New WOW Baseball Tour Set

July Trip Is Postponed

WOW's sports department is not to be outdone by mother nature and promptly came up with a new and better baseball tour when the July 28-29 tour became a casualty of the Missouri-Illinois flood conditions.

In place of the cancelled tour WOW has set up a top-notch tour to Chicago on August 25-26 on which fans will see the Chicago White Sox play the Boston Red Sox on Saturday afternoon, and a doubleheader between the White Sox and the New York Yankees on Sunday afternoon.

Only about 75 new reservations can be accepted for the Chicago tour, August 25-26, because tickets for the three "hot" ball games are scarce, and limited. Reservations will be accepted on a first-come-first-served basis, when accompanied by a $10 down payment, or payment in full. Send reservations to Jack Payne, WOW Sports Director, Insurance Building, Omaha 2, Neb.

Sports Director Jack Payne pointed out that the change in schedules will result in a better trip and bigger bargain for the fans. A lake shore hotel room will be provided on Saturday night, which will be free so that our members can enjoy the thousands of entertainment highlights that Chicago offers. Cost of the Chicago tour will be the same as the cancelled trip—$62.50 in coaches, slightly higher in Pullmans.

Reservations made for the St. Louis-Chicago tour were transferred to the Chicago Tour and about 75 new applications can be accepted.

The Chicago Tour will leave Omaha at 10:30 p.m. on Friday night, August 24. Air-conditioned, reclining-seat chair cars will be provided for coach passengers, and pillows will be available.

Chicago arrival is set for 8:55 a.m. (Chicago time). Trip members will be taken immediately to the Lake Michigan docks and given a two-hour ride on Lake

WOW Aids Flood Communications

The flood-disrupted communications system in and around Topeka, Kans., got an assist from WOW during the devastating floods of mid-July.

Station WREN, Topeka, received a broadcast relay transmitter from WOW during the height of the flood. The equipment was used for mobile communication to expedite the tremendous job of rescue and rehabilitation that was rendered more difficult by the lack of communication.

A special Civil Air Patrol plane was flown to Omaha from Topeka to pick up the transmitter. Chief Engineer Bill Kotera handled the arrangements for WOW.

FUNK'S 'FARM STORY'

"Today's Farm Story" is the title of a new, five-minute agricultural program being carried each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday morning on WOW at 6:25 a.m.

Sponsored by Funk's G Hybrid Seed Corn the program will feature Everett Mitchell and WOW's Ray Olsen. Ray will give about two minutes of local agricultural information while Everett will fill out the remaining time with farm data on the national scene.

NEW AGENCY

General Manager Frank P. Fogarty of Radio Station WOW, Inc., announced on July 24 the appointment of Beaumont & Hohman, Inc., advertising agency for its stations WOW, and WOW-TV.

The appointment is effective August 1.

Beaumont & Hohman offices in Omaha are at 636 Insurance Building, and John Mayo is in charge of the local office.

The Radio Station WOW, Inc., account will continue to be handled by Cole Marsh & Associates through the close of business on July 31.

TEXAS BROADCAST

"Live Like a Millionaire" will be broadcast from the famous Shamrock Hotel in Houston, Tex., for one week beginning on August 6.

Sweet Eloise...

Lovely Eloise McElhone presides over the RCA Victor "Musical Merry-Go-Round" each Saturday night at 7 on WOW.

WOW CHOSEN AGAIN!

The U. S. State Department's Voice of America has again turned to WOW for assistance in making one of its international broadcasts.

Farm Service Director Mal Hansen was recently asked by the Voice of America to conduct interviews with two local grocers for a broadcast to foreign countries.

The grocers interviewed at WOW's mike were Frank Bosanek, an independent grocer whose place of business is 5140 South 24th Street in Omaha and Sam Garafalo, a store supervisor for the Hinky-Dinky System.

The theme of the broadcasts was built around the plentiful and well-balanced diet enjoyed by the average American as well as the opportunities offered by the grocery business in the United States.

—WOW—

POPULAR OFFER!

More than 1,100 requests for a free house-plant booklet, prepared by the University of Nebraska Extension Service, have been received thus far by WOW!

Mal Hansen started it all by announcing the availability of the booklet on his 6:30 a.m. "Farm Service Reporter" program.

Some Of Your P & G Favorites

Ten Big Shows Every Week Day

Each week-day hundreds of thousands of WOW-Land listeners are the guests of Procter & Gamble for 180 minutes.

Ten quarter-hour and one half-hour shows provide entertainment that has proven immensely popular with the vast daytime audience in WOW-Land.

TOMMY BARTLETT

Top names in the radio world are found in the casts of the various P. & G. sponsored programs.

Liberal portions of variety, drama, and comedy are contained in the schedule of P. & G. sponsored shows heard on WOW.

Welcome Travelers

Tops in its field is the famous "Welcome Travelers" program starring Tommy Bartlett which is heard each week-day morning at 9 on WOW. Tommy's interviews with famous celebrities and just plain citizens as they pause in their travels provide the listener with many a chuckle as well as an occasional tug at the heart-strings.

Ma Perkins

Procter & Gamble's afternoon serial schedule leads off with lovable "Ma Perkins" for Oxydol at 1:30 on WOW. "Ma's" unselfish work to assure all of life's benefits for her family and friends provides an inspiring story.

Life Can Be Beautiful

At 2 Papa David and his bookstore provides a soothing refuge for lovely Chichi and others on Tide sponsored "Life Can Be Beautiful."

Road of Life

How much does Dr. Jim Brent owe to medicine and how much does he owe to himself? That's one of the problems which he faces as he travels the "Road of Life." It's sponsored by Crisco at 2:15.

TERI KEANE . . . plays Chichi

Pepper Young's Family

A look into the life of the family down the street is mirrored in the daily happenings on the Camay sponsored "Pepper Young's Family" each week-day at 2:30 on WOW. The true-to-life happenings of this typical, modern family provide interesting listening.

Right to Happiness

Does everyone have a "Right to Happiness?" Carolyn believes so, but that happiness seems increasingly distant when the willful and unscrupulous Annette Thorpe presses her selfish campaign to rob Carolyn of that happiness. Ivory Soap sponsors this program at 2:45.

Backstage Wife

The problems that face a "Backstage Wife" are multiplied by the glitter and glamour of the New York stage. Mary Noble's attempts to solve these problems provide absorbing listening at 3 on Dreft sponsored "Backstage Wife."

MARY NOBLE

Although considered to be an impractical dreamer by most of his friends "Lorenzo Jones" continues to try for that one invention that will bring riches for his wife Belle and himself. For wholesome chuckles hear Dreft sponsored "Lorenzo Jones" at 4:30.

Procter & Gamble's daytime programming ends each week-day at 5 on a fitting note with the Duz sponsored "Guiding Light."

Meet Perry Mason

"Perry Mason-Detective" is the latest addition to your big family of Procter & Gamble sponsored daytime shows.

Personable John Larkin plays the title role of Perry Mason, lawyer-detective who combines his knowledge of law and the criminal mind to form a bulwark against the lawless.

Mason is assisted in his work by Della Street, his secretary-assistant. Lovely Joan Alexander plays this role (see page 3).

When you hear "Perry Mason-Detective" each week-day at 11:30 a.m. on WOW you'll be hearing one of fiction's greatest sleuths—a creation of Earl Stanley Gardner.

Grass Roots...

WOW Farm Service Reporter

This will be short and, at least to me, sweet, because I am beginning a vacation just as soon as I finish this column.

It will be one of those "No definite plans" type of things with one exception—I'm going to take a lot of pictures.

I'll be using a Polaroid Land Camera, complete with flash attachment and carrying case. The whole outfit is a pre-vacation gift from my good friend and sponsor E. A. Kelloway of the Walnut Grove Products Company, and I can't think of a nicer present for a guy about to begin a vacation. Needless to say the whole Hansen family is very grateful to Mr. Kelloway and if we don't come back with an album-full of photos it certainly will not be his fault.

That's all for now except a reminder that our Farm Study Tour is now all sold out. However, we are accepting a small number of names for the waiting list in case some of our good friends who have signed up discover that they can't make it when trip time rolls around.

Mal Hansen

They're Forenoon Favorites

WOW's vast radio audience is now enjoying more balanced morning programming as a result of a major reshuffling of programs and newscasts.

Changes now in effect include: "Live Like a Millionaire," NBC variety-quiz, now at 9:30 a.m., following Tommy Bartlett's "Welcome Travelers." "Break the Bank," emceed by Bud Collyer, moves to 10 a.m. from 10:30 p.m., and Martha Bohlsen's "Martha's Cupboard" moves to the 11 a.m. spot. "The Perry Mason Show" a mystery-type serial moves from CBS to the 11:30 a.m. spot.

Both "The Jack Berch Show" and "Dial Dave Garroway" remain in their regular 10:30 and 10:45 a.m. spots, respectively. All shows are heard Monday through Fridays at the above times.

The following are thumbnail biographies of the network personalities involved in the time changes: Martha Bohlsen needs no introduction to our readers.

Jack McCoy

The genial emcee of General Mills' "Live Like a Millionaire" is a bona-fide descendant of the original shootin' McCoyes of Kentucky. He broke into radio at the New York World's Fair and later did some sports announcing. After three years as a Marine in World War II he settled in Hollywood and became one of Radio's busiest emcees.

Bud Collyer

The head man of Bristol-Myers' "Break the Bank," is not only a top radio personality, but a graduate attorney. In fact Bud Collyer earned his law school tuition as a radio singer.

John Larkin

The star of the new "Perry Mason" show began his network radio career back in 1937 on "Road of Life." He was then down to the last nickel of the $60 that brought him from Kansas City where he broke into radio as an announcer.

10:30 A. M....

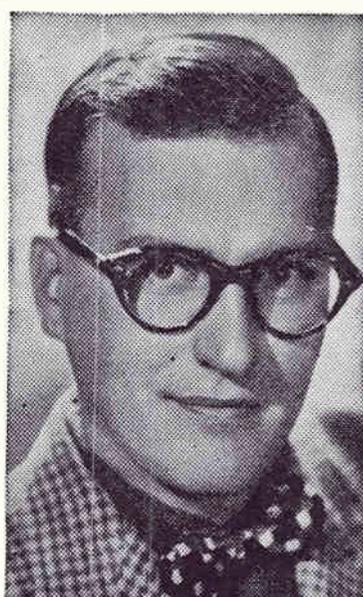

Prudential's Jack Berch is noted for his tremendous success in helping charitable groups.

11:30 A. M....

10:45 A. M....

When you "Dial Dave Garroway" you're certain of easy going entertainment from this Dial sponsored favorite.

Fall TV Shows Are Terrific!

Daytime Also Great

The top-budgeted Skelton and Hope shows adds even greater luster to a Sunday WOW-TV lineup, which viewers will agree is simply out of this world!

- It will include:
- 3:30—Harvey Brothers' "The Chimps" (see page 5 for details).
  - 5:00—Kellogg's "Wild Bill Hickox."
  - 5:30—Peter Pan's "The Range Rider."
  - 6:00—Bob Hope Show for Chesterfield.
  - 7:00—The Colgate Comedy Hour, including 11 contracted Martin and Lewis appearances!
  - 8:00—The Philco Playhouse—finest in drama.
  - 9:00—The Red Skelton Show for Procter & Gamble.
  - 9:30—The Hank McCune Show—hilarious situation comedy for M.U.D.
  - 10:00—Armstrong's "Circle Theater"—dramatic comedy.

Additionally on Sunday afternoons, you'll see "Meet the Press," for Revere; Zoo Parade and Gabby Hayes for Ken-L, Rations and Quaker Oats; a new thriller called "Flying Tigers" for Johnson Candies starting August 12, in the 11:30 a.m. to 12 noon spot, and "Super Circus" will be scheduled.

Two or three other big Sunday shows are in the making and the "Battle Report," and Mrs. Roosevelt are expected to return to the air.

The Monday night schedule will bring Roberta Quinlan (for Mohawk Carpets) and John Conte (for Campbells) back to the air on September 3. On the same night Robert Montgomery will resume his extremely popular dramatic series, which will again alternate with the Somerset Maugham Theater (for Tintair). On September 17 the Jerry Mahoney-Winchell show (for Spidel) will return.

Berle and Football!

"Mr. Television" returns to the Tuesday night schedule on September 18. With Uncle Miltie and the Phillips' "Big Seven Game of the Week" plus Old Gold's Original Amateur Hour and other planned features, all on the same night—Tuesday, too, should be terrific.

Another of the great new variety shows—reputed to have one of the four largest weekly talent budgets in all television—will make Wednesday night a very popular evening to spend at your screen.

The new show in the 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. slot will star Kate Smith and her able assistant Ted Collins. Details are lacking at this writing but the "trade" expects this new program to be a top feature, and NBC obviously expects it to keep its net stations, including WOW-TV, in the top Wednesday position.

The Kraft Theater, Break the Bank and the Charlie Wilde whodunnit are among other Wednesday-nighters now scheduled.

Armour & Company will sponsor Dave Garraway on Wednesday nights.

Five Headliners

Thursday night's lineup at this time calls for five headliner features. The "Martin Kane" show, with Stage and Screen Star Lloyd Nolan in the title role returns for U. S. Tobacco on August 30.

DeSoto's top-rated Groucho Marx and his "You Bet Your Life" show, and Standard Oil's delightful Wayne King musical extravaganza will both be back.

Ford's James Melton Show and the ever-popular "Cisco Kid" for Butter-nut Bread, which were so popular all summer, will remain in their present slots.

Gillette's "Cavalcade of Sports" and its Friday night live boxing bouts is tentatively scheduled to return October 7, and of course this'll make Friday night a must WOW-TV night in thousands of homes.

The fights, will be preceded by the ever-lovin' "The Aldrich Family" for Campbell Soups.

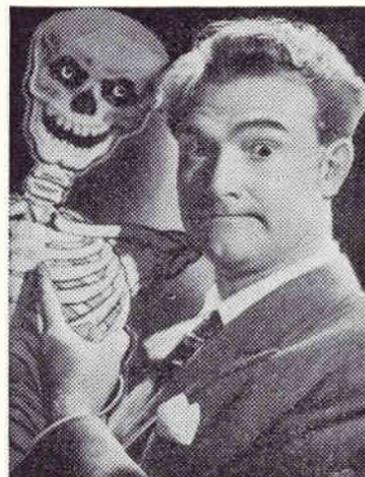

American Cigarette and Cigar Company has reserved time on Friday nights and presumably this will be for Pall Malls "The Big Story."

Vaseline's "Great Fights of History", Skippy's "You Asked for It," and Miles Lab's "The Quiz Kids" will also continue as Friday night headliners.

Wotta Saturday!

Lastly, there's Saturday night, and again a terrific new variety show—added to what made it so popular last year!

The new show is called (tentatively) "The All-Star Revue" and it will precede the "Show of Shows." It'll include name guest stars—Ed Wynn, Danny Thomas, Jack Carson, Jimmie Durante, and others on alternate nights. It starts September 8.

Additionally, "One Man's Family" will be back for Sweetheart Soap on September 22, and Bob Considine will return with "On the Line with Considine" on September 1 for "Mutual of Omaha."

Falstaff's wrestling show and Luckies' "Hit Parade," plus "Hopalong" for General Foods, will all add interest to the Saturday schedule.

Elaborate plans are in the making for the extension and improvement of the WOW-TV Monday-through-Friday daytime schedule, both by NBC and the station.

Cincinnati's celebrated Ruth Lyons is scheduled to be starred as mistress of ceremonies on her own show from 11:30 a.m. to 12 noon in one of the five-a-week spots.

Miss Lyons is one of radio's most fabulous characters. On her Cincinnati early morning radio show she keeps four secretaries busy answering fan mail. She raised $40,000 for charity in a single year. She had 10 times more listeners than all her competitors put together, and her program attracted 40 sponsors!

Often she is referred to as a "feminine Arthur Godfrey." The upcoming show will be her first chance on a big TV network.

NBC also has in preparation a forenoon comedy-quiz variety show under the generalship of Rudy Vallee—the star-maker, actor and crooner. This is tentative.

Fall TV Shows Are Terrific

500,000 Now See WOW-TV

WOW-TV began its third year of television service on July 10. Some facts about its miraculous growth:

1. The countable number of TV sets in use in its area is 81,000, and this is equal to about 37 per cent of the number of families in its service area.
2. The potential audience of WOW-TV is approximately 500,000 persons—a city nearly as big as New Orleans, Minneapolis, Kansas City or Seattle!
3. WOW-TV's potential audience is nearly twice as big as it was eight months ago—triple what it was a year ago—six times as big as it was 18 months ago, and 14 times as big as it was when the station was three months old!
4. Countable set-sales in the first half of 1951 are almost double the same period in 1950.
5. Barring unforeseen (and unexpected) setbacks, the number of countable sets-in-use will reach 100,000 by the end of 1951.

It should be explained that "countable" as used means set sales reported by the Nebraska-Iowa Electrical Council weekly. The estimated audience figure includes "guest viewers" (estimated at 20 per cent of the total), and an estimate of viewers to sets purchased from sources other than those which the Council checks.

While there has been an early summer slump in set sales in the past six weeks, some distributors are genuinely concerned that defense production limitations will reduce fourth quarter allocations of sets to distributors. Two leading distributors were "happy" that they now have big inventories.

—WOW-TV—

CULTURE!

A six weeks NBC summer series entitled "An Evening in the Gallery" has been scheduled for WOW-TV on Wednesday nights. It'll originate in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D. C.

—WOW-TV—

AL-STAR GAME

Admiral's TV coverage of the Chicago All-Star football game, August 17, will be carried on WOW-TV, from 7:30 p.m. to conclusion.

Almost Human ...

You'll say "The Chimps" is the most unusual show you ever saw on television when it debuts on WOW-TV Sunday, August 12 at 3:30 p.m. for Harvey Bros. (men's clothing, Omaha and Lincoln). Real live chimpanzies, talk, act and perform!

—WOW-TV—

CONVENTIONS

Time and Life magazines have already made a bid to sponsor the Republican and Democratic National Conventions next summer. Gillette and Pabst are also interested.

—WOW-TV—

HILL-TOPPERS

Two Creighton lads are "Mr. Big" in the presentation of Tintair's Maugham Theater telecasts. Dan Petrie, formerly with WOW-TV is the producer and Sterling T. (Tom) Reynolds is assistant director.

—WOW-TV—

SIGN FILM STAR

Donald O'Connor, of the movies and his wife, Gwen, have been signed to an exclusive TV contract by NBC.

Skelton, Hope and Kate Set

Dotted with sparkling new big-time shows—at least a half dozen of them—the WOW-TV summer schedule will begin late this month to change over to a fabulous fall-winter lineup.

Scores of favorite programs including Milton Berle's Texaco Star Theater, the Colgate Comedy Hour, Robert Montgomery's Lucky Strike dramas, "One Man's Family," Bob Hope and many others will be back from well-earned vacations within a few weeks.

Many of the returning shows will have new stars, new formats, and almost invariably, the talent budgets have been greatly increased.

Scores of programs are not yet set, or scheduled, but announcements are expected almost daily during August.

The question of live direct Saturday afternoon network football is said to be nearing settlement. No live telecasts of Nebraska games will be permitted, despite the fact that the Cornhusker Stadium is almost a sell-out for every home game for the entire season.

Phillips 66's "Big Seven Game of the Week"—a specially prepared one-hour filmed version of the top Big Seven game each week, is set for WOW-TV for Tuesday nights. This will no doubt include a Nebraska game or two during the season.

Many new top-notch big-time variety shows are scheduled.

One of these, the Procter & Gamble "Red" Skelton show, is due in at 9 on Sunday night, September 30. Trade paper reports said it will have a $50,000-per-program budget and will be the ultimate in fine variety entertainment.

A second big (and new) Sunday-nighter will be a weekly variety-comedy show with Bob Hope heading the star list—this one for Chesterfield. Hope's infrequent appearances last winter made a place for him as a number one TV star.

WHITE SOX, RED SOX, YANKS on WOW TRIP

Michigan on a large lake steamer. This boat ride, giving an excellent view of the Loup skyline was one of the highlights of last year's trip.

During the boat-ride, baggage will be transferred to the Hotel Congress on Michigan Avenue, overlooking Lake Michigan, where the trippers will be housed Saturday night.

After the boat-ride trippers will be carried by bus to Comiskey Park, where they will have time for a snack, and to see the Boston Red Sox compete with the Chicago White Sox.

After the game the trippers will be transported back to the Hotel Congress where their baggage will already be in their rooms which will have been assigned. Trippers will be housed in twin bedrooms with two persons in each room.

Saturday night the trippers, after a good dinner at the Congress, will be free to take in theaters, night clubs, movies or go to the beaches, or window-shopping along the famous Michigan Boulevard and Loup districts. Tour management will attempt to secure theater tickets, if ordered in advance.

Sunday morning at 9 a.m. breakfast will be served in the Congress. Time will be allowed for church, and special sight-seeing buses will be provided for a tour of the south lake front area, and to Comiskey Park. Grandstand seats for the double-header will be provided and the tour will arrive at Comiskey Park before noon, to give everybody a chance to get a snack and watch the two teams work out before the two games.

The three teams involve the White Sox, the Yankees and the Red Sox who are in a fight-to-the-finish struggle for leadership of the Americal League. The three games offered on the tour will all be most important in the American League penant race. Only two games separate the three teams for the leadership of the league as this was written.

The new trip will be particularly appealing to women. They will get a chance to go shopping, and see many interesting sights, and already many non-baseball fans have signed up.

After the double-header the sight-seeing buses will show the tour North Side points of interest including Lincoln Park Zoo, and proceed to a good dinner at the Fireside Restaurant on the North Side.

After dinner the groups will be transported back to the special train, which will arrive back in Omaha before 8 a.m., Monday, August 27.

Ev Mitchell Touring Europe To Report On Travels

Everett Mitchell, veteran NBC Farm commentator, is making a five-week air tour of Europe and the Middle East to study the International Farm Youth Exchange program and to gather material for National Farm and Home Hour broadcasts (WOW, 1 p.m., Saturdays).

EVERETT MITCHELL
Natl. Farm, Home Hour

This will be the first trip overseas for Mitchell who has traveled over a million miles to report the American farm scene for almost a quarter century.

He will return to the U. S. on August 27 after visiting more than a dozen countries.

National Farm and Home Hour listeners will hear Everett's transcribed general reports on the tour on August 4 and 25 broadcasts and on August 11 he will report from the World Poultry Congress in Paris.

HYMNS POPULAR

Old hymns are Americans' favorite type of song from coast-to-coast—so say the fans of "Grand Ole Opry" (WOW, 9:30 p.m., Saturdays).

Hundreds of letters and cards pour into the offices of the NBC network show each week, the bulk of them from listeners requesting songs. Such standard favorites as singing star Red Foley's "Old Shep" are requested time and again, but the greatest percentage of "Opry" mail is not for novelty or romantic songs but for the hymns. Ever since the program began 11 years ago, Foley has offered at least one religious song each Saturday night. Sharing the feeling of his listeners, Red says the hymns are his own favorite part of the show.

Rev. R. R. Brown...

Pastor WOW World Radio Congregation

"Oh that I had wings like a dove! for then would I fly away, and be at rest." Psalm 55:6. These expressive words were written by the psalmist centuries ago. The same attitude prevails today. We are always inclined to think that no sorrow or burden is greater than our own and that the things that happen to us are uncommon. Added to this are the lurid headlines, press and radio reports of calamities, inhuman cruelties, war casualties, danger signs in many parts of the world, and wickedness and wastefulness in high places all combine to converge upon us until we feel that we must find some way of escape. There are others who are bored with the repetition of the daily routine and still many more who have a deep-seated grudge against the world. We should like to have release.

Rev. R. R. Brown

This accounts for the increased number of books and literature on escape that have flooded the market. The trouble is that when we have finished with the detective stories and other forms of light reading, we find our problems are still with us. Good books have value, but just to read for relief will not bring it. Vacations have their place. Vacations that take us away from the city and from the presence of problems have great value. The secret is found in responding to the gracious invitation to Jesus when He said, "Come unto me . . . I will give you rest." The secret is in the development of their spiritual lives. A life filled with His hope is the answer to the desire to run away from things or to fly away and be at rest.

Remember that on Sundays, August 5 and 12, the chapel service will originate in the Okoboji Lakes Gospel Tabernacle at Arnolds Park, Ia., from the annual Bible and missionary conference which will be held August 3-12. Tune in each Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Softness is the theme of a new series of spot announcements which the Hoberg Paper Company is now scheduling on WOW to promote the sales of Charmin Tissues in WOW-Land. # Sports by Payne...

WOW Sports Director

With the coming of August the sports picture in Nebraska and all over WOW-Land, will start to reflect the football fortunes of our state universities, colleges and high schools. During the latter stages of this month the Lincoln headquarters of Coach Bill Glassford will empty itself and transplant Nebraska's sport spotlight out west to Curtis.

Jack Payne

The coaches of this year's Husker footballers have several major obstacles to overcome, but I think the biggest might be early over-optimism on the part of Nebraska football fans. A great many are already putting the 1951 team on a sky-high pedestal. On paper the club takes on aspects of potential championship caliber. But it's on the field where games are played. It's certainly no secret that after last spring's drills around Memorial Stadium there remained much fundamental instruction and coaching to iron out rough spots in a graduation-riddled forward wall and groom one of the finest stables of race-horse backs in the Midlands.

We regard Nebraska backfield potential as one of the best in the country—speed, deception, and passing are golden attributes of the varsity coming in for drills at Curtis. But it takes a lot of points to top an opponent which isn't contained on drives by your defense. And, it takes a back a little longer to make a correct split-second decision in advancing the ball when his offensive is being penetrated by hard-charging guards and tackles. Yes! A good downfield block is even necessary to shake a runner of Bob Reynolds caliber in the open quite frequently. Then, too, tabulate the lettermen in the backfield. How will the sophomores stack up against more seasoned clubs?

These are fundamentals and play techniques which are taught by one of the finest staffs in the country. Let the glitter of 1950 shine like it never shone before, but leave us remember that from tackle to tackle and at such a key spot as quarterback in the T formation, the Cornhuskers of 1951 will have to mold anew.

The spirit of Cornhusker gridiron tradition has very definitely returned to the state, roaring in on the wave of a blazing path cut by Reynolds and Company of 1950. Be optimistic for 1951—but base your optimism on training camp reports, scrimmages, and players action under game conditions.

How will the sophomores stack up against more seasoned clubs?

These are fundamentals and play techniques which are taught by one of the finest staffs in the country. Let the glitter of 1950 shine like it never shone before, but leave us remember that from tackle to tackle and at such a key spot as quarterback in the T formation, the Cornhuskers of 1951 will have to mold anew.

The spirit of Cornhusker gridiron tradition has very definitely returned to the state, roaring in on the wave of a blazing path cut by Reynolds and Company of 1950. Be optimistic for 1951—but base your optimism on training camp reports, scrimmages, and players action under game conditions.
