

"Musical Canada" at MIDEM

50 CENTS
Volume 20 No. 23
January 19, 1974

Representatives of the Canadian Government's Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce have joined forces with Canadian publishers in putting forth an impressive effort for the annual International Record and Music Publishing Market (MIDEM) in Cannes, France, January 19 through 25. Government personnel include Gil Des-Becquets, Andre Georges and Robert Archer. Twelve Canadian companies along with a number of their subsidiaries will be represented under the "Musical Canada" theme. There is no charge for the use of the Canadian booth. Canadian publishers and record companies wishing to take advantage of this important function need only supply their transportation to and from Cannes as well as accommodation while there. Although personal solicitation of companies was not made, it was generally understood throughout the industry that the free government booth was available and those desiring to participate merely registered with Gil Des-Becquets, Trade Publicity Officer of the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce.

Canada's publishers have gained a secure foothold in the world market over the past few years. There has been a definite emergence of strong internationally-oriented Canadian artists and groups which makes MIDEM of prime importance. Not only will the Canadian publishers be able to hock their

CANADIAN RELEASES UPPED FOR COLUMBIA

While many in the industry are fearing a drastic cut in Canadian product because of the vinyl shortage, Columbia has indicated an increase in the release of domestic product. Bert Dunseith, national sales manager for Columbia, reports the release of five Canadian produced albums and one produced in France. Topping the Canadian release is Tom Middleton's introduction album, under the title of his own name. The release coincides with Middleton's tour across Western Canada, arranged through International Promotion Consultants of Vancouver in conjunction with A&W. Also high on the list is Danny McBride's set, "Morningside" which contains his initial single release, "Goodbye Blues".

The Montreal-produced Patsy Gallant album, "Power", is expected to break in Quebec province, and hopefully work itself into the rest of Canada. The Gallant sound has been picking up fans in English Canada since her introduction on the Columbia label, a year ago. The performance is in English.

Gilles Vigneault is the subject of an album release entitled "Songs & Poems". The set is being released on the budget label.

JULIAN RICE TO COLUMBIA POST

Julian Rice has been appointed to Columbia's newly created position of Director of Merchandising. He will be responsible for advertising and merchandising activities within the company as well as developing new concepts in the ad and merchandising areas.

Rice comes to Canada with more than twenty years in the record business, much of it with Columbia Records in the U.S. Prior to his Canadian appointment he was Director of Merchandising Planning for Columbia in New York City.

The above announcement was made by Jack Robertson, Executive Vice-President of Columbia Records Canada, Ltd.

A new group from Vancouver, Ptarmigan, will bow the Columbia label with their album under their own name. This backup group to Paul Horn is already an established group on the west coast and received heavy national exposure via Horn's television series.

Produced in France where it was released on the CBS label is an album by Anne Marie David. The album, released primarily for the Quebec market, is released under title of the artist's name.

Radio play on Murray McLauchlan's "Linda" cut from his True North album, "Day To Day Dust", almost guarantees a single release to coincide with his Massey Hall appearance (Jan 26). McLauchlan has had a good run on the charts with his most recent single release, "Hurricane Of Change".

A strong lineup of American product is also ready for release. Back from a seasonal hiatus is Donovan who will try his luck this time with "Essence To Essence". Chi Coltrane are off with "Let It Ride", and a two-record set, "The World Of Joe Simon" is expected to gather national sales in a very short time.

Larry Gatlin, a new Monument artist first introduced to stage audiences by Johnny Cash, has a go with "The Pilgrim". Gatlin is actually a discovery of Kris Kristofferson, and became involved in the wax business through Nashville friends. Gatlin has strong country leanings but is expected to cross-over into contemporary rock.

Country programmers will have a good selection to choose from with album releases from Ray Price/"You're The Best Thing That Ever Happened To Me", Jody Miller/"House Of The Rising Sun", and Johnny Paycheck/"Song & Dance Man".

Charlie Camilleri, national promotion manager for Columbia, will shortly launch a promotion campaign to coincide with the O'Keefe Centre date (Feb 4-9) of Vikki Carr. Her latest release, "Live At The Greek Theatre" is gaining in popularity at major "pop" stations across the country and should add to box office interest.

The face peering from behind the stack of toys belongs to CKLB Oshawa morning man Al Kingdon. Al was given a one minute spree to pick up as many toys as he could at the Eatons location in Oshawa. The event kicked off the station's annual toy drive which netted some 4000 toys and pieces of clothing.

HAROLD MOON TO BE HONOURED AT BANQUET

The friends of Wm. Harold Moon have planned a Testimonial Banquet to honour the pioneer of Canadian music upon his retirement as Managing Director of BMI Canada Ltd. Moon's retirement came into effect at the end of 1973.

The group will hold a cocktail reception followed by a dinner in the Centennial Ballroom of the Inn on the Park, Jan. 22nd (Toronto). Composers, publishers and industry figures from across Canada will be in attendance.

Moon has been associated with the industry for more than 26 years and is a well known and respected authority on the music and record industries in Canada.

Those wishing to attend may contact RPM for further information. Reservations will be accepted until January 27th. Dress for the occasion is optional.

HEAR MARSHALL McLUHAN AT C8

Marshall McLuhan, the internationally acclaimed communications philosopher will be a guest speaker at RPM's Communication Eight (C8) meet in Toronto which is set for March 23rd. 1974.

Known for his many books on the media. He is also a professor, prophet, lecturer and consultant. He is presently the Director of the Centre for Culture and Technology at the University of Toronto.

McLuhan is available for a very limited number of public lectures each year, but has consented to speak to the broadcasters, programmers and record people attending the Saturday meeting at the Inn on the Park.

COMMUNICATION EIGHT

Two other speakers, to be announced at a later date, will lecture during the meet and announcements will be made soon regarding further events to take place.

Communication Eight will be a two day event with speakers Saturday morning followed by a forum on the music and broadcasting industry in the afternoon. RPM will host a cocktail party for the registrants that same evening. This will allow topics of the day to be discussed informally.

Sunday, record companies are planning hospitality rooms throughout the Inn, making presentations and presenting a unique opportunity for registrants to meet their staff and artists.

JUNO NOMINATIONS - "It's entirely up to you"

The most involved people in the Canadian record and music industry are the subscribers of RPM. Each week, through RPM, they become acquainted and informed with the progress and changes within our industry. In view of their participation, they should be the best qualified in the industry to make the final judgement as to who the leaders are. In view of their importance, RPM has mailed a nomination ballot for the Juno Awards to each subscriber. They, and they alone, will be responsible for the nominations. RPM subscribers are involved in every aspect of the industry. They work and live in every part of Canada. They either make their living through music, records, radio, television or are involved in areas allied to our industry. If they aren't, it would be of great interest to us to find out why they

"... the prophets of doom, the messengers of mediocrity, will be overwhelmed by the new generation of competent, creative, confident artisans and by all those of preceding generations who have already demonstrated their freshness of mind, their talent and their capacity for inspired leadership."

Bearing this in mind, and not knowing any alternatives that would serve the purpose better, they must be the most qualified judges of who leads the field.

In filling out their ballots, honestly and carefully, the mass of ballots should reflect that which is true to the industry. The Juno Awards are no different than the BBM survey, BMI and CAPAC's logging, or the national opinion polls that take samplings of opinion and attitude. In fact, our sampling of the industry is far more thorough than either of the mentioned systems can, or wish to be, or at least, this is our opinion. After all, you can't go out and personally interrogate everyone in the industry for an end-all result. It would be physically and geographically impossible.

Somehow when the ballots are returned and are counted, it is the ACCURATE result of the tabulation that results in what the industry feels.

The purpose of this item is to bring to your attention the fact that we depend on you, our subscribers. We don't care who wins. We only care that you participate and that when we count the final ballots, they are exactly what you have indicated by your

GARY BUCK HEADS UP HALIFAX TELETHON

Producer, publisher and RCA artist Gary Buck gained a lot of new friends and fans "down east" in mid December. Buck hosted and MC'ed the annual CJCH Television "Christmas Daddies" show in Halifax December 16th. The six hour marathon telecast featured over 20 acts and raised more than forty-two thousand dollars for the Nova Scotia Children's Aid Society. This year's pledge total is the largest ever realized in the show's nine year history.

Buck flew into Halifax at his own expense, especially for the show, which has an audience in excess of three hundred thousand people. Among several songs he performed on "Christmas Daddies" was his current RCA hit single "National Pastime".

nominations or votes. Bearing this in mind, RPM assumes no responsibility for the results, other than to guarantee that the ballots are counted accurately and that the results are 100% accurate, according to the ballots received. We pick NOTHING! That is why there are no special awards this year. If it isn't part of the poll, there isn't an Award. It is ENTIRELY up to YOU.

Why should you take the time and trouble to fill out the ballot and mail it back in time to qualify. The only answer I can think of is to ask the question "Why do you subscribe to RPM.....other than you wish to participate in the industry".

There will be no group of judges deciding the winners - no panel decisions and no jury of experts to call the shots. The industry, as a whole, has this rare opportunity to cast a vote for those they feel have furthered the industry in 1973. There is something magic and wonderful about the system and the way it works. We don't know who votes and we have no idea who will win. We sit back as interested as you in what the ballots will decide.

To those artists who have excelled - to those companies that have done whatever it is to build their image - and to those who have done it best, good luck. The nation is now deciding if you did it well.

Now is the time to ask if you have excelled, in your area of endeavour and the time to ask.....if you are a winner.

Not everyone can win, but there will be no one who isn't allowed to try.

Look back over the past fifty-two issues of RPM and decide for yourself what has happened and who made it happen. Search your memory for the big stars and the big songs and the big records and the companies who, in your opinion have done their best. That's what the business is all about. Sit down and carefully and honestly complete the ballot in those areas with which you are familiar. We are counting on you, and you can count on us to accurately tabulate the results and present the Awards to the people YOU have picked.

It IS entirely up to you.

COUNTRY CONCERTS FOR NEW YORK CITY

Country music is set to invade New York City with the first of its kind Country Music Festival. The first date (Jan. 19) at the Felt Forum of Madison Square Garden Centre, will showcase the "Hee Haw" television crew with the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band as an added attraction. Buck Owens who will head up the bill, is currently making good chart gains with "Big Game Hunter".

The Festival is a joint venture with Madison Square Garden Productions, Inc. with headliners firmed after six months of negotiation. Organizers for the Festival will use Nashville headliners to promote local acts such as David Bromberg, tagged the West Side Kid.

Country music first got its foothold in New York through New York pop columnist Al Aronowitz who bowed two Country In New York concerts at the Philharmonic Hall. This was also a first for country music at Lincoln Centre.

Aronowitz is of the opinion that the current popularization of country music is an indication of a "new patriotism". He claims "there is no conflict between country and rock", adding "There is certainly no

MAINLINE BUMP OUT THE OLD — GRIND IN THE NEW

Lightning may not strike twice in the same place, but history repeats itself as evidenced in Toronto New Year's Eve at the Victory Burlesque Theatre. Two sold out crowds of zoers partook of the legendary Mainline Bump and Grind Revue, brought back by popular demand so that 1974 would be rung in with a little "sophisto disgusto".

That's what Joe Mendelson, vocalist and founding father of Mainline, said about the shows which reunited the band that never should have broken up in the first place. The other members of Mainline, Michael McKenna (lead guitar), Tony Nolasco (drums) and Mike Harrison (bass), played some of their dirty blues to back a bevy of bounteous bottoms and bosoms that wiggled and shook all over the stage and runway of the famous strip joint.

With the band attired in outfits that could best be described as Frederick's of Hollywood rejects, a gorilla for a stagehand and the ample competent MCing of artistic director David Andoff (yes, the kid who draws those rude posters) the New Year's Zoo was one of the finest I've ever had the pleasure to attend. Mainline, though regrouped for this gig alone, were superb and will always remain one of the best bands to come out of this country.

At this point I would like to give a tip of the hat to the concert promoters, S.R.O. Productions for another fine, well organized event. I don't know about the hassles involved, but I would like to see that show taken on tour. There must be millions of people across North America who like to watch some nude women dancing to some good sounds. — P.T.

conflict that can't be ironed out. With me, music is sort of a religion. I don't ask its category, I ask its quality. I think the time has come for the people of America to stop thinking about their differences and start thinking about their similarities. I think some good fresh, clean country air would be a good thing for New York."

It's interesting to note that the cold grey image of Toronto has also been somewhat softened by country activists. The Ralstons continue to pull good crowds at their Sunday Boot Jamboree (Locarno Ballroom) and there's the Caribou Club, the Palladium Ballroom, Ann Dunn's Matador Club and several taverns throughout the city who have become successful with country music. Arranging a series similar to that of New York City has been discussed by several country VIPs but most are overcautious — waiting for the other party to get his feet wet first.

Following the Jan. 19 concert will be Charlie Rich, Tom T. Hall and The Storytellers. Added attraction for this Feb. 9 date will be Bill Monroe and his Blue Grass Boys. Mar. 16 will see Lynn Anderson headlining the bill with David Bromberg as special guest star. Merle Haggard is scheduled for Apr. 5 with Bonnie Owens and the Strangers with the Osborne Brothers as an added attraction and Don Bowman as guest star. The last date of the series, May 11, will star Tammy Wynette and George Jones with Harold Morrison and Patsy Sledd and the Jones Boys.

SOUNDAROUND CAPTURES SASKATCHEWAN MARKET

Earl Brown, president and general manager of the Soundaround Production complex in Regina, has found a ready market for his album product in Saskatchewan. Brown, one of the industry's original sound men, maintains recording studios in Regina (Calart Sound) as well as his own distribution. Prior to getting into the record business he was employed as an on-air personality at CKRM Regina.

Brown's most recent waxed effort is "20 Old Time Hits" by the Trimble Tones. Shipped with a suggested list of $4.98, the set has already exceeded $100,000.00 in retail sales. Brown is now putting the finishing touches on Volume Two and, like Volume One will be marketed through Concept Marketing Ltd.

Three members of the Saskatchewan Roughriders (Clyde Brock, Tim Ross, Nolan Bailey) were discovered to be talented enough for Brown to take them into the studios for an album. The results — "800 lbs. of West Country Rock". The album has had solid support from CKRM in Regina and CKOM in Saskatoon.

In time for Christmas was Brown's production of "15 Great Melodies of Many Lands" which received a heavy concentration of television advertising through Concept Marketing. Sales on this album is indicative of the unique market that Brown is servicing. He is also gaining ground in Alberta and Manitoba.

A&M LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN BEHIND AUSSIE ST. JOHN

Jeff St. John, a very hot Australian artist, is the object of a nationwide promotion campaign by A&M Records. His most current single release, qualifies as Canadian content. The plug side, "Yesterday's Music" was penned by David Clayton Thomas while the flip, "Lady Of Ginger" is a Judy Lander original.

St. John first bowed the Australian scene in 1963, working with several local groups before making it as a solo artist. His first group, The Id, was formed in 1966 and shortly thereafter became one of the top groups of Sydney. Their base of operations was Sydney's first discotheque, Rubarb but it wasn't until 1968 when they made an impression on the record market. Their vehicle, "Bigtime Operator", remained on Australia's national Top 40 for sixteen weeks. This gave them an opportunity to tour with The Yardbirds, as well as appearing in concert with Roy Orbison at the Sydney Stadium.

Splitting Id, St. John formed his own group, Copperwine, in Perth which emerged as the country's leading pop concert band. Their first single, "Teach Me How To Fly" was an immediate hit followed by an equally successful album, "Joint Effort". St. John then hit out as a solo in 1971 with his initial single, "Yesterday's Music", becoming a potential chart topper across Australia.

St. John, at the age of twenty-seven, has undergone leg surgery which has confined him to a wheelchair but not dampened his spirit. Besides putting the finishing touches on a new album, he is negotiating for several concert dates which should bring him to North America and Europe within the next few months.

NATIONAL CONCENTRATION ON CTL PRODUCT

Recent single and album releases from the Canadian Talent Library have apparently met with strong acceptance by radio stations across the nation.

Receiving heavy airplay is Vic Franklyn's album and single, "Shangri-La" distributed by Quality Records. Franklyn just recently completed several television tapings including "The Juliette Show" for the CBC-TV to be aired Feb. 7; and the new Global television network's "Norm Cosby Show". The latter will be televised some time this month. A native of Wales, Franklyn now considers Toronto his home where he has lived for the past fourteen months. A second album has been scheduled for late spring.

Jerry Toth is receiving a fair share of programming with his album, "12 Sides Of". Some of Canada's finest musicians are featured on the set including: Moe Koffman, Guido Basso and Ed Bickert.

Ben McPeck will soon be front and centre with his new album, "Play Me" to be distributed by RCA. The album features the soundtrack from this summer's new Ontario Place film, "Catch The Sun", a co-penning by McPeck and Nancy White.

NATIONAL RECOGNITION FOR OSHAWA JAMBOREE

George Petralia's Oshawa Country Jamboree is fast becoming the most widely talked about country music event in Canada.

Items have been appearing in newspapers and magazines all across the country, and the December issue of Country Music News, published in Langley, B.C., devotes considerable space to Jamboree happenings.

Agencies representing top Canadian country acts such as Tommy Hunter, Ian & Sylvia and Stompin' Tom Connors have been contacting Petralia regarding Jamboree bookings for their artists.

And even Nashville is getting into the act.

George has received proposals from agencies representing Bill Anderson and other top Nashville stars.

Those attending a recent show at the Red Barn got a first-hand glimpse of why the Jamboree is gaining in popularity.

Shows have been getting progressively better, and this one featuring the Canadian Zephyr, a versatile four-piece group, Matador recording star Jerry Eli, Art Bree of the Chantells, Mickey McGivern & the Mustangs, and Oshawa's own Bev Marie was undoubtedly the best so far.

A number of musicians were noted in the audience, further evidence of the Jamboree's prestige rating.

Cathy Hill & Tom Marks were among the entertainers who had come to enjoy the show. However, the duo ended up on stage, filling in for Gord Grills, who was unable to appear.

Highlight of the evening came when a bevy of young gals, clad in maple leaf flag shirts, appeared on stage to accompany Jerry Eli when he sang his new Matador record release "My Country Canada".

BRITISH DEBUT/NEW ALBUM FOR BOBBY G. GRIFFITH

This week finds Bobby G. Griffith beginning a 6 to 8 week stint at the Penthouse club in London, England. The engagement coincides with the British release of Griffith's successful "Badger's Song" on the Polygram label January 18th.

While in England he is scheduled to make some half a dozen spots on BBC-TV as well as journeying across the channel for some exposure on the French tube. Before leaving Canada Griffith guested on the Norm Crosby hosted "Everything Goes" show.

A new album, simply entitled "Bobby G. Griffith", was released last week by Celebration in Canada and Ranwood in the States. Both labels are distributed by Quality Records. The album contains Griffith's forthcoming single follow-up to "The Badger's Song", "You Can't Get It All" f/s "I'm A Loser".

Upon his return from Europe Griffith will head south to sunny Miami Beach sometime in February to cut several sides for the Lawrence Welk Organization at The Criteria Studios with Ron Kramer producing.

Headlining the Dec. 30 show was the country singing wrestling star Sweet Daddy Siki, backed up by Chef Adams & the Adams Boys, with Carol Cameron.

Sweet Daddy Siki has developed his own unique style, and has become a very popular entertainer. He appeals to the younger set because of his wrestling on television, and parents will undoubtedly be bringing their youngsters to the Jamboree to meet Sweet Daddy Siki in person.

Also on the show were the popular team of Shirley Field & Billy G. French, Walkin' Ben Kerr (if they let him out of Warkworth Penitentiary) and a host of other entertainers.

Brian Perkin from Radio CHOO, who has developed into a very capable emcee, refereed the stage proceedings.

The Oshawa Country Jamboree is held every second Sunday evening in the Red Barn Auditorium, 172 Wayne St. in north - Oshawa. — John Hopkins

U.S. DATES ANNOUNCED FOR EDWARD, HARDING & McLEAN

The Trio of Edward, Harding and McLean are scheduled to perform at a number of colleges in the U.S. during February and March. The dates announced are: The National Entertainment Conference Showcase, Houston, Texas (February 2); Potomac State College, Keyser, West Virginia (7-9); Shephard College, Shephardstown, West Virginia (11-13); Davis and Elkins College, Elkins, West Virginia (14-16); Madison College, Harrisonburg, Virginia (18-23); Fairmont State College, Fairmont, West Virginia (25-26); Orange County Community College, Middletown, New York (March 5); Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania (7-9); Lycoming College, Williamsport, Pennsylvania, (11-13); Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania; University of Pittsburgh, Johnstown, Pennsylvania (18-20); Clarion State College, Clarion Pennsylvania (21-23); West Virginia Tech, Montgomery (25-27) and Slippery Rock State College, Slippery Rock, Pennsylvania (28-30).

BACHMAN-TURNER TO TOUR ONTARIO

The Canadian west coast-based group, Bachman-Turner Overdrive will shortly launch a tour of one-niters that will see them blanket most of Ontario.

Richard-Glanville Brown of Polydor, distributors of Mercury Records in Canada, is currently putting together a promotion campaign to tie-in with the tour as well as an ad campaign for the group's next album release, "Bachman-Turner Overdrive II". The album has already scored well in the U.S.

Tour dates include: University of Waterloo (Feb 13), Stephen Leacock High School in Toronto (14), Victory Theatre/Toronto (15), Ottawa Civic Centre (16), St. Clair College/Windsor (17), Victory Theatre/Toronto (22), Bayview High School/Toronto (23).

BRADSTREET ON LOOKOUT FOR RECORDING CONTRACT

A very tight and commercial lounge group known as Bradstreet are doing the rounds in search of a recording contract. Based in Calgary the six piece group have pulled excellent notices on their circuit which takes in much of the west.

Although they've only been together a short period of time individual members have chalked up a fair amount of experience. Featured singer, Honey Wells and Mike Dickie (organ, guitar and vocals) were part of the Bobby Curtola package which successfully toured much of Canada as well as playing several weeks in Las Vegas.

Other members of the group include Dave Lucas, bass and vocals; Bobby Everett, drums and vocals; Lanny Church, lead vocals, guitar and percussionist; and Dave Hamilton, lead guitar and vocals.

COLUMBIA/A&W PROMO FOR MIDDLETON TOUR

Columbia's national promo chief, Charlie Camilleri, has lent a healthy boost to the cross-Canada tour of Tom Middleton. Columbia have printed up more than 40,000 coupons for distribution to all A&W locations where Middleton will be playing. The coupon, along with $4.00 and sent to International Promotion Consultants in Vancouver, will net the sender Middleton's introduction album containing his first hit: "It Wouldn't Have Made Any Difference" a Todd Rundgren penning and his current single, "One More Chance".

Columbia is also offering three libraries of twenty-five albums, their choice, to the high school band considered the best in supplying background for Middleton's concerts. Bruce Davidsen of IPC will determine the winners.

It was through Davidsen that A&W became involved in this first for Canadian artists venture which will see Middleton play dates from Victoria through to Thunder Bay. Kickoff date was in Victoria (Jan. 13).

MARIE & ALAN REID OFF ON MAPLE LABEL

Tom Shilstra has entered his Maple label in the "pop" wax race with two single releases, one by Marie Reid, the other by her twelve year old son Alan.

Marie's plug side, "The Lord's Prayer" is a new version with music by Edith McLennan Williams with a modern touch supplied by Toronto organist Orville Hoover. Qualifying as three part Canadian, Shilstra has found that several stations are using the single as a daily prayer, while others have included it in their day to day programming. It's interesting to note that the mother of composer Edith Williams was a Canadian. Mrs. Williams makes her home in Shreveport, Louisiana.

She has been active in writing for the arts and is a co-writer of the Operetta, "Louisiana".

The flip, "The Angels are Weeping", a co-penning by Tommy Alexander and Ken Ufton, is an uptempo hymn bordering on gospel rock and, like the plug side, showcases an exceptionally talented and professionally trained voice having unusual clarity. The session was produced at Eastern Sound in Toronto by Tom Shilstra with final mixing at the Mercey Brothers' new studios in Elmira, Ontario.

Mrs. Reid, an elementary school music teacher, is a native of Halifax where she made her first public appearance at the age of six. This was on radio station CHNS. She went on to win awards and singing scholarships and was a featured singer with Peter Power's orchestra. She was also a featured vocalist on "Hawaiian Rendezvous" a CHNS produced radio program. She has also been featured on radio and television stations throughout eastern Canada, the most recent being CKCL-TV in Kitchener. The Reid family now make their home in Kitchener.

There have been many failures with young artists who have been pushed by their parents' ego. Not so with twelve year old Alan Reid. Realising his singing potential, with a little help from his famous Halifax musician grandfather, Willis W. (Billy) Reid, Alan's parents have eased him into the music world. Besides voice training, he was introduced to the Spanish guitar and ukulele, both of which are now part and parcel of his act. He has competed successfully in several music festivals and last summer sang with his granddad's orchestra during the Dartmouth/Halifax birthday celebrations. It was while visiting Halifax that the young Reid discovered Billy Reid's "Bernie's Christmas Dream" which Tom Shilstra waxed at the new Mercey Brothers' studios. Needless to say, radio stations across the country jumped on this Canadian content Christmas single which could become a perennial happening. The flip, "Nothing As Wonderful As Love" has also picked up solid play and, like his mother's record, puts the young voice out front with a highly professional instrument backing supplied by the Mercey Brothers and Fred Rickhault on piano.

wares but they will also be front and centre of other country's songwriting happenings that could find a ready market in Canada. Many Canadian publishers returning to MIDEM this year do so with a great deal of optimism — now they have much more to offer and have acquired a bartering confidence that should pay off with a higher percentage of European and American dollars being returned to Canada over the next year. It has been suggested that the Canadian music industry could contribute significantly to the economy of Canada and it is with such get-togethers as MIDEM where we can hobnob with and sell to members of the world songwriting community, and eventually become an important part of this community.

Taking part in this year's MIDEM meet are: September Productions, Sounds Write Productions, Mel Shaw Productions Ltd., Morning Music Productions, GRT of Canada Ltd., April/Blackwood Music (Canada) Ltd., all of Toronto; Concept Marketing Ltd. of Regina; Les Productions SMCL Inc. and Agence Quebecoise De L'Edition Musicale Ltd., Beloeil, P.Q.; and the following from Montreal, Les Disques Gamma Ltd., Much Productions Ltd., Franco Disque Inc., and Les Editions Solset Inc.

There are apparently other Canadian publishers taking part in MIDEM but have not registered for the "Musical Canada" booth.

Enough to corrupt a portly parson

LONDON

"How come Yorke," I'm frequently asked, "how come you're still practising this wondrous art of rock 'n' roll journalism when so many of your contemporaries have crossed the fence and joined the ranks of record company personnel?"

It's an interesting question. But it's easy to find justification for why it keeps popping up. Although it does no credit to my eternal youthfulness, I will readily admit that a solid majority of the people who were writing when I started out have long since pulled a turkey.

There they sit, surrounded by dolly secretaries, mountains of hi-fi equipment scattered upon thick broadloom floors, walls bedecked with trendy posters from Montmartre and the Place Pigalle, a forest of new releases, a bag of coke and a fistful of smoke in the filing cabinet, an assortment of spirits decorating the windowsill, and salaries of $500 a week. Ah, the temptations of it all. Enough to corrupt a portly parson.

Oscar Wilde, no mean man in the manipulation of words, once slyly observed that the only way to resist temptation is to give in to it. But I suspect that there may be more to it than that. I'd be the last one to deny that a great deal can be gained by a rock writer going to work for a record company. But it's a strictly personal decision. There are also benefits, albeit of a subtle nature, in being true to your school and maintaining your freedom. You may gain a lot in the short term but with luck on our side, there are many more miles to overcome. That's perhaps a roundabout way of saying that you can always change your mind later. Who was it that once said you should never do today what you can put off until tomorrow? I doubt if it's true but it's a useful phrase.

I don't want to give you the impression that there is anything necessarily wrong with a rock journalist turning in his typewriter and perhaps his soul for the benefits of the good life.

Not at all. I do know that some writers view such antics with disgust; indeed they seem to regard the entire music industry as a demeaning enterprise. As well it might be.

Such cynical outlooks notwithstanding, I see nothing wrong with rock journalists joining record companies. If that's what you're into, then fine. Unfortunately rock journalism, in North America anyway, has yet to gain any sort of stature or even stability. A young man, confronted with the woes of freelancing in an increasingly hostile and tight-belted world, might well choose the road to record company endeavour.

After all, it's not easy to remain a young man with principle and conviction. There are not enough outlets for creative literary expression and many of the existing situations leave an awful lot to be desired in pay scales, professionalism and principle. Yet alternatively, far too many individuals have used the "rock writer" ID tag as an excuse for all manner of groupie-ing, hanging about and dogsbodying. As several prominent musicians have caustically noted in recent times, many rock critics are nothing more than frustrated and embittered musicians who didn't make it.

Nonetheless the inherent problems of contemporary music journalism is a toxic topic with which we shall concern ourselves herein in the future; let us now be content to cope with the issue at hand.

I suppose I've had my share of record company offers -- certainly the decision to remain faithful to my original bent has caused me an occasional bout of self-examination. In fact, I did work for a record company at one time. I was responsible for international promotion at Island Records in London early in 1967. At the turn of the decade, I was approached by Atlantic Records in New York to take up a gig in Los Angeles handling publicity and A&R. I passed. One of those who helped me come to that decision was Atlantic VP Jerry Wexler. "We need good rock writers and there are too damn few of them already," he said.

Wexler started out as a writer himself. Originally he was employed at the New York office of Billboard. Obviously he's done well. Most other writers have not fared so favorably. Many record companies seem to hire rock writers because they believe that we have some sort of inside track on what's going to sell next season. We're like token music freaks. So few record company executives have the remotest idea about rock music that they need people around to tell them where it's at. And who better than rock writers?

I see most writers becoming PR types. Too few get involved in A&R, which is effectively a closed shop at most record companies anyway. The people with the gigs are hell bent on keeping them and woe betide any poor bastard who demonstrates any genuine talent in that field. It bothers me that a lot of rock writers are not really making their potential presence felt in the music industry. They may get their names into the trade every other week and their pictures-with-a-star once a month but are they making any real progress? In many cases, I suspect not.

Sure they're rattling a nice coin and the company wheels are cool too, along with the expense account pills and pussy but I wanna know -- are they really making it? I look around me and I see a swag of lawyers and accountants running record companies. But I don't see many creative persons in the top chairs. Still it's early days.

A lot of my associates have taken the plunge. At least half of the rest have secretly tendered unsuccessful applications but I shall spare you the shock of revealing names. I hope it's going to work out for them. It may not be so easy to cross back.

I'm going to stick where I am for the time being. By that I don't infer that I have decided to refrain from broadening the base. I suspect the news that will leak out in the next few weeks will indicate just the opposite. Broadening the base of rock journalism, individually and/or collectively, is a commendable and long overdue enterprise.

It will likely make it possible for more rock writers to remain in their chosen field without being forced by starvation to cross the lines.

It has been my experience that the more exposure a sincere writer has to the gut workings of the music industry, the more horrified and revolted he invariably becomes. In many ways, this is a rotten racket. To offset and ultimately overcome such cancers is going to require that most precious of all literary aspirations -- the freedom of self-expression. People who receive salaries from record companies are clearly in no position to provide it.

In the long run, of course, they will hopefully be the ones to potentially tell it like it is, since they will have had the benefits of closeup exposure. But for now we must rely on the professional rock journalist. When a writer is able to survive on the fees paid for articles by existing publications, he is automatically in a position, if he so chooses, to be a thorn in the side of artistic corruption, gross over-commercialisation of the culture and bigotry.

Less this be getting a trifle sanctimonious, let me hastily add that personally I just could not hack the restrictions of working full-time for someone else. Life's too short. There's too much to do. So much to say. How much to learn. I just can't spare the time.

So I stick where I'm stuck and most of the time, I'm damn grateful for it.

I sometimes think that some of us were somehow meant to be observers. There are a lot of tales to be told of the past couple of decades. The documenting of those incredible years is something which I am now attacking with a newly found relish.

A job with a record company? You must be kidding, gov'nor. You can't come that caper with me.

DERAM BECOMES SINGLE SPECIALIST IN WEST

One of the major problems for Western Canadian record retailers and rackers has been the difficulty in obtaining single product at the same time as radio chart numbers appear. Radio stations, for the most part, receive singles through their U.S. record service, weeks before the single is released in Canada.

Many chart items are up the chart and off before local retailers and rackers can receive product. Consequently many of these outlets have been refusing to stock singles.

Deram Limited, a subsidiary company of London Records, took a stab at servicing this troubled market and, after two years, have now become Western Canada's single specialist. The operation, headed up by Dennis Watt, works out of London's Vancouver branch office at 3166 Lake City Way, Burnaby, B.C. Watt has been able to turn the heads of many Western Canadian retailers and has now captured a fair share of the market with an interesting growth pattern.

Deram offers the most complete singles service in the west. They stock every label and every title with a flashback catalogue listing more than 1200 best selling titles.

Jukebox operators have also become of prime importance to the Deram operation. They offer a complete service to the operators which includes printed title strips and, at no extra cost, a programming service to all jukebox operators.

As a further service to dealers, Deram supplies two copies of their weekly chart which covers current hits. One copy of the chart is used as a sales guide while the other is used to advise Deram of the dealer's inventory on hand at the end of each business week. All chart items are supplied on a guaranteed sale basis with return authorization issued every second week for off-chart items.

Current Top Five on the Deram chart as follows:

1. Seasons In The Sun
Terry Jacks
2. Smokin' In The Boy's Room
Brownsville Station
3. The Most Beautiful Girl
Charlie Rich
4. Goodbye Yellow Brick Road
Elton John
5. Leave Me Alone
Helen Reddy.

Deram also carries a large stock of Golden Oldies and supply special orders for flashback items on a no-return basis.

Although Deram is supplying some customers in Alberta and Saskatchewan, Watt is planning to expand into these markets in the near future. At present they are supplying approximately 75 percent of all singles sold in B.C. The single business in B.C. is estimated to be about 4 percent of the total business.

SOLID SECOND HALF TALENT LINE-UP ON MUSIC MACHINE

"Music Machine", the half-hour weekly contemporary music program on CBC television has been presenting the best in Canadian talent since it first aired.

The high calibre of guest material will continue in the latter half of the premier season with the following artists: Axe recording artists Gary & Dave (Jan 19); a rerun of a previous episode which featured Tony Kosenic (26); Special Records' Downchild Blues Band (Feb 2); Epic recording artists Crowbar (9); Sweet Plum Records' Copper Penny (16); GRT Recording artists James Leroy & Denim (23) and Celebration Records' Chester (March 9).

WARNER'S READIES FIRST RELEASE FOR MOOD JGA JGA

A new group originating out of Winnipeg are awaiting the release of their first album in March on the Warner Brothers label both in Canada and the U.S.

The band is called Mood Jga Jga and is headed by former Guess Who member Greg Leskiw on guitars and lead vocals. The rest of the line-up is: Herman Fruehm (keyboards), Gordon Osland (drums) and Bill Merritt (bass).

The album was recorded at the A&R Studios in New York with production duties in the hands of Phil Ramone.

Coinciding with the release of the album in March, Mood Jga Jga will be in Eastern Canada for some concert dates to be announced at that time.

STUDIO ACTION: RCA — TORONTO

Year end and new year activity remains brisk in the RCA Studios with Arpeggio Productions working with the Haggart Brothers, Lynn Jones and Dallas Harms. Producers Gary Buck and John Arpin cut four sides with the Haggarts that could hopefully develop into an album for the brothers who appeared on the prestigious Grand Ole Opry stage last fall during the 48th Anniversary Celebrations of the G.O.O. in Nashville. Columbia Recording artist Dallas Harms cut a single as did Arpeggio's Lynn Jones. Work was also done on an Arpeggio album for Donna Ramsay.

Jack Cornell was in the studios producing a session for fellow RCA artist Robert David.

Producer Harry Hinde is presently finishing up work on a debut album for rock group Ruckus as well as completing a Tony Kingston session for Much.

Much Productions had producer Bill Hill doing work on the forthcoming Tom Kelly album.

The usual busy schedule of jingle work kept the boards humming as Ben McPeck produced promo themes for new Canadian Network Global TV and jingles for Eaton's and Speedy Muffler.

Bob Hahn productions are finishing up work on the next Rick Neufeld album. The album, started in Winnipeg boasts the talents of members of the Guess Who on back-up.

John Capek is scheduled to produce Allan McRae for Boot Records and Jane Jarvis completed work on twenty-four titles for international distribution through the Muzak Organization. The twenty-four songs are all Canadian and were performed by an orchestra headed by stellar musician Moe Koffman.

COLUMBIA BENDS "AGE OF REASON" POLICY

For the first time in almost ten years, Columbia is offering a discount plan.

They authored the "Age of Reason" policy in the early sixties, but with the realization that more produce could be available on the street level with such artists as Bob Dylan, the label's national sales manager, Bert Dunseith, decided to offer a little more of an incentive to dealers and rackers. The extra discount will be 8% on Dylan's complete catalogue for album and tape product. This will involve fifteen releases.

Dunseith hasn't pulled the plug completely on the "Age of Reason" policy but he is of the opinion that it is necessary to work closer with retail outlets on major artists that have accumulated a string of album sellers.

Dylan's latest release "Dylan", a collection of past releases and probably his last for Columbia, is already scoring well across Canada, entering the RPM 100 at No. 74, first week on (Jan 12/74).

SPECIAL QUALITY RECORDS AWARD TO CKFM — TORONTO

Quality Records Limited was pleased to present a special Gold Record Award to the staff of CKFM Radio in Toronto for their support of Chester's "Make My Life A Little Bit Brighter". CKFM was the first Canadian station to add this record to their printed playlist.

Accepting the award for CKFM was Music Director Dan Chevrette who has been enjoying great success with his current programming with the station.

The award was presented by Quality's Ontario Promotion Manager Gene Lew and A&R Director Bob Morten, who produced the Chester deck.

A new disc from Chester will be released in mid-January on the Celebration label.

NUTS & BOLTS by Peter Taylor

Ampex National Promotion Manager and A&R Director, John Dee Driscoll is off to Los Angeles on January 25th to complete the final mix on the first Wednesday album at the Sound Lab. The album, entitled "Last Kiss" is scheduled for a simultaneous release in Canada and the U.S. in mid-February.

RCA recording artist, George Hamilton IV will make an appearance at the Horseshoe in Toronto February 6th to 9th.

John Stainton of Celebration Music Management and King Biscuit Boy headed off to New Orleans January 7th to begin work on the Biscuit's next album, his first for Columbia Records.

Smile Records are busy tying up a number of loose ends concerning the next Tony Kosenic single. Meanwhile Tony will play Egertons in Toronto January 14th to 19th and then moves into The Nozzle, a new club in Ottawa from the 21st to 26th.

The next single from Cochrane, on the Daffodil label, is the title tune from their forthcoming LP, "Hang On To Your Resistance". Both are scheduled for release in February.

Also on the Daffodil and coming out in February is a brand new Fludd single entitled "I Held Out". The deck was produced by Brian Pilling and Lee De Carlo at Manta Sound in Toronto.

In response to numerous requests from across the country, Berandol Music has released the sheet music for Joe Probst's "Kingston".

Elektra hardrockers Painter will be performing dates in Calgary and Edmonton in February.

CTI LOOKING FOR CANADIAN LABELS

CTI's Vice-President and General Manager Lou Munson advises that the Montreal-based operation is on the lookout for independent labels to distribute across Canada. He is primarily interested in Canadian labels. They have reps in Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal.

Munson is also scouting the country for jazz artists to sign to CTI. More info on this at a later date.

CTI will shortly launch a nationwide promotion to herald the release of Don Sebesky material entitled "Giant Box", a collection of past biggie product. Also ready for release is Esther Phillips' "Black Eyed Blues". A single by Lou Christie, "Beyond The Blue Horizon" is to be released on the 3 Brothers label. This single was produced in England and is considered top fare for country and rock formats.

Grover Washington a major artist for CTI has set for a week at Toronto's El Mocambo (Jan. 14-19). His most recent Kudo set, "Soul Box" is considered a top catalogue item.

Warner Brothers released Gordon Lightfoot's new "Sundown" album last week. Lightfoot will be in Ottawa (March 1-3), Toronto (21-25), Quebec City (April 18) and Montreal (19-21).

Continuing in their latest barrage of wax laughs, WEA is readying the release of a three-record set entitled "The Collected Works of Carl Reiner & Mel Brooks".

A&M Records weekly tip sheet, "Gettin' Off" will now be published bi-monthly in case it hasn't shown up at your door and you're getting a little hot. The promo folks at A&M are making the move so as to devote more time to the sheet as well as doing their part to conserve paper.

Dot recording artist Ray Griff is scheduled to appear on the NBC-TV mid-season variety series "Music Country U.S.A." to air January 17.

Murray McLauchlan, who is headlining Massey Hall in Toronto for the first time January 26, will have his next single, "Linda Won't You Take Me In", released to coincide with the concert. The deck is pulled from Murray's highly successful "Day to Day Dust" album.

McLauchlan's fellow True North artist,

DUTCH FIRM INTRODUCES NEW SERIES OF AMPLIFIERS

A Dutch electronic equipment manufacturer has recently introduced a new series of professional amplifiers for guitars, bass guitars and organs, which can be coupled directly via a line connection without the aid of microphones to mixers which are also a new range.

These mixers have 4, 6, 8, 10, or 12 input channels and 1 or 2 output channels, in mono or stereo, which can be linked with line amplifiers installed in loudspeaker boxes. These can be combined to give a complete sound reproduction for dance orchestras or rock groups.

With this new system it is also possible to install an echo unit and/or tape recorder, so that test tapes can be recorded during playing. All the amplifiers, whether the solo or the line version, are available with powers of 30, 50, 60 and 75 watts with a double peak power. The amplifiers are installed in loudspeaker boxes in such a way as to form amplifier combinations with a total power of anything from 30 to 5000 watts.

The sound of the solo amplifiers is of a sufficiently high quality to meet the latest requirements in this field.

Practice has already proved these amplifiers to be highly reliable in operation. Inbuilt safety systems prevent incorrect operation. Since the linking system can be easily extended, these new amplifiers also offer a solution for the problems of part exchange of small units by the distributors.

For further information, contact the Royal Netherlands Embassy, 275 Slater Street (3rd floor) Ottawa, Ontario K1P 5H9. The Netherlands also maintains consular offices in Montreal, Toronto, Edmonton and Vancouver.

Bruce Cockburn, who hasn't performed in Montreal in over two and half years, returns to the city for a February 19th appearance at Place des Arts.

Highly acclaimed Canadian pianist Glenn Gould will be featured in a one hour television recital on CBC's "Music Camera" series February 10.

Downchild Blues Band were in Toronto's Eastern Sound throughout December laying down demo tracks for their next album on Special Records. The sessions were produced by Alan Duffy and Bill Bryans.

A&M recording artist, Lorence Hud did an interview with Don Shafer of CHUM-FM while the singer-songwriter was in Toronto at the Riverboat last week.

Canadian Music Sales Corporation have announced that they are now the exclusive distributor in Ontario for Houka Records from Vancouver.

Tom Wilson of Concept 376 is presently working on a number of projects for the summer months, one of which will put Keith Hampshire and Dr. Music on a cross-country tour. Hampshire and Dr. Music are regulars on CBC-TV's weekly "Music Machine" series.

Bachman-Turner Overdrive begin a visit to the Ontario region February 13 which will see them playing 8-10 concert dates.

Lighthouse will begin a schedule of club dates throughout February marking the first time in the group's history that they have played clubs.

The next Wednesday single will be their version of "Teen Angel".

GRT Records' Promotion Department would like all of you out there to check your mailing address and make sure that all promotional info goes to either Neill Dixon or Maggie McFadden c/o GRT 150 Consumers Road, Willowdale, Ontario and use the postal code M2J 1P9.

KEN TOBIAS TO APPEAR ON MISS TEEN CANADA PAGEANT

MGM Recording artist Ken Tobias has been booked to perform on the Miss Teen Canada Pageant to be aired March 4th on the CTV Network.

According to Michael Steele, producer of the special, the Miss Teen Canada Pageant is the third highest rated television program in Canada with approximately 3 million viewers. It rates third only to the Miss Canada Pageant and Hockey Night In Canada. The Pageant will be aired live throughout Canada and the United States.

The program will be a major piece of exposure for Ken Tobias, who has been gaining great recognition since the release of his second album for MGM "The Magic's In The Music".

Tobias has also been scheduled for "Everything Goes", the nightly variety show on the new Canadian Television Network, Global TV. "Everything Goes", hosted by Norm Crosby is seen throughout North America.

New Albums

TERRY JACKS -- Seasons In The Sun -- Goldfish GLFP1001-K
 Newest and freshest product from west coast's Goldfish Records is Terry's album, to coincide with his most recent success of "Season's in the Sun", a Jacques Brel tune that's skyrocketing on the charts all over the country, and making waves down south. Commercial sounding and self-produced, Jacks kicks off with his "Concrete Sea" hit and then lays back to perform some of his newbies. Side one ends with "Fire on the Skyline", a rock number with some fine picking from Jacks whose crystal clear voice dominates the music. Songs are on the short side so there's not much chance to get saturated into the music. Side two's "Sail Away" is the best on the album (from this end) once it gets going, with Susan Jacks helping out on vocals. "Seasons" rounds off the album.

TERRY ROWE -- To You With Love -- Kates K1000

This is a very unique and original concept. Terry Rowe, poet and writer, was noticed by advertising agency, Kates Advertising Ltd., for his talents and this is the result: music created to compliment his recent book "To You With Love", with Rowe narrating and Dennis Murphy producing the piece into its present album form. There is no national distribution information available at press time, a direct result of the experimental nature of this attempt. There's a lot of local people helping out in the musical department here as Rowe narrates his way through the fourteen "chapters" of this album. It's all very well done but it's hard to pinpoint the market of appeal or the direction that this type of endeavour could take. It's definitely a first in this type of presentation, and perhaps it will set the trend for others to follow.

VARIOUS ARTISTS -- American Graffiti Soundtrack -- GRT 230 1040 T

The movie is a smash with scores of people lining up in the chilly winter weather to get into a movie house and be transported back to 1962 for an evening of cruisin'. The soundtrack is a well-packaged, two record set that contains all of the music used throughout the film. The majority of the music is found constantly blaring from numerous car radios as the characters in the film tune in to the Wolfman Jack show during their evening of late summer revelry. Forty-one fabulous songs that were the hits of the era make up this excellent set.

To you
with love

Terry Rowe

Pierre Lalonde

PIERRE LALONDE -- Honey, Honey -- RCA KPL1-0016/N

Aye, en Francais, encore. More from RCA's French Canadian product line, all numbers qualifying for Canadian Content. Tittler starts face 1 to a soft rock sound, with "C'est Ta Chanson", Don Goodwin's present single finishing the side. It's produced by the Pagliaro/Lagios team, both doing their maximum to build the French Canadian music industry. Included is Rich's recent recent "Behind Closed Doors", herewith called "Derriere les Volets". Lalonde mixes English and French on some of the numbers in a pleasing way, example . . . "Chanson Pour Linda", where production and performance mix together for a fine rendition. The music here could easily appeal to programmers across the board, regardless of language barrier. Always present is that full of life feeling which is the common denominator of French performers. Try "Amoureux" for some of this. Finishing off this deck is a quick paced rocker, "Speedy".

PETRALIA'S JAMBOREE PLAYS WARKWORTH PEN

The inmates at the Warkworth Penitentiary will probably be talking about George Petralia's Oshawa Country Jamboree from now until next Christmas.

And so will the 30-odd performers who spent the better part of 10 hours on Dec. 23 bringing Christmas goodwill to those confined behind the cold gray walls.

Art Bree, leader of the Chantells, the group that backed the long list of entertainers, summed it up this way:

"Nobody but the Sicilian Cowboy could have done it."

The Sicilian Cowboy, as almost everybody in country music knows, is George Petralia, whose Oshawa Country Jamboree has put Oshawa on the country music map.

Not only did the entertainers give up their Christmas Sunday for George; some of them travelled 400 miles to get to the show — under the most adverse weather conditions.

The four members of the Chantells, for example, drove from Windsor, Hamilton, Toronto and Oshawa to the prison, which is situated near Campbellford, about 80 miles east of Oshawa.

Jack Haslett, a member of the Canadian Army, came down from London. In two years Jack will be trading his rifle for a guitar to become a full-time musician.

Colbourne's Jean Ann Sheppard was making her first public appearance as a singer.

The prisoners loved her, and when she left the stage amid loud applause, she said it was "the most exhilarating experience in my life."

Whitby's Pat Dingwell, who encouraged Miss Sheppard to debut at the prison, is herself a seasoned professional. The pretty blond personality was a most welcome guest for the all-male audience.

Oshawa's Henry Casey demonstrated the fiddle mastery that almost won him a fiddling championship.

Bowmanville donated the duo of Joe Bothwell and Ken McDonald, who spoke the kind of language and sang the type of songs the inmates wanted to hear.

Kenny Knapp came from Norwood, and Rusty Armstrong from Unionville.

Ken Stapley Jr., whose father co-produces the popular Trent Valley Jamboree in Belleville, got a chance to sing his new self-penned hit record "Words Don't Have A Meaning". He brought along Tibor, a member of his band, to harmonize and play piano.

The duo of Tom Marks (Whitby) and Cathy Hill (Brooklyn) who have been stirring up a country music storm wherever they appear, received a warm reception.

Dayle Case, former lead guitarist with the Bev Marie Show, showed everyone that he's not only a great guitarist, but a dynamic singer as well. He rocked up the hall with his country-blues.

Gaiety recording stars Lance Younger and George Carone are both Oshawa natives.

George surprised musicians and inmates alike by singing one of his songs in Italian.

Since his appearance at Warkworth last June, Lance Younger has become very popular with the inmates. At that time he sang a song he'd written especially for the occasion, and received a standing ovation.

This time Lance played Santa Claus by passing out pictures and copies of his hit record, "She's My Woman".

Someone in the audience yelled, "Get Danny on stage". And that's what George Petralia did.

Danny, an inmate, accompanied by his inmate band, literally tore down the house. Petralia was so impressed with what he saw that he has arranged for Danny to be featured on the Oshawa Country Jamboree in the near future.

As expected, Walkin' Ben Kerr took off his shirt -- this time three of them -- which he donated to members of the Warkworth Walking Club, which has over 175 members.

Ben also introduced his 18-year-old son, Walkin' Bobby Kerr, to the audience.

Promoter Petralia joined in the walking excitement, presenting a specially designed plaque to the walking club.

Then he added to the excitement by sending two blonds to tease Walkin' Ben while he was trying to sing "A Bottle Of Booze And A Beautiful Blond", flip side of his "Shoes Keep On Walking" hit.

One of the blonds, vivacious Donna-Jo, had previously wowed the inmates with her singing.

Identity of the other blond remains a mystery.

Closing out the program, the Chantells displayed why they are one of the top country groups in the country, mixing solid country music with side-splitting comedy.

Emceeding the gigantic country music spectacular was Brian Perkin, popular deejay from radio CHOO in Ajax. — John Hopkins

YOUNG CANADIAN TALENT ON CBC AFTERNOON SHOW

Show biz, as versatile performer Marc Stone knows and loves it, is captured on "Marc's Grab Bag", a half-hour Tuesday afternoon show that has returned to the CBC-TV network.

The 28 year old Toronto-born musician (he plays eight instruments), singer, composer, actor, writer, director and producer is in love with his profession and that excitement carries over when he interviews his guests, all young, talented Canadians who are achieving recognition in their chosen performing arts.

"Marc's Grab Bag" made its debut in the fall on CBC television with six shows. The program has now begun a new series January 8th with a 5:00PM air time.

Stone entered show business professionally 10 years ago as a folk singer and many of the guests he interviews on his show are former fellow artists. He tries to recapture the days when with the folk trio The Villagers Three, he played the coffee houses in the Toronto of the 60's. He remembers it as a time when the coffee houses were brimming over with performers of all kinds who shared in each other's enthusiasm.

Not only has Stone been in the business for

JOHN ALLAN CAMERON SET FOR CTV PILOT

John Allan Cameron has been scheduled for a CFCF-TV pilot to be taped in Montreal the tail end of February. To be produced by Manny Pittson, the pilot will feature Cape Breton fiddlers as well as other guests to be announced. It's hoped the show will be suitable for CTV network showing and perhaps the beginning of a Cameron series.

Well known Montreal writer, Wayne Grigsby has been commissioned to write the pilot. Grigsby is currently holding the 4-6PM time slot on CBM Montreal and has been freelancing the Montreal area for several years.

a long time, he also began playing music at an early age — piano at four; violin at eight; and guitar at 10.

"My entire life is built on all these crafts", he said.

In his show he empathizes with the young artists, "getting at the creative gut" as he puts it.

Stone writes many of the songs he performs on the program, but when it comes to talent, he's not alone. His guests, many of whom, are teenagers or in their early twenties, are also very accomplished.

The first show in the series featured Shirley Eikhart of Oshawa, who's song "It Takes Time" was popularized by Anne Murray. Also on the first show was actor-comedian Eugene Levy.

Guests on upcoming shows include: comic Valri Bromfield, sketch artist Geraldine Johnson, violinist John Robinson, animator Helene Morency, singer-songwriter Tony Kosenic, puppeteer Nina Koegh, dancer Vera Biloshisky, filmmaker Mark Sobel and 15 year-old singer-composer Lisa Dal Bello.

RUMOURS OF WACKERS SPLIT-UP ARE FALSE

Bob Segarini, leader of the Montreal-based Wackers, announced that rumours were circulating as to the break-up of the group.

They have undergone a couple of personnel changes, but are still very much intact and are currently performing in the Montreal region.

Randy Bishop and Ernie Earnshaw have left the band and the line-up now includes, Segarini, Kootch Trochim (lead guitar), Wayne Cullen (drums), Norman Vasko (bass) and Leon Holt (electric piano).

The Wackers recently split from Elektra Records and are now engaged in negotiations with a number of labels with recording plans held off for the present.

The golden age of radio - Is it back?

by Walt Grealis

While the record business is in the throes of the nostalgia kick, radio, the vehicle for this "return to the sounds of the forties", has seemingly been sitting on the sidelines letting music do the trip. Well, a little research into the subject has revealed a very intent interest in the return of radio drama, lovingly tagged "The Golden Age Of Radio".

CHML Hamilton, one of the most aggressive of middle of the road stations in Canada, pioneered the return of drama seven years ago, using four shows they had purchased through a syndicator. These included "Fat Man", Arch Obler's "Mystery Theatre", "The Shadow" and "Big Sister (a soap opera)".

These shows, according to program director Bob Cooper, were run in the evenings post-7PM, and were well received by listeners. Unfortunately, after one year, copyrights began to dry up and product became less and less available. The drama series therefore had to be dropped. It was in the winter season (1972-73) when the station revived the series through Lee Dunbar's "Memory Lane" program, heard Sundays from 6:15PM through 8PM. He used the four aforementioned shows as well as excerpts from the big name shows of the "Golden Age Of Radio". An interesting sideline of the Dunbar show was the audience reaction and the age group concerned. He found a great deal of response and interest, with much of it from a very youthful audience. Enquiries came from high schools and high school teachers, with requests for full dubs of material for use in their communications arts courses. Subsequently he has become a public speaker - his topic "The Golden Age Of Radio", supported by audio tapes and slides. His next speaking engagement is at the Burlington Lion's Club dinner Tuesday Jan 15. He is apparently much in demand as a public speaker and is now considered an authority on "The Golden Age Of Radio". He also speaks at High Schools and Universities which indicates the age group interested in radio drama. It's more than just a speech - it's a presentation with dubs of old programs and, of course, the slides and audio/visual aids as mentioned above. Dunbar is the mid-morning man on CHML, but he has taken this extra-curricular activity as a personal hobby as well as a public relations assignment from the station.

Program director Hooper is a staunch believer in "The Golden Age Of Radio" and is of the opinion that if good radio drama became available again, CHML would be most interested to the point where they would include it in their programming day.

In the meantime U.S. networks have moved into the area of radio drama. NBC has introduced their "Program X" series, while CBS has launched a healthy "Radio Mystery Theatre" series - a 52-minute drama - seven nights a week. The CBS shows, all new, are being produced and directed by Hi Brown, who put together the "chair gripping" series, "Inner Sanctum", "Nero Wolfe", and "The Thin Man". Famous voices to be heard on these shows include: Agnes Moorehead, Richard Widmark, Mercedes McCambridge, Celeste Holm, Kim Hunter and many others.

And so we could be entering another era of radio - for some. The older types would probably welcome such a move back to radio drama and, from the experience of CHML, it would appear that the door is wide open for a very youthful audience acceptance. That makes the 18 to 49 demographics of even more importance.

We could see the return of the real adrenalin chargers such as "Johnny Dollar" or "The Shadow". Or how about the ten minute segments of "Amos & Andy"? We could even become involved once again in "The Lux Radio Theatre" or "Mr. First-Nighter", "Grand Central Station" or a host of other thirty, sixty and ninety minute dramas. Now, that's the commercial direction.

Is it possible for us to enter into the higher art of radio drama. Perhaps Norman Corwin could be enticed back for another round of "Corwinisms" and, of course, we can't forget Orsen Welles and his "Mercury Theatre Of The Air", which is probably stretching the "higher art" form.

Perhaps there is another angle of interest to be taken into consideration. If the CBS Radio Network can originate new drama shows with young contemporary writers, why not the same thing in Canada. Could private radio institute their own drama series? The CBC have always maintained a high percentage of drama productions on their radio network with "CBC Stage" being the longest running series - this year celebrating its thirtieth year of weekly broadcasting. The CBC have found however, that over the past couple of years there has been a trend away from arts and drama and into the information programming such as the contemporary productions like "This Country In The Morning". They are still however, maintaining their arts and drama productions with perhaps a little more emphasis on serious music programming as well. Breakdown and department heads for the CBC radio network programming is as follows: Bob Weaver, Arts and Drama; Information Programming looked after by Del McKenzie; and Music Programming, which comes under the guidance of John Roberts. We'll have more information about the CBC/radio/music departments at a later date.

Programmers who have differing views on the potential of radio drama might consider using the pages of RPM to air their views or past experiences they might have had with "The Golden Age Of Radio".

BBM RATINGS SHOW CKFM HOLDING FOURTH PLACE

One of Toronto's FM Stations has showed up in the fourth place slot in the recent BBM book ahead of many popular stations on the AM side.

This could be indicative of a general rise in popularity of FM programming spanning the various formats. The latest statistics show that 83 per cent of Toronto homes are equipped with FM sets and though this means that the potential audience reached has increased substantially, it still falls short of AM.

CFRB still commands the number one position with CHUM second and CKEY third.

VETERAN BROADCASTER BILL HUTTON TO BRITAIN

Canadian broadcaster Bill Hutton, a former news director of CFRB, Toronto has been named chief executive of London Broadcasting Co. (LBC), Britain's first commercial radio station.

The editor and managing director of LBC resigned last month amid growing criticism of the station's programming and a financial and staff crisis.

Hutton, 47, will cover the duties of both editor and managing director. For the past seven years he has been an executive with Selkirk Holdings which controls a chain of radio stations in Canada.

CKPG PRINCE GEORGE HEAVY ON COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES

CKPG Prince George recently threw its full support behind the Prince George Winter Carnival, an annual sports event held at the Inn of the North. They set up a continuous broadcast of the sports show, awarding door prizes as well as supplying on-air personalities as emcees for fashion shows and other functions.

The Carnival also allowed the station to showcase their new morning personality, Brian Byman who was fortunate enough to become involved in some of the feminine beauty promotions.

Prince George photographer Tim Swanky caught CKPG morning man Brian Byman wedged between last year's Queen Aurora of the Evergreens, Judy Wunderlich and her princess.

Another CKPG community effort was a successful charter flight of Prince George sports fans to Vancouver to catch two big league hockey games featuring the Vancouver Canucks and the Vancouver Blazers. The promotion was organized with the help of a professional travel agency with CKPG's Hugh McLennan hosting the trip.

The popular Prince George station also became involved in "Operation Leaky Arm".

Working with the B.C. Red Cross Society, the station marathoned live broadcasts from the clinic, offered door prizes, and challenged the Red Cross staff to a pie throwing contest — if the 1500 pints were achieved. The result was the highest turn out of donors in the history of Prince George. Capping off the successful promotion was an award and citation from the Red Cross headquarters for the station and a wild pie throwing contest in the studio.

FARQUHARSON/SPRAGGETT BRING PERSONAL TOUCH TO CANADIAN RADIO

While the Canadian broadcasting community is concerned about "how to personalize Canadian radio", CFRB steps out front with two features that have created exceptional listener response.

Allen Spraggett, the station's resident astrologer, is heard Monday through Friday between 10 and 11AM on "The House of Warren". He comments on the personality traits of persons born under each sun sign, the sun signs of famous people as well as astrological predictions and explanations of current events. Perhaps Spraggett's biggest coup for the year 1973 was his astrological calling of the Ottawa win over Edmonton for the Grey Cup. Spraggett is also heard on his own weekend feature, "The Unexplained", aired Saturdays and Sundays at 9:30PM.

Don Harron, who is professionally known as Charlie Farquharson, has become a syn-

The Programmers TRIBAL DRUM

Ken True is departing his post at CKBB Barrie, Ontario to take on the 9-Midnight shift at CHML Hamilton. His move takes place next month.

CKBB's Jaan Kalmes has left the Barrie station to assume full time on air duties at CKOC Hamilton. Prior to Barrie, Kalmes worked at stations in Syracuse, New York, Owen Sound, and Brampton. Taking over the 7-11PM rock slot at CKBB is Gary Pedo who was formerly with CJRL Kenora.

Line-up changes at CFGO Ottawa brings their team up to highly professional strength. Jim Jackson in from 6-10AM, followed by Gary Michaels 10AM-2PM, Ric Allen 2-6PM, Jon L'Heuri 6-9PM, Casey Fox 9PM-1AM, and Mike Cooper 1-6AM. Trudy Chamberlain has been named assistant music director, replacing Richard Money.

Montreal resident Bernie Applebaum (centre) recently won a $1000 stereo system on CKVL-FM's "Midnight Marathon", a live rock concert with Mahogany Rush. Presenting the system is jock Bill Mann (l) and station P.D. Larry Fredericks.

CHYM Kitchener's advertising and promotion manager, Gord Hume, was recently informed that he has been officially accredited by the Canadian Public Relations Society. Mr. Hume is the first private broadcaster in Canada to attain this professional standing.
