Gus' Little Girl.... Um!

DOROTHY THOMAS

When the characteristic "Say It With Music," of Gus Arnheim and his band is heard over WKRC (CBS), from the "Dells" in Chicago, each Tuesday at 11 p. m., Dorothy Thomas is on hand for her part in the broadcast program. A charming personality combined with good looks and a voice "worth listening to" make her one of radio's most popular songsters. Dorothy was in Cincinnati at the Netherland Plaza.

Radio Stars Signed For "Big Broadcast"

Such well-known radio personalities as Kate Smith, Guy Lombardo, Bing Crosby, Cab Calloway, Burns and Allen, the Mills Brothers, the Boswell Sisters, the Street Singer (Arthur Tracy), and Donald Novis have been signed to appear in "The Big Broadcast," motion picture, now in production at Paramount's Hollywood studios.

CROSLY CADETS

Louis John Johnen, baritone, and Franklin Bens, tenor, will be featured artists during the Crosley Cadets sing-fest over WLW Saturday (July 9) at 7:30 p. m.

"In the Luxembourg Gardens," "Katinka," and "Mulligan Musketees" are among the selections to be presented by this popular radio male octette, under the direction of Grace Clauve Raine.

Smiling Leader at Gibson Roof

DELL COON

Another nationally known dance orchestra is being introduced to WLW listeners by the Hotel Gibson, who have brought Dell Coon and his orchestra to play in the Roof Garden of that hotel for an indefinite engagement. This orchestra succeeds that of Don Pedro, who opened the Roof Garden on June 10 and played a very successful three-weeks engagement there.

Dell Coon and his orchestra achieved national fame while at the Montmartre Cafe, Hollywood, California, broadcasting from the Warner Brothers station KFVB. They also made pictures there and became the favorite dance orchestra of many movie stars. Their fame spread to Chicago, where they recently played sensational engagements at the Miralago Ballroom and the Drake Hotel, broadcasting over WIBO, WGN and the NBC network. They also played in Omaha, Neb., recently, broadcasting over station WOW.

A knack for producing dance-provoking rhythm has won for this orchestra the enviable reputation they enjoy. Some exceptionally fine singers are featured and many novelties are presented in their programs.

WCKY New Outlet For Two Large NBC Programs

Two programs on the red network of NBC will move their programs to WCKY this week, in order to secure more coverage in the mid-west.

These are the Chase and Sauborn Hour, Sunday at 7 p. m., featuring Harry Richman and the Fleischmann Hour, Thursday at 7 p. m., featuring Rudy Vallee and His Connecticut Yankees. WSAI will continue to carry these same programs.

Pianist and Violinist Featured on Recital By College of Music

Herbert Newman, pianist, and Uberto T. Neely, violinist, will give the College of Music recital, Sunday (July 10), at 2 p. m., over WLW. Mr. Newman is a graduate from the class of Dr. Albino Gorno, and studied in France under Philipp and in Germany under Kruetzer. Mr. Neely is a post-graduate of the College of Music of Cincinnati. He studied at the College with Emil Heermann, and later with Sevcik and Auer.

Their program will include the following selections:

- Piano—In Dir Ist Freude...Bach-Busoni
- Prelude in C sharp.....Bach
- Herbert L. Newman.
- Violin and Piano—Sonata No. 6 in E.
- Handel
- Adagio-Allegro-Largo-Allegro
- Uberto T. Neely—Herbert L. Newman.
- Piano—Nocturne in F sharp.....Chopin
- Waltz in G flat.....Chopin
- Pavane.....Ravel
- The Jugglers.....Moskowsky
- Herbert L. Newman

STADIUM CONCERT

William van Hoogstraten well-known conductor, who led the New York Philharmonic Society in a concert over CBS last week, will again be heard over WKRC (CBS), Saturday (July 9) at 7:30 p. m. The symphony suite of Rimsky-Korsakoff, "Scheherazade" will be heard in full.

Dramatic Star

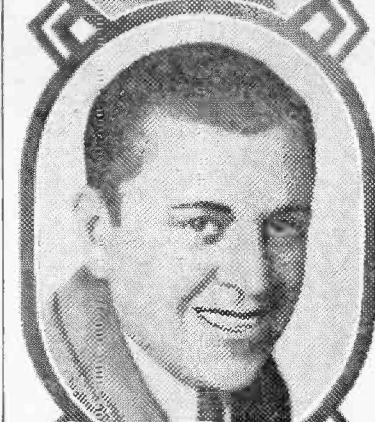

DOLORES GILLEN

Petite, brown-eyed Dolores Gillen, makes an appearance every Saturday in the "Saturday Matinee," broadcast over NBC networks, and heard locally on WCKY at 3 p. m. Dolores is a graduate of the University of Illinois, where she received her A. B. in dramatics.

Whiteman on WSAI in New Broadcast Series

Perform for Canada Dry

Top to bottom, Ethel Shutta, George Olsen, Jack Benny.

When Canada Dry goes on the air each Monday and Wednesday over WLW (NBC-WJZ) at 8:30 p. m., Jack Benny, master of ceremonies, and George Olsen and his band, with Ethel Shutta (Mrs. Olsen) are heard in a program of good music and sparkling entertainment. All three have appeared in numerous Broadway successes.

Rudy Begins Abroad

A fact not generally known is that Rudy Vallee's radio debut was made in London. While Rudy and his collegiate orchestra were playing at the Hotel Savoy there, they went on the air for the British Broadcasting Company. Rudy and his Yankees soon afterwards came to New York.

Paul Whiteman, Dean of Modern Music, and his world famous orchestra will change NBC networks when they conclude their first series as Whiteman's Pontiac Chieftains and carry on for the recently organized Buick-Olds-Pontiac Sales Company in a new weekly series of broadcasts starting Friday (July 8). They will be heard over WSAI.

Each of the weekly programs will present 2 or 3 celebrated artists, whom Whiteman first introduced to radio listeners, and who, now, form a part of his organization. Mildred Bailey, well known blues singer; Jack Fulton, soft voiced popular soloist; the Paul Whiteman Rhythm Boys, purveyors of humor and harmony; Red McKenzie, singing the lusty tunes of the Mississippi bayous; Roy Bargy, pianist; Ramona, youthful songbird formerly with WLW, and Jane Vance, attractive Northwestern University co-ed, will all face the microphone during the program series.

WLW German Band Now Sponsored by Hire's Root Beer

Fred Jacky and his German Band—an over-night radio sensation since its first "Over the Rhine" broadcast some six weeks ago over WLW—is now being sponsored by Hire's Root Beer. This unique radio feature, which was entirely too rare a find to go long sponsorless, will be on the air each Friday evening at 7:30 p. m. for half an hour's period instead of the 15-minute spot Saturday evening as formerly.

Guest At WKRC

SINGIN' SAM

WKRC has the honor of having Singin' Sam, the Barbasol Man, as its guest during the month of July. Sam is spending his vacation with his family in Richmond, Ind., and drives up to the studios each Monday, Wednesday and Friday for his broadcasts at 7:15 p. m.

Vol. 11 WEEK ENDING JULY 14, 1932 No. 60

RATHER WONDERFUL AFTER ALL

An old saying has it that "familiarity breeds contempt." Regardless of its truth in other fields, as far as radio is concerned a more accurate rendering of this ancient observation would be "familiarity breeds matter-of-fact acceptance"; meaning that continued contact tends to rub off its glamor pretty completely.

Everything conspires to this end. There is nothing miraculous about radio. Any technician can tell you how sound can be transmitted faithfully over great distances without the use of intervening wires. It is simply a matter of tubes, kilocycles, transformers, carrier waves, condensers, and what not. And those of us who care nothing about how it is done no longer regard broadcasting as a marvel. Dialing a program has become as much an everyday commonplace as turning on electric lights or starting a car. Even perfect rebroadcasts from Europe or Asia cause no stir of excitement.

But anyone with a wisp of imagination could scarcely have listened to the broadcasts of the two National Conventions, without rekindling, at least faintly, the reverent awe at what radio can do, that made its early days so glamorous.

Every American, so inclined, could hear every word that was uttered publicly at the Chicago Stadium, just as clearly as the delegates assembled there, and in the comfort of his own home, anywhere within the continental United States.

Nothing more than the sort of service the listener should expect? Granted. Nevertheless, as we listened we couldn't help feeling that radio is, after all, rather wonderful in the true meaning of that sorely misused word.

We were reminded that there were days—and not so long ago either—when such a thing was impossible; when any speaker's word could be heard by but a few thousand people; when the rest of us could only read what he said, without the illuminating impact of his personality. And we were encouraged to believe that all this technical progress does really mean something; in terms of lives made broader and contacts more direct.

But most of all we were gratified to find that, after all these years of dialing and tinkering, radio can still be something to rouse reverent wonder at man's accomplishments. That is a heartening discovery to make in these case-hardening times.

The only pity is that radio needs quadrennial conventions to regain this bloom of youth.

HARTMAN AT ALBEE

Harry Hartman, WFBE's sports announcer, occupied a prominent part of the RKO Albee spotlight last week. Harry sat in a box and gave a blow-for-blow description of the Sharkey-Schmeling fight through the large public address system. Harry's familiar voice added quite a few thrills to the punches of the champions, and the act was received so enthusiastically that RKO will undoubtedly repeat the performance when another sports feature is headlined.

NEW ARTISTS

Bob Wyatt and Richard Bathiany have recently been added to the artists' staff at WCKY. Both are pianists and play a distinctive style of popular music. Bob is heard every Wednesday at 2:30 p. m., while Richard "takes the air" at 3:45 p. m. the same afternoon.

Audrey and Bill, WCKY favorites, have started a new series of programs in which the announcer is dispensed with and these two young stars do all the chatting. They are heard each Wednesday at 8 p. m.

Spanish Singer

COUNTESS ALBANI

When the Cities Service broadcast is heard each Friday over WSAI (NBC-WEAF) at 7 p. m., the beautiful soprano voice of the Countess Olga Albani is heard. She is assisted by the Cavaliers Male Quartet and Rosario Bourdon's Orchestra.

This Business of Broadcasting

By John L. Clark
General Manager
Stations WLW,
W8XAL, WSAI

Last January the United States Senate adopted a resolution calling for a sweeping investigation by the Federal Radio Commission of American broadcasting. After four months of hard work, the Commission completed this investigation and made its report to the Senate. No industry has ever been subjected to closer examination by a Governmental agency.

It is not my purpose to burden you with details of this report but I thought, perhaps, you might be interested in knowing just how much it cost to produce last year's entertainment for the American radio audience. The Commission's figures show that the total cost in 1931 was $77,995,405.68.

Now radio broadcasting will be just eleven years old next November. In that brief period—a little more than a decade—broadcasting has grown from a fascinating toy to a useful national industry, bringing employment to thousands of persons and entertainment to millions. Broadcasting is typically an American industry. It was discovered or invented by American engineers and developed by American business-men.

And it is to the credit of those who pioneered this new art that they were willing to spend many thousands of dollars to vindicate their belief that in radio broadcasting they had found a useful instrumentality for good.

Broadcasting has grown rapidly since the first broadcast of more than a decade ago. Today there are 608 broadcasting stations in the United States and nearly 60,000,000 people regularly enjoy the programs which these stations send out. These programs, according to the Commission's report, cost nearly $78,000,000 last year.

Where did this money come from? Who paid for this $78,000,000 fare of entertainment? Why were they willing to spend this large sum of money?

The money spent to keep your radio set supplied with entertainment and information came from advertisers—firms and individuals who were willing to spend large sums to entertain you for the privilege of telling you something about their products.

The advertiser says: "I will give you the best in music; the cleanest in humor; the finest in drama, and the latest in news and information if you will but permit me to tell you about my product."

Americans are fair. They know that radio entertainment is not assembled, rehearsed and produced without great expenditure of time and effort and money. They know, too, that if advertisers were not willing to pay the $78,000,000 radio entertainment bill, the money would have to be raised by taxation, as is done in most foreign countries.

I do not want to burden you with figures from the Commission's report but I believe you should know that less than 30 per cent of all programs on the air contain advertising matter.

When you hear a sponsored program, bear in mind, please, that the advertiser whose product is being publicized is also helping to supply the money that pays for the fine educational, sports, and other feature broadcasts.

Sports or Radio—Which?

The Regional Olympic Contests at Chicago will be honored by the presence of Sam Stoller, WCKY pianist, as an entrant in the matches. If Sam is lucky, he'll go on to Los Angeles for the Olympics. Until then, listen in on his rhythmic piano selections on Saturday at 4:30 p. m.

Ed Wynn Is Given "Bust"

"My goodness, Graham, this is the best bust I've had since I fell on the ice in the winter of '86," exclaims Ed Wynn, famous comedian, in accepting a life-like model of himself as the Fire-Chief of the Air. Wynn will continue to be heard throughout the summer on the Texaco program, Tuesday at 8:30 p. m., over WSAI (NBC).

Around the Dial

By THE DIAL TWISTER

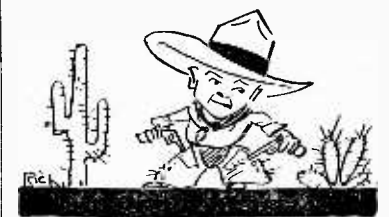

That new Symphonic Notebook program (WLW, Friday at 10 p. m.) is a bit of the real thing. A lot of us have been wishing Bill Stoess would get back in his element. And there's an informality about the explanatory remarks of Joe Ries that's unique in such a feature.

Columbia made a generous gesture during the Democratic Convention. It was when Amos and Andy appeared in a stop-gap platform show for the delegates. Amos and Andy, you know, are NBC stars, and there's more than just a friendly rivalry between the two chains. But far from cutting the mike, Ted Husing, CBS announcer, said some fine things about the "Fresh-Air Taxi" boys. That's real sportsmanship.

And speaking of Amos and Andy, probably you've noticed that an organ now plays their "Perfect Song" theme. Probably just another example of 1932 thrift. An organ scarcely takes the place of a string trio.

The Cleveland Orchestra is once more helping to make the warm months safe for lovers of good music (NBC over WSAI, Sunday at 4 p. m.). Besides being high-caliber, its program runs a full hour. And that is something these days.

And they say Rudy Vallee is keen for two-gun western stories. Vicarious virility, after the day's work of charming fair ones? Ask your psycho-analyst.

That new Don Quick act (CBS over WKRC, Monday at 9:15 p. m.) can be classified as a modern burlesque of "Don Quixote." It's amusing, and sounds like it will bear watching.

Ben Bernie has a swell snow-white baton with his name set in mother-of-pearl, a gift from George Olsen. But the first time he used it, he poked a sax player in the eye. So he's gone back to the old fiddle-bow.

They've dressed up Joe Ries' Headlines Of Yesterday (WLW, daily except Sunday at 10:45 p. m.) with neatly frilled musical furnishings. Quite in fashion, no doubt. Still, it does seem pretty much like gilding the lily.

How's this for a radio example of the "long arm of coincidence?" One night several years ago Billy short. It turned out that the ship that had sent out the call was the Robert E. Lee.

And comes the news that the Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic Association has banned broadcasting of its football games this Fall. That's going to heave the well-known monkey wrench into the gridiron plans of the chains, for the E. I. A. A. includes schools that usually supply some of the radio highlights of the season. Still, clamping down the lid in the East may force the chains to air more Western Conference games. And that would be a silver lining at least out this way.

Jack Denny and his orchestra haven't had a vacation in 11 years. So cheer up if you think you've been martyred by missing only two or three.

Those Minit Rub Minutes (WLW, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, at 8 p. m.) are brisk entertainment. Made up of sports flashes and music, they condense the variety show idea into 15 minutes.

So the Eno Crime Club (CBS over WKRC, Tuesday and Wednesday at 8:30 p. m.) is to go on with stories of various mystery writers, now that the Edgar Wallace series is finished. There's something to look forward to. Broadcasting the Wallace yarns was a swell job. And there's certain to be plenty of other good material to please the detective devotees.

Announcers have gone in for ping pong in a great big way. At the Columbia studios they're running a tournament, with David Ross leading the pack so far.

Now it comes out that Harry Reser, big chief of the Eskimos, taught the Prince of Wales to play the banjo. Well, that ought to be less subject to the laws of gravity than some of H. R. H.'s other diversions.

WALTER WINCHELL— On BROADWAY

FROM CITY CHILD

I should have forgotten what now I see about me—
Naked budding Spring trees and gardens in the rain,
And tall, eager lovers who walk along without me
Nor turn their eyes to see me, or think of me again.

Last May and last June and even last September,
I never lacked a man's arm to lean my own upon;
—Why should they be forgetting what I so well remember,
And why should I remember what now is dead and gone?

Let the blossom wither on the apple branch above me,
Let the root of maple and elm grow sick and rotten,
For Springtime's a sorry time with none here to love me,
With me alone remembering what others have forgotten.
—Selma Robinson.

ANYTHING FOR A LAUGH

"O. O. McIntyre was the first Broadway columnist."—John Harkin in Life.

"S. Jay Kaufman was the first Broadway columnist."—McIntyre in the New York American.

As a matter of fact, Mr. McIntyre has always shuddered at the very thought. And blushes at the erroneous impression. Mr. Kaufman called his pillar "Round the Town," which he covered adroitly.

The first Broadway columnist, so that future historians won't be misled, was Edgar Allen Poe.

PLUS A DIRTY LOOK

What the town really needs, it appears, is a crack to stifle cab-drivers who have no respect for a passenger's nerves.

We heard a fitting one yesterday, when the cop on the corner crushed a time-destroying driver with: "Hey, sweetheart! Let the feller who's got the record hold it, will yuh?"

THE ANSWER PROPER

Miss Guinan was being bothered again by one of those bores, whose chatter was far from inspiring.

"I know I'm getting on your nerves, honey," he cooed, "but I'm one guy who admits that I can keep on telling stories that haven't any points to them."

"Then you're wasting a lotta time," crushed Guinan, "you ought to be out in Hollywood writing pictures!"

GAG

The Hollywood bureau of Variety relays the anecdote about the gentleman who appeared from nowhere and decided that he would produce a show. The local Equity representative warned the stranger that he would have to put up a bond to insure the cast's wages.

"Oh, pish-tuch," indifferently replied the fellow, "I've got a bank president who will vouch for me."

"I know," was the snapper, "but who's gonna vouch for your bank president?"

THERE'S BEEN WORSE

The Messrs. Simon and Schuster have brought out another miniature book of Scot jokes—and they remembered practically all the worthwhile, except the one that goes: "Why did Washington chuck a dollar across the Potomac?"

He was teaching a Scotsman to swim!"

NOVELETTE

This one fascinated us last night. A young and ambitious politician, in a not so small Western city, was easily elected every time he ran for office. He climbed from sheriff up to mayor in three years, and the opposition always wondered where the immense sums came from to conduct his campaigns.

As a matter of fact, the most illicit woman in the town supplied the coin, for she was madly in love with him. But he was married and you know how that is. When they boomed him for the governorship, he decided to air her, fearing the affair would be used by his enemies. However, old man Fate, who just keeps rollin' along, stepped in and killed her with a bolt of lightning.

When her will was read, it revealed that she had left all she owned, to him.

Before the papers came out the next morning he committed suicide.

OOP!

The West Side Riding Academy and Asthma Club of Hollywood were grouped about the luncheon table knocking this member and that one. Every time one of them left the table he was panned mercilessly.

Finally Groucho Marx decided to boost somebody for the novelty of it. So when a certain producer went out, Groucho chirped: "There goes a regular guy if ever there was one—but I doubt if there ever was one!"

ONE MAN'S OPINION

Harry Bannister and Ann Harding couldn't stand Harry's being called "Mr. Ann Harding" to hear Larry Reid tell it. At least that's the reason they offered for their recent split. But, adds Mr. Reid, Ralph Forbes, whose considerable acting talents are dimmed by Ruth Chatterton's hasn't rushed to Reno about it, and Rudolph Sieber (Mr. Marlene Dietrich to you!) continues making a rep for himself directing flickers abroad. Reid then continues to wonder if Bannister's divorce from Ann Harding hasn't marked him as "Ann Harding's ex-husband!" I call it spinach, too, but Jack Foster calls it a paragraph.

HUNGER KNOWS NO HOLIDAY

What the depression has wrought: A subscriber to this column was approached by a panhandler in Bryant Park. He asked for a nickel "for a cuppacawfee." Not having anything better to do the subscriber decided to follow and check up on the jitney.

The guy with the nickel crossed the street to a 5 and 10 shop and presently came out with a bag of peanuts. Back in the park he fed them to the pigeons. The birds, which are very tame there, gathered about his feet and devoured the feast.

Suddenly the panhandler leaned down, grabbed one of the pigeons, wrung its neck with one swift move of his paws, stuffed it in his pocket—and strolled off!

ADD SIMILES

Suggested for Mr. Linstock's book of them: Bugs Bear: Ninety-nine out of every 100 laws are like putting emergency brakes on a snail . . . Arthur James: Futile as Father's Day . . . Thomas Meany: Sharkey looked like a guy about to foreclose on an orphanage . . . Joe Williams: A heavyweight battle without a knockdown can be as drab as an Oriental dancer in a calico wrapper.

Mike Robing WKRC With Chuck Wise

We are rapidly getting to be one of the most unpopular persons around the studios due to a very thankless job that was thrust upon us with the formation of the WKRC baseball team. We have the misfortune to have been appointed business manager of this aggregation, the main duties of which consist of collecting funds for baseballs, equipment, umpires' fees and other incidentals. Trying to collect from these ball players is about as difficult as collecting the International War Debt.

Ever since we started giving résumés of the staff artists, we've received numerous requests for one of Duane Snodgrass, our 20 years old announcer, pianist, singer and what have you. So here goes. Duane has been connected with WKRC since the spring of 1930 when he appeared as guest soloist in the Gruen Old Fashioned Garden. In the Fall he joined the regular staff, becoming chief announcer six months later. Besides his duties as announcer, "Ding" (as his intimates are inclined to call him) plays the piano and sings quite expertly on quite a few studio programs. The "Your Matinee" program is the latest to claim his attention.

Duane got his start when he was very young, commencing the study of the piano when he was only 7 years old, in his old home town of Richmond, Ind. Only recently he completed three years of study with Madame Marguerite Liszneska.

The month of July is quite a big one for "Ding," due to the fact that he is appearing with Singin' Sam, an old acquaintance from Richmond, in his tri-weekly broadcasts to the Columbia chain, which will originate in these studios. Duane's a most likeable person, besides being a very capable radio artist, so that we aren't gambling very much in predicting a big future for this young fellow.

Strange indeed are many of the inquiries received by a broadcasting station, but we are inclined to believe that this one takes the prize. Most everyone is cognizant of the procedure when contests are announced over the air. Entrants are usually told to secure a label or a facsimile of the product advertised, which they are to send in with their answer. We received an inquiry from a fan who had been listening to a contest, asking us where they might secure a facsimile!

The studios have recently been the mecca for many Cincinnati radio fans who are anxious to get a glimpse of their favorite Columbia artist. Singin' Sam is taking his vacation in Southern Indiana and comes up to the studios three times weekly during the whole month of July for his Columbia broadcasts. Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians were on hand for the Robert Burns program Wednesday (July 6), so the fans have been having quite a treat in seeing notable radio personalities.

Stoopnagle Triumphs

There seems to be considerable doubt as to the success of Colonel Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle's campaign to "Keep Stoopnagle Out of the White House." Imagine, for instance, the Colonel's disappointment when he received a letter several days ago telling him that in a straw vote conducted at State Teachers College, St. Cloud, Minn., he received four times as many votes as either Will Rogers or Eddie Cantor, both of whom are striving with might and main to get into the White House. (Eds. Note: The count, Hoover, 241; Roosevelt, 158; Borah, 122; Norman Thomas, 50; Stoopnagle, 4; Will Rogers, 1; Eddie Cantor, 1.)

There was solace for the venerable Colonel, however. A postscript to the letter allayed some of his fears. It stated that in all probability the committee in charge of the straw vote would throw out three of the votes for the Colonel, as only one student signed his right name to the ballot. The three other ballots for the Colonel were signed "George Washington," "Eddie Cantor" and "Agatha Zilch."

"Panatella" Comedians

Grace Allen and George Burns, laugh evoking pair, heard every Wednesday over WKRC (CBS) at 8 p. m., with Guy Lombardo and his orchestra, are at the present time, in Hollywood, at work on the motion picture "The Big Broadcast."

Heard From London

George Bernard Shaw, journalist, critic and playwright, will tell the story of his rise to world prominence in journalism and literature during the international broadcast from London, England, which will be re-broadcast over WKRC (CBS) Monday (July 11) at 3:20 p. m.

Although he has consistently refused to visit America Shaw has been heard in this country in frequent speeches re-broadcast through the Columbia network. At a dinner given in honor of Professor Albert Einstein in London, on the occasion of the Joan of Arc quinqucentenary, and immediately following his tour of Russia, Shaw's addresses were transmitted to American listeners through Columbia's international facilities.

Shaw will speak from the London studios of the British Broadcasting Corporation.

Pioneer Announcer

ARTHUR AINSWORTH

Genial, smiling Arthur Ainsworth, who tips the scales at 175, and stands five feet ten in his "stocking feet," is one of the "grand old men" of radio broadcasting. He has been announcing over WLW since the nation's station was in its infancy. Arthur is married, has four lovely youngsters, and lives in Mt. Washington.

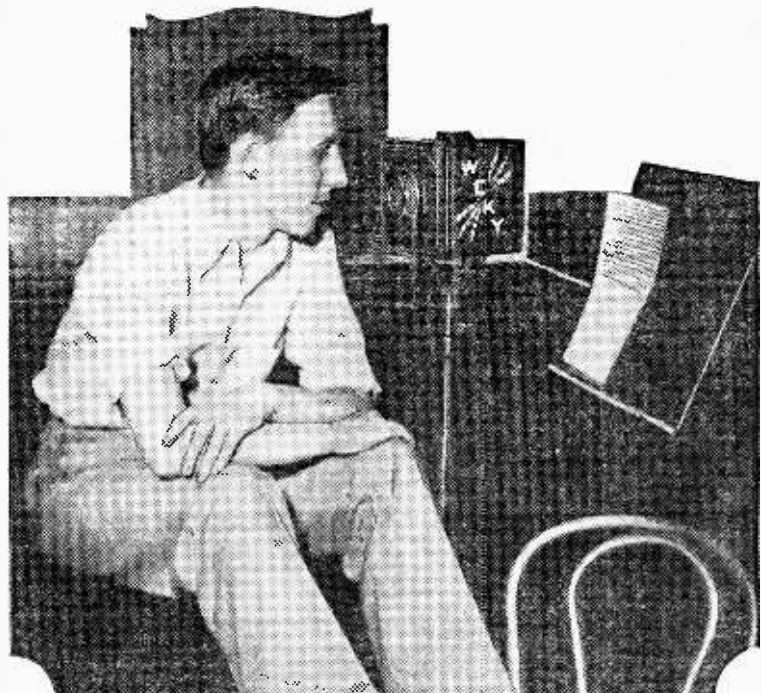

OLD TIME FIDDLERS

The Dixie Vagabonds, who have been appearing daily at 8 a. m. over WCKY, will be heard, in addition to their early morning program, each Thursday at 9:15 p. m. The new program will take place in Lem Riley's Barn and will be known as Lem Riley's Fiddlin' School.

In "Roses and Drums"

Glenn Hunter, stage and screen star, will turn radio-actor, and will appear in this week's episode of "Roses and Drums," heard over WKRC, Sunday (July 10) at 5:30 p. m. Hunter is remembered for his part in "Merton of the Movies."

Announcing—

RUSSELL HODGES

WCKY Newsman, announcing daily current events and baseball scores at 5:55 p. m., regular staff announcer, bass singer, strong advocate for the repeal of the 18th Amendment, married, and just turned 21. That gives us, in brief, an idea of Russell Hodges.

PROGRAM JOTTINGS

Choice of the Week's Programs on Local and Out-of-Town Stations

Friday, July 8

Jacques Fray and Mario Braggiotti, piano artists who have won radio fame through unusual duo arrangements, will return to the air for another series of recitals at 8:45 p. m. over CBS. This will be the first recital since Fray's return from a short European trip. For the opening program, the duo will play "Trees" by Rasbach, the popular melody inspired by Joyce Kilmer's poem of the same name. This will be followed by the delicate piece, "Festivals," from Debussy's suite, "Nocturnes," and in conclusion the keyboard pair will offer a novel arrangement of selections from the musical success, "Show Boat" by Jerome Kern.

Saturday, July 9

Arthur Tracy, the Street Singer, will sing a group of romantic ballads and tunes of the Southland during his program to be heard over WKRC (CBS) at 6:45 p. m. For his first group, Tracy will offer "When It's Sleepy Time Down South" and "Time On My Hands," to be followed by "Mem'ries and Roses," "Trees" and "Lullaby of the Leaves." In conclusion, he will sing the beautiful melody, "Chloe," "Mississippi, Roll On" and "Lazy Day."

Irene Beasley, Columbia's "long, tall gal from Dixie," will offer a group of currently popular melodies and old favorites at 11 p. m. over CBS. Accompanied by Fred Berrens and his orchestra, Miss Beasley will sing "Holding My Honey's Hand," "Now You've Got Me Worrying For You" and "Back In Your Own Back-Yard." The orchestral feature of the presentation will be Berrens' own arrangement of "My Gal Sal."

Sunday, July 10

Eugene Perazzo, WLW organist, will play two selections during the Vox Humana broadcast, over WLW at 10:30 p. m. The WLW Octette, under the direction of Grace Clauve Raine will feature several well-known ballads.

Monday, July 11

Pat Harrington, popular radio tenor, and Lloyd Shaffer's crack radio dance orchestra will share honors before the microphone of WLW at 9:15 p. m., during the Bath-a-Sweet "Quarter-hour of Loveliness" broadcast. "In a Quaint Little English Town," "One Day In May" and "Melody Supreme" are currently popular song hits included in this broadcast.

Thursday, July 14

Henry Fillmore's latest march composition, "The National Press Club," will be given its premiere radio presentation at 10 p. m. over WLW. "American Legionnaires," "King of the Air," and "Victory Bell" are other stirring march tunes scheduled on this program.

WLW's New "Find"

EDDIE ALBERT

Have you been wondering about the identity of the tenor voice heard each Sunday night with Bill Stoess and his Flying Dutchmen over WLW-NBC? It belongs to Eddie Albert, a University of Minnesota boy, who made his debut with the "Three-some," harmony trio, several months ago. You'll be hearing him over WLW quite often, in future.

Dayton Thorobreds Revive Romberg's Operetta "Maytime"

Helen Marie Anderson, soprano; Franklin Bens, tenor; and Louis John Johnen, baritone, will be featured soloists when Romberg's operetta, "Maytime," is presented on the Dayton Thorobreds Concert, Friday (July 8) at 9 p. m. over WLW.

A bit of sunny Spain will be injected into this colorful musical offering in a brilliant orchestral arrangement of "Cubalero." The complete program follows:

- I Idolize My Baby's Eyes. Male Quartet and Orchestra.
- Tom Thumb's Drum. Orchestra.
- Maytime (Miniature) Romberg
- a) Overture. Orchestra.
- b) The Road to Paradise. Orchestra.
- c) Will You Remember. Helen Anderson, F. Bens and Orch.
- d) Finale. Orchestra.
- Cubalero. Orchestra.
- Frag Nicht Warum. L. J. Johnen, Sextet and Orch.
- Night Shall Be Filled With Music. Orchestra.
- Toytown Admiral. Orchestra and Voices.

SISTERLY LOVE

Helen Shawn recently drove 2,500 miles from her home in Boise, Idaho, to Cincinnati to see her brother, Fred. Broadcast over WLW. Incidentally, brother Fred—formerly of Flo Ziegfeld's Follies—is creating no small stir in radio circles in his dual capacity of announcer and soloist at the Nation's Station.

Smilin' Dan

JOE DUNLEVY

Smilin' Dan, heard over WFBE each day before the ball game, was formerly a partner of Harry Frankel, known now as Singin' Sam.

WISE and OTHERWISE

BY BOB NEWHALL

"SIX BUCKS" IS MORE LIKE IT

Simply silly nonsense, Is Mother Goose's cry: "Sing a Song of Six-Pence, A Pocket Full of Rye!"

OH, YOU DELICATESSENS!

Young wife (to companion at movies)—"I do wish they'd make their kitchen scenes more realistic. They always have a rolling-pin hanging up or a woman baking bread or something!"

And now that Bat Battalino has been beaten by both Billy Petrolle and his younger brother, Frankie, maybe they have a sister Bat can fight next!

KEEPING THE FAITH

Now that colored maids have become an adjunct to Pullman cars, undoubtedly they will all be called "Georgette!"

SPEAKING OF CITRUS FRUITS:—

The toughest thing about Gene Tunney's possible return to the ring is that, instead of taking a slice of lemon from the fair hand of a dowager, he'll have to take a half-sucked orange from the far from fair hand of his second!

THE RETORT COURTEOUS

Elderly Lady (at benefit for wounded veterans)—"And did you lose all those fingers in the war?" Hard-boiled Ex-top Sergeant—"No, ma'am; I lost 'em stealing cheese out of mouse traps!"

And then there's the dance-orchestra leader who believes he deserves ranking with Chopin and

Mozart because he was the first one to think of lighting a bass-drum by putting a Mazda inside!

WHAT'S A MERE LETTER BETWEEN FRIENDS?

The teacher gave the question: "Who was Joan of Arc?" "Some kin to old man Noah, came Willie's brisk remark!"

THE ONE-TRACK MIND. Sunday School Teacher (to class) "And Ruth said to Naomi—" Young Egbert—"And I bet he told that rookie plenty!"

TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR AND YET TRUTH!

Society note—Count Smello Fromage waited at the altar while the heiress he was about to marry glided down the aisle to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride!"

And it's a safe bet that the man at the ball game who says "empire," at the movies speaks of it as a "good fillum!"

ALAS, TOO OFTEN TRUE!

English Boxer (coming to corner after being floored twice)—"I fawncy I've been and broke me bloomin' 'and!" Her Second (bitterly)—"It hain't yer bleedin' 'and wot's broke; it's yer bleedin' 'eart!"

And until next week, So-o-o long! BOB NEWHALL, The Mail Pouch Sportsman.

Original Crooner

WHISPERING JACK SMITH

Ten years ago Jack Smith-discovered that a very good effect could be created by singing softly into a "mike," and became,

Skip and Step Leading WCKY Pop Contest

1. Skip and Step.
2. SnowDrifts.
3. Hill Billy Kid.
4. Dixie Vagabonds.
5. Tommy Ott.
6. Campus Cut-Ups.
7. Rhythm and Rhyme.
8. The Dubantes.
9. The Stebbens Boys (NBC).
10. The Sundodgers.

This is the standing of the first ten programs in the popularity contest being held at WCKY to discover the most popular program over that station, either local or NBC. Skip and Step are heard daily at 10:15 a. m.

The favorite Scotch story of Harry Richman, night club and stage star now heard on the NBC networks, has to do with the Caledonian who approached the Siamese twins. "Say," he said, looking one of them straight in the eye, "if you'll get rid of your sister, I'll take you to lunch."

thereby, the first crooner. He is now heard every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday over WLW (NBC) at 9:15 p. m., on the Absorbine, Jr. program.

Here is the Key to the Out-of-Town Network Radio Stations

INVEST AT HOME

We live in a big world and, of necessity, must do considerable business outside our own bailiwick.

But when you have money to invest, why risk it in outside stocks and bonds that you know little or nothing about?

When you invest your surplus dollars in a Hamilton County building association you know what you are getting. Our record of safety in 1931 was 100 per cent. We are right here at home, and the money you leave with us is loaned immediately upon first mortgages on homes in this community.

Every Dollar Invested in Hamilton County Building Associations Today is Worth 100 Cents Plus Accrued Dividends.

NEW CITIZENS

Monday (June 27th) was a big day in the lives of Aloys Kubinski, German pianist, and Meinolf Tinglehoff, German tenor, better known as the singer from the Rhine. On this date these two WFBE stars became citizens of the U. S. They are heard each Tuesday, at 7:40 p. m., over WFBE in a program of German folk songs and classics.

(NBC) every Sunday at 9 p. m., you are sure of hearing some outstanding figures in the worlds of sport and theater. Ed Sullivan, Broadway columnist, is responsible for these appearances.

NEW AUTO RADIO

Some twelve years ago the executives of three great railroads boarded a private car and ordered the engineer to speed the locomotive up to 70 miles an hour. At that speed a radio was switched up and the sprightly words of "Yes, We Have No Bananas," were heard as easily in the private railway car as they were in the radio studio five hundred miles away.

Newspapermen made much of the incident and radios for all vehicles were prophesied. Great steps have been made in manufacturing good radios for canoes, automobiles, buses and trains. The Auto-Rad Supply Co. in Cincinnati is showing a new radio for the automobile that is self-contained and needs no battery or eliminator. Many of the new automobiles are specially wired for radios.

CBS Announcer

HARLOW WILCOX

The majority of evening programs emanating from Columbia's studios in Chicago are announced by Harlow Wilcox, who was a salesman by profession and an actor by inclination, until radio offered him an opportunity to combine the roles. Wilcox is thirty-one, weighs 180 pounds, plays excellent tennis and terrible golf. He has figured very prominently in the broadcasting of the Democratic National Convention.

Rudy Vallee made his first contact with the theater as an usher in a movie house in his home town of Westbrook, Maine. . . . Leo Reisman, NBC conductor, earned his first dollar playing a piano in a Boston music store.

Ray and His Pal

RAY PERKINS
Ray Perkins is adding greatly to his reputation as a wit in his Barbasol broadcasts every Tuesday and Thursday at 6:30 p. m., over WSAI (NBC). He is shown above with Miss Microphone, who, he claims, never talks back (unusual!), but who does have the feminine habit of broadcasting everything you tell her.

"SMILIN' DAN"
Pyor Chek Man
Comes to you every day—15 minutes before the ball-game—over WFBE.

BACK ON JOB JUDGMENT DAY????

Joe Ries, popular WLW announcer, is again being heard in his role of the "Old Reporter" during the "Headlines of Yesterday" broadcasts every evening except Sundays at 10:45 p. m., following a well-earned two weeks' vacation.
An original and highly colorful orchestral arrangement of "Gabriel Blow our Horn" will be a featured presentation of Bill Stoess' Flying Dutchmen dance orchestra during the "Marlboro Bands of Distinction" broadcast over WLW Thursday (July 14) at 9:30 p. m.

Enric of Spain

ENRIC MADRIGUERA

"Adios" is the theme song by Enric Madriguera, by which he is known to many. He came to America as one of Spain's most talented violinists and now his orchestra is heard over Columbia.

"It's hard to distinguish between weeds and young plants" declared Richardson Wright, NBC's horticulturalist, in a recent broadcast. "Mebbe so," was the comment of Ray Perkins, who has a garden at his Skarsdale, N. Y., home, "but it's a cinch for my neighbor's chickens."

Harry Plugs Himself

Harry Richman, who, among other accomplishments, is a song-writer, once undertook to start one of his own compositions on the way to popularity. His idea was original—in- stead of trying to get it played in New York, he took the tune to Atlantic City for a week-end. Besides wangling the Atlantic City orchestras into playing it, he walked up and down the boardwalk with a megaphone, singing at the top of his lungs. Week-enders returned to Broadway humming the tune and trying to find the publisher. The number was bought by a big music house and suppressed because it was similar in title, though not in melody, to a piece the house was about to launch.

On opening a fan letter recently Alexander McQueen, narrator of the NBC Nothing But the Truth program, found this comment: "Though your name is Scotch you certainly are free with your information."

Campus Cut-Ups of WCKY

TOMMY KYDE, FLOYD TERRY

The style of entertainment of the Campus Cut-Ups has aroused such favorable comment, that they are at the present time runners-up in the popularity contest being conducted at WCKY. Tommy plays the banjo, and Floyd alternates between the clarinet, saxophone and tap dancing.

SHORTS

Pierre Brugnion taught three of his friends the rudiments of bridge, the ingrates. They "took" him for six rubbers a week later. . . . Vaudeville news: Irene Beasley reported about to sign for a tour of the New York variety theaters. . . . Arthur Sutherland, baritone of the Eight Sons of Eli, follows the Lanny Ross tradition. Sutherland placed in the half mile run when Yale met Princeton in their annual dual meet. . . . The call of the outdoors. Freddie Rich has installed a ping-pong table on the veranda of his Central Park penthouse. Fortunately for the pedestrians thirty-two stories below, the balls are only celluloid. . . . Kate Smith, who always had a yen for interior decorating, spending her spare time enhancing the appearance of the new office of her personal manager, Ted Collins. . . . Gracie Allen complaining she is all winded running for Governor of the State of Colorado. . . . Gus Van signing his checks August von Glahn, his real tag.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE

George Ade, the author, and Ned Revell, NBC's radio raconteur, are fellow Hoosiers, former neighbors and great friends. Miss Revell's favorite story of the novelist has to do with his niece, a little miss of 8 who visited his Indiana farm. Looking up from her book of fairy-tales, she asked: "Does m-i-r-a-g-e spell marriage, Uncle George?" "Yes, my child," was the answer of Mr. Ade, a confirmed bachelor.
