Ray Perkins Opens New Fun and Song Play-Spot Tuesday

Ray Perkins, singing, piano-playing radio comedian, will greet his followers over an NBC-WEAF network Tuesday (May 31) at 6:30 p. m. in a new series of 15-minute periods of song, music and jovial chatter during which he will be supported by Peter van Steeden and orchestra.

Original songs, quips and odds and ends of the silk-hatted entertainer's own composition will feature the program, which are to be broadcast each Tuesday and Thursday, under sponsorship of Barbasol.

Perkins has been called the "perfect one-man radio show," and there are few roles that he has not essayed on the air at one time or another.

Around Corner

JANE CASE

Sir, do you believe that prosperity alone is around the corner? Perish the thought! For example, there is television. Here is an example—or perhaps we should say "Case"—first name Jane. Formerly a musical comedy star, Jane presents dancing lessons as above over Columbia television station W2XAB each Friday at 8 p. m.

WCKY to Broadcast The English Derby Early Wednesday

One of the ways in which the first English Derby at Epsom Downs—run in 1780—will differ from the one of 1932 on Wednesday (June 1) is that the latter will be broadcast.

This classic for three-year-olds is the world's most famous horse-race and draws thousands of spectators from many lands. It will be carried over WCKY (NBC-WJZ) at 8:47 a. m.

WCKY "Debs" Harmonize on NBC

Left to Right, Ruth Heubach Best, Mary Hartwell, Nadelle Schuping.

Since their debut last January the Debutantes have lent harmony to WCKY's Wednesday 5:15 p. m. spot. They are now featured at that time with the Plantation Players. The Debutantes are the voices which you hear each Friday from 11:15 until midnight with Theodore Hahn, Jr., and his WCKY Orchestra in the NBC-WJZ "Southern Symphonies" originating in the WCKY studios.

Announcing—

BLAYNE RICHARDS

Sailor in the South Seas, hotel employee and tobacconist are among the varied occupations which knew Blayne Richards. His full name is Blayne Richards Butcher but the surname is dropped when he announces over WLW. He was program director and chief announcer at WTAR (Norfolk, Va.), manager of WLVA (Lynchburg, Va.), executive at WGH (Newport News) and assistant director and chief announcer at WBAP (Ft. Worth, Tex.). His home was in Blackwell, Okla.

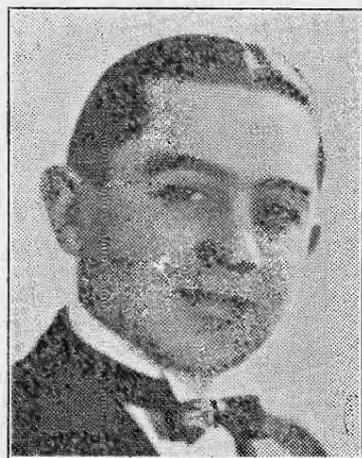

THAT'S THE SPIRIT

"I don't see why Alfonso, ex-King of Spain, doesn't come to America," remarked Ray Knight, NBC entertainer. "A royal welcome awaits any old Bourbon."

IN TWO COMEDIES

Cornelia Otis Skinner, offering two original comedy sketches for the first time on the air, will appear as guest of the Kodak Week-end Hour over WKRC (CBS) Friday (May 27) at 8 p. m. Daughter of the internationally known actor, Otis Skinner, she will portray "The Family Outing," involving the great American back seat driver on a week-end trip, and a humorous impression of a couple's "Bon Voyage" at the steamship pier.

Farm-ing for WLW

JAN GARBER

Jan Garber and Band are the current harmonizers at Castle Farm. Among his featured artists are Rudy Rudisell, pianist with that band since its formation; Eddie Page, banjoist and soloist, and Sara Lee Arkin, Cincinnati, who has a voice that deserves to be heard. They are heard on WLW.

Nation to Honor War Heroes on Memorial Day Over WSAI and WKRC

Those Americans who gave their all for their country on the battlefields of various wars will receive tributes in word and song in varied programs over both chains Sunday and Monday (May 29 and 30).

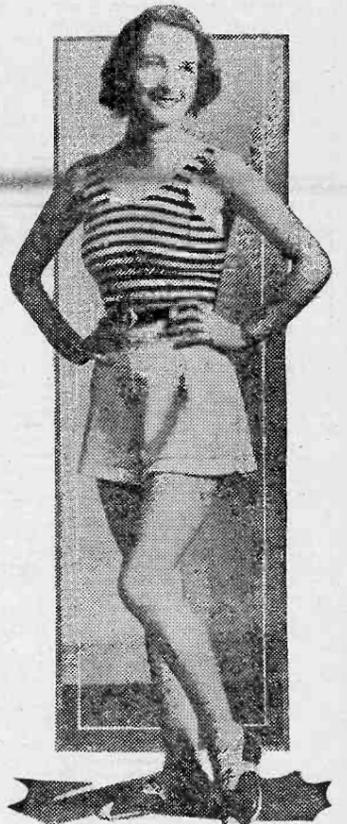

A pre-Memorial Day service will be presented Sunday (May 29) from 3 until 4 p. m. over WKRC (CBS) in the fifth annual Massing of the Colors Service of the Military Order of the World War, from the Sylvan Theater on the grounds of the Washington Monument, Washington, D. C. Ray Lyman Wilbur, U. S. Secretary of Interior, will talk and Cabinet members will attend. The U. S. Marine Band will play.

On Monday (May 30) from 11 a. m. until 12 noon, some 60,000 Catholics are expected to attend a Military Field Mass in the stadium of the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., to be celebrated by the Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore and Chancellor of the University. This will be broadcast over WKRC (CBS).

At 1:30 p. m. Monday, WSAI will be local outlet for an NBC-WEAF broadcast when the last survivors of the G. A. R. will honor departed comrades at Arlington Amphitheatre. Senator Arthur Robinson of Indiana and Representative Sol Bloom of New York will talk. The U. S. Marine Band will play. Services will be held near the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Out of England

JANE BRAMLEY

Jane Bramley is the personable young Briton who survives the trying adventures of "The Crime Club" each Tuesday and Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. over WKRC (CBS). She has toured America and Broadway via stock and movies—but not, of course, in the above costume. The two-piece combination boasts a peppermint striped shirt and cream-colored flannel trunks.

GARRICK BY GUILD

Robertson's "David Garrick" will be presented by the Radio Guild Friday (May 27) at 3:15 p. m. over WLW (NBC-WJZ).

WITH THE REDS

WFBE will broadcast Reds' games as follows:

Monday (May 30) Double-header at Pittsburgh: 11:15 a. m., 2:45 p. m.
Tuesday (May 31) at Pittsburgh: 2:45
Thursday-Saturday (June 2-4) at St. Louis: 4:15.

EDWARD A. BYRON

Believed to be the youngest director in "big-time" radio today, Edward A. Byron, WLW Production Manager, has as his latest achievement the presentation of the trials of Vivienne Ware and Dolores Divine. His direction of the Crosley Theater of the Air has won wide acclaim.

DAYAS IS GUEST

Karin Dayas, noted pianist of the Conservatory of Music faculty, will be guest-artist Sunday (May 29) at 9:45 p. m. with Casper Reardon, harpist, in a recital over WLW featuring Maurice Ravel's introduction and allegro.

THEY DO LIKE THE OLD SONGS

Does the radio audience actually want such a heavy preponderance of current popular songs as the usual loudspeaker fare provides? The Dupont Company not only raises that heretical question, but comes forward with an arresting answer.

In its Today and Yesterday feature (CBS over WKRC, Friday at 7:30 P. M.) this sponsor has been asking listeners to vote for the songs they like best. Thus far more than 6000 have done so. And to the astonishment of many program executives, the tabulated results show a smashing victory for the old favorites over current hits.

Though the vote is scattered among a total of 614 numbers, an overwhelming majority of the ballots go to but seven songs. And of these, only one rates as a current tune. Here are the winning seven, in the order of their preference: "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," "Paradise," "Old Man River," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "My Wild Irish Rose," and "The End of a Perfect Day."

Emphasizing the trend here established, among 24 other numbers which finish in the runner-up group, only three are contemporary tunes. Moreover, to dispose of any suspicion on that score, the Dupont statisticians state that balloting was not confined merely to middle-aged or elderly people. On the contrary, they report that many of the votes for old favorites come from young people.

Certainly all this is keenly interesting to say the least.

True, such polls are not infallible, and 6000 votes are scarcely enough to be conclusive. However, even when so discounted, the Dupont findings are still sufficiently striking to give program-builders considerable to ponder over.

To those of us who view radio from the loudspeaker end it has been evident for some time that the overwhelming listener preference for current popular songs is largely an easy-going studio fallacy. With an audience known to represent innumerable shades of taste, it is simply inconceivable that one type of music should have such a preponderant following as programs purport to indicate.

If the Dupont poll does no more than drive this home to station managers, it will have served a useful purpose. And if it rouses program-builders to forsake the studios long enough to learn what people dial out, something highly beneficial will come of it.

This Business of Broadcasting

By John L. Clark
General Manager
Stations WLW,
W8XAL, WSAI

Not only in America is broadcasting an outstanding achievement, but in the world. Yet, America leads the world in the number of broadcasting stations. At present, according to data furnished by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, there are 1,423 broadcasting stations in the entire world. Of this number, 617 are in the United States. That is close to one-half. The remaining 806 stations are divided among 70 countries. In number of stations Canada follows the United States. There are 85 stations in the Dominion; Russia is next, with 78; Cuba has 53; Mexico 47; Argentina 38; Sweden 33, and France 31.

From this summary it is easily seen that American Broadcasting, as an industry, tops the world. It all came about from a small beginning, a comparatively short time ago, with the end of development not yet in sight. In fact, the authorities agree that the business is just about getting started.

Radio's progress in the world of attainment fluctuated between the continents—Europe and North America—back and forth, with the Maxwells, the Marconis on one side, and the Edisons and Bells on the other, ferreting and finding facts of infinite value.

Edison, in 1875, was experimenting with an electro-magnet. Sparks flew in his laboratory. Out of that demonstration was discovered the power of ether waves. The wizard of electricity called it "Ethereic Force." It was put to work in another form, one step nearer the accomplishment that is today an actual fact, Broadcasting.

Electricity, in the Eighties, held the attention of all the world, just as broadcasting, a distinct phase of its force, does today. It was in that period, before the Gay Nineties, that the incandescent lamp was put on the market, the kerosene lamp and the old-fashioned candle light fading into obscurity. Perhaps that is why they were called the Gay Nineties, those years that watched the softer lights dimmed by the brilliancy of the electric bulb. They were gay, but not so gay as these later years when all the world is entertained by broadcasting, when the touching of a dial brings into the humblest home a flood of music.

Even the great inventor, Edison, had no idea where his experiments were leading, nor had Bell when he perfected the telephone. Marconi had visions of what might happen if all the world were brought together by easy communication. When he assembled his apparatus for the great trial wireless, the scientists all over the world watched.

The vast majority of people know nothing about the first flash of wireless that reached out from a seaport in England and touched an antenna on a ship several hundred miles at sea. Nor was their consciousness weakened when the first message was flashed across the Atlantic, from the New World to the Old. No organized publicity attended that event. Yet it was epoch-making.

Broadcasting now finds itself the welcomed guest in millions of homes . . . but even with its great popularity, its common occurrence, its magician-like performance, the benefits of broadcasting are sometimes forgotten. Few realize the many forces needed to make broadcasting possible, from the transmitter to the receiver.

The story of radio is fascinating as any book of adventure. It has in it the elements of drama. It is rapidly gaining headway as one of the country's leading industries, figures from the Department of Commerce proving that it must be reckoned as a world force, with American broadcasting at the head of the parade.

dancing of the Astaires but rarely heard on the air, will be featured by Leo Reisman and his orchestra on Pond's program at 8:30 p. m. over WSAI (NBC-WEAF).

Saturday, May 28

Thomas B. George, Columbia's turf commentator, will give an eye-witness account of The Withers, $25,000 race for three-year-olds over a one-mile course at Belmont Park, N. Y., over WKRC (CBS) at 2:45 p. m. The field includes Burgoon King, Universe, Pompeius, Osculator, Sweeping Light, Boatswain, and Mad Pursuit.

Sunday, May 29

A parody on the sextet from "Lucia" is featured by the Three Bakers at 6:30 p. m. over WLW (NBC-WJZ) while Billy Artzt, leading the orchestra, presents "Choking the Bell," a vibraphone specialty by Harry Bruer, talented member of the ensemble.

"Cagancho," "La Cruz de Mayo," "Romanza" and "Chicuelo" are colorful Spanish compositions which will feature the Rancheros String Ensemble serenade over WLW at 11:30 p. m.

Monday, May 30

When the familiar strains of "Marta" introduce another of the presentations of Arthur Tracy, the Street Singer, during the broadcast over WKRC (CBS) at 8:15 p. m., the opening group of selections will consist of Irish melodies. Tracy will sing Mother Machree, "My Wild Irish Rose," "Little Bit of Heaven," "I'm Not Foolin'," "Dear Old Girl" and "One Kiss, One Smile, One Tear."

Tuesday, May 31

Benito Mussolini, Prime Minister of Italy, will be the subject of the broadcast of Stories of the Living Great, to be heard over Columbia at 10:15 a. m. Ida Bailey Allen, home economist, will detail his rise.

The Mills Brothers, tuning up in Toronto with an F sharp pitch broadcast by Victor Young from New York, will perform their vocal tricks over WKRC (CBS) from the Canadian station CFRB at 6:15 p. m. The quartet will give their version of "St. Louis Blues," "My Mom" and "You're My Everything," alternating numbers with Young's orchestra in New York, playing "In My Hideaway" and "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise."

Wednesday, June 1

Grace Bradt, blues singer, will present "Thrill Me," "When Nobody Else Is Around," "Sweet and Low" and "What Did You Do With It?" at 4 p. m. over WLW.

Isabelle Yalkovsky, distinguished young American pianist, will be guest-artist at 5 p. m. over an NBC-WJZ network in the Music Treasure Box broadcast.

FOR COLLEGE

Ann Meale Di Girolamo, pianist, and Richard A. Fluke, basso cantante, will give the bi-weekly College of Music of Cincinnati faculty radio program Sunday (May 29) at 2 p. m. over WLW. Among Mrs. Di Girolamo's selections will be the Schubert Impromptu in B flat and the Second Hungarian Rhapsody by Liszt. Mr. Fluke will sing among his selections "The Green Eyed Dragon" by Charles Wolsey and "Light" a reverie by Herbert Greer French, one of Cincinnati's art patrons.

That Gay Vienna feature (NBC over WSAI, Tuesday at 8 p. m.) is built to order for the many who prefer concert music with charm and melody. Erno Rapee's good orchestra and Fred Hurst's able tenor provide the refreshing program.

Ad radio simile: as unusual as a broadcasting humorist who is not making a burlesque campaign for president.

So another Cincinnati program gets into the NBC schedule; Theodore Hahn, Jr.'s Southern Symphonies, produced in the WCKY studios and going out over the Blue network (Friday at 11:15 p. m.). It's a well-earned compliment. The program is worthy of the Queen City's musical reputation.

If you go in for tall tales, you'll like the Chandu the Magician serial (daily except Thursday and Sunday, over WLW at 7:15 p. m., and WSAI at 5:45 p. m.). It's built around the ancient superstition that oriental magic is beyond the comprehension of mere occidentals. Houdini, Thurston, et al., exploded that long since. But it still gets a play.

Those Crisco programs by the Mills Brothers and Vic Young's orchestra (CBS over WKRC, Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. and Thursday at 8:15 p. m.) will rate among the slickest popular shows on the air. If there's any musical trick the Mills lads can't do, it just hasn't been thought of.

That Columbia series of labor programs (Sunday at 12 noon) is worth dialing for. It gives labor the national mouthpiece it has been deserving and promises to be mighty interesting.

Nat Shilkret conducting a costly record for a famous tenor and getting along fine until he discovered the temperamental artist had changed important lyrics to "I don't like this lousy song."

Those programs of Henry Fillmore's band (WLW, Tuesday at 9 p. m.) are turning out to be even more of an oasis than was expected. People do like the plentiful supply of swinging marches.

Another feather in Cincinnati's cap. Mabel Jackson is the pleasing soprano in the Today and Yesterday program (CBS over WKRC, Friday at 7:30 p. m.).

And comes word that Mary Roberts Rinehart's "Tish" stories are to go on the air over NBC, beginning June 6. Let's hope one of the locals will take them. They're sure to draw plenty of expectant ears.

Yes, times are mighty tough with broadcasting folks. The State of Maine has sent Phillips Lord (Seth Parker) 50,000 trout for the lake on his Long Island Estate. So the place must be just a rustic retreat where Seth can meditate on the simple life.

Even though the Robert Burns program has folded, it's to be hoped that Burns and Allen won't leave the air. They've been good for too many laughs to pass without being missed.

Every spring for the past several years a fan has taken Billy Jones and Ernie Hare for a ride in his speed boat. But every day we hear mutterings about taking other broadcasters "for a ride."

Microbing WKRC

Ruth Reeves showed up the other day with a brand new Plymouth (Advt). She confided to us that by combining her luscious smile with a small amount of baby talk she was able to get twice as much for her Lizzie than it was worth—at 25 cents a throw Ruth is now paying her gasoline, etc., by giving the studio force a ride around the block in her new bus.

That Philansue Trio, a new local feature, heard daily in the early afternoon, is rapidly gaining popularity. The members feature blue numbers "what am blue numbers"—play their own accompaniment—have only been on the air a little over three months. Their real names are Sue Martin, Annabelle Martin, and Felice Carr—17, 19 and 19 respectively. Their picture will appear shortly in these columns.

Race horse fans are really in for a treat this summer. Columbia Broadcasting System is putting on nearly 50 of the big races, a majority of which WKRC will carry.

the lives of the male force of WKRC. Most any afternoon or evening you can catch a glimpse of Miller Everson, Howard Hafford, Duane Snodgrass or Early Boyle cavorting around the dartball courts of the Eastern Hills "Y." They put in such a strenuous afternoon the other day that it took Howard Hafford two days to recover. He manages to struggle around with a limp.

WALTER WINCHELL— On BROADWAY

TAUNT

We are no longer children—we must come
To some sharp, sane decision soon, my dear;
For, when the blood runs cool and senses numb,
We will regret each trifling, wasted year.

There's been enough of infantile dispute,
Enough to give and take along the way,
I will not stand and watch the moments loot
The bloom from youth that has too short a sway.

Measure my faults and add my virtues up—
Test me and weigh me on the scales of chance;
Either discard or drink the flowing cup,
Where is there room for weakness in romance?

(Spring is in town with flowers in her hair—
Must she be told you cannot take a dare?)
—Don Wahn.

DEPRESSION, AGAIN?

Con Conrad tells us about the two Wall Street bankers who emerged from The Crash with nothing but scant $90-a-month incomes. Their first thought was suicide, but they changed their minds when they learned of the Isle of Majorca off the coast of Spain, where for $90 a month a man could live in a luxurious house, employ 10 servants and drink the rarest wines.

So, off went the duo Majorca-bound. After six months of soft living, they began to realize what an even better place it would be if they could induce some of their market-stricken pals to eschew the States and come to laze with them in the Spanish Eden. But the plan was futile. When they arrived back in New York, they couldn't find one with a $90-a-month income.

NOT EVEN A LEAF!

First-nighters were commenting on "There You Are," the Hyman Adler musical, in the George M. Cohan lobby during intermission, Monday night. "The music isn't bad," ventured an afternoon reviewer, "but the book is very weak."

"Weak?" spouted Jack Osterman, "Why that's no book, it's just a pamphlet."

YEAH?

Wally Sullivan, the Hoosier wag, says he knows a fellow who is so tight he wouldn't give a nickle to see the Akron wrapped in cellophane.

Broadway . . . where they give you a hearty hand-shake if they think your hand is blistered.—Kenneth Macker.

SUE ME!

The protesters have the floor. Last week this shaft reported the story about Al Boasberg's grandmother. The screamie wit, en route to N. Y., had wired her to meet him when the Twentieth Century stopped in Syracuse, and when she saw him, she ran to his arms and cried, "I'm so happy to see you, Al. I even missed a funeral this morning, so I could come to the train."

On the face of it, a harmless little yarn! But the mail and telegraph systems have been taxed with the burden of pointing out to me 1,001 errors of my typewriting ways. From H. T. Howard of Chicago comes the electric reprimand: "Dope! Stop! See what time the East-bound 20th Century passes Syracuse and then explain why these up-Staters have their funerals during the wee small hours."

Justice Samuel J. Harris of the N. Y. Supreme Court Chambers in Buffalo takes us to task with a note, in effect, "The story about Al Boasberg furnished a laugh to those of us who are acquainted with his family. The reason for the laugh is that not only has Al no grandmother in Syracuse, but his two grandmothers, both of whom lived in Buffalo, have been gone from this life for many years."

Perhaps I should never have brought the whole matter up.

5TH AVENUE LIGHTS!

This well-mannered highway,
Respected and staid,
This mixture of matron
And proper old maid,
Has kicked over traces,
Grown giddy and mellow,
Hung up her white chiffon
And stepped out in yellow.

—Penpoint.

TWO JOIN WCKY

Mayhew Lake, widely regarded as the finest American orchestrator for bands, and his Symphony in Gold Orchestra of wind instruments will show that an orchestra of 15 pieces can sound like one of 50, when they present classics, semi-classics and popular numbers Sunday (May 29) at 8:45 p. m. over WSAI (NBC-WEAF).

WCKY has acquired two additions to its commercial staff in Ralph Harburton, a radio veteran, and Howard Renshaw, formerly assistant manager of Radio Guide. Ralph's wife, Natalie Giddings, is heard on WCKY in her Trail Blazing program Wednesdays at 8 p. m. and in her John Coppin morning broadcasts.

Here is the Key to the Out-of-Town Network Radio Stations

To simplify the tuning of chain stations, the following log of network stations is given with each chain headed by the New York station which broadcasts its programs. Stations are listed in same order as found in Network Programs:

WITH KRUSCHEN

"There's Nothing Too Good for My Baby," "Happy Little Worries" and "That's Why Darkies Were Born" will be heard in the Kruschen Serenade over WLW Friday (May 27) at 8:30 p. m. with Casper Reardon, harpist, and the Morin Sisters.

GIFT TO MAESTRO

That gold-and-ivory baton wielded by Theodore Hahn, Jr., at the "Southern Symphonies" each Friday at 11:15 p. m. over WCKY (NBC-WJZ) is the gift of the WCKY staff, presented the night of the program's inaugural. The gift bears the inscription, "To our beloved NBC Maestro, Theodore Hahn, Jr., Creator of 'Southern Symphonies,' from the staff of WCKY." Mr. Hahn uses this particular baton only when conducting his orchestra in "Southern Symphonies." At rehearsals he employs an ordinary willow wand.

WLW ENTERTAINS

WLW stars entertained the Association of National Advertisers in convention at the Netherland Plaza with a Radio Revue Friday, May 20. Powell Crosley, Jr., president of the Crosley Radio Corporation, contributed entertainment for the revue for the visiting delegates. The show included Bill Stoes and his Flying Dutchmen, now heard over NBC; Morin Sisters; Pat Harrington, tenor and master of ceremonies; Varsity Four Quartet; Sidney TenEyck, chief of the Doodlesocks; and Mary Steele.

NEW PIANO TEAM

A new two-piano team will make its network debut Friday (May 27) at 8:30 p. m. when Davey Rose and Whitey Berquist, NBC staff pianists, are heard over WLW (NBC-WJZ). Edna Kellogg will sing "Peg o' My Heart" and the orchestra, led by Roy Shield, will be heard with the quartet in Gershwin's "Till Build a Stairway to Paradise."

LIKE UNA MAE

Una Mae Carlisle, popular blues singer of WSMK (Dayton, Ohio), enjoys one of the largest fan-mail responses at that station. Her brother is a member of Duke Ellington's Orchestra. You can hear Una Mae Tuesday and Friday at 5:30 p. m. and Sunday at 10:30 p. m.

George Tells 'Em

"Who won the World Series in 1919?" "In what year did the Reds win all the games of the season?" These and other "believe it or not" questions are answered and discussed by George Case, staff announcer and sports authority of WCKY, in his Wednesday 10 p. m. "Sportlights." An interesting feature is a sports question-box during which George draws listeners' questions to be answered and discussed.

SING FROM GERMANY

The Student Singers of Bonn University, Germany, will be heard in a program of chorals, folk songs and German student songs on Saturday (May 28) at 1:30 p. m. over Columbia. Johannes Lieske, will conduct. The first part of the program will be devoted to the inspiration of sacred music, including "The Day Star" by Praetorius, "Holla Good Comrade" by J. H. Schein, and "All My Inmost Thoughts" by Brahms. Two native folk songs will follow, "Now I Went to the Well" and "To Wander Is the Miller's Joy"; and the program will conclude with a group of traditional drinking songs, including "Today Is Today," "A Youth Went Forth" and "Not a Drop in the Tankard."

ENDS TALKS

Professor Edward S. Smith of the University of Cincinnati will talk on "Simplifying the Calendar," Saturday (May 28) at 5:45 p. m. over WLW. This concludes the WLW-U. C. talks for this year.

TO READ FROST

The poems of Robert Frost will be featured in this week's Golden Gates of Melody program, broadcast each Sunday at 9:30 p. m. from WCKY. Alice Rowlette will read two of Frost's works, "Birches," and "Mending Wall." Golden Gates features the music of the Plantation Players with the tenor solos of Homer Bernhardt.

MIRRORS MIDNIGHT

"Midnight Mirrors," is the image-provoking title of the new organ program broadcast by WCKY every Sunday from 11:30 to midnight and featuring Tommy Ott, staff organist with Grady Hodges, tenor. The program is impressionistic, depending on the tranquil flow of music and selected bits of poetry. At midnight, after a half hour of delightful wanderings through the jade palace of night, the room of the Midnight Mirrors is reached, and in it deep reflected are one's own images in the tranquil waters of sleep. Jack Snow, WCKY's continuity Editor, is author.

RADIO'S "BEST 12"

Variety, national amusement weekly, announces the following result of its survey to find radio's 12 "best" programs:
(1) Amos 'n' Andy (Pepsodent); (2) Ziegfeld-Chrysler; (3) Burns and Allen-Guy Lombardo (Robert Burns); (4) Lucky Strike (Winchell and bands); (5) Chase & Sanborn coffee (Harry Richman-Dave Rubinoff); (6) Ben Bernie (Blue Ribbon malt); (7) Kate Smith (La Palina); (8) Camel Quarter Hour (Morton Downey, Tony Wons and Jacques Renard); (9) Rudy Vallee-Irene Bordoni (Fleischmann Yeast); (10) Chesterfield hour (Nat Shilkret Alexander Gray, Boswell Sisters, Ruth Etting); (11) Myrt and Marge (Wrigley); (12) Tony Wons (sustaining).
Turning to the midwest, Variety adds:
"The powerful and ultra WLW station in Cincinnati has three smash local favorites in Ford Rush (Old Man Sunshine) who is the juvenile radio deity; the Crosley Theatre of the air which the Powell Crosley, Jr., station maintains as an institutional ballyhoo, and the Maxwell Cotton Queen program with Hink and Dink, colored comics a la A&A. Bob Newhall's sports talks from WLW and the Doodlesockers, also from WLW, with Bob French on WCAH, are other midwest faves emanating from two Ohio stations."

THREE HAVE PARTS

Three young American artists will be represented in an unusual program Wednesday (June 1) at 2:45 p. m. over WLW when the two-line poem, "A Song," is sung. Abe Craddock Edmunds, promising young poet, of Lynchburg, W. Va., wrote the poem, Lloyd Schaefer, assistant conductor at WLW, wrote the music, and Samuel T. Wilson of WLW will sing it.

Letter Box

M. R., Hyde Park: We are advised Leo O'Rourke resigned from the Cavaliers Quartet November 23, 1931, to do solo work. He is not on the air now but may be reached through the NBC Artists Service.

Editor Radio Dial: Surely you must know, as thousands of others know, that the most incomprehensible and reprehensible thing in the repertoire of music is jazz and crooning! Right at once let it be gladly and truthfully asserted that the writer has never yet heard either of these monstrosities of sound—murdered and murderous music if one pleases—that the producers of the same were not instinctively and distinctively sensed to be capable of far better effects with very much less effort so miserably wasted! It's all like damning up the natural life-giving soul-refreshing springs of nature with mud and clay and seeing the pure waters come through as slime! It's like turning an orchestra or band into a tin pan factory at the mercy of a cyclone, everything crashing against whatever is "next to" making noise far from the name, sound and meaning of music! Music has been known to charm reptiles and soothe the savage breast but it takes the poison and even shamelessness of jazz and crooning to make cannibals and "nuts" of the most civilized and sane of humanity! Can any good come out of Nazareth? Study the one time and present reputed conditions of that place and know that the affirmative is more possible there than for jazz and crooning—wretches of the fine art of music both vocal and instrumental! If all the contempt and indignation heard expressed against these blights upon the wide-spreading and luxurious tree of radio—written or phoned into stations tolerating them—could be heard, the nuisance would be speedily and permanently eradicated, dumped as so much so-called musical (?) refuse. "Whatever is beautiful, true, good and of good report" in the mind and heart, voice and soul of musicians and of instruments, string or brass, brought to life—great living, throbbing life through their skill, let us think on these things and have them in all their fullness of joy, beauty and blessing to all concerned! Let us make radio through all its features a thing of joy every moment of its broadcasts! Next—Radio Addict, Loveland, Ohio.

When we are older and no longer able to cajole a typewriter into maintaining an upright carriage, we shall be tempted to found a society for the prevention of cruelty to radio listeners. Publication of the foregoing letter, we feel, is a step for it has given relief to one Radio Addict! However, we must remind Radio Addict of a quaint old slogan, grown old now in the service but still running briskly, as follows:

A difference of opinion makes horse-races—and, may we add, radio programs. The very diversity of radio programs is a key to their broad appeal. Whether or not crooning is good for Americans is a different matter, touching perilously on legislative morality (?), and hence a little wider than this five-column page.

Georgie Price, brilliant comedian, singer and impersonator, headlines the new Chase & Sanborn tea program to be given Tuesdays and Thursdays at 6:45 p. m. over Columbia beginning Thursday (June 2). Bennie Krueger, popular master of ceremonies and saxophone soloist, will lead the orchestra.

WISE and OTHERWISE

BY BOB NEWHALL

THE PLAINT OF THE 1932 ROOKIE

(News Note: The heavy hitters in both the National and American are rapidly finding their batting eyes.)

"Take me back into the bushes,
Where the best is like the worst;
Where they ain't no Ruths and Hafeys,
And a guy to breathe kin durst!"
— Kipling.

A GENERAL HABIT?

The weakness shown by the Canadian Davis Cup team in going down to defeat before the United States players at Washington, has led to the rumor that the Canuck outfit was "cut" before being shipped over the border!

And now that wrestler W. Zbyszko has married a society dame, he's going to discover that "grand" instead of "airplane" slams are his order of the day!

SHARE AND SHARE ALIKE

So many Florida racetracks went blooie last February that they say the hungry owners are sharing the pastures with their hungry horses until they get carfare from home!

A QUESTION OF GEOLOGY

Fight fans are still wondering whether the recent match between Mickey Walker and Kingfish Levinsky was a milestone, a millstone or a tombstone as to their respective careers!

And there are several Chicago White Sox rooters who believe that Pitcher Caraway has gone to seed without the aid of a loaf of rye-bread!

WONDER WHO HAS THE INCENTIVE PRIVILEGE?

Anyway, those House-Of-David lads can play ball even if they do look like a bunch of men peering through holes in a bearskin rug!

THE BUSINESS-MAN PLAYER

Bill Tilden is said to have lost a recent match because he devoted his attention to counting-up the house. Anyway, he got a thrill, for he met an old man who claimed to have known him when Tilden had only one racket!

And, for me, that kitchenette and white-aproned show-girl they have in the Forbes Field press-box, dishing out eats to the hungry scribes, would not be so good. I'd hardly know what to do with the hot-dog sandwich unless it was handed me in a big, hairy paw with five finger nails gone in mourning for a lost piece of soap!

Question: "Why are John McGraw and Bill Klem like Damon and Pythias?"

Answer: "Because they are so different!"

And, until next week, s-s-so long.

BOB NEWHALL,
Mail Pouch Sportsman.

It's a Gift With Dink

Hink and Dink become serious long enough to give thought to the summer ahead and how to keep things cool. Their solution is a Crosley Electric Refrigerator, and Dink makes it his wedding anniversary gift to his wife. In private life, the team is George Ross and Elmer Hinkle.
