Cuckoo Clock House

THIS IS Mathilda, the obliging bird of the Cuckoo Clock House, testing her voice for the special Easter edition of the program on April 16. With her are Beth Robinson and Kenny Graham, the two young Torontonians who have been on the popular children's program since it started more than three years ago. Mathilda's cheerful song is heard each week, heralding the program and marking the transition from one "room" of the "house" to another. Cuckoo Clock House is heard on the CBC Dominion network Saturdays at 5:00 p.m. CST, 5:30 p.m. MST.

Easter

Easter is a time of special delight to young people. Indeed all the symbols associated with it—hot-cross buns, Easter eggs, rabbits, flowers and new bonnets—suggest new life and reflect the atmosphere of youth and spring. For children and others interested in the folk customs of the festival, Charles Wasserman of Montreal will trace their origin and explain how some of them came to Canada. He will speak on April 16 in the program This Week.

Many other programs during the week will have Easter themes. Some of the week's musical programs—including Bach's St. Matthew Passion on Wednesday Night—are described elsewhere. The Way of the Spirit has special Easter dramas.

Holy Week Meditations

Each day during Holy Week, special quarter-hour meditations will supplement the regular religious programs on CBC networks, conducted by Rt. Rev. W. T. Barfoot, of the Anglican diocese of Edmonton. Bishop Barfoot will be heard from Edmonton on CBW at 4:45 p.m.; CBK, CBX 3:45 p.m.

Winnipeg Concert

The Winnipeg Concert this week (Sunday, April 10, CBW 4:30 p.m.; CBK, CBX 3:30 p.m.) will again originate at a public performance in Winnipeg's Civic Auditorium. Eric Wild will conduct the orchestra in three orchestral suites.

The Prairie Gardener

Summary of Broadcast of March 27, 1949.

Western Canadian Society of Horticulture:

Organized about five years ago this society includes among its seventy-odd members a representative cross-section of the leadership in horticultural matters in the prairie region. It includes plant breeders and plant science experts from the Dominion Experimental Stations, Forest Nursery Stations, provincial universities, nurseries and seed companies, as well as a sprinkling of other members noted for their interest in the advancement of horticulture.

Active Membership is limited to graduates of agricultural and horticultural institutions who are engaged in research, teaching or extension work but with provision for admission of other persons by virtue of their work in technical or scientific horticulture. Associate membership (with all privileges except voting) is available to all others not eligible for active membership but who are directly and keenly interested in the objects of the society.

The object of the society is to encourage investigational work and to disseminate knowledge on all phases of horticulture.

The area included in the activities of the society reaches into eastern British Columbia and western Ontario. Friendly relations are also maintained with professional horticulturists in adjacent American states.

The papers delivered at the annual meetings of the society and the reports of various committees set up to investigate horticultural problems have provided a valuable public service to all those interested in gardening or commercial horticulture. In addition the convention brings widely separated experts together for the exchange of ideas and the planning of the approach to further plant breeding and horticultural research.

VANCOUVER DRAMA

CBC listeners will recall a favourite story of childhood days when a radio adaptation of the tale of Dick Whittington and his cat is enacted. Four-

Government Statement on Television Policy

1. The Government has for some time been considering how television broadcasting could be developed in Canada in a way that would best serve the national interest. The early stages in the growth of television in other countries have been carefully observed, and the serious problems, which were seen to exist in both the production and transmission of television broadcasts, have been studied.

Statement by A. D. Dunton Chairman, CBC Board of Governors

CBC will be ready to go right ahead with the establishment of TV facilities as soon as the loan mentioned is approved by Parliament. It is not possible at this stage to say just when broadcasting and programming operations can begin since much will depend on delivery times for many items of equipment and of the availability of sites and premises needed. We hope, however, to be operating in from twelve to eighteen months after the loan has been approved.

It was realized that television would go through a difficult and costly period of experiment. During this phase, which has not been entirely completed, it seemed wise to delay the introduction of television in Canada, and also to provide for further and more extensive study of methods which would be suitable to Canada. For this reason, the Government proposes to include television as one of the subjects of inquiry for the Royal Commission on National Development in the Arts, Letters and Sciences which is now being established.

2. In the meantime, however, while the Commission is conducting its inquiry, the Government has decided that the development of a Canadian television system on an interim basis should be undertaken. By entering the field now, Canada will benefit substantially from the experience of others teen-year-old Ian Parmenter will take the leading role in the play, in which the poor orphaned scullion turned back from running away when he heard the prophetic notes of the Bow bells, and rose to the position of mayor of London. The radio adaptation is by Marian Waldman of Toronto. From Vancouver.

CBW 10:30 p.m.; CBK, CBX 9:30 p.m.

IMMORTAL MUSIC

This week's broadcast will be a visit with the composer Debussy. Albert Steinberg will conduct the orchestra with solos by Norma Abernethy, pianist, and Betty Phillips, soprano. Representative Debussy music will include: Clair de Lune; Girl With the Flaxen Hair; The Enchanted Cathedral; Reflections in the Water; L'Enfant Prodigue; Pierrot. From Vancouver.
CBW 11:30 p.m.; CBK, CBX 10:30 p.m.

in the establishment of proper facilities and operating methods. A further advantage of development at the present time will arise from the large new outlet which will be provided for the electronics industry. Television will help to maintain and materially increase the contribution of this important industry to our national life.

3. From a social point of view, experiments in other countries have made it abundantly clear that television will become one of the most effective means of mass communication yet devised. This new medium can be of great benefit to the national life of Canada if properly developed. On the other hand, it could have a negative or even detrimental effect on our national life if it grew in a haphazard and unco-ordinated manner.

4. In making plans for television, the Government has been primarily concerned to provide that Canadians in various parts of Canada will have the opportunity to receive Canadian programs. To ensure that this shall take place, the Government is prepared to give the necessary support for the establishment of facilities in Canada that will meet the desire of the Canadian people to have a television system of their own. Because of our relatively small and scattered population, special efforts will be required to link together different parts of the country by vision as well as sound. For these reasons, it is clear that a large measure of public participation in television will be necessary.

5. It is not the intention, however, to exclude private operations from the field of television. The development of radio broadcasting in Canada through a combination of public and private enterprise, in a manner which a vast majority of disinterested Canadians approve and support, has shown the feasibility of this method of procedure. The Canadian Broadcasting Act provides that, for radio, there shall be a national system publicly owned and operated, and that there shall also be private stations, the operations of which are co-ordinated with those of the national facilities. This procedure will be adopted, with suitable adjustments, for the development of television. The public operation of television will be established, to be supported by those who benefit from the system. At the same time, private stations which will share in the development of television, will be licensed. The Government believes that in this way, television will become a means of encouraging Canadian talent, of expressing Canadian ideals, of serving the needs of the country as a whole, and of stimulating and strengthening our national life and consciousness.

6. The Government, therefore, proposes to adopt the following interim plan:

(1) The general direction of television broadcasting in Canada will, in accordance with the Canadian Broadcasting Act, be entrusted to the Board of Governors of the Canadian Broad-

CBK, CBX 5:00 p.m.

To Vancouver

CBC producer Ross McLEAN, who passed through Winnipeg recently on his way to Vancouver to take over new duties with the CBC Department of Talks and Public Affairs there. He was formerly assistant talks producer in Toronto.

MONTREAL SYMPHONY

Montreal Symphony Orchestra conducted by Desire Defauw; Byron Janis, 20-year-old American pianist, as guest artist. Orchestra: Overture to Parsifal (Wagner). Byron Janis: Piano Concerto No. 3 (Beethoven). Byron Janis was born in Pittsburgh where he gave his first recital at the age of nine. At 16, he appeared with the NBC Symphony Orchestra and since then has played with a number of the major American symphony orchestras. He studied under Adele Marcus at New York's Chatham Square School of Music and later became a protegee of Vladimir Horowitz. From Montreal. Dom. 7:30 p.m. CST; 10:30 p.m. MST.

LEICESTER SQUARE

Vancouver actress Dorothy Fowler supplies a bit of comedy relief on this week's broadcast with a monologue called, Advice To The Lovelorn. Program regulars Harry Pryce and the orchestra, songstress Belle McEwan, Bill Carr, the Barbershop Quartet, and the Old Stager, Eric Vale, will be on hand to take listeners back to the days of the gay nineties with tunes like: Meet Me In St. Louis, Louis; By Heck; Fiddlesticks Rage; and selections from The Belle of New York. From Vancouver.

CBW 10:30 p.m.; CBK, CBX 8:30 p.m.

This is a form of radio vaudeville. Eric Christmas keeps the radio audience in touch with Canadian history this week with a sketch called "Champlain and the Golden Spike." The "keep in touch" microphone travels across Canada from "Rosie," optimistic, self-assured Cockney charlady with ailments (a creation of Eric Christmas), is a recent immigrant to Canada, and keeps listeners informed of her progress in telephone conversations with her friend "Ada." Christmas, who came to Canada from England a year ago, also performs as "Madame Flotilla," a pouter-pigeon type who ought to have been a sergeant-major, and who organizes things.

Dom. 9:30 p.m. MST.

HERITAGE OF MUSIC

CBC orchestra conducted by John Avison in a program of music by 19th century composers. A May Day Overture (Haydn Wood); Jura Summer (Walter Niemann); In the Chilterns (Reginald King). From Vancouver.

CBI Sydney Is Heard Away 'Down Under'

CBC's new transmitter in Sydney is making itself heard. A listener in New Zealand has informed Barry MacDonald—station manager at CBI—that he picked up a CBI program on a six-tube battery set which he had built himself.

The New Zealand listener—Kenneth MacKay of Dunedin—heard a special program broadcast one morning between 4:30 and 5:30 for "DX-ers"—radio fans who search the dial for far-away stations.

CBI was built to serve the area of a fifty-mile radius about Sydney.

In India today there is very little of ill-feeling against England; and I think what little might remain will also fade away soon, as we co-operate together in the great tasks that confront us.—Pandit Nehru, on BBC.

Battle With Storms On Table Mountain

CBC Engineer Back From Epic Struggle; Canada - Newfoundland FM Link Established

Sydney, N.S., March 29.—A fabulous tale that reads like a Paul Bunyan story of a fight against seemingly insurmountable odds to establish a direct broadcasting network link via FM from Nova Scotia to Newfoundland, was related today by a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation engineer. He is Maurice Rousseau, one of twenty men who were engaged in remodeling and rebuilding radio transmitters, receivers, and wire line connections on Table Mountain, near Cape Ray, Newfoundland.

Fifteen Pounds Lighter

Rousseau left Montreal five weeks ago on a one-week assignment. He left Sydney tonight, his job completed, weighing 190 pounds, almost 15 pounds lighter than when he started. When he first arrived in Sydney, he Matthew Passion, written for the Good Friday services at the Thomas-kirche in Leipzig in 1729, will be performed in its entirety again this year by Toronto Symphony Orchestra and Mendelssohn Choir, conducted by Sir Ernest MacMillan. This is the second occasion on which a complete performance of this work has been given in North America. The first was on CBC Wednesday Night last year. Philip MacGregor, bass, will sing the role of the Christus, and William Morton, tenor, the evangelist. This is the 26th annual performance for Sir Ernest MacMillan. Since he succeeded Dr. Von Kunitz as conductor of the Toronto Symphony, and Dr. Fricker as conductor of the Mendelssohn Choir, he has been able to bring these two large organizations together for the performance. The broadcast will originate in the Convocation Hall of the University of Toronto. The St. Matthew Passion has been described as the greatest of all oratorios, in which devotion, humility and adoration reach their highest expression in an intensely personal document which stands above creeds and speaks directly to the human heart. Since the first complete performance last year, the CBC has had many requests to make it an annual event of Holy Week.

CBW 7:00 p.m.; CBK, CBX 8:10 p.m.

CONCERT ORCHESTRA

Orchestra conducted by Geoffrey Waddington; Gerald Bales, organist. From Toronto. The program is designed as an overture to the performance of J. S. Bach's St. Matthew Passion. Gerald Bales: Three Choral Preludes (J. S. Bach)—1, In Thee Is Joy; 2, O Man, Repent Thy Grievous Sin; 3, Sleepers Awake. Orchestra: Five Sonatas for Organ and Strings (Mozart).

CBW 10:30 p.m.; CBK, CBX 7:30 p.m.

was greeted by the worst blizzard in 50 years. Then his boat from North Sydney to Newfoundland was stuck six days in ice floes.

"I guess people just won't believe the things that happened—they sound impossible," he said.

Over a large juicy steak he told of a tractor sinking almost from sight in snow banks; of a week-long journey to climb the seven miles to the top of the 1,700-foot Table Mountain, 40 miles across Cabot Strait from Cape North at the eastern tip of Cape Breton. Engineers from the C.N.R., the department of transport, and the American army struggled against winds that sometimes reached 100 miles an hour, to complete the direct communication line link in time for the Union.

Yanks Sent Helicopter

"When the American army heard of our difficulties in trying to get in a ton of equipment to remodel the transmitter built during the war by the air force, they sent a helicopter to bring in men and a transport plane to drop supplies and equipment to us," Rousseau said.

"Honestly, the winds were so strong sometimes, that to get out of the buildings we had to climb out of the windows; because if we had opened the door we would never have got it shut again. We had two life-lines strung between two buildings," he said.

The transmitter and receiver antenna poles are guyed by so many wires that the normal 205-pound Rousseau couldn't climb between them.

Rousseau told of walking out one morning to find seven poles which they had struggled for a week to erect, disappeared without a trace.

"Another time we secured the end of 2,000 feet of cable to anchors. The next day there was no cable. We found it later at the foot of the mountain, apparently forced there by the wind," he said.

First Tests Made

The FM transmitters and receivers at Cape Ray station are one of three such links operated by the Department of Transport communication system. Under the new setup radio programs will come to Sydney by existing facilities, taken by land line to New Waterford where they will be beamed over FM transmitters to Cape North, 1,200 feet above the sea, and 60 miles distant, where they will be picked up on receivers and retransmitted to Cape Ray. From Cape Ray they will go by land lines to St. John's, via Corner Brook, Gander, and Grand Falls. Programs from Newfoundland will travel over similar facilities in the reverse direction.

First tests through from Sydney to St. Johns were made today (Monday) and everything is in readiness for Union April 1, when the official ceremonies from the Newfoundland capital mark the first broadcasts to originate in St. Johns over the Trans-Canada Network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

To link with Newfoundland, it will be necessary to establish network service by Department of Transport radio-relay across Cabot Strait to near Port-aux-Basques—and from there by telegraph land-line via Corner Brook, Grand Falls and Gander to St. John's. Facilities for such service have not been available previously, but it is expected they will be ready for use by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation at the time of Union.

Establishment of network connections will make it possible for national Trans-Canada service to be broadcast directly on Newfoundland stations, and for programs from Newfoundland to be carried to the rest of Canada. The network service will also provide a new regular connection between the stations within Newfoundland.

The geographical distribution of the Newfoundland population, many of whom live in small settlements without other regular communication, gives broadcasting a special importance. It provides services, especially of information, often in detailed form, which are not needed in other areas. The Broadcasting Corporation of Newfoundland has developed some broadcasting services which are of a kind to

ROSSINI'S STABET MATER

Orchestra, mixed chorus, and soloists, conducted by Cesar Borre. Lois Marshall, soprano; Margaret Kerr, mezzo-soprano; Arthur Bartlett, tenor; Jan Rubes, bass. Rossini's Stabet Mater is still a part of the Roman Catholic liturgy. It is a setting of a medieval poem ascribed to Jaco-pone di Todi, who died in 1306. It was used in devotional exercises in the 13th century. In a period of 600 years, it has been set to music by many composers, including Palestrina, Pergolesi, Haydn, Verdi, Dvorak and Sir Charles Villiers Stanford. Gioacchino Antonio Rossini died in 1887 at the age of 95. Stabet Mater, completed in 1841, was his last major work, written for the archdeacon of Madrid and first performed in Paris in 1842.

GOVERNMENT STATEMENT ON TELEVISION—Concluded

casting Corporation who will arrange for television operations by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, and by licensed private stations.

(2) In order to provide the required services, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will—

(a) establish at this time national television production centres in Montreal and Toronto;

(b) provide a service of television programs for broadcasting by stations which may be established in other areas of Canada, thus furnishing part of their programming. This service will be provided by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation either by means of kinescope recordings or by direct physical relays when available. The number of national system programs which any private station carries, and the terms on which they will be made available will be primarily a matter for negotiation and arrangement. The Government considers, however, that a certain minimum of national programs should be carried by each television station;

(c) establish transmitting stations in Montreal and Toronto.

(3) In any city or area in Canada including Montreal and Toronto, a licence to establish one private station will be granted to a private organization giving adequate assurances of financial means and of service. In view of the high cost of television operations, it is felt that individuals or groups interested in establishing a private station in any city may wish to form an association for the purpose of applying for a licence.

(4) In regard to network arrangements, whether by tele-transcriptions or direct physical hookups, the same principles will apply as in the case of radio broadcasting.

7. It will be some time before there are enough receiving sets in Canada for television licence fees and commercial revenues to cover costs of programming and operations. It is necessary, therefore, for the Government to provide loans to the CBC to cover capital costs of its necessary installations and to support the development of the service. For these purposes Parliament will be asked to approve a loan of $4,000,000 this year. It is expected that the national television operations will become self-supporting from licence fees and commercial revenues in a few years.

8. The plan by no means provides for the exclusion of non-Canadian material from our television channels. The public will wish Canadian stations, both public and private to carry some good programs from other countries. The national plan does make possible, however, a core of Canadian television broadcasting, reaching an increasing number of Canadians across the country.

9. The Government believes that this national plan provides for the minimum amount of public support and co-ordination necessary to provide for the adequate development of television in Canada. It also provides conditions under which private organizations will have opportunities to use television channels, but in doing so will contribute to the building of nation-wide Canadian television service, at the same time being assisted in good programming by the national system.

NEWFOUNDLAND RADIO MERGED—Concluded

be especially valuable to Newfoundlanders.

It will be the policy of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to disturb as little as possible existing programs which are especially useful to Newfoundlanders and particularly appreciated by them. The Newfoundland region of the system will have considerable latitude in meeting special needs and tastes of Newfoundlanders in broadcasting.

At the same time, after Union the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation hopes to be able to add considerably to the broadcasting service available, particularly by network programs from the rest of the country.

Merging of the two systems will also mean that some programs from Newfoundland will be heard by listeners all across Canada. In this way, it is hoped that broadcasting will help the mutual understanding between the people of Newfoundland and those of the other regions.

The Cause of War.—The land which you inhabit, shut in on all sides by the sea, and surrounded by mountain peaks, is too narrow for your large population; nor does it abound in wealth; it furnishes scarcely enough food for its cultivators. Hence it is that you murder and devour one another, that you wage war, and that frequently you perish by mutual wounds.—Pope Urban II, to the Crusaders in the year 1095.
