For More Drama

• I would love to write after every wonderful performance of Festival, Playdate, and Quest, but as this is impractical I would just like to say thank you for bringing life to otherwise dull evenings of TV watching.

The CBC is to be commended on its choice of plays, operas, etc., used, and I would like to know why we cannot have more. Is the cost, time, or shortage of directors responsible? — Miss M.H., Saskatoon.

Many reasons exist for the CBC not programming more drama on television. Among them are limited budgets, lack of suitable talent, and a desire to maintain program balance.

With Festival, Playdate and Quest, supplemented by such filmed serials as Perry Mason, The Defenders, Bonanza, Doctor Kildare and those shown locally by various stations, there is a considerable amount of drama on television—albeit, not all geared to the same taste.

But if it were practical, the CBC would consider adding more drama to the present television fare. Good drama is expensive to produce, however, and more money would have to be found in already slim budgets; other types of programs would have to become less evident in the weekly schedule, thereby arousing the disapproval of people who care more for, say, musical variety or comedy.

Our third reason: There is a shortage of qualified personnel to produce good television drama. Those skilled actors and directors currently working in Canada are kept very busy, and a greater emphasis on drama in our production schedule might be frustrated by a lack of good talent. The CBC aims for quality in its drama, and present limitations indicate that production of more drama would lead to a lessening of the overall competence of what is done.

Regarding opera, it should be recognized that not much professional-calibre opera is produced in Canada at present. The CBC feels it presents a fair representation of the talent available to it, considering the limitations of, once more, budget.

Likes the "Old Faces"

• I am one who does not entirely agree with N.S.R. of Stettler (Mailbag, Jan. 27). I should hate to see all the old faces disappear from TV. We have had a number of new faces this year on CBC-TV, and I am not sure they are really an improvement on some we lost, such as Ernie Ford, Dinah Shore and Wally Koster.

. . . (CBC) most certainly is trying to give variety, and I do not feel that anyone should expect exact programs of his choice for every minute of the day.

. . . Over the years one grows to like some of the performers and to think of them as friends. We are interested in them as people and feel keenly if some misfortune or tragedy comes to them.

. . . I would suggest to N.S.R. that if he does not like a particular TV program, he should turn on CBC Radio. Listed in place of some of the TV programs he dislikes are the New York Philharmonic, Speaking Personally, Nation's Business and Citizens' Forum.

. . . This is a long letter, but I am like M.J.B. of Edmonton, who says if she wrote every day, after each Matinee program, it would still not be enough. I could write a dozen letters a day. . . I must mention some of the new Edmonton programs: Eye to Eye, Project 13, Ladies First and the very clever show, First Nighter. They are all excellent.

I cannot express my appreciation of the CBC. It is wonderful entertainment—makes us laugh and tries to make us think. . . —Mrs. J.W., Edmonton.

• (N.S.R. of Stettler) would like to abolish all the programs that we think are tops. I don't see how anyone could tire of Don Messer, Country Hoedown, Danny Thomas and Juliette.

Why, after all these years, can't the CBC bring a church service on Sunday? It wouldn't cost any more than the Ed Sullivan Show and should be just as popular.—Mrs. H.R., Wawanesa, Man.

In the fiscal year 1960-61, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation paid $2,658,000 for scripts, performing rights, music and musical arrangements.

'Explorations' Stresses

School's Purpose: Preparation for Life

SCHOOL is the teachers' world, home is the parents'. But children live in both worlds, and it is up to the teachers and parents to see that their values don't conflict. On Wednesday night next Explorations presents another NFB production, The Test, a dramatic portrayal of the confusion that may result when parents fail to work with the teacher toward the ultimate goal of education — preparing a child for Life. It was written by Noel Stone and directed by John Howe.

PROBABLY you have forgotten just how you acquired the all-important skill of reading. It wasn't easy for you, if you were the average pupil—educators consider it the toughest learning problem.

Insight into how children are taught to read in Winnipeg schools is to be given in a series of three programs on CBWT entitled "The Reading Program. The first program, Thursday, March 1 from 6:30 to 7:00 p.m., demonstrates how Grade One students are introduced to this new skill.

Parents have many questions about how their children are taught to read, such as: "Should children start reading before they enter school?"; "Why teach a sight vocabulary?"; "What about teaching phonics?" If you have asked such questions yourself, this program is planned for you.

To provide the answers, the cameras, quite logically, take us to the classroom, to see typical primary teachers putting the reading lessons across. The first program shows a teacher preparing a class for reading, bringing them to a state of readiness in which they can attack the problem of learning to read with maximum hope for success. Another teacher demonstrates a lesson on "sight word," or recognizing words by their appearance, and then the more advanced lessons of letter sounds and the beginning of phonics. Subsequent programs deal with reading in Grades Two and Three.

WHAT'S YOUR favorite sport? If your interest is shared with any appreciable number of other Canadians, likely you will see something of particular appeal in upcoming coverage planned by the CBC.

Figure skating enthusiasts will enjoy this Sunday's telecast of the Canadian Championships. Horseracing fans, who have waited patiently through the off-season for their sport to reappear, soon can thrill to such great events as the Grand National Steeplechase, shown Saturday, April 7, and the three jewels of Canada's triple crown, The Queen's Plate (June 16), the Prince of Wales Stakes (Aug. 18) and the Breeders' Stakes (Oct. 6). Hockey fans, while awaiting the annual Stanley Cup playoffs, will have a chance to watch Canada's representatives, the Galt Terriers, at the World Hockey Tournament in Colorado during March.

Auto racing fans can thrill to the best of their sport this Saturday as the U.S. Grand Prix and many European races are shown by World of Sport. Boat racing is represented in the schedule April 29 when the famous Oxford-Cambridge rowing match is shown. And baseball fans once again will have their day, as the popular Game of the Week from the major leagues is presented each weekend starting in April.

These are only some of the sports to be covered by CBC-TV in the next few months. Watch for more announcements.

Judy's Back, with Frank and Dean

Three of the most successful entertainers of the past two decades, Judy Garland, Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin team up Sunday for a special evening show on CBC-TV.

This is Judy's first TV appearance since 1956, and the third of her career. Winner of an Academy Award for her performance in the Wizard of Oz (1939), she has made more than 30 movies, including one released last year.

Sinatra and Martin, crooners that set young hearts a-flutter during the late '40's and the '50's, continue fairly active careers in Hollywood, in clubs, and on television.

Will Donald Jackson Win the World Skating Title?

Watch Sunday as Canada's big hope for the men's singles figure skating crown and other top skaters compete

DONALD JACKSON, 21-year-old skater from Oshawa, Ontario, has an excellent chance, according to figure-skating experts, of becoming the first Canadian in 72 years to win the men's world singles championship. The only Canadian male ever to win the title was Louis Rubenstein of Montreal who defeated the greatest European skaters at St. Petersburg (now Leningrad), Russia, in 1890.

Jackson will be one of approximately 80 figure skaters from across Canada competing this week at

SCHOOL'S PURPOSE

Janet Fisher, an idealistic teacher who prefers to resign her position rather than condone cheating in the classroom—an activity which she regards as a reflection of the lax standards of the world outside the school. Parents, shocked and indignant at her charge, organize protests, and petition the school principal for action.

In the film, a meeting of parents and teachers called by the principal illustrates the true role of the Home and School Association—to provide the middle ground where differences may be resolved and a clearer understanding reached of the mutual responsibility of parents and teachers. As the principal remarks at the meeting: "We are all teachers . . . Every parent controls to some extent the things that children learn and believe . . . If parents and teachers get together to talk, there is no problem concerning children's schooling that cannot be overcome."

Featured with Miss Hyland in the cast are Ned Conlon as John Bonner, a parent, and Oliver Berg as Mr. Harbison, school principal.

Bousille and the Just

Gratien Gelinas' play about human "Sins and Saintliness" is brought to television by "Festival"

IN A SOPHISTICATED world, the innocents are gobbled in one gulp. That's what Gratien Gelinas, the most versatile and honoured man in French-Canadian theatre, illustrates in his comedy drama, Bousille and the Just. CBC-TV's Festival presents it Monday, with Gelinas in the title role. Production is by Mario Prizek.

The play made its debut at Gelinas' Comedie Canadienne in Montreal in 1959, and ran for 146 performances. It was presented there in English last year, and again in English at the Vancouver International Festival last summer. Early this year it had a week's run at Toronto's Royal Alexandra Theatre, and it has just completed a run in Winnipeg.

Bousille is a nickname meaning a clodhopper or a bungler, but Gelinas' bungler is not so much a fool as a simple-minded, aging orphan with a deep sense of honesty and a passionate belief in the good in others. The Just are the self-righteous, the tough, brutally practical whose crude selfishness conflicts sharply with Bousille's innocence.

The story, wildly comic and strutting one moment, and delicately moving the next, takes place in a third-rate Montreal hotel at which the Gravel family has arrived from St. Tite to await the trial for murder of the youngest son, who has been arrested after the death of a friend in a restaurant brawl. Slow-witted Bousille, who has been bullied by his relatives into being a sort of watchdog for this spoiled irresponsible son, is the sole witness of the fatal fight. The family is convinced of the son's innocence, and are optimistic about the outcome of the trial until it is discovered that Bousille intends to give some damning evidence in court. Then there follows a moral struggle between what Bousille believes is his duty and what the brothers of the accused decide he must do.

Gelinas pulls no punches in what he has to say about human motivations, religious fanaticism or the ties that hold a lower-middle-class, industrious, small-town French-Canadian family together. He shows that its members are basically not bad people, only weak. The richly eloquent characters Gelinas has invented have been compared with those in Hogarth's prints—they combine the same qualities of bubbling merriment and pathos.

Reviewing the première of Bousille and the Just in Montreal, Mavor Moore said "The play is written and performed in the style of American realism. But where else in North America does one find the fabulous mixture of sin and saintliness, sanity and satire that is Montreal? Not in New York, and certainly not in Toronto are you likely to find a play which juxtaposes bathroom and deathroom, corsets and theology, mockery and piety, with such hilarious and at the same time deadly detonations. For among these just and proper citizens, sin, the toilet, old age and liquor ('Le Sport National') are taken for granted, along with the comedy and the tragedy they produce." The end of the play is shocking but almost inevitable.

Starred with Gelinas are Charmion King as Aurore, the shrewish, hypocritical daughter of the family; Larry Mann as her amiably vulgar husband, Phil; and James Doohan as the insensitive elder son, Henri. Also in the cast are Jill Foster as Noella, Henri's gentle, brooding wife; Cosette Lee as the distraught, saint-beseeking matriarch; Robert Christie as the lawyer; Victoria Mitchell as Colette, and Jonathan White as a young seminary student.

Program Notes

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

FEBRUARY 24

CBWT—Junior Magazine

Doug Maxwell moderates a quiz with young students, Ross Snetsinger shows viewers how to make interesting mobiles and Hank Hedges talks about archaeology. In today's underwater adventure series Dr. Hans Haas finds a sunken ship. Host is Norman Welsh.

Bowling

Five-pin bowling action from O'Connor Bowl, Toronto.

World Of Sport

U.S. Grand Prix. Host Jack Whitaker and internationally famous racing drivers describe highlights of the U.S. Grand Prix held at Watkins Glen, N.Y. A review of other grand prix auto races of 1961 is also presented, including those held in Monaco; Zandvoort, Holland; Spa, Belgium; Reims, France; Nurburgring, Germany; and Monza, Italy. The driver commentators are Americans Phil Hill, Masten Gregory and Dan Gurney, Australian Jack Brabham and England's Stirling Moss. Count Wolfgang Von Trips, who was killed while competing at Monza, is heard discussing his career in an interview recorded last year.

Wonderful World Of Golf

U.S. star Mike Souchak meets Roberto De Vincenzo, formerly of Argentina now living in Mexico. They play over the 6,717-yard, par 73 course at the Jockey Club, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Souchak was a member of the U.S. Ryder Cup teams in 1959 and 1960, and in the 1955 Texas Open shot 27 for nine holes and 60 for 18 holes. De Vincenzo is holder of many golf titles in South America, Mexico, France, Holland and England. The Jockey Club course was designed by famous Scottish architect Alister MacKenzie in 1929.

This Living World

Steve Bloomer presents the second of two programs dealing with the wild life of the Arizona desert.

Stranger Than Fiction

Visits to historical landmarks and unusual buildings in Great Britain.

Dennis The Menace

A Quiet Evening. Mr. Wilson's plans for a quiet evening at home are disrupted when he is pressed into baby-sitting with Dennis and two of his young friends.

Doctor Kildare

Richard Chamberlain and Raymond Massey are featured in this series about a young interne in a city hospital.

Bronc Buster. Kildare learns something of human nature when he is embarrassed by his cousin's uncouth manners. This episode was previously scheduled for February 17.

Red River Jamboree

Songs and tales of the old Canadian west, with Stu Phillips as singing host, Juliette's guest Saturday is Gordie Tapp, host and singer-comedian on Country Hoedown.

Peggy Neville, The Altones, the Valley Beaux and Belles, square dance caller Jo Johannson, Ted Komar and the Selkirk Settlers. Produced at CBC Winnipeg by Pery Rosemond.

Bolas And Bolero. This week's program is as follows:

Mi Amor Mi Corazon.....	Stu
Serenade of the Bells.....	Peggy
Ghosts of Old San Juan.....	Altones
Cha Cha Charge.....	Beaux and Belles
Celillo Lindo.....	Ensemble

N.H.L. Hockey

Bill Hewitt reports from Maple Leaf Gardens as Toronto plays the Boston Bruins.

Juliette

This week's guest is singer-comedian Gordie Tapp, host of Country Hoedown.

King Whyte

Whyte presents a film on fishing in the Northwest Territories. His guest is Norm Hentcy.

CBXT—Peter Gunn

Hollywood Calling. A young movie extra is shot during a fight scene and two of the regular actors are jailed as suspects.

Sergeant Bilko

Phil Silvers in hilarious army escapades which don't quite follow regulations.

Tightrope

Undercover agent Mike Connors fights the underworld.

CBXT's movie Saturday night is the hilarious "Phffft," starring Judy Holliday, Jack Carson and Jack Lemmon.

Program Notes

FEBRUARY 25

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Country Calendar

The P.F.R.A. Guest Don Kirk, officer in charge of the information division of the P.F.R.A. in Regina tells how that organization operates, its accomplishments to date, and its plans for the future. The news package includes reports from the 77th annual Dairy Convention held Feb. 19-21.

World Of Sport

Canadian Figure Skating Championships. Fred Sgambati describes highlights of the four free-style competitions: men's, women's, pairs and dance. The event is held February 24 at the Varsity Arena, Toronto.

Concert

Guest artist is pianist Patricia Parr with the Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Victor Feldbrill. Producer, Jeffrey Anderson.

Overture "Egmont" .....	Beethoven
Edge of the World .....	John Weinzweig
Symphony No. 35 in D major (Haffner) .....	Mozart
Symphonic Variations for Piano and Orchestra .....	Cesar Franck

Pianist Patricia Parr is heard with the Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra Sunday on Concert in another program of CBC-TV's fine music series.

Bolero and March from Matinee Musicale ..... Rossini-Britten

Heritage

An Urgency Of Love. (Roman Catholic). Written by Rita Greer Allen. A young woman who is the owner of a chain of dress shops places her money-making business before true friendship and understanding. Her buyer plans to quit the business and enter the Grail, a woman's lay movement in the Roman Catholic Church. The woman attempts to persuade her to give up her "foolish" idea.

Citizens' Forum

Port Hawkesbury. The program explores the effects of a new pulp and paper mill on the inhabitants and the small holders of the area around Port Hawkesbury on Cape Breton Island. The building of the mill was a direct result of the construction of the Canso Causeway which gave access to an ice-free port.

Participating in the program are Hans Lindberg, head of the Nova Scotia Pulp Mill; Leland Kirby, a woodcutter from Guysborough County, N.S.; Timothy Lafait, a woodcutter from Cheticamp, Cape Breton; Angus Waye, mayor of Port Hawkesbury; and John Bigelow, director of research in the department of trade and industry, Halifax.

Reflections

A program of music and song with a regular cast consisting of violinist Francis Chaplin, soprano Jean Marshall, baritone Clarence Fleiger, harpist Phyllis Ensher, pianist Harold Hughes, and a string orchestra under the direction of Gordon MacPherson. Host is Pat Napier. Produced by Robert Alban.

Frasquita Serenade and Largo from Dvorak's Symphony No. 5 .....	Francis Chaplin
Waltz of My Heart and Can't Help Singing .....	Jean Marshall
Romance in C (Sibelius) .....	Orchestra
Star Dust .....	Phyllis Ensher

Walt Disney Presents

Comanche. Part II. Last of the series about a young Sioux warrior and a wild stallion. Starring Sal Mineo.

Hazel

Hazel's Mona Lisa Grin. Hazel sells a painting of herself to a junkman, unaware that the person who painted it has since become a famous artist.

Parade

Parade Goes Night-Clubbing. The Limelighters vocal and instrumental group, comedian Jackie Mason and comedienne Jean Templeton present a program of folk songs and humour in a night-club setting. The Lime-lighters' numbers include Lonesome, Sweet Molly Malone, John Henry and a medley with the full cast.

In a 60-minute special "Background Presents the Critical Years" Sunday, Alistair Cooke is host of an analysis of the United Nations' present position.

Ed Sullivan Show

Featured performers are the Crosby brothers, Phillip, Dennis and Lindsay; actor Lloyd Bridges and opera singer Patrice Munsel.

Judy Garland Show

Judy Garland stars in this special 60-minute program of music, song and dance. Co-starring as special guests are singers Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin. Producer-director is Norman Jewison, assisted by Kay Thompson, well-known singer and dancer. This is Miss Garland's first television appearance in six years.

Background Presents The Critical Years

An analysis of the U.N. situation, using the Congo as a focal point. Included are filmed scenes and interviews in Africa at Elizabethville, Leopoldville and a Baluba camp, and at U.N. headquarters in New York. Those interviewed: Edmund A. Gullion, U.S. ambassador to the Congo; Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the Federated States of Rhodesia; Brian Urquhart, U.N. representative, and premier Adoula of the Congo. Mongi Slim, president of the General Assembly, is interviewed in New York. Also interviewed is Canada's Lester Pearson. Silent footage is included of Tshombe in Katanga province. Host is Alistair Cooke, North American correspondent of the Manchester Guardian.

WILL DONALD JACKSON WIN THE WORLD SKATING TITLE?

Toronto in the 51st annual Canadian Figure Skating Championships and also for berths on the 17-member team which will represent this country at the world championships at Prague, March 14 to 17.

This Sunday on the CBC television network, World of Sport will present an hour-long videotaped program of the highlights of the Canadian championships. Fred Sgambati will describe the free-skating portion of the men's and women's singles events and the final round of the pairs and dance competition. The top three competitors in each event will be seen.

Jackson has been placed second twice in the world championships, losing out to Hayes Jenkins of the United States in 1959 and to Alain Giletti of France in 1960. The world championships were cancelled last year because of the air crash which took the lives of the entire U.S. figure-skating team.

This year's Canadian team at the world events has all the promise of being the strongest the country has ever sent into international competition. Besides Jackson, 17-year-old Wendy Griner of Toronto is expected to offer strong competition in the women's singles while the brother-and-sister team of Maria and Otto Jelinek of Oakville, Ontario, and the dancing team of Virginia Thompson and Bill McLachlan of Toronto are considered favourites to win the pairs and dancing titles respectively, at Prague.

Program Notes

FEBRUARY 28

See also page 4 of next week's issue for possible changes in these notes and additional program information

Chez Helene

Helene Baillargeon and her puppets present a program of French instruction for the very young.

CBXT—Best Of The Post

Frontier Correspondent. The first newsman-photographer assigned to write about the settling of the frontier gets his first scoop sooner than expected when his train is held up by Jesse James and his gang.

CBXT—Ladies First

Helen Bentley presents another sewing lesson.

Music Break

Featuring singer Georges LaFleche with the Bob McMullin Orchestra, and announcer Warren Davis.

CBWT—Ladies First

Gerdine Crawford demonstrates how to make toss cushions and decorative cushions.

Germaine Warkentin reviews local art and theatre.

A. C. Roberts of the Manitoba Government gives us an insight into the experiences of the Polaris Survey Party.

Razzle Dazzle

A program for school age children, featuring variety acts, puzzle competitions, and the various problems that face school age children. Hosts are Michele Finney and Al Hamel.

CBXT—Farm Focus

Al Richardson and Dick Bocking present interviews and films covering the Alberta farm scene.

CBWT—Busy Fingers

In the second of two programs on puppets, three students from grade

Each Wednesday afternoon, hostess Evelyn Dandry takes viewers on an interesting tour of Paris, on Mademoiselle de Paris.

six at the Neil Campbell School in East Kildonan demonstrate how a simple puppet stage can be created.

Viewers may obtain patterns showing how to make these puppets by writing to "Busy Fingers," P.O. Box 160, Winnipeg 2, Manitoba.

CBWT—Spotlight

A series on Manitoba summer resorts with hosts Maurice Burchell and Chuck Skelding. Producer, Ted Benoit. This week, the North Whiteshell (Otter Falls and the surrounding areas) is visited.

CBXT—Gateway

Traffic problems are discussed in this series, with Colin MacLean.

Mr. Fix-It

Handyman Peter Whittall and his assistant, announcer Rex Loring, show how to build a breakfast nook.

Playdate

The Square. A two-character dialogue drama from the novel by Marguerite Duras (author of Hiroshima Mon Amour), translated by Barbara Bray. Produced by Basil Coleman.

In a public garden, two lonely lives touch—a young girl and an older man talk—then part—never to be quite the same again. Stars are Frances Hyland and Norman Welsh.

Explorations

The Test. A drama by Noel Stone. Produced by the National Film Board. Starring Frances Hyland, Ned Conlon and Oliver Berg.

Shocked and indignant parents take action against their children's teacher when she fails an entire class because some of the students cheated in written tests. The teacher contends that cheating in the classroom reflects lax standards of behaviour in the home and community. The firm stand taken by the teacher and the equally forceful protest by parents precipitate a crisis which ends in some soul-searching by both parties on the mutual responsibilities of teachers and parents in the process of education.

CBWT—Recital

One of the artists appearing is Rolande Garnier, accompanied by pianist Anna Hovey. She sings songs by Faure, Saint-Saens and Aaron Copland. A second performer is to be announced.

Nature Of Things

Getting Us Typed. William Sheldon is one of a number of scientists concerned in defining the accurate measurements of man and accurate descriptions of man's physical, mental and social development. All of us are blends of the fat, the muscular and the lean: the dynamic, the tranquil and the nervous.

Dr. Sheldon describes with the help of other scientists how he gives numerical values to our constitutions and our minds. Some implications concern parents. They should, some years from now, be able to tell whether their sons are football material, or whether their daughters are apt to be social successes, from careful study in infancy. Host is Donald Crowdis. Written by Rita Greer Allen.

The Defenders

The Hickory Indian. A man is forced to buy protection from racketeers in order to remain in the garment industry.

WILL DON JACKSON WIN THE WORLD SKATING TITLE?

Rubenstein was the first famous figure skater on the North American continent. After visiting Europe in the early 1870's, he returned to Canada and, along with some friends whom he taught to figure skate, formed the Amateur Skating Association of Canada, a forerunner of the Canadian Figure Skating Association and the first group of its kind in North America.

Rubenstein won a local championship when he was 17 and the next year he won the Canadian title, scoring 45 of a possible 48 points. While retaining that championship for several years he also won the U.S. amateur championship in 1885, 1888 and 1889 and then became world champion in 1890. The championship in those days, however, wasn't recognized officially as a world event, since few countries outside Europe competed. The official world championships began in 1896 for men, 1906 for women and 1908 for the pairs titles.

Since then Barbara Ann Scott, who won the women's singles in 1948 and 1949 as well as the Olympic title in 1948, and the pairs teams of Frances Dafoe and Norris Bowden, in 1954, 1955, and 1956, and Barbara Wagner and Bob Paul, in 1957, 1958, 1959 and the 1960 Olympics, have been world champions, representing this country.—Ron Andrews.

CBXT—Glencannon

The Donkeyman's Widow. Glencannon becomes a wealthy hero when he finds some stolen gems.

Open House

Movie critic Clyde Gilmour discusses some of the films he has seen recently.

Judith Donaldson shows how to give old furniture a new look by the use of pre-pasted Vinyl coverings.

CBWT—Schools Telecast

What Is History?—Part III. In this final program, teacher-narrator Murray Smith shows students the need for accuracy in collecting and recording historical data.

With graphics, photographs, tape recordings and quotations from books, Mr. Smith demonstrates how distortion, intentional or accidental, can falsify the recording of history. He also stresses how important it is that we be aware of a writer's point of view or bias in judging to what extent he has colored his account of an event. Script by Marian Waldman. Producer, Alwyn Scott.

Alberta Schools Telecast

Ian McLennan, Director of the Queen Elizabeth Planetarium in Edmonton, presents a series of six programs on the solar system, through co-operation between the Alberta Department of Education and the CBC. Produced in Edmonton by William Burley.

Saskatchewan School Telecasts

Gertrude Murray, supervisor of schools, broadcast branch, department of education, Saskatchewan, discusses Origami, the Japanese art of paper folding—a craft taught to Japanese children before they begin school.

The program also includes a film produced during the summer by the department of industry and information in Regina. It deals with the story of the "white crane" and is told by a Japanese teacher who folds paper (origami) to illustrate the story and the art. Produced by Jean Mackay.

CBWT—Ladies First

Raymond Lester discusses the Manitoba Drama League. Other guests are to be announced.

CBXT—This Is Alice

Alice convinces a young man who has just arrived from Ireland to box with the local champion.

CBXT—Club 5

The Challenging Future. The student and the parent are given an insight into 12 of the most demanding occupations. Nursing is discussed this week by Mrs. MacKinnon, acting director of Nurse Recruitment and Miss M. Schumacher, advisor to Schools of Nursing, University of Alberta. Producer, Jack Emack.

CBWT—Ichabod and Me

Adventures of a big-city newspaperman who takes over a small town newspaper.

CBXT—Project 13

Drama is the subject this week with Gordon Peacock and students discussing and demonstrating different styles of acting. They also present a scene from Louis XIV.

Fiddling Al Cherny, a featured performer on CBC-TV's Country Hoedown series, shows some of the form that helped him win the open and novelty fiddling titles the past two years at the Old Time Fiddlers' Contest in Shelburne, Ont. Cherny still uses a fiddle given to him as a child by his father.

Country Hoedown

Music and mirth — country style—with Gordie Tapp, the Hames Sisters, Tommy Hunter, Tommy Common, Al Cherny, Johnny Davidson and the Singing, Swinging Eight.

Car 54, Where Are You?

New York is the scene for the comedy adventures of two misfit cops whose cruiser car is seldom on the right track.

Perry Mason

The Case Of The Crippled Cougar. An oilman asks Mason to handle a transaction involving the sale of oil leases at a surprisingly low price.

CBXT—First Nighter

A sparkling musical variety show spotlighting some of Edmonton's finest talent. Host Neil Smith and regulars Dorothy Harpell, Glynn Williams, the Ruth Carse Dance Trio and the Harry Boon Quintet welcome special guests each week.

Channel 6—CBWFT

300 Years After Champlain

Every year about this time, Quebec City starts to prepare for an imminent summer invasion. Three and a half million Americans will soon get under way for a tour of Quebec and its picturesque landmarks, in one of the world's most important peaceful invasions.

What are they looking for?

Under the title "Quebec-U.S.A., or the peaceful invasion," the National Film Board series Temps present this week presents a documentary study of this annual event and the problems it creates as well as the advantages and heart-warming experiences it brings.

Pianist Mark Jablonski, from Edmonton, performs with the National Ballet in a variety program on "L'Heure du Concert" (Concert Hour), Thursday, March 1, at 9:00 p.m. on CBWFT, Channel 6.

"Quebec-U.S.A." is not a thesis on the cultural relations and exchanges of two great countries, nor a news report on a phenomenon of the tourist trade. It is a living documentary that bypasses American and French Canadian myths to present a very human and very complex chain of reactions.

The visitors may be a Negro couple, unaccustomed to the French language, piloted through the historic city by a college student with a heavy accent; a group of students who have come to Canada to complete, or major in, a particular field of study. The "in-

Is Modern Woman Caught in a GLAMOUR TRAP?

"WHEN I LOOK at some of the long, lean, carbon copies of bone and hair you see around these days, I wonder where all the soft, cuddly, individualistic women have gone."

That's one man's opinion, and he's an Academy Award-winning Hollywood director who works with some of the most glamorous women in the world. Like a lot of other people in North America, he's worried about women on this continent who are caught in a glamour trap, trying to look like a beauty queen, a Hollywood star or a president's wife, trying to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear and getting frustrated and unhappy in the process.

American and Canadian women are hell-bent on the trail of a dream: the illusion that beauty or glamour is all-important to modern living, to happiness, success, fulfillment. Advertising and their own vanity have deceived them into believing that substituting the manufactured and the artificial for the basic qualities of wisdom and femininity will make all their hopes materialize. Meanwhile the pockets of glamour entrepreneurs grow gloriously jingly.

On February 25 and March 4 and 11 at 5 p.m. CBC radio's Project '62 presents a series of programs which probe the phenomenon of the glamour trap and explain why and how the laws of fashion are reducing the ranks of individualistic women. Scripts for the three programs were written by Hilda Mortimer, Vancouver reporter and TV personality. Toronto freelance reporter Lloyd Chester collaborated with her in preparing this Sunday's program on The Glamour Trap.

In Vancouver, Hollywood, New York and Toronto they talked to a variety of distinguished people who are alarmed about the psychological and physical effects the all-out race for glamour is having on women. Among those they talked to are fashion designer Oleg Cassini, model and charm-school director Candy Jones, hat designer Mr. John, prominent New York psychiatrist Dr. Sarah Sheiner, movie star-director Dick Powell, film producer Charles Brackett, and best-selling author Alexander King.

Dr. Sheiner, who has a private practice and is also on the staff of the New York City Hospital, believes that modern women are too gullible. "They believe their happiness is dependent on being young and beautiful. They'll buy anything that anyone says will make them that way." She has some interesting remarks about what makes them so gullible, and why they should smarten up.

Alexander King puts the whole blame on co-education. In Europe, where there is little co-education, he points out, women don't search frantically for beauty, they just mature gracefully. But in North America they start trying to make themselves over at an extremely early age, to impress the boys in their classroom. They go to college just to meet men, he says, marry young, quickly get bogged down in suburbia with too-expensive homes, furnishings, cars and various other responsibilities, and by 35 or 40 the husband is a wreck trying to live up to and pay for this dream of gracious living, while the wife is spending all kinds of money and time on making herself svelte because she feels it's good for her husband's business.

Oleg Cassini, whom Lloyd Chester describes as a rebel, a complete non-conformist, says the first step in opening the glamour trap and letting women out to be themselves, is to get rid of the 37th Avenue dressmen in New York. The next step is to discard the worship of youth—the one quality that cannot be bought or replaced, but which the Madison Avenue boys do their best to capitalize on. Cassini blames the fashion and women's magazines, too, for instilling in modern woman a belief that her life won't be complete unless she's drifting around in one of his expensive creations or a gown by some other top designer. And the cosmetics people, he says, perpetuate the glamour dream still further by telling women (who, he says, gobble up the information greedily as gospel truth) that a certain shade of red in lipsticks will make them more desirable.

Program Notes

THE MOVIE SCENE

Gerald Pratley discusses movies, actors and other topics connected with films.

W-1:15 pm K-1:15 pm X-1:15 pm

METROPOLITAN OPERA

Turandot, by Puccini, in three acts and five scenes.

Cast: Turandot, Princess of China — soprano Birgit Nilsson; Emperor Altoum — Franco Corelli; Liu, a young slave — soprano Licia Albanese; also Timur, dethroned Tatar King; Calaf, his son; Ping, grand chancellor; Pang, general purveyor; Pong, chief cook; the Prince of Persia, and others. Locale is Peking, in legendary times.

Act I. Walls of the Great Violet City. A proclamation is read announcing that the Princess Turandot will marry any man of noble blood able to answer three riddles; if he fails, he will be beheaded. The Prince of Persia, having tried, fails, and is being led to execution. In the crowd, Calaf, in disguise, comes across his father, King Timur, who has been dethroned, and his slave girl, Liu. Calaf condemns Turandot for her cruelty, but when she appears on a balcony, Calaf falls under her spell and determines to solve the riddles. Boldly he sounds the gong signalling he is to make a trial.

Act II. A pavilion in the palace. Ping, Pang and Pong pray that Princess Turandot soon will be married so that an end may come to the present unpleasant state of affairs. A blare of trumpets announces a new candidate. Change of scene to a square outside the palace. Turandot enters in glittering splendor, and warns Calaf not to attempt the test. He insists, however, and is successful in answering the three riddles. Turandot then begs Calaf to release her and warns him that she will be his torment if he insists on marriage. Calaf sportingly promises her release if she can tell him his name by the following day.

Act III. Palace gardens, at night. The people invade the garden and beg the prince to reveal his identity. He refuses. Liu and Timur enter, and when it is discovered that Liu knows the stranger, Turandot orders the executioners to torture her until she reveals his name. But Liu stabs herself, and the crowd, awed, withdraws.

Calaf meets Turandot alone, and asks her to forsake her icy demeanor. But when she learns that he is the enemy Tatar prince, her pride is awakened and she declares she will have him put to death.

Day dawns and Turandot leads Calaf before her father and declares she knows the name. "It is . . . It is . . . Love!" she cries, and they are united happily.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has six main television production centres. They are at Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Halifax.

The famous fishermen of Newton Abbot in the West Country, are interviewed and described as part of "Postmark U.K." Sunday. The town is famous for its racecourse and railways as well.

FRENCH TV HIGHLIGHTS

vasion" looks even more so when some 40 warships of the U.S. Navy dock at l'Anse-au-Foulon, pouring into the narrow streets of "La Vieille Capitale" several thousand men. Many visitors are students, who have come to Quebec for an annual five-week French conversation class at Laval University.

"Québec-U.S.A." . . . not an ordinary documentary, but an amusing and warmly human walk through Quebec City's more picturesque quarters.

Tuesday, February 27 at 11:00, on Temps Présent.

Filles et garçons

Another gift from Quebec City is this week's "Filles at Garçons" dealing with the Winter Carnival and the unusual aspects taken on by the ancient capital under its blanket of snow.

Yoland Guérard this week greets a group of dancers who call themselves "Les Villageois de Québec" (The Quebec Villagers) and the choir "Les Chanteurs de la Colline" with singer Denise Parent contributing her share of gay chansonnettes.

"Filles et Garçons" is seen each Wednesday evening at 7:30 on CBWFT.

Recital

St. Boniface soprano Sylvia Saurette is the guest artist on Récital, Wednesday February 28 at 10:00 on Channel 6.

Born in Letellier, a little French-Canadian community near the Canada-U.S. border, Miss Saurette has lived most of her life in St. Boniface. She began her music studies under Doris Mills-Lewis in Winnipeg, and since 1956 she has studied in Montreal at the Bernard Diamant school of music. Miss Saurette has many successes to her credit, among them: First Prize at the Musical Festival of the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto in 1959; First Prize at the Kiwanis Music Festival, also in Toronto in 1959; and Second Prize in the CBC Talent Festival the same year. She also won the Prix Archambault in May, 1960, for her participation in the National Music Festival, having been chosen among the top six to perform in the finals in June.

She has performed several times in Winnipeg on the CBC Recitals.

Lawrence of Arabia. The name of Lawrence of Arabia, the late Col. T. E. Lawrence, is currently in the news with the publication of the play "Ross" in London and on Broadway. During the First World War, J. A. Heenan served in the Royal Navy cruiser H.M.S. Fox and saw much active service in the Middle East, co-operating with Lawrence in the capture of seaports bordering the coast of Arabia. During the Second World War, he served in the Royal Canadian Navy and was promoted to the rank of Captain in 1942. Captain Heenan talks to Frances Baldwin, Ottawa freelance writer and broadcaster, about Lawrence of Arabia.

The View from Doukhobor Hill. In the second of three talks, Helen Gowans of Toronto tells how she found she had chosen a dramatic and significant time to return to Grand Forks, British Columbia, in July of

The Reith Lectures:

The Colonial Reckoning

THIS YEAR the BBC's Reith Lectures, for the first time since their inception in 1948, have been given by a woman, Miss Margery Perham, Fellow of Nuffield College, Oxford. Titled The Colonial Reckoning, they are an assessment of the ending of British rule in Africa and of the forces replacing it.

Miss Perham is widely known for her many important studies in the history and administration of African territories, and for her work on practical problems of higher education and the promotion of research overseas. She is also well known in Africa, for in spite of heavy teaching and advisory duties in Britain she has travelled often and extensively in African countries, enjoying to an unusual extent the confidence of the rulers and the ruled, and the friendship and respect of African political leaders.

Miss Perham's six half-hour lectures, recorded by the BBC, will be presented on CBC radio beginning Monday night at 10:30, as part of the University of the Air series. (Repeated Tuesday, March 6, in the morning.) In her first lecture she examines the concepts of anti-colonialism and anti-imperialism in the light of the present world situation and of past history, and their relationship to the British Colonial Empire and its dissolution.

Later in the series she discusses the nature of African nationalism and other forces, both within and without Africa, arising to replace colonial rule; the difficulties facing the new leaders; the prospects both for Africans and, in some areas, Europeans, and Britain's future relations with her ex-colonies.

Africa has fascinated Miss Perham since her childhood. "I was lucky enough soon after I left Oxford," she says, "to go out to British Somaliland and to trek up to the border and across it into Ethiopia, riding on ponies and camels and camping out at night in a country where game still abounded. I soon found that behind the scene of forest and desert and of tribes who in those days still wore their tribal dress or undress, there were absorbing problems of government. I began by writing a novel about the clash between the ambitions of soldiers and administrators, but went on to more serious occupations, lecturing at Oxford upon native policy, the working of the Mandates system, and kindred subjects.

"It was due to the intervention of Lord Lothian, then Secretary of the Rhodes Trust, that I was enabled to spend more than two years travelling round the world getting an introduction to the problems of relations between white and coloured races in the United States, some of the Pacific Islands, New Zealand, and South and Central Africa. These

THE CRITIC

An 18th century drama by Richard Sheridan, adapted by Ian Thorne.

Gossip writers and the theatre's lunatic fringe are the target for this social satire. It is particularly aimed at a playwright named Richard Cumberland, who wrote pompous tragedies at that time. Starring Ian Thorne, Daphne Goldrick, Peter Haworth, Robert Clothier, Roy Brinson and Peter Ajello.

W-7:35 pm K-7:35 pm X-7:35 pm

COMUS

An 18th century Masque based on a poem by John Milton. A lady and her two brothers are returning to their father's home. On their way home they must pass through a forest frequented by the demi-god Comus, son of Bacchus and Circe, who, like his mother, has a hatred of mankind. He strives to corrupt them both morally and physically. To do this, he tempts his victims to drink from a charmed cup.

During their journey through the forest, the two brothers become separated from their sister. She, left alone, is discovered by Comus and enticed to go with him to his palace. Her brothers and guardian spirits arrive just in time to prevent her from drinking from the cup.

Starring Peter Haworth, Ian Thorne and Patricia Williams, with singers Audrey Farnell, Heather Thompson, Donald Brown and Aksel Schiotz. The CBC Vancouver orchestra and chorus are directed by Harry Newstone.

IS MODERN WOMAN CAUGHT IN A GLAMOUR TRAP?

Candy Jones, now around 40, who was one of New York's leading models a few years ago, runs her own charm school in New York where she teaches only correct posture, how to walk well, and how to apply simple, basic make-up. She believes women should never be encouraged to try to appear what they're not. She prefers to help them make the most of what nature gave them.

When Chester asked her how she felt about her own age, she replied: "I look in the mirror and say: 'Oh, oh! another wrinkle!' But now I've come to the point where I can console myself with the thought that I've now got a face with a lived-in look." That's the look she encourages her pupils to aim for. She gets annoyed with mothers who bring their 15-year-old daughters to her school with dyed hair, "three-inch" make-up and false eyelashes, and who resist her attempt to make the young girl look more natural, with the excuse that her father or her boyfriend prefers her artificial look and want the charm school to make her more so.

"When we went to Hollywood," says Chester, "we felt we were entering the mecca of artificial beauty, the place where the glamour image is created. But Dick Powell and Charles Brackett insist that Hollywood has very little to do with the glamour trap. 'Sure, we have beautiful women here and we let the make-up department make them more glamorous,' they say. 'And if the public is so enamoured of Garbo or Munroe that they want to copy them, O.K., that's their affair.' They think the cosmetics manufacturers and Madison Avenue sales talk are winding women around their fingers, but that Hollywood is as innocent as a lamb. Powell says: 'At least we don't make Marilyn Monroe movies and then capitalize on gullible female fans by turning out Munroe lipstick and undies for them'."

Brackett is nostalgic for the good old days, and the sooner women get back to looking more like themselves, the better he'll like them. "All you see now are carbon copies," he says. "Thousands and thousands of Elizabeth Taylors."

Canada Standard Size System. The new Canada Standard Size system will make it possible to buy children's clothes by body measurement instead of age. The revolutionary project was sparked by the Consumers Association of Canada, and the system has been worked out by a committee set up by the Canadian Government Specifications Board. Children's underwear in the new sizes is now on the market and it is expected that other clothes will follow. Jean Morrison will be telling Matinee listeners about the new system today.

IS MODERN WOMAN CAUGHT IN A GLAMOUR TRAP?

Of course it isn't only modern women who have been trapped by the dictates of style into looking as if they had been stamped out by a machine. They've been falling into the fashion pit ever since Biblical times. And who says Neanderthal woman didn't try to drape her locks more coyly than the female in the next cave, to impress the romeo who prowled nearby. Grandmother defied medical opinion with her wasp-waist corset just as modern woman does with her needle-point shoe.

Medical opinion has never carried much weight against the world of fashion creators, and neither have the admonitions of the clergy (as Isaiah discovered), except in societies where women's freedom in general has traditionally been curtailed. Nor have public riots against brilliantly coloured costumes and extravagant jewelry held back the course of fashion for long. Like ol' man river, it just keeps rolling along, and no woman under 90 and over nine is going to tote a single sand-bag to the levee when the waters of fashion threaten to run wild. Why is this? What and who actually determine the style and hue that women demand to wear each season?

Hilda Mortimer got answers from some of the world's leading couturiers, including Elsa Schiaparelli, who dressed the great Garbo in her sweaters and trench-coats; Jacques Heim, director of the Chambre-Syndicale of the Paris Haute Couture; Sybil Connolly, the designer who put Ireland on the fashion map; Ginette Spanier, the brilliant directrice of the House of Balmain; Norman Hartnell, designer to the British Royal Family; Ruben Torres, young genius of the House of Nina Ricci; and Cissy Zoltowska, the famed Paris jewelry designer.

On March 4 the rulers of fashion have their say. The March 11 program concerns their loyal subjects. It offers a study of the reasons women submit to the dictates of fashion, and how they do it.—June Graham.

travels ended up with more prolonged study, in Nigeria and later in East Africa. A Rockefeller Travelling Fellowship enabled me to study in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. I was also fortunate enough to make friends with Lord Lugard, and to work closely with this great pioneer and administrator of Africa, who commissioned me to write his biography. During and after the Second World War, I was a member of the Inter-University Council for Higher Education Overseas and of the University Council of Makerere in Uganda. In this capacity I paid visits to the five university colleges of British Africa, and also paid two interesting comparative visits to the West Indies.

"I had better confess at once that during all these years of travel and study, though I was very often critical of what seemed to me mistakes in Britain's policy or in administration on the spot, I had a general sense of watching an over-all beneficent undertaking, of which Britain could be proud. And though I was well aware that some Africans had reasonable complaints and fears, I was taken by surprise by the very widespread and sweeping attack upon colonialism which has accompanied the emancipation of the great majority of the dependent peoples."

WALNUT TORTE

(Seen on Ladies First, February 6)

- 6 egg whites
- 2 cups icing sugar
- ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1½ cups fine soda cracker crumbs
- 2 cups ground walnuts or pecans
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 tablespoon almond extract

Mix cracker crumbs, walnuts and baking powder in bowl. In another bowl, beat egg whites until they hold a stiff peak. Gradually add sugar, beating well after each addition. Then beat in extract. Fold in nut-cracker mixture.

Put in 8" layer pans that have been greased and lined with wax paper. Bake at 350 for 40 minutes. Cool on rack for 5 minutes. Remove from pans and fill with whipped cream. This torte should be filled several hours before serving.

Heritage Presents Drama About Conflict of Values

A DRAMA ABOUT conflicts between spiritual and materialistic values will be shown on CBC-TV's religious series, Heritage, Sunday afternoon, February 25.

"An Urgency of Love," written by Rita Greer Allen and produced by Ed Rollins, tells the story of an ambitious woman whose plans for expanding her business are disrupted by her niece's desire to join a religious organization.

Starring in the play are Lynne Gorman as Julia Myers, the business woman, and Patricia Farmer as Liz Mannerman, Julia's niece and employee.

Julia is the owner of a women's clothing store. Business is flourishing and she is planning to establish a number of branch stores. However, to do this she must have an experienced person to look after the main store. For this position, she chooses her niece, but Liz has other plans—she wants to leave the business world and join the Grail, a lay women's movement in the Roman Catholic Church.

With her hopes of commercial success threatened, Julia tries to persuade her niece to give up her "foolish idea."

Lynne Gorman has appeared in a number of CBC-TV dramas since coming to Toronto from Ottawa in the summer of 1961. She had a principal role in a G.M. Presents drama, "The Town That Didn't Care."

Patricia Farmer came to Canada from England in 1955 and has also appeared in many CBC-TV productions. She was seen in a Playdate drama, "Mr. Nobody," on Feb. 14.

Others in the cast of An Urgency of Love are Susan Fletcher, Margot Demetrician, Antony Parr and Joseph Rabinovitch. A Roman Catholic priest and a group of members of the Grail appear as themselves in the drama.
