LISTENING-POST

A random report of interesting facts and unusual events in broadcasting

Speaking of "listening-posts," O. H. Caldwell, editor of Radio Today, tells us in a recent statement that during the year 1939 alone well over four million of them were added to the millions already in use in the U. S. Meaning that nine million new radio sets were sold in 1939 and, since never more than half of any year's total radio sales is for replacements, there are at least four million new "listening-posts" this year.

All kinds of Americans in all walks of life have entered the essay contest sponsored by "America's Town Meeting of the Air" and Town Hall, Inc. Probably every conceivable answer to the query "What Does American Democracy Mean to Me?" has found its way to the sponsors. Particularly interesting should be the answers of fifty-one prisoners at the Atlanta, Ga., Penitentiary, who made a sizable run on Town Hall with their essay entries. The contest closed December 4.

Strange and tortuous are the ways of modern radio when used as an implement of war. Recently news came from Brazil that officials had applied Brazilian neutrality laws by sealing the radio room of the German passenger liner Windhuk which had recently arrived in disguise, equipped for sea raiding. A double purpose was behind it. First, neutral powers cannot permit messages to be radioed from their territory by a belligerent power. Second, Brazilians have no hankering for possible espionage or secret contact between German war vessels and German residents of Brazil.

Sad news for radio listeners was the death of Ernest Schelling, internationally famous concert pianist, conductor and composer, on December 8 in New York City. Mr. Schelling, a well-known radio conductor, was especially loved by children for his Young People's Concerts of the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra broadcast over CBS. Thousands of children called him Uncle Ernest and his death denied them a new series of radio concerts under his direction which were to have begun on December 10.

Alton Cook, New York radio columnist, recently compiled a self-styled Radio Primer which unearths, among others, the following interesting facts: Each of the four big radio networks averages over 20,000 programs a year. Besides those 80,000, there are more than four hundred local stations producing their own programs daily. . . . A Coast-to-Coast fall network broadcast costs $15,000 an hour. Talent is extra. . . . Major Bowes, with a salary of about $20,000 weekly, is still the highest-paid personality in radio, but not the most popular. . . . Hollywood broadcasts have a more noticeable bass tone than those originating in New York. The reason: They are brought by telephone wires and transmission tends to build up lower tones. . . . Radio stars have more publicity agents than any other type of entertainers.

MR. FAIRFAX REPLIES

Mr. Fairfax will give personal answers to all readers who send self-addressed stamped envelopes. Remember that he must confine himself exclusively to network personalities and programs. Address Arthur Fairfax, RADIO GUIDE, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Ill.

Stewart Wynn, Denver, Colo.—GOGO DELYS was married to Robert L. Redd, NBC producer and writer, on June 8, 1938, in Los Angeles. Her first big radio show was on the Phil Baker program.

Mrs. C. M. Lee, Abilene, Tex.—In "Stella Dallas" Stella is portrayed by ANNE ELSTNER, ARTHUR HUGHES plays Steven, VIVIAN SMOLEN has the role of Laurel, MACDONALD CAREY characterizes Dick Grosvenor, JANE HUSTON portrays Mrs. Grosvenor, Helen Dallas is played by JULIE BENELL, Arthur Mason is portrayed by RICHARD KEITH, and ARNOLD MOSS has the role of Ahmed. . . . In "Betty and Bob" ROBERT SLOANE portrays George Hartford, Jane Hartford is played by ELSPETH ERIC. . . . In "The Man I Married" BARBARA LEE is Evelyn Waring, VAN HEFLIN plays Adam Waring, SANTOS ORTEGA portrays Phineas T. Grant, and Grandfather Grant is characterized by HARRY FISCHER. . . . Alice Day Craig in "The Woman in White" is portrayed by RUTH BAILEY.

Miss Margaret Moyer, Lansing, Mich.—Julie Downing in "Romance of Helen Trent" is portrayed by DORIS DUDLEY. . . . GENELLE GIBBS portrays Sonia Kirkoff in "Arnold Grimm's Daughter" . . . DAVID GOTHARD plays Bruce King (the stranger) in "The O'Neills."

THE GIRL ON THE COVER

INTRODUCTIONS in the case of Shirley Temple, who smiles out at you from this week's cover of RADIO GUIDE, are probably unnecessary, for there is no better known smile in the world than that given our readers in this photograph of the famous child motion-picture star, who makes her radio debut this week. Shirley was born in Santa Monica, Calif., April 23, 1929, to Mr. and Mrs. George F. Temple, who, in addition to being her parents, serve as wary agents for their star daughter.

Shirley's screen career started when she was only three years old with a spot in a short subject which led to a minor part in a full-length feature, "Stand Up and Cheer." Twentieth Century-Fox, producers of the film, did just that when they learned that the youngster who played the bit had lifted a mediocre picture into a box-office wow. She became a star immediately.

Unlike others, Shirley had had no long period of preparation for stardom. But as one picture followed another, directors learned that Shirley was developing into an actress. Not content with her being sweet, pretty, adorning, Shirley's parents had hired the best dramatic coaches, the best music teachers. Bill Robinson, master of tap, had personally taught her to dance. . . . because he liked her. Soon Shirley was a polished actress, capable of handling the most difficult parts.

Today Shirley stands among the top dramatic stars of Hollywood.

PATRICIA ROGERS—WIFE

JOHN KNIGHT—HUSBAND

WHY DID "GIRL ALONE" MARRY?

BY FAYETTE KRUM—Author of "Girl Alone"

Serial listeners take their drama seriously. Many of them were surprised when in "Girl Alone" Scoop Curtis (played by Pat Murphy) married Stormy Wilson (June Travis). They were more startled when just recently Patricia Rogers (Betty Winkler) married John Knight (Lester Damon). Author Fayette Krum was buried under an avalanche of mail, from which she emerged to write this logical defense and hint of the future of "Girl Alone." Why did she let Patricia marry John? Are there more surprises in store? Read what the author herself says about it.—Editor.

THE week after Patricia Rogers and John Knight suddenly eloped, everywhere I turned I was asked, "What in the world ever made you decide to let Patricia get married?" Well, here's the answer. I didn't decide to let Patricia get married. Patricia made the decision herself. The most I could do was influence her.

Back in 1935, when I gave birth to "Girl Alone" and its large batch of brain-children, I didn't dream I'd have so much trouble with them. Actually, most of the time, I haven't had much to say about what my characters do.

They're my brain-children, but, like children in real life, I can't entirely control their actions. Being what they are, there are certain things they will do or will not do. And all a mother or an author can do is to try to influence them. It takes some conniving sometimes.

For instance, when John Knight broke his first engagement to Patricia back in 1936 and refused to marry her because she was the Rogers heiress, it was only natural that she should turn to the easy, gay companionship of Scoop Curtis in a way that would inhibit the warm-blooded, passionate emotion she felt for John Knight. The affection she subsequently developed for Scoop Curtis was of an entirely different kind. There was something about the easy, carefree, Bohemian type of life, so in contrast to the prim standard of social conduct by which she'd been brought up, which had a strong appeal to her, and it was inevitable that after two years of an exciting, adventurous association with Scoop that he should become the dominating factor in her life. As a suitor, Scoop left something wanting. He was

AGE THREE. With "Baby Burlesques" Shirley Temple made her film debut in 1932. Short on acting, long on cuteness, they became a hit

AT LAST SHIRLEY SURRENDERS TO RADIO

"Screen Guild Theater" airs Hollywood's biggest little star on Christmas Eve

By Francis Chase, Jr.

AGE SEVEN. Shirley was a real trouper by 1936 and "Stowaway" (above) did much to make her Hollywood's biggest box-office attraction

WHAT to do until Santa Claus comes? Along about the time when the youngsters are in their pajamas and ready to be snuggled off to what little measure of sleep they can be expected to work in the night before Christmas, the problem of what to do to while away the time often becomes rather pressing. But for radio listeners this year there just won't be any problem. They'll simply gather the youngsters around the radio in the living-room and twist the dials to "Screen Guild Theater." Then, as grand a surprise as anyone could ask on Christmas Eve will be waiting.

Shirley Temple makes her first radio appearance!

This grand little actress of the screen couldn't have chosen a more fitting time for her debut. Neither could she have chosen a more apt role than as Mityl in "The Blue Bird," a glorious story of the things that happen to a little girl and those about her in the interval between Christmas Eve and Christmas morn. This unbeatable combination of Shirley's grand dramatic talent plus a play that's made to order for the festive occasion promises a show long to be remembered by radio fans of all ages everywhere.

While this will be Shirley's first radio appearance, it is not by any means her first radio offer. Since that day when her appearance in "Little Miss Marker" proved to the world that a new star had been born, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Temple, have been literally flooded with offers for her radio appearance. The manufacturer of a famous food product rushed from the theater to cable the Temples—then vacationing in Honolulu—an offer of $300,000 for eighteen weeks. Returning from Honolulu, they found other offers awaiting them. They came from oil companies, food manufacturers, candy-makers, cosmetic houses, the networks themselves. And they totaled far more than a million dollars, but the Temples and the studio, feeling that Shirley had enough to do in pictures, refused them all unequivocally.

But now Shirley is to make her radio debut, a debut that might well change this entire picture. And behind this first appearance of Hollywood's best-loved child star lies an amazing story.

Several months ago an automobile manufacturer offered Shirley $25,000 to sing one song with a symphony orchestra on a Christmas Eve program. Another radio advertiser raised that figure by ten thousand dollars. Both of these offers were refused by the Temples. Now Shirley will appear in the Screen Guild's production of "The Blue Bird" for charity. Neither Shirley nor her studio will receive a cent for her work, but the money that would have been paid her will go instead into the Motion Picture Relief Fund for needy actors and actresses.

Her decision to do this charity show after refusing the large offers which had been received was made by Shirley on the spur of the moment. Jean Hersholt, president of the Relief Fund, and James Roosevelt, one of its directors, visited Mrs. Temple on the 20th Century-Fox set where Shirley was making a screen version of "The Blue Bird." Because the Temples' refusal to permit Shirley to do radio work was well known, no one supposed that their visit had any other purpose than to watch "One-Take Temple" at work. But suddenly Hersholt turned to Mrs. Temple and told her what he had come for.

"We know that your policy—and that of the studio—has been that Shirley's motion-picture work keeps her busy. But this is for charity. It's to help those of her own profession who need it."

For a moment Mrs. Temple didn't answer. Then she called Shirley over.

"How would you like to do a radio show Christmas Eve for the Motion Picture Relief Fund, Shirley?" she asked her daughter.

SHIRLEY'S face beamed. She's an ardent radio fan.

"I'd love it." She was enthusiastic. But then her face fell. "Would I be able to bring Miss Klant and Mary Lou, too?" Miss Klant is her teacher, Mary Lou her stand-in, and they've worked with her on all of her pictures.

"We'd love to have them," Hersholt assured her. He turned back to Mrs. Temple.

"All right, then, we'll do it if we can get the studio's permission."

Elated at having accomplished in a few simple words what millions of dollars in contract offers had been unable to do, Hersholt and Roosevelt hurried to the office of Darryl Zanuck, production chief at 20th Century-Fox. They promptly received both his approval and that of Joseph Schenck and hurried away to make plans for what they feel will be the biggest broadcast of 1939.

The Screen Guild show, as you probably know, is sponsored by an oil company and, in addition to being one of radio's better shows with plenty of big names in every cast, is also Hollywood's favorite charity. Glamourtown's biggest stars, directors, producers lend their talents to making it a first-rate attraction, and the sponsor, instead of paying them for their services, turns the salaries they would receive over to the Motion Picture Relief Fund, which aids needy members of the profession. So the staff which will aid in making this Christmas Eve broadcast a memorable one was chosen from the wide list of talent available to the committee. Bill Bacher, ace Hollywood radio producer, and Tom Lewis, head of the radio department of a large advertising agency, are in charge of the show. "The Blue Bird," which Shirley was making for the movies, was adapted as the play, and musical portions of the program have been left in the hands of composer Alfred Newman, who did the musical score for the picture version of "The Blue Bird," and Oscar Bradley, director of the Screen Guild show.

FOR Shirley, her advent into radio is a grand adventure, for she is an enthusiastic radio fan with a long list of "must hear" programs she drops everything to listen to. The stalwart "Lone Ranger" is at the very top of this list. There are six radio sets in the Temple home, two in her dressing-room, to say nothing of the one in the car. As the time draws closer for the program, Shirley's enthusiasm mounts, although there are some in Hollywood who wonder if she will succumb to mike fright, as many veterans before her have. They remember that Patsy Kelly fainted dead away of mike fright just before airtime and the weird performances other mike-frightened screen stars have put on. But the betting is that Shirley—with twenty-one pictures behind her and a trouper at heart—will come through with flying colors.

If she does, radio may play a far-reaching part in her future life, for it is no longer a secret that she is becoming the problem-child of her studio. This is through no fault of her own. She is a grand actress, amenable to direction and without temperament. The problem grows out of the fact that Shirley is growing up and out of the cute little roles that endeared her to millions. Under a heavy contract to 20th Century-Fox for several years to come, executives have begun to wonder what they could do with her during this period of transition.

That there will be a screen place for an older Shirley is undoubted, for Shirley is not only a lovely, curly-haired youngster with a captivating smile

AGE NINE. Charming, poised, but still cute in 1938, Shirley knew all the tricks of the acting-trade, had reached her peak but she knows all of the tricks of the acting-trade. At an age with Deanna Durbin, Judy Garland and the other adolescents who have come to the front in recent years, she will again be an asset to the studio. But for the present, during those growing years when she is neither a baby nor a young woman, pictures which might present her in an adequate way would be few and far between. At best, she could expect only supporting roles and not the stellar parts to which she has become accustomed.

Radio might well be the answer. In radio, unseen by her listeners, Shirley's fine dramatic talent and experience could be put to a good use. Radio listeners would welcome the seasoned talent she could bring to the microphone, while for Messrs. Schenck, Zanuck et al. it might prove an entirely satisfactory answer to what has been, thus far, a perplexing problem.

Shirley Temple may be heard Sunday on "Screen Guild Theater" over a CBS network at:

AIRIALTO LOWDOWN

Peter Van Steeden a proud new father; Firestone show joins radio's new economy bandwagon

By Martin Lewis

NEW YORK.—Your reporter was in the studio the night Jack Haley was Fred Allen's guestar and the comics compared the difference between a joke being told on the radio and in front of a television camera where people can see. They went on to relate that a comedian will have to look as funny as he sounds and with that they made funny faces and placed derbies on their heads that were at least four sizes too small for them. Then, after finishing a joke, they socked each other over the head with a rolled newspaper. During rehearsal that afternoon Haley got in a few extra healthy whacks and Allen had been waiting for that particular moment in the script. You can take my word for it, Haley got socked over the head by Allen like he has never been socked before, and of course it got the laughs. I bet he had a funny headache later in the evening.

Before the Allen program got started, Harry von Zell introduced maestro Peter Van Steeden to the audience and told them that the maestro's wife had given birth to a little daughter that morning—and did Peter blush? It's their fourth child. After the program, Van Steeden told me that the child arrived a month earlier than expected but that it was fine and weighed six pounds. He confessed that he and his wife were hoping it would be a boy and even had a name picked out. Now they don't know what to call it. . . . The Jan Peerce baby daughter was born prematurely and weighed four pounds ten ounces at birth and had to be kept in an incubator for several weeks and was given five blood-transfusions. The baby is now at home and doing very nicely. . . . I forgot to report the arrival of a seven-pound-two-ounce daughter for CBSongstress Doris Rhodes.

Seems as though an economy wave has hit radio. Following the announcement that Chase and Sanborn will be cut to a half-hour and the possibility that the Maxwell House show will do the same, I learn that the NBC "Voice of Firestone" orchestra has been sliced in half, reducing it from seventy men to thirty-five. . . . Larry Clinton departs from his Monday night ciggy show on the NBC-Blue after one or two more broadcasts. . . . The Group Theater sketches heard on the Kate Smith show will also come to an end after one or two more airings. . . . An informant states that Paul Whiteman is slated to get a new radio sponsor soon. This of course will cancel his plans for a one-month vacation in Florida if it goes through. . . . In the meantime, Clark Dennis has already departed from the Whiteman organization and songstress Joan Edwards is expected to leave very shortly, if she hasn't already done so, to go on her own.

"Scouts to the Rescue," produced by Trans-American Radio, will make its debut on January 8 over the NBC-Blue. . . . President Roosevelt's address at the annual Jackson Day dinner in Washington will be heard over the networks on January 8. . . . "Abie's Irish Rose" has been adapted for radio by its author, Anne Nichols, and may get a spot on one of the networks any week now. . . . Movie star Luise Rainer, who is lovely to look at, will be the guestar on the New York portion of the "Star Theater" on January 3. . . . Jimmy Cagney, the hard-boiled boy of the screen, is scheduled to play a very unusual role during the Arch Oboler play on Saturday, January 13. Cagney will play the part of Joe Bonham, deaf, dumb, blind and limbless ex-soldier of "Johnny Got His Gun," Dalton Trumbo's best-selling novel. Oboler will fly to New York to produce the play from Radio City.

Radio Stars to Become Movie Stars

Barry Wood is such a hit on the "Lucky Strike Hit Parade" that he's been signed for a movie by one of the major picture companies. . . . Hobby Lobby will be made into a series of movie shorts by Warner Bros. The shorts will feature several of the nobbyists who have appeared on Dave Elman's program. Incidentally, I heard that Elman is going to ask Mark Warnow to change the title of the Lucky Strike theme song to "Hobby Days Are Here Again." If you don't like that gag blame me, I made it up myself. . . . Templeton Fox, the very attractive dramatic actress, is another gal who came to New York from out of the West and made good. "Tempy" portrays Claudia Foster on "Your Family and Mine" and in private life is Mrs. Bob Welch,

Popular maestro for Fred Allen on Wednesdays (NBC) and George Jessel on Fridays (NBC), stalwart Peter Van Steeden blushed prettily on a recent Allen broadcast when congratulated on the birth of his fourth child, a daughter whose husband is producer of the Fred Allen program.

Cops Nab Radio Ticket-Scalpers

Six youngsters were nabbed by the cops for selling radio tickets in front of a CBS Playhouse. They were haled into Night Court, with one of them being fined and the other five receiving suspended sentences. . . . What's wrong with this sentence? A tourist going through the NBC studios recently asked a guide, "Where do you keep the kilocycles?" . . . That's almost as bad as the answer Jane Ace gave Goodman when he tried to find out why a jury has twelve men. Jane thought the answer was elementary Dr. Watson. She stated there are twelve men on the jury because they have twelve chairs in the box to fill. She's such a nice girl, too! . . . I liked that gag Bob Hope pulled on a recent program after he had answered the telephone. Judy Garland asked him who it was and Bob bobbed up with, "Oh, something about a Pot o' Gold."

Pot o' Gold 'n' Boy

Which reminds me that I'm told a great many practical jokers are in operation on Tuesday nights while the P. O. G. program puts in the call to the lucky winner. Letters have reached my desk from quite a few readers telling me of their experiences. Here's a typical gag pulled by a sixteen-year-old boy on his mother. They were listening to the "Pot o' Gold" program, and just before the telephone call was put in he excused himself and went out of the room. The boy ran into the neighbor's apartment next door, where his playmate was in on the gag and was also tuned in on the program. At the exact moment, the youngster called his own telephone number and, as expected, his mother answered the phone. Disguising his voice, the boy inquired whether she was listening to the "Pot o' Gold" program. Of course the answer was in the affirmative and then she was told she was the winner of the $1,000 prize. Well, you can imagine her excitement. She confessed that she had practically the entire amount spent for Christmas presents. Then in walked the amused practical joker and confessed. The letter ended with something about a sound spanking.

Comes Christmas and all ill feeling between Charlie and his rival, Cousin Mortimer, is erased. Santa Bergen of the coffee hour, just out of the hospital where he went recently for observation, dandles them, one on each knee HOLLYWOOD.—Out of St. Vincent's Hospital in time to play Santa Claus to his two dummies, Edgar Bergen will lead Hollywood's Christmas parade . . . It was your reporter's pleasure to shadow Saint Nick, or rather his impending visits to other celebrity homes, this past week, to wit: Sandra and Ronnie Burns, who boast Gracie Allen as mother, reported that they are filling a stocking and hanging it for Santa this year because he has been so good to them in the past. Sandra also remarked, "You know, he's an awful big man because last year he lost his boot getting up the chimney and it was big enough for both Ronnie and me to put our feet in!" Sandra is also inviting all the store and street-corner "brothers" of Santa to the Burns and Allen home for Christmas Eve.

To Joan Benny, December 24 may be broadcast night for ma Mary Livingstone and pa Jack, but to her it's an ideal night to stay home. That, in effect, was Joan's choice when her daddy and mother asked her to be their guests at the studio . . . Andy Devine has been forced to a momentous decision, too, by an observation last week by his five-year-old son Tad. No, Andy will wear no red pants and blouse this year since Tad observed, "You know, Pop, you'd look just like Santa if you had a white beard!"

The Stars and Santa

Frances Langford, more ravishing-looking than ever in her auburn-tinted locks, will be swapping amethyst and diamond-jeweled gifts with hubby Jon Hall. The gems are their respective birthstones . . . Hedda Hopper will play Santa herself on Christmas Day by eliminating the star-life-story drama from her "Hopper's Hollywood" airing so that her acting cast need not work on the holiday . . . Mike Raffetto, Paul of "One Man's Family" and Jack Packard of "I Love a Mystery," made his little daughter, attending a private school in Maryland, quite happy by fulfilling her request for a "lot of autographed pictures for my friends." He even picked a serious pose because she requested, "And please, Daddy, make them look very important!"

By Evans Plummer

mas present his mother in Berkeley, Calif., has had in six years. Right after staging his first "Pot o' Gold" broadcast, he flew up to spend a week with her . . . Likewise Christmas Day will be an event for Gale Page, leading lady of the "Woodbury Playhouse," who hasn't spent the Yuletide with her entire family for ten years. Her sister and husband, the T. W. Symons, Jr., of Portland, Ore., two nieces and Gale's mother will join the radio and screen actress December 25 in Hollywood for a good old-fashioned taffy pull . . . "Fibber" and "Molly" also have received cheering word from Fibber's sister, Mrs. Josephine Hugo, and her husband, who were aboard a ship which struck a mine off Singapore, that they will arrive in Los Angeles to celebrate Christmas with them.

Ghosts Talk for O. Welles!

Listeners who tune in the CBS "Campbell Playhouse" rendition of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" December 24 will, according to Al Span, Columbia's Hollywood sound-effects boss, hear the most convincing group of ghosts ever to have fluttered from a radio studio. Under orders of Orson Welles, Span has been experimenting with the art of imparting the power of speech to objects such as whistles, bells, trees and even fires, and the young Mr. Welles, who just loves to frighten folk, will do his level best to haunt the nation.

In connection with our opening allusion to Santa Bergen, you possibly heard McCarthy and Bergen broadcast from St. Vincent's Hospital. If you didn't, 300 nurses, nuns, internes, doctors and patients did. They almost wrecked the emergency broadcast with their loud laughter . . . At "Silver Theater": Mary Taylor was selected at auditions by Clark Gable as his leading lady. Then he learned that she was none other than the wealthy ex-New York society girl who had decided to break into Hollywood the hard way—on merit! . . . At "The Aldrich Family": Ezra Stone understands the misunderstood boy. Noting in his audience a young magazine salesman playing hookey from work, "Henry" walked into the audience to the lad and bought every one of his magazines!

Casualty Toll High

A string of hard luck has been touching radio folk. Mrs. Bill Hay, suffering an acute intestinal disorder which required surgery, is convalescing at Hollywood Hospital. An auto sidwipe, at first report, only cut a lip cartilage and gave many bruises and abrasions to comedian Joe E. Brown—but X-rays revealed a collapsed lung from which he will recover. Don Quinn, the S. C. Johnson show scribe, has been bedded by a strep throat, and Mrs. Jan Garber was scalded about the face, neck and arms when an electric mixer's bowl broke in her kitchen.

Off Live Mikes . . .

Bonnie Baker, Orrin Tucker's canary whose "Oh Johnny" put her atop fame's ladder overnight, missed out on a featured role singing the tune in a Universal Picture when she failed to turn up at the studio on the appointed day, so Betty Jane Rhodes won the break . . . Dissension in NBC "Grouch Club" is rife; addition of Ned Sparks to the Sunday show's cast is reported to have given a big grouch to everyone . . . "One Man's Family," 'tis said, will get the second half-hour of the Chase and Sanborn hour when the latter is streamlined, minus Don Ameche and Dorothy Lamour, to thirty minutes come January 7 . . . Bill Lawrence, producer of "I Want a Divorce," is pioneering a new trick with this show—he calls it "perspective of motion." Take an earful.

Athlete Crosby Boops 'Em

Bing Crosby took time out from his December 7 Kraft rehearsal to show the NBC page boys, on the studio parking lot, how he used to carry the ball for old Gonzaga. He showed them, aided by Arch Oboler, for five minutes, that is, until Messrs. Crosby and Oboler were winded. The following Sunday, however, Bing did better at Lakeside Country Club with a golf stick. Meeting Bob Hope in a charity match, he gave Hope four strokes, then turned in a net 73 to Bob's 77. Bob won the toss and the cup. But paired with Paulette Goddard and her 107, against the Hope-Ruby Keeler twosome, he was submerged when Ruby turned in a 90. Hope presented Ruby with the four-some cup.

CHICAGO.—This is Christmas season at radio's Crossroads: Mrs. C. C. Doherty will play her favorite role Christmas as just the mother of two-year-old Tony Doherty, a role less widely known but one which she prefers even to that of Sade in "Vic and Sade" or as Emily Burke in "Right to Happiness" or even as Bernardine Flynn, the name by which she is most widely known off the air . . . Betty Lou Gerson had copies printed of her collection of children's verse for gifts to her young friends . . . Santa found a crew of diligent helpers in the cast of "Caroline's Golden Store." Caroline Ellis collected used toys from children of radio personalities, and the whole cast of the show plied paint, glue and needles to renovate the toys for distribution to poor children.

Ransom Sherman has been charging "Club Matinee" audiences one jitney for autographs—his own stunt for selling Christmas seals, for he pastes a seal on the paper to which he signs his name . . . The aforementioned Sherman and Bob Brown played host on "Quicksilver" to the Santa Claus of State and Madison, world's busiest corner. This particular St. Nick of the Volunteers of America collects more charity contributions than any other Volunteers Nick in Chicago, and he does not reveal his identity—he's just Santa Claus . . . Irna Phillips, author of four serials, did her Christmas writing early, got sufficiently ahead that she could give herself the gift of a vacation over the holidays.

Seymour Goes Shopping

Anne Seymour—even as you and I—went shopping the other day and got interested—even as you and I—in the toy department, especially with a set of magic tricks. "Pardon me," she said to the clerk, "but will you show me how this works?" "Sorry, ma'am," he solicitously replied. "I'm a demonstrator; I'll have to call the floorman if you want an instructor." Even as you and I . . . "National Barn Dance" headliners donated their services for the Christmas Giving Party, annual charity event sponsored by WLS, held this year in the ballroom of the Stevens Hotel. Price of admission was one toy or non-perishable food item. Last year over 4,000 children and their parents attended . . . A musical treat Christmas day will be Walter Blaufuss' orchestra selections on "Farm and Home Hour"—including an excerpt from "Nutcracker Suite," a "Doll" medley by pianist Bill Krenz, a drum extravaganza, "Tom Thumb's Drums," "Toy Trumpet" and "Noel." Maybe this will furnish the musical piece de resistance of that scrumptious noontime meal, huh?

Many of those listeners who seldom or never listen to the serials might well afford fifteen minutes for the "Guiding Light" sketch on Christmas day. The only character on that episode will be Dr. Ruthledge, who will deliver a Christmas sermon on "The Brotherhood of Man" (11:45 a.m., NBC) . . . Christmas letters and gifts swell the volume of postal traffic coming into the NBC Merchandise Mart studios to utter capacity. And it is noticeable that at least during this season the announcers, so often considered necessary evils or simply fixtures, come in for a very generous share of appreciative mail.

Bernardine Flynn (Mrs. C. C. Doherty), air favorite as Sade in "Vic and Sade" on NBC-Red and as Emily Burke in "Right to Happiness" on NBC-Blue, forgets radio at Christmas to make the season happy for son Tony

Bernardine "Sade" Flynn, other stars observe Christmas season; Jack Baker begins fourth year

BY DON MOORE

Louisiana Lark Jack Baker last week passed his third anniversary as tenor soloist of the "Breakfast Club." Hope Jack, who sings like a lark, pops into the chatter like a jaybird and giggles like a pecksilated parrot, doesn't get drowned in high C's, but sticks around for a Baker's dozen and more years—don't you? . . . Betty Lou Gerson is star of the new "Grand Hotel" series, supported by Frank Behrens . . . Rumor has it "Manhattan Mother" may move to Manhattan the first of the year. It isn't certain yet, though.

The nineteenth and twentieth floors of the Merchandise Mart, headquarters of NBC, now have red and blue rather than red and green elevator lights—presumably to signify red and blue networks. A further suggestion: Have the elevator operators make a quick stop at the nineteenth floor to don red false noses to match their blue uniforms . . . Did you know that "Jack Armstrong" is played by Charlie Flynn, talented son of Bess Flynn, author of "Bachelor's Children"? . . . Johnnie Gannon, who plays Billy in the same sketch and who is the only member of the original cast still appearing on the show, will soon pass his 1,300th episode. Wonder if that doesn't deserve a tangible recognition from his bosses.

Happy Jack Turner, whose free-and-easy style of singing and piano-playing has pleased many ears for many years in the daytime, appeared on his first Coast-to-Coast night-time commercial show when he was guest of the "National Barn Dance" recently . . . Pet possession of Virginia Verrill, song star of "Uncle Walter's Dog House," is a handsome silver beaker presented to her by Walt Disney for her triumph in a badminton tournament. Vee, by the way, flew West Coastward to be at home in Hollywood for the holiday.

Red Skelton, "Avalon Time" comic and nation's number one doughnut-dunker, had to consult his dentist recently after a "friend" slipped him a couple of six-month-old sinkers camouflaged with powdered sugar . . . Betty Winkler has asked many times for a good autographed likeness of her partner in many plays, Pat Murphy. Last week she got one—an X-ray shot of the Murphy skull, autographed neatly by both Pat and the technician who exposed the cranium.

DEAR SANTA:

When you blow into the Windy City, won't you please include some of the following items for our radio family? Those prospective sponsors for the "Breakfast Club"; that trip to Miami for Wayne King; pencils for Virginia Clark (she collects them, you know); greater recognition for the artistry of such great conductors as Harry Kogen and Roy Shield; Mary's Joe Marlin; a pair of shoes for Whitey Ford, the Duke of Paducah; a bigger chance for Dave Bacal's novachord and electric-organ wizardry; respite for some of the serial characters; a hearty slap on the back for Aunt Fanny and Grandpa Putterball, masterfully created by Fran Allison and Sid Ellstrom; a long radio life for such talented young singers as CBS' Edith Hendrick (age twenty-two) and NBC's Betty Barrett (fourteen) and Dinning sisters (fifteen, fifteen, seventeen).

For me just a bundle of commercial plugs—if I've been a very bad boy. You'll find Don McNeill's sock hanging up, Santa. It will hold all the stuff. P. S. Will you carry the following humble greeting to radio in general from yours sincerely?—

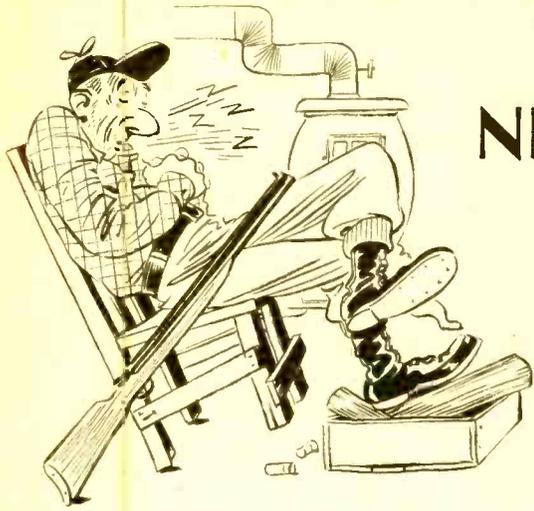

THE PUBLIC INTEREST

When in a stable on a frosty morn
The very hands of time were stopped and started,
There was no broadcast, "Flash! The Christ is born!"
Only a silent star
Flashed wise men from afar
The greatest news the world has yet reported.

Of that event no network Coast-to-Coast
Put on the air an on-the-spot description,
But song ethereal by a heavenly host
Brought shepherds on the hill
The message, "Peace, good-will!"
And spread o'er all the earth that grand conception.

And "Greater things than these ye yet shall do."
Shall radio help carry on His labor?
Then let it spread abroad the gospel
true
That Christ was born to give
His life that men might live
In peace and learn at last to "love thy neighbor."

"And so, as Tiny Tim observed, God bless us every one."

One man wanted to air the myriad variety of deer-hunters' snores

NEW IDEAS WANTED— OR ARE THEY?

Radio men must con 15,000 or 20,000 of them—sane
and screwball—every year

USUALLY when a sponsor comes to a big network with a program idea in his head and a bag of gold in one hand, doors fly open, carpets are unrolled, and the welcoming committee is paved with vice-presidents.

There have been horrible exceptions. One of them was an important maker of mattresses who approached broadcasters with the announcement that he wanted to buy a half-hour of air time.

The network allowed as it had some mighty choice half-hours for sale and what kind of a program did Mr. Mattress Maker propose to put on the kilocycles? Maybe a swing trio or a couple of high-priced comedians?

No, admitted the gentleman with a dreamy look in his eyes. He wanted to buy half an hour Coast-to-Coast and send it to the radio listeners of the land as "a program of complete silence, restful as the So'n'so brand mattress!"

The idea never quite reached the loudspeakers, novel as it might have been, because of a little ruling which says stations must keep spouting music or conversation without a break while they are on the air. Something about "public convenience and necessity." But the notion sent radio folks into a dither.

The man who made mattresses—a feat which, incidentally, he still performs—is only representative of those thousands who accost the ramparts of radio each year with a galaxy of screwball ideas. Of course he had the added virtue of crisp cash to back up his suggestion, had it been half-way acceptable. Ideas come from everyone—from taxi-drivers to bank presidents—who imagine that the shiny institution of broadcasting can do just about anything. Which, as a matter of fact, is rather right.

Most of these program notions are proffered with the conviction that great wealth is assured if one can only reach the microphone. Radio, like the movies, is America's modern El Dorado. In one respect that's correct. It's just about as hard to find as the glittering city of the conquistadors.

Anywhere from fifteen to twenty thousand program suggestions are submitted each twelve months to the major networks. It's a dull day that doesn't see fifty or more letters from ambitious people dumped on a program-director's desk.

The law of probability runs at a woful ratio. Perhaps a dozen or so, in the course of an entire year, prove practical or even of potential value. Writers appear to have an utter disregard for what radio can and cannot do. Hypnotists want to practise their art for the benefit of radio's millions.

Typical of many ideas received is a recent letter from a man in upstate New York who wrote from a deer-hunters' camp. It came to the desk of a program-director, advising him that the snores of hunters staying at the camp were of infinite variety. "A program would be," said he, "of great use to the medical profession. The snores have a variation beyond imagination and can be appreciated only when heard."

Another candidate for air honors offered to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel, broadcasting as he went. One man, in desperation at his inability to get a job, came to the special-features division of a network last year and declared he would leap off a skyscraper time juggling both that and his hat. Finally he puts them both on the floor, then announces that he has "a swell idea."

It goes like this, you find. Two people are supposed to have been knocked unconscious in an automobile accident and will describe their experiences while under ether. "Over the ether," he adds, with a smug smile.

You lean back in your chair and nod for the young man to go on. It appears that this is all he has on his mind. A script? No, he hasn't written anything but an outline about it. Hasn't the network got its own writers? He's just an "idea man." One of his ideas was to have the ushers walk up and down the aisles, wafting a mild odor of ether over the studio audience with spray-guns.

Outside it was a pleasant, sunny day. The young man shows no inclination to leave. You remember Blatherskit and what a good friend of yours he used

Another idea-man wanted to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel, broadcasting as he went. A mattress-maker planned to sponsor a show of dead silence with a pack transmitter, broadcasting his dying reactions as he fell, if the network would agree to give his widow and children $1,000.

It's all a constant parade of amazing suggestions which, if an index to the range of the human mind, often depresses program men to the point of indigestion.

Pretend, if you will, that you're a program-director. It is a pleasant, sunny day. Your secretary says there is a young man outside to see you with a letter of introduction from Mr. Blatherskit. Blatherskit is a pretty good friend of yours. "Send him in," you tell the girl cheerfully.

The young man comes in. He has a well-scrubbed face that is quite sincere yet, alas, not very intelligent. He carries a leather portfolio and, when he sits down, seems to be having quite a time. Pretty soon your secretary announces there are some more people with ideas waiting to see you.

But before you guffaw at such inanity, consider that there's another angle to the matter. Like those remarkable things which women wear on their heads, radio programs also have great fluctuations in fashion. Suggestions which were laughed to scorn five years ago by reputedly far-sighted men today are among the most popular features of the airwaves.

The blame is probably not all with the far-sighted men. Some of it rests in the fact that broadcasting has proved to be unpredictable beyond our nightmares. It can do almost anything except defrost the refrigerator.

Back in 1931, while America was still brushing off its clothes after a memorable tumble in Wall Street, a program mogul at one of the big networks had this to remark—and in print:

One offered to leap off a skyscraper to give his dying reactions

"We had a proposal the other day from a man in the dress-goods business that we put on a program, with his assistance, built entirely on the trade jargon of his industry. He said there were thousands who would like to hear such a sketch. Of course they would, but how about the hundreds of thousands to whom such 'entertainment' would be meaningless?"

The crystal ball must have been clouded that day. Otherwise he might have foreseen that his very network, some seven or eight years later, would produce a program called "Americans at Work," devoted to the every-day work of trained American experts in many fields of endeavor. The program ranks high today as an educational and popular feature, winner of many awards—in short, a sizable radio success.

The same gentleman of 1931 had quite a few ideas on programming. "Then there are the imitators!" he moaned. "Here again is displayed an amazing lack of understanding of radio's requirements.

"And of course," he added breezily, "it is obvious there is no field for the woman who imitates a little girl or a great actress—why shouldn't it be the little girl at the microphone, or the great actress herself?"

No imitators? What would Major Bowes do? No field for a woman who imitates a little girl? Explain away, then, the success of Fannie Brice and her Baby Snooks. Or—what was even remoter from the gentleman's thoughts in 1931—a man who imitates a little girl, such as Tommy Riggs and his Betty Lou.

If broadcasters had adhered to his early formula, Charlie McCarthy would not be a national hero. And, it is quite logical to add, the network which followed it would not be a national hook-up.

It all goes to show that you just can't tell. And with television gathering a certain amount of sluggish impetus, the vistas opened up for program ideas are frankly terrifying. Probably the soul of radio's success lies in the fact that it's even more unpredictable than the ingenuity of the men who created it.

Maybe the mattress-manufacturer, the snore-fancier and the ether-sprayer all had pretty good ideas after all. Time will tell.

FORECAST

CHRISTMAS on the radio means the airwaves filled with choruses, ringing of bells and special symphonic Christmas programs. This year is no exception, and every day during the holidays brings a special musical treat.

NBC continues its annual tradition of performing "Silent Night" at midnight on Christmas Eve, with Marjorie Lawrence as the soloist. Beloved Geraldine Farrar reads her own poem to a musical accompaniment by Frank Black. The Vatican broadcasts on recital. It presents not too familiar music by living Hungarian composers, and also the musically refined and technically polished keyboard art of Vera Brodsky.

Dohnanyi's bent has always been chiefly melodic despite the dissonant manner of some of his contemporaries. The charming "Capriccio" seems permanently in the repertoire.

Bartok, generally more severe in the crass modern style, lets at least a little sunshine creep into his "Sonatina" here and there.

Kodaly's vigorous measures reflect the rhythmic jubilation of the hardy peasants in the Carpathian mountains.

THE NEW YORK PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA, CBS. John Barbiroli, conductor. Concerto Grosso No. 8 in G Minor—"Fatto per la Notte di Natale" (Corelli), "Christmas" (Weinberger), Variations on a Christmas Carol by Tschaiakowsky (Arensky), "Emperor" Waltz (Strauss), Overture to "The Gypsy Baron" (Strauss).

Always preferable to a commentator's analysis of a composer's music is the creator's own explanation of what he intended to express and convey. Therefore readers may welcome what Jaromir Weinberger has to say about his "Christmas." (In Prague, Weinberger's home, it became the tradition to perform the work every Christmas Eve over the radio shortly before the President of the Republic made his annual Yuletide address. This custom ended, of course, with the German occupation.)

Weinberger says: "The title page of my score bears these notes: 'From the snow-covered mountains is heard the sound of shepherds' pipes in the night. The tidings have come that in an orchard still under snow an apple tree has suddenly put forth blossoms.'

"An angel appears to the shepherds and announces the birth of the Saviour. They hasten to Him. The village band follows on foot with clarinet, trumpet and bass viol to honor the Holy Child with music."

"It was at this time that Bohemian music received its gift of honest joy and sincere feeling, a gift that it has never lost."

"At the manger appear the three Holy Kings. They kneel before the Sacred Child. Angels descend from heaven to rock the Infant Saviour to sleep. Children run in to bring the little Child Jesus a cuckoo, and He sits up and calls lovingly to them."

"There is great joy at the birth of the Saviour and there sounds forth jubilantly 'Glory to God in the Highest, and on earth peace and good-will to men.'"

Fulfilling NBC tradition, Marjorie Lawrence sings "Silent Night," 11:56 p.m. EST, Christmas Eve

In a Box at the Opera

By Leonard Liebling

EDWARD JOHNSON and I sat opposite each other at a little table in one section of a second-tier box at the Metropolitan Opera House last Saturday afternoon. The other section, screened from our view, held NBC broadcasting apparatus and controls, the operators, and Milton Cross, the ace announcer.

In front of the managing director of the Metropolitan and myself were NBC microphones and some sheets of type-written paper. We could hear the music from the stage, part of the performance of "Boris Godunoff." Pinza was singing the title role.

"Sounds great," I said.

"Pinza is a most remarkable artist," commented Johnson; "he gets better and better with every appearance, even though no improvement seems possible over his previous work."

"All great singers study incessantly," I continued. "I remember that the late Caruso once told me—"

What he told me remained unrevealed at that moment, for a young man stationed near us waved his hand at me, as a signal, and I began to read:

"Thank you, Mr. Cross . . . Mr. Johnson, there is no fitter time or place than this for me to carry out the commission that brings me here this afternoon, through the courtesy of the National Broadcasting Company and of the Metropolitan Opera Association.

"Your later career is known to everybody, Mr. Johnson, but chiefly your older friends and admirers—and I belong warmly to both—are familiar with your earlier achievements. First, a choir singer; then a featured tenor in light opera; finally, a star of grand opera.

"After your long years of public singing, you were chosen in 1935 to become general manager of the Metropolitan—and you are brilliantly fulfilling your mission in that high office.

"Under your informed and intelligent supervision, this organization steadfastly upholds its glorious traditions as the world's most eminent theater of operatic art.

"Best of all, millions of new opera-lovers have been won through the noteworthy broadcast performances you bring to radio listeners every Saturday afternoon all over the globe.

Geraldine Farrar, famous veteran of opera, will read her poem, "Twilight in Palestine," over NBC, Sun.

"Recognizing your own personal contribution toward these achievements, I am commissioned, Mr. Johnson, as Music Editor of RADIO GUIDE Weekly, to present to you herewith its Medal of Merit, conferred upon outstanding personalities and programs over the air.

"Our congratulations, Mr. Johnson, and best wishes for many more years of splendid success."

Thereupon, Mr. Johnson answered most modestly:

"Please accept my sincere thanks for RADIO GUIDE and for yourself. I deeply appreciate also your very kind words about me and my work.

"However, I look upon the medal you have just given me as a tribute to the Metropolitan Opera Company rather than to me individually.

"No military general can conduct a successful campaign without devoted cooperation from his staff and soldiers. And certainly no general manager of opera can succeed without such devoted cooperation from his executive aids and artists. I enjoy both in fullest measure.

"In that spirit, therefore, I accept the Medal from RADIO GUIDE as a high compliment to our institution.

"We shall continue to try to give the best operas in the best way for our thousands of visible hearers and our millions of unseen listeners on the air.

"Again, thanks to RADIO GUIDE and to you, Mr. Liebling . . ."

"Good luck, Mr. Johnson . . ."

"Thank you, Mr. Liebling."

Suggestions to Santa

THE following, dear Santa, might be appropriate presents for some of your musical boys and girls:

Jan Peerce—that long-deferred engagement at the Metropolitan.

James Melton—ditto.

Most torchists—a vacation from the air.

Howard Barlow—embossed thanks from American composers he has performed.

Milton Cross—a beautifully wrapped package of throat lozenges.

Arturo Toscanini—the programs he promises in advance.

John Barbirolli—a renewed contract with the Philharmonic.

Deems Taylor—a copy of Julius Caesar's "Commentaries."

Nino Martini—police protection against autograph-hunters.

Nelson Eddy—ditto.

Samuel Chotzinoff—more time on the Toscanini broadcasts.

Lauritz Melchior—some songs not by Wagner.

Erno Rapee—a few weeks away from Sibelius.

Jose Iturbi—more piano playing.

Fritz Reiner—a testimonial for first-class program making.

Eugene Ormandy—ditto.

Edward Johnson—another Caruso.

Richard Crooks—cheers for his super-fine delivery.

Lawrence Tibbett—ditto for his faultless diction.

John Charles Thomas—ditto for his appealing voice.

Henrietta Schumann—a copy of some piano concerto she doesn't play.

Lucille Manners—congratulations and plaudits.

Ford program—long may it airwave.

Nadia Reisenberg—a "Life of Mozart."

"La Traviata"

This Week's Opera

Saturday, December 23, The Metropolitan Opera Company will present Giuseppe Verdi's "La Traviata" on NBC at 2:00 p.m. EST; 1:00 p.m. CST; 12:00 noon MST; 11:00 a.m. PST.

THE CAST:

Violetta Helen Jepson (soprano)

Alfredo Richard Crooks (tenor)

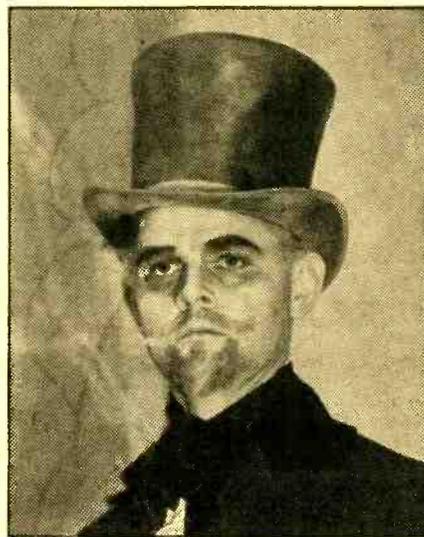

Germont Senior
Lawrence Tibbett (baritone)

Laura Thelma Votipka (soprano)

Conductor: Ettore Panizza

noted demi-mondaine, living a luxurious, reckless, and none too particular life in the French capital, gives a supper party to the "cafe set" of those days. Romantic Alfred Germont is a guest, and becomes enamored of the beautiful young hostess. Naively he questions her about herself, she is touched by his deep interest and pity, and her heart goes out to him. She agrees to give up her light career and devote herself to him alone.

They move to the country and are ideally happy until Alfred (Alfredo is his name in the opera) learns that Vio-

"La Traviata" is Verdi's operatic version of the famous story of Camille. On Saturday over NBC, the Metropolitan Opera presents it with Helen Jepson (r.) as Violetta (Camille) and Lawrence Tibbett as Germont, the elder

"LA TRAVIATA" is the Italian for "The Castaway," but the libretto has nothing to do with the sea. The story Verdi set to music was that of Dumas' (the younger) drama, "La Dame aux Camellias" (The Lady of the Camellias), best known and best wept over in America under the name of "Camille."

Francesco M. Piave adapted the romantic-tragic play for opera use, and Verdi furnished a brilliant score, including some of his loveliest and most popular airs. Venice saw the successful premiere in 1853.

For some reason Piave redated the story, for while Dumas' tale covers a period of Parisian life in the first half of the nineteenth century, the original Italian libretto took it back to the days of Louis XIV. However, at the Metropolitan the Dumas era is featured and the costumes are of the Second Empire. By the way, Dumas' play had its first production in 1852, at Paris (the year Napoleon III became Emperor). It will be seen, therefore, that Verdi possessed keen theatrical instinct and was a sharp opportunist, for twelve months after "La Dame aux Camellias" first triumphed in the theater it made its appearance as a Verdi opera.

Violetta (Camille), the heroine, a letta has secretly been selling her belongings in order to maintain their little home. He rushes off to Paris to secure funds of his own.

Alfredo's father arrives and upbraids Violetta for leading his son into "sinful and extravagant ways." Also he declares that the notoriety of Alfredo is interfering with the contemplated marriage of his sister. The susceptible and noble-minded Violetta renounces Alfredo, writes him a note of farewell, and goes back to her old life in Paris.

Alfredo finds her at a brilliant party and implores her to return to him. She refuses without giving any explanation. Alfredo plays wildly at the gaming-table, wins, and throws the money at Violetta, as "payment in full." His father turns up again, reproaches the son and takes him away.

Violetta, always tuberculous, is fatally ill in the last act. Alfredo, now informed by his father of her sacrifice, visits her repentantly. They pledge eternal love. Her last vows end in death.

The role of Violetta requires ability to sing coloratura and lyric music, as in the "Ah, fors e lui" aria (The One of Whom I Dreamed) at the end of the first act. Nearly every noted soprano has essayed the part.

WHAT DOES AMERICAN DEMOCRACY MEAN TO ME?

WHAT does American Democracy mean?

To you?

To the cop around the corner in the squad car? To the delicatessen clerk down the way? To the pregnant mother pushing her last kid through the park?

To you?

To Joe Louis who is black and Jim Thorpe who is red and Joe DiMaggio who is white?

To you?

Answer that to yourself slowly and thoughtfully. Work on it until you get it. The answer is important. It is more important this year of our Lord 1939 than it ever has been during the 163 years of our republic's existence.

There is a hymn people used to sing in church. It went "Count your many blessings, name them one by one . . ."

That is still a good idea. Count your many blessings.

That is what we asked a lot of famous people to do recently. We said, "Brother, count your many blessings and then tell us what American democracy means to you." The answers are too vital and too significant to keep. They come straight from the hearts of people who have visited your parlors and porches for years. There was no editorial doctoring of these reports. Here are America's radio stars and American citizens searching their secret souls.

Hear them speak!

Dave Elman, "Hobby Lobby": "Several years ago I heard about a man who was asked, 'If you were not an American, what would you rather be?' He answered, 'Dead.' My answer would be the same. Anyone who has known the joys of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness in our country and compares his good fortune with people living in other countries must know that our democracy is the only form of government under which Mr. and Mrs. Common Man can be truly happy."

Joe Penner: "When but a boy of eight, I sailed for America with a tag pinned on my coat marked: 'Destination—Detroit, Michigan.' There I joined my parents, who had preceded me. Newsboy, choir-singer, Ford factory hand, amateur actor, circus clown, burlesquer, vaudevillian, radio actor, picture-player — much water has passed under the bridge since the day my ship came through. As an adopted son of the United States, democracy means to me opportunity. The small share of success that has come to me is due to that opportunity — to the freedom assured every American no matter how humble his origin. Only in a democracy such as ours is such opportunity offered all men. I thank God I am an American."

Fred Allen: "American democracy means to me that as an individual I am permitted to voice my sentiments and enjoy sharing in the direction of governmental activities that have a direct influence on my daily life and welfare. In all other forms of government the individual is relegated to the role of innocent bystander."

Lowell Thomas: "For an American to appreciate what democracy means to him, just let him travel around the world. Let him see the variegated sorts of governments from primitive tribalism on the Burma-China border to the complete despotism of the advanced totalitarian nations of Europe. Let him see the restraints on individualism and personal freedom among the caste-ridden masses of India; the tabu-hoarded, clan-dominated tribes of the South Seas; the militarized goose-steppers of European fascism and communism, and the war-hoarded terrorists of Europe. Then he will say as I say—'American democracy means to me something precious and unique on this earth.'"

Lucille Manners: "To me, American democracy gives an equal chance for everybody, no matter how humble his (or her) beginnings, to realize his ambitions, to see his fondest hopes come true. It means a system that gave me opportunity to make my own dreams come true, and Cinderella stories like mine become actualities every day."

Edward G. Robinson: "In a world burdened with 'isms,' there is only one for me. That 'ism' is Americanism, conceived and founded in the spirit of true democracy. That democracy guarantees Challenge to Broadcasters!

On these pages are the thrilling, crackling words of men and women who love their country. That they are radio stars is of secondary importance. They are citizens of a democracy first. On these pages are words that should rise through the skies far beyond the limits of the circulation of Radio Guide. They should echo in every home and reecho in every heart along with the imperishable refrain, "Thank God, I'm an American." Take these declarations and let them rush out on the wind so people can know that democracy does work. Speak to all America, broadcasters. Make us proud radio can help men to love one another in a world nearly shattered by hate.

to all, irrespective of race, creed or color, the inalienable rights of free assembly, free speech and free worship. It thus assures us the sacred privilege of living, thinking and acting as free men. Democracy exemplifies the right of man to live as a human being, not as a vassal slave. It is our blessing."

Clifton Fadiman: "I am very old-fashioned. I still think democracy means what it has always meant: equality, as far as possible, of economic opportunity; the assurance of comfortable survival for all; protection against domination by any group or any 'ism.' And as an ideal for humanity—well, you'll find it all better stated in the New Testament. Why not try it sometime?"

Bill Stern: "To me democracy means having a home today and knowing it will still be there tomorrow! It means living in a country where a 'smash hit' crowds theaters instead of air-raid shelters. It means, too, that it's much pleasanter to sit in a stadium describing a football game than to listen to the roar of a cannon and, lastly, it means that under a democracy we can watch our boys pitch pigskins instead of hand-grenades."

Kate Smith: "For the past few months I've devoted a great deal of time on the air to the subject of Americanism. I've voiced my creed as an American. I've emphasized the privileges and values of democratic government. I've talked about our flag and what it stands for in our lives. Over and over again I've sung Mr. Irving Berlin's stirring patriotic hymn, 'God Bless America.' Now, all these allusions to our country were not an accident. It seemed to me a sacred duty—and still does—to use whatever influence I may have to protect and pay tribute to that which should be nearest and dearest to all our hearts—our American democracy. Literally hundreds of thousands of letters have come to me from people who feel as I do, yet it amazes me every now and then to hear the singing of patriotic songs and the upholding of American ideals referred to as 'flag-waving.'

"To those who label patriotism and Americanism as flag-waving, I'd like to say this: I'm not an orator. I'm not a politician, but I'm proud and happy to be known as a flag-waver. I love my country, I honor my flag. I am filled with reverence and gratitude for being so fortunate as to live in a democracy which gives its people freedom. Well, they can call it flag-waving, sentimentality or anything else they care to. As for me, I'm going right ahead saying that America is the most wonderful land on earth. I'm going to continue to do everything in my power to uphold and protect its democratic principles. I'm going to keep on being a flag-waver—a Star Spangled Banner flag-waver, now and always!"

Walter Damrosch: "The Bill of Rights expresses more lucidly than I ever could what democracy means to me. Especially Article I, which, in establishing a free speech, press and religion inferentially prohibits any single-minded tyrant from telling Americans what type of music can or cannot be heard and whether a composer's work is 'playable' or 'verboten.'"

Carlton E. Morse: "I was a guest of Mother and Father Barbour in their Sea Cliff home the other evening. I found family continuity; I found home life in full bloom. Paul was home to dinner and not flying a plane in enemy territory on the Western Front. Hazel and the children were over for dinner and they weren't required to bring their gas-masks with them. In fact, except for pictures, the Barbours hardly knew what a gas-mask looked like. And they've never been in a bombproof shelter nor heard the distant thunder of enemy guns, nor the angry snarl of an enemy plane. The Barbours worship as they see fit and speak their mind without fear or reservation. And when they bow their heads in thanks it is with the comforting thought of the years of peace and plenty ahead. The same comforting thought that is in the minds of the millions and millions of other American families. These are just a few of the reasons why I am thankful I am a citizen of a great and good democracy in this year of our Lord 1939."

H. R. Baukhage: "Back from war in regimented, censorship-gagged Europe, the American brand of democracy looks pretty good. Freedom to move about as one pleases, freedom to say and to print the truth—all of these are unknown in Europe today. To me, real democracy means mixing enough responsibility with our freedom so there will be plenty of liberty to go around. P. S. There isn't any democracy in war."

Benny Goodman: "Democracy has a very important meaning as far as I am concerned. It gives me the right to find the finest talent for my orchestra regardless of creed or color; it means that I can have Lionel Hampton, Fletcher Henderson and Charlie Christians, three outstanding Negro musicians, working beside men like Toots Mondello, Artie Bernstein, Ziggy Elman, Nick Fatool, Red Ballard and all the other boys in my band. Democracy means equal rights for artists and musicians without concern for nationality, religion or any other of the forms of discrimination which act only to lower the standards of art and music wherever they appear."

Gabriel Heatter: "What does American democracy mean to me? It means a way of life that makes life worth while. It means I'm free to dream and, if I'm willing to work hard enough for it, to make my dreams come true. It means I am free to climb as high as my heart will carry me and there is no one to ask: Who was your father? What was his faith? Where was he born?"

"It means that I can go to my boy or girl and say: You live under a government of laws and those laws will protect you from any who preach hate or persecution. It means tolerance and hope and courage in a world in which millions pray for tolerance, in which millions grope for hope and courage. Above all, it means that I am free to reach out to God and possess that most priceless of all jewels—the jewel of faith.

"The lamps grow dim nearly everywhere. Men surrender or men are forced to surrender their liberties, their faith. American democracy means that we who are lucky enough to live under it will never be called upon to surrender it. And having it, we shall be free. To be free is to live. To be free no longer is to know only the living death."

George Jessel: "'All men were created free and equal.' This implies a freedom for the individual that is possible only in a democracy such as ours. I was born here and so were my parents and grandparents. We have been able to smile at all times, and because of that, democracy means to me that a sphere of happiness is completely possible to us, a sphere whose only boundaries are our own personal, intellectual and physical abilities."

Ted Malone: "This is a land where the visions and dreams of a people are not regimented by a few; where the miracle of the mind finds life a great adventure bounded only by its own capacity; where the glad song of work is echoed in a poetry of peace."

Burgess Meredith: "In general, a democracy doesn't talk about itself much, and the people in a democracy don't praise it excessively. For a long time it has been taken for granted—perhaps for too long, since men have died for it. Possibly the reason that there is so little flag-waving is that democracy leaves us so free as individuals that we forget we are confined by a government. Our government serves us and we become used to it and are apt to pay it as little attention as a good servant. But in times like these, the advantages of living in a democracy are brought strongly to our minds and we can pause for a little bit of gratitude and even flag-waving and chest-beating for the form of government under which we are still able to live."

National

Song Search

Joe Emerson, famed baritone of "Hymns of All Churches" (Mon., Tues., Thurs., NBC), is honorary judge of the Song Search Hymns

A PERFECT Christmas gift for two young song-writers of Geneva, N. Y., is the two-hundred-dollar check which is now in their hands as composers of Song Search winner No. 9. A. Maurice Crance and Les Bagley are the lucky pair and their song is "The Night Has Begun." Incidentally, they also took a consolation prize in Contest No. 8.

Song Search Story Must Wait

Although four more winners are yet to be announced, the Pop-Song Contests of the National Song Search are all closed now. Among the tens of thousands of songs which have been considered, there were hundreds of interesting and unusual entries and many a fascinating story. The telling of the behind-the-scenes Song Search story must be left, however, for another time.

Two New and Different Contests

Just now, the most important Song Search news concerns two remaining contests described on this page. Remember that the reward for each is identical to those already given to Pop-Song winners. Besides $200.00 in cash, winning song-writers will receive the standard song-writer's contract with full royalties; immediate publication of song in sheet-music form; immediate recording and distribution as phonograph records; placement of the song in the regular Davis-Schwegler library service; one dozen pieces of sheet music, two records and one electrical transcription. Be sure that your entry for the Hymn Contest is mailed before midnight of Saturday, December 30. Mail your semi-classical songs before midnight of January 6, 1940.

Last Call for a New American Hymn

With the object of finding a great, new American hymn or sacred number, the National Song Search issues a last call for entries in the Hymn Contest. This competition, which offers the same prizes and additional rewards as the Pop-Song Contests (see rules) is a magnificent opportunity for all writers of serious music. Can you write a song like "The Old Rugged Cross" or "Rock of Ages"? Submit your song today. All entries must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, December 30.

A Semi-Classical Number Contest

One last contest, besides that just described, remains open. That is the Semi-Classical Contest, purpose of which is to find a great, new American semi-classical number for voice. Example: "Trees," "Indian Love Call," "Sylvia." All entries must be mailed before midnight of January 6, 1940.

Read These Rules Carefully

1. Contestants must live in the United States or Canada. Anyone may enter the National Song Search with the exception of employees or members of the families of employees of Radio Guide or the Davis-Schwegler Company.
 2. Entries must be addressed as follows: National Song Search Headquarters, Radio Guide, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Ill. No manuscripts will be returned unless accompanied by self-addressed stamped envelopes.
 3. An entry must be written in ink (not pencil) on regularly ruled music copying paper. It may be a full piano arrangement or a simple melody. Words will not be considered in judging.
 4. No correspondence can be entered into by either Radio Guide or Davis-Schwegler Company regarding individual contributions.
 5. Contestants may enter any or all contests. Winning any contest prize does not disqualify for other contest prizes.
 6. The name and address of contestant must be written in ink or typed in the top margin of page one of each entry submitted. The name of the contest must also be written in ink or typed on page one.
 7. A contestant may submit as many entries for any single contest as he may wish—and may win more than one prize provided his entries merit such consideration.
 8. Each entry shall be judged solely on its musical merit. Judges will be the editorial boards of Radio Guide and Davis-Schwegler Company. Contestants, by entering the contest, agree decisions of judges shall be final.
 9. The prizes awarded winners of each contest are identical, namely, the song-writer whose song is selected by the judges as best in each contest will receive: (a) $200 in cash; (b) The standard song-writers' contract with Davis-Schwegler Company, music publishers, providing for standard royalties on sheet music and other sales; (c) His song will be published and distributed through Davis-Schwegler Company outlets; (d) His song will be recorded and phonograph records offered for sale through regular D-S outlets; (e) His song will be electrically transcribed and placed in the regular Davis-Schwegler Company library service to more than 200 radio stations. One dozen pieces of sheet music, two records, and one electrical transcription will be given free to the song-writer. The next five songs selected by the judges as being most worthy will win for their writers the sum of $10.00 each. The next six songs selected will be given Honorable Mention Certificates.
 10. Hymn or sacred music contest entries must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, December 30.
- Semi-classical number contest entries must be mailed before midnight of Saturday, January 6, 1940.

Runners-up of Pop-Song Contest No. 9 Will Be Announced Next Week

GLOOMY GLENN LEARNS to GRIN

Shy, retiring Mr. Miller hits the jitterbug crowd and hits it hard RIDING high on the hepcat horizon these days is a new contender for the Throne of Swing.

That contender is Glenn Miller. People who are familiar with only the more widely ballyhooed of dance-band statistics know that Glenn Miller runs the hottest thing in swing bands today. They have watched him edge quietly up to Benny Goodman himself in the popularity polls. They have seen him outstrip high-flying Artie Shaw in New York, where Miller's take for a week at the Paramount Theater was $56,000 to Shaw's $30,000 for the same days at the Strand. Perhaps they are also aware that he will step into Paul Whiteman's shoes on this Wednesday's (December 27) Chesterfield dance broadcast.

The fan magazines will tell these people how Glenn Miller—brilliant, young, unknown—sky-rocketed to jitterbug favor by some art of black magic. At least with a rabbit's-foot in his vest-pocket. Actually, the story is quite different.

For twelve years, almost a lifetime in his business, Glenn Miller has knocked about in the big-time band world. Fresh out of the University of Colorado, whither his not-too-affluent parents had sent him, this gangling youth's main asset was an extra special way with a trombone. At first his father, a carpenter, had reluctantly watched the boy wrap himself up in a horn, but when he earned his way at college by tooting it for campus dances, Mr. Miller saw the light. When Glenn left school he was good enough to rate a berth in Ben Pollack's orchestra. Those were the days when Ben had Gene Krupa, Benny Goodman and the brothers Dorsey.

Though he has played in many bands and organized at least one besides his own, Glenn has never since left the ranks of virtuoso popular music-makers.

Even during the years before swing meant anything more to American youth than a rope hanging from the backyard apple tree, Glenn was privately swinging out on his trombone. Bix Beiderbecke, then pioneering swing arrangements for recordings, hired him on hearing. The Dorseys, Red Nichols, and almost all the name bands used him for recording dates. Thus he reached and stayed at the pinnacle of free-lance success.

Long-legged, bespectacled, he sat under Ben Pollack, Tommy Dorsey, Andre Kostelanetz. Few dancers knew that it was the quiet trombonist who had devised this tricky combination of instruments or that little freak twist of arranging which add up to make a bandleader's style. Hard work behind the scenes then are the sure foundations of his success at arranging today. Influential as he was as rank-and-file bandsman, however, Miller's real chance at originality popped up when Ray Noble, droll Britisher of the Burns and Allen show, came to America several years ago, leaving his orchestra behind because of United States labor laws. Noble needed a man to organize and manage his new band. He hired Miller to do the job, and his immediate success as a network orchestra was built on Miller ideas of style and band construction.

So when Glenn decided, after a lot more deliberation than most bright young men, to start his own band, its success was a foregone conclusion. That is, to wiseacres who knew him for a real musician's musician. In addition to brilliant success as arranger and organizer of bands, he was already a song-writer. His "Moonlight Serenade," for which Mitchell Parish, famous for "Deep Purple" and "Stardust," later wrote lyrics, and which sold 30,000 copies before it was even released for use by other bands, was once a trombone exercise thought up for practise hours. Here was a triple-strength front—writer, arranger, virtuoso rolled into one—with which to hit American dance fans. A foregone conclusion, yes, but with one question mark. Was his personality right for band-leading? That was soon to be proved.

While Dame Fortune had thus been treating Miller quite decently in his profession, she had also played ball with him in other ways. Seven years ago he married Helen Burger, a college sweetheart. Mutual distaste for a history course at Colorado may have been responsible for their meeting. More likely, it was the prosaic but charming story of boy meeting girl. Helen doesn't take to the road with her husband, is content to stay in their Hotel Pennsylvania suite in New York. That is, since Glenn has turned maestro.

AND Glenn has been a maestro for a few weeks more than a year. That explains the "rapid rise" and "fame and fortune" patter which has been applied to him in some quarters. Here is what really happened.

Like other top arrangers, Miller saw his ideas misinterpreted and emasculated by other bands and bandleaders. "I was just tired of being pounded at," he explained. "I was tired of arguing about arrangements, of hearing things come out entirely different from the way I wrote them. I wanted to actually hear my ideas and I figured the only way I could was with my own band."

Turning down a $350-a-week job with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, he began to recruit men—he knew the kind he wanted—all through the country. Because he couldn't afford top virtuosos from the big bands, and didn't want them anyway—virtuosos spend most of the time promoting themselves—he toured one-night stands, listening for talent. Almost every man he contracted was from some hinterland spot.

After a quiet opening at Boston's State Ballroom in September, 1938, a few college dates and months of shaping up, he hit New York at Broadway's Paradise Restaurant. Network wires from the Paradise got him a wider hearing. A four-week engagement at Meadowbrook lengthened into twelve weeks. And then a summer date at famous Glen Island Casino. By now he had jarred New York dancing crowds to their molars. Summer attendance records at Glen Island were shattered. NBC broadcasts several times weekly spread the Miller rage everywhere.

Obviously the next step was bagging a big commercial air show. That step will be taken as Glenn Miller succeeds Jazz King Paul Whiteman for Chesterfield. Go back twelve months and this story sounds like a Sindbad tale. Go back twelve years and it is the inevitable which has happened. Unusual talent plus far-sighted, cautious planning plus a love for one's craft could add up to no other result. A foregone conclusion, did we say? Except for the personality question.

A year ago Glenn Miller was a serious lad whom friend and occasional foe alike loved to call "Gloomy Glenn," "The Great White Father," or more pungently, "Glum Glenn." His appearance wasn't a big help, either. Simple utilitarian glasses and an earnest expression gave him a professorial mien

Long-legged, bespectacled Glenn Miller played with many name-bands before he started his own, but in barely a year his swing band has made big-time radio. Wednesday he succeeds Paul Whiteman (CBS) which contrasted strangely with a ballroom atmosphere. A few months under the public's exacting eye, however, were enough to break down whatever excess reserve he may have had. Dance fans who meet him now find him a smiling, casually genial person who likes people and likes to give people what they like. He likes jitterbugs.

"Why should anybody have anything against them?" he asks. "They may not be music critics but they've obviously got a feel for rhythm. So what if they are demonstrative?"

Miller's close friends are all in the music business, directly or indirectly. Tommy Dorsey, George Simon of Metronome, Chummy MacGregor, his own pianist, and Claude Thornhill, pianist, are among them. Dorsey is a friendly enemy—but mostly friendly—of old. When he organized his band several years ago, Miller helped him pick his men. Later, Dorsey returned the favor. Each thinks the other tops.

Today Glenn Miller has two all-consuming interests. They are the same interests which he had years ago when he tooted his horn on the Boulder (Colorado) campus—his wife, Helen, and his job, music. His music is shaking America. And though he has neither children nor permanent home, he has Helen and "Pops Haggerty"—Boston Bull supreme. What more can a trombone-tooter ask?

—John W. Carlson.

On Short Waves

Edited by Charles A. Morrison

President, International DX'ers Alliance

Programs from foreign countries subject to change without notice

HOW TO LISTEN TO NEWFOUNDLAND

SHORT-WAVE broadcasts can now be heard daily except Sunday from the Island of Newfoundland, one of Great Britain's oldest colonies, a famed fishing and vacation spot lying east of Canada and forming the furthestmost tip of the North American continent.

The Broadcasting Corporation of Newfoundland, which first commenced its services in March of this year, operates two transmitters at Mount Pearl, while the programs actually originate from studios on the top floor of the Newfoundland Hotel in near-by St. John's. VONF, a 10,000-watt transmitter, operates on a broadcast frequency of 640 kilocycles. Its programs are relayed by short-wave station VONG, which, notwithstanding its low power of 300 watts, is heard consistently throughout eastern North America and, when conditions are good, throughout the United States and Canada. VONF broadcasts daily except Sunday on 9.48 megas, at the low-frequency side of the 31-meter band, about half-way between COCH (9.44), Havana, Cuba, and GSB (9.51), London, from 7:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. CST and on either 9.48 or 5.97 megas, on the low-frequency side of the 49-meter band, from 3:30 to 8:30 p.m. CST.

Chimes similar to those employed by NBC may be heard on VONG's programs each half-hour. In addition, the station can be easily identified during its regular relays of the English news broadcasts from London, at 12 noon and 6:30 p.m. CST.

The station's officials welcome reception reports and these should be addressed to A. N. House, Broadcasting Corporation of Newfoundland, P. O. Box E5372, St. John's, Newfoundland. Correct reports will be verified with a neat white QSL card bearing an outline map of Newfoundland and the station call-letters in blue.

FINLAND: Finland is not an easy country to receive even during peace times when its two short-wave transmitters are operating on regular schedules. Reception conditions have been so poor for the past few days that it is impossible to state definitely whether or not the Finnish short-wave station is still on the air; however, the Lahti transmitters operate normally as follows: Over OFE (11.78), from 12:05 to 11:05 a.m. CST; over OFD (9.50), from 11:15 a.m. to 4 p.m. CST; over OIE (15.19), from 12:05 to 3 a.m. and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. CST; over OIH (17.80), from 3 to 8 a.m. CST, and over OII (21.55), irregularly. By watching these various channels you may be fortunate enough to hear news direct from Helsinki, the capital of the besieged state. I don't know whether the 100,000-watt short-wave transmitter, ordered by the Finnish government for use in connection with the 1940 Olympic Games, has been completed at the British Marconi Works or not, but Finland needs this station so badly at present that it seems logical to assume if such is humanly possible it will be rushed to completion so the true story of Finland's courageous struggle against almost overwhelming odds may be told to the entire world.

Background for Listening

Saturday, December 23

Bull Session, CBS.

"And on Earth Peace—Good Will to Whom?" is the timely subject to be discussed this week by a group of Northwestern University students.

Eastern 4:00 p.m.	Central 3:00 p.m.	Mountain 2:00 p.m.	Pacific 1:00 p.m.
----------------------	----------------------	-----------------------	----------------------

People's Platform, CBS.

Four philosophers, including author Irving Edman, will discuss the pros and cons of the oft-repeated question "Is Life Worth Living?"—and will give their opinions on what philosophy has to offer people today.

Eastern 7:00 p.m.	Central 6:00 p.m.	Mountain 5:00 p.m.	Pacific 4:00 p.m.
----------------------	----------------------	-----------------------	----------------------

Sunday, December 24

War Children's Christmas, NBC.

When war was declared in Europe, hundreds of thousands of young children living in the great metropolitan areas like London, Paris and Berlin were scattered in the less-crowded country districts. Today many of them are spending their first Christmas away from home in strange, new surroundings, and for a brief quarter-hour NBC will let them tell in their own words what this Christmas means to them. From "somewhere" in England, France and Germany, Europe's war children, through NBC interpreters, will tell the world what they are doing on their first war Christmas and sing the traditional Christmas carols in their native tongues. For human-interest appeal this program holds great promise of being the most outstanding in the entire Christmas schedule.

Eastern 1:15 p.m.	Central 12:15 p.m.	Mountain 11:15 a.m.	Pacific 10:15 a.m.
----------------------	-----------------------	------------------------	-----------------------

The Man Named Christmas, NBC.

An original play by Ranald MacDougall touching on the ancient question of whether people would live their lives differently if they had them to live over again. Following this theme Mr. Christmas, the gentle and mellow spirit of Christmas itself, restores beliefs and illusions to a man who had lost them.

Eastern 2:00 p.m.	Central 1:00 p.m.	Mountain 12:00 noon	Pacific 11:00 a.m.
----------------------	----------------------	------------------------	-----------------------

Twilight in Palestine, NBC.

Against a background of special music, Geraldine Farrar will read a beautifully written poem, her own, titled "Twilight in Palestine." This work by Miss Farrar, of grand opera fame, deals with Palestine on the eve of the birth of Christ.

Eastern 3:45 p.m.	Central 2:45 p.m.	Mountain 1:45 p.m.	Pacific 12:45 p.m.
----------------------	----------------------	-----------------------	-----------------------

Story of Christmas, NBC.

Using the actual words of the Bible to tell the story of Christmas, author-composer Wells Hively blends unique drama with original descriptive music. A male quartet and string orchestra will support the cast.

Eastern 6:30 p.m.	Central 5:30 p.m.	Mountain 4:30 p.m.	Pacific 3:30 p.m.
----------------------	----------------------	-----------------------	----------------------

Campbell Playhouse, CBS.

Christmas without a hearing of Charles Dickens' immortal legend, "A Christmas Carol," just wouldn't seem complete. And with Lionel Barrymore breathing life into the warped soul of Ebenezer Scrooge once again we will get the story at its best. The familiar legend of the skinflint who thought Christmas celebrants should "be boiled in their own puddings and buried with a holly through their hearts"—and who learned to "wish the whole world a Merry Christmas" promises once more to be one of the highlights of the season's schedule of special programs. This year it will be the "Playhouse" presentation on Christmas Eve.

Eastern 8:00 p.m.	Central 9:00 p.m.	Mountain 8:00 p.m.	Pacific 7:00 p.m.
----------------------	----------------------	-----------------------	----------------------

Monday, December 25

King George VI, NBC, CBS, MBS.

For a brief five minutes the ruler of an empire that embraces about one-fifth the surface of the globe and one-fourth the population, of the world will extend a Christmas greeting to his people. This year, with the empire at war and with mothers, fathers,

U. S. Marines, defenders of Americans' rights in peacetime, get stiff workout in bayonet drill. Their job is subject of "Americans at Work," Thursday, CBS

LISTENING TO LEARN

"If radio can stimulate a person to look further into things, or if it can provoke a man to think—then it's an education, and you have a college in your living-room."

Person-to-Person . . .

● Sterling Fisher, Columbia's director of education and talks, is preparing a unique conference (without speeches), to be held at CBS headquarters in New York for three days during the last week in March. Invitations to leaders in the field of educational broadcasting will be forthcoming shortly. The meeting is an outgrowth of a suggestion made by H. Clay Harshbarger, of State University of Iowa, to give those actively engaged in the preparation and presentation of educational programs an opportunity to freshen up on the latest network techniques. Programs to be witnessed will include the "American School of the Air" rebroadcast on Thursday afternoon, "Columbia Workshop" and "Americans at Work" on Thursday evening, the Friday morning "American School" session from the auditorium of a New York City high school, and "Bull Session," "What Price America" and "People's Platform" on Saturday. Assisting Mr. Fisher in his plans for this meeting will be the CBS staff of expert producers and writers, including Max Wylie, Earl McGill, Margaret Lewerth, Murray Dyer, Brewster Morgan and Norman Corwin.

● THANKS to an excellent suggestion from Kathleen Lardie, of the Visual-Radio Education Department of the Detroit Board of Education, an alphabetical list of educational programs broadcast over the networks is being prepared for publication in RADIO GUIDE soon. Teachers using radio and listeners interested in educational programs will find this list of great service. To make sure you don't miss it, watch for an announcement of the publication date in this column.

● Representatives of practically every important unit at work in the field of education by radio were present at the Third School Broadcast Conference held in Chicago recently. Conference director Harold Kent's program, featuring demonstrations of radio's use in the classroom, was the most comprehensive ever directed at the problems of utilization. To those educators and broadcasters who were unable to attend, the detailed report of what was said and done during these three days should be of extreme interest. How this report may be secured will be announced here as soon as it is ready for distribution.

● The University Broadcasting Council is presenting a unique series of dramatizations of the lives of world famous artists whose works are shown in the Masterpieces of Italian Art exhibit on view at Chicago's Art Institute. This series over WGN is serving to bring many Chicagoans to the Institute to view this unusual collection lent by the Royal Italian Government. The Art Institute recently became a member of the UBC.

Americans at Work, CBS.

With Christmas, 1939, past, the turn to matters of daily concern is immediate. The job to be treated in this broadcast is one with which Americans are becoming more concerned. The program will begin with a studio dramatization of the history and work of the Marines, and include a remote pickup from Marine headquarters in San Diego, California, and a musical interlude by the Marine Band in Washington, D. C. Marines who have distinguished themselves in service will be interviewed.

The Voice of the Listener

$1.00 will be paid to the writer of every letter used in this department. Express your opinions, write V. O. L., 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Ill.

Lesson from Athens

Dear V. O. L.:

During my early newspaper days, I was returning home one morning about two o'clock, and I saw the village photographer focusing on a shop window in which heaps of clothing were flung about and dripping out of dresser and wardrobe drawers.

"Did the burglars get a good haul?" I asked.

"They told me to take a picture of a bedroom," he explained with pride, "so I fixed things up to look like a bedroom."

Doubtless the "home drama" and "real life stories" of radio are supposed to represent the typical American home, just as that riot of disorder represented a bedroom to the photographer. There is a time-honored axiom in education and in newswriting which forbids scaling what is offered below the average intelligence. Radio's daytime programs might take a lesson from the theater of Athens, to which is attributed the leaven which raised a people, unable to read or write, to be one of the greatest societies the world has ever known.

Frances James, Eau Claire, Wis.

Relaxation Music

Dear V. O. L.:

Those who want that sweet, soothing music to do their reading with should listen to the Viennese Ensemble over NBC. It comes in the morning at just about the time when a housewife can relax and enjoy the music after a busy time getting the children off to school, the beds made, the dishes washed, and other tasks done.

I'm a grandmother who lives alone and likes it, especially with my portable radio. I have part-time work as relief operator in our local telephone office and take my radio with me on Sunday and evenings when I work. I can't do without it.

Mrs. Gwen Beeler, Effingham, Kan.

● We add our recommendation to that of Mrs. Beeler in behalf of the Viennese Ensemble's fine music. It is heard Monday through Friday at 11:00 a.m. EST over some of the NBC stations.—V. O. L.

Shut-In Corner

Dear V. O. L.:

Will you please welcome another shut-in into the circle. I love radio and its music. I myself write words for songs, have done so all my life, though I have never had the means to get them set to music, though I wish I could. You see, we shut-ins don't like to feel that we are dependents, and most of us are gifted in some way or another, if we could only find a way to commercialize it. I hope someday through radio and your kind help that shut-ins will be given a broader opportunity to show their resourcefulness.

Maude E. Knecht, R. F. D. No. 1, Copley, Ohio

Worth the Effort

Dear V. O. L.:

This is the method I employ to develop my ten-year-old daughter's interest in music so that she listens attentively to radio concerts. Turning to your "March of Music," I examine the forthcoming programs. If Brahms' Second Symphony is to be played by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, I get my Victor Book of the symphony and familiarize myself with the sketch on the life of Brahms as well as the music itself. Somewhere I try to find a picture of Brahms. Then Carol and I read and talk of Brahms' life. We discuss different movements of the symphony—the first movement where we will remember to listen for the horns and the playful third movement in which the oboe has a bewitching little melody. Such methods as these require effort but the results are worth it.

Mrs. Hugh G. Crawford, Ajo, Ariz.

● Mrs. Crawford is to be commended for her purposeful listening system. Such are the channels by which radio may be turned into a great instrument of culture.—V. O. L.

Something for Nothing

Dear V. O. L.:

It's refreshing to find one program that gives away something for nothing. Just for suggesting a song and having the pleasure of hearing Wayne King and his men play it, a listener may receive a diamond ring! That's really a double treat—Wayne King playing your favorite song and a ring for good measure.

Mrs. Meg G. Eddy, Providence, R. I.

● That listeners appreciate the "no box-top" awards on the Wayne King program is evidenced by the fact that as many as 25,000 letters suggesting songs have been received in one week.—V. O. L.

Pattern for Fellowship

Dear V. O. L.:

I note that you reprint a recent speech of Frank Buchman, who spoke over short-wave station WRUL, Boston. It would seem that this provides a pattern for the kind of thing that ought to be done by other religious groups. In a recent bulletin of the Federal Council there is a phrase "to maintain our unbroken world-wide Christian Fellowship." It strikes me that one of the best ways to do this would be to use American short-wave in several languages.

Frank Nelson, Lakewood, Ohio.

I, the Person

Dear V. O. L.:

I believe that I can do big things in radio if I ever get a chance. I've been in several amateur shows, and won a second prize. What can I do to get on "We, the People"?

Jay Borden, Chicago, Ill.

● Live to be 199, invent a better mouse-trap or explosive, support a family on $5.00 a week, or memorize "Finnegan's Wake" backwards.—V. O. L.

"One Man's Family" Quarantined

Dear V. O. L.:

My two children and I have been quarantined for five weeks because Ann, the younger, has scarlet fever. I can't imagine what we would have done in this house shut off from everyone if it hadn't been for the radio. My husband couldn't even come home. But the radio programs have kept me from going completely berserk. We all have our favorite programs, naturally, but on one thing we all agree—Carlton

Morse's programs are not to be missed. Mrs. Wesley Coffey, Wichita Falls, Tex.

● We might say another exclusive quality of radio has been discovered: The humor, artistry and good-will of the kilocycles is contagious but can't be quarantined.—V. O. L.

North of the Border

Dear V. O. L.:

We in Canada listen to a goodly number of serials sponsored by American firms, who also have selling-rights in Canada. In the commercials when they advertise their particular product and are giving away certain additional souvenirs, they invariably say "good in the U. S. A. only," and that gets my goat. There are several products that can be purchased here in Canada, and we do not get the benefits as do the Americans. Cannot you kindly bring this to the notice of the sponsors?

Thomas C. Angell, Erican, Ontario, Canada.

● We are not lawyers, but we feel the reasons for this practise must involve legal restrictions of some kind rather than deliberate discrimination against Canadian customers. However, we publish Mr. Angell's letter to bring his complaint, as he requested, to the attention of sponsors.—V. O. L.

Sherman vs. Morfit

Dear V. O. L.:

I'm a regular "Club Matinee" listener, and I'm getting a big kick out of the current feud between Sherman and Morfit. I don't know whether they're really good friends or not. Anyway, they make a funny and exciting fight out of it. If they ever come to blows, who should really win?

Mrs. R. N. Laine, Dallas, Tex.

● It's hard to say who would win in a blow-for-blow battle, as they're both expert blowhards. In size and disposition, Sherman is the buxom, bawling mastiff, Morfit the yapping bull terrier. Take your pick.—V. O. L.

Report on "Guest Star" Poll

The tabulation of ballots on the "Guest Star" question submitted in this department for listeners to vote on reveals the following results:

"There are too many big-name guest stars on regular programs"—67%.

"The guest-star situation is all right as it is"—33%.

"Guest stars cause me to buy more of the sponsor's product"—No, 74%; yes, 15%; non-committal, 11%.

Most frequently voiced remarks were: Guests are all right in moderation if they actually have something outstanding to contribute, but are a bane if they appear only for name-value without doing anything of outstanding entertainment value; money spent on guest stars should be diverted to the pocketbooks of talented radio aspirants needing only a break to succeed; the part on a show of the guests too often consists merely of shallow chatter about their life or their work in the movies; there is too much mutual back-slapping between master of ceremonies and guest; great musicians are highly desirable as guest performers; guest celebrities are desirable in programs which are built entirely upon that principle—programs such as "George Jessel's Celebrity Program" and "Pursuit of Happiness"—also on strictly dramatic shows.

WALT DISNEY'S PINOCCHIO

LUX CHRISTMAS GIFT

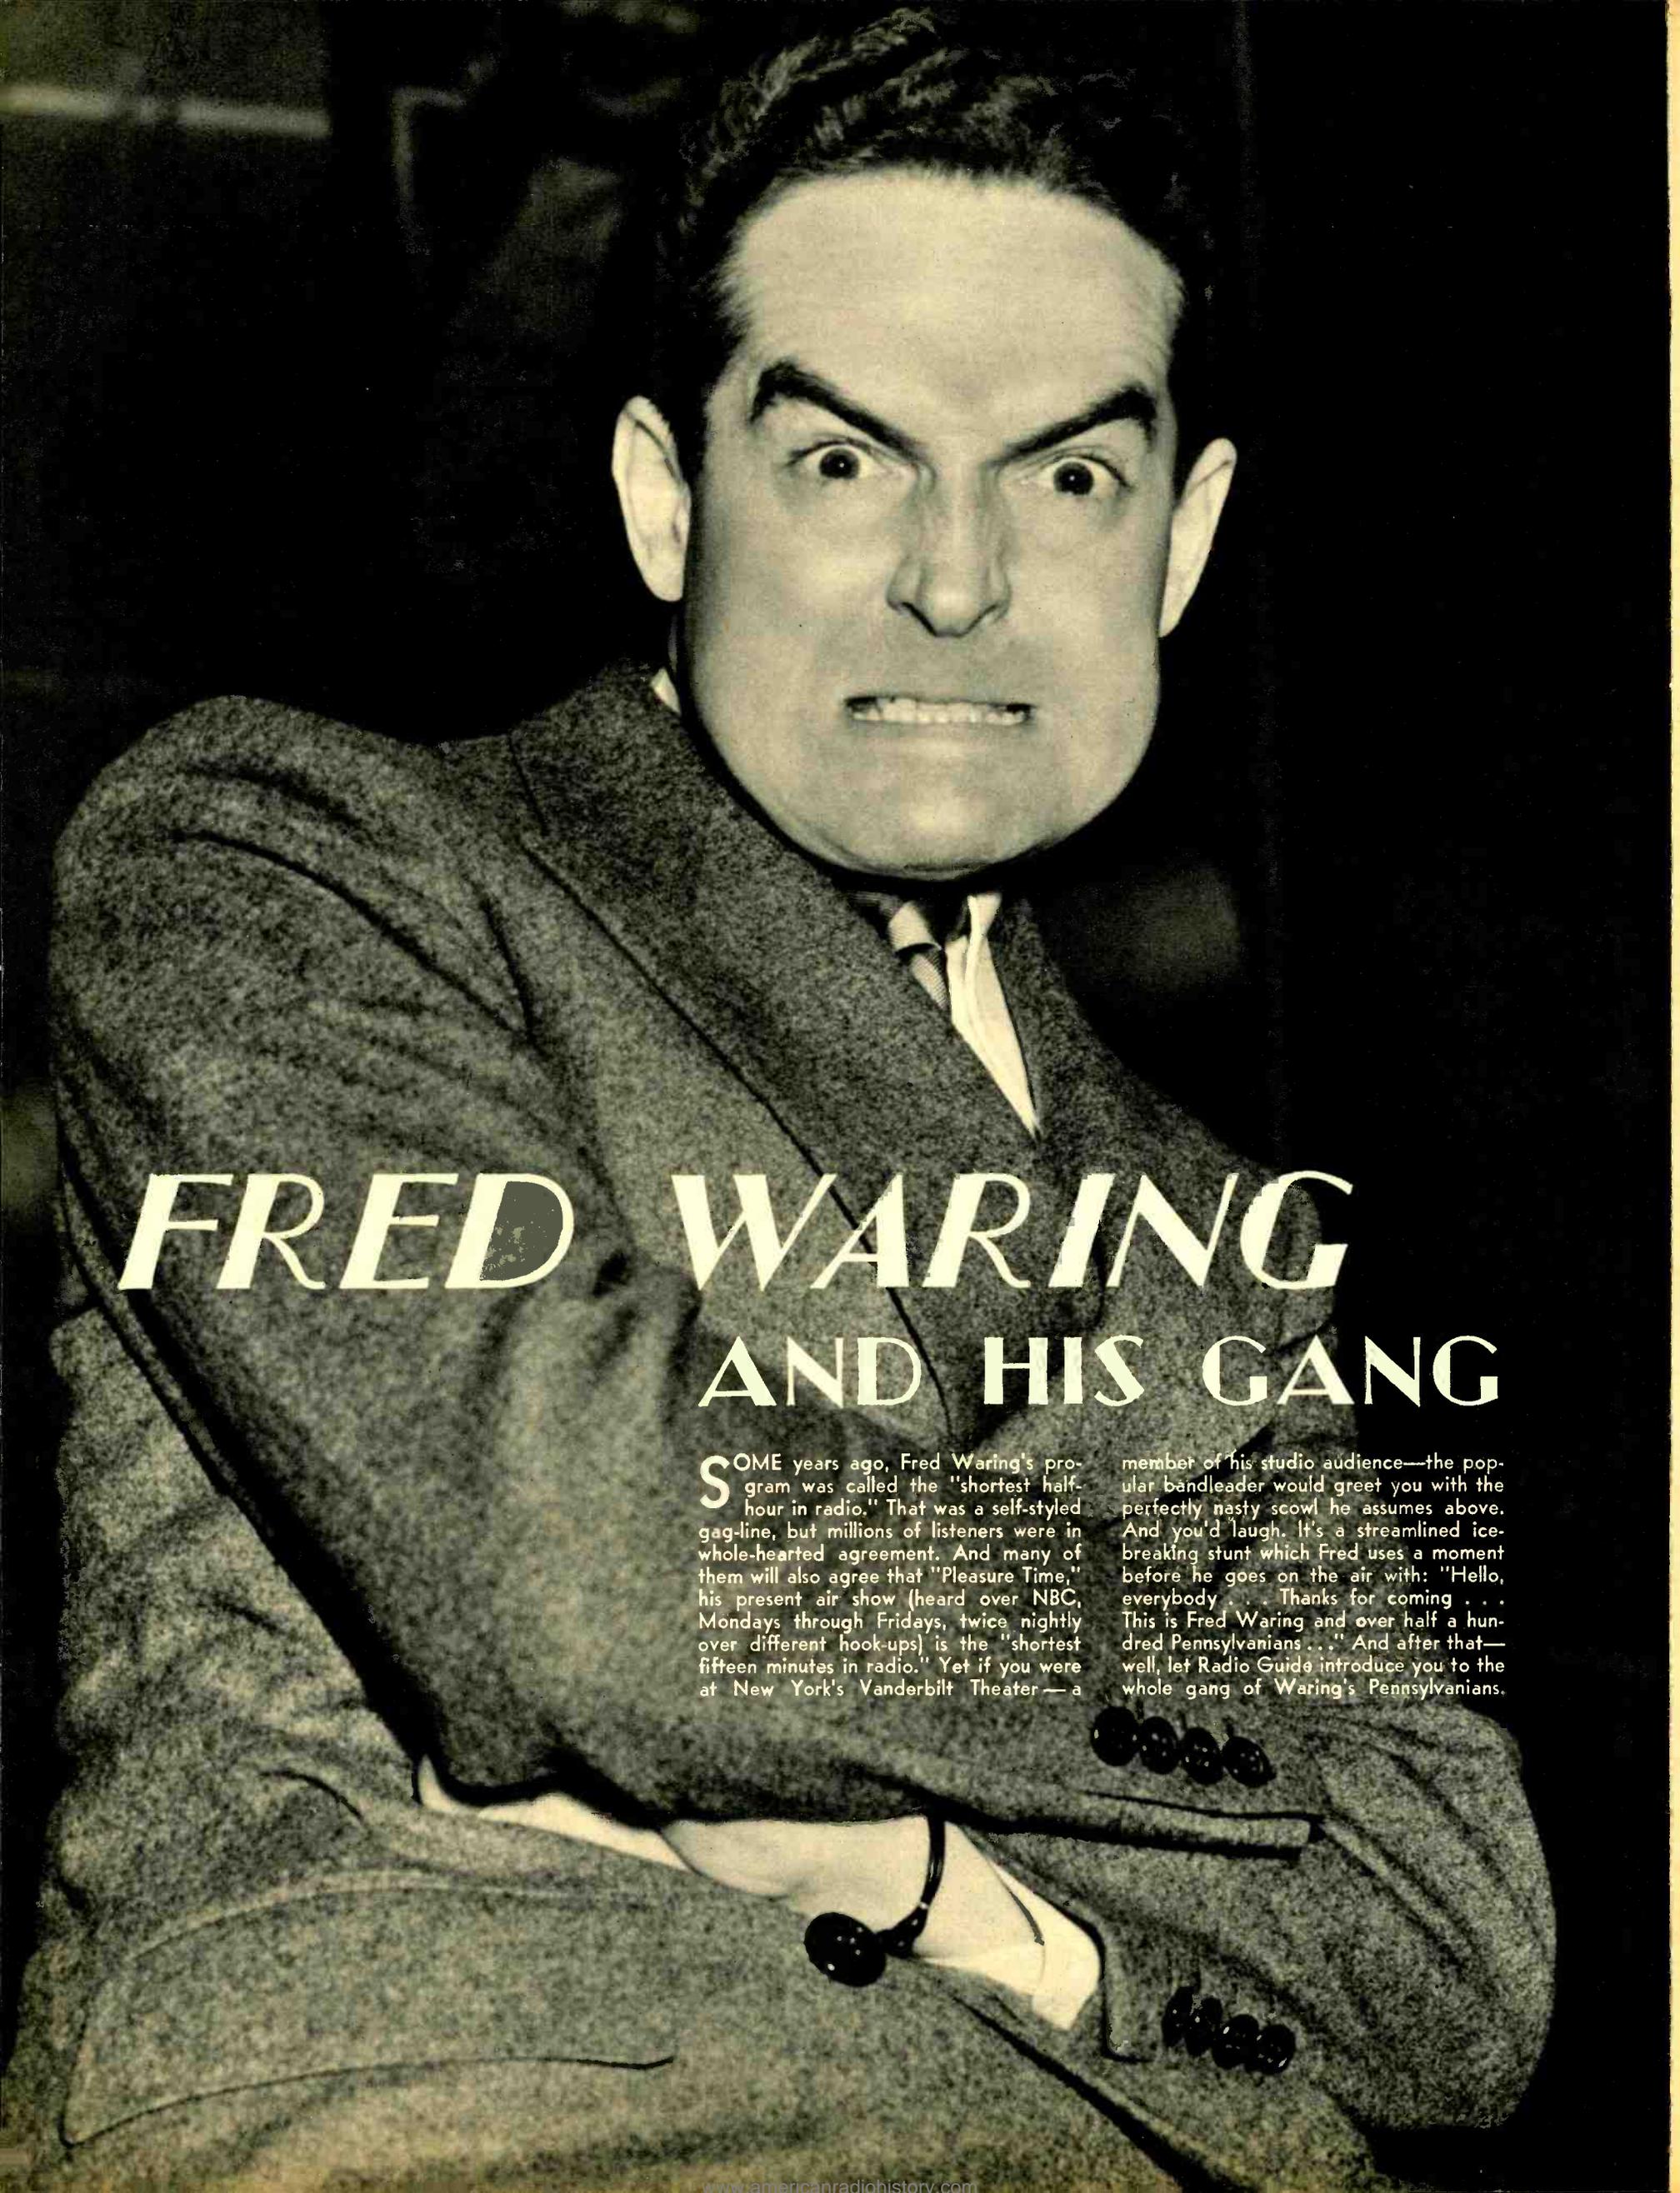

IN "PINOCCHIO," a full-length feature cartoon in color, Walt Disney promises a movie to exceed his record-breaking "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in breath-taking appeal. Important to radio listeners is the fact that "Lux Radio Theater" will present a full preview of this new Disney masterpiece as a special Christmas night broadcast. "Pinocchio" is the classic story of the old wood-carver who carved into a puppet named Pinocchio all of his yearnings for a son. The Blue Fairy gave to the puppet the gift of life for as long as he proved his right to live. But Pinocchio fell into one temptation after another and, unable to resist, it seemed that the gift of life would be taken from him. But— What really happens to Pinocchio will be revealed on the "Lux Theater" Christmas night (CBS, 9 p.m. EST; 8 CST; 7 MST; 6 PST).

JUST APPOINTED keeper of Pinocchio's conscience, Jiminy Cricket explains the meaning of the word to the puppet. "Wrong things may seem right at times and right things wrong sometimes," he explains in his most lucid manner. He is Pinocchio's shadow

FRED WARING AND HIS GANG

SOME years ago, Fred Waring's program was called the "shortest half-hour in radio." That was a self-styled gag-line, but millions of listeners were in whole-hearted agreement. And many of them will also agree that "Pleasure Time," his present air show (heard over NBC, Mondays through Fridays, twice nightly over different hook-ups) is the "shortest fifteen minutes in radio." Yet if you were at New York's Vanderbilt Theater—a member of his studio audience—the popular bandleader would greet you with the perfectly nasty scowl he assumes above. And you'd laugh. It's a streamlined ice-breaking stunt which Fred uses a moment before he goes on the air with: "Hello, everybody . . . Thanks for coming . . . This is Fred Waring and over half a hundred Pennsylvanians . . ." And after that—well, let Radio Guide introduce you to the whole gang of Waring's Pennsylvanians.

IF PERFECTION in dance broadcasts is possible, Fred Waring's is perfect. Old Gold, Ford and now Chesterfield admit that in the huge sums they have spent on Waring shows. Current weekly Waring budget is said to be $20,000. Part of the perfect band is this string section (left to right): Fred Culley, Johnny Richardson, Ferne. "Lady of the Violin," Ferne is soloist, a rarity in dance bands, after five years with Waring

DRUMMER POLEY McCLINTOCK'S tie-up with Fred Waring goes back twenty years, when as an eighteen-year-old lad he started his first band—of four pieces. Frog-voiced, portly, Poley rivals his boss in clowning, is best known for his "bathysphere bass." He sings tenor in the Pennsylvanians' Glee Club

AND HERE IS the Glee Club—source of smooth, thrilling male-ensemble singing, which listeners have admired on Fred Waring shows for years. Often supported by all other male Waring entertainers, these fifteen are the nucleus, often close "Pleasure Time" with "Sleep," an old spiritual Fred converted into a waltz. Although singers come and go, this group remains an original Waring idea—one which many other radio shows now imitate

"LIGHT UP AND LISTEN to Fred Waring . . ." Thus announcer Paul Douglas' (left) warm voice welcomes you to "Pleasure Time." A vital part of Fred's (r.) grouching-clowning technique, Douglas acts alternately as stooge and gagster. For weeks the two vied at guessing college football scores

STUART CHURCHILL'S mellow, silvery tenor voice has been a prime Waring attraction since the Pennsylvanians went on the air. Best all-around musician of the band, "Stu" plays many instruments well

MOST ORIGINAL comic idea of the show gives listeners the hodge-podge of unrelated words one gets through "Push-Button Tuning" and this is the gadget providing the click

"CLUB MATINEE" BREWS A FEUD

THERE'S the very deuce to pay on "Club Matinee" these days with its joint emcees—Ransom Sherman and Garry Morfit—engaged in a bitter verbal battle over who is the rightful manager of baritone Johnnie Johnston. Confidentially, Johnnie has signed contracts with both of the boys, and while they battle back and forth over who will take the first managerial cut out of his weekly pay-check, the only loser in the battle thus far has been Johnnie. Both Morfit and Sherman seem equally capable when it comes to exchanging verbal punches and so far the fight's a draw. Of course it's all in fun, and if you have any doubts as to just how much fun it really is, be sure to listen to "Club Matinee" (NBC, Monday through Friday, 4 p.m. EST; 3 CST; 2 MST; 1 PST) this Thursday when this whole side-splitting, word-splitting battle of phrases and epithets comes to a head. Six months ago the pair decided to split the shows, Morfit taking them on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Sherman now handles the assignment on Thursdays and Fridays. But Sherman, during one of Morfit's days to handle the program, walked in and engaged Garry in a verbal tilt. Morfit reciprocated when it came Sherman's turn to handle the show by walking in and challenging Sherman to a barrel-jumping duel before the whole NBC-Blue network's audience. Now both Morfit and Sherman have sued, the papers to be served this Thursday. Johnnie Johnston, as a climax, threatens to sue them both!

ORCHESTRA-LEADER Rex Maupin finds that leading a band on "Club Matinee" often means doubling as a referee in the feud between Sherman and Morfit as well as serving as a butt for their niftiest gags on those few occasions when things are running smoothly between the pair

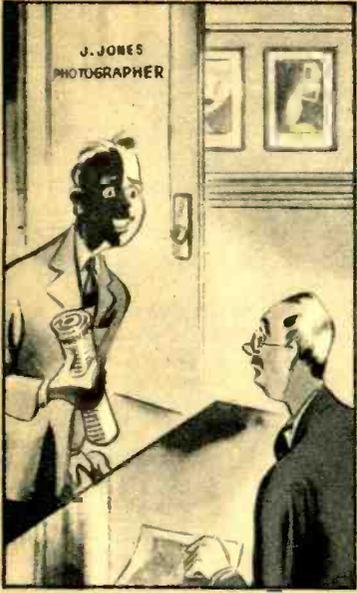

"IT'S NINE O'CLOCK in London, it's three o'clock in Chicago and it's 'Club Matinee' time everywhere!" Louis Roen, announcer of the program, waits here for his cue to sign the show on with these words, which mean—for listeners everywhere—an invitation to rollicking entertainment

EARNEST SECONDS of Morfit in this feud are (l. to r.) saxophonists Jack Cordaro, Jimmy Both and Fritz Wolf. Sherman says it's a cinch Cordaro isn't under contract to Morfit, because if he were he wouldn't even have a cigarette to put behind his ear

PLAYING ON "CLUB MATINEE" means doing a little bit of everything to make the show a success, and singers often pitch in to help with the comedy. At right, Evelyn Lynne (left) and Betty Olson, vocalists, study gag-lines which have been assigned them

MEET MR. WEEKS

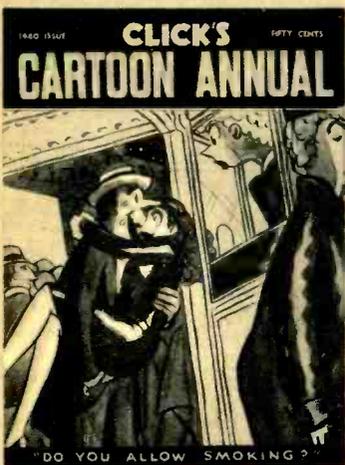

"You advertised for a black and white photographer"

Here's to a Gaggy CHRISTMAS

THIS is just one of the 401 cartoons that appear in Click's Cartoon Annual, which will give you and your friends many evenings of fun as each of these cartoons packs a belly-laugh.

One hundred and twenty-eight pages of the best gags ever published—many of them in full color—drawn by America's best-known artists. See the cavalcade of cartooning—from crusading Thomas Nast to modern Peter Arno.

Click's Cartoon Annual will be the hit of 1940. If you want to be smart, you must get yourself a copy. You'll find it on the newsstands at 50c a copy. If you want to order by mail use the coupon below.

Click Annual,

When you hear his rousing stories of writers, books and literary forgeries, you'll say he's a man to listen to

"MEET Mr. Weeks—" You hold out your hand reservedly and say "How do you do" in a stiff sort of way, because this is Edward Weeks, editor of Atlantic Monthly, one of our uppercrust magazines. You remember that here is the man who occupies the chair once held by James Russell Lowell, William Dean Howells, Thomas Bailey Aldrich, and you naturally expect him to be—well, intellectual and far above the rank and file. (All of this is figurative, of course, because Mr. Weeks is in Boston and you may be in Kansas or California and the meeting is taking place by radio.)

Then he starts talking and his accents aren't nearly as Harvardish as you had expected, and the things he talks about are things you always wanted to know anyway about people who write books—their little quirks of character, how they came to write this or that book. And then, in the next minute, he may be talking about some literary forgery or theft, and he makes it as thrilling as an Ellery Queen mystery story. Again, he strikes at the heart of today's news when he tells what censorship and dictatorship have done to such writers as Thomas Mann, fleeing the wrath of Hitler. He's been talking only a few minutes, but suddenly books and stories and people who have been cold and far away have come magnificently alive and you find you aren't listening to a cold book-review at all. You're going on a real journey of adventure and exploration with a guide who knows his way around. You're finding the human side of literature.

Mr. Weeks was born in Elizabeth, N. J., in 1898. His parents wanted him to be an engineer and sent him to Cornell with that end in view, but somehow building bridges didn't appeal to the youth who became more interested in stringing words together than watching steel girders climb skyward and, at the risk of precipitating a family war, was planning to transfer to the English department when the World War broke out. He left Cornell to drive an ambulance in the French Army, and on eighteen different sectors during the next four years he saw plenty of action, won the Croix de Guerre for distinguished services.

It was his war experiences which were to lead him directly into his present field. His letters home were so warmly descriptive and human that they won high praise from the editor of the Atlantic Monthly, who suggested, when Weeks was finally discharged after the War, that he enter Harvard. Later, this editor aided Weeks in securing a scholarship at Trinity College in Cambridge, England.

After Cambridge, he became a salesman, later an editorial apprentice with the publishing firm of Boni and Live-right, leaving them in 1925 to become assistant editor of the Atlantic Monthly Press, the book-publishing division.

It was here that he really came into his own. His was the idea that an editor's job went beyond reading and accepting or rejecting manuscript. He felt that an editor should travel about the country, meet new authors, encourage them to write the sort of books he feels the public will be interested in reading. This he did, and for the next ten years played an important part in American letters. From a pile of rejected manuscripts about to be mailed back to their authors he personally rescued Mazo de la Roche's "Jalna"—later to win a $10,000 prize and become an international best-seller. Other famous authors he either discovered or aided materially in their climb to fame are Nordhoff and Hall (of "Bounty" fame); James Hilton ("Goodbye, Mr. Chips"), Nora Waln, Harvey Cushing, and Ann Bridge.

He spends much of his time traveling about the country lecturing, but he confesses, "I learn much more from the people who come to hear me than they do from me." He has discovered many new writers on these speaking-trips and they permit him to keep his finger on the public pulse.

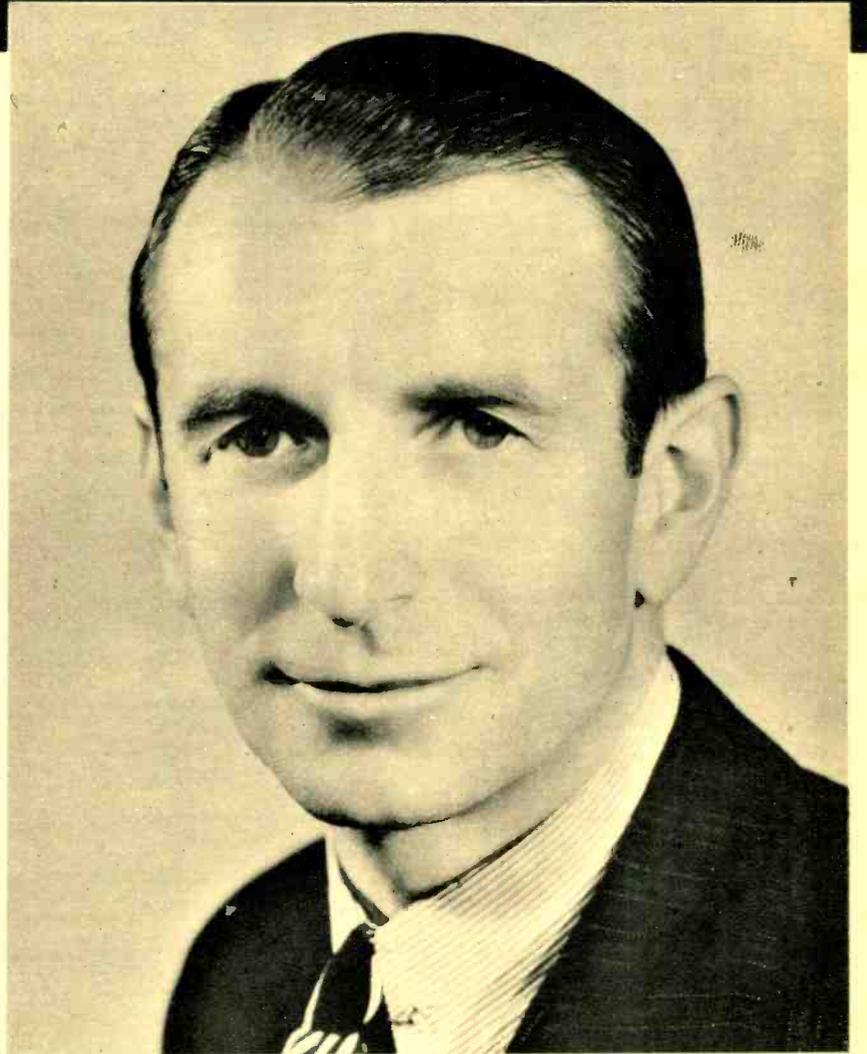

On the air, he is informal and chatty and has the knack of making people and characters in literature who have long been dead live again. He is as timely as your daily newspaper and he makes reading a new and glorious adventure. Typical of the programs he does on this NBC public service series are: "How to Live with an Author," which is the inside story of the wives and family lives of famous writers, living and dead; "Men Against Women," in which, with keen judgment and a sharp humor, he compares the sexes in literature; "The One Book in Every Man," in which he expounds his idea that there is one good book in every person, suggests ways of liberating that book.

In his early forties, Mr. Weeks is a tall, slender fellow with a long, aquiline nose, laughing brown eyes and the common touch. He comes by the common touch naturally, having worked—in earlier years—as a circus pitchman, as a harvest hand in the Kansas wheat-fields, as a dishwasher in a greasy-spoon cafe. He's ridden freight trains and twice worked his way across the Atlantic (ocean) as a seaman on a freighter. That is why, perhaps, he considers Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath" an important landmark in American letters. That is why, too, I suggest that if you've been frightened away from this broadcast as something that might be stiff and coldly formal, forget your fears and this Tuesday night meet Mr. Weeks!

—Lorraine Thomas.

Edward Weeks may be heard Tuesdays on "The Human Side of Literature" over an NBC network at:
EST 9:30 p.m. — CST 8:30 p.m.
MST 7:30 p.m. — PST 6:30 p.m.

DISCARD YOUR OLD AERIAL

It is Most Likely Corroded and Has Poor or Loose Noisy Connections
No MORE BUZZES, CLICKS and shorts from summer rains and winter snow and sleet when using an F & H Capacity Aerial Eliminator. Anyone can connect it in a moment's time to the radio set—occupies only 1 1/2 inch by 4 inch space behind the set. Yet enables your radio to operate without an aerial and tune in stations over the entire broadcast band frequencies and short wave channels.

ELIMINATE THE AERIAL FOR GOOD

Attach this unit to your radio—make your set complete in itself—forget aerial wires and troubles—move your set anywhere—no more roof climbing, unsightly lead-in or aerial wires.

NOT NEW—VALUE ALREADY PROVED

On the market five years! 100,000 customers in U. S. and foreign countries. In use from the Arctic Region of Norway to the Tropics of Africa. Each factory tested on actual long distance reception. Cannot harm set—Easily connected to any radio, including radios having no ground or radios for doublet aerial. Note: It will not operate on battery or automobile radios.

AFTER

Does away with Aerial entirely—Just place an F & H Capacity Aerial Eliminator (size 1 1/2 in. x 4 in.) within your set.

Simple instructions furnished with unit. Easily connected by anyone to aerial and ground of set. Your radio will then operate and tune in the same manner as if it were connected to an aerial. Operates on both short and long waves.

WHAT USERS SAY

LaPorte, Tex. After using the Capacity Aerial Eliminator over a year on my 1935 small 7 tube set can say it brings in reception with fine volume and clarity, pulling in stations from Japan, Europe, South America, and broadcast stations from all over the U. S. Efficiency proven. I took down my old outside aerial. Signed: Davenport, Ia. Received your Radio Aerial Eliminator and it sure works fine. Also works swell on Short Wave band. Wish I had found it long ago. Signed:

JUST MAIL THIS COUPON
F & H RADIO LABORATORIES, Dept. 115, Fargo, N. Dak.
I send F & H Capacity Aerial Eliminator, will pay postman $1 plus few cents postage. If not pleased will return within 5 days for $1 refund. Check here if sending $1 with order—thus saving postage cost—same refund guaranteed. Check here if interested in dealer's proposition.

WHY DID "GIRL ALONE" MARRY?

never romantic in his love-making.

For instance, do you recall that scene last spring when Patricia, following a session of ardent love-making by John Knight, tried to provoke something of the same fervor in Scoop with the following results:

PATS: Did you notice what a gorgeous spring night it is out tonight?

SCOOP: Yep.

PATS (dreamily): A night like tonight—oooooh, I was standing in the window down in the library tonight, watching all the sweethearts strolling along the lake front and wishing you and I were with them. There was something in the breeze . . . it was so soft and sweet. I don't know. What is it a night like this does to you? It sends your heart winging toward a promise . . . uh . . . I don't know. A promise of something.

SCOOP: Yep. A night like this sure gits the sap to runnin', don't it?

PATS: It's wonderful to be in love on a night like this.

SCOOP: Personally I don't go much by the seasons. I'm an all-year-round guy.

PATS: But doesn't a night like this do . . . do something special to you?

SCOOP: Um-hum. It makes me sorry I wore my heavy underwear.

PATS: Awwwww, Scoop!

SCOOP: Hunnh?

PATS: I stood there in the window to-night . . . wishing you were with me . . . Wishing I was in your arms . . .

SCOOP: Who was that guy I seen you with? That wasn't me, was it?

PATS: No, this was all before John came. I don't want to talk about him.

SCOOP: . . .

SCOOP: Hunnh?

PATS: You love me?

SCOOP: Yup. You're the kid.

PATS: Why don't you ever make violent love to me?

SCOOP: Wellll, I'll tell you, my love—sometime I will. I'll build you a rose arbor . . . and hang out a moon and stir up a balay breeze for you. And then I'll say some right pretty things to yuh. But I'll tell you something, Pats. I'm no good without a rose arbor.

PATS (little laugh): You're such a goop.

SCOOP: But zowie! You should get a load of my ardor once I'm in a arbor!

But Patricia, having had certain of her more vital emotions inhibited or encased in a protective shell because of their association with the painful, unhappy memories she had of John Knight, found Scoop entirely satisfactory. Never one to face reality, Patricia would doubtless have gone on cherishing her dream of Scoop, hoping unconsciously, no doubt, that one day he would be free to marry her. Marriage to anyone else would have been impossible. So here an outsider was brought in (mother's influence again) to make her realize what a chance she was taking on leading a completely futile life if she persisted in holding to her dream of Scoop. Dr. John Richmond, actually a fiend and a villain, but an adept psychiatrist, deliberately gave her some good advice in order to win her confidence, and made her realize, as a person closer to her couldn't have, that she must admit that Scoop was unattainable to her.

During the last four years John Knight has also done considerable growing up emotionally, and during that time has achieved a greater understanding of Patricia. Hence he recognized what it was she feared in him—recognized that the strong physical attraction they had for each other which she'd so long inhibited and denied was what was proving so disturbing to her. And so handled the situation in a manner that reassured her.

I have great faith in John Knight, so ably portrayed by Lester Damon. I believe he's the one man capable of holding Patricia's interest. He and Alice Warner, of all my children, are the most grown up. And with his mature understanding of Patricia, I believe she has a chance to blossom out into a normal, emotionally adult person, able to face reality, not resorting to the drastic escapes she always has in the past. What's more, John Knight has many things in his make-up which are bound to make their marriage an exciting, adventurous one.

There's much excitement and many surprises in store for Scoop, too. And who can tell? Perhaps eventually Patricia and Scoop will get together again.

It's surprising how much the characters in "Girl Alone" resemble the actors or actresses who portray them. For instance, in real life Pat Murphy has the same engaging buoyancy, the same tongue-in-the-cheek boastfulness, the same ready sense of humor which Scoop Curtis has. In real life Betty Winkler is the same warm, sweet, sympathetic person that Patricia is. She has the very same intense desire for understanding. During the last four years I've watched Betty develop in many of the same ways which Patricia has. Perhaps then it was no mere coincidence that the Betty in real life finally settled down and got married at just about the same time Pat did.

Another member of the cast who's been with us since the very beginning is Joan Winters, who is one of those strikingly beautiful girls whom all men rave about. But she is the same down-to-earth, level-headed, practical person that Alice Warner is. She's completely wrapped up in her home and her husband and her two children.

John Knight is hoping to find beneath the prim, meticulous heiress a real, warm, vital girl capable of giving way wholeheartedly to a passionate love. John must necessarily have Patricia wholeheartedly. Whether he succeeds in finding her makes the problem of their marriage. As Mr. and Mrs. John Knight will Patricia and John achieve the complete happiness of marital life that is the dream of every newly wed couple?

The answer will be a surprise to you, and even to John Knight.

"Girl Alone" may be heard Monday through Friday over an NBC network at:

EST 5:00 p.m. — CST 4:00 p.m.
 MST 3:00 p.m. — PST 2:00 p.m.

WHAT WAS 1939'S BEST BROADCAST?

IF ALL that your radio brought you during 1939, what was the one splendid broadcast which will remain in your memory when all others are forgotten? Was it a great opera or a Toscanini broadcast? Air view of the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., and scene of many grid classics. Don't miss "Football's Farewell" in next week's issue

COMING UP!

When Chase and Sanborn announced that, come the New Year, their popular Charlie McCarthy hour would become a half-hour and that Don Ameche and Dorothy Lamour, long favorites of the program, would be dropped, rumors flew through the air like sparks from a cat's back. They said: "The show was a failure." They said: "Ameche and Lamour quarreled with their sponsor." They said a lot of other things. For what really happened, radio fans will read "The Inside Story of the Charlie McCarthy Program Break-up" in next week's RADIO GUIDE.

Ladies' hats have long been a subject for jests—warranted or unwarranted. Without taking sides about this year's crop, which has aroused more comment than usual, RADIO GUIDE next week presents a feature to fascinate the ladies and—well, interest the men. It's "Hedda's Hats" and in it the creations of Hedda Hopper, lovely screen and radio gossip, are pictorially taken apart for all to see.

America is a busy nation. It bustles—but still has time for priceless moments of recollection. Songs—old songs, sweet songs—are often tied up with these recollections, and so long as there are songs there will be memories. The "Hour of Charm" is a program that weaves its way softly, sweetly, through a world filled with swing to bring back to each of us memories close to our hearts. That's why you'll want to read "Our Songs are Steeped in Memories," a heart-warming story of a program you love.

The year 1924 had reached the last hour of its life and the infant year 1925 had already given its first lusty bawl. But for Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll—whom you know as Amos and Andy—it was not only a time for merry-making. In that solemn hour when the New Year was being ushered in, these two sat down and made a serious resolution, a resolution that was to mean, ultimately, the difference between success and failure. Each New Year's Eve since that day, they have repeated this resolve and followed it implicitly. "Clasped Hands at Midnight," one of the many highly readable stories in next week's RADIO GUIDE, tells the story of this strange ritual which Amos and Andy have followed so faithfully.

And speaking of resolutions at this season of the year, here's one you'll want to make. Resolved, that for the greatest enjoyment from radio during the year 1940, when broadcasters plan so many new treats for their listeners, I'll read RADIO GUIDE regularly because it keeps me abreast of a growing industry and the most driving force in America; it tells me what's new on the air-planes and where and when to find it; it goes behind the scenes to make people in radio alive and real and close to me. It is a real guide to radio-listening in its every phase and aspect.

A Money-Making Opportunity for Men of Character

EXCLUSIVE FRANCHISE FOR AN INVENTION EXPECTED TO REPLACE
A MULTI-MILLION-DOLLAR INDUSTRY

Costly Work Formerly
"Sent Out" by Business Men
Now Done by Themselves at a Fraction of the Expense

This is a call for men everywhere to handle exclusive agency for one of the most unique business inventions of the day.

Forty years ago the horse and buggy business was supreme—today almost extinct. Twenty years ago the phonograph industry ran into many millions—today practically a relic. Only a comparatively few foresighted men saw the fortunes ahead in the automobile and the radio. Yet irresistible waves of public buying swept these men to fortune, and sent the buggy and the phonograph into the discard. So are great successes made by men able to detect the shift in public favor from one industry to another.

Now another change is taking place. An old established industry—an integral and important part of the nation's structure—in which millions of dollars change hands every year—is in thousands of cases being replaced by a truly astonishing, simple invention which does the work better—more reliably—AND AT A COST OFTEN AS LOW AS 2% OF WHAT IS ORDINARILY PAID! It has not required very long for men who have taken over the rights to this valuable invention to do a remarkable business, and show earnings which in these times are almost unheard of for the average man.

Not a "Gadget"—
Not a "Knick-Knack"—

but a valuable, proved device which has been sold successfully by business novices as well as seasoned veterans.

Make no mistake—this is no novelty—no flimsy creation which the inventor hopes to put on the market. You probably have seen nothing like it yet—perhaps never dreamed of the existence of such a device—yet it has already been used by corporations of outstanding prominence—by dealers of great corporations—by their branches—by doctors, newspapers, publishers—schools—hospitals, etc., etc., and by thousands of small business men. You don't have to convince a man that he should use an electric bulb to light his office instead of a gas lamp. Nor do you have to sell the same business man the idea that some day he may need something like this invention. The need is already there—the money is usually being spent right at that very moment—and the desirability of saving the greatest part of this expense is obvious immediately.

Some of the Savings
You Can Show

You walk into an office and put down before your prospect a letter from a sales organization showing that they did work in their own office for $11 which formerly could have cost them over $200. A building supply corporation pays our man $70, whereas the bill could have been for $1,600! An automobile dealer pays our representative $15, whereas the expense could have been over $1,000. A department store has expense of $88.60, possible cost if done outside the business being well over $2,000. And so on. We could not possibly list all cases here. These are just a few of the many actual cases which we place in your hands to work with. Practically every line of business and every section of the country is represented by these field reports which hammer across dazzling, convincing money-saving opportunities which hardly any business man can fail to understand.

Profits Typical of the Young, Growing Industry

Going into this business is not like selling something offered in every grocery, drug or department store. For instance, when you take a $7.50 order, $5.83 can be your share. On $1,500 worth of business, your share can be $1,167.00. The very least you get as your part of every dollar's worth of business you do is 67 cents—on ten dollars' worth $6.70, on a hundred dollars' worth $67.00—in other words two thirds of every order you get is yours. Not only on the first order—but on repeat orders—and you have the opportunity of earning an even larger percentage.

This Business Has Nothing to Do With
House to House Canvassing

Nor do you have to know anything about high-pressure selling. "Selling" is unnecessary in the ordinary sense of the word. Instead of hammering away at the customer and trying to "force" a sale, you make a dignified, business-like call, leave the installation—whatever size the customer says he will accept—at our risk, let the customer sell himself after the device is in and working. This does away with the need for pressure on the customer—it eliminates the handicap of trying to get the money before the customer has really convinced himself 100%. You simply tell what you offer, showing proof of success in that customer's particular line of business. Then leave the invention without a dollar down. It starts working at once. In a few short days, the installation should actually produce enough cash money to pay for the deal, with profits above the investment coming in at the same time. You then call back, collect your money. Nothing is so convincing as our offer to let results speak for themselves without risk to the customer! While others fail to get even a hearing, our men are making sales running into the hundreds. They have received the attention of the largest firms in the country, and sold to the smallest businesses by the thousands.

EARNINGS

One man in California earned over $1,600 per month for three months—close to $5,000 in 90 days' time. Another writes from Delaware—"Since I have been operating (just a little less than a month of actual selling) and not the full day at that, because I have been getting organized and had to spend at least half the day in the office; counting what I have sold outright and on trial, I have made just a little in excess of one thousand dollars profit for one month." A man working small city in N. Y. State made $10,805 in 9 months. Texas man nets over $300 in less than a week's time. Space does not permit mentioning here more than these few random cases. However, they are sufficient to indicate that the worthwhile future in this business is coupled with immediate earnings for the right kind of man. One man with us has already made over a thousand sales on which his earnings ran from $5 to $60 per sale and more. A great deal of this business was repeat business. Yet he had never done anything like this before coming with us. That is the kind of opportunity this business offers. The fact that this business has attracted to it such business men as former bankers, executives of businesses—men who demand only the highest type of opportunity and income—gives a fairly good picture of the kind of business this is. Our door is open, however, to the young man looking for the right field in which to make his start and develop his future.

No Money Need Be Risked

in trying this business out. You can measure the possibilities and not be out a dollar. If you are looking for a business that is not overcrowded—a business that is just coming into its own—on the upgrade, instead of the downgrade—a business that offers the buyer relief from a burdensome, but unavoidable expense—a business that has a prospect practically in every office, store, or factory into which you can set foot—regardless of size—that is a necessity but does not have any price cutting to contend with as other necessities do—that because you control the sales in exclusive territory is your own business—that pays more on some individual sales than many men make in a week and sometimes in a month's time—if such a business looks as if it is worth investigating, get in touch with us at once for the rights in your territory—don't delay—because the chances are that if you do wait, someone else will have written to us in the meantime—and if it turns out that you were the better man—we'd both be sorry. So for convenience, use the coupon below—but send it right away—or wire if you wish. But do it now. Address
