Tulane-Trojan Football Game on Air Friday

Word Picture of Annual Rose Bowl
Parade Also to Be Given

Two features of the Pasadena, California Tournament of Roses—the famous Rose Bowl Parade and the Tulane-Southern California football game—will be visualized for radio listeners over an NBC network and WLS this Friday at 12:45 p. m.

The parade will consist of hundreds of gorgeous floats covered with grasses, ferns, smilax, vines, palms, roses, lilies and poinsettias from the gardens of California—to say nothing of the host of lovely girls, the pick of California beauty.

Following graphic word pictures of the parade, the NBC announcers, Don Wilson and Don Thompson, will take the radio audience to the Rose Bowl, where Tulane will line up against Southern California.

Tito Guizar, Leon Belasco's Orchestra on New CBS Feature

Beginning this Friday, Leon Belasco and his orchestra will be co-featured with Tito Guizar in a program to be known as "To The Ladies," which will be broadcast weekly from 8:30 to 8:45 p. m. over a Columbia network and WGN.

The programs, sponsored by the makers of Woodbury Facial Soap, will include a group of popular dance tunes played by the Belasco orchestra, a solo by Belasco in one of the six foreign languages which he speaks, and a Spanish number with guitar accompaniment by Tito Guizar. In addition, there will be a two-minute beauty talk by Janet Parker, author of the "Index to Loveliness."

Heard on G. E. Hour

Lawrence Tibbett, Metropolitan Opera Company baritone, will appear as guest artist on the General Electric Home Circle program to be broadcast this Sunday at 4:30 p. m. over an NBC network and WENR. Mr. Tibbett will also be heard over the air in a series of Monday night broadcasts, the first of which will be heard Monday, January 4, and which will be sponsored by the Firestone Rubber Company. This series will be known as the "Voice of Firestone" and will be heard through WMAQ from the National Broadcasting Company studios in New York.

Mr. Tibbett is the first of the better known operatic artists to be heard on a regular series of commercial broadcasts. It is rumored that Firestone is parting with a fabulous sum each week for Mr. Tibbett's services.

"Lohengrin" to Be Presented in English Sunday

Damrosch Modernizes Wagner to Aid American Audiences

Walter Damrosch will continue his series of operatic broadcasts done in English when he presents the first act of Wagner's "Lohengrin" this Sunday at 12:15 p. m. over an NBC nationwide network and WMAQ. The program will be broadcast during the Damrosch Symphonic Hour, and will be sung entirely in English.

"I am determined to continue the fight, if fight it is, until both the Metropolitan and Chicago opera houses adopt the English language for the performance of all their operas," the dean of American directors said. "European countries long ago insisted on opera in the national tongue, with the natural result that opera audiences abroad fully enjoy the drama as well as the music."

Following Mr. Damrosch's presentation of Wagner's "Valkyrie," the first of the series, a deluge of congratulatory telegrams and letters were received in which all expressed the conviction that the English words added immeasurably to a better understanding of the music.

Haggard Discusses the Roentgen Rays

Celebrating the anniversary of Roentgen's discovery of x-rays this Saturday, Dr. Howard W. Haggard, associate professor of physiology at Yale University, will devote his talk to the new developments in medicine that have grown out of Roentgen's work, during the "Devils, Drugs and Doctors" broadcast. The program will be presented this Sunday from 7:00 to 7:15 p. m. over a Columbia network and WGN.

A Happy New Year to Everyone

Friendship Town Newest Addition to Radio's Map

Modern small-town life will be portrayed in Friendship Town, a new program series to be inaugurated over an NBC network and KYW this Friday at 8:00 p. m.

An all-star cast, including Edwin Whitney, Don Carney, Pick Malone and Pat Paget, blackface comedians; Virginia Gardiner and Edith Spencer will depict the various characters of the modern country village. Harry Salter and his orchestra will provide the musical background, while Frank Luther, tenor, will offer vocal selections.

"Nuts" on the Air, Al and Pete are "the Nuts" on Airs

Al and Pete, known as "The Nut-crackers" on their WLS program, permeate the ether with "nut" comedy and "wise-cracks," every week day at 3:00 p. m., but in their more serious moments devote their time to composing tunes that brighten up Tin Pan Alley whenever released. "Needin' You," a musical brain-child of last season, ushered in one of Mary Nolan's motion pictures as the theme song. "Step by Step" met with great popularity this summer when Earl Burnett introduced and featured it. "Oh, What a Perfect Night for Love" was another tune recorded by several important disc orchestras last year. These two boys are responsible for a number of tune hits and have a few new ones on the fire. Their signatures appear on their compositions as Al Cameron and Pete Bontsema.

An Innovation

Paul Whiteman and part of his orchestra, pictured above, will take part in the first synchronization program of its kind tried over the networks when the "Oldsmobile Go's A-Calling" program is presented this New Year's Day from 2:00 to 3:00 p. m. over an NBC network. Miss Bebe Daniels (inset), picture star, will sing from Hollywood to the accompaniment of Whiteman's orchestra hundreds of miles away in Chicago. This will involve an engineering problem in synchronization and the experiment is the first of its kind in the history of network broadcasting.

Happy Jack Conducts Dog Club Every Saturday on WLS

"Happy Jack" and his Dog Club, a new children's program over WLS, has hit the highwater mark in mail. Several thousand letters deluged "Happy Jack" after his initial broadcast. "Happy Jack" tells a true dog story in which some dog has played a hero, and conducts the meeting of the dog club which he has formed. "Happy Jack" and his dog come thundering into WLS every Saturday morning at 8:15 a. m.

SKEPTICAL TECHNICIANS

Whether or not radio waves might cause baldness will be determined shortly in the master control room of WHK. Workmen there are busy installing permanent loudspeakers directly above the chief operator's desk so that the sound waves will be thrown directly down upon the head of the operator. If the operator, thus exposed, becomes bald we are to assume that radio waves cause people's hair to fall out. If the young man's hair stays put, we are to assume—oh shucks, what's the use!

Daily Series to Depict Life of "The Washingtons"

"The Real George Washingtons" a program of intimate stories told about the life of George Washington and his family, will be presented in a new series of sustaining programs over an NBC network and WENR beginning this Monday. The program will be broadcast daily except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. Edna M. Colman, authoress, and Charles Colfax Long, lecturer and authority on Washington, will direct the presentations. Eighteenth century music will be furnished by the Black and Gold Room orchestra under the direction of Leon Rosebrook.

German President Speaks to America New Year's Eve

President Paul von Hindenburg of Germany, will speak to America on New Year's Eve, when his greetings from Berlin will be rebroadcast in the United States over an NBC network at 2:25 p. m. The local outlet for this program has not as yet been announced. Von Hindenburg's voice comes to America for the first time.

Orchestral music will begin the broadcast from the Berlin studios of the German Broadcasting Company. The eighty-four-year-old chief of the Reich will then talk in German for about ten minutes. His remarks will be translated for American listeners by Dr. Max Jordan, international journalist.

Novel Spanish Duo Sundays on WIBO

At 12:30 p. m. each Sunday, WIBO presents a program of Spanish music brought to the air by Alfonso Mendoza and Salvador Castanares. It is harmony—but of a very different type than what is usually heard on the air. Senor Castanares accompanies as the duo sing such songs as "Aye Aye Aye" and "La Golondrina."

MORTON DOWNEY

No one will believe that Morton Downey once sold phonographs and records for fifteen a week. But he did. Not only that—he even tried selling life insurance once, being a young and optimistic soul. Needless to say, even Morton Downey couldn't charm a living out of that game. That was a

After that came engagements in a Havana supper club and in 1927, the Cafe de Paris. Here, the charming and distinguished Lady Mountbatten came forward to promote the young man and soon the patrons were lending enthusiastic attention to his songs. Even the Prince of Wales thought his way back in 1914 before radio and the concert stage discovered the Irish tenor and showered applause and much, much money upon the bewildered young man.

In 1919, after an uneventful youth and a few uninteresting jobs, things began to happen. Paul Whiteman, ever on the look-out for new talent, heard him sing an Irish ballad and for the next four years he toured Europe and the United States with the King of Jazz. Then he did a series of personal appearances which resulted in an engagement with Flo Ziegfeld.

interpretation of "You Took Advantage of Me" was worth eleven encores.

After that came Deauville, the Royal Palace at Ostend, the Casanova in Berlin, Biarritz, London, and finally to New York, where the much traveled Morton opened his own club.

The only lasting thing that came out of Downey's venture to Hollywood was lovely Barbara Benneff, whom he married within three weeks. His pictures were certainly not a success and Downey, discovering that his talents were strictly musical rather than Rosaline Greene was once called "the girl with the perfect radio voice." She is heard in a number of dramatic presentations of the National Broadcasting Company including "Radio Guild," broadcast each Friday at 3:15 p. m. over an NBC network and WMAQ.

AND THE HAT

Ray Winters, NBC announcer, tells how a production man figured out the sound of a horse galloping down a dusty road. Drumming a muffled xylophone hammer on a derby hat does the trick.

Radio Gossip

When WGN presents Charlie White every morning at 7:00, people roll out of their beds, all over the country, to take part in the daily setting-up exercises, under the direction of the physical culture expert. Charlie's morning gym class is probably the largest in the country.

Morton Downey, back from Hollywood, revives the story of a preview. The picture was based upon a play that in turn was taken from a classical work written more than sixty years ago. As is the case with most pictures, the original story underwent considerable change before assuming its screen form. As the picture was unfolding, several of the producer's "yes-men," swept away with the colossal epic, cried, "author, author." "And," concludes Downey, "the first three rows stood up and bowed."

"The Night Court," a humorous skit made popular in radio stations of the south, has moved north and can now be heard each week-day at 8:15 p. m. from WCFL. The players have a few complaints to make about Chicago weather, but outside of that they seem to be bearing up well. "Night Court," which lasts for thirty minutes, has been drawing much comment from the fans.

The Male Quartet, heard on the Columbia network on Mondays and Wednesdays as a part of the Brownstone program, are planning to make a transcription program the first of the year. The quartet is made up of the following artists: Carlisle Bennett, Kenneth Marrow, Lewis Wareham, Kingsley Sears, and Harry Coons, arranger and pianist.

De Wolf Hopper is now in Chicago talking over the radio contract that has been offered him by a national advertiser. The script calls for twenty-six half hour broadcasts and is written around Mr. Hopper's book, "Once a Clown, Always a Clown." Mr. Hopper has been on several national hook-ups and is considered to have a great "radio voice."

Dwellers in crowded cities are not the only ones who avail themselves of Art Bagley's NBC setting-up drills each morning. Many of his letters are from persons living on farms—where there is plenty of exercise.

Edna Cunningham, Juanita Brown and Peggy Forbes, otherwise known as The Chicagettes, have been signed to open the new Queen Cotton Club in Chicago. The club has a reputation for "making good" on their "in person" appearances, just as they do over the air.

Ted Weems, whose orchestra is heard every night over the CBS network from Chicago, claims to be the only band leader who has had the son of a President of the United States as his guest conductor. In 1928 Weems and his orchestra were playing at a dance which followed the Harvard-Yale game. Among the dancers was John Coolidge, son of the then President, who asked if he might direct the band. Ted readily relinquished the baton and danced off with young Coolidge's fiancée.

There are many reasons for learning to play a piano, but one of the most recent pupils in the largest piano class in the world, NBC's Keys to Happiness, explains this way:

"I already play the harmonica," she wrote Sigmund Spaeth, the director, "but my grandmother plays the Jewsharp, my mother the harmonics, my father the violin, my sister the saxophone, and my brother the trumpet, so my little harmonica doesn't make much noise and I thought I'd like to learn to play a piano."

No matter how low the temperature, Bing Crosby always appears as the first of his nightly Cremo programs in the lightest of summer attire, including sport shoes. This is not to be attributed to habits acquired in sunny California, where he spends much of his time before coming to New York. The reason is that he has but fifteen minutes to get from the Columbia studios to the stage of the Paramount Theatre. Singin' Sam is another who has to make a quick trip from the microphone to the stage. He must travel more than fifty blocks in twenty-nine minutes to be in time to catch his cue.

NBC's two New York stations, WJEF and WJZ, are on the air a total of 2,145 minutes daily.

George Olsen, Columbia bandleader, was the first to establish the post of drum major in college ranks. When George went to the University of Michigan in 1915 from military school, he acquired a broomstick, and painting it with the school colors, directed the marching and playing activities of the Michigan band. Under his regime the band grew in personnel from thirty to a hundred students. He still has the original stick.

H. V. Kaltenborn, who was compelled to terminate a string of 1583 consecutive broadcasts due to a serious illness probably will return to Columbia before the first of the year. At present he is resting in the Long Island hospital where he recently underwent an operation.

Despite his weakened condition, the news commentator has continued his wide and varied reading to keep abreast of current affairs. His friend, Robert E. Marzallany, a prominent newspaper man who is pitch-hitting for him, visits him daily.

General John J. Pershing was one of those who wired congratulations to Rosa Ponselle, Metropolitan Opera diva, following a recent NBC broadcast.

Mae Singhi Breen and Peter de Rose, NBC's "Sweethearts of the Air," recently celebrated their second wedding anniversary by singing one of de Rose's new compositions, "Another Candle On Your Birthday Cake."

Gene Arnold, narrator during the Beautiful Thoughts broadcast over an NBC network, once won a diamond medal as a vocalist in Chicago.

Phillips Lord, better known as Seth Parker, NBC's down-Easter, has been made a life member of the State of Maine Society at San Diego, California.

Dusting off the old ones . . .

A New York radio fan with a good theatrical memory thinks Myrt and Marge, the new Wrigley team, should revive that ancient song hit of the 1908-1909 season: "Oh you Spearmint kiddo with those Wrigley eyes"

A wag in Portland, Me., who signed himself George Bernard Shaw, corrected Walter Winchell's grammar as follows in a telegram after a recent NBC program: "Walter, you should know that a preposition is not the proper word to end a broadcast with."

"Drink," said a prohibitionist friend of Richard Gordon, NBC's Sherlock Holmes.

"is the greatest curse of the country. It makes you shoot at your wife."

"Perhaps," replied Gordon, who recently was appointed a deputy sheriff, "but it also makes you miss her."

When Phil Spitalny, now an NBC orchestra leader, arrived in America from Russia, as a boy, he spent his entire fortune, three dollars, for a pair of overalls, because somebody had told him overalls were the national costume. He wore them just once.

The legal profession has probably lost more of its members to Columbia than any other. "Casey" Jones studied law while at Middlebury College, but was lured to aviation and now tells the radio audience all about it. Art Jarrett and Bing Crosby both took legal courses at school. Bing went even further and clerked in a law office after graduation. Milton Rettberg was admitted to the bar of the State of New York. Four times he earned his living in the courts as well as by piano playing. He thought, however, that he could be more convincing as a musician. Scrappy Lambert is another graduate lawyer who has become a radio entertainer.

If Walter Winchell, whose comments are heard on the Lucky Strike Hour, has to sell apples this winter, he will be prepared. An admirer in Yakima, Washington, has sent him a crate.

Herm Larson, baritone with the Fireside Singers on NBC network, says that with all respect to his teachers, his real musical education was singing around the family organ with his ten brothers and sisters.

John Staniford, director of WCBI, has gathered a group of the best actors and actresses entered in the recent radio auditions held at the Aragon and Trinton, to form a Little Theatre of the Air company. The group will be heard in radio plays over WCBI each Wednesday and Friday at 10:30 p. m.

Jack Brooks, one of the Pines Musical Weathermen of WBBM, received a strange present the other day. In a broadcast last week he sang so feelingly about "My Old Kentucky Home" and "Down Among the Lonesome Pines" that one of his listeners from Kentucky sent him a package containing a bushel of the "long green" Kentucky tobacco, sun cured. The Crooning Colonel has been growing about it ever since.

A. B. Hartley, program director of WOEX, is going on a well earned vacation to Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he will recuperate for a week after a heavy season of program production. Gene Dyer, manager of the station, says that he is actually going on a vacation—he is not fired, yet!

A three-a-week series of programs, which was heard with great success last year, returns to WLS on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The Maple City Four is known as the Caterpillar Man. The program is sponsored by the Caterpillar Tractor Company.

Shades of the wild west movies! Anything is bound to happen when a movie star goes on the air. Last Thursday during the broadcast of the mystery play "Five Fatal Words," Herbert Rawlinson, of screen fame, and Jim Blaine staged an honest-to-goodness fight. No quarter asked, no punches spared, Rawlinson and Blaine squared off beneath a hanging microphone and tore in to each other. It was a bear of a fight and had the visitors in the WGN spectators gallery sitting on the edge of their seats. And that's the influence motion pictures have on radio.

Columbia's two portliest orchestra leaders have widely divergent points of view on the matter of waistlines. Bob Haring is greatly concerned over the number of inches above 40 which if takes to encircle him and has promised himself he will follow a stringent diet during 1932. Jacques Renard, by way of contrast, is rather proud of his poundage and wants a photograph of any brawn wielder in radio who comes to greater weight. It will be placed on his dining-room table at each meal until Jacques again heads the list among conductors in the heavyweight class.

One of the tallest men in radio is James Melton, NBC tenor, who measures six feet two and one-half inches without his shoes.

Harvey Hays, NBC dramatic star, began acting in amateur theatricals produced by English residents in a deserted skating rink at Allahabad, India. Although born in America, Hays grew up in Ghandi's country.

All the problems the NBC Sisters of the Skillet receive are not on paper. Recently a studio visitor brought a broken electric iron, asking if they could repair it.

Capt. Valentine Williams, whose Portrait Gallery of Famous Britons is heard each Sunday over an NBC network, is the author of "Berlin," a play which will be presented on Broadway, December 28. The drama is an adaptation of Williams' book, "The Crouching Beast."

Art Jarrett, Columbia tenor, has a curious superstition which concerns a guitar pick. For years he has carried with him a treasured mother-of-pearl pick. If he forgets to transfer the small instrument when he changes his clothes he is uneasy until he is able to return home and retrieve it.

Great consternation last Thursday night at WCFL! There was not the customary bouquet of flowers for Miss Vella Cook who sings from 9 to 9:30 p. m. For several months previous an anonymous listener had sent flowers to Miss Cook. He or she was asked to kindly identify himself or herself, but the pleas went unanswered. When the posies were not forthcoming last Thursday night Miss Cook felt something of a serious nature might have happened to the sender. WCFL, to ease her worry is contemplating contacting the "Shadow," maybe he knows, eh what?

Fred Smith, who conceived the idea for the March of Time broadcasts, has relinquished his position as writer of the dramatized news scripts to youthful Tom Everett. Smith has rented a villa at Biarritz where he will write a novel or two. Everett brings a cosmopolitan background to his position, having studied at Yale, Oxford, the University of Grenoble and the University of Munich.

MUSIC IN THE AIR

Our Music Critic Reviews
Briefly the Present State of Classical Music on the Air

BY CARLETON SMITH

CARLETON SMITH

As the year comes to a close, business takes inventory and re-echoes "depression." Let us look back over the season's classical broadcasts to see if lovers of good music have cause to complain of a depression there.

No one need make any mistake about the policy of our broadcasting companies when they finance extensive sustaining programs, presenting the best in music. They are still guided by the precept "Art for money's sake." Results must be produced, and most of the programs are heard in radio the world under the names of business organizations—the Firestone, the Philco, the General Electric, the Swift, the Manor House, the Enna Jettick, the Atwater-Kent, and countless others. No longer does music mean Caruso, Patti, or Jenny Lind—with a Barnum-like retinue of troopers. It is not performed now by long-haired fiddlers or gymnastic conductors for audiences consisting, for the most part, of social dilettanti and pallid esthetes.

But now, in order to promote the sale of certain works, big business brings the art of unseen performers to the nation and the world. A man speeding through the Western Rockies on a trans-continental train at the rate of 60 miles an hour hears an orchestral performance from our eastern metropolis. A laborer, living near Australia, writes to say that he arises early one morning each week to hear this same orchestra, and a successful artist tunes in on it in his villa in Capri. Such is the change that ten years have brought in the music world with all the implications of economic adjustment for the artist. And the public, I think, has benefited by the change. Its major interest lies in getting good music as often and as cheaply as possible. If huge combinations will provide it, well and good. Whether they do or not, their opportunities and obligations are enormous. They have at their disposal the means for the musical education of a nation.

In the field of the broadcast recital, after five seasons of supremacy, Atwater-Kent has yielded supremacy to the General Electric Twilight Hour—which, like more and more of the radio "hours," is a half-hour.

Atwater-Kent broadcasts, so long the bright spot on each Sunday for the lover of music recitals, number only seven this season, and the first descended from the usual classic repertoire to an entire hour of Rudolph Friml's music. General Electric has so far shown no intention of maintaining the high standard for program material originally set by Atwater-Kent. The sponsors have apparently wished to please everybody and have mixed the serious with the light, the dramatic with the sentimental, the good with the trash. Is there any reason for employing great artists to have them sing cheap, sentimental songs? Perhaps there is, for talent often transforms the trivial into something transcendent, as John McCormack has so frequently done. Then—let us have, at least, tasteful arrangement of the program. The General Electric program builders should re-study the art (or science) of arranging musical programs. They make the same mistakes as did those who outlined the first Unemployment Relief program: instead of beginning with the Sousa March and introducing President Hoover after the Bach Prelude and Fugue by the Philadelphia Symphony, why not begin with Bach and lead up to the march? Aside from the conventional mode of programming that has developed, there are purely aesthetic reasons for the arrangement of a program. You would not think kindly of the hostess who fed you a stick of candy or a rich, creamy dessert before giving you the main course of your meal. That is exactly what is done in many of our musical broadcasts.

I hope you have followed these broadcasts—the "mike"—brings the slightest shading of voice, of expression, and of emotional feeling. It has, I think, generally done justice to the artists, and they have been presented in an intimate manner that pleases many.

There is much controversy concerning Grace Ellis as an announcer. Is she good—or is she not? In either event, she was a wise woman when she said that she would not try to settle who was the world's greatest tenor, but she would just let us hear Mr. Gigli. She might have nominated him, since he was present. But the lady is too clever for that, for she remembered that she had had John McCormack, and she was likely to have as her guest, Mr. Martinelli, or Mr. Lauri-Volpi, not to mention Mr. Schlipa, the purest of lyric tenors. That reminds me of a rumor (almost a legend now) that is circulated about our century's two best-known tenors. It is said that John McCormack, coming down to the lobby from his room in the Copley-Plaza in Boston, saw Caruso at the cigar stand, and going over to him, asked, "How's the world's greatest tenor today?" To which he received the quick retort, "Since when have you changed to a baritone, John?" Did you notice McCormack's familiar address to Schneider, his accompanist, that came so naturally before each number on the broadcast: "All right, Teddy." Two elderly Irish ladies tell me they enjoyed that phrase most of all.

Everyone could find something different to enjoy in John McCormack's program—for me, the greatest thrill was in his singing of Cesar Franck's "Paris Angelicus," and another thrill the General Electric provided me was the chance to hear "Jerry" Farrar before she deserted the lyric ship. The manifest sincerity of her feeling and the restrained simplicity of her utterance made up the loss of voice for all who have heard her in earlier days. If one had been hearing her for the first time and expecting a rich voice, he might have been bored, but had he observed her art in its prime and could now attune a sensitively receptive imagination to the significance and the mood of the music, he would surely have found himself in the channel of her poetical communication. No matter who else may come, there will always be a place in our memory for "Goose Girl" walking bravely through the town gates amid the pealing of bells, wearing her crown and followed by her white flock. That was the image I had, as I heard her half speak—half sing "Koenigs Klander, Koenigs Klander" . . . one of those rare moments when art lifts us out of ourselves.

There have been other great moments in these programs. I recall especially Rosa Ponselle's singing of the magnificent old Hebrew lament "Eli, Eli"—and her compelling plea for peace as she began the aria from Verdi's "Forza del Destino." Unfortunately I have not always been able to hear every one of the artists who have signed the guests' register at NBC. It would be convenient if the government or the municipality, or, even better, the gum dispensing companies, would install a radio at each block so that one could drop in a dime and hear a program.

This Sunday Lawrence Tibbett comes to us after a breath-taking tour; few singers are working as hard as this young American. Finishing his movie in Hollywood, he started out across country with five and six concerts scheduled for each week. And there are so many encores everywhere that his accompanist writes me it seems like giving two programs. In Chicago, the middle of November, his audience was so insistent that the train he was catching for Winnipeg had to be held twelve minutes—and he was scheduled to begin a recital ten minutes after the train arrived there. Not so much fun, the life of a concert artist, even when you are young and healthy. Lawrence celebrated his thirty-fourth birthday in Chicago and received wired congratulations from his two sons who had just seen his "Cuban Love Song" and wished they could be travelling with him. Their daddy was so rushed that he hadn't had time to find out whether his broadcast was a General Electric or an Atwater-Kent sponsored. He comes to New York today from Cuba—and leaves immediately on a tour again before joining the Metropolitan, where he will sing the title role in the American premiere of Verdi's "Simon Boccanegra." While he is in New York, beginning January 4, radio audiences will hear him each Monday night over NBC ("Voice of Firestone" at seven-thirty).

In the symphonic world, we have been privileged to hear several leading orchestras around the country. The two attracting most publicity are the New York Philharmonic-Symphony and the Philadelphia orchestra. Last Sunday, Arturo Toscanini bade us fare-well for ten weeks, cancelling three of his Sunday broadcasts and thus giving less well-known conductors a chance to appear in a prominent "spot." The Philharmonic this week is being taken over by Vladimir Golschmann, whose short term, at the helm of the Saint Louis Symphony seems to have righted that orchestra's course, after its several seasons sailing on troubled waters. The world premiere of Alexander Tansman's "Tryptique" was conducted by Mr. Golschmann last month, and he will include that on his program today, along with Cesar Franck's only Symphony, two nocturnes by Debussy, and three dances from De Falla's ballet, "The Three Corned Hat."

Leopold Stokowski conducted last night the Brahms' First and Wagnerian excerpts. This was the third in his series of historical broadcast. The programs are always interesting, as much for the conductor's new ideas regarding established traditions as for anything else.

Walter Damrosch presents his Symphonic hour each Sunday over NBC, as well as his weekly Appreciation programs each Friday. He has decided to give Wagnerian operas in English, believing that the English words will increase the understanding of the music. It will, if a plausible and singable translation is secured. That English can be sung the same as any other language has been proved; though, of course, it does not follow the laws of euphony as closely as do some of the other languages, for example, Italian. Today Mr. Damrosch will present the first act of Wagner's "Lohengrin."

There are also Symphony Orchestras supporting Ernest Hutcheson, the pianist, and Toscha Seidel, the violinists, in their weekly broadcasts.

The week just passed marks the end of a long siege to that rock-bound citadel of American opera, the Metropolitan. On Christmas afternoon, the entire production of Humperdinck's "Hansel und Gretel" was broadcast from that company's stage to a world-wide audience. Deems Taylor, most clever among journalists, who has managed to compose two operas for those historic boards, was the narrator. Seated behind a sound-proof glass partition in the grand tier of boxes, the former critic described the setting the story of the opera, in which Eitha Felscher and Queenie Mario sang the name parts.

On yesterday afternoon, Mr. Taylor introduced us to one-act of Bellini's "Norma," the occasion of that opera's 100th birthday. It was a rare privilege to hear Rosa Ponselle sing Norma. I remember when she first sang it a few seasons ago, how I travelled several miles and was happy to find even standing-room. It is obvious and hardly inspired music, that becomes wearisome after several hearings. But the reception it has had in New York simply proves the unalterable axiom that to have a good opera, one must have good singers. The voice of Rosa Ponselle . . . the phenomenal soprano voice of this generation . . . is nearly sufficient to carry the whole performance.

For thirty-six years, the Metropolitan did not produce "Norma." Since Lilli Lehmann sang the role, no voice was thought equal to its heroic demands. The dramatic intensity, even in florid passages, of Miss Ponselle's singing was astounding. Her whole broadcast failed to reveal a forced tone, or the remotest suggestion of technical difficulty. The performance reached its effect largely through the gorgeousness of Miss Ponselle's voice and the vitality of her singing.

And, an American, Gladys Swarthout, formerly of Chicago, stepped into the important role of Adalgisa for the first time, replacing creditably the accustomed voice of Marion Tetva. The tenor role was sung by Lauri-Volpi, who voice is pre-eminently adapted to the stress and strain of Bellini's music. This was an exceptional operatic broadcast, and made one wonder what would be heard and seen on the opera's 200th anniversary.

New Year's afternoon the Met presents the first Puccini opera ever heard on the air from an opera house, copyright privileges having prevented heretofore. Lucrezia Bori and Benigno Gigli will combine their voices in the roles introduced by Sembrich and Caruso in years past. On Saturday afternoon "Donna Juanita," one of von Suppe's many light operas, will have its Metropolitan premiere, chiefly as a vehicle for Maria Jeriza. Even though Mr. Taylor's description be accurate and complete, many who have seen the blonde Viennese beauty will probably wish for television, and, perhaps, tele-touch.

Each Saturday hereafter, during the current season, and, also, during next season, portions of the Metropolitan operas will be broadcast. It does not look as though the demise of opera, so often celebrated, is upon us yet.

The Chicago Civic Opera has been broadcasting for several seasons, though musicians do not feel the half-hour period is adequate. This next Saturday evening, the great cast that has been assembled for "Die Meistersinger" will be heard in the opening Church-scene. We will hear hardly enough to arouse enthusiasm, and I hope that time will make possible the broadcasting of the entire opera, which blends so supremely creative spontaneity with consummate musical craft.

A wise and thoughtful student of aesthetic values, Ignace Jan Paderewski, considers "Die Meistersinger" not only the greatest work of genius ever achieved by a musician, but the greatest ever achieved by any artist in any field of human activity. A daring judgment, magnificently unqualified! But not, perhaps, too daring, too unqualified. There are many who have suspected the primacy of Wagner's gigantic and magical score—at least in the field of music. What, indeed, can one set beside it?

But, without making any comparisons, hear it and enjoy it!

Another Smith for NBC

This is Mary Smith, a young dramatic actress from the stage and screen, who is to be heard on several dramatic features of the National Broadcasting Company in the near future. Miss Smith is a native of Ohio.

Radio Guide will pay one dollar for any Mikritic accepted and printed in this column. Mikritics are remarks of any kind made on the air which will interest other people. They may be amusing, inspiring, funny, pathetic, or queer.

Here are the rules: The quotation should not exceed fifty words. It must be accompanied by the name of the person who made it, the exact time it was heard, and the station from which it was heard. The name and address of the sender must be attached. Any number of Mikritics may be sent by one person. In case two or more persons submit the same Mikritic, the first entry received will be printed. Address your letters to Mikritic, care of Radio Guide.

ORCHESTRAL DOINGS

Don Pedro

Don Pedro, dapper young orchestra leader from Guadalajara, Mexico, has been called back to Chicago by his enthusiastic admirers . . . twenty years old . . . good-looking . . . possessing fine musical qualities of his own, he is the most youthful jazz orchestra leader in the country . . . Perennial student of music . . . does all his own arranging . . . it was his orchestra that was responsible in many ways for the tremendous popularity of the "Peanut Vendor" . . . forte is rumba numbers, scintillating Spanish rhythms, and novelty numbers . . . his orchestra is augmented by several odd instruments originating in Mexico . . . tastes are purely American . . . fond of pork and beans, and doesn't like Hot Tamales or Chili . . . Don Pedro has one of the fastest thoroughbreds in the country named after him . . . bets money on the horse . . . never loses . . . Don's full name is so long that he cannot remember all of it himself . . . receives enormous fanmail, due to having toured the principle cities of the United States and Mexico . . . answers all his letters . . . dresses modestly, usually in brown . . . excellent dancer . . . except for good ears and a straight nose he bears a striking resemblance to Tony Canzoneri . . . his boyhood in Mexico has made him an excellent horseman . . . he still does some riding . . . despite Pedro's youth he holds a formidable place among America's bandmasters, and he seems destined for a brilliant future . . . he may be heard over the network of the National Broadcasting Company.

Unique among dance orchestras is Phil Fisher's Orchestra, which is heard from the Ten Eyck Hotel in Albany, N. Y., as it is possibly radio's only band working on a strictly co-operative basis. Seven of its original eleven members are still in the band and it has appeared under the names of several of them during its six years of existence. Phil, its present nominal leader, is its trumpet player and the original organizer. It has often been heard also under the name of Marty Britt, its featured vocalist-guitar player, and another of the original eleven.

Vincent Lopez, NBC maestro and pioneer broadcaster, recalls the day when the rivalry between vaudeville and radio was so bitter that he was given his choice of going off the air or cancelling a two year booking on the largest vaudeville circuit in the country. Lopez chose to broadcast, and today radio owns that vaudeville circuit.

Hogan Hancock, popular MCA maestro, who has been heard with his orchestra over many southern stations including KPRC, Houston; WBAP, Fort Worth; and WVOO, Tulsa, is very superstitious. He carries a rabbit's left foot in his left hip pocket at all times.

Somebody stole Wayne King's pet saxophone in Chicago the other night. It was in an automobile owned by one of his musicians. Thieves got away with the car while the band was broadcasting. Wayne's saxophone was a part of the loot.

Ormand Downes, the handsome young drummer in Ted Weems' orchestra met the daughter of the local banker while the band was playing in a small town. The father heard about it: "I'm not having any daughter of mine keep company with a musician," he said.

The musician, to square things, gave the banker a ticket to the performance of that evening.

The next day the banker called Ormand: "I'm sorry for what I've said. Everything's all right. You're not a musician—you're a drummer!"

Many stories have been written about "the show must go on," and the narrative of how Frank Stretz continues to lead his Pertussin orchestra over Columbia despite a fractured shoulder goes along with the best of them. Recently, as Stretz was crossing one of the metropolis' busiest intersections, a careless driver ran into him and Stretz came out of it with a bad fracture. His chest and right arm are encased in a plaster cast, but with his free left arm he continues to lead his musicians.

Lloyd Huntley and his Isle of Blues orchestra, recently heard over WTSP, Jacksonville, opens an engagement at the Cosmopolitan Hotel at Denver for MCA on January 5th.

Jan Garber and his orchestra, recently heard over KDKA, Pittsburgh, will broadcast over WLW, Cincinnati, starting January 8th, while playing an engagement at the Netherland-Plaza Hotel.

Bernie Cummins and his New Yorkers, heard over WGN, Chicago, during the last week, follow Wayne King into the Hotel Schroeder, Milwaukee, on December 27th, and will broadcast nightly over WTMJ.

Maurie Sherman and his orchestra, playing at the Via Lago, Chicago, are heard over two radio stations every day. During the afternoon they broadcast a period over WBBM, direct from the College Inn; and at night over WMAQ from the Via Lago.

The meek little man was telling Ted Weems about his trip to Europe. "And when you were in Rome?" Ted inquired, "did you do as the Romans did?" "No," was the reply. "My wife was along. I did as she did."

Nine-nine out of 100 people listening in on the Lucky Strike hours last week were able to identify Arthur Jarrett, former Chicagoan, when he sang several numbers as an unannounced tenor. Jarrett was placed on a program with the Jack Pettis' orchestra, and Walter Winchell did not name him, but referred to Art as "Radio's New Singing Sensation." Jarrett now is heard daily over the CBS network from New York.

Several Chicago orchestras are being rehearsed daily by REO leaders. Report is that Radio-Kelth-Orpheum plans to build up these orchestras for radio and local entertainment work.

Fred Waring, head man of Waring's Pennsylvanians, visited friends in Chicago last week while enroute from Hollywood to New York. Fred's band was heard last summer at the Bells and over the CBS chain.

A poll of Chicago radio orchestra leaders resulted in the selection of Pierre Andre, WGN announcer, as the most popular announcer among the maestros. Pierre, a former newspaper man, cut his eye teeth as a radio announcer several years ago over KSTP, St. Paul. He is regarded by many of having that intangible something called, "showmanship" in his radio announcing.

Metropolitan Opera Star Is Enthusiastic about Television

The belief that television will become the greatest possible stimulus to the development of opera was expressed by Lucrezia Bori, internationally known soprano, after she had inspected the experimental television facilities at the Columbia studios recently.

"Television," she said, "will mean that a now restricted audience will broaden into one literally all-inclusive." She also stated that she believed that the new development would lead in this country to the writing of new operas with locales familiar to the audiences, and with librettos in English.

Collegiate Announcer

Lloyd Griffin, WIBO announcer comes from Southern Illinois and is going to Northwestern University. His activities have been varied, including social and business ventures. Griffin was president of the Junior Class at N. U. last year, is a member of the honorary fraternity Delta and is a Senior. It is interesting to know that Settlement work is something that occupies part of this young man's busy day.

Tin-Pan ALBUM

by Dorothy Deere

Step right up folks, and read about Gus Kahn... King of Lyricists! First in our Tin-Pan Album, because five hundred or more hits have made his name a tradition in Song-land. You and I and even the neighbors, might trace our life's history through "Lyrics by Gus Kahn"... perhaps if Dad hadn't whistled "Gee, I Wish I Hada Girl" way back when, we might not even be here to hum his latest successes! Lack of space prevents my running riot with titles; but if you're feeling statistical we might work out something like this: If all the songs written by Gus Kahn were laid end to end they'd reach all the way from "The Little Old Church in the Valley," clear back to "Spain."

It's not so surprising when you know that he started writing at eleven... First song was published when thirteen, submitted to every publisher in Chicago and last one accepted it... These days, New York telegraphs, "Need lyrics for new Gershwin show"... Any day, you can pick off at least ten Kahn numbers on your radio... Hobbies are golf and his family... Pet peeve is being introduced at "Celebrity Nites"... Has a great sense of humor... and a yen for old-fashioned boiled dinners.

All dial-twisters know something about Little Jack Little... but four out of five of your best friends can't tell you that he was a song-writer way back when radio was just a smile on its inventor's face. It's the truth s'help me... he paid his own salary in vaudeville to popularize his first tunes, which turned out to be a grand investment... remember "Broken Down Piano"? "I Promise You" is his latest, and it looks like another one of those melodies that will linger on... and on.

Art Sizemore, who shortly after writing "Mississippi, Here I Am," changed his tune to "California, Here I Come" and joined the Gold Rush of '29 to Hollywood, has been back in Chicago for some time but he's still writing for the movies. His latest "Oh Baby, How I Go For You," is featured by Ginger Rogers in her next release. Art is distinguished from a lot of other melodists in my mind, by the fact that he writes such torrid verses. To some writers, a verse is just the excuse for the chorus... but a Sizemore verse is an excuse for verses.

It wouldn't be fair to mention names, so call your own big-shots on this one... when this scribbler was gathering information herein scribbled, she approached one of the Tin-Pan-Allahs and went into her song and dance thusly, "Give me some news about yourself... what's your latest and why is it the biggest number out... who made the arrangement... what are the arrangements... got any new babies... any new wives... driving a new car... had the old one taken away from you... or what frinstance?" Voice of Another Melodist (whose last one went sour) "Y'haven't developed an inferiority complex yet, have you Sy? When you do, tell her... that'll be news!"

A sweet young thing approached Harry Sosnik with a lyric last week. Said Harry, (being first a Gentleman, and after that a melody writer), "It rhymes alright, but—er—what makes you think it's a lyric?" Said she, "Why of course it's a lyric—can't you see where it says "blue skies?"

WORLD-POPULAR JESSE

Jesse Crawford, NBC Poet of the Organ, recently sent an autographed photograph to an admirer in Switzerland. He receives requests for pictures from all parts of the world.

"Good Mawnin' Honey"

Fanny May Baldrige, The Dixie Girl, greets you. Fanny May, besides writing the entire script for her radio show "Miracles of Magnolia" and playing and singing all three characters herself, also plays the organ in accompaniment. She is the whole show and can be heard daily except Sunday at 8:45 a. m. over an NBC network.

Hot Rhythm by Cab Calloway On Lucky Strike Hour Tuesday

Cab Calloway, unique exponent of Harlem's torrid dance music and creator of "Minnie the Moocher," will be presented by the Lucky Strike Dance hour over NBC and WENR at 9:00 p. m., Tuesday, December 29.

Cab Calloway's music will be broadcast direct from its native haunt, the Cotton Club in New York's Harlem, and will be introduced to radio-listeners by Walter Winchell, famous newspaper columnist.

Cab will not only lead his orchestra in his "blue" interpretations of the latest dance rhythms, but will also sing the vocal refrains, his original singing being as popular a feature as the orchestra itself.

UNITED CHARITIES GIVEN WBBM TIME FOR DRAMAS

Alexander Carlisle, noted actress and now civic welfare worker, and Fred Ibbett, WBBM and CBS dramatic director, are now directing a new type of program series presented from WBBM each Monday at 4:50 p. m.

Miss Carlisle, former leading lady for such stars as Channing Pollack, John Drew, and E. H. Southern, writes and takes part in the drama scripts which are usually adaptations of the notable works of famous writers. The dramas are presented in the interests of charity and serve as an appeal for donations to the United Charities. Facilities and talent are donated by station WBBM.

OUT OF THE EVERYWHERE to Margot Dee

A column dedicated to RADIO GUIDE readers. You and your friends are invited to write in for information concerning radio, radio stars, and your own favorite broadcasts. If the information is forthcoming, we will get it for you. If you desire a personal answer, a self-addressed, stamped envelope will bring it to you.

Mrs. Lorene McCarthy, of Bloomington, Ill. writes, "Where can I find the favorite—'Little Jack Little'?"

The favorite is now broadcasting on the Robert Burns Panatella program which comes over the Columbia network and WBBM every Monday at 9:00 p. m.

From Ulica, Ill. comes a nice letter asking for any information we can give concerning Earl Burnette. The writer is Anita Kleinhans.

The Music Corporation of America informs us that Earl is no longer on the air, but has hied himself out to California. Wise young man—but it's hard on the fans.

Pat Flanagan, WBBM sports announcer, is the subject of frantic enquiry from B. E. McNamara, of Chicago. What does the "big he-man" look like she (or he) asks. And when is he on the air?

Unfortunately for you, Mr. Flanagan is heard only one day a week when he announces the afternoon programs on Wednesday from the WBBM studios. He is all of 6 feet tall, thin, active, with snappy brown eyes that see everything. All in all he is a vivacious and unusual person.

"What has become of Little Harry Hoerod, formerly of WLS, asks Mrs. Margaret Lyon of Arlington, Ill.

The WLS informs us that Little Harry now broadcasts from Columbus, Ohio. Our own research divulges that he is at WGAR, Cleveland.

Florence Haist of Lindenwood, N. J. wants to know if Walter Winchell sings the theme song on the Gerardine program.

We have it on excellent authority that Walter is never caught singing outside of a bathtub, Florence. The famous Winchell talent lies in a different direction. By the way, thanks for the grand letter—I don't blame you for hanging on to Bing's picture (or was it Bing?) in favor of the enclosed clipping.

There isn't any other way That I can think of folks, to say A happy New Year. I might invent, but "suggie" And "Yip" and "yole" and "yuggle" And other like monstruosities, Inventive curiosities, But scarcely luminosities Are all that come. "The best of luck—a happy '32!" Is not a bit original. But true

See you next year!

RCA President Pays Tribute to Marconi During Radio Talk

David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, in a recent celebration of the 30th anniversary of Guglielmo Marconi's discovery of radio communication, addressed fifteen different nations via an international NBC hook-up. Mr. Sarnoff, in the course of his talk, had some interesting things to say about Marconi as a world benefactor and scientist.

Marconi, scientist, engineer, and inventive genius, is characterized by Sarnoff as imaginative, but never visionary; never resorting to bombast and vain prediction; and merciless pursuer of the practical.

"Countless millions had lived before Marconi," said Mr. Sarnoff. "About them, through the ages, slumbered the forces of radio. Destiny had selected this youth of twenty-two summers as its agency for shaking the phenomenon of radio from the wonder-box of nature . . ."

"Marconi annihilated the barrier of space and discovered the neighborhood of nations," said Mr. Sarnoff.

The speaker was introduced by M. H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting Company. His talk came as a fitting celebration of Marconi's thirty-year-old invention,

Davey Hour Returns to Sunday P. M. Spot

The Davey Hour will return to the air this Sunday at 4:30 p. m. for an extensive series over an NBC network and WENR. The programs will feature classical and semi-classical music, with folk songs.

Chandler Goldthwaite, organist, will be supported by Arcadie Birkenholz, violinist; Muriel Wilson, soprano; Paula Hemminghaus, contralto; Henry Shope, tenor and Walter Preston, baritone. Martin L. Davey, sponsor of the series, will also appear on the program.

Meet the Artist

domestic, returned to New York and finally—to radio.

Everyone knows the story of his radio success. Knows too, of his countless imitators and of his legion of female fans. Not many know that he favors a slouch hat—raises police dogs—calls his wife "lover"—that raspberry ice is his favorite desert—and that he hates to be tagged a crooner, even to the tune of $7,000.00 a week. You see, as far as Morton is concerned, it is not the woman, but the sponsor who pays—and plays—and pays.

MARCH OF THE HOURS

With lightning-like celerity, radio brings the news of the day into the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Listener. But as a rule, the information is presented only in meagre news flashes. Seldom is there any color depth to the announcements. Occasionally, when great events take place, such as having files arrive from their journeys around the world, air reporters are on the scene. Then, with breath-taking sentences, word pictures are created and the glamor of the occasion carried to the listener. But mechanical difficulties, atmospheric conditions and financial obstacles make such events rather infrequent.

Consequently, a program such as "The March of Time" fills a void, presenting as it does in dramatized form, six of the outstanding news events of the week. It serves radio much as the weekly newsreel does the movies. The program which I attended (December 18) offered everything from the Leavenworth prison break to the awarding of the Nobel prize.

Columbia production men have concentrated their talents on this feature and have built a program that includes everything. The events are accurately re-enacted. The performers are adequately trained. Sound effects are realistic, and above all, the program is unified.

"March of Time" presented by Time, CBS through WGN, Fridays at 7:30 p. m.

ROSY POSEY

(being purely doggerel-esque)

Those 'easy aces'

Are going places.

Flicking over traces,

They're sitting paces.

Though making awful faces

At trumping partner's aces.

They know where the chase is,

Those 'easy aces'.

"Easy Aces," featuring Goodman Ace and Jane Ace, presented by Lavinia every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 7:00 p. m. through WGN.

"Ah me! Such is the listening audience." (From the Post)

Said Mrs. Donnelly, the kidnaped apron queen, "I was surprised at the class of programs the kidnapers tuned in on. Most of the music was classical. There were no jazz programs."

Are You Rememberin' . . . Tony Wons at WLS, where he made that little brown church a mighty attractive place . . . WTAS, the Boss' own station. Charlie Erbstein, the Boss himself, whose equal as a radio m. e. has not yet been found . . . Freddie Haman, leading the first studio dance band. Both have since Gone On . . . Karl Myers, who blazed a neat path in remote controlling . . . the Ivory-demolisher, Lee Sims . . . "Horsie Keep Your Tall Up" (the first of the many regal equines) . . . "Roll 'Em, Girls, Roll 'Em" (it was stockings then, not cigs) . . . Those late programs during KYW's pioneering days . . . and again Lee Sims "telling off yards and yards of melody" . . . Sen Kaney, whose friendly voice put warmth into many a wintry night . . . Eddie and Fanny Cavanagh, those "Gaelic twins" . . . Hollingsworth and Aldemore, radio's pioneer "stringers" . . . Bobby Brown and his 'overseas' uke . . . Henri Keats organ splicing with Art Linick hollering . . . Paul Ash . . . WGN's struggling Sam 'n' Henry who took their initial bow (believe it or not) at WWAE . . . never-ending static squeals.

In "Die Meistersinger"

Rene Maison, Belgian tenor, and Maria Rajdl, soprano, who will appear this Saturday in the Chicago Civic Opera Company's production of "Die Meistersinger Von Nurnberg" by Wagner. Maison will be heard in the role of the young Sir Walter, and Miss Rajdl as Eva. The overture, under the direction of Egon Pollack, and first act of the opera will be broadcast this Saturday at 8:00 p. m. over an NBC network and WLS.

John Holbrook Wins a Wife and a Medal

John Wesley Holbrook, NBC announcer, and Miss Katherine Renwick, NBC actress, will be married this Thursday in the Church of the Messiah, Brooklyn, N. Y. The bridal party will include Virginia Gardiner, dramatic actress, Charles O'Connor, announcer, and George Hicks, announcer. The Rev. Dr. St. Clair Hester will perform the ceremony.

Holbrook and Miss Renwick met in the New York NBC studios about six months ago. In November The American Academy of Arts and Letters' radio diction medal was awarded to Holbrook. The engagement was announced simultaneously with the award. The couple will reside at 56 West Fifty-fifth Street, New York, within a block of the studios in which they met.

MODEL PLANES ARE GIVEN AWAY DAILY BY WBBM

Unlimited membership is extended to all ages and sexes to join the Flying Hawks Club, which holds its meeting over WBBM daily, except Saturday, at 5:00 p. m. Val Sherman, singing announcer, calls the meetings to order and introduces "The Hawk," an interesting character, who entertains his listeners and who sends a Hawk Army Model Plane to those writing in. Needless to say, the membership is large.

CHILDREN'S SERIES ON WCHI

A Children's Voyage Around the World is being presented as a serial over WCHI on the children's program from 2:00 to 2:30 p. m. every Saturday. Children from four to ten years old, pupils of Upton Elementary College, relate the story, which describes an exciting trip to the four corners of the world. They have lots of fun and adventure and of course they learn a great deal.

Choral Group

The "Northerners," heard over WMAQ every Friday from 8:30 to 9:00 p. m., are featured singers on the Northern Trust Company program. Harry F. Walsh, left (front row) is the director.

Feminine Foibles

By Ann de Haan

Look what happened to our friendly little game of bridge. It's gone high-hat; become front-page news in headlines, along with the latest murder story. I mean the bridge tournament that's in progress, with weariless secretaries rejoying to a wailing and palpitating world each card that is played.

Onlookers sit behind a large screen and try to get a peek at the players. There must be absolute silence. What if someone should sneeze? Horrors, what a dreadful thought! I thought I played bridge—but what is all this about maneuvering, slapping, fainting, (Isn't that a term used in the ring?) "skating at the wrong time and being on the invisible rocks of distribution."

Oh, well, let's start a nice exciting game of hiddledy-winks.

All this rambling brings us to "Easy Aces," the bridge sketch on WGN. If you play bridge, you'd rather from the title that no trump hand was being played and that aces were divided or "easy." But such is not the cast; the Aces are Mr. and Mrs., and they are the ones who are easy. It's possible, but very improbable that anyone can be as dumb as Jane Ace. She's so dumb she thinks ambiguous means expensive. (Where in the world is that dictionary.) Anyway, you'll get a laugh from her brilliant (?) bridge playing, so be sure and listen in.

Wonder if Walter Winchell really is as excited as he sounds when he calls out "O. K. England." Tuesday night the Lucky Strike program brought us Jack Hylton's Orchestra from London. They played one of our popular songs, but the rest were all strange to us. So that's English as she should be spoken. Didn't you like the English accent? It's very pleasing, doncha know. Wonder where Walter's magic carpet will take us next?

That's a swell idea that some of the big movie shots are using. They're sending penny postcards to their friends for Christmas, and the money that they would have spent for Christmas cards goes to their favorite charities. And this will be no small sum either, as they all go in for something different and individual, which means hand painted and hand engraved, very expensive cards. Why can't we all do that? Some of us will anyway, out of necessity, but those of us who can afford to send expensive cards, should do it. Of course we'd have to arrange with our friends to do the same. They might not be so pleased to get a penny postcard if they didn't know the big idea.

The following was sent in by an anonymous reader, but was too good to keep to myself, so here goes:

"Not very amusing, is he?" mused Harry Sosnick, as a young man passed by.
"Not very," replied Bess Johnson, "He couldn't entertain a doubt."

If you feel like having some dance music to make your dustcloth fly, try NBC Saturday mornings. "Dance Miniatures" is the title, and it's a medley of popular dance numbers.

Don't tune off. Stay right on the NBC network after "Dance Miniatures," and hear the "Hawaiian Serenaders." Who doesn't love the twang of the Hawaiian guitars?

It is rather early in the morning to go to the theater, but let's go anyway. Take "Two Seats in the Balcony," and let NBC entertain you. You'll hear some lovely old songs, and some new ones too, with all the atmosphere of the theater, and the Old Stage reminiscing about old times.

"COE KNOWS"

The verbal signature of crime broadcasts by Charles Francis Coe over NBC networks, will gain new significance in the near future when Coe and his announcer, Ford Bond, visit underworld haunts in New York to obtain first hand data.

WIBO All-Stars

Dan Baker (above) and Louise Brabant (below); who will lend vocal color to the Goldenrod All-Stars program every night this week at 6:45 p. m. over WIBO.

Bob Hawk on WCFL Morning Programs

Bob Hawks, for many years connected with station WIBO, has again joined the staff of the station with which he started in radio some years ago, WCFL. Bob, who has achieved great popularity as an announcer, will be heard on the morning features from the Labor station.

PRAIRIE FARMER EDITOR DISCUSSES 1932 PROBLEMS

C. V. Gregory, editor of Prairie Farmer, will express his views on the agricultural problems of 1932 during the Dinnerbell program over WLS at 11:45 a. m., New Year's Day. The subject is "Looking Ahead Into 1932 Agriculture."

VOICE OF THE LISTENER

More Pictures

Chicago, Illinois

Dear Sir:

Just to tell you that the "Radio Guide" is a dandy, a radio paper we've all longed for a long time. We also like the new way you print the programs and also the enlarged pictures. I wish you would print a picture of Grace Wilson on the front page cover and also more write ups and pictures of Quin Ryan and Charles J. Gildrest of the Daily News DX Club; Irma Chen, Walter Winchell, Herbie Kay, Mark Fischer, and more of the "Waltz King," Wayne King. We would also like to see their boys, who play those splendid numbers on their broadcast. Hoping to see them in the future issues of the "Guide." Yours for a bigger and better Radio Guide.

Fred Litwiz, Jr.

Best on the Air

Grand Rapids, Mich.

Dear Sir:

Your magazine is great, I sure do like it. Won't you write an article about Ben Bernie, and can't we have a picture of Fred L. Jesko, from WGN? He's, the best singer on the radio, also tell us all about him.

Here's luck to the "Radio Guide," its just what we needed.

Feg.

We'll Tell Ann

Chicago, Illinois

Editor Radio Guide:

Congratulations for the Radio Guide. It hits the spot. But in this week's issue there is a slight error. In your "Feminine Fables" column you mention the fact that Bing Crosby is married to Dorothy Lee of Wheeler and Woolsey fame. Bing Crosby is married to Dixie Lee, another flicker star and also a well known blues singer. She was starred in several Fox Movietone productions.

James Kelly

For Don Pedro

Chicago, Illinois

Gentlemen:

May I congratulate you on your fine radio magazine? It is indeed a guide to the best radio programs.

I would like to have you publish a picture of Don Pedro, who has achieved such success in Chicago, with his great band.

Nancy Hoyt Duvall

Likes "Bits of Life"

Chicago, Illinois

Gentlemen:

Just a line to let you know how much we enjoy Bill Baar's program over WAAF. It is called "Bits of Life," and it's sure just that, as his characters are all so real and human. He sure should get people thinking about how to appreciate life, especially with so many hardships in life.

"Bits of Life" is one program I highly recommend to all radio listeners, and one I myself wouldn't miss.

Mrs. C. G. Nichols

More Guide

Waukegan, Ill. Dec. 13, 1931

Dear Sir:

I have now read eight copies of your "real" Radio Guide, and feel that you are continuously making it better. But designating the length of time of each program listed lasting thirty minutes or over would be more improvement. Think it over, won't it be worth while to know how long a program is scheduled to last.

I read every word of your paper and like it. My only other request is for bigger and more of all of it. Isn't that what we all want,

A. Taylor

Likes Joe Sanders

Gary, Ind. Dec. 18, 1931

Dear Sirs:

We want to congratulate you on this very fine and handy little magazine, the Radio Guide. No more looking through newspapers for our programs. Sitting up late at coming home, early for a program and then finding it was a mistake and isn't on at all. And do we get a kick out of seeing pictures of the orchestra leaders we enjoy most. I'll say we do and can hardly wait until we get to meet our old friend Joe Sanders of the Coon-Sanders NBC orchestra. Please give us his picture and tell us something about him and his orchestra as soon as possible.

Miss and Mrs. Woodine

P. S.—We've never saw such good, clear pictures in a magazine as the announcers were in this week's Radio Guide. But where is Bob Elson of WGN.

Too Much Kiddies

Chicago, Ill. Dec. 20, 1931

Gentlemen:

For the past two months I have been itching to get a couple of points off my chest, and this looks like the time to do it. When your new time arrangement appeared I would designate the time for each specific program. For instance, any one knows the duration of the Camel Quarter Hour or the Fleischman hour with Rudy Vallee because they so state in the announcement, but until one is properly educated one may not know that Walter Winchell and the Lucky Strike Orchestra will be on for an hour unless one looks for the initials WENR under the times 9:00, 9:15, 9:30, 9:45 and finally 10:00. It may be worth a thought.

For the second point I mention an item over which you undoubtedly have no control. However, it seems to me that too great emphasis is placed on the children's programs from 5:30 to 7:00. On returning from the office it is almost impossible to brighten the day with a little music because of the apparent need of keeping Junior informed of the affairs of the Gumps, Harold Teen, Uncle Bob, Skippy and others. Take the WGN program for next Thursday for instance:

5:10 Flexies Pixies; children's program

5:15 Uncle Quin Punch and Judy Show

5:30 Mother Goose Concert

5:45 Little Orphan Annie; children's playlet

6:00 Kellogg's Singing Lady

6:15 Harold Teen; comedy sketch

6:30 Dinner Dance

Now for an hour and twenty minutes from 5:10 to 6:30 that's certainly a bird of a program from an adult point of view (yes, no children here, I'll admit). Now, isn't it, really?

In any event, your publication performs a real service to the radio listener and I have been a steady user since your first issue and will continue to be.

With best wishes for your continued success.

R. G. Lester

Great Sports Announcer

Hammond, Ind., Dec. 20, 1931

Gentlemen:

I am a regular reader of the "Radio Guide" and have found it very interesting and convenient. I especially enjoy your "Meet The Artist" sketches.

Sometime in the near future I would like to see pictures of Jimmy Kozal, pianist, WAAF and Edward Simmons, announcer, WAAF. Also a picture of that great WCFL sports announcer, John O'Hara. And while you're at it, why not Rudy Vallee? Hope's hoping I'll see these pictures before long.

In the meantime I shall continue to read and enjoy "The Radio Guide."

Margaret Kalina

We'll Think About It

Chicago, Ill. Dec. 21, 1931

Dear Sirs:

We radio fans are very fortunate in being able to obtain so fine and necessary a magazine as "Radio Guide" is proving to be. Let us hope it is a continued and profitable success.

May I suggest however, that I believe it should devote a column, more or less, to contests, that sponsors of various programs are putting on "over the air," from time to time. Give the details and requirements as it is to be broadcast. Opening and closing dates, etc. With an equal opportunity and also would give people an opportunity to "get in" on something they may not of heard otherwise.

Will you give this suggestion your earnest consideration. I believe it will help your circulation and also please a large portion of your readers as well as the sponsors of these contests.

O. F. Weissenburger

Likes Don and Art

Bloomington, Ill.

Dear Editor:

I bought my second copy of Radio Guide today, and I'm sorry I missed any preceding editions.

Please print pictures of Don Ball, CBS announcer, and Arthur Jarrett.

Best wishes for this paper's continuance!

Virginia Marten

Thank You

Barrington, Ill., Dec. 19, 1931

Radio Guide:

A very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year is the wish for you from a faithful satisfied subscriber. I want to thank you for your promptness of delivery of the weekly. I enjoy it very much and do all I can to advertise it. It means much to those who do not get the Chicago papers early enough to get the radio program. Wishing you a very prosperous year, I am

Frank O. Campe

WLS Fan

Galesburg, Ill. Dec. 21, 1931

Radio Guide:

Congratulations "Radio Guide." I have my second copy now and wouldn't want to be without it. Told my husband it was the best magazine he had brought home yet.

Our favorite station is WLS and we almost feel like we knew them personally. Fine Christmas greeting from them in this issue.

Mrs. R. H. Stoner

Watch Future Issues

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 20, 1931

Dear Sirs:

May I compliment you on your fine magazine the "Radio Guide." It is just the thing to bring listeners and artists together.

However, we are disappointed in one thing. Have been looking each week earnestly for pictures of those two fine artists who participate in the "Twilight Musicale," from WJJD each week-day evening. Why can't we have pictures of these two artists, Howard L. Peterson and Avis Leone Fiske?

Mrs. Wm. Gleason

Over 250,000 of the World Famous Haynes' Radio Logs were sold in the Chicago area in 1931.

The 1932 deluxe edition, 25c.

And now—Our Contract-Auction Total Score-At-Sight ensemble is delighting Bridge players—also 25c. Nothing similar to either device!
