The WGMA Story

In the early months of 1979, two old friends met in a local restaurant. They had not seen each other in twenty-five years, and they spent several hours chatting about their childhood days growing up in Spindale. Wayne Hardin shared with Bill "Moon" Martin a long-time dream of his...of having a radio station in Spindale. Martin was not impressed with the idea, since he had returned to Rutherford County for the purpose of rest and relaxation. He wished Wayne well in his projected venture, and they parted ways.

Hardin later stated, "Moon" doesn't know it yet, but he's the guy that's going to head up this operation." Several months and meetings later, the two of them formed the "MOONGLOW BROADCASTING COMPANY, INC."

It required eighteen months to find a suitable transmitter site for the tower. The site was a tract of land on the Highway 74 Bypass near the Western Steer Steak House. The Evans Building was purchased on West Main Street in Spindale to be used for offices and studios. The Corporation then invited Mrs. Frances Anderson of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, to become a partner in the new venture. The application for the station was filed with the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D. C. on December 24, 1981.

An immediate protest was filed against the application, from a radio station in Spartanburg, South Carolina, alleging the transmitter site was one mile too close to Spartanburg. The FCC notified Moonglow that they had ten days to answer the protest. It had taken eighteen months to secure the location on the Bypass, and because of the protests, the two Spindale boys had 10 days to relocate. It seemed an impossibility, but within a period of 10 hours, the two had obtained new property at the intersection of Ross and Ledbetter Roads in Spindale.

They filed an amendment to their original application, stressing the transmitter site. Spartanburg again protested the maneuver, but was over-ruled by the FCC. It then became evident that Spindale was on the way to having its own radio station. It was on the tenth of July, 1982 that Moonglow Broadcasting System was granted a construction permit by the FCC for a station to be situated in or near the town of Spindale.

It took almost three months to renovate the Evans Building, on Main Street, to make it conducive for broadcast purposes.

It was during this time that all the new equipment was installed, the offices were built, a broadcast staff was hired, and the Call Letters WGMA were selected and approved by the FCC.

A test pattern was run at 2:00 A.M. on October 11, 1982, and the first sounds burst forth on 1520, as Mearle Womach sang "I'll Rise Again". "Moon" Martin stated, with tears streaming from his eyes, "that's the most beautiful song I've ever heard."

The station began officially by signing on the air at 7:30 A.M. that very morning. It was the only full-time Gospel Music Station in Western North Carolina. Five other radio stations followed WGMA's format within a period of 12 short months. Wayne Hardin's dream had become a reality that had far reaching consequences.

WGMA has become a highly respected radio station throughout this section of the Carolinas. The staff is professional in every way, and the station's influence and ministry has become a unique form of its very own, through the combined efforts of "Moon" Martin, Wayne Hardin, and Frances Anderson. All three are quick to agree that "without God's help, WGMA would be nothing but a dream."

works....

The Bane-Clene System combines warm water (never hot) with a cleaning agent which is then mechanically vaporized and injected into your carpets at low pressure so that it will not wet the carpet backing. The vapor loosens all the dirt, soil and soapy residue left by other cleaning methods. Then it immediately extracts and discharges all the dirty water, soil and odors through the hose into the truck outside.

Your carpets will be clean and fresh, their colors brightened and their texture restored. They will dry faster and stay clean longer.
