The Ear Inspires the Pen

T. H., North Hollywood, Calif.

Sirs: First of all, thank you for a very interesting magazine. The pictures and articles are very fine and I enjoy those "Flashbacks," too.

Stacy Harris

I've been wondering if you could possibly scare up a picture of Stacy Harris and point it —natch. He's not only possessed of a fascinating voice, but he's a fine actor as well. So I'm curious to see him (having only seen him briefly on television). I'm glad to hear him more frequently of late, besides his regular role as "Special Agent Jim Taylor" on "This Is Your F.B.I.," he has been doing a great many other shows.

Mary Jane Weaver, President Jeff Chandler Fan Club, 279 North Second Avenue, Upland, Calif.

Sirs: As president of "The Jeffanc," national Jeff Chandler Fan Club, I should like to invite all persons interested in joining the club and helping to make it a success to write to me for full information.

All my friends and members of the club are very, very sad over the fact that Jeff's show, "Dr. Dana," has been taken off the air because he is doing "Our Miss Brooks" on Sunday and can't possibly do them both on the same day. All of us, including the cast itself, and other people I have come in contact with, wish that CBS would try to work out some other time for "Dr. Dana" to be presented, so that it can again return to the air.

In connection with your "Point With Pride" department, I should like to bring to your attention the "Suspense" broadcast of August 26, "Song of the Heart." This was the finest thriller I have heard in a long time and it was written by one of radio's most versatile actors, Elliott Lewis. Mr. Lewis's play is the first "Suspense" show that ever really made my 'blood tingle and caused me to feel chills up and down my spine. I hope that radio will hear more from Elliott as a writer as well as an actor.

Lou Krugman

Pat Gleason, 160 Verdugo, Burbank, Calif.

Sirs: Could you let us "Chandu" fans have a picture of "Dimitri," of "Chandu, the Magician"? He's the villain.

Herewith, L. o u Krugman, alias the villain, "Dimitri."

Everette "E.K." Barnes, 1131 Centinela, Apt. 1, Inglewood, Calif.

Sirs: Your colorful article by Judy Maguire and Mark Finley, about the early days of KHJ, gave me quite a lift, as it will no doubt affect all of the "old gang," Elvia Allman especially. I do not contact any of them as often as I would like to do but old Father Time has a way of bringing about many changes. You folks are certainly adding new interest in your magazine as the weeks go by, and I am sure that every radio fan finds therein much to hold attention. My receiver looks lonesome without a copy close by. Thanks for the nice things you say, and with kind regards.

William Lindes, 8435 Waring, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I just saw the ad in your magazine telling of the new broadcast time for those two teen-age jockeys of platters, Wally George and Jimmy Ogg. I'm glad to hear that they are now on at 11:00 a.m. Sunday mornings, instead of 5:30 p.m. At 5:30, they bucked Phil Harris and Amos 'n' Andy. Now they have no real competition. I'll be hearing them each week. Honestly, they sure have a cute show!

About Your Letters

All letters to the Ear Inspires the Pen Department should include name and full address of the sender. Name and/or address will be withheld on writer's request. Opinions expressed in the letters printed are those of the senders and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of Radio Life.

Bill Wallace, 1507 East 58th Drive, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: I would like to air my opinion on what Bob Turner of Loma Linda, California, says about western and hillbilly music. There certainly is a difference between the two. There is no argument on that point. However, the "hills of Arkansas" are another thing. There are just as many western and hillbilly music lovers in other states!

This summer I played piano in an orchestra (The Dixielanders) in Clarksville, Arkansas, a town as small as they make them. It will no doubt be a tremendous surprise to the well-informed Mr. Turner that we played "My Happiness" ten times as much as "Cool Water" and "Blues for Dixie." We even had several requests for "Night and Day," a very notorious hillbilly selection by Cole Porter. All in all, folks, Arkansas has "credit" for several things that don't exist there. Several homespun philosophers who have attained undesirable notoriety for Arkansas are extremely unpopular back there.

Anyway, Mr. Turner, I do agree that some distinction be made between the two classes of music. As for myself, I prefer Hildegard.

Mickie Faust, 8629 Sanders, Los Angeles, Calif.

Sirs: A letter was printed about western music and hillbilly songs being two different types of music. In my opinion, you have to take the silly with the serious, and so far as "Dear Okie" is concerned it's an all-right tune with us. Maybe I am prejudiced against popular songs, but most of them are so fantastic and downright nonsensical that I prefer western hillbilly singing to all of them.

Doris Hayes, 2338 Manning Avenue, West Los Angeles 25, Calif.

Tom Dixon

Sirs: Would you please present pictures of Tom Dixon, Bob Cornell and Bruce Buell of KFAC?

Tom Dixon and Bruce Buell, incidentally, are heard also on KMPC's participation show, "Women Are Wonderful."

Bruce Buell

Bob Cornell

C. Duncan Smith, 262 El Nido Avenue, Monrovia, Calif.

Sirs: Could you tell me if the J. Anthony Smythe pictured on back of Radio Life for June 6 is the actor who played in a stock company in Spokane, Washington, about 1915.

Mr. Smythe was a very popular leading man in stock on the Coast here, and is probably the actor you remember. Nowadays, of course, he does a fine job of portraying "Father Barbour" on "One Man's Family."

Miss Doris Hayes, 2338 Manning Avenue, West Los Angeles 25, Calif.

Sirs: There are two programs, "Curtain Time," (Wednesday) and "First Nighter," (Thursday) which are both very enjoyable but too much alike. Wish they could change one or the other.

On Our Cover

Christmas gift of Elgin and NBC to listeners is symbolized by our cover tree, complete with adornments. The "decorations" are the luminaries who are appearing on Elgin's mammoth "Two Hours of Stars" program Christmas Day, 2 to 4 p.m., NBC-KFL Merry Christmas listening, everybody!

There's a great big Christmas package waiting for you at KFI! But you can't have it until the afternoon of December 25.

It's a festive, two-hour package of good cheer and entertainment that's coming right into your home from 2:00 to 4:00 P.M. on Christmas Day—goes under the name of "Holiday Star Time." Perhaps you remember the gala entertainment in previous years. Christmas, 1948, will be even more enjoyable with many of your favorite screen, radio and stage stars returning plus some new faces on the Yuletide scene.

DON AMECHE
Host of "Holiday Star Time"

Again Don Ameche will emcee the two hours of frolicking comedy and favorite songs. And your Christmas entertainers read like the guest list of a preview—Bob Hope, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, Cass Daley, Red Ingle's Natural Seven, Al Jolson, Lauritz Melchior, Ozzie and Harriet, Jo Stafford, Danny Thomas, Sandra Bercova, Robert Armbruster's orchestra and Ken Carpenter will handle the announcing chores.

Isn't that a string of stars to decorate your Christmas Day? Save Christmas afternoon from 2:00 until 4:00 for "Holiday Star Time" — on KFI, 640 on your dial.

Hello, everybody, and a merry Christmas to all of you! The Pennsylvanians join me in hoping your Yuletide will ring with the wonderful traditions of the season... the traditions of our own wholesome American way of life.

During the many thousand miles of our tours through the country, we have been more and more impressed with the need for REBUILDING many of the cherished customs which have helped make our homes, our churches and our colleges so happy and secure in the past. All this is a vital part of the great movement underway for a rededication of ourselves, as Americans, to those basic principles which have made us great.

No day in the calendar stands more clearly for the promise of fellowship among men than does Christmas. In the principles we have learned to associate with this day lies the hope of this disturbed world. "Peace on earth" and "Good will to men" must not become empty phrases. They need to mean... we must make them mean as much today as ever. If some of the world ignores them, let us keep these goals all the closer to our hearts here at home.

So, when for myself and for all the Pennsylvanians, I wish you a "Merry Christmas," may I also wish you a thoughtful Christmas?

ONE OF THE least-known talents of some of the best-known radio personalities lies in their culinary activities. Without exception they were happy to pass along tricks and secrets to the readers of Radio Life. One or two of the folks we asked apparently enjoy the name without the game, but we enjoyed their comical answers so thoroughly that we are printing them for you to see.

JACK BENNY (NBC Star)

Frankly, it's obvious why this is my favorite recipe for Christmas, New Year's or any other holiday.

Christmas Cookery

'Twill Soon Be the Night Before Christmas, and "All Through the Houses" of These Radio People Will Ring Praises of Their Home-Made Goodies

SCOTCH SHORTBREAD

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 cup Snowdrift
- 2 tbsp. milk
- 3/4 tsp. salt
- 2 cups all-purpose flour

Cream first five ingredients. Lightly stir flour into mixture in four or five portions to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board, roll out 1/2 inch thick. Cut into one- by two-inch rectangles. Place on ungreased cookie sheet and prick each two or three times with a fork. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) twelve to twenty minutes, or until delicately browned.

GARRY MOORE

(NBC's "Take It or Leave It")

I can always remember, as a little boy back East, picking (and eating) blueberries. In fact, I would pick a few quarts, sell them to my mother, and then eat all the pies she made. I couldn't lose. This is her recipe, and I hope you will like it as well as I do, at Christmas time or any other.

BLUEBERRY PIE

- 1 quart blueberries
- 2 tbsp. flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tbsp. lemon juice
- 1 double crust nine-inch shortening pastry recipe

Wash blueberries. Add flour, sugar and lemon juice, and put into a bowl. Roll pastry for crust 1/8 inch thick on lightly floured board, then turn into pie plate, cutting steam vents near the center. Turn berries into lower shell; then roll out upper crust and place over berries. Seal edges together. Flute the edge of the crust. Bake in a moderately hot oven (425 degrees) for fifteen minutes, then reduce to moderate heat (350 degrees) for twenty-five minutes. Cool on shelf.

MAURICE HART (KFWB Disc Jockey)

These spicy little grilled sandwiches are especially good for a late snack. We like them all the time, but they'd be equally appetizing to a Holiday crowd.

CHEESE SNAPPERS

- 1 tsp. mustard
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 dash garlic powder
- 1 dash black pepper

Butter two pieces of white bread lightly on both sides. Spread sauce generously on one side of each piece of bread. Place a thin slice of American cheese between sandwich. Put on griddle and grill both sides. Now comes the trick: Use a heavy plate, or the bottom of a clean, heavy pan or pot to press firmly down on the sandwich while it is grilling. When finished, the cheese and sauce should be melted together, and the two slices of bread about pressed into the size of one and well browned on both sides.

LURENE TUTTLE

("Junior's Mother" on NBC's Red Skelton show)

Every Christmas ever since I can remember I've had one or two radio shows to do and so when I get back to the house it is usually pretty late, so I like to start my Christmas day with a "brunch" instead of just a breakfast. So for years now my favorite Christmas morning breakfast has been a cranberry jelly omelet. I have it every so often during the year but it seems to taste a little different and a little better on Christmas morning.

One dozen eggs and add 4 tablespoons of water and beat slightly; halve and cook in two frying pans.

Divide 1/2 cup of diced cranberry jelly to each omelet when it is half cooked.

Just before omelet is finished cooking, fold and serve with powdered sugar and tiny sausages.

DENNIS DAY

(Star of NBC's "A Day in the Life of Dennis Day" and on "The Jack Benny Show")

Mom and Pop and everybody else in our family always have been great eaters, and when a holiday like Christmas rolls around we have always had some real feasts. With all the rich holiday food, the family decided once or twice during the height of the season to make one meal a light one. Somehow the family took a liking to a special soup and it has always remained on the season's menu as our favorite. We add a tossed salad, coffee and rolls, then our soup and that's all—but we like it.

CHICKEN SOUP

- 5 cups white stock
- 1 cup tomatoes
- 1/4 cup onions cut in slices
- 1/4 cup carrots cut in cubes
- 1/4 cup celery cut in cubes
- 1 pepper finely chopped
- 1 apple sliced
- 1 cup raw chicken (cut and diced)
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 tsp. curry powder
- 1 blade of mace
- 2 cloves
- Sprig of parsley
- Salt and pepper

Cook vegetables, apple and chicken in butter until brown. Add flour, curry powder, mace, cloves, parsley, tomatoes and stock, and let simmer one hour. Strain, reserve chicken and rub vegetables through sieve. Add chicken to strained soup. Season with salt and pepper and serve with boiled rice. Serves six to eight.

JOHN WALD

(ABC's "Richfield Reporter")

I like Almond Wild Rice because it's been an annual Christmas eating habit with me since my boyhood days back in Minnesota. This is for four to six servings, to go along with the traditional Christmas turkey.

ALMOND WILD RICE

Wash and strain one and one-half cups wild rice. Add to 6 cups boiling, salted water and cook for twenty minutes. Do not stir. Drain thoroughly and place rice in top of double boiler, together with 1/4 pound butter, 1/2 cup diced salted almonds and 1/4 cup diced green onions and chives. Salt to taste and allow to steam in double boiler until ready to serve.

COMMANDER SCOTT

(ABC's "Romance of the Highways")

This is one of the most healthful dishes I know, and one that should prove appetizing to all the peoples of the world:

INGREDIENTS

- |               |             |
|---------------|-------------|
| Love          | Happiness   |
| Understanding | Laughter    |
| Friendship    | Joy         |
| World Peace   | Good Music  |
| Good Cheer    | Happy Songs |

Take a goodly portion of love, add an equal amount of understanding; add to this real friendship and mix together until well blended. Work together for world peace. Bring to a steady boil, add plenty of good cheer, happiness, and laughter. Before serving, top off with joy and garnish with good music and happy songs. Do this, and you will find that you have the grandest Christmas dish of all.

ROBIN CHANDLER

(MBS's "Leave It to the Girls")

I like this recipe for cranberry sauce because it's easy and it can be made two ways. If you bake it, it comes out like jelly; if you cook it over an open fire, it's like sauce. Either way:

CHANDLER CRANBERRY SAUCE

- 4 cups whole cranberries (washed and stemmed)
- 1 cup water
- 2 cups sugar

To bake: Mix everything in a casserole, bake in a moderate oven until the berries open.

To boil: Mix sugar and water, cook together until it syrups, drop in berries and cook over moderate fire until the berries break.

JIMMIE FIDLER

(ABC-MBS Commentator)

I know it's fattening and all that, but my favorite treat for the Christmas season comes in the form of Molasses-Pecan Pie. Take a look at these makings and see if you won't feel the same:

MOLASSES-PECAN PIE

- |                  |                     |
|------------------|---------------------|
| 3/4 cup butter   | 1/4 cup water       |
| 9 tbsp. sugar    | Juice of 1 lemon    |
| 3 eggs           | Few grains of salt  |
| 1/2 cup molasses | 1 cup sliced pecans |

Cream butter with sugar. Add eggs, molasses, water, lemon juice and salt. Beat with rotary beater. Add pecans. Put into pastry-lined pie pan. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) ten minutes. Lower oven heat to 350 degrees. Bake thirty minutes.

EDWARD ARNOLD

(ABC's "Mr. President")

Give me a good holiday soup and it makes any day like Christmas. Here's one of my favorites:

HOLIDAY SOUP

- Whole carcass of turkey
- 1/2 cup celery (diced)
- 1/2 onion (finely cut)
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 cup flour
- 2 eggs
- Hot water
- 1/2 lb. hamburger
- Green pepper (finely diced)
- 1/4 onion (diced)

Broth: Pour water over carcass and boil about two to three hours adding water when necessary. (Keep covered with water.) While broth is cooking, mix flour, eggs and enough hot water to make a rather hard dough. Roll into large ball, cover and leave for an hour. Then roll out to half-inch thickness, cut into half-inch strips and then into half-inch squares. Fry in deep fat until brown. Place in waxed paper.

Mix hamburger, green pepper, seasonings and onion. Roll into tiny half-inch balls. Fry until brown and place in waxed paper.

When broth is cooked, add hamburger balls and cubed noodles five minutes before serving.

ERSKINE JOHNSON

(MBS's "Hollywood Story")

I've never yet had a Christmas turkey without this dressing, because my mother always served it, her mother before her, and now my wife. And the chances are that when daughter Kathleen grows up and invites Pop over for Christmas dinner, the turkey will be stuffed with the same family secret:

JOHNSON TURKEY DRESSING

- 2 large onions (chopped fine and fried in 1/4 lb. butter)
- 3 quarts of day-old shredded bread
- 2 eggs slightly beaten (if eggs are expensive, use 4 or 5)
- 1/2 can canned milk

- 1/2 cup water and cooked giblets
- 2 cups finely cut celery
- 1 large finely cut apple
- 2 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1 tbsp. poultry seasoning
- 1/2 cup cut parsley
- 1/8 tsp. nutmeg
- 1 lb. unseasoned pork (ground)
- 1 1/2 lb. ground round steak

Fry beef and pork slightly in 1/4 lb. butter in heavy skillet, stirring frequently. Return to large bowl and add all other ingredients, mix thoroughly. Boll giblets (liver, heart and gizzard), tops and outside leaves of celery, onion, large carrot, in about three quarts of water, until tender. Strain and save to make gravy. Chop liver and add to gravy.

JIMMY SCRIBNER

(MBS's "Johnson Family")

Each year, the Scribner household receives from Smithfield, Virginia, a Smithfield ham which they've ordered in plenty of time for the festive season. A Smithfield is the only ham that weighs more after it is cooked. Only one county in the South raises the razorback hog (its diet consists entirely of peanuts) which contributes this delectable entree. The older the ham, the better and more valuable it is. The hams on display in Smithfield are over 150 years old, and at that ripe old age are a rare delicacy. The English Court has served Smithfield ham on Thanksgiving and Christmas to the royal family for sixty years. And here's how the Scribners fix theirs:

SCRIBNER CHRISTMAS HAM

The ham, weighing approximately fifteen pounds, is soaked overnight. The water is then drained off, fresh water added, and the ham boiled for about two hours. It is then put into a 450 degree oven and baked for one hour. No sauce or preparation is required, because all the richness and flavor is contained right in the ham itself.

WALTER COY

(MBS's "Lone Wolf")

By popular vote, America's favorite dessert—and mine too. So after many apple pie putterings, this is the best.

COY APPLE PIE

- Crust: 2 cups flour
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/8 cup shortening
- 1/8 lb. cold butter
- ice water

After sifting flour and salt, cut in shortening. Have butter fairly hard and cut in, leaving small lumps in dough. Add ice water and roll out. Do not handle more than absolutely necessary!

Filling: Fill with sliced apples. Mix approximately 1 cup sugar with 1/2 teaspoon powdered cloves and 1/4 teaspoon salt and add to apples. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon lemon juice over apples and place four very thin slices of lemon on top. Add top crust. Bake forty-five minutes at 375° F.

FRANCES ROBINSON

("Brooksie" on MBS's "Let George Do It")

This pudding has always been a favorite for our Holiday dinners because it is less rich than plum pudding, but serves the purpose beautifully.

JELLIED CHOCOLATE PLUM PUDDING

- 1 tbsp. plain gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1 1/4 cups prune juice
- 7 tbsp. sugar
- 1/4 cup ground chocolate
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 3/4 cup prunes, well drained
- 1/4 cup pecans or walnuts
- 1/8 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. ground cloves
- 1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon

Soak gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Add sugar, ground chocolate, cloves and cinnamon to the prune juice and bring to boil. Add the soaked gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add salt. Chill until slightly thickened. Beat with a rotary beater until fluffy, then add the cream, whipped stiff, together with the prunes and nut meats. Pour into a melon mold, or individual molds and when ready to serve unmold and serve with foamy sauce.

RUBY DANDRIDGE

("Geranium" of NBC's Judy Canova Show)

About nine years ago I added baked ham to my Christmas menu in addition to turkey, and my guests seemed so pleased with the recipe that through the years this way of serving baked ham has become "my favorite Christmas recipe."

10 to 15 pound tenderized ham

Place in roaster; boil equal quantities of brown sugar and water to make a thick syrup.

Pour over ham; open large can of pineapple rings; pour juice over ham and place rings on ham, fasten in place with toothpicks.

Take jar of spiced cherries; pour juice over ham and place a cherry in center of each pineapple ring.

Place in 300 degree oven for one hour during which time baste four times.

ROD O'CONNOR

(NBC's Red Skelton Show)

I love to eat, all anybody has to do is look at me and they can tell that. One Christmas—back so long ago I can't remember when—my wife and I were invited out and the hostess had on the menu a Cranberry-Raisin Pie. It was so good it melted in my mouth and I got the gal to give my wife the recipe. We had the pie a couple of times after that but it never tasted quite as good and then I got my wife to show me how to put the pie together, and, by George, I turned out a pie that really tasted tops. Yet it is the only thing I can cook worth a darn. So as a sort of memorial to my culinary prowess I make it a point to whip up one of my special pies for each Christmas.

CRANBERRY-RAISIN PIE

- 1 1/2 cups of cranberries
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 1/2 tbsp. flour
- 1/2 cup seeded raisins

Mix ingredients and cook ten minutes. Cool, bake in one piecrust with a rim. Crisscross strips for top crust. Makes nine-inch pie.

ANNA ROOSEVELT

(ABC Commentator)

My favorite recipe is a wonderful concoction of my Hungarian-born housekeeper, Theresa Takacs. It is called Money Cookies, Hungarian Style. I particularly like them because they are so fine to have when there are children in the home, as there are in mine, and, of course, for children in the neighborhood. Here, with full credit to Theresa, are the ingredients:

- 3 cups granulated sugar
- 2 cups honey
- 1 cup butter
- 4 cups flour
- 1/2 cup chopped citron
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 tsp. brown cinnamon
- 1 tsp. brown cloves
- 1 tsp. soda dissolved in one cup of cold water
- 3 eggs

DIRECTIONS A LA THERESA

Heat the sugar, honey and butter to a boiling point, and allow to boil for five minutes. Remove from stove, and while still hot, stir in 4 cups of sifted flour. When this mixture is almost cold add the walnuts, almonds and citron and 1 teaspoon each of ground cinnamon and cloves, and the soda which previously has been dissolved in cold water. Now add the eggs which have been well beaten, and enough flour to form a stiff dough. Let this stand four days in the refrigerator. Roll out and cut in squares, and press an almond into the center of each cookie. Bake in a moderate oven. These will keep indefinitely.

EARLE ROSS

("Judge Hooker" on NBC's "The Great Gildersleeve")

"Like most men," says Ross, "I had dabbled at the hobby of being an amateur cook for some years, and ruined a lot of fine ingredients, before I made up my mind that it was best to specialize. I decided that if I ever were to make any reputation as a chef among my friends, I must pick one dish and practice on it until I was a master at whipping it up. This I did for weeks until now I can im-modestly say I make the best spaghetti sauce I ever tasted. Some of my friends tell me I'm right. Here's the way I do it:

ROSS SPAGHETTI SAUCE

- 1/3 cup cooking oil
- 4 medium onions, chopped fine
- 2 cloves garlic, very finely chopped
- 2 No. 2 cans tomatoes, strained (1 quart)
- 1 can (6 oz.) tomato paste
- 1/2 tsp. garlic salt
- dash cayenne pepper
- 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 bay leaf

Heat oil in saucepan; saute onions and garlic until soft. Add other ingredients and simmer over low fire for two hours after adding bay leaf. Remove bay leaf before serving piping hot over cooked and well-drained spaghetti, and serve with sour-dough French bread. Eight to ten servings.

CARLTON KADELL

(NBC's Seatest Variety Show)

This little recipe not only utilizes leftovers from the proverbial Christmas "bird," it is also popular and easy to serve any time during the Holiday season when you want to handle a crowd during an open-house session.

First of all, it requires that you have a roast turkey and a baked ham on hand. Prior to serving you also prepare a big oblong pan of cornbread and a generous quantity of creamed mushroom sauce. The latter is a standard white sauce with mushrooms added to taste. The turkey and ham should be sliced in sandwich-sized slices. Here you have the "makings" for your "Plantation Shortcake" and all you have to do is keep it hot until ready to serve up. The way you serve depends on whether you have chafing dishes, electric roasters and all. You can serve from regular utensils.

To serve, you slice the cornbread in about three-inch squares, then slice through the center and lay out on the plate like an open-faced sandwich. On one-half of the cornbread square place a slice of ham, and on the other a slice of turkey. Smother the whole thing with a generous ladle of the mushroom sauce. That's all there is to it!

MINETTA ELLEN

("Mother Barbour" of NBC's "One Man's Family")

For any Holiday or special occasion dinner, I nearly always serve fowl such as turkey, goose, squab or pheasant. With them my favorite combination is cranberries. Alone or in the form of jelly they have a very tart taste. This recipe of mine keeps the good taste but still takes out the tartness.

CRANBERRY CONSERVE

- 1 quart cranberries
- 1/4 cup chopped nuts

For Love o' Mike (General Comment)

The State of Flux

Edgar Bergen and Company are quitting radio after December 26, says Edgar. The reason he gives is the overwhelming state of flux that has hit the talent in the radio industry. We hardly blame him—look at this line-up of definite and almost-definite switches. Phil Harris and Alice Faye will go over to CBS for the Sunday night spot following "Amos 'n' Andy." "Sam Spade" will move to Thursday nights on the same network. Bing Crosby will switch to CBS from ABC, still on tape. Bob Hope may move to CBS in an adjoining time spot to the Crosby show. Spike Jones and crew will change to the half hour preceding Jack Benny on Sundays, while over at NBC the Horace Heidt show will be put into Jack's old spot as opposition. Flux is the word!

Rumors Are Flying

The American Broadcasting Company is still for sale, and among the bidders is Marshall Field. . . . "Sam Pilgrim's Progress," written and enacted by Mac Benoff, is being auditioned at ABC, amid glowing terms. . . . Gene Autry may move to another network from CBS—Hope and Crosby are rumored for adjoining CBS shows. . . . Wally Maher, who created the radio "Michael Shayne" series, has auditioned a new whodunit at ABC. . . . Disc jockey Ira Cook may spin a show from D'Orsay's restaurant in the Valley. . . . Buddy Clark will make records with the Toots Camarata crew when the ban is off. . . . NBC considering Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis for a Sunday comedy spot. . . . Red Skelton is among those rumored to be moving to a Sunday time. . . . There'll be a new Borden show from Hollywood soon, with young Gloria McMillen as "Beulah."

Looks Like

Guy Lombardo will race the Henry Kaiser entry in the famed Harmsworth boat race, the British International Trophy Speedboat classic. . . . The December 30 "Queen for a Day" will snag two tickets to the Rose Bowl. . . . Jim Hawthorne has signed a contract with Victor records, and will also be in evidence in the Screen Snapshot short, "Spin That Platter." . . . Cecil Brown is in Hollywood writing a screen original at M.G.M. His Mutual newscast will be heard from Hollywood for the next several months. . . . "County Fair" will become a night-time show on January 5, replacing "Your Song and Mine." . . . Ozzie and Harriet Nelson used their own boys on the preview of their show last week. Come television, they want the kids ready. . . . Dinah Shore will be a Jack Smith regular, three nights a week, starting in January. . . . Basil Rathbone is set for a new dramatic series on CBS. . . . Jack Kirkwood will be starred in RKO two-reelers, replacing the "Average Man" series, terminated on the death of Edgar Kennedy. . . . Danny Thomas, who still has a goodly number of radio fans, has a record album ready for release soon—in case you're interested. . . . The CBS Documentary Unit has postponed some of its plans. . . . Art Linkletter's "House Party" will air from Breneman's when it moves to ABC on January 3.

Your Cue (Shows You May Like)

Metropolitan Opera

After all the controversy over the Metropolitan Opera Company in 1948, we were fearful that the old show never would get back on the air. In spite of Billy Rose and Betty Henderson it did, and will now be heard throughout the rest of the season on KECA, 12:00 noon Satua

Monday, December 20, is Art Baker Day on KECA! On that day Art Baker and his famous Notebook will move to a new station and a new time . . . KECA at 12:30 p.m., where he'll be heard every Monday thru Friday. . . . Long one of the top daytime shows, Art Baker's Notebook will continue as a friendly half-hour's chat with his good friends . . . friends to whom Art is more than just another radio voice . . . to whom the Notebook is a daily listening highlight.

Art Baker

Frank Morris. The fans have been quick to recognize there's good listening on this show which features oddities in the news . . . choice little items which writer Morris pays off with an appropriate tune. Formerly heard at 12:30, "One for the Book" moves this week to the morning dial spot, 11:45. . . . Are you a ski enthusiast? Then you may have already found KECA's new "Ski Trails," on Thursday nights at 8:25. . . . Here's news from the snowfields within weekend access of Los Angeles . . . up-to-the-minute reports on weather conditions, snow conditions, and road conditions in the mountain areas. . . . Lou Cook, the voice of "Ski Trails," calls the State Highway Patrol at 8 p.m. (a few minutes before show time) and by tape recording you hear Lou quiz the officer on duty for last-minute news which will benefit everyone who is planning a trip to the mountains. . . . Also new on KECA-ABC, Dec. 20, is a quarter-hour of news and commentary by Henry J. Taylor, noted economist, author and journalist. . . . Taylor's broadcasts, to be heard on Monday nights at 8:45, are sponsored by General Motors Corporation. His forthright comments on the day's news and his interpretative analyses of current developments rank him among the nation's most informed commentators.

. . . December 20 . . . Art Baker Day on KECA . . .

Among the prize exhibits in the file of ABC reserved for letters praising "This Is Your FBI" are several from prosecutors about the federal agency's officially endorsed program. . . . It seems that your real-life district attorney often thinks well of the Friday-night-at-9:30 dramatization of cases from FBI files. Many other civic leaders have written to say a good word for the program, but district attorneys generally base their acceptance of the program on its accuracy in distinguishing between the duties of police and prosecutors. . . . Here's Stacy Harris, who is heard as special agent Jim Taylor in the anti-crime series. . . . Speaking of high praise . . . "The Theatre Guild on the Air" has been awarded a "good radio" accolade by Magazine Digest. . . . Bing Crosby has again been nominated as the favorite radio personality in the Cleveland Plain Dealer's 1948-49 radio popularity poll. . . . And Arnold Stang, comic foil of the Milton Berle show, has been named the top stooge in radio by the editors of "Comedy World," trade journal of the humor field.

Central European countries. Sigmund Spaeth, Robert Lawrence, Olin Downes and Lawrence Tibbett were among those heard on the delightful "Opera Quiz," during the second-act intermission.

And, oh yes, the performance—radio-ites James Melton and Rise Stevens sang the leading roles and sounded wonderful. Biggest ovation of the matinee, however, went to the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air winner, Marilyn Cotlow, who sang the beautiful "I Am Titania" and practically stopped the show.

Playbacks (Critical Comment)

We Point With Pride

. . . . To Dorothy Shay, who is singing better than ever these days—and that's pretty wonderful.

. . . . To "Child's World" for the courageous exploration of the minds of juvenile thieves on why they steal, what started them doing it and what they think should be done to prevent other children from doing the same thing.

. . . . To KFAC's "Toytown Train," which keeps us up on the best and latest in children's recordings and albums—and why are such swell things limited to children?

. . . . To some of the finest group singing ever heard anywhere—the mixed voices on the Meredith Willson show. It's those Talking People, whose choral speaking has made them as precise and unified as a group can get.

. . . . To the "Fibber and Molly" program last week. It must have rung a bell with all hapless wretches who've done the same stunt—wrapped Christmas presents without identification as to which is which.

We View With Alarm

. . . . The magazines that have included articles on Jack Benny during the past year and dealt with the comedian in such patronizing terms and praised him with such strange reservations. Can't they just break down and admit that he's an extremely funny man?

. . . . The disc jockey on KFVD who announced to his audience one Saturday afternoon, "Bing did it better, but we couldn't find it—so here's Perry Como's record of 'I'll Be Home for Christmas.'" Either find that record of Bing's or play Perry's on its own terms, we'd say. And, anyway, the man isn't there to editorialize.

Off Mike (Personalities)

Seen Along Radio Row

Frankie Remley growing tardier and tardier for rehearsal while he remained glued to the side of his car radio in NBC's parking lot. He had to hear that Notre Dame-S. C. game! . . . Clark Dennis streaming down the street in his mile-long 1932 Packard. A convertible touring car, it was once specially built for Ruby Keeler as a gift from Al Jolson. . . . Another Clark, singer Buddy Clark, drinking tea in the Derby and expressing happy surprise over being able to buy Radio Life in a market! Seems he gets in on the family market chores. . . . Jack Benny rushing on stage at the end of the Harris-Faye show, to plant himself strategically in front of the cast as they took their sign-off bows. Got a great hand, too. . . . Gordon MacRae making a "singing" entrance into the Brown Derby. . . . Brook Temple frowning his brow over some special sort of entrance for himself on December 30th's "Red Ryder" broadcast. That day the cowboy gallops into his thousandth performance of the Paul Franklin written-directed show.

"Ma's" Fifteenth

The waltz, the gaslight and the handlebar mustache were the order of the evening Monday, December 13, when "Ma Perkins" celebrated her fifteenth anniversary on the air with an old-fashioned party at the old Knickerbocker Music Hall in New York.

Lead players, regular cast members and authors of such familiar daytime serials as "This Is Nora Drake," "When a Girl Marries," "Portia Faces Life," "Betty Crocker," "Light of the World," "The Brighter Day," "Superman," and "Young Doctor Malone," attended the affair, wearing the costumes of their radio characters.

Program Views and Reviews from the Tenth District P.-T.A.

By JUNE D. PRAY

The four programs we selected for special promotion during December were these: "Twenty Questions," KHJ, Sundays 8:00 p.m., sponsored by Ronson Lighters—a "different" quiz show for the whole family; "Musical Digest," KGFJ, every day at 6:00 p.m., sponsored by Penny-Owsley Music Company—a recorded concert of great music; "Twilight Tales," KMPC, Tuesday and Thursday 4:15 p.m., sponsored by Knudsen Creamery, and "Jump Jump of Holiday House," KFI, Saturdays 10:00 a.m., sponsored by Broadway Department Stores—both delightful children's programs. Our thanks and appreciation go to the sponsors of these programs, but let's let them know it, too. While we're addressing our Christmas cards, let's write a thank-you note to each of them.

With Christmas approaching, the air is filled with the old familiar carols and stories. It makes us glad we have radio—to hear them done again so beautifully. This year we wish we could be Santa Claus. We'd like to stuff everybody's radio full of wonderful programs to last all through 1949. We'd give children lots of programs like "Let's Pretend" and "Books Bring Adventure." We'd give families many more shows like "Fibber and Molly" and "Ozzie and Harriet." We'd give everybody more musical programs like the New York Philharmonic and KFAC's Evening Concert—more dramatic shows like University Theatre—more news programs like Edward R. Murrow's—more documentaries like "You Are There"—in short, just more and more of the good programming we already have.

And we'd like to ask Santa to take "Superman" and "Dick Tracy" and "Jack Armstrong" and the rest of their crew back to the North Pole with him, where they could cause emotional upsets only among the walruses and corrupt the social attitudes of only the polar bears. Of course, Santa himself would wind up with at least a nervous breakdown, and we might KMPC is assisting the Los Angeles Community Chest in a "Toys for Tots" campaign whereby so inclined listeners may leave an extra new toy either at the station or any one of the four Warner Brothers Theatres for distribution to the children in the thirteen Los Angeles orphanages on Christmas Day by the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve.

Bing Crosby

Two of the nation's outstanding programs have now joined the KMPC broadcast schedule. "Bing," for one, is now heard each Sunday night on the "Bing Crosby Show" from 7:30 to 8:00 P.M. In the event you miss his

Wednesday night broadcast, dial 710 for a repeat. Bob Hope drops in on his friendly rival, Bing, on this Sunday's show. The "Chesterfield Supper Club" has also come to KMPC with the musical talents of Jo Stafford, Perry Como and Peggy Lee and special guests heard each Monday through Friday at 9:00 P.M. and rebroadcast at 11:45 P.M. same nights. (These shows are also heard on KMPC's FM facilities.)

Christmas Programming: Yuletide Music will be a daily feature on KMPC Christmas Week aired from 3:30 to 4:00 P.M. . . . "Carols of Many Nations" emanating from St. Paul's Cathedral in Los Angeles will be a specially scheduled holiday offering on KMPC. Under the direction of Donald L. Coats, broadcast will be aired from 8:00 to 9:00 P.M. Sunday, December 19. . . . Actress Mary Pickford's

Christmas address to the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce will be heard on Jeanne Gray's "The Woman's Voice" program, Wednesday at 12:30 P.M. . . . Dal Williams and his young son, Tex, will offer their own special Christmas show on "Firestone Favorites," Christmas eve at 7:00 P.M. One of the specialties on the show will be the presentation of Loretta Young's popular Christmas story, "The Littlest Angel." . . . Those popular "Uncle Remus" stories with Jimmy Scribner are now being heard on KMPC seven days weekly from 4:30 to 4:45 P.M. . . . A Yuletide program will be presented by C. P. MacGregor with Dane Clark starring in "The Stranger," Sunday at 9:00 P.M.

New Shows: Elaine Mikalson is the moderator on the new KMPC youth feature, "Teen Forum," aired each Saturday at 7:30 P.M. Show introduces a panel of six students from the city's high schools expressing their personal opinion on pertinent topics. . . . For the youngsters, KMPC presents the "Story Circus" each Saturday at 12:15 P.M. . . . Nationally famous Chef Milani comes to KMPC each weekday morning at 9:30 A.M. to give his favorite recipes to listening housewives. . . . KMPC will air the premiere of that spectacular cinema starrer, "Joan of Arc," Wednesday, December 22, at 8:30 P.M.

KMPC wishes all readers of Radio Life and "Mikeaside" a very happy Christmas and an equally successful happy New Year!

RECORD

NOTES TO YOU

BY ANDY MANSFIELD

"Remember That Music,"
KFI, 6:15 p.m., Tuesday

Giving albums of records for Christmas? Don't overlook this always-welcome gift for the record fan. And if you'd like a few suggestions, here are shopper Mansfield's hints: Lovers of the ballet will appreciate Sanford Robinson & the BBC Theatre Orchestra's excerpts from Delibes' "SYLVIA," again available on the very fine quality of English Decca . . . Likewise very fine for moderns is Eric Coates conducting the National Symphony Orchestra in his "FOUR CENTURIES SUITE" with London's Full Range Recording bringing to light every nuance of this enchanting panoramic work . . . In lighter vein is MGM's album of "TSCHAIKOVSKY," ageless melodies played by Macklin Marrow and the M.G.M. Orchestra that are always easy listening . . . For those who like their music out of this world, there's RCA-Victor's "PERFUME SET TO MUSIC"—Harry Revel's suite which attempts to capture the "sound" of fragrance and scent, as interpreted by Leslie Baxter's Orchestra and Chorus, plus the haunting sounds of the theremin . . . For the sophisticated spinner, may we heartily recommend Dorothy Shay's "COMIN' ROUND THE MOUNTAIN" on Columbia. Need we say more? . . . And again on Columbia, there's piano-fave Frankie Carle and a very engaging bouquet of "ROSES IN RHYTHM," both sweet and swing. . . For the jazz collector, two items are musts for gift wrapping: Capitol's "GIANTS OF JAZZ" is nothing less than terrific with Louis Armstrong, Charlie Barnet, Tommy Dorsey, Benny Goodman, Mel Powell and a sock full of the nation's best featured in tunes from "A SONG IS BORN." (Proceeds from this album go to the Runyon Cancer Research Fund.) . . . Item Two titled "SHOW TUNES" presents the great Artie Shaw band of a decade ago in re-issues that made jazz history on the Bluebird label, now RCA-Victor . . . In strong holiday vein is Columbia's "CHRISTMAS SONGS BY SINATRA," all the way from hymns to carols to pops and all representing a job well done by Frankie . . . London's "CHRISTMAS CHIMES" and "CHRISTMAS CAROLS" by the Royal Choral Society of 650 voices are two new welcome additions to the Christmas library . . . On RCA-Victor, Walter Hampden tells "THE STORY OF THE NATIVITY" in a dramatized version that is well done and will no doubt be played in many a home this year. These are but a few of the many that are available, including those issued in past years. (P.S.: You don't have to know shirt or sock sizes when you give records. . . . A.M.)

Christmas Cookery

1 cup raisins
1½ cups sugar
½ cup water
Juice and grated rind of 2 oranges

Cook berries, raisins and water till berries break slightly, add sugar and orange juice. Cook thick enough to stand, then add orange juice and nuts. This may all be prepared, then sealed in jars for future use.

BENNY WALKER

(Chef of MBS's "Tillamook Kitchen")
From the time I was a small boy, the following recipe has been used to prepare the principal delicacy served at our tree-trimming party on Christmas Eve. It is associated with the best time of the year and has become one of my favorites among good things to eat.

SEAFOOD TARTS

3 cups thick white sauce
½ lb. grated Tillamook cheese
2 tbsp. minced celery
1 medium green pepper, chopped
1 small can sliced mushrooms
1 large can crab or tuna
salt and pepper to taste
pastry to line six individual pie pans cornflake crumbs
butter

Make the white sauce in a double boiler. Blend in grated cheese. Add celery, chopped green pepper and mushrooms, then the flaked crabmeat or other seafood. Cool. Pour this mixture into unbaked pastry or tart shells, cover with cornflake crumbs. Dot with butter. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) until brown. Serve hot. Serves six.

HAVEN MacQUARRIE

(NBC's "Noah Webster Says")

This is Haven's favorite dish because when he was traveling in vaudeville with his "So You Want to Be an Actor" he had eaten shrimp in many places throughout the country. When he stopped at the home of a friend in New Orleans he found this recipe, an old one that had been handed down from generation to generation. The New Orleans family was so taken with Haven's vaudeville stint that they agreed to part with the recipe to the genial emcee.

SHRIMP CREOLE

3 tbsp. Wesson Oil
3 tbsp. chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 No. 2½ can tomatoes
1 lb. fresh shrimp, cleaned and cooked, or two five-ounce cans
½ cup shrimp liquid or water
1 tsp. salt
dash pepper
½ tsp. sugar
1 tsp. paprika
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
½ tsp. vinegar
hot fresh-cooked rice

Heat Wesson Oil in skillet. Add onion, green pepper and tomatoes. Cook slowly, uncovered for forty minutes, or until mixture is quite thick, stirring occasionally. Add remaining ingredients except rice, and heat. Serve over hot rice. Serves four.

BOB BENCE

(KHJ's "Rise and Shine")

During the Holiday season you can stuff unnoticed on pies and cakes, and this Applesauce Cake is one of my favorite stolen snacks.

APPLESAUCE CAKE

½ cup butter or substitute
1 cup sugar
1 cup dates or cooked prunes, sliced
1 cup nut meats, chopped coarse
1 cup raisins, chopped
1½ cups applesauce, sweetened
½ tsp. soda
2 cups flour
1 egg
½ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. cloves

¼ tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. baking powder

Cream butter or substitute and sugar well. Add egg and vanilla. Add nut meats and fruit and applesauce. Sift dry ingredients all together and then add to first mixture. Pour into a greased and lined loaf tin or round pan, and bake at 325 degrees for one hour, or longer if necessary.

HOWARD CULVER

(KHJ's "Straight Arrow")

What's Christmas without candy?

PINOCHÉ

2 cups brown sugar
½ cup water
½ cup evaporated milk
2 tbsp. corn syrup
1 tsp. vanilla
½ cup to 1 cup chopped nut meats
1 tbsp. butter

Put brown sugar, corn syrup and water in saucepan, stir well, then put on the heat. When sugar is dissolved and at the boiling point add the evaporated milk, and continue boiling until the soft ball stage is reached, or 238 degrees; remove from the fire and add butter. Let stand until cool, before beating, then add vanilla. When just about ready to set, add the chopped nut meats. It may be poured into a lightly greased pan and cut into squares, or dropped from spoon onto waxed paper.

HARRY LANG

("Pancho" on KHJ's "Cisco Kid")

To me the salad is the big part of any meal, and this one seems just right for a festive Christmas meal.

CHRISTMAS SALAD

¾ cup sweet cream
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 tsp. gelatin in 3 tbsp. pineapple juice over hot water
2 tbsp. lemon juice
1 tbsp. cherry juice
1 tsp. powdered sugar
¾ cup maraschino cherries, diced
½ cup diced bananas

Mix all—put in chiller. Serve on lettuce with sliced tomatoes.

PEGGY LEE

(Star of NBC's "Supper Club")

Because we like lots of parties during Christmas and because we certainly get plenty of turkey and rich food, we love to have a Holiday buffet. One of our favorite dishes is sweet-sour meatballs, which we serve with rice or noodles, a big tossed salad, hot rolls and coffee.

SWEET-SOUR MEATBALLS

3 pounds ground chuck or round
1 cup milk
½ cup finely chopped onions
4 cans tomato soup
¼ cup sugar
juice of 2 lemons
salt, pepper and garlic salt

Mix ground beef with onion and enough milk to roll into soft balls. Season well with salt, pepper and garlic salt before shaping. To the tomato soup add sugar and lemon juice. Individual preference for the sweet-sour taste may call for changing amount of the two ingredients. Add meatballs (without browning) to big, heavy pan holding tomato soup and seasonings and let simmer slowly for a half-hour. Serves eight to ten.

ROMELLE FAY

(Organist for NBC's "Today's Children")

This is one of my favorite glamour desserts, a beautiful creation that is simple to make but leaves the guests open-mouthed with admiration. It is a light dessert and a good contrast for the more usual heavy holiday diet.

COCONUT SNOWBALL DESSERT

1 cup top milk or half and half
½ cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 pt. whipping cream
1 can shredded coconut

Mix first two ingredients, milk and sugar, and bring to boiling point. Remove from fire and add vanilla. Soak the two envelopes of gelatin in cold water until dissolved. Add to hot mixture and cool. Whip the pint of cream until stiff. Add first mixture to cream slowly, folding in. Add half the can of coconut, mix well. Pour into your roundest mixing bowl to give it a ball shape. Stir occasionally while setting to keep mixture even. Unmold and sprinkle generously with remainder of coconut to give beautiful, frosty snowball effect.

SAUCE

2 cups brown sugar
½ cup water
2 whites of eggs

Let sugar and water boil to soft ball stage. Beat egg whites stiff and add syrup mixture. Pour into bowl and serve hot.

This dessert is beautiful when ringed with holly for Christmas—or roses for a bridal party. It should be decorated, centered in a large crystal or silver platter, cut in wedges. The sauce should not be mixed with the egg whites until last minute before bringing to table.

FRANK SINATRA

(Star of NBC's "Your Hit Parade")
This dessert is a special Holiday favorite of mine that I'll take year-round when I can get it. It's a favorite Italian sweet and one the Sinatras have always had as festive dessert.

ZABAGLIONE

8 egg yolks
4 tbsp. Marsala wine
4 tbsp. powdered sugar

If liked sweeter, increase wine and sugar to 8 tablespoons each. Beat egg yolks with sugar until thick and lemon-colored. Put in heavy, round-bottomed bowl and set over hot (not boiling) water. Beat constantly with electric or rotary beater, adding wine little by little, until mixture is beginning to hold its shape but still is smooth. Mixture should not cook too long or crust will form on bowl. If this happens, pour out without scraping bowl. Remove from heat and pile immediately into thick cups or dessert glasses, heated. Serve warm or very cold with simple cookies. Serves four to six.

JO STAFFORD

(Star of NBC's "Supper Club")
What's the turkey without stuffing? Dark meat or white, it doesn't matter at my house so long as there's good stuffing. Here's my favorite and a most important part of Christmas dinner it is.

SAUSAGE AND CHESTNUT STUFFING

3 small onions, finely chopped
6 tbsp. butter
1½ lbs. sausage meat
8 dozen French chestnuts
5 tsp. salt
1 tsp. pepper
½ tsp. powdered thyme
6 tsp. parsley, finely chopped
6 cups fresh bread crumbs

Cook onion in butter three minutes. Add sausage meat. Cook for five minutes. Boil chestnuts and mash half of them. Add to first mixture with remaining ingredients. When thoroughly blended add whole chestnuts. Makes enough stuffing for about ten-pound turkey.

LUCILLE BALL

(Star of CBS's "My Favorite Husband")
Cherry tarts, all done up with whipped cream, are always in use at Christmas time in our house because they lend such a festive air to the table. You can make or buy regular pie-crust tart shells. Fill them with cherries, top with whipped cream, and for that big Christmas dinner, range them in marching order on a shiny platter behind a little plastic reindeer. A little Santa Claus then leads the parade, giving a seasonal and tasty decoration.

TOM HANLON

(CBS Sports Commentator)
Tom found out about this from a friend, Tom Clark, and the recipe is so complicated that even Hanlon doesn't know quite what happens. As he tells it:

FRUIT CAKE CONFECTION

I remember that I have to buy glazed pineapple, glazed cherries, big Texas pecans, a pinch or so of brown sugar, and maple syrup throughout. The result can't be called a fruit cake, precisely, but it dresses up the table the same way, and is many times richer eating.

POPULAR, SEMI-CLASSICAL

- 9:30 a.m.—KFWB, Peter Potter.
- 1:05 p.m.—Harmony House.

NURSERY NOISES

Bill Brinkmeyer, soundman on NBC's "Aldrich Family" show, is marketing a game for children called "Radio City Sound Effects," which shows tots how to imitate sounds. Ezra "Henry Aldrich" Stone is featured on a transcribed sketch, and an accompanying script indicates times for the kiddies to demonstrate their practiced effects.

BUSY FINGERS

Not to be outdone by her piano-playing daughter, Paulina, "The Jello Girl" on the ABC "Meredit H Willson Show," Mrs. Vetabella Carter has her talents, too. As a hobby a few years ago, Mrs. Carter began designing various types of boulevard stop signs. Today, throughout California, some of those very boulevard traffic-halters are in use. The Carter variety is lighted interiorly.

PRAISE FOR NILA

In her new book, "Radio Workshop for Children," Dr. Jennie Waugh Callahan of Hunter College devotes an entire chapter to CBS director Nila Mack's "Let's Pretend" series, oldest children's program on the air. Dr. Callahan describes Miss Mack's techniques as "worthy of thorough examination by teachers and students in school workshops." Her special copy to Miss Mack is inscribed: "For the greatest giver of good radio to children in our time."

PUBLIC ENEMY
 Henry Babbitt's regular
 "singing weather report" feature on his KNX breakfast show has its drawbacks.
 When Babbitt recently tune-fully assured the audience that the early morning fog would burn off into a warm day, one fan left for his office without her overcoat, and spent a wrathful day of teeth-chattering. Babbitt anxiously explains that he's only as infallible as the weatherman.

TACKLE BAIT

After a football scrimmage with his two young sons, Lou Bring, musical director on NBC's "Kraft Music Hall," came limping to a recent rehearsal with a bandaged knee. "I'm going to have to give this up," he sighed. "Each year I get older and they get bigger and rougher."

NEXT?

When she recently guested on CBS's "Suspense" series, eleven-year-old Margaret O'Brien informed director Tony Leader that her next ambition is to sell him a script. The child star already has sold several stories to national magazines.

ENDORSED

No less an authority than J. Edgar Hoover, head of the F.B.I., has endorsed the adventures of the "Blondie" family as wholesome. Speaking at a banquet to honor Chic Young, creator of the "Blondie" comic strip from which stems the radio counterpart, Hoover said: "If the families throughout our nation would pattern themselves after the Bumsteads, I am sure that the problems of the F.B.I. would be reduced to a minimum."

STAR-GAZING

Six-year-old Terry, son of NBC's Bob Hope show vocalist, Doris Day, is about to realize his dearest ambition, an introduction to "Lassie." Long before he came to Hollywood to live with his mother, Terry has had the event marked as a red-letter day. What's more, Doris has promised to let her young son open an account at the California Bank, where "Lassie," as a charter depositor, has deposited one juicy bone.

CY HOWARD PLAY

Cy Howard, creator-producer-director of CBS's "My Friend Irma" and "Life With Luigi" shows, has completed a stage play about radio entitled "The Joker." Ernie Martin, former CBS program director and producer of the current Broadway hit, "Where's Charley?," is negotiating for the Broadway production rights of Howard's effort, but he wants Cy to star in it. Cy was the star of Maxwell Anderson's play, "Storm Operation," before turning to radio.

DIALAGNOSIS

have no Christmas next year. So maybe we'll keep them here and see if we can dispose of them ourselves.

Anyway, to everybody—broadcasters and listeners, sponsors and account executives, P.T.A. members and Radio Life readers—a very merry Christmas!

(Radio Life is happy to devote this weekly space to the Tenth District P.T.A. Opinions expressed in this column are its own and not necessarily those held by the Editorial Department of Radio Life.)

HE LIKES THE WORK

Richard LeGrand, actor who plays the timid pharmacist "Mr. Peavey" on NBC's "The Great Gildersleeve," will be celebrating his fiftieth year in show business in February, 1950.

HIGHLAND FLING-ERS

The sight of the week was certainly Walter Tetley and Marylee Robb, both of the cast of "The Great Gildersleeve," at the annual Tartan Ball, local event held by residents of Scottish birth or inclination. Walter, in full regalia from kilts to tam, was jiggerbugging with great enthusiasm with the pretty Miss Robb—both their skirts a-flyin'.

Punch and Judy

(MODERN VERSION)

It is unlikely that any of California's seventy-eight fairs, which horse racing in the State supports, offer Punch and Judy shows. But that militant married couple was the star attraction of fairs throughout the world for centuries.

Fairs are almost as old as recorded history. In Medieval days they were festive occasions in every city, town and hamlet. Farmers offered their produce, merchants hawked their wares, jugglers and tumblers staged their acts and Punch bashed Judy with his enormous club.

Although Punch and Judy no longer club each other over the head, the spirit of fairs is much the same as it has always been. Farmers exhibit their produce and merchants display their wares. Punch and Judy shows have become midways offering elaborate entertainment.

California today is the first agricultural State of the nation.

California fairs owe their very existence and operations to the State revenue derived from horse racing. Cash awards for the housewife's prize-winning glass of jelly and the some 161,000 separate exhibited items in agriculture, livestock, domestic arts and handicraft are made from racing revenue. It supports 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers activities. It provides the funds to build fairgrounds and permanent improvements.

There were only nine fairs in the State before racing was legalized, whereas there are now seventy-eight.

A recent survey showed that 99 per cent. of Californians approve the fairs. Certainly, then, an overwhelming majority of our citizens must approve California racing which supports the fairs.

GAGS of the WEEK

Nelle E. Sugel, 1101 Westerly Terrace, Los Angeles 26, Calif.

Heard on Ozzie and Harriet show:

(Ozzie, having put his car in the garage as a lesson to his family, has had to do a lot of unaccustomed walking.)

Betty Lou: Why don't you put cotton in your shoes, if your feet hurt?

Ozzie: I've got so much cotton in my shoes I feel as if I'm marching through Georgia.

Maybelle Cox, 841 East 5th Street, Long Beach 12, Calif.

Heard on "Fibber McGee and Molly":

Harlow Wilcox: The subject of our conversation was my sister-in-law's baby—and now I am going home and change the subject.

Mrs. R. E. Talbot, Box 313C, Route 2, Saugus, Calif.

Heard on "My Friend Irma":

Jane: The Rhineland mansion has sixty-eight rooms and forty baths.

Irma: Now I know why they call them the filthy rich.

Mrs. Isabelle Noble, 4366 Westlawn Avenue, Venice, Calif.

Heard on Don McNeill's "Breakfast Club":

Peggy: What's the difference between a new dime and an old penny?
Answer: Nine cents.

Mrs. L. K. Wells, 1260 East Sierra Madre, Glendora, Calif.

Heard on "Your Stand-in":

"There is a diaper service whose slogan is 'Tops for your baby's bottom.'"

Harry Walton, Rialto, Calif.

Heard on "Noah Webster Says":

Haven MacQuarrie (attempting to cue a contestant on "carte," meaning "menu"): What is the first thing you size up when you visit a restaurant?
Contestant: The waitress.

Franklyn McKim, 952 South Bonnie Brae, Los Angeles 6, Calif.

Heard on Abbott-Costello show:

Lou: In Hollywood, a night club is a place that has what it takes to take what you've got.

B.J.H. (Name Withheld), 8552 Ridpath Drive, Hollywood, Calif.

Heard on "Meet the Boss":

Morey Amsterdam: A rookie GI, shuffling past a colonel, was stopped by the officer. "Soldier, don't you salute?" the officer asked. "What're you?" mumbled the recruit. "I'm a colonel," snapped the officer, "the commanding officer of this base. I'm just in charge of everything, that's all." The recruit shifted his gun: "Ya gotta good job," he observed. "Keep yer mouth shut, and don't louse it up."

Mrs. Virginia Inman, 5909 Willoughby, Hollywood 38, Calif.

Heard on the Bob Hawk show:

Bob (to a member of the orchestra): You remind me of what one polecat said to another polecat.
Musician: You do too.

Mrs. Joseph Ellis, 5319 Gladman, Los Angeles 22, Calif.

Heard on "Spotlight Revue":

Gildersleeve: What is reincarnation?
Doodles Weaver: That's when you put the milk back in the can.

Christmas Cookery

EVE ARDEN

(CBS's "Our Miss Brooks")

Christmas dinner wouldn't be complete to me unless I could finish it with pumpkin pie. Here's the kind I like best.

PUMPKIN PIE

3 egg yolks	salt to taste
¾ cup brown sugar	cinnamon to taste
½ cup milk	ginger to taste
	nutmeg to taste

Cook until thick, then add a bit of gelatin and chill until nearly set. Add beaten egg whites and sugar. The whole mixture is placed in a pie crust and chilled until completely set. Garnish the pie with big blobs of whipped cream.

IRENE TEDROW

(KHJ's "Chandu, the Magician")

These are a favorite recipe because the little cookies have always been part of Christmas at our house.

OLD-FASHIONED GERMAN CHRISTMAS COOKIES

4 oz. honey
4 oz. sugar
1 tsp. lemon juice
grated rind of half a lemon
1 oz. ground almonds
2 oz. butter
1 tsp. ground cinnamon and cloves
5 oz. chopped candied peels
2 oz. orangeat (candied orange peel)
2 tsp. baking powder
1 egg
2 cups flour
1 tbsp. rum

Honey and sugar are heated together with the butter until butter is melted, then add almonds, cinnamon, peels, rum, egg, lemon juice and rind. When cold add the baking powder and knead the flour into the mixture. Roll out dough ¼ inch thick and cut out with cookie cutter. Some cookies can be decorated with almonds cut in slices. Bake at 375 degrees for eight to ten minutes on greased baking sheet. When still warm they may be topped with either chocolate or white sugar icing.

HELEN HAYES

(CBS's "Electric Theater")

Miss Hayes draws upon her New England neighbors for this dish, which helps on Christmas because it requires no cooking. She blends jellied cranberry sauce with sliced marshmallows, chopped almonds, sliced bananas and diced pineapple. To this mixture she adds whipped cream and grated lemon peel, which is folded into it. Chill, garnish as the season requires, and you have an easily prepared taste tickler.

JACK CARSON

(NBC's Jack Carson Show)

My favorite Christmas dish is whatever is being served that I don't have to cook myself. Not that I don't dish up a mean hamburger at a barbecue, but if I spent six hours over the stove I'd end up three weeks behind my radio and movie schedule.

HATTIE McDANIEL

(CBS's "Beulah")

"I've finished in the fancy trimming department after I've wrapped my Christmas packages. So for my Holiday table I go in for the simple and good foods. My favorite fare for a Christmas dinner is a good old-fashioned dinner of roast turkey with all the extras that go with it. My recipe for this is to follow your own taste. The cook books are full of instructions, and what's important with the bird is just what your family likes best!"

BEN BRADY

(KNX's "Brooding with Brady")

In China this dish is served as medical treatment to the sick, for the herbs included are of a healing variety. I like it because when I wake up to the Christmas bills I figure I need Why Gee Gob to give me strength to pay them.

Seriously, it's a great dish, if you like Chinese food, and you can buy the herbs at any wholesale house or specialty market.

WHY GEE GOB

2 pigeons	½ oz. Gee Jee
a few pieces of pork	½ oz. Why Sun
beef or chicken broth	pinch Yun Yook
salt

Clean and wash pigeons. Add herbs and pork. Add salt. Cover with broth, steam for two hours in double saucepan. Add soya sauce to taste and serve hot.

JOHN NELSON

(Of ABC's "Bride and Groom")

This favorite Christmas-time recipe of mine more or less worked out of the trial-and-error method. It has worked so well by now my chef friend at the famous Perino's restaurant on Wilshire uses it. No kidding.

TURKEY DRESSING

one whole onion
1 cup chopped celery
butter
1 cup chopped parsley
2 pounds bread soaked in milk
2 dozen roasted chestnuts

Take the whole onion and celery chopped fine, and saute in butter until brown. Then add the two pounds bread soaked in milk (squeeze milk out) and the cup of chopped parsley. Add the chopped roasted chestnuts, mix all together and bake in a moderate oven for about twenty minutes. Stuff into bird.

I KNOW what my friends are thinking—that I'm a fine one to expound on this subject! When, as a matter of fact, among my intimates I have long been known as the Scotch-tape Kid. Scotch tape—the boon to all procrastinators—has been my rescuer under every kind of dire last-minute situation—situations such as only a skilled "put-offer-till-tomorrow" like myself can get herself into. Now, I know that, with Christmas, you would think there could be no situation. After all, it isn't like a sudden invitation to a shower or a forgotten birthday. It's a big fat red date on the calendar that's always been there—every year, all year long, for twelve months it's there, staring you right in the face, reminding you to get busy. But do putter-offers pay any attention to big fat red dates on calendars—don't be silly! It might make things easy for them.

So it is that, come two shopping days before Christmas, I can usually be found still dashing frantically from counter to counter, elbowing my way through stores full of other irately bewildered putter-offers who are wondering, like me, how on earth this could have ever happened to them again!

And on Christmas morning, in the handsome mound of decorative packages under my friends' trees, there is one disturbing sight—a well-meant but badly battered package hurriedly swathed in ragged tissue and reams of Scotch tape.

But this year—in the tradition of the chronic procrastinator—I vow to improve my ways—and my Christmas wrapping.

With this righteous resolution in mind, here are some of the plans I've formed for my Christmas wrapping—and if there is among you one who is not the putter-offer I am, perhaps these suggestions will be put to use, after all.

First, as for the fundamental mechanics of wrapping a package, I have it on good authority (my husband!) that absolutely no method surpasses the "drug-store wrap." Now a lawyer and judge, my husband still makes good use of the experience garnered when he worked his way through high school behind the counter of a local pharmacy—including his lightning performance of the "drug-store wrap" which he flauntingly demonstrates before my envious eyes every Christmas. But I must admit, his packages never slip open nor slide loose and look like misshapen bundles of laundry as mine have the tendency to do. Therefore, it is my resolve, and suggestion to you, to employ the "drug-store wrap."

DRESS UP YOUR package with a few ornaments—it's easy until you try to make them stick! Greeting sentiments, cut from Yule cards, make nice touches for Mom or Dad's presents, says Miss DeCamp.

Tape Imperative

Of course, I also insist that—"drug-store wrap" or no—it is imperative to have plenty of Scotch tape on hand. Since none of us have more than the standard equipment of two hands, two elbows, two knees and two feet to apply to the strategic parts of a half-wrapped package to hold all the ends in place while trying to wrap the other half—a two-inch strip of Scotch tape should be stuck on every loose corner that's apt to pop out of place.

Now, assuming that you've mastered both of these skills—my husband's drug-store wrap routine and my own Scotch-tape technique—the fun begins: adding a distinctive trimming that will single out your present from all the others, and make it look almost too pretty to unwrap.

◀ BUD ABBOTT AND LOU COSTELLO cite this instance of playing Santa as their most memorable Christmas. The occurrence was the Christmas party at the Lou Costello, Jr., Youth Foundation.

Jack McElroy, emcee of ABC's "Breakfast in Hollywood": "It was in 1944. I was playing vaudeville in Indianapolis, Indiana. There were thirty of us in the show and thirty-five in the audience—we returned the money to the customers and gave them a free show. Outside, the biggest snow storm of the year was inundating the town. Alone and plenty down in the dumps after the show, I decided to put in a 'Merry Christmas' call to my wife and kids in Los Angeles. When I couldn't get my call through, I decided right then and there to quit the stage and get back into radio!"

Charles Collingwood, CBS news commentator: "I have spent a lot of strange Christmases in my time and some of them weren't the sort of thing you associate with the season of peace on earth and good-will toward men. But you shouldn't remember a Christmas for what it doesn't have to do with Christmas. The one I remember best didn't seem to be very Christmasy when it started, but it was the only time I ever wore a Santa Claus suit, and the way it turned out it was quite a day. . . . It was in London in 1944. . . . That was the time of the Battle of the Bulge and I had been called back to London from France to report. . . . On the way back a

Al Jarvis, KLAC's record impresario: "The back room of a store isn't the place one would choose to spend Christmas, but that's where I found myself one December twenty-fifth, in the middle of the depression. For me, just as for most folks about that time, dollars were pretty tough to scrape together, so I had taken up residence in the back of the Hollywood House of Music, where records were gathering dust. The record show which I was trying to sell over the air had brought nothing forward in the sponsor department, and my sustaining time had about reached the end of its short run. As if things weren't already bad enough, the gas company had turned off the heat, and the landlord was starting to haunt me for overdue rent. So far, I had escaped the then popular 'tightening of the belt,' but the way my bankroll looked it wouldn't be long before I was 'coffee and doughnut-ing' at the boulevard cafeterias. Just when I was trying to decide whether to splurge on turkey today with sandwiches the rest of the week, or to be conservative with pilot asked me whether I would help his group give a party for a bunch of bombed-out London kids at a Red Cross Club, and I said I would. That night we had the party and I wore a red suit and cotton whiskers that came unstuck and a pillow tied around my middle. All the G.I.'s put the things they had saved from their PX rations into my bag—things they had clumsily tied up in colored paper and bright ribbon. All the kids sat around with their big eyes and thin faces and I came down a chimney and gave out the presents. Such wonderful things—fabulous, unheard-of gifts like Hershey bars and Necco wafers and flashlights. There weren't many G.I.'s at first because most of them were flying missions over the embattled bulge that day. But they came in as the party wore on and someone just off a mission did card tricks, and the kids screamed with delight and we all sang Christmas carols. I don't know what it was about that Christmas—maybe it was the war and the fact that we were all involved in that grim engagement across the Channel. But as I think back on it, the thing that made that Christmas memorable was the kids and the fact that we made them happy—and that it took so little."

Red Skelton, NBC star: "This Christmas my daughter, Valentina, will be old enough (one and a half years) to take an interest in what's going on. And that will add to the pleasure of my first Christmas off from work in a solid twenty years. My most memorable Christmas? That's easy—it's this one!"

Ralph Edwards, NBC star of "Truth or Consequences" and "This Is Your Life": "It seems strange to say that Christmas of 1947 will be remembered as 'our' most memorable—but that's the way it worked out. For the first time since Barbara and I have been married we had the entire Edwards clan together for a week with enough time for a really old-fashioned Christmas. Brother Paul and family, brother Carl and family, Mom and our three little ones made fourteen in all. Finding beds for fourteen people was quite memorable in itself but we managed somehow. Entertainment consisted of popping corn, lots of eating, talk and just plain visiting. Nothing exciting, but still a memorable week with all those closest to Barbara and myself with us for a holiday as important as Christmas. We had time to remember—and how could we forget with all the children around—that Christmas is a time of prayer and sharing joy on the birth of another child."

Bing Crosby: "I've had my share of Merry Christmases, but I think the one I'll always remember was when I was fourteen years old and I got my first set of drums. This event, although it drove my family and the neighbors to cotton-stuffed ears, probably was the turning point which started me into the merry mirage of the music business. I especially recall this Christmas because I sat up all day and night with my drums—accompanying old Al Jolson Victrola records."

John Nelson, ABC emcee: "I'm sure my most memorable Christmas was the one in 1945. It was the first time I had been home in four years of war, and although I was still in a Navy officer's uniform, this day will always be indelible in my memory as I just sat around with my wife and parents and had the best Christmas of my life—because I was with my loved ones and the war was over."

Ed McConnell, star of NBC's "Smilin' Ed McConnell Show": "In 1932 my baby daughter, Mary Jane, was ill with pneumonia in a Cincinnati hospital. She wasn't expected to live through the Christmas season. When I left the hospital Christmas Eve to do my show, Mary Jane's temperature had reached 106. On the program, I asked my listeners to pray for my daughter. I rushed back to the hospital after the show. Mary Jane's temperature had started to go down! And she was on the road to recovery. Those wonderful Christmas prayers helped to give me the most memorable Christmas I'll ever have."

Meredith Willson, ABC star: "My most memorable Christmas was also one of the most mind-filling experiences, too.

"Mama was superintendent of the Sunday school back home at Mason City, Iowa, and was the one to say grace at our house and special prayers like for Thanksgiving and Christmas, and I thought maybe Papa didn't believe in anything because he didn't even go to church.

"I changed my mind, though, the Christmas that he thanked my brother and me for the big red can of pipe tobacco we gave him but he said he'd like for us to change the card.

"What's the matter with 'Merry Xmas with love to Papa'?" we said.

"And Papa said 'Christmas is one word you must never abbreviate. Don't ever forget it is the birthday celebration of the greatest man who ever lived!'

"So, you see, I have never quite forgotten that experience."

DECORATION of your windows at Christmas time is important, because these are the details of the house that are most seen in the evening when the lights stream out from them. There are many people who drive up and down our streets in order to see and enjoy the gaily lighted Christmas trees and decorations which are in the homes and that can be seen through the windows.

It may be your custom to put your tree in the window at the front of the house. If it hasn't been, may I suggest that, for a change, you put it there this year and that it be the center of interest at the largest window in the front of your house. And this large window, together with the others, may itself be decorated. How would you like to outline your windows with paper cutouts in color, of holly, poinsettia or other Christmas decorations? It might be quite dramatic to have a gold star with rays coming from it at the top center of your window as if it were shining down on the tree. Perhaps the children in your home would like to arrange a group of small figures on a table right in front of the window . . . little scenes of the stable and manger, the wise men and camels. If so, this star on the window would be most appropriate. In these days when handicrafts and much work of that kind is done in our schools, there certainly should be plenty of talent around a house where there are children, so that cutouts might be of bells, ribbon bows, garlands, such as the Christmas wreath, or even silhouettes of the camels with the wise men and their gifts. If you do something like this, I wonder whether you couldn't fix up a spotlight on the outside of your house above the window or from a close-by tree that would throw the light on the window itself. This would be most effective, particularly if the room itself were only dimly lighted.

Now, instead of having cutouts,

December 19, 1948

most of these things that I have mentioned could be in relief or actual articles. . . . I mean, you could have regular garlands and wreaths and bells with ribbon bows hanging right there in the window. The window itself could be outlined with sprays of evergreen, sprigs of holly, anything that will last.

The decorations at the principal window of your home may be duplicated in a smaller way at the other windows on the front of your house. A smaller wreath in each one or any other of the decorations I suggested or some other that you may have thought of can be put in these windows. In fact, one of the most charmingly decorated houses that I saw last Christmas was where each window that was visible from the street had a single candle in it. It was an electric candle, of course, but the very simplicity of it was delightful. It seemed almost as if every window had an eye and that each one had a greeting.

Deck the Door

In considering our windows, we mustn't forget the major entrance to our house—the front door. I noticed that when no other decoration is used, most people decorate the front door. Because we cannot see through a wooden door, we have to outline it with greenery or lights and hang a wreath or spray of evergreens on the door, tied, we hope, with gay red ribbon and with gold bells hanging from it. Another effective idea is to fasten a wide band of red cellophane ribbon lengthwise of your door and down the center and run another band crosswise about two-thirds of the way up. Where they meet is a huge bow knot of the same red cellophane, and located in the center of this there is a bunch of silver pine cones. If you use greenery on your door, shellac it first. It keeps the leaves fresh longer and gives that added luster which is really quite attractive.

Now, for decorating the mantel shelf. Arrange some of the smaller branches that you may have clipped from your Christmas tree, in a fan shape against the wall above the fireplace. Then make a Christmas grouping of figures, which can be the attractive little candles that come in many shapes and sizes or can be actual plaster, wood, or metal figures that tell the Christmas story. Another idea is to get a snowman for the center of the mantel shelf or one for each end and place alongside very small evergreen trees or against the candles in the shape of little fir trees and then place a line or row of silver Christmas-tree ornaments from one end to the other.

If you have electric light fixtures on each side of the fireplace, substitute candle bulbs for the regular globes and cut out a silver or gold star from paper or thin metal leaf and attach it to the wall back of the candle light. Then, just for the Christmas season, take down the mirror or picture that usually hangs there and replace it with a giant wreath of evergreens tied with a huge red bow. Take away the customary ornaments on the mantel shelf and use giant candles—one at each end. Or if you already have the electric lights, use tiny Christmas trees—one at each end of the mantel shelf with a few miniature Christmas-tree ornaments on them.

Perhaps, instead of hanging the wreath, you might do something far more original. Get that artist in the family to cut out some reindeer with a sleigh and pin this on the wall above the fireplace opening. Or instead of reindeer, there might be Christmas silhouettes of all kinds cut out from heavy paper or sheets of cardboard, Masonite, or other wallboard.

I saw a very delightful decoration in one home where a silver-tipped

Deck the Halls

Christmas tree had been shorn of its branches entirely on one side. It was stood on the mantel shelf with the flat side against the wall, then decorated with colored lights and surmounted by an illuminated silver star which just touched the ceiling. Then banked right along the length of the large mantel shelf and at the foot of this tree were the prettiest Christmas packages that you ever saw.

If you like decorating over the doors, there are many attractive things to use. Evergreens, of course, come to our minds first of all, but even these can be arranged in new ways. Colored gourds can be mixed in with them, all carefully wired so that they stay in place and form an attractive over-door, and these same sprigs or sprays of evergreen can come down the casings as well as around the top, forming a kind of valance.

All Through the House

Christmas decorations should be carried right through the house. The kitchen should not be left without its festive touches of evergreen, candles, and bells. And certainly the bedrooms should carry the Christmas theme. The house and every room need not be fussy, but certainly there should be just some decoration—a pot of poinsettias or a vase full of them looks well in a bedroom just as much as any other room, and for the children's rooms certainly there should be sprigs of holly and colored papers and Christmas symbols of all kinds.

It is nice to arrange your Christmas cards on the mantel shelf, utilizing the whole space and standing the cards up so that they may be seen. Another idea is to make a paper cutout of a Christmas tree, pin this on the wall and then select some of the better-looking Christmas cards and pin them on the tree in such a way that they form a decoration and look as if they're hanging on the tree and at the same time you can examine them and see them so much better.

Your tree should be stood in a container with water, otherwise it will shed its needles very quickly in the warm, dry air of the average living room. Some place the tree in a tub of moist sand . . . others in just a bucket of water which is cleverly camouflaged and usually hidden with the gifts that are put at the base of the tree.

I have often suggested twin Christmas trees, but it didn't occur to me to suggest more than that until I read an article in Sunset magazine with an illustration showing seven different-sized trees, converting, as they say, the living room into a "forest grove." Your living room may not

Do Your Wrapping Early!

For the men's presents on your list, choose a simple conservative paper, and arrange the ribbons in an uncomplicated, tailored bow—but add the bright decorative touch of holly berries and evergreen.

For the children's packages, tie a tiny toy in the bow of their present, and add a cluster of jingle bells, because for a child, no present is better than one which makes happy noises.

For mother's and for father's be large enough to put in more than one tree, but for those of you who do have the space and like this suggestion, it gives an interesting effect.

One effective way of decorating the tree is with lights of all one color, and if you have twin trees—one on each side of the fireplace—you might use one color of lights on one side and another color on the other. However, the old-fashioned way is to have a mixture of colors, and I think you'll find the children like this best.

Remember the Christmas trees of your childhood days . . . the ornaments you used to hang year after year, the thrill of getting out the familiar ones and then the pleasure of adding new ones? Remember, perhaps, the paper chains we used to make and the icicles we hung? Today we may still decorate our Christmas tree or may enjoy seeing our own children do the very same things that we did years ago. You probably taught your children how to string popcorn, perhaps putting a cranberry between each few grains of corn, or you have taught them how to make cutouts such as gold and silver stars for the tree. Maybe father has been working mysteriously at his bench in the basement or garage, making surprises for the decoration of the tree in some way. Many people have the custom of grouping figures at the base of the Christmas tree or on a table alongside, making what is known to the Pennsylvania Dutch as the "Putz." It is a landscape of snow with the manger, the shepherds, camels and the wise men. Children love to make these groupings.

I haven't mentioned mistletoe, have I? Well, it doesn't need mentioning—it speaks for itself. Use it if you have it or can get it, hang it here and there—it's lots of fun.

GOOD THINGS come in small packages, goes the old saying, and it seems that ABC's Groucho Marx believes it when he gets ready to play Santa. (Gene Lester photo.)

presents, look on the counters of your pet greeting-card shop and select one or more of the beautiful printed parental sentiments. Clip and paste the pretty verse on your present in an artful fashion and frame it with a small holly wreath or with a corsage of either fresh or paper flowers.

Clever Trimming

For a large present (a box containing a suit, robe, dress or coat, perhaps) which will occupy a prominent place beneath the Christmas tree, construct an entire Christmas scene upon its cover—a covering of cotton and sparkle-snow with reindeer, sleigh and Santa gliding across it.

For smaller packages, place atop them one of the tiny snow-sprinkled green Christmas trees that can be purchased at any five-and-dime store. A cluster of bright tree ornaments is also pretty, and tips of the evergreen boughs trimmed from your tree and gathered in a wide bow of red ribbon makes the most Christmas present imaginable, and brings with it, too, the cheery aroma of Christmas.

These are only a few of the many decorative touches which can be added to your Yuletide wrappings. No matter how inexpensive your budget requires your gifts to be, these interesting and thoughtful trimmings will make your gifts ones to be singled out for special appreciation and remembrance.

And looking at them, the lucky recipient will breathe an admiring sigh and say to himself, "Gee, next year I'm going to do my Christmas wrapping early!"

Now, pardon me—I've got to go out and buy some Scotch tape!
