You got it ... still no volunteer to take over as NRC CPC chairperson. What are you doing that's so important that you can't set five hours or less a week aside to be NRC CPC chairman? Training and materials are included with this offer, but it may expire soon (like, at the end of the DX season).

From the Publisher ... Last week we saw the return of Bruce Conti's "Target DX" column, and this week sees the welcome resurrection of "DDXA", which I've taken over as a counterpoint to "IDXA", and the return of "For Beginners", edited by Jack Woods.

From Mike Hardester comes information of an interesting WWW site:

<<<http://www.indo.com/distance/>>

Says Mike, "This site will calculate distances between two points based on zip code, city/state name, or geographic coordinates. It will give the distance in miles or kilometers, the bearing to/from the two sites, and it will show you the two locations on a map. It indicates that it can also calculate distances to non-US sites, but I didn't try that. This may not be as accurate as using GCD calculations/computer programs, but for general information, it should be helpful to most DXers."

Don't forget Ray and Arlene Arruda's 20th annual Thanksgiving GTG to be held in The Lower Deck - 47 Burt Street - Acushnet, MA on Saturday, Nov. 23 from noon to ??.

And our tax dollars at work:

DX Time Machine

From the pages of DX News:

50 years ago ... from the November 2, 1946 DXN: It was reported in the July, 1946 issue of Sylvantia that L. L. Ash, President of WBCA (FM), Schenectady, NY predicted that FM would replace AM in two years except in rural areas where service would continue to be provided by 50 kW AM stations.

25 years ago ... from the November 6, 1971 DXN: Harry Helms, Jr., Fort Mill, SC reported reactivating himself on the AM band and receiving KGGF-690 loud and completely without QRM at 7:20 am Oct. 20 on his Realistic TRF.

10 years ago ... from the November 3, 1986 DXN: Gene Martin, Denver, CO, reported on his various summertime loggings of JOIK-747, Japan. He commented: "...The main circumstance which prevents Japan - and the other Northern Asiatics - from being heard in Denver [on some days] is an outbreak of auroral conditions once there is a path of darkness from here to there. This is drastically different from reception of Northern Europe, closer to Denver than Japan, but that TA reception is knocked out on occasion by the famous midwinter anomaly as well as by auroral activity. Finally, isn't the MWA only a Trans-Atlantic phenomenon with no effect at all on reception of Northern Asiatics?"

The KIWA Pocket Loop Antenna by Guy Atkins

This is another clever accessory from Kiwa Electronics that makes me wonder, "Why didn't I think of that?!" While it won't fit in your average shirt or pants pocket, it can be tucked neatly out of the way in a large coat or parka.

The Pocket Loop is an air-core antenna designed to improve reception of portable receivers. The antenna elements are made of copper-coated spring steel wire, otherwise known as "piano wire". Collapsed the loop measures 4" x 5" x 3", but it will easily spring to life a full 12" in diameter. The wire elements have sufficient tension to support themselves, yet are flexible enough to collapse again and again into a compact package for transport. The entire assembly appears sturdy enough for many years of regular use.

Signal transfer to the receiver is done by a special coupler, or by a direct cable connection. The coupler is for portable receivers having a shortwave whip antenna, and/or an internal ferrite bar antenna.

The coupler is placed against the outside of the receiver case (Velcro fasteners provided), near the ferrite bar antenna, or over the end of the whip if shortwave enhancement is desired. The supplied direct cable is used with communications receivers having a high-impedance (hi-Z) antenna input. The Pocket Loop cannot work with a 50-ohm antenna input.

The antenna's front panel tilts forward for easy operation and access to the tuning range switches (small "DIP" switches). Power requirements are very low at 12 ma via a 9v dc battery, so the loop should run a long time before a battery change is needed. Frequency coverage is from 530 kHz through 23 MHz in four ranges of 530-1800 kHz, 1.8-7 MHz, 5-20 MHz, and 18-23 MHz. The antenna has a built-in "noise generator" to aid in the tuning of signals, and this feature really adds to the easy operation of the Pocket Loop. The loop's internal amplifier is quiet and has good gain, while the sharp tuning helps the loop resist overloading.

I have used the loop with a GE Superadio II for mediumwave, and an AOR AR7030 for shortwave and mediumwave reception. The results were very good with both receivers, and an added bonus is the capability to null local noise sources by careful positioning of the Pocket Loop. On almost all shortwave signals, the loop outperformed a 45 ft. long randomwire antenna but couldn't compete with the "serious" outdoor antennas I use for tropical band DXing (an unrealistic expectation for a small portable antenna). For mediumwave when using the special coupler and the Superadio II, the difference was sometimes dramatic. Signals I could barely hear at all with the ferrite rod antenna became easily readable at good signal levels with the Pocket Loop.

The Kiwa Pocket Loop makes an excellent accessory for the radio hobbyist or traveller. It costs $120 plus shipping direct from Kiwa Electronics, or it can be purchased through the major hobby mail order outlets. My thanks go to Craig at Kiwa for loan of the Pocket Loop for review. ### MEDIUM WAVE RAMBLINGS

- ☐ Things are picking up nicely. Even a sibling challenge! Charlie's letter barely made it. Somehow the USPS managed to come pretty close to destroying it, but I'm pretty good a jigsaw puzzles. Hopefully I got it back to near-original condition.
- ☐ Remember, deadlines here are the weekend prior to those printed as "Topeka deadlines". Let's here from ewe!!
- ☐ Welcome to first-time reporter Art Blair of Orangevale, California. Art graces us with some great loggings from his QTH 15 miles northeast of Sacramento. Good to have you aboard, Art.
- ☐ I hate to sound like a broken record (or in this day and age would it be a mis-firing CD?), but reports lacking ALL pertinent info bring scorn and @#%$^!(*& language from my lips. In the last couple of weeks I've received loggings with only call and frequency, frequency and city, city and state. Which means I have to look up the missing data. C'mon folks. Give me a break. I feel inclined to print exactly what is reported, but feel the readership deserves better. I may have the time, but lack the patience to look up missing call, city, state info. So please conform to the standard, and report your loggings in the same manner seen in the pages of DX News. Not by date. Not by state/province. Not by whatever order you've received them. You have only a few loggings to organize. I have, some issues, in excess of one hundred. Thanks
- ☐ (And the publisher says, if it isn't of use to DX'ers, we don't print it; and Bill and all editors have that discretion and my support if they have to edit out any submission that does not contain enough information ... even if it means that the offended member drops out of the NRC. That, unfortunately, happened a couple of months ago when (1) missing information in a potential DXChange item was not provided upon my request, and I refused to run it, and (2) I gently had to inform the now-ex-member that DXN was not a vanity publisher for his proposed non-DX article. Please study the listings printed below; please submit as Bill requests, so that ALL members may benefit from your DX'ing experiences. Thank you for your cooperation -pls.)

STATION NEWS

- 810 WCYK VA Crozet - 10/11 2024+ - In loud, mostly over WGY, with "Turn it on new country 99/7." This station, WKDW-900 Staunton VA, and WINF-970 Waynesboro VA, all appear to be staying on many nights with full day power/pattern. I think they may be owned and operated by the same company? I listen to Tom Leykis on WGY and am getting sick of the QRM from WCYK. (JK-VA)
- 890 WBPS MA Dedham - 10/22 0800 - Has dropped Prime Sports talk, now SS during the day with "Super Ocho-Noventa" IDs, UC oldies overnight, and still carrying some sports talk during evening drive-time. (BC-NH)
- 920 CJCJ NB Woodstock - 10/22 0103 - Presumed the one with C&W music, ID "Today's hottest stars, and the best hits on the radio, Fredericton's new country, 104.3 CJ." Are they moving to FM too? (DY-NY)
- 960 WEAV NY Plattsburgh - Silent per Internet account. (DY-NY)
- 1150 WROR MA Boston - 10/20 - Noted with "Kidstar" kiddie programming all day Sunday. (CRB-NY)
- 1160 WSKW ME Skowhegan - Now // 107.9 FM, remaining SPT, per Internet account. (DY-NY)

- 1180 WHAM NY Rochester - Now with Dr. Laura in the evenings, Bruce Williams shifted to WHTK. I think they run old tapes of her during the middle of the day, too. (JR-NY) [She's everywhere! - DY]
- 1200 WKOX MA Framingham - 10/22 0730 - "Radio Fabulosa" daytime SS and "Radio Concord" overnight FF programs have moved here from WMEX-1150. (BC-NH)
- 1280 WHTK NY Rochester - Now with Bruce Williams in the evenings, Tom Leykis gone at this time. Dropped Imus some time ago, now Bloomberg in the mornings until 1000. (JR-NY)
- 1360 WAZU OH Cincinnati - Now with CNN Headline News. (JL-OH)
- 1490 WFLB NC Fayetteville - 10/23 0930 - Noted off during trip to Fayetteville; sister station WAZZ-FM (96.5) noted loud & clear. WFLB was previously noted off during an August trip to Fayetteville, so may be silent. (MH-NC)
- 1560 WRHC FL Coral Gables - 10/14 2103 - Now here with SS programming, doing a real number sometimes on top of WQEW. Seems more like 50 kW than 4.4! I thought this was Cuba at first, then heard the WRHC calls in EE at the top of the hour. I don't think WQEW's listeners in "the fringes" will like this. (JK-VA)
- 1580 WSRF FL Fort Lauderdale - 10/21 2245-2315 and 10/22 2105-2120 - The "Coast Connection" program seems to have returned here, with Caribbean sounds, an excited male DJ, and WSRF IDs (i.e., not // WINZ-940). Promo indicates this program appears 2100-2400 Monday through Thursday. (JW-PA)

DX TESTS

- 750 KAMA TX El Paso - 10/19 0200-0230 - Heard with good burst of code (including "Paso") 0207 but not much else, very hard copy under WSB. No positive ID, but don't know who else it could be. (JL-OH) Not heard, just loud WSB, CKGB weak under neath after 0215. (DY-NY)

UNID and UNID HELP

- 900 WKDW VA Staunton - This may be DY-NY's unID in no. 2 (9/28 1830), although I've not heard any countdown shows on them. (JK-VA)
- 970 UNID - — - 10/19 2044 - ID "The Place to Be," Michael (?) and news, ID "Non-stop news 24 hours a day, this is the News Station," sports update by John (?), ID "News at 10 minutes before the hour," female announcer. Lots of IDs but no call, poor. (DC-ON) [Sounds like WJNF. - DY]
- 1090 WKTE NC King - This is probably DB-DE's unID in no. 2 (9/16 2301), though I've not listened long enough to see if they have UPI news or not. (JK-VA)
- 1120 UNID - — - 9/29 2340 - In again with CNN news, peaks over KMOX at times. No IDs heard yet. (JK-VA) [I'm still thinking WKQW, Jeff. - DY]
- 1170 UNID - — - 10/12 1922-2050 - In with "Solid Gospel," "USA Radio News," mentions of Texas, and GOS u/o WWVA. Is this WCNX-NC or KVOO? I think KVOO runs REL from time to time. When KVOO stays on day pattern "by accident," they have come in here very well. (JK-VA) [I heard the same thing, "Solid Gospel" off the bird, and USA news, on 1-20-95 from 1703-1805, without an ID. That would be too early here for KVOO, so my bet is WCNX or WCLN. Other thoughts? - DY]
- 1450 UNID - — - 10/25 2323 - Sign-off with SSB. (DY-NY)

LOGGINGS: 0000-0800

- 850 KOA CO Denver - 10/4 0000-0030 - In with strong S7-S9 signal, talk on Whitewater scandal, and "... news and weather next on 8-50 KOA, Colorado's official weather station ... traffic and weather together 15 and 45 on 8-50 KOA ... 6-2-3-85-85 is the number to call." Also in on 10/14 2252 with "Sports Radio 8-50 KOA." The slogan is no longer "News Radio 85." Becoming a nice regular visitor again; one of the few stations left that can be heard coast to coast. (JK-VA)

- + 10/22 0046 - Broncos update "15 and 45 past the hour on Sports Radio 850 KOA," good rising above WRMR, WEEI nulled. First time heard this season. (DY-NY)

- 960 CHNS NS Halifax - 10/22 0102 - Broadcast News on the hour, "GTO 960 CHNS," very good. Watch out for an ID here as CFFX is also GTO and more common; I don't think CFFX has BN on the hour, though. (DY-NY)
- 970 WBLF PA Bellefonte - 10/22 0027 - Talk program, ID "WBLF Bellefonte, the voice of Lions Country," I presume referring to Penn State Nittany Lions. Good in WWDJ null 0027. 74 watts? (DY-NY)
- 1240 WATN NY Watertown - 10/14 0755 - Good, announcer said "WATN, Good morning," into local PSA, weather. (MS-ON-2)
- 1280 WNAM WI Neenah-Menasha - 10/20 0000 - A surprise with "WNAM ... Menasha" clearly audible behind WADO's festive legal ID, believe them into ABC news briefly atop. (DY-NY)
- 1460 WEMR PA Tunkhannock - 10/16 0655 - Good with C&W music, ID as "Country Gold AM 1460 WEMR." (MS-ON-2)
- 1570 WBUG NY Amsterdam - 10/6 0054-0102 - Fair with mention of Johnstown and Gloversville, weather, "high in the mid 60's," over XERF's very faint ranchera music and Mexican NA. A thrill to hear them here, have been trying for some quite some time now. I finally "caught a BUG"! (JK-VA) [A bug I'd be happy to get rid of myself, actually! - DY]

TIS AND MISCELLANEOUS

- 1620 WPLM414 VAShenandoah National Park - 10/13 0218-0300 - Follow-up on last week's report: Two stations battling here, one a male voice announcing 1-800-972-???? (CT DoT station?), the other a 30-second loop with a female announcer, mentioning Shenandoah National Park, possible ID as WPLM414 (the 4's are established). (JR-NY) [The CT DoT does give a number that sounds like 1-800-972-RIDE (not sure about the ending) as heard here 10/23 1746. - DY]
- UNID - ——— - Yet another one being heard under these, male announcer, very weak, but mention of I-81, so perhaps another VA location too. The WPLM414 reported above sounds more like WQLM404 now, and the new one sounded something like WPLJ, but this is a rough guess. (JR-NY)

Because I will be in Newfoundland there will not be a NOV 11 IDXD deadline and the column will miss one week in DX News, #8 if my calculations are correct. The "DX Inn" at Cappahayden will be in continuous operation for the first two weeks of November, one of the biggest North American team efforts in many a year.

Our man in Brownsville, Steve Wiseblood, reports in with many from Mexico this week. And for yet another week we have TP loggings!

- 1089 ALBANIA Durres, OCT 10 0314 -0400 - Very strong and overriding UK Talk most of the time with Middle East sounding music sung by a man and woman. Signal gone by 0400. I thought this could have been Tbilisskaya, Russia, but both Burnell and Conti say Albania. They cite the SW Radio Albania // on 6100. Well, I tried 6100 but it was way below Germany and really difficult to read. WRTH says 6100 relays Albanian Home Service after 0400 but doesn't say they do prior to 0400. WRTH also indicates use of the Tbilisskaya transmitter at various times by an independent station broadcasting Islam programs. Burnell and Conti are probably right, though. I'll see them in person in two weeks. [Dangerfield-PA] OCT 11 0411 - Local music under Talkradio UK, // 6100; SIO 322. [Burnell-NF]

 1180/5025 CUBA R Rebelde, OCT 20 0548-0620 - interesting to observe audio on 1180 transmitter approximately 1/4 second ahead of shortwave 5025. Doubt propagation at this short distance, especially since such has never been noted before on forced network parallels (i.e., Mayday, 26 de Julio, random [Castro] speeches, et. al.). Presume one is via satellite download. (Also, interestingly, what they're playing as I type is the same program I heard hours earlier, so some announced "live" programming really isn't.) Will check in the morning to see if Tafo programming-proper exists on 1180, post-Huracán Lili; not unusual for different network feeds at night to be relayed of course. Do the FBIS monitoring site at Key West listen as avidly as I do to this crap? I say no. [Krueger-FL] (If only they'd pay US to do it! - Jim) OCT 21 1850-1930+ - Rebelde programming continues on 1180 (the powerhouse transmitter that normally runs Tafo). Maybe a few smaller Rebelde sites are still without electricity after Hurricane Lili, thus continued relaying here? [Krueger-FL]
 1205 CAYMAN IS. George Town, OCT 19 0036 - Good signal from this rarely heard station. Conversation between man and woman in EE. [Dangerfield-PA]

- 1375 ST. PIERRE & MIQUELON RFO seems to be on erratically these days, after being absent for some days, it was audible on the evening of OCT 17-18, but absent again on OCT 18-19. [Burnell-NF]
- 1390 MEXICO XEXO Cd. Mante TAM, SEP 28 0033 - "La Super Buena" slogans, música ranchera/norteña, SS woman DJ. [Wiseblood-TX]
- 1505 ANGUILLA, OCT 17 0403 - Very good with discussion in EE between a woman and a man. Hear also on OCT 18 at 2301 with EE news by a man. [Dangerfield-PA]
- 1530 UNID, OCT 17 0409 - Ballads sung by a woman. Was below WSAI but I couldn't ID a language. The music sounded like what you hear in Portugal, but the Madeira station on this frequency isn't scheduled for this time so presume LA. [Dangerfield-PA] (Sometimes Bridgeport 1530 is on late with PP program - Jim)
- 1560 UNID [so far] a SS talk station really clobbering WQEW evenings. At one point I thought I heard a W call and a mention of Miami but none listed here. [Dangerfield-PA] (WRHC has moved here from 1550 - Jim)

Ben speaks: "Conditions seem to have taken a somewhat aureoreal turn the past several days, and the Northern path stations have not been very noticeable here. Last night nearly everything heard was from North Africa and Saudi Arabia plus the usual powerhouse Spaniards and UK-1089. I wish there were LA splits as existed 30 years ago; I would have had a ball! Forgot to mention Croatia-1134 which was like a local for awhile. This week I received a verie letter from them for country #123. Letter signer says 600 KW but sounds like 1200!"

TRANS-PACIFIC DX

- 774 JAPAN JOUB, Osaka, OCT 21 1327 - with great signal and EE/JJ lessons. Best phrase: "My brother Tom is looking for you. He's going to hunt caribou and wants you to come along." [Helms-CA]
- 1215 CHINA, OCT 22 1305 - with OM and two YLs in CC with fair signals; this logging possible because local pest KPRZ-1210 was temporarily off the air because of San Marcos wildfire (transmitter site is in the burn zone; now back on air). [Helms-CA]

Antennas For Mediumwave

Antenna Review

The purpose for this "For Beginners" column is to review some basic characteristics of several types of antennas commonly used by medium wave DXers. Some of the following material has appeared in previous "For Beginners" articles.

The Loop Antenna

Most medium wave DXers use indoor loop antennas. Loop antennas are widely used because they have performance features that other types do not have. Some DXers use them exclusively. At present, probably most of the loop antennas in use have been purchased ready-to-use, although some are home-built. Construction of an effective loop antenna is not difficult.

1. The most useful feature of the loop is its ability to reject (null) unwanted signals. The response pattern of a loop is similar to a figure 8. The lobes of the figure 8 represent the directions of maximum response and the nulls represent the directions of minimum response. When the loop is rotated to place the unwanted signal source in a null, that signal is cancelled in the loop, and the output of that signal to the radio receiver is minimum. That allows a weaker, wanted signal to be heard, provided of course that the wanted signal is not also in one of the two nulls, which are 180 degrees apart. The unwanted signal source might be a radio station or a source of noise interference, such as a noisy power line. The figure 8 pattern is a characteristic of both open wire and ferrite core loops.

2. A well-designed loop antenna will pick up less radio noise from local sources than other antenna types, and will function as a sharply tuned electrical circuit to reduce adjacent channel interference before it can reach the receiver input, thus improving receiver selectivity.

3. Ferrite core loops and the smaller open wire loops are self-contained table-top units which can give good DX performance with no need of lead-in wiring or other external connections [except the connection to the receiver]. However, they inherently have low signal output, and usually include a battery-powered amplifier.

Ferrite is a man-made magnetic material that can be molded into a variety of shapes. For use in a loop antenna, it is a rod six or seven inches long or less. The loop windings are wound around and cemented to the core. The advantages of a ferrite core loop is small physical size. Most medium wave radios for home or portable use contain a ferrite loop antenna.

Open wire loops, also known as frame antennas, have the windings wound on a frame, usually made of wood. The loop shape is usually rectangular, but can be round or any other shape. The signal output is directly proportional to the area enclosed by the loop. The size of indoor loops antennas is usually from about one foot to four feet in diameter. Most home-built loops are open wire loops.

A great deal of research has been done by hobbyists in developing loop antennas for DX use, and many articles have been written. Some very good articles are available through the NRC Product Catalog.

The Beverage Antenna

The Beverage antenna is a type of long wire antenna. Harold H. Beverage, an engineer employed by RCA, developed the antenna about 1920. Its purpose was to receive low frequency radiotelegraph transmissions from Europe at the RCA receiver site on Long Island, New York. The first Beverage was twelve miles long, installed on wood poles, and approximately aligned along the great circle path to Western Europe. The Beverage favors reception of stations in both directions off the ends of the wire, and discriminates against signals received from the sides. It becomes a unidirectional antenna if the end in the direction of unwanted signals is grounded through a suitable resistance. Height above ground is not critical. To function as a Beverage, the antenna needs to be at least a half wavelength long at the frequency received (about 912 feet at 540 kHz). Greater length will give increased gain and sharper directivity.

Beverage antennas can give excellent performance when correctly set up. See the NRC Product Catalog for reprints of Beverage articles.

The Active Antenna

An active antenna is a combination antenna and amplifier. There are various types (including most table-top loops, for example) but the term usually applies to a telescoping whip similar to an automobile antenna. The typical arrangement for outdoor use is a small weatherproof amplifier module on which is mounted the whip antenna. The amplifier output is fed to an indoor control/power supply unit through coaxial cable which also carries the direct current which powers the amplifier. The purpose of the active antenna is to provide performance equal to that of a longwire in situations where a conventional longwire cannot be installed. In general, the performance which will be obtained depends on the environment in which the antenna is installed. It should be placed as high as is reasonably possible, away from radio noise sources, and for safety, well away from power lines.

A potential problem with active antennas is overloading of the amplifier and resulting spurious responses in the receiver in locations close to high-powered radio stations. Some active antennas have circuitry designed to reduce that problem.

Active antennas are produced by both domestic and foreign manufacturers. There is a considerable range of prices. Several models were reviewed in the World Radio TV Handbook for 1985. That book may be available in your public library. Outdoor active antennas are not widely used for medium wave DXing. For most DXers a loop is a better choice. However, an active antenna should be considered in locations such as steel-frame buildings where loops are not satisfactory and longwires cannot be installed.

The Random Length Longwire

Probably the original medium wave DX antenna was wire stretched between two convenient trees or other supports, with a lead-in wire brought into the house and connected directly to the radio. Longwire antennas are still in common use and where conditions are right, perform well. The antenna should be as high above ground as is feasible. Obviously for safety it should be well away from all power lines. Lightning protection is advisable in many locations.

The main benefit of an outdoor antenna is reduced interference from electrical devices, so with that in mind the antenna should be placed with maximum distance from noise-producing devices. Excessive length is not necessary, or even a good idea in most locations. Thirty to sixty feet is probably adequate. Getting the signal from the antenna to the receiver has potential problems. If the antenna is extended into the house for direct connection to the receiver, its proximity to electrical devices and house wiring and resulting noise pickup tends to defeat the purpose of the outdoor antenna. If coaxial cable is used for a lead-in between an end of the longwire and the receiver, the capacitance of the cable acts as a shunt to reduce the signal from the antenna. Longwire antennas can pick up considerable static electrical charge during some weather conditions. If the antenna is directly connected to a solid state receiver which does not have built-in static charge protection, damage to the receiver can result. Installation of a matching transformer and ground lead between the antenna and lead-in will reduce these problems. See the article by Dallas Lankford, "Inverted L Noise-Reducing MF/VLF Antenna" (from DX News for August 26, 1991). If that article is not in the current NRC catalog, and you want a copy, let me know.

IRCA Mexican Log, 4th Edition

The IRCA is proud to announce the release of the 4th edition of its MEXICAN LOG. The IRCA MEXICAN LOG log lists all AM stations in Mexico by frequency, including call letters, state, city, day/night power, slogans, schedule in UTC/GMT, formats, networks and notes. In addition, stations that have changed frequency since 1990 are cross-referenced on the old frequency. The call letter index gives call, frequency, city and state. The city index (listed by state, then city) includes frequency, call and day/night power. The log has been completely updated from the 1994 edition and carefully cross-checked by IRCA members in Mexico and the U. S. This is an indispensable reference for anyone who hears Mexican radio stations. Size is 8 1/2" x 11" and three hole punched for easy binding (optional).

Prices: IRCA/NRC members - $6.50 (US/Canada/Mexico/seamail), $7.50 (rest of the Americas airmail), $8.00 (Europe/Asia airmail), $8.50 (Australia/New Zealand airmail). Non-members: add $2.00 to the above prices.

Yes, DDXA is back after over three years, due to various reasons; but thanks to Don Erickson for maintaining the stats, as we'd have nothing had he not faithfully guarded this information, and to Ron Musco, for culling out non-members and updating the most recent listings. What you see, hopefully, is everyone who has contributed to the column in recent years and who is still a member of the NRC (we had to delete 82 non-members' listings). Please take a little time now and check your stats against what you actually have heard/taped/verified and then send us an update soon. We hope to be able to run IDXA and DDXA during alternate months, each six times per year.

This column is arranged by Total Domestic Heard; the next column will feature Total Domestic Taped, and we'll run various priorities at different times. At the present, all that we have is what you see above, unlike IDXA archives, which are stored on 5x7" cards which date back to the late '50's. We'll only delete listings of those who are no longer NRC members, so should you drop out and rejoin, you'll need to resubmit your totals. Hope to see your listing here next time!

Changes in programming status; reported by listeners

A big mia culpa - I neglected to mention in the last column that Rod O'Connor wrote, noting that his local, KVOK-560, Kodiak, AK now airs satellite fed ABC oldies. His card got lost in some railroad material, which can easily happen in my den. By the way, I can now be e-mailed (as soon as I learn how to use the thing!) on my new home computer at akfrail@aol.com. Send your format contributions in and I will dig them out of AOL. Locally, WCXT-1220, a Spanish station in Hamden has gone dark, purchased by Quinnipiac College. It will return to the air as WQUN, and will air a variety format, usually found on college radio stations. Quinnipiac College has an outstanding mass communications department, and the station will be a training tool for that department. And WCNX-1150, Middletown has been sold to a local organization, and its satellite fed talk has mercifully been dumped for a full service format, augmented with live assist oldies, and its new call is WMRD. The station even has eight full time employees (vs. two with the WCNX owners). Broadcast hours are 6:00AM to 6:00PM. The owner, a former NYC broadcasting executive) is also buying WLIS-1420, just down the Connecticut River in Old Saybrook.

Mark Burns writes that KBRL-1300, McCook, NE., is now airing oldies, dropping a country format, and WBOW-640 now runs syndicated talk 24 hours daily.

Heard on a recent WJIB-740 "Let's Talk about Radio", while en route to Maine WMEX-1150 is now WROR, a call sign from a former very popular Boston FM station. WROR is keeping its Spanish and Haitian, but is rumored to become a Kidstar affiliate, with pre teen programming. How an other mighty Boston rocker (as WCOP) has totally toppled! Here are the latest format changes, mostly from the M Street Journal.

KARL JETER - 1890 ABINGER LANE -
LAWRENCEVILLE, GA 30243

It's hard to believe that it's been a year or more since my last report, but it is amazing what a convention and hurricane can do to rekindle ones interest in DXing! A big thank you to STEVE FRANCIS for an enjoyable time in Knoxville. Nancy & I arrived late Friday nite after driving from Murphy, NC where we dropped off the kids at her folks. Nancy really didn't come along for the convention, rather to relax at the pool and read most of the time, but she had an enjoyable time at the banquet talking to some of these crazy DX types I warned her about! We left early Sunday morning, heading up to Jonesborough, TN (so she could check out the antiques) and later to Boone & Blowing Rock, NC & finally, Sunday night in Asheville. All in all, it was a fun, relaxing trip. Oh yes, the hurricane. First, I hope no one reading was hurt or suffered damage from 'Fran', or if so, my sympathies go out to you. But, at a safe distance, such storms can offer a great DX opportunity. On the evening of 9/5, I tuned around, and although nothing new was heard, I did note WRRZ-880 on at 8:14PM with emergency broadcast, totally dominating the channel. On 1080, WKGX was coming in quite well with country music, weather info, and even Bob Vila with hurricane preparation tips between 9:11-9:30PM, I had hoped the 1080 signal would have been WKKE which seemed more in the direct path, but was definitely WKGX. Also noted WKZQ-1520 strong with rock, ads, IDs as "101.7 Myrtle Beach's Original Rock", so apparently on regular schedule (or they forgot to turn the AM off again, noted alot when I was in SC, Karl, often called them-DS). DX since then has been very sparse, due to summer static and an incredibly heavy work load. Things may let up a little work-wise, which is fine with me right now, and with the cooler weather already here, I hope to hit the dials this fall. The trusty old HQ150 was recently checked out and aligned by a local guy, Milton Lord, and I have a Kiwa loop on back-order from Grove Enterprises. As soon as they call, I am going up to Brasstown, NC (which is about 10 miles from my in-laws home) and pick it up, I figured the NC sales tax and shipping to here were about even, plus it gives me a reason to go up there to one of my favorite places, the N GA/NC mountains. I have just finished a batch of about 10 follow-up reports going back to last fall, and in some of them, I am trying some prepared cards that I whipped up on my computer. It is amazing what can be done with all the colors, fonts and clip art available now to dress-up otherwise undesirable aspects of verie collecting, the prepared card. I have been customizing them using all the above, but I have been leaving the fill-in portion of each identical, so there is no doubt what it really is. But at least when these things are used as a last-ditch effort to obtain a verie, I can at least make them look decent instead of the monotonous ones I have used in the past. With the radio business in the shape it is these days, with smaller staffs and less time for report handling, prepared cards may play an increasing role in the future in this game. I also have a secret hope that maybe a few stations will like my designs so much, perhaps they will use them to print their own cards! Looks like a great CPC test schedule already shaping up for this season, so I am looking forward to that. By the way, did anyone receive a verie for the WTLA-1200 test earlier this year? A few highlights from last season include hearing the high-band stuff: WJDM-1660, KTRK-1670 & KBXT-1640. The first two are now verified, the later, so far, no reply. It may have something to do with my reception being in March, and my report not being sent til July, I'll just wait until I hear them on 1630 then I'll send them a report and follow-up. Well, I've rambled on long enough, lots to catch up on this year. I hope I will be appearing in these pages more often this year! 73 (and we'll hold you to that Karl!!-DWS)

Greetings and hallucinations, all, and howdy from the land of the rubber-necked, right-turn-from-left-lane Branson tourist monster. Hope this finds everyone well and happy. Since the new season seems to be the time for re-intros, here's mine. Age here is 54, been with the NRC since 1977, and have managed to stay single all this time (I've GOT to get some slower running shoes). DX QTH's have included Boston, Houston, Nashville and now here in the Branson area for 5 years. I've graduated from guitarist (after 18 yrs) to sound technician at the Mickey Gilley Theater. The main rcvr is a Kenwood R-2000 that I've had since 1985. Repairs have been made on all the long-wires for the new season...now if only the incessant thunderstorms would just let up. Branson has yet another TIS on 660 operated by the Missouri Dept of Conversation...seems to loop west of town. Here's a tip of the old glass to a DX-filled season!!

BOB KOZLAREK - WA2SQQ, 69 MEMORIAL PLACE, ELMWOOD PARK, NJ 07407 E mail: WA2SQQ@hili.com

Can it be that another DX season is at our door step? Must be, because the bands are quieting down and 160M propagation is improving here in Elmwood Park, NJ I suspect that contributions to the newsletter in general will increase as more of us join the ranks of the e mail generation. I find it much easier to send E-mail as compared to typing a letter and walking to the mailbox!

I'll begin by way of an introduction - I'm 42, married with children and I've been DX'ing the broadcast bands since 1964. I also hold an Extra class amateur license (WA2SQQ), first licensed in 1970. I'm employed by Panasonic as the Tech Support Manager for broadcast video products and have been with them for 18 years. My BCB DX'ing days started when I wrote WOWO and got a QSL; the rest is history! The card and the HQ-180A I used are still here, though I suspect I've changed a bit. The station now includes several long wires and inverted "L" that was cut for 160M. The receivers include my faithful HQ-180AC, a Kenwood TS-930, and a GE Super Radio. The prospects for the 1996-'97 season are very positive having added a Kiwa loop and a new amateur rig (Yaesu FT-1000MP) with synchronous tuning on AM; I'm eager and very optimistic!

In years past I enjoyed passing comments via the Fido Net "Shortwave" conference accessed via the local BBS. Well, the land line BBS's here in Northern New Jersey have dried up since the Internet moved in. To my surprise, Fidonet "Shortwave" isn't carried on the UseNet groups and I suspect I'm missing an awful lot of good news. Does anyone out there know of any back doors into Fidonet? Where are all the serious BCB DX'ers passing traffic on the Internet? I also co-moderate a scanner/shortwave/BCB DX net on a local 2M repeater in NYC. The net meets on 147.360 MHz every Wednesday at 8 p.m. Eastern time. Even if you're not licensed, an inexpensive police scanner will let you listen. E-mail check-ins are always welcome.

OK, so here's my contribution...I found a great AM DX newsletter that is distributed free via E-mail. It's published on the West coast so it tends to favor that area. To subscribe, send an E-mail message to BYTHEWAY@ATK.COM I believe it comes out weekly and it's really some great reading.

Till the next Musing....Bob Kozlarek

MIKE SANBURN - PO BOX 1256 - BELLFLOWER, CA 90707

Greetings. For those keeping track of sports affiliates, KPLS-830 will now carry the new Long Beach Ice Dogs Hockey Games. This past summer, I attended an unprecedented 3 conventions in a row, IRCA (FL), WTFDA (CO) and NRC (TN). Many thanks to STEVE FRANCIS for hosting the latter. I've airchecked and photographed enough stations to keep me busy forever. While the NRC convention had no official station tours, CHRIS CUOMO and I found the studios for WMYU-FM and Star 93; they were nice enough to give us a brief tour. We then tracked down the new location for WIVK AM and FM at 4711 OLD KINGSTON PIKE in Knoxville. Later, I found WITA-1490 and WOKI-FM. CHRIS, thanks again for those great coverage maps, etc. This year's guest speaker, banquet and auction were all great! I got to hear

WJDM-1660 booming in on my Walkman and DXed most of the E coast that Monday AM. Some recent ironies: #1: while driving in Knoxville, listening to WIMZ-1240, One on One sports was doing a live broadcast from Legends in Long Beach, CA, one of my local hangouts. #2: on my USAir flight back to Charlotte, NC, sitting in the seat next to me was none other than CHARLES RADER (that's an irony?--DWS), and #3 I'm an interactive satellite trivia game fanatic; my handle is "Rude". I was playing against "Jazjoc", turns out he is an announcer at KBID-1350, so we got talking about Central Valley radio. You never know who you are going to run in to. No veries here since KLV1 and KBSU. I'm putting some of my veries on 35mm slides now. Its been a wild summer, concerts, conventions, tours and tornadoes. KLBC-1700 Long Beach City College is back on the air for the semester. Good DX - 73

RICHARD W. TURNER - 286 HIXVILLE ROAD - N DARTMOUTH, MA 02747-1938 (Email: Turner286@aol.com)

Hello everybody. A quick reintroduction: I have just recently celebrated the 3rd anniversary of my 39th birthday, married with no children and I am employed by J. C. Penney. The summer here has been, to me, somewhat cooler than normal and I suspect that this means that this winter will be a bad one, good only for snow plow operators, ski instructors and DX'ers. I have noticed this past month of Sept. that signals on the graveyard channels seem to have more snap and pop to them as opposed to the usual mush one would normally expect to hear. I managed to log 3 new ones this past month, 9/10 7:53 PM WTME-1240 came in with Portland SeaDogs baseball, followed by WFTN at 7:57PM with a contest promo, simulcasting their FM station, Super Country 106.9. 9/21 got a nice ID from WNAW-1230. On 9/15, I thought I had logged KWNO-1230 with mentions of Hometown Radio and an ad for TLC Medical Supplies, but some phone calls confirmed it was likely WQDY, so be careful here. 9/24 I picked up a tentative WFTL-1400, a nice catch if it was indeed them. Hurricane Eduardo passed near by on 10/1-2 but no real damage was done, not even a power loss or any local stations off the air (Rats!). Finally, hope to make it to RAY ARRUDA'S get together on 11/23; it should be a good one since it's the 20th anniversary of his gathering. I hope to bring my Pro2003 modified police scanner, and would like to trade even up for a good loop antenna with twin wire leads to connect to my radio. If anyone is planning to attend, and has a good spare loop and would like a police scanner, perhaps we can work something out. Until next time, 73's.

DID YOU KNOW that the first broadcasting license granted to RCA was for one day only in 1921 for station WJY in New York? Using a transmitter borrowed from the Navy, David Sarnoff arranged to broadcast the Dempsey-Carpentier boxing match. The NY Times said 300,000 people heard the fight.

RAY ARRUDA - 47 BURT STREET - ACUSHNET, MA 02743-1939

It's been a very busy year, and the time has passed so quickly. Not much listening done since March, with a few shortwave veries back and also the following AM veries as the result of CPC Tests: WIRC-630, WRUF-850, WMOP-900, KMA-960, WNNC-1230, WLIK-1270, WOCA-1370, WTCY-1400, WJDM-1660 and ABS-1670. So far this season, 3 tests tried for with no luck, WYTI-1570, WAPF-980 and WAKK-1140. Tests that were reported from WGAI-560, WLWL-700, WIBG-1020, WTLA-1200 and WABB-1480 have not replied, even after follow ups. Another excellent job by the NRC/IRCA CPC with many good tests aired. Thanks to all who called and/or wrote this past year. Enjoyed a nice visit from good neighbor and fellow NRCer RICK TURNER 10/13. REMINDER: our annual Thanksgiving get-together will once again be held in "The Lower Deck" on Saturday before the holiday, 11/23 at noon. Until then, 73.

We made it a few years back, and it looks like we will also make it to ROCKET RAY'S on the 23rd this year since I didn't get to the convention, I'll thumb a ride with AL MERRIMAN and RON MUSCO. Now that I've got speed-of-light mailing from here, DX News has been taking 7 to 12 days to get here; both Paul and I have been working on this one. A new client we have added is WIFI-1460; for those wanting a verie, send the report to my attention. WWJZ-640 is housed in the room next door to WIFI; they are still fighting over the land with the previous owner (and WILL approach you with a loaded shotgun if you come near the place! Yes, I found out!). WPWA-1590 is now with the Radio Aahs sat. network. Where is ERC these days? Your reports are missed Ernie (all is forgiven!). We still have a few more reports on hand; we'll keep the column in here weekly but only if you send your items along. Somehow the rumor is flying that the '97 Convention is being held in New Castle? More as THAT happens (we've already lined up the banquet speaker, from a local award-winning AM station who is a very active DXer and literally jumped at this chance to attend.....we must be important!). 73
