A Cuckoo in the Nest

This month you'll notice a somewhat imbalanced Medium Wave News on account of a monster DX Logs column from Martin. This is both good and bad news. The good news is that DX conditions on MW are the best they have been for at least 5 years (some people say 15 years) and that means that members are hearing all sorts of interesting stuff. The bad news is that I've had to take my proverbial scissors to all the feature article and cut & paste them to next month's magazine.

I've even had to carry Clive's verification column and Herman's Mailbag column over to next month.

The DX keeps on coming

Production of MWN was almost delayed by the overwhelming quantity and quality of DX, since there are only a finite number of hours in the day. Martin Hall has been on the receiving end of some amazing DX and yet he still managed(only just!) to put together the largest DX Logs column ever in MWN's 50 year history. Thanks a lot.

Even after the deadline the Dx continued and there is already an impressive stack of new DX and UK firsts lined up for the next issue of MWN!

Technical corner – PC sound cards & Spectran software

Walter Blanchard write; "Yesterday I did some tests using two audio generators and found that when I fed in two equal-amplitude tones 100 Hz apart a third appeared 100 Hz away and only 30 dB down - and a fourth 200 Hz away and 50 dB down, etc. That happened on all three of my PC's and they have different soundcards/chips. Not sure where the problem is but I've ordered an M-Audio Audiophile card and will see what that does. The writer of "Spectran" (Alberto di Bene) is positive it's not his program. That could explain all the "stations" I saw. Since these soundchips are probably reasonably representative of what is in most PC's nowadays it may be worth a word of warning in MWC not to believe all you see. Until I can be sure that what I see is really there and not a spurious I will not be reporting "stations seen" again."

WRTH & PWBR

It is that time of year again when you can save money on two valuable reference books for the radio listener. See pages 63/64 for full details but act NOW if you want to save money.

Finally

Apologies to anyone who was waiting for my feature on listening test at Garrowby Hill. That will hopefully appear next time. Likewise Barry Davies' summary of US network news timings, Antenna Wires by Bjarne Mjelde and Walter Blanchard's Introduction to Spectrum Monitoring will appear next time. Thanks also to various correspondents this month but sadly we've had to carry Mailbag over to next time.

Keep listening & may the DX keep on coming,

Steve

NORTH AMERICAN NEWS

✉ 20 Ryehill Park, Kirklington, Carlisle CA6 6BH

with Barry Davies

e-mail: na-news@mwcircle.org

Welcome to another round up of what's been happening on the North America AM dial. My grateful thanks to the organisations which provide the news. Thanks this month to :- IRCA, Radio and Records.com, Radio News and Notes and NERW.

- 1020 KDKA Pittsburgh PA. Congratulations on the station's 85th birthday!
- 1060 WBIX Natick MA. This financially troubled business talk station has finally been sold by the appointed receiver. No news on any planned format changes.
- 1110 KAGV Big Lake AK. This gospel station returns to the air. (KONG12 dx-pedition)
- 1200 CJRJ Vancouver BC. The allocated calls for the newly authorised 25kW ethnic station.
- 1590 WSMN Nashua NH. This station is back on the air. They are currently simulcasting 900 WSNH. Their format is ESPN sports radio. There is no information on the 1590 power output. The station can be contacted at the 900 WSNH address. The station says it will have its own WSMN talk show programming "shortly"
- 1600 WRJE Dover DE. New calls. (ex WKEN) No news on format.
- 1680 KTFH Seattle WA. This station is listed as ethnic and in recent years has been noted in various languages. They are now a full time SS station.
- 1680 WTTM Princeton NJ. Format due to change from Asian to ESPN sports radio. (NERW)

When not to tune away from a talk station! Talk shows have "programme clocks" which indicate when you should be listening for station ids and local input. Here are the critical local input windows for the Coast to Coast, Jim Bohannon and Air America talk shows expressed as minutes and seconds past the hour:-

COAST TO COAST LOCAL INPUT SLOTS (with George Noory/Art Bell/Ian Punnett)

HH:05:00 to HH:06:00 HH:29:50 to HH:34:00 HH:57:50 to HH:00:00

JIM BOHANNON SHOW LOCAL INPUT SLOTS

HH:05:00 to HH:06:40 HH:28:50 to HH:32:00 HH:45:00 to HH:46:00 HH:58:20 to HH:00:00

AIR AMERICA LOCAL INPUT SLOTS (with Randi Rhodes/Al Franken/Rachel Maddow)

HH:05:00 to HH:06:00 HH:28:00 to HH:34:00 HH:45:00 to HH:49:00 HH:57:30 to HH:00:00

Air America caution! The time slots are filled with network and local advertisements. The slots also contain the odd 5 second station one liner ID. The clock is based on internet observations from East and West coast stations with some averaging out. 1690 WWAA would be the easiest "off air" check. That just about clears my "in tray" for what seemed like a quiet month for news but not logs hi Martin! Best wishes for more good DX.

Barry

1050 XEQOO Imagen 1050, Cancún, ex Radio Pirata.

The usually strong XEQOO on 1050 from Cancún was even stronger last night, but it has changed format. It is no longer called Radio Pirata, but "Imagen 1050" and the programming originates in Mexico City. It consists of mostly talk: news, sports, politics. And they have a program in English at 1030 and 0400 UT. The station is now operated by the "Imagen Informativa" network. Their web page is at <http://www.imagen.com.mx/> Elmer D. As reported in Portuguese in the DX Listening Digests 5-164 and 5-165, thanks to posts from Eros John Cabral de Santana, Célio Romais and Huelbe Garcia on the radioescutas yahoo group, we have specific info about IBOC tests which have just been authorized on a few stations in Brazil:

600 ZYK278 R. Gaúcha, Porto Alegre, RS - 100 kW – whether "IBOC" will be day and night is not mentioned

1150 ZYL283 R. Globo Minas, Belo Horizonte, MG – "IBOC" day and night, 50/5 kW

Test authorization is for one year. There are also two FM stations, all using Harris "Dexstar" equipment. Who will manage to DX the IBOC sidebands overseas if not actually demodulate it? (DXLD 5-165)

Albania

Hello, I woke up around 0400 UT today. And subsequently checked the odd services of Abkhazia-Georgia and Albania. Heard ALB on upper flank 1395.20 kHz, 338 degrees. So tx#2 (1457.99) is on upper side, when re-tuned to VOA Serbian 1395 kHz morning service. Today 24th noted Fllaka on:

1395.20 VOA Croatian, 0430-0500 UT, close-down 05.00:15 UT.

1214.85 VOA Albanian, 0500-0530 UT.

1214.85 DW Albanian, 0543-0600 UT.

1214.85 CRI English, 0600-0800 UT.

1214.85 R Tirana, Alb 0801-0900 UT.

1457.99 VOA Serbian, 0530-0600 UT.

1457.99 R Tirana, Alb 0630-0800 UT.

Algeria / Western Sahara?

1550. Big Arabic talk tonight at 2250utc 10 Oct. - presume it is the Polisario station back here. Excellent signal. (Steve Whitt, 10 Oct 05). The Polisario Front was last observed on 700 kHz (unknown. site & power, but possibly eastwards of Tindouf [presumed site for 1550 kHz]) on 10 Oct 0730-f/out 0748, with songs, anns, few talks, rtd. 25341; // 7460 was again inactive. On 11 Oct, it was again noted active on their old outlet of 1550 kHz Tindouf (?) by Ignacio Sotomayor, in Segovia, Spain. // 7460 is, however, still silent. 1550 kHz rated 55444 on 12 Oct 1721-1750 and fair this morning [13 Oct] at around 0645. (Best regards, Carlos Gonçalves, Portugal (13 Oct 05)).

Benin?

A French speaking station was heard on 1566 kHz at the DX Camp near Prague, the Czech Republic, on 13 Oct 2005 during evening hours (this evening only). The station played mostly music (Arabic style) with sporadic announcements, mentioning also frequencies and "Benin". The language was accented French of African type. TWR Benin plans to go on the air on this frequency with its new transmitter in Parakou, Benin with 100 kW. Firstly planned for mid 2005, later postponed to November 2005. Maybe they are already testing using a modulation of a local station? (Karel Honzik, the Czech Republic (Czechia), mwdx, 18 Oct 05).

China

BEIJING, (Xinhuanet) -- China Radio International (CRI) launched CRI News radio on Wednesday in the Beijing area, the first around-the-clock news radio channel in China. The new radio programs, which can be heard in Beijing at 90.5 FM and 900 medium wave, provide news, sports and entertainment programs in Chinese and foreign languages. Short and vivid, the programs are expected to attract locals interested in international news and other cultures as well as foreigners living in Beijing. Established in 1941, CRI is China's international radio broadcaster transmitting radio programs in 43 languages. www.chinaview.cn (Mike Terry, BDXC-UK, 28/9).

Croatia

The Voice of Croatia (incl. HR 1) can be heard on a new frequency of 1143 kHz. The signal is quite strong in my location. I can hear all other Croatian (HR) MW transmitters but Osijek (= Osiyek) 594 kHz. Is it because of a strong German transmitter on this frequency or because Osijek was retuned to 1143 kHz? Osijek should have only 10 kW on 594 kHz (see WRTH 2005, p. 506), but the transmitter on 1143 kHz seems to be stronger. No change mentioned on the HR web (www.hrt.hr), no response yet to my e-mail sent to their technical department... No mystery anymore. Osijek has been retuned from 594 to 1143 kHz (10 kW). Croatian Radio needs 594 kHz for DRM tests. It should start later this year. (Karel Honzik, the Czech Republic (Czechia), mwc, 10 Oct 05). The Croatian transmitter network operator OIV confirmed that the transmitter in Osijek on 594 (HR Glas Hrvatske) was moved to 1143 kHz. The power is 10kW. OIV is planning to perform DRM tests on 594 towards the end of this year. (Bernd Trutenau-LTU, 10 Oct 05). Acc. to the teletext of Croatian TV (available via satellite), the transmission hours of the MW tx's in Croatia with HR Glas Hrvatske are as follows: Hvar (774) 0500-1730, Buje (783) 0300-2300, Deanovac (1125) 24h, Zadar (1134) 1300-0530, Osijek (1143) 24h. Times are UTC during summer. (Bernd Trutenau-LTU, mwdx, 11 Oct 05).

Finland

YLE Radio Finland, the international radio of YLE, is being merged with a domestic current events and talk channel, YLE Radio Peili. The move, planned for the start of 2006, requires talks with the staff unions, scheduled for October. YLE says it will be able to cut some jobs and save costs. In 2002 YLE discontinued programming in English, German and French, but continued in the domestic languages Finnish and Swedish as well as in Russian and the languages of some Finno-Ugric minorities within Russian (Urdmut, Mari, Komi). Advertising of Radio Finland as a service for tourists and expatriates has continued until this year, though on a reduced scale. The broadcast hours are fairly long and the external service resembles generalist domestic channels. In Western Europe the service is available all day long on several frequencies. Services for the rest of the world tend to be available during target area evening and/or morning hours.

During the past two years influential expatriate organizations have been campaigning for the continued availability of Radio Finland as "free to air" radio worldwide. The campaign seems to have been successful, and during the summer YLE arranged bidding for shortwave transmitter services for the time after 2007. The current agreement with Digita (TDF owned) concerning the shortwave and mediumwave transmitters in Finland comes to a close end of next year. In a strategy paper this past spring, YLE expressed the view that the importance of free to air broadcasting will decline in international communications. Many expatriates have given up or reduced their use of radio and use their mobile phones and laptops instead. The expatriate organizations have noted, however, that the cost of mobile audio may be high abroad and the service may not be available everywhere. Internet really cannot replace "the radio on the kitchen window shelf", they said.

YLE has said both "brands", YLE Radio Finland and YLE Radio Peili would continue to be used. The nature of programming on Radio Finland may change though. YLE Radio Finland, in its services for tourists and expats has been offering a great variety of programming ranging from drama, childrens broadcasts and religious programming to news. Based on a 2002 decision by the Parliamentary Controllors of YLE, programming may become more news and information oriented. The expatriate organizations have opposed the trend. The new unit will be called "YLE Compilation Channels" (or re-hash channels). The current head of programming at YLE Radio Peili, Mr Juha Virtanen, has already taken over the management of the two services. The new organization will officially take effect in January. International radio from Finland is based on domestic licence fee funding. The name "Radio Finland" appeared first in the 60s, though international radio from Finland had been launched in 1938. In the 90s YLE registered YLE Radio Finland as a sub trademark. "YLE Radio Peili" started as a news and current events service for DAB services. DAB never got off the ground in Finland in terms of audiences and was finally closed in September 2005. Source: Juhani Niinista, (YLE Radio Finland via Media network weblog, 1 October 2005).

France

I just published the following in the Media Network Weblog: Christian Ghiabudo drew our attention to the following: on 4 October, the French Conseil supérieur de l'audiovisuel (CSA) authorised a 3 month trial licence to Paris Live Radio for broadcasts on mediumwave 963 kHz in the Paris area. Paris Live Radio broadcasts to the English-speaking community in France. It currently operates across France on Canal Satellite, across Paris and Ile de France on digital cable, DAB and the Internet. 963 kHz was used by Radio Sorbonne until 1997 from the Romainville transmitter site near Paris with a power of 8 kW, but the frequency is currently unused. No starting date has been announced yet for the three-month trial. <http://www.parisliveradio.com/> (Media Network Weblog, 08 October 2005).

Gambia

The frequent breakdown of Gambia Radio and Television Services (GRTS) branch in Basse has created news blackout in the provinces. Transmitting on 747 KHZ on Medium Wave, Radio Basse has been limping with technical faults thus depriving listeners in Central and Upper River Divisions. Our reporter who visited Radio Basse was surprised to see the staff trying tooth and nail to link up with Mile 7 Studio so that listeners could have access to daily news. But this was not a reality mainly due to network failure. Speaking under cover, an irate staff of the radio said, "Our transmission has continuously failed us and as a result, we could not get signals from Mile 7. This is why listeners in Basse have not been getting news. This bad development has created information or news blackout for the people of Basse who don't know what transpires in The Gambia," he said.

The problem has forced Radio Basse to start work at 7 am and close down transmission at 12 noon. "Those who tune GRTS through Radio Basse have been out of news since the problem started some weeks back," said a resident of Basse. The staff of the radio also revealed that their work is being hampered by shortage of fuel. "We could not rely on NAWEC whose services are not reliable. But most often our generator goes without fuel. We are therefore soliciting support from the government and private sector to bail us out because information is crucial in human life. How can communities in Basse and surroundings actively participate in national development when they don't get news," he said. For several months now, provincial settlers have not been able to tune the national TV. This has forced those near the border villages to rely on Senegalese radio and TV for information and other programmes. (The Independent, Banjul, via www.allafrica.com, 30 Sep 05).

Germany

For some time - since early September? - I can hear Voice of Russia in English on 630 kHz. It is apparently ex 603 kHz. VoR web site still lists 603, the same goes for EMWG. The signal is very strong, practically on the same level as 693 kHz. It seems the power is higher than what is listed for 603 kHz - 5 or 20 kW. (Karel Honzik, mwdx, 25 Sep 05). Yup, audible here, too. Not very surprising, considering the fact that they are running 100 kW and are less than 15 km away as the crow flies. In fact it is a reactivation of Schandelah (listed as Braunschweig-Königsutter in WRTH), formerly using this outlet for Megaradio and I have multiple mixing effects all over the mediumwave with DLF 756 kHz 200 kW from the same site. India

Dear Friends, It is now confirmed that the 1000 kW transmitter operating from Rajkot on 1071 kHz for External Services of AIR has closed down in June 2004. It started transmissions sometime around (August) 1970 and used to beam towards Pakistan and Afghanistan. They used to issue nice QSL cards. To view the one I got please click: http://www.qsl.net/vu2jos/qsls/rajkot_1071.jpg (73 Jose Jacob, VU2JOS, National Institute of Amateur Radio, dx_india via DXLD). Was still in WRTH 2005; So is India also abandoning use of 1071 kHz by any other transmitter? That's a big hole some other country could fill. There is a 100 kW in Kazakhstan and a 10 kW in Thailand. (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX Listening Digest 5-169 (26 Sep 2005)).

Chandigarh: Haryana Chief Minister Bhupinder Singh Hooda today urged the Director General, All India Radio, Mr Brijeshwar Singh to set up two more AIR stations in the state. Mr Brijeshwar Singh had called on Mr Hooda here today to discuss with him the initiatives to be taken by AIR in the 11th five year plan. Presently AIR has three stations in Haryana at Hisar, Rohtak and Kurukshetra. The Chief Minister also urged him to strengthen the Medium Wave and FM stations in those areas of Haryana where their coverage was inadequate and broadcast programmes on health, agriculture and education preferably in Haryanavi language for the benefit of people of Haryana. He stressed that Medium Wave and FM stations of AIR be further strengthened in the districts of Sirsa, Rewari, Jhajjar, Ballabgarh, Palwal and Panchkula as their transmission was weak and not benefiting the desired number of people. The AIR Director General assured that Haryana's demand would be considered on priority basis....(www.newkerala.com, 19 Oct 05).

Italy

According to the Italian press wire ASCA quoted, in Italian, on <http://www.mytech.it/news/articolo/idA006012008446.art> Rai Way will soon begin experimenting with DRM via Milano Siziano. Tests will be conducted at nighttime, presumably on the former Radio 2 frequency of 693 kHz. Exact power levels are not mentioned (in the above mentioned news flash the writer says "at low power" adding, however, that will ensure "high quality" and Europe wide coverage). Milano 2 wasn't exactly a low power plant. Nothing new, really, DRM conversion of the ex Radio 2 transmitter has been planned for a long time as per RAI "insider" Andrea Borgnino. According to the same source, Rai Way begun installing DRM equipment in Milan at end of last year for tests beginning at the beginning of 2005. Apparently these were postponed to end of 2005/beginning of 2006. (73s, Andy Lawendal, 21 Oct 05). The prospect of Europe-wide coverage on 693 kHz is interesting, bearing in mind that 693 is one of the two synchronised frequencies used by BBC Radio 5 Live. There are also some Spanish transmitters on this frequency. The Voice of Russia also broadcasts in DRM on 693 kHz from a transmitter in Germany. (Andy Sennitt, Media Network Weblog, 21 Oct 05).

Netherlands

Radio 10 Gold wins Marconi Award for best Dutch radio station. It was announced today at the annual Broadcasting Congress in Bussum that Radio 10 Gold has won the Marconi Award for the best radio station in the Netherlands 2004-2005. The Marconi Awards are the most prestigious radio awards in the country. The jury observed that despite being a mediumwave station (1008 kHz), Radio 10 Gold has succeeded in reaching a large audience. The jury found it a great achievement that a commercial music station keeps mediumwave listening alive. Despite sailing against the wind last year, the programme makers continued to produce friendly radio with noticeable pleasure. They were able to fall back on their creativity, and a musical style which belongs to the best in the Netherlands. (Media Network weblog, 28 Sep 05).

Ray Anderson, the boss of UK commercial station Big L - Radio London, has posted a long message on the station's forum, where he explains why the station is currently off the air on 1395 kHz, the transmitter for which is located here in the Netherlands. Anderson claims to have been misled about the power and service area of the transmitter, and says that "in nearly 4 months, the transmitter only ran on the correct power level for 2 weeks." He also cites a number of other problems that he considers warrant compensation. Anderson confirms that he is now in dispute with transmitter operator Nozema Services, which he says "expects full payment for this bad service, with no compensation, even ignoring our request for a meeting to discuss the matter." So, says Anderson, "We are now in a stalemate situation with neither side prepared to move regarding the matter." However, Anderson says "we have several alternative options involving other service providers. Our commitment to resuming a service on 1395 kHz is still very high in our business strategy." (<http://medianetwork.blogspot.com/> via MET, 04 Oct 05).

Due to the emergency in South Asia, the BBC and has temporarily extended its services in Urdu: The BBC World service has extended its morning Urdu service (normally 0130-0200) to 0230 UTC, but the extra 30 min can be heard on 1413 and 15510 kHz and also one FM station in Pakistan. Portugal

I notice R.Comercial's MW tx at Porto Alto 1035 kHz 100 kW is putting an unusually good, punching audio for a few months' time... and finally decided to get in touch with the right person and learn what is going on, incl. their long halted future plans for MW. This individual wasn't available, but his assistant did provide interesting info, unlikely what happened with their head office colleagues here in Lisboa. So here it goes... the Porto Alto MW site was dismantled (I knew for years that would happen in the near future) and a brand new 100 kW (presumably DRM capable) was installed in this new site at Belmonte, very near Benavente, approx. 9 km NE (in straight line) of the previous site.

As far as I can recall what I was once told by RARET, the co. operating RFE/RL here, their HF rx site was very close to Benavente. Back in 1997 I think, a new 100 kW tx was indeed planned for P.Alto + 100 kW for Canidelo and 10 kW for Faro, in the Algarve province. The ID you'll hear via R. Comercial's MW txs is, however, "Rádio Club Português" - not the original, the old RCP, but simply the name applied to a music stn that's also carried via the officially called "southern VHF-FM network", granted to Rádio Regional de Lisboa, S.A. (owned by the same group that, among other things, includes R.Comercial and the private commercial TV stn TVI, keen to broadcast quite a few bad taste TV shows by the way).

I also enquired about the state of their northern MW site of Canidelo (not Miramar: sorry., WRTH people and readers) 783 kHz 10 kW... things are unchanged there. So in sum the stn is currently just via Canidelo 783 kHz 10 kW place near Miramar, both south of Porto Benavente 1035 khz 100 kW place NE of the capital. The radio authority ANACOM's (www.anacom.pt) webpage is still showing the full list of licensed MW channels for R.Comercial as if they were all alive. If you love QSL-ing, if you are thinking of sending a report to a local RNE station... DO IT NOW!!. Tomorrow may be too late. Translated with the help of altavista.com: "Ms. Carmen Cafarell, General Director of RTVE, has announced today [06-Oct-05] to the Council of Administration the first measures to start up the Plan of Economic Cleaning and Future entrusted by the Government to the SEPI (State Society of Industrial Participation) and to RTVE." ... "It is scheduled for the beginning of next week, the constitution of a work group integrated by members of the SEPI and RTVE that will entrust to different commissions the elaboration from the different aspects that will approach the future Plan of Economic Cleaning and Future. ... "The first of these "different aspects" is: "Adecuación de la estructura organizativa central y territorial." (AltaVista: "Adjustment of the central and territorial organizational structure.")... At present, strong rumours are circulating strong within RNE saying that this "Adjustment of the central and territorial organizational structure" means CLOSING. There are several possible scenarios:

1-Total closing of R5-Todo Noticias Network. Transmitters switched off. (Regional studios will remain for R-1 regional programming).

2-Total closing of R5-TN local stations. R5 would be a National Network without local / regional outputs. (Regional studios will remain for R-1 regional programming).

3-Total closing of R5-TN local stations. R5 would have only regional outputs. Regional studios will remain for R1/R5 regional programming. Only a small branch -2/3 people- will remain in every province to supply information).

4-Partial closing of local stations. Only stations in important cities would survive. "Important" from different points of view (population, cultural, political...). Programming only M-F, 0800-1500.

5-No closing. All survive. But Programming only M-F, 0800-1500. There will be a fast decision as the economic plan must be running the January 1st 2006. The more probable scenarios are 2 and 3. The RNE people will be happy if the result were the 4th. (M. Molano, Spain, emwg, 07 Oct 05).

Due to the emergency in South Asia, Deutsche Welle has temporarily extended its services in Urdu: Deutsche Welle has introduced another Urdu transmission at 0030-0100 UTC on 1548, 7130, 9505 and 9825 kHz (instead of the regular English programme). (Source: Alok das Gupta, DXAsia, via RN Media Network weblog, via Steve Whitt, 12 Oct 05).

Sweden

It looks as though Radio Netherlands may be dropping their English broadcast to Europe (currently at 2300-0000 UTC via Sweden on 1179 kHz) for the B05 schedule period which starts on Sunday. There is no mention of it in the Winter edition of On Target which arrived this morning. In a footnote to the satellite listing, On Target mentions that "By the end of 2005, RNW2 will also be available on the BSKyB platform in the UK". So it seems that MW is being replaced by a satellite feed...(Dave Kenny, BDXC-UK, 24 Oct 05).

Ukraine

Presumably from October 26, two Txs to be reactivated on MW band in Ukraine with UR-2 "Radio Promin" channel:

837 kHz 150 kW Taranivka (Kharkiv);
1242 kHz 40 kW Dokuchaevsk (Donetsk).

Also "Radio Promin": Power 150 kW of Tx in Mykolaiv on 549 kHz will be changed to 500 kW.

UR-3 "Radio Kul'tura" channel now will be broadcast on 657 kHz via Tx of 25 kW in Chernivtsi 19 hours a day with including as a rule of three RUI's Romanian language 1/2 h-r transmissions. (Alexander Yegorov-UKR, via wwdxc BC-DX 25 Oct 05, via Wolfgang Bueschel, mwdx).

837 Oct 26 1600- UR2 Promin prgr, Taranivka (Kharkiv). Restarted transmissions today with 150 kW, the same with 1242 kHz Dokuchaevsk (Donetsk) 40 kW. (Thanks for the info, Alexandr Yegorov of RUI! Ritola, FIN via hcdx, via Steve Whitt, 27 Oct 05).

Ofcom to allow AM stations to broadcast in DAB?

19 October, 2005

Ofcom today seeks further views on its proposal to allocate three blocks of VHF Band III spectrum for new local DAB multiplexes and a further block of spectrum for an additional national multiplex under the terms of the Broadcasting Act.

This will:

- ensure that every part of the UK can benefit from at least one local DAB multiplex, thereby filling in gaps in existing coverage;
 - allow for up to 74 existing local FM and AM analogue services to have the opportunity to be broadcast on DAB, in addition to those analogue stations already available on the DAB platform;
 - allow all local and regional BBC radio stations to move from analogue to digital;
 - enable radio stations which account for 95% of commercial listening to move to DAB; and
 - create a second commercial national DAB multiplex, which could enable the transmission of up to 10 digital services. Ofcom is proposing that a second national commercial multiplex should provide services which appeal to tastes and interests distinct from those served by existing national commercial DAB services.

Subject to consultation, Ofcom would expect to begin advertising the national and local radio multiplexes in late 2006, for award in early 2007.

Ofcom drops inquiry into FA Cup coverage

21 October, 2005

Ofcom has abandoned an investigation into BBC Radio Five Live's dominance over live FA Cup football coverage, diminishing the hopes of the rival network talkSPORT of breaking into the market.

The decision ends the first investigation by the communications regulator into potentially lucrative sports contracts. A ruling against the BBC could have had broad implications for the way football bodies negotiate broadcasting deals.

The inquiry by the Office of Communications (Ofcom) began last December after a complaint by The Wireless Group (TWG) owner of talkSPORT, which at the time was run by Kelvin MacKenzie, over the Football Association's (FA) exclusive deal with the BBC.

Ofcom concluded after an initial inquiry that there were "reasonable grounds to suspect" that European or British competition law "may have been infringed". But yesterday it said that there was limited interest in the rights to FA Cup matches among national broadcasters and that "a low value is placed on these games". It also said that a separate investigation by the European Commission into FA Premier League rights would cover issues such as the exclusivity granted to the BBC over FA Cup matches.

As a result, Ofcom said, it did not plan to open a more detailed examination of the complaint, and closed the case.

TWG said in its original complaint that agreements preventing individual clubs from selling games were anti-competitive, and argued that as the only supplier of rights the FA was able to fix prices.

A spokesman for TWG said the company "accepts what Ofcom has to say" but plans to keep pursuing the issue with the European Commission. "This isn't the end of the matter. The company is still looking to broadcast FA Cup matches, it's something it still believes in and is pushing very hard for," the spokesman said.

He added that the issue was being considered by the European Commission as part of its inquiry into the way live television rights to football were allocated to broadcasters. (www.thetimesonline.co.uk)

Cliff Richard blames radio ban for ending his recording career 21 September, 2005

For his diehard fans it will be a cause for dismay. Others might see it as an excuse for a celebration. Either way, Cliff Richard's announcement that he will not be releasing any more records closes the door on one of the most prolific careers in popular music.

Sir Cliff's music is no longer as popular as it was - at least not with the arbiters of taste at UK radio stations. The 64-year-old yesterday blamed an unofficial boycott for driving him out of the recording industry.

"I just don't have the time to waste making a record that no one will play," he told the Daily Mail. "As a musician you make a record for the radio so that the public can hear it, but my songs don't get played. It's not that DJs don't like them, it's that the stations have a policy that says, 'We don't play him!'" By way of a concession, he added: "I will be playing concerts until the day I die because I love the atmosphere - but I'll never make another record."

Born Harry Webb, Sir Cliff ranks with Elvis Presley as the only artists to appear in the UK singles chart in six consecutive decades. He has released 128 singles, beginning with Move It, which reached No 2 in 1958. Sir Cliff's status as a radio star began to wane in 1998 when Chris Evans - then the breakfast show host on Virgin Radio - vowed he would never again play one of his records. Other stations took up the cause to such an extent that the DJ Tony Blackburn was suspended from his job on Classic Gold for breaking the ban.

Sir Cliff's final album was Something's Goin' On, recorded in Memphis and released last October. It yielded the single I Cannot Give You My Love, which peaked at No 13 in the UK. (www.mediaguardian.co.uk)

Why two into one didn't go 22 September, 2005

With David Mansfield's departure the curtain has come down on GCap's executive double-act. Investors will now look for reassurances from Ralph Bernard that he can start turning a profit from the radio group's multimillion pound digital investments

When MediaGuardian.co.uk queried the durability of David Mansfield and Ralph Bernard's joint tenure at the head of the country's largest commercial radio group, Mansfield's reaction was decisive. He stood up from his seat next to Bernard, walked across the room and thrust the neat flow chart delineating his and Ralph's responsibilities in front of us. His behaviour when the merger was announced last year showed either brash confidence that a set-up contravening City best practice guidelines would function perfectly, or he was displaying concern that no one would give it time to work. If he was thinking the latter, then yesterday's events underline his prescience.

While there were no rumours of an unworkable professional relationship, which dogged ITV moguls Charles Allen and Michael Green in the run-up to the merger of ITV giants Carlton and Granada, there has been a stream of public warning signals for the Bernard/Mansfield double-act at the top of GCap Media. A new group combining Classic FM, 95.8 Capital FM and more than 50 other analogue stations was launched in May into the teeth of an advertising recession. A warning in collapsing advertising revenues accompanied the business's stock market debut on May 9. An even more severe profit warning followed in June, in which GCap admitted it was underperforming a poor market.

According to Bernard, both men agreed three weeks ago that a dual executive structure was not the right set-up to guide the group through such a parlous trading environment. Few in the industry believe that Mansfield was happy to go, or indeed wanted to go. Either way, his departure was sealed in a meeting last Thursday. Given the fall in market capitalisation of GCap from £711m at the announcement of the merger to £468m today, it is just as well that the GCap board acted before shareholders leant on them heavily. That would have put their positions in danger too.

They will also look for reassurances that Bernard has an appetite for getting his hands dirty as chief executive. He resigned the same position at GWR in May 2001, stepping up to take a more strategic role as chairman. His position at GCap was also about the big-picture stuff: relations with government, co-ordinating digital strategy. Those responsibilities have not gone away - the new chairman is a non-executive director - but the tasks of rallying an underperforming sales force and rebuilding audiences at flagship GCap stations have been added to his burden.

EMAP – Increase in revenues

1 October, 2005

Media group Emap today said it was expecting increases in revenues at both its consumer magazines and radio divisions in the first half of its financial year.

At its radio stations, which include Magic, Kiss and the Big City network, Emap was expecting a 2% climb in revenues, excluding the recent acquisition of Scottish Radio Holdings. National airtime would be up 6% while local airtime experienced a 9% decline. Forward bookings for radio airtime in September and October were "reasonable", Emap said.

Axe falls on Capital staff

5 October, 2005

GCap Media has made approximately half the off-air staff of flagship London station Capital Radio redundant, with the loss of around 15 jobs, as part of a restructuring. Annie O'Neill, the producer of former breakfast DJ Chris Tarrant show, and latterly deputy production controller, is believed to have lost her job - as have around half the producers on the station.

Staff across the company - formed from the £711m merger of GWR and Capital Radio - have spent an uncomfortable two weeks worrying about their jobs since the ousting of the chief executive and former Capital Radio boss, David Mansfield. Former Capital staff feel they have borne the brunt of the departures at GCap. Staff are being told today if they have a future at the company, which has pledged to find £25m in cost savings, up from the £7.5m originally planned.

Around half of the producers at the London station have been axed. Some of the marketing team and interactive department are also believed to have been told they are no longer required, and an events organiser and press officer are also thought to have lost their jobs. "It's all pretty swift and brutal," said one GCap insider. "Some people have been at Capital a long time and are used to one style of management. But heads are rolling and people are terrified." (www.mediaguardian.co.uk)

Manx radio jobs threat

7 October, 2005

Attacks on Manx Radio are putting jobs at risk according to managing director Anthony Pugh. He claims using the station as a political 'punch bag' is making winning advertising business even tougher as it bids to turn around a massive loss. Manx Radio will be the subject of another debate when, during this month's Tynwald, (Parliament) David Cannan asks colleagues to view 'with concern' the financial management of the station. Mr Cannan said: 'Manx Radio has made a trading loss over the last two years of some £500,000. 'I am not putting the blame anywhere, but Tynwald has a responsibility over the funding of Manx Radio. It may be members have no concern. Members will either have concern or have confidence.'

It is believed the debate will call into question Treasury's role in monitoring the station's financial performance. Mr Pugh said Mr Cannan has had access to detailed financial records and is aware that major strides have been taken to improve the situation. He added half-year accounts will be released ahead of the debate to show Manx Radio is set to deliver an improvement of up to £300,000. 'Financially we are doing well and are happy with our half-year position, and Mr Cannan knows what that is. What happens when Manx Radio is used as a punch bag it jeopardises jobs because it makes businesses consider whether they want to be involved with us.'

However, the accounts, which will go before Tynwald, show a substantial loss of around £250,000. Mr Pugh maintains the unexpected losses were caused by the introduction of a third radio station, 3FM, and the decision of many businesses to take stock over their future advertising strategies. He said things are getting better and he had a detailed conversation with Mr Cannan over the issue and gave him access to financial information. (www.isleofmanonline.co.uk)

GCap threatens to sue Ofcom over new digital radio scheme 20 October, 2005

GCAP MEDIA, Britain's leading commercial radio group, threatened to take Ofcom to court yesterday after the regulator announced a plan to create eight new national digital radio stations.

The company behind Capital Gold and Classic Gold stations believes that Ofcom is on the verge of breaking a promise, made when a predecessor group, GWR, won the right to run the commercial digital radio spectrum seven years ago. At that time GWR was told that it had won the "first and only" licence to run commercial radio spectrum, which is now home to stations such as Classic FM, UTV's talkSPORT and SMG's Virgin Radio. Ralph Bernard, the chief executive of GCap, said that the company was "carefully considering its position". He said: "We are not at this stage ruling out the possibility of a judicial review." If the company does go to court, it would be the first time an Ofcom decision has been subjected to legal challenge.

Ofcom is proposing to hold a contest for a new "multiplex", a chunk of spectrum that could support eight new stations next year. The multiplex would be awarded on the basis of a "beauty contest", in which bids would be evaluated against criteria set by the regulator. Peter Davies, the director of radio at Ofcom, said that the regulator was taking GCap's position "very seriously," and said that it would look at bids for new stations in areas such as "jazz, children's, news, classic rock and country". The regulator hopes that by doing this GCap will back off, but Mr Davies said that GCap had not been given a monopoly on the commercial digital spectrum.

Other radio groups reacted positively. Dee Ford, who runs Emap's radio business, said: "GCap has got to wake up to the future, which is about brands and content. It's not about trying to maintain a monopoly position; we live in a competitive world". Ofcom wants to help increase the spectrum available for digital radio, because the existing analogue spectrum is limited and nearly full. The regulator believes that it will only be able to licence another 15 FM radio stations, and will stop licensing them by the end of 2007.

However, the regulator did not argue for a date in which the existing AM and FM frequencies should be switched off, saying that the radio market was not yet mature. At present there are only about two million digital radio sets in households — covering less than a tenth of the population — although coverage is supplemented by internet radio, and listening via digital television.(www.thetimesonline.co.uk)

The British Forces Broadcasting Service gets one of 18 new community radio licences announced today by UK media regulator Ofcom. The licence is for Lisburn in Northern Ireland, where BFBS will launch a new local radio station early in 2006. Currently BFBS has a Restricted Service Licence for an AM service on 1287 kHz, which has operated for the past six years on the main base. Now the station will be able to broadcast to military families living in the surrounding area. Marc Tyley of BFBS Radio said they had been broadcasting on AM "within the wire" of army HQ in Lisburn on a restricted basis for some six years. "This is great news, it means we can broadcast outside the camp to the community at large and the service personnel and their families living there," he said.

Brendan Rooney also submitted a log, but it was in WordPro format, and I don't have the application to read it. Hopefully I can sort this out by next month and include Brendan's logs then - mah.

Steve writes; "Absolutely astonishing conditions for two weeks mid-October. Over 100 different stations ID'd from 25+ US states and 7 Canadian Provinces. In the past hearing 25 States took years to achieve. I don't recall ever experiencing such an extended period of good DX conditions to North America. What was unusual this time was the range and variety of signals rather than exceptional strength. Steve continues about "The Plague of Coast to Coast AM" - "When conditions are good you can be faced with Coast to Coast AM on many channels. Their website lists all affiliates.

Recent regulars have been 770 WABC; 1080 WTIC, 1100 WTAM, 1180 WHAM, 1390 WEGP, 1400 WOND, 1640 WTNI; 1700 KVNS (missing from C2C website). But the following all escaped my clutches: 640 KFI or CFMJ at 0652 mixing CBC; 680 CJOB, or WRKO or WPTF (all 50k) mixing with 6-80 News from Toronto; 770 heard with a delay/echo at 0710ut! WABC presumed plus KKOB or CHQR; 800 CKLW or 5 others; 930 WBEN and WGIN are both 5kW mixing with music at 0617; 1110 WBT or KFAB or KBND very good at 0642; 1200 likely WOAI; 1410 at 0645 poor - could be CFUN Vancouver".

Ken says "It is good to be back in business with MWDX, Sept whilst somewhat poor, was replaced by some superb days in October. I was amazed by the barrage of stns some mornings on the graveyards, but other channels sounded like the graveyards. 800, 1290, etc". He continues "I have made a list of 25 common stations I would expect to hear every night when the band is open. VOCM network - 560, 590, 620, 650, 740, CBC network - 600, 640, 1070, 1140, 1400 660 WFAN Old WNBC ch, 780 KIXX Country, 800 VOWR, 880 WCBS, 920 CJCH, 930 CJYQ, 950 CKNB (CHER used to seem dominant), 960 CHNS, 1130 Bloomberg Old WNEW ch, 1390 WEGP (seems def dominant), 1470 WLAM (seems dominant), 1500 WTOP Though not as powerful this year so far, 1510 "1510 The ZONE" Boston old WITS ch, 1520 WWKB/ WKBW/ KB Radio Buffalo, 1560 Radio Disney old WQXR stn. They are not all armchair listening every night. Far from it. Another 8 or so are less common, but very regular. 610 – CHNC, 710 – VOCM network, 750 - CBC Network, 770 – WABC, 870 – WWL (2005 winter, belongs in top list), 1100 - WTAM (old 3WE), 1110 – WBT, 1180 – WHAM. I am unsure where to categorise the X Banders. The stations seem to vary although the Indian on 1680 and the Korean on 1660 seem dominant, but I wouldn't like to say I could hear them every night, especially the Korean".

John F adds "What a dramatic turnaround from the dreary conditions of last month! October has seen many quiet days and, as a consequence, lots of very good signals from the North Americans. A few pleasant surprises in here too, including my first west coast DX from home. Reception from home has actually been better than I heard on beverages out in the wilds last season. DX conditions have been reminiscent of the late 70's / early 80's, albeit with a more congested medium wave band, but this didn't stop many signals just pushing the Europeans aside".

Graham writes "heading off to Cape Town for a few days tomorrow so am sending this in a bit early. Conditions have picked up nicely for AM TA here, much like this time last year. The difference this year is that there is nothing coming in from east Canada in the late evenings. Last year some of these stations were strong here from around 2100z. The X-band is also surprisingly quiet with the occasional booming exception. I have attached a handful of logs from stations actually identified but most of the regular Canadian and East Coast US stations have showed up. R Progreso 890 is the most consistently heard station sometimes lasting till well after dawn when the rest of the band has gone quiet. BTW John Munoz says there is a backlog of reports for KVNS stacked up but they will get round to them".

Renato comments "here's the log. I have purposely omitted logs which may be considered trivial in the UK and that I guess will be already provided by other contributors. All ID's are recorded and available if needed. The latest days have been really hectic also here in Northern Italy and I have noticed audio on a couple of dozen of NA channels which were silent for decades (1300, 660, 700, 880). I have a lot of clips to check.

From Giampaolo: "Some of the best clips will be soon available from our website:
<http://www.radioascolto.org> "

Wilhelm sent a 7 page typewritten log covering the period 5-16 October, and says that his logs can be viewed at <http://mediumwave.info>. I've only been able to include a selection of his logs here, and suggest you visit this website for the full picture. He says "Please mention DX183 and write that everyone is welcome here - I have 3 nice rooms for guests". He includes a brochure showing prices for overnight self-catering accommodation at between DKK100 and DKK120 per person per night.

The recent superb conditions have resulted in some fantastic DX here in Clashmore, and I've not yet finished checking all my logs against the recordings - logs for 22 Oct after 0920, and for 24, 26, 27 and 28 Oct fall into this category, and any corrections will be posted in the next DX Loggings. Many thanks to Steve Whitt for checking the audio clips from this month's UK Firsts. DX Loggings has taken quite a lot of effort to prepare this month, thanks to so many contributors experiencing the good conditions that I've not had time to check for all UK Firsts against the lists.

The deadline for the November DX Loggings is Tuesday 22nd November. I look forward to receiving your logs by then, preferably electronically/via e-mail using the Word pro-forma, which I can supply on request. Please remember that I don't automatically include loggings sent to the MWC e-List, so please copy me separately if you would like them included in DX Loggings.

- 3 Vince originally sent his report via snail mail and then a follow-up by e-mail, but didn't get a reply either time. He then noted that Dave Onley had got a reply, so Vince tried another follow-up to tory@my5cs.com and was successful.
- 4 Max initially received a QSL from Raimond Kreicbergs at KREBS TV from the address PO Box 371, Riga LV1010, Latvia. Then a few weeks later, Max received another letter from R Tatra from 1 Northumberland Avenue, Trafalgar Square, London WC2N 5BW. However, the envelope carried the address Radio Tatra, PO Box 95, Alzbetina 409, 05801 Poprad, Slovensko. To complicate matters even further, at the bottom of the letter is yet another address: Broadcast Centre, 80-88 Collingdon Street, Luton LU1 1RX, England.
- 5 This is Vince's joint quickest snail mail reply ever. They also sent a catalogue of pirate radio memorabilia.
