"Big Town's" fighting editor knows what it's all about. At left, he decides to change page make-up. Right, he gives a printer last-minute copy

The presses are ready to roll at last and Steve (left) watches. At right, he looks the sheet over, says: "Here's how a newspaper should look!"

LITTLE CAESAR TAKES A HALO

The public hated Little Caesar's guts, so radio changed him into the beloved, racket-busting hero of "Big Town"

DESPITE the plague of adjectives that invades us from Hollywood's Tower of Babel, the smart nabobs out there never hamper their really great shows or performers with such shackles as colossal, stupendous and other meaningless things. Oh, no. You watch 'em. When they present a great performance with a great performer they'll blurb it simply by announcing that the company takes pleasure in presenting Mr. So-and-So in Such-and-Such. There is dignity in the announcement, and power.

So, with that in mind, we take pleasure this week in presenting Mr. Edward G. Robinson, the printers' saint of "Big Town," the craftsman who never has turned in a terrible job.

As a tough mug in films and a snarling sentimentalist in radio, Mr. Robinson is the standard. Of course, it's a bit incongruous that Little Caesar should now be selling washing-powder, that Silver Dollar Tabor should be a soap-peddler. It's sort of like William Tell being an apple-vendor or Herr Hitler, the blotch on the Rhine, hawking "How to Win Friends, etc." However, if it takes washing-powder to bring us St. Steve of "Big Town," then I'm for it.

There are no managing editors like Steve Wilson, plague take it. There are no papers like the Illustrated Press. And there are no society editors like Lorelei. If there were, the boys would work for nothing, which is just about all some of them get. And if a paper really were run as Steve runs his, he would be in jail for slander, bankrupt from libel, and facing prison for contempt of court. But it's grand fun.

Mr. Robinson is another American who came from a far country. He was born Emanuel Goldenberg in Bucharest, Roumania, December 12, 1893. His family fetched him to New York before he could pronounce his name very distinctly, and he grew up just another drop in the melting-pot. At New York's public schools he debated and played in school shows and at an East Side settlement house was something of a boy star. He decided then to be an actor, although his family objected.

HE WAS an honor man at dramatic school, took a master-of-arts degree at Columbia. He had chosen his goal and was plugging toward it when his adopted nation went forth to do joust with the Kaiser's Germany and make the land of Luther unsafe for men like Emanuel Goldenberg. Eddie Robinson joined the Navy.

Back home from the War that really hadn't ended, he wrote a vaudeville act, "The Bells of Conscience," and acted it. Old showmen lifted their conservative eyebrows and muttered approval. He became a serious student of drama and hung around the Theater Guild, which in those days was the orphan of the theatrical storm. But up at the Lambs and Friars they watched Mr. Robinson and knew that, at last, a real actor was attaining growth.

He worked for several seasons with the Theater Guild and then was starred in "The Kibitzer." He's been starring ever since. He was acclaimed one of the finest actors on Broadway, and then he turned to the movies and might have been ruined if his ability had been one mite less.

He was established financially in

"The Racket," a legitimate show, and Hollywood put the heat on, and Mr. Robinson became the classic gangster, Little Caesar, which still is the standard. But the gangsters were gathered into the arms of their fathers. America's taste changed and Mr. Robinson changed from a gangster to a patriot, thence into an editor. The man enjoys newspaper stories and his favorite role is that of a crusading writing man. When radio decided to dramatize "Big Town," Mr. Robinson was the logical selection.

"Big Town" immediately hopped to the top of the heap and it's still there. It'll be there as long as Mr. Robinson is the Steve Wilson, the Santa Claus, of "Big Town"—St. Steve who slays the dragon.

If Mr. Robinson were not a well-nigh perfect actor he wouldn't be in the business today but probably would be wherever good gangsters go. Twice he missed an early demise by inches. He played the drug-store buttinsky so well in "The Kibitzer" that a spectator, perhaps a bit teched, thought Mr. Robinson really was the man who had outlicked him at cards and he called on the kibitzer to even scores. Mr. Robinson was in a hole. You can't reason with a crank, especially if the crank thinks you gyped him. So Mr. Robinson asked, "How much did you lose?"

"Fifteen dollars."

The actor produced a deck. "Cut," he said.

The crank beat it. "You're not a kibitzer," he yelled. "You're a gambler."

Again, in Little Caesar, a barrage of real machine-gun bullets was to be sprayed at an ash-can and blanks, seriously, were to be shot at Little Caesar. But the clips got mixed. A hired hand caught the error just before Mr. Robinson was murdered for art's sake. Hollywood has committed many crimes, but it hasn't murdered a man yet.

Mr. Robinson is an indefatigable worker and insists that his plays must be correct in research. He always conceives mentally the character he is to play, and lives the part. The dominating influences in his life have been his wife, Gladys Lloyd, a writer and actress, his five-year-old son, Emanuel, and his mother. At home, he's the dad-pal type to his son and very attentive to his wife. He has perhaps the finest collection of modern art in Hollywood and a splendid library. The library is for use, not looks. He really appreciates good music, especially Wagner, but he's not musical himself.

ROBINSON is a man of boundless mental and physical energy, and of integrity in everything he does. He will never compromise and is considered stubborn by some, but he's open-minded and can be convinced, with a cudgel. He enjoys arguments and will shout you down if you can't shout. The only way to best him in an argument is to smother him with facts and bellow at him. He is careful of the smallest details in all of his undertakings. He is introspective, a very smart student of human emotions and behavior. In fact, Mr. Robinson is one of the scholars of Hollywood.

He is very proud of his "Big Town" program and of the medal RADIO GUIDE awarded him last year. He believes his program helps educate the public to

—Elmer Fryer

In real life, Edward G. Robinson, who returned to the air last week, is a cultured, scholarly person, has the finest collection of modern art in Hollywood, a splendid library which he puts to good use vital social and community problems.

Usually he's got a cigar in his mouth at a rakish angle, but at home he enjoys a pipe. He's a moderate drinker and prefers the best Scotch with plain water.

He's a crusader and a loquacious American. He's been called a radical, but he's not; that is, in the sense that many Americans accept a radical—as a tearer-downer and an agin-guy. Mr. Robinson is a liberal in most everything except, of course, his contempt for Herr Hitler and Mr. Muss. He understands German and Italian, but will not speak the languages because he hates the ideals for which the languages now are being used. We suggest that's a strange attitude for a man of Mr. Robinson's intellect to take. It seems rather silly to snoot the tongues of the masters just because a couple of bandits speak them. He might as well not speak English because of Jesse James et al. And, after all, many of our big men have not been exactly angels.

His favorite author is Samuel Butler, but he is a student of Shakespeare, Anatole France, Shaw, W. H. Hudson and Feuchtwanger.

HIS wife got him started in gangster roles on the stage. She coaxed him into playing in "The Racket," and from then on he was marked as a bad man. But he's tired of being a toughy. He doesn't believe in heroizing thugs and in "Big Town" he shows them up. In the movies, he will agree to play a mug part if the studio will assure him of a second picture in which he will be cast as a crusader.

"He's not hard to live with after you understand him," said Mrs. Robinson. "His first impulse is to shout you down on almost any subject, but then you can approach and reason with him. If your argument has any logic, you can easily convince him."

He is very generous to Mrs. Robinson and loves to shop for presents for her. An authority on perfumes, he keeps her supplied with the best.

He is an habitual shopper, and the feel of fine rugs, silks and velvets apparently thrills his sense of touch. Mrs. Robinson can't buy anything to suit him, so he does his own buying. He is a conservative dresser but has scads of shirts and ties. However, he will wear garters and galluses until they drop off.

When he comes home from work, he must know all about the household. He relaxes slowly, reads himself to sleep and sleeps only in the tops of his pajamas. Mr. Robinson takes a great deal of time with his son, Mannie, and wants him to be the athletic type. He watches the boy's schooling closely and is teaching him to write, mostly in capital letters.

Before broadcasting, he becomes the tough managing editor, scowls at his co-workers, jerks his head nervously and tugs at his coat. And when the show starts, he's in the proper mood. He talks out of the side of his mouth and often mumbles to himself.

At rehearsals, he sits on a high stool, wears specs and wraps his legs around the legs of the stool. If lines do not seem just so, he'll blow up and yell, "Why in hell do they write lines like that?" His English is flawless. So is his profanity. It should be. It gets plenty of exercise at times.

Mr. Robinson is "Big Town." His radio technique is different. He screams and shouts his lines and so do his cast. But it works, and his program is second only to Jack Benny's in the half-hour lot. It is first in popularity in the weekly half-hour dramas.

He likes to talk tough and scare folks. But if you ever meet him and he yells at you, yell right back. He is five feet eight inches tall and sensitive about his height. He prefers to work with actors no taller than he is. He enjoys relaxing with his manager, Munroe Goldstein, by playing casino for fifty cents a game. He gloats when he wins, and he usually does. Mr. Goldstein is a smart man. Don't ever lick your boss at cards or golf.

His proudest possession is an autographed photograph of Toscanini. He is very proud of his collection of modern paintings, antique silver, furniture and china.

The hero of "Big Town" unquestionably is motivated by a strong defense mechanism as a result of his short stature and his humble origin. Like so many very sensitive men, he feels keenly the oppression of his race. His secret ambition is to play Napoleon.

IT'S also well known that Mr. Robinson would like a good newspaper story. He enjoys portraying a newspaperman, and with the build-up of "Big Town," he's just ripe for a spanking newspaper story. He wants it to be as newspapers and reporters really are, not as the movies have made them.

Personally, I'd rather see him do Pulitzer than Napoleon. Richard Harding Davis got around, too. And there is a natural waiting for Mr. Robinson, the life of the lamented Edward J. Neil of the AP, who was killed in Spain. Mr. Neil was a crusader, too, in a reactionary world. If Mr. Robinson wants to portray an American reporter, we suggest Eddie Neil.

There are no bad marks against Mr. Robinson's name. He might be overly enthusiastic in his crusades, but he's honest. When he saw Evans Plummer spading around to get facts about his life he said, "Treat me kindly and forget the bad things, won't you, Plummer?"

Mr. Plummer reports he hasn't found any bad things.

Edward G. Robinson may be heard Tuesday nights on "Big Town" over a CBS network at:
EST 8:30 p.m. — CST 7:30 p.m.
MST 6:30 p.m.

And later for the West Coast at:

BRIGHT YOUNG MAN

Why Clifton "Kip"
Fadiman is radio
whiz of quizzes

BY KENNETH W. PURDY

—NBC Photograph

WHEN John Gunther, famous foreign correspondent, appeared on the "Information, Please" program, he was asked to name the Shah of Persia. He did. "Are you shah, Mr. Gunther?" quipped Clifton Fadiman. "Sultanly," was the spontaneous reply.

It would take most of us a week to figure out a double-edged pun as good as that one. It took Clifton Fadiman about the fifth part of a second.

A few months ago Alexander Woollcott, starring on "Information, Please" for a night, took Mr. Fadiman to task, insisting that the answer to the question, "How did the name 'Monts' figure in recent news from abroad?" was that it was the scene of a great British retreat during the World War, and that the correct spelling was "Mons," not "Monts." Mr. Woollcott was wrong. Monts is the name of the French town in which the Duke of Windsor and Wallis Simpson were married.

"I suppose," said Mr. Fadiman, "that that too could be classified as a British retreat."

It's hard to persuade most listeners that the "Information, Please" program isn't rehearsed. At least, they say, Fadiman, who after all does have the questions in advance, can figure out his bright remarks before the curtain rises.

But no. For the truth of the matter is that Clifton "Kip" Fadiman spends less time on "Information, Please" than he does on almost any of his numerous other activities. He doesn't even have a hand in deciding which questions shall be used and which shall not. That's done by a permanent staff, members of which also do all the research necessary to determine the validity of the questions and the correctness of the given answers. An hour before the show goes on the air, Fadiman checks over the questions, which have been typed in convenient card form, merely to familiarize himself with their order and importance. He makes no attempt to dope out advance witticisms. He couldn't if he wanted to, in most cases, for what he says must depend on what Messrs. Kieran, Levant and Adams say first.

Doubting Thomases would have their doubts resolved if they could spend fifteen or twenty minutes with the man. For Clifton "Kip" Fadiman doesn't need advance notice. His mind is geared to fast action. In fact, "Kip" Fadiman is probably the brightest young man on the air today.

To start at the beginning, let's get that nickname straight. It seems that when Fadiman was a mere babe, he was highly susceptible to hiccoughs, and when he hiccupped, he made a sound like "kip-kip-kip." His worried but amused parents started calling him "Kip" forthwith, and "Kip" he has been ever since to his intimates, including Messrs. Kieran, Levant and Adams of "Information, Please." For Kieran, Adams and Levant, despite the cutting wit with which Mr. Fadiman weekly badgers them, are definitely his friends. True enough, he takes an impish pleasure in besting them at what is, after all, their own game, but that's in the book of rules. They're supposed to be fast thinkers, and they're just that. They're supposed to be smart—and heaven knows they are.

He talked himself into his first job when he was fifteen years old; he started a newspaper when he was still in high school, and he never made less than $1,000 a year while working his way through college, Phi Beta Kappa and cum laude at that.

In short, Clifton Fadiman has always been a bright and busy young man. Today he still prefers to be known as a businessman. And in sober truth, that's what he is: a big man in the word business. Words are Fadiman's stock in trade—words oral or written, words light, humorous, facetious, or heavy, ponderous and full of grave import. He delivers his product in any form, in any one of four languages, and in any length from one hundred words to one hundred thousand.

WHEN he was a student at Columbia University, Fadiman held an incredible variety of jobs. He was a writer, a mail-sorter in a branch post-office, an assistant in the university library. He hired himself out at five dollars an hour as a tutor to various well-to-do dullards of his acquaintance. He sold magazine subscriptions and wrote book reviews. During the summer vacations he managed a bookshop and gave lectures on various exotic phases in the field of belles-lettres. He finally left school for a year to join the staff of a New York publishing house. But while there was ample opportunity in the lower brackets, there wasn't much room at the top, and so Mr. Fadiman went back to college.

Thirty-four-year-old Clifton Fadiman's typewriter and his tongue are geared for rapid word-action

When he took his second fling at the book world, after a period as assistant professor of English, he found the gates more nearly ajar, and in almost less time than it takes to tell the tale, he was editor-in-chief for Simon and Schuster. He has not lacked gainful employment since that day.

He joined the staff of the ultra-sophisticated New Yorker magazine in 1934, and he still carries on at that stand, reviewing sometimes as many as twenty-five or thirty books a week. He writes, on occasion, for such magazines as Stage, Harper's Bazaar, and Vogue. He is at the moment writing an authoritative tome on his favorite subject—cheese. A cheese-lover of the near-fanatic type, Fadiman has for years been compiling notes on the seven hundred known varieties of cheeses, and when his book is published it promises to be the last word on the subject—the very last.

Radio rather awes Mr. Fadiman in its potent universality, and he finds it thoroughly exciting. He does not consider that the industry would collapse if he or "Information, Please" should be taken off the air, but he does insist that the program has had one highly beneficial effect on broadcasting in general: it has proved that the U. S. listening public can absorb, and like, a so-called "highbrow" program. When "Information, Please" was first proposed, radio big-shots moaned bitterly against it. Nobody would listen to such stuff, they said. The tremendous, walloping success of "Information, Please" changed all that. Of his part in forcing that knowledge on U. S. program sponsors, Fadiman is justly proud. There is even a little wonder in his own voice when he says that the "Information, Please" audience ranges in age from nine to seventy.

"Information, Please" isn't his first venture in radio. Nor will it be his last, if he can help it. He would not accept a similar job, because, he says, he doesn't want to be "typed" as a quiz-master. More than anything else, he'd like to do a master-of-ceremonies job on a variety station. He'd like to be an actor, too. He thinks it would be fun to do some writing in Hollywood, too, but he's in no rush about it. After all, the man's only 34. When you're 34, healthy, wealthy, wise and happily married, there shouldn't be much rush about anything.

For his co-workers on the "Wise Men's Hour," Fadiman has a genuine high regard. As a thoroughly well-informed gentleman himself, he appreciates the almost incredible range of John Kieran's knowledge, and he considers F. P. A. one of the gentlest and kindest men alive, despite that worthy's rather dour exterior.

He considers General Hugh Johnson to have been the best guest expert ever to appear on "Information, Please." He wouldn't name the worst.

Clifton Fadiman may be heard Tuesday nights on "Information, Please" over an NBC network at:

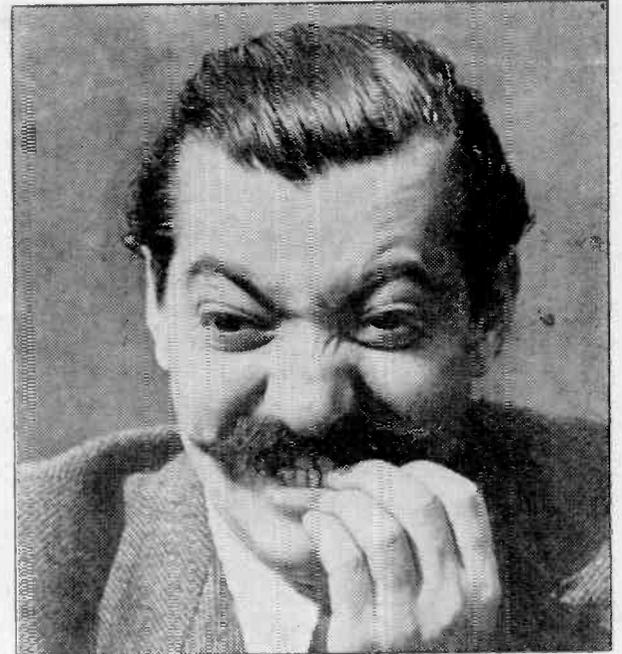

EST 8:30 p.m. — CST 7:30 p.m.
MST 6:30 p.m. — PST 5:30 p.m.
and later for the West Coast at 8:00 p.m. PST (9:00 p.m. MST).

FOOTBALL MANNERS FOR 1939

1. OH, BOY, WAS THAT A SWELL PUNT!

HOW are your football manners? Do you know how to register a polite Bronx cheer when the referee slaps a penalty on the old home team? Do you know what's called for when your own boys are mopped up by the invading team? With September almost past, football fans everywhere are preparing for the 1939 season. So what better time for Radio Guide to present a primer of football manners? And who better to teach listeners than Jerry Colonna, comic Italian who made a hit last year on Bob Hope's show, and who returns with Hope this Tuesday over NBC? Jerry, you know, 's the funnyman with tooth-paste grin and handle-bar mustachios. With a get-up like that, almost any ham could get a laugh out of studio audiences, but Jerry has something more. Among other things, he can sing, mimic, play the trombone—in all cases very excruciatingly. Now take a lesson from him in football manners!

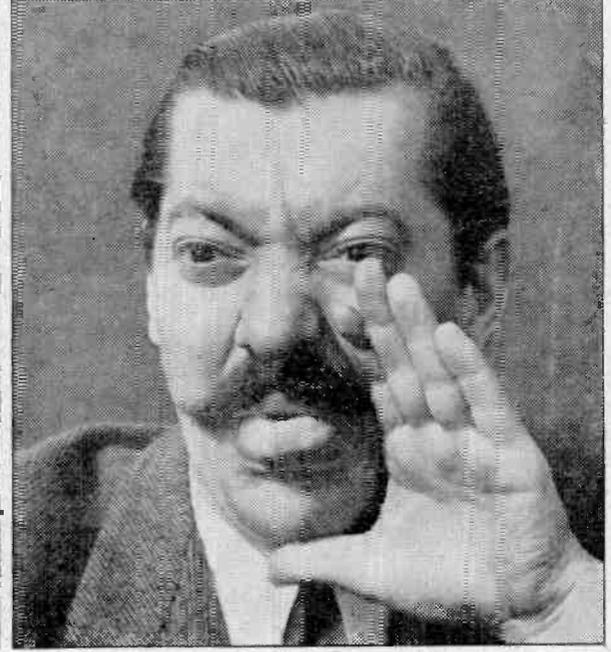

2. ZOUNDS, THEY'VE FUMBLER THE BALL

3. COME ON, TEAM, GET IN AND FIGHT!

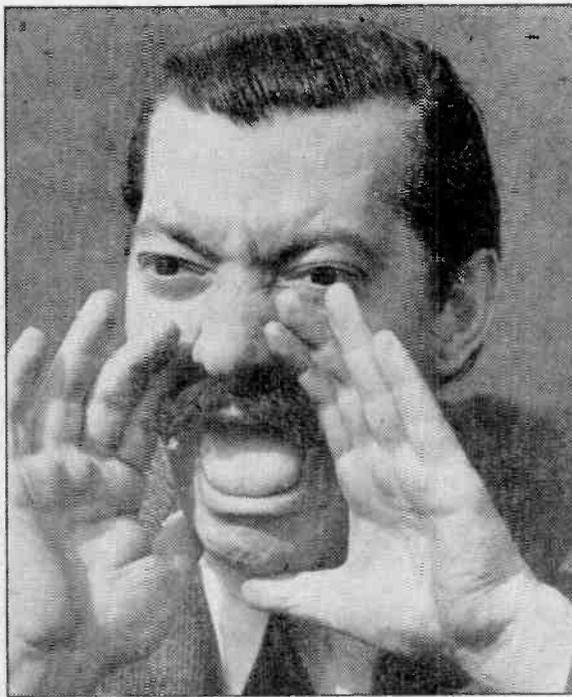

4. A PENALTY? WHAT A REFEREE

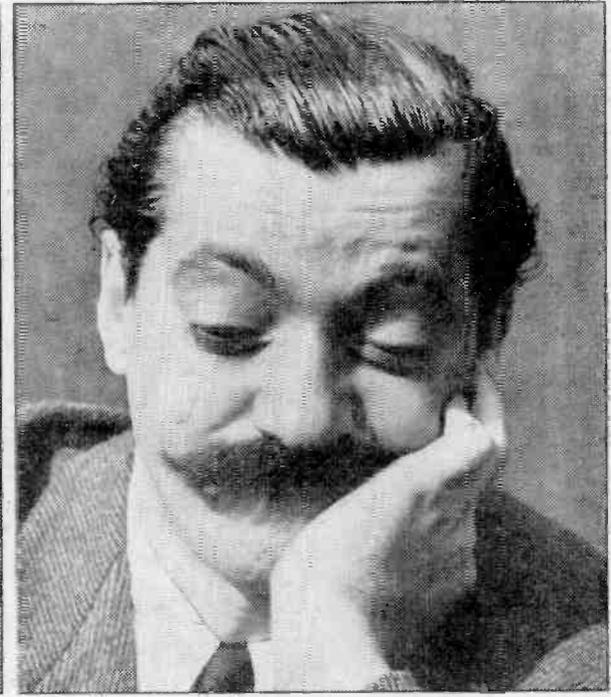

5. TWENTY-FIVE YARDS—HSS-SSS-SSS!

6. THAT'S THE STUFF, HIT 'EM, BOYS!

7. HOLDING, HUH? BLAH-H-H!

AIRIALTO LOWDOWN

Dorsey, Goodman in flying engagements; World Series, football take spotlight

By Martin Lewis

The King Sisters (right) make vocal music with Artie Shaw over NBC every Tuesday evening

—Maurice Seymour

NEW YORK.—The present crisis has brought on a batch of new statistics. I've learned that for one week the twenty members of the CBS news staff, all working overtime in their new special-events studio, consumed one hundred sandwiches, two gallons of coffee, and seventy-five Coca-Colas per day. While on the subject of broadcasting the war news, CBS announcers H. V. Kaltenborn and Bob Trout and head of special events Paul White had a barber come up to their studio this week so they could get a haircut. Said Trout, "I needed a haircut before the crisis broke, but could never get away from the studio long enough to get one. My hair was so long it was coming down over my ears and I couldn't hear myself talk." Said White, "This is luxury. Maybe I'll make this a permanent routine."

Kilocycle Chatter

Red Barber and Bob Elson have been selected to give the pitch-by-pitch description of the 1939 World's Series games, and a better choice couldn't have been made. Those boys know their baseball and they have an ingenious way of describing the game to their listeners . . . The football season gets under way on Saturday, September 30, with NBC's football reporter, Bill Stern, describing the Notre Dame-Purdue game on the Blue network. The Red net will air a description of the Indiana-Nebraska game . . . As reported here exclusively several weeks ago, Vox Pop, featuring amiable Parks Johnson and Wally Butterworth, moves to CBS starting October 5, becoming a Thursday night feature . . . Dave Elman's "Hobby Lobby" will also leave NBC for a Sunday afternoon spot on CBS starting October 8 . . . On that date the "Musical Steelmakers" returns to the Mutual net.

Milton Berle's new comedy program,

"Stop Me If You've Heard This One," which was announced as a Sunday night feature, will be heard on Saturdays instead, starting October 7. Berle will appear for the broadcasts in full theatrical make-up, because immediately after the broadcast is over he will have to rush out of the studio and make a hurried dash to the Biltmore Theater, where he is to be featured in George Abbott's "See My Lawyer."

"Those We Love," which was heard on the networks last season, will occupy the last half-hour of the present Rudy Vallee spot. "One Man's Family" will be heard in the first half-hour . . . Phil Baker's program folds on October 4 and will be replaced the following week by Al Pearce. I'll never understand the strategy in this shift, because the Baker shows have been so superior to the Pearce airings of last season.

Bandnotes

Bands are taking to the air in more ways than one. Tommy Dorsey chartered an American Airlines plane to transport his orchestra to Toronto, Canada, to play a two-day engagement . . . Benny Goodman flew his band from California to New York, making several stopovers en route . . . Artie Shaw's orchestra recently flew into New York from Boston to make some records and planed back to the Hub City the same day . . . Songstress Carlotta Dale has divorced herself from Jan Savitt's orchestra . . . Gray Gordon's new femme warbler is Vicci Dova and Charlie Barnet has engaged Barbara Bush to sing with his swingers.

Ray Bauduc, drummer in the Bob Crosby band, was called to his home in New Orleans because of the death of his father. Ray McKinley took over the drums in his absence . . . Bob Chester, whose band you will read and hear plenty about in the near future, starts a five-month tour of the Ralph Hitz hotels and will be heard from the various spots he will play in . . . It isn't often you hear one band-leader raving about another. That's why I particularly want to applaud Rudy Vallee's swell compliment to Tommy Dorsey's orchestra, which he followed recently at Atlantic City. Rudy stated right over the air so we could all hear that he told his boys he hopes they will play half as well as Dorsey's crew.

Behind the Scene

It's hard to fluster a veteran like Myrtle Vail, but announcer Del Sharbutt turned the trick last week. While reading his commercial, Del suddenly stopped short and started accusing Myrt of trying to hog the program by overacting during the Myrt and Marge broadcasts. This just isn't done in radio, especially during a broadcast, and Myrt became panic-stricken. She turned her head and discovered the rest of the cast holding their handkerchiefs to their mouths to keep from laughing out loud. They didn't tell Myrt the program had been canceled because of an important European news broadcast and they thought they'd have some fun, so they began the program as scheduled without telling Myrt they were off the air.

Bob Trout got revenge for a practical joke played on him by engineer Henry Grossman some weeks ago. The two of them were on their way to Syracuse, N. Y., for a special broadcast. Before they went to bed, Grossman slipped the porter a big tip with instructions that he be sure and wake Trout up at 2:30 A.M. as he had to get off the train at Albany. The porter followed orders, and as soon as Bob was able to rub the sleep from his eyes, explained his destination was Syracuse. The porter apologized and assured Trout that he was just doing what he was told to do by his traveling companion. The other day, during a broadcast, Bob was almost broken up when he saw a cigar that he had given Grossman explode in the engineer's mouth. From then on Trout had a tough time continuing with his newscasts. Henry promises he'll get even some day.

The next few weeks will bring many of your favorite radio shows back to the air. Some will be heard at the same time as before, some will have new schedules. Quite a few shows will alter their form of presentation. Therefore, to keep up with all these changes, the latest news of all the radio programs, may I suggest that you ask your newsdealer to reserve your copy of RADIO GUIDE each week and not take the chance of having him tell you he's all sold out. There's going to be lots of important news for you in RADIO GUIDE each week that I'm sure no radio listener will want to get along without.

Joe Penner, shown here with wife, will launch a brand-new variety show over NBC on October 5

HOLLYWOOD SHOWDOWN

Orson Welles-DeMille radio feud gets under way; Hollywood concentrates on the War

By Evans Plummer

HOLLYWOOD.—It's no secret in Hollywood that Cecil B. DeMille and his Lux Radio Theater colleagues are secretly worried over the entry of Orson Welles into Glamourtown with his Campbell Playhouse broadcast just twenty-two hours previous to the soap-maker's long-standing and high-rating drama series. Lux Theater executives have been huddling almost steadily in an endeavor to schedule attractions that will surpass the obviously respected work of the unusual young man who introduced the Martian warriors to inhabitants of New Jersey last Hallowe'en.

Welles has what Hollywood considers a traitorous approach for the obtaining of radio rights for material for his Campbell Playhouse broadcasts. Instead of buying them from movie companies, Orson has found it often expedient and less costly to purchase direct from the publisher from whose book or play the motion-picture screenplay was adapted. DeMille buys radio rights only from the movie lots. And now DeMille and Welles are in a tuxor because the latter announced September 10 that he would dramatize "Wuthering Heights" two weeks later—and next day the former, or Mr. DeMille, told the listeners that his Lux Radio Theater would play "Wuthering Heights" the next week, or September 18 . . . Hmmm!! So the battle is on—with the smart money reported slightly favoring the mad young genius.

Radio Guide Sells Out

Echoes of the war are many, but one of the most interesting (to me) is the fact that you can't buy a copy of RADIO GUIDE within two blocks of any radio studio here. They sell out instantly. Intrigued, your snooper traced the demand to the war news broadcasters themselves as well as radio artists, many of whom are quite perturbed over conditions abroad and are using RADIO GUIDE's star markings of news broadcasts to guide them to the latest air bulletin from the war zone. The newcasters check the other stations' bulletins to avoid repetition and report they find RADIO GUIDE indispensable. Edward G. Robinson, who brought "Big Town" back to the air September 19, is a regular tuner-in to every iota of information from Europe. While abroad (and he returned just in time) he purchased several new art treasures to add to his collection of moderns, and now he is sick at heart over the probable losses in life and works of art which the war is bound to bring about. Incidentally, war maps and guides like that appearing in this issue of RADIO GUIDE are being widely used here in the movie capital.

It Works . . . Try It!

Speaking of "Good News," Fannie Brice, Hanley Stafford, Walter Huston and Roland Young dropped into the Hollywood Brown Derby the other evening to eat, and mystified two waiters and head waiter Chileas by ordering "four filet mignons and a deck of playing cards." After delivery of the cards, they learned that Fannie wanted to show her trio of male escorts a solitaire trick. "Take any 25 cards," Miss Brice explained, "and you will find it possible to arrange them into five full or complete poker hands—straights, flushes or full houses." In a few minutes, Brown Derby service was at a standstill while the Brice demonstration went on.

Rom-Antics . . .

Dorothy Lamour's most recent and frequent escort is man-about-Hollywood Bob Ritchie, M-G-M executive and agent who for long was Jeanette MacDonald's boy friend . . . Andrea Leeds announced her engagement September 11 to Bob Howard, whose dad, C. S., owns Seabiscuit . . . Vyola Vonn has a perfect score for attendance at the "Good News" rehearsals and broadcasts, where she keeps her admiring dark-brown eyes on Hanley (Daddy Higgins) Stafford, her fiance.

Speaking of the war, the CBS California network recently canvassed listeners on potent questions and learned, through Sam Hayes' "Ballot Box": (1) 68% favored amendment of our neutrality laws to permit shipment of arms to nations which have been attacked; (2) 65% favored having this country give material aid in money and munitions to France and Great Britain; (3) 69% voted against sending an American army to assist France, England and Poland, and (4) 66% favored compulsory military service.

Live Mikings . . .

The Bing Crosby twins, Phillip and Dennis, successfully underwent tonsillectomies September 7 at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital . . . Al Pearce replaces Phil Baker October 11 on the Dole Pineapple program and brings the air series to Hollywood . . . Gale Page, the Woodbury actress, down with the flu . . . Lee Cooley, KHJ-MBS mickeman, convalescing at California Lutheran Hospital from an operation . . . Grouch Club's Arthur Q. Bryan has finally given up horseback riding—since his mount bucked last week at a rattlesnake and threw Art into a bramble bush . . . Chase & Sanborn Hour's musical conductor, Bob Armbruster, will be turned into a very comic stooge within the next few broadcasts.

Page Gilman, who plays Jack Barbour in "One Man's Family," has announced that he will take time off from the dramatic serial next summer to complete his degree requirements at the University of California . . . Joe E. Brown signs off his program series after the September 28 edition and goes to New York for the premiere of his new picture, "$1,000 a Touchdown" . . . Donald Novis has the funniest bet with his wife. It's an evening dress against a trout-fishing rod that his two-months-old daughter will cut an upper before a lower tooth! . . . And Texaco's Ken Murray has the best swimming-pool idea yet. He's building his right below a balcony off his new home's master bedroom so that he can practically leap from bed into the deep water!

All Up to Fidler

With Jimmie Fidler's return to the CBS airplanes September 12, he was handed a two-year renewal by his sponsor, a fat increase in salary, and the right to censor his own material hereafter so long as he keeps his news and remarks "within discretionary bounds." Fidler was so impressed by Hawaii during his vacation there that he bought a home on the island and plans hereafter to spend all of his holidays there.

THE BELOVED BRAT

Concluding the story of Fannie "Jekyll" Brice
and Baby "Hyde" Snooks

By James Street

Fannie Brice likes to ride a bicycle for exercise, and her alter ego, Baby Snooks, likes to do kiddish stunts like that above, taking Gracie Allen for a tricycle ride at a party, though she knows "Daddy," on the opposite page, won't like it

FANNIE BRICE had an unhappy childhood, and she has determined that her children will escape the heartaches that she, as a misunderstood youngster, suffered. She has two children, Frances, 20, and William, 18. Nicky Arnstein is their father. The mother and children live in Hollywood, for Fannie has put behind her the blistering streets of New York, where she was born and where she experienced her greatest triumphs and defeats.

At forty-seven, her story would have been told and the race would have been over but for radio. The new America knows Miss Brice as "Baby Snooks" in "Good News of 1940," and if it had not been for radio it's possible she would have been forgotten. There are no more Follies, the shows that made her famous. As a movie actress, she is such a definite type that she cannot be used often. Ask any young American who Fannie is and he'll say she's "Baby Snooks of radio." Ask an older person and he'll say, "She's the lady who made 'My Man' famous; she's on the radio now." That's what I mean. Time has been rather kind to Fannie. Many of those with whom she starred are gone—Will Rogers, Lillian Russell. Only Irving Berlin and Eddie Cantor still are top-notchers. She's had a full life, all right, and, on the brim of fifty, she has a good home, security, friends and two children. A person cannot expect much more of life.

Most of her time now is spent with radio's brat, "Baby Snooks," and with her own children. She has her own idea about children.

"I believe in letting my children express themselves," she said. "They have to find themselves. They have to do what they enjoy if they are to do it well. A mother can help only by being around when she is needed."

Fannie usually has intelligent, interesting people around her, and her children prefer to be at home.

She has invested her money in annuities for herself and children and there are no financial worries, but Fannie still is cagy about money.

"Since the kids were small," she said, "I've put so much in their accounts each month. They still have allowances. For a while it was three dollars a week. Now it's five. I buy their clothes, but any other luxuries, such as Bill's car and Frances' horse, must come out of their own money."

We assume the children support a horse and car on the money Fannie puts to their accounts and not from their allowances. If they keep up a car and a hay-burner on ten dollars a week, they should be on the radio as wizards.

"There is only one restraint," Fannie said. "I must sign all of their checks. Frances objected at first and thought I didn't trust her. I explained I didn't trust the people with whom she might come in contact."

Frances has no particular talents for a profession, Fannie said, but she is well fitted "to make some nice man a good wife." What do you mean, talents, Miss B.? It takes talent to be a good wife, or so I've been told.

She doesn't choose Frances' boy friends, but she influences her daughter in her selections. "If I figure she's going with the wrong fellow, I'll say to her, 'Yes, he's a nice boy, but just a little dull, don't you think?' And by comparing the current boy friend with intimates of the family, Frances usually agrees.

"Now, boys are closer. Bill is never self-conscious. We talk over everything. I retained a French governess until Bill was thirteen. The kids had everything I'd never had. And I decided in the beginning that Mademoiselle was to be the mother, I'd rather be a friend. I happened to overhear Mademoiselle telling them one day, 'You must love your mother.' I told her never to say that to them again. I didn't want my children to think they had to love me. I'd rather have them like me."

Fannie's best friends now include Abe Lastfogel, of the William Morris Hollywood office and her agent; Sady Coon, her secretary; Mrs. Lastfogel, Mrs. Gene Towne, Constance Collier, Belle Baker, Rita Gould, Polly Moran; Phil Rapp, her radio writer; Ann Pennington, Bea Lillie and Hanley Stafford, the "Papa Higgins" of "Baby Snooks."

Her idea of fun is to have her friends around her and to make funny records of one-act plays with each friend assuming a ridiculous role. She hates night-clubs and shuns restaurants. She loves to shop for antiques and attends as many as three or four movies a day. She also likes to play keno, Russian bank, the races, and poker, always for small stakes.

Recently she took an old chum to a gambling-ship for a thrill, but she wouldn't allow her friend to play. "It's a tough game," Fannie explained. "They'll take you." However, Fannie played and won twenty dollars, after four hours' work. That's five dollars an hour. Baby Snooks would laugh at such small earnings.

Fannie's favorite food is caviar and chopped onions spread with sour cream on pumpernickel. She has a husky appetite, even at breakfast, and can take on a stack of cakes anytime. She's a good cook, too.

A sound sleeper, she wears a mask over her eyes so she will not be awakened by the early sun. She wears simple tailored nighties and negligees.

She's one of those persons who gets fun out of messing with hair—hers and her friends'. She usually does her own hair and wears it in a short bob with a little marcel. She also arranges the hair of her women friends and experiments with them, using various coiffures until she finds the one she likes best.

Never a fancy dresser, her wardrobe

She likes to clown and assume Baby Snooks' voice and mannerisms. She has many childlike mannerisms and they constantly crop out. She goes into raptures over antiques, nice clothes and friends. She has three peeves — folks who flaunt their domestic affairs in public, insincerity and emotionalism in people, and public charities. She contributes plenty to charity but never makes a fuss about it, and is the financial prop of many relatives and old stage cronies.

"Fannie is a girl who changed," said Belle Baker. "Her Broadway life used to be hectic and haywire. She would forget to write letters or acknowledge gifts, even. Now she has settled down in a big home that she planned and loves. She has everything scheduled just so. Her entire life follows an exacting, punctilious routine."

To Rita Gould, a friend for twenty-eight years, Fannie's loyalty to her friends is a most impressive characteristic.

"Fannie is her own greatest critic," Miss Gould said. "She knows her own faults. She is also supersensitive and herself a friend, Fannie will never forsake him. Her friends are the finest in Hollywood, for she wears well. When she's a guest, she'll sit in a corner and listen attentively. She never pushes herself to the fore.

Although modest, she is positive about her likes and dislikes and says exactly what she thinks. She is obligated to nobody. She got where she is by hard work and ability.

Every now and then, however, she seems to enjoy acting parts she used to do, even the "My Man" role. It was last May when she sang that song on the "Good News" program and every member of the cast sobbed.

IF ANYONE knows an actress, it's the person who plays with her. Hanley Stafford, who is Papa Higgins to Baby Snooks, has this to say about her, and it covers everything:

"Fannie's strongest quality is her peculiarly childlike attitude, or spirit. She assumes the Bay Snooks character the minute the script is placed in her hands. Her face and eyes become Snooks; she turns pigeon-toed.

"She isn't too big to listen without question to suggestions of myself or her writer, Phil Rapp. She also likes for me to act my part to add to its feeling and her response, and she is very generous about the laughs; she wants me to get the laughs and loves it—unlike many stars you can name.

"We've never had the slightest difference between us, and since we've rounded out two seasons together, I think that's quite a feather in her cap.

"She's always calm during her performance, never fluttery or nervous. She never displays any temperament. If she thinks a line is out of order for Snooks, she will say to Phil, 'I don't think Snooks would say that,' and will offer a suggestion for a change.

"Incidentally, she's a clever stage director of the eccentric women characters, such as the third person in our spot. She pictures them exceedingly well in her mind and has not the slightest difficulty in explaining them clearly to the actress who is to play the role.

"Loyalty is her middle name. When engaged to do the Snooks role for 'Good News' she first tried to get the actor who had supported her on the stage. However, he was in Australia. Then she recalled that I had worked with her as Daddy Higgins in a short air serial, so she insisted that I be given the role.

"I was not a member of the M-G-M outfit, and Metro didn't want to spend money on an outsider. Fannie insisted. The studio asked her to audition other 'Daddies,' but she held out for me—or nothing.

"They finally consented, but told her, 'All right, Miss Brice, you can have Stafford, but you'll have to pay him out of your salary.' She did, too, for several weeks, but when they saw I was working well with her, they put me under contract and took over the salary payment.

"She battled for me and saw that I got air credits, too. What a woman! She's one in a million!"

In a million, eh? You are a mite conservative, Mister Higgins.

Fannie Brice may be heard Thursday nights on "Good News of 1940" over an NBC network at:
EST 9:00 p.m. ——— CST 8:00 p.m.
MST 7:00 p.m. ——— PST 6:00 p.m.

"Daddy Higgins" may frown at Snooks' tricycle ride and other pranks, but in real life Hanley Stafford says Fannie's strongest quality is her youthful spirit is ample but not flush. It is filled with simple designs of her own selection and supervision. She prefers pastel shades, tailored sports clothes.

SHE never discusses her wealth, but some say she's got a million salted down. Be that as it may, she's well heeled. She gets $4,000 a week from "Good News" and she saves it. She is a shrewd business woman and a cautious investor.

In her household she employs a butler-chauffeur, maid, cook and gardener. Roger Davis, a long-standing friend, is almost a member of the household, without salary, of course. Davis is Fannie's adviser and counselor and helps her guide the children. He is her Colonel House, so to speak.

can't stand to see anyone cry. She is apt to start weeping herself. She has a very loving nature, but conceals it and blushes when complimented. If she is complimented she will say, 'Aw, go on, you're kidding.' She has a great sense of values in colors, dresses, furnishings, business, people and her work. She has excellent judgment in her stage and screen scenes or radio lines and refuses to permit any smut or double meanings to be foisted on her."

Becoming a friend of Fannie's is a privilege coveted by many but enjoyed by only a few. Her friends are limited to those who have been tried and never found wanting. She is shy about meeting new people and likes small groups. But when a person has proved

THEY had been sentenced to die, these three, and there was a quality of farce—as well as of the superb—in the way they stood before the banker and told him what they wanted. A loan. They had nothing in the way of security, times were bad and, of course—

"You say you want me to lend you a hundred dollars to go into business. And all three of you are living on borrowed time. You've each been told by your doctor that you can expect death at any moment and yet you want me to lend you money?"

The three—a farmer's wife, a clerk's wife, a civil engineer—nodded. Then they waited for him to press the button that would summon the aid to throw them out. It hadn't seemed so ridiculous until this hard-headed businessman had put it into words. Now it seemed impossible.

"Okay, I'll do it." You could have knocked any one of them over with a toothpick. "After all, a doctor isn't God. A doctor doesn't have the final say. And if God can lend you time, I guess I can lend you a hundred dollars."

They felt better after that. The very fact that they were standing there now seeking a loan against a future business was a subtle form of disbelief in doctors' predictions. And now that disbelief was bolstered by a banknote, executed under man-made laws. Of course they were going to live!

Suppose your doctor said to you tomorrow: "You must be brave. You have only a month to live." What would you do? You'd fight for borrowed time. That's what this trio did. And how gloriously they are winning their fight is a story you should hear.

Back in 1936, Jesse Green, owner of the Greenacres Dairy Ranch at Ellensburg, Washington, heard that his friend, Guyer D. Thomas, a civil engineer who had done some work back in 1930 near Ellensburg, was lying at death's door in a Yakima (Washington) hospital. He immediately cranked up the flivver and drove down to see him.

"He has a month, at the outside, to live," the doctors told him. So Green bundled the sick man into his car and drove him back to Greenacres. At least his last month would be spent among friends. And anyway, he wouldn't feel out of place at Greenacres. Mrs. Green was fast failing from a serious heart ailment and her physician had warned her that she might expect death at any moment. And to prove that bad luck runs in threes, there was Lucille Bolding, a clerk's wife, who was living with them too. Lucille was an arthritis invalid who was possessed of the pleasant knowledge that, within a few short months, locomotion would be ended.

It was an odd collection to be housed under one roof—two women and a man living in the shadow of death with sentence pronounced upon them, suffering untold physical agony and a mental unease that cannot be gauged by any normal measure. In addition, there was Mr. Green, Mrs. Thomas, and five Green children, five Thomas children. And living there, these three mangled musketeers organized their Borrowed Timers Society.

AT FIRST it was a grim jest; but slowly it developed into something more. It became a way of forgetting physical misery and the dread mental speculation that must have been always with them. They had an old radio and, banding their ideas, they entered every contest they heard offered over the air. They listened to music and the religious programs; they were spiritually present at every quiz program, striving to answer the questions before those present did. Radio, in those long months of waiting for death to strike, gave them a "kick"—that's their word for it—that somehow lifted them a little and gave them a new, if frail, hold on life.

And suddenly, with their sentences long overdue, they found that they had developed a new philosophy of life. Waiting and waiting was no longer the horrible, unbearable process that it had once been. It was somehow thrilling. "It was like a firecracker that didn't go off," they said. "You got one thrill when you lit it and waited. You got another thrill when you crept up on it cautiously. You got another thrill when you broke it in two and made a 'sizzler' out of it. Three thrills instead of just the one thrill we would have gotten had it gone off when we first lit it."

In other words, each day of expectancy that didn't end in death was a thrill. They were three firecrackers that didn't go off. So now there were new worries. As long as they were living—even on borrowed time—they had to evolve some means of earning a livelihood. It was the engineer who did it.

To us who live out our monotonous days, prayers may seem unimportant. To these people, in their daily uncertainty, prayers are vitally important. One night, after listening to a radio prayer meeting, Mrs. Green remembered that the children hadn't said their prayers. Long after the others had retired, Thomas, the engineer, sat in the living-room with scissors, some cloth and a chemical which must remain unnamed here. When he finally retired, he had finished the first "Prayer Reminder." It was a tiny white cross mounted on a shield-shaped cloth. The cross had been chemically treated so that it glowed in the darkness and, pinned on the wall, would serve as a reminder to the children to say their prayers.

In the morning he showed it to the others. They took it into the dark pantry and, sure enough, the little white cross glowed, a shining white reminder of prayers to be said. Maybe they could be sold. They got more cloth, more scissors, more chemicals, and everybody set to work.

Ten-year-old Mary Green wanted a flower-pot. So, armed with a supply of the reminders, she set out. At home, the Borrowed Timers waited with bated breath. A short time later she was back, the emblems gone, and in their place the coveted flower-pot.

SOON their local business was tremendous. They were used as prizes at church bazaars and Sunday school classes were using them as rewards for good students. And then a religious program over station KIT, Yakima, Washington, mentioned the reminders and sales soared. After that, RADIO GUIDE became the most-thumbed-over book in the house. They scoured it for clues, systematically seeking out programs which might aid them in their selling. And broadcasters, thrilled by the story that lay behind them, helped.

Today four hundred jobbers handle their reminders in various parts of the country. The banker's loan permitted them to substitute machinery for scissors, and the little glowing white cross—remarkably symbolic of those who originated it—has proved a foundation upon which the original trio is building a sanctuary for all Borrowed Timers who have need of a place to go and regain hope and courage during those last (?) days.

The original three? They have each lived far beyond the sentences allotted them and look forward to many years of life. Physicians say it is because they have found interesting things to do.

The writer will string along with the banker who said:

"The Almighty must have felt he was making a good investment when he loaned time to the Greenacres valiants, so who am I to refuse them a hundred dollars?"

Announcing a series of 15 contests for new songs and new song-writers.

National Song Search

Read These Rules Carefully

1. Contestants must live in the United States or Canada. Anyone may enter the National Song Search with the exception of employes or members of the families of employes of Radio Guide or the Davis-Schwegler Company.

2. Entries must be addressed as follows: National Song Search Headquarters, Radio Guide, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Ill.

3. An entry must be written in ink (not pencil) on regularly ruled music copying paper. It may be a full piano arrangement or a simple melody. Words will not be considered in judging. No entries will be returned.

4. No correspondence can be entered into by either Radio Guide or Davis-Schwegler regarding individual contributions.

5. Contestants may enter any or all contests. Winning any contest prize does not disqualify for other contest prizes. Contestants wishing to enter the same composition in different weekly popular song contests may do so but must make separate submissions in each case.

6. The name and address of contestant must be written in ink or typed in the top margin of page one of each entry submitted.

7. A contestant may submit as many entries for any single contest as he may wish—and may win more than one prize provided his entries merit such consideration.

8. Each entry shall be judged solely on its musical merit. Judges will be the editorial boards of Radio Guide and Davis-Schwegler. Contestants, by entering the contest, agree that the decisions of the judges shall be final.

9. The prizes awarded winners of each contest are identical, namely, the song-writer whose song is selected by the judges as best in each contest will receive: (a) $200 in cash; (b) The standard song-writers' contract with Davis-Schwegler, music publishers, providing for standard royalties on sheet music and other sales; (c) His song will be published and distributed through Davis-Schwegler outlets; (d) His song will be recorded and phonograph records offered for sale through regular D-S outlets; (e) His song will be electrically transcribed and placed in the regular Davis-Schwegler library service to more than 200 radio stations. One dozen pieces of sheet music, two records, and one electrical transcription will be given free to the song-writer. The next five songs selected by the judges as being most worthy will win for their writers the sum of $10.00 each. The next six songs selected by the judges will be given Honorable Mention certificates.

10. Hymn or sacred music contest entries must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, December 30. Semi-classical number contest entries must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, January 6, 1940. Popular Song Contest No. 1 (this is the first of a series of 13 weekly contests) must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, September 30, 1939. Winners will be announced as soon as possible. In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

Look for your name in Radio Guide as notice that your entry has been received at Headquarters.

THESE 3 CONTESTS START TODAY

A Hymn Contest

To find a great, new American hymn or sacred number. Example: "Rock of Ages," "Old Rugged Cross," "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

All entries must be mailed before midnight of December 30.

A Semi-Classical Number Contest

To discover a fine, new American semi-classical number for voice. Example: "Trees," "Indian Love Call," "Sylvia."

All entries must be mailed before midnight of January 6.

A Pop Song Contest No. 1

To find a new popular singable, danceable song.

All entries must be mailed before midnight of September 30.

And a Brand-New Contest Every Week

For the next thirteen weeks, we plan to find and have published thirteen other new American popular songs. Each week will offer a brand-new pop song contest and a brand-new chance to win fame and fortune.

The greatest first prize ever offered an unknown song-writer.

The Winner of each contest will receive . . .

1. $200.00 in cash.
2. The regular song-writers' contract with the great Los Angeles music-publishing firm, Davis-Schwegler, providing for royalties on all sheet music and other sales.
3. Immediate publication and distribution as sheet music.

4. Immediate recording and distribution as phonograph record.

5. Inclusion of the winning song in regular Davis-Schwegler Library Service to Radio Stations from Coast to Coast.

Consolation Prizes

The next five song-writers selected will receive $10.00 each in cash.

Honorable Mentions

The next six song-writers will be given Honorable Mention Certificates.

Write a Song Hit!

Hit songs make big money. Hit-song writers are rich. Big money comes from sheet music sales, royalties on records, radio rights, movie rights, musical comedy rights. Hit-song writers travel, loaf, work when they please; Florida in the winter, Quebec or Banff in the summer, New York in season.

What is a hit song? Nobody knows. It may be something from the pen of Irving Berlin or from the schoolmarm at Tompkins Corners. But the public knows—as soon as it hears it. Maybe you've got a hit song in your head, or in the bureau drawer. If you have, the National Song Search wants it.

A Song Contest That Is Different

The National Song Search is a different kind of song contest. First, it finds new songs; second, it gives that song to the public by means of sheet music, records, radio transcriptions, renditions over scores of radio stations by big name bands. National Song Search does something no other contest ever did. It helps build a song until the public can make up its mind if it likes it.

Now, for the first time, the new song that wins a Song Search contest has an even chance with the numbers plugged by the big song publishers. That is because a big song publisher, the famous firm of Davis-Schwegler, Los Angeles, is working with RADIO GUIDE. We guarantee that millions of people will have a chance to hear your number on the air—if you win.

A Winner Every Week

The National Song Search will find and publish a new pop song each week for the next thirteen weeks. Starting today and finishing on December 30, we commence a search for a hymn or religious song. Starting now and finishing on January 6, we seek a great new semi-classic number.

HONORABLE HISTORY

Sunday, NBC

"This Honourable Court," so called in the historic prayer which opened the first session of the Supreme Court of the United States, is the title of a panoramic dramatization of the court's 150-year history. It has been a distinguished and colorful history, with famous decisions like the Dred Scott Case, immortal names like John Marshall, and controversies as during the present administration. Such historical highlights will be included in the authoritative dramatic document to be presented Sunday over NBC.

ALEC-ALIZING Monday, NBC

Alec Templeton sold polish for your car this past summer. Beginning this week he's going to sell an akalizer for your system. Whatever the product, Alec is a superpeddler with his piano wizardry and clever musical burlesques. With the blind young Englishman as regulars in this new series will be a choral group directed by William Miller and a string orchestra led by Daniel Saidenberg. Guest stars will also appear. Donald Dickson, radio and operatic baritone, will join Alec in the first program.

GITTLER ON HITLER Tuesday, NBC

L. F. Gittler, American student of Hitlerism, will be the spotlight guest on the "Inside Story" show. He will give an expose of Germany's Bootleg Money Ring, whose activities he witnessed while a student in Nazi political college.

ELMER IN KENNEL Tuesday, NBC

Where's Elmer? Legionnaires who attend the national convention in Chicago this week and who will, as usual, be looking for that elusive, legendary figure, may find Elmer in the doghouse—when they get home from the convention. Out of pure patriotism, Tom (Uncle Walter) Wallace will dedicate the program of "Uncle Walter's Dog House" this week to the service of a special Legion audience—unless the boys conscript the canine brig itself! There should be some fun.

Mail About Mail

Dear V. O. L.:

Wonder if your readers would be interested in hearing about a unique radio club to which I belong, namely, the WLW "Mail Bag." Our letters are read over the air by our charming postmistress, Minabelle Abbott. We use pen names, some of which are rather amusing, but we have a lot of fun. Some of the contributing members are: California Poppy, Polly Prim, Lima Beane, Cadge, etc.

Each year a big picnic is held in Sharon Woods, Cincinnati, where hundreds of enthusiastic Mail Baggers meet many WLW artists, and there's a basket-dinner "on the sponsor."

Members of the "Mail Bag" club find much in common and many lasting friendships have been formed.

Mrs. Arthur Johoske, Lima, Ohio

Practising vs. Preaching

Dear V. O. L.:

Those never-ending contests! And those never-ending commercials! It's too bad they can't take a tip from themselves and make the commercials "in twenty-five words or less!"

This Little Piggie

Dear V. O. L.:

For heaven's sake! Doesn't Arlene Francis have but four toes on her right foot? According to the picture on the cover of Radio Guide for July 28, her foot is very much wrong. The big toe is much too long and there seem to be only four toes.

Mrs. Maude West, Galesburg, Ill.

● Miss Francis' foot had four small and one great toes. The odd appearance of her foot was caused by photographic and engraving phenomena which caused distortion and loss of detail.—V. O. L.

Rudy Still Rates

Dear V. O. L.:

In spite of exaggerated rumors about Rudy Vallee's Crossley rating and split with his sponsor, he can still discover talent like Carmen Miranda, the Brazilian bombshell. Wheeee!

Ralph North, Cincinnati, Ohio

Gershwin Issue

Dear V. O. L.:

I do not agree with most of Joseph Lancaster's statements commenting on the recent CBS Gershwin Memorial Concert as directed by Paul Whiteman.

First, I believe that George Gershwin has now become so great and famous a modern musical figure that a "comprehensive" biography on the program was unnecessary. Second, I felt that both the "Cuban Overture" and the "Three Preludes" were enriched by the modern arrangements. Third, Miss Froman, I felt, did a commendable piece of work in her rendition of "It Ain't Necessarily So," though I'll admit that this number is more suited to a rousing baritone. Fourth, the "Rhapsody in Blue" was as compact a version of the work as I've yet heard. And fifth, the "change in Whiteman's style" has, if anything, given a new buoyancy and vitality to Gershwin's music which a duller and more conventional reading of the scores would have never achieved.

The ideal program for the really complete Gershwin concert would be, perhaps, the following:

1. Overture to "Of Thee I Sing"; 2. "Second Rhapsody," for piano and orchestra; 3. Medley of Gershwin tunes; 4. "An American in Paris"; 5. Concerto in F, for piano and orchestra; 6. Suite from "Porgy and Bess"; and 7. "Rhapsody in Blue," for piano and orchestra.

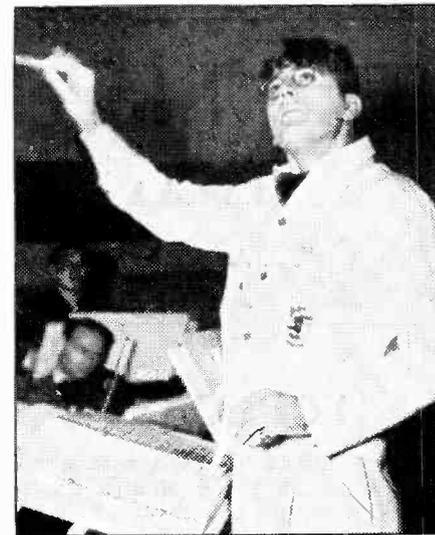

Joe Crowley, Toledo, Ohio

● If Mr. Lancaster and Mr. Crowley wish to continue their debate with one another, and if other Gershwin enthusiasts wish to get in on it, here are their addresses: Joseph Lancaster, Battle Mountain, Nev.; Joe Crowley, 3160 W. Bancroft St.—V. O. L.

Fuel for Hot-Stove League

Dear V. O. L.:

When I read about the exclusive right to broadcast the world's series being granted to the Mutual system and the Gillette Razor Co., I thought it was a dirty shame. Maybe it's a scoop, and maybe the sponsor is smart, but I, for one fan, will resent the sport classic being thus tied up. I have a favorite announcer that I won't be able to hear. I'm sure there are many other fans who want to get the series on a favorite sta-

Howard M. Burrige, Kansas City, Mo.

Medal for Meredith

Dear V. O. L.:

Meredith Willson deserves a medal from music-lovers for his brilliant act of commissioning outstanding American composers to write special works in classic forms for the "Good News of 1940" series.

War Songs

Dear V. O. L.:

I like Frank Munn, but when he sang "Till We Meet Again" recently, it seemed to spoil the whole program. With all the unrest in the world, why present songs of our last war?

The constant hope of this department for more and better piano music on the air (instead of some of the constant and inferior vocalism) seems to be bearing fruit. Currently there are excellent keyboard artists on the air, notably women—Vera Brodsky, Nadia Reisenberg, Henrietta Schumann.

Now comes a gifted male, the young Polish virtuoso, Mieczyslaw Munz, who made extensive American tours a few seasons ago, but later spent some years in Europe.

Liszt's "Funerailles" (from his set of fourteen "Harmonies Poetical and Religious") is funeral music, as its name implies. Sombre, sorrowing strains intermingle with those of sweet pity and the piece ends in a sort of solemn march. An effective version for two pianos has been made by the veteran Emil Sauer (pupil of Liszt), who at the age of 77 is still teaching in Vienna, and making public appearances throughout Europe on the concert platform.

Wallenstein does better in the way of novelty by his Sinfonietta programs than by his NBC concerts. It can only be presumed that when he makes his MBS lists, he considers the listeners whom he has lifted to his own taste and standards, while on the other network he realizes that he is performing preponderantly for hearers of more diversified preferences.

All the music of this evening is quite familiar to symphonic dialists, with the possible exception of the Schumann item. Georg is his first name, and he is no relation to the more eminent Robert. Born 1866 in Saxony, the lesser Schumann ranks worthy, being considered a dignified and sound craftsman. "Amor and Psyche" (for chorus and orchestra) tells the mythological story of the nymph who married Cupid (Amor) and was punished with death by Venus, but granted immortality by Jupiter at the request of Psyche's bereaved bridegroom. Schumann's best-known score is the orchestral "Variations on a Merry Theme."

Ford Sunday Evening Hour, CBS. Detroit Symphony Orchestra; Eugene Ormandy, conductor; Lawrence Tibbett, baritone. Overture to "Russian and Ludmilla" (Glinka), the Orchestra; "I Am A Roamer Bold" from "Son and Stranger" (Mendelssohn), Lawrence Tibbett; Air on the G String (Bach), the Orchestra; The Wanderer, The Erlking (Schubert), Lawrence Tibbett; Prelude in C Sharp Major (Rachmaninoff), the Orchestra; Opening Chorus from "The Bartered Bride" (Smetana), Chorus and Orchestra; De Lawd's Baptizin' (Guion), Lawrence Tibbett, Chorus and Orchestra; Czardas Rhapsody (Zador), the Orchestra; God the Omnipotent (Lwoff).

Tibbett forgets the serious opera examples for once and shows some singing facets which probably have a far more popular appeal than the baritone arias for the lyric stage.

Mendelssohn's "Son and Stranger" (1829) is a comic opera or operetta, whose music has fallen into disuse with the exception of the present rousing number.

To many, Schubert's two songs selected by Tibbett tonight are the dramatically greatest of that composer. "The Wanderer" with his pitiful quest for the land of hope and where the dead live again; and "The Erlking," describing the tragic night ride of the father with his dying child hysterically frightened by the phantoms of the forest. The "Wanderer" was written in 1816, one year after "Erlking," Schubert's first published song!

Bach's universally known violin piece was originally factured by him as a movement in his Suite No. 3 for string orchestra. August Wilhelmj then transcribed the "Air" as a solo, and in that form it became an abiding favorite with music-lovers everywhere.

Sinfonietta, MBS. Alfred Wallenstein, conductor. Overture to "Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn), Concerto for Clarinet (Henry Brant), Ralph McLean, soloist; Divertissement (Ibert).

Twenty-six years old, Henry D. Brant was born in Canada, but preferentially lives in the United States, where he made nearly all his musical studies (Juilliard School) and won several composition contest prizes. At present Brant is active chiefly as a pianist, orchestrator and writer of scores for Hollywood films.

The Brant works are distinctly in the idiom of the day, which means that less emphasis is laid on melody and romantic atmosphere than on rhythmic patterns and unconventional harmonies. He also has humor, as evidenced by some of his other essays, like "Galloping Colloquy," "Handorgan Music" and "Five and Ten Cents Store Music."

It is good to see that Brant adds to the sparse clarinet concerto repertoire, which has not been greatly enriched since the time of Handel, when the instrument first began to resemble its modern form and character. The reedy tone of the clarinet is especially adaptable to plaintive and pastoral music, but is by no means devoid of gaiety. Mozart first introduced the instrument into the symphony orchestra.

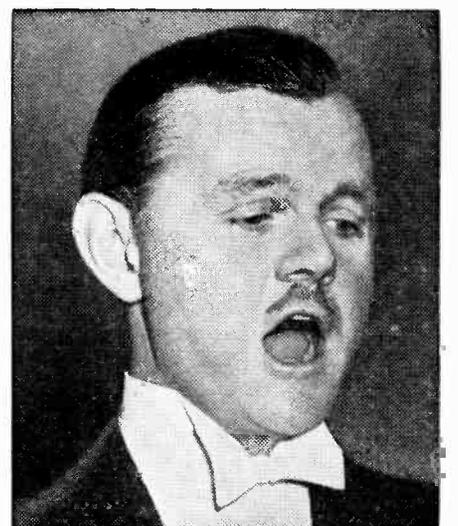

Jacques Ibert (born 1890) directs the French Academy in Rome, where winners of the Paris Conservatoire annual first prize for composition go for several years of studious leisure and further artistic creation. Ibert's music has tunefulness, charm and fancy.

Music in War

By Leonard Liebbling

WITH Americans intensely concerned over the current happenings in Europe, radio of course serves a leading role as reporter for us. So much so that the studios boldly interrupt any program on the air in order to broadcast the latest important news from abroad.

It was strange last week to be peacefully enjoying a symphony or a concerto, have the music suddenly fade out, the announcer relay his significant message and the loudspeaker then calmly resume the musical performance. Just as disturbing as the interruption to good music occurred when a European promulgation would cut into a trivial song or band piece (one had to endure them to keep the station dialed), with the cheap music bursting in again callously after the speaking. It gave me an added shock to get the news that way of the sinking of the first British steamship.

Music always is the sufferer when war engages the chief attention of nations. The younger composers and performers are called to the colors, the older do local service; or, if exempted, find it difficult to carry on art activities with any high degree of enthusiasm. In the World War, concerts and operas continued desultorily in all the warring capitals even while fighting was at its hottest on the battlefield. Of course, Germans exiled the music of their enemies, and the Allies, in part, retaliated similarly. However, England, proverbially temperate, calmly went on with Wagner productions although New York banned them completely from the stage.

War brings a general revival of established national anthems and airs, but it also encourages the composition of countless new so-called "patriotic" songs, most of them devised not to express the sentiment of the writers but to induce purchasing by the war-stirred public. England has just two or three worth-while ballads dating from 1914-18, and America possesses one, George Cohan's "Over There."

Transatlantic musical broadcasts will be few in number if the war continues abroad, and naturally some of the visiting European artists usually heard here on the air may not be able to leave their native countries if they happened to be there at the outbreak of hostilities. So far, no serious absences from the microphones on account of war are in prospect.

One thing for American music-lovers to remember is that our country must remain neutral in tonal matters as in all others. German artists who might be playing, singing and conducting here did not put Hitler in power. Nor did the German composers, past or present. In fact, Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, Mozart and Wagner never even heard of the Fuehrer.

Speaking Up

By V. Vidal

UPPERMOST in everyone's mind these days is the war and its effect on our daily lives. Coming as it did just before the beginning of the musical season, it caught most of the artists performing and vacationing in Europe. Many will undoubtedly be forced to remain abroad, although a large part of them are already on their way back to America.

John Barbirolli, an Englishman by birth, took out his first American citizenship papers in April, 1938. Whether this will exempt him from service in the British army is not yet known. However, he arrived here with his bride on September 5, and for the time being, anyway, will remain.

Toscanini is in Switzerland, and of course has given up his plan to fly back via the Atlantic Clipper. He will probably cross on an Italian boat later this month.

Bartlett and Robertson, two-piano team, are British subjects and are at present in England. Rae Robertson is a reserve officer and may have to serve.

Rose Bampton and Wilfred Pelletier also arrived September 5. Pelletier is Canadian, which might complicate matters for him. Reginald Stewart, conductor of the Toronto Promenade Concerts, is another Canadian who may be called.

Two sopranos, Hilda Burke and Anna Kaskas, are in Belgium and France, respectively, trying frantically to come back.

Robert Casadesus, French pianist, is a reservist in the French army, and two young Frenchmen who were to make their debuts with the Philharmonic this winter will probably be prevented from doing so. Both Emil Baume, pianist, and Zino Francescatti, violinist, are young enough to be sent to the front.

Lauritz Melchior left Germany just before the declaration of war and will return here from Denmark. Kirsten Flagstad is out of harm's way at her estate in Norway. Grace Moore is already back home. Ernest Schelling, recently remarried, is at his home in Switzerland and plans to be in New York sometime this month. Rudolph Serkin, Adolf Busch, Ria Ginster, Nicola Moscona and Elisabeth Reihberg are also in Switzerland. It was a lucky break for music that Lucerne held a music festival just at this time.

Practically all of the Italian singers of the Metropolitan are in Italy and should have no trouble in reaching America. Likewise Russians, Roumanians and Hungarians are free to come to America. However, many German artists are understandably keeping under cover and their managers refuse to give out any information about them.

Men Behind the Music

This Week: FRANK BLACK

TIME was when the world thought it sufficiently marvelous for a man to play one musical instrument. A good violinist was regarded with respect and no little awe. No one expected him to do more than be expert on his own particular instrument.

Things, however, have changed. Nowadays, to get any attention, a musician must have the versatility of a quick-change artist, the financial acumen of a Morgan and the adaptability of a chameleon. He has to know how to play at least one instrument, be a good conductor, arranger, orchestrator and transcriber. And all this, mind you, relatives threw up their hands in horror at such an outcropping of sinfulness in the family. But Black went on his way in spite of them. As a student at the University of Pennsylvania, he majored in chemistry and studied piano in his spare time with the great Rafael Joseffy. He took his bachelor-of-science degree probably as a Quaker precaution in case music let him down. He even accepted a job as a chemist in Harrisburg. But a friend was opening a roof-garden and needed a pianist, so Pennsylvania struggled along with one chemist less. Chemistry reappeared briefly in Black's life two years later,

—William Haussler

Frank Black, seen here with Madame Nazimova, is in charge of everything pertaining to music at NBC. He believes, simply, that music is either good or bad and that good jazz is better than bad opera for both jazz and the classics. He must know just how tough he can get with a union orchestra and how pleasant he should be with the boss. He has to gauge the musical radio taste of a whole country and try to keep everybody happy. Add a good golf score and a healthy passion for prize-fighting, and you have the "very pattern of a modern good musician." You also have a speaking likeness of Frank Jeremiah Black, music director for the National Broadcasting Company.

Early in his career—he was probably about eleven—he decided that there were no such distinctions as "classical" and "popular" music. Music was good or bad, take it or leave it. Good jazz was better than bad opera. So, although he went right ahead and got himself the best musical education he could, he never lost sight of the new music which was rapidly putting America on the musical map. Several years of touring as a boy soprano with the St. Clements Choir of Philadelphia, his native town, resigned his parents to his chosen career. His father was in the ice-cream and dairy business, but sensibly agreed that milk and cream were insipid compared to music. Some of Black's Quaker when he served in the chemical warfare service in the World War. He hasn't looked at a test-tube since.

The next fifteen years made him the Houdini of music. Starting with arrangements of popular songs for vaudeville acts, he did accompanying, transcribing, composing, conducting (for a time under Erno Rapee), orchestrating, piano-playing, made phonograph records and broadcast. Broadway producers knew him as one of the best musical-comedy directors in the business. Jazz composers and performers flocked to him for arrangements. The brilliant piano team of Ohmann and Arden owe much of their success to Black's arrangements. And what he did with the Revelers Quartet still has musicians blinking. He took male quartets out of the barber-shop class and made them a concert-hall attraction. By using voices as orchestral instruments, he brought out unique coloring and dynamic effects. Musical connoisseurs discovered the Revelers, and their records set a standard which has never yet been equaled.

At the same time, Black kept a shrewd eye out for business. He (Continued on Page 44)

Short-wave programs of American stations are shown along with the regular listings beginning on page 16. These are indicated for example by (su-11.87) in parentheses following a program listing. This means that on 11.87 megacycles the same program may also be heard over an American short-wave station. Please note that foreign stations do not always adhere precisely to their announced program schedules.

NOTICE: The Daily Programs and programs for Saturday, September 23, are listed in Eastern Daylight Time. For EST and CDT subtract 1 hour; CST, 2 hours; MST, 3 hours; PST, 4 hours. All other programs are listed in Eastern Standard Time to conform with the return to Standard Time in some sections of the country.

Due to war conditions now existing in Europe, all programs from European countries are tentative and are subject to change without notice.

On Short Waves

Edited by Chas. A. Morrison

President, International DX'ers Alliance

Times given are Eastern Standard Time. For CST subtract 1 hour; MST, 2 hours; PST, 3 hours

SEVERAL regular programs featured in the North American transmissions from England and Germany supplement the daily news periods by giving more detailed and interesting pictures of what is actually happening in wartime Europe. For example, in this week's programs from London we have: On Monday, September 25, at 11:15 p.m. EST, "Empire Exchange," talks by travelers from the Dominions and Colonies, radiated by GSC and GSD; on Tuesday, September 26, at 11:15 p.m. EST, "Food for Thought," a topical talk radiated by GSC and GSD; on Wednesday, September 27, at 11:15 a.m. EST, "World Affairs," a talk by H. V. Hodson, radiated by GSG; on Thursday, September 28, at 7:45 p.m. EST, a topical discussion entitled, "Cards on the Table," radiated by GSD, and on Friday, September 29, at 11:15 p.m. EST, a talk entitled, "More Food for Thought," radiated by GSC and GSD.

In this week's programs from Berlin, we find: Daily at 7:30 p.m. EST, "Today in Germany," which presents short recordings of speeches or events of interest recorded during the day; on Wednesday, September 27, at 7:45 p.m. EST, and on Thursday, September 28, at 9 p.m. EST, press reviews in English, given by Hans Fritzsche, all three programs radiated by DJB and DJD. Of similar nature, from Italy, Fridays at approximately 8:15 p.m. EST, a feature presented by Amy Bernardy, called, "Rome's Midnight Voice," is radiated by stations 2R03, 2R04, 2R06 and 2R08.

According to the French Consul General in New York City, "Paris Mondial," is now transmitting with a power of approximately 100,000 watts. GSW (7.23), Daventry's new frequency, is now in use daily from 6 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. EST. According to A. R. Tuff of London, England, a new Polish station called Niepokalanow has recently been broadcasting on Sundays from 1 to 2 p.m. EST, over a frequency of 7.28 megacycles. Despite widely circulated reports to the contrary, OZG (11.805), the 25-meter band frequency of the Danish short-wave station has not radiated since August 10, 1937. Robert Froelich of Evansville, Ind., writes he tuned in one of the experimental tests of the new Luxembourg short-wave transmitter broadcast on a frequency of 11.782 megs, between 10 and 11 p.m. EST. The announcements were in English, French, German and Spanish.

French announcer Joseph Pauze, heard over short-wave station WGEA (15.33)

SHORT-WAVE SHORTS: Enrique Hidalgo of Cienfuegos, Cuba, notifies me that a new 5,000-watt Cuban station, COHI (6.45), located at Santa Clara, was officially inaugurated on September 1. KGEI on Treasure Island, in San Francisco Bay, Calif., is now broadcasting daily from midnight to 3 a.m. EST, on a new frequency of 6.19 megs. The new Siberian station on 15.39 megs, is said to be RV99 of Irkutsk. The short-wave transmitters of the Lawrence Thaw trans-Asiatic Expedition, which left Paris some weeks ago for a 14,000 mile motor trip through Istanbul, Damascus, Baghdad, Herat, the Khyber Pass, Delhi and Calcutta, are licensed to use the calls W10XJP, W10XJQ, W10XJR and W10XJS, on frequencies of 3.4925 and 31.14 megs. Amateur transmissions from the New York World's Fair, sponsored by the "W2USA Radio Club," are now being made on Fridays at 9:45 p.m. EST. The 160-meter transmitter at the Fair is operated exclusively by blind operators from the New York Institute for the Education of the Blind. Even though the strength of its signals would seem to indicate it as a phony station, most listeners agree that VQ8JM (14.11), located at Port Louis on the remote island of Mauritius, is a legitimate amateur transmitter.

WHILE WE LISTEN...

The 2nd World War Begins!

HAVE you ever thought how close we are to Europe's battles? So close, indeed, that we can hear a man breathe in Paris. So close that we can hear the rustle of a paper in Berlin. Behind the French or German or English voice in our parlor is a vast and complicated arrangement of wires, men, and routines. The photodiagram below shows the basic plan. For illustration we show an NBC hook-up with London. Each country needs two radio stations, one to receive messages and one to send.

Assume that NBC in New York is ready to broadcast as a network feature a news commentator in London. The hour has been set by prearrangement, usually through private radio correspondence. But now the time is here. Broadcasting does not waste minutes.

London's cue to start talking is "Now we take you to London" (how many times you have heard that these last weeks). In Radio City, an NBC announcer says the words. They travel by telephone wire to an RCA sending station at Rocky Point, Long Island. There they are converted into radio waves and hurled toward England.

London's receiving station picks up the ether impulses, transfers them to a land wire which goes into Broadcasting House. NBC's Fred Bate or John Gunther hears the cue. He starts his broadcast.

Now what happens is this. The London voice goes to a powerful short-wave sending station by telephone wire, thence into the air, where it is "beamed" toward America by specially constructed aerials.

At Riverhead, Long Island, the RCA receiving station picks it up, carries it by land wire back to Radio City. NBC then feeds the program to any or all of the hundred or so phone wires which lead to broadcasting stations in every American city. Thus you hear London, or Berlin, or Paris. Thus you shudder and say to yourself fervently and with conviction, "We must stay out. We must stay OUT."

Above is a photodiagram of the method used by American broadcasters who, for the first time in history, have enabled our nation to eavesdrop on European quarrels. For details of how these broadcasts are done, read above

THESE 16 MEN MUST KEEP

Frederick Bate, NBC, London

Thomas B. Grandin, CBS, Paris

Sigrid Schultz, MBS, Berlin

Raymond Gram Swing, MBS, N. Y.

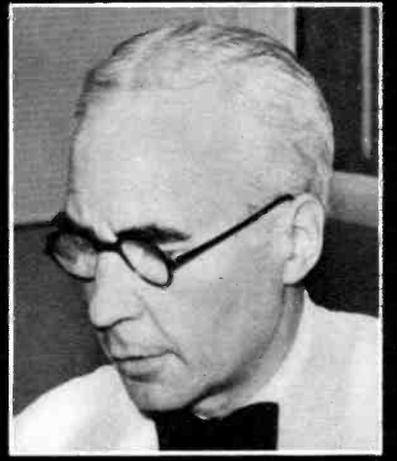

Baukhage, NBC, Berlin

Paul Sullivan, CBS, London

H. V. Kaltenborn, CBS, New York

Elmer Davis, CBS, New York

Edward R. Murgow, CBS, London

William L. Shirer, CBS, Berlin

John Gunther, NBC, at large

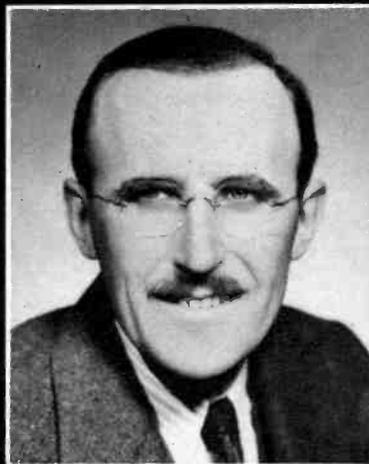

Max Jordan, NBC, at large

John Steele, MBS, London

Paul Archinard, NBC, Paris

Albert Warner, CBS, Washington

Fulton Lewis, MBS, Washington

US OUT OF WAR!

THESE sixteen men, located in the important centers of a war-torn world, are the eyes and ears of America. Our decision—war or peace—will be made largely upon their observation. By objective reporting, they can—and MUST—keep us out.

1. BATE, Chicago-born and associated nine years with the Reparations Commission in Austria, Paris, Geneva, has deep understanding of roads to war

2. GRANDIN brings to his job a complete familiarity with French, German attitudes and aims gained at universities of Paris, Berlin, Austria

3. MISS SCHULTZ, though not a man, has been doing—and well—a man's job. This Chicago-trained newswoman knows international law and politics

4. SWING is another Chicago newspaperman whose background for job includes newspaper work in Berlin, diplomatic missions for Col. House

5. BAUKHAGE, of German descent, studied in Berlin, did newspaper work in Paris, London, Washington; is brilliant linguist, a curt commentator

6. SULLIVAN will be new to most listeners, but as a national commentator much of his comment will deal with the effect of war on America

7. KALTENBORN, of German parentage, has insight into German thought which makes his comment and forecast of things to come worth hearing

8. DAVIS, brilliant Hoosier author and New York Times staff writer, knows Europe from important writing assignments over past fifteen years

9. MURROW, of Washington, has more contacts abroad than any other broadcaster, is admirably fitted to head Columbia's European news staff

10. SHIRER was Iowa's gift to radio world. As a newspaperman, has covered assignments throughout Europe, was in Vienna during "anschluss"

11. GUNTHER is a noted war correspondent and author whose successful book, "Inside Europe," amply demonstrates knowledge of war scene

12. JORDAN, son of an Austrian chemist, grew up all over Europe as his father followed his work. He knows Europe as few Americans do

13. STEELE, Irish-born journalist with newspaper experience in New York and London for past fifteen years, heads Mutual's news staff in Europe

14. PAUL ARCHINARD, Paris-born, Cleveland-trained newspaperman, covers wartime Paris for NBC, has wide experience as announcer abroad

15. WARNER, a long-time Washington correspondent, New Yorker by birth, is covering Washington for effects of European war in this country

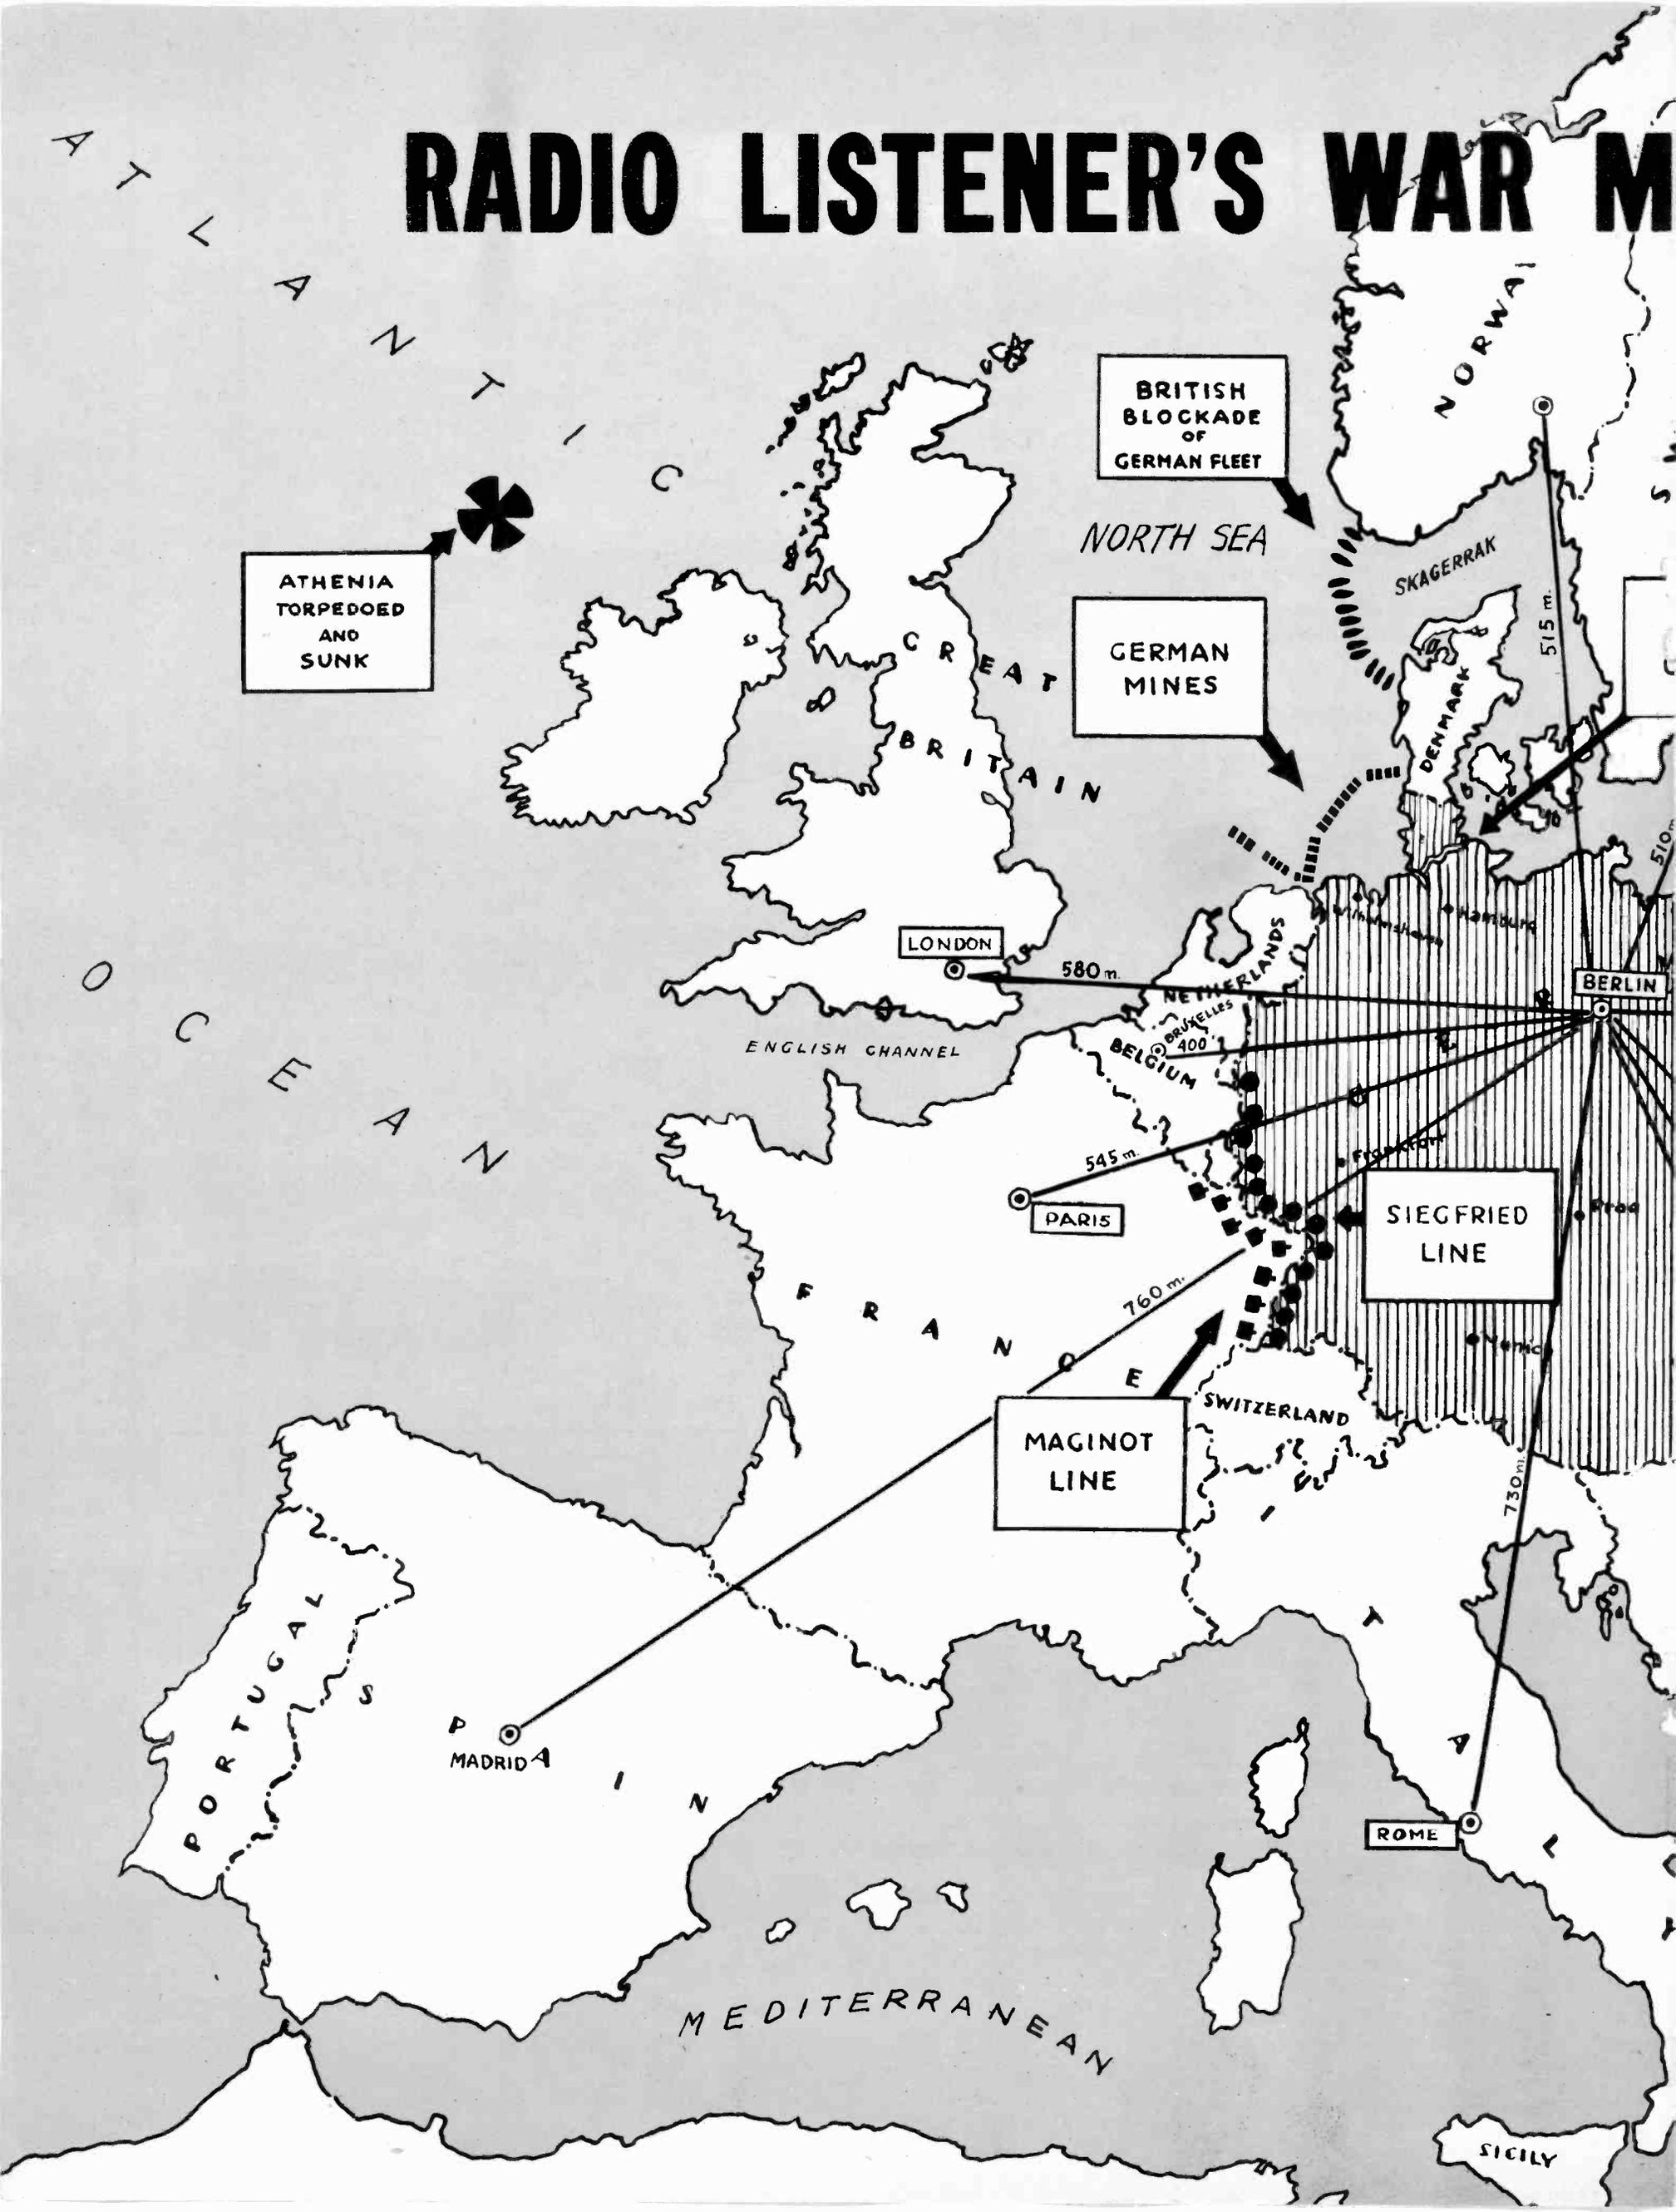

16. LEWIS, who also keeps a weather eye peeled in Washington for war effects, is a long-time capital newspaperman, a pioneer radio reporter

—Wide World Photograph

The enemy is within striking distance of Washington . . . but only in war games. Whether this will actually happen here depends largely upon the radio reporters at left

RADIO LISTENER'S WAR M

MAP OF EUROPE

RADIO'S NEWS DAY NUMBER 1

MOST stupendous day of all time for radio listeners came Sunday, September 3. Then, they heard, in rifle-shot sequence, these world-shaking events:

1. Declaration of war against Germany.
2. Address by the King of England.
3. Speech by Prime Minister Chamberlain.
4. Speech by President Franklin Roosevelt.
5. Speech by Premier King of Canada.
6. News of the sinking of the Athenia.

From that calamitous day, people have listened or will listen to propaganda blasts, ultimatums, surrenders, battles in progress—all the bloody trappings of war! For this reason Radio Guide offers here a radio map of Europe, showing battle positions and military strengths. Maps of Poland and Western Front will follow if war continues.

OFF to the village for an evening paper go Melton and his mother in two-cylinder Oldsmobile of 1902 vintage. And a quaint—if noiseful—picture they make

JAMES MELTON COLLECTS OLD AUTOS

—CBS Photographs

THE 1904 COVERT-CHAINLESS, above, just goes to prove that there is nothing new under the sun, for, as Melton points out, the new-fangled gearshift-on-wheel development of today was a part of its make-up

FAMILY MOTORING a la 1910! At right, Melton takes his wife (beside him), mother-in-law and mother (back seat, l. to r.) out in a five-passenger White. It is a bright maroon, has windshield, two horns

WHILE most successful radio stars concentrate on collecting the newest streamlined product of the automobile manufacturer's art, James Melton, tenor of the Ford "Summer Hour" (CBS), a series which was discontinued in favor of the "Sunday Evening Hour" on September 24, turns his enthusiasms loose upon this flock of aged rattle-traps. But, we beg your pardon, Mr. Melton. No rattle-traps are these, but each of them has been thoroughly reconditioned and runs like new. As a matter of fact, Mr. Melton does most of the work upon them in his spare time. One of the weird sights that the Connecticut countryside—where Melton lives—has to offer is a one-cylinder De Dion Bouton, built in 1898, plugging along a highway built for the likes of Sir Malcolm Campbell with Melton at the wheel.

"ME FOR THE RUMBLE SEAT!" says the Boston terrier. And sure enough, this doggy carryall does have a rumble seat . . . in front. This one-cylinder, water-cooled De Dion Bouton, imported from France in 1898, is the oldest car in the Melton collection

"LET IT RAIN!" Ready to brave whatever elements may come, James Melton, unperturbed, sits shug as a bug in a rug at the wheel of his Stanley Steamer, Model "70," 1910, in photograph at left

THE WAY TO A GIRL'S HEART

KEN MURRAY of "Texaco Theater" (CBS, Wednesday night) feels that food—and especially celery—is the way to a girl's heart. So, above, he is found "stalking" lovely and petite movie star Mary Brian

SOME GLAMOUR GIRLS feel that to be photographed eating celery would detract from their glamour, but not Rochelle Hudson, below, who proves that she is alluring even while crunching the noisy but tasty sprout

SHIRLEY ROSS (Mrs. Ken Dolan) also fell for Ken—but not Ken Murray—shortly after the romantic picture above was taken

EVEN the married glamour gals munch celery and, below, Harriet Hilliard (Mrs. Ozzie Nelson) proves she is no mean celery-muncher

Red-Headed Warbler

DOROTHY JANETTE DAVIS (Janette Davis of "Avalon Time") first started radio work at the age of 14, when she was starred on a program for a Memphis furniture firm. At 17 she was singing for Memphis radio stations and signed her first contract a year later. This contract took her to a station at Shreveport, La. Station WLW sent for Janette a year and a half ago and brought her up from the southern states to Cincinnati. When "Avalon Time" was transferred to the NBC Chicago studios Janette came to Chicago, where she is now.

Janette's father, a lumberman, has always been the possessor of a fine tenor voice, but has always been too occupied to use it professionally. However, he had hopes his family might have musical or dramatic inclinations. He got his wish—all eight of 'em are following one or the other.

Born in the year of 1918, Janette has auburn hair, dark-brown eyes, a fair complexion, stands five feet four inches, and is unmarried. For relaxation, Janette likes to climb into a car and drive for hours. She doesn't mind audience programs, but she demands solitude while rehearsing. During a broadcast, she balances on her left foot, clasps her hands behind her and forgets everything but singing.

Her hobby is collecting recordings and Janette will dance all evening long and enjoy it.

Today, as never before, Radio Guide is the most important publication you can buy. Keep informed. Keep up to date. Follow events in Europe with the radio analysts in London, Paris, and Berlin.

Star Sparkles...

Barry Wood, CBS baritone, was one of the country's foremost aquatic athletes. For three years, while at Yale, he was selected as an all-American water-polo player. He also was on the Yale swimming team which set several world's relay records.

Max Marcin, author of the "Johnny Presents" dramatizations, is the author of many Broadway stage hits.

Whenever a singer on "Johnny Presents" does a vocal of a song written by Johnny Green, the latter accompanies the vocalist on the piano.

Don Voorhees, maestro on the "Ford Summer Hour," likes nothing better than to revive numbers from old musical shows. He gives them the flourish and dash associated with their interpretation by pit orchestras in their original setting. Voorhees knows how it's done, as he batonered many of the Broadway hits. An Earl Carroll "Vanities" was not complete in those days without Don Voorhees as the bandleader.

John Scott Trotter and Kay Kyser both went to the University of North Carolina together, and they get quite a kick out of reminiscing about the campus days. Trotter at the time was playing in an orchestra which was conducted by another college lad, Hal Kemp. When Kemp left for New York he turned the band over to Kyser.

Jan Savitt, NBC maestro, began his music career at the age of six under the tutelage of Carl Flesch, one of the greatest violin teachers of the time.

Ken Griffin, NBC leading man, has been active in radio since 1919. He started in radio at the age of twelve as a "ham" and acquired one of the first operator's licenses granted in Oklahoma. The next year he got a license for a radio station, the first commercial station in his home town of Enid, Oklahoma, and operated its controls.

Louise Tobin, vocalist with Benny Goodman's orchestra, has been singing with dance bands for four years. At the age of sixteen she won a beauty contest in her home town, Dallas, Texas, and as a prize was offered a trip to New York or a week's engagement at a local theater. She chose the latter and it proved to be the start of her career. She has never had a singing-lesson.

CJOR-Life Can Be Beautiful

He Knows Sports

Stan Lomax (Henry Stanley Lomax) has participated in enough games to supply himself with an excellent background for his sports announcing. He played baseball, football and basketball in Bethlehem, Pa., as a member of Moravian and Bethlehem prep teams; played baseball with Cascadilla School in Ithaca, New York; played pro basketball with various teams in Bethlehem and Geneva; played on the Rugby team at the time he was a member of the Royal Air Force during the Great War; played football at Cornell and Hobart, and played pro ball in West Virginia in the Coal League.

Lomax started broadcasting as Ford Frick's assistant in 1930 over WOR. He took over Ford's program in 1934, when Ford became president of the National League. Stan has broadcast many important sports events over the air, including Yale football games, Giant football fracas and opening-day baseball.

Born in Pittsburgh, Pa., on May 20, 1899, Lomax now stands five feet eight inches and weighs 180 pounds. He has blue eyes and brown hair. Stan is happily married and has one heir, eleven months old, who carries the same tag as his pop.

As for favorites, Stan ranks his favorite hobby as traveling; favorite sport is baseball; favorite likes include an hour-and-thirty-minute ball game; favorite dislikes include three-hour-and-thirty-minute ball games; favorite dish is a huge platter of jumbo frogs legs.

Everyone's Friend

TED MALONE never receives a "fan letter" (according to him)! When asked questions about his mail he always asserts that none of his letters are from fans, that they are all from friends.

Ted was christened Frank Alden Russell when he arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arthur Russell in Colorado Springs, Colorado, on May 18, 1908. It was in 1927, when he had his first professional encounter with a microphone—at Station KMBC, Kansas City, as the left half of a harmony team—that, wishing to hide his family name, he asked the announcer to supply one. Since then he has been Ted Malone.

Malone attended William Jewell College at Liberty, Mo., and after he was graduated became a regular broadcaster over KMBC, announcing and writing sketches.

One day he had to fill in some time on the air. He read at random from books, magazines and newspapers picked up from his desk. The next day he was deluged with mail from fans who wanted more of the same type of reading he had given so casually. That was how "Between the Bookends" started. It became so popular that Ted was brought to New York for his broadcasts in 1936. With him was his childhood sweetheart, Verlia Mae Short, whom he had married in 1930, and the new object of their affections, daughter Verlia Elaine, better known as "Bubbles."

Ted is five feet nine inches tall, has blue eyes, blond hair and weighs 165 pounds. His pet hate is—formal clothes.

Kid Brother Jim

JIM AMECHE, "Hollywood Playhouse" star, has a voice which is often confused with that of his brother, Don. Born in Kenosha, Wisconsin, August 6, 1915, Jim was educated in the Badger State, winning a high-school state championship in oratory just a few months before an audition at the NBC Chicago studios started him on his career as a radio star.

Always an admirer of his big brother, Jim had thought little about acting until Don phoned him one day in July, 1933, and urged him to come on down to Chicago to audition for a juvenile role in a daily radio serial. He came, he auditioned, he won. From August, 1933, until November, 1937, Jim continued to play only the juvenile role in a daytime serial. In November, 1937, however, he was given a chance to play leads in "Grand Hotel," the show which had once starred Don. He made good, was signed to a contract, and on January 3, 1938, began playing in "Attorney-At-Law." On July 2 of this year he replaced Charles Boyer in the male lead role of "Hollywood Playhouse."

Jim is five feet eight and one-half inches tall, weighs 140 pounds, has a medium complexion, dark-brown hair and brown eyes. He is married, has a son, James Peter Ameche, Jr., one and one-half years old.

Jim Ameche, Sr., likes nothing better than looking at new cars in automobile shows, spends much of his spare time at movies and walking in the park with his two dogs. He is fond of football, swimming and spaghetti.

Star Sparkles...

Frank Munn, tenor star of the "American Album of Familiar Music" program, has never in all his years in radio sung on a program which was not commercially sponsored.

Music College's Offspring

GENEVIEVE ROWE, brown-eyed songbird, was born August 28, 1909, in Fremont, Ohio. Music College in Wooster, Ohio, is the predominant school in Genevieve's life. Her father is an accomplished organist and dean of the college, her mother is a professor of theory at the same school. It was at this college that Genevieve was educated—and where she met her husband.

Genevieve later studied with Yeatsman Griffith and Sidney Deitch and has been a fellowship holder at the Juilliard Graduate Opera School. In 1929 she won the National Atwater Kent Contest, in 1932 the McDowell Club Award, in 1933 the National Federation of Music Clubs' Biennial Contest, and in 1934 she made her debut in New York City's Town Hall.

Tennis is Miss Rowe's favorite sport. She stands five feet five inches, weighs 116 pounds. Genevieve speaks English, French and Italian, likes to eat spaghetti on the nights she broadcasts, and despises men who smoke cigars!

Star Sparkles...

In the sixteen years that they have been known as the "Sweethearts of the Air" May Singhi Breen and Peter de Rose have been absent from the airwaves for only three weeks.

Milt Herth, organmaster, says that he learned to imitate many unusual sounds with an organ when he played the organ accompaniment in a silent-picture theater in his home town, Kenosha, Wisconsin.

DISCARD YOUR OLD AERIAL

It is Most Likely Corroded and Has Poor or Loose Noisy Connections
No MORE BUZZES, CLICKS and shorts from summer rains and winter snow and sleet when using an F & H Capacity Aerial Eliminator. Anyone can connect it in a moment's time to the radio set—occupies only 1 1/2 inch by 4 inch space behind the set, yet enables your radio to operate without an aerial and tune in stations over the entire broadcast band frequencies and short wave channels.

ELIMINATE THE AERIAL FOR GOOD

Attach this unit to your radio—make your set complete in itself—forget aerial wires and troubles—move your set anywhere—no more roof climbing, unsightly lead-in or aerial wires.

NOT NEW—VALUE ALREADY PROVED

On the market five years. 100,000 customers in U.S. and foreign countries.
In use from the Arctic Region of Norway to the Tropics of Africa. Each factory tested on actual long distance reception. Cannot harm set—Easily connected to any radio, including radios having no ground or radios for doublet aerial. Note: It will not operate on battery or automobile radios.

5 DAYS TRIAL

Mail coupon at once. Pay postman $1.00 plus a few pennies postage on delivery. If not entirely satisfied, return within five days and your dollar will be refunded without question.

JUST MAIL THIS COUPON:

F & H Radio Laboratories, Dept. 102, Fargo, N. Dak.
Send F & H Capacity Aerial. Will pay postman $1 plus few cents postage. If not pleased will return within 5 days for $1 refund. Check here if sending $1 with order—thus saving postage cost—same refund guaranteed. Check here if interested in dealer's proposition.

Musician—Strictly American

WALTER BLAUFUSS, conductor-composer, is known as the originator of the salon type orchestra in the Middle West. Blaufuss, who was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on July 26, 1883, was a child piano prodigy, for at the age of ten he was touring the country as a soloist. At fifteen he had composed two numbers, "Coon Frolics" and "Chicago Rag." He acquired his entire musical education in America, studying the various branches under the nation's leading teachers.

Blaufuss possesses one of the most complete music libraries in his territory, and is a composer of note. "Your Eyes Have Told Me So" sold over two and one-half million copies. "My Isle of Golden Dreams" almost duplicated this performance.

There is a story behind this latter song. Before it came to him, Walter had been thinking of the tune vaguely for several weeks. One night his sleep was fitful—he had eaten a Welsh rarebit the evening before. The lapping of waves on the shore of Lake Michigan outside his window seemed to suggest the composition that was running through his mind. He rose from bed and in fifteen minutes had finished the piece.

In spare moments Blaufuss plays the piano for recreation. He has black hair, brown eyes, stands five feet ten inches tall and weighs 165 pounds. He is married and belongs to a half-dozen Chicago clubs.

Star Sparkles...

Johnny Green, orchestra-leader on the "Johnny Presents" programs, entered Harvard University at the age of fifteen, the same year he made his debut in radio. He has been active in radio ever since.

Lucille Manners, soprano star of the Cities Service Concerts, is one of the busiest girls in radio. She spends approximately thirty hours a week going over musical scores and rehearsing for her Friday program. Besides this she is studying French, Italian and German and taking dancing-lessons.

OLD BOOKS WANTED

We pay big cash prices for thousands of different titles. We bought over 7,500 books in past twenty-one months, and have paid as high as $500.00 for a single book. For example, we will pay you cash for the following books as described in our price list:

- Pilgrim's Progress $4,000.00
- Adventures of Tom Sawyer 200.00
- Old Swinmin' Hole 75.00
- Black Beauty 100.00
- Treasure Island 50.00
- Scarlet Letter 35.00
- Venus and Adonis 5,000.00
- Snow-Bound 45.00
- Uncle Tom's Cabin 50.00
- Leaves of Grass 250.00
- Ben Hur 25.00
- Last of the Mohicans 50.00
- Moby Dick 100.00
- Little Women 25.00
- McGuffey Primer 100.00
- Tamerlane & Other Poems 5,000.00

These are but a few of the many thousands of books we want. DON'T SEND BOOKS until you have checked our latest list giving full information. Don't delay—a single old school book, story book, Bible, poetry, history travel, almanac, newspapers, letters, autograph, etc. may bring you $25, $50, $100, $500 or even $5,000 cash for certain books. Better investigate NOW. Send 10c to the American Book Mart, 140 S. Dearborn St., Dept. 9901, Chicago, and we will send you latest list of old books we want to buy and cash prices we will pay.

opened a piano-roll factory, playing most of the rolls himself under twenty different aliases, most of them ending artistically in "sky." He stocked up on paper to manufacture the rolls, and when the price of paper soared sold the business at a tidy profit. His numerous musical activities brought him in twice as much. But more important, they taught him a thorough knowledge of his profession. Because he had none of the scorn of a highbrow for lowbrow music, he made use of every job he filled to learn more. All of it was unconscious preparation for the big job of music director, succeeding Walter Damrosch at NBC in 1932.

Through all the various excitements of his work he moves calmly, his tall figure slightly stooped, his thick, iron-gray hair pushed casually back off his wide forehead, heavy-lidded eyes peering good-naturedly out of black-rimmed spectacles.

Downstairs, presiding at a Cities Service rehearsal, he sits on a high stool, stooped over, cigarette in one hand, pencil in the other. The war had just been declared before that rehearsal. Black glanced sharply at the men, saw the instruments hanging listlessly in their hands. He himself had just come from an all-night radio vigil. He rapped on the stand, drawled out: "This piece has to be cut. Come on. Let's play from F . . . for Fuehrer—to H . . . for Hun—cut to I . . . for icky—and go on to J . . . for junker—" The orchestra relaxed in a clamor of boos and laughs.

Everything pertaining to music at NBC is under Black's control. Education and entertainment, sustaining and commercial programs, music research, copyright, library, arrangers, copyists, the more than five hundred musicians that pass in and out of NBC daily, all are under him. He still finds time to compose, conduct symphony programs, attend opening nights, spend a normal amount of time with his wife and son and go down to the sea for a crack at some unsuspecting bluefish.

BULLS AND BONERS

LISTEN AND EARN

Have fun and earn $1.00 by catching some radio performer making a slip of the tongue or using a sentence with twisted meaning! Contributions should be sent to Editor Radio Boners, RADIO GUIDE, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Ill., and should be accompanied by details of the time and date of program, name of station and broadcaster. In case more than one reader submits the same boner, the prize will go to contributor whose letter bears the earliest postmark. In case of tying postmarks, all tying contestants will receive prizes.

ARE YOU HYPNOTIZED?

MOST PEOPLE ARE! FAILURE, FEAR, ILL-HEALTH

Most people are—by fear, worry, a sense of inferiority, disease, disappointment, failure, death. Hypnotized by such ideas, they lack energy, vitality, lose their health, fall in their undertakings, acquire weak and unattractive personalities. Learn how to FREE YOURSELF of such hypnotizing ideas and moods. Learn how to BE INSPIRED, energetic, victorious, vital, ambitious, and a MASTER of circumstances instead of a slave. A strange method, originated by Wise Men of the East and used with astounding effects for over two thousand years, is remarkably instrumental in freeing the mind of the hypnotizing ideas that paralyze the giant powers within us. Thousands using the method throughout the world, many for the sake of their health, others to develop more magnetic personality, talents and ability, to turn failure into success. A wonderful new life is before you. Write today for FREE treatise (9,000 words) revealing many surprising results.

"I Talked with God"

(Yes, I Did—Actually and Literally)

and, as a result of that little talk with God some ten years ago, a strange new Power came into my life. After 43 years of horrible, sickening, dismal failure, this strange Power brought to me a sense of overwhelming victory, and I have been overcoming every undesirable condition of my life ever since. What a change it was. Now—I have credit at more than one bank. I own a beautiful home, drive a lovely car, own a newspaper and a large office building, and my wife and family are amply provided for after I leave for shores unknown. In addition to these material benefits, I have a sweet peace in my life. I am happy as happy can be. No circumstance ever upsets me, for I have learned how to draw upon the invisible God-Law, under any and all circumstances. You, too, may find and use the same staggering Power of the God-Law that I use. It can bring to you, too, whatever things are right and proper for you to have. Do you believe this? It won't cost much to find out—just a penny postcard or a letter, addressed to Dr. Frank B. Robinson, Dept. 36, Moscow, Idaho. will bring you the story, of the most fascinating success of the century. And the same Power I use is here for your use, too. I'll be glad to tell you about it. All information about this experience will be sent you free, of course. The address again—Dr. Frank B. Robinson, Dept. 36, Moscow, Idaho. Advvt. Copyright 1939 Frank B. Robinson.
