May 1996

To My Fellow WNYC Listeners:

Thank you to all of you who have sent me your comments, criticisms, and questions. Getting to know you and how WNYC fits into your life is my priority. You have some great ideas! Keep them coming.

I need your input in a few key areas. First, please tell me what you think about the WNYC Program Guide:

- Do you read it every month? If so, how do you use it?
- Do you use the music listings?
- Does it enrich your relationship with WNYC?
- What would you like to see in it?

This month, All Things Considered marks its 25th Anniversary. Some of your letters indicate that ATC is a hot topic, particularly the fact that it is no longer broadcast 7-8pm. Clearly many of you enjoyed coming home to ATC. I'd like to hear from more of you, as we look into this. Please respond ASAP to the address at the bottom of this page or email me at laura\_walker@WNYC.pbs.org.

Mark June 10th on your calendar. WNYC will host a Summer Supper on the Hudson at The Crab House at Chelsea Piers. Garrison Keillor and others will be there providing entertainment, and our own Steve Post will officially crown the winner of The Big Crab Contest. (See page 5 for details.) Tickets will be $150 per person. Call 212-669-5367 for reservations. First come, first served! The WNYC Summer Supper promises to be a great time. Hope to see you there!

Sincerely,

Laura Walker

25 Years of Considering All Things

This month marks the 25th anniversary of NPR's All Things Considered, the program that revolutionized the way we listen to news on the radio. Every night for 25 years, listeners have turned to ATC for a calm, informative rendering of the day's news. We've gotten the lowdown on military buildups and government crackdowns, reports on medical breakthroughs, and winds of economic change at home and abroad. We've gotten insights into artists and culture. And we've gotten the commentators who transcend the daily news with essays on everything from twilight dancing to the simple pleasures of milking a cow.

In the beginning we also got "moments of extreme terror" when broadcasts included the liberal use of the "Panic Button," according to current host Linda Wertheimer, who started as a production assistant. "That device provided 30-second musical interludes that the director threw on the air when tapes and scripts were out of reach and things began falling apart. That button was used 18 times during ATC's first month." After its shaky start, ATC went on to set new standards for broadcast journalism.

Susan Stamberg and
Noah Adams

Some milestones:

1971 All Things Considered debuts on May 3, Robert Conley is the ATC host; Linda Wertheimer is director, and Susan Stamberg is tape editor.

1976 Susan Stamberg and science editor Ira Flatow venture with listeners into a dark closet to prove that Wint-O-Green Lifesavers actually spark when you bite into them.

Mark Hinajosi

1981 Rene Montagne and Robert Siegel

documentary, Father Cares: The Last of Jonestown, is broadcast.

1989 Robert Siegel, Linda Wertheimer, and Noah Adams team up as anchors.

1991 Neal Conan is missing for a week during the Gulf War.

1992 Nina Totenberg wins numerous awards for her coverage of the Clarence Thomas/Anita Hill hearings.

1995 ATC expands to two hours and begins programming an hour earlier.

After all these years, ATC is still one of public radio's crown jewels – an enlightening, engaging (and sometimes eccentric) window on the world, which reflects both our commonality and our diversity. Thanks for all those things, ATC!

A Musical Garland

David Garland, who programs and presents Evening Music and Spinning on Air, has had a lifelong passion for music. "Growing up near Boston, I learned early on that public radio was the place to turn for the really interesting music," David says. Garland graduated from the Rhode Island School of Design, moved to New York, and has been a graphic designer and a composer/performer. After working at WKCR, he came to WNYC nearly ten years ago.

John Martin

David Garland

"Evening Music is primarily a classical show, with occasional forays into jazz, vocal jazz, and world music," says David. Recurring features include a complete opera on the first Friday of each month and film music after 10pm each Thursday. "In the course of a month I'll give listeners the chance to get to know a group of works, such as the Reger cello sonatas, the Mahler symphonies, or Mozart's 'Haydn' string quartets."

A Peabody for Oscar

Longtime WNYC radio host Oscar Brand received the prestigious George Foster Peabody Personal Award in recognition of his outstanding contributions to broadcasting. Brand has hosted Folksong Festival, now heard every Saturday at 8pm on FM93.9, for 50 years. Only four Peabodys for radio were awarded, two of them to other public radio programs, St. Paul Sunday and Wynton Marsalis: Making the Music.

Coincidentally, Oscar shared a Peabody in 1982 with Laura Walker, then a producer at NPR, for The Sunday Show. This is WNYC's sixth Peabody. Congratulations, Oscar!

George Plakow

Oscar Brand

Spinning on Air was recently cited by The New York Times as one of ten "bright spots" in New York popular music radio. Each week the show focuses on a particular artist, genre, or conceptual theme.

John Schaefer, Director of Music Programming, comments, "Everybody's favorite Spinning on Air show seems to be David's infamous three-hour 'Hawaiian War Chant Extravaganza,' which got written up in Honolulu Magazine and The Wall Street Journal. But I happen to like his interview with Jeri Southern, a distinctive but reclusive singer who has been out of the limelight. I still wonder how he pulled that together."

David says, "I'll always be grateful to public radio for introducing me to a world of music, so I'm delighted to do my part to ensure that there's great music—in all its variety and vitality—on the air."

Calling All Crabs

WNYC will crown New York's crabbiest at the Summer Supper at the Crab House restaurant on June 10. Do you have what it takes to be the Big Crab of New York? Do you know someone who does? We're not interested in mere routine irritability, the kind that happens when you get in the wrong check-out line at the supermarket. We're interested in honoring someone with true world-class crankiness, the kind that makes New York the Crabby Capital of the World!

If you'd like to enter our Big Crab Contest, just submit a paragraph stating why you, or the person you are nominating, deserves the title of the Big Crab of New York. Be descriptive and provide us with the crabbiest details. A team of objective, ill-tempered judges will select the winner, on the basis of originality. Steve Post, WNYC's own King Crab, will crown the Big Crab of New York at a brand new restaurant, The Crab House, at Chelsea Piers on June 10, 1996.

The Crabbiest winner will receive:

A dinner party for 10 – courtesy of The Crab House
Two Passes for Chelsea Piers Sports Fitness Center
