LATEST-STATE-OF THE ART IN VoIP INTERCOM SOLUTIONS

THE FUTURE OF BROADCAST INTERCOM – MULTI-POINT TO MULTI-POINT

Mercury System Architecture

KEY FEATURES:

- Matrixless operation on standard Ethernet
- Choice of coding algorithms dependent on applications G722, G711, G726, G729
- Dedicated or shared network operation
- Virtual control panels operate on pc's running Windows NT4, 98, 2000, XP
- Compatible with Commander and Orator digital matrices and non Trilogy Matrix
- Black Box interfaces for hardware panels, 4 wires, etc.

BSE and Trilogy Broadcast are please to announce the Mercury System of intercom solutions based on VoIP technology. This allows all elements of the system to interconnect over a standard Ethernet. The ubiquity of CATS cabled data networks and their ease of installation renders a VoIP solution cost-effective to implement. A growing range of system components allows a wide range of configurations to be implemented. In a simple, offline environment, Mercury enabled pc's can provide intercom functionality, whilst being used for other tasks. The addition of "Black Box" enables hardware panels and interfaces to conventional studio/OB equipment to be added.

Amazingly Natural Sound.

Designed for any application requiring professional quality audio and low visibility.

Shure's WL50 and WL51 subminiature lavalier microphones do more than blend perfectly into your environment; they deliver the sound quality and sensitivity demanded by today's top performance situations.

Unobtrusive, ultra-light and very dependable, the Shure WL50 and WL51 Series is ideal for theatre/live performance, television broadcast, and stage performances.

- Shure WL50s are supplied with removable equalization caps for customized sound.

WL50s come with your choice of three colors, two sensitivities, and two cable lengths.

- Shure WL51s have a uniform and symmetrical polar pattern throughout frequency ranges and come with a durable, waterproof carrying case.

WL51s have a smooth frequency response and are available in two colors and two cable lengths.

Plus, both models include a variety of mounting accessories and foam windscreens – all to help you get the most out of every performance.

Products: With 63 television stations, BroadView is Canada's largest supplier of software to the cable and broadcast market. BroadView automates and consolidates everyday tasks performed by library, programming, traffic, finance, marketing and sales in a way that increases staff efficiency and lowers operating costs. Flexible and powerful tools provide users access to their data in the way they need it and reports are easily and quickly produced. For the Canadian market, BroadView's management of CRTC analysis and reporting is unparalleled by any other product. BroadView is an internet-ready product that can be used to manage single or multiple stations from any location. With features not seen in any other legacy systems, and an attractive price-point, BroadView has become The choice of software at more Canadian television stations than any other system.

Since 1970, TVOntario has been producing, broadcasting, and distributing high-quality educational programming. As the province's public educational broadcaster it operates two distinct networks, the English-language TVO and the French-language TFO. Although it's primarily funded by the Ontario government, TVOntario is committed to becoming more entrepreneurial and finding innovative, practical means of generating revenue through program sales, public membership, corporate underwriting and merchandise sales. TVOntario produces, co-produces, acquires and broadcasts award-winning children's and curriculum programming, informative credit and non-credit courses, and provocative arts, science, and public affairs programming. Nov 2002 listing.

Since the first drive-in theatre opened in 1933 in Camden, New Jersey, drive-ins have been a part of North America pop-culture and a rite of summer for many hormone-driven teenagers. Worried about the reputation of drive-ins as passion pits, most major Hollywood studios did not book their pictures there. This resulted in a whole genre of flicks: bioplotation, spaghetti westerns, car chase movies, creature features and gangster flicks. Drive-in Classics is all about these movies.

Judging by what is currently available in Canadian broadcasting, the world of sports is limited to hockey, baseball, football and basketball. Of course, the realm of international sport is much more diverse than this. Until now, Canadians with an interest in the world's most popular sports were simply not able to see their events on national television. Popular competitive sports such as soccer, cricket and rugby have found a new home and viewers will be watching. Fox Sports World Canada is a category two digital specialty service.

PEACE OF MIND

You could buy any tape, right? After all, there's a budget to work within. Yet saving a little now could actually cost you more down the road. You may not be able to squeeze another year out of that trusty VTR. You'll likely have to clean or replace equipment heads more painstakingly...and more often. Why not invest a little more on Fuji quality from the get-go? You save money by foregoing new equipment expenditures. You save time by conducting less maintenance. You save headaches with Fuji on-site technical expertise. In the end, you'll discover that increased peace of mind is the best way to gauge Fuji Professional Tape.

Move To HD!

HDTV is now an affordable reality for your production.

JVC has made an enormous leap into the future introducing the world's first affordable HDTV camcorder, the JY-HD10U.

The JY-HD10U changes the way productions will be shot offering the incredible quality of 720/30p high definition combined with the flexibility to down-convert to standard definition. You've even got the ability to up-convert to a full 1080/60i. Imagine shooting in native 16:9 HD at 1280 x 720 then decide how you want to edit; in SD or HD. You can shoot today for tomorrow!

The results are absolutely startling. Colour purity and discrete chroma reproduction allow you to see the full picture detail without being obscured by low-resolution colour smearing.

The wait is over,
High Definition is now literally within your grasp.
