People's Choice winners cap MuchMusic awards

It was an awards show like no other awards show. The now popular MuchMusic refrain "there's no attitude nor bums in seats" was the theme for the night as performances and awarding of winners popped up spontaneously throughout the night.

There was no question, to the horde of industry people who poured into MuchMusic's converted parking lot as well as the VIPs and waiting-to-go-on personalities and artists/musicians who viewed the crowd from the safety of the upper floor balcony, this was another night for Toronto and MuchMusic's viewers from across the country to tuck into their diaries as a memorable evening.

The winners of the industry awards, those who got camera time, were professional and brief (the list of winners was published in RPM last week). But it was down to the wire in selecting the People's Choice Award winners who, with the exception of A.J. and Howie of the Backstreet Boys, winners of the Favourite International Group, were no-shows. The others were Celine Dion who won Favourite Canadian Artist for her Columbia video My Heart Will Go On, directed by Bille Woodruff and produced by Nicola Hurst; Our Lady Peace for their Columbia video 4 AM which was directed by Tony Pantages and produced by John Pantages; Sarah McLachlan who won Favourite Canadian Video for her Nettwerk video Sweet Surrender (no director, producer or production company supplied); and Will Smith who won Favourite International Artist for his Columbia video Gettin' Jiggy which was directed by Hype Williams and produced by Michelle Colbert and Kim Fitzsimons.

There was an impressive mix of recording personalities, who, unlike the film people were very easy going and accommodating. Included were Aqua's Rene and Lene, Savage Garden's Darren Hayes, Barenaked Ladies, Love Inc., Jason Priestley and more. Priestley was in town for a MuchMusic documentary and returned a few days later for an interview with television icon Moses Znaimer which will be part of the documentary.

Hagood Hardy's Alone closing on platinum

Solitudes Ltd. hosted a reception at the Glenn Gould Studio in the CBC's Toronto Broadcast Centre (Sept. 24) to celebrate the music of the late Hagood Hardy and to present a gold award to Hagood's wife Martha for his album Alone.

The presentation was made by Brian Robertson, President of the Canadian Recording Industry Association (CRIA) and Daisy Falle, President of the Canadian Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences (CARAS).

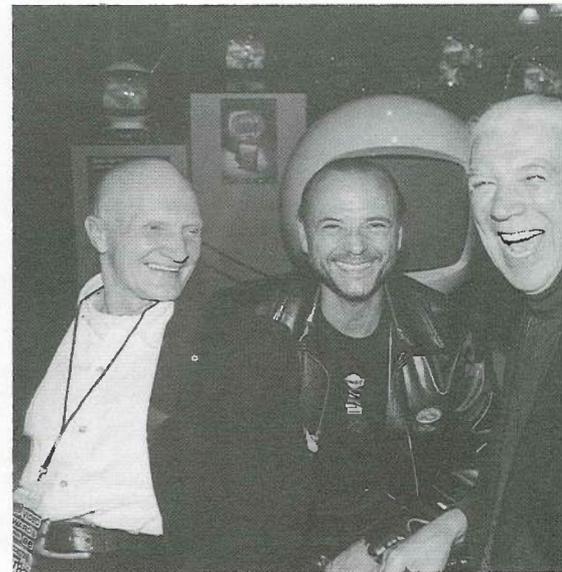

The album is a collection of Hardy's 16 favourite piano selections which he performed without accompaniment. Released in 1995, the album has now sold more than 80,000 copies Savage Garden's frontman Darren Hayes meets the press at the 1998 MMVA's.

Denise Donlan, vice-president and general manager of MuchMusic and MuchMoreMusic, with Rene, Aqua's leading guy.

Moses Znaimer, president and executive producer of MuchMusic and MuchMoreMusic with RPM's Stan Klees and Walt Grealis.

WALT SAYS . . . !

with Elvira Caprese

Going! Going! . . . !!! So the artist signs an endorsement and the manager nods his head! Now the two have split and the artist doesn't want to live with the deal? Does he have to? The papers that have been served will answer this question! (EC: What's all this got to do with recording???) Someone has to comply!!!

Hello! Goodbye??? Borrowing a cup of sugar from the new neighbour isn't going to be easy. As the movers were unloading the latest-in-design furniture, trucks were lined up next door to move out the not-so-happy neighbour/mover. Which only goes to prove that friends are friends until you cross that thin line of mutual respect. (EC: Are you saying familiarity breeds contempt???) 'Bye neighbour! Ricky dicky dicky dicky! (EC: Here we go again!!!) Nothing will stop me this time!

Lord of the dance??? Talk about tap-dancing. When you know all the questions but you don't have the answers, it's best to stay out of the limelight . . . unless you have a hidden agenda. (EC: It could be . . . there was always a hidden agenda!!!)

A manager awash??? Who was that once, top-of-the-heap manager wearing a top record honcho like an overcoat? It used to be the other way around for this manager. Grovelling? It's hard to believe. (EC: Nothing is forever!!!)

The CAB likes Moses!!! Moses Znaimer, the REAL architect of people's television, is finally going to be recognized by the Canadian Association of Broadcasters. Did you know that he was born in Kulab, Tajikistan and arrived in Montreal in 1948, a post war DP? He co-founded Citytv in 1972, and got into the music business with Thunder Sound . . . and now, 26 years later, he's going to be awarded the CAB's Gold Ribbon. (EC: Not bad for an immigrant eh???) Only in Canada!

Speaking of Moses!!! Wasn't that a party the Citytv/MuchMusic people threw for their MuchMusic Video Awards? They're pretty proud of their motto "No attitude, no bums in seats," (EC: Yeah! Read on!!!). This brought the industry and the people together in the giant converted parking lot. The entertainment, pop-up unexpected award giving, impromptu interviews with the stars, the roar of the crowd and the excitement just kept going and going and going for three hours. Pretty incredible. And the camera shots made it look like a mini-Woodstock. Is this the way of future awards shows? (EC: It could only work with the type of viewer Citytv has!!!)

Zekas tells all!!!! Toronto Star gossip Rita Zekas sniches that WG and SK were into MZ's private stock of the "better champagne". Not true! That shell game that SK was playing with the glasses assured that RZ was the one drinking MZ's champs! But what was RZ doing with a split of Veuve Clicquot in her bag? (EC: Possibly a bribe from MZ or the Film Festival or Bistro 990!!!) And everyone knows SK always carries a flask of Cristal Rose in his hip pocket! (EC: Mr. Champs to his friends!!!) Like . . . name ONE!!!

Words to haunt??? What happens when somebody gets a promotion and a flowery pat on the back and in six months gets the boot? In one case, that flowery pat on the back has returned to haunt the guy who innocently and sincerely did the patting. (EC: You mean a promotion without the strokin'???) Welcome to the recordbiz!

Data trouble in scamland??? Or is it scam in dataland? Users on both sides of the fence are beginning to publicly voice their frustration with a system that's "just not working," says one befuddled user. (EC: It does present a problem doesn't it???)

Saccharin please!!! Have those television hosts, anchors and commentators become just a little too cute, glib, cozy and . . . friendly? Barbara Walters they ain't! It was funny for awhile. . . now everyone's doing it . . . male and female! (EC: It's not funny!!!) Who's going to tell them? (EC: Reminds me of an acceptance speech at a Canadian awards ceremony!!!)

Schmoozing with the greats!!! Tony Longo, owner of Centro, Toronto's upscale eatery, always looking for ways to promote his restaurant, had a one-on-one audience with R&B legend B.B.King when he was in Toronto a couple of weeks ago. Longo was armed with a priceless Lucille Epiphone B.B. King guitar which was in the Long & McQuade warehouse. King willingly autographed this museum piece which will eventually find itself in an auspicious spot where it will be displayed. (EC: A restaurant host with a flair!!!)

Terry David Mulligan joins Citytv's Startv

Marcia Martin, vice-president of production for Citytv, has announced that Terry David Mulligan has joined Startv as senior segment producer. Startv premieres Oct. 17 at 8 pm on Citytv.

Mulligan's role is expanding in the MT-MovieTelevision Startv unit as CHUM Television prepares to launch Star - the entertainment information station.

"Who better than Terry?" asks Martin. "What a perfect fit for us as we continue to expand our coverage of the entertainment industry with Startv. As an actor living on the west coast Terry lives the life of the stars and celebrities he'll talk to and give us a personal look at what it's like to be in the spotlight."

Says Mulligan, "As exciting as the world of music is, there's an equally exciting challenge ahead of me in the world of stars, movies and television. . . and so much of it is happening out here."

CATHODE RAY - Funk 'n Pop Self-titled

Three Green Men-002

Richard Reagh took his down-home charm and talent to Vancouver, where he found a comfortable niche that resulted in his 1993 album release of Half-Dozen Of The Other. He teams here with bassist Blue Rooney, drummer Chang, Luke Doucet on steel, slide and other guitars, Howard Redekopp on fuzzy bass and small guitars and Bart, another bassist, with Reagh on guitars, keyboards and vocals. Pidgeon-holing Cathode Ray's music as "funk 'n pop" is a bit of a cop-out, but it's a catch-all, meaning this Redekopp production is a potpourri of highly-energized entertainment. There are traces of folk, pop with an edge and even rock with an edge and just enough funk to fuse the lot into ear pleasantries. Reagh's influence pervades throughout, not too difficult to understand being as he wrote all the material. Reagh's vocals weave a strange but emotionally-charged aural structure that fits neatly into his lyric content. He's a little long on intro, perfect for getting a live audience into the mood, but not for recording purposes. Key tracks include Mezzaluna, Saltspring, Doo Doo Bop and Tempe, taken as a single with a video now on rotation. Recorded at Vancouver's Uncle Vinky's House of Snakes. -WG

MELANIE DOANE Adam's Rib Columbia-80315-H

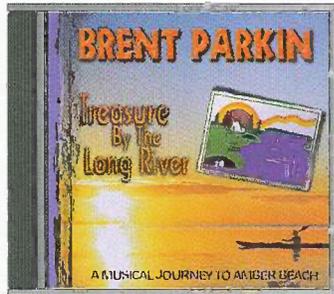

The title track taken as the first single reveals a very confident Doane and a little more spread-out vocally, as compared to her last release Shakespearean Fish. The rest of the album follows through with this same free-flowing vocal warmth that patches the listener into Doane's inner meanings and perhaps her thoughts. Doane co-wrote most of the material with her producer Rick Neigher, including the title track, There Is No Beautiful, Goliath and Waiting For The Tide, all key tracks. But don't overlook The Space Between Us with lyrics by Steven Mayoff and music by Doane and her brother Creighton. Doane's down home qualities are front and centre, particularly her violin/fiddle talent heard throughout and most effectively on How You Cried and Waiting For The Tide, both Doane solo penning. Also cute and toe-tapping is Mel's Rock Pile, an arrangement of the traditional Tarbolten Reel. Doane is reaching a bit with this release, but she definitely has a radio friendly package that should expand her fan base. -WG

BRENT PARKIN - Roots Treasure By The Long River PBM-149

Combining new songs with original compositions from the documentary of the same name, Treasure By The Long River reflects and comments musically upon the flooding by Manitoba Hydro of the aboriginal Cree's ancestral property. To think that we, in Canada criticize the U.S.A. for its treatment of Blacks. What hypocrisy! Social commentary aside, this is a most delightful collection of music both profound and simple that should cause a sincere listener to watch his or her conscience. Yet, listening to it need not be a solemn experience. If one doesn't read the liner notes, this is simply a pleasant sounding roots album of universal appeal. 100% MAPL. Produced by Parkin and Paul James and recorded at Winnipeg's Ambience Studio. -BW

BAKA BEYOND - World Fusion Journey Between Hannibal-1415

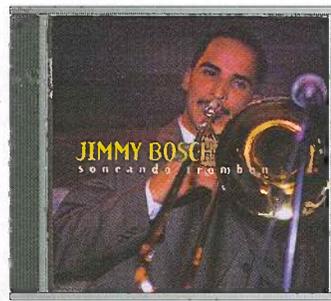

Baka Beyond is a clever play of words on the Scottish expression Back Of Beyond which refers to long distances. Guitarist and multi-instrumentalist Martin Cradick has travelled much to explore common links between the musical traditions of Northern Europe and West Africa. To date he has produced albums with musicians of the Congo-Cameroon. For this latest he has melded together musically the folk tastes of the U.K., France, Senegal and Ghana. How does it sound? Well, aside from exotic-to Western ears-instrumentation, one could be at a North American barn raising or any other earlier occasion for meetings of the community in common cause. Mr. Cradick had made his point. Beyond that, we can say nothing more than simply . . . enjoy. -BW

JIMMY BOSCH - Salsa Dura Soneando Trombon Ryko Latino-1004

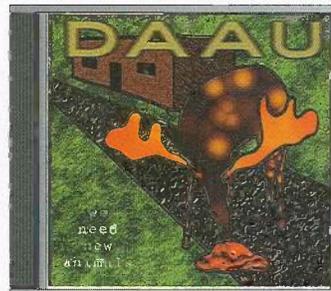

Salsa Dura is being mooted as the next significant movement in Latin American pop. On the evidence of Soneando Trombon one is inclined to agree. Latin trombone vet Jimmy Bosch fronts a studio band playing mostly his compositions in manner most persuasive. The title means Singing Trombone and that's what he delivers and more . . . much, much more.

He's capable of tenderness with his axe but here, the message is one of frenetic jazz nicely tempered by discipline of craft. Comparisons aren't always accurate but this reviewer feels that he plays trombone the way Manyard Ferguson plays trumpet which is to say, high octane, Salsa Dura? Muy Caliente! -BW

DAAU - Classical We Need New Animals Sony Classical-60674-H

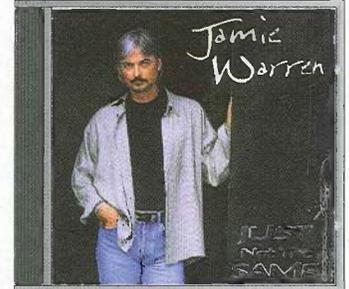

If society recognizes the existence of writer's block, then possibly it will accept reviewer's block. We're suffering from the latter in trying to determine just what this album is about. DaaU is a quartet based, as we think, in Spain comprised of clarinet, violin, cello and an accordion that sounds more like a bandoneon. They are joined by other musicians and programmers in playing music that seems to lack definition. The melodic lines, such as they are, are repetitious but that can be acceptable if one regards them as mere hooks. It's the orchestrations that are truly confusing. An astute listener -- and, attention is properly demanded -- will detect on some tracks a touch of bluegrass riding over and sometimes dominating sounds more familiarly associated with African jungle clearings. And yet, the final cut, Lost Souls, made this reviewer recall the Arabian Dance from Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker. Go figure. In fact, go listen to the album for yourself and let us know what you think of it. We frankly can't make up our mind. Reviewer's block anyone? -BW

JAMIE WARREN - Country Just Not The Same Spin Records-9806

Although the voice is familiar, the album title sums up the new sound from this talented Canadian. With this, Warren's second full-length release already causing a positive vibe in the new country air, he should look forward to earning similar success to that of his 1996 album Fallen Angel. Tracks like The Way Love Goes (#61* RPM Country chart) and Cried All The Way Home, have given stability to, and already earned the album much respect in the Canadian industry. Warren who's been slugging it out in the trenches since 1983 has come up with a mixture of music that has a definite potential for cross-over into A/C radio. Whether belting out an up-beat, well thought out song like The Sea Monkey Song, or tenderly performing a ballad, Warren's distinctive voice shows evidence of consistency yet diversity. Early in the month of September a deal was struck with Page Music Distribution for the Spin Records umbrella. Under that is Warren and Canada's Beverley Mahood. The album produced by J. Richard Hutt at Cedar Tree Studios includes an impressive line-up of Canadian co-writers like Naoise Sheridan, Jason Berry, J.K. Gully, Mark Dineen and Hutt himself. If Warren ever wanted to go shopping, this is the album to do it with. -JI

ALBUM PICK

JOHNNY FAVOURITE SWING ORCHESTRA - Swing Holiday Romance Universal-81091-J

This power-package of swing leaves no doubt as to who the king of swing is. The big news from the the East Coast Music Awards last year is the big news of the national picture this year. Favourite and his incredible lineup of young musicians are so tuned in with the past great era of swing that they have created an incredible listening bridge to that past. What's more incredible is that Johnny Favourite and guitarist/songwriter John Wesley Chisholm have structured that bridge on basically their own creative . . . Favourite, the throw-back vocalist, and Chisholm in control, for the most part, of that charismatic songwriting methodology that permeates this package of superb entertainment. They've thrown in a couple of foreign copyrights that have a nice fit, a very fired-up Black Dog, from the trio of Page, Plant and Jones, a great and lasting version of Them There Eyes from the trio of Pinkard, Tracey and Tauber, and Goodnight My Love, with words and music by Gerden and Revel. Take your pick from the rest. There isn't a clunker to be heard. A masterpiece, produced by Nick Kane and recorded at Le Studio in Morin Heights. The power package here wouldn't be complete without giving proper recognition to this highly polished and professional band of swing warriors: Dawn Hatfield (baritone sax), Wes Macky Jr. (tenor sax), Colin Hudson (alto sax), David Christensen (clarinet, alto sax), Craig Sheppard (trumpet), Matt Myer (trumpet, flugelhorn), Eric "Tomcat" Landry (trombone), "Hound Dog" David Fitzgerald (drums), Pete Johnston (double bass), and Andrew Killawee (piano). Get the picture? -WG

ViK's Love Inc. goes gold with debut

After just two and a half months after its release, Love Inc.'s self-titled debut album has been certified gold (50,000 units) in Canada. Featuring Chris Sheppard, Simone Denny and Brad Daymond, the trio signed to ViK late last year.

Nominated for five MuchMusic Video Awards, the trio won in two categories: Best Video and Best Dance Video for Broken Bones which was directed by Stephen Scott and produced by Bruno Louza. They were also nominated for Best Editing, Cinematography and Director, plumping up their popularity by cutting short their Canadian tour to appear on the MuchMusic show.

"Love Inc. has been an incredible success story so far," says BMG Music Canada President and General Manager Lisa Zbitnew. "We're thrilled with the gold record and the MuchMusic awards, and it's only just begun. The momentum in Canada is unstoppable and we expect exciting news from the other 34 countries that will be releasing Love Inc. next month."

Supplementing the tour dates are two major national marketing campaigns. More than 4.5 million Sears flyers were delivered in 45 markets across Canada featuring their back to school promotion and a chance for five winners to see the trio somewhere in Canada. As well as print advertising, a 30-second national television spot featuring "You're a superstar," has been airing on CTV, CBC, Global, MuchMusic and the Comedy Network.

The ViK group's C'est Fantastique track is also featured on Eaton's X-L Tracks 2 CD sampler featuring BMG acts. More than 170,000 samplers will be given away during the promotion.

In conjunction with the Department of Canadian Heritage, Love Inc. has taped a PSA for a national Stop Racism video competition. Young adults between the ages of 12-18 are asked to tape a one minute video describing how they can help curb racism. The PSA will be seen across Canada beginning in November.

The trio will be presented with their second SOCAN #1 plaque for You're A Superstar. The song recently spent five weeks at #1 on the RPM Dance Chart (Aug. 10 through Sept. 7/98).

More dates of their cross-Canada tour include Vancouver's Cheers (October 3), Legends in Victoria (5) and NRG in Burlington (10).

O'Connor and Palance spice up Premiere awards

The 12th annual Video Awards was another triumph for Premiere Magazine founder Salah Bachir. The more than 1,000 delegates who packed the Galaxy Ballroom of the Regal Constellation Hotel on Toronto's airport strip were treated to not only excellent fare but a fast-paced awards presentation.

There were also emotional moments, bestowing Lifetime Achievement Awards on legendary movie stars Donald O'Connor and Jack Palance (Videocassette of the Year); honouring industry leaders Eva and Kroum Pindoff with the Humanitarian Award (National Retailer of the Year), and the Industry Lifetime Achievement Award on Jules-André Ménard (Regional Retailer of the Year). The highlight of the evening was the powerful performance by swing ordinaire The Johnny Favourite Swing Orchestra which began with an O'Connor's impromptu version of the old Sinatra chestnut Fly Me To The Moon. O'Connor was in great shape, considering he suffered a major heart attack only six months ago. He is back on stage and is scheduled for a club date in Palm Beach, Florida.

Change in policy for Morning Music

Mark Altman, who heads up Morning Music, reports that effective Oct. 1/98 the company is changing its policy regarding the submission of unsolicited song material.

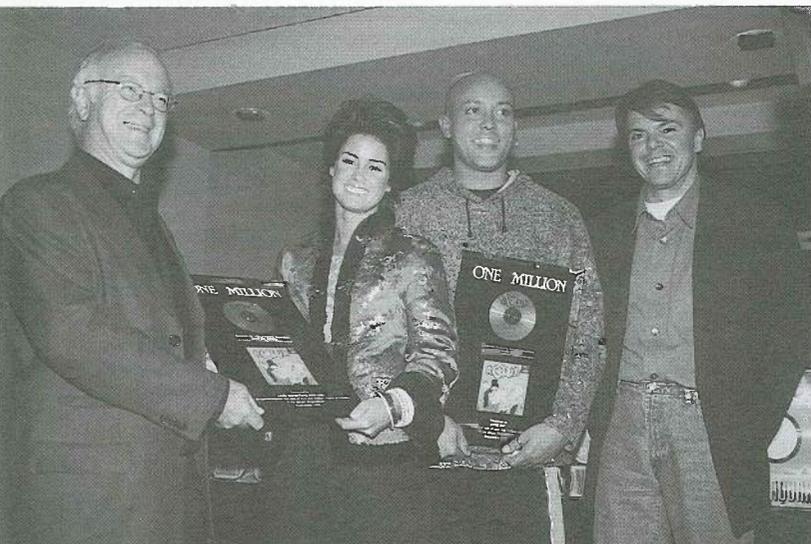

The songwriter must now be a current member of CARAS, SAC or CCMA in order to qualify. All tapes submitted must include the organization's name and the writer's membership number.

Altman explains that the change in policy "should cut down on the number of unprofessional submissions by amateur songwriters," going on to stress "This is also intended to show Morning Music's support for the Canadian music industry organizations."

Altman can be reached at 905-625-2676.

In making the above announcement Program Director Rob Farina noted that Stewart "has navigated CHUM FM through many changes over the years. His expertise in music programming continues to keep CHUM FM sounding head and shoulders above everyone else in the marketplace. He is a key component to CHUM FM's success and his expanded role will have a positive influence on the programming future of CHUM FM." Stewart began his radio career at 1050 CHUM AM as an on-air producer in 1978, moving into CHUM FM's music department two years later. Stewart also assists a number of CHUM Group Radio stations across the country, sharing his extensive music knowledge.

Toronto's MIX 99.9 took their listeners on a new high, five of them anyway who were the final contestants in the station's Live In and Win contest. The five had to stay in a Chrysler Mini-Van outside the CNE for 24 hours, a day for 18 days. The winner took home the van, after washing it out thoroughly. There were six contestants originally, but on day 16, James Hyland was disqualified because he was 35-seconds late for their 15-minute break. The winner was 19-year old Haley Holesh. The remaining contestants were Andy Erjavec, Blair Stenhouse, Alain Gauthier and Kate Davis who didn't go home empty-handed. Each walked away with $1,000 in cash, Famous Players Gold Cards, Microsoft software, Belle Mobility gift certificates and Chrysler leather jackets. The station had tied-in with the Toronto Sun which gave the contest a daily profile. As well, all the television networks covered the contest.

Lisa Brandt has resigned her post as CHML Hamilton's midday and afternoon entertainment editor. She cites the station's format change from news/talk to soft favourites and the cancellation of her talk show as her reason for resigning. Brandt can be reached at Davisville Productions in Hamilton at 905-312-9592.

99.3 The Fox takes "5" to interview Lenny Kravitz before his sold-out show at Vancouver's Plaza On Nations on Sept. 12. The station's David Hawkes did the interview bit which kicked off Kravitz's North American tour.

C-FAX reporter Harley Kennedy has covered news stories on foot, in taxis, police cars, boats, planes and even a blimp. However, he had never covered breaking news from a Kabuki Cab, until last week. The story was a runaway horse, one of the animals that pull carriages to take tourists on scenic rides in downtown Victoria. A bee stung the horse which charged through traffic-filled streets. Kennedy arrived on the scene and found a Kabuki Cab driver who had seen the whole thing and could identify the horse. So Kennedy jumped aboard and in the best tradition of reporters everywhere yelled "Follow that Clydesdale," and off they went with the cab driver pumping madly on the bicycle pedals with Kennedy seated behind him. They found the horse and Kennedy got the story.

Larry and Willy have set a benchmark in Vancouver for getting listeners to go that extra mile to win a contest. Last fall, 99.3 The Fox came up with some interesting answers with Larry and Willy's Toughest Contest Ever. One contestant spent an hour in a hot tub with two 14 foot pythons, another parachuted out of an airplane, one listener was the noon attraction at the Marble Arch and one listener even tattooed "Lick Me Today" on one side of their butt. Monday morning Oct. 5 at 7:15 am Larry and Willy once again asked their listeners "Hey, Do You Wanna Win Or Not? They will be competing to win a 1999 Volkswagen Golf and $10,000 cash.

COUNTRY

Tim McGraw makes a surprise move jumping into the #1 slot with Where The Green Grass Grows a track taken from his Curb album Everywhere. McGraw produced the album with Byron Gallimore and James Stroud.

Deana Carter has the big mover with her latest single Absence Of The Heart, moving up to #50 from #80 after only three weeks of charting. This was the song that made such an impression when Carter performed a few of the songs from her album Everything's Gonna Be Alright at Toronto's Top Of The Senator a few weeks ago. Many of the country programmers who were in attendance have been quick to jump on the single. The song was written by Carter, Chuck Jones and Chris Farren who produced the album with Carter.

Farmer's Daughter are back with a new single titled Freeway, the most added single this week entering the chart at #82. The single was taken from their Universal album This Is The Life.

Montgomery Steele has been promoting both his River Song single which is holding at #69 after 24 weeks and his latest release, Red Wine Kisses, which enters the RPM Country 100 this week at #96. Steele stepped up his promotion pressure for River Song with campus radio programmers and the reaction has been very positive, giving him two listings on the chart which is very rare for an independent Canadian artist.

George Fox continues his hectic tour pace that now has dates into November, all of which are in Ontario: Perth & District Collegiate Institute (Nov. 13), the Aultsville Theatre in Cornwall (14), Port Hope's Capitol Theatre (15), Pembroke's Festival Hall (16) and the Stephen Leacock Theatre in Keswick (17). No news on a follow-up single to Do The Math, now descending the chart (#29) after 11 weeks.

Sean Hogan is getting an early reception for his new single Walk The Talk, a Hogan original. Released as a CD single, the track was taken from Hogan's self-titled album released on the Barnstorm label. Hogan's album was recorded at Victoria's Sea Coast Sound and Vancouver's Mushroom Studios. Hogan also gives credit to his session people: Jim Dorin on pedal steel, acoustic and electric guitars, Lenny Koch on baritone guitar, drummer Randall Stoll, fiddleman Mike Sanyshyn, bassist Brian Newcombe and guitarist Robbie Stieninger. Background vocals were supplied by Duncan Meiklejohn and Shannon Smiley.

Veteran Gary Buck has a handle on western swing. In fact his new album is titled Western Swing & Country, released on his own Broadland label which he produced in Nashville. You can't get any better when it comes to country swing and Buck has the writers to do it up proper. And, when it comes to just plain country, he's done the same with a great bunch of writers and Nashville pickers. There are 16 tracks and the album is obviously a labour of love from one of the country music veterans who loves his profession. You can contact Buck through his Kitchener, Ontario line 519-886-8500, fax 519-886-8552 or through his Nashville office at 615-327-3410, fax 615-327-3571.

Joel Feeny is back and making incredible inroads with his latest single A Little Bit Of Your Love, which bullets up to #22 after only three weeks of charting. The radio success of the single will obviously fuel consumer interest in his just released self-titled album on the Universal label. The album was recorded in Nashville where it was produced by Chris Farren, who co-wrote nine of the 11 songs. Feeny solo-wrote A Wonderful Life and co-wrote Leslie's Wedding Day with Stephony Smith, both key tracks. We'll have an album review next week.

Stephanie Beaumont's album has been released on the Iron Music Group label, and it has already created a stir at retail. Titled Way Over My Heart, the album's popularity will be fueled by the success of Already In Way Over My Heart, the first single, now moving up the RPM Country 100 (#68). Beaumont's album was produced by Tom Harding and Jeffrey Steele and recorded at Lakeside Studios in Clayton, Ontario. All tracks are two-parts Canon (AP). Beaumont also had an impressive lineup of studio musicians, which included J.T. Corenflos, Dave Flynt, Bill Hullett, Jeff King, Chris Leuzinger, Jon Park-Wheeler and Mike Severs, who supplied the powerful acoustic guitar driven segments; Andrew Affleck, Dennis Belefield, Jimmy Carter and Jeffrey Steele on bass guitars; Shannon Forest, Tommy Harden, Ken Post and Frank Woodcock on drums; J.T. Corenflos, David Kalmusky, Jeff King,

PICK HIT

Hold On To Me - John Michael Montgomery

Chris Leuzinger, Jon Park-Wheeler and Mike Severs on electric guitars; Johanathan Yudkin on fiddle and mandolin; Dennis Burnside, Tony Harrel and Andy Thompson on keyboards; Shannon Forrest, Tommy Harden and Terry McMillan on percussion; and Gary Morse on steel and dobro. Quite a lineup. You can visit Beaumont's website at www.stephaniebeaumont.com. Watch for an album review next week.

Cori Brewster impacts with her second CD release titled Stones released on her own BRE label. The CD contains 12 tracks with a bonus track. The CD was produced by noted keyboardist Charlotte Wiebe and Brewster and recorded at Beta Sound in Edmonton. Brewster is showing her roots here, more than she did on her previous album, which gives an interesting new dimension to this powerful young voice from Banff, Alberta. Besides solo-penned three out of the 12 songs, Brewster shared writing credits with some very impressive songwriters, including John Capek on Stones From The River, Johnny Douglas on One Voice, Sharon Anderson and Jennifer Gibson on Come September. Brewster is currently wrapping up an extensive tour of the prairie provinces, B.C. and Northern Ontario. She returns to B.C. for several promotion dates between Sept. 28 and Oct. 3 and will be at Edmonton's Orlando Books on Oct. 3. Watch for an album review next week.

Calgary's Denny Alex is now at radio with Mind Your Own Honky Tonkin' Business, the follow-up to Those Old Summer Nights that gained him a nationwide following. "I've always written songs that are in the vernacular," says Alex, "that are real and not disguised in metaphor. In my mind that fits right into country." Both tracks are included on Alex's debut CD, In The Raw, a 12-song collection that was produced by Dave Hamilton and features some of Calgary's best studio pickers including Phil Hall, Danny Floen and John Thiel. The album is released on the Shoreline label distributed by Select Distribution. Ian McCallum of Starbiz will be tracking the new single.

Kiley Joe Masson, a 23-year old Princeton, Ontario resident is hoping one of the first songs he ever wrote will have a lasting impact on a new generation of country music fans. The song, A Soldier's Memories, was written by Masson when he was only 16 and entered into a contest sponsored by the Woodstock, Ontario Legion in honour of those who gave so much for their country. Originally written as a poem, Masson took a few liberties with the contest rules, performing the song instead of reciting poetry. The impact was such that he has continued to perform the song at branches of the Royal Canadian Legion and Navy Veterans Clubs, and this year is releasing it as a CD single. The single will be shipped in late October to all country radio stations in Canada in hopes that it will be utilized to commemorate Remembrance Day on Nov. 11. Masson is just completing studio work on his second album titled Shame On Me, the follow-up to In The Key Of Country, his 1995 release that gave him an impressive fan base in Europe. For more information contact Ian McCallum of Starbiz at 519-633-8415, fax 519-633-0628.
