Tape recordings are welcome, but tapes cannot be returned. Please include one international reply coupon (IRC) or first class postage in US or Canadian stamps for a reply to your reception reports, which may be sent to: Mr. Rich McVicar (HC1JMN) Frequency Manager - Attn: 690 DX Test - c/o English language service - HCJB Casilla 17-17-691 Quito, Ecuador. Arranged by Mr. Rich McVicar of HCJB for the benefit of all DXers.

From the publisher ... Fred Vobbe sez that only about 10 hams have sent info for the yearly NRC Ham Call list. Remember, if you don't send him the info, he can't put it in. He'll include your name, call, and up to 40 characters of information on where you operate; non-U. S. hams also should list their class of license. Send him your vitals at the address on the back of DXN.

Henry Hampel sent news of his radio station and asks for reports: "I put on the air a 100 mW input beacon with vertical antenna on June 28, 1995. The beacon is now operating on 1690 kHz with tone-modulated CW 24 hours a day. Because of a heavily loaded top hat on the vertical, it skips on occasion. The call letters are STLMO, and it is located in St. Louis, MO. An address for verification is broadcast on the beacon."

DXChange ... Peter Pompe - 38 Val Du Prince - 1950 Kraainem, Belgium (phone 322/731.62.84) is still looking for a Zenith Royal Transoceanic D7000Y in good condition, and he'll pay shipping.

Status changes in AM stations, supplied by the FCC and listeners

THE WJDM-1530 / 1660 STORY: Before we get down to the nuts and bolts of our usual material we lead off with what is probably the most talked-about story in recent weeks amongst AM DXers, the testing and pending move of WJDM to the expanded band. As regular readers will remember, the FCC recently revoked its list of stations which could migrate to the new expanded band released in 1994. Only one station on that list was granted an STA (Special Temporary Authority) to begin broadcasting here. That station was WJDM-1530 Elizabeth, NJ.

In early October, DXers began noticing a station testing with music on 1660 kHz, and, although no IDs were ever heard, it was assumed this was WJDM. On November 1 we spoke to Mr. John Quinn, owner of WJDM. He was very eager to have NRCers know the story and is very friendly toward the DXing hobby.

Here is what we learned. The 1660 tests are indeed WJDM. Testing is being done at several different power levels. Some tests have been at the full 10 kilowatt power although most are at a reduced level since full power is not required for most of the tests being done. The new 1660 transmitter is being diplexed into their existing short (57.5 degree) tower. The diplexing system is working well, as both 1530 and 1660 stations can run at full power simultaneously into the same antenna. Obviously they plan to continue using the present frequency.

There was some speculation they might drop the 1530 frequency and use 1660 exclusively. This is not the case. However, programming will not be simulcast. For obvious reasons Mr. Quinn was reluctant to reveal the format of the new operation. A target date has not yet been set although Mr. Quinn said they are hoping for a mid-November start-up, so this may have begun before you read this.

When we spoke with him, they were having problems with a new state-of-the-art remotely-operated audio processor that was holding up progress. DXers who have heard their tests have noticed a wide variation in audio quality.

Another short-range problem concerns the transmitter location, in a reservoir. On the day we spoke, Mr. Quinn said they had four feet of water surrounding the transmitter and access was a bit difficult. However, this location should provide excellent ground conductivity.

Future plans include building separate studios in Manhattan for 1660. The call for the 1660 station will also be WJDM. (We have an unanswered question concerning whether an expanded band operation could have a separate call if the "parent" station continues to broadcast in the traditional band. This does not seem to be addressed in any of the FCC paperwork I could find. It would seem that some stations running separate programming on their expanded band frequency might desire a different call for that station.)

Mr. Quinn welcomes reception reports and has already received quite a number including a tape of a very clear reception from Oregon with which he was particularly impressed. All reports should be sent to their Log address in care of Mr. Quinn and all should include return postage. Obviously WJDM will be flooded with requests for verifications. They have a small staff that will be even busier running two stations so patience in waiting for a reply is a must.

Mr. Quinn told us that he has no assurance from the FCC that WJDM will remain assigned to 1660 once the expanded band is reconfigured. They have informed the FCC that they are willing to move 20 kHz up or down if necessary to maximize the overall use of the band but even a small move will necessitate the retuning of the diplex filters. Their preference is, obviously, to remain on 1660, and they have informed the FCC of this also.

With an estimated 16 million radios in the NYC metro already capable of tuning the expanded band, Mr. Quinn is obviously excited with the potential of his new station. He also seemed fascinated with the possibilities that WJDM-1660 may have coast-to-coast night coverage during the time that they alone rule the frequency.

CBS Radio NFL Network (retrieved from <http://www.cbsradio.com> on 11/02/95)

Note that some stations on this list carry only the CBS radio sports feed; they don't carry the CBS Radio News broadcasts. Note also that the reverse is true; some CBS Radio network stations do not carry the sports feed. As I have noted previously, if a home team is playing in the game, the CBS station will not broadcast the game, instead deferring to the team's flagship station. For example when the Chicago Bears play on Sunday evening or Monday evening, 1000 WMVP-IL will NOT carry the CBS broadcast allowing 720 WGN-IL (the Bears' flagship) to broadcast the game without local competition. (And WMVP is not the CBS affiliate in Chicago). This list is subject to change.

For those technically minded readers, the WWW pages from which I retrieved this CBS list use extensions to the HyperText Markup Language (HTML) that are usable only by the Netscape browser. The Mosaic browser will not handle these pages properly; pointing the mouse and then clicking will have no effect.

WCBM wants 6 towers at Woodbine farm

By TONI GUAGENTI
Times Staff Writer

WOODBINE — A plan to build six "state-of-the-art," AM radio towers — each 350 feet tall — here has caught the attention of a South Carroll citizens group.

The owners of WCBM, a talk radio station, want to replace the station's four towers outside Owings Mills with six new ones on the Harold Mercer farm off Hoods Mill Road near the Carroll/Howard county line.

The station's attorney, Joe LaVerghetta, said Wednesday the Mangione family, owners of the station and Turf Valley Hotel and Country Club outside Ellicott City, need to build new towers to serve a wider geographic area. To do so, they need to strengthen the radio station's signal. The current towers, which can be seen from Interstate 795, were built almost 50 years ago. The Mangiones have operated WCBM since October 1988.

WCBM's market has "moved ... beyond where the station can service," LaVerghetta said. "In order to better serve that Baltimore service market, the station needs to move."

It's uncertain, he said, if the station's offices and studios would relocate.

The tower plan doesn't sit well with Harold Paine, co-chairman of the South Carroll Citizens Committee. The group is fresh off its most recent victory of blocking a gun range proposed for the Hoods Mill Landfill off Md. 97.

"My initial reaction is it's not something I would like to have towering over my house," said Paine, who lives off Md. 97 near Hoods Mill Road.

Paine said he'd heard a golf course and a housing development might be built on the Mercer property.

"It's kind of a shock," said Paine. "This is something that just came up."

The Mangiones need permission from the Carroll County Board of Zoning Appeals to build the slender towers on the land zoned for agriculture and conservation. The board is expected to hear the case in two weeks. Claude Rash, chair of the board, is the brother of Harold Mercer's wife, Esther. Rash is expected to excuse himself from the proceedings.

Harold and Esther Mercer, who opposed the gun range, said Monday in front of their 18th century house that they carefully considered the proposal to build the towers on their nearly 400-acre property.

"It's not harmful; it's not noisy," said Esther Mercer. "We didn't think it would bother anybody."

"We're going to live here," she said. "We wouldn't want something that's going to be a nuisance."

The Mercers have been trying to sell their land for several years, said William Dulany, their attorney. The family plans to keep about five acres, which includes the house.

The Mangiones have the remaining 390 acres under contract. The towers would be located at three different spots on a total of 70 acres in the agricultural zone. About 250 of the acres are rented to farmers.

LaVerghetta said the Mangiones don't know what they will do with the remaining acres, but a golf course isn't in the plans.

"All we're looking to do is get that land, get that use and that's it," LaVerghetta said.

A public hearing on the issue will be held by the Board of Zoning Appeals on Sept. 28 at 10:30 a.m. in Room 07 of the Carroll County Office Building, 225 N. Center St., Westminster.

WCBM plans to build six radio towers

Zoning approval needed to construct near Sykesville

55-acres wanted

Board scheduled to hear the case on Sept. 28

Six 350-foot radio towers could soon rise above a South Carroll cornfield if WCBM-AM wins county zoning approval to build on a 55-acre parcel near Sykesville.

Nicholas Mangione, owner of the Owings Mills station, has submitted plans to buy all but five of the 389 acres that 80-year-old Harold Mercer has farmed on Hoods Mill Road for most of his life. Mr. Mercer and his wife will continue living in the 200-year-old home on the property.

Mr. Mangione must win conditional use approval to construct the towers on agricultural land. The Board of Zoning Appeals will hear the case Sept. 28.

"The towers will be on the back of the property and separated from us by a lot of trees," Mr. Mercer said. "We have no fear of the towers. We wouldn't let anything destroy the neighborhood."

William B. Dulany, the attorney for Mr. Mercer, plans to meet this week with neighbors of the proposed project to diffuse opposition.

The property is a little more than a mile west of Sykesville, where town officials and residents have battled the construction of a 200-foot telecommunications tower for nearly two years. The town has appealed the case to the Maryland Court of Special Appeals.

"A 350-foot tower will be visible from Timbuktu," said Matthew [See Tower, 5b]

H. Candland, Sykesville town manager. An agreement between the county and its eight municipalities requires Carroll to keep town officials apprised of projects in their planning areas. The radio station's plans arrived in Sykesville's Town House on Thursday but the town Planning Commission cannot meet to review them until after the zoning appeals board hearing, Mr. Candland said.

Each tower must be at least 550 feet from any dwelling, according to the county's tower ordinance, adopted last year. No regulations exist for how far one tower must be from another, however. County officials said the towers would have to be equipped with flashing aircraft warning lights.

Lynne Dugan, a Hoods Mill Road resident for six years, said she wouldn't object to radio towers near her home.

"They are not a nuisance, won't generate traffic or need more public utilities," she said. "They may be unsightly, but they are necessary."

Harold Paine, a member of the South Carroll Citizens Committee, said that he and 32 adjoining landowners to the proposed site will oppose the structures.

"No. 1, they certainly will screw up the landscape," Mr. Paine said. "We absolutely don't want them here."

Although the citizens' group is fresh from winning a fight against a proposed county-run shooting range, members acknowledge that opposing WCBM may prove more difficult. "Here, you're dealing with private landowners, not politicians," Mr. Paine said.

Dan Hughes, a founder of Solutions for a Better South Carroll, another group of community activists, said Friday that the tower proposal is symptomatic of what is wrong with the way the county is developing. "They're fresh off fighting a gun range, and now they find out about this," Mr. Hughes said. "It's almost never-ending. I wish them luck, but by the time the public finds out about these things, it's almost always too late."

Joseph C. LaVerghetta, WCBM's attorney, said he is prepared for opposition to the project. "We chose the property because it fits in with our engineering demands," he said.

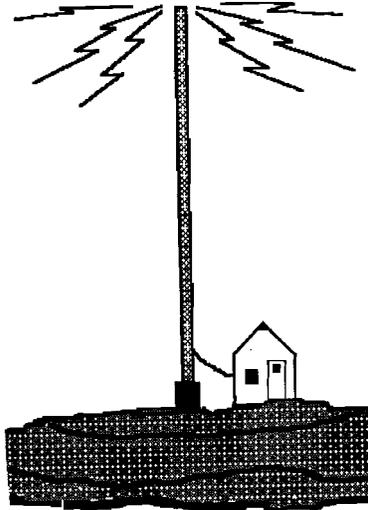

The all-talk station has outgrown the four towers it built in Owings Mills nearly 50 years ago, when that area was considered the far reaches of its market.

"Our market has migrated," Mr. LaVerghetta said. "We can't even reach Timonium and Cockeysville now."

The station ranks 12th out of 22 in overall ratings, according to Arbitron, drawing about 14,000 listeners in an average quarter-hour.

Although Mr. Mercer has had his property on the market for a few years, he has refused offers to divide it, including the station's first bid to buy 70 acres.

Neighbors also are concerned with what Mr. Mangione could do with the remaining property. But Mr. LaVerghetta said there are no plans for the remaining 300-plus acres. It would be difficult to rezone from agricultural, Mr. Dulany said.

The saga of WCBM is likely to be repeated across the country as once-plentiful and cheap land is gradually covered with homes whose owners have had a dream of living in the country in a home with a view. Is a bucolic vista, sans 350-foot towers, a right which takes precedence over the necessary operation of a business? (And what about that RF on their toasters ... ?) Stay tuned!

Zoning law offered to block radio towers

Six tall AM radio towers proposed for a Woodbine farm have roused strong opposition from neighboring county owners.

Now the County Commissioners appear ready to join South Carroll residents in fighting the towers.

An amendment to Carroll County Zoning Ordinance No. 1E — the tower ordinance — was proposed Monday. It would confine the building of communication towers to industrial zones, and there only as a special use.

If passed, the amendment would effectively block WCBM-AM's proposal to build six 350-foot-tall towers on Harold and Esther Mercer's farm near Hoods Mill Road. That property is zoned for agricultural and conservation uses.

"Roughly 32 percent of the homes built in Carroll County are in the agricultural and conservation zones," said Commissioner Ben Brown, who proposed the amendment. "That's a lot of people living in those zones."

At a community meeting on Thursday, a crowd of more than 100 citizens informed the commissioners of their concerns about the towers. They also pointed out that the existing county ordinance did not address "antenna farms" such as the six WCBM towers.

Brown agreed with the citizens that the ordinance may need to be modified, but didn't guarantee that it would happen in time to prevent the proposed towers.

Now, he thinks there is a good chance the towers could be stopped.

"I anticipate that we could enact this ordinance before the applicant has a permit to proceed. I would think within 30 to 40 days," Brown said. "As of now, he [the owner] doesn't have a right to put the towers up."

Louis Mangione and his family, the owners of Turf Valley Country Club and WCBM-AM, a talk-radio station, have proposed building the towers on 70 acres at the Mercer's farm. The towers would replace four towers in Owings Mills and provide a larger audience for the station.

After a monthlong postponement, the Carroll County Board of Zoning Appeals heard testimony Monday from supporters of the towers, who are seeking a conditional use permit to build the towers. The testimony is expected to continue on Nov. 9 despite the proposed amendment.

"We're obviously going to go on with the hearings," said William B. Dulany, the Westminster attorney representing the applicant and the Mercers. He was concerned about the commissioners' amendment proposal, however.

"The way they wave the American flag isn't American," Dulany said. "The Carroll County Commissioners can't pass an ordinance every time something happens."

"Though the amendment is not directed at the business community, Dulany believes they'll take note of it."

"Anybody interested in putting commercial or industrial businesses in this county who sees this kind of thing happen is going to write it off," Dulany said. "They are not going to come into a political climate. Where's the stability?"

A public hearing on the proposed amendment is scheduled for Nov. 13 at 9 a.m. in Room 07 of the Carroll County Office Building.

Some of you have been asking if there will be a written report from Newfoundland 4. The answer is that all six reporters' logs are being combined and "harmonized" (a Biblical scholar's term for combining the four gospels without repetition) by Mark Connelly. Biblical scholars have been taking centuries for the task, but Mark is doing it in less than a month! It's been time-consuming because each participant has had to review many hours of tape cassettes. Mark hopes to have the final version prepared for distribution this weekend. Amen!

Jim speaks: "I've finally set up a longwire along the treeline outside of my church office in rural Bergen NY. The noise at home pushed me to this extreme measure. It's about 200 feet long, but the treeline is N/S, so not really well-situated for TAs. I've attached my ground wire to a lightning rod downlead (hope that's OK!). Got some hets on the first afternoon. Since there are no moose in the area, I may run a wire E/W along the ground across the neighboring farmer's field, but I'll wait until he parks all of his tractors for the winter."

- on LSB. Engineered co-existence? Turks uses the Kahn one-sideband AM transmission standard which puts 90-95% of audio one sideband only. This apparently proves you can get two stations on one channel (Independent sideband - ISB). [Stutterheim-NY] (Steve Whitt, on Sheigra DXpedition says this changed from 532 to 535 between NOV 1 and NOV 2, and tonight, NOV 10, Matt Stutterheim called to say they are back on 532 again! - Jim)

- 720 UNID, NOV 2250 - Two men in SS announcing futbol sports event, repeated references to Maracaibo, assume YVQE. [Stutterheim-NY]
- 740 NICARAGUA YNRS Managua, OCT 19 1045 - Fair under KRMG, CBL and KTRH with apparent sign-on at this unusual time. Nicaraguan anthem, followed by "... YNRS ...desde Managua ... la República de Nicaragua ...". I believe this is the same transmitter as the old YNX-750 which used to get out so widely. [Francis-TN]
- 750 VENEZUELA, YVKS, Caracas, NOV 3 0155 - booming in with Radio Caracas Radio and "RCR" ID's. [MC/TB-MA]

- 770 COLOMBIA, RCN, HJIX, Bogotá, NOV 3 0155 - excited SS talk // 760; atop WABC at times. Other SS Latin Americans under. NOV 3 0225 - SS RCN program // 1000; excellent. [MC/TB-MA]
- 789.8 BARBADOS, Bridgetown, NOV 3 0202 - definite calypso/soca music & fragments of apparent Carib-EE talk barely separable from hard-to-null WLKW- 790. Regeneration was needed to cut audio away from 790 and there was too much slop to get a firm ID. This had been logged on the October NF DXpedition. There was a weak growl of about 60 Hz against this (maybe the Argentinian). [MC/TB-MA] (According to Steve Whitt, also noted by the UK DXpedition going on right now. - 870 ARGENTINA?, NOV 4 2300 - While listening fro Dominican Republic, heard time pips on hour, under jumble of signals. To my knowledge only one station on this channel does that: LRA-1 Buenos Aires. Considering the early hour, an indication of good conditions. DXedge shows dusk in BA at that time in NOV. [Stutterheim-NY] (Before WHCU went 24 hrs, I heard those pips about 7 years ago, and they used pips several weeks ago when we heard them in NF - Jim)

Fair/steady, with little QSB, much QRM from 900 kHz. [Thresher-RI] OCT 30 0156 - With EE religious service, sign-off with anthem at 0200. - 1498.2 unID, NOV 3 0003 - het. [MC/TB-MA]
- 1500 VENEZUELA, R. Dos Mil, YVRZ, Cumana, NOV 3 0008 - festive music, R. Dos Mil ID; to good peaks with WTOP phased. [MC/TB-MA]
- 1505 ANGUILLA, The Valley - NOV 2 2345 - woman in EE; poor to fair with WNRB phased. [MC/TB-MA]
- 1520.08 unID, NOV 3 0015 - strong het against 1520. On 1520 there were two Latin Americans (likely YVIC/WRAI) battling WWKB. [MC/TB-MA] 1540 BAHAMAS ZNS-1, Nassau, OCT 1 2102 - Radio Bahamas ID heard during announcements, woman with birth announcements, personal announcements, reading letters requesting pen-pals, etc., playing a few pop music songs. Fair with slow fading, QRM from KXEL. First time I definitely heard this one; nice to have WPTR off for a change. [Thresher-RI] NOV 2 2335 - Bahamas weather, Jolly Roger Carpet ad, Wendy's ad, then "ZNS Network News"; very good with WDCD (ex-WPTR) phased. [MC/TB-MA]
- 1630 "WJTS" UNID - first of all, the call letters heard by David Crawford were "WJTS", but programming is Caribbean Christian Radio (merely CCR feed from satellite?). The mystery continues. [Terry Krueger/DX South Florida via e-mail] Got a reasonable DF null from 1630 this morning using the Scotka ferrite, roughly 40/220 degrees, in absence of the navaid signal. Gerry gets NW/SE from Eglin, Potter gets N/S from Leningrad. I don't think our measurements would pass a chi-squared statistical test, but they MIGHT indicate something in the Crystal River area, which is consistent with a 1500 UTC fadeout time here for a low power transmitter. Same fadeout time precludes a Caribbean location (I can't even get a decent sig this far inland from Radio Tafno past 1400 UTC), unless there are actually two unknown stations on the freq. If it's this close, it has to be quite low power given the peak signal levels, on the order of 20 watts I'd SWAG. This is also consistent with the fact that the FCC has never heard of them. Therefore, this station has to be a pirate. Somewhat presumptuous logic, so feel free to find the flaws in it. If I can convince myself that it's worth sitting in a car for 3 or 4 hours, might take a drive down to Crystal River area after my afternoon siesta, er class, and see if anything shows up. Will post a full report. Did the previously threatened road trip this afternoon and the station is not in Crystal River nor anywhere between here and there. So, when do we all want to sign up for DF school? Rough bearing taken roadside in Crystal River still had the station on a 30 to 40 degree azimuth, so evidently the station is actually to the NNE/NE of here. Path was GNV SW on 24 to Otter Creek, then 5 on 19 to Crystal River, then back north to Red Level, 488 NE to Dunnellon, 41 N to Williston, then 121 back to GNV. Signals picked up a little due to setting sun as I got close to CR, but never any better than weak, and the bearings were pretty consistent the whole way. I still haven't figured out how to stand on the road shoulder with a Scotka loop and the 2010 without looking like a freak worthy of arrest. Next idea, anyone? I'm going to call FCC Vero Beach in a few minutes and see if they know anything (and also seal the station's fate, probably). [David Crawford via Terry Krueger/DXSF] 1630 coming in pretty steady as I type, no ID but note that it's NOT parallel 1020 Caribbean Christian Radio audio from Turks. My question: how many times have (any of you) noted this NOT parallel? Or is there a CCR-2 audio feed out there? Essentially a waste of pennies. The watch officer wasn't aware of station, but to his credit he duly referenced his sources and found no WJTS/1630 or near 107.9-ish listings (not that we didn't know that already). He fired up a receiver near the phone for me to hear, and I must say I was happy to know that my rigs work better that theirs: he had the navaid pulser well, but almost nada from the broadcaster-proper. Crawford's bearings pretty much coincide with my rough/quick bearings last week of NNE/SSW. [Terry Krueger/DXSF e-mail] (Dave Braun and I aren't sure where to run this in DXN, as it fits DDXD and IDXD turf requirements, but I thought you would enjoy the details of the "hunt" - Jim)

Mark speaks: "Comments: The DX session at Tom's house barely scratched the surface on the Latin American DX rolling in at the time. Most channels had multiple-station piles that had Caribbean / South American signals too close in strength to allow easy ID extraction. Tom's site has at least 20 dB of gain to the south versus the Billerica QTH."

STATION NEWS

Thanks to the Sheigra DXpedition (via Medium Wave News) for some of the following news items. Steve Whitt notes, "DX heard from Alaska down to Argentina and most points in between. Nine new UK FIRSTS logged and identified in first week of a four week DX-pedition to Sheigra, NW Scotland. Tentative logging made of HCJB DX test - tape needs analysing to resolve a suspected Morse signal. Full report will appear in next issue of Medium Wave News."

BARBADOS: Voice of Barbados is off channel on 789.8kHz. Heard as late as 0800 UTC so probably 24hr operation now. [Sheigra DX-pedition via Medium Wave News] (As observed in Newfoundland in OCT - Jim)

NETHERLANDS: On their first official day on air OCT 17, Veronic Nieuws Radio (VNR) on 1395 started to relay the daily Dutch program from Deutsche Welle at 1807-1837. [Michael Schaay in MWN NOV 95] The present schedule is from 0700-1900 local time. [Tony Champion in MWN NOV 95]

TURKS & CAICOS: Radio Vision Cristiana moved from 532kHz to 535kHz sometime between 1st & 2nd November. Now on 535 only on USB (it is possible to hear R. Grenada on 535 LSB). [Sheigra DX-pedition via Medium Wave News] (And now, NOV 10, back on 532 again! - Jim)

PUERTO RICO: WRSJ 1560kHz Bayamón, Puerto Rico is now a full time English-language all-news station. Currently listed as Spanish Easy Listening format. [Sheigra DX-pedition via Medium Wave News]

UNID: 1450kHz using slogans like "Today's hits.. continuous hits", "More hit songs back to back" music like Bon Jovi, U2, Bruce Springsteen, Sting, Cher, Eric Clapton. Mostly back to back records, some short sung jingles. Jingle instead of US-style legal ID at 0800 (unfortunately only weakly heard). Also heard slogan by Latin American accented female (in English) possibly with reference to Cuba. Heard this station at 0558 UTC NOV 3 0747 UTC NOV 4. Propagation at time of reception was strongly to Caribbean & S America. This signal never was strong but had some good peaks. Don't think this is Bermuda - VSB heard around 2200-2300 most nights and carries a country music format. Could this be Radio Maboja, Cuba?? [Sheigra DX-pedition via Medium Wave News]

AN UNUSUAL TIP

Some years ago my wife and I drove to the Canadian Rockies in our new car. Before the return trip home we had the car hoisted up to change the oil. The attendant called our attention to the bottom of the car, where the anti-rust undercoating had been completely nibbled away by some animal! What animal could ever be this hungry? Up in the California Sierras this summer we witnessed marmots eating hoses and wiring in the engine compartment of cars. This leads up to a tip I just read from Arthur Owen in Medium Wave News, who described another DXer's problem with moose and other toothy animals eating the insulation off of ground-level antenna wires. It seems that they are attracted to the smell of new insulated wire, and that they leave alone older wire. So the tip is this: buy your wire well in advance and let it sit outside for a few months!

PIRACY: Avoiding the Long Arm

by John D. Bowker

Part III

Recap (If you did not read Parts I & II, here is what you missed): Pirate radio is okay if you do not get caught. The purpose of this series is to keep you from getting caught! We have begun to find how the FCC rules permit operating a broadcasting station without a license. And now, Part III.

In our last installment we learned how one section of the FCC's Rules teach about going on the air on the AM broadcast band legally without any license. The tricks are (1) to keep the radiation from your antenna rather low, and (2) to select an antenna that goes wherever you want to be heard .. such as the regular electric lines, or even a small wire you string yourself!

You may have wondered when we were going to get to FM systems. Well, we are there now but, unfortunately, you will note that this is a very short paragraph. The FCC pretty much restricts you to service within your own premises on any FM broadcast frequencies. There is no legal way to cover a substantial number of people without a license on FM. And, by the way, operating within the f.m. band but transmitting on an "in-between" frequency such as 88.2 or 97.8 MHz, does not change their power limits at all.

The easiest way to describe what they allow is to point out that the FM Wireless Microphones you can buy here and there stretch the rules pretty well. You may know these little devices can barely be picked up two doors away in most cases. What happens if you add wire to the little stub antenna on a wireless mic? Probably nothing. What happens when you cheat on your Income Tax? Probably nothing. Just do not get caught.

Who is going to catch you? Probably not the FCC. No, it can be worse than that. You see, anyone with an FM license has really been put through the wringer, and they're sure not going to let someone steal audience from them without a major fight (maybe even a civil suit for stealing?)

To go on the air legally with an FM broadcast station requires extensive engineering plots, money, maps of signal contours, money, legal assurances, money, and about a three-year processing time. What most people don't realize is that the first step is to petition for a change in the FCC Rules! So in order to build a new FM station, it usually means you have to request that a new channel be assigned to your city. If the FCC says "okay" (takes about a year), then anybody can apply for a station on "your" channel! The actual application processing then takes a year or even more. So do not get caught FM pirating. Too many local interests have too much to lose to let you go on the air illegally.

But wait! There is more to this FM business!!

It is called cable radio. This concept has been around for years and, in a few places, has proven successful. Basically, you make a deal with the local cable tv operator to put your programs on his cable at some "dead" spot on the fm dial. If you have any luck finding such a dead spot, terrific! But the bigger hurdle will be to convince the cable operator that it's a good idea. If you go to the operator by yourself, you'll probably get nowhere. If you go as a representative of your school, or of the town council, or of your apartment association, you might just find they'll listen. After all, they want to make money by having people subscribe to their cable and all the little exclusive extras they can market work to their advantage. So you should sell your idea for a local cable radio station in terms of how it will benefit the operator.

Sure, it takes a bit more work, but if you promote such a venture properly (high school sports, local news, interviews with local people, association meetings, etc., etc.) people will begin to listen. And if you would like to chat about this, drop me a line at PO Box 1279, Valparaiso, IN 46384 or to RADIOJOHN@AOL.COM Next time I will tell you all about T.I.S. -- Travelers Information Stations. There was an article in DX News (January 30, 1995 from Bill Hale) that you may find revealing. I will discuss what some of the jargon in the FCC Rules means and we will see if maybe you want to be a hero in your home town!

BRANSON INFORMATION RADIO, 1340 AM, a 1000 watt non-directional, unrestricted station out of Springfield, Missouri, is powered up and ready to greet visitors before they reach Branson.
The ONLY all information station in the Ozarks, Branson Info Radio is a continuous feed, two hour information loop focusing on shows, logging, camping, special events, dining and more!

What does this mean for you? Glad you asked. It means that advertisers can now directly reach their target market, the Branson area vacationer, hours before they reach the music mecca at just the right time for decision making. Any marketing or promotions director in the area knows that the "Branson Pie" has been cut into smaller pieces and advertising in the correct places can make or break a business season.

Vonda Milton, Sales and Marketing Director for BRANSON INFORMATION RADIO said, "85% of the traffic coming to Branson goes through Springfield and with BRANSON INFO RADIO we can reach them at least one hour outside of Springfield before they are bombarded by the glitz and glamor of Branson".

Vonda, originally from Oklahoma and a long time vacationer to Branson formerly with the Alliance Press, publishers of All Roads Lead To Branson said, "We are an information station and our job is not to entertain (Editor's note: the station will be fun to listen to, offering comedy segments, Branson trivia, notification of special events and more) but to reach people with area information that will make their vacation more enjoyable".

BRANSON INFO RADIO

is very similar to the AM station outside of Disney World. They promote all of the attractions in their market and we will do the same for Branson and the Ozarks", Vonda said.

How will people know to turn on to 1340 AM?

"Brian, we have 14 billboards going up, five of them are on I-44, two on 160, one on Hwy 13, one on Hwy 65 North with two going south and one on Hwy 60", Vonda replied.

BRANSON INFO RADIO will use Travel Host Magazine (Branson's number 1 "in room" publication) and Music Country News, Branson's Premier Newspaper, to reach people locally and have over 1500 rack card locations outside of Branson to alert people to the station on their way to the Live Entertainment Capitol of The World.

"We are not affiliated with any other radio station nor is it our goal to compete with other area stations. We are an information station geared for and targeting the tourist market", Vonda noted.

BRANSON INFO RADIO has the capability to produce quality, cost effective advertisements and will air independent

ently produced ads as well. "We will promote Branson as a city full of friendly, helpful people and will reach folks traveling the highways who might not be coming to Branson as well. After hearing Branson Info Radio and what we have to offer, people can plan a future trip or even decide to make this area their home", Vonda said.

With so many places to go and things to do in the Country Music Capitol of the World, BRANSON INFO RADIO, 1340 AM is "Your Total Vacation Station"!

Greetings all ... Nashville radio talk show hosts Teddy Bart and Karlen Evins say they have exercised their option to buy WKDA-AM (1,000 watts) from Dick Broadcasting, owner of Nashville's WKDF-FM and WGFX-FM. They are expected to move into the old studios of WWTN-FM, recently purchased by Gaylord Broadcasting, owner of WSM-AM/FM. WWTN was to move to WSM-FM's studios. WSM-FM is now broadcasting from the Opryland USA theme park, also owned by Gaylord. Bart and Evins, who are now doing mornings on WKDA, are former talk show hosts at WWTN and WLAC-AM. Brent Stoker, former promotions director at WSM, will become WKDA's general manager ... Rhett Walker, former sidekick and newsmen for Coyote McCloud's morning zoo crew at WYHY-FM, is now hosting mornings at Nashville's WRMX-FM (oldies) ... WWCS-540, Canonsburg, has expanded their BBC World Service, programming from 5:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. This change drops their airing of the "Arab Network of America," a syndicated Arabic music and information program ... KKH1-1510, San Rafael, operated by Mount Wilson FM Broadcasters, has dropped the classical simulcast of their FM to Jazz programming. They have changed their call to KNOB and ID'ing as "The jazz knob" ... Long-time Bay Area talk show host Lee Rodgers, who left the market about two years ago to take a mid-morning gig at KIRO Seattle, has returned to the San Francisco market to do morning drive at all-conservative KSFO-560. Rodgers was previously on co-owned KGO AM 810 in the evenings ... On June 5th, WBT (1110 AM 50kW) started simulcasting on WBZK-FM in Chester, SC. WBT, based in Charlotte, NC, is owned by Jefferson-Pilot Communications, which made the decision to purchase the Chester station to fill a void in its coverage area west of Charlotte, and also to allow them to broadcast both the Charlotte Hornets and the Carolina Panthers at the same time if games by the two Charlotte pro sports teams ever occur at the same time. WBT expected to change WBZK-FM's call letters to

WBT-FM. The existing WBT-FM was to receive new call letters ... Sharp-eyed NRC'er Dave Braun reports that Bill Trumbull recently celebrated his 35th anniversary at WMAL-630 ... BTW, if you want to e-mail Bill his AOL address is BillT620 ... Joe Madison's WWRC talk show has recently been expanded and may be heard weeknights from 8 to midnight, pushing syndicated talker Bruce Williams to a weekend slot ... Reel Talk Radio? A new radio has hit the market for those talkshow addicts who don't want to miss their favorite gabber. The tower-type radio has an LCD display and a quarter speed cassette deck, thus allowing for four hours of compressed audio recording. Another model for music listeners is under development. For more information contact Reel Talk at 1-800-766-TALK (8255) ... Casey Kasem recently celebrated his 25th anniversary as a Top 40 countdown radio host ... Los Angeles-market radiophiles may want to check out a new publication titled "Los Angeles Radio People." This 222-page paperback looks back at the personalities that have hit the airwaves during the 1957-1994 time frame. Lots of trivia. The book is available through db Marketing, (818) 773-2255 ... From the where-are-they department, Joey Reynolds has surfaced in California, as president of Cutler Productions a radio syndicator, now getting into the television production side of the business ... NRC'er Brent Taylor reports from Canada that CFNB-570 and CIHI-1260 are now under the same management but different owners. Both stations are in Fredericton. Sort of a Canadian version of the duopolies down here is the states ... I love small markets, as that is where you learn your craft and hone your skills, doing a little bit of everything. Here is a little tidbit: I note that Susan Ethridge is the new Music Director of WDRM in Huntsville, Alabama. Her previous job at the station ... receptionist ... KIRO-AM will no longer be simulcast on their FM sister ... WPCG has dropped its all business in favor of hip-hop Flava ... Another politico has hit the airwaves, Gary Hart's Heartland has premiered on KOA in Denver. He's be heard Sunday evenings from 7 to 8 pm local time ... John Gambling's new on-air sidekick at WOR in the mornings is Ozzie Philips. Ozzie's previous gig was on a tiny station in New London, Connecticut ... The FCC has ruled that stations may "channel" political spots deemed indecent or too graphic for times when children may not be listening or viewing. While some will scream of political censorship, viewing some of the anti-abortion ads promoted by a tiny fringe politician element during dinner time, isn't appreciated by many, regardless of their political beliefs ... Westwood One is now offering 24-hour talk programming on weekends ... Did you know that baseball superstar Jeff Bagwell's wife is Shaune Bagwell, who is half of the Beau & Bagwell evening team on KKQB in Houston? ... Doc Wells has given up the all night gig in Birmingham, NY in favor of moving cross town to WGRG for an afternoon drive tour ... The Electronic Industries Association has allocated a half million dollars for the promotion of RDS, Radio Data System ... WMGI in Terre Haute is now a CHR station ... The FCC news regs are allowing 65 stations to up their power. While most station changes will be the 10 to 20 kw range, some stations will see dramatic increases, as in the case of KFWB and WWRC, both going to 50,000 watts ... Financial talkshow host Sonny Bloc and WOR have been slapped with a lawsuit over their promotion of wireless cable television. Investment fraud is alleged according to Newsday ... Bloc and WOR claim they are not responsible for their sponsors ... On the Urban scene, WBLS in New York City has blasted their programming rival WRKS by calling it a Plantation Station, in essence a Black station owned by whites. Such racial slurs aired recently when WBLS said "WBLS is and continues to be a black-owned and operated radio station. There are some radio stations out there that are faking the funk, and are just the opposite, you know what I am saying?" They go on to say "If you know some brothers and sisters who are listening to those plantation stations, ask them who you gonna support? Such slanderous comments have no place in society or on the radio when presented in such a fashion. This certainly isn't a class act by WBLS to be sure ... KFRC's morning man J. Paul Emmerson has left the station ... Fellow columnist John Bowker offers the following radio tidbit for your thoughts: This is the story of a 15-year-old radio station in Tampa with a quandry. WMNF-88.5 may be "in a slow demise as the area's leading outlet for progressive music" according to the Tampa Tribune. Their problem is simple to understand, but perhaps oversimplified by them. They feel their audience for such "alternative" programs is growing older, so they now plan to cut back on the underground music and lean more toward folk and acoustic music. Their only source of revenue is from their audience (pledge drives, etc.) and as their audience becomes more affluent (that is, as they mature) they stop listening to WMNF and switch over to main-stream stuff. "But cutting back will mean less exposure for new bands, and such exposure is incredibly important to music", the Tribune said. WMNF now plays 14 hours a week of alternative rock music; they will be cutting back to less than 6 hours according to present plan. "They think the changes will increase contributions to the station, but they'll also reduce the overall diversity of the station" said the owner of the Daddy Kool record store in nearby Sarasota, according to the Tribune. So Bowker worries: What's a station to do that caters to a young audience? Don't know. As the management of a station grows older, its ability to select what's right for a younger audience diminishes .. so there's no easy or obvious solution ... Don & Mike are out at WHTK in Rochester, NY. In their place the Fabulous Sports Babe ... Tom Leykis is now being carried on WGY ... NRC'er Greg Hanson reports that The Greaseman, Doug Tracht is doing comedy at clubs in NY, Atlanta, DC and Philly ... NPR's Morning Edition recently celebrated its 15th anniversary. It is currently aired on 437 stations with an estimated listenership of over 7 million ... WTOP listeners may be interested to know that 37-year radio vet Jamie Bragg's real name is Casper James App ... Frank Harden recently signed a three-year contract, which at its completion will give him a 50 year run at WMAL ... After discussing Internet many times in this column, an issue of R&R had an article on why radio stations should be using it to enhance ratings. Yes ... The NRC again ahead of the curve ... Radio vet Pat St. John has signed on with CBS Radio to host Live From the House of Blues Presented by Pontiac Sunfire. Nothing like a sponsor getting in on the title ... Dav-O is now on KYGO as the afternoon driver in Denver ... Kelli Austin is now doing the afternoon news anchor chores on WHIO in Akron ... Yolanda Gaskins has replaced the talk team of Smiley & Naravette on KMPC ... The call KQLL moves to the FM side of the radio ...
