GRUNDIG

SATELLIT 750

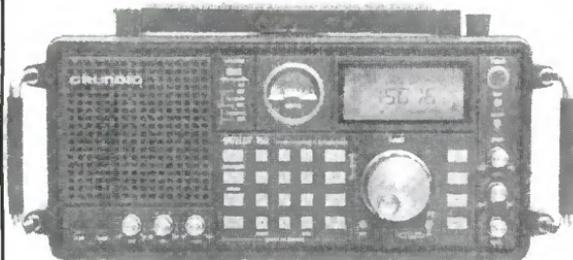

FREE Grundig G6 Receiver

Purchase your Satellit 750 from Universal Radio for a limited time and receive a FREE G6 with your order. A $89.95 value! (G6 also sold separately).

GRUNDIG G6

With the Grundig G6 Buzz Aldrin Edition at your side, you'll always have great listening options. Tune in to onwave, AM, FM, the VHF aircraft band or continuous coverage shortwave. Use the auto-tuning feature to browse stations and stop on the next available frequency. You can also use "D5" tuning to get a taste of what's playing—stop on the next available frequency for five seconds at a time. This advanced dual conversion circuit also features the reception of S.S.B. (Single Side Band) signals. This radio has keypad entry, manual tuning knob and 700 alphanumeric memories, arranged in 100 pages. The backlit display features a signal strength indicator and there is a stereo/mono and a mega-bass switch. There are mini jacks for earphones and external antenna. Use the international clock and wake-up alarms to keep you on schedule. This radio comes with an AC adapter and earbuds. It can operate from two regular or NiCad AA cells (not supplied), 5 x 3 x 1.2 inches 9 oz. This radio is simply a great value.

The Grundig Satellit 750 will give complete coverage of all long wave, AM, shortwave frequencies (with S.S.B. mode) and FM (stereo to the earphone jack), plus the VHF aeronautical band (118-137 MHz). Tune your favorite stations by the conventional tuning knob (two speed), keypad entry or via 1000 memories. Enjoy the fidelity you have come to expect from Grundig enhanced by separate bass and treble controls. The radio has both an earphone jack and a Line Output jack. The built-in 24 hour clock has a dual alarm and sleep feature. This radio can simultaneously display the frequency and the time on the large backlit LCD. It will also indicate antenna selection, battery status, wide/narrow selectivity memory and attenuator status. Long distance AM band reception is possible with the built-in 360 degree rotatable ferrite antenna. External antennas may also be attached (RNC), 14.65 x 7.25 x 5.75 inches 5.25 lbs. Includes AC adapter or may operate from four D cells (not supplied). List $400.00

The Tecsun PL-360 has to be one of the coolest looking shortwave portables ever! Yes, it looks like a TV remote control, but it is a very decent receiver. It covers medium wave 520-1710kHz shortwave 2300-21950 kHz and the FM band. Longwave coverage may also be activated. It has a very unique Easy Tuning Mode (ETM). ETM does more than the usual ATS. It scans all frequencies without taking up the memory spaces. So you get quick access to all local stations. Great for the traveller. There are also 450 regular memories available for tuning into your favorite stations. Another unique feature of the PL-360 is its removable high sensitivity external AM ferrite antenna. This directional antenna clearly enhances AM band reception. The PL-360 even employs DSP (Digital Sound Processing) technology, improving clarity and tone quality. The PL-360 can be powered by three AA batteries (not included). It also has 5V mini-USB DC input jack. When using the USB jack, the radio can be used to charge the batteries (rechargeable AA batteries only). The PL-360 comes includes: MW bar antenna, stereo ear buds, wire antenna and manual. 2.1 x 6.3 x 1.1"

I hope everyone enjoyed the holiday season with family and friends. The D'Angelo's are in the midst of enjoying 9 days in Barcelona, Spain as the editorial deadline occurs over the holiday period. We enjoyed the first four days in Barcelona prior to the deadline and anticipate a good time the next few days post-deadline. As we move into the peak of the winter DX season, I hope your results from tuning the bands are good. Be sure to continue reporting to the Flashsheet, Log Report and QSL Report as well as the other columns as time permits.

Shortwave Center Editor John Figliozzi has just completed his new book, The Worldwide Listening Guide - 5th Edition. The Guide is available through Universal Radio, Amazon and possibly Radio Shack in the near future. The new edition came in handy during our December DXpedition to French Creek on several occasions to identify program names. The Worldwide Listening Guide - 5th Edition is a handy reference which not only addresses shortwave broadcasters still using our favorite medium, shortwave, but other platforms that many favorite broadcasters have migrated to in recent years. I'll have a full review next month but The Worldwide Listening Guide - 5th Edition is a neat program guide worth adding to the bookshelf.

Making a re-appearance on the club's Scoreboard is Country List Committee Chairman Don Jensen. DNJ sports an impressive 256 countries heard and 256 countries verified with the next continent (Asia) to appear on the Scoreboard at 73 heard/verified. Nice! Thanks to Scoreboard compiler Gary Neal for sending that information along. Is this Jensen a new kid in the hobby?

Speaking of verifications, Harold Sellers informs us that the Ontario DX Association (ODXA) has been appointed QSL Manager for radio stations CKMX Classic Country

AM 1060 (1060 kHz) and CFVP Shortwave (6030 kHz), owned and operated by Astral Media, Calgary, Alberta, Canada. Following on from over 20 years of serving as the QSL Manager for Astral Media's Toronto CFRB (1010 kHz) and CFRX (6070 kHz), the ODXA is expanding this volunteer service to DXers worldwide. Serving as the QSL Manager will be Harold Sellers who lives in Vernon, British Columbia. Harold has regular reception of both the medium wave and shortwave signals from Calgary, providing familiarity with the programming content. QSL cards have been printed and will be sent in response to accurate reports for either 1060 or 6030 kHz. Reports may be sent by postal mail or e-mail to any one of the following: Harold Sellers, 3211 Centennial Drive, Apt. 23, Vernon, British Columbia V1T 2T8, Canada or QSLcalgary@gmail.com or Director of Engineering, Astral Radio Calgary, 300 - 1110 Centre St N.E., Calgary, Alberta T2E 2R2, Canada. In the near future the Ontario DX Association website [www.odxa.on.ca] will also permit the submission of reception reports. Photographs of the CKMX-CFVP transmitter site may be found at <http://www.odxa.on.ca/broadcasting.html>.

For the first time in Danish Shortwave Club International's (DSWCI) fifty-five years history, the club's Annual General Meeting (AGM) will be held outside of Denmark on 1-3 June 2012. DSWCI members will meet at Ochsenkopf, Germany, in the Dübener Heide natural preserve, 22 km east of Dessau. This will give more of the club's many members in Central and Southern Europe a good chance to attend its important get-together at another good DX location. Member Bernhard Hein has offered to organize the event. At the same time the European DX Council (EDXC) has decided to hold its annual Conference at the same hotel from 30 May 30 through 4 June 2012. This gives everybody a chance to attend both events, either in total or just for a few days. The EDXC Conference is organized by Harald Gabler, Robert Kipp, and Bernhard Hein. The Conference Fee is 95,00 Euro per person, including visits to interesting places in Germany and the Banquet Dinner. You do not have to pay the Conference fee, if you only attend the DSWCI AGM on Saturday afternoon. More details on EDXC program will be available at a later date. Accommodation at Hotel Landgut Ochsenkopf: Special price "EDXC-2012" per person per night including breakfast is 33,00 Euro in a double room or 48,00 Euro in a single room. If all rooms at Hotel Landgut Ochsenkopf become fully booked, other accommodation will be found nearby. For more information about the venue (unfortunately only in German at the moment) at the following link: www.duebener-heide.com. The street address is Hotel Landgut Ochsenkopf Dübener Heide, 06733 Rotta, Ortsteil Ochsenkopf, Germany.

The organizers of the EDXC Conference and the DSWCI AGM stress registering as soon as possible for these events but not later than 30 April 2012. To book your accommodation, please send an e-mail to Dr. Harald Gabler at DrGabler@t-online.de with copies to Bernhard Hein at info@funkverlag.de and to Anker Petersen at anker.petersen@mail.dk. If you cannot send e-mail, please send a letter to Anker Petersen, Udbyvej 11, DK 2740 Skovlunde, Denmark. Remember, do not send any money at this early stage.

Oh how the times are changing. AJ Janitschek of Radio Free Asia (RFA) sent us information about RFA having a Facebook account, RFA QSL, meant for DXers, hams and listeners in general. For those that have friended RFA already, you can see that their new QSL card for December was already on Facebook last month. Everyone else received notification after the posting. AJ encourages everyone who has access to Facebook to add RFA as your friend. While you are at it, visit the club's Facebook page moderated by Richard Murphy.

The National Association of Shortwave Broadcasters (NASB) announced that long-time Secretary-Treasurer Dan Elyea of WYFR retired at December 31 although he is assisting with a smooth transition into 2012. As of January 1, 2012, Jeff White will resign as President of NASB and he will become the new Secretary-Treasurer. Jeff will continue to serve his current term on the Board of Directors until May 2012. Glen Tapley of WEWN will become the new NASB President on January 1, and Brady Murray of WWCR will be the new Vice President. Thais White of WRMI will continue to serve as Assistant Secretary-Treasurer.

The 2012 NASB-DRM USA 2012 Annual Meeting will take place May 10 and 11, 2012 at the headquarters of Radio Free Asia, 2025 M Street NW, Suite 300, Washington, DC 20036 USA. Registration for the meeting is free of charge, and it is open to anyone with an interest in shortwave broadcasting or listening. To register, send your name and e-mail address to Jeff White at radiomiami9@cs.com. Although the meetings will be held at Radio Free Asia, the NASB has arranged a special hotel rate of $99.00 per night (plus tax) at the Country Inn & Suites in Camp Springs, Maryland – just outside of Washington, near Andrews Air Force Base. The hotel also offers a free hot breakfast and free high-speed Internet access. The hotel address is: 4950 Mercedes Blvd., Camp Springs, MD 20746. Telephone +1-240-492-1070. Fax +1-240-492-1089. The hotel's reservations line, which is toll-free in the US and Canada, is +1-800-596-2375. To get the special NASB conference rate, call the hotel and ask for the NASB rate when you make your reservation. You must guarantee your reservation with a credit card. Reservations can be canceled until two days before arrival with no penalty. Most meeting participants will arrive on Wednesday, May 9, 2012 (since the meeting will begin at 9 am on May 10) and will depart on May 11 after the meeting ends in the afternoon, depending on flight arrangements. Or you can e-mail Ms. Ranak Patel, Director of Marketing at the hotel. Her e-mail is: ranak.patel@countryinns.com. If you have any problem making a reservation at the NASB rate, please contact Jeff White at radiomiami9@cs.com and we will help you make the reservation or make it for you. Transportation from the hotel to Radio Free Asia will be possible by a combination of the free hotel shuttle and a low-cost Metro ticket to a station near Radio Free Asia.

Here's a reminder about the availability of the 7th edition of their unique QSL-Calendar for 2012. Harald Gabler <DrGabler@t-online.de> CEO of the Rhein-Main-Radio-Club (RMRC), Frankfurt, Germany and ADDX announced last month the availability of the 2012 calendar. The full color art print calendar offers real treasures from their historical QSL archives, covering QSL cards from the 1930's to present. The calendar is in English and costs 15 Euro including shipment world wide. This year there is a QSL card inside from 1935 - a real treasure! The RMRC does this non profit activity only to support the DXing hobby. The 2012 calendar is a beautiful marketing instrument, it is rare, unique and a special holiday season gift for the DXer and radio enthusiast. Further information is available at the club's website: www.rmrc.de. You can order now direct from Harald (Am Gänsborn 9, 61476 Kronberg im Taunus, Germany) or from their website.

The following electronic Flashsheet participant has had the e-mail Flashsheet returned to me in recent weeks: Charles R. Foxx, Jr. (extended inactivity new mail not being accepted). Charlie, if you are still out there with a valid e-mail address, please send it along for me to restore distribution of the Flashsheet to you each week.

Please remember to direct all communications about subscriptions, bulletin delivery issues, Christmas gift ideas, the use of PayPal as a payment method, etc. to Bill Oliver at the club's Levittown address or to his new electronic address, billoliver@verizon.net. The regular postal address is the familiar 45 Wildflower Road, Levittown, PA 19057. Inquires sent to Wyomissing only slow down the process. Thanks!

That's it for this month. Enjoy this month's edition of the Journal; it's another good one.

FRENDX: Twenty-Five Years Ago (January 1987)

Publisher Bill Oliver announced that Robert J. Hill became the new Update editor replacing Tom Alleman who stepped down because of work load. The French edition of Language Lab was now available from Tiare Publications for US$12.95 plus $1.00 shipping. Paul Lannuier returned with another edition of Soundwaves, the first since August. In Technical Topics, Editor Skip Arey reviews a number of books available for hobbyists looking to increase their knowledge of electronics. Tom McElvy's first Computer Corner column featured a brief history of the ANARC BBS by former editor Bill Cole. The Awards column featured awards for John Kapinos (North American Continental DXpert), Kevin Mikell (Master Pacifica DXer, Australian DXer and Senior Radio Moscow DXer), and Roland Schulze (Senior DX Centurian with 180 country endorsement, Senior Tropical Band DX'er and Master Papua New Guinea DX'er). Bill Plum compiled the FrenDX Latin America QSL Survey based on items appearing from January 1985 through December 1986. In the QSL Report column, Editor Sam Barto noted that Gerry Dexter's Secrets of Successful QSLing is the best analysis he has read on the subject. In Log Report B, Editor Jerry Berg noted interesting Colombian activity on 5569 kHz, 5991 kHz and 6015 kHz. Rules for the 1987 North American DX Championship sponsored by Numero Uno appeared.

Eric Bueneman, 631 Coachway Lane, Hazelwood, MO 63042-1347

I've been fairly active on not only SWBC lately, but also on the MW (AM) broadcast band. I've also been recording some of the DX using the Magix Music Maker 2005 program and posting them in MP3 format to my Box account. The links have also been posted in the UMBRE DX group on Facebook. Speaking of Facebook, I have set up a new Facebook group for DXers in the U.S. states of Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Texas called "Midwest DXers on Facebook". The group is open to those who DX shortwave, MW (AM), FM, analog and digital TV, as well as NOAA Weather Radio broadcasts. Just enter "Midwest DXers" into your Facebook search engine. I've also been posting my DX in my group. I must admit, I haven't been keeping as good of track of my shortwave logs as I've had of my 4W (AM), FM, analog/digital TV and NOAA Weather Radio logs. I did add a new country to my QSL list when I QSLed CVC Africa from Zambia on 4965 kHz in January 2011. The remaining milestones came this year on bands I kept track of: the 1,200th and 1,250th 4W (AM) stations were logged in 2011, along with the 1,100th FM station and the 100th NOAA Weather Radio station. I've also been making my fair share of contacts on the HF Amateur Radio bands this year; I've worked some 55 countries since purchasing an ICOM IC-745 HF transceiver in January 2010. In addition, I also added two new countries on the 6 meter VHF Amateur Radio band: the Turks and Caicos Islands and the Dominican Republic. In October, I marked another milestone: 30 years in the hobby. I look forward to many more years in the DX hobby. 73 and have a DXingly good 2012.

Bill Patalon <bpatalon@moneyappress.com>, Maryland

I came across this and just wanted to pass it along. I know many members are like me and have a big collection of radios, and are always adding more. Not sure if you like portables or not, but I have a couple of these, and they're actually kinda cool. The vertical form factor (Tecsun PL 360) is neat, and what I really like is that the AM antenna is carried externally as a plug in. I have actually used the Kaito portable loop with this (it can switch between MW and SW, and you can sometimes find these new – under an off brand called "kestrel," though it's the same device – on eBay for $20, shipped) with pretty nice results. I recently took one of these (and the loop) to Jamaica, and sat at the poolside with the loop hanging from my umbrella.

I also picked up HUGE plug-in ferrite bar antenna that one of the ultra-light DXer guys made ... it's a hot little am radio with that plugged in (like putting a 426 Hemi in a Toyota Corolla). Even without that, though, it's an interesting little radio.

This matches the lowest price I've seen for it. http://www.amazon.com/Tecsun-PL-360-Digital-Portable-Shortwave/dp/B004QJK052/ref=sr_1_7?ie=UTF8&qid=1322672130&sr=8-7

Again, just passing it along. I know many members are radio junkies like me, and are always interested in what's out there.

Since I'm too young to have participated in Little Orphan Annie's "Secret Circle". Sitting in front of the parlor Philco and decrypting Pierre's weekly Ovaltine messages with my decoder, I've a profound sense of deprivation. Doubtless many of my peers feel likewise.

Perhaps Arnie Coro, international friend of DXers, could start a similar feature for those of us who've missed out — "Little Orphan Annie's DGI Amigos". Members would receive colorful one-time "Arnie Pads", and each week the station would broadcast a 5-digit numbers transmission especially for us.

Join me in writing Arnie at Apartado Postal 6240, 10600 La Habana, Cuba.

As the major European international broadcasters continue to wind down their operations to nil, it appears Radio France International still has a relatively good presence on the short waves. Just got a friendly e-mail from Aidan O'Donnell (Irishman in France?) apologizing for the nine-month delay in responding to my reception report "because we've been very busy setting up our new morning broadcasts." They are running English language to Africa from 0400-0800 GMT on 19, 25, 31 and 41m, in addition to a pretty robust schedule of other languages to other parts of the world. He encouraged direct reports to their morning team: parislive@rfi.fr, and also gave the link for the winter frequencies: <http://www.english.rfi.fr/general/20100208-how-listen-rfi-english>. He closed by indicating they've received reports from North America, Australia, New Zealand, across Africa, Asia and Europe, ending, "So there are a lot of you out there!" Since they aren't afraid to admit they get reports from outside their usual target areas, it always indicates to me they actually want the reports.

I may be naïve to be encouraged by such a positive response. It felt like the glory days of shortwave. But Audience Relations Departments are notoriously separated from the management that cuts out frequencies and hours behind their backs. Just a few short years ago Deutsche Welle would send out wonderful materials on Germany, while the organization itself was scheming to pare down service. So a cheery reply from Audience Relations isn't necessarily the management speaking. One thing that strikes me about RFI is how happily un-French-like their international broadcasting has become. The French are notoriously protective of their language and culture. Some would even say snobbish. Back in the days of DeGaulle, it was "Ici Paris!" and nothing else from French international broadcasting. But when you tune in to the English services of RFI, there's a contemporary, cosmopolitan feel in their broadcast, as if they are making an effort to reach the non-Francophone world.

Their English schedule, some of which can be picked up in North America:

East Africa & Indian Ocean; 0400-0500 GMT: 7425, 9805, & 11995 kHz; 0500-0600 GMT: 11995 & 13470 kHz; 0600-0700 GMT: 15160 & 17850 kHz.

Central Africa: 0600-0700 GMT: 9765 & 11615 kHz; 0700-0800 GMT, 15615 kHz.

West Africa: 0600-0700 GMT: 9765, 11615 kHz; 0700-0800: 15615 kHz.

For Western Hemisphere, they are broadcasting out of Montsinéry, which includes shipping forecasts to North America on 22 m, plus shipping forecasts and Spanish to Central America and the Caribbean at 31 and 16m.

I did enjoy your profile of the 909X and hope you do a lot more. I miss Passport to World Band Radio and their pages of profiles. The WRTH is a faint shadow. I particularly like the profiles of the cheap pocket sets just to see how they perform. Many profiles of these say that they are perfect to introduce a kid to shortwave but I say no. The kid has no idea of international radio and with poor inaccurate read-out, except for those with a frequency counter, the kid would very quickly get discouraged and turn him or her against any further attempt. Any introductory radio should be quite sensitive and have a very accurate read out if nothing else.

I recently came across an unusual station on 7450 kHz. Fades in around 1700 UTC, quite loud by 1710 UTC, and goes to 2250 UTC, seven days a week. Sundays it seems on from 1815 UTC to 2250 UTC. All non-stop music, all types from European classics to U.S. musicals, to Latin American, to Black America. No jazz or rock so far. A woman makes the same announcements at 20 or so minute intervals although I did hear a man speak for about a minute on a half hour. Can't quite recognize the language tho. [Bob, it sounds like ERT3 Radio Makedonias, Greece.]

A new DX season brings new DXpeditions. Our first outing to French Creek was 11-13 December 2011. Cool but sunny and dry weather greeted us as we arrived. I arrived after Bob Montgomery by 15 minutes and began bringing in equipment. The surroundings experienced a lot of tree damage from the major snow storm the struck the region in late October. Many trees were down making our walk through the woods to erect out long wore antennas a bit of an adventure.

Dave Turnick arrived as Bob and I began tuning the bands. Shortly thereafter, Ed Mauger arrived followed by John Figliozi. Rich Cuff, who could only do Sunday, was the last to arrive, however, it was still light out making antenna work easy. John Figliozi brought along copies of his new The Worldwide Listening Guide which is available through Universal Radio. The new edition came in handy on several occasions to identify program names. This is a handy reference which not only addresses shortwave broadcasters still using the medium we love to listen to but other outlets for our favorite broadcasters that have left shortwave for other technology or reduced their shortwave presence because of other platforms. A neat guide worth adding to the bookshelf.

The higher frequencies showed a lot of promise with 13 MHz channels providing nice reception from radio Thailand and The Voice of Korea. Even Thailand's signal after the 0029 antenna change was heard at a fair level. However, the first day highlight for me was a tentative log of Radio Bayrak International with a pop music program and what sounded like Turkish announcements around 2302 UTC. The evening session closed with Radio Luz Y Vida appearing and Rich Cuff departing somehow managing to back his way down the long winding driveway in pitch black conditions.

I was the last of the early morning crowd to hit the dials. The tropical bands were strangely quiet but the international bands were alive with signals. Plenty of good stuff noted from the Asia and Pacific region. Radio Thailand seems quite regular these days with good signals frequently noted. Vietnam from Son Tay was heard during the morning as were a host of other stations and relays. The morning session closed for me with a log of Radio Oman in English on 15,140 kHz with pop music followed by the news at 1430 UTC.

Casual tuning dominated the slow afternoon sessions with DX'ers coming and going as well as a nap or two being the main event. Conditions to Asia and the Pacific remained good throughout. I was able to log RTE Ireland via Meyerton on 5,820 kHz prior to 2031*. This was much harder than the old 6,225 kHz channel they were using last year. However, late afternoon Indonesians were non-existent. Quite a disappointment. Napping in my chair, I woke in time to catch Dave Turnick packing up to leave around 2130 UTC. Shortly after leaving, Bahrain was heard with a decent signal. However, Dave's departure brought this once rousing group of six down to four for the evening DX'ing session and the evening banquet.

The banquet was a lengthy affair. Pasta, meatballs, two types of bread (garlic and regular) and a bottle of wine. After a leisurely banquet, we enjoyed a relaxing evening behind the dials. A handful of pirates were heard. Madagaskara on 5,010.1 was heard with a nice signal at 0215ish but quickly faded down to poor by 0240. The threesome was beginning to slow down as fatigue set in. One more morning to go!

I finally got up by 1000 UTC and found some Latin's floating around for a change. Nothing spectacular but it was good to hear Radio Yura, Radio Huanta 2000, Radio Tarma, Radio Libertad, etc. since these guys had been missing earlier in the trip. The morning highlight was a log of Voice of Mongolia. Their mailbag program had a letter from Alan Loudell so it was good to hear a familiar name on shortwave. As we were ready to close things down, John noted All India Radio on 5,010 and then 4,920 kHz. It was a good way to end the DXpedition.

Here is a rundown of verifications received this month. Radio Austria 1 International verified with a full data letter from Ö1 Service Listeners' Relations Department, a History of Radio Austria International and a schedule good through 24 March 2012 in response to a postal report. The letter stated "Your criticisms and comments are important to us. We look forward to receiving your mail. A couple of Euro pirates from the Netherlands round out the month. Black Arrow Radio verified an electronic report with a full data "QSL 86" electronic attachment from v/s Alex. Previously, he sent a note indicating he received 20 reception reports over the two days and he had been heard in Japan, California, East Coast USA, Spain, Finland and Russia. Alex sent pictures of some of his equipment as well as a "Japan Test Weekend" greeting to all listeners' attachment. Cupid Radio verified an electronic report with an e-mail reply from v/s Rinus indicating power was up to 350 watts carrier but he did see the meter peaking around 600 watts. He had many reports from around the globe including during his beam east 16 different people in Japan sent him a reception report plus one phone caller. Also, he received a report from the Russian border with North Korea, one from New Delhi, one from Uzbekistan, and one from New Zealand. He says "it was crazy working never got so many reports from the other side of the pond" mentioning "it took hours to send all a reply". I was glad he recalled our previous contact in 2007.

What will 2012 bring?

I often like to gaze into my totally fallible crystal ball as we approach January 1st to envision what international broadcasting and shortwave listening will be like in the new year. I expect the move away from shortwave and towards mobile device-optimized access will continue, and I also expect many broadcasters to find themselves confronting budgetary challenges throughout the year.

Europe's fiscal woes keep the pressure on
As countries across Europe deal with financial reform and deficit pressures, they'll be looking to cut expenditures across many programs traditionally held as sacred; I'm expecting State-funded international broadcasters to be particularly squeezed. The United Kingdom went through this process in 2010 and 2011; the restructuring of funding for the BBC World Service, with the resulting job losses and transmission cuts, will likely be a harbinger across the continent.

Europe has always been particularly well-represented in the signals that reach eastern North America, and further reductions by broadcasters based in Europe will certainly reduce their presence on our shortwave radios. Even Internet and satellite platforms will be under threat given these budget pressures, as we've already seen Deutsche Welle scale back its programming and Internet offerings, with Radio Netherlands likely to do so this year as well.

Shortwave usage – to developed regions – will continue to erode

It's no secret that shortwave transmitters and transmissions are the most difficult for broadcasters to defend when their budget minders and policy chiefs are putting pressure on them. Transmitters – particularly those at relay sites that serve Africa and North America – frequently are powered by diesel generators, and getting diesel fuel to these remote locations isn't cheap. Also, the audience for shortwave broadcasts is difficult to assess, as broadcasters must find some way to survey audiences. Without quantitative data in hand, programmers find it difficult to characterize their audiences and determine if they're reaching the people they want to reach.

By comparison, Internet use leaves a very digestible trail in its wake. A broadcaster can see where its listeners are based, when they're connecting, and how long they're listening...only those listeners who must use some type of proxy connection (i.e. listeners in Iran, China, and the like) do not leave a trail that's easy to follow. One reads of "Big Data" in IT journals, as enterprises try to figure out how to use all the transaction logs and system logs created by their web presence and by our use of electronic communications and transactions; broadcasters, too, now have a lot of data to work with, versus a paucity.

Since all this data can be measured and tracked, it's a lot easier for broadcasters to show their managers how well they're doing...or how poorly.

Increased Internet portability drives an emphasis to mobile devices

When Internet radio first started being used in the mid- to late-1990s, a big stumbling block was portability: You had to be sitting at a computer, which was then connected to the Internet via a phone line, in order to use this newfangled concept.

Nowadays, with WiFi access and 3G / 4G smartphones pervasive in urban and suburban areas, an untethered handheld device makes it easy to connect with ar audio source (which might even be a radio station!) and listen away. Broadcasters are continuing to develop and enhance their own smartphone programs (“apps”), and there also is a range of third parties that aggregate audio providers. By comparison to video usage, radio usage won’t rapidly deplete one’s allotment of data: a 2 GB monthly data plan would allow you to listen to a 64 kbps station more than two hours per day, every day, over a month’s time, let alone those times when that smartphone is connected to the broadcaster via a WiFi network.

Also keep in mind that countries in developing areas will leapfrog other communications technologies – while the peoples of Upper Freedonia might not have access to decent telephone “land lines”, you can bet their cellular networks will be top notch, since it’s cheaper to establish cellular infrastructure than wired infrastructure if you’re starting with a green field.

You can expect broadcasters to continue to find ways to get their content on mobile devices, even if it’s print and not audio...I read an interesting New York Times article that shows how CNBC and the Wall Street Journal – two media efforts traditionally using two divergent platforms – now compete. This means you won’t be “listening” to radio, you’ll be “reading” it.

It just doesn’t “feel” like radio

This phenomenon is likely the toughest hurdle we shortwave enthusiasts have to confront. It’s a lot different to sit in front of a box with knobs, dials, and frequencies than it is to push a virtual button on a smartphone. I’ll admit – even as someone who has largely embraced this shift in technology – that there’s no substitute to sitting down with my ‘2010 or my ‘E-1 and seeing what’s on.

Conversely, as I look at my own children and how they interact with the world around them, they wouldn’t dream of sitting down in a stationary place with a radio...they wouldn’t have the patience to consult a program and frequency schedule and arrange their day around what’s on and when. They expect to listen to what they want, where they want, and when they want. It’s a different way of interacting with the world around them, and broadcasters – who want to keep attracting new audiences as their listeners and viewers age – have had to adapt as well.

There’s still an awful lot of good “stuff” out there

Despite these morose observations, there is a lot to listen to out there, especially when you consider the five international domestic English-language public service broadcasters that now make their programming available over the internet: ABC’s Radio National, New Zealand National Radio, BBC Radio 4, Ireland’s RTE Radio 1, and Canada’s CBC Radio One. While some of this programming is provided in the international services of these broadcasters, much is not.

Further, while you might not want to think of US public radio in the same class as traditional “shortwave radio”, it’s worth reflecting on how much the US public radio scene has matured since 1970; there is a lot of interesting analysis and documentary programming available from domestic sources that can be as compelling as what you’ll find from these international sources.

Voice Of Russia keeps on trucking

While each month seems to bring new news of an international broadcaster decreasing shortwave usage or scaling back services due to funding cuts or an emphasis on TV, the Voice of Russia – as noted a few months back – has been revamping its programming, adopting a more youthful sound, and increasing access to its services. Taking a page from China Radio International, the Voice of Russia now has 24/7 English language programming on mediumwave stations in the NYC and Washington areas.

It will be interesting to see how the Voice of Russia handles the dissent that has followed the recent Russian parliamentary elections; initially these protests were not mentioned on newscasts; we'll see if their persistence is ultimately recognized by the Voice of Russia.

Rushing For Success

One of the new programs is Rushing For Success, a program about expats now living in Russia and the ways in which they have adapted to Russia's challenges to thrive in their new adopted home. In some ways this series parallels the long-established CRI series Voices From Other Lands.

A recent edition of Rushing For Success featured an interview with Steven Brown, an American who came to Russia in 2000 with the Peace Corps after obtaining his MBA. My initial expectation was that the program would be more of a cultural perspectives program, like, say, Living In Germany, but the program focused more on Brown's business perspectives and growth opportunities. Nonetheless, it was an interesting perspective on doing business in Russia.

Unfortunately, it appears Rushing For Success doesn't air on shortwave during the time block (2200-0600) when the Voice of Russia airs on shortwave to North America. If you're lucky enough to listen in Washington or New York, or via the live webcast, you can catch Rushing For Success after the news at 1300 on Saturdays and Sundays, and at 2100 on Sundays and Mondays. You can also download the audio or stream it from the Voice of Russia website, <http://www.english.ruvr.ru>; click on <Radio> and then look for the program on the left side of the page. The program doesn't show up on the list of podcasts (see <Podcasting> along the top menu bar of the website).

CBC Radio One's Ideas worth a listen

In the past I've cautioned that Ideas, a nightly documentary program from CBC Radio One, was generally not archived for on-demand listening, though one episode each week has been offered as a podcast. This has changed in recent months, as most episodes are posted for on-demand listening within a day or two of the original airing of each program.

What I tend to do is to regularly visit the Ideas website and look for interesting programs to fill in my listening schedule. Some recent subjects covered in recent Ideas programs:

- A story on mythical Cree beings called Wihtigo
- Whether or not complexity in life is good, or bad – from the Calgary Institute for Humanities Community Forum
- The decline of trustworthiness of newspapers

Ideas remains a staple of Radio One programming weeknights at 9 PM across Canada's time zones. The archive of on-demand programming is complete, with some exceptions, back to October 2010; roughly 1/3 to 1/2 of programs from January 2009 through September 2010 are also available.

You can directly reach the Ideas website at <http://www.cbc.ca/ideas>.

BBC World Service: Outlook remains a staple

Back when the BBC World Service was in the midst of shifting to a heavier focus on news, there was some talk that the weekday personality interview program, Outlook, would be cut from the schedule. However this did not happen – rather, Outlook continues strong, as a platform for interviews of interesting people. The program sometimes will take the road – a series in December originated in Delhi India. Some other interesting recent programs include these examples:

New ABC Radio National schedule

- Interview with an astronaut who spent 18 months in a space capsule in Russia as part of a simulated mission to Mars – how would a person fare when confined in this way?
- An interview with a former Libyan prisoner who witnessed a massacre, and a real “Slumdog Millionaire” from India
- A Pakistani barber who reunites missing children with their parents

Starting in late January after the summer holidays, ABC's Radio National will be revamping its schedule. Particularly interesting (to me anyway) is the return of The Philosopher's Zone to the schedule, again hosted by Alan Saunders, and Nightly Planet with Lucky Oceans; I know many folks used to enjoy The Planet in USA mornings over shortwave in times past. Other changes of interest:

Drive is a new weeknight news analysis program airing after the 6 PM (local AEDT) news, which corresponds to 0700 UTC.

Late Night Live is reduced to four nights per week at 10 PM local time; on Friday a news interview program, Friday Late, includes long-form interviews by Mark Colvin, nowadays regarded as one of the ABC's best interviewers (and the host of the weeknightly PM news program).

For more details on the new ABC Radio National schedule, check out <http://www.abc.net.au/radionational/> and look for the graphic along the right side of the web page.

That's all I have time for this month...here's to good listening wherever you find it!

73 DE Richard

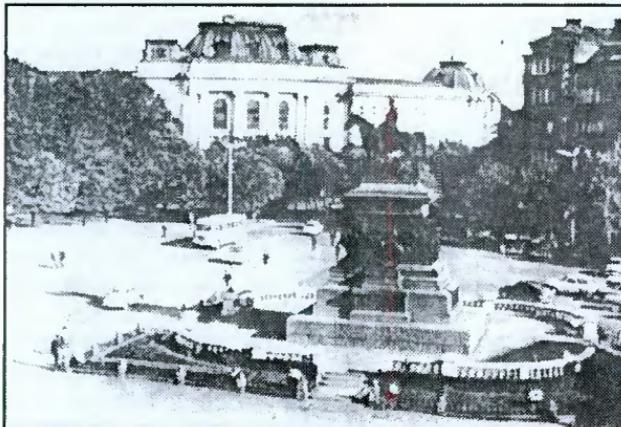

In some ways, this program somewhat resembles the CBC program As It Happens in that interviews emphasize the unusual and not necessarily the newsworthy, that isn't necessarily a bad thing.

Online archives can be played on-demand dating from June 2009, though in some instances you'll have to listen to a program to ascertain its subject matter – the subject matter isn't listed in the program archive.

When you think about that, it's quite an archive – representing 621 individual programs, or roughly 279 hours of programming available for consumption!

The best way to find the program is to navigate to the main BBC World Service website, <http://www.bbc.co.uk/worldservice>, and enter “outlook” in the search box in the upper right corner of the page.

A week listening to... the BBC World Service

From The Guardian, 2 November 2011

It may seem to embody stiff-upper-lip broadcasting but the station is full of treasures you won't find elsewhere on the BBC.

My previous exposure to the BBC World Service has been limited to that moment during Radio 5 Live's Saturday afternoon football commentary when Alan Green or John Murray announces: "And I'd like to welcome listeners from the World Service". It always makes me imagine some soccer-loving Laplanders, or footy obsessed desert dwellers glued to their transistor radios listening to the same match as me. That somehow the world is briefly united by a 3-1 scoreline from the Etihad stadium.

This weekend, however, I was listening to BBC World Service when it linked up with 5 Live. It wasn't as exciting as I'd hoped – even though the moment of union did coincide with a goal – but then I suppose listening to the World Service from north London loses some of the frisson you might get in more far-flung destinations.

In fact, if you're not listening to the World Service outside of the UK is there any point in tuning into it at all? Pretty soon the BBC may be trying to persuade us that there is. Currently it exists thanks to grant aid from the Foreign Office, but in 2014 that is set to change, leaving the World Service funded entirely by the licence fee. So what does it offer home-based listeners? I spent a week tuning in to find out.

The World Service is about as old-fashioned as you'd expect a radio station with a title including the word "service" to be. In brief, it makes Radio 4 sound as gaudy and brash as TalkSport. But there are plenty of bonuses to this old-fashioned, decaffeinated approach — the biggest being the news which is treated with the reverence that elsewhere it is so often denied.

Despite sounding slightly as though it is being read by a 1930s butler, World Service news manages to light upon international events that I suspect go ignored elsewhere. Saturday afternoon's World Briefing, for example, included items on riots at a Metallica concert in India, the Kyrgyzstan elections and why Russia is not putting the clocks back this winter. (Among other reasons, Dmitry Medvedev was concerned about the nation's cows.)

Despite its global agenda the World Service often feels like a local radio station – albeit a rather exotic one, with its pseudo-dramatic roll call of international cities "Melbourn ... Shanghai ... New York" which sound uncannily like the Alan Partridge jingle that boasted that his audience reached "Wivenhoe ... Flitwick ... Tiptree... Opinions on the discussion programme World Have Your Say on Monday, which asked if the UK should cut aid to anti-ga-nations, also sounded sadly familiar – the only difference being the homophobia was being broadcast from Lagos instead of Essex.

While the menu of world affairs is expansive, the World Service is predominantly a station that broadcasts around the planet through the lens of British culture. Many non-news and sport programmes would sit comfortably in the Radio 4 schedule. Some, such as the woefully titled Stephanomics, already do, while others strangely don't.

Among them last week's The Documentary – The British Establishment: Who For? was a fantastic listen. US journalist Michael Goldfarb left no doubt that the ruling elite is far from a myth – 68% of the coalition cabinet went to Oxford or Cambridge universities compared with 16% in Tony Blair's first term – it was a surprise to learn what a relatively recent notion "the establishment" is. It wasn't until the 1950s that people began to see the matrix of well-connected people who dominated power.

There's lots of philosophical debate and esoteric pondering on the World Service. Last week's Heart and Soul attempted to define the word evil; The Forum contemplated death and how best to prepare for it and Discovery: Tribes of Science asked a group of volcanologists how they cope with the "terrible beauty" of their chosen profession, introducing us to a professor who "once studied the mathematics of droplets in agricultural sprays before being seduced by molten ash clouds".

I doubt you'd find much space for volcanology or agricultural sprays anywhere else but the World Service, which is part of its charm. Also brilliant – and superbly condensed into 10 minutes – is Witness, which recalls historical events as told by the people who were there and spans incidents as diverse as the Mau Mau uprising and the publication of The Joy of Sex. Again. Where else would the BBC put this stuff?

The World Service is an interesting, and sometimes strange, listen. I loved it and will definitely return. But what do you think? Have you ever tuned in at home or abroad – and are you happy that the licence fee will soon fund it?

A Selection of Comments

tscrimshaw 2 November 2011 3:18PM WS is indeed a treasure trove of stuff you won't find anywhere else. It does try to be a bit trendy - the strapline for World Have Your Say is "join the global conversation". Tuning in, it depends where you are. Budget cuts meant that the UK 648AM service got axed, so you are indeed left with DAB or the internet. I have bluetooth on the car radio, so I use my cellphone to pick up the stream and BT it across to the radio. A lot simpler than it sounds. If you're abroad, 1323AM is good around Cyprus and the Middle East. In the Far East, there are apparently a lot of FM relays. Otherwise, try shortwave - although that may not be around for too much longer. Not entirely sure whether I like the funding being moved away from the FO directly to the BBC. On the face of it, it sounds ok, but it depends whether the BBC has enough money to maintain the service properly.

Ruinart 2 November 2011 3:18PM I agree these are good listens, but it's getting harder to find the really wonderful stuff these days (God bless i-player). There is a greater emphasis (and some might say preponderance) on news - and recurring news themes. I'm not saying get back to the Bob Holness/DLT days that Aung Sang Suu Kyi remembered with such fondness and ignore global warming and genocide in Africa, but we have lost a few of the slightly more off-the-wall programmes I remember with fondness, and a slightly lighter touch throughout. Nostalgically again, I wish they'd just call it the World Service and not keep repeating 'BBC' as though there's an hourly quota that has to be met. Okay, that's enough sniffy comment. It's still very good, and insomniacs everywhere give thanks to it and the utterly civilised Through The Night on Radio 3.

kukuna 2 November 2011 3:24PM I love the World Service and listen to it practically every day - and often when I am having a sleepless night. There is real depth to many of the programmes, and many cover subjects you will not find elsewhere. My interests are very broad and there is always something interesting and relevant to listen to. So far as I am concerned it is a National Treasure. The international perspective is also a great bonus. Sadly, the old banger which I drive only does AM and FM so my listening times have to be in front of my home DAB radios. Keep up the good work, World Service. I am very happy to have you included in my License Fee.

cheminchia 2 November 2011 3:27PM ... and when I'm often listening as someone with an "irregular sleeping pattern". The WS is an underappreciated and very important part of what the BBC does in my opinion. As the author mentions, there are loads of interesting shows presented with what I'd describe as a "warm impartiality" which is sadly lacking in other media. Their coverage of arts and culture is really broad too. Hearing listeners' letters read out sent in from places ranging from Lima to Delhi really does give the impression that the station's still doing something useful globally and the government's decision just further erodes Britain's cultural landscape. Bloody shame Geologybob 2 November 2011 3:29PM In recent years, the WS of China has spread across the globe's airwaves to a point where it can be heard on almost every band. What is it about a true World Service that they know, that we, with BBCWS retreating from the airwaves, dont know?

ranelagh75 2 November 2011 3:36PM The World Service is simply excellent - the programmes are always interesting, and they try very hard to be inclusive, interesting and informative. I almost never listen to a programme and wish I hadn't bothered - rather, it's almost always the opposite. I'm only gutted that the 648 long-wave service got scrapped earlier this year; now I either have to buy a new radio or listen through the laptop. In any event, the World Service is a fantastic gem and deserves far more attention than it currently gets.

gingerjon 2 November 2011 3:45PM Your point about the news they cover is one of the reasons I prefer it to Radio 4's news which is often the same (albeit better covered) as you can easily find elsewhere.

KevinDaviesEyes 2 November 2011 4:12PM The key thing with the World Service is the news service - and in highlighting the superb range of material on the air (from World Briefing to things like Newshour) you're absolutely on the money. However, this is probably the area most under threat from its partial amalgamation with the wider BBC. At the heart of the news service is the newsroom, which has been crafting the stories 24 hours a day since the dinosaurs roamed the earth. This set the tone for the news programmes and the various language sections, and was responsible more than anything else for the exceptional standards of the WS. However, as the language services get axed or spun off to form TV-based monsters (Arabic, Persian etc...), that newsroom is now far less visible. The programmes are also becoming more independent (finding out what taxi drivers in Monrovia think of the crisis), and they can of course be spun off themselves into the type of self-standing entities familiar to us from R4 (Today, WATO etc...). What, then, is the future of the newsroom, beyond a massively reduced R4-type function? Believe me, if the newsroom is nobbled the service will become a shadow of its former self, and little more than R4 with a tan, dodgy foreign accent and the legal right to smoke in restaurants. With it will die a little bit of what made this country rather more than the sum of its parts. Sad.

teebol 2 November 2011 5:16PM Still mourning the loss of 648 AM here on the Continent. I had listened to it for over 20 years!

toba 2 November 2011 5:24PM It's a fantastic asset and long may it go on..... reminds me of late nights when living in Taiwan trying to get a decent signal on my manual short wave radio by hanging it out the window etc. to hear James Alexander Gordon reading the footie scores. Invariably it would be 'Chelsea 1, Liverpool fuzz and I'd miss it, but luckily his inflection usually gave the winner away. That maybe sounds like about 1960, but was actually only 1997!

Lockhurst 2 November 2011 5:31PM I absolutely love the World Service. Got used to listening to it when I worked abroad, now hear it in the early morning before Radio4 starts as I get up very early to go to work. The coverage of the major important world issues is absolutely fantastic. Shows up the petty domestic political squabbles that are the main fodder of 'serious' channels such as radio 4 for what they are - self-indulgent trivia. I would rate the work of the World Service far higher than that of the the FCO - FCO talks to supposed world leaders, BBC World Service talks (and listens) to the people of the world. One of our very greatest exports, next to Scotch whisky.

Spinkat 2 November 2011 5:49PM I would never forget listening to the World Service on crackly short wave in South Africa in the 1980s. It was amazing to hear what was happening in my own country. Some things were just never mentioned on South African radio or tv. I guess people in Somalia and Iran still have those experiences and for that alone the service should continue. For a long time I had access only to the World Service, but fairly recently I discovered BBC 4 through my satellite television. The output is often the same, with many documentaries being repeated after about two weeks. Some programmes, like Start of the week, has a World Service equivalent. Forum would be more internationally orientated. I guess the real importance of the World Service lies in its foreign language output and its output to places in Africa where the local radio services are not as good. Last week's Analysis had a good discussion of the role of the World Service as a part of Britain's cultural soft power. It did however make the point that with cuts looming it is not sure how long the British public would be prepared to pay for the service. Eastenders or World Service? If people will be given a democratic vote, I'm sure the soap will win. So in the long term I am not sure if the World Service can survive. I for one would be prepared to pay for the privilege of listening to it and I am sure many other people around the world would feel that way. But that apparently is not possible.

Quietly 3 November 2011 9:22AM Bring back the "Merchant Navy Programme" ! A regular listen for me when the only way you could hear the WS in the UK was via shortwave.

RogerD 6 November 2011 4:25AM Being a Yank, my perspective is a little different. I started listening to Short Wave as a teen growing up in Wisconsin in the 60s. At that time, the WS was still called "The General Overseas Service", and presented a somewhat more diverse schedule than today's. Those were the days when they warmed up the transmitters and relays by repeatedly playing the notes "BBC" with sympathetic harmonisation on the harpsichord. Programme breaks that took place on the quarter hour were marked by the airing of Big Ben live from Westminster. I believe that is still done at midnight, GMT on New Year's, with all twelve "bongs." The on-air sound back then was even more formal and stentorian than described today. In addition to "World News" "News about Britain", and "From the Editorials", the WS gave us outsiders a sampling of domestic British radio, with dramas, comedies, quiz shows, and even musical excerpts from the Proms and "Desert Island Disks", as well as jazz and pop shows. I have only visited the UK once. One of my stops was Bush House, but alas, it wasn't really open to the public for security reasons. I did, however, purchase a number of souvenirs from the BBC Store. Thanks to the Internet streaming, I now listen to more British radio than ever: the WS, sans short wave fading and noise, along with domestic services like Radios 3, 4, and 5. I've also sampled commercial outlets like Classic FM, Jazz FM, and LBC 1152 News. Domestic radio here in the states has its good points, mostly in the better "NPR" stations, but even so, I find myself listening more frequently to the web streams of stations from outside my local area, especially Chicago, New York, and Minneapolis-St. Paul. Incidentally, many NPR stations use the WS overnights or even placing "World Briefing" and "The World Today" within their daytime schedules. Before becoming too verbal, I would note that as a U.S. citizen, contribute financially to the WS by way of tax support of domestic public radio stations that pay user fees for use of the WS, and, like many thousands of listeners, I voluntarily contribute to those stations' "pledge drives." The WS is one of the UK's greatest exports, and it truly is the town hall of the world.

jonathanmarks 7 November 2011 3:45PM Make a little video tribute to the transmitter site at Orfordness <http://vimeo.com/20996209> which carried BBC WS on 648 kHz. I now listen to World Service via the web, usually on an iPad. The cuts have not damaged the quality of reporting, which remains excellent. But they have damaged the range of programming (some great features have gone) for which WS was famous. I note that some of the podcasts (like Click!Radio) are better than the radio broadcast because they are longer - and the presenters sound much more human when they are off the radio. Strange because the way I listen now, it's all coming out of the same device. I don't think the author of the article has listened to the sports coverage or Saturday afternoons on WS. For me, it's much more comprehensive than Radio 5 live. And the presentation? The author implies that it's a sort of Radio 3 for Africa. That's unfair. It stands up to anything on Radio 4. It would be great if they broadcast a few comedy programmes like the News Quiz from Radio 4. But the last time I heard laughter on BBC World Service was years ago when they carried Just a Minute. After 9/11, World Service became much more World Serious

U.S. international broadcasting may soon look very different, at least to anyone familiar with its structure and distribution methods.

By Paul McLane

November 2, 2011

Either planned, requested or being considered by the Broadcasting Board of Governors are some big changes indeed that are spelled out in a new report from BBG.

Those changes include a further "sharp drawdown" of U.S. shortwave capacity outside of a half-dozen key target countries; proposed repeal of the 1948 ban on "domestic dissemination" of content to listeners and viewers in the United States; a merger of Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Radio Free Asia and Middle East Broadcasting Networks into one corporate structure; de-federalizing some of the agency's work; ending language services in countries that have more developed, independent media; and moving substantial news and production assets from Washington, nearer target nations. Smaller changes include steps like putting up FM antennas at U.S. embassies to further BBG's reach.

A merger of the staff of the BBG and the International Broadcasting Bureau is already in progress.

The BBG says it "will not accept that our audiences and our impact will shrink." It stated new goals: to become "the world's leading international news agency by 2016, focused on the agency's mission and impact," and to grow weekly audience by 50 million people, to 216 million.

To accomplish that, BBG laid out the plan to restructure itself and U.S. international broadcasting. It released a "framework" of a strategy to enhance the impact of its services (Voice of America, Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, Alhurra TV and Radio Sawa, Radio Free Asia, and Radio and TV Marti). Chairman Walter Isaacson said in this report "frames the future direction of U.S. international broadcasting." It outlines steps to overcome its structural limitations, ongoing censorship and the "profound, ongoing changes in audience media consumption habits."

The board wants to integrate elements of U.S. international broadcasting into a single organization while preserving those familiar brands. The BBG, it said, is a "complex amalgam of broadcast entities created by Congress at different points in time over the last 70 years in response to specific foreign policy challenges," with a structure that is inefficient and complicates the job of managing resources and involving users. "We must break down a stove-piped bureaucracy of separate, semi-autonomous entities, and shape a robust, integrated, international media network with multiple brands targeted to markets where they still strongly resonate."

On the topic of how content is distributed, BBG promises "wholesale changes." "We are currently configured largely as we were in the 1980s, with substantial resources devoted to shortwave broadcasting. Global media use now strongly favors TV, the Internet and FM radio as well as social media. Shortwave is vital in a half-dozen countries. But elsewhere we will sharply draw down our shortwave capacity to reallocate the resources to the new platforms our audiences are using." The role of shortwave has been a contentious one, with some politicians and veterans of the organization arguing that shortwave should not be scaled back further than it has been.

The board also will seek to repeal the ban on domestic dissemination in the 1948 Smith-Mundt Act. "Adopted in the age of cross-border communication via radio, this act did not envision either the Internet or satellite broadcasting, which do not honor national boundaries," the report states. "With all of the BBG's 59 languages available via the Web, the agency cannot comply with this outdated statute." Also, the law obstructs BBG from reaching significant expatriate communities in the United States. The Obama administration supports legislation to repeal the Smith-Mundt ban as it applies to the BBG.

Also among its plans: to create a global news network out of its 59 different language services; develop automated translation to help users; expand delivery technologies such as satellite video for China, Central Asia and Southeast Asia; explore new ways to counter Internet blocking and other forms of censorship; launch a prototype TV channel in Latin America that features "crowd-sourced" content for young people; and place FM antennas at U.S. embassies in Africa as a low-cost additional radio outlet.

Some changes will require congressional approval; a BBG spokeswoman said the organization would be working with Congress and the administration to implement the plan. Some steps are underway including integrating the IBB and BBG staffs and building a shared website content management system.

And the name Broadcasting Board of Governors itself will be eliminated. "The new identity will be corporate in nature. Our current brands will remain the public faces for our audiences, who have come to know and trust them." However, it emphasized, none of the proposed restructuring or new identity changes its mission, which is now stated as "To inform, engage and connect people around the world in support of freedom and democracy."

euronews to launch radio station

Maybe They'll Consider SW in the Future?

pan-European TV news channel euronews will soon also be available as a radio service.

We want to introduce euronews radio to the market by early 2012 at the latest," general director Michael Peters told German industry magazine Digitalmagazin. The Lyon-based broadcaster initially plans web-radios, transmitting on the internet in five to six languages. "We have formed a joint venture with a large radio group, which will adjust our content for radio broadcasting," said Peters. Further details are not known yet.

Václav Havel was a supporter of RFE/RL and VOA

Kim's comments are in italics.

Recalling Václav Havel's support for US international broadcasting. Broadcasting Board of Governors press release, 19 Dec 2011: Václav Havel, who died December 18, "was a frequent contributor to and ardent supporter of U.S. international broadcasting. 'Like the citizens of Azerbaijan, China, Cuba, Russia and Saudi Arabia,' he commented in the New York Times in May 2009, 'I know what it is like to live in a country where the state controls public discourse, suppresses opposition and severely curtails freedom of expression.' As President of the Czech Republic in 1994, Havel was instrumental in offering to house Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty (RFE/RL) broadcast operations in the former Czechoslovak Federal Parliament building in Prague for the symbolic rent of one Czech crown a day. In the wake of a decision by the U.S. government to cut RFE/RL's budget by two thirds, Havel's offer helped make possible the organization's survival in the post-Cold War era. 'It was with great satisfaction that we could welcome RFE in Prague after the fall of the Iron Curtain and thus start to repay our debt for its credible work,' said Havel in a statement in May 2011 on the 60th anniversary of RFE's Czech and Slovak language broadcasts. 'I hope that RFE continues to pursue its mission in today's postmodern and politically unstable world: defense of human rights, civic rights and human dignity.' Havel championed the freedom of the press and its important role in a democracy. On a visit to the Voice of America in February 1990, Havel, left with then VOA Director Richard Carlson, observed 'You (VOA) have informed us truthfully of events around the world and in our country as well, and in this way you helped to bring about the peaceful revolution which had at long last taken place.'"

North and South Koreans should "be able to freely listen to whichever broadcasts they choose." Daily NK, 17 Dec 2011, Mok Yong Jae: "Calls have again been made for civilian short-wave broadcasters focusing on North Korea issues to be allocated frequency in South Korea for the purpose of enhancing efforts to improve North Korean human rights. A senior researcher with the Hansun Foundation for Freedom and Happiness, Lee Young Hwan [said] 'Those currently broadcasting on North Korean issues in this country have never been assigned a frequency, and as such they rent frequency abroad,' before emphasising, 'We need to make it so that these civilian broadcasters on North Korea actually have a frequency to use.' He also spoke of the need to 'Overcome difficulty and be patient in pursuing liberation of broadcasting in both countries, and finding a route for the peoples of North and South Korea alike to be able to freely listen to whichever broadcasts they choose.'" There are several stations, operated by defectors and other opponents of the Kim dynasty, broadcasting into North Korea. These include Free Radio North Korea, Radio Free Chosun, and Open Radio for North Korea. (Some of these stations receive funds from the National Endowment for Democracy.) They all use leased shortwave transmitters located in countries other than South Korea. Mr. Lee is probably calling for the allocation of one or more medium wave frequencies from inside South Korea to reach North Korea. FM frequencies could also be assigned, but they would only be able to reach 100 km or so into North Korea.

We are likened to crazy uncles. Esquire, The Politics Blog, 15 Dec 2011, Charles P. Pierce: "[T]hey're going to have to treat Ron Paul as something more than just the crazy uncle who listens to the short-wave, collects Jack Chick tracts, and has four tons of tinned beef stashed away in the root cellar. Paul is more than competitive in Iowa."

You are invited to “play around” with the renovated Radio Australia website. “We’ve been busy renovating our website over the past six months to be more relevant and immediate in our coverage of breaking news, major stories, activities and events as they occur around Asia, the Pacific and Australia. Thus far we’ve implemented new, improved services for sharing, participating and collaborating, as well as a new look, style and feel. Please explore and play around with what we’ve developed over the past few months. In early 2012 we’ll be launching our new interactive multilingual website. Accessing our stories and radio streams will be easier than ever, and you’ll be able to tailor your Radio Australia experience. You’ll also be able to share our stories with your friends using your favourite social media tools as well as share your stories with us through our new online communities.” URL is radioaustralia.net.au .

BBC World Service staff preparing for “farewell to Bush House” party. London Evening Standard, 14 Dec 2011, Gideon Spanier: “Such is the parsimony of the BBC that, despite the huge salaries of its top brass, it’s likely past and present members of staff at the World Service will be expected to contribute to funding its ‘farewell to Bush House’ party. The World Service is quitting the Aldwych site for other BBC sites next year. Staff are expected to contribute on a sliding scale, with top executives paying £20 a head, the middle ranks £10 and junior members £5.” I would gladly pay £20 to attend that party, even though I’m more of a £5 functionary on this side of the Atlantic. I have good memories of past visits to Bush House and, of course, of listening to World Service during its shortwave heyday in the 70s and 80s. See also photos of Bush House at www.flickr.com/photos/47903765@N00/sets/72157626188396223/

VOA obituary: Ferdinand Ferella. Inside VOA, 14 Dec 2011: “VOA French to Africa reporter Ferdinand Ferella, one of the most respected and well-known journalists in Central Africa, passed away December 13 following a battle with lung cancer. He was

59. Born in Rouen, France in 1952, Ferdinand worked at Radio Canada International before joining VOA in the late 1980s. As a reporter for VOA he traveled frequently to the Democratic Republic of Congo, where his dedication to balance and accuracy built credibility and a loyal audience. Friends called his influence in the Democratic Republic of Congo ‘astounding.’ Many journalists held him in such high regard they named their children after him. One of his listeners once wrote he should be nominated for a Nobel Peace Prize for his reporting.”

VOA obituary: Pat Gates Lynch. BBG Watch, 8 Dec 2011: “Celebrated Voice of America Breakfast Show host Pat Gates Lynch died after a struggle with cancer Sunday at her home in Fort Belvoir [Virginia]. From the mid-50s until 1969, Pat served for about 15 years as host and interviewer on the VOA Worldwide English Breakfast Show, which drew significant audiences around the world that even surpassed at times those of jazz impresario host Willis Conover. She interviewed presidents, prime ministers and many famous figures in the arts and music during those years. After VOA, Pat served as First Lady Pat Nixon’s press aide for radio and television from 1969 until 1974, and later was U.S. ambassador to Madagascar in the 1980s. After returning home from her post in Africa, she became Director of Corporate Affairs at RFE/RL headquarters in Washington, retiring from that job in the late 1990s. Pat Gates Lynch wrote a book on her experiences, ‘Thanks for Listening: High Adventures in Journalism and Diplomacy,’ Countinghouse Press, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, 2008.” — Her name was just “Pat Gates” on the air. Her co-host was Phil Irwin. See also patgateslynch.com.

Shortwave helps spread news in Afghanistan’s Zabul province. Defense Video & Imagery Distribution System, 15 Dec 2011, Sgt. Francis O’Brien: “Soldiers of the Virginia Army National Guard’s 116th Infantry Brigade Combat Team are deploying technology in a revolutionary way in Afghanistan using a short wave radio transmitter that can reach almost every radio in Zabul province. This is the first time a province-wide transmitter has been used in Afghanistan. The transmitter allows the Zabul provincial and district government to send messages to rural Afghan homes. ... Radio and word of mouth are the primary means of spreading news and information in rural Afghanistan. Listening to the radio – thousands of which were distributed by NATO-ISAF – is a cultural norm for Afghans, many of whom follow both the BBC and Voice of America. ... "The government was looking for ways to communicate with people on a greater scale, but there were gaps in the coverage. Short wave radio is the solution we came up with." ... The transmitter owes its success to a technique called NVIS – Near Vertical Incidence Skywave – which involves bouncing radio signals off the ionosphere – a layer of the atmosphere. Two NVIS antennas are placed horizontal to the ground unlike a traditional vertical transmitter. The second part of the NVIS antenna is called a ground wire and helps to boost the signal by forcing it to go straight up instead of outward and limited by the curve of the earth. ... "Using NVIS and our reflector wire, the signal goes up at a very steep angle and straight back down which can penetrate deeper into mountain valleys. When we were looking at this system, it was a no brainer," he added. ... "It has resulted in a savings of around 3,100%," said Fix. "It would take 30-32 FM systems to cover the same area." "Well, OK, as long as enough Afghan households have radios with shortwave bands to make this worthwhile."

Iran's Spanish-language HispanTV launches.

Tehran Times, 17 Dec 2011: "The Iranian-run Spanish language TV channel Hispan TV will be officially launched on Wednesday to provide a variety of programs for the Spanish-speaking countries around the world. The TV channel has been launched with the aim of reinforcing cultural ties with the Spanish-speaking nations and helping to introduce traditions, customs and beliefs of the Iranian nation, the Persian service of Fars News Agency reported on Saturday. Hispan TV has employed a group of reporters out of Iran to better cover the news and is working 16 hours a day and will soon extend its working hours to 24 hours. ... All the reports, news and interviews collected by international reporters are available on the website of the channel, www.hispantv.com and www.hispantv.ir. ... A selection of top Iranian movies, historical TV series, documentaries, comedies and dramas are among the programs arranged for the channel." HispanTV becomes the third non-Farsi Iranian international television channel, following the English-language Press TV and the Arabic Al Alam.

Remembering Pepe del Río, host of VOA's

Buenos Días América. Washington Post, 15 Dec 2011, George Gonzalez: "For many Spanish-speaking people throughout the world, Pepe del Río was a trusted voice for news. Known across Latin America for his reports and smooth delivery, del Río spent 25 years as a broadcaster and host of 'Buenos Días América,' the morning radio show for the Spanish branch of the Voice of America. Although he was mostly unknown to English audiences within the United States, del Río did much to shape international coverage of the major political and social events of the second half of the 20th century. Del Río, who died Feb. 13 at age 84 from a blood disorder, was born in Tampico, Mexico, where he ran errands at a nearby radio station before emigrating to Texas as a teenager. In 1961, he was recruited by Voice of America producers away from a Spanish-language radio station in San Antonio."

BHUTAN 5030.03v, BBS, 1244-1500:44*, December 15. Decent reception; an excellent frequency choice as it has been vacant since Sarawak closed down in the middle of this year. Mostly in what sounded like French although I thought I heard a different dialect too? Slowly drifted down to 5030.0. Very nice! Their external service? Played a lot of nice indigenous music!

1244-1330 on air phone calls. 1330-1359 cute on air phone calls from young children singing songs. 1400-1423 talking followed by indigenous music. 1500 - English "This is the new service of the Bhutan Broadcasting Service" and shortly off. MP3 edited audio in no particular chronological order, with ID in English at 1:01 <http://www.box.com/s/jd191ljp5lruprrrqorkr>. (Ron Howard-CA)

6035, BBS (tentative), 1258, Dec 16 with two stations mixing together; stronger station at ToH with pips and clear "This is the Voice of Shangri-La brought to you by Yunnan Radio"; two station continue mixing; both in talk; 1303 tuned away; checked at 1337 to find only Yunnan. Another early sign off again.

6035.05, BBS (presumed), 1248*, Dec 18. Suddenly off the air during their phone in program; according to their website schedule was in the "Sharchop" language. Sharchops are considered descendants of the earliest inhabitants of Bhutan, and a large number speak Sharchhophka (also known as Tshangla). With PBS Yunnan being unusually weak here today, I was actually able to get an approximate measurement. Clearly higher in frequency than Yunnan.

5030.0, BBS (presumed), 1244, Dec 16. Testing their transmitter here; no audio just strong open carrier; believe they were alternating between running full power and reduced power as the signal strength continually changed (please see following email from BBS). Carrier not heard later after 1300. Not broadcasting here on Dec 17 and 18.

Received the following in response to my reception report for 5030 of Dec 15:

Dear Sir,

I got your reception report about our short wave transmission. Thank you for the your kind report. We are broadcasting alternatively on 100 kw and 50 kw short wave transmitter.

Our transmission starts from 0:00 to 14:00 Hours GMT in different languages.

Thanking you

CANADA 6030, CFVP, Calgary, 0610, December 12. Xmas song by Loretta Lynn, must be CFVP, as DentreCuban jamming is again absent this UT Monday while R. Martí is resting at 04-10. Still QubaRM tnx to overload from RHC 6010 and 6050, with Morse code introduction of DXers Unlimited at 0612 vs this hectowatt signal (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

CHAD 6164.96, RNT, 2330-2359+, December 7. Still here with extended schedule. Vernacular and French talk. Fair but covered by Radio Netherland at their 2359 sign on. (Alexander-PA)

CHILE 17680, CVC La Voz, 1530, December 12. CVC La Voz with fully-detailed announcement about their $500 contest. One listener per month wins that; seems they are more interested in knowing why you listen to them on SW, than getting formal reception reports. Gave text number and postal address. Winners also get to meet (? in some way) their favorite announcer. I assume saying "Escucho para ganar quinientos dólares" would be a bit crass, but eligible? Are the winners chosen by truly random drawing or does what they say matter? You never really know, dealing with stations on a politico-religious mission, and not subject to FCC rules. (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

CHINA 4800, CNR-1, Geermu, 1108-1122, December 5. CC; W announcer until ad string at 1110; various announcers w/ talk show-like banter. Fair in ECCS-USB. (Barbour-NH)

4940, Voice of Strait, 1509, December 10. English. "Focus on China" news about China. Poor. (Sellers-BC) CHINA. 4940, Voice of Strait, 1506-1530, December 17. Their Saturday only English "Focus on China" in progress (scheduled 1500-1530); items about the start of construction after a long delay for the Hong Kong-Zhuhai-Macau bridge; vigil by students, teachers and monks to mark the anniversary on Tuesday of the Nanjing Massacre by the Japanese, etc; moderate to heavy QRM from AIR Guwahati also on frequency. (Ron Howard-CA)

5050, Beibu Bay Radio, Nanning, 1140-1200, December 6. In listed Vietnamese; W announcer w/ lengthy talk; ballad at 1150; poor & pretty much unusable by ToH; //9820-audible under co-channel CNR-2; first time at my locale I've had so much as a whiff of BBR on this frequency. (Barbour-NH) 5050, Beibu Bay Radio, random checking from 1311 to 1537, December 14. Unique format of long running bi-lingual drama in Chinese and Vietnamese; by 1537 back to normal format of pops songs and DJ in Vietnamese; moderate to strong AIR Aizawl QRM. (Ron Howard-CA)

6035, PBS Yunnan/Voice of Shangri-La, 1256-1303, December 14. As Alokesh Gupta (India) has already reported in dxldyg, BBS/Bhutan was off the air today, so Yunnan again had sole possession here; pips and ID in English at ToH. Subsequent check at 1403 also found only Yunnan. (Ron Howard-CA)

6115, Voice of the Strait via Fuzhou, 1054-1116, December 12. Amoy language program with talks and music with 5+1 time pips at 1100. Poor to fair with flutter. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

7270, Presumed Nei Menguu PBS, Hohot, 1042-1103, December 5. In listed Mongolian; M & W announcers w/ alternating talk & mx bridges; indigenous mx at 1055; brief M & W announcers at ToH; presumed ID over mx into M & W w/ nx. Fair-poor in ECCS-USB, tentative //9705-v. poor. (Barbour-NH)

CHINA Firedrake, before 1500, December 12. None at all found between 1450 and 1455, tuning down the entire range from 19 to 7 MHz (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

CROATIA 3985, Croatia Radio, 0310-0330, December 13. Noted with English segment with a man and woman talking providing schedule and contact information. Then it was back to music programming including some Christmas stuff. Good signal. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

CLANDESTINE 9380, Radio Free North Korea via Tashkent (presumed), *1200-1224, December 13. Man and woman with Korean talks. Poor to fair with some fluttery conditions. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

ECUADOR 4815, R. El Buen Pastor, Saraguro, 1038-1050, December 6. SS; M announcer w/ relig talk & Santa Maria's; choral mx at 1041; ancment/ad string at 1045; instrumental mx at 1049. Poor. (Barbour-NH)

ETHIOPIA 6110, Radio Fana, 0414-0438, December 12. Nice Horn of Africa vocals followed by two men with discussion in Amharic language. More HoA music followed by a woman with ID and long talk from 0426. Fair. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

FRANCE [and non] 9765, // 7220, RFI, 0619, December 12. Hilife musique fill on RFI English frequencies, as the strike rolls on. Au contraire, 7390 French service is in French, not musique at 0628. (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

FRENCH GUIANA 17690, RFI, 1419, December 12. RFI Spanish service is not music-filled, instead promoting its near-worldwide availability on various iphone apps. 17620 French service direct en musique. But at 1504, 17620 has news in French.

Of course the non-struck French service already plays musique part of the time (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

GUATEMALA 4055, Radio Verdad, 0045, December 10. With a very strong signal. (Wilkner-FL)

GUYANA 3290, Voice of Guyana, still in at 1030 with audio, unusual for this time, December 7. Also heard with pop music at 0930 on December 4. (Wilkner-FL) 3290 Voice of Guyana, 2231-0300+, December 11, Noted early but heard all evening with music programming and man announcer with English talk, IDs, announcements, etc. Fair to good signal. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

HONDURAS 3250, Radio Luz y Vida, San Luis, 0030, December 5. Religious music, good signal. (Wilkner-FL) 3250, Radio Luz y Vida, 0336-0402* December 12, English language religious program. It has been a while since I last heard them seemingly gone around 0402. Weak but clear. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

INDIA 4810, A.I.R., Bhopal, 1513, December 10. Jingles, promos, Hindi, @1514 woman with what sounded like news. Poor, CODAR QRM. (Sellers-BC)

4835.00, A.I.R., Gangtok, 1409, December 5. Heard carrier (presumed Gangtok) at 1409 on December 5. At re-check they were gone at 1420. Received an e-mail from Jose Jacobs that Gangtok was back on the air today (6th). I found them (presumed) on frequency at 1512 on the 6th. They were parallel with other 60-M AIR regionals with news headlines by female announcer after 6 time pips at 1530. They (presumed) were also heard with their carrier coming on at 0051 this evening (7th), but lost in the splatter from WWCR at *0059-. Gangtok was heard often in Oregon in late October through the 9th of November in the 1400-1530 time frame. They had transmitter problems on the 9th and 10th, then have not been on the air until December 5. On the 10th between 1445 and 1518 they (presumed) had various testing carriers and sub-carriers on and off. The signal was extremely strong, and I had hoped they were testing a higher powered transmitter. Will continue to check. (Jim Young-OR)

4840, A.I.R., Mumbai, 1514, December 10. Hindi. Parallel 4810. Fair. (Sellers-BC)

4920, All India Radio - Shimla, 1234-1255, December 13. Woman announcer with news in Hindi Language. Some talk followed by flute music. Poor to fair but fading quickly. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

4950.00, A.I.R., Srinagar, 0053. Heard daily, sometimes as early as 0053 with carrier and continuous test tone until 0118. Then AIR IS to 0120, into a national song by a chorus. Into language at 0121. This AIR station is usually the strongest AIR regional in NAs evening. When strong, usually Dushanbe (4765.07) is likewise. (Jim Young-OR)

4990, AIR, Itanagar, randomly from 1332 to 1433*, December 14. News in vernacular till 1336; into subcontinent music; 1415 local news in Hindi followed by local news in English; Itanagar weather forecast (rain) and max-min temperatures; followed by talk in English; poor with persistent heavy CW QRM. Dec 13 till 1431*. (Ron Howard-CA)

5010, All India Radio - Thiruvananthapuram, 1233-1242, December 13. Woman announcer with news in Hindi language. Poor to fair. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

5050, AIR, Aizawl, 1400-1440, December 16. Equally strong and mixing with Beibu Bay Radio (BBR); best ever reception; 1400-1429 with rock & roll Christmas songs in English ("Run Rudolph Run", "Blue Christmas", etc); 1430-1435 news bulletin in English; 1435-1440 sports bulletin; amazing level. No Ozy Radio yet. (Ron Howard-CA)

6165, AIR, 1355, December 12. What a pleasure to hear something besides Chinese all over the 49m band! Instead, S Asian songs, 1400 timesignal (maybe from QRM), brief announcement in unknown language, and change to other music. Aoki shows this is the AIR Sindhi service from Delhi/Khampur site. BTW, 6165 is really crammed full of overlapping usages, such as Vietnam VOV4, and China CNR6, both supposedly also on before and after 1400, not to mention Chad and Zambia (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

INDONESIA 9526, Voice of Indonesia, 1418, December 10. Indonesian. "Voice of Indonesia" ID, talk and music bridges. Back on this frequency from 9525. At 1458 CRI was on 9525 in English causing a big het that destroyed VOI. Poor. (Sellers-BC)

9526, Voice of Indonesia presumed the one at 1427, December 8. In listed Indonesian with a woman with talk then brief gamelon music and a man with talk at 1428 then more music and back to the woman at 1430. Weak with het. They must be using the other transmitter as this is the first time I have noticed them at this hour here in quite a while. (Coady-ON)

9526, VOI, 1400-1545, December 12. Before 1400, nothing but the VOI carrier detectable aside huge China radiowar on 9530; at 1453 in the clear with piano music, 1456 Indonesian ID mentioning English word "dignity", IADs in more piano music. But 1457.5 CRI 9525 carrier came on making het, while VOI remained atop! Until VOI cut off at 1458. Yet, I could still hear a weak het, so maybe VOI had just switched to another antenna. By 1545 I could make out some weak Chinese on 9526 so VOI was still/again on the air, bettering CRI 9525 Kashgar, EAST TURKISTAN in English (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

JAPAN 6055, Radio Japan, 1403, December 12. Jappop (or should I say J-pop), with EltonJohnish heavy beat, sounds like Japanese syllables pronounced with gaijan accent, impure vowels. Bring back Isao Tomita on R. Nikkei! (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

9595, R. Nikkei, Tokyo-Nagara, 1121-1134, December 6. Listed JJ; W & M announcer into classical-like mx; animated announcer at 1125 into plodding, caliope-like mx thru BoH, sounded like a vinyl album played at the wrong speed. Fair, //6055-poor. (Barbour-NH)

9625, Radio Japan, 1028-1030*, December 13. End of English program with ID, closedown announcements and contact information. Fair but //9840 was poor. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

KASHMIR 4747.6, AIR, Leh (Radio Kashmir, Leh), presumed to still remain on about 4747.6 (ex 4760). I consistently hear on open carrier, but no luck so far with any audio. Noted from about 1300 to past 1500. Hope that one day I can pull in some audio for this rarely heard station while they are still on this unique frequency. Dec 18 (Ron Howard-CA)

KAZAKHSTAN 6225, Democratic Voice of Burma, via Almaty-Nikolayevka, 1434, December 10. Woman and man in presumed Burmese. Poor. (Sellers-BC)

MADAGASCAR 5010.19, Radio Madagasikara, *0208-0240, December 10. Sign on with local African music. African choral music. Short 25 second IS at 0232 followed by National Anthem. Opening ID announcements at 0235. Malagasy talk. Local choral music. Poor. Weak in noisy conditions. (Alexander-PA) 5010.1, Radio Madagaskara, 0216-0239, December 13. Non-stop music program to opening by a woman announcer in Malagasy with ID and announcements. Back to music but the fair signal was deteriorating rapidly. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

MALAYSIA 9835, Sarawak FM via RTM, via Kajang (near Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia), 1539-1606, December 14. In vernacular with EZL pop songs; ads; IDs; ToH choral National Anthem (Negaraku - Lagu Kebangsaan Malaysia); more pop songs; "Sarawak FM" singing jingle. Fair-good. (Ron Howard-CA) 9835, Sarawak FM, 1126-1202, December 13. Woman announcer with Malay talks hosting traditional music program. Poor. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

11665, Wai FM, via Kajang (near Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia), 1539-1600, December 14. In vernacular EZL pop songs; 1559 nice "Wai FM" singing jingle; light jamming by CNR1. 11665, Sarawak FM, 1600 till off in a matter of minutes, December 14. Became // 9835 at ToH. Sarawak FM audio at <http://www.box.com/s/yy0io3vvqo55fuk555b8> Wai FM audio at <http://www.box.com/s/l3rrg98r744imk2up9or>. (Ron Howard-CA)

MONGOLIA, 12085, Voice of Mongolia, 1030-1058, December 13. Woman announcer with ID and opening of English program followed by news. Later it was time for the mailbag program with a letter from Alan Loudell. Closed with a Mongolian folk tune. Poor to fair with a lot of flutter. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

NETHERLANDS [non] 5955, RNW, 0614, December 12. Dutch in the clear, no jamming from Cuba any more vs absent R. República. If its in Dutch, the odds are very high its RNW, and even higher that its not transmitted from Netherlands. This hour is via Vatican. Later, compared this channel to the trio of 31m channels, and found no pair of the quartet were synchronized. At 0623 in time order: 9865 first, 9895 second, and 9830 third. In strength order, 9895 first, 9865 second, 9830 third. Sites: 9895 Pridnestrovye, 9865 Bonaire, 9830 Wertachtal. Note Bonaire is not on top in this case; see also RUSSIA. At 0626, 9865 cut away from the others to play NA due to its semi-hour instead of full-hour broadcast (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

NEW ZEALAND 5950, Radio New Zealand International, 1318-1351, December 12. Man talking about Kiribati. ID at 1319 ("You are listening to Radio New Zealand International, Dateline Pacific"). End of program at 1329 followed by another ID "Radio New Zealand International, the Voice of the Pacific." The Mailbox program began at 1330 with Silent Night opening followed by a DX Report about utilities listening. Fair. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

NORTH AMERICA [Pirate] 6924.66, Captain Morgan Shortwave, 2330-2335*, December 10. Christmas music. ID. Fair. (Alexander-PA)

[Pirate] 6924.6v, Family Radio - WFMT, *2347-0025, December 10-11. Sign on with bells/chimes. IDs and lite instrumental music. Rap music and pop music followed. Fair. (Alexander-PA)

[Pirate] 6925, Red Nose Radio, 0015-0018, December 8. IDs. Blues Christmas music. Fair. (Alexander-PA)

[Pirate] 6925, Radio 20-12 International, 2214-2030, December 11. Program of techno music with periodic IDs by a man and woman as Radio Twenty-Two International." Fair. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

[Pirate] 6925, Unidentified, 0157-0233*, December 13. Played many songs about Christmas Fruitcakes that seemed like a loop that was played 2 or 3 times. No ID noted and just cut off during another fruitcake bit. Poor to fair. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

[Pirate] 6930.1, Northern Relay Service, 0240-0305*, December 13. Noted with bits including some miscellaneous CW letters, a cappella singing, often repeated phrases. Poor with deep fades. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

NORTHERN CYPRUS 6150, Radio Bayrak International (tentative), 2234-2311, December 11. Program of pop music with only announcement heard at 2302 in presumably Turkish language. More music programming. Periodically, heard some Chinese language programming fading up mixing with this. Poor. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

NORTH KOREA [and non] 6400, December 19 at 0630, P'yongyang BS is audible with sad music, ute QRM. 0650, YL in Korean sounds distraught. Harold Frodge, MI, noted that VOK transmissions were missing earlier on Dec 17 and 18; that should have been a clue that something significant had happened! However, VOK was back when I checked:

9335, 1414, December 19. French about Kim Jung Il [hereafter KJI]. Poor signal but could still hear mixture with NK-style jamming noise bleeding into the broadcast. At this moment WBCQ was missing from 9330-CUSB, tho it was there a few minutes earlier. At 1441, it was back, impeding weakish signal from Kujang. // 11710 not propagating. At 1500 could make out VOK IS and English IDs on 9335, but too weak vs WBCQ and still no 11710 making it. Here's one convenient source of latest VOK info and scheduling, clips: <http://www.northkoreatech.org/2011/10/29/voice-of-korea-b11-schedule/> And as pointed out by Mark Fahey, NSW: <http://www.northkoreatech.org/2011/12/19/kim-jong-ils-death-monitoring-north-korean-tv-and-radio/#comments>. Tnx to Martyn Williams in Tokyo.

By lucky coincidence, KJI garnered the top spot in this week's issue of Parade magazine, Dec 18, printed far in advance, but who was the Second Worst Dictator in the World? Isaias Afewerki. Who? Where? Eritrea. He's certainly managed to maintain a lower profile abroad. Now must be temporarily #1 pending KJU making his mark. See <http://www.parade.com/dictators> (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

9335, Voice of Korea, 1302-1318, December 12. Tuned in during orchestral National Anthem, ID followed by Song to Great Leader plus another march type song. After another ID a man announcer began English program with the news which was the same program as the previous night. Good signal with some flutter. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

11680, Korean Central Broadcasting System, 1114-1132, December 13. Long-winded Korean talk by man and woman announcers. This is what they must listen to domestically ... ouch! Fair and //9665 was also fair. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

13760, Voice of Korea, *0100-0136, December 12. IS with multiple IDs followed by National Anthem Song to Great Leader and another march type song. After another ID a man announcer began English program with the news. Korean vocals at 0122 followed by 2nd installment of Restoration of the Fatherland. Fair but //11735 was fair to good. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

OMAN 15140, R. Sultanate of Oman, 1430, December 12. YL with news in English, S9+15 peaks, but undermodulated and hard to follow. Something about Syria. This is not BBC as claimed by some. (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST) 15140, Radio Oman, 1420-1442, December 12. Pop music program to 1430 ID followed by news in English. News ended at 1438. Poor and fading badly by tune out. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

PERU 3329.55, Ondas del Huallaga, Huánuco, 1040, December 7. Om and yl exchanging comments 1042, yl extended talk ...1047, fading out. CHU notched on 746Pro. (Wilkner-FL)

4746.9, Radio Huanta 2000, 1014-1023, December 13. Talk in Spanish by a man announcer. ID and TC followed by OA vocals. Poor. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

4775, Radio Tarma, 1017-1032, December 13. Rustic OA vocals hosted by a man announcer with Spanish talk. Poor to fair with slight CODAR QRM. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

5039.18, R. Libertad, Junin, 1029-1035, December 6. SS; Huayanos at t/in; M & W announcers from BoH. Poor. (Barbour-NH) 5039.1, Radio Libertad, 1018-1033, December 13. Nice selection of OA males hosted; male announcer with Spanish talk. Poor. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

5459.898, Radio Bolivar, Cd. Bolivar, 0048, December 10. With om en español with music. Better reception on 10 December, but also noted 6 December at same time with a poor signal. (Wilkner-FL)

6173.9, Radio Tawantinsuyo, Cusco, 1030, December 7. Om identificación en español, signal out in the open. (Wilkner-FL)

PHILIPPINES 9615, RVA, Palauig, 1016-1031, December 5. CC; "Live" discussion of sorts; ballad w/ M & W talk over; W announcer w/ banter at 1027, a few bars of Amazing Grace at 1030 into more banter. Fair-good. (Barbour-NH)

9760, VOA, Tinang, 1547, December 12. Special English talk about violinist Itzhak Perlman; big signal, but also with humbuzz and undermodulation. Now I am leaning toward this being a defect in the IBB Tinang, transmitter itself rather than another carrier atop (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

12095, FEBC Radio, 2252-2329, December 12. IS mixing with ID announcements under BBC-Ascension which eventually closed at 2259 leaving this in clear with fair signal. Hmong program featuring a very long talk by a man announcer after one song. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

RWANDA 6055, Radio Rwanda, 2040-2100*, December 10. Afro-pop music. Euro-pop music. French and vernacular talk. Poor to fair. (Alexander-PA). 6055, R. Rwanda, Kigali, 2039-2100*, December 6. Vernacular; W announcer w/ Afropops & familiar call-in program format; W announcer over mx at 2053; vocal mx NA over native strings at 2057, not instrumental NA as I've always heard in the past; pulled the plug at 2100; language definitely not French. Fair. (Barbour-NH) 6055, Radio Rwanda, 2047-2100*, December 11. Man announcer with French talk followed by local vocal selection. Man returned at 2049 and continued talking until program ended at Top of the Hour when broadcast ended suddenly. Poor to fair. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

RUSSIA 5935.00 and //7205.00, Saint-Petersburg, *1500, December 6. At sign on (after TT) at 1500 in Persian. Both channels buried by PBS stations in PRC, and both poor on December 6. On 6135.00 at 2345 with transmitter turn on, then TT started at 2350 to 2359. Pause, then into Spanish language program at 0000 (7th). Have been in contact with

Mikhail Timofeyev prior to these receptions as well as after. He will verify reports via snail mail with QSL card and pennant. Sent short mp3 recordings of these receptions. (Jim Young-OR)

6075, Radio Rossii via Petropavlovsk-Kamchatskij, 1343-1300*, December 12. Techno music until brief announcement in Russian by a man announcer at 1258. Music continued until 5+1 time pips at 1300 before carrier was terminated. Fair with flutter. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

6115, Trans World Radio, Samara, 1523, December 10. Man with prayer in English and translator in Urdu. Fair. (Sellers-BC)

7260, Radio Moscow World Service via Vladivostok, 1118-1140, December 12. Man and woman in English with program about hobbies in Russia. ID at 1129 followed by promo announcements. Russian Hits music program followed at 1230. Poor to fair. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

9840, R. Rossii, Moscow, 0657, December 12. Site is absent. No signal, despite RWM binary audible on 9996, and Turkey q.v. in better than usual on 9820. Can the ptb finally have moved this off 9840 colliding with VOR English to NAM from DVR which runs until 0600? Need to check further nights, before 0600 (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

SOUTH AFRICA 5820, RTE Radio Worldwide via Meyerton, 2012-2031*, December 12. Could make out tail end of features program in English but hard to distinguish words although seemingly getting slightly better each minute. Closed with instrumental music followed by World Radio Network ID at 2029, news headline followed by UN Radio program before carrier was terminated. Weak. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

TAIWAN 6240, Family Radio, 1438, December 10. Chinese. Choir, strong utility QRM was causing audio distortion; check at 1450 and ute gone and a preacher was speaking in very slow English. Poor-fair. (Sellers-BC)

6280, Family Radio, 1503, December 10. English. Bible reading. Very weak. (Sellers-BC)

9280, Family Radio via Huawei, 1210-1240, December 12. Mandarin program with slow special English Bible reading from Roman's at 1239. Prior to that was Oakland address information and familiar Family Radio theme music. Fair to good. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

TAJIKISTAN 4765, R.Tajikistan, Dushanbe, 0215. Tune in @ 0215 to barely audible signal with flute music. Extremely high noise level with lots of static crashes likely associated with approaching storm. Gradual increase in signal level revealed more music. String instrument selection w/vocals followed by brief announcement by YL. More music with distinct Mid Eastern character mixed with Indian influences. Very unique style. YL announcer returned with longer talks in likely Tajik lang. Various music continued to TOH then deep voiced OM into probable news. Nice to see 60 meters conditions improving. Last couple of weeks even usual Brazilians haven been tough catches. (Steve Wood)

THAILAND 7255, Radio Thailand, 1114-1118, December 12. Tuned in to familiar bells followed by English ID by man announcer ("This is HSK9, Radio Thailand World Service"). Into Khmer program. Good signal but fluttery. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

7465, Radio Thailand, 1303-1323, December 13. Woman announcer with talk (news?) in Japanese language. Male vocals at 1311 followed by closedown at 1313 in Japanese then in English followed by bells. Poor to fair with flutter. Carrier cut but antenna apparently re-oriented as returned with slightly stronger signal and Mandarin language transmission. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

9535, Radio Thailand, 2035-2047, December 11. Man and woman announcer with news in English. ID at 2040: "You're listening to Radio Thailand news." Promo announcement from Air Asia followed by International Update. Bells at 2045 followed by opening of Thai language program. Fair. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

9680, Radio Thailand, 1932-1959*, December 12. Man and woman announcers in English with news.

ID at 1939 followed by a couple of ads for power company and insurance outfit. More IDs followed by Sports, Bells at 1959 followed by closedown announcements for this European Service. Poor to fair. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

13745, Radio Thailand, 0008-0032, December 12. Usual man and woman announcer with live news in English and several IDs: "You're listening to Radio Thailand news." Announcements for Bangkok Airways Cargo, Department of Trade International Promotion, Air Asia and Hyatt Regency. Mention of The King and many wonderful things he has done. Apparent antenna change at 0029 when signal briefly lost but came back at slightly reduced level with Business Report. Promo announcement from Air Asia, followed by International Update. Bells at 2045 followed by opening of Thai language program. Fair. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)

TURKEY 9820, TRT, 0625, December 12. This eastward TRT Turkish frequency with music is unusually sufficient, still better on the westward // 9700. (Glenn Hauser, OK, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

UNIDENTIFIED 7260, 1036, December 5. Two stations colliding; presumably Xingjiang PBS-China w/ CC talk & Mongolian Radio 2-Mongolia w/ indigenous mx. Fair-poor. (Barbour NH)

UZBEKISTAN 6260, CVC - Voice Asia via Tashkent, 1450, December 10. Hindi. Songs and female speaker. Poor. (Sellers-BC)

VIETNAM 9840, Voice of Vietnam via Son Tay, 1138-1158*, December 12. Woman announcer with news in English, several IDs plus a commentary. Closed with ID and traditional Vietnamese vocals. Poor. (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA) indicating that the station was running 350 watts with a few peaks around 600 watts. The station operator said he had many reports from around the globe including 16 different people in Japan sent him a reception report plus one phone caller. He also received reports from the Russian border with North Korea, one from New Delhi, one from Uzbekistan and one from New Zealand. He says "it was crazy working...never got so many reports from the other side of the pond" mentioning it took hours to send a reply to everyone. I was glad that he recalled our previous contact in 2007.

Country List Committee Report

Don Jensen • 5204 70th Street • Kenosha, WI 53142 • dnjkenosha@acronet.net

The NASWA COUNTRY LIST is more than 40 years old. One might think that over that span of time there could remain no unresolved interpretive questions about whether this or that station site is located in radio country A or radio country B.

But not so! International Bands Loggings editor Steve Handler's sharp eyes caught something we all have missed for many years. In question is the Wooferton site, formerly owned by the BBC, but currently by Babcock.

Steve emailed the CLC with this question: "I have a 1970 VOA QSL for the Wooferton relay site.... Which does the QSL count for? England or Wales?"

A fascinating question, it turns out. Steve raised the point because he noted something in the first paragraph of Chapter 1 of FIFTY YEARS OF BBC WOOFERTON, (available on-line), a history of the site written about five years ago.

It says: "The county boundary between Herefordshire and Shropshire runs through the aerial site and so the station is actually situated in two counties." This becomes interesting to DX country counters because Herefordshire is in Wales; Shropshire is in England. We can infer from the above that some of the antennas are in England, some in Wales and, presumably some are in both England and Wales. Handler's question, indeed, is a valid one.

DXers may wonder, "So why is Wales even on the NASWA list?"

A good many years ago, when unlicensed pirate broadcasters began operating in such parts of Great Britain as Scotland and Northern Ireland, it became desirable to add them as "radio countries," in the same way the list considers Alaska and Hawaii as separate "radio countries" from the United States.

So when a pirate broadcaster began operating from Wales, it, too, was added to the list. In retrospect, it may have been a premature decision, since the Welsh pirate soon disappeared. But no real harm. Wales simply became another in a now disappointingly long list of "dead countries," still on the list but with no active stations operating.

But as Handler's question suggested, perhaps Wales is not so "dead" a country. The CLC needed to clarify the issue.

The CLC, after discussion, concluded that :

- 1 The Wooferton transmitter site spans the boundary of Herefordshire (Wales) and Shropshire (England)
- 2 Seemingly, individual antennas may be in Herefordshire OR Shropshire OR may span BOTH counties.
- 3 It is virtually impossible to know which antenna was used during any particular transmission and reception. Since we cannot know, the CLC simply must make an arbitrary blanket decision.
- 4 Historically, DXers have considered Wooferton transmissions to be from England, and, lacking further, specific information, information we believe is unobtainable, the CLC does not wish to overturn traditional practice.
- 5 Therefore, the CLC has concluded that a transmissions from the Wooferton site be counted as England and not Wales.

- 11800 OPPOSITION Sudan Radio Service via Dhabayya, UAE (Targeting Sudan/Darfur area) 0524 Arabic with IDs mentioning "Darfur", talks and music bridges. Excellent. 11/22/11 (Parker-PA)
- 11820 OMAN BBC World Service 0422 Arabic with talks. Excellent. 11/22/11 (Parker-PA)
- 11880 AUSTRALIA Radio Australia 1909 English. News, ID. Fair. 11/15/11. (Sellers-BC)
- 11890 SINGAPORE BBC 1452 English. Report on involvement of the Arab League in recent North Africa events. Poor. 11/18/11. (Sellers-BC)
- 11960 JORDAN Radio Jordan 0547. Great lively ME music. 0600 widely-spaced (2 seconds apart?) time signal ending 5.5 seconds late! Arabic ID starts "Sawt ul-Urdan" I think, before cut off the air abruptly. 11/18/11 (Hauser-OK)
- 12020 VIETNAM Voice of Vietnam via Sontay, 2325 Indonesian. Few words by an ancr traditional Vietnamese music, 2328 announcer with program end. Dead air for about 1 minute. 2330 s/on in Indonesian with ID. Fair. 12/5/11 (Taylor-WI)
- 12085 MONGOLIA Voice of Mongolia 1030-1058 W ancr with ID and opening of EE prgm followed by news. Later it was time for the mailbag prgm with a letter from Alan Loudell. Closed with a Mongolian folk tune. Poor to fair with a lot of flutter. 12/13/11 (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)
- 12095 CYPRUS BBC 1835 English. Interview with Occupy Wall Street protester. Poor. 11/15/11. (Sellers-BC)

- 12095 PHILIPPINES FEBC Radio 2252-2329 IS mixing with ID announcements under BBC-Ascension which eventually closed at 2259 leaving this in clear with fair signal. Hmong program featuring a very long talk by a man announcer after one song. 12/12/11 (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)
- 12140 KUWAIT Radio Azadi 0520-0524 Pashto. Good. 11/22/11 (Parker-PA)
- 13570 GERMANY VOA via Lamperheim 1517 English. "Border Crossings" program reporting on the American Music Awards. Fair, ute QRM. 11/21/11. (Sellers-BC)
- 13590 ZAMBIA CVC-1Africa via Lusaka 2012-2023 EE; Contemporary relig mx; M announcer w/ "Kick-start" prg; question re definition of love; CVC promos; more mx; listener (e-mail?) from Zimbabwe; talk re "Kickstart on 1Africa Radio" Facebook page; good. 12/12/11 (Barbour-NH)
- 13645 INDIA AIR via Bangaluru 1513. IS, 1515 s/on in Gujarati. Very poor, //15175, poor, which I had first heard a couple of days ago. 11/21/11. (Sellers-BC)
- 13745 THAILAND Radio Thailand 0008-0032 usual man and W ancr with live news in EE with several IDs: "You're listening to Radio Thailand news." Ancmts for Bangkok Airways Cargo, Department of Trade Int'l Promotion, Air Asia and Hyatt Regency. Mention of The King and many wonderful things he has done. Apparent antenna change at 0029 when signal briefly lost but came back at slightly reduced level with Business Report. Fair to good. s and Promo announcement from Air Asia. Followed by Int'l Update. Bells at 2045 followed by opening of Thai language program. Fair. 12/12/11 (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA)
- 13970 OPPOSITION Sound of Hope via Taiwan (Targeting PRC-China) 1350-1400 Mandarin W speaking. In the clear with no jamming. Unusual as Firedrake normally jams this frequency. Fair-poor signal. 12/8/11 (Handler-IL)
- 15075 INDIA AIR via Bangaluru 0241 nice S Asian vocal music, with flutter, 0247 talk. 11/16/11 (Hauser-OK)
- 15120 NIGERIA Voice of Nigeria via Ikorodu 1816 English. Program about entrepreneurship in Nigeria. Fair. 11/15/11. (Sellers-BC) Also heard 1817-1833 EE; W announcer w/ "Beyond Poverty Lines" prg re "broken populations & broken economies"; soundbites from various gov't officials; prg ID at 1828 & VoN ID in passing; filler mx; Talking Drums at BoH into new prg, whose name I did not copy; fair. 12/12/11 (Barbour-NH)
- 15140 OMAN Radio Oman 1420-1442 pop music program to 1430 ID followed by news in English. News ended at 1438. Poor and fading badly by tune out. 12/12/11 (D'Angelo/FCDX-PA) Also heard 1430 is no longer so rare with improved conditions, but never a very good signal. At tune-in playing military march tune, presumed their version of news theme. Into headlines with music underneath, undermining readability even tho American accent. At 1431.5 kills the music for body of news, but still tough copy 11/18/11 (Hauser-OK) Heard also at 1936-2002 AA; M announcer between mx bits; occasional talk by M announcers via remotes; mx fanfare at ToH & (P) ID; NA "The Sultans Anthem" into M announcer w/ nx; poor at t/in; much improved by 2000. 12/12/11 (Barbour-NH)
- 15175 INDIA (GOA) AIR via Panaji 1514. IS, 1515 man with s/on, mentioning New Delhi, language listed as Gujarati, Indian music. Good. 11/19/11. (Sellers-BC)
- 15189.89 BRAZIL Radio Inconfidência 2229-2244 Portuguese talk. US pop ballad by the Bee Gees. Brazilian ballads. IDs. Fair. Weak // 6009.99. 12/3/11 (Alexander-PA) Also heard on 15190 at 2311 is playing the 2nd movement from Beethoven's "Pathétique" piano sonata. Signal is pretty rough with flutter, like Argentina on 15345+. Perhaps this is a regular classical program on Sundays 11/20/11 (Hauser-OK)
- 15200 TURKEY VOT 1543-1612 AA Middle Eastern music programming until 1551 when Arabic announcements were heard followed by VoT IS. Several multi-lingo IDs until 5+1 time pips and more Arabic language programming with news. Poor. 12/4/11 (D'Angelo-PA)
- 15215 UAE FEBA via Dhabayya 1222-1229* listed Tibetan; Hindi-like ballad; M ancr at 1226; mx bit & diff. ancr w/ s/off ancm; IS at 1229 & pulled the plug; Fair. 11/22/11 (Barbour-NH)
- 15320 GUAM KSDA AWR 2238 w/Wavescan underway cut off the air at 2259* 11/20/11 (Hauser-OK)
- 15345.0+ ARGENTINA Radio Nacional 2159 escaped collision with Morocco as the latter unexpectedly shifted yesterday to 15349.5 and then 15349.1. LRA has heavy flutter unlike Morocco, and a big 4+kHz het between them now allows separation; LRA is closer to 15345 than IMM is to 15349). Song in progress keeps playing thru accurate auto-time signal at 2200. Not totally in the clear until IMM cuts off around 2215 rather than nominal 2200, and then LRA continues into the evening, but copy is tough with all the flutter and only fair signal. 11/20/11 Also heard 2159 RAE IS at end of foreign-language block, German, about to go to weak and fluttery Spanish, but with splatter from MOROCCO 15349.1, 4+ kHz het. 11/21/11 (Hauser-OK)
- 15349.1 MOROCCO IMM 1811 has shifted down to here after being closer to 15349.5 in the 15 UT hour as heard earlier same day. Sounds like sports discussion in Arabic. IMM has a constant whine on its own transmission here, distinct from any hets it may cause with on-frequency stations. 11/19/11. Also heard at 2158 is still on its latest frequency choice, away from Argentina on

- 15345.0+ (the latter is closer to 15345 than IMM is to 15349), which is a big improvement, but not quite enough, as het beats away between them now; 2200 is the nominal closedown time of IMM, but keeps going with Arabic ID, news. Finally cuts off around 2215. 11/20/11. Heard also at 2200 Arabic modulation stops at 2200 sharp, no time signal, cuts off the air at 2200:25*; unlike previous days when ran to 2215 or even 2235+; 11/23/11 (Hauser-OK)
- 15535 OPPOSITION Radio Dabanga via Wertachtal (Targeting the Darfur Region), Germany 1537-1550 Arabic w/male presenter and male speakers. Id by M at 1543 followed by a W speaking and then a M speaking interviewing others. Radio Dabanga is a project of Press Now/Free Press Unlimited which is headquartered in the Netherlands. Fair-Good w/het. 12/6/11 (Handler-IL) Also heard 1623 R. Dabanga jingle with multiple singing IDs as soon as I tune in. Also with continuous 1000 Hz tone jamming; recheck at 1707 Radio Dabanga is over, but the tone jammer is still running with a considerable carrier of its own. 11/24/11 (Hauser-OK)
- 15580 BOTSWANA VOA 1831 English. Report on African sports. Good. 11/15/11. (Sellers-BC)
- 15650 GREECE V. of Greece 2315 Greek music on VG signal, then Greek announcement. // 9420 11/20/11 (Hauser-OK)
- 17650 MADAGASCAR NHK 2032, surprised to hear NHK IS & IDs in JJ and EE until 2033:40, plus open carrier until 2035:20*. It's the new French broadcast 11/22/11 (Hauser-OK)
- 17695 ZAMBIA CVC-1Africa 1919 English. Christian rap music, British DJ with "Kick Start" program. Very good. 11/15/11. (Sellers-BC) 21840 ASCENSION Family Radio 1530 English. Man giving address in Nigeria, into "Searching the Scriptures" Fair-good. 11/19/11. (Sellers-BC)
- 17745 OPPOSITION Sudan Radio Service via Woofferton, England (Targeting Sudan Area) 1508- with woman presenter interviewing people via either telephone or sound clips. Good. 12/6/11 (Handler-IL)
- 17790 CANADA Radio Canada 1850 EE M&W hosting a pop music program. Good. //9770 via Skelton Good 11/15/11 (Fraser-ME)
- 21480 MADAGASCAR RNW 1437 test from Madagascar of used transmitter from Sweden heard again, 'Earthbeat' show [...] Good strength but flutter and heavy Doppler effect making the frequency wobble with BFO on. 11/23/11 (Hauser-OK) Also heard 1545-1557* test transmission with English talk about Africa. IDs. Very good. 11/24/11 (Alexander-PA)

25th (!) Anniversary
Winter SWL Fest
Sponsored by NASWA

March 1-3, 2012

Doubletree Guest Suites
640 W. Germantown Pike. Plymouth Meeting, PA

Three days to celebrate 25 years: Thursday through Saturday! Enjoy meeting with your friends in the Hospitality Room. Bring radio related items for the swap meet or to donate for the Silent Auction. Check out your friends' receivers; bring one of your own for others to try!

No frills; just shortwave, longwave, mediumwave, pirates, and scanning. Once again you will enjoy the camaraderie of your hobby friends.

There is an incentive for you to pre-register, as prices are more expensive for those who wait. Registration options are also more flexible than in the past, with new one-day and student registrations. If you wish to participate in the meals, you must register and inform us that you will be attending by Friday morning, March 2nd. If you choose not to participate in the meals, there are many nearby restaurants.

Your registration must be received by February 17, 2012 for the best prices; registrations received after that date are priced higher. See the registration form below.

Many things, like the raffle, remain the same:

GRAND PRIZE To be announced

SPECIAL Register early to win a sw portable! One free entry for an early-bird registration received by February 17, 2012.

Please bring items for the Silent Auction. At least half of the proceeds are donated to charity.

Checks should be made payable to WINTER SWL FEST. Register directly with the hotel for your rooms by calling the Doubletree at (610) 834-8300. For 2012, the rate is $94 single or double; the rate for 3 or 4 is slightly higher. All registered hotel guests receive a full breakfast including an omelet station! Tell the hotel staff you're with the WINTER SWL FEST to receive this special room rate. New for 2012: You can also reserve your hotel room online; check for the link, as well as updated Fest info, at the WINTER SWL FEST Web Page at <http://www.swlfest.com/> or from <http://www.naswa.net/>.

The Doubletree Guest Suites is conveniently located near the interchange of I-476 and I-276, at the Norristown Exit (#333). Limo service is available from Phila. Intl Airport directly to the hotel.

Online registration available via PayPal – See <http://www.swlfest.com> for details!

If you aren't completing the online registration, please submit the following form with your registration amount or send for more information to:
