From the Publisher: I've been negligent in posting Interim AM Switch columns to the dxn.com site (work schedule has been problematic lately) but hope to do better in the near future. Every weekend DX News doesn't publish I try to get the week's changes on the web site so members have access to the information on a timely basis.

We still have a couple more 3-week issues before the summer monthlies. Don't forget to check the publication schedule and submit your loggings to your column editors in good time.

NRC AM Log #39 Sold Out! Now Wayne and the AM Radio Log team will turn to preparing the 40th Edition of this vital AM DXing resource. The 40th Edition will ship around September 1.

DXChange: "I am looking for an amplified 4-foot box/tilt antenna to fit a super-heterodyne communications receiver. Kit, used; homemade, $100 range." Contact Denny Adkins via e-mail: dxdenny0948@yahoo.com.

Other radio equipment to buy or sell? We've had some inquiries lately about how to buy or sell radio equipment. It's simple: We are happy to run items under the "DXChange" header. Simply drop a line to the Publisher at NRCDXNews@gmail.com or to the snail mail Alexandria address on the club info page.

IRCA Mexican Log: The IRCA MEXICAN LOG lists all AM stations in Mexico by frequency, including call letters, state, city, day/night power, slogans, schedule in UTC/GMT, formats, networks and notes. The call letter index gives call, frequency, city and state. The city index (listed by state, then city) includes frequency, call and day/night power. The transmitter site index (listed by state, then city) tabulates the latitude and longitude of transmitter sites. This is an indispensable reference for anyone who hears Mexican radio stations. Size is 8 1/2" x 11". Pricing now at cost! 65 pages.

Prices: IRCA/NRC members – $7.00 (US), $8.50 (Canada), $12.00 (México), $14.00 (rest of the world). Non-IRCA/NRC members – add $2.00.

To order, send the correct amount (in US funds payable to IRCA) to: IRCA GOODIE FACTORY, 9705 MARY NW, SEATTLE WA 98117-2334. Or, order through PayPal to email: phil_tekno@yahoo.com (Phil Bytheway). Please state club affiliation when ordering.

Update on WTSB-1090 (Selma NC) and WMPM-1270 (Smithfield NC) (from Gerry Conkling, Jr.)

Yesterday Truth Broadcasting has signed a LEASE with the option to buy WTSB-AM. WTSB was scheduled to leave the air MARCH 31st, Sunday, after their broadcast day. For many years Carl Lamm and his son, Mickey Lamm have operated WTSB but both are retiring from broadcasting. Effective on April 1st Truth Broadcasting will take over the controls of the station, they will remain ON the air and many of the staff members will be retained and Carl Lamm has told listeners that they will notice very little change in the religious format that has been with the station for decades. Truth Broadcasting also owns WTRU on 830 kHz in Kernersville, NC and WDRU-AM 1030 kHz in Creedmoor, NC. (GC)

WMPM is still OFF the air pending the sale of the station. Both Carl and Mickey Lamm had financial interests in this station as well. (GC)

Thanks to Shawn Axelrod, Bill Hale, FCC Database (FCC), Terry Kruger, Ernest Wesoloski, David Potter (DP), Steve Kennedy (SK), John J. Rieger (JJR), Gerry Conkling, Jr. (GC), John Wilkins (JW), and Carl Mann (CM).

Unreported Domestic Stations

Two stations were reported to DDXD this issue for the first time since at least Volume 67 (1999-2000): WQFX-1130 and KIRT-1580. However, we added a new station on the air but not yet reported to the list, KZEZ-1580. So, we still have 351 stations unreported to DDXD during this time. The full unreported list was last printed in issue 85-19. Can you hear and report one next time, and get us down below 350?

Re: November Hawaii DXpedition

Last November the ocean beach location of Poipu, Kauai proved to be the mother lode of exotic DX, with propagation to all of Asia, the Pacific Islands, North and South America and even some long range MW-DX from the Middle East and Africa. The only "problem" was trying to sort out all of the exotic long range DX, with languages such as Arabic, Farsi, Hindi and many others. The Finnish language experts on Real DX got a Real Workout, and fortunately gave awesome assistance.

For this year's November trip Craig Barnes and I are honored to have a DX'er with serious TA-DX'ing experience, who can help us really go after the African and Middle East big guns-- Chris Black, formerly of the Boston Area DX Group. Chris plans to be the first to set up a broadband antenna for SDR reception on the Poipu beach, and join us in tracking down another awesome MW-DX tally. Since there is a fully stocked Home Depot store only 20 minutes from the beach offering antenna wire, PVC pipe and concrete bases, the sky may be the limit in what three fanatical DX'ers can dream up.

The Ultralight + 5 inch "Frequent Flyer" FSL combo came away with long range DX from Oman, Egypt, Iran, India (2), Bangladesh, Myanmar, Cambodia, Thailand, Vietnam (5), Bonaire and many others last November, and we have a pretty good idea now what frequencies to exploit, and which ones to ignore. The "single DX'er" price in the Costco travel package is only about $1.7K, which includes round trip air fare from Seattle, 6 days in a gorgeous beach side condo, a full sized rental car and some other extras. Two DX'ers traveling together can probably lower the price down to about $1.3K each. If you have interest in joining the DX'pedition of a lifetime, we would be honored to have you with us! 73 and Good DX, Gary DeBock (in Puyallup, WA, USA)

Re: New portables XHDATA and Radiwow

For those who weren't aware of the fact, XHDATA and Radiwow are actually the same Chinese company, which has specialized in wholesale design appropriation of the C.Crane Skywave SSB's technical innovations (in the D-808) and physical cabinet characteristics (in the R-108). As for why they choose to go by two different names, maybe they figure that C.Crane would be less inclined to sue two companies for design theft than one? Of course C.Crane can't sue anybody in China, where the term "copyright" means "the right to copy." The Fortuna, CA company has reason to deeply regret building their breakthrough Skywave SSB model at the Redsun factories in Shenzhen-- which is of course the home of XHDATA/ Radiwow.

Anyway, since both reverse-engineered models have been "Supercharged" here with 7.5" loopsticks, I thought some DX'ers might like to know about their stock loopsticks. In the XHDATA D-808 model the loopstick has a 98mm x 8mm x 4mm ferrite rod with a 12mm coil, for a total inductance of 341 uH (see detailed photo posted here).

The Radiwow R-108 has a 70mm x 8mm x 4mm ferrite rod with the same 12mm coil, for a total inductance of 212 uH. Of course because of the longer loopstick the D-808 has significantly better MW sensitivity than the R-108, and in fact has better MW sensitivity than any Ultralight radio (the D-108 is a little too large to qualify as an Ultralight portable).

Following the typical practice of companies in the Chinese domestic market, XHDATA/Radiwow does not offer any manufacturer's warranty on their radio models-- but this doesn't seem to have deterred their sales on the international market. When a purchaser can get a $75 model like the D-808 which is highly competitive with the $169.98 Skywave SSB (with a few added features like a more powerful audio amp and a long endurance rechargeable battery), sales are definitely going to happen. So far the component quality of both the D-808 and R-108 seem quite good, and international purchasers are cautiously optimistic that this will continue. Hopefully this Chinese company will avoid the Tecsun example of cutting down quality (as in the PL-380's digital shielding) in order to increase profits.

Shawn Steps into the 21st Century

Yes I have taken the leap into this century and bought a state of the art radio. I have been very well served over the years by first my ICOM IC-R70 and then the Drake R8 receivers. Both are excellent units but are showing their age of late. I spoke to a Ham radio operator I know well and he said yes they are still going but if they break certain parts are just no longer available. He has a rig with a blown central processor that he cannot get parts for and told me to treat the old rigs I have with TLC so they will keep going.

There are other rigs that I would love to own such as an NRD535 or 545 but they too could put me in a position where parts are hard to get or just not available at all. So I did my research and decided to go with a SDR Software Defined Radio. These are the latest radios being offered from several firms. I am sure there are many of you who own or at least have seen and tried one out. The selection of radios available large and the price spread goes from under $100 to well over $3000. I decided to stay at the lower end of the scale in case I found that the radio did not perform as well as my current radios. I chose the SDRPlay RSPduo radio in the end. It cost me $400 Canadian shipping taxes everything in. That is less than half of what I bought my ICOM IC-R70 for in 1983.

So what about the real news and what really counts. Yes the SDRPlay RSPduo does cover all the frequencies you could ever want from 1 kHz to 2 GHz so all the Longwave, all the Mediumwave, all the Shortwave, FM and VHF, UHF and SHF bands to boot. You can plug in at least 3 antennas two with coax SMA connectors and one or two depending on your configuration longwire antennas. Yes you can pick any antenna on any frequency so that is great. It will receive in the following modes AM, Sync AM, FM, CW, USB, LSB and D(double)SB. There are many filters available depending on what mode you select and you can adjust any of them to help get rid of interference. Of course they threw in Noise Blankers, a Noise Reductor and yes the ability to record a 2 MHz section of the band you are on. All this and more in a metal box that I can hold in my hand.

You can download a software package for free to your computer from SDRPlay to run the radio. A cord from the radio to any USB port will connect you and supply the power needed to run the radio. No external power supply is needed. Attach the USB cord, plug in an antenna and you are set up. You click on the icon from the download on your desk top and up pops the radio in all its glory. The display on the screen is well laid out and easy to use. They included a real S-meter and the display can be set up in several ways to suit your wants and wishes. You can see the whole AM band at once and click on the frequencies you want or input them into the digital frequency to get there right away. You can tune to a new frequency by using the mouse to adjust the frequency to where you want to be to three decimal places.

There is a manual that will take you step by step through how to use the radio built into the software and you can access it from the screen while using the radio. The manual so far has been great and well illustrated. As the radio is from the UK it is in a form of English we all understand and work with unlike some models from Asia.

After about an hour I went for it and started to tune around the bands. The biggest problem was what mode to use to hear the stations best in. So many choices and they have their good points depending on the situation. So far I have heard everything on the SDRPlay RSPduo that I could hear on the Drake or Icom and with all the tweaking you can do it is at times better than the old radios. I have heard new ones on Longwave Shortwave and Mediumwave in the last three weeks since I got the radio so it really works.

For a look-see at SDRPlay's products go to their web site at: <https://www.sdrplay.com/> I do love this radio and as they do have less expensive models you might think about a SDR from SDRPlay or any other reputable supplier to add to your collection and listening pleasure.

Good things do come in small packages and this one has made me very happy.

73 for this time Shawn

Here is Major League Baseball (MLB) flagship information for the 2020 season from my Internet searches. Please send me announcer information (and corrections), as some of the web pages either did not list the announcer names or were definitely from last season (and maybe did not change for this season, but I have no way of knowing). And sometimes I cannot determine if an announcer is on radio only, TV only, or both. Any copyright statement on an mlb.com page is probably placed there automatically, even if the page content has not changed for the current season.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/List_of_current_Major_League_Baseball_broadcasters has broadcaster information, and that web site has been updated for the 2018 season (last modified on 2 April 2019, at 15:29 UTC). But some of the references date back to 2010.

In some cases I was not sure that the network list was for the 2018 season, as many lists were undated. If I found a list that had no definite 2019 date but differed from the list I found last year, then I treated the list as one for the 2019 season even though the list might be for last season but changed since I downloaded it at the beginning of the season.

Note that if a station streams its broadcasts over the Internet, that the station cannot stream the baseball broadcasts because the Major League Baseball organization wants listeners to get a paid subscription via mlb.com.

Some of the stations are actually translators, and I might not list the stations' official six-character call letters. The Twins' list has "FM Signal" instead of the six-character call letters; I had to use Google to get the six-character call letters.

On the mlb.com site for most teams, the announcers are listed under the "Roster" tab. But many of the bios have not changed since they were written, so they refer to previous seasons.

I did not find the 2019 network lists for the New York Yankees and the San Diego Padres; the Arizona Diamondbacks' and Chicago Cubs' lists are the same as last year but are included below.
