged to assemble as many of their staff members as possible. The presentation was given by Don McGannon, Westinghouse stations, code board chairman. Introduced on the telecast were: (l. to r.) Frank Morris, assistant director, West Coast office; Edward H. Bronson, TV code director; NAB President Harold E. Fellows; Gaines Kelley, WFMY-TV Greensboro, N.C.; Mrs. A. Scott Bullitt, KING-TV Seattle; Chairman McGannon; E.K. Hartenbower, KCMO-TV Kansas City; Joseph Herold, KBTV (TV) Denver; Harry H. Ward, assistant TV code director.

with hard decisions, impelling us in some instances to say ‘no’ in full knowledge that we are foregoing significant advertising appropriations.”

Code Means Confidence • He urged stations to abide by the code's limitations on the length and frequency of commercials. Observation of those limitations “may have a great deal to do with the proportion of public confidence which our medium inspires—a public confidence which we need to exist—a public confidence which unhappily has been badly fractured in recent weeks.”

Mr. McGannon reminded his audience that the code board and its staff had this year intensified its surveillance over both programming and advertising.

It has stepped up monitoring of commercial volume on subscribing stations to 100,000 hours a year. (This monitoring is done by broadcast advertisers reports.)

The members of the code board and staff have increased their own monitoring of program content. “Reports of violations of the code are reaching the program producing units faster and more meaningfully,” Mr. McGannon said.

Films Have Seal • The Hollywood office which the code authority opened early this year is working closely with film producers. Mr. McGannon pointed out that films meeting the standards of the code display the code seal. “Look for this seal,” he told his audience. “Impart upon it.”

“The code,” Mr. McGannon stated, “is our best, if not our only, hope for unified self-disciplinary action that will satisfy the requirement of the present situation and those arising in the future.

“We will be free only so long as we are respected. This respect must be based upon our ability to demonstrate responsibility for this medium we control.”

SPEND FOR PROFIT Success with tv ads in recession cited

Where advertising was once considered only a lubricant, it's recognized today as the power that runs the manufacturing machine. Sales decline is what Television Bureau Advertising calls “the exponential” in its latest large-screen presentation. It was unveiled before approximately 900 station and network representatives and advertising agency executives in Chicago Friday.

The presentation highlighted TVB's annual anniversary convention (Nov. 28-30). Comprising a board meeting, sales clinic planning, election of new directors and a chairman plus talks by leading industry representatives.

Aside from the new presentation, unveiled by Norman E. Cash, TVB president, bureau members heard an impromptu defense of ratings from Arthur C. Nielsen, board chairman of the research organization bearing his name. The luncheon speaker was FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer.

Participating in the presentation for TVB were George G. Huntington, vice president and general manager, John Sheehan, vice president, national sales. Talk of Advertising • Mr. Cash pointed out to members and guests that “today, the manufacture of production can only follow the manufacture of consumption. And the manufacture of consumption can be done only through the creation of new customers. New uses of consumption on the part of old customers, new uses for old products, new needs for new products, new improvements in all products. And this, all this, is the task of advertising.”

For some industries, he pointed out, this means spending more money. Increased consumption can mean disproportionately great increases in profit. But the initial need, according to TVB, is “sheer coverage”—turning coverage into reach; the advertiser then must “attract, intrigue, and intrude.”

The presentation spelled out what the
MORE PUNCH PLANNED FOR TV CODE

Sweep, or be swept, says McGannon in closed circuit plea

The NAB Television Code Review Board moved last week to strengthen the code itself and to muster more code subscribers.

In a special meeting in Los Angeles Monday and Tuesday, the Board drafted code amendments which would prohibit misrepresentation in both programs and commercials.

On Wednesday Donald H. McGannon (Westinghouse stations), the code board chairman, went on a closed circuit telecast over all three networks to plead for members.

Mr. McGannon's actions were taken for the announced purpose of heading off threats of intensified government controls. As Mr. McGannon put it on the closed circuit appearance: "Either we do it, or it's going to be done for us."

The language of the amendments that were drafted last week was not announced. It must be submitted to the NAB television board which alone has the power to make code changes. (At midweek it was uncertain whether the NAB television board would be summoned to a special meeting or polled by telephone, wire or mail.)

Rigging, The Target • Reportedly the amendment pertaining to programs would prohibit all deceits which were detrimental to the public. Although quiz rigging of the kind disclosed by the House Oversight Subcommittee was not included in the amendment, the amendment was said to be broad enough to include other types of programs. In news interview shows, for example, the audience would be told if there had been rehearsals.

The amendment pertaining to commercials was understood also to be a broad injunction against exaggerations and misrepresentations. It would prohibit video or audio techniques that make a product look better than it is.

In the closed circuit appearance last Wednesday, Mr. McGannon referred to the many government investigations now underway or scheduled and gave the first news of still another that had not theretofore been announced—the Senate Commerce Committee's. Mr. McGannon read a letter from Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.), chairman of the committee, inquiring into the code board plans for tightening self-regulation (see story page 78).

"I hardly think it is necessary," said Mr. McGannon, "to devote very much of our limited time here to estimating the seriousness of the position in which the television industry now finds itself.

Goodbye 'Other Fellows' • "The time has passed for recriminations, of which there have been many. And the time has passed when any of us can afford to sit by and say: 'Let the other fellows take care of this problem.' There aren't any 'other fellows' in this regrettable situation. The shadow has fallen on the industry as a whole, and no single part of it can escape the consequences or the responsibility for doing something about it." Mr. McGannon said that television recognized the importance of self-regulation when it adopted the television code in 1952.

"But there is something sadly wrong," he said, "not with the television code itself but with the manner in which we have failed to support it."

The three television networks and 271 television stations now subscribe to the code, he said. But nearly half of all operating stations do not subscribe to it.

If television is to defend itself against new government controls, "we must have self-made rules that will apply to all, or certainly to virtually all of us," Mr. McGannon asserted. "And they must be definite and imposable rules, for we are identified with a medium so dynamic, so intrinsically powerful, that we will always be fair game for the charlatan, whether it's a matter of cheating or pretense in programming or a matter of spurious advertising."

Strength In Numbers • No code is any stronger than its support, Mr. McGannon stated. "Hence if we could show a marked increase in membership over the next few weeks, we would be looked upon, with considerably greater favor by those who now are skeptical about our intentions or our ability."

He asked stations to send the code board telegrams affirming support of the code. Given a widespread show of support for the code, "we will have accomplished the first immediate objective of forestalling an authoritarian onslaught that could be nothing short of tragic not only to the industry but to the American public." This show of strength needs further reinforcement in an upgrading of standards throughout television, Mr. McGannon said.

"Individually, wherever it is needed, we must clean up our own house," he said. "This means demonstrating by word and act the integrity that is expected of us—yes, which is demanded of us. Without this, any attempt to convey an image of responsibility to the public of the public's representatives will be a sham and [will be] rejected." In both programs and commercials, he said, an elevation of standards is required.

Specific On Deceit • He referred specifically to "the kind of misrepresentation implicit in the quiz program incidents, and any related programming formats or devices which deceive the public to the public's detriment."

Advertising, he said, was both a qualitative and quantitative problem of "what kind and how much. It is also a subjective problem "to the extent that some products that might be acceptable in some markets might not be in others."

Further, Mr. McGannon alleged that advertising which may be acceptable in the print media, for personal products, for example, can be "wholly repugnant" on tv. The strength that makes television different from other media also makes it a better advertising vehicle, he said.

"We must nurture this strength," he said. "In so nurturing it we will be faced

Ike 'rigged'? The Democratic Digest, publication of the Democratic National Committee, last week charged Republicans with starring President Eisenhower in "rigged" tv commercials in the 1952 election campaign.

The Digest said President Eisenhower on a single day in New York answered 50 prefabricated questions on political issues as written by Rosser Reeves of Ted Bates & Co., Adv. Later people were "recruited" from regions which the tv spots were intended to reach. They were filmed answering the identical questions and the Eisenhower answers were fitted to the films, the Digest said.

A GOP spokesman disagreed, saying: "The Democratic Digest has been asking its own questions and supplying its own answers for six years now without any noticeable contribution to the truth."

our business thru personal visits to our Chicago headquarters and conversations with our people. Last year in our mutual interests, I voluntarily appeared before the Magnonson [Senate] committee and explained in detail the operation of our broadcast division. Further, since it is important that interested individuals in government have a basic knowledge of audience research and how it's conducted, a telegram was sent last Tuesday inviting the FCC and the Harris committee to visit our Chicago headquarters and see first hand the operation of our broadcast division.

In his prepared talk, Mr. Nielsen decried the misuse of ratings and cited newspaper columnists "who are seeking to destroy confidence in audience research." Among the detractors, he noted, are "those misguided persons who blame [it] for the demise of certain programs which they consider to be worthy of staying on the air." Audience research, he asserted, "is no more responsible for the demise of a program than the box office accountant is responsible for the closing of a Broadway show. In each case, the closing is due to the lack of sufficient audience. Audience research, like the box office accountant, counts the votes of the public; the actual decisions on programming are made by others."

Mr. Nielsen predicted tv advertising will hit $2.2 billion in 1963 (about 17% of all U.S. advertising allocations), compared with $1.3 billion in 1958. He said this suggests advertisers have found tv to be "an effective force for moving merchandise from seller to buyer" and that the medium has reduced the cost of distribution, thus helping to boost the standard of living in the U.S. and other countries. Tv also has played a vital role in boosting profits and capital values of manufacturing, retailing and other corporations which use it as an advertising medium, he claimed.

MBS reorganization

U.S. Referee Asa Herzog last week delayed action on the Mutual reorganization plan under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Act until Dec. 8. Judge Herzog was scheduled to act last Monday (Nov. 16) but he postponed a decision until Mutual and the City of New York settle the latter's claim for back taxes.

Though the city and the network earlier had agreed on the amount owed, an obstacle arose when the city insisted upon payment in a lump sum instead of staggered reimbursement. Referee Herzog asked the parties to resolve their differences before Dec. 8.

NETWORK TV GROSS UP 10.5%

ABC-TV shows biggest gain in September

Gross time charges in network tv totaled over $451 million for the first nine months of the year. This represents a 10.5% gain compared to the same period a year ago.

Network billing was reported last week by Television Bureau of Advertising. Compilations are made by Leading National Advertisers-Broadcast Advertiser Reports.

In September alone, the increase in billing was 13.6% for networks combined. ABC-TV led the networks in gains, scoring a 19.8% increase. CBS-TV was up 7.8% and NBC-TV increased 9.3%.

A greater pickup in billing, however, can be expected for October as the networks get further into the new tv season. Very little of the new season's billing occurs in September, until late in the month when a few of the shows make their seasonal debuts. BROADCASTING, November 23, 1959
City Glued To Radio For Game
S. U. Backers Go Wild As Sun Sets Orange

By Howard J. Carroll and Richard Case

Radio was king for a few hours in Syracuse yesterday afternoon.
It was Syracuse University against Penn State. Never had there been more excitement over an Orange football team.
Everybody had their radio on—or just about everybody—between 1:30 and 4 p.m. And everybody knows why.

To listen to one of the biggest stories—certainly the biggest sports story—to ever be broadcast in Syracuse.

It was Syracuse University.

Everywhere you went—the Hill campus, the hospital, the firehouse, the private home or the tavern—you knew this was so.

"Those penalties are going to kill us," declared some Orange boosters at Walter White's Tavern, 1700 E. Fayette St.

Car Radios, Too

Outside, cars were whizzing by, and everything seemed normal. But it wasn't really.

All the cars had the BIG game on. Those you didn't hear some how you know the car radios were on. Everybody was driving slow.

The score was still 6-0, but this didn't dampen the spirits of two coeds, smuggling up in a flashy red MG.

"We'll win. Wait and see," said Sheila Blum, 19, a junior. Joyce Trinin, 20, a senior, was confident, too.

As the WSYR announcer's last hoarse metaphor died away on the radio volley of cannon blasts, a volley of cannon blasts smock the Syracuse University campus.

RADIO WILL ALWAYS BE AS BIG AS IT MAKES ITSELF.
DAY IN AND DAY OUT, WSYR RADIO PROGRAMS ARE BIG... EXCITING... INFORMATIVE.
PEOPLE DON'T STAY "GLUED" TO ANYTHING LESS!

COMPACT NEW 11 KW VHF TELEVISION TRANSMITTER

Combines with an RCA High-Gain Antenna to Provide Effective Radiated Power Up to 180,000 Watts—Channels 7 to 13. An Unusually Low-Cost Package. (Or can be used as a driver to obtain higher power)

The TT-11AH answers the need for a modern television transmitter for the high band. It is designed for remote control, ease of operation, and improved performance. It assures low operating and maintenance costs and minimizes space requirements.

Space savings are effected through the use of common power supplies, walk-in cabinetry, and improved equipment layout. As a result, a reduction in floor area up to 40%, compared with previous 10 KW transmitter installations, can be realized.

By providing a wide aisle inside the enclosure, between the front-line racks and the power equipment to the rear, all components are readily accessible. Modulator and exciter chassis can be tilted out, from the front of the transmitter, for ease of servicing.

Check the outstanding features of this transmitter (at right) which make it easy and inexpensive to operate.

Get the complete story from your RCA Broadcast representative or write for descriptive literature to RCA, Dept. AD-22, Building 15-1, Camden, N.J. In Canada: RCA VICTOR Company Limited, Montreal.

Modulator unit is shown tilted forward for ease of servicing; exciter unit is in normal position.
THESE OUTSTANDING FEATURES

1. WALK-IN DESIGN ACCESSIBILITY—Improved walk-in design, introduced with the TT-2BL and TT-6AL Transmitters, is an invaluable feature of the TT-11AH. A wide aisle is provided inside the enclosure between the front-line racks and power supply components to the rear. All components are readily accessible from this aisle.

2. TUNING SIMPLICITY—All tuning adjustments can be made from the front of the transmitter with power applied. Power amplifier cavity has been greatly simplified, and no change in frequency-determining components is required to tune to any high-band VHF channel.

3. WIDE AMBIENT TEMPERATURE RANGE—Operation over a wide ambient temperature range is provided by thermostatically controlled cooling of all mercury vapor rectifier tubes.

4. QUIET OPERATION—All tubes and components, other than the mercury-vapor rectifier tubes, are cooled by one main blower in a sound-insulated enclosure.

5. OVERLOAD PROTECTION—Overload protection is furnished for all circuits. Indicating lights in the control unit instantly show which circuit was at fault.

6. DESIGNED FOR REMOTE CONTROL—Provisions have been made for remote metering and control of all necessary functions from a remote point. These facilities may also be used to control the transmitter from a central point in the transmitter building.

7. FEWER TUBES AND COMPONENTS TO STOCK—Fewer spare tubes and components need be stocked since the same tube types are used in both aural and visual rf chains.

8. ILLUMINATED METERS—A row of large illuminated meters, mounted on a sloping-front panel for ease of reading, shows all important currents and voltages.

9. IMPROVED COLOR PERFORMANCE—Built-in linearity correction, accurate intercarrier frequency control, and dc on power amplifier filaments are features included for outstanding color performance.
AB-PT BUYS REST OF WLS
Purchases Prairie Farmer publishing empire

ABC's long-standing hope of getting full ownership of its Chicago radio outlet was realized last week, subject to FCC approval. Parent American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres Inc. bought the other halfinterest in WLS from Prairie Farmer Publishing Co. by buying the publishing empire itself. The price was not officially disclosed, but $6 million gross was the figure for all properties plus half of the net from the farm papers for seven years. Included are corporate assets believed to amount to $3 million.

Along with WLS, which it already owned 50%, AB-PT acquired three leading farm publications with combined circulation of more than 900,000: Prairie Farmer in Chicago, Wallace's Farmer in Des Moines and Wisconsin Agriculturist in Racine. There has been speculation that, if it acquired them, AB-PT might re-sell the publications (CLOSED CIRCUIT, Oct. 12). Its announcement of the purchase gave no indication of plans in this respect, saying little more than that the management of the publications would continue unchanged.

There was no immediate comment regarding future management of WLS, assuming FCC approval of the transfer is forthcoming. WLS currently is headed by President James E. Edwards and General Manager Glenn Snyder. The station, founded in 1924, is a 1-A clear, operating on 890 kc with 50 kw.

Most of the stock in Prairie Farmer Publishing has been owned by the Burridge D. Butler Memorial Trust, a philanthropic organization in Chicago. The rest has been held by employees.

Changing hands

ANNOUNCED • The following sales of station interests were announced last week, subject to FCC approval:

- KOVR (TV) Stockton, Calif.: Sold by Gannett newspapers to Metropolitan Broadcasting Co. for $3.5 million in cash (BROADCASTING, Nov. 2). Purchase is actually 96.5% of stock of ch. 13 Stockton-Sacramento-Modesto area station. Metropolitan President John H. Kluge announced no changes in personnel. Purchase is third broadcasting property bought by Metropolitan in month; it paid $4.5 million for WIP Philadelphia and $600,000 for ch. 19 WTVH (TV) Peoria, Ill. (BROADCASTING, Oct. 26). Metropolitan owns WNEW-AM-FM-TV New York, WHK-AM-FM Cleveland and WTTG TV) Washington, D.C. Gannett Co. bought KOVR from Hoffman Electronics' H. L. Hoffman and others in 1958 for $1.5 million. Prior to the Metropolitan purchase, Gannett Co. was negotiating with 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. to sell Stockton station. KOVR began operating in 1954 and is affiliated with ABC. Gannett Co. remains in broadcasting field with WHEC-AM-TV Rochester, WINR-AM-TV Binghamton, WENY Elmira, WHDL-AM-FM Olean, all New York, and WDAN-AM-TV Danville, Ill.

- KGRN Grinnell and KNIA Knoxville, both Iowa: Sold by Ralph Jerrell Henry, Ralph Bitzer and Robert Coleman to Forrest J. Mitchell for estimated $63,000. Mr. Mitchell is program director of KJOA Des Moines, Iowa. Broker was Hamilton-Landis & Associates. KGRN operates with 500 w daytime on 1410 kc. Permit for KNIA is for 500 w daytime on 1320 kc.

- WM9K Nashville, Tenn.: Sold by Howard Steere, Emil Papke and J. W. Berkey to WM9K Inc. for $345,500. WM9K Inc. is comprised of Frederick Gregg Jr., Charles H. Wright and Charles King. Messrs. Gregg and Wright have just sold WOMI Ashland, Ky., and WOMP Bellaire, Ohio. Mr. King is manager of WOMP. The sellers own WIKM Kalamaoozoo, Mich. The transaction was handled by Blackburn & Co. WM9K operates on 1300 kc with 5 kw.

- WLS Chicago, Ill.: Full ownership bought by American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres Inc. in purchase of Prairie Farmer Publishing Co. for $6 million gross. (See story above.)
There may be many ways to use adhesive bandages... but there's only one way to use the BAND-AID trademark correctly... please say BAND-AID Adhesive Bandages

Remember—all adhesive bandages are not BAND-AID Adhesive Bandages! “BAND-AID” is actually a trademark... one of the most widely known in the world... recognized in more than 50 countries.

It means Johnson & Johnson, not the name of a product... and it refers to a whole family of products made only by Johnson & Johnson.

The “BAND-AID” trademark is always followed by the product name, i.e. BAND-AID Plastic Strips, BAND-AID Plastic Tape, BAND-AID Butterfly Closures, BAND-AID Patch, Spot, Strip.

We appreciate your mentioning our products and we hope you will continue to do so. But when you do, won’t you please use the full name correctly?

HURLEIGH BLASTS RATINGS

Predicts Senate hearings will show riggings, misinterpretations undermine their value

The flaws of broadcast ratings were brought to public attention last week by a network president, Robert F. Hurleigh, of MBS.

Combining personally acquired information with comments of legislators and media, he predicted forthcoming Senate hearings will show how the value of ratings is being undermined by rigging and misinterpretation.

Mr. Hurleigh cited published material blaming the tv quiz scandals on the widespread use of ratings to determine the impact of broadcast programs. He made his remarks before the Nov. 16 luncheon of the Sales Executive Club of Washington.

Broad projections of small samplings were blamed by Mr. Hurleigh for much of the ratings difficulty. "Ratings mean circulation," he said, "and too many large advertisers work on the premise that a large circulation will guarantee the impact of the advertising message and, accordingly, the impact in sales."

Monroney Comments • MBS carried a brief interview the same day with Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.), critic of broadcast ratings (BROADCASTING, Nov. 16). Sen. Monroney, belittling ratings purporting to show the tv tastes of 75 million viewers, said, "I cannot see how some 800 wired sets throughout the United States could possibly predict the listening and viewing tastes of the people of America. Yet these ratings are so important to the advertising agencies, the networks and even the sponsors that they have led to various unethical practices and rigging that have had a big hand in causing the public of America to lose confidence in this very vital medium." Sen. Monroney is chairman of a Senate Commerce Subcommittee that plans hearings on broadcast ratings.

Mr. Hurleigh said he has information that Chairman Warren G. Magnuson's (D-Wash.) Commerce Committee has amassed "a great amount of evidence showing rigged ratings and deliberate broadcast circulation misrepresentations on national, regional and local levels."

An article in the Nov. 16 Time and a New York Journal-American column by Jack O'Brian were cited by Mr. Hurleigh to show the "tyranny of ratings" and the vast projections made from small samplings.

Multiple Set Homes • A bug in the rating spectrum is the failure of meter systems to show the fast rise in multiple tv set ownership, according to the MBS president.

"Retail competition has caused this and basic sales statistics do not show the true picture," he said. "What has been happening, due to over-the-counter price cutting on retail levels, is that dealers throughout the country have been crediting purchasers with old-set trade-ins. But they have permitted buyers to keep these sets."

Mr. Hurleigh said rating adherents will admit that 6% of the country's homes have two or more sets. "We know the figure is much higher, closer to the 12% mark," he commented, "particularly in the middle and high-income homes with the better purchasing powers. The big fallacy lies in the fact that one meter, on one set in the living room, determines the viewing habits of homes that can and do have two sets."

The Senate hearings, he predicted, will produce exposures that will have "a tremendous effect within the industry."

A Look at History • Referring to the "me-too" tactics of quiz show sponsors, he said, "You have only to look at the history of quiz shows to see this approach. Many big advertisers sponsored quiz shows, regardless of whether their products appealed to the people who watch such programs. More importantly, they gave no concern as to whether or not the people who doted on quizzes, who racked up huge ratings for such programs, actually used the products being advertised. They were great for pharmaceuticals, for cosmetics. But they didn't and couldn't —sell high-ticket items, appliances, cars and the like. Low-ticket items are still impulse buys. High-ticket merchandise, particularly where interest-rate financing is involved, requires thought and meditation before purchase, and a different advertising approach—the constant reminder via radio, for instance."

In his media appraisal he said, "Television, a sight medium, is much akin to newspapers and magazines. And it is great for demonstrating product usage. Radio, strictly a sound medium, is unmatched for efficient, continual brand-name impressions."

Difficult Selling Ahead • Appraising the impact of the tv quiz scandals on broadcasting, Mr. Hurleigh said, "The industry is taking it very seriously. It will probably make selling a little more difficult in the months immediately ahead."

In a comparison of broadcast ratings with newspaper figures, he said, "Ratings are stocks in trade for all advertisers—radio, television, newspapers or magazines. In the broadcast media they are huge projections based on small samplings. In print they are based on totals of subscriptions plus newsstand sales.

He described a study by Caroline Hunter, MBS research director, showing that though each of 26 representative newspapers had the largest amounts of advertising lineage bought locally, only half of these papers led in circulation. She found that the ratio of local to national advertisers ran 4 or 5-to-1 for the newspapers and for all 450 radio stations affiliated with Mutual.

Radio, tv, newsreels criticize Rockefeller feller held firm to his position (At Deadline, Nov. 16).

The Association, composed of broadcast newsmen and cameramen employed at networks, stations and newsreel organizations in New York, pointed out that while separate news conferences are held in New York, they are “only by mutual agreement.” A telegram to Gov. Rockefeller added:

“But we have never relinquished our right to a joint conference when we felt story considerations required it. Where deadlines are pressing, a joint conference is absolutely essential.”

Monroney: no evidence ratings are rigged

Sen. A.S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.), who has been the Senate’s chief antagonist of broadcast ratings, didn’t go along with MBS President Robert F. Hurleigh’s statement that the Senate Commerce Committee has evidence of “rigged” ratings (see story, page 78). Issuing a statement from Oklahoma City, he said:

“There has been no evidence at previous hearings of anything I would call rigging of ratings. There has been evidence of what is called ‘hypoing’ of local station ratings by increased advertising of programs in periods when a survey was to be made. But I believe that this process has been disappearing as a result of the testimony at the hearings. Of course, if there is rigging of ratings, I’m sure all of us of the [Communications] Subcommittee would welcome anything factual on it.

The complaint against the audience surveys has been that they are inadequate, not necessarily that they are inaccurate. We have been trying to find out if over-reliance on ratings by sponsors, advertising agencies and networks have adversely affected the quality of television programs.

One committee staff member termed the rigging charge as "hogsaw." Another was noncommittal, saying he couldn't give a yes or no as to whether there are complaints of rigging. The subcommittee held one day's hearings on ratings in 1958, but plans for subsequent sessions have not materialized.

Networks shopping for election year

Though the national political conventions are eight months off, the television and radio networks already are mapping strategy for coverage and stepping up efforts to snare advertisers for their convention-election package.

CBS, of course, is in the enviable position of having sold its package last August to the Westinghouse Electric Corp., which also sponsored that network's coverage in 1952 and 1956. The total cost to Westinghouse is estimated at more than $6 million.

NBC is understood to have approached more than 30 "blue chip" advertisers for its radio-tv coverage of the conventions and election and has placed a price tag of $6,130,200 for the package. A sampling of the advertisers who have listened to presentations but have not bought as yet: Ford, General Motors, United States Steel, Texaco, Aluminum Co. of America, Du Pont, RCA, General Foods, AT & T, International Business Machines, General Electric and Chrysler.

ABC reported that it has three advertisers who are "very, very close" to signing for the network's political package, but declined to name them at this time. Total cost of coverage is reported at $4,839,000.

CBS' package also covers nine weekly half-hour programs to be carried between the end of the conventions in the latter part of July and election day in November. ABC's coverage will include four pre-convention programs on tv, totaling two hours. NBC also will provide 22 one-minute participations on its Today in the weeks between the conventions and Election Day.

Mutual reported that it has not made arrangements to date for coverage, but plans full-scale broadcasts covering the conventions and election results.

SDX announces three fellowship awards

Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, meeting in convention Nov. 11-14 in Indianapolis, announced its annual fellowship awards in communications. The awards have been conferred on Byron Price, former director of censorship during World War II; Hal O'Flaherty, former foreign correspondent of the Chicago Daily News; and Houston Waring, Colorador editor.

Undergraduate awards in radio-tv were made to Terry Leedom, Ohio U., for radio reporting; Michael Cory, U. of Washington for radio-tv newswriting- commentary; and the WOUB staff of Ohio U. for radio-tv public service in journalism.

Disc Jockey Assn. offers cooperation

Disc Jockey Assn. Inc. held its regularly convened meeting of the board of directors in Chicago to approve the contract between the DJA and 20th Century Fox for filming of "The Big Platter Parade." At the meeting Jim Hawthorne, of KDAY and KTTV (TV) Los Angeles, interim president, was officially elected to that position. The DJA interim board of directors was confirmed with 26 additional members added. Plans were made for the DJA convention March 4-6 in Los Angeles. The association issued a formal statement in connection with the recent congressional probes, stating that the DJA "is aware of current news stories concerning ... unethical practices involving undue pressures and promises ... applied to certain disc jockeys in the conduct of their duties." The association offered fullest cooperation in supporting and maintaining its ethical standards in order to justify public confidence in disc jockeys and in all broadcasting.

Following is a list of the 26 newly elected directors of the DJA:

Bill Allen, WLAC Nashville; Louis Bantle, WIBX Utica, N.Y.; Bob Bell, CKOL St. John's, Quebec; Paul Berin, KNZU Houston; Chuck Blons, Crowell-Collier, KFWB Los Angeles; Bob Clayton, WKBN Canton; Ira Cook, KMBC Los Angeles; Ted Court, WLSR Roanoke, Va.; Buddy Deane, WJZ-TV Baltimore; Paul Drew, WGST Atlanta; Joe Finan, KYW Cleveland; Jerry Forbes, CHED Edmonton, Alberta; Milt Furness, KJNO Jeneral, Alaska; Bob Furry, KTXR Phoenix; Milt Grant, WTTG (TV) Washington, D.C.; Freeman B. Results of Drummond's tv protest tune-out

Roscoe Drummond, newspaper columnist for the New York Herald-Tribune syndicate last Nov. 9, suggested that the public turn off its tv receivers between 10 p.m. and 11 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 17, as an expression of protest against the quiz show scandals.

Well, Mr. Drummond did not watch tv that one hour, and apparently neither did a number of other people. Actually the average tune-in for the 10-11 p.m. hour was 71% Nov. 17, compared with 75.5% for the same one hour period the week before. These are the American Research Bureau's Arbitron figures which were released last week.

The drop of four points was considered significant in some quarters, particularly since last week's cold wave normally sends tune-ins up. On the other hand, it was pointed out that a difference of four points under current rating service sampling can be considered well within the so-called margin of error and thus is not considered vital.

YOU CAN LEARN TO OPERATE AN AMPEX IN 15 MINUTES

Six Quick Aids to Easy TV Tape Recording . . . You can learn to operate an Ampex Videotape* Television Recorder in less time than it takes to smoke a cigarette. These six features, for instance, make recording simple, fast . . .

• JUST THESE BUTTONS TO PUSH—Record, Stop, Rewind, Fast Forward and Play.
• TAPE TIMER—records in hours, minutes and seconds . . . not footage. Lets you back up tape for any desired cue-in time.
• CUE TRACK—lets you locate, identify and cue commercials and programs.
• TAPE SPEED OVERRIDE—makes it easy to synchronize with another video or audio recorder.
• AUTOMATIC BRAKE RELEASE—speeds threading and splicing.
• FULL WIDTH ERASE—Automatically erases tape.

Of course, to be an “expert” — to learn maintenance as well as operation — takes one week. Ampex trains your maintenance supervisor (over 436 so far!) at the factory. And he is then qualified to train as many others as you like.

TV-TAPE SURVEY
NAB study predicts two VTR's per station

The typical tv station will soon find that one tv tape recorder isn't enough.

A survey conducted by the NAB Vt Advisory Committee on Video Tape Usage shows the need for multiple recorders and the value of the equipment in station operations. Results were announced Nov. 17 by Thad H. Brown Jr., NAB tv vice president, at the association's Los Angeles Conference (see story page 84).

Harold P. See, KRON-TV San Francisco, committee chairman, described the survey as one of the most extensive tape studies ever conducted on the basis of broadcasting experience. The results are based on 63 useful replies from 96 tape-equipped tv stations. Of these, 17 replies came from stations having the only video tape facilities in their markets with 73% having tape-equipped competitors.

Mr. Brown said 67% of responding stations had one tv tape machine; 35% had two, and nine had one or more machines on order. He said 86% predicted the typical station would soon need two machines.

VTR's Value. * "The survey showed that to stations the machine's most important value by far is as a programming and production aid," Mr. Brown explained. This was described by 56% as the most important use of tv tape recorders. "Next came the recorder's accomplishments in personnel scheduling," he continued. "This was listed second by 31% of the stations and another 26% rated it third.

"Almost as important in the eyes of many was its value as a cost-saving tool. Half the respondents gave that category either first, second or third place. On the other hand, a number of stations emphatically denied that a video tape recorder can be utilized as a device to save money. Tape's use as a sales aid and to develop new business was also listed as a significant factor.

"Stations were asked to name the most significant drawbacks of video tape recorders. Here, two categories vied with each other for first place. Thirty-three stations indicated the machine's high initial cost as a factor, and 28 thought the inclination of production people to spend too much time and/or money striving for perfect takes' was, or would be, a problem. Of less concern were maintenance and personnel costs, and the cost of the tape itself."

Mr. Brown found a divergence of opinion on a number of topics. "Significantly divergent viewpoints were expressed by general managers, and programming and engineering executives," he said. "Managers were less concerned about initial cost than the others, but the cost-saving aspect was more important to top management than to staff executives." The study included questions on color tape recording, tapes from sources outside the station, splicing and modifications to the recorder.

On the NAB video tape committee, besides Mr. See, are Norman Bagwell, WKU-TV Oklahoma City; Raymond J. Bowley, Westinghouse Broadcasting

Balaban’s Box pleads for balanced programs

The operating boss of a nationally known group of independent radio stations last week predicted a dismal future for formula radio.

John Box Jr., managing director of the Balaban Stations, made a plea for balanced programming to be directed toward the total audience. He addressed the NAB Regional Conference in Los Angeles, Nov. 17.

"In the next two years," he said, "I predict that at least half of the Top 40 type of operations and their imitators will be consigned to economic oblivion."

He spoke up for "intelligent balanced programming an appetizing mixture of excitement, entertainment, information and genuine community services." To exploit the full potential of radio, he said, stations must promote their total circulation.

Editorializing is not a privilege bestowed upon broadcasters by the FCC, which the FCC could take away again if it so minded, Justin Miller, former president and board chairman of NAB, told the session on editorializing. Speaking from the floor, Judge Miller said that the right to editorialize comes from the Constitution of the nation and is not subject to the whims of a regulatory agency. When the fight which he spearheaded to win recognition of the right of broadcasters to air views of public issues was finished, he stated, the FCC admitted that its decision in the famed Mayflower case, that Broadcasters should not editorialize, was unconstitutional.

Three broadcasters: Rex Howell, KREX Grand Junction, Colo., which has been editorializing since 1931; Robert H. Forward, KMPC Los Angeles, which this week completes two years of editorializing; and Robert M. Purcell, KFWB Los Angeles, which will shortly begin editorializing, agreed that broadcast editorials should be delivered by a spokesman for management and not by a regular newscaster or announcer.

Commenting that some things don’t change with the years, Mr. Howell recalled that his station’s first editorial was to argue for radio’s right to have the same access to official news sources as the newspaper editors.

Media reports

Erratum • Lamb Industries Inc. has no connection with Edward Lamb radio and TV stations, Mr. Lamb has announced. BROADCASTING erroneously included these stations in the report on Lamb Industries Inc. third quarter financial figures (BROADCASTING, Nov. 2). Ch. 12 WICU-TV and its radio companion, WICU, are licensed to the Dispatch Division of Air-Way Branches Inc. The permit for ch. 23 WMAC-TV Massillon, Ohio, not yet on the air, is held by Midwest TV Co. In both of these companies Mr. Lamb is the principal stockholder.

Safety awards deadline • Closing date of Feb. 1, 1960, has been set by the National Safety Council on entries for its public interest awards to public information media. Six categories include radio-tv stations, networks and syndicators as well as advertisers. Non-competitive awards, to be announced in April, serve as the basis for Alfred P. Sloan radio-tv honors for highway safety, to be administered again next year by the council. Entries must be made on official entry blanks, obtained from NSC headquarters, 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 11.

Sacks memorial opens • The Emanuel Sacks Hematology Dept. of the Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia was dedicated Nov. 15. Speakers included Br. Gen. David Sarnoff, board chairman of RCA. The hematology unit, named for the late NBC vice president in charge of tv network talent and programs, was financed from a $150,000 grant made by the Emanuel Sacks Foundation. The Foundation, benefited from a special tv tribute to Mr. Sacks, Some of Man’s Friends, which was seen on NBC-TV March 3, 1959. Mr. Sacks died Feb. 8, 1958, of leukemia.

Foster homes appeal • Film spots are being distributed this month to tv stations by the Federation of Protestant Welfare Agencies, New York, calling attention to the need for finding foster homes for dependent or neglected children. The 20-second and 60-second spot announcements, which stress particularly the need for finding foster homes for Negro children, feature such outstanding personalities as Roy Campanella, Monte Irvin and Mrs. Count Basie.

WING moving • WING Dayton, Ohio, in the Low’s Theatre building for about 38 years, moves in January to 128 W. First St. The new studios and offices represent a $250,000 investment. Executive offices of other Air Trails Network stations (WIZE-Springfield, WCOL, Columbus; both Ohio, WKLO Louisville, Ky.; WEZE Boston, Mass.) also will be at 128 W. First.
“Pious affirmations” of programming responsibility will not be sufficient for broadcast license renewals in the future.

Broadcasters must be given full responsibility for programming content and commercial messages.

The industry, with the cooperation of the advertiser, must take immediate steps to remove deception in both entertainment and commercials or an “impatient” Congress will act.

These were the main points made by FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer in addressing the annual meeting of the Television Bureau of Advertising in Chicago last Friday (May 20).

Unwise Reforms • The chairman warned that current public opinion could swing Congress into unwise reforms, “unless the public and Congress are given immediate assurance that a corrective course of action will be implemented promptly. . . . Unless the industry, with the cooperation of the advertiser and his agencies, moves promptly to eliminate the distasteful forms of deception of either an entertainment or commercial nature, you may well expect an impatient Congress to do it quickly—and perhaps in a manner which may not be an ideal adjustment . . . .”

Comr. Doerfer predicted that “any extensive delay [by the industry] will be swept down the path of narrow governmental controls. . . . The spectre of a bevy of government clerks blue-penciling programs . . . would be just as abhorrent in broadcasting as in the press, the pulpit, the stage or the political platform.”

He said that mass communications—including the print media through mailing privileges—are at the “crossroads.” However, he said, the power to license cannot be conditioned on the license surrendering his constitutional freedoms.

“I hasten to add that commercial utterances such as advertising are not entitled to First Amendment protections,” Comr. Doerfer emphasized. “A failure to distinguish between the freedom to express political, civic or other non-commercial ideas, and the indiscriminate hawking of wares over the highways and airways of the public has brought the advertising and broadcasting industries to the brink of strict government controls.”

Crisis in Next Congress • Comr. Doerfer echoed the feeling of many that broadcasting faces a “crisis” when Congress resumes in January. “If the industry does not successfully survive that crisis, it has no one to blame but itself,” he warned.

Congress, the FCC and courts have been very liberal toward the broadcasting industry, the Commission chairman pointed out, with no specific limitations upon programming set. It is difficult, he said, to determine what is bad programming but the FCC has authority to deal with violations of specific laws. He cited obscenity, indecency, profanity, lotteries and fraud.

However, Comr. Doerfer continued, “it is doubtful that the Commission could prove a home viewer suffered a legal detriment so as to sustain a direct move against any specific tv quiz show. . . . If a licensee, as distinguished from an independent producer or package, participated in the reprehensible frauds or was grossly negligent in discovering and stopping it . . . the Commission could consider this a definite detriment in its overall program review.”

The quiz show developments “indicate that the gap between that which is obviously contrary to the public interest and that which is more subtle, but equally intolerable, must be narrowed,” he told his Tvb audience.

When the newly inaugurated FCC inquiry into programming and advertising (see page 94) is completed, Comr. Doerfer said, “I doubt that . . . pious affirmations of responsibility by a licen-

Nixon nixes controls

Vice President Nixon takes a “rather dim view of more federal regulation of television”. He said so in answer to a question from the floor following an address at the 50th Anniversary Convention of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, Nov. 14, in Indianapolis. Here’s the question and answer:

Q. In light of the television quiz scandals, do you think there should be more federal law or regulation of television?

A. Generally speaking, I take a rather dim view of more federal regulation of television or of any other communication media in this country. I know that there are many people who believe that the solution to this problem is to set up a federal agency or some control board which would make this kind of practice perhaps less attractive to those who engage in it in the future than it has been in the past.

But once the federal government gets its foot in the door in this area of control, and policing what can be said on the airways through radio, television, and the like, —I don’t know where that process is going to end. And I believe the very fact that the Congress of the United States—and incidentally, the hearings that I think the Committee of Congress conducted in this area is one of the best justifications that I can think of for the much maligned institution of Congressional investigations—that these hearings, I think, have served a very salutary effect, and I believe that there are in the television and communications industries—call them what you like—enough responsible people that they will adopt a self-policing policy which will deal with the problem. I would say, let’s give them a chance to do their self-policing, and then if they don’t do it, then we can take another look and see whether the only answer is more federal government participation.
WHY IS GATES THE NATION'S LEADING DESIGNER AND MANUFACTURER OF AM AND FM BROADCAST EQUIPMENT?

Gates continually leads the industry in the sale of AM and FM broadcast equipment. Why? We asked broadcasters themselves to answer this question...to tell us their primary reason for choosing Gates equipment over all others. Here is a representative sample of their comments:

"Gates consistently builds good equipment. They're reliable, high in quality."

"We checked very thoroughly and found Gates the only one with all the features we needed."

"This radio station has used Gates equipment for many years and we are completely sold on its high quality operation."

"Widespread acceptance from engineers around the country."

"Because of the fine quality machinery manufactured by Gates."

"We've found that at Gates a customer is more than a customer—he's a friend. Our problems are Gates problems. Guess you'd call it personalized service. It's been a part of the Gates organization since 1922—and we like it!"

"From an engineering standpoint, it is strictly an engineer's dream."

"Is there anything better?"

"The reputation that Gates has established for standing 100% back of their product."

"Your equipment is built to last."

"The reliability of Gates products. Real precision equipment."

Notice the use of the words reliability, quality, personalized service, precision, built to last, engineering know-how. And, as one broadcaster put it, "Is there anything better?"

You judge for yourself.

Comr. Lee on programming

Sanctions for programming imbalances may be in the wind.
At least this was the word used by FCC Comr. Robert E. Lee in presentation of ideas on how the FCC should handle stations guilty of lack of balanced programming.

"I would hope," he said, "that the ensuing hearings [scheduled to begin Dec. 7, see page 94] would develop reasonable methods of measuring promise vs. performance. I would hope that the Commission would be allowed to adopt some sanctions short of the 'death sentence' [revocation] for offending stations. Perhaps some form of probation such as a temporary license or a one-year extension pending further review is the answer."

Mr. Lee made his remarks in a Sunday morning speech to the Catholic Apostolate of Radio-Television Advertising (CARTA) in New York.

He also said that he had suggested that station sales, "where the license has been held for less than a full license period, be placed in hearing automatically unless compelling reasons exist such as sickness or death."

He warned against overzealousness in attempts to correct the ills of the broadcasting industry. "In our zest to remove the weeds," he said, "we must be careful of protect the wheat of free speech as guaranteed by the Constitution."

a commendable job in its special report on personal product advertising, issued last September, which led to some stations withdrawal from the code. "I was very much distressed to learn that some broadcasters would much rather forego their Seal of Good Practice rather than observe some of the recommendations contained in the report," Comr. Doerfer said.

In a note of warning to licensees, he continued: "Such reactions, if substantially extended in numbers, would shake my expressed confidence that with some patience and more experience, the quality of both advertising and entertainment formats will constantly rise. . . . A cumulative record of callousness to such standards may jeopardize a license renewal—and most certainly be considered a detriment in any contest for a new or additional grants."

Internal Controls Needed • Comr. Doerfer said that both programming and advertising content could best be controlled by the industry rather than through legislation. Reasonable assurances should be given that presentations contain no objectionable deceptions.

"Not only should the advertisers cooperate with the broadcaster to cut out all forms of exaggerated claims and half-truths... they should modify these attitudes which regard the public as so many impersonalized digits," Comr. Doerfer said.

"In order to attach full responsibility to the licensee of all programming—including the commercials—he should be given full control over it... . . He should be accorded congressional assurances if necessary that such domination is in the ultimate public interest and is not to be regarded as a violation of the antitrust laws.

[The broadcaster] should eliminate all those deceptive practices which, although not cognizable at common law as deceits have in their cumulative effect, a detrimental effect on the public interest. . . . He should cooperate with the FCC in recommending policies or laws which will be effective restraints over these harmful practices. . . .

"The prospect of propelling our standard of living and our culture to ever greater heights through mass communication stands at the crossroads. There is still time to take the right road."

Annual program report urged for tv stations

A member of the Senate Communications Subcommittee last week "suggested" that the FCC require "more comprehensive" annual reports from tv stations on programs which they provide in the "other than pure entertainment" category and that the Commission set up machinery for "checking" these reports.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) made his proposal in a talk to the West Essex Service Clubs in West Orange, N.J., in which he said that while applicants for tv station licenses "frequently paint attractive pictures of their plans for supplying a high standard of programming, there has been little effective machinery for following up to see that the promises of applicants are kept."

He offered this plan as part of a "two-prong approach" to problems concerning quiz show rigging and allegations of fraudulent advertising and "payola" activities. The other prong would be for broadcasters to "assert" control over programs instead of turning over responsibility to sponsors, packagers or agencies, he said.

If the FCC and broadcasters don’t make some "real progress" in improving standards such alternatives as paid television or a government-owned network, "to serve as a yardstick and stimulus," will receive increased consideration, he said.

COULD BE BECAUSE:

we have the POWER

Yes, thanks to our new 316 KW (maximum power) transmitter, we now speak to more than a million Western New Yorkers with a stronger voice—look at them with a brighter eye! Our primary coverage area is considerably extended!

we have the SHOWS

We offer our viewers the very finest programs of two major networks—CBS and ABC—a galaxy of great stars in a brilliant host of new shows and old favorites! We also offer News-Weather-Sports, complete and accurate, twice nightly at 6:30 and 11:00 P.M.—plus many other fine, live local shows, and the great MGM movies.

we have the KNOW-HOW

Not only do we possess the technical know-how that guarantees best-quality production, but being Rochester-owned, we understand the wants and whimsies of the people of this area, give them what they want, know how to promote our station and our programs in the most effective manner.

we have the FACILITIES

Our facilities, both in personnel and in equipment leave little to be desired. Our well-trained engineers and production staffs welcome the constant challenge of handling live shows and live commercials in truly expert fashion.

we have the WILL

Perhaps our BEST quality is our ceaseless will to please! We are intensely proud of our consistent leadership in Rochester, and we are determined to maintain it!

FEDERAL PROSECUTION HINTED

Attorney General Rogers says Justice Dept. may take quiz-fixers to court for fraud

The spectre of criminal prosecution by the federal government hung over the quiz scandals last week—with the finger pointing at the producers rather than at broadcasters.

Attorney General William P. Rogers said last Tuesday that federal prosecution may be one result of the current Dept. of Justice study of the tv frauds. He referred to Sec. 1343 of the U.S. Code which makes it a criminal offense (five years and $1,000) for using radio or tv to perform “any scheme or artifice to defraud.”

The Justice Dept.’s investigation was ordered by President Eisenhower last month (Broadcasting, Oct. 26). Mr. Rogers said early in November that the results of the study will be submitted to the President by the end of the year. The Attorney General emphasized that the prosecutions would be against those who “conceived” and practiced the deception. He presumably was referring to the producers of the fraudulent programs. He added that no final decision has been made to bring any prosecutions. He stated that the Justice Dept. did not want to interfere with the plans of Frank S. Hogan, New York County district attorney. Mr. Hogan’s office has been studying the question of bringing action against the promoters of the deceit.

Preventive Measures • Mr. Rogers said the second portion of the Justice Dept.’s investigation concerned the prevention of misleading programs on the air. This might, he implied, indicate new legislation or tighter regulation by the PCC.

He also said that the study would cover not only quiz programs, but other “deceptive practices.” This was inferred in some quarters to mean payola or the bribing of disc jockeys and other performers to promote products on the air in their program material.

In discussing the possibility of criminal prosecution, Mr. Rogers cited the case of Gregory v. United States. This was decided by the Fifth Circuit Court March 12, 1958. In this case a postal employee mailed a scorecard to a company running a football contest. The postal employee filled out the card after the games had been played, but postmarked it so it appeared it was mailed before the games were played. He was convicted of mail fraud.

The defendant argued that the contest company had not been defrauded of anything substantial because it had planned to give away a Cadillac automobile to the winner anyway. The court, however, said that the fraud did not have to be an appeal for money to justify prosecution. It also defined in broad terms schemes to defraud.

McGannon, Aubrey messages draw FTC praise

This pair of federal regulators viewed the closed circuit telecast Nov. 18 by NAB Tv Code Board Chairman, Donald H. McGannon of Westinghouse Broadcasting Corp., and his fellow code board members. They also caught the explanation by James T. Aubrey Jr., CBS-TV executive vice president, of the network’s new program rules (stories, pages 68 and 98).

“I’m impressed by Mr. McGannon’s sincerity,” Chairman Kintner said. “He confirms my impressions that he means what he says.”

Mr. Tait added, “We all approve the industry’s effort to clean up harmful practices. The industry knows these practices and is in the best position to stop them.”

Referring specifically to the new CBS rules, Chairman Kintner said, “I have applauded Frank Stanton, CBS Inc. president, from the beginning. He has demonstrated real statesmanship. The new rules indicate his determination that CBS intends to solve the problem by self-regulation. That’s how most human problems are solved. Adherence by CBS to the new rules should pretty well solve the problem. It appears to be a sincere effort by Mr. Stanton.”

After the closed-circuit telecast on CBS-TV, which included Mr. Aubrey’s recitation of the network’s new rules, Chairman Kintner was asked if he felt new legislation is required. He replied, “I feel self-regulation should be sufficient, if implemented and if the whole industry is behind the effort. The code board now has a much better opportunity to solve the industry’s problems, though I understand hardly half of the

Sen. Magnuson’s Stern Warning:

Clean up radio-tv abuses or “I will move ... with legislation”

Broadcasters, the FCC and the Federal Trade Commission were put on notice last week by Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) of the Senate Commerce Committee that if they don’t clean up abuses in tv and radio “I will move immediately with legislation.”

In a ‘give ‘em hell’ address prepared for delivery before the Washington and Oregon State Broadcasters Assns. meeting in Seattle, Sen. Magnuson took broadcasters to task for an “ineffective” NAB TV Code. He charged the FCC with failing to act where it has acknowledged it has authority and said he was “amazed” to hear the FTC is expanding its radio-tv monitoring and cracking down on misleading advertising because he thought it had already done so.

The Washington Democrat’s speech came as a more strongly-worded and broader-scope follow-up than an earlier letter he wrote NAB TV Code Review Board Chairman Donald H. McGannon in which he asked how the board plans to amend the tv code to make it effective in heading off fraudulent and deceptive practices—not only among the code’s 270 tv station subscribers, but among non-subscribers.

In both the letter and his prepared speech last week, Sen. Magnuson said he plans to summons the FCC, the FTC and broadcast representatives before his committee when Congress convenes next January to find out what steps they have taken that would remove the need for appropriate legislation.

Code ‘ineffective’ • Sen. Magnuson told the broadcasters last week that:

“...it is obvious the tv code has been proved ‘ineffective’ because “no action has been scheduled.” He said his warning to the industry should be sufficient and he hopes that by the time he calls a meeting his effective procedures have been adopted to make legislation unnecessary. (Kenneth A. Cox, special counsel to the committee on broadcast affairs, said in Seattle he watched a closed circuit telecast of the Los Angeles code board meeting Nov. 18 and reported it to the senator).

• He comends the FCC for “finally” acting to call a probe of broadcaster programming and advertising, but “frankly, I am surprised about the slowness of the Commission in moving into this field. There is no excuse.”

• FCC procedures on examining a licensee at renewal time for past laxity on misleading advertising and commercialization have been “puny.” He believes Sec. 326 was designed to prevent prior restraint by the FCC, but does not prohibit punishment of misuse after the fact. He plans to ask FCC why it doesn’t adopt rules requiring a licensee to seek with its programming structure at renewal time so promises can be compared with performances.

• The committee as early as 1951 settled the question on FCC’s authority—as distinguished from its “attitude”—about prescribing specific percentages of time for educational or other programs (letter from the committee to FCC Chairman Wayne Coy on Aug. 23, 1951).

• No direct FCC regulation of networks is needed because the Commission can exercise effective regulation through the networks’ owned stations.

There was an astonishing amount of uniformity in the comments. I believe the letters indicated a ‘crisis of confidence’ among tv viewers.” He conceded, in response to a query, that newspaper advertising was described as offensive in some of the letters.

Chairman Kintner added, “We are getting nothing but the best cooperation from the industry. This closed-circuit broadcast is heartening. I am happy to see how the industry is taking steps to correct these practices.”

new PRESTO recorder/reproducer converts instantly from 1/2" to 1/4" tape!

The new Presto 850 is the only professional tape recorder that converts in seconds from 1/2" to 1/4" tape, and vice versa—and it's from Presto, makers of more professional sound-recording equipment than any other manufacturer in the world. The new, flexible 850 ends the need to keep expensive equipment sitting around idle. Conversion from 1/2" to 1/4" tape head assemblies requires only a screwdriver and a few seconds.

Based on the successful 800, the use-proved 850 provides such exclusive features as: an edit switch for one-hand runoff during editing and assembly of master tapes, eliminating messy tape overflow • a molded epoxy-resin drum brake system with double shoes to end brake-maintenance headaches • four-position plug-in head assemblies instantly interchangeable without realignment • three-track stereo master control (optional) for special recording effects • three Presto A908 amplifiers stacked on an easy-to-work-at console, in portable cases or for rack.

The 850 delivers a high production editing rate at significantly lower operating costs. Separate switches provide correct tension even when reel sizes are mixed. Pop-up playback head shield for right-hand head disappears in STOP and FAST, completely exposing all heads for easy sweep loading and fast, sure editing. Safe tape handling at top speed is assured. Interlocks prevent accidental use of RECORD circuit.

DEC. 7: AGAIN A DAY TO MARK

That's when FCC begins programming probe

The FCC will begin its "public proceeding" inquiry into tv and radio programming and commercial practices Dec. 7, the Commission announced last week. The comprehensive reappraisal of broadcasting, brought on by disclosures of the House Legislative Oversight Subcommittee, was announced by the Commission just two weeks ago (BROADCASTING, Nov 16).

There was no indication how long the first sessions would last—and the FCC itself has no way of knowing until it is determined how many witnesses will want to be heard. Parties "who can contribute comments, suggestions, information and other data which will be useful..." were asked to notify the Commission by Nov. 25.

Testimony has been invited from networks, agencies, advertisers, producers, attorneys, civic and religious leaders, trade associations and plain John Q. Public. The sessions will be on the Commission level, with commissioners listening to the testimony. The five commissioners in Washington—Chairman John C. Doerfer, Robert E. Lee, Robert T. Bartley, Frederick W. Ford and John W. Cross—approved last week's order.

The other two commissioners, Rosel Hyde and T. A. M. Craven, are in Geneva for the international communications conference and are not expected in this country by Dec. 7. The conference has a tentative target of Dec. 15 for adjournment.

Early Start • Date for the start of the hearings, officially labeled "public proceeding" by the Commission, is earlier than had been expected in most quarters. Chmn. Doerfer had quoted a day before the announcement was made that the hearings probably would not begin before the first of the year.

The FCC's own sessions begin just two days before the Oversight Subcommittee will gather in Washington to decide in executive session the future course of its own expanded radio-tv investigations.

Comr. Doerfer, addressing the annual meeting of Tv Bureau of Advertising Friday (see page 86), warned that after the FCC investigation is completed, "pious affirmations of responsibility by a licensee will [not] be enough. Something more than a statistical resume of programming will be demanded. . . ."

Currently working "night and day" on the investigation are the two members of the Commission's Network Study Staff—attorneys Ashbrook, P., Bryant and James F. Tierney. Messrs. Bryant and Tierney have just returned from Hollywood talks with tv film production companies. An FCC spokesman said last week that it had not been decided whether additional personnel will be hired or if current Commission staffers will be delegated to work on the radio-tv investigations.

The Issues • Witnesses were asked to direct their remarks toward (1) whether current broadcast practices in programming and advertising "are inimical to the public interest"; (2) whether present FCC rules are adequate and if more detailed standards are needed; (3) whether present review procedures in programming and advertising are adequate, and (4) whether changes are needed in the Communications Act.

Reaction by prospective witnesses to the probe was slow in coming last week. The three radio-tv networks indicated they would participate but said it is too early to make definite plans. Mutual, which is not a licensee as are ABC, CBS and NBC, reportedly has no plans at this time.

The American Civil Liberties Union said that it will request the opportunity to testify on all the points raised by the Commission. ACLU said it would like to appear in Washington Dec. 9 or 10.

The National Audience Board definitely will not participate, according to President Peter Goetz. He said the organization's purpose is to "inform rather than criticize. . . . It is our policy to be as objective as possible and function in the capacity of a rating service—in depth—rather than as a pressure group."

THE SPECTRUM

What Ike wants, the FCC gives him

What the President wants, the President gets.

This sums up the significance of a unanimous U.S. Court of Appeals ruling which held the FCC was not arbitrary and capricious in reallocating certain radio spectrum bands from aviation usage to military use without a hearing.

At issue was the FCC's authority to slue radio bands out of the civilian category for military purposes without permitting civilian users the right of 'ulemaking procedures according to the aw. The ruling was made Nov. 13.

In April 1958, the FCC ordered the reallocation of a number of bands. Among these were the 420-450 mc band and the 8500-9000 mc band. The Commission's action was taken at the request of the Office of Civilian & Defense Mobilization which claimed the bands were needed in the national defense.

The action was protested by Bendix Aviation Corp. and by Aeronautical Radio Inc. (Airinc.). The Air Transport Assn. was also an intervenor.

Bendix had been working on an anti-collision device using the 430 mc band, and had filed an application for the experimental use of this wavelength in development. Airinc. and ATA, supported Bendix, also objected to the reallocation of 8500-9000 from civilian doppler radionavigation for military radio-positioning use.

The FCC denied the protests and the case was appealed.

Military Secrets Sealed • The court, which had called for and received under seal the secret military reasons for claiming these frequencies, maintained that the Communications Act gives the resident the last word in allocating the radio spectrum. It held that it was not necessary to determine the military reasons for this request.

In the unanimous, three-judge decision, the appeals court held that the CC was right in rejecting the Bendix application since 430 mc was "simply" no longer available.

There is no suggestion, the court said, of any perversity of the Commission's administrative processes since:

"National trust and responsibility must be reposed somewhere and in this situation, by Section 305 of the Communications Act and otherwise, they are centered in the President with all his vast power."

No Alternative • The FCC had no recourse, the court said, "confronted by the demands of the Executive for exclusive use of the frequency in question . . ."

Referring to the classified data submitted to the court the decision said that it was satisfied that the claim of executive privilege must be honored. In any event there was no need to go beyond the President's request, the court said.

The court also stated it did not feel the Commission's action in reallocating the frequencies conflicted with international treaties (which assign these frequencies internationally). The Commission's order did not allocate the 430 mc frequency to radio-positioning, it denied non-Government access to the band, the court said.

The decision was written by Circuit Judge John A. Danaher, for himself and Judges George T. Washington and Warren E. Burger.

Court upholds station right to call letters

The right of a radio station to its call letters—whether by initials or pronounced phonetically—has been upheld by the Colorado Supreme Court.

The court reversed a two-year old lower state court decision which upheld the right of Mrs. Irva M. Steffan to use the name "Kaytee Ellen" and ordered $13,300 paid Mrs. Steffan by KTLN Denver, for damages.

Mrs. Steffan claimed that she had been hired to portray the KTLN radio personality and owned the "Kaytee Ellen" name even after she had been discharged by the station. This was from 1950 to 1954. The station maintained it owned the name.

The Colorado Supreme Court held that "since the radio station has developed a vested and valuable property interest in its trade name, the plaintiff cannot be held to have established a separate and severable property interest in a trade name that when spoken is indistinguishable from the call letters KTLN." The decision was handed down Nov. 9.

The appeal was carried on by John L. Buchanan, now president of KKSN Dallas, Tex., but then manager of KTLN.
DICK CLARK GIVES UP HOLDINGS

Tv star beats House probers to the punch and sells his interest in record company

An investigation involving tv teen-age idol Dick Clark last week became the first overt move in the House Legislative Oversight Subcommittee’s shift to probes in radio-tv activities other than tv quizzes.

The subcommittee sent two staffers to Philadelphia where ABC-TV’s Monday-Friday American Bandstand, starring Mr. Clark, is originated. The action followed an announcement by Mr. Clark’s manager that tv star had assented to an ABC-TV ultimatum that he give up his interests in a record company and three music publishing houses or leave the network. Mr. Clark also stars in ABC-TV’s Dick Clark Show, a variety program originated in New York and aired Saturday nights, and the Sunday night show World of Talent.

Robert W. Lishman, chief counsel of the subcommittee, said last week that the staffers, attorney Charles Hovey and investigator James Kelly, were sent to Philadelphia after he received a telephone call Nov. 16 from Bob Williams, a Philadelphia Bulletin reporter, that a story was about to break involving Mr. Clark.

Reporter’s Tip-offs • Mr. Lishman said the subcommittee has received “leads” involving disc jockeys from newspaper and radio-tv reporters all over the country and that these reporters have been the House group’s primary source for tips. All the charges are being investigated, he said.

The subcommittee has indicated it plans to investigate alleged disc jockey payola, for free plugs on individual programs and fraudulent advertising. Plans are to be agreed on at a closed session Dec. 9 in Washington. It was hinted the probe into payola was brought to fever pitch by Broadcast-ing’s special report on the practice (Broadcasting, Aug. 31).

Mr. Clark agreed to give up his one-third interest in Swan Records and all other outside interests including the three music publishing houses. However, Anthony Mammarella, producer of both Clark shows, given the same ultimatum by ABC-TV, elected not to give up his one-third interest in Swan Records and resigned from the shows.

Mr. Mammarella said Swan records were played on American Bandstand, but only because they were hit tunes. He denied he ever accepted money for scheduling records on the Clark show.

ABC, which announced it is investigating all its disc jockey shows on its owned stations, said Mr. Clark agreed to divest himself of his interests to conform with a new policy that those who select, and play records may not hold interests in recording, music publishing and allied fields. The network said it has examined all evidence available to it and has decided Mr. Clark’s integrity is above reproach; that he has not solicited or accepted any consideration to have performers appear or records played on any of his programs. His is the only tv network show on which records are played.

Mr. Mammarella, who said he also holds interests in two New York music publishing firms, said he saw nothing wrong with American Bandstand playing records by the company he and Mr. Clark control. He said many top artists and producers in radio and tv hold interests in such companies.

College-pro overlap is Kefauver concern

A bill that would impose a 75-mile blackout on televised professional football games in areas where college football games are being played at the same time will be introduced next year by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of the Senate Antitrust & Monopoly Subcommittee, the senator said last week. He authorized the announcement after an appeal by officials of National Collegiate Athletic Assn., meeting with him in Tennessee.

The National Football League imposes a rule with these same provisions for protection of its own teams from such conflicts. NFL games, with few exceptions, are played on Sundays and college games on Saturdays or Friday nights.

College officials have been worried that the projected new American Football League will cause some professional teams to play on Saturday. But Harry Wissman, chairman of AFL’s Tv & Radio Committee, said last week it will schedule no Saturday games next year and has rejected a $1.5 million tv contract because it would conflict with college games.

Jerrold anti-trust case is now in court

Jerrold Electronics Corp., Philadelphia, began defense last Wednesday (Nov. 18) against the government’s civil antitrust suit brought by the Dept. of Justice in February 1957 (Broadcasting, Feb. 18, 1957). Suit is being tried before U.S. District Judge Francis L. Van Dusen in Philadelphia, with no jury. The trial began Nov. 9.

The government charged that Jerrold, one of the major community tv equipment manufacturers and also owner of nine catv systems, required its catv customers to buy all their equipment from the firm. The complaint also charged that Jerrold required its equipment customers to sign exclusive service contracts. Jerrold President Milton Shapp issued an immediate denial at the time the complaint was filed.

Jerrold defense is being conducted by Israel Packel, of the Philadelphia law firm of Spicer, Satinsky, Gilliland & Packel. Wilford L. Whitley Jr. is assistant U. S. attorney conducting the prosecution.

Political fellowships • Political scientists, journalists and law school instructors are eligible for 1960-61 Congressional Fellowships to be awarded by the American Political Science Assn. Fellows will receive a minimum of $4,500, tax free, and will spend nine months in Washington working on the staffs of senators and congressmen.

An applicant must be between 25 and 33 and must have advanced training combined with experience in his field. Applications may be obtained from the association, 1726 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington 6, D.C.
Government briefs

Wichetex protest • An initial decision dismissing the Wichetex Radio & Television Co. (KFDX-TV Wichita Falls, Tex.) protest on a July 29 grant to KWSO-TV Lawton, Okla., (Broadcasting, Oct. 5) has been issued by Hearing Examiner H. Gifford Irlion. The KWSO-TV grant is to allow the station to change its transmitter location from 4 miles east of Lawton and 49 miles northeast of Wichita Falls to 32 miles from Lawton and 24 miles from Wichita Falls, increase power to 316 visual, change antenna and transmitter types and make other equipment changes, with antenna 1,050 feet.

More time • The FCC last week extended for 90 days the deadline for comments on its proposal to duplicate 23 Class I-A clear channels with unlimited Class II stations (Broadcasting, Sept. 28). The Clear Channel Broadcasting Service had sought a six-month extension of the original Nov. 20, deadline, with the Commission meeting CCBS halfway by extending the period for filing to Feb. 18.

Farmington ch. 12 • The FCC Tuesday (Nov. 17) granted ch. 12 Farmington, N.M., to Farmington Broadcasting Co. The action follows the initial decision by Hearing Examiner Elizabeth C. Smith recommending that ch. 12 be granted to Farmington after that company merged with competing applicant Four Corners Broadcasting Co. (Broadcasting, Oct. 5).

Catv operators want FCC ad hoc committee

Community television operators pledged their whole-hearted cooperation to the FCC and to Congress in working out a satisfactory solution to the booster-catv-translator problem and their impact on local tv service.

In a Nov. 16 letter to FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer, National Community Television Assn. President A. J. Malin (Laconia, N.H.) reiterated the views of the association that the Commission call a conference of all elements to form an ad hoc committee to explore the factual situation and make recommendations. The committee, Mr. Malin said, should be composed of broadcasters, catv, booster and translator operators and manufacturers.

Among other things, Mr. Malin suggested that such a committee might explore the following:

- Carrying of local stations by catv systems.
- Duplication by catv systems, boosters, translators and satellites of programs broadcast by local stations.
- Alleged degradation by catv systems of the signals of local stations, or by boosters, translators or satellites.
- Liberalized uhf translator and booster rules and licensing policies for all auxiliary booster or translator services which might be authorized.
- Need or desirability of federal legislation affecting catv.
- Available factual data with respect to actual impact of catv, boosters and translators on local station operation.

Mr. Malin emphasized, however, that NCTA would cooperate with the FCC in whatever method the Commission decided to use to attack the problem.

A similar letter was sent Nov. 13 to Sen. John O. Pastore (D-R.I.), chairman of the communications subcommittee of the Senate Commerce Committee.

The proposal for the organization of an ad hoc committee was first made by Bill Daniels of Denver before Sen. Pastore in a hearing in Denver Oct. 30 (Broadcasting, Nov. 9).

The NCTA position and the letters were authorized at a meeting of the association’s legislative committee in Washington last week. The committee is headed by George Barco, Meadville, Pa., and includes Mr. Daniels; Mr. Malin; Glenn Finn, Tyler, Tex.; Sandford Randolph, Clarksburg, W.Va.; John M. Spottswood, Key West, Fla.; Fred Stevenson, Fayetteville, Ark., and Milton Shapp, Jerrold Electronics Corp., Philadelphia. Messrs. Barco, Daniels, Malin, Finn and Randolph were present at the Washington meeting.

Proposal for fines against deceit urged

A review of the Communications Act with the idea of empowering the FCC to impose fines against tv networks in connection with “this non-sense and deceit that we have seen” was suggested last week by Rep. Steven B. Derounian (R-N.Y.), a member of the House Legislative Oversight Subcommittee.

Rep. Derounian, appearing on New York Forum on WCBS-TV New York, said the intent of such fines would be to make a network “just as responsible for the acts of its agent station as if it had perpetrated these frauds.” He said he would support “anything that would be helpful in connection with network regulation,” but said it must not make the federal government a “czar over something where it shouldn’t stick its nose in peace time.”

While it is determined to assert mastery over its programming, CBS-TV has no plans for upheaval in fundamental broadcasting practices as they now exist. It is not thinking of instituting a "magazine concept" in the sense that would make CBS-TV the owner of all of its programs and allow advertisers no say-so about where their commercials are placed.

This is the position presented to BROADCASTING last week by James T. Aubrey Jr., executive vice president who is acting operating head of the CBS-TV network during the illness of President Louis G. Cowan.

Mr. Aubrey made the clarification after reports that CBS-TV was considering a "magazine concept" got into print in New York along with a memo outlining new ground rules which he had sent to the network staff.

Areas Still Under Study • The memo set up rules dealing with four specific programming areas and indicated that others yet to be covered include standards for commercials, program balance and thorough investigation of payola and plugs (text of Mr. Aubrey's memo below).

Mr. Aubrey said CBS-TV plans to move more informational programming of the so-called "Sunday Afternoon Intellectual Ghetto" type into choice evening time next year, following up steps already taken in this respect.

He also said there had been suggestions that CBS-TV solicit suggestions from outside the television field for ways in which CBS-TV might implement its intention to be in command of what is seen on the network; but, he said, the feeling within CBS-TV is that this is the network's own problem which it should solve on its own.

His memo to the CBS-TV organization, approved by "all officers" of the networks, reportedly including President Cowan, did not use the phrase "magazine concept," and "program balance" was mentioned only as one of the "larger problems" yet to be solved. The implication was that specific ways of achieving "program balance" were along with other problems, still being considered.

New Office • In addition to codifying new rules drawn thus far, Mr. Aubrey's memo disclosed that "a new office will be created" by CBS-TV "to implement this memorandum and other related memoranda, and to formulate and recommend additional rules." It also said the rules it enunciated will apply to all programs produced after Dec. 15, and earlier where practicable.

The rules were designed to "indicate clearly, where doubt may reasonably exist, the degree and proportion of fact and fiction, of nature and artifice, of preparation and spontaneity, within each program." The areas dealt with (1) games and contests, (2) interviews and discussions, (3) announcement of pre-recording and (4) artificial laughter and applause.

Taped or filmed shows—or such inserts in live shows—must be announced as such; rebroadcasts of a live show to serve one portion of the network must be identified as recorded, and the phrase "live on tape" is forbidden. In general game or contest shows must disclose any new rules of the other preparation that affects the playing or outcome of the game, and those using contest ants chosen from the studio audience must explain the basis for selection. In interviews and discussion programs must say so if questions were supplied in advance, if the scope of the discussion was limited or if the program was materially edited. Use of canned applause must be limited by "good taste and moderation," and, when used at all, this fact must be "clearly disclosed."

How CBS-TV spells out its programming rules

Here, in slightly condensed text, is the memo circulated last week by James T. Aubrey Jr., CBS-TV network executive vice president, delineating new rules on programming and outlining procedures for further evaluations and changes:

We are now in the process of that re-examination [announced earlier by CBS President Frank Stanton] of all policies and practices affecting television and its future, and this 'fresh hard look' covers a very wide area. It must include standards to be set for commercials, program balance, and thorough investigation of payola and plugs.

In the meantime our study has disclosed practices which, though relatively minor compared to the deceptions in the quiz programs, do prevent us from saying to the public that all of our programs are "exactly what they purport to be." So that we can have these details behind us as we move toward the larger problems, we are now stating rules to be observed henceforth in the areas discussed in this memorandum.

The healthy development of television requires us to go far beyond the prohibition against deliberate deceit. It places upon us the duty to indicate clearly, wherever doubt may reasonably exist, the degree and proportion of fact and fiction, of nature and artifice, of preparation and spontaneity, within each program.

The artifices used in programs which are clearly fiction need no marking more than the whole drama or comedy in which they are used need be marked as fiction. The audience accepts both the fiction and the artifices as precise that. Theatrical conventions are solidly planted in the minds of the viewers that no problem of deceit or misconception is involved. The test in each case must be whether any substantial number of the viewing audience is likely in the circumstances to be deceived or misled concerning the true nature of the program fare being offered.

The issuance of memoranda and the observance of the rules embodied in them cannot be considered as the measure of the responsibility and obligations of those concerned with programming. The only true assurance an affirmative philosophy among all persons concerned that all programs, no matter what their type, must have integrity and respect for the viewer.

Games and Contests • This section refers to quiz programs, programs on which a game is played by a panel of either professional performers or members of the public, contests or games which sometime are conducted as part of general audience participation shows, and the like. With regard to all such games and contests:

Games or contests, as presently conceived, in which high money prizes, lavish merchandise gifts, or any other high stakes are offered to contestants, will not be permitted.

All other games or contests, whether constituting the major part of a program or just a feature thereof, whether played by one or more contestants or a panel, are to be conducted in all respects in precisely the manner in which they purport to be conducted.

In this connection, any element of preparation or rehearsal of the contestants of panelists which affects the playing or outcome of the game, or the stated or implied spontaneity with which the game is played, must be disclosed; obviously in any games which take the form of a question or puzzle involving the preparation of a contestant to puzzle or mystify the panel, the fact that such contestant is rehearsed need not be announced.

Rehearsals of contestants or panelists as to incidental elements of the game, such as physical position, movement on camera, and purely incidental conversation, need not be announced if the playing or outcome of the game is not thereby affected.

Games or contests which use contestants selected from the studio audience must disclose the basis for selection of such participants.

Aside from incidental conversation, previously referred to, programs which contain games or contests frequently involve interviews or discussions with contestants or panelists presented as an important feature of such programs. Such areas of programming are governed by the rules relating to interviews and discussions.

Interviews And Discussions • This section refers to programs wholly or in part made up of interviews, discussions, forums, debates, and the like, and the term interviews will be used to cover all such kind of program content.

To the extent that any interview which purports to be spontaneous is not, that fact must be adequately disclosed. Regarding such interviews, any editing, preparation or rehearsal (other than rehearsal of physical position and movement on camera) must be indicated.

Thus, if questions are supplied in advance to the person being interviewed; or if both the questions and answers are prepared or outlined in advance; or if the area or nature of the interview is delimited or delineated; or if the interview, having been recorded, is not broadcast in its entirety but selections are made and the interview edited—if any of those practices, or other like practices are followed, they must be announced.

Where interviews are broadcast in connection with public or sporting events, if they have been pre-recorded and are not contemporary with the events which are the main subject of the broadcast, that must be stated.

If any interview has been conducted and pre-recorded so far in advance of its broadcast that the difference in time is significant, announcement must be made of this time lag.

Announcements of Pre-recording • When a performance, or any part of it is in any way pre-recorded—whether on film or tape—that fact must be disclosed by an announcement at the beginning or end of the program. When there is lip-sync to a recording or sound track made for some purpose other than the particular program on which the performance occurs, that fact must be specifically disclosed.

Artificial Laughter and Applause • Whenever artificial laughter or applause is employed in any degree, that fact must be clearly disclosed. In addition, the use of artificial laughter and applause must be subject to, and limited by, the basic consideration of good taste and moderation.

Additional Rules • Additional rules to implement the policy that programs appearing on CTN shall be exactly what they purport to be will be issued from time to time as experience and continued study indicate.

NEW LIFE
WMCA buys service operating in the red

The young history of voiced news services to radio stations has been financially rocky. Radio Press International, a merger of two such services, managed barely to survive the economic pinch this year. But today, RPI's picture is brighter. WMCA Inc., which owns and operates WMCA New York and is an applicant for WBONY Buffalo, acquired controlling interest in the news organization last Wednesday (Nov. 18), and promises an “all-out effort” to maintain and improve the service.

Under terms of a contract signed by Donald Hirst, president and sole owner of RPI, and R. Peter Straus, president of WMCA Inc., the latter corporation will obtain more than two-thirds interest in RPI with the remainder held by Mr. Hirst. The change-over will take effect on Dec. 1. It was reported that the transaction involved “an exchange of assets,” but it is believed that the primary considerations were WMCA's pledge to assume operational expenses and its commitment to continue and bolster the service.

Nathan Straus, board chairman of WMCA Inc., will serve in a similar capacity at RPI. R. Peter Straus, his son, will be president. The active head of RPI will be Michael Minahan, director of production operations for ABC, who is resigning, effective Nov. 30, to become general manager and board member of RPI.

50 Staffers • R. Peter Straus reported that RPI will have about 50 correspondents, available for assignments throughout the world. He added that stations will prefer “high quality hard news items, rather than quantity. The output will place a sharper accent on international news than at present.” Mr. Straus observed.

WMCA's decision to acquire control of RPI, he said, resulted from several considerations: The service is considered a sound, long-term business in vestment; there is a need for satisfactory coverage of the national and international scene by independent stations and supplementary coverage b many network outlets, and a conviction that people throughout the U.S. should be enlightened on development throughout the world.

“I know this may sound corny,” M. Straus remarked, “but I hope we can play a part in bringing news of Karazi to the people of Keokuk.”

Public Affairs Accent • WMCA is regarded in the New York area as a station that stresses public affairs in other informational-type programming. Mr. Straus indicated that some of i packagers and producers, covering musicians employed in scoring radio-tv jingles, went into effect last Monday.

(Oct. 16). The pact will run through March 31, 1965.

Herman D. Kenin, AFM president, said the new pay scale calls for an average 11% increase over the previous scale. It includes: $60 per session for a node instrumentalist; $33.50 each for vo to four musicians and $30 per man or larger combinations of five or more musicians. The contract also stipulates mitations of three minutes of recording per session and no more than three minutes per session for a single sponsor, according to Mr. Kenin.

Other provisions cited by Mr. Kenin:
5% employer contribution to the mu-cians' pension fund and inclusion of rangers and copyists in the re-use yment clause, under which musicians be paid one-third of their per session

CHICAGO 35, ILL.

OADCASTING, November 23, 1959
There's a 'tape-jockey' in your future

KXOL Fort Worth, Tex., is operating with complete cartridge-tape equipment, using the automatic tape control system developed by Collins Radio Co.

First station to use this "tape-jockey" system for its complete program operation, according to Collins, KXOL is operating with four playback units. Cartridges are pre-recorded from other tapes or discs.

Earl Fletcher, KXOL station manager, said use of the tape cartridges "has tightened up the station's operation over 20% and is paving the way for economical savings."

Collins cartridges are loaded with tapes varying from 30 seconds to 31 minutes. Some 600 cartridges, mostly from a minute to 3½-minute duration, are stored in a four-sided swiveling cabinet within easy reach of the operator. The desired cartridge can be selected and broadcast in seconds, eliminating the need for cues on spools of tape. A push-button does the work automatically. The tape runs, stops and automatically re-cues itself, with no manual threading or cueing. One combination record-playback unit is used for recording, along with the four broadcast playback units.

Mr. Wilkey stated: "Any station that deliberately throws away its chance to establish an identity—a presence, a position of prestige and influence—is headed for trouble (and I include financial trouble)."

Mr. Monroe claimed news coverage is getting bigger by the day and that "we will face the problem of increasing demands by an increasingly large number of news media." He cited the handling of news pools during Soviet Premier Khrushchev's recent visit as inadequate. Mr. Monroe suggested there be "more planning in the field of pool reporting" on the premise it will become tremendously important in future coverage.

Mr. Hyland described editorializing as "the big forward step in broadcasting," reporting on KMOX's radio experience in this field (Broadcasting, Oct. 26). Radio rather than TV has taken "the boldest strides along this road of community leadership," he claimed, and now can "be counted as a major medium of influence alongside the daily newspaper."

Showmanship • Mr. Rowan scored "formula radio" for its handling of news breaks, citing the need for true "showmanship" in newscasts. He also attacked the view that accuracy can be sacrificed for showmanship commenting: "Accuracy is not a relative thing. The information a news broadcaster puts on the air is either honest or dishonest" he continued.

"It was showmanship and the battle for ratings that caused Charles Van Doren and so many others to rationalize that what they were doing when they took part in a fraud was perfectly all right. And it's that same showmanship and the battle for ratings, that is convincing some newsmen to rationalize that what they are doing is all right..."

"But don't bother to ask the owner and managers of these formula radio stations what they think about honest accurate news reporting—about sacrificing truth to the gods of showmanship spectacle and illusion, not to mention ratings. Because...you just can't be lieve most of them."

HOPE FOR SPECTRUM ACTION

Outlook in Congress told rocket group

The next session of Congress which begins Jan. 5 will "actively" consider Rep. Oren Harris' bill (HR-8426) to establish a Frequency Allocation Board and a government supervisor to oversee government use of the radio spectrum, Sen. Howard W. Cannon (D-Nev.) said last week.

Both committees of Congress, he said, would be taking up this proposal.

Sen. Cannon spoke at a panel of the 54th annual convention of the American Rocket Society in Washington. The Nevada Democrat is a member of the Senate Space Committee.

He also suggested that a cooperative program may be the best solution in the light of the cost of launching communications satellites. He theorized that certain satellites might be licensed to "competent" industrial laboratories. By this he said he meant those which could demonstrate a "well-planned" program for communications research.

This use of communications satellites on a joint government-industry basis opens up problems for the future, he added, and might require future study.

In a plea for active international control of the radio spectrum, Sen. Cannon said:

"It is clear that prompt management and control of the radio spectrum in the space age is absolutely necessary... By good fortune the International Telecommunications Union forms a competent and respected organization within whose auspices international agreement can be sought free of political overtones. . . ."

Other convention highlights:

• An orbiting telescope, controlled by radio command signals, would include a tv system which would flash telescope images of the heavens back to earth, was described by two Johns Hopkins Applied Physics Lab. scientists.

• Because communications equipment in space vehicles amount to as much as 70% of the payload in recent cases, refinements in techniques are necessary. One such is a pulse-amplitude-modulation - fm telemetry and data system, described by Lockheed Missiles and Space Div. representative. Another is heavy emphasis on "molecular" electronics, which is a step beyond miniaturization—from the present "peanut size" component to one the size of a pinhead, described by a Westinghouse Electric Corp. engineer.

• Communications during re-entry of space vehicles into Earth's atmosphere suffers from blackout because high heat builds an ion plasma shield around object. This occurs from 400,000 ft. above Earth to about 40,000 ft. above Earth. GE and Avco scientists discussed work they are doing in this field.

• A new kind of space battery was shown by IT&T. This is ferro-electric converter which takes heat by sun's rays and converts it into electricity. It can produce both ac and dc current, IT&T said, with high voltages. It differs from solar batteries, it was explained, which use light for energy conversion and supplies limited voltages.

Nine-month gain in radio-television output

Both tv and radio set production showed increases for the first nine months of 1959 over the same period in 1958, the Electronic Industries Assn. reported last week.

In tv, 4,488,857 sets were produced from January to September this year, compared with 3,752,189 for the same period last year. Tv receivers sold at retail amounted to 3,572,189 for the same month period, compared to 3,468,090 for the same period in 1958.

Radio production also surged upward: For the first nine months this year, 10,927,525 sets were made compared to 7,686,197 for same 1958 period. Included in these figures were 367,804 fm receivers compared to 176,061 fm sets produced in January-September last year. Radio sales at retail for the first nine months amounted to 5,285,878, excluding auto sets, compared with 4,556,545 sold at retail for the same period in 1958.

U.S.-Alaska tv link

Groundwork is being laid for a communications project that will link the continental U.S. with Alaska via Canada, eventually bringing the tv networks to the 49th state.

RCA Victor Co. Ltd. of Montreal is to build a $20-25 million microwave system of 50 towers for Canadian National Telephones by arrangement with the U.S. government. The line will be about 1,250 miles long.

The plan calls for two broad band microwave links at the start each with a capacity of 120 telephone or telex channels. The U.S. will lease the channels for 10-15 years at a rental that will cover the capital cost of the broad bands.
Technical topics

To see in dark • Dage Television Div. of Thompson Ramo Wooldridge Inc., Chicago, has a contract from Westinghouse Electric Corp. to make an ultra sensitive tv camera to accompany a tube. Westinghouse will produce for the Electronic Technology Lab at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio. Called the “intensifier image orthicon,” the new tube combines in the same glass envelope the features of an image orthicon (the most sensitive tv camera tube to date) with an “image intensifier” or “light amplifier.” Dage says “This will truly be a tv camera that can see in the dark....”

Two-way radio • Allen B. Du Mont Labs Inc., Clifton, N.J., announces the purchase of the two-way mobile radio business of Avia Products Co., Los Angeles. Avia’s compact transmitter/receiver equipment for police motorcycles will be made applicable to every type of commercial, municipal and emergency vehicle through Du Mont’s Mobile Radio Operations Div. In 1960 production and engineering of the units will be transferred from Los Angeles to Du Mont’s Industrial Electronics Div. in Clifton, N.J.

Video monitor • Cetec Electronic Co. (electronic display equipment), Redwood City, Calif., has introduced a 17-inch industrial video monitor for closed-circuit tv use. The company says the unit is a rugged high-resolution instrument designed for continuous-duty operation with horizontal resolution in excess of 650 lines and linearity within 2% of picture height.

Fearless buys Tool Co. • Houston Fearless Corp., L.A., has acquired Federal Machine Tool Co., Boston, for an undisclosed amount of HF common stock. Fearless manufactures electronic components, automated chemical process control equipment and microwave equipment for industrial food processing. Federal Machine designs and makes precision tools. It retains the Federal name.

Standard moves • Standard Electronics Div., Radio Engineering Labs., has moved its office and factory from Long Island City, N.Y., to new, 36,000 sq. ft. building in Farmingdale, N.J. Parent REL has taken over the former building in Long Island City. Standard manufactures radio and tv station equipment.

Oscilloscope camera • Hewlett-Packard Co., Palo Alto, Calif., has introduced Model 196A, a camera claimed to record full-sized oscilloscope patterns without distortion on Polaroid Land Film. The camera uses standard bellows to eliminate light leakage. Its object-to-image size ratio is 1 to 0.9 to show a full 10 cm graticule width. Lens adjustments may be made without removing camera from scope. Weight: 9 lbs. Price: $425. Address: 275 Page Mill Rd., Palo Alto.

Instant sound • RCA Semiconductor & Materials Div., Syracuse, N.Y., announces the development of a new five-stage transistorized automobile radio circuit which will produce instantly when turned on and will use less current than a car’s parking light. The circuit employs newly-developed RCA “drift” transistors which have high maximum available gain and low feedback capacitance, providing good performance with a minimum number of stages and resulting in low overall circuit cost. The circuit is said to be suited to large volume production.

Tri-color tape • Audio Devices Inc. (recording materials), N.Y., has results of a survey that show the company’s blue, green and brown colored recording tape is well received by educational, scientific and other fields using it. Audio Devices says the color tapes are a boon in categorizing material. The company also produces tape reels in different colors.

IMPORTED PROGRAMS LIMITED

Canadian tv goes 45% native in 1961

The Board of Broadcast Governors of Canada Wednesday (Nov. 18) announced regulations for the television industry which relaxed the board’s original proposals but continued to stress the Canadian program content. The board also outlawed broadcasting any contest in which results have been fixed in advance. This restriction is believed to be a direct outcome of U.S. congressional committee investigation, as BBG public hearings on the proposed regulations coincided with Charles Van Doren’s testimony in Washington.

Under new rules, unrestricted use of U.S. and other imported programs is permitted until April 1, 1961. For a transitional one year period, Canadian stations will have to carry a minimum of 45% Canadian content in program time, measured over a four-week period. Beginning April 1, 1962 the minimum Canadian content will be increased to 55% of total time.

Originally the board had proposed a 55% rule to go into effect in 1960 and to be measured over a weekly period. Easier rules reflect the strong opposition from the Canadian Assn. of Broadcasters at hearings held November 2-3.

!European tour

Members of the 1959 Crusade For Freedom Study Tour to Munich are greeted by Radio Free Europe’s European Director, Erik Hazelloff (l). L to r are: Hayden Burns, mayor-commissioner of Jackson- ville, Fla.; Mrs. Esther Van Wagoner Tufty, president-elect of American Women in Radio & Television; Cecil Woodland, general manager, WEJL, Scranton, Pa.; Spencer M. Allen, news director, KMOX-TV St. Louis, and Orrin Melton, general sales manager-news director, KSOO Sioux Falls, S.D. Messrs. Woodland, Allen and Melton won the ten-day trip for their promotional efforts on behalf of RFE’s 1959 fund-raising program. The annual Truth Broadcast Contest is sponsored by the Crusade For Freedom in cooperation with the National Assn. of Broadcasters and The Advertising Council.

Programs considered Canadian must be produced or broadcast initially by a Canadian station, or if originating outside of Canada must have Canadian participants or be of general interest to Canadians. The latter category would include sports. Newscasts are considered Canadian despite the source of news. Films must be produced by Canadian-incorporated companies with a majority of the directors Canadian. Shows produced in Commonwealth countries and France are considered 50% Canadian, but can make up only one-third and one-quarter of total program time, respectively.

The board dropped another controversial proposal that would have reserved up to two prime evening hours daily for BBG-prescribed programs. But it reserved the right to require a licensee, after a public hearing, to make new arrangements for evening broadcasting if his performance during evening hours is unsatisfactory—that is, mostly non-Canadian in content.

The proposed restriction on morning broadcasting also was dropped following opposition from both CBC and CAB. New regulations will allow broadcasting between 6 a.m. and noon if the station operator first submits a programming outline and the board is satisfied it will not limit the station’s resources for programming later in the day.

The board also announced it was prepared to consider reserving uhf channels for educational television.

Abroad in Brief

French production • Tv set manufacturers in France produced 372,000 units in 1958. Radios numbered 1,520,000 including 335,000 pocket sets and portables plus 110,000 auto radios.

Sun will never set • British Common-wealth nations plan to girdle the globe with cables that will telescast as well as carry ordinary communications, Postmaster General J.R. Bevins said in London (Nov. 11). He explained that a second transatlantic cable between Britain and France will be laid in 1961. Another cable will be laid in the Pacific connecting Australia and Canada.

Nationwide study • A.C. Nielsen Co. of Canada will soon release its first Canada-wide coverage study of radio and tv. All 239 counties in the 10 provinces will be reported in the company's largest survey. County-by-county ownership figures will be available to subscribers this month, and station circulation data will be released by early 1960. The expansion follows favorable reaction to an Ontario coverage study by Nielsen last year and to the Nielsen Broadcast Index for the Toronto area.

Exclusivity • CHOM-FM Vancouver will offer “exclusive sponsorship” to advertisers when it starts broadcasting Dec. 1. An advertiser buying a substantial contract (13 to 52 weeks) of three spots a day will be guaranteed no competing contract or service will be broadcast during contract duration, and will also be guaranteed first option on renewal.

Prize winner • A special plaque was presented to the Radio Bureau, Program Division of the Canadian Assn. of Broadcasters, for a prize-winning broadcast—Canada in the Jet Age. Plaque was awarded by the Air Industries and Transport Assn. of Canada.

Canadian tv growth • Tv ownership is growing faster in Canada than that of any other household convenience. A report by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows tv receivers in 75% of Canada's estimated 4,303,000 households. Last year only 70% had tv. About 96% of the homes have radio, the same figure as last year.

New Station • Newfoundland Broadcasting Co. will sell advertising time on its new tv station as part of a package with the firm's CJON-TV St. John's. The yet-unnamed station will be located at Grand Falls, and cover the island’s central area. It will reach about 147,000 Newfoundlaners now unable to receive tv.

Not for S.A. • South Africa will not have tv because of its possible “destructive effects on children and the less developed races,” Dr. A.A. Hertzog, the country's posts-telegraphs minister, has announced. In an interview with the Afrikaans-language newspaper Die Vaderland that asked about reports that South Africa would be the only country in the world without the medium Mr. Hertzog said the government definitely did not intend to introduce tv.

New tv client • Terylene, synthetic fabric produced by Canadian Industries Ltd., will use tv for the first time in its five-year history. It is co-sponsoring Movies with Mannings, Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 9 p.m. over the CBC network. Other sponsors are Success Wax, Gattuso foods and Sterling Drug. CBC expects to sign a fifth and final participant shortly.

Grouchy grumblers organize

Hardwick, early-morning d.j. at KVI Seattle, is being flooded with membership applications for his new Grouchy Club (NAGG—National Assn. of Grouchy Grumblers).

The club was started to give KVI listeners a chance to air their pet gripes. A local grumbler whose gripe is read on the air is chosen as the gruch of the week. Each month, Hardwick chooses a grand gruch—someone of national significance with an obvious reason to be grouchy.

Grand grouch for November is the chairman of the board of the Ocean Spray Cranberry Assn.

No tricks, just treats

“No Tricks, Only WLSV Treats” was the slogan of the Oct. 31 birthday celebration of WLSV Wellsville, N.Y. To celebrate its fourth anniversary, the station devised a “Treasure Chest” which

Promotes library

KBOI Boulder, Colo., took an active part in the Nov. 3 city elections after concluding that there was a discouraging lack of interest shown in a proposed bond issue for a new library.

John Kirkwood, station publicity director, mapped out an intensive campaign for the new building which consisted of taped interviews with local citizens on the need for a new library. These spots were aired frequently for several days before the election.

The library bond issue, supported by KBOI, was approved with a plurality of 25% of the total vote. A companion bond issue for recreational facilities was defeated with a plurality of 12% of the total vote.
was stocked with prizes from participating merchants. Listeners registered for a chance at the 38 prizes at participating stores.

A limit of 30,000 registration slips was set, and in the week-long promotion, 28,857 slips were signed by WLSV listeners.

Whole lotta' broadcastin'

KMBC Kansas City, and KFRM Concordia, Kan., sister station, celebrated the 30th broadcasting anniversary of farm director, Phil Evans, with a contest to determine the number of broadcasts made by him in his 23 years at the station. The winning estimate (34,693) was within six of the actual count (34,699).

The winning listener received a tractor, a 7-ton bulk feeding tank, 500 chicks, 10 bushels of seed corn, 5 tons of stock feed and $100 in miscellaneous farm products.

Johnny on-the-spot

CKOY Ottawa has won enthusiastic response for a promotion scheme helping overparked motorists. The station puts nickels into expired parking meters, and leaves windshield cards saying: "Your parking meter expired. We put in a nickel and hope we saved you the expense and inconvenience of a parking tag. Radio station CKOY. Dial 1310 (please)."

Thank-you letters have been coming from as far as Alabama and South Carolina, Halifax and Vancouver. Some letters have nickels enclosed, others as much as a dollar for continuation of the scheme. Of 1,500 nickels spent, the station received close to 1,000 thank-you letters and telephone calls.

Railroad ad contest

The Assn. of Railroad Adv. Managers is accepting entries for its ninth annual Golden Spike advertising competition. The competition is open to any firm, industry or organization (other than railroads) whose advertising or promotion contributes to a better understanding of the importance of the railroads or which directly or indirectly helps to promote rail freight and passenger traffic.

Travelog

A caravan of American and Canadian travel editors touring Florida in a 21-car motorcade were treated to an unusual travelog when they visited Daytona Beach.

WMFJ, that city, and the local Chamber of Commerce made arrangements for every car in the group to have its radio tuned to WMFJ. As the visitors entered the area, the station greeted the editors by name and then conducted them on a 15-minute scenic tour into the center of Daytona Beach. A travel-commentary, carefully timed to the planned route, described each landmark as the caravan passed by.

Drumbeats

Success stories • A brochure containing letters from clients and agencies on radio success stories has been published by WFDF Flushing, N.Y. Entitled "WFDF Spells Success" the brochure is available from the station or The Katz Agency.

Hudson River 'passport' • More than 10,000 New York City radio listeners are now proud possessors of "WNTA Radio Passports." Originally intended as a mailing piece to the Madison Ave. Advertising World, "passport"-themed, WNTA Newark also offered the novel promotion to its listeners, excepting only a few requests. The "passport" marked "Valid in New York Only" entitles the bearer to tune in WNTA and listen to "music with the authentic 'Jersey Bounce.'"

Aerial challenge • Viewers of KETV (TV) Omaha, Neb. are being challenged to identify towns from aerial photographs. The "Name That Town" contest uses pictures of communities within the station's coverage area, and includes clues to the towns' identities. Winners choose between a lady's wristwatch or a man's electric shaver for the prize.

Pooch appeal • WSAI Cincinnati has inaugurated a "Lucky Puppy Club" show on a daily basis. In cooperation with the local dog pound, WSAI describes an appealing puppy each afternoon, inviting listeners to contact the pound if they are interested in adding to their family.
Previewing the Philadelphia (radio) story • Characteristics and habits of Philadelphia radio listeners have been examined in a qualitative study by Pulse Inc. The findings were incorporated in a new presentation prepared by WIBG Philadelphia for advertisers and agencies. Shown during an advance preview given in New York to The Katz Agency, the stations’ national representative: (1 to r) M. McMurray, national sales director, Storer Broadcasting Co.; John Moler, managing director of WIBG, and Morris Kelner, Katz vice president, radio sales manager. The presentation profiles the ownership of homes, autos and appliances; the buying patterns and the earning power of those families in Philadelphia which own radios.

Broken records • CJOB Winnipeg, Man., really held a record-breaking contest when they announced a ban on rock 'n' roll. They mailed advertising men records with instructions to break the discs and return them as a contest entry. Top prize in the contest is a radio-phonograph combination.

Hero revisited • WLOS-TV Asheville, N.C.-Greenville, Spartanburg. S.C. celebrated Veterans’ Day with a showing of the motion picture “Sergeant York” and an exclusive filmed interview with the 71-year-old World War I hero, who is now paralyzed from the waist down. Among photos taken was one believed to be the only picture of him wearing all his major medals.

Taking a back seat • Telephone booths have become passé according to a spokesman of KJOA Des Moines. To promote a new record, “Sitting In the Back Seat,” the Iowa station ran a contest to see just how many girls could squeeze into an automobile. The winner, 23 tightly packed young ladies, emerged triumphantly from a four-door Chevy and were treated to a steak dinner and movie by KJOA deejays.

Reading the ratings • More than 100 advertising agency executives and time buyers attended a lecture on rating reliability at KGO-TV San Francisco. The speaker was Ward Dorrell, vice president and director of research of the John Blair Co. Mr. Dorrell used slides and illustrations to show rating curves, explain sample techniques and rating precision. The two-hour talk and discussion was followed by a buffet for the guests.

Series seer • WLOL Minneapolis-St. Paul found many advertising agency men’s crystal balls in working order. In its World Series scoreboard contest, the station received 7 out of 3,500 entries which had the correct total number of Series runs. Breaking it down game by game, it discovered that John R. Bain, assistant advertising manager of Indianapolis Power and Light Co., had extraordinary extra-sensory perception and awarded him the $1,000 cash prize.

Hoop-la • WINS New York took advantage of a depressed market in hula hoops to use them in a Hooper rating promotion. A thousand advertising executives got hoops in the mail with WINS’ report that it led the September-October Hooper Radio Audience Index with a 15.3 share of radio audience.

Don’t keep talking • A “talk-stopper” promotion by WCAE Pittsburgh has turned into a “talk-starter” around town, according to WCAE. This is how it works: Once a disc jockey gets too talkative, he’s cut off the air, a recorded voice demanding, “All right, all right.” Station cites poll showing 54% of persons reporting as being able to identify the station with the gimmick. Initially, listeners were invited to pull the switch. Estimates were 10,000 calls from listeners in 10 days, according to WCAE.

Saving the game • When Penn State alumni plans for a closed-circuit telecast of the Penn State-Syracuse football game fell through, WCAU Philadelphia came to the rescue. Although the game was not carried locally on radio or tv, WCAU arranged to have a closed-circuit broadcast piped into two of its studios direct from Penn State on Saturday, Nov. 7. The station did this without charge as a service to the friends of the two colleges. Over 300 people packed the studios to hear the game.

‘Bozo’ bonanza • A 20-day contest for young viewers to draw their impressions of Bozo the Clown drew more than 20,000 entries at WPIX (TV) New York, which carries the Jayark Films’ series on weekdays from 5 to 5:30 p.m. In addition to receiving special prizes, all winners were invited to WPIX studios to meet and watch the Bozo show and its live clown m.c., Bill Britten. WPIX started the program in September.

D. J.’s ‘plug’ classics • WMCA New York schedules a program of classical music on Sunday nights called Concert Hits (11 p.m.-1 a.m. EST), featuring Barry Gray. The station has been promoting the show on disc jockey programs, featuring jazz and other non-classical music. For instance D.J. Scott Muni says: “The six d.j’s here at WMCA sing with the hits for you all day and all night. But we have a new idea we think you’ll dig too. The biggies from Classicsville . . . goodies like Beethoven’s Fifth Symphony. Only hits . . . it’s a get-together with the grooviest from the Masters . . .”

News goes thru • The Herald Tribune Radio Network is rushing 50 copies of each morning’s New York Herald Tribune to Boston for distribution to advertising agencies during the city’s newspaper strike. The Bolling Co., representative of the network stations, is handling distribution. Herald Tribune stations are WVIP Mount Kisco, WVOX New Rochelle, WGHO Saugeties and WFYI Mineola, all New York.

Wanda Ramey put on a workman’s helmet and from a construction elevator beamed out a KPIX special on the progress of the newest, tallest building in San Francisco.

Wanda Ramey rode with the S Squad at midnight to give KPIX Noon News Show viewers the low-down on San Francisco Detail Police.

Wanda Ramey brought her viewers face to face with one of their new neighbors—a bearded beatnik recently moved to North Beach, S.F., from Greenwich Village, N.Y. Object: to find out just what makes a beatnik tick.

Wanda Ramey is half* the reason it took only six months for KPIX Noon News to become the top-rated half-hour news show in the greater San Francisco Bay Area. She’s one of many reasons most Bay Area viewers take 5—KPIX Channel 5— the most exciting station in town!

OUR RESPECTS TO . . .

John Storrs Cross

The youngest member of the FCC in point of service, John Storrs Cross, has a reputation in unofficial Washington circles as an entertaining and witty storyteller.

This trait "just comes natural for folks back home in Arkansas," the commissioner said as he launched into an explanation of how he made—and lost—a small fortune on the stock market.

The self-styled "country boy" from Eureka Springs, Ark., customarily uses homespun phrases which add levity to his conversations.

Describing his own qualifications after his appointment to the Commission at a highly critical time, Naval Capt. Cross said: "I may not be too smart, but I'm awful clean." He was appointed to the post, which he held until 1955 when Mr. Mack was appointed and also was considered for the job at the time the late Wayne Coy was named.

State Dept. Service • After 12 years as assistant chief of the Telecommunications Div. at the State Dept., Comr. Cross had more than a layman's knowledge of FCC's problems. "I didn't know the answers, though," he quickly adds.

When he finally was tapped by the President, Capt. Cross said, it came as a complete surprise. He was called to the White House ("at first I thought it was a joke") and asked if he would be interested in an appointment to the Commission.

John Storrs Cross was born Sept. 18, 1904, in Birmingham, Ala. He received his early education at McCallie School for Boys in Chattanooga, Tenn., and the Marion (Ala.) Military Institute. He was graduated from Auburn U. in 1923 with a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering.

Black Tuesday • Armed with his new degree, 19-year-old John Cross went to Detroit to make his mark on the world—and was making rapid strides toward his first million, while having a good time in the process, before that black Tuesday in 1929 when the stock market fell out of the stock market.

While in Detroit, Mr. Cross held down a variety of jobs—he sold securities, worked for Studebaker Corp., built five-and-ten-cent stores in the Midwest and was survey chief for the highway department. He also was so successful on the stock market, mostly automotive, that he drove two new cars, owned a horse and lived (with three other young men) in a $750 monthly hotel suite.

"We were living awful high on the hog," Capt. Cross remembers.

Young John Storrs Cross' budding financial empire became a thing of the past with the crash of 1929. He lost all his cash and holdings and the four roommates lived for weeks off tidbits formerly served guests at their bar. "I've never thought much of walnuts since them," he said.

In 1930, Mr. Cross left Detroit with one of his cars and $12,000 indebtedness. "I haven't been back since," Comr. Cross said, but he did manage to pay off the $12,000.

On to Washington • Mr. Cross went to work for the Columbia (S.C.) Record and later that same year (1930) went to Washington, D.C., as correspondent for several newspapers. Money still was very hard to come by and his clients dropped off one by one.

In the next year he worked for St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington and a D.C. contractor.

Entering federal service for the first time, Comr. Cross joined the National Park Service in 1931 as a field engineer in San Francisco. After designing a water supply and sewer system in Hawaii, Mr. Cross was transferred to the department's Hot Springs, Ark., office as field engineer in charge. In 1935, he went back to Washington and subsequently became assistant chief of engineering for the National Park Service.

He acquired his first communications experience with the Park Service, which had a far-flung communications network, with Mr. Cross designing and constructing many of its components. In 1942, he became Lt. Comr. Cross of the U.S. Navy. Headquartered in Washington, D.C., he reached the rank of captain and saw service in the Pacific and on four continents as a communications officer in charge of building, maintaining and operating communications systems of world-wide scope.

Joined State Dept. • Despite the urgings of his superiors, Capt. Cross became Mr. Cross of the State Dept. in 1946 "I decided that I was too damned old to stay in the Navy," he said.

He was named assistant chief of State's Telecommunications Div., a post he held until he joined the FCC.

The Telecommunications Div. is primarily concerned with formulating the policies of the U.S. on international communications matters and the correlation of such policies with foreign nations. As assistant chief of this division, he participated in 18 international conferences. He was chairman of the U.S. delegation on six occasions and vice chairman seven times, including the NARBA conference, Mexican treaty and uhf negotiations with Mexico. He also worked closely with representatives of the FCC during these international conferences.

Comr. Cross faced a searching interrogation by members of the Senate Commerce Committee at his confirmation hearing. Those were dark days for members of the FCC, who had been accused publicly of malfeasance in office. Comr. Cross spent 2½ hours answering questions by 16 senators.

Soon after going to Washington in 1930 Mr. Cross met Ruth Fuller of Eureka Springs, Ark., at a dance. She is the daughter of former Rep. Claude Fuller, at 85 still a practicing attorney and a political power in Arkansas.

The congressman's daughter became Mrs. John Storrs Cross in 1932. They have two sons, John Fuller, who works at the Fuller family bank in Eureka Springs, and Naval Lt. Claude Christopher, stationed at New London, Conn.

Handyman Cross • Mrs. Cross returns to Eureka Springs during the Ozark tourist season to run the Cross motel, built in 1954. The commissioner can be found there, too, doing odd jobs during the FCC summer hiatus.

Comr. Cross still likes to hunt, one of the prime attractions drawing tourists to "God's Country," the Ozarks. He also is proud of a 1936 Cord he bought new and calls antique cars one of his hobbies. He is a member of the Washington Society of Engineers, Manor Country Club and the Bethesda (Maryland) Presbyterian Church.

Disaster or conquest?

The bind in which broadcasting finds itself demands swift and positive action.

A special meeting of the full NAB board of 43 radio and television broadcasters should be convened immediately in Washington. The best minds must assist in the formulation of policy.

If this need existed a week ago, it is doubly urgent now. In the few days that have elapsed since the FCC gave first priority to hearings to begin Dec. 7 going all the way into programming and commercial practices, the Senate Commerce Committee has moved in. Chairman Warren Magnuson (D-Wash.) has called an extraordinary conference of his committee after Congress convenes in January, with the Federal Trade Commission, FCC and representatives of radio and television to determine the adequacy of the Communications Act to cope with the problems—real or fancied—that have mushroomed since the House Oversight Committee sprung its off-session quiz revelations.

The need for swift action is manifest in other areas too. The Dept. of Justice, in compliance with the request of President Eisenhower, must come up with an opinion on legal aspects of the law to control fraud and deception on the air. The FTC has redoubled its scrutiny of commercials that may be false and misleading. And the Oversight Committee, which started it all, will be back in business next month.

Both the FCC and the Senate proceedings should be seized upon by a united front of broadcasters as the means by which they can lead in the establishment of a national policy that will elevate broadcasting in prestige and stature. There is a clear course of action that needs implementation.

In a sentence: The broadcaster must assume full responsibility for all programming. He must be the boss. In the future, he cannot delegate that responsibility to advertiser, agency or program package. Yet all are essential in providing balanced programming to the public.

It means self-regulation, if oppressive new legislation is to be avoided. It means adherence to a stronger voluntary code, if sanctions and penalties are not to be imposed through new powers delegated to the regulatory authorities.

There are encouraging signs. Networks are definitely moving toward overall control of their programming. In this direction, the cooperation of the broadcasting industry and the advertisers is a positive assurance that action is being taken.

Chairman John C. Doerfer of the FCC, who almost single-handedly among officials in Washington has urged extreme cautions in tampering with program regulation, sounded stern warnings last week in an address before the TVB convention in Chicago. Unless broadcasters, advertisers and other components set up internal controls promptly, he declared, Congress will act. He should know.

There will be no wholesale defections of advertisers (despite the pirating onslaughts of the printed media) when the broadcasters assume full control of their "editorial" content. The NAB Television Code Review Board has enunciated new and stringent principles of advertising acceptance. Stations and networks are tightening controls on talent to rid the medium of the payola scourge.

And the FEC has been commercial bribery in undercover payments to disc jockeys (payola) or to television producers in the performance of particular tunes or surreptitious injection of free advertising, the criminal codes are ample to mete out punishment.

The Federal Trade Commission has jurisdiction over false and misleading advertising. And the FCC can always take punitive action—even to the extreme penalty of license revocation—against persistent or willful offenders.

Broadcasting neither wants nor needs a czar. It does need a house-cleaning. It must undertake that task itself. It must be prepared to tell how it proposes to accomplish this to the FCC at the upcoming hearing. And it must be prepared to give assurance that direct and positive assurances that action is being taken. The inevitable consequences of failure will be ill-conceived, untenable and possibly unconstitutional legislation.

Upon the NAB devolves the role of statesmanship and leadership in the present crisis.
