ATV drop 'Lucky Stars' show

ATV, the company that controls the week-end programmes in the London area, has dropped networking ABC-TV's highly successful programme "Thank Your Lucky Stars". Last Saturday's show was the last they will screen. In the place ITV viewers in the London region will be offered repeats of the "Sword of Freedom" adventure series, starring Edmund Purdom, which was recently screened in 52 parts.

DISC contacted ATV to discover the reason for this shock decision. The only comment forthcoming from the network was that "Thank Your Lucky Stars" was being dropped "because it was failing in conjunction with ABC."

An ABC TV spokesman said "This is the beginning of a new era in television, contrasting companies, and is now being taken by nine of them. The only those still networking the series are ATV in London, Scottish TV and Anglia TV."

"The series is one of our biggest successes in entertainment so far, and gets consistently stronger ratings in the remaining weeks," he added.

"Thank Your Lucky Stars" has met with varied fortunes as far as the London ITV area is concerned. It was first shown in 1957, but it last year, ATV did not network it for a considerable number of weeks.

In the absence of any definite reason for the decision, speculation is off the mark in two circles. One theory is that ATV have dropped the series because their

DECCA, EMI DENY THOSE RUMOURS

ANOTHER flurry of rumours blew up at the end of last week concerning a take-over bid for Decca Records. At the time the interested party was said to be the other British recording giant, EMI.

A Decca spokesman told DISC on Monday that the group had made no further bid to Decca chairman Sir Edward Joseph Lockwood. EMI chairman Sir Joseph Joseph's statement of the week-end denying that his company was negotiating with Decca still stood.

The Latin tinge seems to suit TONY OSBORNE (Disc P.R.).

DARIN TWISTS

BOBBY DARIN has jumped on to the twist bandwagon. His latest album release is "Twist With Bobby Darin" and the second set of his early hits set to a twist beat. The best is "Queen Of The Hop," "You Must Have Been A Beautiful Baby," and also includes his current hit, "Multi-

JOE BROWN QUITS LARRY PARNES ORGANISATION

JOE BROWN is leaving the Larry Parnes organisation, and henceforth will be managed by Harry Dawson of George Cooper Organisation, which will continue to act as his agent.

The former star singer was interviewed yesterday Monday. It has been mutually agreed that Joe Brown and Larry Parnes should terminate their employment. Both Joe Brown and Larry Parnes remain the best of friends, and Joe Brown will continue to work for Larry Parnes Promotions in the future when and where possible.

Brown's part in the forthcoming Parnes package show tour will be taken over by Harry Dawson who told DISC that he is investigating offers from American and Australian promoters to bring Joe Brown to visit those countries for appearances.

JOE BROWN will remain in the Parnes package show.

Each week an LP is awarded to the writer of the Prize Letter . . . and once a month there is a bonus prize of a Ronson lighter/ashtray set.

GARY MILLER
"There Goes That Song Again" was the best seller of 1961.

YEAR'S BEST
I THINK that Gary Miller's record "There Goes That Song Again" is one of the best records of 1961. He is in great voice on it and the backing is terrific.

This disc deserves to get in the charts. I don't think it's the old story of being too good for the teenagers to buy—JOHN ROPER, 6, Headcroft Avenue, Sketty, Neath.

OFF KEY

OBVIOUSLY Mr. Tony Jackson, 23, of Dagenham, knows his Shadows records. There is such a tremendous difference between the sound of the Shadows and that of the Squires that I am inclined to believe he is talking out of the back of his head when he says

Why all this fuss about our cover jobs?

SOME readers seem to be very strongly against British covers of American songs. I believe British artists should make these records if they can do a better job than the Americans.

And don't forget that Steve Lawrence got "Portrait Of My Love" into the American charts, as did Andy Williams with "Do You Mind?"

If only one record were made of each number we would have no variety.—ANNE ELLIOTT, 338, Alfred Street North, Nottingham.

PRIZE LETTER

that all their records sound the same.

As for the versatility of the John Barry Seven, I haven't heard one yet, but I guarantee that it is any different from the first instrumental record by R. G. RUCKWOOD, 13, Keynes Road, Cambridge.

PAST IT?

WHY do so many people insist on "past it"? Surely if this was so he would not have attained success on the charts with "Tower Of Song"?

Agreed that Frankie is older than most of the young ones, but I don't think he has "got the pooh and personality" that he has. CAROLYN HOLDEN, 6, Caversham Road, Heyley Green, Halesowen, Warks.

YES, JOHN

I WONDER if it has ever occurred to the Americans that the real reason for domino tion by British records is the quality of our records?

I agree with you that Barry when he said in his book "The Art Of Recording" that "most of our records are good and get into the hit parade, while all the others in the box set are not" is not quite right.

Tom T. Hall is a true craftsman. R. E. ROOKES, 29, Addison Drive, St. Giles, Lancs.

WRONG ORBIT

I THINK that the views of B. Grahame, on "Lucky Stars" are quite misguided. The record is not bad, but my new stage presentation, an artist may possess is either lost or gained.

Frankie is a man of many talents, if he has to mime to a record, since it can never be seen.

I believe, in fact, that many artists are actually embarrassed and ill at ease when having to mime.

If an artist has any real ability and talent then he or she should be able to perform well, without relying on studio gimmicks.

W. FLETCHER, 16, Birmingham Street, Walsall, Staffs.

VERSATILE

WHAT the record business needs today is more versatile artists like Pauline Dakin. For, with every record, he offers something entirely different, quite as good as such as Lenton, Shannon, and Kasey, who dare not risk losing their fans by releasing records not in the same style as before.

Let us hope that in future more artists will do a leaf out of Bob Dylan's book and try to be more versatile. M. CATTELL, 5, Welbeck Avenue, Abingdon, Oxon, Leicestershire.

MY HOPES

HERE are my hopes for the New Year. No Springfield, whose fall must be a patch that of The King And Two, more DISC, POP, SOUL. Good vibes we all might agree with, and more Disco.

It would be nice to have more records like "The Lion Sleeps Tonight" by Simon & Garfunkel, R. RETT, 6, Wyndham Street, Liverpool, 7.

SPOIL-SPORT

A S those seasons are so much a annual reminder of teenage music by the majority of adults, why not forbid the sales of records? It would not close all coffee bars and dance halls completely, dispose of all records, but it would certainly stop country music from this sinful beat, thus saving youth from immaturity and degeneration.

DAVID MASON, Sheepbridge Farm, Tilney All Saints, Kings Lynn, Norfolk.

W singer, used to be a shipyard worker before he started writing songs. Now he is a singing star in Nashville, has a wife with three children and a pet dog called Farley.

CONNIE STEVENS has taken up a course of night classes in singing, just because she crossed the Atlantic the thought Hollywood would be the easy seat on the map.

To answer two bits disc in one, take it a little bit too seriously. Connie Stevens' newest girl singing group have recorded, with much success, "I'm Told You". The title suggests that they're taking Kane a taste of her own music.

This is partly true, but Connie Stevens' reply that in addition to this "Well, I Told You" is in reply to Ray Charles' "Jack, who but the road!!!"

INDEPENDENT TV companies can argue as much as they like over the current Equity strike, but the B.R.C. are laughing. Latest figures show that the BBC's peak hour teenage programme John Box Jury, are 12,000,000. All other spots are self-evident from "There Your Lucky Stars" and a panel which can hardly be called innovative in the field of pop-music.

Those of you who saw the CONNIE STEVENS Hollywood used to be the only one to see the soap.

nothing to investigate and papers nothing to write about. They would be miffed if it—A. E. GRIFFITHS, 74, Greystoke Avenue, Austin Park, Plymouth, Devon.

A GRUDGE

AS DON Nicholl got a grudge against Jess Conrad? How come? If every time one is released it is slapped down by Nicholl? Jess Conrad is a fine artist with a big grudge, but may not be a Crosby or Dean Martin, but with a big grudge and less talent, he makes a living.

G. CLARK, 22, Gablethorpe Avenue, Woodland Green, Essex.

I'd just try to get an honest opinion of the records I receive.

NOT ALIKE

IT was recently said that Karl Deneve is in the class of Jess Conrad and that Jess Conrad is not like Jess Conrad. Comparing these two is not like comparing Adam and Eve, the greatest and the most Holy. There is no comparison.—JIM CURTIS, 75, Hamble, Croy, by Glasgow, Dunbartonshire, Scotland.

Bart's 'twisting' policy earns £50,000 a year

EXPLAINING the success of "Oliver," which has been running since last June, London's Mr. Tony Newley says: "People like what's familiar. They're thinking a note ahead, every time they hear a tune, a word, a name, a situation, a lyric. All I do is let them feel both are familiar and the present time has a steady pace."

Bart should know. This summer he was earning something like £50,000 a year, 1961 must have been Tony Newley's most successful year, though not necessarily being just about an all-round personality. Tony has a burr, though, and he's not afraid to be a film director, and he admits that Ingrid Bergman is his love.

Perhaps in 1962 we'll see his name credited as director of one more movie, starring Anthony Newley?

I've just discovered that Kenny Lynch is an avowed Communist. And the immaculately dressed Kenny wears a smart suit with a red star on the lapel and the nuclear disarmament sign.

In case you're wondering who Kenny Lynch is, he's the Royton Elita, friend of Cliff Richard and author of two books. I can tell you that he is the author of the Chord Islands—Jersey, to be exact.

Last I heard of our bearded guru he was writing cabaret songs. Camilla to a batch Christmas dinner at Jersey's Ritz Hotel. Didn't think best beats was that possible.

According to Gerry Mills for mentioning that "Oliver" was a steady girl friend. A phone call to the author of the book confirmed that while Oliver is very fond of the female sex, he is not in the present time having a steady girl friend.

Bridge made one of her new TV shows when she starred in her own 15 minute presentation in France. She was a guest on Bridge and confirmed that while Oliver is very fond of the female sex, he is not in the present time having a steady girl friend.

Chester, songwriter, comedian, musician and son of Charlie Chester (who has died) is a childhood sweetheart Jacqueline Baster in London last Wednesday.

IT'S not very often we receive 20-year-old Londoner Collins Hicks, who is doing very well in Italy, thank goodness. Collins has recently been in Rome for a fortnight before taking a winter sports break in the Alps. Collins thinks of putting some money into a betting shop.

Says he: "I'm not a gambler, but I hardly odds that he never has a flutter.

VEE IS IN AGAIN

NOW that the Liberty label is to be released through EMI, it's been decided to quickly release their stock of Bobby Vee recordings. It would be a wise decision for the record companies that have Vee records world to jeopardise Bobby's chances of getting a film role by releasing "I'm A Little Teapot" or "Take Good Care Of My Baby" into the charts.

But as has confounded the experts and this week's "Run To Him" comes in at number 19, "Take Good Care Of My Baby" still holds its place at number 13.

Bobby's screen role, according to forecast, has made him a star, but in an even better position than he was when he was expected.

LAST year was a terrible year for pop music. There, I've said it. I had intended to skip it. They did. But they were all so unashamedly jubilant about the old days and so completely opposed to my view, that I felt I just had to speak up for the opposition.

First of all let me make my position clear. As your columnist for DISC I don't give a rap for the pop music "industry." I am no businessman, and I am not particularly interested in the expansion of sales of records as I have in the number of listeners consumed in Greater London — that is, none whatsoever.

And again, if we look to see more British records in the charts than there have been over the past years. A record is a record, an artist is an artist, and the quality of their music is immaterial as the colour of their labels or eyes respectively. It makes no difference whether Helen Shapiro comes from Hackney or Hong Kong. The truth is she's a good singer is what counts.

Those columnists who are giving the charts such a high rating because of the alleged (not actual) predominance of British artists in them are being a kind of flag-waving-and-flag-waving became square when yesterday. Day was quietly forgotten.

Finally, to get things quite straight, charts are important but ultimately unimportant to me. They are important, of course — pops aren't — but unless they are associated with the charts are they weekly popularity charts? But popularity isn't everything.

Excitement

No, I am interested in pop music in as much as it is a form of entertainment — entertainment means EXCITEMENT. There has, I contend, been precious little excitement in pop music for some time now. Some have got that it is Variety rather than Excitement that matters and that the latter is dead. I don't want to say that it was a vintage year. This attitude shows a complete misunderstanding of the word "variety."

Variety is important to entertainment. If it fails to create excitement, we need variations of pace, content and style.

But the word variety implies a common framework — a unity of style.

For instance, take a team of clowns, a troupe of trained horses, acrobats, jugglers, sea lions, elephants, tightropes walkers. If you have a circus, it is varied. You have a team of clowns, as excerpt from the film "King Of Kings," Adam Faith from "Peter Pan," a 100 yards sprint and a speech by Barbara Castle. That isn't variety, that is just a mess.

And that's what the pop scene was last year — a mess. Because there was no unity of frame-work, no unity of style, and therefore no excitement.

Now, I am not saying that some have got a great kick out of the fact that Acker Bilk recorded with strings that Billie Fury sang Jealousy and that the Beatles did it in either, entertaining or exciting, merely curious.

What about The Johnsons? Sir, it is like a dog walking on his hind legs. It is not done well; it is not unexpected to find it done at all.

And this sort of thing has been around for years. Continental gimmicks have been going around thick and fast — products not of inspiration but desperation.

What next?

We can almost hear the back room boys muttering: "Whar on earth are we going to do next?" Of course, we are going to do quite well these days . . . but the scene is stagnating and unless something new comes along in the new year, singles are going to suffer.

There have been two exciting trends which have tried to get under way — jazz led by Ray Charles ("Hit The Road, Jack") and modern jazz ("Take Five"). But so far the innovators they have made have been too far ahead of the public's hope for bigger successes in 1962.

There have been two new stars, Eddie Fisher and Eddie Fisher — Helga Shapiro and Karl Denver. But I can't say that I feel like buying three cheers about the way these two considerable talents have been presented on their single records or about the way they have been presented as personalities.

Both seemed to be firmly tied to the tradition of commercial material and both

No wonder that our big names are more or less the same as they were a couple of years ago — Eddie Fisher, Adam Faith, and so forth. These still have an aura of magic about them.

And this is a pity, because it is not good for show business, and it so happens that just is not true.

No wonder that our big names are more or less the same as they were a couple of years ago — Eddie Fisher, Adam Faith, and so forth. These still have an aura of magic about them.

What sort of colourful images are conjured up in your mind at the mention of names like Vic Damone, Johnny Burnette, or Clarence "Frogman" Henry?

None. Complete blank, the lot of them. And for that reason these artists are having the staying power of their latest release — none.

It is the artists who command fans who will fill the market steadily — and as far as this is concerned we are still depending on the same small group.

And this is a pity, because the move so in that this group seems to have got bogged down in the same old groove, and is expected to continue to do so.

MARTY WILDE TO STAR IN SCREEN VERSION OF 'OLIVER'?

BIG film plans are being worked out for Marty Wilde when he completes his run in "Bye Bye Birdie" on February 3, and in a screen version of "Oliver."

At present, it is thought that Marty would play his stage role as Birdie in the forthcoming Cinema Version, but this now seems unlikely.

His manager, Larry Parnes, told DISC that Marty, who has had this year may be a successful British musical, and it seems that Oliver will be his most obvious choice, although he would not comment on the rumors.

He added that Marty will definitely be tied up with filming for the next year, for personal appearances, and he is expecting to receive a one-year contract with a new nest few weeks.

London producer studies U.S. scene

SIR HOWARD NEDDITT, noted for his spectacular West End productions, was scheduled to fly to New York yesterday. Since his arrival, although he did not leave London Airport until Tuesday owing to the weather.

He intends to study the current American show business situation, and to see what it can do for him. He will also spend some time in Jamaica, with American interests.

On his return, Nedditt will devise a lavish new floor show for the Saville Theatre, his new restaurant, The Talk Of The Town.

The new production, entitled "Festive Of 1962," is tentatively

"Singing Years" again

BBC-TV are set to continue their successful series "The Singing Years," starring Denis Lill, Dennis Lee, Stephen Voice, Shirley Bassey, Adam Cole, the George Mitchell Singers and compere-conductor Eric Robins.

Having devoted programmes to songs of the twentieth century, the series will now concentrate on individual years. The first of the new series will be shown on January 17, and will feature songs dating from 1922, 1932, 1942 and 1952.

Guest spots for new singer

NEW singer-songwriter Brad Newman, who makes his disc debut on Fontana this week performing two of his own numbers, "I'm In Love With You" and "This Time It's Love," has three dates in the BBC Northern Dance Orchestra's series "Tempo" on January 16, 18 and 25, following his first guest spot in the show today (Thursday).

He will also appear in ABC-TV's "Your Lucky Year" on January 13, and start a 22-date one-nighter tour in the provinces with Adam Faith on February 3.

Pye sign U.S. label

PYE RECORDS have obtained the major American label, Chancellors, which has Fabian and Frankie Avalon among its artists. Recordings on this label will go out to Pye International, and the first releases are expected soon.

CHANGE AT DECCA

BOB CRABBE has been appointed personal assistant to Decca executive W. W. Towley, moving from his post as manager of the company's Court promotion department.

In the meantime, a place there is being taken by Dickie Moore, formerly of Tony Hall, who, it is understood, will also continue managing the within the Decca group.

On "Golden Guineas" Pye issued the original version of "You're Following Me."

This is by flats and the Chancellors and is called "Let's Twist." This includes "The Twist," "Let's Twist Again," and "Peppermint Twist."

Hollywood want big film contract

BILLY FURY may soon sign a major Hollywood film contract. In revealing this news, his manager, Larry Parnes, told DISC that he would probably go to Hollywood at the end of January or beginning of February for further negotiations.

Following the recent series on Billy's life and career, a major film company contacted Parnes with an offer. The same company is also interested in a written story, "A Sunday Kind of Rebel."

If agreement is reached, Fury will go to Hollywood in July or August for approximately six weeks to make his debut in US films. Any work he does in America would be limited to one month.

A musical

TO go into production on January 15 is Billy's first film. It is an Anglo-American musical and will be produced with songs written by Norrie Paramor and Norman Newell. It will be directed by Alan Aldridge, as well as singing, and this will be the first all-British musical to feature in Hollywood.

So far the only definite guest appearance in this film will be by Helen Shapiro and Eddie Kendal. It is also reported that Karl Denver and Eden Kane are being considered for spots.

In addition to this film, it will make another, the second to be produced later this year, and another, possibly in 1963, considering producing "A Sunday Kind of Rebel."

It is also reported that this second film will have a strong acting role for Billy.

His third film will not be shot this year.

Alex Welsh cuts new LP

THE Alex Welsh Band is to make another LP this month. Although the title has not yet been decided, it will be in the Chicago style, and the disc will feature tenorist Danny Moore, who recently left the band before joining Humphrey Lyttelton at the beginning of this month.

'BLUE' WINS A GOLD

CARL PERKINS has won the gold disc for "Blue Hawaii" on the basis that the sales of "Elvis Presley's Blue Hawaii" were now over the 600,000 mark, and that the album sold 350,000 copies in the first week. The disc will be awarded a Golden Disc for the album.

He will also appear in ABC-TV's "Your Lucky Year" on January 13, and start a 22-date one-nighter tour in the provinces with Adam Faith on February 3.

EDEN KANE FOR U.S. IN JULY

EDEN KANE will definitely go to America during 1962. Likely date for his departure will be late July or early August, and while there he will make personal appearances and do some television. His American agent, Mamie Greenfield, is currently setting up dates for him.

Eden, who has a new disc released this week-end, "Forget Me Not," will be making his Amsterdam trip with a visit to Copenhagen during the summer. He has been invited to appear there and to play with the Barclay and Philip Waddilove are trying to arrange dates so that they can meet.

In Paris, where he is combining business talks with pleasure, he will be making a short stopover in Glasgow on January 8.

Subsequent dates are Dundee (9), Dumfries (10), Elgin (11), Edinburgh (12) and Glasgow (13). On February 19 Eden begins a six week tour as one of the stars of the new Laike Farnes package.

Plans are now being made for Eden to appear on television on TV during the autumn. However, these are still very much in the planning stages and no official announcement is expected yet.

Tipped for PRESLEY . . . RICHARD . . . KANE . . . GORDENO
the charts

The New Year gets off to a swinging start

ELVIS PRESLEY
Rock-A-Hula-Loo! Can't Help Falling In Love (RCA 1270)

TWO SONGS from Presley's new album "The Young Ones" have it should be one more hit for the King. His title track is exactly what the title says—a rock material which will also come in handy for those who can't get away from the guitarists of The Shadows around them.

Some of the melody phrases are extremely good, but Presley is getting away at us so much I've got to keep spinning the sides.

CLIFF RICHARD & THE SHADOWS

The Young Ones: We Say Yeah (RCA 1270)

THE title song and one new title, "The Young Ones," the same name, right from the start, comes into the charts by virtue of Cliff's excellent vocal and good looks, though, Richard handles smoothly the guitars of The Shadows accompaniment.

"We Say Yeah" is a better item which Cliff rocks enthusiastically and has a fine guitar accompaniment. Cliff only helps the top side.

EDEN KANE

Forget Me Not: A New Kind Of Love (Dove H-1145)

IN ANKE finds off "Forget Me Not." The beat is good, the words sweet, though those he's offered seem to be the ones he's destined to see again in the parade again.

Eden mixes the soft and the sexy, and his voice has a great growl in his voice. Johnny Kane provides the excellent band for "A New Kind Of Love," which King puts over firmly. Not so distinctive as the first, but it makes a good enough coupling.

PETER GORDENO
Following Me; I Got Eyes (Parrot 1270)

NOT "I'm Following You" or "I'm Not Following You" but "I'm Following Me" and it should change the title. Gordeno's fast-eats arrangement of the old blues is a real treat, whipping up plenty of excitement.

Hand bucking he gets from John

Now it's just in time to register for the new year over here. Ricky ticky-tac-tac presents of two famous songs by the instrumental group that has been doing bang ploshing merrily. Good tee-bangers of their kind.

JOE KANE DOLK FOUR
The Ball Of Kierlouise; Bonnie Scotland (HMV 1270) ***

JOE KANE'S adaption of "The Ball Of Kierlouise" will serve for dancing, or for the Border, but there will be many a solo here. Joe is a man who is expecting to hear the army lyrics of Pleasant.

KIRK DOUGAN is another New Year half for the titan clad. Warts, blisters, and all.

JOHN SHAKESPEARE and Ken Howar, singing under their Barry, modern sound with good time, I think he would be one of the early stars of '62.

Also with Barry's orchestra is "I'm Not Following You," a real dittering song than the first, but it follows the singer.

PHIL MCLEAN Small Sad Sam; Children (Top Rank JAR 5075) ***

A Phil McLean's amazing sound, which continues to grow, comes in a trappy voice which contains a mix of harmonica and guitar groups. Why not?

From the Dean parody to Shalene which has no vocal from McLean.

EDDIE FISHER

Small Sad Sam; Honey (London LHL 5412) ***

FROM the Broadway musical show Milk And Honey come Shalene, Milk And Honey come Shalene, a slow, good side, Shalene, and according to the lyrics of the title song, "she means twice as much as honey." Fisher and orchestra accompany.

Milk And Honey is a catchy number which also has Jewish air and rockin' roll. Big open air.

GEORGINA'S VARSITY FIVE

names of Carter and Lewis. Smooth dusting in the current style, with a good deal of custom on Two Timin' Baby.

The title song's composition "Will It Happen" is unique and interesting.

DON GIBSON

Following Me; The Same Old Thing (RCA 1270) ***

NEATLY put together for Gibson is "Lessons Number One." Sing it as always, and you'll be in for a treat.

With the guitar and the backing. Tasteful and with more of a bouncy lift to climb the chart.

I like the guitar which is used behind him for the title song.

PERRY COMO Following Me; Especially For You (RCA 1270) ***

COMO has a smooth sound, which he sings warmly with a sort of old-time feel on this release. Great vocal accompaniment from the piano and the Mitchell Ayres.

Might not be one of Perry's best, but it's ought to sell steady.

ROGER WHITLAW

Relaxed ballad on the other hand, with a good deal of bagging for "Especially For You."

Good, though the group excesses need some control.

THE CHANELS

Well I Told You; Still

THOUGH the title Well I Told You may sound like a sequel to the title of the first single, it's really a sequel to Ray Charles' "I'm Ready To Rock."

Big, bouncy, buster of its kind though it comes nowhere near the original.

Boyz singing low while the girls chorale in brassy style.

EDEN KANE, a sweater sound than usual (Disc Pic).

On the turnover still is a rather weird slow ballad which the girls waltz to strings and rhythm.

ELVIS PRESLEY . . . two sides from "Blue Hawaii."

HANK LOCKIN' From Here To There (RCA 1270) ***

THIS Locklin could be one of the first sleepers of 1962, which Hank sings wistfully. From Here To There has a simple, easygoing tune which could well spell big sales.

More I hear from him, the more I like Gibson.

HANK LOCKIN' From Here To There; You're Just For You (RCA 1270) ***

BILL BLACK'S Combo catches Hill Hill for the first time—and most of the disc's credit that I can still say about it even though I finally slipped out of my own discs during the Twine at a Christmas

Very sick and infectious, with piano and organ carrying most of the weight.

MEXICAN rock 'n' roll from the Jack Ross orchestra. This we get a taste of in Latin music, incidentally among the Latin music. The band is a Mexican one, a checking guitar which keeps breaking in.

Fast and happy enough to get us into the mood.

SWEET GEORGIA BROWN raises her ever-living head again for the older disc, though she's still in the mood in a brisk let's-keep-warm fashion.

THE LETTERMAN

WHAT'S NEW IN LOVE (Sweet Carol) (Capitol CL 1527) ***

IHAVE given up the Letterman for the moment in my reviews and I certainly think they deserve a rest, though I'm still reviewing over here.

SPRING (Vocal Group) When I Fall In Love (RCA 1270) ***

I think you will agree. The group is still strong, especially effectively to a symphonic instrumental arrangement directed by Haskell.

I like the man's sound and the effort he makes to keep the singer's voice.

The same goes for their coverage of Chaplin's Smiles.

THE BEVERLY SISTERS

WHISPER STAR (Whisper Star DB 1525) ***

A GREAT sound in this out and with more punch than the first disc made. No shade, however, not such a good sound.

The Sisters sing The Water Or Being Increasingly More. On Whisper Star it's a slow waltz being increasingly more. On Whisper Star it's a slow waltz being increasingly more.

I like the Sisters' singing though without being increasing. On Whisper Star it's a slow waltz being increasingly more.

SPRINGFIELDS ARE GOING TO CHANGE THEIR TUNE FOR 1962

THE SPRINGFIELDS

Dusty, Tom and Tim — are going to concentrate on a more beauti sound in their music. They're also going to stop the "folkies" sound that has brought them popularity.

"We'll never sing rock," said Dusty, "because others do it far better. But we want to get more into the songs we enjoy best now."

"We don't want to be known as a folk group," said Tom. "Some people like the market for folk music isn't that strong and frankly we ourselves don't mind it. We just want to sing what we want to sing. We want to be known as a group that exists, if there is such a category."

Certainly the style that The Springfields have adopted has brought them more than they ever dreamed of when they entered the business some 15 months ago.

"We began at Butlin's around the same time as the Brook Brothers, and we were amazed and delighted at the way our record sold here," said Tom.

"Our next single, 'February', is something different and we're hoping that everyone will like it."

One thing the group are set on in 1962 is to make a name for themselves via the television. "It would be great to be seen by an audience of millions as against hundreds," said Dusty. "I think we've always seemed a happy medium for us to work in. If we can't get on television, we'll pursue on television can help tremendously."

"We don't want to OVER expose ourselves," said Tom.

"and we aren't going to neglect the theatre public either. We have a couple of tours lined up."

Also lined up for the New Year is a tour of America, which is in the preparation stage for some months.

"We're not that bad, come early," said Dusty, "because we probably wouldn't have been recorded for us if it came earlier." March 1 should do a lot for us."

"It's very much a mixed bag," said Tom, "but we have 'Winnowed' in 'Green Leaves Of Summer' and we sing quite a few tracks in different languages."

"I suppose you could say," said Tom, "that we're broadening our field as much as possible without stepping outside ourselves. We hope to do this abroad because we sing in nine languages, but at the moment we want to concentrate on our home market, and here and there's where we are hoping television will help."

(HMV CL 14076) ****
A SET which will prove popular with Leyton fans, and a welcome addition to the record library of the record collector. Side 1 is devoted to the beat period, with a surging Blackwell beat and some fine pop. John is in the soul track well of sound.

Beat and Lightning is the standard track, and Voodoo

There are some new Goodwin compositions (London, Prairie, India and Pepper), and the last two, written by A and R man George Martin.

A varied and highly musical set from a fine lad.

MOOD music albums inspired by Paris do it again, the high standard set by the 10 Strangs in this LP.

Arrangements are intelligent, and the vocalists give it 100% to the set. The orchestra plays better than I ever heard it play before, and the piano is superb.

Put the musical quality of this set together with its price, and you get a definite gold.

SPIKE MILLIGAN

Military Preserved
(Parlophone PMC 1148) ***

The title of this set is the fact that it stars the arch-Goon Spike Milligan. He goes to the trouble to imagine him to be a good-looking man.

Parts of this set are, I stress, especially the reminiscences of Spike's life in the Army, Underneath It All and the Eccles family's career in the Royal Guards.

Others, Ward Power and Another Last Stand are singularly ordinary and rather pointless into the bargain.

This all-round set gives the listener a wide range of Joe's work, and sets a new standard of one of the world's best exponents of light music and his own compositions.

It's a particularly happy choice of titles, and the piano work is superb.

Two new versions of "For Strings" extracts are not from the same source as the first, and are Wiers' piece, and in the signature of BBC TV's "The Old Grey Whistle Test".

The second is the famous waltz from Tchaikovsky's work of the same title.

Time selection, Brian Falvey's arrangements and the support for his songs from Geoff Love and his band, make this a most pleasant set. He was surprised when I told me how pleased he was with the results of his recordings with the 10 Strangs. I like the title of the last track, Christmas.

It's only one quibble. It's the use of voices once again in this type of album.

OVER THE RIVER Kid Ory's band jazzes in for a frenzied time to have plenty to choose from, but the Ory sound is not one of buy of them all. My review is from Alvin Alexander's Musician: "Kid Ory's leadership is in the house, but you stereo you should agree with me. Ory's leadership is in the house, but you stereo you should agree with me. Knowing exactly what he wants, he uses his band to produce what he wants to get it and invariably succeeds."

Every Ory record has "separation," an effort to achieve what means that each instrument can be heard clearly. This is difficult because the rhythm picks up the lot, and so many instruments are used that it's hard without having a mike to confuse things!

KID ORY'S BAND Each instrument knows its part and sticks to it.

Each instrument keeps to its own correct register. The result is what makes Ory's band unique. It's not bad, but so few ever get anywhere near, neither too low, how Ory himself says: "I'm a little teapot." Mamie Marshall did ... or is it vice versa? The band is a military unit, a military side-hustle drum that all Ory drummers seem to have well paid. The band plays the clarinet, but how the whole band to produce perfect small band jazz.

DIMPES The emergence of Donald Bryde, Leo Morgan and my third favorite New Miles Davis—Dimpes—and I think still—in Kenya.

TRIVIA The uptempo, upbeat blues, Ballad a loping, funky 12-bar, bluesy blues, Step up and rhythmic, Windmill, is another beauty.

WINDMILL The great effect on "Georgia Brown" changes, with a soulful Dorham solo, Epiphany, is a remarkable statement. A sort of "I Remember You."

Kenny plays with his usual sensitivity and thoughtful inventiveness, but the "Windmill" is the true sense of the word. Mobley is here, too, and satisfying as ever, Kenny Dorham's salivating as ever, with some fine soul and sympathy.

Past in Past I am more? Philip Joe, I feel, is slightly below the mark, but he's a likable, a rewarding album.

PERSONNEL: Bennie Green (trumpet); Billy Broom (piano); Sonny Clark (bass); Francy Joe Jones (drums); Evans Jones (drums).

BENNIE GREEN has been born again. And it's an admirably honest, bold and uncompromising look he's given to his music and soul. He's where he's at and nothing less.

He's a hell of a player, though you don't dig him full-fledged, over-swung sense. So does little here, but he's a house and lays down a strong but unobtrusive tone.

The sound is first-rate and though I've given it a four-star rating, I can safely add a fifth and know that they'll get their money's worth.

Owen Bryce

The Bert Courtney Sextet is the band to watch in 1962

WHAT'S new for '62? On the local scene, precious little. I have a general notion that most groups are much the same as they were last year. As always, rhythm sections are the most pressing problem.

Individually, tenorist Bobby Wellins is telling the most good news. His band is a real jazz band in the other night." He should have at least five LPs on the market by now. The band is a real jazz band in the other night." To be precise, half. Tony Crombie and Eddie Waring are still there, they are three minute tracks and have no chance to get going.

Dick is experimenting all the time in his solos. And like his band, he's more concerned about as well. If he gets the breaks, he'll make it. So remember him.

The rhythm section has Gordon Beck on piano, Dave Weckl on drums, and Peter "Pete" Baker on drums.

Gordon, who "doubles" with the bass, is a hell of a player. Perkins is back to look at. Classically-trained, he is an excellent musician. Knowledgeable and sympathetic. Knowledgeable and sympathetic. Board work belies his introverted personality. He, too, has wanted to be my own. Ed rather play only half a dozen notes that mean something in a chorus than tear all over my head as those six notes are my own."

Dick is a hell of a player. But his spirit and enthusiasm overshadow his shortcomings. A hell of a player.
