Roger Ames to chairman and CEO of Warner Group

Roger Ames, who has been a member of the senior management team of Warner Music International since April of this year, has been named chairman and chief executive officer of Warner Music Group which relocates its corporate operations to New York City.

The above announcement was made by Time

Toronto's KISS 92 zeroes in on Backstreet Boys hype

It's only the middle of August, but for fans of the Backstreet Boys, November 11 is already circled on the calendar and on their mind. That is the day the band perform a sold out show at Toronto's Skydome.

Over a thousand tickets were sold every minute, with the 29,000 capacity arena selling out in only 28 minutes, said Emma Barnett, public relations for Universal Concerts Canada. Due to a tight performance schedule, it is doubtful a second date will be added.

In the coming 13 weeks, Backstreet Boy mania is going to grip the tweens and teens of Toronto as these fans were the first to discover how great the band is and have wanted to see them for some time.

"They are the number one act for this format. Backstreet Boys dwarf everybody...Spice Girls and Ricky Martin. Canada is a big market for them," said David Wannan, promotion director for Toronto radio station KISS 92. He will be fanning the hype as the station has secured plenty of tickets to give away to the unfortunate fans unable to purchase them.

An advance private screening of the Backstreet Boys TV special at Maple Leaf Cinema overwhelmed KISS 92 as fans started to lineup at 6:30 am for the free tickets. Wannan said, "We only Warner chairman and CEO Gerald M. Levin, who noted that Ames "has the perfect blend of artistic sensitivity, executive know-how and financial understanding to run Warner Music Group." He went on to point out that Ames "has worked in the United States and abroad, as both an entrepreneur and within a corporate setting, and won the respect of colleagues planned one screening. By 9:30 am the first show was gone."

Their biggest planned promotion for the concert will be taking place every Thursday at 4 pm, says Wannan. On that day the station is going to announce a backstreet in Toronto where passerbys can pick up envelopes that could contain tickets, KISS 92 T-shirts and other promo items.

While the concert is still three months away, as the date slowly approaches the station will continue to build on the hysteria. Fans are expected to swamp the station's switchboard in an attempt to win the grand prize, rumoured to be front row tickets to the show.

New Media Group launched by WMI

Warner Music International (WMI) makes an important move into the world of Internet sites and e-commerce with the launch of a New Media Group to be headed up by Martin Craig as vice-president, effective immediately. Based in WMI's London offices, Craig will report to Mark Foster, vice-president marketing Warner Music Europe.

Craig moves to WMI from Warner Music UK, where for the past four years, he was general manager and competitors alike."

Ames will assume his new post on Oct. 4 and will report to Levin through Time Warner president Richard Parsons.

Prior to joining Warner, Ames had been president of the PolyGram Music Group since 1996, with worldwide responsibility for the company's recorded music and music publishing operations.

Ames was born and educated in Trinidad and began his career in the music industry with EMI UK in 1975. He joined PolyGram UK in the A&R department of the Phonogram label in 1979, moving over to the newly restarted London Records in 1983 as general manager and shortly thereafter took on the mantle of managing director. He was appointed chairman and CEO of PolyGram UK in January of 1991 where he was responsible for all of PolyGram's activities in the UK and Ireland, including its record labels, film distribution, music publishing and music clubs.

"I'm thrilled and honoured to become chairman of Warner Music Group," commented Ames. "Warner Music Group has a legendary history, and I intend to honour the company's heritage and work closely with our label executives and Time Warner to move the company toward new heights."

Warner's Filter returns after four-year absence

It was more than four years ago that Richard Patrick first launched Filter. The pseudo-metal outfit's debut release, Short Bus, achieved multi-platinum sales, propelled by interest in the controversial single Hey Man, Nice Shot. Now, instead of reprising similar themes from his first album, Patrick returns with a fresh, new sound on the new Filter release, Title Of Record.

According to Patrick, the most important element found on the new CD is his own emotion. The album title itself is a metaphorical suggestion of the failed relationships that Patrick has experienced, both personally and professionally. The former Nine Inch Nails guitarist endured numerous highs and lows in the four years following the release of Short Bus - touring with White Zombie and Smashing Pumpkins, as well as the departure of Short Bus sidekick Brian Liesegang.

For this new project, bassist Frank Cavanaugh and guitarist Geno Lenardo have returned, now joined by new drummer Steve Gillis. Co-producer Ben Grosse and programmer Rae Dileo complete the Filter sound. Along with the stomach-crunching rock of album tracks Welcome To The Fold, Captain Bligh and The Best Things, Title Of Record also features Patrick/Lenardo collaborations on Skinny and It's Gonna Kill Me. Filter's Title Of Record is set for an August 24th release.

of Warner .esp, the company's enterprises and special projects division. Prior to that he was the national accounts sales manager for Warner Music UK for six years. He joined the company in 1980 serving as a sales representative and regional sales manager from 1980 to 1989.

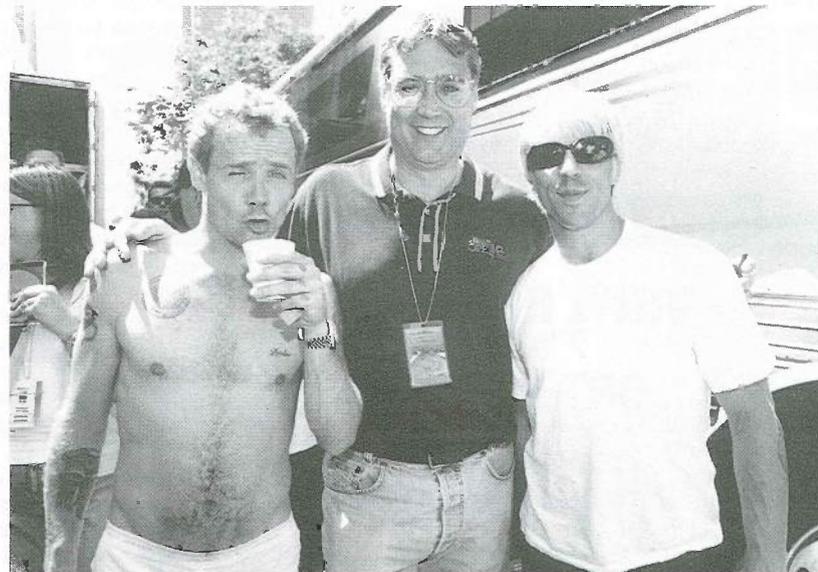

Foster's responsibilities as head of WM Europe's marketing division, have increased over the last few months, where he has been overseeing WMI's increasing involvement in new media activities in conjunction with the Warner Music Group's digital media initiatives.

Foster explains that in addition to Craig's solid commercial background, his experience at .esp in the UK included setting up Internet sites and assessing new business opportunities. "Now, on behalf of WMI, he will be responsible for formulating and coordinating the company's new media future strategy concerning Internet and e-commerce in conjunction with our sister American labels within the Warner Music Group."

WMI, a division of Warner Music Group, is headquartered in New York with offices in London and operates in 65 countries through a network of 47 affiliates, 24 licensees and seven associated labels.

The Barenaked Ladies, Jim Creeggan, Ed Robertson, Tyler Stewart and Steven Page with double platinum awards for their Stunt album, presented prior to their sold-out Molson Amphitheatre date, by Warner Music's Garry Newman, Steve Waxman, Ron Morse and Kim Cooke.

HMV's Peter Luckhurst, whose underwear isn't showing, with Flea and Anthony Keidis from the Red Hot Chili Peppers who performed at HMV's Yonge Street Superstore in front of an estimated 10,000 fans, which caused the main thoroughfare to be closed down.

WALT SAYS ...!with Elvira Caprese

American takeover??? Is a couple or three, maybe even six billion dollars a lot of money? Of course, it is, considering it will buy out a very large and complex entertainment entity, one that can and sometimes reluctantly promotes Canadian culture. This scenario all began back in old Roachdale College which led to a powerful position with that governing body on the Hill. Like so many others, he was wined and dined and whatever else it takes to curry favour, and the end result could be the scuttling of ownership controls. It's still in the "iffy" stages and when no one is looking it could pass that no clout governing body that has grown noticeably helpless against the powerbrokers who have so much to gain. (EC: You're talking treason!!!)

Oh! Oh! That black cloud again!!! Look who's surfaced after so many years of hiding. Yes! I couldn't believe it myself. PS has made a return. You can bet that someone is on the hook for a bunch of money, most of it from public coffers. Is there a story there? (EC: Isn't that what the trough is for???)

Mel Koski 50 years later!!! Not only is EMI celebrating its 50th anniversary, Mel Koski, the retail smarts, meaning the buyer, behind A&A Records & Books, back in the days of Alice and Matt Kenner, is also celebrating half a century of working in the business. Lou Shafer was also important at A&A which was the first record store in downtown Toronto. I don't know where Lou is, but Mel is

Warner platinum for Great Big Sea

Turn, Great Big Sea's new album has been certified platinum (100,000 units) by Warner Music Canada. Released June 22, the album made its debut on the RPM Top 100 CDs chart at #12 (July 5), remaining in the Top 10 for five consecutive weeks.

Consequence Free, the latest single from the album, is now in the Top 20 of the RPM A/C chart (#14*). The video for the single has made dramatic moves up the MuchMoreMusic chart where it moves up to #14 this week. Also factoring in the popularity of the band's releases is their performances on the cross-Canada Stardust Picnic tour.

The Band is scheduled to play the Philadelphia Folk Festival (Aug. 27-29) and the Chicago Celtic Festival (Sept. 18), which is part of their US tour, to be followed by a 30-city national tour of Canada in October.

working for Trend Records. Amazing! After all this time, he still has a love for the business. They had it all to themselves for a lot of years until Sam moved in next door. (EC: That was a lot of years ago!!!)

Talking about the old days!!! Joe Fox is celebrating 40 years in the business this week, with the same company yet, which went through a few name changes over the years ... CBS Records, Columbia Records and now Sony. Hey! Don't forget Eddie Colero. He's celebrating 45 years in the business, starting out at Addison, moving to Columbia Records, back when all the record guys drove 8-cylinder convertibles. Columbia became CBS Records, and after 20 years, Eddie moved to Capitol, which is now EMI where he has been for the last 25 years. Wait a minute. How about Shelly Rosenberg? He's closing in on 45 years in the business as well, which he won't admit to of course. He started at Columbia and moved to Capitol, which is EMI. And, funny too, it was Eddie who hired both Joe and Shelly. Hey! Happy anniversary. With guys like that out there, no wonder this is such a great industry. (EC: And it's still a lot of fun!!!)

Prairie Music Awards??? It's always nice to see the influence this column has. The theme was more, not less, music awards shows to help promote this country and its cultural mosaic. We have the East Coast Music Awards, the West Coast Music Awards, the Aboriginal Music Awards, Quebec has the L'ADISQ Awards and, of course, there's the Juno Awards, the Canadian Country Music Awards and the Big Country Awards. Well guess what? The prairie provinces have got together and come up with the Prairie Music Awards, which will be representative of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. That's pretty neat eh? The first show will be in October at the Walker Theatre in Winnipeg. No news on a television connection yet. One network we know for sure wouldn't be interested. Another just got out from under an expensive association. Another has its own awards and the boss has the first buck he ever made, so cross that one out, which leaves just one. (EC: Come on! Give us a hint!!!)

Kim Richey rocked the joint!!! Not really! How can you rock the joint when it's the Top O' The Senator? The crowd was so big, they had to move the party down to the second floor. And all the big

RCMP pulls plug on Edmonton's Rockfest '99

What was billed as a four-day music festival, Rockfest '99, being staged at the Labatt Raceway camp grounds just south of Edmonton, was cancelled abruptly at noon on Sunday (July 31).

According to reports, the RCMP had become concerned over the financial structuring of the festival. It had been estimated that Rockfest organizers had to come up with $150,000 by Sunday to meet expenses and were short by an estimated $100,000. A number of bands, including high profile Cancon acts Five Man Electrical Band and Loverboy, plus several hundred staff had apparently not been paid.

It was further estimated that $1.3 million was needed to host the festival which had such draws as Sammy Hagar and Edgar Winter. The festival had attracted upwards of nearly 4,000 ticketholders who had paid $75 for a day pass and $350 for VIP weekend pass.

It has been rumoured that Ottawa's Five Man Electrical Band had met with several other bands hoping to bring an injunction against Frank Scott, president of Rockfest Inc., barring him from receiving any of the gate proceeds from Ticketmaster.

Anticipating problems, there was a large police presence, but there were no reported incidents from the fans.

guys from Universal were out for this one, and she didn't disappoint. Better known in country circles where she's written more than a few hits for some of the big names in country, this time around the concentration is on the pop market. And she's already made inroads with Come Around, the first single from Glimmer, her new Mercury album. (EC: Sounds like a commercial!!!)

Is Cinram hurtin'??? Not likely, but, according to reports, the company has experienced flat second-quarter earnings, which translates into lower revenue. The downturn is being blamed on the lack of a blockbuster video release like Titanic. It's not all that bad -- revenue rose to $264.7 million, which is a gain of $5.7 million for the first half of the year. Net earnings even increased 34 per cent to $12.2 million which is up from $9.1 million in 1998. Cinram shares closed at $13.00 (Aug 19). (EC: I'll run right out and buy a couple of shares!!!)

Another format war??? Remember back when there was VHS and then Beta and neither were compatible? Well, get set for two new audio formats. And get this, the reason is to get rid of the compact disc. Get used to DVD audio and Super Audio CD, and like above, neither are compatible. Look who DVD audio has on side; Warner Music, Universal, Matsushita, Pioneer and Toshiba. Super Audio has only two players; Sony and Royal Philips Electronics. Retailers aren't too happy. But then, who listens to the retailers? (EC: What a good news bearer you are!!!)

SOCAN competition rewards young composers

This year's SOCAN Awards for Young Composers, sponsored annually by The SOCAN Foundation, saw fifteen young Canadian composers share $18,000 in prize money.

More than 200 entries were received from across the country, in five categories - orchestral music, chamber music, works for solo or duo, electroacoustic music, and choral/vocal works. The competition is open to concert music composers under the age of 30, who are members of SOCAN, but not members of any other performing rights organization. They also must be Canadian citizens.

The jury for this year's competition consisted of a trio of successful Canadian composers - Toronto's Omar Daniel, Calgary's Hope Lee and Robert Normandeau of Montreal.

According to Lee, "This is a first step for most of the winners. It's very encouraging for young composers to enjoy some success in competitions like this. One of the reasons we all keep composing is because of recognition, and that's even more important for someone just starting out in a career."

The Society of Composers, Authors and Music Publishers of Canada (SOCAN) is a performing rights society run by Canadian composers, lyricists, songwriters and music publishers. The SOCAN Foundation is an independent body with its own board of directors, representing various genres of music and geographic areas. The foundation oversees numerous programs which provide funding to music industry initiatives.

The winners of the Sir Ernest MacMillan Awards (orchestral works) were Montreal's Andriy Talpash (1st prize), Toronto's Rose Bolton (2nd prize) and Justin Mariner of Montreal (3rd prize).

The Serge Garant Awards (chamber music) went to Eric Morin of Laval, Calgary's Vincent Ho and Alain Beauchesne of Ste-Marthe du Cap,

Oscar Peterson to pen new millenium work

MusicCanadaMusique 2000 has commissioned famed Canadian jazz artist Oscar Peterson to compose a new work as part of its celebration of the new millenium.

The new composition, entitled Trail Of Dreams Suite, will be performed by the Oscar Peterson Quartet with chamber orchestra, conducted by Rick Quebec.

The Pierre Mercure Awards (solo or duet) were awarded to Paul Frehner of St. Laurent, Quebec, Michael Lacroix of Harrow, Ontario, and Montreal's Scott Edward Godin. In the electroacoustic category, the Hugh LeCaine Awards went to Hugo Arsenault of Blaine, Quebec, Montreal's Mathieu Marcoux, and Vancouver's Cheryl Hutchinson.

Finally, the Godfrey Ridout Awards (choral/vocal works) went to Scott Wilson of Richmond, B.C., Alexis LeMay of Ste-Croix, Quebec, with Ottawa's Karim Al-Zand and Toronto's Rose Bolton sharing third place.

First prize winners received a $2,000 award, with $1,000 going to second place and $500 for the third place artist.

Blaise Pascal and BMG Music Publishing sign deal

Winning the MIX 99.9 (Toronto) contest with her entry of Kings And Queens, brought singer/songwriter Blaise Pascal's talent to the attention of the placement of Only Way, a Pascal original, for the closing credits of Allan Moyle's latest film New Waterford Girls.

As Ott explains, under the agreement he will be developing "a few completed masters with the intention of coming to the labels with something that is fully formed and thought out. The demos I currently have could stand on their own as a release, but I think if we do our homework we could produce something very special and individual." The plan was to have Pascal writing and collaborating through the summer and demo'ing the best songs that come out of that process in the fall.

Having a song performed during the closing credits of Moyle's film is expected to gain more profile for Pascal which could offer a "fan base" for an interested label. It was Ron Proulx (Ron Proulx Int.) who advanced the film opportunity and who revealed that when he and Moyle listened to Pascal's song, "we agreed that it was special both in its own right and for use in the film. The sense of self-direction and personal growth that is central to the theme of the lyric is also right on the money for the film."

Wilkins. The new work will premiere at Toronto's Roy Thomson Hall on April 11, 2000.

The new suite was inspired by the Trans-Canada Trail, a 16,000 kilometre recreation trail, spanning Canada from coast-to-coast and opening in the year 2000.

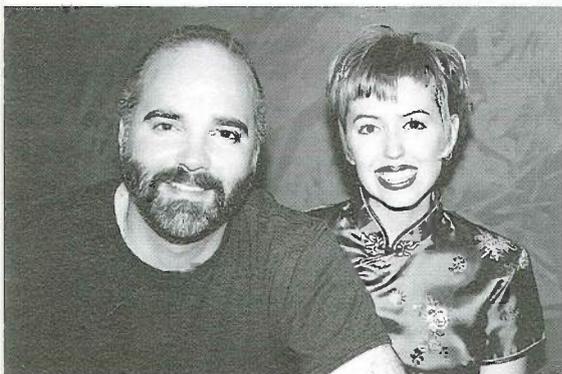

Tickets to the Roy Thomson Hall premiere go on sale to the general public on August 23, 1999. For ticket information, call 416-872-4255.

MusicCanadaMusique 2000 runs under the auspices of artistic director Nicholas Goldschmidt. The $2.3 million celebration involves more than 60 Canadian composers, working in various genres, creating new works to be performed by top Canadian artists in venues throughout the country in the year 2000.

Thus far, MusicCanadaMusique 2000, in conjunction with arts organizations throughout the country, has commissioned numerous leading composers to create new millenium works.

The list of composers includes Louis Applebaum, John Beckwith, Dave Bidini, Victor Davies, Lothar Klein, John Oswald, Andre Prevost, R. Murray Schafer, Joe Sealy and Ben Steinberg, among many others.

MusicCanadaMusique 2000 will be launched in Whitehorse on December 21, 1999, starting with a new work by composer Daniel Janke, performed by the Longest Night Society. A more detailed programme listing will be announced in the fall. MusicCanadaMusique 2000 is made possible through the support of the Canada Millenium Partnership Program.

What's Happening

Karen Steele joins MIX 99.9 as the assistant program director and marketing manager of the Toronto station. Most recently, Steele had the same position at Energy 108 in Burlington, and prior to that was program director and promotions manager at HTZ-FM in St. Catharines. "I'm absolutely thrilled to have Karen join us," said J.J. Johnston, vice-president of programming for MIX 99.9/Standard Radio. "Karen is someone I've admired for years and her expertise and talent will be a great addition to an already powerful staff." Steele's appointment is effective Aug. 30.

First Night Toronto 2000 is looking for 500 performers for 70 shows on 20 continuous stages. The upcoming season will feature local artists in theatre, dance, concerts, mime, animation, puppetry, interactive displays and arts and crafts. Peter Ashworth of the Toronto-based Ashworth Associates, is encouraging artist submissions to "creatively incorporate" the first Night 2000 theme - "Share the Light, Ignite the Spirit." He also points out that this 9th annual New Year's Eve celebration of the arts, with continuous family-oriented activities, indoors and outdoors, at Toronto's Harbourfront Centre and Queen's Quay at Newcourt Centre, will begin at 2 pm Dec. 31 and conclude at 12:15 am on Jan. 1. Proposals (bio, cassette/CD, photo, proposed program) along with requested fee or budget, should be sent to First Night Toronto, Artist Selection Committee, Suite 305, 56 The Esplanade, Toronto, Ontario M5E 1A7, no later than Aug. 31. Ashworth explains that First Night Toronto is a registered charitable, non-profit organization that, since 1991 "has provided the city with a safe alternative to the traditional New Year's Eve revelry, by bringing people together from all walks of life to mark the passage of time through the arts."

Iain Grant to Talk 640 as assistant program director and executive producer. His appointment to the Toronto station is effective immediately. Grant joins the Toronto station from CFRB where he held the same position. He has worked in major market radio for the past 18 years and also produced internationally syndicated travel programs for television. "Iain brings a wealth of experience and incredible passion to Talk 640," says the station's program director Pat Cardinal. "With many options available to him, we are thrilled that he chose Talk 640."

Kilt plays Toronto's Horseshoe for two nights (Aug. 27-28) as part of a cross-Canada tour to promote Four In The Crib, their second independent album. The five-piece folk/pop band is made up of Tony Ronalds (lead vocal, whistles, percussion), Bonny Jean MacDonald (fiddle, vocals), Brennan MacDonald (acoustic guitar, vocals), Brian Buckle (drums, percussion, vocals) with Scott MacFarlane (bass, vocals). The band used two of Cape Breton's studios, Sound Park in Irish Cove, and Lakewind Sound in Point Aconi to record their album. J.P. Cormier produced. The band has already toured Canada from Vancouver Island to Cape Breton Island. For more information and/or copies of their self-titled album, call Kelly at What's In Store at 416-351-7923.

The Tragically Hip have been booked into Toronto's Air Canada Centre for New Year's Eve - Friday, Dec. 31, 1999 and Saturday, Jan. 1, 2000. Along with three bands each night, the Hip will perform the last show of the 20th century and the first show of the 21st. More show details and the three bands who will join them will be announced Sept. 7 with tickets going on sale on Sept. 11. Check out their website (www.thehip.com) over the next few weeks for information as well. It's expected the 17,000 tickets will be sold in record time.

Cesaria Evora with Robert Michaels has an Oct. 8 date at Toronto's Roy Thomson Hall. Cape Verde, off the coast of Senegal, is Evora's home where she is known as "the barefoot Diva". She was last in Toronto two years ago and is touring this year in support of her new release, café atlantico. Warner recording artist Robert Michaels, will open Evora's show. He is a flamenco/jazz star in his own right, having successfully toured Canada which gave him the necessary fan base for two best selling independent releases, which led to his Warner signing and the release of Utopia his current album.

Moby with special guests Boom Boom Satellites are scheduled to play the Warehouse in Toronto on Aug. 28. Richard Melville Hall, born in New York in 1966 was nicknamed Moby after Moby Dick, the novel by his namesake Herman Melville, who he claims is a distant ancestor. A philosophy graduate, Moby is well known for his environmentalism and his music has earned him the tag "the Iggy Pop of techno." He releases on the V2 label.

Alla Kadysh is doing the Chapters thing around Toronto. She has already performed at the Bayview Village bookstore and will be at Kennedy Commons on Aug. 27, beginning at 2 pm. Kadysh emigrated to Canada from Russia in 1992. Her debut solo CD, Perichole's Sincerity Theory, which encompasses "jazz and cabaret with an ethereal world beat," is released in Canada by Boundless. For product and information on Kadysh call 416-977-8477, fax 416-977-7865.

The Pacific Music Industry is promoting the music of British Columbia's world music community through a 33-track, 2-CD compilation simply titled West Coast World. The tracks are from new, established, multiple award-winners and seasoned performing veterans and runs the full gamut of music genres. The release is part of a project to bring BC's musical talent to the attention of agents (booking and touring), commercials and jingles for broadcast use and/or business collaborators. For more information contact Kate Polsky, project coordinator at 604-873-1914, fax 604-876-4104.

Toronto's Pinnacle is presenting an evening of Rio Carnival which began Aug. 19 and runs through Sept. 26. The festival of music, costumes, song and dance has been the feature show at Toronto's Brazilian Carnival Ball annually since 1986. Originating in Rio de Janeiro, the show is produced by Howard Gillick, who handpicked the dancers from the carnival parade held each year in Rio, which boasts some 200 Samba schools. Call John McDonald at 416-650-0566 for a press kit and more information.

New Releases

STEPS -Pop

Step 1
Zomba/Jive 1241-44149-N
UK sensations Steps are trying to capture the hearts of North American teens and early teens with their fusion of the Spice Girls and Abba. They might be able to attain the same success as both bands but competition is fierce in this genre. Their first single, One for Sorrow, is at radio now. This candy pop-ballad contains the many fun elements found in an Abba tune with an updated dance sound. Sure the love song is sad, but with that beat it's hard to be depressed about a relationship gone sour. Many of the songs on their debut are structured in the same candy pop-ballad nature - with the music very uplifting to ensure the listener doesn't become depressed. The fun mixture is ever apparent on the opening song, Last Thing On My Mind, which is more dance oriented than any other song on the album. Stepro, the intro to the album sets this song up perfectly with a heartbeats slowly getting faster, then in a burst of Steps the kick-off sends their over the top sound into orbit. Keeping them there is 5,6,7,8 which would have diehard country fans upset over the very non-traditional use of country music. For their fans the light hearted cowboy strutting dance song, complete with fiddle riffs, is as close to country as they will probably get for now. The similarities with the Spice Girls come from their character traits and names. Each Step goes by first name. They are Claire, the youngest of 5 Steps; H, who enjoys making people smile; Lisa, a perfectionist Scorpio; Lee also known as Sensible Steps; and curly haired and smiley Faye. -MM

KOOL KEITH - Rap/Urban

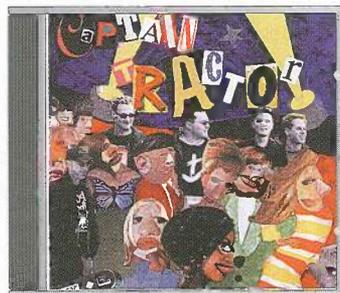

Black Elvis/Lost in Space
Columbia 7464-52000-H
Kool Keith, aka Dr. Doom, Dr. Octagon, or Keith Thornton (his real name), spends most of his solo album debut rapping about celebrity status, money and cars. The beats swirled around his smooth lyrical delivery are mellow, which leaves his lyrics to take centre stage. While the lyrics are not in your face they do contain plenty of witticisms and an insightful view of celebrity culture. First track, Intro, has the artist questioning why fans stare at him but avoid chatting him up. He then takes a poke at celebrities who are at clubs standing around in the corner with a large posse of people. This insight could only come from a person who has witnessed this. The theme is continued, but the artist's other interests are also highlighted throughout the album, with the beats changing to reflect the new subjects. He has made appearances on The Prodigy's album Fat of the Land, and in the nationally-syndicated Sprite commercial. However, it is this innovative album that should prove to be his biggest success. -MM

CAPTAIN TRACTOR - Rock

Celebrity Traffic Jam
Square Dog / Outside Music 27922 05002
With a slew of awards and three albums combining 35,000 copies sold, the fourth album from this five-piece band from Edmonton is filled with 13 rock'n celtic songs. Their Canadian rock sound mimics Spirit of the West and has been honed touring our country endlessly. They have stretched their reign of power with shows in Europe, New Zealand and the US Pacific Northwest. It's hard not to like their rootsy rock music that takes a sharp left at punk and a hard right at rock. At the steering wheel for this recording is Juno-winning John Webster. Gwenivere is the perfect pub drinking song with its penny whistle and sing-along good-times-had-by-all vibe. Of course the real drinking song is Another Drinking Song, which highlights the tough road for indie rock bands. The band turn it up a notch for this one. Vocalist Brock Skywalker does his best to growl like former Pogue Shane McGowan and it works out well. The uplifting tune should have many raising a pint in their honour. -MM

JESSE WINCHESTER - Folk 'n Blues

Gentleman of Leisure
Attic/Sugar Hill-1539 (Oasis)
It's been eleven years since Winchester's release of Humour Me, and although a lot of time, frustration and anguish has gone by, Winchester maintains that vocal reverence with a folk, blues, country and even rock fusion that makes it impossible to pigeon-hole his sound. Gentleman of Leisure is definitely vintage Winchester. Talking to him on the phone from his home in Quebec's eastern townships a few months ago, he was concerned that this new album, which he was working on then, might be a little to the left of what he was used to doing, away back when. Not to worry. Winchester is, if anything, much more confident here than with his previous recordings. The bite is still there, but the hurry is gone. He seemingly savors every note and nuance with an almost biblical delivery. Winchester serves a wide genre gap, Club Manhattan, a key track, slides in and out of blues, with an effective bit of guitar work by guest Steve Cropper, who does the same on Just Like New, a bit of a parody on Elvis Presley and Cadillacs with a definite '50s feel. Wander My Way Home is a powerful gospel piece with a help-me-Jesus writing to it courtesy the Faithful Four, who are Isaac Freeman, James Hill, Wilson Waters, Jr., and Robert Hamlett. Ballad-wise, patch into No Pride At All and Just

'Cause I'm In Love With You, the kind of material that pricks the conscience. By the way, Winchester is a Canadian citizen, has been since 1973. The label overlooked a very important Cancon hook. Winchester wrote all the material which is therefore three-parts Cancon (MAL). Produced by Jerry Douglas, who is also heard on various guitars and vocals. Recorded in Nashville. -WG

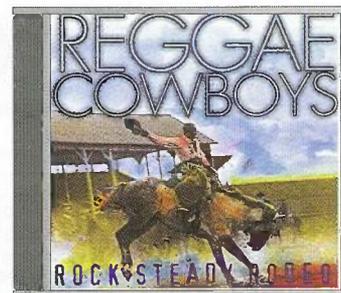

SUZANNE GRATTON - Country

Run Away
AME-01
This Toronto-based singer/songwriter has not only a vibrant vocal grasp on country but a pop leaning that could bring her into prominence in both formats. Covering Don Everly's Till I Kissed You and Otis Redding's I Got The Will, a challenge for even the most professional of performers, was obviously a breeze for Gratton. That Gratton soul influence carries through the rest of the release. The title track, written by Gratton and producer Fred Petersen, was taken as the first single and is followed up by Till I Kissed You. Gratton's writing influence also surfaces on Close To You, a key track which she also wrote with Petersen, and I'll Be There, where she shared the writing chores with Petersen and Albert Macdonald. But don't overlook Friends, a song written by Petersen and executive producer Enzo Gabrielli which could be a left-fielder. The session players are some of the best in the business, and includes steelman Al Brisco, J.K. Guley on nylon and acoustic guitars, fiddlemeister Oliver Schroer and Petersen who doubles on acoustic and electric guitars and also contributes some keyboard work. Gratton has the experience and vocal charm to become an important part of Canada's country star system. The CD was recorded at Toronto's Kinck Sound. -WG

REGGAE COWBOYS - Reggae Country

Rock Steady Rodeo
Tumbleweed-5812
Publicist Jane Harbury has written much and often about The Reggae Cowboys "a guitar-ripping Toronto posse," and here's solid proof of her beliefs. To say the band is unique is an understatement. The band's reggae-structured Caribbean roots fuses ingeniously with their own brand of blues, country, R&B and jazz that makes an immediate ear impact. Don't try to pigeon hole their music. They have a very persuasive methodology in fun stroking their lyrics with their Wild West (Indies) reggae seriousness, all professionally done as a tribute to "the black cowboys of the past century and the contribution they made to cowboy history." The band was founded in 1993 by Stone Ranger (aka Bird Bellony) on lead guitar and vocals and Click Masta Sync (aka Sync Rabess) on rhythm guitar and vocals. To make their posse complete they added Gully on bass, Marshall King on keys and drummer Hitman 1. They put a memorable spin on Bob Dylan's Like A Rolling Stone, but they sound much more comfortable with their own material, most of which was written by Bellony and Rabess, and the priorities here are Reggae Rodeo, Lighten Up, Road Show, Reggae On The River and even Geronimo, which is just a little left of centre but very entertaining. They also do an interesting take on Bob Marley's Redemption Song. Recorded at Toronto's Metalworks, the CD was produced by Bellony. All tracks are 100% Cancon except the two mentioned. -WG

RICK SHADRACH LAZAR - Jazz/World

THE CALL
GDN-1001
The Toronto-based percussionist leads his sextet playing his own compositions "that combine the harmonic and improvisational traditions of North American jazz with the rhythmic and melodic influences of Afro-Cuban, Brazilian and Arabic (sic) music." The concept is an ambitious one and seems to work. Whether the product is acceptable to a general listener is something else. Even with, or perhaps because of the estimable Randy Brecker guesting with blistering trumpet, the programme is a cacophonous mélange. A word of caution too is in order about track six. It isn't stuck, it's merely a seeming endless cutting session. Good enough album one supposes but not to everyone's taste. -BW

THE BLAIR WITCH PROJECT - Alternative

Josh's Blair Witch Mix
EMI 24352 27370-F

This mix tape was found in the car of Josh Leonard before his fateful trek with two college friends through Maryland's Black Hills Forest in search of the Blair Witch. Film footage from the three missing college students has been playing in packed movie theatres for a good part of the summer. Some people have even believed that the movie is a real documentary, a testament to the directors skills. The fake documentary play is continued with the CD not containing any new releases. Sound bites from the movie are included throughout the soundtrack to heighten the sense of fear the three experienced. Josh's taste in music leans towards industrial and goth which makes perfect sense as the trio was searching for a witch. Unfortunately something found them first and this tape along with the film footage is the only evidence police have. Many of the artists - Bauhaus, Skinny Puppy, Public Image Ltd., and Tones on Tail - are also missing, though the Blair Witch has to be ruled out on that one. Besides the stellar music, the CD contains exclusive footage that fell to the cutting room floor in the form of an enhanced CD. - MM

Enzo Gabrielli's philosophy benefits everyone at AME

by Matt Mernagh

Toronto-based AME Records owner Enzo Gabrielli operates his independent record label as a partnership between himself and the roster of artists who create the albums he markets and sells.

Supporting Gabrielli in his venture is hip-hop producer Phillip LeBlanc, who functions as vice-president of marketing, and producer Fred Petersen. While they have titles on their business cards, they don't put themselves above their artists.

"Just because I have president under my name doesn't mean I can't dirty myself. I was out there moving equipment at the Alice showcase. I'm not any better than the artists. We're all on the same playing field," Gabrielli continued, "When I speak of the label I say 'we' because it's not just me, it's my artists (Suzzane Gratton, A. Frank Willis, Alice and Art Dayton). What I've tried to do is create a partnership. The way I look at it is, sure I had the money to put this out, but without the artist's talent, my money wouldn't have quadrupled."

This ideology has come about after Gabrielli received what he thought would be his big break as a songwriter in 1986, an opportunity that turned out to be financially flawed. Disgruntled with the music industry and Toronto, he vowed never to return. Fortunately for Canadian artists, he generated some money from his other businesses and launched the label, with the goal to give artists their fair share of the profits.

"It's not about the money. The money will come. Everyone runs a business to make money. In my heart and mind, it's the last thing I worry about. If I have good Canadian artists, they'll sell."

To date the label has had modest sales success with their own distribution. Gabrielli explains, "Our own distribution has worked out great out east. All the Sam's and O'Brien stores in Newfoundland are buying our product direct from us. HMV in downtown Toronto is a supporter. It's on consignment, but it's in the store."

They have been working diligently to find a major label that would support their records through a distribution contract.

"Our next project is to try and work with a major. There are other distribution companies out there. But nobody calls back. You leave someone a message and they don't call back. Call me and tell me my product is no good, but call me back."

Gabrielli is baffled with the independent distributor's lack of interest but understands why his phone calls and requests for meetings with the big five labels have gone unanswered.

"You can't blame the majors. Guys like us are a dime a dozen. They get people like me all the time. I like to think that we are for real. The major label doesn't know me from the guy next door. It's frustrating but I understand where they are coming from."

On the east coast the A. Frank Willis album has done remarkably well, with the Internet proving to be a very good medium for Alice. They had their song downloaded so many times on the mammoth MP3 website that it led to a showcase on the emerging artists stage at Woodstock. "We sold close to 400 units on the Internet alone for Alice. That's a great number. A. Frank Willis is closing in on 1,000 in Newfoundland alone."

Besides running into distribution problems that he is determined to clear, the label has had difficulty convincing program directors to add their singles to playlists.

"The hardest thing to do is to get radio stations to listen to our product. We don't try and tell radio stations to play our product, we wouldn't dare. All we want them to do is listen to the songs."

While he does admit there are Canadian content guidelines to help his artists get airplay, he doesn't want to hear his label's songs on the radio simply because they are Canadian. "I don't want stuff on our label to be played because it's Canadian. That's telling people were not good enough so we have to have laws there. Unfortunately we need them there because of the walls we have to go through."

Fortunately a few program directors and video directors heard the music of Suzzane Gratton and added her single Runaway to playlists.

"Our first single, Runaway by Suzanne Gratton was played on 30 stations. CMT played the video 43 days in a row," Gabrielli says with pride in his voice.

For now, the label is happy with their small success, but they have formidable plans they hope will create even bigger victories.

COUNTRY

Kelly Vohnn has a date at Nashville North, which is just north west of Toronto for August 24, not August 25 as reported last week. Vohnn will be performing a free concert backed by a six-piece band to launch her new P.A.Y. B.A.C.K. CD A New Beginning. Her Momma's Eyes (And Her Daddy's Gun) and Sweet Dreams, Vohnn's previously released music videos, will also be shown during the evening. Both videos were shot in and around Los Angeles. The P.A.Y. B.A.C.K. label which is based in Toronto is owned by Vohnn and Paul Kraussman. For more information and product call 416-533-1809.

Calgary-based Dan Nash has been working overtime on self-promoting his latest single, So Easy, which nudges closer to breaking the Top 40, moving up to #43 this week. Nash is also garnering impressive spins at A/C, soft rock and easy listening stations as well as contemporary hit radio. The single enters the RPM A/C chart this week at #86. The single is being aired by more than 140 stations across Canada.

Alabama goes to the head of the class with a #1 slot for God Must Have Spent A Little More Time On You. The track features background vocals by 'N Sync who had a hit with their RCA release which peaked at #4 on RPM's A/C chart (June 7/99). The song was written by 'N Sync members Carl Sturken and Evan Rogers. The Alabama release is contained on their RCA album, Twentieth Century, now racking up impressive sales at retail.

Lisa Brokop had the most added single last week. Cool Summer Night, the latest single from her Columbia album, When You Get To Be You, entered

Stompin' Tom makes Canadian history

Stompin' Tom Connors continues to make Canadian history. He was honoured earlier this month in his home province of Prince Edward Island with the naming of Stompin' Tom Road in front of his old Skinners Pond School House (now known as Home of Stompin' Tom).

A new Connors' album, Move Along With Stompin' Tom, will be in stores Oct. 26. It has been five years since Connors has released new material. To keep fans satisfied until the new record arrives, eight previous albums have been re-released on four CD and cassette collections: Northlands Zone/On Tragedy Trail, At The Gumboot Cloggeroo/Muk Tuk Annie, And The Moon Man Newfie/The Unpopular and To It And At It/The North Atlantic Squadron. These titles had been unavailable for a number of years.

Connors' tour kicked off on the east coast the beginning of August. Remaining dates, all in Ontario, are listed as Tillsonburg's Memorial Arena (Aug. 24), the Memorial Gardens in Sault Ste. Marie (28), the Archie Dillon Sportsplex in Timmins (31), the Englehart Arena (Sept. 2), the C.A.W. Union Hall in St. Catharines (5), London's Centennial Hall (7), Kingsville's Migration Hall (9), Oshawa's Civic Auditorium (11), Barrie's Molson Centre (13), Hamilton Place (16), and Toronto's Massey Hall (18).

Mark Ekins single for Canadian Special Olympics

Lindsay, Ontario-based Marc Ekins, has been busy with the 20-date cross-Canada Move This Mountain tour '99 which hopes to raise $50,000 for the Canadian Special Olympics.

Ekins wrote Move This Mountain for the Canadian Special Olympics. The song is included on his album, Regular Romeo, released on the Ekins Entertainment label. The concerts are set up in such a way as to help regional level athletes, who don't reach national levels, to continue participating in their region. The Special Olympics receives one third of the proceeds from each concert as well as $2.00 from the sale of each CD and a portion of apparel sales. In each of the concert areas, the funds raised stay in that area.

"That way the guests can be proud that they are supporting their local athletes," explains Ekins. "The athletes also get involved in the concert by signing the song I wrote especially for them. This is a moment that is most remembered in each concert. You have to see the faces of the athletes to really understand. It's a very exciting night for them." The concert comprises two hours of music and laughs,

"leaving everyone generally exhausted by the end of the show," says Ekins.

Prior to the western Canada tour Peterborough, Ontario was the host city for the concert where more than $6,000 was raised. "The spirit of giving was contagious," Ekins points out, "with donations from the Peterborough Professional Hockey Alumni and Investors Groups."

The tour then moved west for concerts in Vancouver, Kelowna, Edmonton and Calgary where Ekins opened for Farmer's Daughter on Canada Day, and continues through October.

The Mountain tour hits Ekins' hometown of Lindsay on Sept. 2, which will be the sixth concert this year.

Corporate sponsors or other interested parties who would like to become involved in raising funds for the Canadian Special Olympics should call the organization's president Jim Jordan in Toronto at 416-927-9050 or project managers Marc Ekins or John Ekins in Lindsay at fone/fax 705-953-9784.

Ekins will be showcasing at Zuma's during Canadian Country Music Week (Sept. 10-13).

the chart at #86, a good start for the former Vancouverite now living in Nashville. Written by Brokop, Cyril Rawson and R. Harbin, the song qualifies as three-parts Cancon. The single moves up to #83 this week. As of this single, Brokop leaves the Sony fold.

Lonestar goes to A/C with Amazed, their country single that topped the RPM Country 100 on July 19/99. The release is an updated version which the BMG people believed would catch the ears of the more progressive A/C programmers, and it has, making its debut on the RPM A/C chart this week at #82. JR FM's Mark Patric picks the acoustic version of Amazed this week.

Barry Haggarty's promo team is keeping a close watch on his first single, Give Me A Break, from his Old Days release. They have a nice mix of stations on the single from every province and territory in the country. The track is a Haggarty original and qualifies as 100% Cancon. Watch for chart action soon.

Blackie & The Rodeo Kings make a move on the chart with The Lucky Ones which entered the chart last week at #92 and bullets up to #80 this week. The trio, Stephen Fearing, Colin Linden and Tom Wilson of Junkhouse, are together once again with the release of their second CD, Kings Of Love, a double CD priced as a single CD. Produced by Linden, the album is released on the True North label

Michelle Wright, after being too long away, returns with the August 23rd release of When I Found You. Not too much information yet, except the track was taken from Wright's upcoming Greatest Hits collection, being targeted for a fall release.

Prairie Oyster has a new single, One Of Those Nights, added already at Vancouver's JR FM. The track was taken from the band's ViK album, What Is This Country.

Garth Brooks as Chris Gaines has the makings of another country hit with Lost In You. The track is already making good gains at A/C radio, but it didn't take long for country programmers to add the track which is included on his upcoming Capitol Nashville release, Garth Brooks ... in the Life of Chris Gaines. The CD single which went to pop and A/C radio on July 26, also includes a bonus album track entitled It Don't Matter To The Sun, which serves as the B side. This is the first ever commercial CD single for Brooks, carrying a suggested list of $1.99. Retailers are already ordering the single, which will be limited in quantity to be cut off prior to the Sept. 28 street date for the full length album.

Suzu Bogguss makes her way back into country with a Platinum International release of her self-titled album. Platinum has been front and centre in picking up some of the country acts that were either dropped or who didn't renew their contracts. The new Bogguss album which she produced with Doug Crider, includes a duet with T.Graham Brown on Love Is Blind. Bogguss co-wrote three of the songs with Crider; Taking That Red-Eye Home, Hold Me To It and No Place To Go. She also co-wrote Hammer And Nail with Gary Scruggs.

Hank Williams Jr., the 19-year old son of Hank Williams Jr. (that's right), is making a statement of sorts with the release of Stormy on the Curb (EMI) label. The subject material sort of epitomizes the life of the young artist, and just might be a little left of centre for country, but ideal for the campus crowd. Titles include I'd Love To Know The Hell Out Of You, Naked Women And Beer, Hank Hill Is The King, I Like It When It's Stormy and They All Want To Go Wild (And I Want To Go Home). The CD was produced by Chuck Howard.

CANADIAN COUNTRY MUSIC SPECIAL EDITION

Keeping the tradition alive . . .

RPM will once again be publishing its Canadian Country Music Special Edition to coincide with Canadian Country Music Week. As in the past RPM will be readily available throughout the convention, as well as at showcases and hotels during the Ottawa event September 10-13.

This issue will focus on the state of the country music in Canada from an industry point of view. Spotlight the Canadian Country Music Award nominees, plus feature an itinerary of events in Ottawa over the weekend.
