USE UP-TO-DATE SRDS INFORMATION FOR MOST VALUE

SRDS books are designed to give you more than a little knowledge . . . to give you all the information possible upon which you can make media selections. The data contained in all SRDS listings are brought up to date between issues through Rate Bulletins, thus ensuring you the latest information from one publication date to the next.

The danger that arises from the use of SRDS publications actually arises from their mis-use . . . from the continued use by some of out-dated issues. Remember, when you use old SRDS publications, you are discarding as "unimportant" the timeliness that has been a Standard Rate must for 39 years.

Be sure the information that you are using is up to date. If you don't have your own subscription to any of the SRDS books, write immediately to Subscription Department, Standard Rate & Data Service, 1740 Ridge Ave., Evanston, Ill.

Be sure . . . be safe!

General Advertising

Talent—Program formats and talent, rates on request. All products and/or services and the advertising continuity thereof are subject to WPTF acceptance before broadcast.

Time is sold for political broadcasts on the basis of rigid conformity with the Federal Communication Act and with the Federal Communications Commission Rules and Regulations appertaining to political broadcasting and to all other pertinent statutes, rules and regulations, both Federal and State. Regular rates apply.

Current advertisers will receive 6 months rate protection, or rate protection through the end of the existing contracts, whichever is longer. Rate protection will not exceed 12 months.

Time of broadcast of programs subject to change to other periods on 56 days' notice to accommodate network broadcasts only in event that said broadcast periods are scheduled in time set aside for network use. Announcements may be moved to other periods by station Manager upon 24 hours' notice.

Contracts for announcements accepted 30 days before initial broadcast. Firm contracts for program periods of 13 weeks or more accepted 60 days before initial broadcast; otherwise, 30 days. All programs and announcements are subject to removal without notice for any broadcast which, in our opinion, is in the public interest.

Tables under "General Broadcast Advertising" show all applicable discounts within 1 year. Announcements and program periods (5 minutes or longer) may be combined for discount purposes on announcements, but not vice-versa. Discounts apply to the total number of broadcasts used within 1 year. 2 contiguous 1/4 hour programs earn the 1/2 hour rate. 3 contiguous 1/4 hour programs earn 3/4 of the hour rate.

After the 1st year advertiser may continue the announcement or program schedule at the same discount, until schedule is reduced or interrupted. The schedule is not subject to short rate. The advertiser who avails himself of this continuing discount policy must begin a new contract period for quantity discount purposes when he reduces or resumes his schedule.

A NEW AND EXPANDED ANALYSIS CONTAINING CIRCULATION DATA FOR ALL U. S. DAILY NEWSPAPERS

included in the analysis: ADJUSTED circulation data from the ABC white audit reports.

ABC CITY ZONE CIRCULATION DATA

Arranged in alphabetical sequence, from Alabama through Wyoming, all ABC daily newspapers in each state are listed in a separate tabulation, which records morning, evening and Sunday circulations in total, and by city zone. Magazines and comic sections are identified by a letter code for each newspaper.

DAILY NEWSPAPERS WITH SWORN STATEMENTS

All Daily newspapers within each state, submitting sworn circulation statements, are listed in county sections by total daily circulation—under county where newspaper is listed.

COUNTY AND METRO AREA ANALYSIS

The geographic distribution of ABC daily newspapers is detailed county by county and by metro areas. County lists show all papers published in the county and those outside papers having a circulation equal to 5 or more per cent of county households. The relationship of county and/or metro area circulations to households is shown for each paper listed.

SRDS CONSUMER MARKET DATA

For ready reference, SRDS estimates of total households, population and retail sales—by % of U.S. total—plus food and drug sales are shown by county for all county and metro areas. All consumer market data, dated 1/1/58, may be found adjacent to county and metro listings.

RETAIL SALES . . .

The term "retail sales" used in SRDS market estimates is based on the definition given by the U. S. Department of Commerce. "Retail Sales" represent all sales and receipts of all retail establishments (a firm which sells merchandise for personal, household or farm consumption). Sales include total receipts from consumers after deduction of refunds or allowances made for returned goods.

Retail Sales have been broken down by store type for all regions, states, counties, cities and Metropolitan Areas. As does the Bureau of Census, SRDS reports sales by store type, not by commodity type. For example, food store sales consist of all sales made in food stores. This may include sales of non-food items. On the other hand, other store types may also sell food, but these food sales are totalled in their particular store type — General Merchandise, Drug, etc.

Retail Sales estimates have been based on the Department of Commerce monthly estimates of total retail sales, individual state sales-tax data, bank debits, and population. The 1954 Census of Business, Retail Trade, also served as basic data for computing retail sales data.

Media/Market Maps For Graphic Interpretation Of Media Selection Factors

At the beginning of each state section, state media/market maps in SRDS Radio, TV and Newspaper Rates and Data are tools designed to aid buyers of media in gauging media coverage, defining market areas, estimating sales densities, designating territories, trading areas and other factors.

All maps clearly define state and county boundaries; a system of symbols denotes population estimates and presence of daily media in key cities. Each map is extended to cover strategic areas adjacent to state boundaries. SRDS 1958 estimates of consumer markets (by state, county, city and metro area) are either on the state map page or directly following.

Media/market maps, in conjunction with market data and media listings, form SRDS's three-point program to serve the buyers of media with pertinent and useful information.

In addition WLW delivers more than 174,000 Radio Homes outside of these areas on a daily basis.

All radio markets, with the exception of those radio markets bearing the same name as the retail trading area, are defined as the home counties only. The other radio markets consist of all the counties within trading area except those counties assigned as above.
All Circulation and cost figures are based upon these definitions.

*Defined by Rand-McNally

WLW Radio covers these big markets in a big way
(at little cost)

* 30% or more weekly daytime circulation
according to NCS 1956

* a signal strength of at least 2 MV/M

WLW serves more than one big city—it serves a big area, a big market. For your convenience, we have calculated the pro rated cost applicable to individual markets within the WLW primary service area.

In the event of revision of station rates or discounts, any continuous broadcasts under the advertiser's contract may be extended at the rates and discounts herein shown without penalty of short rate or loss of discounts on previous broadcasts for a period of not more than 26 weeks from the effective date of such revision.

Rates show all applicable discounts within 1 year. Program and announcement discounts apply to the total number of broadcasts used within 1 year.

Continuity Discounts

After the 1st contractual year an advertiser may continue his schedule into the next year at the frequency discount applicable to a 52-week projection of the schedule in force during the crossover week, provided this discount is no greater than the discount earned in the preceding year, in which case the earned discount would apply.

In the event an advertiser reduces his schedule during a 2nd or succeeding year, the reduced schedule would receive the frequency discount applicable to a 52-week projection of that schedule.

In the event an advertiser interrupts his schedule during a 2nd or succeeding year, any subsequent schedules within that year would receive the frequency discount applicable to the actual number of announcements run during that year.

Time of broadcast of programs subject to change. Announcements and station breaks may be moved to other periods by station upon 24 hours' notice.

Contracts must be written individually and separately for announcements and for programs; no combination of the two will be permitted for purposes of securing a greater frequency discount than would otherwise be obtainable. However, daytime and nighttime programs may be combined to earn a lower rate. Also, daytime announcements and nighttime announcements may be combined to earn a greater frequency discount.

Station reserves the right to change its rates effective on such date as it may announce. Changes which increase rates will not apply to advertisers on the air at the time the increase is announced until six months after the effective date of any new rates. One year contracts, however, will be accepted only for the purpose of determining frequency.

... Except for the BETTER

WKY was the first station on the air in Oklahoma. Today, over 30 years later, WKY is still first... in every sense of the word.

WKY was then... and is now... completely dedicated to bringing Oklahoma's largest radio audience the finest in radio entertainment and service.

To compromise on anything less than the best, would be to betray the faith placed in us by two generations of listeners. That we shall never do.

We have recently heightened our programming with changes for the better. Your Katz man has details and availabilities.

Continuing Discounts

Contracts renewed for the same schedule without interruption beyond a 52 week period take the same earned time rate as prevailing during the preceding 52 weeks.

When a contract is continued without interruption beyond a 52 week period, but the schedule is reduced in frequency, the time rate will become that which would have been earned during the preceding 52 weeks had the reduced schedule prevailed throughout.
Contracts renewed for the same schedule or a reduced schedule beyond a 52 week period and subsequently cancelled or interrupted prior to completion of such subsequent contract fiscal year, will take the rate for the completed portion of such renewed contract which will be the same as that earned for the preceding 52 week period. No short rate will be charged. However, a resumption of advertising after the interruption will be on the basis of a new fiscal year and the frequency discount will be allowed as earned.

RETAIL SALES — AUTOMOTIVE STORES

Based on the 1954 Census of Business Retail Trade, Automotive Stores include these categories: motor vehicle dealers, tire, battery and accessory dealers, motorcycle dealers, aircraft dealers (for private use only), boat dealers, passenger automobile trailer dealers, and related automobile product dealers.

Establishments primarily selling trucks and motorized industrial equipment are excluded from this category, since they are considered (by the Census) as wholesalers.

However, programs and announcements may not be combined for frequency rate. Participation announcements may be combined with other announcements and/or station breaks to determine the frequency rates of each. If a contract is renewed for the same schedule, without interruption, beyond a 52 week period, the same earned time rate will be allowed for such continuous weekly service as the rate earned for the preceding 52 week period. However, should the schedule of the renewed contract be reduced or cancelled before completing the contract fiscal year, a short rate charge will be made in accordance with the applicable frequency rate for the number of programs or announcements used within the current fiscal year; or advertiser may elect to re-earn frequency rate each fiscal year.

Class "A" and "B" packages may be combined with one another to earn weekly package discount rates; for example, 5 Class "A" announcements plus 10 Class "B" announcements earn the 15 time rate in each category. Minutes and stationbreaks only can combine for frequency. ID's may not be combined with other announcements. Regular rate announcements may earn frequency for package announcements, but not vice-versa. Broadcast schedules which continue beyond 52 weeks will continue to earn the same rate as that in the preceding 52 week period. Rates on request for units of time purchased in excess of one hour. Current advertisers will be granted 52 weeks rate protection in event of rate increase. An account must be active with a schedule running at the time of a rate increase to receive rate protection, and the schedule must be continuous thereafter to maintain this rate protection.

What would you expect if...

You bought one 20-second spot in Pittsburgh • this spot was put on during a football game • the game was also on television • you were offering a booklet on Social Security laws • this was the only advertising done • this was a Saturday and your offer started the next Monday •

Here's what happened: Fidelity Trust Co. of Pittsburgh used one 20-second spot on KDKA during the Notre Dame-Pitt football game, on Saturday, November 8. On Monday, over 600 people came in to get the Social Security booklet. That's power. That's typical. That's KDKA. Pittsburgh's first radio station is still first in Pittsburgh radio.

Weather Jingle Package
 Scheduled 6:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday (30 seconds jingle and weather, 30 seconds commercial) available every hour on the half-hour on a rotating basis, 10 per week $50.00. Fully commissionable, no minimum contract.

DISCOUNTS

Tables under Program Periods and Announcements show all applicable discounts within 1 year. Announcements and programs of 5 minutes or longer may not be combined for discount purposes. Discounts are based on total number of programs or announcements and/or special feature participations used during the established fiscal year, except where specified. (10-second announcements may not be combined with 1-minute and 20-second announcements for frequency discounts). Non-package announcements can apply to the total to earn package discounts; however, package announcements cannot be combined with non-package announcements to earn greater frequency discounts.

Continuing Discounts

After the 1st contractual year an advertiser may continue his schedule into the next year at the frequency discount applicable to a 52-week projection of the schedule in force during the crossover week, provided this discount is no greater than the discount earned in the preceding year, in which case the earned discount would apply. In the event an advertiser reduces his schedule during a 2nd or succeeding year, the reduced schedule would receive the frequency discount applicable to a 52-week projection to that schedule. In the event an advertiser interrupts his schedule during a 2nd or succeeding year, any subsequent schedule within that year receives the frequency discount applicable to the actual number of announcements run during that year.

Multi-Brands

Multi brands may be combined for frequency discount purposes on card rate announcements. Multi brands may be combined to earn weekly package plan rates only when such brands are bought on a single broadcast order.

POLITICAL

Time is sold for political broadcasts on the basis of rigid conformity with the federal communications act and with the federal communications commission rules and regulations pertaining to political broadcasting and all other pertinent statutes, rules and regulations, both federal and state. Card rates apply.

PITTSBURGH TRI-STATE MARKET

It's a fact—if you are not using WWVA, you are missing half of this 67-county tri-state market of more than 5½ million people, the Heart of Industrial America.

For complete coverage, the answer is the 50,000 Watt Voice of WWVA in Wheeling, which dominates the area. Large numbers of major chain and independent supermarkets credited to Pittsburgh distribution are in the area reached by WWVA at point of sale and outside the effective service area of Pittsburgh media.

So dominant is WWVA that it is first in every time period, from 6 AM to midnight, seven days a week, in the entire 46-county area covered by the latest Pulse (Jan. 1958) as shown by the dotted lines on the map.

Are You Sure of Reaching ... the Right People ... the Right Area?

Let's suppose your budget is small, and results are essential through a limited advertising program. You have a product that appeals primarily to farmers and people in rural areas. You have to be mighty sure that the media you select are going to do a sure-fire selling job for you.

This is your problem, but Standard Rate & Data Service wants to help you solve it. That's why you'll find reliable up-to-date market statistics and market maps every month in these Standard Rate publications:

- Spot Radio Rates and Data
- Spot TV Rates and Data
- Newspaper Rates and Data

Of course, media selection cannot be 100% guaranteed by anyone, but certain steps can be taken to make the best possible choice and to definitely put the odds in your favor. The media buyer who does a careful job of research—making a thorough study of these averages and percentages—knows when he has made his decision that it is justified. He knows that his product is being presented to the people who want it and who can afford to purchase it.

Whether your budget is large or small, whether your product appeals to city dwellers or rural folk, you have something to sell and results are essential. You'll get those results by using the market data made available to you by Standard Rate & Data Service.

Helping you to arrive at final decisions in the selection of the best possible media to reach the people you want to reach is just one of the many ways Standard Rate seeks to help you.

The advertiser and the advertising agency assume liability for all content of programs and spot announcements that are produced by them, and also assume responsibility for all claims arising therefrom made against CBN.

Forwarding of an order is construed as an acceptance of all rates and conditions under which air time is, at the time, sold by CBN. Failure to make order correspond in price to the rate card is regarded only as a clerical error, and broadcast is made and charged for upon the rates and terms of the rate card.

Station endeavors to maintain a separation of 15 minutes or more between sponsorships in behalf of competing products.

The last 30-seconds of each 1/2 hour program will be reserved for use of the station. Contracts accepted up to 30 days in advance of initial broadcast.

Contracts are for a maximum of 1 year and are considered completed and renewable 1 year after date of 1st broadcast.

Station reserves the right to cancel contracts which have not been used within 30 days of date of last broadcast.

Contracts not completed will be short rated, i.e. the rate will be adjusted to conform to actual frequency of broadcast in accordance with the rate card.

Contracts are not assignable or transferable by the advertiser.

Spot announcements may be moved to periods in the same or higher time classifications when necessary without notice at the discretion of the station manager. Spot announcements may be combined to earn a lower rate. Spot announcements and programs may not be combined to earn a lower rate. Only programs within the same time classification may be combined to earn a lower rate.

But advertisers may elect to substitute new contracts effective at any time after October 15, 1951—at rates on this card—for the unexpired portion or such commitments. Otherwise rates in effect immediately preceding the effective date of this card will apply to extensions of said commitments for any period or periods up to and including December 1951 for the same series continuously used. Rates on this card are applicable to all new broadcast series ordered on and after October 15, 1951. The rate of discount to which an advertiser would otherwise be entitled will not be prejudiced if interruptions of a series are necessitated by the broadcasting of special events of importance or if advertiser is required by the station to relinquish the time or times specified in the contract and the contract is cancelled. Gross billing, after deduction of percentage discounts, if any, shall be subject to advertising agency commission of 15%. From the discount, if any, the company shall deduct the excess agency commission previously allowed. Time periods are not sold in bulk for resale. Advertisers cooperating in group broadcasts are required to make individual contracts. All programs subject to station approval. Time of broadcast subject to change to other periods on 28 days' notice to accommodate network broadcast only in the event that said broadcast periods are scheduled in time set aside for network use. "you'll do better with us in PROVIDENCE"

WICE is the hottest station in Rhode Island's capital—and it's getting hotter all the time.

Ratings are Up. Listeners love the Elliot touch in programming—October, 1958 Pulse shows the 6th consecutive gain for WICE. Now WICE is first or second 63% of the broadcast day—more music . . . more news . . . more often. They go for our heavy news coverage.

Business is Up. Month after month, advertising volume is ahead of last year. Very sound reason for it:

WICE delivers more listeners per dollar than any other station in the Greater Providence Metropolitan Area!

The whole story is told in a new color film on the Elliot Stations. For a private showing at your office, get in touch with us or Avery-Knodel.

The rate to which an advertiser is entitled is determined by the number of broadcasts used within one year from the date of initial broadcast, or each anniversary thereof. Failure to use the required number of broadcasts to earn the rate paid by the advertiser will incur a charge for the differential between the rate actually earned and the rate paid. Announcements cannot be considered when determining the rate applicable to programs (5 minutes or longer) or vice versa. Program time applies in excess of one minute.

After the first year advertiser may continue at the same discount and rate until schedule is reduced or interrupted or a revision of stations rates occurs. The advertiser who avails himself of this continuing discount policy must begin a new contract period for quantity discount purposes when he reduces or resumes his schedule.

In the event of revision of station rates or discounts, any continuous broadcasts under the advertiser's contract may be extended at the rates and discounts herein shown without penalty of short rate or loss of discounts on previous broadcasts for a period of not more than 26 weeks from the effective date of such revision. Contract accepted 30 days prior to start of schedule. Maximum contract 52 consecutive weeks. All program matter and advertising copy subject to station approval.

Non-contiguous programs may not be combined to secure larger time segment rate. Rates shown after deduction of all applicable discounts.

SRDS INFORMATION FOR MOST VALUE

SRDS books are designed to give you more than a little knowledge . . . to give you all the information possible upon which you can make media selections. The data contained in all SRDS listings are brought up to date between issues through Rate Bulletins, thus insuring you the latest information from one publication date to the next.

The danger that arises from the use of SRDS publications actually arises from their mis-use . . . from the continued use by some of out-dated issues. Remember, when you use old SRDS publications, you are discarding as "unimportant" the timeliness that has been a Standard Rate must for 40 years.

Be sure the information that you are using is up to date. If you don't have your own subscription to any of the SRDS books, write immediately to Subscription Department, Standard Rate & Data Service, Inc., 1740 Ridge Avenue, Evanston, Ill.

10-second announcements—50% of 30-second rates. In determining frequency, 2 10-second announcements count as 1 unit. These units may be combined with other announcements for frequency discounts and Plans.

The number-of-weeks rate is determined by the number of weeks in which a minimum of 12 announcements per week is scheduled. The time-per-week rate is then determined by the number of announcements scheduled in a given week.

Plan announcements may help earn frequency discounts on Non-Plan announcements. Non-Plan announcements may be counted towards the number of announcements necessary to qualify for Plan rates.
