A NEW ENTERPRISE

PURSUANT to the announcement made in our last issue, BROADCAST WEEKLY opened its own radio store Monday, August 14, at 36 Powell Street, San Francisco. Because such an event is unique in publishing annals and has considerably more radio significance than is apparent without explanation and analysis, we deal with it editorially a second time.

Eleven years of close, we might almost say "confidential" relationship with broadcasting stations, artists, sponsors, audience and trade throughout the entire West, has given BROADCAST WEEKLY a seasoned and comprehensive understanding of conditions and needs within western radio possessed by few if any other institutions in this territory—certainly by none in so strategic a position to be of service, or with so wide a scope of activity and unrestricted an initiative. Possessed of advantages so fundamental we should therefore be remiss in our duty if we did not evolve some way of giving radio their full benefit at so crucial a time in its progress. And so, regardless of precedent, regardless of the commercial hazard involved in an enterprise dedicated to idealistic purposes, we opened what, because to date we have found no better term not already in use, we simply call our radio "store." If you can think of a better word, or words, your suggestion will be welcome.

In the final analysis, the entire progress of radio depends upon increasing the number and efficiency of receiving sets in simultaneous operation during each broadcasting period. This in turn, depends upon many factors, among them: inspiring greater public confidence in radio and its representatives; improving the quality and conscience of radio service; educating the public to a greater appreciation of the pleasures and benefits afforded by radio; stimulating the sale and use of radio equipment through effective, widespread publicity; expediting the securing of information on radio personalities, programs and problems; application of sympathetic and experienced understanding of audience wants and needs to the conduct of radio business. It is to serve these purposes, and because the advantages inherent in our position and experience equip us so eminently for such important and exacting duty, that we have opened this new "store."

Your magazine now shares quarters with the new "store." BROADCAST WEEKLY owns and operates both. The facilities of the two are combined in a single enterprise to render a service supreme in Western radio history, and assure the while, in all its dealings, continued adherence to the same principles and policies which have guided us in the past, as you know so well. Remember the new address, 36 Powell Street, San Francisco. Make full use of these services. Tell your friends. Consistent with the aims of the enterprise we desire particularly to make contact with homes or persons not now radio served, or who, because of unsatisfactory equipment or inadequate service, have permitted their radio interest to wane. We seek the opportunity and responsibility of accomplishing the addition of these people and homes to the active and enthusiastic radio audience. You can contribute to this purpose and thereby to radio progress, by sending us such names, and making the new "store" your headquarters for everything radio. Some of the new 1934 Majestic radios are now in, and a complete assortment of Majestic electric refrigerators included in our stock. Would you like prices and description. Can we send you information on artists, programs, or some radio problem that is troubling you? Here you and your friends can secure direct from BROADCAST all equipment, service, and information necessary to the complete enjoyment of radio.

BROADCAST WEEKLY in "ROADS TO

Here's news that is NEWS!

And BROADCAST WEEKLY is shouting it loud and long to every aerial-equipped roof-top that it has brought back to the air one of the most lovable couples in Western radio history—Jack and Ethel in their unequalled successful drama series: "Roads to Hollywood."

The famous National Broadcasting Company stars, in real life Bernice Berwin and Ted Maxwell, have been signed by BROADCAST WEEKLY to appear in this new series, a resumption of the plays that had one of the largest followings on the Pacific Coast.

Miss Berwin and Maxwell, playing their original roles and a half dozen or so others besides, will be heard on the air through the NEW deal with BROADCAST WEEKLY every Tuesday and Friday night from 9:15 to 9:30 o'clock over station KYA.

Carlton E. Morse, author of the Jack and Ethel series, "Roads to Hollywood," who has penned more successful dramas for the radio than any other writer in the West, is writing this new series, too. The prolific radio playwright, who possesses a rare understanding of human nature and knows the type of drama entertainment the majority of radio listeners want, will keep listeners enthralled with the escapades and experiences encountered by this famous romantic couple.

In choosing Jack and Ethel in "Roads to Hollywood" for its representation on the air, BROADCAST WEEKLY feels that it is reviving a radio act which had universal appeal and was the outstanding program to slip out over the ether.

Thousands who were ardent followers of the adventuring pair will welcome the return of Jack and Ethel to the great stage of the air, made possible by BROADCAST WEEKLY.

The characters of Jack and Ethel were first conceived by H. C. Connette, former NBC writer, way back in 1928. They appeared in a skit then known as "Roads to Romance." Some time later when this series came to a conclusion, Carlton E. Morse brought them back in a "Let's Get Associated" drama in which Jack and Ethel portrayed different characters from history.

That contract expired and then the pair played brother and sister roles and took imaginary visits to the Pacific Northwest, where their many interesting experiences were dramatized.

It was at the conclusion of this last series that Morse thought it would be a grand idea to bring Jack and Ethel to scintillating cinema-land, Hollywood. And so he started the series known as Jack and Ethel in "Roads to Hollywood."

Their experiences at the film capital of the world naturally took the radio listening public right off its feet and it wasn't long before it became the ultra of all radio drama west of the Rockies.

BROADCAST WEEKLY is proud that it has been given the opportunity of bringing to you—Mr. and Mrs. Radio Listener—this brilliant and entertaining radio drama series.

Ted Maxwell, the Jack of the series, is the foremost actor in Western radio circles.

Presents JACK and ETHEL HOLLYWOOD"

He's a trouper through and through.

At thirteen he made up his mind that playing was his life's work. At fifteen, when he graduated from high school, he secured his first thespian job—in vaudeville. And at nineteen he was the leading man in his own company—The Ted Maxwell Players.

Those were the days of hearty, manly rôles for heroes; but the slim nineteen-year-old star was undaunted by the fact that he hadn't reached his present broad-shouldered status. He played Tom Logan, the blacksmith hero of "Broken Hearts," wearing six shirts and three vests—a trifle hot, perhaps, but it gave that requisite brawny, deep-chested air.

Curtains rose and fell for Ted for years after that. He played in stock in the Middle West and took his own vaudeville act on Broadway. Later he returned to California, reorganized the Ted Maxwell Players and went back to his old love, stock.

Ill health took Ted away from the stage and to the Tuolumne County hills. He took to ranching seriously—in the summer time. But when winter set in and he was snowed in, he wrote fifty-three plays, all of which have been presented on the stage many times. Several of them he adapted to radio. One of these adaptations led to the NBC threshold and Ted eventually joined the staff as an announcer. In the intervening years he has been before the microphone in one capacity or another—as producer, continuity writer and actor.

Miss Bernice Berwin is an actress of the highest degree, having devoted many years of her young life to the art.

She has been associated with radio and the NBC for the past five years and in that period has built up a following as strong as Gibraltar. Thousands never miss a play that Miss Berwin is scheduled to play in.

Our young heroine of "Roads to Hollywood" came to the microphone quite by accident.

She was playing the lead role in "Dulcy" at the University of California, when she was spotted by Wilda Wilson Church, veteran microphone trouper. The latter invited this vivacious and sensational young actress to play a role over the radio. And she's been at it ever since. And loves it.

At college Miss Berwin played many leading roles in the university's dramatic programs. When graduation came, she stepped onto the legitimate stage, playing ingenue roles and leads with Leo Carrillo, Crane Wilbur, Marjorie Rambeau and Edward Everett Horton.

She is accounted one of the most versatile actresses on the air and the possessor of a radio technique which has few equals.

"We are both very happy to have been chosen by BROADCAST WEEKLY to present our favorite radio drama once again to the radio audience," Jack and Ethel said, "Carlton Morse has written some mighty interesting and thrilling episodes about Hollywood which we know you will like. Don't forget, we'll be on KYA every Tuesday and Friday night at 9:15 o'clock for BROADCAST WEEKLY."

MICROPHONE GOSSIP

• • • Ted Lewis, with his solicitous "Is everybody happy?", is as colorful a personality as marquee-studded Broadway has produced in the last two decades. He first won the attention of the public when he played in Coney Island cafes. His "crazy rhythms" arrested the attention of the young and gay, and when someone later labeled it "jazz" he was made. It was at Rector's on Broadway that he first was crowned monarch of melody. That was sixteen years ago. Now Ted is back in the same spot (now known as the Hollywood Restaurant) and beer is back, and things are looking up. He won his ever-present high hat more than seventeen years ago from Old Mississippi, the famous cabby who used to park his cab outside Rectors. Ted shot craps for it, a quarter against the hat. Ted won and strutted back into the club to discover that he had acquired a new trademark. It has become as much a part of him as his "Is everybody happy?" Ted lies around in his dressing room in a bathrobe between performances, climbs into his tuxedo just in time to go on, always smokes cornob pipes and uses detective stories for sleeping powders.

• • • Don't think Taylor Holmes, the fire chief's uncle, is acting when you hear that rickety laugh of his . . . that's the way he laughs in real life, so help us Hannah! . . .

• • • During one of his recent discussions on "the human side of the news," Edwin C. Hill told of some of the thrills of deep sea diving. Among the narratives he recounted was the one concerning Jane Gail. Several years ago Miss Gail, a motion picture actress, dove into the shark-infested waters off Bermuda as part of a rôle in a film she was making. "Despite the dangers," Hill said, "Miss Gail is alive today to tell the story." Few listeners realized that the heroine of this story is the present Mrs. Edwin C. Hill.

• • • The lone individual burning the midnight oil (by special dispensation of the authorities) in New York's public library the other evening was Leonard Hayton, conductor of Columbia's variety program featuring Grace Moore and Lou Holtz. Requiring an orchestration of an aria from Puccini's "Tosca" for Miss Moore, Conductor Hayton was unable to buy a score at short notice. Hence a long midnight vigil at the public library, where Hayton made his own special arrangement of the aria from the library's only score.

• • • Fred Allen, famous dispenser of nasal nonsense, appearing on the new weekly series of Best Foods programs, started his career as a juggler, later branching out into intentional comedy. He also played the saxophone and banjo, and still does privately, despite outspoken objections of his wife, Portland Hoffa, who, by the way, was named after her birthplace in Oregon. His first Broadway hit was as leading comic of "Polly," and his first really big success came in the "First Little Show," in which he was co-starred with Libby Holman and Clifton Webb, who later played with him in "Three's a Crowd."

• • • Bert Lahr, favorite stage jester who has developed sensationally on the radio, has just been signed to a contract covering sixty-five weeks of broadcasting by Standard Brands Incorporated, sponsor of the Chase and Sanborn coffee and tea programs, and other important radio features. The contract is effective October 4, when Bert will join George Olsen on a program succeeding the present Fannie Brice and George Olsen series, with the same time and network. The revised show will be devoted to Royal Gelatin, another Standard Brands product. The tea program, with Miss Brice, will continue through September 27.

Bert Lahr will perform on his coffee hour with Rubinoff and others on Sundays through September 3. Eddie Cantor is scheduled to return to his old spot on the hour beginning September 10.

• • • Horace Heidt and his Californians, one of the premier stage bands of the country, are appearing every Tuesday and Friday on KFRC in a series of programs entitled "Charge of the Heidt Brigade." Heidt's Californians have been a sensational hit in every city they have played from San Francisco to New York, and were equally successful on a European trip which included a several months' engagement at Monte Carlo. Originating a number of years ago in Berkeley, when a small group met to play and sing in one of the fraternity houses, the band—then four in number—began its public career by playing in a hotel dining room. Growing popularity saw it increase in size until an engagement at an Oakland theatre started it on its sensational rise to fame. Now there are fourteen in the organization, all of them graduates of the University of California, and these fourteen have such amazing versatility that they play on 396 instruments.

• • • A steel helmet he carried through four years of service in the trenches of France is the prized possession of Harry McNaughton. Harry is the comedian who portrays Bottle the Butler in Phil Baker's Armour Jester show heard over NBC networks on Fridays at 9:15 p.m. P. S. T. He has another memento he treasures. It is a letter David Belasco wrote to him two days before his death—perhaps the last letter Belasco ever wrote.

• • • Gay Seabrook and Emerson Treacy, co-stars in the radio comedy of fun and flappers, "Growin' Up," have been signed by Hal Roach to make a series of talkie comedies, it has been announced by studio officials.

Producer Roach picked these two well-known stage, screen and radio stars to put over a brand-new comedy idea that he plans to produce for next season's releases.

Miss Seabrook and Treacy were starred on the stage in "Tommy," "Pigs," "Two Girls Wanted," and other plays. Both are featured screen players as well. Treacy's recent film rôles were in "Okay America," "The Mouthpiece," and "Once a Gentleman." Miss Seabrook was in "Corsair," "Misbehaving Ladies," "Strictly Personal," "Elmer the Great," "Ex-Lady," and "Easy Millions."

• • • Lanny Ross, star tenor of Captain Henry's Show Boat, was host at a dinner given in honor of Captain James Mollison and his wife, Amy Johnson, the trans-Atlantic flyers, on Thursday, August 3. After the dinner, Captain and Mrs. Mollison accompanied Lanny to the studio to witness the broadcast of Captain Henry's Show Boat. . . . Lanny met the Mollisons in Bridgeport, Connecticut, where he was playing in vaudeville the night they crashed. Together with the Mayor and the Lieutenant Governor of Connecticut, Lanny went to the hospital to offer his help. They both expressed a desire to see an actual broadcast of Captain Henry's Show Boat, so Lanny asked them to be his guests.

• • • Phil Harris, who exhibits his versatility on the Let's Listen to Harris programs Friday evenings, is a bit bewildered at the rapid turns of the wheel of fate this year. So far, 1933 has marked his launching on a coast-to-coast commercial broadcast, the release of his first feature picture, "Melody Cruise," and now the coveted orchestra position on the Pennsylvania Roof, New York, where Rudy Vallee has been playing. Phil confessed to friends that the prospect of his New York debut caused him quakes and shivers.

• • • It was Rudy Vallee, incidentally, who chose Phil Harris as his successor on the Pennsylvania Roof. When Rudy decided to abandon the hotel spot to resume his touring, he was asked to make a choice from a list of available bandmasters, and without hesitation he declared Phil was the outstanding prospect.

• • • Lu Tobin, famous mimic and one of the stars in Standard on Parade, is confronted by the dilemma of being able to do too many things too well. Tobin is an extremely clever master of ceremonies and has been so cast in several programs only to be taken out of that spot when his marvelous flair for impersonations was discovered. However, he has recently been given an opportunity to share master of ceremonies honors in Standard on Parade, and will, in all probability, work alternately with the regular master of ceremonies and at the same time carry on his impersonations.

• • • Edna Fischer, pretty little NBC pianist, has written a book explaining her system of piano-playing, which is to be published soon.

• • • Ramona, featured singer and auxiliary pianist with Paul Whiteman's organization, is runner-up to the maestro himself for weight-reducing records. When Whiteman, pleased with her singing over WLW, Cincinnati, told her she was just what his band needed but that there was too much of her, Ramona slipped home and dropped forty pounds in the ensuing four months. It got her the job.

THE SHELL SHOW

THE Shell Show, Monday night Don Lee-CBS chain event, makes a strong bid for the "wash-day" air audience and judging by its several efforts to date, it isn't going to find it the least bit difficult to entice a good majority to its tuneful and hilarious broadcasts. The Shell Shows that have come through our loud speakers thus far have been comparable to the big variety productions in the studios of the New York chains. And to that end, the success of the Monday night presentations, credit is due E. H. Sanders, advertising manager of the Shell Oil Company. His foresightedness, showmanship and ability to take an old, slowly dying air institution such as the Jamboree, put new clothes on it and a new name and evolve it into a fast-moving, hilarious, melodious sixty minute show, is almost uncanny.

Against the advice of wise ones who proved not so wise, Sanders determined to put on a show with the Jamboree ingredients that would get the whole town talking. And he has.

This is not the only occasion in which the adeptness of the Shell Oil official at creating a radio broadcast with universal appeal has come to the fore.

Sanders signed up Hugh Barrett Dobbs, Cap'n Dobbssie to his legion of radio friends, when others thought that the famous radio character had seen his day and was on the decline. But this builder of air stars and creator of paramount broadcasts, was convinced that Dobbssie could be built up as a dominating personality on the air throughout the West. As the result he signed for five years at an annual salary that overshadowed that received by the President of the United States by several thousand dollars.

The Shell Show will feature masters of ceremonies who are nationally known in the theatrical business. This different m.c. each week idea has been evident since the adoption of the Shell Show. The sponsor is spending large amounts to bring renowned show people to San Francisco on Monday nights to act as master of ceremonies for the productions.

"We have a lot of great things in store for our listeners," Sanders said. "I can't spring them now, as we want to keep the Shell Show audience in suspense and surprise them when the time comes."

On Monday night, August 7, Benny Rubin, nationally known vaudeville and microphone headliner, was IT. His contagious laugh, his wisecracking, novel manner of introduction, black-outs and penetrating personality, made him one of the best m.c.'s thus far engaged by Shell for its big broadcast production.

Rubin was practically the whole show. He was everywhere. He was master of ceremonies, assisted in skits, was the foil for another comedian and caused much amusement with his song title gag.

Claude Sweeten and the KFRC orchestra started the broadcast out with a bang with some tuneful ditties. Outstanding among the vocalists was Edwin Imhaus, whose resonant, well-rounded powerful voice must have brought round after round of applause from the unseen legion in radiodom.

Imhaus will be remembered for his many fine concerts on the old Shell Happytime program with Cap'n Dobbssie some months back. He is a real asset to the Shell Show.

The auditor to this broadcast could have no complaint about any lack of comedy. The hour was packed with it. Good hearty laugh material to disintegrate that blue Monday feeling.

Adhesive Pontoon (Arnold Maguire) contributed nobly, bringing as he usually does, outbursts from the studio audience.

Pedro Gonzales (Eugene Hawes) had a good act, in which he called on Benny Rubin to assist him.

Yahbut and Cheerily (Jennison Parker and Bill Wright) were exceptionally good, bringing a lot of amusement with their skit, "In a Persian Garden."

Midge Williams, the colored lass, together with her three pickaninny brothers, came through with some vocalizing that was more than attention-getting and the Shell's Bells, feminine vocal trio, contributed satisfactorily to the sixty minute "mikeburst" of frivolity.

ETHER GLEANINGS

By J. CLARENCE MYERS

WITH the avowed purpose of aiding each other in the solution of their current problems and working as a whole to combat any obstacles that may confront them, the broadcasters of the San Francisco bay area have formed an organization to be known as the Broadcasters Association.

At the organization meeting recently managers or representatives of each of the eleven broadcasting stations in this territory were present. They came from NBC, KFRC, KYA, KTAB, KROW, KLX, KQW, KJBS, KLX, KGGC and KRE.

Ralph Brunton, manager of KJBS, and a veteran of more than ten years' broadcasting experience, was elected chairman of the group. He in turn appointed a committee of four to adopt a code of ethics for the Association. They are: Fred J. Hart, KQW; Bob Roberts, KTAB; McCallum, KYA; and Strong, KROW.

The code of ethics will be submitted to all stations in this territory before being adopted by the group.

The news that Jack and Ethel are returning to the air once again in "Roads to Hollywood" under the sponsorship of Broadcast Weekly, has caused no end of favorable comment in radioland. The popular pair, Bernice Berwin and Ted Maxwell, are stepping back into the rôles which won them many thousands of admirers and will be heard in the skits each Tuesday and Friday night at 9:15 o'clock over KYA.

A beer manufacturer, identity not yet divulged by the NBC, is contemplating the sponsorship of two fifteen-minute spots a week over the network beginning in September. Ryan and Noblette have tentatively been chosen as the artists and Mondays and Fridays as the days.

Genial Charlie Hamp, whose pleasing personality doesn't change when he's away from "the firing line" was host to the city's radio scribes at an informal reception at the Hotel Mark Hopkins the other day.

He told your reporter that he is thrilled every time he comes to San Francisco and never fails to visit as soon as possible the Palace of Fine Arts which stands as a lone memorial to the 1915 Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

The Chicago Exposition of Progress does not touch the beauty that was the 1915 fair here, he says.

Hamp has leased a house in the Marina district, not far from the picturesque Fine Arts Palace for the duration of his radio contract here.

"Showmanship is most essential for successful radio programs," he declared. "If you don't believe me, just stop and think who the biggest successes in radio today are. There's Ed Wynn, Jack Pearl, Jack Benny, Ben Bernie, Kate Smith, Burns and Allen, Myrt and Marge—all former show people.

"Of course you will find a few exceptions, such as Rudy Vallee and Bing Crosby, who created an individual style, which put them over."

Hamp said that efforts of some big radio men to change his stereotyped style of the "one man show" to other types of microphone presentation, have failed thus far.

"Why should I change," he asked, "when my little act has been so successful these many years?"

"Just as soon as I have one failure, then I'll change, and not until then."

* * *

Reports have leaked out that S. and W., food products concern, is contemplating the sponsorship of two weekly programs on each of the networks here—NBC and CBS beginning in early September.

* * *

A re-arrangement in the KFRC main studio has caused a sacrificing of about seventy guests seats, but has worked out to advantage for the orchestral presentations. In the new set-up, each group in the orchestra is separated—for instance the wind instruments are in one group, the strings in another, the pianos another and each group has a microphone. The experiment has proven quite satisfactory, according to Claude Sweeten, musical director of the station.

* * *

The management of KFWI is entitled to a vote of commendation. When the present operators took over the station a few years ago, it was on a basis of paying every creditor in full—a somewhat unusual procedure. Then came the ruling of the Federal Radio Commission compelling broadcast stations to hold closer to their assigned frequencies. This necessitated the purchase of a new transmitter for about $25,000. With the depression that followed, this load was too much for a half-time station to carry. The management made a splendid fight, but the odds were too strong against them. Despite the obstacles, the performance and the programs they rendered were of a very high order. It is hoped their refinancing program will succeed and that we will have them back on the air.

* * *

The Prentice Institute Jubilee Singers, colored quintet, have been contributors to The Never Can Tell hour on KQW the past few weeks. The group, of which N. L. Powell, is business manager, are representing the Institute, an educational institution at Prentiss, Mississippi and have been on tour in the southern and western states for the past nine months. Funds derived from their appearances on radio, at theatres and clubs are forwarded to the school.

Noticed that puffy chest and broader smile on Ned Tollinger, NBC ace, of late? You guessed it, he's a "poppa" now. Seven-pound boy was delivered by Doc Stork to Ione Tollinger, at a San Francisco hospital a few days ago. A crack here about supposing that the Tollinger offspring will be a radio star some day would be trite, so let's pass it off with hoping that he'll be an executive who hires and fires radio stars. 'Tis reported Little Mary Smith is jealous of the new arrival.

The French colony in Northern California is reported to be lending an attentive ear to the recently inaugurated French program entitled, "Fifteen Minutes in Paris" on KQW, San Jose.

It is winged out every Saturday night from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock and is conducted by Mlle. Jean Bergevin, a Parisian.

Lilting French songs, tuneful music and an interesting story woven throughout the broadcast by the mistress of ceremonies, constitutes the program.

"Fifteen Minutes in Paris" is the only regularly broadcast French program entirely conducted in French on the air in Northern California.

The Old Vagabond of the Air (Jerry Wilford) late of KFRC, is now strutting his personality over the ether highways from three California stations for the Famous Mineral Water Company. He is heard via means of electrical transcriptions on KTAB, KQW and KFBK. A few years back Wilford won a popularity contest for announcers in the middle West when he was associated with KSL, Salt Lake City. Later he conducted the midnight hour on KFRC for two years.

Fun...that's what driving becomes once more! It's a new kind of a thrill to feel the extra power Shell Ethyl gives your motor. The instantaneous starts. The quiet smoothness. From three vital energies . . . plus Ethyl. There's never been a gasoline like it!
