New CBC Shortwave Serves Australia

Governor-General And Australian And New Zealand High Commissioners Speak In Inaugural Broadcast

Montreal.—Canada and Australia are "the two main pivots upon which rests the future of the British Commonwealth of Nations," Rt. Hon. F. M. Forde, Australian High Commissioner to Canada, said in an address beamed by shortwave to Australia and New Zealand by the CBC International Service.

"Both Australia and Canada feel that, as senior members of the British Commonwealth, they will be called upon to play an ever-increasing part in maintaining the prestige and building the defences of the British Commonwealth," said Mr. Forde.

"And we both realize that the best guarantee of a just and lasting peace depends on a strong British Commonwealth on the one hand, and on the other a powerful United States working in close co-operation with the other members of the United Nations."

Norwegian Holiday

The speaker in the CBC series Our Summer Holiday on Wednesday, July 9, (3:48 p.m.) will be Mrs. EDITH OKKENHAUG, of Oslo, Norway. This picture was taken at CBC's Winnipeg offices last summer, when Mr. and Mrs. Okkenhaug were visitors to the Prairie Region. Mr. Okkenhaug is the director of school broadcasts for Norway's publicly owned, non-commercial radio system.

Happy Gang in Winnipeg

The "Happy Gang" ganged up on the "Countess of Dufferin," C.P.R. No. 1, when they arrived in Winnipeg on June 20 for a one night stand in the course of their first tour of western Canada. The members of the popular CBC radio show from Toronto gave the old engine a thorough examination before heading off for rehearsal. Left to right they are: CLIFF MACKAY, KATHLEEN STOKES, CECIL JOHNS, BERT PEARL, master of ceremonies, HUGH BARTLETT, GEORGE TEMPLE, EDDIE ALLEN, JIM NAMARA, BLAIN MATHE, BOB GIMBY and JOE NIOSI. The "Countess," named for the wife of Canada's Governor-General, was the first C.P.R. engine in Winnipeg, arriving by barge from North Dakota in 1877.

Manitoba Farmers For National Radio

Attempts To Break Down National Radio Denounced At Winnipeg Convention

CBC Farm Broadcasts and the National Farm Radio Forum were "invaluable to the farmer" and could not be carried on under anything other than a national radio system, according to a unanimous resolution passed by the Manitoba Federation of Agriculture and Co-operation, meeting in Winnipeg on June 25.

The resolution also contained a clause requesting the Dominion Government to "preserve" the CBC against present attempts by private interests to "break down national radio."

William Demarest Visits CBC Winnipeg

A cheerful and amusing visitor to CBC's Prairie Region headquarters last week was Mr. William Demarest of Hollywood, who was accompanied by Mrs. Demarest.

Mr. Demarest was in Winnipeg for the world premiere of a picture in which he appears, called Welcome Stranger. It was not his first visit, however, as the prairie city had been one of his ports of call in vaudeville days. He spent a good deal of time at the CBC offices writing autographs for members of the staff, and accompanying them with humorous verses.

Marjorie Duff, CBC women's commentator, interviewed Mr. and Mrs. Demarest on the air, and also broadcast an amusing account of a breakfast she had with the comedian.

Foster Hewitt Seeks Upper Canada Alumni

A visitor to Winnipeg last week was Foster Hewitt, whose broadcast descriptions of N.H.L. hockey games are a regular Saturday night event on CBC's Trans-Canada network during the winter season.

Hewitt was en route in a cross-Canada tour during which he is renewing contacts with alumni of Upper Canada College, Toronto. He is the president of the Old Boys' Association of Upper Canada. In Winnipeg he met Sir Charles Tupper, Mr. Justice P. J. Montague, and others.

Hewitt's first broadcast this fall will be of an all-star professional game in Toronto October 15. On October 18 he begins his regular N.H.L. broadcasts.

CBC Unit To Record Calgary Stampede

International Service To Broadcast Great Western Show For Listeners Abroad

Out of necessity the western cowboys developed many skills in handling horses and cattle. In the old days they had to rope, break and ride the wild horses that roamed the plains, rope and brand beef cattle, and drive chuck wagons across miles of unbroken land to follow the herd. Mechanized farming and new methods of animal husbandry that are helping Canada to produce more food than ever before have not done away with the tasks of breaking horses or branding cattle. Though the cowboy in the old sense belongs to the past, his skill and enjoyment in taming wild animals is not forgotten.

For 62 years now, cowboys from all over the western half of the North American Continent have congregated at Calgary, Alberta, for an annual "stampede." For six days each July competitions are held to establish champions in the most unusual tests of strength, speed, skill and agility.

Over a third of a million guests are expected to gather this year for the Calgary Stampede, which has become the biggest event in the

HARMONY HARBOR (11:30 a.m.)

Harmony Harbour, a half-hour of songs and stories of the sea featuring the Acadian Male Quartet, with Marjorie Payne at the console of the organ. Today the Quartet will sing: When the Winds O'er the Sea Blow a Gale; I Love the Sea; Red Sails in the Sunset; Good Morning, Ladies All; Crossing the Bar; and Sweet and Low.

FOLKSONGS FOR YOUNG FOLK (12:00 p.m.)

Starting today, Allan Mills' program, a favourite with the youngsters, will be heard on Sundays from noon to 12:15 p.m. A veteran stage actor and a baritone who has sung in everything from minstrel shows to grand opera, Mills will again sing old English folk songs, one of which, Three Pirates, is a request. Allan Mills intends to give one request per program. The other offerings will be: Bobby Shaftoe, My Man John, Sing Ivy, and Widdicombe Fair, a Somerset folk song.

DAVID AND THE BLUE WHALE (12:15 p.m.)

Undersea adventures of a small boy and a very large whale will be related for young radio listeners in a new story series beginning today, and replacing Just Mary for the summer, while Mary is on vacation. The stories will be read by Alan MacFee, CBC announcer, regularly heard on the Just Mary program. Children will be introduced in make-believe to such ocean oddities as fiddle-playing crabs, dancing dolphins, and sponges that make tunes on the organ. Today's broadcast will tell how David finds a sad blue whale lying stranded on a rock by the sea, and helps it to get back into the water. As a reward for this, the whale agrees to take David to the fabulous undersea court of King Neptune, thus opening the way for all manner of adventures to thrill a young audience.

CAPITAL REPORT (1:03 p.m.)

Speakers this week will include: Chester Bloom from Ottawa, Matthew Halton from London, and Alexander Uhl from Washington.

RELIGIOUS PERIOD (1:30 p.m.)

Rev. E. M. Johnson, Secretary of Missionary Education of the Presbyterian Church, will be today's speaker. He will broadcast from Toronto.

CHURCH OF THE AIR (3:30 p.m.)

The service this week will be conducted by the Reverend Ross C.

Eaton, of the Baptist Church, Truro, N.S.

SPICE FOR THE READER (4:03 p.m.)

Light and breezy musings about books and the people who read them will be broadcast by CBC Commentator Jean Hinds, formerly of Winnipeg, now of Toronto. Miss Hinds will entertain radio audiences each week with such varied fare as the effect of hot weather on poetry; the current crop of books based on "family skeletons;" why advertisements are such popular reading; and the colorful "pocket editions" found in most drug stores. The first broadcast today is entitled Escape from the Day Coach, or Murder on the Train. Miss Hinds will talk about what people read on trains and why.

THE READERS TAKE OVER (6:00 p.m.)

Of special interest to detective story fans is the next broadcast in this weekly series, in which Dorothy Savers, English detective story writer and radio dramatist, will discuss her books with a group of critics. Dorothy Savers is not only a well-known author of mystery tales and poetry, but also of books of a religious nature. The Readers Take Over is a program in which members of the reading public tell British writers what they like or dislike about their books. It is heard on CBC's Trans-Canada network through the transcription service of the BBC.

SUNDAY SERENADE (6:30 p.m.)

This Sunday series featuring an orchestra conducted by Percy Harvey with Cora James, soprano, as soloist, will be heard at a new time starting this week. Mrs. James' songs will be: Why (Tchaikovsky); Speak To Me Of Love (Lenoir); and Allah's Holiday, from Katinka (Friml). The orchestra will be heard in: Slavonic Dance Numbers 8 and 10 (A. Dvorak); Cavatina (Raff); Acceleration Waltz (Strauss); Berceuse (Ijinsky); Lady Picking Mulberries (Kelley); and Serenade (Pierne).

THE OLD SONGS (9:10 p.m.)

Songs that go back to the days when almost every barber shop had its own quartet, are sung by the Four Gentlemen, with Jean Dean at the piano. Tonight the quartet will sing the familiar Long, Long Ago; a pathetic ditty called The Wedding Gown that Nellie Never Wore; a romantic lyric known as Love Divine; a sentimental song about That Little Boy of Mine; and a melody of unknown origin, called Captain Jinks. The program will conclude with a western medley made up of Nobody's Darling But Mine, Boots and Saddle, and I'm an Old Cow-Hand. The Four Gentlemen are Jack Reid and William Morton, tenors; Ernest Berry, baritone; and John Harcourt, bass.

Music Transcribed For Heritage Series

"We of the twentieth century are the inheritors of music from many countries, written by men in many different styles. In these programs we bring you each week a fragment from that heritage."

These opening words in the program, Heritage of Music, broadcast from CBC Vancouver on Fridays at 9:30 p.m., give the reason for the title.

During the summer months, beginning July 11, the performers in this series will be a chamber music group consisting of five strings and five woodwinds led by John Avison.

Not many standard works have been written for such an ensemble, but last summer when this group performed for CBC, a considerable repertoire was built up. This will be added to this year, the CBC having commissioned two Vancouver musicians, Maurice Miles and Laurence Wilson, to transcribe works by Beethoven, Schumann, Schubert, and Mozart for these instruments. Modern composers will also be represented.

John Avison recently returned from studies at the Juillard School of Music in New York, and is a former infantry officer. He has led Vancouver concert orchestras on CBC broadcasts for some years.

A steady stream of letters comes to CBC's Vancouver headquarters in appreciation of Heritage of Music, representing every province of the Dominion and many northern states.

To ISW

IRA DILWORTH, Regional Representative of the CBC in the British Columbia region, has been appointed general supervisor of the CBC's International Service in Montreal, according to an announcement by Dr. Augustin Frigon, general manager of the CBC. Jean-Marie Beaudet, director of the CBC's French network and supervisor of music, will succeed Mr. Dilworth at Vancouver.

MORNING DEVOTIONS (9:45 a.m.)

Rev. Otto Winter of the Lutheran Church will conduct the daily devotional period from Winnipeg this week.

MANY HAPPY RETURNS (3:48 p.m.)

The first program in this new series dealing with adventures in living which have basic interest for old and young alike, but in which the techniques for success must differ with each generation, will be heard this afternoon. The speaker will be S. R. Laycock, professor of educational psychology, University of Saskatchewan. The title of his talk today will be, Adventures with Leisure. Other talks in the series will deal with: Adventures with Friendships—July 14; Adventures with Jobs—July 21; and Adventures with Citizenship—July 28.

CHICO VALLE (6:00 p.m.)

When Cuban singer Chico Valle returned to Canada and his CBC program from a recent holiday in his native Havana, he brought with him some of the latest songs in Latin-American tempos. One of these tunes, a bolero called Me Gustas Mucho, will be included tonight in this weekly program featuring songs and music by Valle and an instrumental trio. The program will also include a Mexican corrido, La Altenitas; a bolero, Solamente una Vez; and a guaracha, Los Hijos de Buda. The trio, Los Cubanitos, consists of Fernando Lloren, who plays the bongos; Eduardo Nardelli, who shakes the maracas; and his brother, Victor Nardelli, who strums the guitar.

Home For Holiday

Back to the prairies for a well-earned holiday is EARL CAMERON, CBC announcer now of Toronto, whose voice is heard regularly on the CBC National News. Mr. Cameron visited Winnipeg to pick up his brother, Dan Cameron, CBC talks producer. They and their families will proceed to the old home town of Moose Jaw, where they will visit their parents.

SERENADE FOR STRINGS (Dom. 7:00 p.m.)

Jacques Labrecque, tenor, will be the guest soloist tonight in this Montreal series. He has selected three songs by Scarlatti, Duparc and Strauss. The orchestra under the direction of Jean Deslauriers will play the overture to The Magic Flute, by Mozart; The Serenade from Edouard Lalo's ballet Naimona, the first movement of Gade's Novelette and Moto Perpetuo, by Lotter.

FLICKS AND FLASHES (Dom. 9:30 p.m.)

This new series is a movie commentary by Susan Fletcher, a Toronto girl who went from CBC's Stage 46 (1946 series, Toronto drama) to New York, where she became assistant stage manager for Maurice Evans and Gilbert Miller. Miss Fletcher is now in Hollywood, where she has been talking to a number of highly-advertised people, such as Frank Sinatra, Katharine Hepburn, Mary Pickford, Walter Pidgeon, Stewart Granger and Margaret Lockwood. Her commentaries will add to the voluminous data upon the lives of these people already available to the public.

THE GYPSY (10:30 p.m.)

Conductor Cardo Smalley will sum up all the colour and excitement of the gypsy life in the old world in this new Vancouver series. Smalley, conducting the same orchestra which won wide popularity on the Gypsy Strings program last year, will carry Canadian listeners in imagination into the cities of old Europe, to the camp fires of wandering gypsy bands. Smalley's gypsy violin becomes almost a "personality" in itself, guiding listeners on their musical tour. While gypsy music predominates in the series, there will be wide scope in selections, and one program may include numbers from places as far apart as Vienna, Roumania, Turkey and Spain. As in the original Gypsy Strings series, traditional gypsy numbers will be presented from manuscript. They have been written down from memory at CBC's request by cellist Deszo Mahalek, a member of the orchestra. These are authentic gypsy and folk tunes which he recalls from his childhood days in Hungary. In addition, conductor Smalley has arranged to import a great many gypsy pieces from European sources. These are numbers not available in sheet music form on this continent and will be arranged especially for the series by musicians at CBC's Vancouver music library. Gordon Inglis is the announcer.

SONATA SERIES (11:00 p.m.)

Pearl Palmason, violinist, and Snolaug Sigurdson, pianist, are heard in this series. Tonight they will perform Cesar Franck's Sonata in A Major.

PACIFIC PIANOFORTE (11:30 p.m.)

John Beckwith, 17-year-old pianist now holidaying at the west coast, has been booked by CBC's Vancouver studios for four performances. Beckwith was born in Victoria and received his early musical education there. A few years ago he went to Toronto where he graduated in music from the University of Toronto, and in 1945 won the Hazel Ireland Eaton scholarship. At the present time he is studying at the Toronto Conservatory under Alberto Guerrero. Tonight he will play works by Beethoven, including Sonata in E Minor Opus 90, and Six Bagatelles. On subsequent programs he will play compositions by Brahms and Bach.

Notes

ALL-STAR BASEBALL
(Dom. 1:15 p.m.)

An all-star baseball game, with teams made up of outstanding players from the American and National leagues, will be broadcast from Pittsburgh over the CBC Dominion network. Players were chosen by popular vote of baseball fans.

ARTISTS OF TOMORROW
(3:30 p.m.)

Clermont Pepin, a young and gifted Quebec composer, will be the guest of the CBC today. Born near Quebec City, Pepin started to learn piano and composition very young. He then studied at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. Later his compositions twice won him scholarships from the Composers, Authors and Publishers Association of Canada. Before returning to the province of Quebec, he took composition at the Conservatory of Music in Toronto. His recital, entirely made of his own compositions, will be broadcast from Quebec City.

PAINTED ARROWS (6:45 p.m.)

The tale of Paul Savard on the prairies a hundred years ago continues in Warren Chafe's adaptation of Mary Weekes' story. It looks as if young Paul's troubles may be nearing an end, but doubts and fears still oppress him. They are groundless. On the trail behind, his father and his young Indian friend Dying Loon,

Philip Marlowe, Detective

The new program on CBC's Dominion network on Tuesdays at 9:00 p.m., replacing Bob Hope for the summer months, originates on the NBC networks in the United States and has as principal performer Van Heflin, former seaman and winner of a Hollywood academy award. As "Philip Marlowe, Detective," Heflin enacts a series of adventures each complete in itself. In the picture, he and his announcer, WENDELL NILES, are looking over confiscated arms in the crime laboratory of the Los Angeles police department.

are slowly overtaking him, with the aid of Assiniboine guides. A glad reunion seems probable, in the near future.

WINNIPEG STRING ORCHESTRA
(8:00 p.m.)

This Winnipeg program of fine string music has been a feature of the CBC's western Trans-Canada networks for some months. The conductor is Percy Harvey. Tonight's program includes: Symphony in D (Toeschi); Chanson de Matin (Elgar); Chanson de Soir (Elgar); At St. Basil's (Borodkin); and an Old Russian Soldiers' Song by Dubensky.

LEICESTER SQUARE TO BROADWAY
(9:30 p.m.)

With everybody worrying about the housing shortage, William Carr has other things on his mind. What You Going To Do When The Rent Comes Round? is his problem, and that's the title of his song with the Barbershop Quartet tonight. Along the same lines Belle McEwan sings Home Sweet Home. Harry Pryce directs the orchestra.

Van Heflin Replaces Bob Hope On Dom.

Van Heflin, Broadway stage success and motion picture academy award winner, is the star of the new NBC adventure-mystery series, Philip Marlowe, Detective, which replaces Bob Hope for the summer. It is based on the stories of Raymond Chandler and is heard in Canada on Tuesdays at 9:00 p.m. over the CBC's Dominion network.

Heflin, or Emmet Evan Heflin to be exact, was born in Walters, Oklahoma, and received his education at public schools in Oklahoma City where his parents moved when he was a year old. Later he attended Polytechnic High School at Long Beach, the University of Oklahoma, and Yale University.

Before his Hollywood career forced him to halt his wanderings, Heflin travelled extensively as a seaman. As a high school boy he shipped out of Long Beach, California, on each summer vacation, visiting nearly all of the famous ports of call. Later vacation periods were spent in a similar fashion and for three years he sailed through the Orient, back to South America and up to Alaska.

He was married in 1942 and has two children, Vana and Cathleen Carol. Heflin is six feet one inch tall, weighs 180 pounds and has blond hair and gray eyes.

Louise Roy, Singing Star, Visits Home

A young lady who won second place in the Singing Stars contest heard over CBC networks last winter, and who has been described by Ettore Mazzoleni of the Toronto Conservatory, as "one of the few real talents in Canada, with the physique and big voice essential for a true Wagnerian soprano," was a visitor to the home of her parents, Judge L. P. and Mrs. Roy, in Winnipeg last week.

The young lady is Louise Roy, 22 years old. She was the first French-Canadian west of Toronto to win honors in the Singing Stars competition, and was chosen from among 44 contestants. She sings in five languages and has a repertoire of 400 songs. Miss Roy left her parents' home this week for Lennox, Massachusetts, where she will study at the Rollins Theatre School, of which Dr. Serge Koussevitzky is the chairman.

Notes

OUR SUMMER HOLIDAY (3:48 p.m.)

A small island off the south coast of Norway, an old farm-house full of cool corners, and miles of sea-coast and fields for swimming and playing in the sun—these spell holiday contentment to the Okkenhaug family, of Oslo, Norway. A colourful description of the carefree days this family spent on the island last summer will be given today in this CBC series describing vacation ways all over the world. The speaker will be Mrs. Edith Okkenhaug, who toured Canada last year with her husband, who is in charge of school broadcasts on Norway's publicly owned radio.

STRING TIME (7:00 p.m.)

The orchestra under the direction of Jack Norton will play a group of popular selections tonight. I Won't Dance and Lovely to Look At are among the orchestral selections as well as Cole Porter's Begin the Beguine. Vocalist Simone offers Smoke Gets In Your Eyes, You'll Always Be The One I Love and Time After Time.

THE CHORISTERS (8:00 p.m.)

Winnipeg's Choristers, conducted by W. H. Anderson, with Roline MacKidd as piano accompanist, will be heard again in a characteristic program. Mr. Anderson's selections, for tonight include: Ye That Went To My Pipes Sound (Morley); Shule Agra, a traditional Irish air; Love Is Meant To Make Us Glad (Edward German); My Sweet Sweeting (Bell); Hymn To The Night (C. Tip-ton); a French song, Love Me Truly,

Conductor

JOHN AVISON will conduct a chamber music group of five strings and five woodwinds in the new summer series of Heritage of Music, from Vancouver, beginning Friday, July 11, at 9:30 p.m.

Shepherdess, by Lefevre; Call To Remembrance (Tarrant); and Come, O Blessed Lady (Tschaikovsky). Mrs. MacKidd will play a Prelude and Gigue in G Minor from the Sixth Harpischord Sonata by Thomas Arne; and an Etude in E Major by Chopin.

SYMPHONY FOR STRINGS (8:30 p.m.)

Jeannette Caille, Toronto pianist, will be guest artist with the orchestra conducted by Harold Sumberg. Miss Caille will play excerpts from Ernest Bloch's Concerto Grosso for String Orchestra, with piano obligato. These are: Prelude, Dirge, Pastoral and Rustic Dances, and Fugue. The orchestra will play a prelude by Vaughan-Williams, based on a Welsh hymn tune called Rhosymedre.

NEW CBC SHORTWAVE—Conc.

direct to Australasia and the South Pacific also included messages of greeting by the Governor General, Viscount Alexander, and Hon. James Thorn, New Zealand High Commissioner to Canada.

Months of planning led up to the inauguration of the new service which Mr. Forde hailed as "yet another link in the chain of friendship which joins the people of Canada and the people of Australia." Starting July 6, specially prepared one-hour Canadian radio programs will be beamed every Sunday across Canada and Pacific from the CBC International Service transmitters at Sackville, N.B. The programs will go out in the early morning to reach listeners "down under" at supper time the same day.

"Feelings of friendship and kinship between Australians and Canadians have always existed," Mr. Forde said, "but never so intimately as since the arrival in Canada of the 10,500 Australians who trained here during the war under the British Commonwealth Air Training Scheme. These boys made friends for Australia from Vancouver Island to Halifax. They took home with them stories of the hospitality which the Canadians lavished on them and which have endeared the Canadian to the Australian. More than 500 of them took back home Canadian brides, and these young women are making friends for Canada from Perth in Western Australia to Cooktown in North Queensland.

"Through this new shortwave service which begins today, Australians will learn more about Canada and the Canadian way of life. They will learn what we Australians now living in Canada have come to realize so forcibly—that there are no two other countries in the world which have so much in common as have Australia and Canada.

"We are both vast countries with comparatively small populations and all the problems of development to contend with. We have both increased tremendously our secondary industries during the last war. In our homes and workshops we do the same things, we live the same type of lives and we try to solve the same problems.

Ends of the Earth

"But although we are two nations pursuing parallel destinies, each eager to learn more about the other, and each inspired by feelings of the utmost friendliness with each other, we are at the opposite ends of the earth.

"It is true that you can make the journey by air from Vancouver to Sydney in the same time as it takes to travel from Vancouver to Montreal by train, but we must reconcile ourselves to the fact that only a minute percentage of Canadians will ever see Australia, just as a very limited number of Australians will ever see Canada.

"And so we must rely on a miracle of the modern world, such as the shortwave radio, to bring to the peoples of our two countries that knowledge which will make for greater understanding.

"And supplementing the radio, we have the films and the popular press, I have been very interested in the vast increase in the demand in both our countries since the end of the war for more information on each other, through the mass media of the film, radio and the press.

"It is this mutual interest and this aim to know each other better which ensures a closely knit British Commonwealth. Both Australia and Canada feel that, as senior partners of the British Commonwealth, they will be called upon to play an ever-increasing part in maintaining the prestige and in building the defences of the British Commonwealth."

RECITAL (3:30 p.m.)

Juliette Beaudoin, mezzo-soprano, will be heard from Montreal today. Accompanied at the piano by Gertrude Baulne, she will sing pieces by Raebach, Georges Hue, Felix Fourdrain and Saint-Saens.

TORONTO PROM CONCERT

(Dom. 8:30 p.m.)

The guest soloist with the Toronto Philharmonic Orchestra tonight will be Robert Graham, a young violinist who combines music with the study of medicine at the University of Toronto. Directing the orchestra on this occasion will be Tauno Hannikainen, conductor of the Duluth Symphony Orchestra. During the broadcast portion, the orchestra will play the symphonic poem, Finlandia, by Sibelius, and Mr. Hannikainen's symphonic arrangement of the allegro agitato and andante molto tranquillo movements from a Sonata in A Minor, opus 36, by Grieg. Robert Graham will play another Sibelius composition, Concerto in D Minor, opus 47, the wild dance rhythms of which are considered exceptionally difficult technically.

VANCOUVER DRAMA (10:00 p.m.)

The grim struggle between his sense of duty and his love for his son, will be told in this week's Vancouver Drama. The play, A Greater Power, by a Toronto actress-writer, Claire Murray, is the dramatic story of a man who worked in a power plant, and his son who is to be electrocuted for a crime he has committed. The climax of the play comes when the execution is to take place and the father has it in his power to turn off the electric current.

CONCERT OF NATIONS

(10:30 p.m.)

The CBC, on behalf of Canada, is contributing 16 concerts to this series originated by the National Broadcasting Corporation in the United States; and after four broadcasts from Toronto, the series moves tonight to Winnipeg. There will be subsequent programs from Vancouver and Montreal. Winnipeg's four programs will be given under the sub-titles: Madrigals and Make Believe (tonight); Portraits of the Twentieth Century (July 17); From Outposts of Empire (July 24), and From the Danube to the Volga (July 31). The first three deal with this Dominion's heritage of British music, and the fourth covers music of other European countries brought to Canada by the migrating pioneers. The Young Women's Musical Club Choir of Winnipeg, and a male choir of Ukrainian singers conducted by Walter Bohonis, will be heard in later broadcasts. Tonight's Winnipeg's famous Choristers, led by Conductor-Composer W. H. Anderson, present a program consisting of a quick survey of British music from William Byrd to Michael Diack. They will sing: Ave Verum Corpus (William Byrd); Sing We and Chaunt We (Thomas Morley); In These Delightful Pleasant Groves (Henry Purcell); Music, Spread Thy Voice Around (Handel); When The Foeman Bares His Steel, from The Pirates of Penzance (Arthur Sullivan); and Sing a Song of Sixpence (Michael Diack).

The Prairie Gardener

Summary of Broadcast of June 29, 1947.

Summertime in the Garden:

A. Chores:

(i) Summer sowings: a, In early July there is still time to sow radishes, lettuce, spinach and beets. July sowings of head lettuce will head up well in cool fall weather. b, Pansies sown in mid-summer make plants that winter better than old ones and that give larger spring bloom.

(ii) Summer pruning: a, Prune side branches to keep sweet peas bearing flowers on one stem per plant if you want longer stems and larger flowers. b, Prune side branches out of large flowered dahlias to secure giant blooms. The number of buds per stem should also be reduced. c, Calendulas, as well as many other flowers, keep blooming continuously if the flowers are kept cut. Don't allow flowering plants to produce seed if you want them to keep on blooming. d, Check tomato plants weekly and prune as necessary. Pinch the ends out of cucumber and squash vines to induce side fruiting branches. Keep seed stems removed from rhubarb. e, Thin the fruit on heavily laden plums and crab-apples to permit better development of the crop. Limit the number of runners on strawberry plants to the number necessary to produce the number of new plants desired.

(iii) Keeping the garden and grounds tidy: a, Frequent cutting but not close cropping will keep the lawn attractive. Edge the grass along margins with a sharp cutting tool. b, Dig around trees and shrubs. Don't compel them to compete with grass and weeds. c, Garden paths should be rounded up to shed water. Keep them raked and tidy. A little gravel or sand sprinkled over a well graded garden path makes a good roadway in all weather.

(iv) Order iris and peonies now for planting at the right time. Fall is a good time to plant many shrubs and perennials. Consult your nurseryman now.

B. Summer Visits: a, Visit your neighbours to admire their choice garden productions. Invite them to return the call. b, Organize an excursion to the nearest Dominion Experiment Station, University Plots, Forestry Farm, or municipal or provincial parks. c, Keep a note-book handy to jot down names of plants you would like to have in your own garden.

C. Share your garden treasures with others, particularly with the aged and the infirm.

D. Support the summer shows of Agricultural and Horticultural Societies by: a, membership; b, attendance, and c, taking part in competitions.

E. Plan for a better garden next year by—a, making notes of the mistakes apparent in this year's garden, and b, looking for ideas now to meet the needs for a better planned and better kept garden next year.

ED McCURDY (6:00 p.m.)

CBC balladeer Ed McCurdy has arranged widely varied programs for his two Trans-Canada network spots this week. Tonight he has chosen a nonsense song called Monkey's Wedding, and a tune which advises young men to beware of fickle girls, entitled Rosie Nell. He will present pentapostal songs on his Saturday program including I Don't Feel At Home In This World Any More. Ed is heard weekly by CBC listeners from coast to coast on Fridays at 6:00 p.m. and on Saturdays at 9:10 p.m.

CBC SUMMER CONCERT (7:00 p.m.)

The CBC Summer Concert Orchestra under the direction of Jean Vallerand will play selections by Mozart, Ravel and Mendelssohn. Soprano Jeanne Desjardins, of Montreal, will be the guest soloist. Among her songs will be a composition by Vallerand himself, Roses de la Mer (Sea Roses), and a song by a Mexican composer, Frederic Sandoval. The program originates in Montreal, and includes: Overture to The Abduction from the Seraglio, (Mozart); Ma Mère l'Oye (Mother Goose), (a) Pavane of the Sleeping Beauty, (b) Hop O'my thumb, (Ravel); Scherzo, from Midsummer Night's Dream, Mendelssohn.

HERITAGE OF MUSIC (9:30 p.m.)

CBC's distinguished west coast program Heritage of Music this month takes on a new format for summer and will present a series of broadcast by a chamber music group made up of ten players. It marks the second summer that this group, known as the CBC Chamber Ensemble, have been featured on the Heritage series. As with the CBC Concert Orchestra which is featured during the rest of the year on the broadcast, the conductor is John Avison. So successful was the chamber ensemble last summer that the Women's Musical Society of Vancouver invited Avison to conduct them in one of their regular afternoon gatherings during the fall season. It was the largest guest group to appear for the Society. The ten members consist of five strings and five woodwinds, many of them the first chair players of the Vancouver Symphony. Avison occasionally steps down to perform as piano soloist, conducting from the keyboard.

THE PRAIRIE SCHOONER (10:00 p.m.)

This week Jimmy Gowler will have as his guest soloist, Albert Nystrom, tenor. He will sing three songs—In Our Meadows (traditional); Where the Water-Lilies Bloom (Sven Duriedz); and Spring Breezes Crisp (G. Hagg). Gowler's choices for the orchestra include: Delaware Hornpipe; Fifth Change of Canadian Lancers; Osterbottnisk Four Corners; Serbian Folk Dance; Bandura; Good For the Tongue; Vineyard Dance; Clarinet Polka; Farewell To Whiskey; and Arkansas Traveller.

CONTINENTAL VARIETIES (11:00 p.m.)

Soprano Irma Lawrence has chosen the well known Habanera from Bizet's Carmen for tonight. The orchestra, under the direction of George Calangis, will feature Carillon, Caravan Waltz of the Flowers and Czardas.

RHYTHM AND ROMANCE (11:30 p.m.)

Lois Gibson will be the guest vocalist with the Winnipeg duo pianists Percy Burdett and Mitchell Parks in tonight's broadcast. Her songs are: My Heart Is A Hobo, from Welcome Stranger, a moving picture which had its world premiere in Winnipeg about two weeks ago; All The Things You Are (Kern); and Summertime, from Porgy and Bess (Geo. Gershwin). The pianos will play: La Cucaracha (Savino); March of the Goons, by Paul Lovall of the Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin Street; and This Can't Be Love (Hart-Rodgers).

Canadian Actor In New British Film

The man whose voice was heard in Canada during the darkest days of the war as the commentator on the BBC Newsreel, Robert Beatty, is being seen as well as heard in this country now as a film actor. A Canadian himself, his home is Hamilton, Ontario.

His most important star role to date is in the Ealing production, Against The Wind, which also stars another Canadian, Paul Dupuis, of Montreal. Beatty's last film was with James Mason in Odd Man Out.

CBC UNIT TO RECORD—Contc.

west, attracting spectators from all over the world.

One of the big events at the Stampede is the Bucking-Horse Riding Contest, in which cowboys ride untamed horses in competition for trophies and large cash prizes. Competitors must remain mounted for at least three "leaps" and perform specified feats of horsemanship until the judge is satisfied that both horse and man have displayed their skills.

Another thrilling event is the Calf-Roping Contest. From his horse the cowboy lassos a wild calf. Then he dismounts and relies on his pony to keep the lasso rope taught while he catches and hog-ties the calf. The contest features co-operation between man and horse in skills developed in catching wild calves on the range for branding. Judging is on a time basis.

The Wild Cow Milking Contest is one of the most exciting of all. Cowboys work in teams, one lassoing a wild cow and keeping it under control while the other attempts to obtain a half-pint of milk from the rearing animal. It is a mass contest with up to 50 cows and cowboy teams competing simultaneously. The first milker to reach the judges' stand with a half-pint of milk is the winner.

For the Wild Steer Decorating Contest the cowboy waits on his horse until a steer is released from the corral. He has to ride after the steer and place a ribbon around one of his horns. This feat is often completed in less than five seconds, but sometimes results in an amazing tangle of steer, horse and cowboy.

But the highlight of the whole Stampede is the chuck wagon race, always staged in the evening. The cowboys are camped outside their wagons. When the starter's gun goes off they have to load their stoves, cooking utensils and bed rolls into their wagons, hitch up their horses, and make two circuits of a half-mile track.

In connection with the Stampede, there are exhibitions of domestic livestock, farm produce and manufactured goods, and prizes for all sorts of handicrafts.

This year, the Calgary Stampede will be held July 7-12. Staff reporters and engineers will be in Calgary recording and broadcasting full accounts of all the main events for the CBC International Service.

Notes

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN (3:00 p.m.)

The Battle of Britain and those who died in it will be commemorated in a special service in Westminster Abbey on July 10. This will be re-broadcast in part for Canadians today through the North American service of the BBC and will be heard over the CBC Trans-Canada network. During the service, the King will unveil a memorial window, for which the Dean of Westminster will pronounce the Act of Dedication. An address by the Archbishop of Canterbury will be included in the broadcast. The Royal Air Force Band will be heard.

WAYNE AND SHUSTER (7:00 p.m.)

A summer-time edition of the Toronto comedy series, Wayne and Shuster, will be presented weekly by the National Broadcasting Company in the United States, beginning tonight. It will be carried on NBC stations in the United States as well as on the CBC Trans-Canada network. The comedy stars of the program, Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster, will continue to have the support of Samuel Hersenhoren and orchestra, songstress Georgia Dey, and announcer Herb May, plus a "brand new act" which so far remains a mystery. The program will be a summer replacement for The Life of Riley, a broadcast series centred around movie comic William Bendix.

Band Leader

ART HALLMAN, popular dance band leader and singer, who can also double on piano or saxophone at a moment's notice. He and his band are near from Toronto's Casa Loma on Saturdays at 9:30 p.m. over the CBC Dominion network. Hallman does all the musical arrangements, including those for the vocal quartet.

ALBERTA RANCH HOUSE (10:00 p.m.)

Ameen Ganam and his Sons of the West with Al Melnyk and Dick Taylor doing the vocals are heard in this series from Edmonton along with contributions from Calgary by Stu Davis, Cowboy Troubadour, and Vern Myers, story-teller. This week, the instrumental group will be heard in: Bridge of Ledi; Ganam's Special Polka No. 2; Sweet Georgia Brown, done in Western Swing; and Speed the Plow; while the vocal trio, Ameen, Al and Wally, will sing; The Last Round Up; Ridin' Down To Sante Fe. Al will sing My Adobe Hacienda; Take Me Back To Tulsa will be offered by Dick and the trio; while Stu Davis will be heard from Calgary in another vocal solo.

Airtight Canada.—The very first thing I noticed and couldn't become accustomed to when I arrived in Canada was the way in which the houses are built—this airtight manner of living, I think that's the word. You have your doors and windows shut most of the time. In Trinidad our doors and windows are open all the year round, daytime and night time.—Gladys Chattergoon, on CBC, June 9.
