WASHINGTON THIS WEEK

Eleven Florida radio stations were given conditional license renewals this week in response to allegations of EEO violations. Reporting conditions were imposed on WHOO/WHTQ Orlando, WFSU Tallahassee, and WAMR/WCTQ Venice; reporting conditions and fines for WYYN/WTNT Tallahassee ($2,000) and WNDB/WLLV Daytona Beach ($5,000); and reporting conditions, fines of $15,000 and a short-term renewal of three years for WNOG/WCVU Naples. The eleven were among 52 stations that Florida branches of the NAACP and National Black Media Coalition filed against in renewal proceedings. Actions on the other 41 stations are pending.

The FCC has denied a request by Long Island Music Broadcasting to dismiss the remaining applicants for a new FM station at 103.1 in Bay Shore NY. The facility is short spaced to WDRC-FM Hartford CT (among others), and LIMB claims to have reserved exclusive use of a lighthouse that is the only possible transmitter site. Also this week, the FCC upheld dismissal of McCall's Broadcasting's FM application in Columbus OH; and upheld an allocation upgrade for WGYL Vero Beach FL.

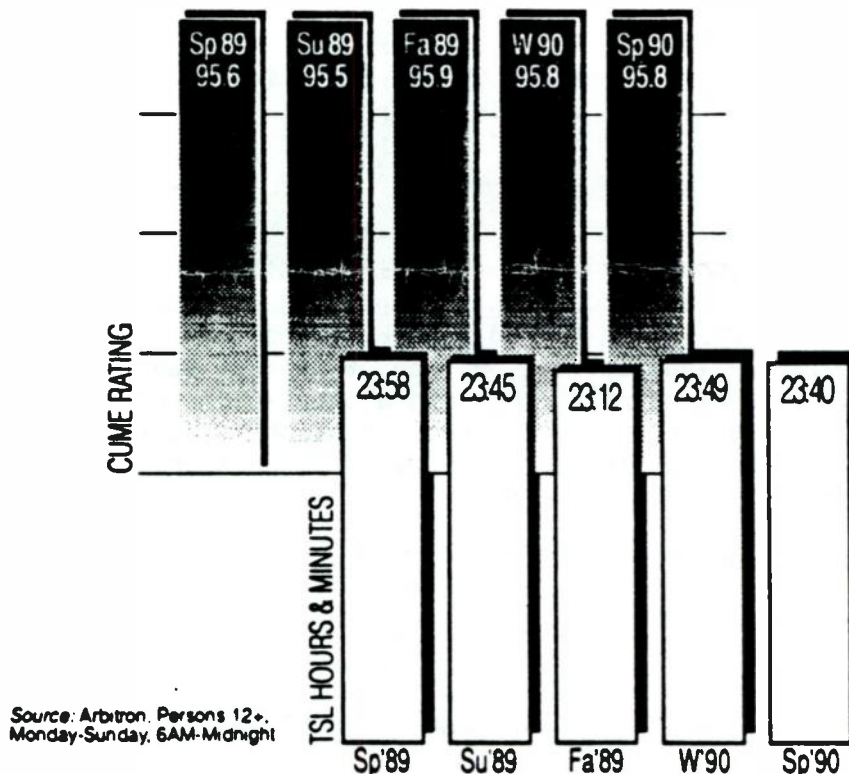

William O. Browning has been named Chief of the Emergency Broadcast System staff of the FCC's Field Operations Bureau. And, the FCC has issued a correction to last week's announcement of new offices and phones in Georgia. The correct phone number for the Regional Director and the FCC Atlanta office is (404) 279-4621; for recorded messages, (404) 279-4620.

ELSEWHERE

Two talk show hosts stranded when ABC discontinued its daytime Talk Radio network programming last month are part of a new talk network formed this week. The programs of Barry Farber and Alan Combs will be distributed by "Daynet," which (similar to Rush Limbaugh's EFM) will lease studio and satellite time from ABC.

Results are in from two experimental AM antenna projects sponsored by the National Association of Broadcasters. Tests of an anti-sky wave antenna - designed to reduce sky wave emissions (and co-channel interference) without affecting local ground wave coverage were disappointing; sky wave signals at monitoring points several hundred miles away were inconsistent, and the antenna was not considered effective. However, tests were more successful for a low-profile antenna - a model of a short, free-standing tower (of under 250 ft) that could be built where taller, usual antenna systems are not feasible. If implemented, the low-profile antenna may allow AM stations to add night service or to move tower sites in closer to their communities. Copies of reports on the two experimental systems are being prepared by the NAB's AM Improvement Committee and can be obtained through the NAB's Science and Technology Department at (202) 429-5346.

A new Arbitron study (reproduced below) reveals that levels of radio listening have remained high and virtually unchanged over the past five quarters for both cume and time spent listening (TSL). As of Spring 1990, the average person continues to listen to radio nearly one full day - 23 hours, 40 minutes - each week. The study also revealed that working women listen an average of over two hours per week more than their non-working counterparts. These and other details on radio listening habits by format and demographic will be available in a new Arbitron report, "Radio For The 90's," due to be released this winter.

WASHINGTON THIS WEEK

The FCC is in the process of converting to a contractor supported forms distribution system. Most commonly requested forms for FCC business will continue to be stocked by the Services and Supply Branch at 1919 M Street; other forms will be available within three days from the FCC Warehouse Facility in Hyattsville MD. For questions on procedures for ordering, call Scottie Dobson at 202-634-1778.

Appeals: the FCC upheld a Review Board decision granting a new FM to Posey County Broadcasting in Mount Vernon IN; dismissed petitions for reconsideration and for clarification in the lengthy Bay Shore NY FM proceedings; and dismissed a petition for reconsideration and counterproposal to upgrade KTLR-FM in Terrell TX.

In testimony before a U.S. House subcommittee, the National Ass'n of Broadcasters filed a number of objections to various Congressional proposals to guarantee low or no rates for political advertising. The NAB in particular noted that higher costs sometimes paid by political advertisers are often the decisions of the advertiser; that the FCC has not yet released conclusions from its recent audit of radio and TV stations for political advertising practices; and that the FCC's own policy statements have been infrequent and ambiguous. Incidentally, with the Congressional compromise on a continuing resolution pending an FY 91 federal budget, the FCC will remain open and normally staffed at least through October 19.

In its unending quest to keep the airwaves safe for 50 minute music sweeps, the FCC has closed down a pirate radio station in Los Banos, California. Victor E. Ruiz was fined $1,000 for operating unlicensed radio station "KJAM."

ELSEWHERE

Satellite Music Network has elected, effective at the end of October, to end its licensing agreement with Group W for use of the name and logo "The Wave" for its new AC format. Under the direction of SMN's Lee Abrams, The Wave had moved in more of a classic rock direction over the past several months. Look for a new SMN format to be announced before the end of the year.

Afrispace, Inc., which is organizing new digital broadcasting services for Africa, has issued a call for proposals to have 100,000 digital satellite radios built under a multi-million dollar fixed price plus incentive contract for 1993 delivery. Afrispace's satellite broadcasts are set to begin in early 1993; while the system is not one being considered for digital audio broadcasting in the U.S., their call for proposals is one way DAB-capable receivers might be distributed.

BFM CALENDAR

Industry meetings in November include the National Association of Farm Broadcasters, Nov. 10-13 in Kansas City; and the Society of Professional Journalists (Sigma Delta Chi), Nov. 16-19 in Cincinnati. Election Day is Tuesday, November 6; don't forget to complete all necessary political advertising reports.

WASHINGTON THIS WEEK

Another silent AM station is facing the results of the FCC's announced crackdown on the licensing of off-air stations. WAST-1600, Ashtabula OH, has been issued a show cause notice to demonstrate why the station's license should not be revoked. The daytime-only outlet has been silent since 1981, and has been silent without FCC approval since 1984. Due in part to a civil suit judgment, the licensee no longer possesses the station's real or broadcast related property, and continuing court action between the majority and minority stockholders has prevented sale to any other party. The FCC alleges that since the licensee has been off the air for an extended period of time, lacks the equipment to operate the station, does not have Commission permission to remain off the air, and has not turned in its license, it is in apparent violation of FCC rules.

ELSEWHERE

Arbitron has announced that it is moving from once to twice yearly audience surveys in twenty-two of its radio markets, effective with the Fall 1990 radio survey (Sept. 20-Dec. 12). Markets being measured by Arbitron in Fall for the first time this year are:

Abilene TX	Fayetteville NC	Melbourne/Titusville/
Ann Arbor MI	Hagerstown/Chambersburg/	Cocoa FL
Augusta GA/SC	Waynesboro MD/PA	Naples FL
Binghamton NY/PA	Johnstown PA	Oxnard/Ventura CA
Boise ID	Lafayette LA	Redding CA
Charleston WV	Lakeland/Winter Haven FL	Rockford IL
Dothan AL	Lincoln NE	Sarasota/Bradenton FL
Evansville IN	Macon GA	Savannah GA

The new surveys bring to 170 the number of markets Arbitron measures in Fall. All 262 Arbitron markets are measured in the spring, and 79 markets are measured continuously (Spring, Summer, Fall and Winter).

From MTV comes word they are giving away a radio station. The promo shows us all the wonderful things you can do with your new station: play your own music, say what you want. This is no mention of how you will make it pay. The station comes with $10,000, to (in MTV's words) "keep you from payola."

ELSEWHERE (Cont'd)

The station being given away is WSTT (AM) Thomasville GA, on 730, 5000 watts day and 27 watts night. Currently the station simulcasts the country music of WSTT-FM. WSTT is being given "as is," and a disclaimer in the promo states that "equipment shown is for demonstration only." Thomasville is 30 miles north of Tallahassee FL.

If you're still interested, here are some of the contest rules: you must be 21, you can't work for Viacom, MTV or a lot of other people associated with MTV, the contest is void where prohibited and is not open to residents of NY, FL or RI. Send a post card by Nov. 7 to "MTV Radio Station," Box 34986, Omaha NE 68134.

M STREET

Here is a summary of the latest M Street station format totals. Totals are for primary formats only; 1990 and 1989 surveys were both done on October 1st.

Primary Format (as of October 1st)	Commercial			Non-Commercial
	1990	1989	+/-	1990	1989	+/-
Country	2,452	2,448	+ 4	7	8	- 1

changing formats or not available	115	266	-151	80	125	- 45
Total	9,444	9,254	+190	1,636	1,566	+ 70

The big surprise is the large drop in CHR, the total going down by 127 stations. The big CHR exit is made even more surprising by the fact that these totals do not count the growing number of CHR stations repositioning themselves as "adult CHR."

In the winners' circle, Oldies continued to grow and News/Talk came on strong, boosted by the availability of niche and low cost programming. The Sun Network, American Radio Network, Rush Limbaugh and the Business Radio Network all did their part to make News/Talk the second fastest growing format.

The net effect of this year's changes seems to suggest a new slogan for radio: "Radio: not too old, not too young, just 25 to 54."

M Street keeps tabs on the formats of all stations in the U.S. and Canada and can produce custom reports, provide on-line information, mailing labels, or just about anything you can think to do with a handful of formats. For more information, call us at 703-684-3622.

WASHINGTON THIS WEEK

This week's grant of a new AM facility to Somerset Educ. Broadcasting Foundation in Paris KY is the first time in memory that an application filed in competition with the license renewal of a silent station has been granted. Concurrent with the grant, an appeal of the license revokation of the former WRPZ was denied. The Paris KY case has been cited by the FCC as the first example of a new, tougher policy on renewals for stations that have left the air; previously, new applications filed against a license renewal were dismissed almost without exception.

The Commission has received a request for a declaratory ruling filed by Hammett & Edison, Inc, concerning the definition of a directional FM broadcasting antenna. While the current FCC definition seems unambiguous, the H&E filing notes that the way an omni-directional antenna is mounted can produce significant distortions in field signal. Comments on the request (DA 90-1467) should be filed with the FCC by November 19, 1990; replies must be filed by December 3.

The FCC produced a full slate of final judgments on new FMs this week. They include: affirming grants to Tri-State Communications in Harrison OH and to VOB, Inc. in Ankeny IA; upholding Review Board dismissals of Classic Media, Inc.'s application in Oro Valley AZ and of McCall Broadcasting, Inc's app. in Columbus OH; dismissing an appeal of the allotment of Channel 279A (103.7 MHz) to Frankfort KY; and dismissing a "petition...for reconsideration of an Order denying his appeal of his dismissal from this proceeding..." for a new FM in Eden Prairie MN.

Another pirate station found: the FCC located "Citizens Emergency Broadcasting Service" at the home of Joe & Connie Mattausch in Adrian, Mich. The station was silenced and the couple fined $1000 for operation of an unlicensed facility.

The FCC also "proposed amending the FM Table...and modifying station licenses" without releasing details, for the following communities: Rock Valley IA, Sibley IA, Pipestone MN, Sioux Falls SD and Vermillion SD. The proposal is Docket 90-472.

WASHINGTON THIS WEEK

KLIF-1190 Dallas TX has been granted a six-month waiver by the FCC to purchase and co-operate KKWM-570. Under terms of the waiver, Susquehanna Broadcasting may only simulcast the two stations for a week and must then operate KLIF separately while it looks for a buyer. Susquehanna has been planning for some time to move KLIF's talk format to the 570 outlet, which has much better coverage of Dallas-Ft. Worth.

Seven Florida radio stations have been granted license renewal subject to sanctions for EEO violations. Five stations - WPAP Panama City, WCOA/WJLQ Pensacola, and WLKF/WEZY Lakeland - were renewed subject to reporting conditions. WMMB/WMMY Melbourne was given reporting conditions, a short-term renewal and a notice of apparent liability for $10,000.

The FCC's Mass Media Bureau has released results of a major engineering study which it claims supports Commission proposals to relocate existing AM stations to the new 1610-1700 KHz section of the AM band as a means of reducing co-channel AM interference. The study projects the effects of removing one centrally located station (WXTZ-1430 Indianapolis) and the resulting increase in the interference-free night signal contours of other stations on its crowded regional frequency. The resulting table (p. 6) suggests that 25 of the other 33 1430 KHz stations in the U.S. with high night power would have coverage expanded if WXTZ alone were to move. This reinforces the FCC's emphasis on proposals that use migration of major existing nighttime stations to significantly lower co-channel interference.

Unfortunately, the FCC's study is severely flawed. First, this table in no way matches existing conditions. For example, WXTZ's move is said to result in six more square miles of interference-free coverage for KFNI-1430 Fresno. Somewhere in their coverage, then, are six square miles where only WXTZ and KFNI are audible, and where WXTZ's removal leaves KFNI as dominant. These stations are over 2,000 miles apart, null each other's directions, and have three 5 kw stations (KLO, KEZW and WIL) between them. In actuality, DXers report WXTZ has been heard anywhere in the west fewer than a dozen times in the last 20 years and never in the last five; KFNI has never been heard east of the Rockies; and at any point between the two no less than five other stations are generally audible. With such crowded conditions, removal of one station anywhere in the US is likely to have negligible impact on more than a few others. The FCC's contention that WXTZ's move results in better coverage for over 75% of the stations in the country is plainly impossible. A half dozen stations shifting from each of the AM band's 39 regional channels alone would result in ten new frequencies just as crowded as the old ones - with no existing daytime-only or low-power stations, new, local or clear channel stations, interference from Canada, Mexico or Cuba, or any other use of the band.

Secondly, the stations the FCC hopes most to convince to move to the new band are the stations with least incentive to do so. M Street statistics show that of 5,183 AM stations currently in the U.S., 3,032 (58%) have FM affiliates. But among major regional channel facilities - the 733 stations with 5000/5000 or 5000/1000 watts of day/night power - 527 (72%) have FMs. Stations that are not stand-alones, in AM's current state of distress, have much less need to move. They are often sold in conjunction with (or simulcast with) their FM affiliates; their time is rarely sold outside daylight hours; and they are much less likely to care about attracting a regional audience. Why would the owners of such a station risk moving to a new band with reduced daytime coverage, no financial benefit in having expanded nighttime coverage, and the probable advertiser resistance generated by the absence of usable receivers? The FCC, in this study, has manipulated its technical data to buttress a sales job that simply won't wash.

Nationwide Communications and Shamrock Broadcasting have agreed in principal to swap major market stations in San Jose and Dallas. By trading KMGC Dallas in exchange for KWSS Gilroy CA (plus cash), Nationwide gains a top ten market and Shamrock (which already owns KABL AM/FM Oakland/San Francisco) could implement an FM simulcast arrangement to overlap and cover the Bay Area in much the same way Viacom has paired the former KLRS-FM Santa Cruz (also south of San Jose) as KDBQ.
