New release from The Artist on Arista

Marking a new phase in his musical career, The Artist formerly known as Prince is set to release his new album, Rave Un2 The Joy Fantastic, on Arista Records. The announcement was made by Arista CEO/founder Clive Davis.

The first single, The Greatest Romance Ever Sold, will be released to radio in late September, with the full album scheduled for an early November release. Rave Un2 The Joy Fantastic will be licensed from The Artist's NPG Records to Arista, for the US, and to BMG Entertainment International, on the Arista label, for the rest of the world.

In addition, 100,000 copies of Rave Un2 The Joy Fantastic will be released via NPG and distributed through The Artist's web sites - 1800NewFunk.com and Love4OneAnother.com.

The last five years have included numerous ups and downs for The Artist. After years of well-documented dissatisfaction with Warner Brothers Records, he won his release from his contract with Warner in 1995. That was followed by an agreement with EMI Records, which was marked by the release of the album Emancipation. That agreement came to an end two years ago.

Since departing Warner Bros., The Artist has been releasing recordings via his own NPG Records.

Bowie's new release to be available on HMV.com

HMV North America has announced that HMV.com will make available the first full-length, downloadable album by an international artist. David Bowie's new release, hours, was first available on the website this past Tuesday, September 21st.

The album download will be available for a limited, two-week period, prior to the album's in-store release date of October 5th. The special download will also feature an additional new bonus track, which won't be available on the album.

"We are very excited about this opportunity for HMV.com to offer the new David Bowie release online," said Andrew Pollack, vice-president of marketing for HMV North America. "Many artists have put singles out for downloading via the internet, but this is truly a first - a full album by an international star made available through HMV.com. We look forward to seeing the response from our consumers."

The new album will be downloaded in the Secure Digital Music Initiative (SDMI)-compliant format Liquid Audio. SDMI is the global organization of retail, record and technology companies formed to oversee digital distribution.

HMV.com and Liquid Audio will provide technical support to assist music fans with the download.

HMV.com offers more than 300,000 CDs, videos and DVDs online.

Atlantic/Warner ready new Stone Temple Pilots

October 26th is the tentative new release date for the long-awaited new album from the Stone Temple Pilots. The new release, entitled simply No. 4, is the California quartet's first release since 1996's Tiny Music...Songs From The Vatican Giftshop.

No. 4 was produced by Brendan O'Brien, who also produced the band's three previous albums. The new album will feature 11 tracks, with the first single, Down, being shipped to radio on October 4. All songs were written and performed by the band - Dean DeLeo, Robert DeLeo, Eric Kretz and Scott Weiland.

Stone Temple Pilots have sold more than 20 million albums worldwide, and have received a variety of honours, including a Grammy, two American Music Awards, and an MTV Video Award.

In announcing the upcoming release, the band commented, "In the decade that we've been together, there has never been so much unity, love and mutual support in this band as there is today. We are all extremely excited about the new album, which has just been finished, and are anxious for our fans to hear it."

V2 scores coup with Michael Hutchence's solo

V2 has secured the worldwide rights to the release of the late Michael Hutchence's self-titled solo album. Hutchence was the former frontman of the multi-million selling band INXS.

The album will be released on Oct. 11 in Australia, New Zealand and Japan and on Oct. 18 in the rest of the world excluding Canada and the US, when it will be released in February of 2000. On However, on Oct. 18, V2 and Microsoft will make available a free download of one track, Let The People Talk, which will not be included on Hutchence's album.

Hutchence reportedly spent the three years

Those releases included the five-disc set Crystal Ball. This past August, Warner Bros., under an earlier agreement, released The Vault...Old Friends 4 Sale, a collection of previously unreleased Prince songs

Rave Un2 The Fantastic, his first studio album with a major label since 1996's Chaos And Disorder (on Warner Bros.), features guest appearances by Chuck D, Sheryl Crow, Ani DiFranco, No Doubt's Gwen Stefani and saxophonist Maceo Parker.

Clive Davis commented, "I've been asked many times over the years with which artist I would most like to have a professional relationship. My answer was always The Artist Formerly Known As Prince. So, to me, this is a dream come true. The Artist has it all: soul, contemporary edge, funk, pop and rock. I've heard this brand new album and it passionately showcases all those elements in a way that is as electrifying as anything he has ever done before. I am thrilled with the new association and can't wait to share his exciting music with the world."

Wendell Ferguson firmed as NSAI guest speaker

Wendell Ferguson, who recently won the CCMA guitarist of the year award for the fifth straight year, will be the guest for the Oct. 5 NSAI seminar.

Ferguson is currently promoting his new album I Pick Therefore I Jam (RPM New Releases - May 17/99), and the first single from the album, If You're Gonna Be A Cowboy, a duet with Prairie Oyster's Russell deCarle.

The NSAI meetings are held twice a month for songwriters at Lester B. Pearson public school in Brampton, Ontario beginning at 7:30 pm. For more information contact Dan McVeigh at 905-453-6104.

leading up to his death working on his solo album with a variety of collaborators from around the world. Most of the tracks were completed before his death. The final mixing took place in London and Los Angeles by Danny Saber (U2, Black Grape) and Andy Gill (Gang Of Four), with whom Hutchence co-wrote many of the songs.

Let The People Talk was written about Hutchence's relationship with the media, and will be available as a download and a stream in the MP3 and MS Audio formats, for a period of 10 days from Oct. 18. Those interested can pre-register for the download at www.v2music.com.

Arista recording artist Monica gets down with the ladies of BMG; Dawn Dwyer, Lisa Zbitnew, and Julie Calabrese, who presented her with her first ever triple-platinum award after her Toronto date.

First gold from Oasis to Weird Al Yankovic for Running With Scissors presented by Song Corp's Allan Gregg, Attic president Alexander Mair and Oasis Entertainment president Bill Ott.

WALT SAYS ...!

with Elvira Caprese

The Junos! Not interested??? With all the bad mouthing of the Junos by country people, wouldn't you think a seminar at Canadian Country Music Week on "How the Junos can promote Canadian country" would draw a packed house? Wrong! Seven people showed up in a room that was expecting at least a hundred. What was up against it? A seminar billed as "On the road again" and one on "Problem solving for independents". Not to demean the others, they're important as well, but maybe the people who put these seminars together are offering too much and during the same time frame. When you can have the Chairman of CARAS come in specially to pass on some sound advice and answer questions, it was a little embarrassing. It's the same old saw though, isn't it? The bars are fuller than the seminar rooms. (EC: Oh! You got that right!!!)

Speaking of ... !!! You have to hand it to the Ottawa people in putting together one of the best Canadian Country Music Week functions I've seen in a very long time. It was a little expensive. But that's Ottawa where everything is based on fat cat politicians and people on expense accounts. Everything went smoothly, and best of all, every event was within walking distance. And the weather cooperated. That hockey arena was dressed up pretty good. Yeah! I really did get a warmer feeling here than in Hamilton. Complacency is the biggest enemy. There was a little bit of grumbling. But when you take a huge show like this on the road ... don't expect it to be Nashville, although one recipient did go so far as to thank the CMA, which is in keeping with his lifestyle I guess. With Danny Hooper doing the strutting and warm-up for this year's show, you can expect an even warmer welcome in Edmonton next year. There were a few cheap places to eat right downtown in Ottawa if you searched for them. Like, a great breakfast on genuine china with real silverware for $2.99 plus coffee with free refills within sight of the Westin Hotel. (EC: Why didn't these guys promote their locations???)

Bush has class!!! While the film people think there's nothing north of Bloor Street but farmland, Bush discovered an upscale restaurant where fans never bother the star patrons ... well almost never. During a bit of supper at Centros, in walks a seven-man Bush contingent, squired by a Universal guy with a bulging wallet. Before they get a chance to order wine, an older gentleman, rumoured to have made a lot of money in the stock market and who bought a castle in Scotland which he turned into a restaurant, table-hopped and asked Bush head guy Gavin Rossdale to drop by his table and meet his wife, which he did very obligingly. And he even helped the Bush guy pick out an expensive wine. Better still, it looked like the older guy bought the first round and probably invited Bush to play his castle. (EC: And you saw all that from your table???)

Go e-mail!!! Still not too computer smart, I've finally got into the e-mail mode and I hope soon to toss the fax machine. No more come-ons for travel deals, fresh-air machines, website scams, weight loss breakthroughs, hot tips from stock manipulators, leasing bandits, and lawyers too cheap to take an ad in the yellow pages. Better still, no more alarms about "out of paper". What a saving that is alone. And IT'S FREE! Pardon the expression Chris White, Music Director of CJNH 1240 Bancroft, Ontario, screw the fax people. I had a dream, and out goes the fax. (EC: You're so theatrical. You must be doing this for fun!!!) Goodbye Post Office!!!

Wanted: A new broom!!! When the bean counter thwaps in the towel, it's time for that big sweep. That light at the other end of the tunnel could be a freight train coming at ya. Reminds me of the old days. Bail or get out of the way. (EC: What's the alternative???)

Was that on camera??? Did you notice SC rush across the floor at the CCMA awards show to do the hugs and kisses thing with SK? Pretty exciting stuff. And while she was gone a seat-filler took her seat. (EC: Good thing SK doesn't have his hand out!!!)

Universal's in a gambling mode!!! Randy Lennox hosted a Casino Night for his Universal crew, an in-house affair, at The Courthouse in downtown Toronto this past week. There wasn't a t-shirt in sight. Everyone was dressed to the nines, jackets, shirts, some had hats and all were wearing shoes. (EC: Now that's an immediate improvement ... they were all wearing shoes!!!) After a Rah! Rah! thing by leader Lennox, Bush showed up and introduced their new album, track by track and the Matthew Good Band were on hand to help celebrate their successful album launch. By the way, MGB's album Beautiful Midnight made its debut on the RPM Top 100 CDs chart at #1 this week. (EC: From time to time the troops need that Rah! Rah! stuff!!!)

What's this rumour??? My mention of the uninformed watchdog a couple of weeks ago has prompted some inquiries and raised some questions. Is it time to move on? Are there bigger bucks in the offing? Was their feather-bedding going on? Hey! The portfolio must be pretty thick by now. (EC: Stop the world! I think I'm getting off!!!)

You tell 'em Shania!!! As a tearful and very emotional Shania Twain picked up her CMA Entertainer of the Year award last night (Sept. 22), and paid tribute to her husband, host Vince Gill said it very nicely. "Well, Shania that'll keep them quiet," meaning her supposed leaning more toward the pop side of music. (EC: Yeah!!!) And what great shtick by Gill in bringing The Wilkinsons on for a performance. "The Wilkinsons from Canada et cetera, et cetera!" (EC: Times have changed!!!)

Cabaret re-invented!!! This new production has all the pathos and intrigue necessary to bring into perspective the rise of Nazism during the early '30s. Norbert Leo Butz is the star of the show who minces and prems his way through his emceeing job at Berlin's notorious Kit Kat Club. The shock value is there as well as a brick thrown through a window, jolts the audience. Memorable too are the performances by the gentle Gentile landlady, who has to back out of her marriage to a Jewish grocer who constantly presents her with various fruits, and the grocer himself; the American who is duped into unknowingly aiding the Nazi's and Joely Fisher, the young English girl who performs in the club. The only confusing part of the production is the ending and trying to figure out its true meaning, but that's not a negative. Playing The Princess of Wales Theatre through to Oct. 13.

The reader speaks!!! Oh! Oh! The reader strikes back. Chris White, Music Director at CJNH 1240 Bancroft, Ontario writes "With all due respect to the witty wisdom of Walt Grealis, publisher, I noticed Walt Says a couple of F-words on page 4 of RPM, September 6, 1999. Thinking back, I don't recall ever reading those words in RPM. Is your fearless leader moonlighting by writing rap lyrics? What does Elvira Caprese think of this letter?" (EC: I'm appalled just as you are. We've been dragged, kicking and screaming into the new freedom of expression of the ungodly and modern deity. I noticed in the same week the sanctum salubrious Christie Blatchford used the same F-word in its worse possible usage in the equally sanctum salubrious National Post. And wait! A highly regarded female president of a large-than-life organization peppered her rah-rah speech to the troops with the naughty F-word. I have to say however, that the broadcasting sector, radio that is, has held the line on shock language. Maybe they can use their power to spread the word that the F-word, no matter how used, is offensive!!!) Fuck Off!!

NINE INCH NAILS -Rock

The Fragile Nothing/Interscope-0694904732-J
Take a cross-section of today's white, suburban teen culture, mix it in a blender and squeeze out the excess, and what you're left with is the fuzzy, distorted delerium of Trent Reznor's musical maelstrom. Make no mistake, Reznor isn't about such musical frivolity as melodies, key signatures or coherent rhythms - this is about atmospheres, moods and perceptions, somehow filtered through a melange of instrumentation. Reznor's instrument of choice is still a very fuzzy guitar, but he diversifies a tad more here, to include a great deal more keyboard work. The results, however, are still very episodic and distinctively NIN. The Fragile is epic in length, and equally epic and eponymous in style, with solemnity surfacing through most of the tracks. Listening to Reznor's material, one doesn't listen for radio-friendly tunes. This is an album inviting the listener to share in the NIN experience, and if you don't wind up staring at the blank walls in pensive reflection, then you haven't been listening carefully. Produced by Reznor and Alan Moulder, with Bob Ezrin providing 'final continuity and flow'. -RR

CHRIS CORNELL Euphoria Morning A&M-0694904122-J
The demise of Soundgarden not only left us without a significant rock band, but also helped signify the slow decay of the Seattle scene, although Pearl Jam is doing its best to counter the tides. In their relatively short history, Soundgarden produced some electric moments, some great rock songs, and the profoundly moving vocals of Chris Cornell, who pushed simplified grunge into near-operatic moods. With the release of this first solo effort,

Cornell is clearly aiming at something a tad closer to mainstream rock than the music produced by Soundgarden. The walls of guitar have been whittled down, and the influences of blues and even soul can be keenly felt. Wailing above it all are Cornell's potent pipes, which still speak volumes with the right material. Can't Change Me has been taken as the lead single, and its the closest thing to pop that Cornell/Soundgarden have ever put out, and should do well at rock radio. Also noteworthy are Mission, Moonchild, the bluesy, piano-tinged When I'm Down, and the sorrowful plea Preaching The End Of The World. Listen to that one after a bad day at the office, and you'll be reaching for the little brown bottle. -RR

STIGMATA Music From The Motion Picture Soundtrack Virgin-47753-F
While the film may not have received the most glowing reviews in its first couple of weeks of release, this soundtrack should get a considerably better buzz, considering that it's penned, for the most part, by Billy Corgan of the Smashing Pumpkins, the first such effort by the head pumpkin. Corgan's soundtrack music (he worked alongside Mike Garson) is what one might expect from the Pumpkinmeister. There's plenty of diverse instrumentation, lots of ambient noise, and just a touch of eastern influence, not surprising, given the religiosity of the film. The real gems here, however, are the first seven tracks on the album, each of which contains significant ambition. The first track is a chest-thumper called Mary Mary, from Chumbawamba, followed immediately thereafter by a beautiful piece of pop entitled Gramarye by Remy Zero. Bjork pops up here with the very meditative All Is Full Of Love, which is then followed by a churning track from Bowie, called The Pretty Things Are Going To Hell. Massive Attack is also present, with the appropriately dubbed Inertia Creeps. The real nice gem here might be Natalie Imbruglia's Identify (also written by Corgan and Garson), which could, or should, be almost hit material if marketed properly, especially considering how hot Imbruglia's been over the past year or two. -RR

SLOAN Between The Bridges Murderecordz-77488-J
Leading off with the ultra-pleasurable The N.S., this new collection of tunes from the east coast alternative/pop mavens once again offers ample demonstration of their tuning-crafting acuity. Sloan, despite from very good record sales for the most part, still may not have gotten the full credit they deserved for their ability to write excellent songs, almost all of which are enormously radio-friendly. There may be other bands in this country that sell more records, but there are few that can put as many good songs on one record. Not content with simple guitar riffs or basic four/four time signatures, the Sloan foursome - Jay Ferguson, Chris Murphy, Patrick Pentland and Andrew Scott - are able to mix in a myriad of tempos and melody lines, making the entire gesture sound way too simple. Losing California has been chosen as the first single, albeit one of the simpler songs on the record. But aside from The N.S., other choice cuts include Don't Believe A Word, All By Ourselves, Waiting For Slow Songs and The Marquee And The Moon. Produced by the band and Brendan McGuire. -RR

PETE TOWNSHEND -Rock/Pop Live: A Benefit For Maryville Academy Platinum-9555
Fans of the Magic Bus unite, once again Mr. Townshend has pulled out his buzzsaw guitar and re-energized some of those classic Who tunes we all know and love. Townshend, who is soon to be nearing Social Security Age, can still chew on the guitar with the best of them, and while his pipes may have lost some of their potency with the advancement of age, the quality of that vintage Who material can still carry the weight. The beneficiary of this release is the Maryville Academy of Youth, a leader in the treatment of physically, sexually and emotionally abused children. Townshend alone has raised more than $1 million for the centre through this concert at the Chicago House of Blues and sales of this CD, and assuming there's still plenty of Who fans around, that number could improve. Disc One features a litany of Who favourites, done in a more subtle, acoustic fashion, without the brash, overpowering bombastic style that has been the Who's trademark. Songs like Anyway Anyhow Anywhere, Drowned, You Better You Bet, Let My Love Open The Door and Won't Get Fooled Again take on an entirely different feel with Townshend's more laid-back

OUR LADY PEACE Happiness...Is Not A Fish That You Can Catch - Columbia-63707-H
If you could catch it, though, happiness would be a multi-platinum debut record (Naveed), followed by a multi-million-selling sophomore release (Clumsy), followed by a third album which is easily the most sonically sophisticated album the band has put forth yet. With this album, Our Lady Peace vaults beyond the confines of the alternative stacks, and emerges as a legitimate top-40 rock outfit, more than capable of attaining even greater commercial success. One Man Army, the first single, has already scored big time at rock radio, topping the charts a couple weeks back, and getting a tremendous amount of airplay at Much. But there are plenty of other tracks that could follow that one up the charts. OLP has developed nicely as a band, from their early guitar-churning days of Naveed. The influence of producer Arnold Lanni can obviously be heard, and it's no surprise that the group credits Lanni as being the fifth member of OLP. Some of that wall-of-guitar sound has been toned down, replaced by cleaner lines and more obvious melodies. And lead singer and singular lyricist Raine Maida is still as evocative as ever with his words. -RR

CHRIS GAINES (GARTH BROOKS) -Pop. Greatest Hits Capitol-20051-F
Whatever this guy does seems to work, so why should this be any different? Brooks has gone full bore with the Chris Gaines persona, with the album liner notes detailing this guy's entire life history, through his myriad of albums, his many hits, and his equal amount of personal tragedies. In fact, judging by the amount of tragedy that's afflicted Gaines, you'd think we were talking more about Spinal Tap. The difference, however, is that the music here is top-notch, just a couple of cuts above Spinal Tap, and some of the best stuff Brooks...err Gaines, has ever done. Lost In You has already been making some serious AC and CHR noise, and there's at least a half-dozen other tunes here that could attain significant gains on both charts - That's The Way I Remember It, Snow In July, It Don't Matter To The Sun, Right Now, Digging For Gold, and more. The only question that begs answering is, will Brooks' massive legion of country fans like this

ALBUM PICK

MATTHEW GOOD BAND Beautiful Midnight Universal-53786-J -Rock

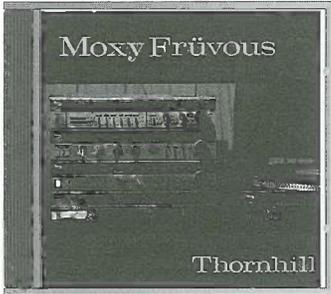

Most lay-people in this country are still trying to figure out where this band came from, and why they are suddenly the biggest thing since banana daquiris. Well, as to the second question, the reason why they are so huge is because of the music, which is first-rate stuff. Coming off the success of their previous record, this band had some serious expectations to meet, and in a relatively short span of time. Amazingly enough, they did it, and in spades. Beautiful Midnight is one of the best rock records to come out of this country in some time, and that's saying something, given the quality of the competition in recent years. Matt Good doesn't have to take a back seat to anyone, on either side of the border or ocean, when it comes to crafting a solid rock tune, and pasting on some quality lyrical content to go with it. Veering away from the heavier guitar strains of a lot of contemporary rock, MGB is steering closer to some sort of tougher hybrid, maybe an alternative/progressive mish-mash, if that makes any sense. Whatever it is, the kids are just eating it up. The lead single, Hello Time Bomb, has already exploded at rock radio, paving the way for an equivalent sales explosion for the CD in its initial week of release. The follow-up single could be any number of tracks, although the more subdued Suburbia is the most obvious choice. Other choice cuts include Giant, Strange Days, Going All The Way and Running For Home. File this one under G...it's not just Good, it's grrreat. -RR approach to the material. Disc Two is bound to attract some of the kids, with the presence of Pearl Jam's Eddie Vedder, who contributes his distinctive vocal sounds to Magic Bus and Heart To Hang Onto. Townshend and Vedder somehow make a good team, and this disc should be a nice pickup for both Who fans and Vedder/Pearl Jam fans. -RR

MOXY FRUVOUS -Pop
Thornhill
True North-0182-J

While their cute, politically-correct sound hasn't always translated into enormous sales (or radio play), the Fruvites have nonetheless generated some sort of cult following amongst their loyal fans, both here and south of the border. The Fruheads, as they call themselves, suck up anything Fruvous-like with an intensity matching anything any Deadhead could muster. Of course, the principal appeal for the fans was always the witty, even satirical nature of the band's songwriting, perhaps just a notch left on the cynical scale from the Barenaked Ladies. For this new project, however, the band has tried to follow the Ladies path and venture into a more serious vein, letting the good hooks and usual strong harmonies carry the day, rather than the deadpan humour of the words. Part of the reasoning for the more grown-up approach here is the addition of producer Don Dixon, who was at the helm of R.E.M. during their formative years. Dixon has scaled down a lot of the political edge, and gone more for simple pop sincerity. The four Fruvii (Mike Ford, Murray Foster, Jian Ghomeshi and Dave Matheson), have always been able to craft a good pop song, and Dixon's simplified approach allows the quality of the tunes to shine through. From the poppish opening track Half As Much, to the almost Beatle-esque (dare we say it) Sad Girl, to the comfortable lead single, I Will Hold On, the quartet shows ample ability to make quality pop songs. Given a tad more radio interest this time out, this record could do well at retail. -RR

MUSIC OF THE HEART -Pop
Music From The Motion Picture
Epic/Sony Soundtrax-67861-H

Hard to believe, isn't it? A nice, feel-good movie about music and and redemption and all that mushy stuff, directed by none other than horrormeister Wes (Nightmare On Elm Street) Craven. The movie, which debuted at the Toronto International Film Festival, concerns the story of a music teacher who moves to 'America's toughest neighbourhood' to give kids 'the hope, pride and power to make something of themselves. Her weapon: 50 Violins.' While the big star of the movie is Meryl Streep, the surprise in the acting department is the debut performance of Gloria Estefan. However, regardless of what her acting prowess might be, Estefan's most notable contribution to this film might very well be the title track from this soundtrack album, a duet with Estefan and 'N Sync, of a Diane Warren song, produced by David Foster. Now if that isn't a sure-fire formula for a hit, it's hard to say what is. Not surprisingly, the song has already torn its way up the charts (#55, RPM AC chart, Sept. 27/99), and there could be one of two more tracks from this album hitting the charts. Epic/Sony has pulled in some of the hottest names from the urban/latin scene at the moment, resulting in a compilation that should do better than okay at retail. Along with the aforementioned title track, there's also the

Jennifer Lopez cut Baila, which is only available on this album. As well, there's new songs from Jaci Velasquez (Love Will Find You), Aaliyah (Turn The Page) and Macy Gray (a remix of Do Something), that can't be found elsewhere. -RR

BIAGIO ANTONACCI -Rock 'n Pop
Mi Fai Stare Bene
Olivi-1145 (DEP Distribution)

It's surprising that this Milano suburbanite has yet to gain recognition in Canada considering the large Italian population and also considering this is the sixth album released in his ten year career. Language aside, Antonacci's vocal properties are both emotional and theatrical, a nice combination that translates beautifully without interpretation. Antonacci attacks his song material with a deeply consoling reverence that imprints an audio profile of his message on the mind, and he does it with such confidence and pizzazz. That emotional imprint impacts immediately on It's A Message For You (Se é vero che ci sei) a duet with Viktor Lazlo and Iris (Tra le tue poesie), released as a two-track CD. The former, featuring Antonacci on acoustic guitar has been taken as the focus track. Interesting too is that the CD was recorded live in the studio with analog equipment with only bass guitar, guitars, drums and keyboards. There are no samplers, sequencers or synthesizers. All the tracks were recorded simultaneously. The album was recorded at Rubiera's (RE) Esagono Studios and took 65 days of recording. The sound quality is pristine and beautifully balanced with an obvious professional indulgence by the session players for Antonacci's vocals. Also key are Adesso dormi, Le message est pour toi and Cosa fair ragazza. For more information contact Dulce Barbosa of Music Promotion Canada at 416-928-3550. -WG

MARIAN McPARTLAND - Jazz
Hickory House Trip Reprise
Concord Jazz-4853

The last track in this collection of 13 jazz standards is Things Ain't What They Used To Be. Was it simply unintentional programming or deliberately arch? Things are very much what they used to be as Miss McPartland at the piano joins her long time favourite musicians (Joe Morello on drums and Bill Crow on bass) for a forty years later live, in club, reunion. Now in her ninth decade, the lady is quite incredible. At an age where many are crippled physically by arthritis (migawd, the touch!) palpable affection for the music and appreciation for her fellow musicians. Best track offered? There isn't one; only one's personal favourite. For us, it's Two For The Road and we'd travel that road anytime with Marian McPartland. -BW

Myles has role in life of Mario Lanza

A film based on the life of American tenor and movie star Mario Lanza, considered a superstar of the '50s, will have its setting in Canada. The soundtrack for the film will be recorded in Toronto the last week of September.

Simon Langton, who directed The Whistle Blower and the TV mini-series Pride and Prejudice will direct the film and will also supervise the production of the soundtrack.

Toronto opera superstar Richard Margison will take the title role. Also appearing on the soundtrack will be Canadian pop recording artist Alannah Myles, members of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra conducted by Maestro David Agler, three singers from the Metropolitan Opera; soprano Czssandra Riddle, tenor Marcello Giordani and bass-baritone David Pittsinger, and Australia's Tom Burlinson (Man From Snowy River), who sings the role of Frank Sinatra.

Apparently new and shocking revelations of Lanza's death, almost 40 years ago, will be revealed in the film.

For more information contact publicist Michelle Levy 416-482-0577 fax 416-482-3386.

Kings & Welychka aid World Vision

Gerald Eaton and James McCollum, members of the Sony Music Canada band The Philosopher Kings, along with MuchMusic VJ Bill Welychka, recently conducted an 11-day journey through Kenya with humanitarian relief organization World Vision.

As spokespersons for World Vision's 30 Hour Famine in the year 2000, Eaton, McCollum and Welychka traveled through Kenya to learn about World Vision's work. While there, they also filmed this year's 30 Hour Famine materials, which will be distributed to schools across Canada, as well as youth groups participating in the fundraiser.

The 30 Hour Famine involves the participation of more than 130,000 Canadian high school students going without solid food for 30 hours to raise money and increase awareness for needy children around the world. The Famine, to be held April 7 and 8, will raise funds to support nutrition, rehabilitation and medical programs aimed at relieving people affected by the 1997 floods in the Tana River regions.

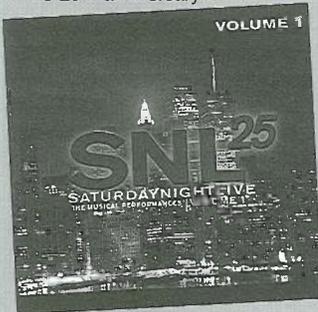

Notes McCollum, "It was an educational experience to have been able to visit the people of Kenya and to contribute to World Vision's efforts for 30 Hour Famine 2000."

Eaton and McCollum will now turn their attentions to the release of the forthcoming Philosopher Kings CD, Live, which is tentatively set for a November release.

In addition to its undeniably indelible contribution to the comedy field, Saturday Night Live has also been the launching pad for a host of emerging musical talent, and the stage for some of the brightest musical performances in live television history. With the 25th anniversary of

Saturday Night Live just around the corner, the folks at Dreamworks have teamed up with NBC-TV to compile this impressive two-volume package of performances culled from the two-plus decades of the show. Saturday Night Live has established a strong tradition of merging top comedy sketches with great musical performances, and unlike other variety programs, SNL has made a concerted effort to be closer to the cutting edge of musical tastes. Rather than run out the usual drab array of pop and m.o.r. stars, as was the norm on most musical variety shows of the day, SNL decided to match their cutting edge comedic style with an equally cutting edge musical balance.

Artists performed on the barest of stages, which looked more like run-down warehouses. And there was always the possibility of an unrehearsed and potentially dramatic moment, such as Elvis Costello's snide segue from Allison into Radio Radio, or Sinead O'Connor's rather erroneous decision to tear up a picture of the Pope. What SNL did provide, however, in addition to the drama, was a whole host of great performances by great artists. Wisely, the producers, Michael Ostin and Ryan Shiraki, have put together two separate packages, each of which should appeal to an entirely different demographic. Volume 1 features more 35-plus favourites like Paul Simon (Diamonds On The Soles Of Her Shoes), Sting (If I Ever Lose My Faith In You), Eric Clapton (Wonderful Tonight) and Billy Joel (Only The Good Die Young). Volume 2, on the other hand, features more current faves like Beastie Boys (Sabotage), TLC (Creep), Oasis (Acquiesce), Green Day (When I Come Around) and Alanis Morissette (Hand In My Pocket). The results are impressive, and should be an automatic seller at retail. -RR

What's Happening

Premiere Magazine will host its 14th gala this week (Sept. 24), which makes it last week by the time you read this, at Toronto's Regal Constellation Hotel. It's always a very exciting show put on by Premiere publisher Salah Bachir, who has incredible connections with the big stars from around the world. This year he's honouring Phyllis Diller, who's being doing stand-up comedy stuff for more than 40 years. And what a delightful lady she is. Unfortunately we've got to put this information in the "press-releases-that-arrived-too-late," category.

Cyrus did the launch thing this past week (Sept. 22) at The Bamboo in Toronto, which will be followed by an Oct. 6 date at C'est What and a showcase on CFMT's Bollywood Blvd. The CD was self-produced by the Toronto-based "worldbeat" artist. If I Could Fall Again, taken as the first single is now at radio. A video of the single was given the Indie Spotlight on Much where it is now on rotation. The CD is distributed by 'Nuff Entertainment. For more information call Kevin Pennant or Debra Goldblatt at The Publicity Group 416-925-6477 (kpennant@thepublicitygroup.com).

Sony Wonder is holding a Teletubby Fair at its head office on Tuesday Sept. 18 beginning at 6 pm. Guests are asked to bring their kids with them and there will be a foot bag for every guest. The kids can also have their picture taken with their favourite Teletubby. Lots of munchies and drinks will be served. Call Jenny Mulkins at 416-391-3311 ext. 7448.

The Tea Party and Edwin as special guest check into the Shaw Conference Centre in Edmonton for a Sept. 25 date. EMI's Tea Party is looking good with their TRIPTYCH CD (released June 8), now in the Top 20 of the RPM Top 100 CDs chart. Heaven Coming Down, their current chart single has enjoyed 13 weeks of charting. Edwin is currently on release with Hang Ten, taken from the Epic release Another

Kim Mitchell moves to Oasis, Canada's newest distribution network. Initial release will be Kimosabe, his new album, being targeted for retail on Oct. 19. The title track has been taken as the first single.

Natalie Merchant does the solo thing at Toronto's Convocation Hall on the University of Toronto campus on Oct. 23. She is heard on seven albums as the lead singer and principal songwriter with 10,000 Maniacs. Her first solo album, Tigerlily, which was released in 1995, went triple-platinum, followed by the 1998 release of Ophelia which spawned her hit Kind & Generous. Her next album, Natalie Merchant - Live In Concert, will be released by Warner Music early November. The album includes covers of Davie Bowie's Space Oddity and Neil Young's After The Gold Rush. Merchant's concert is a House Of Blues & RBI Productions presentation.

Rosalee Dragich has been appointed sales rep for EMI Music Canada based in Edmonton. She joins EMI from the Edmonton Sun where she held the position of account executive, prior to which she worked for the Edmonton Oilers as the Oiler Ambassador. Dragich attended Northern Alberta Institute of Technology where she received a diploma in business administration and marketing. Her appointment, which is effective Sept. 27, was announced by Ralph Schmidtke, regional director of western sales.

Heard of Afro Celt Sound System? You can patch into the band, comprised of Irish, African and English players who do a variety of ethnic musical styles with contemporary dance beats at the River Run Centre of the University of Guelph on Oct. 3. For one night only, the Centre will have a dance floor directly in front of the stage and the band will dare patrons to stay in their seats. If you can't make it to the Guelph date, sample their new CD, at one of the retailers that provides that kind of service. The band's CD, which features guest vocalist Sinead O'Connor, is released on the Realworld label. For more information call Fusion at 905-690-3885.

Italian megastar Zucchero checks in to Toronto's Massey Hall for an Oct. 6 date. He is also playing Montreal as part of his international tour in support of Blue Sugar, his ninth album released on the Mercury label. Zucchero was the only European artist to appear at Woodstock '94. He has performed with Luciano Pavarotti, Andrea Bocelli, Sting, Eric Clapton, U2's Bono, Ray Charles, Joe Walker and Miles Davis. Zucchero is actually a nickname, meaning sugar in Italian. He was born Adelmo Fornaciari in 1955 near Reggio Emilia. In 1997 he adapted Verdi's aria Va Pensiero (from the opera Nabucco). Released as a single, the song became the unofficial anthem of the Rainforest Foundation, founded by Sting and his wife. He performed the song at the 1998 Grammy Awards Gala. Most recently he recorded a duet with B.B. King which is included on the soundtrack of The Might, a movie starring Sharon Stone. For more information contact Jack Kado 416-593-4822 ext. 321.

Saturday Night Live, a two-CD set of musical performances showcased on the popular TV show which was produced by Canadian Lorne Michaels, is now available on the Dreamworks/Universal label as Volumes 1 and 2. The set contains 30 performances dating back 25 years from Elvis Costello's Radio, Radio (1977), Billy Joel's Only The Good Die Young (1978), the Grateful Dead's Casey Jones (1978), Randy Newman's I Love L.A. (1983), and Paul Simon's Diamonds On The Soles Of Her Shoes (1986) through to Eric Clapton's Wonderful Tonight (1990), Nirvana's Rape Me (1993), Mary J. Blige's Reminisce (1993), Alanis Morissette's Hand In My Pocket (1995) and up to David Bowie's Scary Monsters And Super Creeps (1997) and Beck's Nobody's Fault But My Own (1999), and a lot more. Saturday Night Live will mark its 25th anniversary on Sept. 26 with a 150-minute prime-time retrospective beginning at 9 pm EST. The set was produced by Michael Ostin of Dreamworks with SNL's Ryan Shiraki taking a co-executive producer credit.

Power Corp. is switching the ownership of its radio stations to Shaw's Corus Entertainment Inc., in a $107 million deal. Corus will take over 17 radio stations and four television stations in Ontario and Quebec from Power. The moves come in the wake of relaxed ownership rules by the CRTC. The deal includes 11 radio stations in Ontario between Guelph and Kingston - CJOY-AM, CIMJ-FM, CIZN-FM, CKCB-FM, CIQB-FM, CKDO-FM, CKGE-FM, CKRU-AM, CKWF-FM, CFFX-AM and CFMK-FM. The deal also involves six radio stations in Quebec between Montreal and Rimouski - CFZZ-FM, CJDM-FM, CFEL-FM, CFLP-AM, CIKI-FM and CFVM-AM. The four television stations involved, CKWS-TV, CHEX-TV and a station in Oshawa, are CBC affiliates. The Quebec TV station, CHAU-TV, is affiliated with TVA. The deal, still subject to CRTC approval, will see Corus have control of 31 radio and four television stations, as well as control or a stake in six specialty channels, including YTV, Treehouse and CMT. Power made the move to focus its attentions on its developing financial services operations. Power also owns four Quebec newspapers, through a subsidiary.

Broadcasting '99, taking place October 31 to November 2 in Montreal, will explore the themes of seizing new millenium opportunities and satisfying the demands for Canadian programming at this year's convention. The CAB's annual event will host more than 500 leading radio, television and specialty channel executives, as well as other key decision-makers from Canada and elsewhere. The millenium-flavoured theme for this year's event is Ready! 2000. Launching the first Monday session will be keynote speaker Andrew Lippman, the long-time associate director of MIT Media Lab, who will discuss the usage of the 'net as a global pipeline. Lippman will be followed by the session, FuturePlan: Beyond 2000, the first public presentation of a wide-ranging CAB study which will set the industry's course for the next 10 years. Other sessions will focus on the CRTC's new TV policy, the move to digital, internet TV and satellite radio, and the merits of broadcasters and the music industry working together. Headline speakers will tentatively include CRTC chair Francoise Bertrand and finance minister Paul Martin. The social highlights of the convention will include the Hall of Fame luncheon and the Gold Ribbon Awards dinner. Co-chairs for Broadcasting '99 are Daniel Lamarre of Groupe TVA, and Telemedia's Claude Beaudoin.

Toronto's KISS 92 has recorded the highest ratings debut of any radio station in Canadian history, according to KISS program director Julie Adam. The most recent BBM results for the summer of 1999 show KISS 92 with a weekly circulation of 818,251 listeners. Adam reports that KISS also dominated the teen market, and scored well with adult audiences. "There was a void musically in Toronto and the KISS 92 team has been successful at providing the market with a new sound that the city so desires." The KISS 92 format changed to top 40, from country, after the station was purchased by Rogers Broadcasting in February. In terms of share of hours tuned, KISS moved from 3.6 to 8.1. KISS 92 vice-president Chuck McCoy commented, "We are thrilled with the overwhelming acceptance of KISS 92 by the Toronto audience. Clearly there was a greater need for this kind of radio in Toronto than expected."

Q107 in Toronto, who've already given away three free homes and a cottage on a private island, are now giving away the Q107 Guys Garage, a prize package filled with all the stuff 'that she won't let you buy'. The package includes a brand new Camaro Z28, a Chevy S10-VQ8 pick-up truck, a Kawasaki Drifter motorcycle, a big-screen TV and satellite system, a trip to Miami to golf and seem NFL and NHL action, a brand new set of golf clubs, a golf and ski membership, a snowboard package, a freezer full of meat, industrial power tools, a beer fridge, tickets to every Toronto Maple Leafs and Buffalo Bills game, a home computer, and much more. To be eligible, listeners have to be the 107th caller when they hear The Nagging Wife, weekdays on the station. On weekends, listeners can then look for the Nagging Wife's photo in the Toronto Sunday Sun, and listen for the cue to call in and identify the Sun page number. All instant winners receive a pair of tickets to the Toronto Blue Jays 2000 home opener, and a key that could open the Q107 Guys Garage.

COUNTRY

Kenny Chesney has a #1 after a journey of 22 weeks. You Had Me From Hello tops the chart, moving up from #4. The song was written by Chesney and Skip Ewing. The track was taken from his BNA release, I Will Stand which was produced by Buddy Cannon and Norro Wilson.

The Wilkinsons, fresh from their sweep of the Canadian Country Music Awards (RPM - Sept. 20/99) have the biggest mover this week. Nothing But Love (Standing In The Way) the title track from their Giant release, jumps up to #20 this week from #50. The song was written by Steve Wilkinson and Nashville writer Gary Burr. There is no MAPL logo on the artwork of the CD but it's assumed that Steve Wilkinson gets half the lyric and music credit and the trio being Canadian get an A for artist which works out to two-parts Cancon. There had been some confusion as to the Canadian release. The American label went with The Yodelin' Blues which was written by Nashville writer Skip Ewing and which had a brief run up the American trade charts. A few Canadian programmers latched onto the single as well. However, Warner's in Canada, decided on the Cancon hook Of Nothing But Love, which was an immediate add at country radio five weeks ago.

Colin Amey did it up right at his recent showcase during Canadian Country Music Week in Ottawa. A true Ottawa Valley boy, from Bourget to be exact, he and his wife Jennifer labelled 130 bottles of their own Ottawa Valley wine as invites to his showcase in the Congress Centre on Sept. 11. It was obviously a good promotion. The place was packed with some pretty important country radio and industry VIPs. Amey's latest single, You're Crazy Too, an Amey original, bullets up to #72 this week. The track was taken from his self-titled CD. The Congress Centre was a busy place for those who were showcasing for both the Saturday and Sunday. It was just a short trip down the hall from the Westin Hotel and attracted a lot of Ottawa country fans as well as industry people.

Paul Brandt looks good with his latest single, It's A Beautiful Thing, the most added this week at #57. Written by Nashville writers Jeffrey Steele and Craig Wiseman, the track was taken from his Reprise album That's The Truth, and is in fact the follow up to the title track that was taken as a single and is now descending the chart (#45) after 23 weeks. The album was recorded in Nashville where it was produced by Chris Farren. The single is included on Warner Music's Pro CD comp #410.

Farmer's Daughter were front and centre at the recent Canadian Country Music Week in Ottawa, which was timely. Their new single, Walkin' In The Sunshine, is now at radio. The song was written by Nashville's Kostas and Jeff Hanna and is included on their upcoming Best Of release. This west coast trio, Jake Leiske, Angela Kelman and ShaunaRae Samograd, are one of the hardest working country acts in the business. Together with their manager and major power broker Gerry Leiske who quite often drives the bus, have criss-crossed this country from sea to sea to sea, and are known in every town, hamlet and major centre across this land. Much of the sales of their past albums were made through the back of their bus and they must number in the thousands, but unfortunately don't show up in retail

John Gracie lands 20-date tour of Saskatchewan

In view of the response to a performance by John Gracie, Nancy Martin of the Organization of Saskatchewan Arts Council, has arranged a 20-date tour of Saskatchewan for the Halifax/Dartmouth-based recording artist. Martin says this is one of the biggest tours she has ever booked for the Saskatchewan Arts Council.

Gracie begins his tour on Sept. 27 which runs through to Oct. 21. Dale Brown, the Arts Council in Melfort, has already received inquiries from Gracie fans from Saskatoon who are planning to make the drive to Melfort for his performance.

Gracie is currently charting with She's All I Got (#36). The single was taken from Identify, his Grey-Sea Entertainment album.

A starry night in Ottawa for Universal Music Canada

1. It was a packed house for Universal's artist's reception and Universal Canada Chairman Ross Reynolds took the opportunity to present Jason McCoy with gold for his Playing For Keeps album.

2. Universal's Shawn Marino, Chris Tripodi and Tony Szambor with Terri Clark.

3. Farmer's Daughter performing their new release, Walkin' In The Sunshine, the first single taken from their upcoming album, now at country radio.

4. Universal's Ross Reynolds, Randy Lennox and Donna Lidster with Terri Clark.

The stars were shining at CANADIAN COUNTRY MUSIC WEEK

1. WEA's Paul Brandt and The Wilkinsons won six CCMA Awards between them.
2. Greg Shannon with Lace.
3. Hall of Fame inductee Ronnie Prophet.
4. Tom Tompkins at the President's Dinner who was later re-elected as president of the Canadian Country Music Association.
5. The patriarch of Canadian music Sam Sniderman with Father Heffernan.
6. The Wilkinson family including mom and baby sister.
7. Host of this year's CCMA Awards show Paul Brandt.
8. RPM's Walt Grealis inducted into the Hall of Fame with the Stan Klees Industry Builder's Award, presented by Klees.
9. Rock legend Randy Bachman performed with Prairie Oyster.
10. Terri Clark doing her unplugged session at the Universal party.
11. Country legends The Good Brothers reporting. The trio's current charter, Let It Ride (#47) was written by BTO's Randy Bachman and Fred Turner, and features Bachman on acoustic and electric guitars and back-up vocals.

Tara Lyn Hart continues to gain important spins at country radio with Stuff That Matters, a song written by David Martin, a Canadian. The computer was a little confused in listing Hart's A/C single, That's When You Came Along, as her country charter, which has been changed this week. In the meantime, A/C programmers have picked up on the single where it was the highest entry this week (#65). Both tracks are included on Hart's self-titled debut on the Epic label which was produced by Josh Leo. Both tracks are three-parts Cancon (MAL).

Hilda V will be performing for the Heart & Lung Foundation at an Oct. 16 concert at the Workman's Auditorium at Queen and Ossington in the west end of Toronto. The concert, which will be taped by Rogers Cable, is being presented by old time country entrepreneur Uncle Buddy. Hilda, who suffers from a very complicated digestive problem, will be staging a number of concerts to bring awareness to the problem of which there is very little known and hopefully raise funds to aid in its cure. Hilda and her husband/manager/producer/songwriter Fred Vokey, are currently putting together a band so she can hit the road on a tour. Heartwarming news for Hilda was the medium rotation status given to her single, Entrepreneur Blues, by Ken Ash, music director at KIXX St. John's in her hometown province of Newfoundland. Written by Hilda and Vokey, the track was taken from her CD release The Power And Time (RPM New Releases - Sept. 6/99). The single is also picking up impressive spins at several other country stations across Canada. Bill Geffros is tracking the single for which a video directed by Josh Levy, is also available.

A nice turnaround for Suzzy Bogguss as her current single Goodnight reverses its downward trend and this week bullets up to #83 from #96. Written by Charlie Black and Dana Hunt, the single is included on her self-titled debut on the Platinum label which she produced with Doug Crider.

Beverley Mahood, now a member of the Lace country trio discovered and produced by David Foster for his 143 label, continues to make chart news with The Way A Woman Feels. The track was taken from her Spin release, Girl Out Of The Ordinary, which was produced by J.Richard Hutt and is 100% Cancon. The song was written by Mahood and Mark Dineen.

Finally, a new Alan Jackson CD, which is titled Under The Influence. The new release will be at retail on Oct. 12, and a single, Pop A Top, the old Jim Ed Norman hit of 1965, went to radio on Sept. 22. This is the follow-up CD to High Mileage, his Arista release that's been charting for the past 54 weeks and includes his current Top 10 single, Little Man (#6). Keith Stegall produced this new CD as well.

Clint Black should come on strong when BMG releases his new RCA single, When I Said I Do, which features his wife Lisa Hartman-Black on background vocals. The track was taken from the 15-song CD, titled D'lectrified, scheduled for an October 12 retail date. Black has pulled all the stops on this release with some pretty heavy hitters as guests, including Steve Wariner, Bruce Hornsby, Waylon Jennings, Kenny Loggins, Eric Idle and Edgar Winter. Check out the web page (www.twangthis.com).

Merle Haggard is getting the priority push from BMG with the release of For The Record, 43 past big ones from the legendary rebel. The album contains duets with Jewel, Alabama, Brooks & Dunn and Willie Nelson. His duet with Jewel on That's The Way Love Goes, has already been given the "pick" nod by GX94 (Yorkton) music director Lisa Roberts (RPM - Sept. 13).

Sony Music has made an impressive move to remind the industry there were country stars before the confusion of "new country" and the new breed of country artist that aren't around long enough to enjoy a loyal fan base. Initially, five CDs have been released on the Heritage series: Gunfighter Ballads And Trail Songs by Marty Robbins, Tammy Wynette's Stand By Your Man, Merle Haggard's Big City, Johnny Cash At Folsom Prison and Willie Nelson's Stardust. There are some never-before-released and/or alternate versions on the albums which should attract that old country fan base if given the right kind of retail image.

Hank III, the grandson of Hank Williams and the son of Hank Williams Jr., has come out with his solo album, simply titled Risin' Outlaw, and he's the spittin' image of his grandfather. The album seems to be a statement of sorts, and it's certainly outlaw-generated. The CD includes three songs written by the country hillbilly king Wayne Hancock; Why Don't You Leave Me Alone, Thunderstorms & Neon Signs and 87 Southbound. Also includes T.J. Arnall's Cocaine Blues and Honky Tonk Girls, written by Kostas, and whole lot more. Released on the Curb/EMI label, the CD was produced by Chuck Howard and Bob Campbell-Smith.
