THE PURPOSE OF THIS DIRECTORY

is to provide facts about newspapers and periodicals, and authoritative information concerning the states, cities, towns and marketing areas in which these publications are issued and circulate.

This volume is the recognized key to every kind of publication issued in the United States and Canada. It is widely used as the basic authority by people in business, industry, education, agriculture, religion, government and advertising.

Please read the pages immediately following to be sure your use of this Directory will be efficient and satisfactory.

N. W. AYER & SON, INC.

A GUIDE TO THE USE OF THE DIRECTORY

For the benefit of new subscribers and for a better understanding by all users of this book, a few paragraphs follow that should clarify the terms that must of necessity be abbreviated, make evident the method used in compiling it, and explain the absence of material that might well be included in its pages if space permitted. For ease in reference the material is grouped under self-explanatory alphabetized headings. Population figures for the United States are from the 1950 Census tabulations.

ALPHABETICAL ARRANGEMENT OF PUBLICATIONS In each city and town newspapers are listed in alphabetical order by their distinctive names. The word "The," if used, appears after the name. "Morning," "Evening," "Weekly," or other words indicating the period of issue, are not given in the title, nor is the name of the city or town in which the paper circulates. Thus, the "Chicago Evening News" is listed under Chicago as "News." When the title pertains to a state or county, however, the name of the section is included, examples being, "Oregon Journal" in Portland, Oregon; "Ventura County News" in Ventura, California. Occasionally, too, the name of a city is retained to distinguish a paper from another of similar title. It is our intention to list newspapers in the town in which they circulate chiefly. For this reason the address of the publisher may in a few instances differ from the town in which the paper is listed.

BRACKETS When two or more papers in a town or city are under the same management or regularly sell space in combination, they are bracketed in the DIRECTORY. As examples, see the News and the Post-Herald in Birmingham, Alabama; the News and the Times in Cumberland, Maryland.

CIRCULATIONS All circulation statements obtained from the publishers are for the latest date possible, i.e., they represent an average circulation for six months preceding the compilation of the DIRECTORY in which they appear.

By an average paid circulation is meant, as is clearly expressed on all forms and questionnaires: the average net paid circulation per issue (after deducting all left-over, unsold, returned, file, sample, exchange, or advertisers' copies, and special editions) for six preceding months.

Free and controlled circulations are so indicated. The terms are not synonymous. These also represent a six months' average, exclusive of left-over, unsold, file, sample, exchange and advertisers' copies.

In the list of daily newspapers in the back of the book, it is possible to include circulation figures that arrive too late for incorporation in the catalog pages. Reference to this fact is made in the catalog just preceding each state's list of towns and cities. Variation is also found between the catalog and other of the classified lists because of the later printing of the latter which allows inclusion in them of last-minute changes.

Circulations given in this DIRECTORY are divided into nine classes: A.B.C. Audits; A.B.C. Statements; P.O. Statements; B.P.A. Audits; V.A.C. Statements; C.C.A.B. Audits; Sworn Statements; Publishers' Statements; Estimated figures. Under the following italicized headings brief explanations are given.

A. B. C. Statements and Audits Members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations are so designated by symbols preceding their circulation figures. Their Audits are indicated by (●); September 30 Statements by (★★); March 31 and June 30 Statements by (★). These are in bold face type, as that is our method in all cases of indicating sworn statements. Only the total net paid circulation figures are given. A few of these statements cover only a three-month period; the majority, however, are for a six-month period ending with the date indicated. Every circulation period covered by the figures shown in each case is in or during the year 1958.

Members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations are sometimes not designated as such in the DIRECTORY. This occurs only when a consolidation has taken place, invalidating the latest available statement, or when no up-to-date statement is made available by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, 123 North Wacker Drive, Chicago (6), Ill.

P. O. Statements Circulation figures given in the statement of ownership, management and circulation made by newspapers on October 1 of each year to the Post Office Department of the Federal Government are listed in the DIRECTORY in bold face type. They are called Post Office Statements and are indicated by the symbol (§).

B. P. A. Audits Circulation figures from Controlled and Qualified Paid Audits are preceded by (>) and are given in bold face type, showing that they are sworn statements, made for the Business Publications Audit of Circulation, Inc., 420 Lexington Avenue, New York (17), N. Y.

V. A. C. Statements and Audits Circulation figures from Verified Audit Circulation Co. are preceded by the initials V. A. C. and are entered in bold face type indicating sworn statements. The figures may be controlled, net paid or free and are indicated accordingly. V. A. C. is located at 8350 Stanta Monica Blvd., Los Angeles (46), California.

C. C. A. B. Audits Controlled circulation figures from Canadian Circulations Audit Board, Inc., 10 Price St., Toronto (5), Ontario, are given in bold face type, preceded by (+).

Sworn and Publishers' Statements; Estimated Circulation Figures Figures furnished us by publishers fall into three classifications. First, those that are supported by affidavit are listed in bold face type as sworn statements. Secondly, those unsupported by affidavit are preceded by a double dagger (‡) and are called publishers' statements. Thirdly, those given to us, but lacking a signature are listed as estimated. In addition, those publications that have failed to reply are given estimated figures for one year, based on the statement for the preceding year. Estimated figures are accompanied by no symbol and are printed in light face type.

COUNTY SEATS Every town that is a County Seat is marked with a dagger (‡) immediately after the name of the town.

MAP LOCATIONS Following the name of each town and city in the book there is, in parenthesis, a capital letter and figure. These come immediately before the population figures. This letter and figure indicate where that town appears on the map. Each map carries symbols along the edges. At top and bottom appear the letters, and along both sides appear the figures. The town will be found near to the point where a line drawn down from the given letter and another line drawn across from the given figure intersect.

CLASSIFIED LISTS Consult the "Table of Contents" for location of all Special Groupings of publications such as Daily newspapers, Weekly and Semi-weekly newspapers Daily Periodicals, Labor and all other Trade or Technical or Industrial publications.

NO ADVERTISING Publications which are believed to decline general advertising are indicated in the DIRECTORY by the abbreviated form "No adv."

OMISSION OF CIRCULATIONS In some cases it becomes necessary to omit circulation figures. Cases in point are: when the information received is indefinite, contradictory, or otherwise unsatisfactory; when experience or reliable information creates a doubt as to the accuracy of the figures sent us; when more recent information indicates that statements made earlier in the year do not represent conditions at the time the DIRECTORY is issued; and when publishers themselves have requested the omission.

The continued existence of publications failing to answer our queries is checked through other sources. No response direct from the publisher for two years or longer is indicated in the circulation column by the symbol (—).

AIRLINES By the following letters we identify the Airlines serving the point at which they are used:

AA—American Airlines	LH—Lufthansa

LAV—Linea Aeropostal Venezolana	WCA—West Coast Airlines
LCA—Lake Central Airlines

RAILROADS Abbreviations are listed in town headings. They are keyed to the map preceding each state.

POSTAL ZONE NUMBERS In all of the larger cities and towns where the postal authorities have requested the use of postal zone numbers, we show the correct postal zone number for each address in parenthesis after the street address. In addressing any publication in such cities or towns you should place the postal zone number on the envelope immediately after the name of the town.

PUBLICATIONS EXCLUDED In accordance with our usual custom, a number of publications which are not required by the general advertiser or the public have been omitted from the DIRECTORY. Among these are high school and junior college papers, local church papers, papers issued by business houses primarily for the promotion of their own interests (generally known as House Organs), and publications issued by institutions, unless these have influence outside the particular institution by which they are published. A few publications established during the past year are also omitted. Information concerning them may be obtained by writing to the editorial office of the DIRECTORY.

SUB-EDITIONS As far as possible, we distinguish between independent publications and those which are simply reprints of some other paper, usually with little or no alteration beyond the name. Papers so issued are entered in the catalog under the name of the leading paper, and under the place of apparent publication the name of the edition is given, with reference to the paper or house issuing it, followed in many instances by the name of the town to which mail should be addressed.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICES The many variations in the subscription prices of daily papers in the larger cities make it impossible, in the space available, to give such prices accurately. The subscription rates requested of all papers are those paid by local subscribers. Dailies are requested to give the rate when delivered by carrier. Differences must be expected between these prices and those in zones other than the one in which the paper is published.

In the case of newspapers that are members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations many of the subscription prices listed are computed from the monthly or weekly carrier price given in the respective A.B.C. statements.

TOWN HEADINGS Due to the condensation necessary in this work, headings for towns and cities under 25,000 contain reference to banking facilities only when these are not available in the town being described. For the same reason there is also no mention made in these headings of airports.

Much of the statistical data obtained from Government sources is necessarily more than one year old. These figures are the latest ones available.

LATE INFORMATION The last pages in this book, following the Alphabetical Index, contain supplementary information that reached the editorial office after the pages on which it would normally appear had gone to press.

Be sure to consult these supplemental pages.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

It is with genuine appreciation that acknowledgment is made here of the assistance given by various agencies in the compilation of this book. ## FINAL COUNT FOR POPULATION OF CONTINENTAL UNITED STATES BY REGIONS, DIVISIONS AND STATES: APRIL 1, 1950

The total population of the United States on April 1, 1950, was 150,697,361, according to final figures from the 1950 Census of Population published by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. From 1940 to 1950 the United States experienced an all-time record population growth between successive censuses of 19,028,086. The rate of increase was 14.5%—twice that of the thirties.

The most prominent population gain among the states was that of California, which exceeded with its 3,678,836 increase that of the entire Northeast Region. California now ranks second to New York in population, whereas in 1940 it ranked fifth. Four other states, New York, Texas, Michigan, and Ohio, had gains of over 1,000,000.

Other centers of heavy population growth were the Northwest (Oregon and Washington); the Southwest (Arizona and the bordering states of Nevada, Utah, and New Mexico); and the region in and near the seat of the United States Government (the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia).

Of the remaining states, all but four gained population. The four states with population losses were Arkansas, Mississippi, North Dakota, and Oklahoma. The losses and the rates of decline were relatively small.

There were fifty cities in 1950 with over 200,000 inhabitants, as compared with forty-three in 1940. Of the eighteen cities in this group which gained population in excess of 20%, five are in California, four in Texas.

Since the 1950 Census, population in the United States has continued to increase rapidly. The estimated population as of July 1, 1958, was 173,260,000 an increase in excess of 22,500,000 since the April 1, 1950 Census. Only three states—Arkansas, Vermont and West Virginia—show a population decrease since 1950. States with the greatest percentage increase are Nevada, 66.7; Florida, 60.3; Arizona, 52.1; Delaware, 42.7. The largest numerical increases were recorded in California, with a gain of about 3,751,000, Florida with 1,671,000, Texas with 1,666,000, Michigan with 1,494,000 and New York with 1,399,000.

A minus sign (-) denotes decrease

*Household—A household includes all of the persons, without regard to relationship, who occupy a house, an apartment or other group of rooms, or a room, that constitutes a dwelling unit. The number of households may be regarded as comparable with the number of "families" in the 1940 Census. †Sales Management, 1959 Survey of Buying Power. Other statistics are from the U. S. Bureau of the Census.

POPULATION

POPULATION OF THE UNITED STATES

Continental United States 150,697,361

United States, including territories and possessions, 153,515,955
(United States Census, 1950)

Cities, towns and villages of the United States and Canada, arranged by states and provinces in alphabetical order and sub-divided into groups in each state and province according to the number of inhabitants, from 2,500 upward. The Census Bureau classes as urban those places which have a population of 2,500 or more. Places with less than 2,500 are classed as rural.

ALABAMA

Population 3,061,743 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, MONTGOMERY

Alabama is bounded on the north by Tennessee, east by Georgia and Florida, south by Florida and the Gulf of Mexico, and west by Mississippi. Its extreme length, north to south, is 336 miles; its breadth varies from 150 to 200 miles. The total land area is 51,078 square miles.

The Allegheny range enters the state at the northeast and extends toward the center, finally losing itself in mere hills; then follows a tract of rolling prairies interspersed with pine barrens and rich alluvial bottom lands. These bottom lands include the black belt region, one of the greatest cattle producing districts in the world. From this region to the Florida border and the Gulf the land is gently undulating and is covered with forests.

The mountain districts and the valley of the Tennessee are covered with fine forests of hardwood timber. The mineral region occupies the northeastern part, while the northwest is a good agricultural and stock raising country. The climate is temperate and fairly uniform. The Weather Bureau at Montgomery gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 65.8; highest degree on record, 107; lowest —5. Total annual precipitation is 51.33 inches.

Much of the state's foreign commerce passes through Mobile, exports from which port were valued at approximately $158,000,000 in 1957. Birmingham, "the Pittsburgh of the South" is in the center of the mining industry. The largest institution of higher education in the State is the University of Alabama, located at University (Tuscaloosa).

ALASKA

Population 128,543 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, JUNEAU

Alaska is bounded on the north by the Arctic Ocean, east by the Yukon Territory and British Columbia, Canada, south by the Pacific Ocean, and west by Bering Sea and Strait and the Arctic Ocean. Including the Aleutian Islands, it has a total area of 585,400 square miles. Its greatest length from north to south is 1,200 miles; its greatest breadth over 800 miles.

The northern half is low with great morasses along the streams, and is populated only by a few Indians. The southern half is mountainous and along the southeast coast are some of the highest peaks in North America. Near the center is Mt. McKinley (20,257 feet), loftiest elevation on the entire continent. The southwesterly section comprises the peninsula of Alaska and the Aleutian Islands, the latter the center of the fur seal fisheries. This district is mountainous and actively volcanic. The coast from the southern boundary to Cape Spencer is lined with a chain of islands between which and the mainland are salt water channels navigable for the largest steamships. The Yukon River has a length of 2,300 miles, of which 1,765 miles are in Alaska and 1,200 miles are navigable.

In the interior temperatures range from about 50° below zero in winter to 90° in summer; on the coast and the Aleutian Islands they range from zero to 80°. The northerly province bordering the polar sea is the only one in which arctic conditions prevail. The Weather Bureau at Juneau gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 42.4; highest on record 89; lowest on record -17. Total annual precipitation is 84.44 inches.

POPULATION

The 1950 census shows the largest growth in Alaska history—a 77% increase over the 72,524 inhabitants of 1940. The civilian population on July 1, 1954 was estimated at 208,000.

AGRICULTURE

Fairbanks, with Tanana, is the center of a growing agricultural region of a great inland plateau rolling gently north from the barrier of mountain ranges along the south coast. The Matanuska Valley colonization project, established in 1935, has established several thousand permanent residents of the Valley area.

A cooperative plan to coordinate all agricultural research activities in Alaska was adopted in 1949, to integrate the full technical and physical facilities of both the Federal Department of Agriculture and the University of Alaska. Projects now in operation include animal husbandry, soils, horticulture, agronomy, agricultural economics, agricultural engineering, plant pathology and entomology. Agricultural projects in livestock, crops, and gardening are also conducted by the University.

Agricultural production in 1956 amounted to $3,519,090.

FISHERIES

The Alaska fisheries engaged 24,549 people in 1955. The commercial catch of fishery products during 1955 totalled 429,052,841 lbs., valued at $37,739,047. The salmon catch, totaling 269,897,525 lbs., was more than sixty-six million lbs. greater than in 1955. Canned products as prepared for market amounted to $80,231,698; frozen, $10,471,311; cured, $858,521; by-products (oil and meal), $2,350,454, and fresh fish and seafood, $705,337.

155 wholesale and manufacturing establishments were operated in Alaska in 1955, giving employment to 9,581 people. A strong demand for frozen food products required the freezing of large quantities of salmon which might otherwise have been canned or shipped fresh to market.

FURS

Alaska is famous as a big game country and is protected by game commission laws. In 1957 there were taken 93,518 fur seal skins on Pribilof Islands, valued at $3,857,000. Fur take in Alaska (year ending 6-30-57): mink, 35,000, value $250,000; beaver, 14,350, value $230,000; muskrat, 84,000, value, $84,000; otter, 3,300, value $80,000. Total fur value, $789,820.

FORESTS

Under the care of the Government are 20,772,000 acres set apart as two national forests. The Tongass is in southeastern Alaska, and the Chugach is in the Prince William Sound region. Timber stand in the national forests, is estimated to be 84,760,000 board feet. Timber cut during the year ending 5-30-57 comprised 255,000,000 board feet, valued at $580,478. Principal woods: Western hemlock, sitka spruce, western red cedar and Alaska cedar. There is an enormous supply of timber suitable for pulp.

MINERALS

Mining is the second industry in importance. Estimated production in 1956 was $23,408,000, an increase from the 1965 total. 1,991 persons employed (1956) in mining industry. Alaska contains radioactive minerals in geological conditions similar to those in other uranium bearing parts of the world, but their economic importance is not yet known. Principal mineral products: gold, coal, building materials, platinum, mercury, chrome, silver, tin.

MISCELLANEOUS

Railroad affairs are conducted under supervision of the Secretary of the Interior and a General Manager in immediate charge with headquarters in Anchorage. Rail operating revenue for 1957 was $15,224,909. Diesel locomotives handled the greater proportion of freight and passenger movement. Frequent ship connections link the south coast towns with Seattle, Portland and San Francisco. River boats are maintained during the season of navigation. Six major airlines connect with the United States.

Road-building activities are administered under three heads: the Alaska Road Commission, the Bureau of Public Roads, and the Territorial Road Board. Roads and trails have opened up to development nearly all sections of the territory. A highway through Mt. McKinley National Park is open for traffic. Thousands of vacationers visit the Park annually.

Puruly military consideration provided the motive for the opening, December 1, 1942, of the Alaska Highway for truck traffic, from Dawson Creek, B. C., through Canada and the Yukon Territory to Fairbanks, Alaska. Primarily the road is for defense, because it will give Alaska safe, overland means of communication. Opened to tourist travel in 1948, the Highway was used by approximately 50,000 vehicles in 1952.

Total deposits as of June 30, 1950 in banks were $78,104,000. There are (1955), 31 incorporated municipalities whose total assessed valuation approximates $287,972,297. Number of post offices (1957), 227.

The territorial schools, including the elementary and high schools, are under general supervision of a Territorial Board of Education. The office of Indian Affairs has supervision over the education and general social welfare of the natives. The University of Alaska is located at College.

ARIZONA

Population 749,587 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, PHOENIX

Arizona is bounded on the north by Utah and Nevada, south by Mexico, east by New Mexico and west by California and Nevada. Its length, north to south, is 390 miles, its breadth about 800 miles. The total land area is 118,575 square miles, its rank in area, fifth.

The Colorado River flows through the northern part of the state, and forms nearly all the western boundary. Its Grand Canyon is one of the scenic wonders of the world. The state is generally picturesque and in addition to the Grand Canyon has such other outstanding items of interest as the Petrified Forest, Natural Bridge, Indian pueblos, ruins of cliff dwellers, and the great Roosevelt Dam, which supplies irrigating waters for the richest agricultural district, the Salt River Valley. From the latter and from other sources of irrigation, agriculture has received great stimulation. Hoover Dam in the Black Canyon harnesses the Colorado and is the greatest dam in the world.

Extending from Grand Canyon to the Mogollon Mountains are large forests of pine. In the center of the state is a richly mineralized belt. Hot springs are found in the southwest, and the arid, semi-tropical southeast affords relief to sufferers from pulmonary complaints. At Flagstaff is located the Lowell Observatory. The University of Arizona is at Tucson.

The Weather Bureau at Phoenix gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 70.8; highest degree on record, 118; lowest, 16; annual precipitation, 7.85 inches.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1950), thirty-eighth. Rural residents in 1950, 55.4%. In 1950, of the 749,587 total population, 654,511 were white; 95,076 were non-white.

AGRICULTURE

Number of farms (1950), 10,412. Farm acreage, 89,916,440. Average acreage per farm, 8,838.7. Average value per farm, $47,040. Farms selling products over $10,000 in value, 2,722. Cash receipts from farm marketings (1957): crops, $252,890,000; livestock and products (includes meat animals, dairy products, poultry and eggs), $116,745,000.

Value of sales of chief crops (1957): cotton (value of production), $128,742,000, rank, fifth; cottonseed (value of production), $17,355,000, rank, fifth; hay, $11,978,000, rank, fourth; barley, $8,103,000, rank, ninth; sorghum grain, $5,893,000, rank, eighth; wheat, $4,152,000; potatoes, $3,050,000; alfalfa seed, $909,000, rank, ninth; corn, $583,000; oats, $320,000.

Value of sales of fruits (noncitrus) (1957): grapes, $1,940,000. (Citrus) (1957-58): oranges and tangerines, $5,572,000, rank, third; grapefruit, $3,982,000, rank, fourth.

Farm value of animals on farms (1-1-58): all cattle and calves, $103,730,000; all sheep and lambs, $7,804,000; horses and mules, $5,498,000; hogs and pigs, $925,000.

Cash receipts from poultry (1957): eggs, $3,549,000; chickens (farm and commercial broilers), $553,000; turkeys, $515,000.

Cash receipts from dairy products (1957): all milk and cream, $10,973,000. Total milk production on farms, 392,000,000 lbs. Dairy products (1957): creamed cottage cheese, 3,985,000 lbs.; ice cream, 2,980,000 gallons.

FORESTS

Total forest production (1947), 220,017 M feet, b.m. Principal woods: ponderosa pine, douglas fir, white fir.

MANUFACTURES

Statistics for 1954: value added by manufacture, $191,387,000. Leading industry groups: transportation equipment, food and kindred products. Total expenditures for new plant and new equipment, $13,829,000.

Final figures for value added by manufacture in each of the leading industry groups are available through Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

MINERALS

Value (1954), $241,853,000. Principal mineral products in order of value: copper, zinc, lead, silver.

MISCELLANEOUS

Number of telephones (1-1-58), 821,500. Motor vehicles registered (est. Sept. 1958), 523,000. Number of post offices (1957), 247. Number of retail stores (1954), 9,721; sales, $982,550,000.

ARKANSAS

Population 1,909,511 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, LITTLE ROCK

Arkansas is bounded on the north by Missouri, east by Missouri, Tennessee and Mississippi, south by Louisiana, southwest by Texas, and west by Oklahoma. Its greatest length, north to south, is 240 miles; its breadth varies from 170 to 250 miles. The total land area is 52,676 square miles.

Nearly the entire state lies in the drainage basin of the lower Mississippi, which stream flows along most of its eastern border. In the eastern and southeastern portion are the cotton and timber belts. Every sort of tree that grows in the temperate zone abounds. The valley of the Arkansas, from the Oklahoma line to the Mississippi, is unsurpassed as a cotton producing region. In the west are the Ozark Mountains and fruit and mineral-bearing lands. Arkansas produces 96% of the bauxite in the country. Near the center of the state are the famous Hot Springs and other mineral spring resorts, attractive to tourists and invalids. In the south are the largest of the state's oil fields.

The summer season is long, the winters usually short and mild. The Weather Bureau at Little Rock gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 62.2; highest temperature recorded as 110; lowest as -12; total annual precipitation as 47.52 inches.

The University of Arkansas is located at Fayetteville.

CALIFORNIA

Population 10,586,223 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, SACRAMENTO

California is bounded on the north by Oregon, east by Nevada and Arizona, south by Lower California, west by the Pacific Ocean. Its length is approximately 770 miles; its breadth 280 miles; land area, 156,740 square miles; rank, in area, second.

The state has a coast line of 1,000 miles indented by many bays, among them Humboldt, San Francisco, of Golden Gate fame, and San Diego. Crossing these waterways are the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge and the Golden Gate Bridge, both of which have attracted wide attention as feats of engineering. Two mountain ranges traverse it, the Sierra Nevada in the east and the Coast Range in the west. Between them lie the beautiful and fertile Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys. Peaks of the Coast Range rise to 8,000 feet; in the Sierras altitudes exceed 10,000 feet. Mt. Whitney is 14,501 feet above sea level and the highest point in the United States. Only 70 miles from it, in the same county, is the lowest point in the entire country, Death Valley, a depression that is 276 feet below sea level.

The northern part of the state is an elevated mountain region, noted for timber, minerals and fruits. The central and southern portions, except in the mountainous districts, have soils of unexcelled fertility. The southwestern part is valuable for minerals, contains some fertile valleys and also arid, barren deserts.

Like the topography, the climate is extremely varied, ranging from the temperatures of snow-capped mountains to those of the tropics. And its rainfall varies from 75 inches in the wet season in the north to about two inches in the desert regions. The Weather Bureau at Fresno gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 63.3; highest temperature recorded as 115; lowest as 17; total annual precipitation as 9.50 inches.

There are large forests in the state, especially on the North Coast Range. In several of the national parks, among them celebrated Yosemite, are to be seen the giant Sequoias. The University of California, one of the largest universities in the country, is located at Berkeley with a branch in Los Angeles. Two other noted universities are Leland Stanford at Palo Alto and University of Southern California at Los Angeles. Lick Observatory is located at Mt. Hamilton. Near San Diego is the Palomar Mountain Observatory, housing the largest reflecting telescope ever made. Hollywood, a suburb of Los Angeles, is the center of the motion picture industry.

COLORADO

Population, 1,325,089 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, DENVER

Colorado is bounded on the north by Nebraska and Wyoming, east by Nebraska and Kansas, south by Oklahoma and New Mexico, and west by Utah. Its length, from east to west, is 880 miles; breadth, 280 miles. The total land area is 103,922 square miles; rank in area, seventh.

The state, justly famous for its scenery, is intersected near the center by the main range of the Rock Mountains, known as the "Continental Divide," and includes its highest points. Among them are Mounts Elbert and Massive, the 2nd and 3rd highest peaks in the country, and famed Pike's Peak. The mountains enclose wonderful valleys or basins, known as parks. Many are small but several are nearly 2,000 square miles in area. These parks are well timbered, and abound with beautiful scenery, being diversified with low hills and ridges. All the great rivers which rise in the state have their sources in these hills. The average altitude of this state is over 6,800 feet above sea level, and the lowest altitude, along the Arkansas River, in Browsers county, is 8,850 feet. There are forty peaks towering to an altitude of 14,000 feet or more. In crossing the mountains the height reached by railroads is 10,856 feet. Timber is found in many places in Colorado at a height of 11,000 feet, and the snow line in summer is nearly 14,000 feet, while in the European Alps but little arboreal growth is found at over 6,000 feet, and the line of perpetual snow is between 9,000 and 10,000 feet. Wheat and oats have attained maturity at 7,000 to 8,000 feet, barley at over 10,000 feet and apples, pears, plums, cherries and small fruits between 7,000 and 8,000 feet. There are many mineral springs, some reputed to have medicinal value. Everywhere is unusual conformation and coloration. The eastern part of Colorado is an immense plain which was for many years devoted to cattle raising, but is now being rapidly developed into one of the finest agricultural districts in the country. The climate is warm in summer and cold in winter, but dry and healthful. It is especially attractive to persons desiring relief from tuberculosis. The Weather Bureau at Denver gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 50.4; highest on record, 105; lowest on record, -29. Total annual precipitation is 14.01 inches.

The state is amply supplied with railway facilities, and freight tonnage and tourist travel are heavy. The Moffat railroad tunnel, 32,150 feet long, under James Peak, completed in 1928, opened up an important territory west of the Continental Divide. The University of Colorado is located at Boulder, the Colorado School of Mines at Golden.

CONNECTICUT

Population 2,007,280 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, HARTFORD

Connecticut is bounded on the north by Massachusetts, east by Rhode Island, south by Long Island Sound and west by New York. The average length from east to west is 86 miles; average breadth, 55 miles. The total land area is 4,899 square miles.

The eastern part of the state has many ridges of low hills with fertile valleys. The Connecticut River valley, at a distance from the Sound, is very fertile. In the south the land is broken and the soil sandy, but when well fertilized yields good crops. The valleys of the Connecticut and Housatonic Rivers are immensely productive, the former especially so in cigar leaf tobacco. In the west the surface is rough and the hills are abrupt, rising to an altitude of nearly 2,000 feet. The state has an unusual water supply for industrial uses. The Weather Bureau at Hartford gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 49.7; highest on record, 101; lowest on record, —18. Total annual precipitation, 44.90 inches.

The State of Connecticut is noted for its manufacturing industries. Its capital city, Hartford, is noted for the extent and variety of its insurance interests. There are hundreds of beautiful country homes of New York and other city people in the state, especially in the western part. The state has many fine educational institutions, including Yale University at New Haven, founded in 1701. The Connecticut River is open to navigation from its mouth to Hartford.

DELAWARE

Population 318,085 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, DOVER

Delaware is bounded on the north by Pennsylvania, east by the Delaware River and Bay and the Atlantic Ocean, south by Maryland, and west by Maryland and Pennsylvania. Its length from north to south is 110 miles; its breadth varies from about 9 miles to 35 miles. The total land area is 1,978 square miles; second smallest state in area.

The surface in the north is somewhat hilly, and southward the land is rolling, with fringes of marshes and swamp tracts along the indentations of Delaware Bay. The southern portion is a sandy region, but by skillful farming has been made highly productive. The soil of the interior is light and easily cultivated. The Weather Bureau at Wilmington gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 54.3; highest on record, 107; lowest, -12; total annual precipitation, 48.83 inches.

The manufacturing center of the state is Wilmington, a port on the Delaware River. It is close to the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal, a waterway which crosses the state and connects the two bays of the same names, greatly facilitating shipping between Philadelphia and Baltimore and other ports in Maryland and Virginia. Other harbors are Lewes and New Castle. The University of Delaware is located at Newark.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Population 802,178 (U. S. Census, 1950)

(For map see Maryland)

The District of Columbia, is enclosed by the state of Maryland and is bounded on the west by the Potomac River, which separates it from the state of Virginia. Its land area is 62 square miles.

It is the seat of the Federal Government of the United States and most of its activities center around the departments of the Government. These divisions are housed in spacious and attractive buildings that give the city distinction, invite the inspection of an enormous number of visitors, and add to the beauty of a place which abounds in trees, flowers and natural scenery as well as charm of layout. Across the Potomac there are additional sights that draw the attention of those who visit the District: Arlington, the National Cemetery, and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Mt. Vernon and Alexandria, all rich in national and historical interest. Industrial activity has been primarily for local consumption.

The Potomac, which flows into Chesapeake Bay, is navigable and wide and deep enough to accommodate large vessels. Washington is the chief railway stopping point en route between North and South. The Weather Bureau gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) of the city as 55.8; highest on record as 105; lowest, —15; total annual precipitation as 41.11 inches.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1950), thirty-sixth. In 1950, of the 802,178 total population, 518,147 were white; 284,031 were non-white.

AGRICULTURE

The city limits of Washington, including Georgetown, cover the entire District. The District is almost entirely urban with relatively little land left for further development. In 1950 the census reported 28 farms averaging 45.2 acres. Average value per farm, $48,871. Attention is devoted chiefly to floriculture, truck growing and dairying. Ice cream production in 1957 was 6,222,000 gallons; ice cream mix, 2,372,000 gallons.

MANUFACTURES

Statistics for 1954; value added by manufacture $158,052,000. Leading industry groups: printing and publishing, food and kindred products, paper and allied products. Total expenditures for new plant and new equipment, $5,550,000.

Final figures for value added by manufacture in each of the leading industry groups are available through Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

MISCELLANEOUS

Number of telephones (1-1-58), 581,400. Motor vehicles registered (Sept. 1958, est.), 195,000. One post office (1957). Number of retail stores (1954), 5,730; sales, $1,217,853,000.

FLORIDA

Population 2,771,805 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, TALLAHASSEE

Florida is bounded on the north by Alabama and Georgia, on the east by the Atlantic Ocean, on the west by the Gulf of Mexico. A 50-mile stretch of the Perdido River on the northwest edge completes the circuit. These boundaries enclose a land area of 54,861 square miles and 8,805 square miles of water—a total area of 58,665 square miles. The general coastline measures 1,197 miles around the state. The extreme distance from east to west across Florida measures 467 miles, while the extreme length from the 31st parallel to the southernmost keys is about 444 miles.

Of the 34,727,680 acres of land, 66% remains in forests while only about 1/10th of the farmland is planted to crops. In general, Florida vegetation is divided among seven distinct areas: The flatwoods, scrub lands, grassy swamps, savannas, salt marshes, hammocks and high pinelands. While Florida contains more varieties of native trees than any other region in America, only five are the true natives: Oak, pine, cypress, palm and mangrove trees. The pine, from the stunted sand pine to the stately open-crown longleaf variety, is the most common tree in Florida.

Over 80,000 lakes and bays dot the state, headed by mammoth Lake Okechobee, 730 square miles of shallow fresh water, roughly triangular in shape and 25 to 31 miles across. Okechobee overflows today through great levees and flood gates into canals and into the sea. For centuries, the lake simply overflowed its banks into the beginning of the Indian-named "River of Grass," the Everglades. Altogether 858,500 acres of land and 370,000 acres of water and swamps compose the Everglades National Park.

There are no high elevations in the state. The area in Walton County near De Funiak Springs in the northwest corner of the state is listed as the highest at 345 feet. Iron Mountain, 325 feet, is the highest point in peninsular Florida.

Climate is semi-tropical, but temperatures do not reach extremes. The weather bureau at Miami lists the average monthly mean temperature at 75.8; the highest 95 in July, of 1942; the lowest 27 in February, 1917.

Florida's economy is based on agriculture, industry and tourism. The citrus growing and processing activities in Florida outrank all other U. S. citrus production. Industrially, in 1956, a total of 441 new plants and major expansions cover a multitude of manufacturing, mining, engineering and research organizations.

The tourist industry, a major factor in Florida economy, gains in popularity every year. In 1957 there were 5,100,000 visitors. The estimated income from tourism was $1,150,000,000.

The larger educational institutions include the University of Florida (Gainesville); Florida State University (Tallahassee); and University of Miami (Coral Gables).

GEORGIA

Population 3,444,578 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, ATLANTA

Georgia is bounded on the north by Tennessee and North Carolina, northeast by South Carolina, southeast by the Atlantic Ocean, south by Florida, and west by Alabama. Extreme length from north to south is 315 miles, extreme breadth, 250 miles. Total land area is 58,518 square miles.

The surface is varied. Along the coast it is intersected by numerous rivers and sounds; and the country for miles inland is a succession of ridges of pines and live oaks and swamps of cypress. The great Okefinokee swamp is in the southeast. Back from the coast is a stretch of sandy land, mostly pine barrens yielding quantities of timber and naval stores. A series of terraces bring the region in the middle of the state to about 575 feet above tidewater, from which elevation it rises toward the north more rapidly, until it becomes mountainous, being there crossed by spurs of the Appalachians. Georgia's forest acreage, largest of any state east of the Mississippi, supports an industry that does an annual business in excess of $600,000,000. The Weather Bureau at Atlanta gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 61.4; highest on record, 103; lowest on record, —8. The total annual precipitation is 49.75 inches.

Savannah is one of the chief south Atlantic seaports and has an important foreign and domestic commerce. In 1954 the value of exports shipped from Savannah amounted to $77,900,000. The new State Port at Savannah, opened late in 1952, gives Georgia one of the most modern and efficient docking and cargo-handling facilities in the world. Atlanta is accounted one of the progressive cities of the South and nationally rates high in banking strength. There are numerous mineral springs in Georgia, of which the Indian Spring in Butts county and Bowden Lithia, or Salt Spring, in Douglas county, are among the best known. At Warm Springs there is a sanitarium for the treatment of sufferers from infantile paralysis. The University of Georgia, located at Athens, the Georgia School of Technology, Atlanta and Georgia State College of Business Administration, Atlanta are the largest institutions of higher education in the state.

HAWAII

Territorial Capital, HONOLULU

The Hawaiian Islands are situated between 18° and 20° north latitude and 154° west longitude, in the North Pacific Ocean, 2,100 nautical miles from San Francisco. They are 20 in number, and eight of them are inhabited. Hawaii is the largest with an area of 4,030 square miles; the others vary in size from 728 to 2.7 square miles. The Weather Bureau at Honolulu gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 74.9; highest on record 90; lowest on record 52. Total annual precipitation is 24.97 inches.

The Islands are mountainous and volcanic in origin. Mauna Kea (13,784 ft.), the highest peak, is dormant; Mauna Loa and Kilauea on Hawaii, the largest island, are both active. Mount Waialeale, Kauai Island, has more rain than any place in the world, with a 28 year annual average of 439 inches. Covering the mountains are forests.

An abundant rainfall and the prevailing northeast trade winds make a climate mild, equable and free from extremes. The Islands' beaches are popular and attract many tourists, as do the coral gardens, extinct volcanic craters and other items of scenic interest.

Honolulu, the capital, is located on the Island of Oahu. It is the chief city commercially and has a splendid harbor. The University of Hawaii is located on Honolulu.

Hawaii contains one of our largest army posts (Schofield Barracks) and one of our largest naval stations (Pearl Harbor) with dry docks.

POPULATION

By islands the population in 1950 was as follows: Oahu, 353,020; Hawaii, 68,350; Maui, 40,103; Kauai, 29,683; Molokai, 5,280; Lanai, 3,136; Niihau, 222. These figures do not include United States Army and Navy forces. The native population is gradually decreasing through intermarriage with other races. Besides Hawaiians there are: Japanese, Chinese, Filipino, Portuguese, Spanish, Puerto Rican, Korean, and Caucasian.

There were (1950) 189 public schools, 108 private schools, and 59 school centers for adult education, serving over 105,000 children and adults. By December, 1956, public school enrollment alone had increased to 124,857.

AGRICULTURE

Luxuriant tropical vegetation clothes these Islands. The soil is very fertile, and all tropical fruits and vegetables are grown. In 1950, farms numbered 5,887, valued at $195,277,121; contained 2,914,420 acres. The total land area in cultivated crops in Hawaii in 1956 was 810,577 acres, or 7.5% of the total land area. Much rangeland is used for beef cattle production.

The chief agricultural products are sugar, pineapples, coffee, fruits and vegetables. Sugar production is the chief industry of the Islands. The crop takes from 18 to 24 months to mature and only a part of it can be harvested each season. In 1956, about 220,600 acres were in sugar cane, which provided employment for about 20,000 persons on plantations and in the mills. Sugar produced in 1956 amounted to 1,099,543 tons, valued at $148,000,000.

The second largest industry is the growing and canning of pineapples, one of the canneries being the largest fruit preserving plant in the world. Hawaii supplies 90 per cent of world's pineapples. In 1956, about 77,000 acres were in pineapples, providing year-round and seasonal employment for about 22,000 persons on plantations and in the canneries. The total pineapple pack for the fiscal year ending (5-31-57), amounted to 30,577,000 cases, valued at $117,000,000.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

Almost all of the trade of Hawaii is with the United States. Imports in 1955 totaled $421,000,000, while exports totaled $270,000,000.

Chief of the exports in 1955 were sugar, pineapples (fresh, canned, juice), and coffee.

FISHERIES

The commercial fish landings for the Territory during the fiscal year 1956 totaled 16,420,015 pounds, valued at $3,092,353 to the fishermen. This represented an increase of 7.0% in weight and a decrease of 0.1% in value. Among important species caught are big-eyed tuna, black swordfish, striped swordfish and aku.

SHIPPING

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957, a total of 1,304 overseas vessels entered Honolulu harbor. Cargo for this port alone totaled 3,044,269 tons incoming and 1,292,319 outgoing. The Honolulu International Airport is the center of air transportation in the Pacific and the fourth busiest in the nation.

MISCELLANEOUS

Tourism, Hawaii's third basic industry, has more than doubled since 1940. Visitors in 1957 totaled approximately 168,829, spent approximately $77,600,000.

Hawaii has over 2,200 miles of roads, of which about 1,600 miles are paved. There were 155,605 taxable and non-taxable vehicles registered in the Territory of Hawaii as of December 31, 1951. Of this number 112,628 vehicles were registered on Oahu. The islands are well served by boat and air transportation. On 6-30-57 there were 54 banks, including branches, with total assets of $481,298,943. The principal banks and their branches have both commercial and savings departments. Number of post offices (1957), 99. The number of telephones in service in Hawaii as of January 1, 1953 was 119,146. Total volume of retail sales (1956-57): $623,205,275 or a 7.67% increase of the preceding year.

Value of mineral production (1951), $1,726,000. Stone is the principal source of this income.

IDAHO

Population 588,637 (U. S. Census, 1950)
State Capital, BOISE

Idaho is bounded on the north by British Columbia, Canada, east by Montana and Wyoming, south by Utah and Nevada, and west by Oregon and Washington. Its length from north to south is about 480 miles, its width varies from 44 to 325 miles. The total land area is 82,769 square miles, and includes 47 square miles of Yellowstone Park, rank in area, tenth.

The state's surface is diversified, being mountainous in the northern and central portions and having arid plains in the south. Mt. Hyndman, 12,078 feet, in the Sawtooth Range, is the highest point in the state. In the southeast there is a volcanic region, abounding in geysers and saline springs. The Snake River, which abounds in falls, forms part of the state's western boundary and flows through the southern part. The Salmon River, a tributary, flows through a lengthy canyon that is filled with game. The state has large mineral resources, partly undeveloped, and most of the plains lands have yet to be reclaimed by irrigation. The climate is dry and healthful, warm in summer and cold in winter. The Weather Bureau at Boise gives temperature (annual monthly mean) as 51.0; highest on record 109; lowest on record -13. Total annual precipitation is 12.66 inches.

The University of Idaho is located at Moscow. The volcanic field, 150 miles southwest of Yellowstone Park, called "Craters of the Moon," was set aside in 1924 as a national monument.

ILLINOIS

Population 8,712,176 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, SPRINGFIELD

Illinois is bounded on the north by Wisconsin, northeast by Lake Michigan, east by Indiana, southeast and south by Kentucky, and west by Missouri and Iowa. Its extreme length north to south is 385 miles; extreme breadth 218 miles. Its total land area is 56,400 square miles.

The surface is mostly level table-land, inclining gently toward the south, with bluffs along the principal rivers. A small tract in the northwest, around Galena, is somewhat broken, and a low mountain ridge extends across the southern end from Grand Tower, on the Mississippi River, to Shawneetown, on the Ohio, about 850 feet above sea level. The prairies are sometimes level, but generally undulating. With the exception of Iowa, no other state has so large a portion of land susceptible to cultivation. There are over 275 streams in the state grouped into two river systems, one having the Mississippi as outlet, the other tributary to the Ohio River. The most important river is the Illinois which crosses the north central and western parts of the state draining 24,726 square miles. The Chicago Drainage Canal is an important and unique artificial waterway supplying drainage and transportation. The climate is noted for its extremes of heat and cold. The Weather Bureau at Chicago gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 49.5; highest on record, 105; lowest on record —23. Total annual precipitation is 32.81 inches.

Chicago, the country's second largest city in population, is the leading grain center of the country. Its total receipts of corn, oats, rye and barley are greater than any other city. It is the center of immense business activity in live stock, slaughtering and meat packing, printing and publishing, steel works and rolling-mill products, and a prodigious number of industries, and is the greatest railroad center in the world. Illinois is remarkably well supplied with transportation facilities by rail, river and lake, and is one of the leading states in export trade. Of its many institutions of higher education, the largest are the University of Chicago, the University of Illinois, located at Urbana, and Northwestern University, at Evanston.

INDIANA

Population 3,984,224 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, INDIANAPOLIS

Indiana is bounded on the north by Michigan and Lake Michigan, east by Ohio, south by Kentucky, from which it is separated by the Ohio River, and west by Illinois. The extreme length north and south is 276 miles; its average breadth 140 miles. The total land area is 86,291 square miles.

The greater part of the surface is undulating prairie land, with sand-hills in the north, and picturesque rocky hills, some 500 feet high, in the south along the Ohio River. In the northern part of the state are numerous lakes, and in the limestone regions of the south are many caves. Mineral springs are found throughout the south and south central parts. The Ohio and White Water River valleys are of sandstone and limestone formation. The soil for the greater part of the state is a loose calcareous loam of considerable depth. The Weather Bureau at Indianapolis gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 52.5; highest on record 115; lowest on record -85. Total annual precipitation is 39.45 inches.

Indiana is exceedingly well supplied with transportation facilities, for it lies directly in the path of almost all of the great railway trunk lines, which have branches extending into all parts of the state; and fully half of its borders, or about 500 miles, are on navigable waters. Enormous tonnage enters and leaves the Lake Michigan ports also. Evansville, on the Ohio River, is a large hardwood market; Indianapolis, the largest city. Indiana University, located at Bloomington; Purdue University, at Lafayette; Notre Dame, at South Bend; De Pauw University, at Greencastle, are notable among the state's institutions of higher education.

IOWA

Population 2,621,073 (U. S. Census, 1950)

State Capital, DES MOINES

Iowa is bounded on the north by Minnesota, east by the Mississippi River which separates it from Wisconsin and Illinois, south by Missouri and west by the Missouri and Little Sioux Rivers which separate it from Nebraska and South Dakota. Its extreme length from north to south is 800 miles; its breadth 300 miles; total land area 53,045 square miles; rank in area twenty-second.

The distinguishing feature of Iowa is its fertile prairies. Nearly all parts of the state are gently rolling, without mountains or very high hills, but with frequent bluffs along the streams. In richness of soil and in the percentage of land subject to cultivation, it is probably unsurpassed by any other state. The valleys of the Red Cedar, Iowa and Des Moines Rivers are particularly productive. Transportation is highly developed with numerous railways and a large volume of traffic on the Mississippi and Missouri. The climate is one of extremes of heat and cold, and of dry winters and wet summers. The Weather Bureau at Des Moines gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 49.5; highest degree on record 110; lowest —30; total annual precipitation, 32.04 inches.

Along educational lines Iowa is one of the country's leading states. Some of its many colleges are: The University of Iowa, located at Iowa City; Iowa State Teachers' College, at Cedar Falls. The College of Agriculture at Ames is noted in its field, being recognized especially for its scientific investigation and original research.
