“I want you all to be happy, don’t I? Well, I’m taking no chances. You’ll be more than pleased. Good night. See you next Christmas.”

Shrewd old boy! Ten years’ experience with Atwater Kent Radio has taught him that an Atwater Kent owner is a satisfied owner.

Mrs. D. F. H., Sacramento.—Marvin Young came from the San Francisco studios of the NBC from Los Angeles where he had been affiliated with KPI and KECA. Prior to that time he was connected with the film industry. As far back as the Essanay and the Kalem days when companies worked on open stages and such names as Bessie Bariscale and Vera Gordon were just coming up over the horizon, Marvin worked away learning the various phases of the motion picture game. Before he left the lots he had practically run away, the gamut; cameraman, cutter, assistant director, actor, scenario writer. He was about to become a producer in his own right when the crash came—what is it they say—it’s an ill wind that blows nobody good—or something like that, anyway, a master of ceremonies job on the air soon had been forgetting an old technique for a new and it has been radio ever since. He is thirty years old, tall, slim, brown-haired, blue-eyed; a descendent of Utah’s pioneer, Brigham Young.

Teresa, Stockton.—Harrison Holliday (KFRC) has two young sons, Harrison, 11, and King. Norman Nelson has no children. Norman’s birth date is November 18, 1896. He married Vivien Dunn on the tenth of February in 1929. To date Mrs. Nelson has not engaged in radio work but she has had musical and dramatic training so perhaps she may decide to make use of it one day. Yes, Louise Gale was formerly known as Louise Gilhouse.

Mrs. L. H. G., Oakland.—Marion Woodling (KJBS) is a good looking bachelor with blue eyes and blond hair, weighs 135 pounds, is 5 feet 7 1/2 inches in height, a native of 1 of British ancestry and has the reputation of being very quiet and reserved. (The illusion, however, collapses at the football games.) “Woody” as the boys call him, had thoughts of becoming a football man at one time. Then law books became of paramount interest. When he discovered he lacked sufficient bank notes to complete his course he took up surveying. Radio claimed his attention over a year ago and from the enthusiasm he puts into his various duties, it will probably be the broadcast field for a long, long time. His favorite composer is Gershwin, his color brown; he considers the rose the best flower in the plant kingdom and is fond of blondes and brunettes.

S. R. Y., Sacramento.—Cecil and Sally have made over 900 records since they began doing electrical transcriptions and are as this is written, nine weeks ahead in their episodes.

Barbara, Sacramento.—Dick Rickard now acts as production manager at Station KFAC. Yes, Jean Paul King is married.

Helen, Los Angeles.—Clara, Lu ‘n’ Em are known to former Northwestern University classmates as Louise Starkey, Isabel Caruthers and Helen King. Tommy McLaughlin was born in your home town about twenty-two years ago, studied at the New England Conservatory and sang in light opera with the Jesse Bonstelle Company in Detroit before joining the Columbia Broadcasting System. Since arriving in New York he has been heard with Vincent Lopez’s band and appeared in several engagements at the Roxy and Capital Theatres.

Lois, Bremerton.—Walter Bunker, Jr., is still with Station KFRC, so also is Edna O’Keefe. Eb and Zeb are portrayed by Al Pearce and William Wright. Among KFRC regulars who may be missing from the air for a brief period, due to a contemplated vaudeville tour, are “Mac,” (Harry MacCinnamon), Doakes and Doakes, Tommy Harris and “Pedro” (Eugene Hawes). Nora Schiller is a pretty brunette. Edna Fischer is, and has been for some time, broadcasting from the San Francisco NBC studios.

G. W., Tacoma.—Cameron Prud’homme (NBC) is 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighs 150 pounds, has dark hair and eyes and might be anywhere from twenty-five to thirty-five years old. On his mother’s side he is part Irish; on his father’s, one-half French, one-half English. He was born in San Francisco, graduated from Lowell High, enrolled at the University of Washington, enjoyed private tutelage for a while and then went theatre. Six months ago he came to radio from Hollywood, where he played with Walter Huston, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Loretta Young, and William Boyd. He looks like a track man and does clever pen and ink sketches.

Mrs. J. T. O., San Francisco. Harold Peary, in addition to appearing in Spotlight Revue programs is heard during the week with the Waste Busters, recognizing your “Who Dat Man” in the role of Uncle Hannibal.

Mrs. O. L. C., Paso Robles. Jerry Kilgore’s schedules vary, but you may be sure of hearing him when Cecil and Sally are announced. George Nykluck has not been heard from since he sailed for Europe several months ago. Among the girls who have appeared with “Em Blurt” (Al Pearce) in the Monday night skits, are Christine Eddy, Merle Mathews and Nora Schiller.

C. H., Monterey.—Billy Page, as Jack Barbour, rounds out the family in Carlton Morse’s “One Man’s Family.” He was fourteen years old last April, but is tall enough to pass for seventeen, is mid-way through high school and growing handsomer every day. His radio debut was made at the age of nine and, having grown up with the industry, he looks never known the meaning of microphone terror. Although he is far beyond his years in mental alertness, he is genuinely boyish and lovable, unassuming and real. At the moment he is intensely interested in the study of morphology and morphology. His room at home is a veritable miniature museum where a chosen few may thrill at the sight of queer skulls or look upon small models of ships and airplanes which he has fashioned. He delights in inventions, is a football enthusiast, and his chief recreation is a track man and does clever pen and ink sketches.

ETHER GLEANINGS

By J. CLARENCE MYERS

GETTING around the high telephone line tariff for chain broadcasting, KTAB here and KNX in Los Angeles have cooked up a cooperative scheme by which they will re-broadcast each other's programs.

Special equipment has been installed in KTAB's headquarters at the Pickwick Hotel at Fifth and Mission streets with which to pick up out of the air any program desired from the southern California broadcaster and re-broadcast it over the local outlet.

It is the ambition, naturally, for KNX to give its sponsors this added coverage in the northern California region. But all the programs that are re-broadcast will not be commercials, they say. Tom Morgan, owner of the local station, points out that soon we may hear through KTAB Frank Watanabe and Honorable Archie, the Arizona Wranglers and other great favorites of the south.

The installation of the new pick-up equipment here is being done by R. V. Howard, vice-president of the North American Broadcasting System and his assistant, Maryn Adams, former chief engineer at KFAC-KFVD in Los Angeles.

Re-broadcasting is not new. It has been experimented with for many years, but not until recently has it been entirely satisfactory. Only recently I read where a Canadian station picked up and re-broadcast over a portion of Western Canada Cap'n Dobbie's Shell Happynite program as it came over a Columbia station in Washington.

Jack Pearl, Walter Winchell, Al Jolson, Ben Bernie, Walter O'Keefe and scores of other celebs took time out to wire "congrat" to Ted Fio-Rito and John P. Medbury on the initial appearance of the orchestra director on the M.J.B. Demi-Tasse Revue. If they had all heard the program, we think more wires would have been forthcoming.

KTAB's new remote control studios in the Sweet's Ballroom building in Oakland have been completed and new equipment installed. It is the station's East Bay production center.

Harrison Holliway made his annual trek to the National Association of Broadcasters convention in St. Louis and is now en route home, planning a stop-off in Los Angeles on the way.

Edna Fischer, NBC's petite pianist, got a break and a half to other Saturday night when she was doing a "filler-in" on a period supposed to have been occupied by President Hoover. The chief executive was late coming on the air, so NBC in New York told the local quarters to fill in. Edna got the break, playing for eighty stations. Hoover came on later from Boulder Dam with a five-minute talk.

"Fillum land" kept Al Jolson so busy making pictures that he was unable to get back to New York for the initial Chevrolet program on NBC and as an alternative hopped up to San Francisco, where he appeared at a special studio along with Ted Fio-Rito's orchestra.

Among the romantic news items we picked up this week was the fact that Jean Wakefield, vocalist with Tom Gerun's grand band at the Bal Tabarin, was recently married. Congrat. to the lucky guy. Jean recently returned to San Francisco after a six months' tour of the South and New York with Gerun's band. At one time she was associated with KFRC and after that with KTAB.

We note that those Atwater Kent prizes for the country's best amateur singers only total $15,000 this year, where in previous years the total was $25,000. By the way, the final auditions will be staged in New York December 11 and will be winged out over the country by the NBC. KGO will dish it out hereabouts from 7:15 to 8:15 o'clock.

The finance company that has sponsored that Sunday Forget-Me-Not program on KFRC ditched it for another program released on Wednesday nights from 9 to 9:15 o'clock, which features an odd musical combination, the personnel being: Madeleine de Michel, accordionist; Solly Seiff, pianist, and Ed O'Malley, drummer.

H. C. Connette, the NBC's prolific playwright, has his second serial on the air, with the presentation of "Shipwrecked," heard every morning except Sunday on the NBC. It is a dramatization of "The Swiss Family Robinson." Principals in the serio-drama are: Earle Lee, former Henry Duffy star;

KFRC sponsors have kept the youngsters as well as the oldsters in mind in presenting their radio dishes. The Don Lee station is at present featuring two programs especially built for the young ears. They are the H-bar-O Rangers released Monday, Wednesday and Friday and "Steamboat Bill" winged out Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Kate Smith, robust song queen of the eastern air waves, is in Hollywood to make a picture for Paramount called "Moon Song."

Add Hollywood notes:

Deep-throated Phil Harris is engaged at the RKO studios in making a flicker monickered "So This Is Harris."

The NBC commercial gang proudly tips us off to the tidings that the Union Oil Company has renewed its "Domino Club" broadcasts.

Rabbi Elliot Burstein, the noted Jewish scholar, has returned to the air. He may be heard over KYA every Sunday. Dr. Burstein has been absent from the ether domain for many months.

When Meredith Willson returns from his vacation in New York City, 'tis whispered about the NBC program factory that Rex Dunn, baton wielder, will move out. He's been stick waving for the absentee.

Personal service is just one thing a radio station can't very well give. But one KYA fan expected it the other day. Over the telephone she asked Nan Goforth, on the receiving end, if the station wouldn't change the hour of one of her favorite programs in order that she might hear it, as she was going to be out during its regular broadcast time. In a diplomatic manner the KYA representative explained just why such a thing was impossible.

Those week-end barnstorming stands have become week stands with the KFRC Jamboreeadors. They have just completed a week's appearance at the United Artists Theatre in Los Angeles and a seven-day show at the Fox West Coast house in Long Beach. The mikesters thus engaged were: Tommy Harris, Doakcs and Doakes, Murray and Harris, Nora Schiller, Mac and Pedro. Communications from the southland say that they packed 'em in at all shows.

It may interest you to know that the NBC is going to bring us an account of that big gridiron tussle between the Army and Navy from Philadelphia on December 3. KPO will dish it out hereabouts beginning at 10:30 a. m.

Lee S. Roberts, one of the outstanding favorites in microphonia some months back, who absented himself from the ether during the summer, is going along at a good stride on Cap'n Dobbie's Shell Happytime programs now.

Brief Broadcasts.—They go in for heavy air drama over in Sweden. Eugene O'Neill's trilogy, "Mourning Becomes Electra," has been produced for radio in a serial of three evening performances. . . . The Federal Radio Commission reports that stations KTM and KELW, Los Angeles, have each applied for permission to make voluntary assignment of their facilities to the Evening Herald Publishing Company. Meantime W. L. Gleason, Oakland advertising man, steps forward and makes application for the facilities of the stations for the purpose, he says, of building a new 1000-watt station in Sacramento. . . . Bob Nichols, who produces that Western Farm and Home Hour for the NBC may be found on the tennis court most any time after his arduous work is done at the studios. . . . Charles Park, who was KGO's first commercial manager, is now conducting a period over KTAB thrice weekly in which he discusses home financial problems and solves them. . . . Did you know there's a station with the call letters WILL at Urbana, Ill.? . . . You knew, of course, that NBC's Eva Gruninger just got married. . . . Barbara Dale, who trimmed down many of the hips of filmland's beauties received 5000 letters in one month in connection with her NBC morning program, which, incidentally, has just been changed to a late afternoon period. . . . The Knights of Columbus are going to stage a Boys' Welfare program over KYA on December 3 . . . Merle Matthews, production boss at KFRC, experienced all the thrills of a heroine of the oldtime three reelers recently when she decided to go to Sacramento in Hazel Warner's nifty new yacht to appear in a benefit show. It was tough going for the trim little boat and at Rio Vista Miss Matthews hops off, hails a fast car and drives at breakneck speed in order to reach the theatre.

The Arizona Wranglers will return to Hollywood and the studios of KNX (Dec. 5) after an eight weeks' tour that took them before packed theatre audiences in 40 western cities.

Traveling in a special motor coach chartered for the trip, the Wranglers, headed by Sheriff Loyal Underwood, have made personal appearances in five states. Their final engagement of the current road trip will be in Provo, Utah, Saturday night, whence they will make a hurried dash to Hollywood to appear over the air forty-eight hours later.

David Ross, staff announcer of the Columbia Broadcasting System, has been awarded the 1932 Medal for Good Diction on the Radio, by the American Academy of Arts and Letters. The radio diction award, established in 1929, is based on voice, enunciation, pronunciation, freedom from local peculiarities, personality and culture.

Ross, the 1932 winner, is a native of New York, worked as a newsboy, attended the College of the city of New York and the agricultural school at Rutgers. He abandoned a career of scientific farming for varied trades, and after short essays into secretarial and clerical work, turned to writing.

Freeman G o s d e n (Amos) feels the need of a lot of activity. To satisfy his desire for exercise while at the office, he now has a jumping rope like the professionals use in training. When the jumping rope was delivered, his partner (Andy) remarked: "Now get me some jacks and a ball and everything will be perfect."

Sandy McGhee, the KROW Scotch bard and singer, was born in the town of Ayre, the home of Robert Burns, the famous Scotch poet. Sandy came to this country in 1920 and has entertained throughout the east and middle west. He claims to be a Will Fyffe and Harry Lauder rolled into one.

Mary Wood, NBC soprano who measures something like five feet and weighs around a hundred pounds, proved what kind of football player she would have made if she had been born into the football sex. At the Football Days luncheon of the San Francisco Advertising Club, where she was a soloist, recently, a football autographed by a number of coaches, and All-American stars present, was tossed out into the audience and an impromptu serenade resulted. Out of the mass of tossing arms and legs of stalwart masculines there emerged the slim little figure of the NBC star, who dashed down to the end of the dining room and over the goal line of the speaker's table, with the ball.

An innovation in the realm of sound effects was introduced in a recent episode of "Pieces of Eight" over KNX, when an echo was used, it is believed, for the first time in a radio broadcast. The setting was in a dank secret tunnel, under the ruins of Grim Gaunt's old castle, where a feverish search for pirate treasure was in progress. Stuart Buchanan, directing the act, conceived the novel idea of having the speakers' voices echoed. This was accomplished by having the actor speak first into the microphone, then turn quickly and repeat the last word into a large tin receptacle, giving the effect of echo, but retaining the quality of voice.

Favorable reception of KROW's DX program, which was broadcast on Saturday night, November 5, beginning at midnight, has been reported by the New Zealand DX Club, according to a cable received here by W. A. Miller, general manager of KROW.

More than 1000 listeners in New Zealand picked up the program, the cable stated. Fans in that country were informed of the broadcast through the New Zealand DX Club.

Advises from the east, sent to KROW through the Atlantic DX Club, reported a more or less fading of signals.

Listeners in every part of the globe have been requested to report on the general reception of the program.

A story concerning a French cafe in an American city, operated by an Italian gentleman, and which featured an all-Spanish review and an English announcer when broadcasting over the air—recently reached the public prints, with the usual remark about the "ultra-cosmopolitan" attached. The cafe was the Paris Inn, the city Los Angeles, the Italian gentleman Bert Rovere, and the announcer Jack Carter, known to KNX listeners as "The Boy from London."

Add to this a fan letter from Otaru, Japan, and you have something practically as inclusive as the League of Nations.

A letter to KNX from J. C. Lumsair, an American living in Otaru, applauded the Paris Inn program, remarking that the Hollywood station...
"is clearly audible until the sign-off at 10:30 a. m., Japan time"—midnight on the Pacific Coast.

- The pressing problems of Christmas shopping will be solved, in part, and in their own fashion, by Lost and Found, the Sunshine Twins of KLX, during the encore of their Daily Morning Hour, designated by themselves "The Overflow Program," to be broadcast from that station Wednesday evening, November 30, at 9 o'clock. Merchants and financiers question the value to the public of such suggestions from such a source, but Lost and Found, in a spirit of helpfulness, will contribute what they may to the lightening of the shopper's load at Christmas.

- Gene Pinkston, violinist on the staff of KFOX, organized an orchestra about three years ago and took the group to the Orient for one of the major steamship companies. Gene developed a bad stomach ailment during the trip and had to make a hurried return. Since then he has been on and off the sick list at very frequent intervals. He has just returned to KFOX after an absence of almost a year.

- If all the pets named after "Myrt and Marge" were put into one household—it might develop a great big headache. Almost daily the girls receive letters from admirers who have named some pair of livestock after the radio team. They include a pair of Central American honey bears, a pair of parrakeets, two baby alligators, and a pair of black bear cubs are included with a host of more domestic animals. That the two troupers are a pet pair with the fans was attested the other night when a campaign address crowded their program off the air. Phone operators at Columbia's New York studios were kept busy explaining for thirty-five minutes.

- Georgie Price, Columbia's singing comic, finds that radio audiences have more sympathy and warmth than those of the theatre. On the stage, one must never give vent to his true emotions, Georgie asserts, while on the air one's exact feelings at the moment do not have to be stifled behind a "voice with a smile." The broadcast listeners, he finds, like their sentiment.

- A whole fortune has slipped through the fingers of Betty Marino, NBC violinist, soloist in "A Bouquet of Melodies" and other programs, in the last week. Trying out violins preparatory to buying a new one, Betty has been playing on various old and lovely-toned instruments, ranging from a mere $600 to $10,000 apiece in their values.

- The man behind the songs made famous by the Mills Brothers has joined them in their Columbia broadcasts. He's Don Redman, composer of those trick tunes, "How'm I Doin'" and "I Heard" and leader of the hot Harlem band now spotted with the novel quartet. Don says it's sometimes confusing...swears he has to look twice to tell which is the orchestra and which the quartet...but if caught short-handed at rehearsals, can substitute the boys for the trumpet, tuba, bass, etc.

- A fan letter addressed to "X Sisters, Station WABC," read in part: "I don't know who you girls are, but I want to say that your programs are delightful and have done me worlds of good. . . ." The signature revealed the writer was an old friend who is at Saranac Lake, recuperating from a prolonged illness. They had played in vaudeville with him before they left this country for England and adopted their present "nomme de ether."

- Jane Pickens of the NBC Pickens Sisters, made her first money when thirteen years old. She taught a class of neighbors, many three times her age, the art of playing the banjo, guitar, and other string instruments.

- Jack Hubbard, character actor and radio columnist, now brings his patter to KROW dialers. His series of monologues are entitled "Try This on Your Radio." Hubbard comes to KROW from KGB, San Diego, where he conducted a period called "Hubbards Squash." He has also played extra character parts in the Cecil and Sally skits.

- Fred Olsen, violinist heard on the Golden Memories program over KNX, Hollywood, three times weekly, is one of the select school of Calmon Luboviski, recognized as a contemporary genius of the violin.

- Being up in the air is not one of Hal Nichol's faults, but this genial owner and studio manager of KFOX is about to take the air and it's not temper or radio this time, it is flying. He has been fostering a yen for some time to visit his home town, Denver, Colorado, and lately has been getting all the rates and time tables preparatory to going back on the wing.

- Two trunks which Earl Hodgins lost two years ago in Tokyo, Japan and which followed the NBC actor's route back to San Francisco, arrived the other day. Earl had given them up for lost and couldn't even recall what they contained, but was relieved to discover some rare pieces of Oriental art as well as a beautiful Chinese shawl for Mrs. Hodgins.

Ed Wynn Limerick

I MUST congratulate you on Broadcast Weekly up to date—you have a fine paper and most interesting.

How is it that you have not had a picture of Ed Wynn? I would like to see one of him, as Texaco is one of my favorite programs. Some time ago I wrote a limerick and sent it to him, but heard nothing from him. Here it is:

Ed Wynn, you are the perfect fool.
Wherever you learned the Golden Rule,
Your wit is keen.
You are the dean
Of all the wits of the humorist school.

S-o when Texaco Fire Chief is on the air,
You bet by my radio I'm right there
To listen to you.
I can't feel blue—
Your infectious laugh drives away dull care.

S--o I hope you continue to cheer the lives
Of grandmothers, children, husbands and wives,
And kith and kin
Who are listening in
By twos and threes and fours and fives.

(Mrs.) H. Beatrice S.

Hey! Hey!

HERE'S one for you, Messrs. the Announcers: Mrs. Jennie B. of Corning, California, says in her letter in this week's magazine, that "The announcer can make or mar a program.” I sincerely agree with this lady.

For instance, since Frank Galvin, announcer of KTAB, has started to cut in with his pet “Oscar” the red rooster, into Jack Hall’s half hour of shopping news, in the a.m. program, our interest for that program has doubled, his cheerful and pleasing voice, mixed with the “Wit and Humor” of Jack Hall, makes it so much more attractive.

Another who put lots of “Pep” into his announcing, is Harry de Lassaux of KFWI. The trouble is that as soon as we have a good announcer we lose him immediately, some bigger station like the NBC gets them and we never know when they are on the air. Roger Krupp, previously of KTAB, and now with the NBC-KPO, is on one day in the afternoon, next day—(?)—... Bill Goodwin and his smiling voice was taken away from KFRC for KHJ of Los Angeles, and a score of others. Of course, they are all looking for promotion, and the best man wins.

It is sure great to have Marta with us again in the Radio’s Personalities over KJBS. We are looking for the day when Gypsy and Marta will charm us again with songs. Girls, we love you.

Please, KTAB, take notice: We would like to have the picture of Frank Galvin, Grant Pollock, and Elbert La Chelle, published in the Broadcast Weekly for our radio scrapbook.

Last, but not least, this is to you Mr. Editor, class to your “Microphone Gossip,” it reveals some very intimate secrets, “Hey! Hey!... Real interesting, keep it up. We radio fans, where would we be if it was not for this dear little magazine of yours called Broadcast Weekly.

“Nuff Sed”

IN writing my very first radio fan letter, I must begin by saying what a dandy, indeed, necessary little book your Broadcast Weekly is. I always read and enjoy every bit of it and depend upon it for guidance in the selection of my radio entertainment.

No “Brick Bats” from us.

And now may I say a word about my favorite programs? We begin the day with Crosscuts. That splendid ensemble of music, humor and philosophy. Here’s hoping they are never again cut to fifteen minutes.

I always eat my solitary lunch to the music of the Sherman Clay Hour of Music. It is always a treat. Mr. Davis uses unerring judgment in his choice of music for this program. His previews of the operas were a splendid substitute for we opera lovers who missed the real performance.

The Westminster Choir is another marvelous treat. We think it is the finest choral music we have heard. Much praise to Dr. Williamson.

Finally, may we say how glad we are that election is now a thing of the past. Our minds have been so disturbed by sulphuric explosions of excited politicians.

We could say much more about how we enjoy Broadcast Weekly and eagerly await its arrival each week, but “nuf sed.”

A PRETTY, blue-eyed girl who never stood before a microphone before plays the heroine of "Wheatenaville," NBC-KGO serial heard every afternoon except Thursday and Sunday.

She is Roberta Hoyt, whose unsophisticated voice, coupled with natural acting ability, won her this rôle in auditions in which more than a hundred candidates, professional and untrained, took part. No better choice could have been made for the part of Janet Freeman, the small-town newspaper girl in the serial. Janet is first and last a normal, healthy young person, a good example of the typical American girl.

"Which is what I am—just average," smiles Roberta when she is asked to give a portrait sketch of her own personality. The judges in the audition who listened to her quietly confident, unassuming yet poised reading of Janet's part the first time she ever saw it, and who watched the manner in which she faced the microphone, might disagree with her own estimate of herself. For Roberta was selected for the leading rôle in the play because she was able to portray Janet with ability a good deal more than "just average."

And yet she herself is just such a girl as Janet. Born in a small California town, she understands the life and the people in a community like "Wheatenaville," although her family moved to Oakland, where her father is engaged in business, when she was still a small girl. Roberta went to school in Oakland and attended the University of California for a year. She has an older brother and younger sister who are tremendously proud of her.

Oddly enough, Roberta had little ambition to be an actress before her present opportunity came her way. She had the normal girl's feeling that if she had the chance to act, she might be able to do so, but she never dreamed that chance would come. Then a friend telephoned her and told her of the auditions being held at NBC's San Francisco studios; on impulse she applied for a hearing, and she is dazed still over her good fortune.

The youthful star of "Wheatenaville" insists she has no hobbies or talents to make copy. She likes to dance, enjoys movies and theaters, and all the things which make life interesting for a girl of twenty.

ALICE PRINDLE, whose rich contralto is an outstanding feature on KFWB's programs, became a radio singer in spite of herself. Her beautiful voice was a gift she had delighted in, but that it could charm professionally and profitably, never occurred to her. Miss Prindle is like that. Shy and unassuming, she was totally unaware of the possibilities her voice possessed. Even today, with her unquestioned success and the host of friends her singing has won for her, she is characteristically modest about her enviable place on the air—a refreshing trait in this day of blustering ego.

Miss Prindle has a B. A. from the Washington State College, where she received an extensive musical education. And it was here that her vocal teacher inspired and coached her. But it required tireless urging on the part of her instructress to persuade her to seek the radio field as a career. When she took the plunge and had her first audition, she was astounded at the engagement immediately proffered her.

From then on, the sailing continued smooth. In the short span of her singing career, she has built up a remarkable repertoire that embraces more than 600 songs. In the beginning her preference was wholly for the classics and German Lieder, but the demand for popular favorites could not be denied, and from the manner in which she renders them, it would be difficult to single out any one style as her choice. On the afternoon programs, Miss Prindle selects her own songs, and these, perhaps, are indicative of her preference—but who can say? Whenever she is heard, the impression is that each song given must be her favorite—she interprets all so feelingly.
EDWIN C. HILL, chosen as the voice of the Literary Digest in a series of broadcasts coincident with the third nation-wide presidential poll conducted by that publication, is further support of the theory that Hoosier soil is particularly suited to the growth of authors. Hill was born in Aurora, Indiana, and among his 4,000 fellow-townsmen was another literary figure—Elmer Davis.

Had family tradition been stronger, Hill would have become a schoolmaster, for his father was a county superintendent of education and his mother was a teacher. His early youth was distinguished by only those things that the boy in a small community experiences. After having graduated from the Aurora High School, he enrolled as a student of the University of Indiana.

It was at college that Hill decided he wanted to join the staff of the New York Sun. He majored in English at the University and the professor used the New York paper for purposes of illustration. The small town student became interested in the metropolitan daily and determined that some day his writings would appear in it.

Upon receiving his degree, Edwin C. Hill became a reporter for an Indianapolis paper. His inborn news sense and writing ability soon evidenced themselves. In quick succession he served editors in Fort Wayne and Cincinnati, in each case being given more and more important assignments. Eventually, he considered himself ready for metropolitan journalism. Without letters of introduction he presented himself at the desk of the New York Sun. The city editor liked the appearance of the persistent young Hoosier and gave him an assignment.

Within four months Hill had established a record. Never before in the history of New York journalism had a cub reporter succeeded in being paid by space in less than eight months, and Hill reached this point in half that time.

For more than twenty years he has been the Sun's star reporter. His brilliant writing style has made him one of the most widely read correspondents. In two decades he has covered every leading New York murder case, most of the important criminal and civil trials and leading disasters. His especial flair for human interest material has won him a large following and his discussions of the news from this point of view have made his talks among the most popular on the air, although he is a radio novice in comparison to other speakers on current events.

Although his regular post is in New York, he has been sent on many occasions to various centers of interest throughout the United States, Europe and Central and South America. He has covered ten national political conventions, beginning with the Democratic session of 1912 at Baltimore which nominated Woodrow Wilson. During the recent conclaves at Chicago he filed on the average of 8,000 words daily. His familiarity with the ways of politics and politicians finds him ideally suited for the task of interpreting the significance of the Literary Digest's Presidential Poll.

Hill's new commentaries are especially interesting because of his knowledge of the personalities whose activities result in headlines. He has built up a wealth of contacts through the many important interviews he has conducted and written. There are few outstanding figures, whether in the fields of statesmanship, industry or the arts, who have come to New York and have not received Edwin C. Hill.

For several seasons he was associated with the motion picture industry. At one time, he was director of newsreels for one of the large film companies and later went to Hollywood to supervise scenario writing for the same organization. Eventually, he returned to New York and resumed the labors of his first love—newspaper reporting.

Hill is married to the former Jane Gail, one-time well known film actress. He is fond of horseback riding and golf, and is exceptionally happy when he can get into the low nineties. One of the joys of his life is his bull terrier.

A prominent New York columnist once referred to him as the best dressed newspaper man in the metropolis. His studio appearances confirm that opinion. During the winter his favorite costume is the short black coat with striped trousers. His iron grey hair gives him an especially distinguished appearance from which a black silk ribbon for his pince-nez does not detract.

Though he uses a manuscript for his radio talks, he manages to retain the freshness of an ad-lib performance.

SQUEALING TUBES

EVERY so often even the best radio sounds like a pig under a fence. But don’t blame static, and don’t blame your set for every noise you hear. Howls, squeals, chatters and buzzes can all come from a single worn-out tube!

Have your radio tubes tested... replace the bad ones with brand-new Sylvania Radio Tubes. Sylvania tubes have been tested for a set like yours. At present low prices they cost very little.
