Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Gifted Orator, Speaks Over Radio On Monday

Address to Feature Jewish New Year Services

A rare opportunity for the general public to hear a gifted orator is presented on Monday, Septem-

Just back from abroad, where he was elected president of the World Jewish Conference, Rabbi STEPHEN S. WISE speaks over the WABC-Columbia network from 11.15 to 11.45 A. M.

His address will be the feature of the Jewish New Year services at the Free Synagogue, Carnegie Hall. New York City. Dr. Wist's address will be preceded and followed by their music and followed by choir music.

Founder and rabbi of the Free Synagogue and honorary president of the American Jewish Congress, Dr. Wise was born in Budapest, Hungary, and educated at the College of the City of New York and Columbia, having honorary degrees as well from Temple and Syracuse Universities. A former commissioner of child labor for the State of Oregon, Rabbi WISE now is a trustee of the National Child Labor Commission.

Menaced by Chiselers

By The MICROPHONE'S Special Washington Corresponde

Warfare has been declared by the Government against trick names on radio receiving sets and equipment for radio devices.

The idea of trying to make the spurious or inferior imitation appear to be the genuine is as old as the sphinx—and equally as fascinating to a fringe of society.

Chiselers in the radio manufacturing business have become so prevalent that the Federal Trade Commission is beginning to police the industry and try to protect the seasoned companies with trademarks that are household words from fakers in the busi-

Names that sound like standard brands but are not have begun to reach the trade.

The Federal Trade Commission has made public a complaint charging "unauthorized and wrongful appropriation of well-known trade names to radio sets manufactured or assembled and sold by companies not connected with the manufacturers suggested by the trade names.

The Crystaltone Radio Corpora-tion of New York, is the respond-ent in this case—the fifth to come to the attention of the Federal Trade Commission.

You See As You Phone

American telephone and radio officials are keenly interested in an announcement from Berlin that the "television-telephone" has been successfully tested between Berlin and Munich.

So favorable were the results of the trial that German authorities are planning to link the larger cities with the "television-telephone" and to extend the service as soon as the comparatively high present cost of the apparatus involved can be reduced.

Germany already is broadcasting sound films from what is called a "television car." With this car, which is equipped with developing and transmitting appascenes and sounds are ready for reproduction one minute and 15 seconds after the sound picture camera, mounted on the car's roof, has finished taking them.

Government Census Shows That Radio Business Is Picking Up

Automobile

By The MICROPHONE'S Special Washington Correspondent.

Radio business-the money end of it—is picking up, according to advices received by the Commerce Department.

In Jine with other industries in 1933, radio had rough sailing, compared with 1931 when the de-pression was just beginning to take a firm grip.

The census bureau reported the factory output of radio receiving and transmitting equipment and their accessories and of phonographs was valued at $112,279,565 in 1933, compared with $187,717,880 in 1931—a 40.2 per cent

The number of wage earners in the radio manufacturing industry decreased 14.4 per cent or from 36,490 persons in 1931 to 32,339 in 1933.

In 1933 there were 145 factories producing radio apparatus against 217 in 1931.

Here are some statistics on 1933 output: Radio sets for the home, 2,788,467, valued at $53, 837,362; combination radio and phonograph units 30,092, valued at $1,407,650; all-wave receiving sets, 108,452, valued at $4,746,775; receiving set tubes, 57,042,409, valued at $24,197,086.

The number of phonographs turned out was incomplete, but the total value was placed at $301,436, with $2,562,082 for records and blanks.

That the business for automo-That the business for automobile radio receiving sets is proving a gold mine was evidenced by the bureau's report that in 1933 there were produced 662,645 auto radios valued at $12,979,194.

The factories put out 92,284 battery radio sets valued at $1,922,647 in 1933. These went battery chiefly to farmers.

Chicago Fire Play Will Be Broadcast

The great Chicago fire of Octo-ber, 1871, will be dramatized over the CBS-WABC network on Monday, September 10, at 11 P. M.

Gold Mine In Deutsch's Gypsy Orchestra Japs Battle Arranges Music As It Plays China's Giant

Receivers Members Of Band Play Without Scores

By HILDA COLE

A YOUNG MAN, well versed in the gay string music of Budapest and Vienna cabarets, came to radio in 1925, determined to "Gypsyfy" the airwaves. He pre-dicted that Gypsy music would come into vogue in America, though the fox trots showed every indication of holding full sway.

EMERY DEUTSCH, after making his violin sing for some years in comparative obscurity, has now every reason to say "I told you so," because Gypsy music has taken hold on this Continent. Now Gypsy orchestras are adding "Old World" atmosadding "Old World atmosphere to many an American metropolitan cafe and night

And EMERY'S CBS program, Romany Trail, is the last word in authentic Gypsy melodies blended with "Gypsyfied" popular tunes. He brought melodies of a Romany nature into Tin Pan Al-ley "best seller" class when he wrote "Play Fiddle Play" and "My Gypsy Rhapsody."

Bringing Gypsy music to the airwaves with spontancity and also with polish is a problem that EMERY has solved. Maestro DEUTSCH explained:

"A real Gypsy orchestra plays by ear. It does its own harmonizing, its own arrangements as it goes along. That is traditional Gypsy style—but many of the best orchestras would sound terrible on the airwaves, because of a certain free-for-all quality of playing which sounds terrible unless you can actually see the orchestra, too."

EMERY's radio orchestra of six strings has all the facility of a Gypsy band for follow ing every whim of the first violin—but with rehearsing and proper "balance" the effect is spontaneous without being sloppy.

Romany Trail is one of the few programs on the air which does not require as-siduous timing and check-ing by the production man.

Why?
"It's just the Gypsy in me," Deutsch answered, winking.

"In other words, the musician's facility for following the first violin comes in very handy. If we're running over-time, I can cut short with the knowledge that my men will follow me. Likewise, if we need to make up a little extra time, I can play any piece that pops into my mind and the musicians will hit the trail with me."

Another feature of Romany Trail is that the six strings usually play without music. Again EMERY was called upon to explain:

"Few of the old authentic Gypsy tunes were ever published. They have been handed down from one musical generation to the next. You'd be up against it if you tried to find them in any music library."

EMERY, who is an authority on old Viennese waltzes and Gypsy tunes, has the greatest mental music library in existence. He collected the Gypsy folk songs by roaming the Hungary states and searching out cabarets where such music was played. It cast an unforgettable spell over him.

over him.

He was entranced by the beauty and soul-stirring quality of these simple folk songs with their rhapsodic style. The musicians, he says, played from their hearts and not from printed scores.

Police Motorcycle Radio Successful

By The MICROPHONE'S Special Washington Correspondent

Experiments with radio receiving sets for policemen's motorcycles have proven successful in the District of Columbia.

Some of the motorcycles used by cops are being equipped so that the blue coats may pick up police bul-letins broadcast by headquarters.

Where motorcycle cops use side cars and batteries and other para-phernalia are kept in the side cars and receivers are placed on the

Where no side cars are used the entire set is placed on the handle bars without interfering with vision or ability to drive.

While the motorcycle makes considerable noise, politemen pointed out that as soon as they hear the signals from the police broadcasting station they turn down their motors and have no difficulty in hearing while coasting along.

Greece Constructs A-Radio Station

By The MICROPHONE'S Special Washington Correspondent

Greece and Albania are the only countries in Europe without radio stations and now Greece is planning to erect a 50,000-watt broadcasting station at Athens and a smaller one in Salonica, according to informa-tion received by the Department of

Voice On Air

By GEORGE LILLEY

Across the Pacific, short wave broadcasting has taken a hold in the radio set-up. Japan, already with a fine string of 10-kilowatt broadcast band stations and blue prints for a few additional 100kilowatt disseminators to combat the activities of a giant air voice at Nanking, China, has decided it is nearly time to enter world-wide ether competition.

Since early Summer an Oriental wave, under the calls of JVM, has been making frequent appearances during the early morning on a wave of 27.93 metres (10.74 megs.). Reception as a whole here in the East could be very much better, but nevertheless, it is an improvement over former trans-Pacific radiations, and the schedule of broadcasts is fairly regular-generally each morning between 5.40 and 8.40 EDST.

The programs cast to the international lanes are invariably those of the Tokio National Chain, which carries the cream of Nippon air entertainment. Besides the strangeness of the .Oriental musical fare, American shost wave fans often are able to catch the Japanese news bulletins given in English on each day's transmis-

At present JVM, or its sister station, JVN, (the latter on 28.14 metres) are the only high frequency outlets radiating regular programs. Up until June 1st, program broadcasts from Japan were flashed via JIAA, the Kemikawa Sending Station at Kemikawa-cho, Chibaken. It was at this time (hat JLAA was replaced by the more powerful "JV" units, all of which are located at Nasaki, Ibarakiken

Besides the short wave program stations, Japan has a number of commercial 'phone links working NEIL BUCKLEY, soloist with Don Bestor's Orchestra, has just signed a contract for another year. Buckley is a bari-tone, but he used to be a tenor, not long ago. Bestor prefers the baritone voice and insists that Buckley remain in that range. If BUCKLEY switches back to tenor, the contract is void.

Radio Lane

By Jimmy J. Leonard

COMEDIANS in radio nowadays seem to have eased themselves a little farther towards the stage while playing radio parts. They are encouraged to do so by the networks and the advertising agencies. It is getting to the point where a radio comedian is no longer funny if he cannot spill a studio audience out of their seats.

For example, take the case of JOE COOK, supreme. JOE stood on top large globe a week ago while he re'a d his m e anwhile was perilous lyrolling about the the studio held their sides with glee. Half way through loe decided added attraction, and swerved the ball suddenly to wards the edge of Somehow JOE had less on the ball than he thought he had. He almost lost his balance and was just able to stop it from plung-ing him over the stage. The audience was frightened, but Joe, well, Joe was petrified. When STOOPNAGLE and Bump performed the desert scene on their opening night, they walked down the aisles from the back of the CBS Theatre dressed like the Arabian Knights, with long, flowing beards and bleached cas-

WOR will blossom forth in a new burst of power on or about Thanksgiving Day. It will take on 45,000 extra watts, bringing the total wattage up to 50,000. This station then will cover one-This station then will cover one-third of this nation. The new transmitting station will cost about $300,000. It will be lo-cated 12 miles from Newark, N. J. Special lights for guiding aviators with a huge arrow blink-ing towards the North will be erected. The new plant will cover 34 acres

DEL CAMPO, the South American millionaire singer, will direct an orchestra at the Hotel Roose-VELT in New York this Fall. He'll be given six golden CBS spots to make him popular with the listeners. Don BESTOR is auditioning for a big program with a concert orchestra. And who do you suppose we saw the other day, lounging about the CBS audition chamber? None other than CLIFF "Ukulele IKE" ED-WARDS. Big things in the wind.

GRACE HAYES may sing songs for JACK DENNY. Do you know that GEORGE GIVOT cailed a meeting of all radio impersonators to formulate a code of ethics? Which must mean that he is about to spring something new and is afraid of copy-cats. Buddy Rog-ERS is said to love the horse races.

What of Television?

OR THOUSANDS of years the theatre, in one form or another, has held a prominent position in the life of people. The spectacular has, today, a thrill for the average man. Anything theatrical, depicting perhaps his own emotions in life, his trials and joys, a living picture of himself, has an appeal that is universal and eternal.

The stage has proved its importance and more recently the movies have assumed the same obligation. What of radio? Where are the possibilities in the unseen element of broadcasting? Can radio ever hope to equal this longestablished custom of hearing and seeing the performer at the same time?

Yes, certainly. With the day of television at hand, it

But will it be in a position to enter the field of the theatre and acquit itself with honors? No. Not until the industry realizes that showmanship is the predominating feature of the stage. There are not more than a handful of real showmen in charge of radio programs today.

Even without television the possibilities of showmanship are tremendous, but what happens? What do the radio listeners get? Dull, uninteresting programs presented in a way to disgust the average person when with a little planning and the services of a capable person trained to appreciate the tastes of an audience all radio stations could raise their standard of broadcasts from the ridiculous to, if not the sublime, at least a point whereby they would not be comparing the intelligence of their average listener to that of a child of eight.

With television staring us in the face, let us hope that we will not be subjected to the horror of seeing as well as hearing bad programs.

By DICK TEMPLETON
New York Correspondent

A FLEETING glance at the Fall fare to be offered to the radio listener gives yet another piece of firm proof that FRANK BLACK, NBC's general musical direc-tor, is the most accurate of all the prophets in radio. For in January it was BLACK who said:

Extensive productions will be the order of the day the new radio season which will start about the middle of September."

Recent announcement of a series of hour programs to be called "The Gibson Family" furnishes the most conclusive proof yet offered. In addition to being an unusual feat along produc-tion lines, the new show will present the first original musical comedy series ever written for radio-and it will be the work of a famous author and two of the land's best known song writers.

Radio experts have known for a long time that such an undertaking, skillfully presented, would overshadow the best musical programs on the air today. A few composers were approached with the idea and most of them shied away from the task Turning out four or five good songs each week seemed like asking too much. Finally, Carlo DE An-GELO, director of the new program, determined that two men who could write songs to fit into successful Broadway revues on order and who could, when asked, provide Hollywood with a tune for this picture or that, should not have any hesitancy in approaching the micso he put it up to them-at the same time he entrusted COURTNEY RYLEY COOPER with the idea of developing for the musical comedy.

Cooper set out to write six installments.

As soon as a half dozen scripts were turned over, DE ANGELO put the scripts in the hands of the two song writers. ARTHUR SCHWARTZ and Howard Dietz. pair had written The Bandwagon," "Three's A Crowd" and other musical comedy

Many interesting sidelights on the taste of radio fans are being found out by a bevy of in-vestigators from Station WSM in Nashville, Tennessee. For instance, the town of Annistona Alabama, prefers religious hymns as favorite radio fare. In Aleron, Ohio, the heads of families prefer news broadcasts. In Atlanta, Georgia, the men prefer dance orchestras, while the ladies are more interested in talks on dompstic science and cooking. The children there prefer hill billy music.

GEORGE BURNS and GRACIE ALLEN are back home after a seven weeks tour of Europe.

'Well, it certainly is nice to be back in Ire-land," were GRACIE'S first words after she went .through the pockets of the customs officials.

GEORGE revealed that upon their arrival at Southampton, a British warship fired a 21-gun salute for GRACIE. "But," he salute for GRACIE. "But," he added disappointedly, "every shot missed her."

CARLYLE STEVENS, CBS and nouncer, is generally pretty cool-headed. But the other night, when he started announcing a broadcast, his hands were trembling violently and he kept biting his lips.

All the time he kept glancing at the control room seeking some sign of relief. Finally an engineer scribbled something piece of paper, after he had had a session with the telephone. He held the paper up so CARLYLE could see it.

Immediately the young man brightened and did a jig around the studio.

The sign read: "IT'S A BOY."

Radio's 'Lady Next Door' Builds Programs Around Her Cast

The Radio House Next Door

Has Been On The Air For Seven Years

Here's the story of a girl who has taken the place of hundreds of thousands of fathers, mothers, uncles, aunts and other miscellareous relatives throughout the length and breadth of the land.

How many thousands of times B. R. (Before Radio) have the above-mentioned fathers and mothers heard the plaint: "Tell us a story." And then came the figurative scratching of heads and finally nothing much more original than the tale of the Three

Not that story-telling by the elders of the household has disappeared, but their attempts are now augmented by the loudspeaker.

This, then, is the story of the girl back of the loudspeaker, known far and wide as "The Lady Next Door." And who doesn't know of a "lady next door," she of the convenient cookie jar and the entertaining stories?

The Clank of Armor

URING a recent movie preview on the "45 Minutes in Hollywood" program, sound engineers had to reproduce the clanking of medieval armor. They puzzled their heads for days and finally achieved the effect by bouncing a wooden necklace off a padded vibraphone.

Introducing

ARING forth from Simmons College not so long ago with a heartening background of the intricacies and lore of do-this interesting period heard at 1.10 P. M. over WEEI on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, Miss Walker shares the speaking assignment with Miss Helen Bates of whom an introduction will subsequently be presented.

One of the prime movers in the activities of the Edison domestic science coterie for the past few years, Miss Walker has had the opportunity to substantially and intermittently preface her radio work with lecture demonstrations. Thus was her eligi-bility established to tell to the radio public the sequence of amusing, historical and romantic stories, on a variety of subjects, which make the interlude with The Friendly Kitchen Observ-ment. Today she stands an ex ponent of how habit forming a harmless little device such as a microphone can be. "Radio letter writers are very appreciative, she says, "and their acknowledgements, I believe, are still widely variable and at the same that the mic-rophone was stereotyped run of broadcasts finding inspiration in the field of her and her domestic science.

The author of Miss Walker's presentations, having a flair for the unusual, will one day hand origin ated and culled by Hull, who gave his daughter a Ora Dodd, marriage dowry of her weight in pinetree shillings or about the cider made by a Rhode Island merchant from apples of a tree which came from the Garden of Eden. Other typical topics are "How Colonial housewives disliked pumpkin, and of the Indian vegetables they cooked in their forty-pound iron kettles"; "How John Eliot helped the In-dians to found Nonantum and Natick"; "About tea bootleggers. and the lady who served her guests with tea which she had boiled, buttered and salted."

Of course at the close of each little story is a delicately done show business to talk to the guy. and brief commercial transition to correlate the theme of the broadcast with the work of the Edison Friendly Service Kitchen. That, Miss Walker would tell you, like the "Observer's" broadcasts, is a service to every home, "The Friendly Kitchen Observer" so appealing.

By self admission she entertained a few suppressed qualms and each a public utility. In other words, she's in love with her work and doesn't hesitate to say so to you, you and also you.

Mr. Miller. The time is a q music called him and parental quants during the police strike on his last vaudeville appearance approbation was translated into Thursdays—two bits of fine in Boston. He merely linked the say so to you, you and also you.

about her initial radio assign. Big Freddy Miller Is A Keith Circuit Grad

Informality Gives

To see him hiking Tremont street with a watch charm pek inese on his sleeve and a light tan fedora worn jauntily, one would be justified in a second peek; and not at the "peke," as Big Freddy Miller, the Proctor and Gamble man over WEEI, is more than something of a show man-on the street and behind the microphone.

A graduate of Columbia and NBC blue networks, as well as stations WXYZ-Detroit, WLW -Cincinnati and WCAU Philadelphia, Big Freddy has all that it takes to sing his way into the homes of New England at 7.45 o'clock over WEEI on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The schedule is a forerunner of a coast-tocoast network presentation of the same program under the same sponsorship with the coming of the new year.

It's a liberal education in the You might remember him Keith time which he worked for years, doing a single, as a mem-ber of "The Quixy Four," and sharing applause in the 'Miller Abbott" combine. The then Governor Coolidge thanked Big Freddy at Tremont Temple where he entertained the home know his obliging, easy-going nature is hand and glove with civic, benefit and thank you assignments aside from his toil for daily bread.

That, by the way, had its first inspiration in the town of Zanes-ville, Ohio, which claims fame for having one of the world's two Y-shaped bridges and probably more potteries than any other domestic or foreign community. Being also the home of Harry, father of Ray Bolger, Burke Chauncey Alcott, the lure of the stage was more or less a natural inclination for Mrs. Miller's boy.

which Florenz Ziegfeld, father of the famous Follies' producer, was the dean Completing his studies, Miller organized an orchestra which had for a first fiddle player none other than the famous Rubinoff. It clicked from "proms" to con-certs and was the forerunner of his theatrical career after three years of space selling for the Chicago Tribune. And the selling tendency lingers, he was frank enough to admit after a convincing though brief disserta-tion on the merits of Ivory Shaving Cream. On the program, the commercialism is very informally done with a sonorous, happy diction which not only listens well but is a happy contrast to many, more strenuous program product plugs. To quote Miller-imy reading an announcement would make me feel like reciting 'Mary Had A Little Lamb'."

By way of explanation about the toy pekinese, the spotlight is swung towards Mrs. Miller who, like her husband, likes Boston and shops the stores. Then the big man puts on the dog for an afternoon airing. Mrs. Miller, another featured artist on the Keith Circuit, was Pearl Du Val and heard Big Freddy vocalize for the first time at Toledo-Keiths back in 1922. They've and been harmonizing ever since.

If it's something different you prefer, you'll prefer six-foot-one Mr. Miller. The time is a quarter before eight on Tuesdays and Thursdays-two bits of fine entertainment weekly. And he'll

A Murder Is Broadcast While Lombardos Play Soft, Mellow Music

An Incident In the Career Of The Band

The time was about 1927. The place was Chicago.

One day the owner of a not-too-well-known South Side night club went to the owner of a Chicago radio station.

"Look here," he said. "My business is dying on the vine.
I'm darn near broke. I have a band down at my club and I think the boys would make a hit over the air. Furthermore, I believe in radio advertising. I believe it would put my business in the black. Can we get together?"

"What band have you got?" asked the station own-

"Well, they're not very well known," the night club owner said apologetically. "They came to me from Cleveland. They call themselves The Royal Canadians. Fellow by the name of Lombals conducts. Has three bardo conducts. Has three brothers in the band."

"Have you got any money?" asked the station

"Just a few hundred dollars," replied the other.
"All right, I'll take a chance," said the radio man.

chance," said the radio man.
"But I've got obligations, too, so you'll have to pay in advance for your time on the air. The line charge will be extra. Your band isn't known here and it may be terrible. If it is I can't afford to keep it on the station. We'll nut. it on the station. We'll put it on but if it isn't any good

First Time On The Air

Several nights later along toward midnight, the station owner and some of his friends listend of the Air Wednesday at 10 P. M. over an NBC-WEAF network under commercial sponsorship.

The Royal Canadians were on the air. The station owner was never known to overpraise anything. He listened for a time and then remarked:

"Not bad for an unknown."

When the LOMBARDO tempo and the LOMBARDO slow thythm of and the LOMBARDO soft legato sol style of musical interpretation hit engagem the air waves over that Chicago between station, the band became an overnight sensation. LOMBARDO music became the mode. The young Canadian had established an individual style that has been copied many times but never successfully imitated.

You just couldn't keep a Guy like that off the networks. And soon the whole United States began to dial for those Royal Canaplaint, which says:

Unfortunately for our purpose the chic Frenchwoman does not go "en vacance" until August, and this year she has been especially late in leaving on account of the prolonged gaiety of the Paris season with night racing, private balls and outdoor fetes, Paris for the French has been exceedingly festive.

August, then, finds our chic Parisienne at one of the beaches— Deauville, Dinard, Cabourg, St. Tropez—and September will find ber at Biarritz or sunny San Sebas-tien, just across the Spanish border. On good days the beach dress, slim, decollete, and accompanied by shorts and a tailored jacket, is almost a uniform. This is worn with a large hat, preferably in natural-colored straw, and flat-beeled san-dals also of natural straw, fastened to the feet by strips of bright Moroccan leather. The straight-line skirt is often slit at the side

FLORENCE CASE, our own radio singer, has several of these dresses in linen, accompanied by checked, crinkled jackets in interesting color combinations, with linen revers to match the dress.

THE FRENCHWOMAN AL A seaside resort dresses much more in formally than our compatriots. As a rule hen beach dress and jacket a rule hen beach dress and jacket are adequate for any daytime occasion. If she should change for tea, she does not choose a garden-partyish flowered-chifton, but instead, slips into a pale-colored silk sports frock, low-heeled shoes and a very large felt hat - pastel or white.

FOR EVENING she puts aside her sophisticated satins and metal-threaded chiffons in favor of linen or pique in a dark shade and cut on elongated sports lines, with the skirt slit on both sides and a jeweled clip as sole concession to "luxe"!

can learn the art. Yet I know that it is a difficult art. Those who impersonate movieland's stars in the programs. I was both thrilled and a bit frightened, for almost live in movie houses. Each week we dramafize Connie Bennett is perhaps the most difficult person in scenes from some new Hollywood production, through movieland to impersonate. It is a fearful task in itself the co-operation of the producing company. This entitles but thrilling when accomplished. It was some months us to see special previews of the picture in question, preago that Marion Hopkinson and I-Marion first gained views which usually are given in Broadway projection

We haunted movie houses. seeing every film in which Connie was playing, in Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx, in suburban Long Island and New Jersey towns. in an effort to digest and then attempt to simulate her vocal qualities and each little nuance and inflection.

In that time Marion and I probably saw ten pictures in which Miss Bennett played, some of which we viewed three and four times, and then competed against each other in an audition for the honor of impersonating ner. Marion won at that time and gave a creditable performance. The memory of that performance only added to my fear on learning later that I was to impersonate Miss Bennett.

Making a liying by broadcasting impersonations of public personalities - in the case of "Forty-five Minutes In Hollywood," by impersonating movie stars—is a fascinating but precarious profession.

hood, nearly 20 years, but not until about a year ago did I start to capitalize on it professionally. Before that I acted straight roles on the stage, playing chiefly on the ductions.

Don Stauffer, director of "Forty-five Minutes In Hollywood," first employed me as an impersonator. He believes that a talent for mimicry is inborn, whereas I still am inclined to the belief that anyone of average ability peculiarities in their speech difficult to mimic.

during one of the "Forty-five Minutes In Hollywood" "Forty-five Minutes In Hollywood" programs sometimes rooms of the producing companies. Sometimes the picture will be shown for us as often as six times, taking practically two days, while at other times we are able to impersonate the performances of stars after seeing the film only two or three times. After the previews we devote hours to rehearsals.

After spending so many hours a week learning 'o impersonate one person, the art of mimiery becomes an obsession. A stranger seeing me walking along a street, riding in a taxi or subway, or sitting in the lounge of a broadcasting studio, probably would think me mentally unbalanced. I am forever studying the voices of persons—eavesdropping on them, so to speak, and watching their every mannerism.

I become so engrossed in persons that often, much too often, I catch myself repeating their words half aloud and copying their gestures. You might think that a radio actor, while imitating a person's voice, is merely indulging in unnecessary color and

One must give an authentic impersonation of any given showmanship by also imitating the person's physical mannerisms; but it is surprisingly true that one best imitates I how have been mimicking people since early child- another's voice by also imitating his personal mannerisms.

A person's voice is indefinably linked with his actions; one complements the other.

Professional radio mimics are fortunate when they live road but also appearing in a couple of Broadway pro- in New York. That city probably provides as many types for study by impersonators as any city in the world.

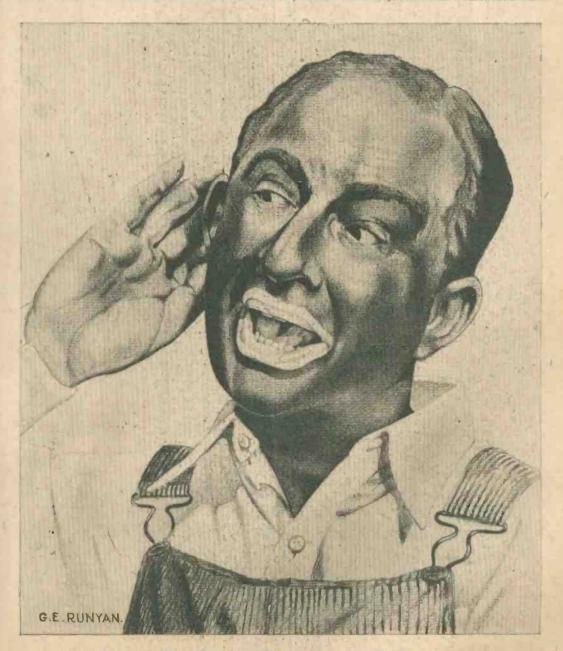

Therefore, a professional mimic easily can study any type he may wish to impersonate. One must study a type before impersonating that type. Movie stars have many
