Tommy Harmon and Mary Anderson

Inside Story of Grid King Tommy Harmon, by Bill Stern

FIRST PHOTOS: Gable's gun duel; Shirley Temple back at work

The Editors' Note:

PARLAYING football playing ability into a career as a radio announcer and movie actor, Tommy Harmon, soon to be seen in "Harmon of Michigan," poses for this week's all-color cover with Mary Anderson. For complete details of Harmon's career see Bill Stern's story, page 7. Natural-color portrait is by Jack Albin

THIS WEEK: Recently Edgar Bergen yielded to a nostalgic impulse and visited his old home town of Decatur, Michigan. With Bergen, of course, went Charlie McCarthy, Mortimer Snerd and company, and by nightfall of the date previously designated as "Edgar Bergen Day" this ordinarily thriving village of about 1,600 population was a packed mass of holiday humanity, with more than 10,000 persons crowded into the Decatur Athletic Field. There, after a band concert, Bergen received a tremendous ovation, the key to the city, and trotted out McCarthy and Snerd to add their thanks to his. Said Bergen to assembled newsmen earlier in the day: "Please don't misinterpret the reason for this trip. I'm not giving anything or donating anything. I'm simply having a good time visiting old friends and neighbors." Eye-witnesses report Bergen did have a good time. Old friends state Bergen hasn't changed a bit. For Movie-Radio Guide's cameraman's report, see page 37. Then there's Mr. Tommy Harmon of Michigan, recently of Hollywood, where he made a movie, "Harmon of Michigan," still more recently of the annual football game between the college All-Stars and the professional football champions at Soldier Field in Chicago. Tommy didn't play any great length of time in the game, but while he did he bucked, weaved and fought his way for considerable ground gains. For what Bill Stern, the famous sports commentator, has to say about Tommy, see page 7. Stern, who has known young Harmon for some time, reports that fame hasn't changed him either. Which is very encouraging in a day when Brass Hats and Big Heads seem to be the rule.

NEXT WEEK: Throughout the nation next week there's going to be a mad scramble before countless radio dials. Cause of that scramble will be radio's semiannual shake-up brought about by the ending of daylight-saving time in many sections of the country, the return of old programs to the airlines after summer layoffs, the addition of new fall commercials to schedules already full. Such favorites as Fibber McGee and Molly, Fred Allen and Al Pearce will be back next week to join those already returned at this writing. Jack Benny, Helen Hayes, Burns and Allen are due to follow the week after. These next few weeks are radio's busiest, offering some of the best entertainment of the year. That's where Movie-Radio Guide comes in. A staff of experts has long been at work listing, classifying, checking, gathering inside information on old programs, last-minute news about the new ones. Next week's issue, complete to the minute, replete with details on new times, program changes, fall plans for returning shows and inside information on newcomers is the result. To assure yourself of maximum entertainment, make it a point to get next week's copy of Movie-Radio Guide.—The Editors.

MARLENE DIETRICH Saves Baby, Lands in Hospital

IF MARLENE DIETRICH had not used her wits with the speed of lightning last week, a baby might have been seriously injured. While carrying seven-month-old David James in a scene for "The Lady Is Willing," Marlene slipped and fell over a toy auto. As she fell, Marlene's first thought was of the child, whom she cradled to her breast as she fell, swiveling herself into a position which cushioned the infant. Result for Marlene: A fractured ankle.

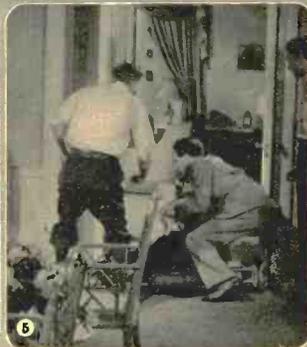

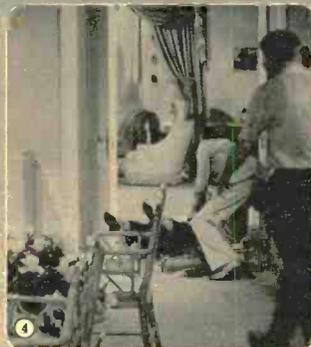

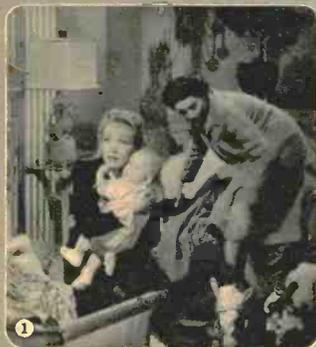

A record of the unusual event was preserved as the cameras ground on the scene. MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE secured these pictures by printing them directly from the film, publishes them below together with a picture of Marlene and David (above) taken a few hours later in the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital to prove the incident was no publicity stunt.

In "The Lady Is Willing" Miss Dietrich plays a glamorous actress. One day she finds a baby on a doorstep and runs away with it. Taking the child home she names the baby Johanna, then calls a doctor, who suggests she go and see a psychiatrist when she goes crazy about the child. Her manager and secretary want Marlene to tell the police.

In scene below Miss Dietrich has just said to Aline

McMahon, "Here, I'll take the baby myself before you kill him," when (1) the colored maid comes in and says, "The police have come," (2) whereupon Miss Dietrich, turning to run out of the room, tripped on a toy auto and fell. This action, uncalled for in the scene, was one of those unforeseen accidents. However, (3) Marlene did not lose her head. She threw her body forward to save the baby and landed on her back. A propman (4) and the baby's real father (5) rushed in and picked up Marlene and the baby. Marlene's ankle was broken, her shoulder wrenched. Baby James was frightened but unharmed!

So with our "We have a war to win—" program gaining acceleration, our tax-collection agencies are going "all out" in efforts to keep the Government's sinking fund from disappearing. Hollywood and the movie industry, synonymous with six-figured paychecks, is the garden spot for the enlarged appetite of the income-tax giant.

And no line is drawn on sex. A beautiful, talented actress when stopped by a traffic officer might let loose of her "charm" and wind up with a pair of ducats to the policeman's ball instead of a date in court. But when the income-tax bugaboo hovers about, the beauty, the talent and the celluloid wiles of the actress only give her the willies! She thinks her ship has come in, and it has, only the Government holds first, second and third mortgages on it.

Hollywood's ten richest women, all of whom can describe Henry Morgenthau, Jr. (in many ways), know the spelling of the Secretary of the Treasury's name quite well. In return, Morgenthau knows that, based on salaries earned in 1938, Hollywood's "top ten" actresses would be: Claudette Colbert, who grossed nearly $427,000 that year; Irene Dunne, receiver of about $405,000; Joan Crawford, about $305,000; Norma Shearer, a cool, even $300,000; Greta Garbo, alone with $270,000; Ginger Rogers, nearly $208,000; Loretta Young, about $181,000; Deanna Durbin, an even $174,000; Bette Davis, over $143,000; and Myrna Loy, slightly over $140,000.

These salaries all sound like a pretty fair load of country bucks, but even then Uncle Sam's arm was reaching deeply into the actresses' coffers. Now, with a new income-tax scale about to become a law, digging is going to be deeper.

Assuming the new tax contemplated becomes a law and assuming the salaried person in each case is married, the following are tax totals on high-bracket figures as computed by the Joint Committee of Internal Revenue of the Congress. (These figures are only approximate, but they present a clear picture of what Hollywood's ten richest women are up against under this new tax set-up.)

Tax on a $100,000 income, joint return, would be $53,000. Separate return, $41,700. On a $250,000 income, joint return would be $159,000, separate, $143,000. On a $300,000 income, joint return would be $202,250, separate $180,000.

Missing from this dollar parade are Shirley Temple, recently absent from pictures, but who still will pay plenty under the new deal tax; Marlene Dietrich for her $130,000; Merle Oberon at $139,000, Jean Arthur, Alice Faye, Barbara Stanwyck, Joan Bennett, others. Despite their less pretentious salaries, the Government will get a lot of "national defense" out of their contributions. Remember! On $100,000, under usual exemptions, the Government will get close to fifty percent of a star's salary!

KILLER GABLE

Gets His Man

A faithful re-enactment of old-time gun duel in "Honky Tonk"

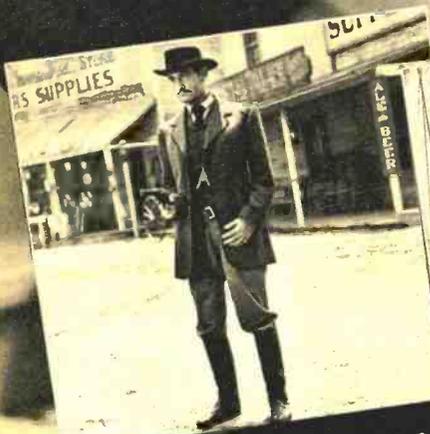

IT'S a right-fine day as Candy (Clark Gable) and Elizabeth (Lana Turner) stop to admire the pretty slippers in a boot-shop window. But up comes the villain (Harry Worth) and snaps, "They're runnin' a brace game in your joint! Took me for my poke!" Candy pushes Elizabeth into the store entry and says evenly, "Glad to listen to your squawk, Mister."

"I'm through squawkin'—I'm actin'!" snarls the villain. "Draw!"

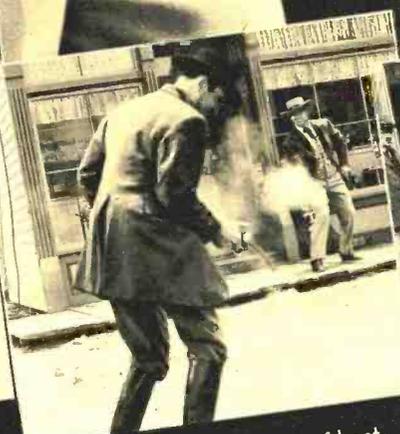

Well, you know how it is with Clark. He draws—and the result is a lively gun duel, highspot of the new Gable-Turner starrer "Honky Tonk." The scene (see pictures below) took two days to shoot, since it is difficult to synchronize properly a scene as long as this, in which two people walk down the street, stage a gun battle and then walk on.

The gun Gable (an old hand with firearms) used is a double-action Colt, lightning model, nicknamed "DA" after its action. The back of the hammer of Gable's gun is shaved off as it was done in those rough and ready days to facilitate a "quick draw," the hammer never catching on one's clothing. The gun used by Gable's opponent is a single-action Frontier Colt, "the gun" of the day—accurate, lethal and with good range. By "fanning" one of these guns you had a powerful weapon.

A most amusing situation occurred during this scene. After it had been rehearsed and Worth duly "killed," for the benefit of the camera, the villain continued to lie in the dust for two hours, patiently "dead." Cameraman Hal Rosson finally protested for the umpteenth time, "I can't stand dead men lying around—every time I look through the camera there he is." At that Worth got wearily to his feet and exclaimed, "Gentlemen, say no more about it. This corpse is going to find a shady spot and cool off."—C. S.

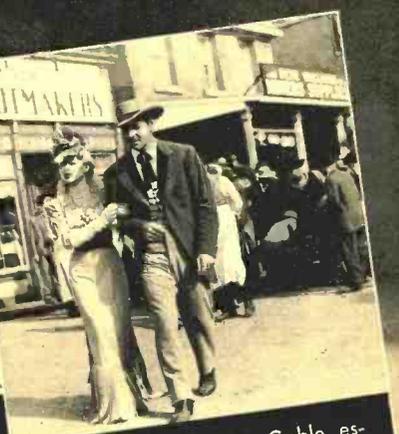

GABLE in "Honky Tonk" runs a gambling-house in competition with self-appointed sheriff Albert Dekker's place. Above: Harry Worth claims Gable's house is crooked

SCENE OCCURS in front of boot-shop as Gable and his bride, Lana Turner, are admiring a pair of slippers. Showing Lana into the store, Gable kills Worth in a gun duel

AS HIS HORRIFIED bride rushes from the boot-shop, a crowd gathers. Dekker, Gable's competitor (above), seizes opportunity, tries to stir up the citizens against Gable CALMING his bride, Gable escorts her away from scene. She is near hysterics because she had asked him to leave his gun at home—which fortunately he hadn't

SHIRLEY TEMPLE Goes Back to Work

SPECULATION concerning whether or not Shirley Temple failed to survive the awkward age and might be forever "washed up" in pictures is now over. Shirley not only is back at work in "Kathleen" but she has the starring role. She is earning as much money as ever and there is no doubt in the minds of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer executives that she will regain every bit of the popularity she lost when she began to grow up into a chubby little girl.

In "Kathleen," Shirley plays a motherless child who has a "split personality," is mean at times because of treatment at the hands of a difficult nurse. Herbert Marshall plays her father, engaged to a young gold-digger. The plot has Shirley conspiring to have a young doctor of psychology, played by Laraine Day, win her father's heart. The public will be treated to an advance view of Shirley as she will look when grown up through dream sequences in which Shirley dresses in an elaborate evening gown.

Among the more interesting changes in Shirley Temple during the last year is that she has let her hair, once quite blond, grow into its natural chestnut color. She has grown another inch and a half and lost several pounds of the weight which had everybody worried into thinking she might have "Kate Smith" tendencies. All of this has been achieved without artificial means, so that it may safely be assumed that the Shirley Temple you will see on the screen in "Kathleen" is definitely not "done with mirrors." Shirley today is quieter than the Shirley of several years ago.

Between scenes on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer set Shirley plays Chinese checkers with Mary Lou Isleb, the girl who has been her stand-in for several years. As this is written, Miss Temple is going back to Westlake School for Girls two weeks after the school's opening because of her work on the picture, but she has been tutored on the studio set so she will not be behind in her studies.

Yes, Shirley Temple is back at work for the first time in a year and a half and she loves it. She seems overjoyed to be before the camera again.

This is the latest report on Shirley Temple, "going on thirteen," a freshman (ninth grade) in high school. Watch the calendar for more bulletins! —C. S.

WINSOME SHIRLEY TEMPLE, who eight years ago first attracted public attention in baby comedy roles, whose fabulous career reads like a scenario, today is a charming youngster (above), still a star, but also a high-school freshman studying French, algebra, history, art. Shirley will soon return to the screen in M-G-M's "Kathleen." Left: Shirley's rise to fame began in 1934 when she was a tiny curly top of five

Patricia Morison: REVEALS HER WONDER DIET

PATRICIA MORISON invented the unique exercise (above) to help reduce her hips. Standing near a wall, Pat bumps one hip then the other against it ten times morning and night, but cautions against bumping hard, as bruises might result. Right: This exercise helped Pat lose fourteen pounds

Frankness is something seldom found in a movie star. Pat Morison has it. She hasn't been afraid to admit that she's been a little too stout to photograph well. Now that she's really slim and is hard at work in "The Morning After" at Paramount, she has agreed to tell how she dropped fourteen pounds in one day less than three weeks by a simple combination of diet and exercise. MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE believes this weight-reducing method will pass the scrutiny of any physician, that it did the trick for Pat, but that moving into a new home and furnishing it herself might have accounted for just a pound or two of that fourteen.—The Editors.

Tommy Harmon: THE GRID KING'S INSIDE STORY

By Bill Stern

FIRST met Tommy Harmon three years ago at the University of Michigan when a somewhat shy and reticent youngster came to my hotel room with these words: "My name's Harmon. I'd like to be a radio announcer. How do I do it?" We sat and talked for almost three hours. At that time I had no idea that Harmon was destined to become as great as he has, but I immediately liked him for his inherent modesty.

The following year I went back to Ann Arbor to do another football game and again came in contact with Tommy Harmon. At this time he was beginning to become known for his football ability. He was a University of Michigan gridiron star, but I don't think Tommy at that time could look into the future and see he was destined to become a national figure. Again we talked about Harmon's radio-announcing career. Tommy was so interested in learning how to become a radio announcer that it was eleven o'clock before either of us knew it. As the rule is that all football players have to be in bed by ten o'clock, the lateness of the hour presented a bit of a problem. However, we smuggled Tommy out of the hotel into the rumble seat of a convertible car, slammed the rumble seat down on top of him and smuggled him up the back stairs of his boardinghouse. If you think this affected his football ability, let me say that the following day he ran wild against the University of Iowa, making Nile Kinnick seem tame in comparison.

I didn't see Tommy Harmon again until the following year, last fall. By now Tommy had become a national figure. He was doing two radio shows of his own out of Ann Arbor and was no longer shy or reticent but he was still very modest. My first experience with Tommy in 1940 was when we both returned from the West Coast on a plane. Tommy had run wild against California, Michigan's opening opponent, had made three touchdown runs of over eighty yards each. Instead of talking about his accomplishments that day, Tommy spent the whole trip telling me about his plans for the future. When we arrived in Chicago there were bands massed at the airport to meet Tommy. It was only then that I remembered this was his twenty-first birthday. The entire Michigan alumni of Chicago had turned out to welcome him.

The next time I saw Tommy was before the Penn game at Ann Arbor. By this time Tommy knew that he couldn't miss All-American—that he couldn't miss a job in radio—that he was on his way to Hollywood—but he was just as modest as he had been.

As I said a moment ago, Tommy had two radio shows. One was on a Saturday morning and Tommy asked me to go on as his guest. We began checking whom we thought would win the day's games, when Tommy threw a question at me and I replied, "This is merely a question of deciding which of the two teams is the lousier." Tommy's face went white. After we got off the air he came to me in all seriousness and said:

"Bill, my radio professor is going to be very mad at you. The first rule they teach us at Ann Arbor is never to use the word 'lousy' on the air."

Five weeks later I again ran into Tommy Harmon, this time in Hollywood, California, rehearsing with Bing Crosby for the "Kraft Music Hall." Tommy was now an established success. Yet I think his parting remark to me showed very clearly just what kind of a boy Tommy is. Tommy, Bing and I were at NBC in Hollywood. Tommy looked around and I will never forget his remark:

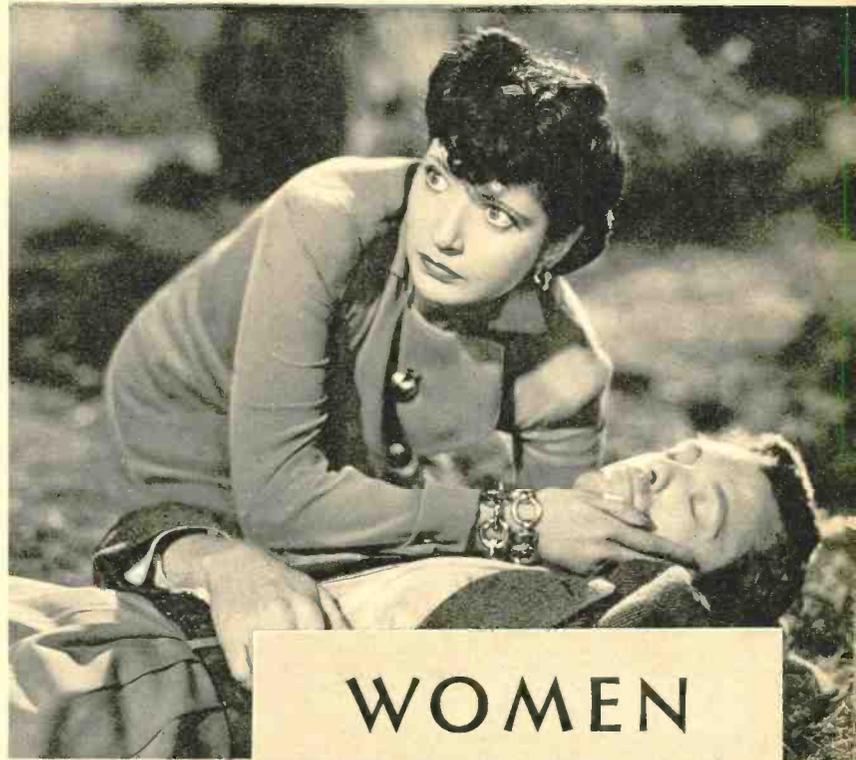

"This sure is a big place for a little guy like me."

You've got to like a guy like that!

TOM HARMON (left), gridiron king starring in Columbia's picture, "Harmon of Michigan," is believed to be the first newcomer to Hollywood with a ready-made audience of millions who have seen him on the gridiron, in newsreels. Film is half fact, half fiction about his college life, career after graduation. (1) Above: Suffering for his art was the real thing for Tommy in "Harmon of Michigan." He had to submit to being patted with a powder puff before going into action. (2) Last year Tom was hugging a pigskin for Michigan, now he's hugging Anita Louise for films

Ameche is a psychology professor, scientifically incapable of jealousy, who goes to New York with his wife, Miss Russell, to have his book, "Jealousy in All Its Aspects and Universal Applications," published.

Van Heflin, publisher, immediately showers attention upon Miss Russell. Miss Francis, his assistant, who is in love with her boss, informs Ameche. Ameche is unperturbed.

Later, however, Ameche does become jealous of Van Heflin, a fight ensues. Then the women do a bit of face-slapping. Finally all become friends again but Ameche is now a jealous husband—to his wife's delight!

Gary Cooper and His Lady Enjoy a Free Jack Benny Show

—Jack Albin

HOLLYWOOD'S social season is on the upswing again. Today non-movie folks visiting the Cinema City's popular rendezvous might find themselves in the midst of an impromptu show. At Ciro's, for example, a

The New Social Order in the Movies

THE day of the "plunger" is gone in Hollywood. The heavy taxes have stars saving their money, really having a good time when they go out. A new social set is attracting the most attention. As they became acquainted gradually, the bounds of their preference for each other's company has become more sharply defined. As in your town, the cliques are difficult to break into, take long in developing. Such is that consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benny, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, Jane Wyman and Ronnie Reagan, Dr. and Mrs. Joel Pressman (Claudette Colbert) and the Henry Fondas.

The ultra-ultra crowd seldom goes out in public, usually only when giving or attending a British war-relief party. This consists of the Basil Rathbones, the Ronald Colmans, the Doug Fairbanks, Jr., the Charles Boyers, Norma Shearer, a few others.

For a while Hollywood had a younger set. They had a lot of fun until Lana Turner grew up with her romance with Tony Martin, Judy Garland married Daye Rose. Now the youngsters no longer travel together.

Movie-Radio Guide's cameraman this week spent a whole evening keeping tab on what he calls "the Jack Benny set."

GENERAL

Hayden Quits Hollywood

From Gloucester, Mass., comes the press-release that Stirling Hayden has quit Hollywood to "live his own life." At first sight this would appear to be another piece of Hollywood publicity, but Hayden has been seriously thinking about such a move for some time. After making "Bahama Passage" with Madeleine Carroll it was rumored that Madeleine, very much a non-conformist herself, had advised Stirling to follow an impulse to quit the movies for his real love, the sea. So it is no on-the-spot whim of Hayden's, and maybe the blond, six-foot-four star meant it when he tossed his California license plates into the Gloucester harbor and replaced them with some Massachusetts numbers.

Temple Debut

Shirley Temple will make her initial screen appearance in an evening gown for her role in M-G-M's "Kathleen." At Shirley's special request the gown will be an exact duplicate of the one she wore at her first school dance.

New Welles Show Ready

Orson Welles' new show is about ready to go before the cameras. It will be an all-colored affair tracing the history of the boogie-woogie. The story is built around that brass man, Louis Armstrong. Another Negro maestro, Duke Ellington, has already completed the score for the picture. It will be called "The Magnificent Ambersons."

Sheridan Has Fur in "Dinner"

Here's a fashion-note to the ladies that might be of some interest. Ann Sheridan, in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," will wear the smallest muff in fashion history. It measures exactly five inches from stem to stern and can comfortably accommodate a pair of thumbs. The petite finger-warmer is part of an ensemble unique in that it clothes Ann from head to toe in fur. Eighty black galyak skins were used for a chic hat, a smart street dress with deep dolman sleeves and the miniature muff.

Why Vic Said Nix

Victor Mature, busy at work on "Shanghai Gesture," was called back last week for added takes on his recent 20th Century-Fox picture, "Hot Spot." He reported to the lot and asked what the added scenes would be. "We want you to do a swimming scene," he was told. Now Mature is one of the best swimmers in town, but he said, "Nothing doing!" "Why?" they asked. "Because," he said, "I might stub my toe." They excused him. The real reason Mature didn't want to do the swimming scene in the picture was simple. He knew that his doing it would deprive a stuntman of work—and he thought the work should be spread around.

Flowers for Maxie

Maxie Rosenbloom, erstwhile lightweight champion with the powder-puff wallop, was made null and void on the "Louisiana Purchase" set the other day. A couple of flower-pots put the spoke in Maxie's wheel. Maxie was just minding his own business and that of a couple of set cuties when a pot of geraniums, dislodged from an upper balcony, nicked him on the neck. This slight tremor annoyed Maxie and he looked up just in time to catch another pot flush on his mush. This was too much for the Great Rosenbloom. He was knocked colder than a glamour girl's heart. Maxie, as punchy as a fox, arose at the count of twenty-seven, quipped, "I wonder if they'll hold my purse up?"

ALL IN ONE HOLLYWOOD NIGHT

HOW "the Jack Benny set," one of the cliques which today make up Hollywood social life, has a good time is seen in these photos. After an uproarious beginning (see p. 9) the party settles down. (1) At one long table (l. to r.) are: Mrs. Gary Cooper, Jack Benny, Jane Wyman, Claudette Colbert, Bob Taylor. Bob is the best listener. (2) At midnight this Saturday evening Jack Benny has moved to another part of the table, looks sleepy; Ronny Reagan carries on with Barbara Stanwyck. Jane is not yawning—this kind of picture just happens. (3) 12:30. Bob Preston drops over to pay respects to Barbara Stanwyck. (4) Preston returns to his pretty wife, buys cigarettes from Mary Scott on her last night at Ciro's before becoming a 20th-Fox actress. Some day Mary may rub elbows with this social set.

THE WAR

Wayne Morris Transferred

It's Pensacola-bound for Ensign Wayne Morris. The former actor will soon leave his San Pedro post for the Florida training center, where he will learn all about combat flying.

Mobile Picture Units

The Army has come up with a new morale-building idea. Mobile outdoor moving-picture theaters are being pressed into service in sectors where large numbers of soldiers are being occupied in war games. As soldiers are unable to get "leaves" while the games are on, these mobile units maneuver with the troops, provide them with entertainment. A feature, newsreel and comedy complete the show.

HOSPITALIZED

O'Hara Harassed

Trouble really beset Maureen O'Hara up in Reno, where she was getting a divorce from an impetuous English marriage. The budding starlet became deathly ill and it turned out to be an appendicitis attack. An operation was necessary, causing Maureen to lose a favored role in "Son of Fury," with Tyrone Power. Cobina Wright, Jr., will probably be the replacement choice.

Durbin Ill With Cold

For the past two weeks Deanna Durbin has been forced off the set with a severe sore throat and chest cold. The young star's absence has stirred up plenty of ready rumors. One was that Sergeant Stork was on the way winging; another that Deanna was muffed at the picture she is working in. These rumors, like most Hollywood rumors, are purely stretches of the imagination. Both the studio doctor and Deanna's personal physician say that it is just the "summer cold" keeping her from work, that she will return to the set within a few days.

HONORS

Sioux Raoul Walsh

Raoul Walsh, film director, became the ninth white person to be inducted into membership in the Sioux Nation at a ceremony conducted at Warner Bros. studio. Other recipients of this honor include Calvin Coolidge, Marshal Foch, Queen Marie of Roumania. Thunder Hawk was the name chosen for Walsh by the Sioux Indians who are working on the Walsh picture, "They Died With Their Boots On."

Cracked Walsh after the rites, "Now that I'm an 'Indian' I hope the white man won't take away my property in the valley."

"Costello Square"

One of Paterson's (New Jersey) most important intersections has been named Costello Square in honor of Lou Costello, the native son who made good in Hollywood. Costello was there for the "naming" ceremony, personally directed traffic at the Square for a few minutes.

EN ROUTE

Goddard in Reno

Yes, Paulette Goddard is in Reno, but she's not getting a divorce. The attractive star, who has been working like a Trojan in one picture after another, is up there for a three-week vacation. Her mother, with her, is getting a divorce while Paulette fishes, sceneryizes and rests at near-by Lake Tahoe. As soon as she returns she starts "The Lady Has Plans," with Ray Milland.

Jasper Park Vacation

JOAN BLONDELL FIGHTS GARBO SHORT

IF GRETA GARBO thinks Hollywood will follow her switch to a short bob en masse, she's mistaken. Most actresses won't let Greta's new style affect their coiffures. However, Joan Blondell was influenced enough by the short bob to conceive a new half-do of her own, which she calls "Airflow Roll." Joan says short hair is too confining, women want something more formal. Here's Joan's idea: (1) Joan with hairdresser Ruth Pursley. (2) Front view. (3) Right profile. (4) Rear view. (5) Left profile

HOLLYWOOD HODGEPODGE

CORPORAL Jimmy Stewart will soon be a lieutenant. A well-deserved promotion. He may be "mustered" out of the Army in November . . . Gene Tierney will wear seventeen sarongs in "Son of Fury." Unlike Lamour's, they have zippers . . . The M-G-M picture "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is doing a grand-slam business. Eastern critics panned it. Movie-Radio Guide gave it the green light. Looks like our critic department deserves a back-slap . . . Bing Crosby is happy. His race-track, Del Mar, will conclude the racing season with a "handle" thirty-five percent ahead of last year . . . Since Ginger Rogers has been "going" with George Montgomery they are calling her the "new" Rogers . . . Charles Boyer's mother, a recent absentee from occupied France, is visiting her son in Hollywood . . . Another mother in the news is Ruth Brugh, whose son is Robert Taylor. Bob just got his new pilot's license, took his mother up as his first passenger . . . Dick Powell caught a two-hundred-sixty-pound swordfish over the Labor Day week-end, something he has been trying to do for years.

garet Sullavan and husband Leland Hayward have left Hollywood for a Canadian vacation. Highlight of their trip will be a stopover at Jasper National Park.

LIFE STATISTICS

New Elopement Haven

This is to warn Franchot Tone and his heartbeat, Earl Carrollette Jean Wallace, that if they intend to be an "elope-some" to Las Vegas, Nevada, they'd better send in a reservation ahead of time. Over Labor Day 716 licenses were issued, one hundred more than Reno. The total for August was 2,411. This new "marriage mart" is doing a thriving business thanks to so many of Hollywood's jiffy marriages.

Celebrate Anniversary

Arleen Whelan and Alex D'Arcy's marriage has been patched up oftener than a tramp's pants, but the youngsters, in New York on a talent hunt for Howard Hughes, celebrated their first anniversary together and happily with the prediction that "the rifting and tiffing" is a thing of the past.

An Item for Guessers

Just what the marital status of Cobina Wright, Jr., cafe-society glamour girl and screen actress, and Palmer Beaudette, millionaire corporal, is, is a matter of conjecture. Beaudette says he will marry Cobina November 14, Cobina said she was "terribly, terribly fond" of Palmer, but denied that a date had been set. Off or on, it's a fact that right now Palmer is Cobina's "Beau"-dette.

HOLLYWOOD MERRY-GO-ROUND

British actor Edward Ashley and "Bubbles" Schinasi, Wayne Morris' ex, a twosome at Ciro's opening night of the dancing De Marcos . . . Also, Bentley Ryan, well-known attorney, and Simone Simon . . . George Brent and Ann Sheridan dancing at the Miramar. It was Brent's first night out since his operation . . . Sheila Ryan and agent Henry Willson looking like they found each other.

ASSIGNMENTS

Loy-Taylor Together

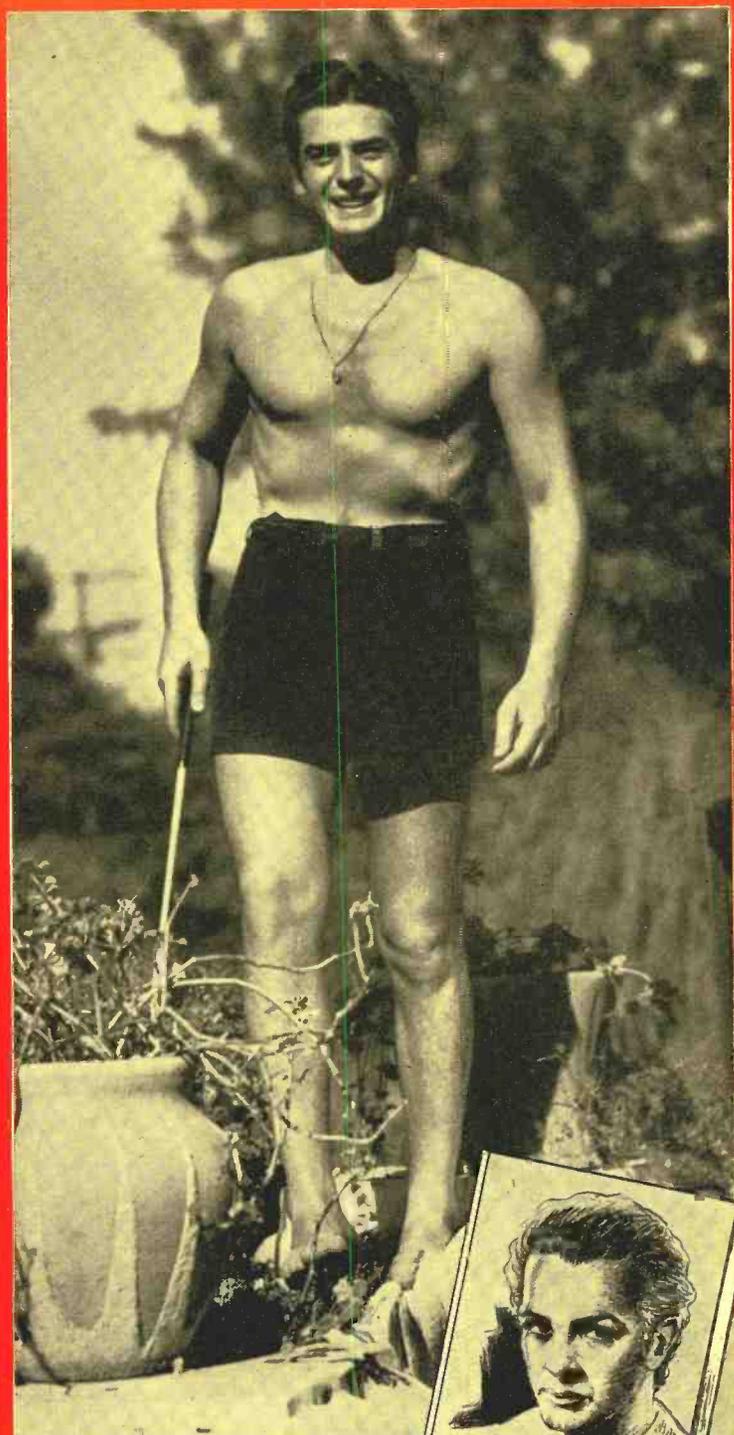

The Harper prize-winning novel of 1941, "Marriage Is a Private Affair," by Judith Kelly, will very likely provide a snappy, modern vehicle for Myrna Loy and Robert Taylor. The novel is a $35,000 M-G-M purchase. It concerns modern marriage among people of intelligence and treats this theme with candid realism. The last time Loy and Taylor were together was as married people in "Lucky Night."

Runyon to Hollywood

A very happy announcement to the whole cinema-going public is the one that tells of Damon Runyon coming to Hollywood as a producer. Runyon, a peer among American reporters for years, will work at RKO. His writings, which are an X-ray of what the public wants, are more American than "Yankee Doodle." Fourteen of his stories have already been made into pictures, and they have all been money-makers. When he starts adding his own touches right on the sets, you can look for bigger and better successes.

Garfield Shelves Trek

John Garfield, who, because he couldn't get along with his studio, had decided to become a war correspondent, has hung that ambition on the hook, because all is now peaches and cream between him and Warners. They have cast him as a young, likable doctor in "Remember Tomorrow," which is just what Garfield wanted. He was revolting at villain roles.

MATURE The Mystery Man —Is He Kidding?

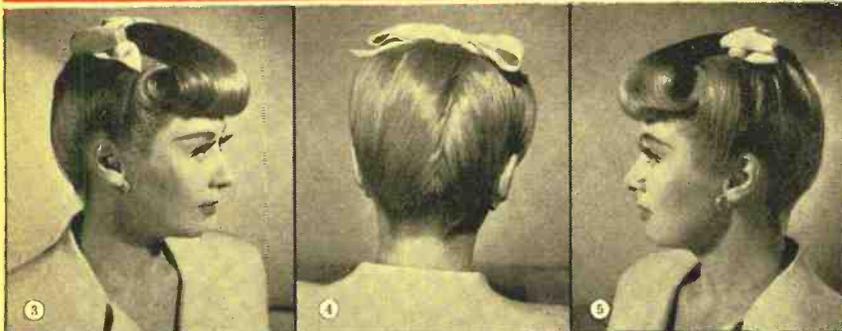

WIRES are humming in Hollywood to try to determine whether or not the Victor Matures (Martha Stephenson) have separated for good, few reporters believing the story that she went back to New York to close her apartment, return with her child to make a home for the young actor. Meantime, Vic has moved back into his garage apartment with his stand-in, started work in "Shanghai Gesture" with Gene Tierney the day he finished "Hot Spot," opposite Betty Grable.

Inset drawing shows an artist's conception of the man who should play Robert Jordan in

"For Whom the Bell Tolls." The drawing resembles Victor Mature, also resembles one of Vic's best friends, MacDonald Carey, who has tested for the part. Vic says Carey should have it.

Unpredictable Mature has nothing to say about marriages, ventures this about actors: "When they say they are quitting (reference to Stirling Hayden's announced retirement), don't believe them. Once in front of a camera, nobody is ever the same. All actors—movie, radio, stage—are a little touched in the head. We all pretend to be something we aren't. Why kid ourselves, or anyone else?"

SPECIAL PREVIEW

"Gentleman From Dixie"

Cast: Jack LaRue, Marian Marsh, Clarence Muse, Mary Ruth, Robert Kellard, Phyllis Barry, Herbert Rawlinson, John Holland, Joe Hernandez, Clarence Muse Singers, et al. A Monogram release, produced by Edward Finney, directed by Al Herman. Screen play by Fred Myton.

Type of Picture: Homy story of the old South gone modern with musical background and a beautiful horse sharing honors with the hero.

This Is the Story: A convict released from prison goes back to his brother's plantation home, is forced to live in the stables while he trains horses. The hero in the person of Jack LaRue makes friends with his six-year-old niece, trains a winning race-horse. Back into his life comes the man whose testimony sent him to prison and who now threatens to break the heart of the child by buying the horse she loves. The plot moves swiftly to a climax in which the horse saves the child, kills the villain.

the year. It is not pretentious, it may even seem a little bumpy in spots. Yet it has tremendous heart appeal. Hit of show is little Mary Ruth, whose tiny fingers work wonders at the piano with Chopin's "A Major Prelude" and Bach's "Solfegietto." It is astounding to note that this picture was produced for a sum less than $22,000 by its producer, Edward Finney, who marks himself with this effort for a Darryl Zanuck future. —C. S.

"The Pittsburgh Kid": A Review

Cast: Billy Conn, Jean Parker, Dick Purcell, Alan Baxter, Veda Ann Borg, Jonathan Hale, Ernest Whitman, John Kelly, Etta McDaniel, Dick Elliott, John Harmon, et al. A Republic picture, produced by Armand Schaefer, directed by Jack Townley. Screen play by Earl Felton, Houston Branch.

Type of Picture: This is one of those films in which a professional fighter plays the hero. Many doubtless have read the Octavus Roy Cohen story which ran serially in Collier's. This is the screen version.

This Is the Story: When a popular young prize-fighter's manager dies, his daughter takes over the job of piloting him. She is secretly in love with him, does her level best to prevent him from falling in with tough promoters as he shies from taking advice from a woman. The story is melodramatic, takes on its most thrilling aspects when Billy Conn, who nearly stole the real-life heavyweight crown from Joe Louis, gets into his fight scenes.

Movie-goers will be astonished at the good looks and personality of Billy Conn, who as a result of this picture will receive so many movie offers that he can't be blamed if he gives up prize-fighting for good. Conn has the looks of Bob Taylor and the ruggedness of Gable, plus the happy factor that he is really believable when he fights because he knows his job. Jean Parker is the delightful little heroine of "The Pittsburgh Kid" who shares honors with Dick Purcell, excellent in his comic portrayal of the sports reporter.

Verdict: This hasn't the smooth quality of a big production, which shouldn't bother movie-goers who are used to falling asleep watching the big ballyhoo pictures. It has thrills for everybody and is worth your price of admission. —L. R.

"Ladies in Retirement": A Review

Cast: Ida Lupino, Louis Hayward, Evelyn Keyes, Edith Barrett, Elsa Lanchester, Isobel Elsom, et al. A Columbia picture, produced by Lester Cowan in association with Gilbert Miller and directed by Charles Vidor. Screen play by Reginald Denham and Garrett Fort from the Broadway play by Messrs. Denham and Edward Percy.

Type of Picture: Here's a chiller-diller of the most thrilling and heavily emotional type; two insane women are the motivation of a slightly unbalanced sister's murder of her benefactor.

This Is the Story: As in the stage play, with modifications for the purpose of passing the Hays office self-imposed censorship code, Ellen Creed (Ida Lupino) makes her life's work the unreciprocated care of her two demented sisters (played by Edith Barrett and Elsa Lanchester most convincingly and weirdly). To prevent them from being sent to a London insane asylum, she prevails upon her employer, Miss Fiske (Isobel Elsom), to invite them as guests to her country home where she, Ellen, is employed as housekeeper. After six weeks of them, Miss Fiske is thoroughly fed up with their peculiarities and her nerves are about to give way. She orders the sisters removed from her house—whereupon Ellen plots and executes her murder. But she runs into many difficulties, one of the greatest of them her nephew by marriage (Louis Hayward), who makes the country home his refuge after absconding with funds from the bank where he was employed, and who soon guesses she is the murderess.

Verdict: An adult piece, but a very, very good one. In fact, it is one of the best of its type, and encomiums are deserving by the entire cast, with special mentions to Ida Lupino and Edith Barrett. —E. P.

FOOTBALL FANS, ATTENTION!

Starting next issue (with the games of Saturday, Sept. 27) three famous football coaches and three famous sports writers will each week especially for MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE predict the winners of all important football games.

For the East, Southeast and Southern Conferences—

Coach Lou Little of Columbia and Henry McLemore of the McNaught Syndicate
—will predict the winners

For the Big Ten, the Big Six, Notre Dame and Midwest Independent Schools—

Coach Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern and Francis J. Powers of the Chicago Daily News
—will predict the winners

For the Pacific Coast, Southwestern Conference and Rocky Mountain Areas—

Coach Clark Shaughnessy of Stanford and Bill Leiser of the San Francisco Chronicle
—will predict the winners

The selections of these three teams of experts will be rushed to MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE by wire—and to you—each week during the football season. For the most comprehensive digest of how your favorite teams are likely to fare on the gridiron, watch page 14 beginning next week.

Little and McLemore from New York, Waldorf and Powers from Chicago and Shaughnessy and Leiser from San Francisco are heard on NBC's "Second Guessers" program each Sunday at 12 noon EDT (11 a.m. EST and CDT, 10 CST, 9 MST, 8 PST).

Here is your guide to great music on the air, planned to increase your listening pleasure

MUSIC NOTES: The Philadelphia Orchestra has again contracted with Mutual to broadcast its fall and winter concerts on an exclusive basis. This time, however, Mutual will have to pay, the others having been "on the cuff" . . . That "two-thousand-mile downbeat" which Andre Kostelanetz was to have given his orchestra on August 24 from Mexico City did not come off "as advertised." Telephone trouble in Mexico caused it to be canceled at the last moment . . . Sir Thomas Beecham is again the guest conductor for the CBS Symphony Sunday. Sir Thomas made his American debut in 1928, when he directed the New York Philharmonic. At that concert, immediately following the first number, he was seen to walk off the stage with musing steps.
The audience was vastly intrigued. Said Sir Thomas to those standing in the stage wings, "By Jove, I must have overdid it, my braces snapped." After getting them repaired he returned and resumed the concert. The sixty-two-year-old musician, who has conducted the world's greatest orchestras, inherited his taste for music from his father, Sir Joseph Beecham. He also inherited
$150,000.000 from the old gent.
Sir Thomas, however, still likes to conduct.

"March of Time" may return; Crosby slips
off to South America

Radio Set Shortage Seen

NEW YORK.—Although the OPM is doing its best to obtain the materials necessary for the continued manufacture of radio receiving sets, the problem is becoming more and more acute, according to a report by that office. All producers of radio sets are required to accept defense orders, regardless of their non-defense contracts. Some government officials estimate that radio set manufacture may be reduced by as much as seventy percent.

No Propaganda, Please

NEW YORK.—NBC has notified the directors of all its sustaining programs that they cannot use music of propaganda nature, no matter what the cause. The network recently turned thumbs down on a request to broadcast the tune "V for Victory." The network declined to say why the British propaganda song was refused.

CBS Expands Chicago Staff

CHICAGO.—In a move to enlarge its talent staff to take care of expanding program schedules, WBBM-CBS in Chicago has added several well-known radio entertainers. From "National Barn Dance" station WLS come the Prairie Sweethearts, singing guitarist Rusty Gill and "Little Swiss Miss" Christine. Other additions are guitar virtuoso Les Paul, piano duo Al Nielson and Bill Moss, and Bill Alexander's orchestra, with Elizabeth Hall as singer.

Your Radio—If War Comes

WASHINGTON.—Preparations have been made by the Defense Communications Board to have every radio in America become a means of conveying air-raid warnings and distributing official announcements in event of war. The plan would call for a regional hook-up for the first-named, and a national hook-up for the last. The 880 radio stations would remain in private hands.

Singing Coeds Get Chance

NEW YORK.—College songstresses of the nation are to be given a two-minute shot at fame and fortune via the "Hour of Charm" program. Beginning September 28, for the following ten weeks a female singer from some college or university will be featured in a two-minute solo spot on each show. Each of three finalists in the contest will receive a $1,000 prize.

TRAVELING

"Town Crier" From London

NEW YORK.—Alexander Woollcott, famous writer who was formerly radio's "Town Crier," is going to London to make a series of broadcasts to this country based on his observations abroad, it has been announced by CBS.

Bing Pulls Sneaker

HOLLYWOOD.—It became known last week that Bing Crosby, still vacationing from his radio hour, had quietly and secretly slipped away aboard an unnamed boat bound for South America, where he and his brother, Larry, will engage in a bit of horse trading and buying in the Argentine.

Shirer in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD.—William Shirer, CBS Berlin correspondent and author of the best-selling "Berlin Diary," arrived here September 6 to confer with film executives as adviser on the forthcoming picture, "Passage from Bordeaux," and to meet CBS officials. Shirer's new air series, "William Shirer and the News," was launched last Sunday, September 14, over CBS.

DEFENSE

Rudy Visits Rookies

HOLLYWOOD.—Rudy Vallee led an all-star radio cast to Camp Callan, Calif., September 2 and "broke in" his act to the obvious approval of 10,000 stamping, cheering trainees. The Vallee unit included Martha Tilton, who was made an honorary private at the entertainment; pianist "Skitch" Henderson, Bing Crosby's Music Maids, Tommy Riggs and Betty Lou, the comic Cirillo Brothers, animal imitator Freddie Dosch, tap dancer Carol Adams, Martha O'Driscoll and Gordon Jenkins' orchestra. Vallee intends to visit every camp on the West Coast with the unit. Next stop will be Fort Lewis, Wash.

SIDELIGHTS

Big Stuff for Small Fry

CHICAGO.—The world premiere held at the Chicago Theater September 3 was a different kind of world premiere. It was unusual, in the first place, to so honor a mere short-subject film. But it wasn't unusual when you consider it was the first showing of the first screen appearance of those remarkable "Quiz Kids." The September 3 regular broadcast was presented in conjunction from the theater stage, the same youngsters who appeared in the film appearing also on the air show. They were Cynthia Cline, Joan Bishop, Van Dyke Tiers, Richard Williams and Gerard Darrow. Led by born showman Gerard, the kids made a huge hit with the theater crowd.

O! Maestro a Pioneer

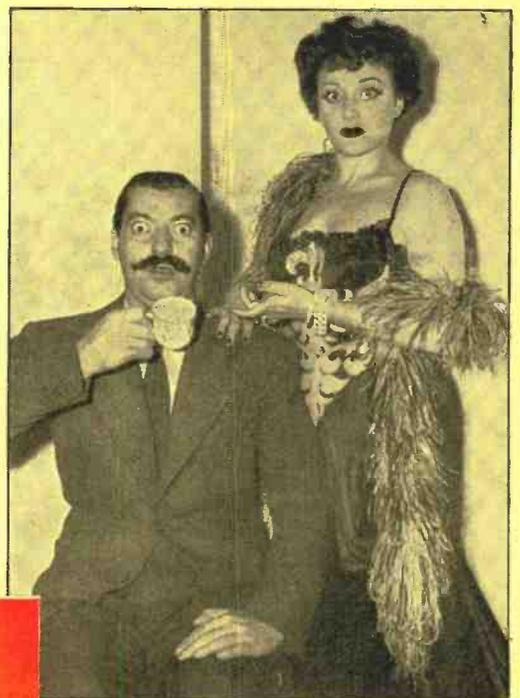

CHICAGO.—Ben Bernie, whose Monday through Friday "Just Entertainment" show was launched September 1, is credited with being the first orchestra-leader to use the same song to sign off each broadcast. His signa-

"BLONDIE" isn't so dumb! Penny Singleton, who plays radio's Monday night "Blondie" (CBS), demonstrates her new invention — combination script-holder and purse for gadget-laden actresses

ABOVE: Major Edward Bowes, now back on the air with his "Amateur Hour" after an absence of eleven weeks recovering from an operation, gets some sun with his French poodle at his Rumson, N. J., home

ARE mustache-cups and bustle-bulges coming back? No—it's only a nostalgic picture posed by two nineteenth-century hangovers, Beatrice Kay of "Gay Nineties Revue" (Mon., CBS) and Jerry Colonna ture was "My Buddy." This innovation was so popular that Ben continued to use "My Buddy" until 1928, when he helped write another theme, "It's a Lonesome Old Town." Bernie was also a pioneer of kidding commercials and the guest-star idea, introducing Kate Smith as his initial guest.

BELOW: Recent broadcast of "People's Playhouse" (MBS, Tues.) was two-family affair when actor-director Bob White (c.) and wife, Betty (l.), appeared with Irene Wicker, her daughter and her mother

Announcer Overboard!

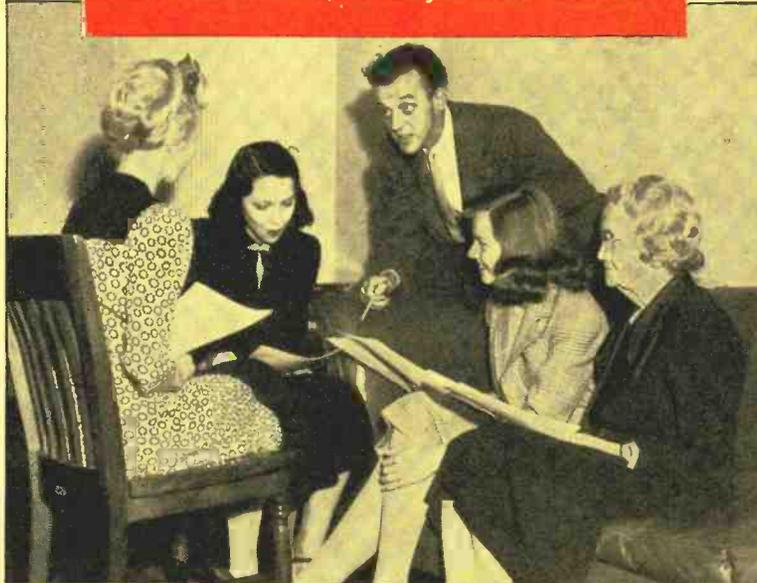

CHICAGO.—Professionally, announcer Franklyn MacCormack is right up on top these days, handling such shows as "College Humor," "Woman in White," "Jack Armstrong" and the Wayne King program. But actually, the bottom fell out for him the other day! Mac and his wife were driving along a Lincoln Park drive minding their own business when suddenly the pavement caved in right under them. Mrs. MacCormack was knocked out for several hours but not seriously hurt. The convertible Cadillac was almost wrecked. But Franklyn was only bruised and shaken up a bit—and somewhat dazed by the Ripley-like character of the accident.

Farmers See Seer Welles

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—Orson Welles, the multi-talented young gentleman who has a way of creating commotions in his wake, turned magician here September 3 when he appeared at the California State Fair as "Dispenser of Magic Tricks and Illusions with the Aid of Six Genuine Celestials." Welles, among his standard tricks, conjured up a full-grown orange tree bearing genuine fruit which he picked and tossed to awe-stricken spectators.

Studio Audience Salute

HOLLYWOOD.—Members of the "Lux Radio Theater" audience during this season will take part in a patriotic salute after each broadcast. With studio lights off and a spotlight on an American flag, musical director Lou Silvers will lead the 1,200 studio guests in the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner." It is not part of the broadcast, however.

AILING

Deanna's Throat Acts Up

HOLLYWOOD.—Bedridden by an ailing throat and cold infection, Deanna Durbin was unable to make her scheduled appearance September 7 as guest of the Charlie McCarthy show's fall premiere. Judy Garland was her substitute. Another throat casualty was Don Quinn, writer of the "Fibber McGee" programs, who took time off for a tonsillectomy prior to the resumption of that series September 30. Shaken up in an auto accident September 3, but not seriously hurt, was Edmund Lowe, the Sergeant Quirt of "What Price Glory," which makes its bow September 28 on an NBC network.

PROGRAMS

Schnozzle for Snooks?

HOLLYWOOD.—Although it has been officially announced that Fanny Brice would return to "Coffee Time" several weeks late, there is still a possibility that she will leave the show permanently. Negotiations are rumored under way to bring Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante into the show in the place of Miss Brice's Baby Snooks character.

New "Big Town" Format

HOLLYWOOD.—Edward G. Robinson, when he returns to CBS in October with "Big Town," will see that his dramas contain more comedy and are lighter in flavor. He made his decision following questioning young cadet friends of his son, Manny, in summer camp of the Black-Foxe Military Academy. How Robinson will make his cop-chase-robber series lighter he did not explain.

"March of Time" to Return?

NEW YORK.—There are persistent rumors that a soap manufacturer is interested in reviving the "March of Time," which was last broadcast in the spring of 1939. The prospective sponsor has bought a Friday night spot. Interesting is the fact that President Roosevelt gave his permission for actor Bill Adams to impersonate him on the new Sunday evening biography series. It was Adams whose convincing impersonation of the President on "March of Time" a few years ago led to an official request to discontinue such impersonation on the grounds that it confused the public.

Youthbuilders Unbuilt

NEW YORK.—Youthbuilders, Inc., which produced the Sunday CBS show of the same name, has decided to close the series, maintaining that CBS refused to allow the show to be "pepped up." A survey of schools had disclosed that most of the youngsters wanted a peppy, funny and entertaining program in preference to the dramatic skits which usually dealt with every-day problems of the school-children.

Irene Rich Marker

HOLLYWOOD.—Irene Rich started her ninth year on NBC for the same sponsor Sunday, September 7, amidst a confusion of messenger boys bringing her congratulatory telegrams and flowers. During her eight years on the air she has missed but two broadcasts—once when she flew to Miami to collect funds for the American Red Cross and the other time when grounded by bad weather when flying back to Hollywood following a visit to her infant grandchild in the East.

Mickey Rooney Starter

HOLLYWOOD.—Mickey Rooney has been secured as the guest dramatic star of the first play of the "Silver Theater" series over CBS returning to the air October 5. Mickey, who will celebrate his twenty-first birthday September 23, will receive $5,000 as his fee.

SHORT WAVE AIDS SOLDIERS IN PANAMA JUNGLE

Arabian Station Verified

Musical Mail Bag for Army, Navy Outposts

London Dissects Nazi Broadblasts

Edited by Charles A. Morrison

President, International DX'ers Alliance

SOME months ago several of our readers reported reception of a mysterious station believed to be located in Aden, Arabia. Many listeners unable to hear the station even doubted its existence. Our readers were right. Not only does such a station exist but three lucky listeners, namely Jack Gardner of Cleveland, Ohio; Fred Borchardt of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and L. M. Clark of Scarsdale, New York, have received definite letters from Aden, Arabia, confirming their reception. According to H. S. Bindon, the engineer in charge of the station, ZNR (12.12), Ras Boraldi, Aden, Arabia, has a power of 250 watts and operates daily from 10:28 to 11:45 a.m. CST. Items included regularly in the programs are as follows: 10:28 a.m., identification announcement in English, sometimes preceded by recorded music; 10:29 a.m., identificascribed programs, preferably music and comedy. We don't care how old they are—they'll be new to our gang. We've been in these jungles two years now and it begins to look like we're gonna stay here a while more to protect the Canal against attacks from the sea and from the air. How about it? Can you help us out?"

NBC could and did help out the lads in the Panama jungles. Hundreds of records—two thousand of them to be exact—containing a total of one thousand hours of the most up-to-date entertainment available from such artists as Jack Benny, Bing Crosby, Eddie Cantor and many others, as well as some special records made up especially for the Jungleers, were packed in four great smash-proof cases and have been dispatched to the boys by Army transports.

The tiny fifty-watt short-wave transmitters are being remodeled to handle the new "business."

Program Particulars—New

"Propaganda Review," a week-by-week report of the current tendencies in Nazi propaganda with analysis of particular statements by W. A. Sinclair, broadcast from London Saturdays at 8:15 p.m. CST over GSD (11.75) and GSC (9.58) . . . "Highlights from Hollywood," featuring the latest news of Hollywood, as well as guest appearances of film stars, producers and directors, aired on Saturdays at 9:30 a.m. CST over NBC stations WNBI (11.89) and WRCA (17.78) . . . For the delight of Latin listeners Benny Goodman's band may now be heard Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. CST; Johnny Long's band on Mondays at 8:15 p.m. CST, both over NBC stations WNBI (11.89) and WRCA (9.67) . . . "Musical Mail Bag," a program for men in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps in Alaska, Hawaii and the Pacific, broadcast from San Francisco early Monday mornings at 12:15 a.m. CST over KGEI (9.67), includes letters from service men at the Pacific bases, request numbers and personal appearances of relatives of the men, each of whom will be given a brief opportunity to say "hello" to their loved ones . . . Listen for: "New World News," a commentary on Latin-American affairs by Edward Tomlinson, broadcast direct from the S. S. Argentina, en route from Buenos Aires to New York. The ship station is WNBM (6.425, 9.135, 12.862 and 17.31 meg), Saturdays and Sundays at 4:45 p.m. CST . . . A special broadcast from San Marcos University at Lima, Peru—one of the oldest universities in the Americas—sponsored by the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, and to be aired on Friday, September 26, at 5:30 p.m. CST over WNBI (11.89) and WRCA (9.67).

Jive for Jarman's Junglemen

"This is a voice from the jungle and we're in a helluva fix!"

That cry of distress, relayed to NBC from thirty thousand isolated U. S. soldiers who are stationed at almost two hundred isolated anti-aircraft artillery positions in nine hundred square miles of wilderness surrounding the Panama Canal, set wheels in motion which resulted in the shipment of two thousand pounds of recordings of top-flight NBC musical and dramatic programs to short-wave radio stations PCAN and PCAC, the pride of the "Jarman Jungleers."

Clay Doster, master sergeant and editor and publisher of the PCA News, writing to NBC explained that the local military radio stations PCAN and PCAC were on the air four hours every day, but that they were running desperately short of material. "We have just finished distributing more than two hundred receivers to our jungle posts," wrote Sgt. Doster, "but they're not much use to the gang out there. What we gotta have is tran-

EDGAR BERGEN'S Gala Homecoming

RETURNING to his old home-town, Edgar Bergen walks down Decatur, Michigan's, main drag to be greeted in every window with flags, bunting, banners. Up the street is the theater where he put on his first entertainments, was pianist for silent films. Right: Police Chief Elmer E. Woolfe and three of Bergen's old teachers meet him at the country school he once attended

INSIDE SHAW SCHOOL the comedian and Miss Clara Abbott reenact a scene from the early life of Decatur's hero. Miss Abbott was one of Bergen's teachers in this old-fashioned one-room school five miles from town. Both got a tremendous bang out of renewing old friendship. Although Bergen was born in Chicago, it was here that he started school as a tot

GOOD SPORTS both, Mrs. Cudlip and Bergen posed gag picture above at the old country school with Miss Bernice Creagon (center), one of their teachers

RECENTLY Decatur, Mich., was in a dither the like of which no old-timer among its 1,582 citizens could recall. Edgar Bergen (NBC, Sun.), its number-one favorite son, was coming home, fulfilling a dream he shared with all successful, small-town boys of retracing boyhood steps, renewing old friendships. When the comedian's train pulled into town, crowds of friends were waiting. Bergen, as well as Messrs. Snerd and McCarthy, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Bope during their stay, also at a dinner honoring them at Decatur's Masonic Temple. Roaming about town, Bergen visited scenes of his childhood, met his first sweetheart, now Mrs. W. B. Cudlip of Detroit, was inspected proudly by his old school-teachers. With boyhood pals, he sheepishly recalled hijinks of their school-days. Climax of celebration came on the last day when Bergen, Charlie and Mortimer put on a forty-five minute show at Decatur Athletic Field for more than 10,000 people who had come from other states, all parts of southern Michigan, creating a traffic jam in the village which venerable police chief Elmer E. Woolfe tried valiantly, but vainly, to untangle. At the field, Mayor Charles Haefner made the address of welcome and Dr. Bope presented Bergen with keys to the city. It was the kind of homecoming every boy dreams of—and Bergen enjoyed every moment of it.—J. C.

WHILE CHARLIE MCCARTHY condescendingly went along to help entertain Shaw School's 1941 students, Mortimer Snerd was right at home, as was boss Bergen

HIGH POINT of the homecoming festivities was ceremony attended by 10,000 home-folks, at which Bergen gave show, was presented key to city by host Dr. Bope

RADIO GUIDE
VISITS:

CITIES SERVICE

"CITIES SERVICE CONCERT" (Friday, NBC) is an ideal radio show in the sense that it is better heard than seen. Nevertheless, a visit to Radio City's largest studio on a Friday night points up some interesting facts about this solidly popular broadcast, which came to the air in the pioneer days of radio—1927.

Most obvious is the impression that a giant share of responsibility for the presentation must be borne by iron-gray-haired Dr. Frank Black, the director. Pyramiding individual directorships such as Cities Service on his strenuous duties as general musical director for NBC, Dr. Black has his finger in a huge amount of the music which radio produces. On Cities Service Concerts he and producer Paul Dumont have presented some of the best of that music—and between them a neatly timed, almost flawless performance is whipped up during a concentrated morning's four-hour rehearsal.

Another impression one receives on seeing the broadcast is the easy teamwork with which soprano Lucille Manners and baritone Ross Graham cooperate with Dr. Black and the orchestra. Both are real musicians with a feeling for the total effect of the music rather than for their own personal accomplishment. Neither has the traditional "temperament" of artists.

Cities Service musicians aim to present not-too-highbrow, not-too-lowbrow music—and do it a little more perfectly than any other broadcasters. Fourteen years of popularity seem to be the proof of their success. —J. C.

LEFT: Singing stars Lucille Manners, soprano, and Ross Graham, baritone, join in duet on "Cities Service Concert" broadcast. Both are old-timers on the program. Ross first appeared on the program in 1935, Miss Manners coming a year later to take over her first starring spot. Both do their jobs with a minimum of "artistic" fluff

MUCH TINIER than she appears above, Lucille Manners, prima donna of the broadcast, is only five feet three, weighs 110 pounds. Cinderella-like, she rose from stenography to stardom

DISCOVERED BY ROXY, Ross Graham came from a job with Cities Service subsidiary to make New York debut. His present Cities Service job followed Atwater-Kent audition victory

DIMINUTIVE RONALD LISS, in Cities Service-man's garb, reads the commercials. Liss is an actor, appears in the serial "Portia Faces Life," also on "Coast to Coast on a Bus"

CITIES SERVICE

SERVES A NATION

PASSION FOR ANONYMITY is what the six girls and eight men who compose Cities Service Choir must have to blend their voices as perfectly as they do. Unknown though they are to the public, each is actually a talented, highly trained artist. Together with soloists and orchestra, they enable Cities Service to present any musical form

AN IMPRESSIVE SIGHT is Radio City's largest studio—an air-conditioned showplace—on Friday evenings as Cities Service takes the air with 1,320 guests and a stage-full of musicians. Choir is placed at right of stage with Dr. Frank Black and orchestra in center. For occasional numbers Dr. Black leaves the podium to play piano in foreground. The soloists, Mr. Ross and Miss Manners leave stage after appearances with orchestra and choir

VETERAN FORD BOND has announced upwards of six hundred Cities Service Concerts since show came to the air in 1927

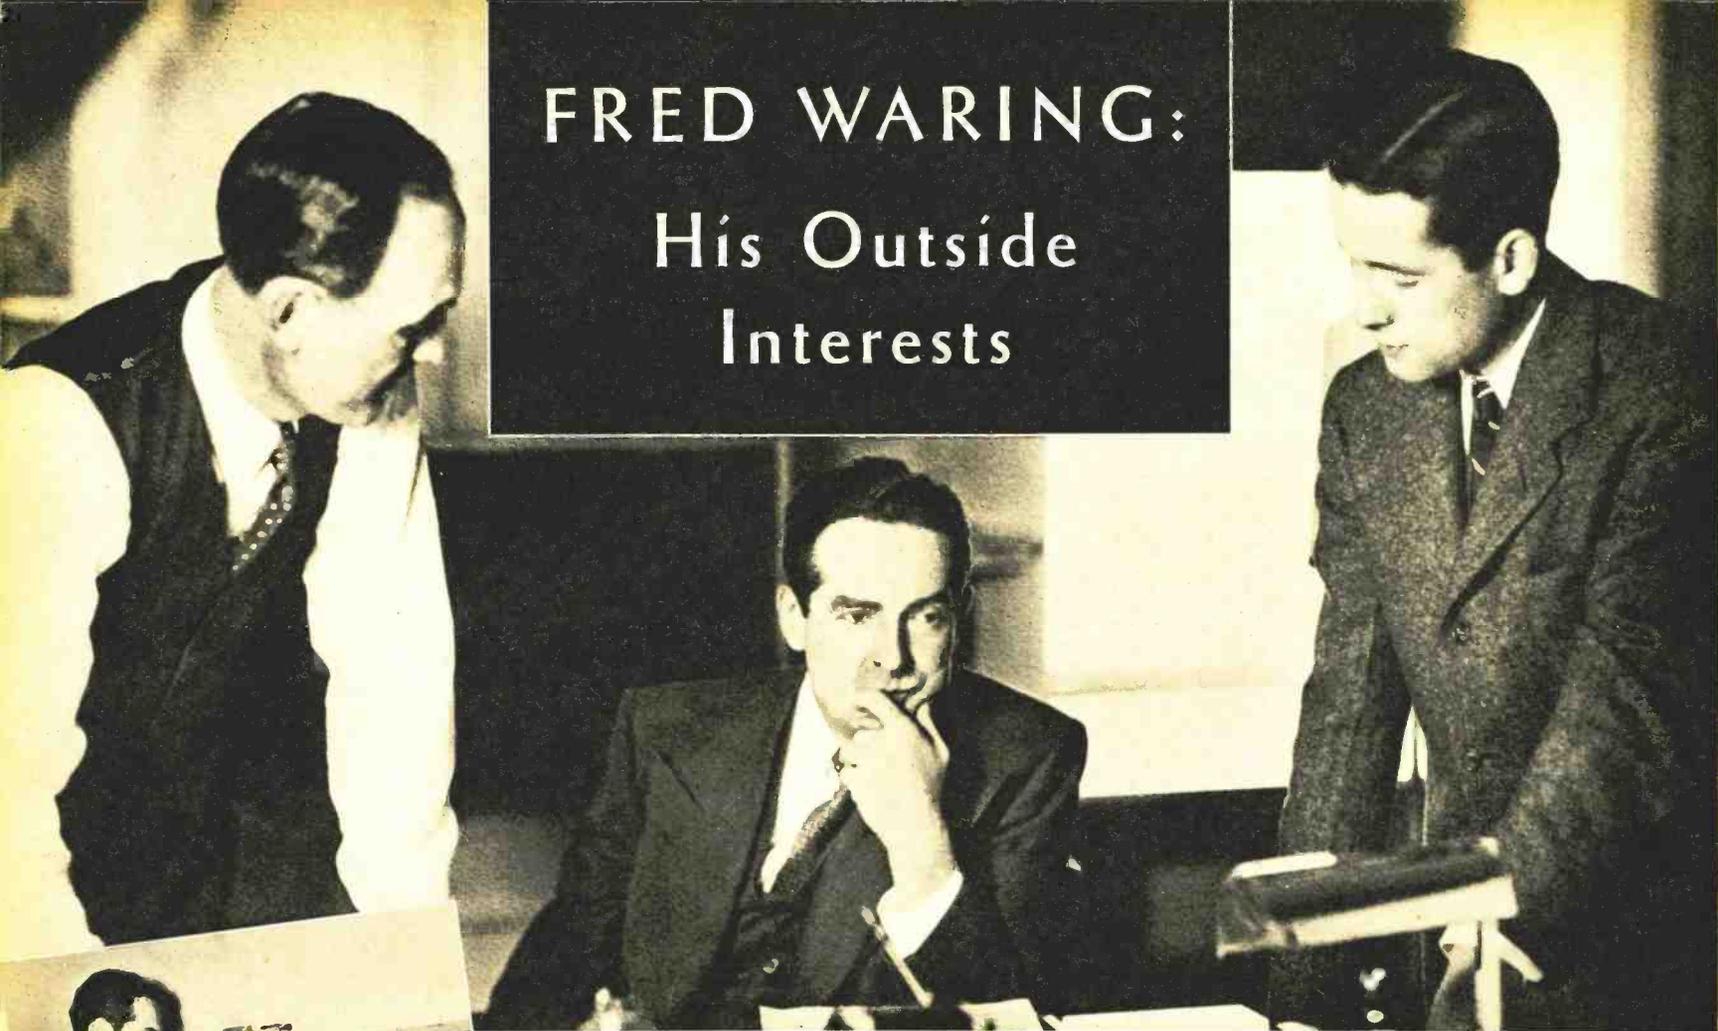

IN CONTROL-ROOM experts keep vigilant check on proper blending of sounds, timing of broadcast. L to r.: Agency executive Alan Lerner, producer Paul Dumont, sound engineer W. H. Glasscock

DR. FRANK BLACK'S work as director of "Cities Service Concert" well illustrates the qualities which make him one of NBC's indispensable men. Widely recognized as composer, critic, conductor, he still likes to take over piano on shows

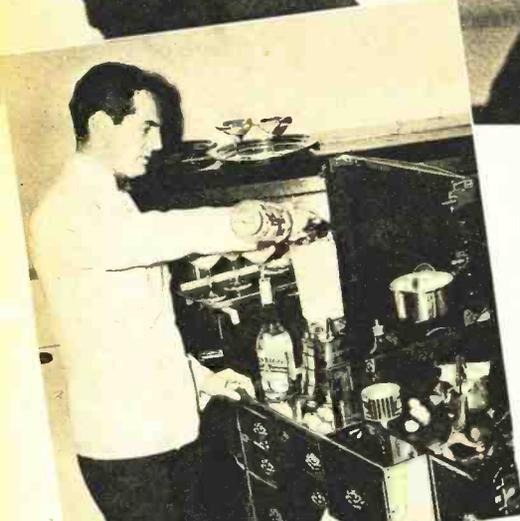

FRED WARING: His Outside Interests

ABOVE: Fred Waring (c.) heads music-publishing firm, discusses new song with arranger Roy Ringwald (r.), assistant conductor Fred Culley

THE radio public knows Fred Waring chiefly as the guiding genius of the Pennsylvanians, one of the finest and highest paid musical organizations in radio, heard on the always enjoyable "Pleasure Time" (Mon. through Fri. evenings, NBC). Listeners know him as a musical expert, a master showman and a master of ceremonies who sounds like the sociable, likable fellow he is. But beyond his musical activities, which would seem to be enough of a career for anyone, there is much more to Fred Waring and his life. Fred is the designer of, among other things, an electric iron and drink mixer, a promoter, a music publisher and an all-around shrewd businessman. And even beyond all his professional enterprises he finds time for relaxation with the members of his band and their families at the Pennsylvanians' lodge, Shawhee-on-Delaware, Pa. The lodge is a former inn which adjoins Fred's summer home. It was bought by Waring and refurbished to accommodate the Pennsylvanians and their families. It is operated on a non-profit, cooperative basis. Saturday nights at the resort Fred acts as emcee and his musicians perform in an informal entertainment. —D. M.

LEFT: A special portable kitchen-trunk enables Waring to experiment with new recipes for the Blendor, mixer he manufactures, while traveling

FRED INSPECTS a drink made in his Blendor as chef Fred Lewis stands by. Waring has successfully redesigned both his mixer and his new iron to almost completely eliminate use of aluminum because of national defense needs

HOW A YOUNG WIFE OVERCAME THE "ONE NEGLECT" THAT WRECKS SO MANY MARRIAGES

Bandstand Notes

By Maurice Granger

THE strangest sight in the whole world would be to see ten famous orchestra-leaders dancing in the same night spot. It will probably never happen, but anyway, assuming that it did, what favorite tune do you think each would request from the bandstand? To answer that question we are listing herewith the favorite tunes of ten of the most popular band-leaders. Benny Goodman's favorite tune is "All the Things You Are"; Guy Lombardo prefers "Tea For Two"; Andre Kostelanetz likes "Dancing in the Dark"; Raymond Scott, who never dances, would be certain to request "Body and Soul" if he did; Harry James loves "Lament to Love"; Duke Ellington can't get enough of "My Melancholy Baby"; Walter Gross is happy when he is hearing "Intermezzo"; Paul Whiteman still swears allegiance to "When Day Is Done," and Charlie Barnet's first love tune is "Sweet Lorraine." As you can easily see, not a single bandleader has a preference for the tunes liked by the others.

Bandata

We've finally discovered the instrumental set-up of Artie Shaw's 30-piece orchestra. The organization is divided into two separate sections. The fifteen regular dance-band men play the "Beguine" type of arrangements. For the newer stuff, such as "Frenesi," the band will call in the other section, which comprises eight violins, three cellos and four violas . . . Incidentally, Raymond Scott's new combo is called the "Secret Seven" because, as he says, it is dedicated to the discovery of greater mystery in music . . . Understand bandleader Vincent Lopez is torn between two hobbies these days. One is astrology, the other is stamp collecting. The band, by the way, has been renewed and will remain at the Hotel Taft in New York until February, 1942 . . . We are reminded that Eddy Duchin's band celebrated its tenth birthday last Labor Day. Congratulations, Eddy.

Purely Personal

Joanne Marshall, the lovely Powers model, and Dick Haymes, the Harry James singer, are twosomeing, with reports that they will wed shortly . . . Anita O'Day, Gene Krupa's songstress, and Carl Hoff, a golf pro, are also interested in each other . . . Bandleader Michael Loring and Gloria Whitney, a singer, are cooing . . . Betty Bonney, Les Brown's singer, and Abe Most, Brown's clarinetist, are planning to wed . . . Artie Shaw was greatly interested in Peggy Moran, Universal's starlet, while she was visiting in New York. They were constantly seen together . . . Wonder which one of the Duke University students is getting all those sweet letters from Connie Haines? Rumor says that the Tommy Dorsey vocally is quite that way about him.

Vocalists

Bandleader Carl Hoff has added the Murphy Sisters trio to his band which is playing at Blue Gardens, Armonk, N. Y. . . . Harry James' new vocalist is Dell Baker . . . Judy Clarke, formerly with Ray Heaton and Hal Kemp, has signed with Republic Pictures.

2. In despair, I went to see my sister-in-law—Sarah's been so happily married for years. When I told her about our troubles, she said: "You may be the guilty one, Sis. Often a husband's love grows cold just because a wife is careless—or ignorant—about feminine hygiene. It's one neglect few husbands can forgive."

3. "My own marriage was once in danger," Sarah said, "until my doctor set me right. He advised 'Lysol' for intimate personal care. He told me it does more than cleanse and deodorize. Being an efficient germicide, 'Lysol' kills millions of germs instantly on contact, and without discomfort to you."

4. I understand now why so many thousands of modern women rely on "Lysol" for feminine hygiene. It's gentle—yet so effective. And costs so little to use. I'll never risk losing my husband again. Yes, he comes home now—and brings me flowers!

Check this with your Doctor

"Lysol" is NON-CAUSTIC—gentle and efficient in proper dilution. Contains no free alkali. It is not carboic acid. EFFECTIVE—a powerful germicide, active in presence of organic matter (such as mucus, serum, etc.). SPREADING—"Lysol" solutions spread and virtually search out germs in deep crevices. ECONOMICAL—small bottle makes almost 4 gallons of solution for feminine hygiene. LASTING—"Lysol" keeps full strength indefinitely no matter how often it is uncorked. CLEANLY ODOR—disappears after use.

Young Girls' Approach to Beauty

By ALBERTA NORTH

BETTY JANE TYLER, NBC juvenile actress, grooms her hands as carefully as her mother. Hand lotion is part of ritual to make youngsters grow up well-groomed women

BEST WAY to interest girls in caring for their nails is to give them manicure set all of their own. Above, Betty applies colorless nail polish with a professional touch

IT'S never too early to instill in a young girl the importance of preserving the youthful loveliness of her skin, hair, teeth and figure as insurance against the future. It's a rare youngster who doesn't relish getting into mother's rouge pot and powder box, and it's a wise parent who knows that this desire to "dress up" can be the foundation for lifelong habits of good grooming.

Joan Leslie, the young star of "Sergeant York," credits the meticulous care of her nails to the fact that at ten she was given her own little manicure kit, complete to colorless polish. It filled Joan with such a feeling of importance that she became a juvenile crank about her nails from that day forward.

if the nails will pass rigid inspection! One of America's most famous beauty authorities, Helena Rubinstein, is vitally concerned with the problem of helping young girls become beautiful women. She feels that no age of beauty is more neglected or more important than the teens. Many mothers will recognize the wisdom of Madame Rubinstein's statement, "Life is so full of trials at that age that one little blemish can be the cause of an inferiority complex that may last for years and years."

A girl cannot begin too early to give her skin intelligent and careful attention. For this very purpose Madame Rubinstein has designed a special Young Complexion Kit which offers the teen-age girl a practical education in beauty care and starts her off on the path to lovely, radiant womanhood. In a handsome serviceable leather kit, which can be carried like a purse, are the following special young-skin preparations: Beauty Grains for Washing; Medicated Cream for occasional blemishes; Snow Lotion, a soothing and beautifying foundation; Flower Petal Face Powder, Lipstick, Pasteurized Face Cream for cleansing and massage.

ANY young girl will eagerly set out to care for her nails if encouraged by her parents. This care is important because it means that healthy nails will result, and pride in their appearance may go a great way to help a nail-biter to overcome a habit that may grow worse as the girl grows older.

It will be a happy child whose mother will give her a manicure set all for her very own. Cutex has one made especially for the real young ones called "Your Very Own" which has all the things that mother herself uses on her hands and nails. Then mother can help by teaching the child the fundamentals of fine manicuring. The set contains a cuticle oil for softening, so that the cuticle can be pressed back right where it belongs. A bottle of nail shampoo will get rid of that grimy mud-pie look that children's fingertips seem to get. There's a tube of hand cream to make hands look white and grown up, a buffer and some powder polish. Mother should explain that buffing gives nails a shine almost like real polish and is very good for them if she wants them long someday like mother's. If mother wants to offer a further inducement to encourage her child to fine nail care, she might offer to let her wear a lightly colored polish to the next party

Madame Rubinstein insists that no skin, young or old, can retain its charm and freshness unless it is washed thoroughly and systematically. For a wide-awake, clean-scrubbed look, wash once a day with Beauty Grains, tiny, clean-smelling granules that dissolve in warm water forming a rich, foamy lather and providing the friction required by the blemished skin or a complexion which is marred by blackheads.

POISE, even in a young girl, is very attractive and can be cultivated through allowing a child to feel that she is already the possessor of loveliness, loveliness which she must care for now, in order that it may bloom to beauty and charm when she becomes a woman. Allow her to develop her own tastes, subtly directed, by giving her the privilege of choosing her clothes and wearing a hair-do she likes.

What's in a Title?

Dear Sirs:
An item appeared in MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE recently that made me cross when I read it. It said, "Jessica Dragonette, petite soprano who was once queen of radio..." Those three words, who was once, got me. Jessica Dragonette was, is and always will be the Queen of Radio.
Clara Mattern, Lancaster, Pa.

Queen or not, Miss Dragonette was and is a great singer, and is, as the item referred to said, "beloved by many thousands."—The Editors.

Best Comedy Program

Dear Sirs:
Loads of laurel to Ann Gillis and the other actors, the author and producers of that side-splitting, typically American comedy, "A Date With Judy." In my opinion, it is the best comedy program on the air this summer, excelled only by the program it has been substituting for, the Bob Hope show. If it leaves the air, may it return sometime soon in some spot.
Roy Smoot, Covington, Ky.

Tres, Tres—!

Dear Sirs:
Orchids to Jean Cavall, who has a most novel singing act on NBC. He opens his fifteen-minute radio routine with the ringing of a telephone bell. Then the operator connects him with the listener, supposedly his girl friend. Of course, every girl and woman who tunes in likes to think he is serenading her alone, and the effect is convincing. His French accent is charming. As a singer and reader of intimate love poems Jean Cavall is grand. I hope he stays on the air for a long time to come.
Mrs. Muriel E. Eddy,
Providence, R. I.

Bulls & Boners

Bulls and boners are a part of broadcasting. No matter how experienced the performer or how famous the star, chances are that he will make an occasional slip or a statement with twisted meaning which is extremely funny. See how good your ears are. Try to catch broadcasters in some error—the funnier the better—and send your entry to MOVIE-RADIO GUIDE, 731 Plymouth Court, Chicago. The most humorous entries will be printed in this column. Watch for your contribution!
