Movie-Radio Guide Applauds:

Patriot Edward G. Robinson

FOLLOWING the last broadcast of the season, Edward G. Robinson gave a party for his "Big Town" cast, friends at his home. Arrows above indicate Robinson, his "Big Town" co-star Ona Munson PROFESSIONALLY, Edward G. Robinson is a toughie. As Steve Wilson, militant newspaper editor on radio's "Big Town" (currently off the air for the summer), Robinson has a pair of ever-ready fists, will slug it out with the toughest hoodlums the script-writers can devise. On the screen he likely as not may be a hoodlum himself, hard-bitten, cruel and despicable.

All of which goes to prove what a consummate actor the man is. In real life Edward G. Robinson is a gentle, kindly soul, a solid citizen who lives quietly in an unostentatious Rexford Drive home with his charming wife, the former Gladys Lloyd, and his young son, Mannie, to both of whom he is completely devoted. The walls of this home boast a rare collection of paintings. They are his hobby. But the all-consuming passion of his life is the welfare of his fellow men. His recent donation of $100,000—see page 6, this issue—to the U. S. O. has made that fact apparent to the public in general. Lesser known but no less important have been other acts which have brought to Edward G. Robinson, in the past year alone, the following honors:

A citation of honor (scroll) for "Outstanding Contribution to Americanism through 'Big Town'" by the American Legion.

For the second year the National Safety Council gave Robinson an award (plaque) for "Important Contributions to Safe Driving."

An award by the American Humane Association (gold medal) acknowledging his "humane treatment of children and animals."

Honorary membership and an award (scroll) by the American Academy of Public Affairs for "Outstanding Contribution to Americanism."

To Edward G. Robinson, for these things he has done in helping to make this world a better place in which to live. MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE adds its applause

Robinson, his son Mannie—and Mannie's dog enjoy party

The Editors' Note:

THIS WEEK: There's nothing like getting a pet peeve off one's chest to start the week right. For a long time we have been just a little irked at the movie stars who earn $150,000 for appearing in one picture—those who decide to do only two a year because Uncle Sam will take most of their salary for a third or fourth in taxes. Why should they work if they aren't going to get the money? We always thought they should do that third and fourth picture just on the chance that the public might like to see them. For instance, what would you think of Jack Benny, who earns $10,000 a week, if he quit his program in the middle of the season because he didn't want to go into a higher income-tax bracket? Mr. Benny not only doesn't quit a radio series in the middle—he works in three pictures a year. And Mr. Benny, earning as much or more than any movie star, isn't worried about the poor-house or overtaxing his strength.

What delights us most is that a recent poll shows that those one-picture stars lose seventeen percent of their popularity in a year while those who go on making four and five pictures gain from eight to ten percent. Hence, if these stars who won't work because Uncle Sam gets most of the money when they do go on like they have been for a couple of years they won't be stars at all. Isn't it a pity? It isn't!

the Truth" quiz. We hope you like it. Readers who have been writing us scathing letters concerning our alleged non-recognition of such radio favorites as James Melton may now relax after seeing the visit to the "Telephone Hour" on page 38 of this issue. And, don't forget, you still have a chance to obtain an autographed picture of the "Kale Hopkins" cast. For details turn to the inside cover (facing page 44) in the back of this issue.

NEXT WEEK: Movie-Radio Guide in its next issue will give you the real lowdown on that ol' debbil, John Barrymore, in a visit to the Rudy Vallee show. Also, there will be some grand radio pictures showing the feud between Fibber McGee and Charlie McCarthy. Movie fans will relish the Spotlight story on Ronald Colman, the Perfect Gentleman, and an interesting feature on popular Mary Martin, who, unlike many other movie stars, believes that a star should and can become a mother. Mary will also be the star on the cover. We've been receiving a great many complimentary letters about our covers and hasten to follow the suggestion of many readers who want a beautiful color picture of Frances Langford, now that she's back on the air. This will appear shortly, as well as a particularly striking cover of Clark Gable and Lana Turner.

Write and tell us what you think of this issue. Thank you!—The Editors.

Corporal James Stewart Blitzkrieged by a Horse!

OF THE WEEK

RAPIDLY becoming a number one American is Corporal James Stewart of the United States Army, ex-actor and Academy Award winner. What he does, what he says, now makes news over the entire country, but newswier than ever is his appearance at the Hollywood Park race-track for a rare occasion back in "civvie" (civilian) clothes. The event should have been a happy one but wasn't—Jimmy "lost his shirt." An attentive MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE cameraman watched Stewart as he and Mrs. Mervyn LeRoy (1) picked a horse, (2) tensely watched it leave the starting-gate, (3) experienced an exciting moment as they saw their selection running well to the front, (4) focused glasses as the horses turned into the home stretch, muttered (above), "Well, I'll be —!" as the horse finished "out of the money." Typical of Army treatment of men like Corporal Stewart is the fact that he gets frequent leave, that he looks a good deal better than he did, feels much better than when he was one of Hollywood's most popular screen actors. If you don't believe it—ask him!

SPOTLIGHT ON:

Jack Oakie WISE GUY COMES BACK

JACK OAKIE gave up understudying to be a stockbroker a score of years ago and began mugging himself to fame and fortune as a "wise guy" comedian whom the public alternately hated and loved. For fourteen years now, barring a two-year "rest," he's been manufacturing screen guffaws by following admittedly the same old slapstick rules laid down by pioneers Mack Sennett and Al Christie.

"I've had my share of gravy lies (laughs)," Oakie told this reporter, "but they've all been second hand." First hand, however, is the Oakie gravy-stirring technique. Jack is the wise guy who makes himself disliked and then is properly squelched by a pail of water, a mud puddle, or a conk on the cranium. That's old too, but not the way Oakie does it. For Jack succeeds in making himself a character the audience despises in order to win a top-cream popularity rating.

In 1938 he likewise succeeded in making himself unpopular with radio and film producers by a streak of what is known as "undependability." So Jack dieted down his waistline, swore off drinking, generally reformed and made peace with his little woman by taking her on an extended trip to Europe. When he returned to Hollywood, the producers would have none of the good Jack Oakie. He almost had holes worn through his pants before his big break came when Charles Chaplin—a genius and judge of genius—gave Jack the second most important role, that of Benito Napolini in "The Great Dictator," which turned out to be a smashing success. Whereupon Oakie almost swiped the picture right from under the master comedian's nose!

So started Jack Oakie's screen comeback, bigger and better than ever before. "Little Men," "Tin Pan Alley" and "The Great American Broadcast" confirmed the sure-fire of an Oakie performance.

An odd hobby Jack has is to keep a card index of everything which the world and his wife laugh at. To date he has more than 1,000 cards listing situations, gags and predicaments. In addition to his screen work, Jack also is mayor of West Van Nuys, where he lives. He takes the job seriously, works at it. Every two weeks Jack presides at the meeting of the city fathers, where city affairs are threshed out.

As the Admiral in "Navy Blues," with Ann Sheridan and Martha Raye, Oakie's forthcoming and first Warner Bros. production, Jack outdoes himself. There won't be any more layoffs for Jack Oakie for a while. —E. P.

Movie-Radio Guide WITNESSES:

To News Desk:

THE HEROIC evacuation of Dunkirk, miracle of the war which had the world amazed a year ago, will shortly flash on the nation's screens as a part of 20th Century-Fox' "A Yank in the R. A. F." Before Britain evacuated its expeditionary force of nearly a half-million men, few Americans believed the overwhelming task could be done. But it was!

In Hollywood, when director Henry King had the evacuation written into the screenplay, he was told, "That's too big to try. You'll never be able to re-create it effectively." King thought otherwise. "I'll do it," he answered. He did!

Heroic in "A YANK

The pictures made by MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE and shown herewith give a small idea of how well King accomplished "the impossible."

To begin with, a special budget of $150,000 was set aside from the picture's general fund for purpose of making this one climactic scene. But after looking at rushes of the first week's shooting of the Dunkirk fight, Darryl Zanuck increased the budget by $40,000.

Assisted by Director James Stevens, King employed between 700 and 800 extras on the English Channel set that was built on 20th Century-Fox' back lot. Dozens of assistant directors aided in setting various scenes of action. Several score of small craft were rented and hauled from the

BETTY GRABLE and Tyrone Power star in "A Yank in the R. A. F.," a powerful film that's neither propaganda nor tragedy

TYRONE POWER (above) is a typical likeness of heroic young aviators who fought in the evacuation at Dunkirk

EVEN TYRONE was amazed as he glanced over the gigantic setting necessary for the filming of the picture

CLOSE-UP SCENES were the most dangerous to film, as they required perfect timing and co-ordination of men in scenes and camera crew

RE-ENACTMENT of evacuation was "softened up" for 3,300 extras. Dry clothes were provided them as they climbed out of water

EVEN AS IN the real flight, explosions went off every few feet from extras in the water, some with such force that it upset dories

LONG SHOTS were taken separately, but when full scenes of battle are interwoven with close-ups, the whole makes a thrilling episode

Evacuation of Dunkirk IN THE R. A. F."

Pacific Ocean beach at Santa Monica to the "channel."

Despite balmy California weather, water of the artificial lake which became the English Channel for the movie was not the most comfortable in which to bathe day after day while wearing full army equipment. Therefore it was heated and 800 $16.50-a-day extras were given cups of hot coffee regularly to combat the exposure.

Likewise to save broken ankles and legs, King supplied evacuating "soldiers" with rubber-soled sneakers so they wouldn't slip and injure themselves. Day after day black-powder bombs burst, tanks of gasoline were exploded, and fires raged on the Dunkirk set, yet no one was seriously injured.

BOMBS WERE SET off and tanks of gasoline were exploded for days on the set of Dunkirk at a cost of an even $190,000. Some scenes were filmed at Point Mugu on the Pacific

SELDOM HAS a foreign power offered the assistance England did in production of this film. Regulation German airmen's equipment was sent to Hollywood for use in the picture

"A YANK IN THE R. A. F.," one of the year's costliest pictures, is a robust comedy, filled with lively romance and adventure. In approving the story, Lord Beaverbrook expressed the opinion that the comedy and romance lifted it out of the usual category of war plots

SPOTLIGHT ON:

Hedy Lamarr GLAMOUR GIRL BRAVES MIKE

SINCE Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's picture "Come Live With Me," with Jimmy Stewart, little has been heard from Hedy Lamarr, one of Hollywood's most glamorous ladies who broke into screen fame with her rather unclad part in "Ecstasy," a European picture. It was therefore with interest that the editors of MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE observed that Hedy (she likes it pronounced Hay'-dee) was booked by the DeMille Radio Theater to co-star with Charles Boyer in a radio adaptation of their "Algiers."

This was news from two points—first, because it was the final performance of the season for the Radio Theater, and second, because it was Miss Lamarr's very first radio broadcast.

A third point of interest was the rumor that the Viennese ex-stenographer had been feuding with her home studio and was on suspension. At radio rehearsal she was interviewed.

"Have you been off pay or on suspension?" she was asked. "I haven't missed a single week getting my pay-check," she replied. "Here, do you want to see it?" We did, naturally enough, but being a gentleman we said no and let it pass. But we did observe in talking to her that she obviously was under a great tension just before the broadcast. Who wouldn't be—breaking into radio in a program with 25,000,000 listeners throughout the country waiting to say "she's awful!"

It developed during our chat that Miss Lamarr has been on a three-month vacation following "Come Live With Me."

The glamorous brunette was clad in a black chiffon, floor-length dress, and was wearing black wedgie sandals over bare feet, with her toenails enameled a cherry red. She was plenty nervous about that first broadcast, too, but was calmed considerably by Cecil B. DeMille, producer of the program, who succeeded in making her laugh just before the "on the air sign" flashed, and also the ever calm Charles Boyer.

We listened to her "Algiers." She'd lost much of her accent, and her radio version was not quite as sure as her screen "Algiers." We checked with our better half for her opinion. She said:

"Hedy sounded just like Joan Bennett." That was a compliment, because La Bennett is an accomplished, sure-fire radio performer.

Gene Markey would have agreed. He was married to both actresses in turn. —E. P.

Madeleine Carroll

EXCLUSIVE: Read the facts behind the rumors about this "love affair"

To Feature Desk:

MADELEINE CARROLL and Stirling Hayden are back in Hollywood from their location trip to Nassau for exterior scenes of "Bahama Passage." It was there that tongues started wagging when Miss Carroll and Hayden presumably were lost when they disappeared aboard the sailboat Kathleen, piloted by the crack sailor-actor.

They weren't lost and there wasn't any romance.

To explain, alert newspapermen or studio publicity departments are apt to jump the gun every time there's a new leading lady-leading man teaming. Immediately rumors start the combination is inseparable or maybe "that way." Hayden and Miss Carroll proved no exception.

Thrown together on the lonely island location, it's true they sought one another's company, planned recreational activities together. Why not? Miss Carroll is an exceptional person, and Stirling Hayden, the newcomer, with whom she had been associated in his first picture, "Virginia," not only enjoyed her company but found that she knew much that he should learn about Hollywood.

In other words, Madeleine showed Hayden the ropes, and in return he gave her expert sailing instructions.

Sure they had fun together at Nassau, but there weren't any romantic overtones. I was there and I can tell you that no one need to have worried over their falling in love.

Of course, they had the opportunity, but their hearts were not in tune. They enjoyed the same sports and had a gay time on the location for the picture, "Bahama Passage," which will be released next season.

The two packed lunches and hiked ten miles around Salt Cay island one Sunday, came back limping but happy. Then there was that headlined voyage on the Kathleen, which aroused cries of "lost" when they were trapped in a cove by the tides. They swam, dined.

Yet all of the time, whenever I could eavesdrop without being caught, I only heard Miss Carroll telling Stirling pointers about acting, or would catch him preaching seamanship to her.

They were good foils for one another, still are, despite the fact neither relished being tagged "in love." The fact of their being thrown together so much at dreamy Nassau in the tropical moonlight naturally would cause newspapermen to believe they were in love. That's only human.

But cool Miss Madeleine Carroll grows hot at such implications. She wants no misunderstandings or misstatements. She asked me to quote her particularly on the point. She said: "Remember this. I am engaged to marry Captain Richard de la Roziere."

And she meant it, too. —C. S.

— Stirling Hayden "Romance"

TO HAYDEN, a rising young star and ex-sailor, Nassau meant sailing adventures. To English-born Miss Carroll the island represented traditions dear to her childhood. "In love" rumors naturally became reports as Madeleine and Stirling spent their leisure in each other's company. Above: Wearing sandstorm masks often used between scenes

IT WAS ON THIS BOAT, "Kathleen," that the couple were reported "lost." (1) Look sharply—Madeleine and Hayden are in stern cockpit. (2) Publicity pictures such as this started rumors of the romance that never existed. (3) Madeleine takes a lesson in seamanship. (4) Relaxation after day's work

HAYDEN, a licensed skipper, is always interested in sailing a boat. In the sloop, "Gaviota," Howland Spencer had loaned him (left), Hayden took Miss Carroll for many sightseeing excursions exploring the islands. He taught her tricks of the sea, and she taught him tricks of acting before movie cameras

PICTURE FINISHED, island idyl at an end, Miss Carroll and Hayden leave Nassau (right) regretfully—not for a love which has ended but because an enjoyable assignment has been completed. Back in Hollywood, the romance rumors about the two stars came to an end as abruptly as they began

For Entertainment's Sake!

PERT BETTE DAVIS, two-time Academy Award winner and one of Hollywood's busiest actresses, takes time to autograph fan's program (above) while waiting her appearance on three-hour U.S.O. radio program broadcast from the famous Hollywood Bowl to raise funds for recreational facilities for boys in armed services. Notice bottle of milk—Bette's quick lunch

ANOTHER hard worker was Fanny "Baby Snooks" Brice (left), who posed for the cameraman in the midst of hastily snatched lunch. With Hanley Stafford, her "Daddy" to radio listeners, Miss Brice contributed a laugh-provoking comedy skit which was one of the highlights

PATRIOT Edward G. Robinson (with eight-year-old son, Mannie, right, attending opening "Symphony Under the Stars" concert) did little on the broadcast, but his contribution of $100,000—salary for his next picture—spoke eloquently, came as a dramatic announcement

PAINSTAKING attention to detail is the secret of most big-time performers' success—and an appearance before the microphone even "for free" is not to be taken lightly. Left, Loretta Young and Charles Boyer (before the microphone) rehearse carefully, while Tyrone Power (seated at right) waits patiently to go over his part of program

Film Stars Get Behind $10,000,000 U. S. O. Drive to Provide Entertainment for Soldiers and Sailors

ALREADY an acknowledged leader in the nation's all-out program for defense, Hollywood on June 29 again massed its formidable talent, gave unstintingly of valuable time to aid the $10,000,000 U. S. O. drive to provide entertainment and religious facilities for the nation's defenders.

Staged in Hollywood Bowl, broadcast over CBS, this three-hour program brought an array of names before the microphone which actually made listeners dizzy, earned $23,675 for the cause in paid admissions, reached its most dramatic moment with announcement that Edward G. Robinson was donating his salary for his next picture—$100,000—to this worthy cause.

The U. S. O. is an organization supported by the Salvation Army, National Catholic Community Service, Jewish Welfare Board, Travelers Aid Society, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. which will build 335 service clubs housing libraries, game rooms, lounges and facilities for religious services for camps isolated from large cities.

In addition to money collected from those who attended the broadcast, the contributions of the stars themselves, thousands of dollars sent in by a generous public were added to the swelling coffers of the U. S. O.—again proving Hollywood will always support a worthy cause.

EVEN Lionel Barrymore (above with Rudy Vallee, center, and brother John) made one of his very infrequent radio appearances on the U. S. O. broadcast. Seldom seen in public in Hollywood, his appearance was as interesting to many of the screen stars as it was to the public!

O. is thousands of dollars richer. Hollywood took on the task gladly, will do so again for the next worthy cause!

Bob Hope's "Nothing But the Truth" Quiz

To Feature Desk:

IF YOU were suddenly confronted with the absolute necessity of telling nothing but the truth for twenty-four hours, how do you think you would wind up at the end of the day?

Do you think your wife, hubby or sweetheart would be talking to you? Do you think your boy friend would call again? That your husband would remain under your roof? How do you think you'd rate with your mother-in-law?

Not that MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE wishes to start a boom in the prevarication market. Oh no, dear writers of "Letters to the Editor," not that. Truth is beautiful. It is courageous. But sometimes it gets one into embarrassing pickles when a "white" lie is a more graceful out.

It is this premise of telling nothing but the truth for a full day that supplies the plot for Bob Hope's next Paramount picture, "Nothing But the Truth." Difficulties that pursue him as he attempts to win a $10,000 bet that he can and will tell the truth for twenty-four hours and that telling the truth is the easier thing to do provide scores of laughable predicaments.

Having had a full day of ducking the impulse to lie, Bob Hope, his hatchet and his cherry tree were sought out by the editors of MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE and asked would he formulate a test with which the readers of this publication could test their ability to tell the truth.

Would he? He certainly would and did! Hence, here is a quiz based upon certain situations in which, if a reader found him or herself, the chances are his truth-telling percentage would suffer several blackouts.

With this introduction of "Tell the Truth" quiz, get yourself a sharp pencil and try these on your conscience.

Remember now, psychologists and psychiatrists have proved the telling of untruths is the result of being inhibited by a fear complex or complexes, and brave, uninhibited souls tell the truth without batting an eyelash. Conversely, people who always tell the truth probably aren't inhibited. (What does that mean?)

Bob Hope (in the fiction screen play) told the truth for twenty-four hours. All you have to do is wrestle with it for ten minutes. All right, get on your mark, get set—go!

"Tell the Truth" Quiz

For the Ladies

- (1) If your husband, right after marriage, asked you "Have you ever been in love with another man?" would you tell him the truth?
- (2) If your offspring caught you off guard about Santa Claus, would you tell him there is or there is not a Santa Claus?
- (3) If your youngster observed that always the doctor was present and mother was "sick" when a baby is born, would you tell the truth?
- (4) If you lost the grocery money playing the horses, would you tell your husband the truth—or ehisel on the budget?
- (5) If your hubby pronounced a pie you hadn't baked as "just like my mother used to bake," would you tell him you bought it at the bakery?

For the Gentlemen

- (1) If your wife looked like a frump one morning and asked, "How do I look this morning, Honey?" would you tell her the truth?
- (2) If your mother-in-law were suddenly recalled to her home from your house, where she was visiting, and you were pleased, would you say, "Boy, that's a break"?
- (3) Would you report poker winnings on your income tax if they were more than losses?
- (4) If your girl friend asked you if you ever kissed another, would you tell her the truth, even if you hadn't?
- (5) If a friend asked about a product your firm was selling and you had no confidence in it, would you tell him, "It's no good"?

Try it, but remember to tell nothing—
but the truth!

ARGUMENT ends, "Nothing But the Truth" really gets going as Bob Hope bets Edward Arnold $10,000 (which he must double) that he can tell the truth for a day

MONEY is Paulette Goddard's, which Hope has promised to double for her favorite charity. Cornered at a houseboat party, Hope's truth-telling insults his hosts

TO KEEP Hope on the boat, his partners steal his clothes. Bob tries to escape in his hostess' gown, is trapped in Paulette Goddard's room

ESCAPING from Miss Goddard's room, Bob is cornered again, hops into bait-box to elude partners, who are determined to make him tell a lie

WITH ONLY a few minutes to go, Bob, about to lie, is saved by Paulette, who stuffs his mouth full of taffy. Film ends with this madcap situation

Today in Hollywood

Judy Garland Becomes Mrs. Dave Rose

JUDY GARLAND and Dave Rose are married.

Photo at right was taken as they attended a wedding, but that ceremony was the one by which Deanna Durbin became Mrs. Vaughn Paul. Star Judy's marriage to musician Dave Rose was less formal, no less romantic, as they flew to Las Vegas, Nevada, the night of Sunday, July 27, to become man and wife. Although the decision to marry immediately came suddenly and while the ceremony was performed at the desert resort often described as Hollywood's Gretna Green, Judy and Dave cannot be described as elopers for several reasons. First, they have dated steadily for a long time (see picture 1 below as they appeared at the Ambassador Hotel early this year). Second, their engagement had been announced (see picture 2 below, "official engagement" picture released by M-G-M, Judy's studio). Third, Judy and Dave were accompanied to Las Vegas by Judy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore, who were present at the ceremony, gave their blessings. Their decision to marry immediately came suddenly as they dined at the Brown Derby (see picture 3, below) and discovered that they'd have time for a honeymoon since Judy had a week's leave from studio commitments and Dave was about to start a vacation. Telephoning Judy's parents, they invited them to go along. A few hours later they were winging their way in a chartered plane over the desert sands to happiness. Following the ceremony, the Gilmores returned to Hollywood. Dave and Judy registered at El Rancho Vegas for a honeymoon. (The honeymoon was cut short when Judy was paged to return to M-G-M to begin work on "Babes on Broadway" on July 29.) Back in Hollywood, Dave and Judy checked in at the Ambassador Hotel, where they plan to remain until they build their own home. Said Judy: "We are very happy. This is not the usual Hollywood romance." MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE (which reported in an exclusive story published on April 19 Judy and Dave would marry) believes what Judy says is true, extends to these two talented youngsters its very best wishes!

WHILE HUBBY (r.) smiles, Mrs. Vaughn Paul (Deanna Durbin) gives Bob Cummings, who's been married quite a while, some tips on how to keep Mrs. C. happy. Place: Brown Derby

ABOVE: Long-time friend of Linda Darnell, Alan Gordon, publicist, may be the real reason why Mickey Rooney and Linda are not seen together so often at Hollywood rendezvous

HOT AS THE WEATHER IS, when it comes to ideas which get their players' pictures in the paper, Hollywood's press-agents are even hotter. Good example is the photo of Juanita Stark, Warner starlet, above

Rooney-Garland At It Again

When "Babes on Broadway" comes to your local movie-house, you'll see Mickey and Judy giving some more impersonations of the type that were so entertaining in "Babes in Arms." This time Judy will imitate the famous actress, Sarah Bernhardt, while Mickey ought to be a real cause of hilarity when he dons kilts and a bagpipe in mimicking Sir Harry Lauder.

Aluminum Kisses

"Check your aluminum pots and kettles at the door and you're liable to get a kiss like you never had before." That, poetically speaking, was the dulcet invitation of Paulette Goddard to the man who brought the most aluminum to Paramount Studios last week. At press time the winner is still having his aluminum weighed.

A Stitch in Time

It was an ill wind blowing his way, thought Dennis O'Keefe, young Irish star, when he was rushed to the hospital for an emergency appendectomy just when he had snared the lead in RKO's "Weekend for Three." But the ill wind blew up a cloud with a silver lining, because Dennis still has the lead and the company didn't lose any production time. Producer Tay Garnett conjured up a comedy scene where Dennis plays sick in an effort to get rid of an unwelcome guest. So O'Keefe, straight from an appendectomy, went right to work with the doctor's approval and played the first week's scenes in bed!

"V" Campaign Spreading

Hollywood directors and producers didn't waste much time making use of England's "Voice of Doom" "V" for victory campaign in their picture making. Cecil B. DeMille is using V's in all the European scenes in "Reap the Wild Wind." Olsen and Johnson's "Hellzapoppin'" also has V's all over the place, and many other productions are making wholesale use of the victory symbol to keep the campaign alive and growing.

THE WAR

Gabin's Estate Seized

Nazi troops have seized Jean Gabin's estate, near Paris, and have turned the show place into a pretentious Gestapo headquarters. Over here, Gabin, the highest paid star on the 20th Century-Fox pay-roll, is still Dietrich's constant escort.

HOSPITALIZED

Tone Recuperating

Franchot Tone, who submitted to a serious abdominal operation last week, is reported recovering as fast as can be expected in Los Angeles' Good Samaritan Hospital. Tone, the day before he checked into the hospital for this major operation, took a good whirl at Hollywood's night life, dancing nearly every dance with Jean Wallace to Woody Herman's tunes at the Palladium.

HONORS

Air-Raid Comedians

Abbott and Costello, who just received a $25,000 bonus from Universal because of the tremendous business done by "Buck Privates," have been voted the entertainers who would make the best company during an air raid. Soldiers at March Field, California, gave them the honor, then notified them by carrier pigeon. That's getting the "bird" with reverse English.

Carradine Hiss-Honored

When a 20th Century-Fox sales convention got together recently, they awarded John "Villainous" Carradine with the most unconventional ovation ever received by a character actor.

DIDN'T FORGET TO REMEMBER

FOUR summers ago, Bird Abbott and Lou Costello, America's laughingest twin, and Universal's mortgage-lifting duo, were scratching around in small-time vaudeville trying to dig out a steady job. Finally Frank Elliot, director of Atlantic City's Steel Pier, gave them an interesting job, and the boys were on their way. The rest is history. New York bookings followed, then the Kate Smith program and Hollywood. Their succession of hits makes them the Joe DiMaggio of the flickers, and they're not slowing up on their old friends. Recently Frank Elliot queried them about appearing at the Steel Pier this summer. Despite the fact that they have turned down several lucrative vaudeville offers, Abbott and Costello wired a happy "okay," said Elliot to name his price. So America's favorite fun-generating couple will be at the Steel Pier for the week of August 10. The big show will include plenty of rain, plenty of hits, and—no errors!

BATTLING for twenty-two minutes off Santa Catalina Island, lovely Ann "Maisie" Sothern proves she's a real fisherman by landing a 245-pound marlin swordfish

When introduced by Zanuck, he was roundly hissed, which caused Zanuck to remark, "That is as magnificent a tribute to an actor as I've ever heard."

EN ROUTE

Aherne-Fontaine East

Brian Aherne and wife Joan Fontaine leave for the East in a few days. While there they intend to become landlords to some Connecticut farm, site unknown, and Brian will also keep a date as guest reciter with the Philadelphia Symphony.

The Powers in Stock

Before getting under way in his new picture, "Benjamin Blake," Ty Power and wife, Annabella, are at the present time doing a two-week turn in Westport, Conn., in the play, "Liliom."

Crawford Treks East

As soon as she finishes her role in "When Ladies Meet," Joan Crawford, a sartorial knockout in her picture, will go east to finish out the summer.

ASSIGNMENTS

Milland and Field Together

Much-in-demand Ray Milland has been appointed to co-star with Betty Field in "Mr. and Mrs. Cugat." Milland, who is becoming more and more of a box-office magnet, will have the role of a young banker in a sprightly story of modern marriage.

Muni as Gompers

Proffered to Paul Muni but as yet unaccepted is the title role of Samuel Gompers, first president of the American Federation of Labor. RKO will bring the biography of this pioneer labor leader to the screen, and they feel that Muni will give an ideal characterization.

Lily Pons Returns

Lily Pons returns to RKO early this fall. Her first assignment will be Noel Coward's "Conversation Piece."

—Walt Davis

IN HOLLYWOOD to make "Pittsburgh Kid" for Republic, Billy Conn (r.), who almost whipped Joe Louis, and John Payne, famous for movie-role fights, were snapped at Ciro's

LIFE STATISTICS

Lew Fields Taken

A fun-loving America was saddened July 20 when it learned that pneumonia ended the life of Lew Fields, the funny man with the derby and the funny chin-whiskers of the vaudeville comedy team of Weber and Fields. Fields' death marked the end of entertainment's oldest partnership. Weber and Fields joined up in 1875. Said grief-filled Joe Weber, "It's like losing my right arm."

Sir Stork for Anna Lee

Right after she finishes "How Green Was My Valley," Anna Lee, cinema newcomer, will bow out of the movies for a few months to become a mother. The stork is expected around Christmas. This will be the second child for Anna and her director-husband, Robert Stevenson. They already have one daughter, Venita.

Zorina Gets Papers

Like Sonja Henie, Zorina, exotic ballet dancer, last week appeared in Federal Court and received her final citizenship papers.

Hollywood Merry-Go-Round

Olivia de Havilland and Gene Markey seeing a lot of each other. Markey intersperses his Olivia dates with evenings with Carole Landis . . . Linda Darnell out with Mickey "It's Really Love This Time" Rooney. Linda also saw Bently Ryan, Alan Gordon and Johnny Hyde, while Mickey countered with Carol Bruce . . . Elyse Knox and Tommy Harmon still a twosome . . . Tony Martin and Lana Turner have resumed with a vengeance . . . Robert Sterling and Martha O'Driscoll at the Hollywood Tropics . . . Errol Flynn a guest of Doris Duke Cromwell in Santa Barbara . . . Kay Aldridge and John Swope look serious . . . Ed Ashley and Gloria Vanderbilt cooing a bit . . . And so the Hollywood Merry-Go-Round goes and goes and where it stops is probably nobody's business.

YEP, YOU'RE RIGHT, it's Errol Flynn, the dashing Romeo, who will soon be seen portraying General Custer in Warners' picture "They Died with Their Boots On," as he looks in pajamas of that era (1860)

Movie- Radio Guide

CRITICS' REPORT

MOVIE VIEWS by Carl A. Schroeder

"Movie Views," a regular feature of this department, is omitted this week while Carl A. Schroeder vacations.

"HOLD THAT GHOST" is another Abbott-Costello comedy sensation. Above: Costello, Joan Davis

"Hold That Ghost"

Cast: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Richard Carlson, Joan Davis, Mischa Auer, Evelyn Ankers, Ted Lewis and the Andrews Sisters. A Universal picture, directed by Arthur Lubin. Screen play by Robert Lees and Fred Rinaldo. Original story by Robert Lees and Fred Rinaldo.

Type of Picture: That fun-full duo of Bud Abbott and Lou Costello here-with presents the theater-goer with a husky crop of side-splitting comedy to harvest. This is the third laugh-productive vehicle turned out by Abbott and Costello, and it's another humdinger.

This Is the Story: After a beginning that is rather slow due to an effort to stock the show with gags, the plot and fun really get under way when Bud and Lou inherit a spooky, old-time tavern. There is all the suspense of clutched hands, eery noises, revolving rooms, wrapped up with a lot of slapstick. Joan Davis is a gawky riot, while Richard Carlson, Evelyn Ankers and Mischa Auer turn in creditable efforts. Ted Lewis and his band and the Andrews Sisters open the show and wrap it up with some swell melodies.

Verdict: Mr. Gallup says that a majority of movie-goers want comedy and light entertainment. Well, here it is in big bundles. This is the "K. O." blow for the blues. —E. P.

COMING
ATTRACTION

WITH NEW ENGLAND of the 1840's as the background, "Here Is a Man" (The Devil and Daniel Webster) is a stirring drama of a farmer who is alleged to have sold his soul to the devil for gold and seven years of good luck. Above: Walter Huston as he's seen in the film

Reviews

"Ringside Maisie"

This Is the Story: A taxi-dance hall girl who goes up the scale to team with an apache dancer whom she leaves to be companion to the mother of a prize-fighter. Ann Sothern as Maisie is up to her usual high standard. She is ably supported by George Murphy and Robert Sterling. Margaret Moffat is convincing as the invalid mother, and Natalie Thompson, the always-famished sweetheart.

Verdict: This carries a punch and is chock-full of lightning-fast situations and unusual comedy angles.—S. H.

"Here Comes Mr. Jordan"

Cast: Robert Montgomery, Claude Rains, Evelyn Keyes, Rita Johnson, Edward Everett Horton and James Gleason. Produced by Everett Riskin and directed by Alexander Hall. Screen play by Sidney Buckman and Seton I. Miller from the original play, "Heaven Can Wait," by Harry Segall.

This Is the Story: Succinctly, it is the story of a spirit removed from a body fifty years before its time, and the search for a body to which to return the spirit. The removed spirit happens to be that of a prize-fighter who was a championship contender.

Verdict: Deserves top rating among year's pictures. Be sure to catch it at beginning, otherwise plot will lose a lot of its punch. —L. R.

"MY LIFE WITH CAROLINE" is definitely a Ronald Colman triumph. Above: Colman, Anna Lee

"My Life With Caroline"

Cast: Ronald Colman, Anna Lee, Charles Winninger, Reginald Gardiner, Gilbert Roland, Katherine Leslie, Hugh O'Connell, Murray Alper and Matt Moore. An RKO picture, produced and directed by Lewis Milestone. Screen play by John Van Druten and Arnold Belgard from an original play by Louis Verneuil and Georges Berr.

Type of Picture: Here is another one of those domestic comedy pictures that affords better than average entertainment for those who like their amusing household farces. Action is slight, plot light and unsubstantial, but racy, lively dialog keeps the situations moving in an interesting fashion.

This Is the Story: Colman, who is such an understanding husband that he is hard to believe, cleverly talks to the audience about his intimate life with Caroline. Entire story revolves around the cagy way in which he wins his wife, new Anna Lee, back from the fresh love affairs in which she is always becoming involved.

Verdict: It is definitely Colman's picture. He is the same Colman with his restrained suavity and polish. Anna Lee, sculptured, blond newcomer to the screen, handles herself quite well as Colman's affection-seeking wife. Charles Winninger is a hilarious father-in-law, while Reggie Gardiner and Gilbert Roland turn in excellent supporting roles as Anna Lee's bewildered suitors. —L. R.

Star Sparkles

● NELSON OLMSTED, conductor of the "Story Dramas" program, is a stickler for words and their exact meanings. In adapting famous short stories for radio Olmsted always consults Mr. Webster's big book before substituting a commonly used word for one which the author used and which will not be generally understood by the average person.

● TED STEELE, who is singer, bandleader, master of ceremonies and novachord virtuoso on NBC's "Boy Meets Band," has found a new outlet for his varied talents—dairy farming. The young radio jack-of-all-trades, who rose from an NBC page-boy to star rating in less than two years, is setting up a model dairy farm on sixty acres of land in Rockland County, New York.

Star Sparkles

● ANN EDEN, a John Powers model who started on an acting career when she was picked by Noel Coward for "Set to Music," recently joined the cast of CBS' "Joyce Jordan, Girl Interne."

BOYS! GIRLS!

Here is the greatest bicycle accessory you ever saw—and it can be yours absolutely FREE!

Imagine having electricity for your bike lights without having to worry about batteries wearing out—your lights failing when you may need them the most.

This amazing BICYCLE GENERATOR UNIT makes the electricity for your lights as you ride—just like the generator on an automobile. In fact this unit is made by a manufacturer of auto parts—which is your guarantee that it is NOT A TOY, but a real piece of machinery built to give you years of service.

The MAKE-A-LITE GENERATOR UNIT includes a powerful, four-inch headlight, large tail lamp with prismatic lens, and a 6-volt A. C. generator.
A patented governor keeps your lights burning with the same brilliance at 7 or 25 miles per hour and prevents excess voltage from burning out bulbs. A feather-weight rubber drive wheel eliminates wear on the tire wall—will not drag. Finished in beautiful chrome and black—last light in condition. Attaches to your bike in a jiffy—anyone can put it on.

Write to me today, giving your full name, address and age, and I will show you how YOU can win this sensational prize without any cost to you—how you can win many other valuable prizes and earn your own money.

Classical Music

A guide for listeners who love great music

MET SOPRANO Elisabeth Rethberg sings again with Alfred Wallenstein's orchestra. (MBS, Friday)

MUSIC NOTES: The whereabouts of Mme. Kirsten Flagstad, acclaimed by many the greatest Wagnerian singer of all time, has become a mystery to her friends and business associates over here. Dozens of cables and letters to her in Oslo, Norway, have gone unanswered for the past five weeks. Mme. Flagstad, when she flew to Europe last April, said she would return in October to fulfill her singing contracts, which total more than $125,000. In June the German government released an announcement saying that her husband, an Oslo lumberman, had said she would remain in Norway until the war was over. Many of the singer's friends fear that the Nazis are detaining her with the hope of compelling her to appear on the German operatic stage. Hitler is known to be a great admirer of Mme. Flagstad's singing.

THE REMAINDER OF THIS WEEK'S PROGRAMS FOLLOWS ON PAGE 24

Today in Radio

F. D. R. broadcasts by recording;
Burns and Allen seek new singer;
Gildersleeve gets his own show

RADIO VIEWS by Martin Lewis

"Radio Views," a regular feature of this department, is omitted this week while Martin Lewis vacations.

Suspend Rules for F. D. R.

NEW YORK.—Both NBC and CBS waived their rules against broadcasting recordings the other day when President Roosevelt requested that they air a recording which he had made of his message to Congress on the extension of service of selectees. It was CBS' first occasion to lift its ban against recordings. The last time NBC made an exception was two years ago, in 1939, when Chamberlain announced that hostilities between Germany and England had begun.

CBS FM Station in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD.—Donald W. Thornburgh, in charge of the western division of CBS, announced last week that the Communications Commission had issued a construction permit for the erection by CBS of a powerful frequency modulation station here. Location will be at the summit of Mount Wilson, 5,600 feet high.

But Don't Come to Hollywood!

HOLLYWOOD.—A new singing star is being hunted by Burns and Allen for their new soap show soon to take the air. Paul Whiteman's music will back the newcomer, who must be good-looking, have a good voice and be a new name.

THE WAR

Stars' Salaries to China

HOLLYWOOD.—Through an arrangement with the United China Relief, the salaries which several well-known film stars will receive this fall for appearances on "Lux Radio Theater" will be donated to aid in the relief of the Chinese. Stars who have entered into this arrangement are Ginger Rogers, Rosalind Russell, John Garfield, Loretta Young and Pat O'Brien. The film stars usually receive from $2,000 to $5,000 for their radio appearances.

Calling All Child Refugees

NEW YORK.—The British-American Ambulance Corps denies it has been using favoritism in selecting British refugee children to appear on its Friendship Bridge program. The Corps stated that it was anxious to contact as many of the children as possible, but explained that it was limited in its ability to reach all the evacuees. Guardians of British child refugees who wish to send messages home by short wave are urged to get in touch with the Corps.

"TREASURY HOUR" (Wed., CBS) recently presented, l. to r., Illa Chase, radio mistress of ceremonies, opera singer Helen Jepson and Alexander Woolcott, all of whom had fun—obviously (above) often is costly. Before "Skaters Waltz" was permitted to go on the air in a short-wave broadcast from London, NBC had the orchestra in London play the selection for its music department so that branch of the NBC could ascertain whether or not ASCAP was infringed upon. There proved to be no infringement, but the cost of short-waving the song was eighty dollars!

SIDELIGHTS

A Lot of Laughs

CHICAGO.—One of the newest in the current vogue of comic-strip shows is the radio adaptation of "Harold Teen," heard on WGN Tuesday nights. The writing is done by young Fred Kress, who is one of the most prolific of radio-comedy writers. Besides "Harold Teen" he produces the comedy lines for Linn Borden on "Dog House" and "Private Linn Borden Reports" and writes "College Humor" and the summer "Housewarming" show.

CONTROVERSY

FCC Action Postponed

NEW YORK.—The Federal Communications Commission postponed its action which would have required NBC to dispose of one of its two networks. The date upon which the FCC's regulations become effective has been moved up to September 16. The postponement was requested by both NBC and CBS, the two networks asking for more time for a discussion of problems created by the ruling.

Jolson Wins, Jolson Loses

NEW YORK.—A suit brought against Al Jolson has been dismissed by the Supreme Court. Jolson was being sued for $25,000 by his brother, Harry Jolson, who contended that the money was owed to him under an agreement made in 1934 whereby Al was to pay him $150 a week for life provided he would leave the theater and give his brother exclusive professional use of the name of Jolson. Harry testified that the payments had continued until 1937, when they ceased.

High Cost of Feud

NEW YORK.—NBC's fear of broadcasting ASCAP tunes leads the company to exercise great caution, which

Emote, Please

NEW YORK.—At a recent rehearsal of the "Inner Sanctum Mystery" program the script called for an actor to die. "Come on, now," urged director Hi Brown, "put more life into the deathbed episode."

FCC Assures Hypochondriacs

WASHINGTON.—The new FCC bulletin reveals that the commission still receives letters from invalids who complain that the air full of signals undermines their health. They are assured that there is no evidence that a human body has ever been affected by standard broadcast signals.

Cantor Plea Wins Mail

HOLLYWOOD.—Eddie Cantor's plea to listeners for pledges of sponsor support for any firm willing to sponsor Mutual's "Nobody's Children" programs resulted in 2,064 letters and post-cards being received the first week.

Not Just Acting

CHICAGO.—Russ Young, director-announcer for "Bachelor's Children," recently appeared on the air with his RECENT RUMORS that Walter Winchell might not return to air have been denied by Winchell's representatives. Above, the columnist (l.) chats with Sherman Billingsley of Stork Club actress wife, Laurette Fillbrandt, for the first time in six years. They were cast as a young couple bringing their first baby home from the hospital, roles they played in real life just a few weeks ago.

How to Keep Cool

NEW YORK.—Hollywood again has taught New York something new. This time it's a way to keep cool. When Burgess Meredith came cast to emcee the "We, the People" program, he brought along five ordinary chamois cloths. When the temperature rises, Meredith orders a cake of ice and wraps the chamois around the ice for a few minutes, then applies it to his head in the manner of a turban. He claims it's an old trick out in Hollywood, where the mammoth set-lights add to summer's usual heat. Chamois retains the cooling qualities far longer than ordinary cloths.

PERSONAL

Gerard Plugs for Animals

CHICAGO.—Gerard Darrow, the eight-year-old "Quiz Kid" naturalist and ornithologist, visited the Cleveland zoo—not to see the animals, which are an old story to him, but to put himself on exhibition for the benefit of the zoo! With an honor guard of Cub Scouts, young Gerard toured the zoo as Cleveland's special guest in the city's campaign to raise $25,000 for modernization of its animal headquarters. He talked to 1,200 persons at a luncheon and was featured in several local broadcasts.

Vallee Is "Printed"

HOLLYWOOD.—Rudy Vallee has joined the immortals in the cement forecourt of Grauman's Chinese Theater here. On July 22 the Vagabond Lover pressed his hands and feet into a block of wet cement, and finished the ceremony with his autograph.

Langford Does Bit

HOLLYWOOD.—Frances Langford, singing star of CBS' "American Cruise" programs each Friday, is autographing a life-size enlargement of one of her full-length portraits for the soldiers of the Royal Canadian Air

A HOPPER AND A TROTTER look over the racing thoroughbreds at Hollywood Park. It's Hedda Hopper, the popular movie columnist whose comments are heard on CBS Mon., Wed. and Fri. afternoons, and John Scott Trotter, jovial orchestra director of "Kraft Music Hall"

Force stationed at Belleville, Ontario, Canada. The picture is being made up at the Hal Roach Studios where Miss Langford has just completed "All-American Coed."

Screen Test for Songstress

CHICAGO.—Dale Evans, petite Chicago-CBS vocalist, is in Hollywood for a vacation and a screen testing by Paramount. The Uvalde, Texas, girl formerly sang with Anson Weeks' orchestra at the Cocoanut Grove in Los Angeles.

"Judy" a Newcomer

HOLLYWOOD.—Betty Hill, who used to sing with dance bands, made her first dramatic tryout successful when she won the role of Judy in "This Is Judy Jones," NBC-Blue Coast network series which features youngsters and their jive talk. Chances are the show will be aired transcontinentally soon.

PROGRAMS

Gildy Leaves "Little Chum"

HOLLYWOOD.—Throckmorton P. Gildersleeve, Fibber McGee's belligerent neighbor, has given Fibber that dirty laugh for the last time as a regular feature. Harold Peary, who created the popular stooge on the McGee program, will be the star of his own show, "The Great Gildersleeve," scheduled to begin on NBC from Hollywood August 31. The character will be replaced on "Fibber McGee and Molly" this fall by Gale Gordon.

Berle Show Music

HOLLYWOOD.—Milton Berle's new program, starting in September over MBS, with Charles Laughton as his co-star, will have Shirley Ross as a comedy foil and songstress. Music will be provided by Bob Crosby.

Tex Ritter Ready

HOLLYWOOD.—Tex Ritter's Chuckwagon is being readied for fall radio production. Show would run thirty minutes and feature Ritter and a hill-billy band and would originate here.

SHORTS

Judd McMichael, one of the Merry Macs, is father of a daughter born July 18 . . . A son was born to Mrs. Joy Storm July 23—and the daddy was appointed special-events director for NBC in Hollywood the next day . . . Jim Goss (Edward Blair in "Ma Perkins") suffered torn tendons in his right leg and rib fractures in an auto accident, but is managing his radio work with the aid of a cane and tape . . . Duke Watson is now playing the male lead of John Fairchild in "Stepmother" . . . Mora Martin has returned from New York to Chicago to resume the role of Dolores Loray, which she created six years ago, in "Backstage Wife" . . . CBS' Chicago announcer Bob McKee started driving to the West Coast on his vacation, but had an accident that landed his wife and mother-in-law in the hospital temporarily; furthermore, McKee had to drive home from the Coast at the close of his "vacation" with an infected arm . . . Actor-announcer Ben Alexander and radio-script girl Elizabeth Robb were married July 23. They met in Charlie McCarthy's studio . . . Mrs. Andy Devine suffered a bruised and lacerated forehead in a car collision July 24. Husband Andy (Jack Benny stooge), who was driving, was unhurt.

GRACIE ALLEN signs up in a "big way" for forthcoming new Burns and Allen series in the fall. Meantime, Gracie is designing hats—like the one she wears!

ELI CANEL, chief of NBC's Spanish department, described recent fight for South American listeners by himself watching the action on a television receiver

HOMER (Jackie Kelk) was caught by the camera swiping a bite of Henry's (Ezra Stone) Coney Island ice-cream cone, while Mrs. Aldrich (Katherine Raht) did some swiping of different kind

A Day at CONEY ISLAND With "THE ALDRICH FAMILY"

TRUE TO Henry Aldrich tradition, Ezra, by innocent gestures, lured Charita "Mary" Bauer and Katherine Raht to a spot where air blew up through a grate and took the ladies by surprise

THE BARREL-O-FUN didn't scare the kids. Henry led Mary and Homer through the twenty-foot-long revolving tube, but our hero as well as the others fell five times before getting through

THE vim, vigor and vagaries of Henry, Mary and Homer of the "Aldrich Family" are quite real and entertaining to radio listeners, whose safety and sanity are not at stake! Mrs. Aldrich, too, is used to it all as far as the "Aldrich Family" radio sketch is concerned. But it's just possible that Katherine Raht, who plays the part of Mrs. Aldrich, wasn't prepared to find Ezra Stone, Charita Bauer and Jackie Kelk such completely accurate facsimiles of the characters they represent on the air. Anyway, she took them on a Coney Island spree—and she found out! Despite the heat of one of New York's hottest summer days, the youngsters almost outdid author Clifford Goldsmith's fictitious scapegraces with their madcap merriment.

They were free for a day. And they crammed as much fun into that day as they possibly could. When career kids work, they have to be pretty serious; but when they play, they usually do so with the reckless gusto of youngsters who don't have the time to play as much as they would like to.

And even the fact that Ezra Stone, the young dramatic expert who plays Henry Aldrich, has just been cast in the real-life role of a selectee soldier, didn't put a damper on the outing. On this day they weren't radio actors, and Ezra wasn't yet Private Stone. They were just kids having a whale of a good time!

—D. M.

Photographs by Gustave W. Gale

"GEE WHIZ!" Henry's favorite expression was overworked when he rode down in a parachute. Some of the "gee whizzes" might have been elicited by Charita Bauer's clinging squeeze CONEY ISLAND'S roller-coaster is the fastest in the country. But one breath-taking ride wasn't enough for these thrill-loving youngsters. They rode the looping, diving car time after time, also other rough-and-tumble contrivances. And considering how much ice cream and hotdogs they devoured, Ezra, Charita and Jackie (left to right) stood up pretty well!

FLABBERGASTED! The kids finally wound up their furious round of fun by crumpling up on a bench with Mrs. Aldrich, who also got a big kick out of the frolic. It was a grand day for these career kids, who have had to sacrifice much of their fun-time for their dramatic work. And it was just the kind of time you might expect the Aldrich gang to have

Radio Talent—Screen Glamour Unite in All-Out Effort for Defense

THAT every American may know—today—how urgent it is for him to buy every Defense Bond he can afford if the United States is to become the arsenal which will save democracy from destruction, the greatest array of radio and screen talent ever assembled is marching before CBS microphones on Wednesday nights to broadcast the "Treasury Hour." And behind the scenes M-G-M's Howard Dietz, with Irving Berlin and CBS casting chief Earle McGill, is laboring long and hard to make every broadcast in the thirteen-week radio drive better than the last. Patriots all, stars and executives are donating their services gladly. Listen—and do your share!

THE "TREASURY HOUR'S" premiere broadcast July 2, starring Fred Allen as master of ceremonies with assistance of his own announcer, Larry Elliot (left), was presented from New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Hollywood

IRVING BERLIN'S song, "Any Bonds Today," sung by "Hit Parader" Barry Wood, strikes keynote of series: Buy U. S. Defense Bonds! Slogan, "Millions for Defense," is borrowed from a famed watchword of American Revolution

GRACE MOORE, interrupting rehearsals for her South American good-neighbor tour, sings an aria from "Madama Butterfly," tells listeners that American women hold the purse-strings and intend to spend heavily on Defense Bonds

MR. MORGENTHAU, U. S. Secretary of the Treasury, has appointed Howard Dietz (l.) of M-G-M chairman and coordinator of series. Dietz is aided by Irving Berlin, with him in client booth at right

FOR THE FIRST TIME "Information, Please" men make a guest appearance on another show. In wings, l. to r.: Director Dan Golenpaul, Clifton Fadiman, F. P. Adams, John Kieran, Oscar Levant

FROM HOLLYWOOD, Mickey Rooney stages riotous comedy routine, including an impersonation of Lionel Barrymore, which is the biggest laugh of show. Rooney sang with Judy Garland

CHARLES LAUGHTON reads Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, with which he stirred moviegoers in "Ruggles of Red Gap." Most solemn feature of program, it was timely, to the point

JUDY GARLAND sings first chorus of "Strike Up the Band," to be joined later in duet by Mickey Rooney. Like host of stars who will follow her, Judy says—Let us buy Bonds—now!

The Melodious "Telephone Hour"

CROWDED TOGETHER in this small studio—ancient as broadcasting facilities go—Don Voorhees and his fifty-eight-piece orchestra are interested in one thing—producing good music, whether it be classical, semi-classical or popular. With no studio audience watching, many of the musicians take cue from Maestro Voorhees, remove coats and ties. All are expected to make themselves comfortable as first principle of good musicianship, and all have a clear view of conductor, since each row of seats is slightly higher than the row in front

CONDUCTOR DON VOORHEES (above) is no stuffed shirt, cares more about music than how he looks to his musicians. Veteran maestro for Broadway musicals, for "Show Boat" and Ed Wynn on the air, Voorhees has a genius for making fine music understandable to everybody. Still in shirt-sleeves, right, he joins cast for prebroadcast supper

FRANCIA WHITE leaves elaborate costumes of her grand-opera roles behind, comes to "The Telephone Hour" in simple street clothes. Only five foot three, the tiny lyric soprano stands on a box for duets with her six-foot-three co-star, tenor James Melton. She is brunette and pretty

THERE is method in the apparent madness of such an affluent corporation as the Bell Telephone System in taking its radio show to a small threadbare studio long ago abandoned by other NBC programs for the glittering beauty of Radio City. It is the same scientific method which the telephone people apply to everything. Because telephone engineers decree that a studio at NBC's old headquarters, 711 Fifth Ave., has the best studio acoustics in New York, it is to that address one must go to see Don Voorhees, James Melton, Frania White and company present their musical broadcast. Because telephone executives want to concentrate on music, studio audiences—and therefore studio applause—have been ruled out. Preparations for each broadcast are carried on with the same precise care. Conductor Don Voorhees begins to plan programs three months in advance. A staff of story-hunters spends all of its time digging up little-known facts about well-known music to be passed on to listeners by narrator Floyd Mack. But listeners know already that the "Telephone Hour" (NBC, Monday) is good. Now MOVIE RADIO-GUIDE's visit shows why. —J. C.

Next Week:

THE RUDY VALLEE-
JOHN BARRYMORE
RADIO PROGRAM

BELOW, RIGHT: THE KEN Christie Chorus, composed of fourteen trained voices, when combined with the talents of Frania White, James Melton and the large orchestra, makes it possible for the "Telephone Hour" (NBC, Monday) to present music in elaborate, varied forms—to fulfill its aim of "giving music you love the way you love to hear it!"

JAMES MELTON'S early success as a popular vocalist with Roxy on Broadway, in motion pictures and on the air, makes his later career in serious music the more remarkable. He's a tenor who doesn't depend on his Irish charm alone

FLOYD MACK'S background stories about the program's songs are a novel feature, enrich enjoyment of listeners

DIGNIFIED, painless commercials, stressing unique services of the sponsor, are given by announcer Warner Anderson

Guy Lombardo—Boat-Race Champ

THE "TEMPO IV," in which bandleader Guy Lombardo (above) won Memorial Day race, cost $2,000. Fastest Guy has raced it to date is 90 miles per hour HYDROPLANE, which Guy (center) inspects here, has twin motors to "Tempo's" one. He knows all about motors, takes them apart after races!

LIVING on Long Island Sound, Guy can get to boats quickly. Here he takes aboard fire extinguisher, vital equipment since it is not uncommon for craft to catch fire

THIS year, after ten years of serious interest in boating, Guy Lombardo is making that interest felt in speedboat-racing circles. The bandleader has tinkered with craft of various types off and on during the past decade and has acquired thorough marine experience. But last Memorial Day he entered the race for the John Fite Memorial Trophy at Ocean City, New Jersey, won the forty-six-mile contest piloting the eighteen-foot, 1,150-pound hydroplane Tempo IV, one of his four boats. He keeps one at the Socony Yacht Basin in the North River and others docked behind his home at Freeport, Long Island, where he and Mrs. Lombardo spend summers. To Guy, boating is more than a week-end pastime. He watches over his craft like a mother over her young, has them "broken down" after races and tested exhaustively before being entered in another meet. He spends most of his spare time on them and considers well spent the large amounts of money which go for their upkeep. For Maestro Lombardo there is no other hobby!

GUY WATCHES craft on practise run. He does most of his speedboating during early morning hours before going into New York for business, vaudeville engagements

THE CHAMP SMILES as he proudly accepts Fite Memorial Trophy from official and proclaims himself set for next race. Boat-racing, clearly, is rivaling bandleading in the Lombardo affections

Bandstand Notes

By Maurice Granger

WHETHER you're a jitterbug or not you'll probably be interested in this little piece of news, for it so happens that Benny Goodman, the idol of millions of swing fans, has broken down and named those whom he believes to be the finest hot soloists in the business. Goodman, in an article in the New York Times, named the orchestras of Duke Ellington and Count Basie as the two which he personally liked best. For soloists he chose Teddy Wilson and Count Basie as pianists; Lester Young, tenor saxophone; Cootie Williams, trumpet; Joe Jones, drums; Walter Page, bass violin, and Jack Teagarden, trombone.

Wants Ellington in Concert Series

Since Goodman has already broken ground for us by naming Ellington's orchestra as one of the two best in the swing field, we'd like to pass along an idea which we've entertained for some time. We'd like to see one of the major networks broadcast a series of Ellington swing concerts. Duke Ellington's orchestra is one of the few in the country whose music is neither jam music nor symphonic jazz. There have been quite a few jazz concerts given in the past decade or so, but not many of them have presented swing in true concert style. Ellington could come nearer to doing it than even Benny Goodman or Artie Shaw.

Bandata

Cab Calloway celebrated his tenth year in the orchestra field the other day . . . Understand Ozzie Nelson is writing an original story for his next movie, which will be made some time this month . . . Kay Kyser is going to try to break his own record when he goes back to play a featured date at the Sacramento State Fair in September . . . The American Federation of Musicians has made it a rule that bands cannot make a jump of more than three hundred miles via auto at one time. The Skinnay Ennis band bus crash not so long ago is the reason for the Federation putting its foot down. Claim is that long drives tend to cause accidents . . . Benny Goodman's brother, Irving, wasn't drafted after all. He had quit his job with the band in order to answer the call, but Uncle Sam unexpectedly deferred him. Irving had to go with Will Bradley's orchestra, because, thinking he was sure to be drafted, Goodman had hired another trumpeter . . . Glenn Miller did

MR. MICHEL, Helena Rubinstein hair-stylist, designs coiffure for round faces, using Fred Waring star Donna Dae as model. At left he draws hair up and back to a high puff—which can be varied for every-day wear as at right

BETTY RANDALL, NBC vocalist, has a long face. In styling her hair, Mr. Michel avoided lines adding length, keeping coiffure flat on top (above, right). A soft, wavy curl in formal version (right) gives width to forehead, and narrows her jawline Faces Round — Faces Square Style Your Hair!

By ALBERTA NORTH

SO MANY of us have doubts about our hair styles that it's time we gave some thought to the matter. With the fall season almost upon us, we're all thinking about that next permanent and the coiffure to go with our new fall clothes. But it's more important to plan your hair style to go with your face. Mr. Michel, Helena Rubinstein's hair-stylist, has worked with us in designing coiffures to suit the two most usual face "types," the round face and the long, square face.

The chances are that you yourself belong to one of these two types, so we're going to explain just how and why Mr. Michel created the styles he gave Donna Dae and Betty Randall shown above. Donna Dae, who is the singing star of Fred Waring's Chesterfield program, has a very round face, while the society lass who has her own program called "Betty Randall's Luncheon Party" has a long, square face. For each of these he created a coiffure that can be combed by the lady herself from a simple daytime arrangement to a "high style" for formal wear, and vice versa.

When you have your hair done for any special occasion, you also must remember to ask how you can rearrange it afterward for every-day loveliness. To help you do this and to keep every hair in place every minute, you should get yourself several of those handy Grip-Tuth combs which you slip into waves, puffs, and curls. They won't show and will keep your "coif" looking "fresh from the beauty shop" all during a formal evening or out in the breezes while you play by day.

Defending Dance Music

Dear Sirs:

Several complaints have been printed in your column about dance music being on the air every night, and I've noticed no letters have been printed favoring it, so I am writing on behalf of us who love dance music.

Because I am not able to walk I cannot go to see the orchestras in person, and naturally I depend on the radio to bring me the music I love so much. Every time I read their letters it frightens me, because they may stop broadcasting the music of the big-name bands altogether. Then what? I'm sure many people agree with me, and especially those like myself who have only the radio to bring us our favorites in the music world.

Gracie Lou Balent, Mt. Carmel, Pa.

● Miss Balent needn't fear that dance music will be taken from the air altogether. The complaint of many listeners is simply that the late night hours are too completely filled with dance music, so that those who prefer other types of radio entertainment are almost entirely ignored by the broadcasters. As in the case of the daytime air being saturated with soap operas, reasonable balance is the cause supported.—The Editors.

Naturals

Dear Sirs:

I have appreciated the songs and laughed at the antics of Tom, Dick and Harry for years on various programs. I'm mighty glad that they're now spotlighted in a night-time series of their own that gives them full scope for their brilliant versatility in comedy and songs. It's only a sustaining show, and it doesn't get the ballyhoo that many other shows do. But for my own relaxation and enjoyment I'll take the new "Affairs of Tom, Dick and Harry" over many of the well-established and widely publicized comedy-and-music programs. Those boys are naturals, and I'm betting they'll climb to new heights in their notable career.

Les Warran, Des Moines, Iowa.

● We heartily agree that the new show, "Affairs of Tom, Dick and Harry," starring the veteran trio on MBS Monday nights, is a solid hit.—The Editors.

Is It Justice?

Dear Sirs:

We have all seen the phenomenal rise of the "Breakfast Club" through the MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE polls. Now please tell us why more of the strong stations don't broadcast the program. We have such a hard time getting good, clear reception down here. And then when we do get the program, they leave us right in the middle of the program and switch to something else. Can't we do something about this?

Eula Mae Wilson, Eufaula, Ala.

● The chief reason for the failure of some NBC stations to carry the highly popular "Breakfast Club" in whole or in part is that many stations broad- (Continued on Page 44)

Bulls & Boners

Bulls and boners are a part of broadcasting. No matter how experienced the performer or how famous the star, chances are that he will make an occasional slip or a statement with twisted meaning which is extremely funny. See how good your ears are. Try to catch broadcasters in some error—the funnier the better—and send your entry to MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago. The most humorous entries will be printed in this column. Watch for your contribution!

Announcer: "These furs are such proud beauties to wear right around the clock."—Joan Barber, Box 68, Big Creek, Calif. (July 8 over Station KMJ.)

Bill Dunne, announcer: "And now we present Fulton Lewis, Jr., from the world's greatest snooze center."—Glenn Williams, 708 James St., Syracuse, N. Y. (July 10 over Station WAGE.)

Announcer: "Get Grove's Chill Tonic in the black and orange box with the smiling baby face."—Wanda Lease, Mt. Vernon, Mo. (July 12 over Station KWTO.)

Announcer on "Farm Hour": "Fertilizer has twice as much organic matter in it . . . Now there's something you can sink your teeth into."—Mrs. Leroy Phillips, 205 Long Ave., Clarksburg, W. Va. (July 10 over Station KDKA.)

Announcer: "She got into a bathing suit with the rest of the girls and won fourth prize."—Doris Luebke, Keokuk, Iowa. (June 4 over Station WCAZ.)

east in the early morning their own "waking up" programs which have large followings among local listeners. These early morning programs are moreover often sponsored by local businessmen or national spot advertisers. As to how any listener may get his or her wishes granted, we can still only say, as we have said often before in similar cases, "Write to your local station."—The Editors.

Jazz-Battle Rages

Dear Sirs:

As much as I hate to disagree with our grand Canadian friends, I must do so with Mrs. J. Patton, whose letter urging us to put a stop to continuous jazz music on the radio at late hours appeared in your issue of July 19-25. Grown-ups may be bored with our jazz, but did they ever stop to think of how bored we of the younger generation are with their serials, news and speeches we have to put up with all day? I don't think they do! After all, where there's jazz you can usually count on a good time. And listeners who don't appreciate a good time might as well go on to bed and not tune in at all during the late hours. Turn about is fair play, on the air and off.

Evelyn Stover, Butler, Pa.

a special jam session immediately following his three commercial broadcasts in St. Louis recently. The ticket requests for the broadcast were so numerous that the management prevailed upon Glenn and the band to play for those who couldn't get inside the Opera House to listen to the broadcast . . . Bobby Warren, who wrote the hit tune "No. 10 Lullaby Lane," has written another song, titled "City Called Heaven." It was given a great introduction by Jane Froman on a recent Ed Sullivan-Will Bradley broadcast . . . NBC is planning to feature Dolly Dawn, who took over when George Hall gave up his baton, on a Coast-to-Coast hook-up six times a week . . . Vaughn Monroe may get a commercial program this fall. His sensational rise in popularity is the reason . . . Don Redmond is reorganizing his orchestra. Understand he will open at the Arcadia Ballroom in New York . . . Swing fans of Westchester aren't suffering from a lack of swing. Within a radius of five miles of each other are the bands of Charlie Spivak, Les Brown and Duke Daly . . . John Scott Trotter finally has something that will stir the tea in those iced-tea glasses which Bing Crosby gave him for Christmas. They were so tall that an ordinary iced-tea spoon wouldn't do. The resourceful John Scott thereupon hit on the idea of using his baton. He liked it so well he ordered enough batons for the whole set . . . Startled listeners who heard a wild "yippee" over the MBS lines recently are hereby advised that it was Marvin's trumpeter, Bobby King, who had just received an announcement that his wife had presented him with an eight-pound baby boy . . . Rumor: That "The Hit Parade" is scheduled for MBS on account of the network being able to play both BMI and ASCAP music . . . No rumor: The fact that Spud Murphy, Art Jarrett's ace arranger, wants to do the music for the new Earl Carroll show in Hollywood. In fact, he's so willing that he has offered the band ten percent of his earnings if they would release him for the job.

Purely Personal

Has Helen O'Connell ditched Jim Blumenstock for a fellow named Cliff Smith? . . . Reports are that John Kirby and Margaret Cloud were married in an Elkton, Md., elopement . . . Freddie Tulcey, the only original member of Tommy Dorsey's band, has married Mary Helen Bein, a Dallas, Tex., girl . . . Peggy Mann, of Larry Clinton's crew, still going with Al Lane of Charlie Barnet's band . . . Linda Keene has been given a divorce from her husband, whom she married in 1932 . . . Wonder if Artie Shaw's reported romance with Margo will mean a fourth marriage for him?

Vocalists

Susan Stephenson, sister of Martha Stephenson Kemp Mature, is now a vocalist at a swank New York cafe . . . Frances Deva is with Sonny James' band . . . Stuart Foster is the new vocalist with Ina Ray Hutton's orchestra . . . Diana Mitchell is the girl singer who has joined Sonny Dunham at Meadowbrook . . . Harry James has hired Dell Parker, recently an Ed Wynn show girl, to vocalize for his band . . . Eddie Rice has joined Orrin Tucker's "Bodyguards."

DIANE PERS goes through preparations for her marriage to Robert Atwood. Kate Hopkins (right) assists the dressmaker, is aware Diane is troubled, wondering if she should call off her wedding to Robert

ROBERT ATWOOD is wealthy, respected, enterprising. He became infatuated with lovely young Diane Pers, but lately has felt a more sober attraction to Kate Hopkins, who is nearer his own middle age

ON THE OTHER HAND, Tom Hopkins, visiting his mother (Kate Hopkins) at the Atwood plantation, is just a plain air cadet. But he is about the age of Diane, and his genuine love for her is unconcealed

KATE AND TOM HOPKINS are aware of the influence their presence has had on the romance of Robert and Diane. Kate tries to advise her son, Tom, suggests that he give up Diane and try to forget her

TWO MEN—one young, one middle-aged, but both possessing qualities to excite a woman's whole-hearted devotion, are Diane's problem, as she nears the time for a definite decision: Which shall it be—cadet Tom or landowner Robert?

ON THE LAWN of the spacious Atwood estate, Mrs. Atwood (left), Kate Hopkins (center) and Tom Hopkins drink a toast to the prospective bride and bridegroom (seated)—neither of whom is quite sure the marriage will take place

DIANE, trying on her wedding dress almost on the eve of the ceremony, breaks down with the emotional weight of her dilemma. What will be the outcome of the extraordinary "rectangle"? Listen to "Kate Hopkins" (CBS) this week!

"KATE HOPKINS"

PART 3. As the wedding date for the marriage of Robert Atwood and Diane Pers approaches, the presence of aviation cadet Tom Hopkins seems likely to cause a change in the course of events. Diane is uncertain whether or not she wants to go through with the marriage. Since meeting Tom, the son of Kate Hopkins, who is companion to Robert's mother, Diane has found much of mutual interest with the young cadet—more than with Robert, who is twenty-two years older than she. Moreover, Kate Hopkins finds herself becoming more and more interested in the advances of Robert, while Robert begins definitely to question the advisability of going ahead with his marriage to Diane. The middle-aged man and the young woman are still fond of one another, and there is no violent split between them. But the impact of the situation becomes more and more powerful. Keep this photo-story, follow it while you listen to "Kate Hopkins" this week.
