ASK YOUR DEALER TO SHOW YOU—
RADIO INDUSTRY IS WEATHERING DEPRESSION

ECONOMIC depression of more than twenty months' duration has served to prove the solidity of broadcasting as an essential part of our modern social structure. Not only have sales of radio sets held up excellently, as compared with those of other so-called luxuries, but no broadcasting stations have been forced out of existence nor has the revenue from sponsored programs been reduced as greatly as a year ago was feared would be the case.

Probably the most important effect of depression upon the radio industry has been the development of high-grade sets to sell at depression prices, the introduction of which has served to keep the industry moving ahead at a rapid pace. Radio manufacturers without adequate financial backing have, it is true, been forced out of the picture, but the well-established companies have maintained their solidity and the situation has been stabilized by the elimination of distress stocks and a general reorganization of the whole industry.

From the broadcasting point of view, the troubles of the past twenty months have been weathered without catastrophe. There has been no indication of waning interest in programs nor has the contraction of sponsored programs been as severe as would have been the case had not their producers been convinced of the solidity of broadcasting.

This does not mean, of course, that manufacturers and broadcasters have found the past two years a period of pleasure. They have not, but, as one leader in the trade expressed it, may look upon this time as one of "growing pains" from which the industry will emerge an adult, ready and able to take its place with the other long-established industries of the country.

Looking to the future, the industry sees in television development the answer to the cry for something new with which to give trade an impetus. Thousands of television sets have already been sold, despite the fact that picture transmission so far has been frankly experimental. Hundreds of thousands of interested people are believed only to be awaiting the word that the new form of broadcasting has been more nearly perfected. In a very few months, it is declared, that word will be spoken and an entirely new field of activity will be opened up.
Mrs. K. H., Oakland. Bob Roberts officiates as master of ceremonies on the Pepper Box Revue—view at KTAB. A more genial, unruffled host does not exist. Last-minute changes mean nothing in his young life. His attitude suggests that living is a casual thing, so why not enjoy it today—you know the type, no hurry or worry. I did, however, see him hustle through space one evening when a microphone was in danger of meeting premature death. Practically all of the station's artists appear on this program. Jerry Jermaine is an outstanding figure; fascinating, tall and stunning. Should you be sitting too far back to hear her words, you may still understand the song by merely watching her facial expressions. Wint Cotton places a hand over one ear when he broadcasts, just as some persons do while taking off a telephone to shut off surrounding sounds. His voice is scarcely audible, even to a very close range. Cecil Wright does not move his lips when he yodels. Looks as though the photographer had caught a certain smile and had asked him to hold the pose. Gerda Lundberg stands before the microphone with feet far apart and toys with a huge handkerchief all the while she does her kiddie numbers. You expect the hanky to be in shreds when she finishes, but it isn't. By the way, you knew Gerda and Wint had announced their engagement, didn't you? But you really should drop in at the studio and see them all for yourself. The broadcast is open to visitors every Wednesday night.

Myrtle, Spokane.—Herbert Wixon (KHQ) does not care for blondes or cabbage, is superstitious about black cats and returning pennies, orders veal chops more frequently than anything else at restaurants, and buys gardens for smart brunettes. He is even-tempered, fond of reading, excels at handball, enjoys Friml's music, plays piano, guitar, announces, and sings baritone. His colors are black, white, and red; he is an enthusiastic football fan, applauds Mulbach, is satisfied to live in single blessedness, and uses the expression "stubborn" instead of will-power in describing an outstanding characteristic. Did you ever hear of such a thing, my dear?

L. L., San Jose.—Morton Downey (CBS) was "picked up" in Broadcast Weekly in the August 16 to 22 issue. Elsewhere on this page you will find an outline on Anthony Wons.

Dorothy B., Roseville.—Theodore Strong (KPO) reminds one of a sturdy athlete. He is unattached, was born in New York City and made his first public appearance at the age of eight in Mount Vernon at a church entertainment. Dick Rickard (KFRC) is about twenty-four years old; born in Annapolis; attended the University of Washington, was student manager of dramatics at college, and has been to the Orient and all sorts of exciting places. He is neither tall nor short, is of medium complexion, and affects a brief knowing manner. And, oh yes—he almost forgot—he has a bad habit of destroying important papers.

Anthony Wons Fans.—Long before he was out of his teens, Tony began making his own way in the world. His first job was at a blast furnace which paid $3 a week. Later he worked in a chair factory with a perilous revolving saw, and at the age of fifteen he took a place as helper in a butcher shop. He was consumed with a yearning to learn; the days were filled with relentless toil, but there remained long wintry nights—too short, they seemed to him then—for study. He read and read, memorized twelve Shakespearean dramas in their entirety, learned the fundamentals of music, joined an orchestra, and invested the money it paid in a business course. That it nearly ruined his health seemed not to matter one iota. When the war broke out he held a clerical position in a sales office. Of course, he went overseas. One sold year in hospital followed the war. During his convalescence the scrap book idea was born and seven years ago he was initiated into radio. His intimate friends say he is the same off the air as on, only on he is more entertaining. He is 36 years old, was born in Wisconsin, is of Polish ancestry, and is married to a professional pianist. More another time.

C. C., Bellingham.—Helen Stone, formerly of KFI, suffered an airplane crash several weeks ago, but, according to all reports, is recovering beautifully. A letter addressed in care of the Musicians' Union at Los Angeles will find its way to her, and I know she will be delighted to hear from you. Grace and Jack (KHJ) are Mr. and Mrs. John Sterns, Wardens, who has been missing from KJF for some time, anticipates resuming his place before the microphone in the near future. Charles Hamp is vacationing in Hollywood.

Emma, Portland.—Ted Maxwell was the original P. A. Smithers in H. C. Connett's Memory Lane. Later the role was portrayed by Richard LeGrand. Now that Mr. LeGrand has left NBC, Ted is again Billy Smithers' father. In the Spotlight Revue he plays all the male characters heard in the Carlton Morse Jack and Ethyl series and answers to the name of Spud McGuire in the schoolday episodes.

N. J. G., Ukiah.—Lord Fitspoodle (NBC) is portrayed by Captain William H. Royle. Jenkins is played by Captain Royle. Snowball is represented by Bill Royle. The Chinese, the Hebrew, MacGregor, the country yokel, the Japanese—all are impersonated by Captain Royle. In the matinee quartet you hear Harold Dana, Leslie Brigham, and the Messrs. Jones and Ford. Gall Taylor is regularly cast in this program, and "Heaven's gift to the ladies," as he is called—Norman Field acts as master of ceremonies. Helen O'Neill, upon whose shoulders the broadcast rests, is the only woman producer at NBC (Pacific Division).
MAJESTIC HAVENWOOD (illustrated) is exceptionally selective and beautifully toned. Spray-Shield and Pentode Tubes. Full Dynamic Speaker, $46.50.

SPRAY-SHIELD Tubes, Twin Detection, "Modulated" Circuit, Grand Opera Speakers, are sensational features of Majestic's latest improvements. Eight additional models afford the purchaser his choice of 12 different receivers or radio-phonograph combinations ranging from $46.50 to $304.

H E can’t write a note of music, yet he has composed three successful songs within a year—“Bye Bye Blues,” “By My Side,” and “You’re the One I Care For.”

He can’t read a note of music, yet he leads the Hotel Biltmore Orchestra and has sixteen other dance units working under his direction.

That’s Bert Lown, 27, ex-cash register salesman. A year and a half ago he was $8,000 in debt. Now he is one of the most successful and popular orchestra leaders in the country. Here’s how Lown switched from cash registers to music:

Sitting in the lobby of the Biltmore Hotel one day wondering why he had plenty of cash registers but nothing to put in them, Lown heard two men talking. One of them said, “Yes, that orchestra is poor. We’d better give them their notice at the end of the week.” “Well,” Lown explains laughingly, “I jumped up and grabbed one of the two men. I said, ‘I don’t know who you are, but I agree that orchestra could be better. And I’m the fellow who can give you a better one.’”

The man Lown grabbed was the Biltmore manager. He told Bert he could have an audition the following day.

Bert hadn’t an orchestra, but he organized one that night. He got ten $20 a night musicians and explained the situation to them. He told them he didn’t know much about music, but they did. They rehearsed all night long, and the next day they got the job.

Lown and his orchestra have been playing during the Biltmore tea and supper hours ever since and have been heard regularly over the WABC-Columbia network on both sustaining and commercial programs. Several weeks ago Lown was appointed musical director of the Biltmore Hotel, in charge of the luncheon and dinner hours, too. He now has three orchestras at the hotel instead of one.

Since last September Lown and his orchestra have played at forty-eight college proms. They have played at Yale, Dartmouth, and Princeton. Since the first of this year they have spent much time recording, and have forty-two disc sides to their credit.

In composing songs, Lown uses a system all his own. He uses numbers instead of musical notes. Fortunately, his pianist, Chauncey Gray, understands Bert’s system and is able to transpose the numbers into notes and thus into finished songs.

Before he became a maestro Bert won a gold watch for setting a national record for selling cash registers. Records seem to be his forte.

“HERB” WIXSON, announcer and favorite baritone of Station KHQ, in Spokane, Washington, began his life on a ranch in Colorado, near Rye, in 1907. He began his career as public entertainer very shortly after and gave his first public appearance at the age of six, when the local Sunday school gave a special program in the little log building that served the community as school house, church, or dance hall, as the occasion might demand. On this particular occasion, Herb, just six, carried the baritone half of a duet, the other half, the tenor, being handled by his eight-year-old brother, Harvey. The opus chosen for this début was “Nearer My God to Thee” . . . the act was a great success.

The following years were busy ones, with helping on the ranch, with school, and with music. He studied in Colorado, then at the Lewiston, Idaho, State Normal School, and finished at Washington State College. It was with the College Station, KWSC, in Pullman, that Herb’s first work in broadcasting was done four years ago. With his guitar he had long been a favorite at all the student gatherings, and he had been a popular member of the Glee Club. KWSC discovered that his voice was unusually good for broadcasting, and during his last year there he was made program director. This practical experience, added to the qualities of his voice, carried him from school straight into a position as announcer with KGA in Spokane.

After a short time with KGA, he joined the staff of KHQ, also as announcer, but it wasn’t very long until his baritone ballads with the guitar accompaniment were so popular on the “Studio Parade” that he was given a “personality program” in the morning which he now carries in addition to the other work.

Herb is nearly six feet tall, has gray eyes and brown hair, a ready smile and a pleasant voice. To list some of the evidences of his versatility, he plays a “good” guitar, plays the piano, is considered one of the station’s best announcers, does solo work, is one of the KHQ Male Quartet, and is said to give a very creditable performance on a gas or electric plate. They say his veal chops with trimmings are unusually fine. He likes handball, semi-classical and standard music, Friml, football, and Muhlbach. His greatest aversions are black cats, cabbages, and blondes.

— (Space for the customary remarks). He reads historical novels, and at this writing is still single.

However, they are rumors and do not be surprised if he changes some girl’s name to Wixson soon.

THAT’S a great little instrument,” states William H. Hancock, “Wee Willie” of KPO, placing his hands affectionately on the keyboard of his Kimball-Reed organ, the organ on which he received his first lessons when a small boy at Ishpeming, Michigan, and which he still uses.

To radio listeners he is known as “Wee Willie,” the boy wonder, “who refuses to grow up,” an appellation given him by his partner, Hugh Barrett Dobbs.

Willie has been asked more than once why he doesn’t sell the ancient old music box and get an up-to-date instrument, but his answer is always the same.

“Not on your life—they don’t make them any better.” His fingers wander idly over the keys improvising—his mind is on other days and his mother—as though inspired he plays dainty little melodies that breathe of home—they tear at the heart strings. But Wee Willie is unmindful—he is dreaming.

They call him “Wee Willie,” but he stands six feet, is broad-shouldered, has blue eyes, a winning smile, and is withal a prince of good fellows.

About his work at KPO he says: “The way Dobbsie and I feel about our radio work is that it gives us the greatest opportunity in the world to bring cheer and happiness into the lives of thousands—to those who really enjoy our work, to shut-ins and convalescents.”

“Music,” says “Willie,” “is my real hobby. And then there is golf.”

Besides being one of the best known radio artists on the air, Hancock is organist for a number of Masonic lodges and churches.

• • • Phil Spitalny, formerly heard with his orchestra at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago, has joined the NBC conducting staff. Spitalny, who has been on an extensive concert tour under NBC auspices, will be permanently attached to the New York musical staff. The popular band director was born in Russia and came to the United States seventeen years ago. He was graduated from the Imperial Conservatory of Music. With his brother Marius he went to Cleveland. His musical ability soon won recognition. Three years ago he joined the ranks of NBC artists. In October, 1930, Phil made his debut in Chicago at the Edgewater Beach Hotel. His success there was instantaneous, and his programs were broadcast over wide NBC networks.

• • • Officials at KNX, Hollywood, announce the appointment of Mr. Carl Nissen, veteran newspaper man, as commercial manager at the Hollywood broadcaster.

Mr. Nissen has been in newspaper work practically all his life, and for the past eighteen years has been with the Los Angeles Evening Herald, in more recent years, manager of their classified advertising department. This makes the fourth major executive at KNX to be recruited from the newspaper field.

• • • The KFRC studios were treated to effects resembling the explosion of a bomb shell recently, when Edna O'Keefe walked in one morning and casually remarked that she had been married to Ronald Graham since last April.

Of course, there were a certain few around the studios who suspected that the infatuated pair might have put on the shackles, but it was a mere suspicion.

Here is how it happened. On a certain Saturday night in April, Edna, together with a number of other KFRC artists, was playing a show in Sacramento. Ronald Graham, who is staff baritone on the station, motored up to bring Edna home that night. The others were staying over until Sunday.

But instead of coming back home, the pair pointed the radiator of their roadster towards Reno. They arrived about daylight. A deserted town greeted them.

However, youth will be served, and they located successively two cups of coffee, two doughnuts, one marriage license, and one justice of the peace. Reno is very accommodating to persons who are either in or out of love.

They returned to KFRC Sunday night and both were on deck for Golden State Jamboree rehearsal Monday morning, just as if nothing had happened.

• • • Victor Rodman, character actor of the KPO Drama Guild, thinks enough of his radio future with KPO to turn down a lucrative offer of the Fox Films to use him in pictures.

Appearing in the movies, or the applause of those before the footlights, would not be a new experience for Rodman—he has been acclaimed by critics and public alike for his stellar work in "talkies" and on the stage.

Following the receipt of a telegram asking him to come to Hollywood to work in a new feature film, Victor, after conferring with KPO officials, decided to remain on the air, rather than to take a leave of absence which would have been granted him. "The radio audience has been splendid in their approval of my work over the air—I can not see my way clear to accept"—so Rodman is one of those rare individuals who does not look across the street to see if the grass is greener over there—he remains with his task and works. Success is the only answer.

• • • Earl Burtnett, whose orchestra for several years has been the west coast's most popular musical organization, playing at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, was brought to Chicago by the Musical Corporation of America just three months ago. The orchestra first appeared as a ballroom attraction, and through its radio broadcasts won almost instant popularity. It has been engaged for the fall and winter season at the Blackhawk Cafe. In going into the Blackhawk Cafe, the Burtnett Orchestra will play the same spot where Coon-Sanders and their original Nighthawks were a sensational hit. The Coon-Sanders open at the Hotel New Yorker, New York City, October 1, 1931.

- Radio audiences are the richer, and the drama is the loser since Margaret Nixon Emahiser has quit the stage and become one of the studio family at KHQ, in Spokane. Margaret stepped from school into popularity as ingenue in stock companies in Spokane and coast cities. Then it was discovered that her singing voice was as sweet as her spoken word, and now it has been found that it is as clear and true of tone when coming through a loudspeaker as when coming across the footlights. She is appearing daily with the group known as "The Studio Parade," heard between the hours of three and four p.m. from KHQ, in Spokane.

- When the fleet was here last time, some of the officers on the Idaho invited Dick Rickard and his Sunday Sunshine crew out to Sunday dinner at 1 o'clock. As that was the hour the boys put on their program, the Idaho came in for considerable "ripping" over the air.

  This time, however, they set the date at a time when the entertainers were not occupied with broadcasting.

- John S. Young, NBC announcer, has beaten Floyd Gibbons at his own game. In the absence of the rapid-fire talker recently, Young read his short weekly talk on science during the General Electric program over an NBC-WEAF network.

  Gibbons had timed the talk for seven minutes. Erno Rapee, orchestral director of the program, told Young that all the time he could be allotted was six minutes. Six minutes to read a talk Gibbons had scheduled for seven!

  Young read the talk in five minutes, as timed by Bennett Larson, NBC production man on the program. Young admits he was a bit winced at the conclusion.

- KTM has a new technical gadget to support the w. k. microphone. Made of seamless steel tubing, highly silvered, the mechanism allows the microphone to be lifted or lowered at will. The entire outfit slides around on casters and makes it possible to pick up the entire orchestra as well as to catch the solo efforts of any member in the organization.

- Little Jack Little, NBC artist, abhors a hat and never wears one. He prefers blue as a color. The crooning pianist eats anything and likes French toast for breakfast.

- Joe Bishop, who plays a guitar and sings so divinely of moonlight, starlight, roses, etc., tells the following:

  He had an evening off from his duties at KNX, Hollywood, recently, and, like many another, wandered off down to the beach in search of diversion. He found it in the vision of Eddie Cantor, the famous Jewish comedian and revue star, playing one of those games, the prize for which is a great big HAM. Joe adds, with a chuckle, "And the funny part about it is I was playing for the same ham," and he won it—Cantor.

- Gail Taylor, NBC's pretty, dark-eyed soprano, who is featured in the Kodak Week-End Hour, opened a small box which she received in the mail the other day, and out tumbled a quaintly carved silver bracelet. "I am allowed to make articles like this," said an accompanying note. "The bracelet carries the good wishes of one to whom the sound of your voice brings much happiness, and should be a good-luck token for you." The signature was "Number 5266—Utah State Prison."

- At the conclusion, or rather near the conclusion, of the broadcast by KNX of the Clark murder trial, the station officials thought it would be interesting to have the radio audience vote on their opinion as to the guilt or innocence of David Clark, the defendant. Accordingly, the listeners were invited to mail in their verdict.

  To date, 8,122 voted for acquittal, and 498 voted for conviction, which figures out about 16 to 1 for acquittal, and, as everyone knows, the jury voted 11 to 1 for acquittal.

- Rudy Vallee, orchestra leader and crooner, will continue under exclusive management of the National Broadcasting Company for an additional three-year period under the terms of a new contract, according to an announcement just made by George Engles, vice-president in charge of NBC Artists Service. Vallee's new contract will run until March, 1934.
DEATH VALLEY DAYS released over NBC is powerfully human. The cast is excellent. Plenty of color and atmosphere. No trick at all to smell the sagebrush and see the hardy pioneers. The singing's pretty flat, but 'long as it's supposed to be, it's endurable.

KYA's On With the Show isn't exactly a world beater, but it's entertaining. The blend's wrong in the girls' trio and Abie Bloom's exhibition complex is a trifle too obvious, but the program's not long. I like Carson. He doesn't laugh at his own jokes or try to be cute.

When Maytag announced a broadcast of old fireside melodies the other night I was filled with trepidation. Would they stick to a pure unadulterated style or would the songs be placed on the operating table first? What a relief when they came through minus the face liftin' process. Nobody appreciates novel musical arrangements more 'n I do, but I sorta venerate my elders, as 't were, and can't reconcile myself to modernistic embellishments on Home Sweet Home and such things. (NBC feature.)

This week's mail brings a letter from a correspondent, which reads in part: "I have never disagreed with anything you have said this far—everything except . . . Well, we'll pass that up. What I want is your impressions of: (1) The M. C. on "Who Cares." (2) The Mystery Serials on NBC. (3) Paul Carson (4) Ted White." Ah hem! (Business of straightening tie.) Answers: (1) So-so. (2) Would as soon miss my dinner as pass up an episode. (An' take it from me, lady, I like to eat.) (3) Greatest organist on the air, bar none. (4) Nothing to get hysterical about but pleasing, nevertheless.

In my opinion Michael Raffetto is NBC's biggest box-office attraction. The way he drags syllables into a muted caress—gives an insignificant word tremendous meaning; changes his tempo with every mood; is genius with a capital G.

Dick Creedon's presentations on KHJ are praiseworthy. Live wire, that Creedon. More in the bean than decorative tissues.

Russ Columbo's western debut via NBC reminded me of a vacuum salesman's spiel. When the announcer finished the first lap of verbal electric lights, I spouted out with, "Well, that bozo'd better be good after such a send-off." I shoulda known better 'n to spout, with Amelia around. Right away she was all for Columbo. He could've had a voice like a file an' she'd have joined his cult. We missed part o' the first number reparteeing back an' forth. The boy isn't bad, but the way they'd press-agented him I was set for a knock-out.

The Thursday morning CBS broadcast is enjoyable. The one that comes over with a male and female team at 11:45. Few voices of opposite sex go together as well as theirs. No struggle for supremacy. Just a balanced combination in suitable numbers, ably handled.

Wonder what's happened to the Hallelujah Hour? Haven't heard it lately. Miss it, too. Sorta started the day off right.

Gentlemen: I don't understand how a good magazine like Broadcast Weekly can print anything so rotten as the page written by Dyal Turner.

Who in the world cares about Amelia? There probably isn't any such person anyhow. If he doesn't like George Nyklicek, he doesn't have to listen to him. There certainly are plenty of people who enjoy his organ recitals. Also Tommy Harris' reciting between choresses. I think Tommy is just grand. I would also like to know what this Dyal Turner person has against KTAB. Everyone of its pages says something against this station. Otherwise your magazine is just great. I read every bit of it.

Please can Dyal Turner.

Yours truly,
Miss E. F., Watsonville.

Now I wonder—did that rope I found in my mail box come from Watsonville?
This department is open to all. Send in your letters. Anonymous letters will not be published. Give full name and address.

Let's Not Forget the Artists
May I have the floor for just a few lines? There has been so much said about the arrangement of programs in Broadcast Weekly that the artists seem to be entirely forgotten. As far as I am concerned, I am perfectly satisfied with the programs in Broadcast Weekly because I know what I want, so I look for it until I find it. Why not be satisfied with the little magazine as it is? Surely we are human enough to realize that unexpected changes must be made in programs and, after all, I think I'm correct in saying that Broadcast Weekly only prints the programs, and does not build them.

Just one thing more: I think the program "Lavender and Old Lace," on KFRC Sunday afternoon, featuring Hazel Warner and Eleanor Allen, is the loveliest program of the day. It is quite correctly named, and Hazel Warner does more than her part to help the program live up to its name.

When Hazel sings songs, as only Hazel can sing them, worry and trouble disappear like magic. And may I say, Hazel, it seems like old times to hear your sweet voice on the Jamboree, Feminine Fancies, and the Happy Go Lucky Hour.

Mildred E., Berkeley, Cal., September 3

More Religious Programs
For the past few months I have been a subscriber and regular reader of the Broadcast Weekly. I like the expression of opinion in the Open Circuit. I feel the time is ripe to make a suggestion. I would like to see it put to some kind of test to determine what other listeners think about it. I think there should be more religion on the air. Sunday is well provided for. But Sunday is not the only day that one needs the comfort and inspiration of religion. I refer to such programs as Songs of the Old Church Choir from KQW and Old Gospel Hymns by M. Jay Goodman from KLX. From 8 to 9:30 p.m. Thursday is the brightest spot on the week's program.

Perhaps I am just hopelessly fanatical, but I would like to hear from others on this subject. They may write to me direct or to the Broadcast Weekly. What I want is a consensus of opinion from a large number of listeners. The fact that the Beautiful Thoughts Program won out in the recent Montgomery Ward contest shows which way the wind is blowing. I would like to see at least one religious program each week-day evening between 7 and 10 p.m. so the whole family can get in on it. With as many stations as there are on the Pacific Coast it seems to me this could be arranged. I have a lot more to say on this subject, but this will do for a starter.

C. G., Tillamook, Ore., September 4

There's a Reason
Mother and I have been reading so much of complaint and criticism in the Open Circuit lately that we decided to write and tell you how very much we admire your courage and evident desire to please "all the people all the time." But remember, dear Mr. Editor, the wise saying does not run that way.

Your Broadcast Weekly seems to cover the field of radio about as perfectly as it is possible to do so. Some of your readers are failing to think long enough or far enough ahead to realize the fact that your job is running a magazine and not telling the stations how to run their business.

Gypsy's Personal Pickups," your page of Silhouettes, Microphone Gossip, the Critique of the Week and the pictures, large and small, certainly give us fans just what we want.

When the stations take off our favorites and substitute others, let's appreciate our Broadcast Weekly the more in that it gives us what we want.

KGO has made so many substitutions lately in their programs and in their artists—and not for the better—that we'd feel better about if we knew their reasons.

Our congratulations to you and our appreciation of Broadcast Weekly as is.

All the new features of Radio expressed in one supreme word—

HOWARD

With 2 PENTODES and 3 VARIABLE Mu Tubes

OUT of years of experience in producing only the best in radio, HOWARD today crowns its long list of achievements with an instrument—marvelously new—entirely original and unduplicated in the slightest degree. This new HOWARD Super-Heterodyne has a musical range which extends to the far corners of “the full keyboard of sound.” Music lovers can now have radio music of “mirror like” faithfulness. Under the shadows of a group of high powered radio stations the new HOWARD can easily handle a signal four times that which could be handled formerly without distortion.

DESCRIPTION OF CONTEST

Contest runs 10 consecutive weeks. Starts in October 4th issue of BROADCAST WEEKLY. Ends in December 6th issue. Each of these 10 issues will contain a "Face-o-graph" of each of 10 prominent Radio Artists now broadcasting from some station in the United States. Contest consists merely of identifying and naming these artists by comparing the Face-o-graphs published, with the complete photographs contained in a book each contestant receives. Person identifying the most artists correctly wins the 1931 La Salle Sedan. The 500 other valuable prizes awarded in order of their value to contestant whose answers are respectively nearest correct. In case of a tie, prizes goes to contestant whose answers are mailed first, as shown by post office marking on envelope.

HOW TO QUALIFY

Anyone may enter and qualify to win one of these valuable prizes merely by sending in one subscription to BROADCAST WEEKLY at $3, either your own subscription or a friend's, and it can be either a new subscription or a renewal. With this subscription you receive FREE the 64-page "Key Book" containing the names and photographs of more than 900 Radio Artists for use in identifying the "Face-o-graphs." Or you may qualify without a subscription, by sending $1 for the "Key Book." Use the coupon on this page, and do not delay. The first 10 "Face-o-graphs" will be published in the October 4th issue. You should have your Key Book and be all ready to start by then. Each person entering must qualify individually, but any number of persons from a family may qualify. Additional copies of BROADCAST WEEKLY may be purchased at leading News Stands everywhere.

LEGISLATION transferring the radio division of the Department of Commerce to the Federal Radio Commission, unsuccessfully sought during the past two sessions of Congress, is expected again to be urged when Congress returns to Washington in December.

In view of the fact that many months must elapse before legislation providing for a permanent organization for the control of radio can be enacted, it is probable that the transfer may be approved by Congress as a means of increasing the efficiency of both the radio division and the commission until a permanent body can be set up. Establishment of a federal communications commission was sought by Senator Couzens of Michigan during the last Congress, but the measure failed and, if the legislation is to be enacted, a new bill must be introduced.

A large part of the radio division's work is closely connected with the activities of the commission, practically the only operations of the former in which the latter is not directly interested being the inspection of ship radio installations. At the same time, having been deprived of control of broadcasting and other transmitting services, the Department of Commerce no longer is greatly interested in radio, and approval of the proposed transfer has been voiced by Secretary of Commerce Lamont.

The transfer for which the approval of Congress has been sought in the past two sessions contemplates that the division should take over not only the radio division but its personnel in order that the services of William Terrell, chief of the division, might be to the Government. Mr. Terrell is in full charge of radio administration of the division.

cording to the character of their programs, giving to those with the best programs the choicest frequencies and putting the "canned music" stations on the less desirable wavelengths.

So successfully did he handle the multitudinous problems of early broadcasting that it was not until 1926 that the authority of the department was questioned in the courts.

FEW trades probably are subject to seasonal fluctuations to as great an extent as radio, it is indicated by a study just completed by the United States Census Bureau.

The colder months, of course, are those in which the bulk of the business is done, but even those months are subject to great variations, almost twice as much merchandise being sold from October to December, inclusive, as from January to March, the bureau found.

The second and third quarters of each year, naturally, are times when radio sales are at their minimum, although this, of course, does not indicate that radio dealers can close their stores and go on vacations, for in the past few years a heavy trade has been built up in portable sets for vacation use and there is a similar increase now going on in the distribution of automobile sets.

Surveying the sales of 6395 retail dealers in radio equipment, scattered throughout the fine its study to merchants handling only radio equipment, but surveyed also the radio sales of dealers in electrical merchandise, automotive products, hardware, furniture and music, and in department stores, drug stores, public utility companies and miscellaneous establishments.

Radio equipment is an important factor in the retail trade of the country, the bureau found, representing approximately one-half of one per cent of the total retail sales of all merchandise. Sales in radio and electrical shops, of which the bureau counted 10,915 in the United States in 1929, totaled in that year $206,066,225, while sales in 4384 radio and musical instrument stores totaled $239,-186,755.

Radio is destined to play an important part in the fight which is being waged in the big cities against the gangster and racketeer, a fight prompted by the wanton killing of little children which has so aroused public sentiment that the governing powers in most of the larger cities have declared war on all outlaws.

Already existing police radio systems are being expanded as one of the most important branches of this attack upon outlawry. Radio receivers in fast automobiles and motorcycle side-cars will keep the police in close touch with gang shootings and hold-ups, able to reach the scene of activity within a very few minutes and spurred on by orders to "bring 'em in, alive or dead but preferably dead."

Believing that the time has passed—if, indeed, it ever existed—when a dope-crazed gunman could be handled by a soothing "Come along now, stop playing," high police officials in the large centers are preparing for a war without quarter, since the gangster shows none, and are looking to the radio net for results.

Radio long since has proved its efficacy as a police arm. Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati, Washington, and a score of other cities which have installed radio sets and sent out receiver-equipped cruisers, would not willingly give up the advantage thus gained. New York is preparing to send dozens of radio cars and motorcycles into its streets as part of its attack upon gangland, and will distribute them so that in most instances the police will be on the heels of gunmen and crooks their stuff."

Back of the police anger against the criminal are the forces of the United States Government. President Hoover has called upon the country to rid itself of organized crime, an industry which the Wickersham commission on law enforcement and observance recently reported costs the United States far exceeding a billion dollars a year.

As an indication of this federal assistance, the Government is riding Chicago of gangsters whom the local authorities appeared unable to reach, largely by going over their income-tax returns, and similar quiet, but surprisingly effective, work is being prosecuted in New York and other large cities where criminal leaders, able to laugh at local authorities, find no cause for mirth in the knowledge that sooner or later Uncle Sam will get them.

The cooperation of the Government does not stop at the Department of Justice. No city, suffering from a prevalence of crime and desiring authority to install a police radio net, will knock upon the doors of the Federal Radio Commission in vain. Highly satisfied with the results which a large number of cities have secured through their radio services, the commission is represented as foreseeing a time, not far in the future, when every large city will have its police radio service, and these metropolitan services will contribute to a net which will cover the country from border to border and coast to coast, hemming the outlaw in and pinning him down, making escape impossible.

The National Broadcasting Company has formed a partnership with the Chicago Daily News station, WMAQ, pioneer Middle West broadcasting station, it was announced today.

Under an agreement reached with Merlin Hall Aylesworth, president of NBC, a portion of the stock in WMAQ, Incorporated, a subsidiary of the Chicago Daily News, Incorporated, becomes the property of NBC. Management of the station will be under the supervision of NBC, and the new arrangement contemplates a continuation of the policies that have made WMAQ one of the leading broadcasting stations in the United States.

A wealthy American, residing in China, gives his widowed niece a birthday present, and thereby hangs a bagful of mystery, intrigue and romance which will be disclosed in the dramatization of the First Nighter, play entitled "The Great Miss June". Meredith and Don Amiche will be cast in the leading roles of the three-act drama, which is the second in a new series being presented for a coast-to-coast audi-
