Evolving Door: Bill Herz, VP Sales at Astral Media Radio and based in Toronto, has announced his retirement although a date has yet to be fixed. He’s been with the operation, through three owners, for 45 years beginning with CFRB Toronto in 1965 part-time while still going to university. He became full-time a year later in sales. In 1975, he tried TV sales at Baton Broadcasting, running their rep shop 1.5 years, then went back to Standard Broadcasting. In 1995, he worked at CHUM for short of a year and again returned to the fold. Last week, Broadcast Dialogue told you of Mario Cecchini’s appointment as Sr. VP, Sales and Marketing. He’ll lead those endeavours for Astral’s 83 stations across Canada. Most recently, Cecchini was VP, Corus Quebec. He succeeded Pierre Rodrigue who had been VP, Sales and Marketing in Quebec. Rodrigue is now VP, Government Relations... Dr. Veena Rawat, President of the Communications Research Centre (CRC), has retired after a 36-year public service career. She joined the Department of Communications, a predecessor of Industry Canada, in 1974. In 2004, Rawat became President of Industry Canada’s research arm, the CRC. Dr. Jean Luc Berube, VP of CRC’s Broadband Network Technologies branch, will act as CRC President until Dr. Rawat’s successor is in place... Aaron Rand has announced that he will retire from his morningman slot at The Q Montreal at April’s end. Rand has been a part of the Montreal radio scene for almost 30 years, almost 22 of them at The Q and its earlier incarnations (CFQR and Q92). Cat Spencer of Virgin Radio 96 Montreal is Rand’s successor but won’t take the Q chair for another six months... Wendy Watson, GM at Newcap’s REWIND 103.9/HOT 93.5 FM Sudbury, has retired. She joined CHNO-FM Sudbury (then ID’ed Big Daddy) in April of 2006. Before that, she had been Sales Manager at CTV Sudbury for 15 years... Marc Lefebvre is CBC British Columbia’s new Manager of Operations for TV News, based in Vancouver. He had been the Production Services Manager for Radio-Canada in the BC/Yukon region... Bud Pierce will join Global Toronto as the Consulting Executive Producer for a new morning news program, planned for later this year. Pierce developed, launched and produced Breakfast Television for Citytv Toronto, where he worked for 24 years... 102.3 NOW! (CKNO-FM) Edmonton SM Ross Hawse has resigned. Look for him to land at a Kelowna radio operation...
Jan Macdonald has been named President of MPG entertainment, a new division of media planning and buying agency MPG. It's a promotion from her role as MPG Sr. VP. The new company aims to provide full service media planning, buying and promotional services... Stuart Johnston has been appointed President of the Canadian Independent Music Association (CIMA). He begins Monday, March 7. Most recently, he was VP of Policy and Government Relations with the Ontario Chamber of Commerce... John Badham, 73, is retiring from a full-time broadcasting shift at The Wolf/Kruz Peterborough. But he will remain at the Corus stations doing commentaries, editorial work and some feature interviews. He's been in broadcasting 53 years, 23 of them in Peterborough. In the '70s and ‘80s, he was highly regarded as a sportscaster in Toronto... Caroline Soucy has been appointed Director of Web content development for TFO MediaGroup in Toronto. She moves from her position as Director, Teletoon Interactive... Steph Hunter becomes PD at Classic Rock FM 96/CKWS-FM

IGN-OFFS: John Dolan of brain cancer in Calgary. Early in his career, Dolan was a DJ in Edmonton before moving to Toronto where he hit his stride as a “good guy” at CKEY and then as a swing announcer at CFRB Toronto. While Dolan did not have a regular time slot at what was then the #1 rated station in Southern Ontario, there was never any doubt about him being the go-to guy for any shift, including mornings when legendary Wally Crouter was off. In recent years, Dolan utilized his great commercial voice from his base in Calgary... Douglas Clinton Gale, 80, who was with CHCH TV 11 (Niagara Television) Hamilton for over 33 years. Gale, who began at CHCH-TV in 1955, retired in 1988 after serving for 11 years as President.

TV: While the Federal Court of Appeal, in a 2-1 ruling, has cleared the way for broadcasters to charge BDUs for carrying their programs, Rogers Communications says it plans to file for a leave to appeal with the Supreme Court. The CRTC had asked the Court of Appeal to rule on whether the Commission had the right to allow TV broadcasters to attach a value to their signals. Rogers will likely be joined by other cable and satellite firms in filing the leave to appeal. Since the battle for public understanding waged by CTV and Global, both have since been purchased by the distributors they were fighting... In a related story, highlights from the Statistics Canada report on the cable and satellite television industry include:

* In 2009, the operating revenues of cable and satellite TV companies rose 10.6% over 2008 to reach $11.4 billion (current dollars). It was the fourth consecutive year that revenue growth was in excess of 10%
* For the first time, in 2009, cable operators had more subscribers to telecommunications services like telephony and Internet than to TV services
* Cable operators’ subscription revenues from non-programming services (other than television), including Internet and telephony, have been steadily rising. In 2009, they represented 45.8% of cable operators’ subscription revenues, compared with 43.2% in 2008 and 39.4% in 2007
* For the first time, in 2009, a majority of cable subscribers were using digital technology for TV services.
As of Aug. 31, 2009, 58.3% of cable TV subs had chosen this technology

* Wireless operators have managed to maintain their share of the market, with growth in the number of their TV subs (+2.5) slightly exceeding that of cable operators (+1.2%)

* Wireless service providers, mainly satellite providers, had a profit margin before interest and taxes of 3.2%, compared with 27.5% for cable operators...

A Channel Zero property, Ouat (pron: what) Media, won two Oscars at the 83rd Academy Awards; in the Live Action Short Film and the Animated Short Film categories... The Quebec Court of Appeal says that the judge presiding over the case between Quebecor CEO Pierre Karl Peladeau and Sylvain Lafrance, the head of the CBC’s French service, will be recused. The Superior Court will now decide if there’ll be a new trial. Peladeau sued Lafrance, Radio-Canada and CBC ex-President Robert Rabinovitch for $700,000 over comments Lafrance made about Peladeau during an interview with a Quebec newspaper in 2007. Quebecor lawyers had demanded the judge recuse himself because, they said, he was not impartial... The CRTC is seeking input on regulating digital services and, to that end, will hold a round table forum with people described as “key representatives of industry, academia and government” March 23 and 24 in Ottawa. The round table will occur even as conflict increases between services such as Netflix and telecommunications companies. Because the CRTC doesn’t consider Netflix and services like it to be broadcasters, those companies don’t fall under Commission regulation... Specialty channel, Canal D, was not in violation of the CAB Code of Ethics for airing a sexually explicit program at Midnight. The Canadian Broadcast Standards Council was, however, concerned with the dearth of viewer advisories. The complete decision may be found at www.cbsc.ca.

RADIO: There is a remarkable National Film Board documentary from 1949 looking at the state of Canadian radio. While the primary focus is on the CBC, there is much to see, hear and learn about how things were done 60-65 years ago. If you aren’t a history buff, watch it anyway. There’s terrific entertainment value: http://www.nfb.ca/film/canada_calling.

GENERAL: Earl Seitz of CFJC-TV Kamloops and Dave Biro of A\ Victoria will be honoured with 2011 RTNDA Lifetime Achievement Awards in the BC Region during the annual RTNDA British Columbia Regional Awards Banquet in Vancouver May 28. Seitz is a long-time Sportscaster and Biro is an Assignment Editor and a veteran radio and TV news broadcaster... Robert Kennedy, writing in The Huffington Post, has an interesting, if politically partisan and somewhat naive look at the Canadian broadcast scene. His column can be seen by clicking HERE.

SUPPLYLINES: Axia NGNetworks USA, owned by Calgary-based Axia, has signed a 10-year extendable agreement to be the Network Operator for the MassBroadband 123 fibre network, spearheaded by the Massachusetts Broadband Institute (MBI).
BCE has been given CRTC approval to acquire CTVglobemedia. There was one major condition to the $1.3-billion deal, however. It ordered BCE to invest $245 million: * $100 million toward drama and comedy series * Money under the tangible benefits package on allowing satellite carriage for at least 43 additional TV services * Sustaining the /AI TV stations for at least three years, and * Enhancing local news programming in several cities. The Commission also imposed a moratorium on BCE using its dominant position as both broadcaster and carrier to discriminate against competitors until the conclusion of hearings on vertical integration later this year. BCE says all CTV properties will fall under a new business unit named Bell Media. The CTVglobemedia holding company name will be retired at the close of the sale. ... Quebeccor says its new Sun TV will launch April 18. It had been set to go at mid-March but faced some administrative challenges, thus the delay. An ad set to air emphasizes that the network will be standing up for taxpayers and defending ordinary Canadians. International news content will be purchased from CNN... Bell ExpressVu Limited Partnership has won CRTC approval for a national, terrestrial pay-per-view service to be largely composed of live and tape-delayed live sports, and special events programming... Quebeccor subsidiary, TVA Group, earned $19.8 million in its latest quarter. The Quebec broadcaster said profit was 83 cents per share for the last quarter of 2010, compared with a profit of $21.1 million, or 89 cents per share, a year earlier... Astral says its Playhouse Disney will transform to become Disney Junior May 6. Disney Junior will showcase stories that include classic and contemporary Disney characters with learning and development themes.

EVOLVING DOOR: Braden Doerr is the new GM at Haliburton Broadcasting’s recent acquisition, CJCS/CHGK-FM Stratford. Most recently, Doerr had been GM of Astral Media Radio’s four-station cluster in London. Interestingly, he began his broadcast career over 30 years ago at CJCS. Gone from the Stratford stations is longtime ND Kirk Dickson. He was released upon the deal’s closing... Giselle Sowa is no

Radio: Two panels of broadcasters – from the Canadian Association of Broadcasters and the British Columbia Association of Broadcasters – appeared before the Legislative Committee on Bill C-32, presenting witness testimony on the importance of the copyright reform bill to the broadcasting industry.

While representatives from all political parties acknowledged the contribution private broadcasters make to their local communities, they posed tough questions related to the on-air campaign outlining C-32’s impact on local radio (www.ISupportMyLocalRadio.ca)... CBC President Hubert Lacroix, in a bid to gather the opinions of staff and stakeholders, was in Sydney, NS, meeting with a group of CBC Radio listeners in the morning and staff that afternoon. Lacroix is following up on the public broadcaster’s strategic plan which identified 7.5 million Canadians, mostly in the West, who don’t have access to local CBC services. The plan, he said, “...is going to play out over the next five years because we’d like to make sure... we connect with these Canadians whether it is through our web presence, a radio station, (or) a combination of both”... Rogers Radio VP Programming Julie Adam is this year’s winner of The Rosalie Award. It will be presented tonight (Thursday) at the Canadian Music and Broadcast Industry Awards in Toronto... income was $4.7 million or 14 cents per diluted share, down from $5.5 million or 16 cents per share in 2009’s fourth quarter. Revenue grew by 6%, rising to $32.2 million from $30.5 million in the fourth 2009 quarter... CHNL Kamloops has just completed an almost unheard-of AM transmitter upgrade. A new 2-kW Nautel transmitter is now up and running, replacing a 1976 installation... Newly-acquired The Bounce (CHBN-FM) Edmonton will join its new Rogers Radio sister, Sonic 102.9 (CHDI-FM) Edmonton, at its Gateway Blvd location. Ethnic World FM 101.7 (CKER) Edmonton, meanwhile, will move to the Jasper Ave location to be close to OMNI-Television. Date for the location swap has yet to be determined... In one of those unplanned events on behalf of a victim, K-97 Edmonton came through big-time for a nine-year-old Grande Prairie boy who suffers from Job Syndrome, a rare skin disease that causes abnormalities of the skin, sinuses, lungs, bones and teeth. Medication, not covered on his Mom’s health plan, costs about $3,000 a month. The Terry, Bill & Steve Show told listeners about it and – Voila! – almost overnight (3 days later), donations exceeded $39,000.

GENERAL: Shaw Communications was honoured at the fourth annual Canadian Dealmakers gala in the Media & Telecommunications Industry category. The gala celebrates the best merger and acquisition deals of 2010. Shaw won for its $2 billion acquisition of all of the broadcasting assets of Canwest Global Communications, including all of Canwest’s equity interests in CW Investments... Patrick Brown, who has distinguished himself many times with journalistic excellence, will be awarded the Canadian Journalism Foundation’s Lifetime Achievement Award at their annual awards gala June 7 in Toronto. CINA Mississauga, a low-power ethnic station at 1,000 watts, has CRTC approval to increase signal strength to 5,000 watts during daylight hours. At dusk, the station, at 1,650, must reduce to 680 watts. Opposing interventions came from CJMR Mississauga, Radio Shalom, the Canadian Association of Ethnic Broadcasters, Evanov Radio Group and Canadian Multicultural Radio. They argued that a power boost would, in effect, elevate CINA from its low-power status to that of a mainline station... The CRTC has proposed new radio regulations amendments to come into force Sept. 1 that would establish a single policy for campus and community radio. Among the changes is simplification to licensing by getting rid of the distinction between Type A and Type B community stations. Comments are invited by April 11...

In 1954, he joined the new Television Division of All-Canada in Toronto as the first private TV station, CKSO Sudbury, came on the air.

TV: Shaw Communications is cutting about 500 jobs from its more than 13-thousand employees. The restructuring, says President Peter Bissonnette, will affect Western Canadian jobs, including managers and supervisors. The cuts will not affect the Shaw Media (formerly Global) TV assets... The CRTC is requiring conventional TV stations to begin PSAs May 1 that inform Canadians of the transition Aug. 31 to digital television and how to prepare. The PSAs must be broadcast a minimum of six times daily with at least 25% of them aired between 7:00 p.m. and 11:00 p.m... The CRTC has denied a CBC application to discontinue its analog transmitter serving Fredericton and Saint John, and instead provide only a digital transmitter to serve Fredericton. Saint John, under the plan, would be left out. The Commission’s policy, it said, encourages broadcasters to continue serving their original audiences after the transition... This past Monday on Global Toronto, Reporter Mark McAllister, while doing a live stand-up, suffered what’s described as “a minor medical issue” that caused him to experience a moment of disorientation. Paramedics were called to the scene. McAllister is now under the care of his own doctor... The 2011 Banff World Media Festival will kick off with a media leaders panel. GENERAL: Mark Dailey and Ross Kentner will be honoured with 2011 RTNDA Lifetime Achievement Awards in the Central Region. The posthumous award to Dailey, the late CityNews Toronto Anchor and imaging voice, will be accepted by his widow, Kim Dailey, and Citytv VP News/Executive Producer Tina Cortese at the presentation during the RTNDA Central Regional Awards Banquet in Waterloo. Ross Kentner, the GM of Bayshore Broadcasting, based in Owen Sound, began his career as an operator and quickly moved into the newsroom, eventually becoming ND and later GM of CFOS in 1985. As Bayshore Broadcasting expanded under his direction, news remains front and centre at all stations. Kentner is a past chair of the Ontario Association of Broadcasters and has received the Queen’s Golden Jubilee Medal awarded for community service... Two omissions from last week’s item about RTNDA winners on the Prairies: the Sam Ross Award for Best Editorial Commentary (Television) went to Global Edmonton and the Use of New Media Award was presented to Rawlco Radio for www.paNOW.com... The CBC scored in the federal budget to the tune of an extra $60 million per year. The proviso was that the money be used in the production of high-quality Canadian programming. The boost in funding, if it manages to survive, would be on top of the $1.1 billion the public broadcaster already receives.

TV: CBC’s new head of English TV Services, Kirstine Stewart, says foreign TV shows are "a crutch" for the CBC and will be cut from the schedule "as much as possible". She says CBC will have more Canadian content over the next five years although not all foreign content will be dumped. On the up side, Stewart said "Jeopardy" and "Wheel of Fortune" brought audiences to the public network, making hits out of "Republic of Doyle", "The Rick Mercer Report" and "Battle of the Blades"... California-based Netflix now has a five-year Canadian rights deal for hundreds of movies from Paramount Pictures, including exclusive distribution of first runs on all future premium titles. That bit of news, announced this week, puts the online distributor into direct competition with The Movie Network, the pay-per-view owned by Astral Media and Movie Central, owned by Corus. Bluntly stated, Corus and Astral won’t have rights to new Paramount titles... Still with Netflix, it has reduced the data usage of their streaming content by 1/3, reducing their the bandwidth. SIGN-OFFS: Roger Abbott, 64, of chronic lymphocytic leukemia in Toronto. The actor-comedian from the Royal Canadian Air Farce, passed away 14 years after hearing the diagnosis but kept it a secret from all but his closest friends. Don Ferguson, Abbott’s fellow Air Farce star, said on the show’s website that he was “heartbroken” over Abbott’s passing. One of his Abbott’s quirkiest characters was the bitchy Gilbert Smythe-Bite-Me, a critic of everything including what was likely his favourite target, The Women’s Television Network. Air Farce co-stars Don Ferguson and Luba Goy were in Studio Q along with Rick Mercer to remember him. See the interview at http://www.cbc.ca/q/news_promo/2011/03/28/remembering-roger-abbott/... Ron Ward, the Ward in Ward-Beck Systems, in Victoria. He built W.B.S. into a globally recognized name. An interview with Paul McCartney discussing the Beatles, Wings and others of his musical efforts, saw McCartney perched beside a Ward Beck Systems mixing console in a London studio... Bruce Gordon Payne, 64, in Victoria. Payne began his broadcasting career in Nanaimo when he was 17, then worked at many different radio and TV stations throughout B.C., finishing his career at CHEK TV Victoria... Walter Bebenek, in Toronto of Alzheimer’s. A former Ampex VP, Bebenek was a key figure in the Canadian broadcasting scene from the ‘70s through the ‘90s.

GENERAL: The Supreme Court of Canada will decide whether or not Internet service providers should be subject to the same laws as traditional broadcasters. This comes on the heels of the growing trend amongst Canadians who watch TV shows and full-length movies via the Internet. Should ISPs be treated as conventional broadcasters? If so, ISPs would fall under CRTC regulations. A coalition of cultural groups, including the Canadian Media Production Association and the Writers Guild of Canada, argues that ISPs should be required to help pay for the production of Canadian-made content. Opposed is a similar coalition made up of BCE’s Bell Canada unit, Rogers Communications and Shaw Communications. All will likely argue the differences between ISPs and traditional broadcast entities... For the first time, four pool cameras for major news media recorded closing arguments in a B.C. Supreme Court case dealing with Canada’s anti-polygamy laws. There is a mute switch controlled by the judge, however, plus a 10-minute delay in the live coverage. Cameras in the courtroom has been a long-time issue, spearheaded by RTNDA and by the networks. CBC lawyer Dan...
Henry, who has been working on the cameras-in-the-courtroom file for upwards of 20 years, perhaps longer, said of the decision that he hopes it is successful and that it results in greater access next time.

Radio: Harvard Broadcasting’s 95.7 The Sound (CKEA-FM) Edmonton has dropped its ‘90s gold-based Triple A in favour of Soft AC. The station is now ID’d Lite 95.7. The husband and wife team of Jamie O’Connell and Dan Hunt, ex of Rawlco’s up! 99.3 FM Edmonton, co-host morning drive while Ryann Bradley (former morning host) does afternoon drive. Lite 95.7’s format shift was a strategic move in light of CFMG-FM Edmonton having switched to Virgin Radio 104.9... A consultation was opened Tuesday by the CRTC on the Community Radio Fund of Canada’s proposed structural and operational plan. In July of last year, the Commission said CRFC could be the beneficiary of tangible benefits resulting from transactions involving commercial radio stations. As well, the CRTC said that stations earning more than $1.25 million annually should contribute 15% of their basic annual contributions to the community radio fund. CRFC, says the Commission, has to create measures so that all funds are accounted-for and spent in accordance with CRTC policy. Comments deadline is April 28... Bruce Wylie, Jrfm Brockville’s morning show Host, will celebrate 40 years at the station next Thursday, April 7. Colleagues who have passed through the Brockville radio operation are invited to send along audio greetings to: dan.wylie@chumradio.com... Gerry Phelan, ex ND at VOCM St. John’s, is now writing a weekly column in the city’s The Telegram newspaper. Phelan and VOCM parted company last month after he’d spent 27 years with the station.
