

DISC

THE TOP RECORD & MUSICAL WEEKLY

No. 214 Week ending April 28, 1962
Every Thursday, price 6d.

Star number two quits Britain's top group

Jet Harris leaves The Shadows

JET HARRIS

JOE BROWN TURNS DOWN 'BILLY LIAR' LEAD ROLE

JOE BROWN has turned down an offer to play the lead role in the touring production of the play "Billy Liar." This is the part which was taken by Albert Finney in the West End.

Brown refused the offer, in order to continue concentrating on one-nighters and other pop music activities in which he is chiefly interested.

He and his supporting group The Bruvers are strong favourites to go to America in the summer in exchange for the tour here by Bill Haley and his Comets.

JET HARRIS has left The Shadows and is to take up a career on his own as a singer and actor. He will be under the management of DISC columnist and top A and R man, Jack Good.

This shock announcement came at the week-end and The Shadows played their first concert without Jet on Sunday at Blackpool. Taking his place was bass guitarist Brian Locking.

Jet is 21, is nicknamed "Liquorice," and used to be a fireman on an express train. He first started performing as a guitarist in 1958.

He made his TV debut in "Old Boy" in 1960, with Shadows' drummer Brian Bennett. He has already featured on records. He played for Marty Wilde on "Sea-Of Love," "Bad Boy" and "Teenager In Love" and for Vince Taylor on "Brand New Cadillac." He lives in Upper Norwood, London.

Right time

Why has Jet left The Shadows? "It is something he has wanted to do for some time," said Shadows' manager, Peter Gormley. "It has always been a question of when. The moment came just before Easter when The Shadows had a break from engagements."

Said his new manager, Jack Good: "I have long felt that Jet has a great future both as an actor and a singer—now is the time, I feel, for him to strike out on his own."

Said Peter Gormley: "The last thing that the boys and myself would wish to do is to stand in the way of Jet realising his ambition. He has the good wishes of Hank, Bruce, Brian, Cliff and myself."

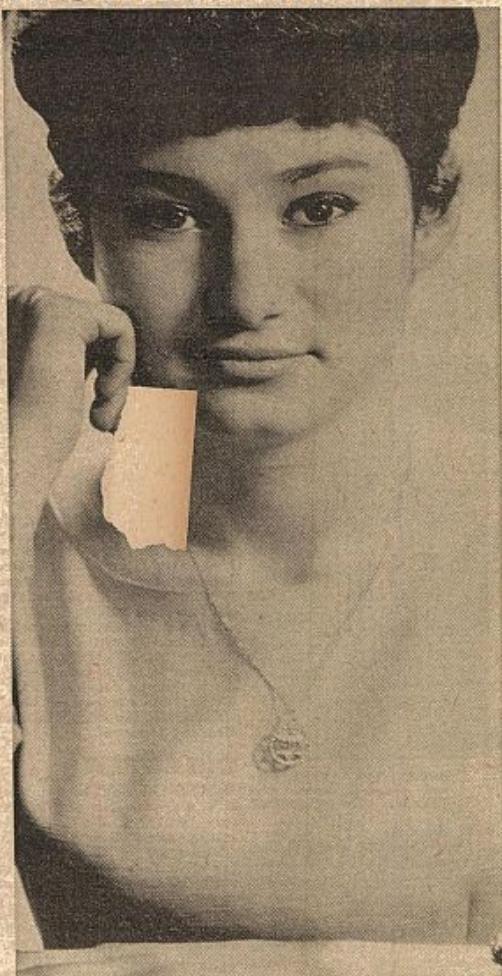

Jet is the second founder member to leave The Shadows. Drummer Tony Meehan left last year to become an A and R man with Decca.

DANKWORTH BOOKED FOR SINATRA CONCERT

JOHNNY DANKWORTH and his orchestra will star in the supporting bill for Frank Sinatra's three charity concerts here in June. They will appear during the first half of the programmes. Sinatra, backed by the American Bill Miller group, will take the whole of the second half.

Cleo Laine will sing with her husband's orchestra for the midnight concert at the Royal Festival Hall on June 4.

She may also appear on the other Sinatra bills in spite of her commitments in the newly-opened play "A Time To Love" at the Piccadilly Theatre.

Summer shows at Blackpool for JULIE GRANT

New girl Julie Grant wins a top contract

SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD Julie Grant has landed a contract with the giant Delfont Organisation—only two weeks after the release of her first disc, and as a direct result of it.

Delfont's have signed her for 15 summer shows in Blackpool, starting on Whit Sunday at the North Pier, and they are negotiating several TV and stage appearances.

Since the release of her disc, "Somebody Tell Him," Julie has also appeared on "Parade of the Pops," "Thank Your Lucky Stars," and earlier this week on "Spinalong."

On Easter Sunday, she was introduced by Frankie Vaughan on the stage at the Leeds Odeon, and last week "Somebody Tell Him" was voted the Record of the Week on Radio Luxembourg.

Julie was trained in stage presentation and singing in Leeds, and landed her first professional job there—as the resident singer with Jack Brent's Orchestra at the Astoria Ballroom.

She also entered for, and won, several talent contests, at one time even beating Helen Shapiro.

Future dates for her include "Talent Spot" on the BBC Light on May 1, followed by an appearance with the Northern Dance Orchestra in "Teenagers Turn" on May 10.

VIC LEWIS TRIES AGAIN FOR MATHIS AND COLE VISIT

VIC LEWIS of William Victor Productions flies to America today (Thursday) for talks on the West Coast with Helen Noga, Johnny Mathis's manager, regarding another British tour for the singer in the late autumn.

Lewis will also meet Carlos Gastel, manager of Nat King Cole, to explore the possibilities of a British visit by Cole. If these are successful the visit would probably not take place before next year.

Adam Faith will be the guest star in the hundredth edition of BBC TV's afternoon children's programme "Crackerjack" on May 3.

Inside
CONNIE FRANCIS surprise

(page 12)

Mark Wynter writes about the Burnette tour

(page 12)

BILLY FURY

Plans to meet Elvis

(page 6)

The key to success in America

(page 4)

SHIRLEY BASSEY

Why I cut 'Ave Maria'

(page 4)

PE
7N 15430

Song Copies 2/6

Published By ROBERT MELLIN Ltd.

64, NEW BOND ST. W.I.

TRADE: 46, GERRARD ST.

"SOMEBODY TELL HIM"

JULIE GRANT

POST BAG

Each week an LP is awarded to the writer of the Prize Letter . . . and once a month there is a bonus prize of a Ronson lighter/ashtray set.

Bonus winner for April is IAN GARTH, 35 Wooler Grove, Beeston, Leeds 11.

WRITE TO: POST BAG, DISC

161 FLEET ST., LONDON, E.C.4

Slush—that's what they are singing now

PRIZE LETTER

WHY have all our best rock singers gone slushy? Adam Faith has gone from "What Do You Want?" to "Lonesome," Billy Fury from "Don't Knock Upon My Door," to "I'd Never Find Another You," and even The Shadows are now making pretty string-filled things like "Wonderful Land," which although pleasant, lacks the drive of "Apache."

We are told that the current trend is ballads, but too many of them are sung by people who do not have the right kind of voice for them, hence the result is horrible.—A. BARTON-HIBBS, 75, High Street, Rochester, Kent.

BOBBY VEE—Stage voice and recorded sound were different. See "Disaster".

just what the public wants.—JACKIE MORIS, Owles Haunt, Newmarket Road, Royston, Herts.

SO POOR

WHY can't they find follow-up discs to "poor"? There seem to be so many artists who are flung into the public eye on the strength of a hit debut disc, but when their second record is released it seems flat. So many of these discs are just a second-rate replica of the first.

Why can't they find an original disc for their second release, like Shani Fenton, whose "It's All Over Now" is really different from "Moody Guy"?

Cliff and Billy turn out such a variety of different discs that it is not surprising they are still tops.—JUDY WHITE, The Red Cottage, Frocester, Stonehouse, Glos.

A BORE

JOHN HEADLEY (DISC 144-62) says that Ella Fitzgerald and Peggy Lee are a bore and that Sinatra seldom makes the top ten.

Since when has the top ten been a yardstick for talent? Talent is measured by the countless number of albums that have sold consistently well for many years.

The Editor does not necessarily agree with the views expressed in Post Bag.

sound that made him famous.—P. FOWLER, 176, Uxbridge Road, Hatch End, Pinner, Middlesex.

COPY HIM

IHAVE never noticed that people are afraid to say what they think of Frank Sinatra. On the contrary, some do so without caring whether they hurt him or not.

I would further point out that many of the singers who are in the hit parade try very hard to copy this particular artist's style, and singers of the class of the three mentioned by Mr. Headley (DISC 144-62) set a standard that many young singers strive to achieve, thus helping to keep pop music at a high level.—DAPHNE OLIVER, Summerhill, Leiston, Suffolk.

FAIR'S FAIR

WHEN more than one version of a potential hit is released, it is only fair that both should be given equal publicity and promotion, leaving the record buyers to decide which they prefer to buy.

Yet with "Moon River," EMI plugged the Denee Williams version into the charts, but neglected their release of the American vocal hit by Jerry Butler, so that most devoted fans, and even large record stores, were unaware of its existence. Given the chance Butler could have repeated his American success.—C. E. BARRANS, 36 Cambray Road, Balham, S.W.12.

TUTTI CAMARATA toasts Hayley Mills at her sixteenth birthday earlier this month (DISC Pic).

DISASTER

NINE times out of ten, when American stars tour Britain, they prove a disaster. The reason surely lies in the disillusionment of the fans when the artist fails to reproduce on stage the sounds he achieves on record.

Bobby Vee can hardly sing twice at once, and what are his numbers without two of him? So, the only solution seems to be that an artist must resist the temptation of touring Britain, rather than come without the

The teenagers know what they want—and they're right!

A top American A and R man talks to DISC

ONE of America's ace conductors and arrangers, Tutti Camarata, arrived in this country two weeks ago, to supervise a recording session for Hayley Mills on the Disney label, and he brought with him some very decided views on pop music.

"Hayley Mills?" he said. "Well, I don't reckon she's a great singer, but with her that doesn't matter. She has a handful of sincerity and she puts it into her records. That is why she sells."

She is also an image for the teenager, like Brenda Lee, Annette—whom I also record—and your own Helen Shapiro.

"It's the sincerity that makes the singer and the record. I've been with these kids for some time now. They can make you feel an outsider, but they know what they are about. They can tell you what's wrong if they don't like it."

"When you get a Paul Anka walk into your studio you could think that he is rather brash. But it's not true. He knows what he wants, he knows the sound he wants to make, and he's right."

"If these kids don't like the way a pianist or a guitarist is playing, they tell you. They should know what they want with their music, after all, they invented it."

"Older musicians have learned lots from teenage musicians. I'm the first to admit it. They have the right to turn round to a Mantovani or a Camarata and say 'you're wrong.'

"It would be a waste of time

Mills at the party given for her sixteenth birthday earlier this month (DISC Pic).

for me to record a disc that Annette didn't like, or Hayley didn't like. Neilsen would be disappointed if she did it and it would fail. I know, I've tried it. I think this about teenage music. The kids are buying music now. Not just adults. They have developed their own brand of music into something good, and they are following their own trend."

"They are buying more and more instrumental discs. It's a small beginning, but I believe that it could grow into their buying classical music."

"The biggest change that I have seen in the recording scene in the last six months? I would say that it is pointed by the fact that we arrangers are fast beginning to call ourselves producers."

"You get records produced by Lieber and Stoller, records produced by Don Costa. Arranging is no longer a private deal."

Producers

"It means that gone are the days when an artist chose a song and handed it over to an arranger who said 'I'll let you have it back on Tuesday.'

"Nowadays, these things happen inside the recording studio with the artist, the arranger and the musicians. Everybody says 'how about this sound?' — 'how about this idea?' We are producers now and all as a result of teenage music which has demanded a spontaneity and sincerity."

"It's the same with the song-writers. Many of them don't know how to write a song down but they have a wonderful feeling and it is the feeling that the public wants."

"This is why British singers are beginning to sell in the States. They have the sincerity that the American disc buyer is craving for. Take Acker Bilk. He has sincerity, but, of course, he comes in at the right time."

"We have had enough of twist over there. Now we have a craving for a sweet dessert, and it's taken imported records to do it."

"The trend is good now. We have a great opportunity to make better and better music and put it into the top forty sales bracket."

"The teenage artists have led the way; the teenage buyer is following them. Now it's up to the recording industry."

Peter Hammond

GO TRAD MAD... Have a beat treat... pick a swing thing...

We've got the discs you want at London Co-op. All your favourites—and the newest of the new. We're swinging with singing, too. You'll find all the latest pop vocalists and their top-rated albums at the London Co-op record bars or departments. Come in and browse a bit in our Browser Boxes.

London Co-operative

SOCIETY LTD

SERVING EAST, NORTH, WEST, AND CENTRAL LONDON AND THE SOUTHEND AREA

—elektra one step ahead

LOVER PLEASE

MAUREEN and the Vernons Girls

45 rpm record

DECCA

45 rpm record

AMERICAN

TOP DISCS

Last Week	This Week
1 1 Good Luck Charm	Elvis Presley
2 2 Johnny Angel	Shelly Fabares
4 3 Mashed Potato Time	Dee Dee Sharp
4 4 Slow Twistin'	Chubby Checker
6 5 Young World	Ricky Nelson
11 6 Soldier Boy	The Shirelles
8 7 Lover, Please	Clyde McPhatter
5 8 Love Letters	Ketty Lester
14 9 Shoot	Joey Dee and the Starliers
19 10 Stranger On The Shore	Acker Bilk
16 11 Dear One	Larry Finnegan
20 12 Twist Twist Senora	Gary (U.S.) Bonds

These were the twenty numbers that topped the sales in America last week (week ending April 21).

NEIL SEKADA

KING OF CLOWNS

SD-12CA-1292

RCA VICTOR

45 rpm record

Great....Greater...and now....

THE GREATEST

FRANKIE VAUGHAN

I'M GONNA CLIP YOUR WINGS

PB1233

PHILIPS

MIKI & GRIFF
"THE TEARS BREAK OUT ON ME"

TN 15401

PETULA CLARK
"WHISTLING FOR THE MOON"

TN 15407

Last Week	This Week
7 13 Don't Break The Heart That Loves You	Connie Francis
12 14 Love Me Warm And Tender	Paul Anka
— 15 She Cried	Jay and the Americans
9 16 Midnight In Moscow	Kenny Ball
17 17 Twistin' The Night Away	Sam Cooke
10 18 Hey! Baby	Bruce Channel
— 19 Cinderella	Jack Ross
13 20 Dream Baby	Roy Orbison

ONES TO WATCH

P.T. 109	Jimmy Dean
Funny Way Of Laughin'	Bud Ives

TOP TWENTY

Compiled from dealers' returns from all over Britain.

Week ending April 21, 1962

Last Week	This Week	Title	Artist	Label
1 1 Wonderful Land	-	-	The Shadows	Columbia
2 2 Hey! Baby	-	-	Bruce Channel	Mercury
5 3 Hey Little Girl	-	-	Del Shannon	London
7 4 When My Little Girl Is Smiling	-	-	Jimmy Justice	Pye
— 5 Nut Rocker	-	-	B. Bumble and The Stingers	Top Rank
11 6 Speak To Me Pretty	-	-	Brenda Lee	Brunswick
3 7 Dream Baby	-	-	Roy Orbison	London
6 8 Can't Help Falling In Love/Rock-A-Hula Baby	-	-	Elvis Presley	RCA
8 9 Twistin' The Night Away	-	-	Sam Cooke	RCA
4 10 Tell Me What He Said	-	-	Helen Shapiro	Columbia
9 11 When My Little Girl Is Smiling	-	-	Craig Douglas	Top Rank
19 12 Love Letters	-	-	Ketty Lester	London
13 13 Never Goodbye	-	-	Karl Denver	Decca
— 14 The Party's Over	-	-	Lonnie Donegan	Pye
16 15 Doctor Kildare Theme	-	-	Johnnie Spence	Parlophone
— 16 Ev'rybody's Twistin'	-	-	Frank Sinatra	Reprise
17 17 Wonderful World Of The Young	-	-	Danny Williams	HMV
— 18 Slow Twistin'	-	-	Chubby Checker	Columbia
— 19 Caterina	-	-	Perry Como	RCA
— 20 Maigret Theme	-	-	Joe Loss	HMV

ONES TO WATCH

King Of Clowns	Neil Sedaka
Don't Break The Heart That Loves You	Connie Francis

CHART CHATTER

BY JOHN WELLS

ROCK COMES LEAPING BACK

So rock 'n' roll is finished. Is it? Top Rank tell me that "Nut Rocker," — it's crashed into the charts at 5— is the fastest selling American disc that the EMI combine have handled this year — and is one of the fastest ever. Already sales are over the 70,000 mark and the disc was only released at the end of last month.

This is B. Bumble's second disc to be released over here. The first, "Bumble Boogie," was issued last May but didn't enjoy as sensational sales as the new one, which has also been a big hit in America.

"Nut Rocker" must have shaken the dismal jimmies who predicted (and hoped for?) the end of straight rock.

It must also be shaking the buyers who object to the classics being "modernized."

"Nut Rocker" comes from

"The Dance Of The Sugar Plum Fairy," part of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite."

Loanie Donegan is back in the charts with what must be his most different disc ever.

"The Party's Over." This caused a great deal of controversy and shaking of heads when first released, but it looks as if, after all, Loanie is going to chalk up another big hit.

The last five placings have all changed. Frank Sinatra is there with "Everybody's Twistin'" and Danny Williams has come in with his ballad, "Wonderful World Of The Young."

Making a return to the charts with the same disc is Chubby Checker with "Slow Twistin'." This briefly enjoyed twentieth position a few weeks back.

The bottom two places are filled by "Caterina," given the Perry Como treatment on RCA which looks set to be a big hit, and the distinctive version of the "Maigret Theme" by Joe Loss.

IAIN GREGORY

"PLEASE MR.
LOVEBUG"

PTE TN 15403

RONNIE HALL

"MY VERY FIRST LOVE"

PICCADILLY TN 35240

The LAURIE
JOHNSON Orch.

"IN A PERSIAN MARKET"

PTE TN 15404

STANLEY UNWIN

"GOLDILOCKS"

PTE TN 15404

ORCHESTRA
DEL ORO

"HEADIN' HOME"

PTE INT. TN 25135

JIMMY ROSELLI

"THE SHIEK OF ARABY"

PTE INT. TN 25135

WHY I RECORDED 'AVE MARIA'

Shirley Bassey talks about the most amazing single she has ever made

"AVE MARIA" is a beautiful piece of music; Shirley Bassey is a very good singer; but it is more opera star Joan Hammond's material than hers. "Juke Box Jury" thought so too and voted it a miss. Why, then, did she record it and why did it go out as the "A" side of her single?

Shirley Bassey was very frank when I talked to her at her Maida Vale home.

"I recorded it because I wanted to do it," she said. "I am annoyed that it had to go before the JBJ panel. I didn't expect it to be a commercial record and I didn't record it at all."

"I know that my fans will buy it because they buy everything of mine as part of their collection. I don't see why JBJ should say what they said, after all Johnny Mathis has recorded it and neither of us are even trying to emulate an operatic singer."

"I wanted to do a number that was applicable to Easter time—like one records a 'Christ-mas' number at Christmas. It was just a number that I wanted to do."

A PITY

"If I had put it on an album people would have taken very little notice of it, and in any case if I had done this I would then have had to have found and recorded seven other religious numbers to complete the album—you can't just drop 'Ave Maria' in among some standards. It is a pity that it went out as the 'A' side. The flip, 'I'll Walk Alone,' would have served better."

Then Shirley told me the story of how she came to choose "Ave Maria" to record.

"You remember the last time I went to Australia? Well, I contracted some throat trouble and for five weeks I was not singing at my best. When I came back I decided to have my tonsils out."

"This was a worrying time as I didn't know what difference it would make to my voice. The doctor told me that I would have to rest it completely for about eight weeks."

HIGHER

"But, of course, after a short time I began experimenting and there was a difference."

"I had been attending a singing teacher before, for breathing exercises. He was amazed at the difference. He had heard me sing on records and now, when I tried a few scales for him, I found that I could reach a higher register. He thought it was fantastic."

"Then we decided to try a number. He had a lot of sheets of music on his piano, including 'Ave Maria.' We tried that, it went well, and I fell in love with it. It was then that I decided to record it."

I asked Shirley whether this new register meant that she was going to extend her range of recordings.

"No," she said. "This sort of thing is all right in a recording studio, but I don't think that I could sustain something like 'Ave Maria' on the stage, and stage work has to be consistent with what I record.

BASSEY—"I didn't want it to go out as the 'A' side" (DISC Pic).

"I shall still continue to record Bassey-style numbers. But occasionally I want to do the things that I like. You need to try something different every now and again, just for your own satisfaction."

"But my next record will go back to my old style. And this time I am going to record it in French and German as well as in English. I may even record it in Italian as well, if I can get the lyrics written."

"I want to do this so that when it goes out on the Continent they can hear it in their own language. I think in some cases this is important."

"I have had an offer to go to Paris and perform but I really don't want to do this unless I can sing at least three numbers in French. They don't really like it over there unless you can sing to them in their own language."

After her tremendous success in America Shirley is itching to get back there. She is already booked to appear at the Persian Room, New York, the scene of her triumph, on December 6.

Las Vegas also wants Bassey. "I had a firm offer to appear at Sinatra's Sands Hotel in May. But I had to turn it down because of my June tour here with Nelson Riddle. They wanted me to be on the same bill with comedian Joey Bishop."

I suggested that such a date might earn her clan membership.

"I doubt if I could keep up with them now," she said. "It might have been different in the old days, but now I have settled down. Their wild living is not for me."

Peter Hammond

S * T * A * R — T * A * L * K

Lost, one washboard—please return to Beryl Bryden!

by John Wells

SUSAN MAUGHAN—She likes the Rippled.

IT'S described as being "ainless steel, with irreplacable tone, excellent condition, as new . . . and it's been lost." The article in question is Beryl Bryden's washboard, last seen when she appeared with Monty Sunshine at Cowley Ex-Servicemen's Club. It's also engraved "Beryl Bryden, Queen of the Washboard," and she'd like it returned to her.

Heated comments the other day from bandleader Joe Loss . . . and all because of a game of marbles. He was entering team in the British Marbles Championship, but withdrew as a protest against women not being allowed to play. His star player, you see, is Rose Brennan. Said Joe: "It's ridiculous that she is not eligible to be in our team. It's an out of date rule that should be amended without delay."

Lumberman Harry Secombe who thought the budget tax on cigarettes would go up, "Anybody want 2,000 filter tips in exchange for a ton of fruit and nut?"

Ken Dodd holds a certificate from the National Society of Non-Smokers commending him for helping to set a fashion in show business. Britain and America's top recording artists Cliff Richard and Elvis Presley don't smoke . . . in fact, few of our really top ones do. An exception is Adam Faith.

Fan clubs are opening up all over the world for Helen Shapiro. Latest three are in Holland, Belgium and South Africa. President of her summer season at Bridlington, and her song was written by Jimmy Kennedy who also wrote "Red Sails In The Sunset," "Idle Of Capri," and "Harbour Lights."

Quentin Jackson, star of the Count Basie Band now touring Britain, recently seen in the Marquee listening to Humphrey Lyttelton. His concert after three hours: "I think it's a real fine sound, Humphrey," certainly knows his stuff."

* * *

GENE McDANIELS, over here with Johnny Burnette and U.S. Boobs, could have timed his visit better. At home in Los Angeles his wife, Wanda, is expecting their second baby, and a car that Gene's been waiting months for is due to be delivered. Gene and "Charlie," his wife's nickname, already have a two-year-old son called London. The car, which will be waiting in the garage when Gene returns home, is a British Jaguar, capable of speeds in excess of 140 mph. He and his wife are keen on cars . . . they've already got four.

Tony and Douglas Gray and Bruce Lacey—The Alberts—have, between them, the most extraordinary collections. Tony collects vintage motor cycles and lorries and also owns a 1908 pleasure steamer, moored near his home in Windsor. He also has 28 overcoats. In Douglas' home are two greyhounds, a cat and 20 overcoats, plus unusual musical instruments. Bruce Lacey has a life-sized, stuffed camel dominating the compound. They just got to the airport on time.

Jimmy Crawford has decided to let his hair go back to its natural colour . . . previously he's been keeping it white and white.

half of his home in North London.

Ronnie Hilton's wife Jean recently gave birth to their fourth child, a daughter christened Derry.

What started out purely as a publicity stunt has ended nicely for the children at the Doctor Barnardo's Home at Woodford, Essex. The Temperance Seven went down there for publicity pictures and were to be taken by the children that they "adopted" them. Just before the holidays they sent a huge parcel of Easter eggs to the children. And the older ones are also going to be guests of the band when they open their two weeks season at the London Palladium.

Mike Sarne, who makes his debut on Parlophone with "Come Outside," is currently reading Russian literature at London University.

THE trouble with Shane Richards' dog, was that it was getting too fat. The remedy, Chris discovered, was to put it on a diet . . . of slimming pills.

Bert Weedon's much deserved holiday in Jersey didn't get off too smoothly last week. Bert and his wife made an early start intending to call at a publisher's office in Domark Street en route to the airport. When they came out of the publishers, they found that the police had towed their car away. A mad dash in a taxi ended with them following the car into the compound. They just got to the airport on time.

Jimmy Crawford has decided to let his hair go back to its natural colour . . . previously he's been keeping it white and white.

the tour, and he's had about as much exploitation as anyone can have in the States."

Mark Wynter is the one British artist who has got nearest to following this Stateside policy. Last year, he went over for TV and personal appearances. He has not had too much success with his discs on the U.S. market, but his name is now sufficiently known in the trade and among teenagers to warrant interest when he has a new disc release.

Johnny Bradson and Stu Weiser are already working on the four sides they cut with Mark, even though they probably won't release them until the autumn.

A rush

MATT MONRO—A follow-up vid would have helped him enormously (DISC Pic).

Dick Clark, the most influential DJ in the pop music scene, says it's easy.

"I had British kids on my show 'American Bandstand,'" he told me, "and I'd have a whole lot more if only they would come over."

"Believe me, DJs and dance hall promoters fall over themselves to have visiting celebrities on their shows and hope, and a cross country chain of appearances, in the course of about three weeks, can do a tremendous amount of good."

"One TV show is not sufficient to sustain the name of an artist for very long, but if he follows that up with about another six, he has already aroused interest with the first, and he's then on the spot to get the kids kicking. Then, if possible, one nationally networked TV show to close

WE CAN BREAK INTO THE U.S. MARKET IF WE ARE DETERMINED

But personal appearances are essential

YES, Britain IS breaking into the American charts, but we stand very little chance of sustaining this initial success unless we DO something about it—AND QUICKLY.

As one president of an American recording company said to me on my recent visit, "Acker Bilk's 'Stranger On The Shore' is the greatest instrumental I've heard this year. BUT WHY ISN'T BILK HERE?"

He was right. America doesn't hate Britain. She welcomes discs and competition from the British market. But that's just about as far as British discs get in the States, unless they happen to be lucky.

Let's face it, "Stranger On The Shore" is tied with strings, "Midnight In Moscow," which reached number 2, is a Russian holiday jazzed up. "My Boom, erang Won't Come Back" is a novelty. To the Americans who bought these discs, they were all great, big GIMMICKS.

Wide open

What, then, does an artist have to do in order to gain any sort of standing in the States?

I put this question to a record company executive, a music publisher and a DJ, and they all agreed that an artist must make the trip—even at a cost that's a financial loss to himself—to receive all these invitations for cross country appearances?

And he's very important that he should be here at the time of release. Coming over afterwards on the strength of a hit is fine, but on records you've died unless you have a follow-up in the charts at the time of the visit."

This is fine and dandy, but how must make the trip—even at a cost that's a financial loss to himself—to once he gets to the States he'll be on the spot when he or she receives all these invitations for cross country appearances?

"We're fixing up an exploitation deal for Mark," said Stu, "just as soon as one of the discs is released. If he has five minutes to spare between dates he'll be lucky, but we're not going to let this one slip through our fingers."

Matt Monro had a big hit with "My Kind Of Girl," and he went out to the East Coast for night club appearances and a spot on the Ed Sullivan Show.

If Matt could have followed this American policy his name would mean much more in the States than it does at present.

It's not always easy for British artists to get up and go especially when they may be busy here, but if they can, then America is ready and waiting to help them, just so long as they intend to help themselves. Only when we develop less of a half-hearted attitude towards America will we really make a success in the States.

Jane Harris

EMINEW POPS

THIS WEEK'S TOP SINGLE

HELEN SHAPIROLet's talk about love*Sometime yesterday

(Both from Columbia film 'It's True, Dad!')

COLUMBIA
45-DB4824*LIBERTY
LIB55424*THE CHIPMUNKS

Alvin, Simon and Theodore with David Seville

The Alvin twistCONNIE FRANCIS
Don't break the heart that loves youM-G-M
45-MGM1157*H.M.V.
45-POP1012*THE HIGHWAYMEN
I'm on my wayWANDA JACKSON
If I cried every time
you hurt meCAPITOL
45-CL5249*COLUMBIA
45-DB4823*JILL AND THE BOULEVARDS
And now I cryTERRY LIGHTFOOT'S
NEW ORLEANS JAZZMEN
Tavern in the town
My MarylandCOLUMBIA
45-DB4822*JACK GOOD writes*That Elvis visit—what has he got to gain?

YOU think the letter below is strong? Not at all—I used to them. I get tons of them every time I say anything that could in any sense be construed as a criticism of Elvis Presley. Nobody else. Just Elvis.

What a tribute to Colonel Parker and to Elvis that they have so pursued his career that after being at the top for some seven years now, Presley can still command this fanatical fan following: "I am forced to write . . . yours filled with hatred" . . . get the strength of the emotions that are aroused.

While Elvis is idolised like this nothing can stop him. And while Elvis carries on, the pop business will still be a fascinating one.

Make no mistake about it, Elvis Presley is the most exciting

Yours filled . . .

Dear Jack Good,

I know it is a waste of threepence sending this letter to you, but I feel so strongly about my point of view that I am forced to write.

Just leave Elvis alone. You have stated twice that you do not like "Rock-A-Hula Baby." The first time wasn't necessary, let alone the second.

You had the nasty cheek to call it a "squidgy" and then you had the audacity to praise that trash recording of "Mashed Spuds," or whatever the name is.

If you can't say anything good about Elvis then just keep your big mouth shut!

Yours filled with hatred, their record doesn't sell as many copies as expected. Big inquests. More interviews on "What went wrong with my last release." By that time it would be more in place to ask "Who cares about my last release—or come to that, my next one?"

Most of our managers treat their artists like the farmers who were responsible for the dust bowl in America. They keep harvesting from the soil without putting anything back until one day the land dries up and turns to dust.

By contrast, Colonel Parker seems to have carefully harvested his soil so that every crop is richer than the last . . . although even he appears to have given way to temptation in respect of the number of films he has allowed Presley to make.

Still, better to make too many than too many one-night stands.

Granted that as a short term policy they can be very profitable. But in the long run where does it get you? For instance, Bobby Vee plays to packed houses all over the country. Result? What's

Mr. Holly's own singles haven't been doing too well of late.

Maybe he should team up with someone else—maybe as a gimmick, with someone who was alive?

Miss Shapiro's song is written by Meissie, Norrie Paramor and Bunny Lewis, those doyens of the teenage world. Mr. Lewis has just visited Hollywood and Elvis, and has written a devastating account of both. It's nice to think that someone else will be getting a stack of those letters.

P.S. The Springfield's new one "Silver Threads And Golden Needles" is a K.O. And have you heard "Something's Got A Hold On Me" by Etta James yet? If not, do so forthwith.

PRESLEY — Real star quality without a doubt.

ALONG THE ALLEY

Unknowns spring a surprise

SINGLES by unknowns are very difficult plugging propositions, especially if the artists concerned are foreign and are not here to back their discs with personal appearances, TV and radio appearances. But once in a while one of these difficult sales surprises everybody—even the optimists—ploughs—and heads—towards with the speed of those cut by established chart stars. Such a case is "Nut Rocker" by the quirkily named R. Bumble and The Stingers on the Top Rank label. Within a bare fortnight of its release, was buzzing around the hottest juke joints.

CURTIS LEE—Daddy Go's

Plussed player in this instance is Kim Bennett of Ardmore and Beechwood Music. He's wearing a Silver Disc-type grin these days anyway on account of Helen Shapiro's Columbia success with "Tell Me What He Said," and now this bawled-up version of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite."

It's been doing the public into bawdy glee since the disc.

The A and B outfit is likely to win considerable play and sales custom with two more discs while the B-side-benefit package tour is on the road here. Johnny's "Clown Shoes" (Liberty) and Gary's "Twist Twist Seniors" are both A and B items.

Kim is also working on a new group's debut disc with a different sound which could mean a lot. It's "And Now I Cry" by Jim and The Boulevard (Columbia).

MESSRS. Terence Oates and James Henfrey are having a very busy time at the

NEWS from the street of MUSIC

Chappell police in New Bond Street.

Ray Orbison's "Dream Girl" (London) has well and truly made it already.

Other likely hit candidates include Leroy Van Dyke's "Big Man In A Big House" (Mercury); "I'm Way Off Straight" by Bertie Higgins; "Out On Me" by Miki and Griff (Pye) and the same song with "Break" instead of "Break" by Eddie Arnold (RCA); "On La La" by pianist Johnny Preston (Odeon); "Money In My Pocket" by Tony Raymond (Odeon); and Lennie Donegan's "Sterling Pye" (The Party's Over) is still on the move.

A. LESLIE at Aberbach Music is hoping for a hit rating for "A Night At Daddy Go's" by Curtis Lee on London, which has received every plug possible and seems to be responding to the treatment in the desired fashion.

The Aberbach office was very enthusiastic about "Cha Cha Olavio" (by Chappell) which I called there. This and several other Chappell items like "Ace High" and "Francis" belongs to the group, and have established a high standard for British written and recorded Latin material unequalled by anyone else.

N.J.L.

phenomenon ever known to the happened to "Please Don't Ask world of entertainment. He and About Barbara"? Please don't Brigitte Bardot are about the ask.

Bobby Rydell? Dick Conway Twitty, Duane Eddy, Johnny Preston, Freddy Cannon, right back to Bill Haley, it's the same old story. The expectations of the fans are so high that it would take a superhuman personality to avoid disappointing them.

Elvis wouldn't disappoint them. But just the same—why should he risk it? What has he got to gain?

'New' Faith

THIS week sees the release of a new Helen Shapiro single, a new John Leyton single and a new Adam Faith single.

I like the new Adam Faith record a lot. Both sides are strong, and it's the old firm—Johnny Worth's songs, John Barry's magical backings and Adam at his cleverest. Both titles are unoriginal—but they've sold well in the past—"As You Like It" and "Face To Face."

Geoff Goddard is once more the writer for John Leyton with "Lonely City." I don't know if Mr. Goddard is still writing in collaboration with the spirit of Buddy Holly, but if he is I wonder whether he's considered that

"Thank Your Lucky Stars."

You wouldn't be at all surprised if they turned up reading the Epilogue. No wonder they wear out their welcome. Then

PARLOPHONE
45-R4903*JERRY LORDE
One good solid 24
carat reasonH.M.V.
45-POP1016*VERA LYNN
The day after tomorrow

From Lionel Bart's musical "BLITZ"

TOP RANK
JAR616*ANDY STEWART
Cowboy Jock from Skye

EARL RECORDS LTD., E.M.I. RECORDS,
26 MANCHESTER SQUARE, LONDON, W.C.1

FURY TO PRESENT TWO SILVER DISCS TO PRESLEY

BILLY FURY, now on his way to America aboard the luxury liner France, is to meet Elvis Presley, probably in Hollywood, and present him with two Silver Discs on behalf of this paper. They are for "Now Or Never" and "Rock A Hula Baby."

"I'm really looking forward to meeting Elvis," said Billy when we chatted at his 21st birthday party in London last week, "although I'm not really sure about whether I'll like America."

"But it's a wonderful opportunity and the chance of meeting Elvis is something I wouldn't miss for anything."

Manager Larry Parsons, who accompanied Billy, fixed the meeting with Elvis through Col. Tom Parker, and while they are in Hollywood Billy will have discussions for a new film. But it won't all be work.

"We'll be visiting Miami and Las Vegas," said Billy, "and I want to browse around the record stores and try and buy some albums of Negro spirituals because that's my kind of music."

"I won't be doing any work there so we should be able to have a ball."

Step forward

When I asked Billy how it felt to be 21 he smiled and said: "Doesn't feel any different really, although I suppose it's quite a step forward in life."

"Looking back I wouldn't say that I've achieved everything I set out to do, in fact I've only achieved a tiny bit. You can't do everything anyway because as soon as you get one thing over others present themselves. But this last year has been just great for me and I feel thankful for it."

"There are a lot of things I'd like to do in the future, among them more filming. The one I recently finished, 'Play It Cool,' helped me overcome my shyness and gave me a lot of confidence as far as acting is concerned."

"I'd like to do a straight acting part but I realise that I need quite a bit more experience before I tackle anything like that yet."

Billy looks like achieving his film ambitions quite soon. In January he begins work on a large budget musical to be filmed in colour. There will be another film, possibly with a

BILLY FURY samples part of his 21st birthday cake which was given to him at a party just before he left for AMERICA (DISC Pic)

... Van Dyke, Sedaka as well strong acting role for Billy, to be made either in London or Hollywood next summer.

This year, however, Billy looks like being kept busy in Larry Parnes' summer show at Great Yarmouth for four months, but he also hopes to fit in tours of Germany, Italy, France, Sweden, Denmark and Finland.

"The summer shows should be a ball," said Billy, "especially as I've got my own backing group, The Tornadoes. I think it's important for a singer to have his own group because you get to know each other."

"The Tornadoes are a marvelous group and I think they're going to be very big. I'm thrilled with the 'thick' sound they give me because that's what I need behind my voice. They are great lads and we get along well."

Brian Gibson

Elvis, Connie win top record awards

ELVIS PRESLEY and Connie Francis walked off with the two EL top awards given by the National Association of Record Merchandisers for 1961.

Presley tops in two categories. His "Blue Hawaii" was the Best Selling LP, and he was also named the Best Selling Male Vocalist.

Connie Francis was voted with the Best Selling Female Vocalist, and Chubby Checker was given the Most Promising Male Vocalist Award. The feminine counterpart went to Linda Scott.

Jimmy Dean scored with the Best Selling Hit Single ("Big Bad John"), and Bob Newhart was the Best Selling Comedy Artist.

Phase 4 Stereo, the sound which Ted Heath introduced here on stage over Easter, was voted The Best New Recorded Product. Introduced in 1961.

Philips launch CBS

PHILIPS are to release the first LPs and EPs on their new CBS label on May 2, following a launching which is to be held in London today (Thursday).

Among the first releases will be a double album offer for the price of one—19s. 8d. The package contains 20 songs from various Broadway hits, all with the original cast.

Other LPs to be issued include Percy Faith's "Bouquet Of Love," Ray Connell's "Continental," and albums by Mahalia Jackson, The Brothers Four and Mitch Miller.

In the jazz field, CBS will issue a complete package of four albums highlighting the story of Fletcher Henderson, and from Dave Brubeck comes "Countdown—Time In Outer Space."

Among the EPs are offerings from Johnny Mathis, Frankie Laine, Anita Bryant, Marty Robbins and Bobby Hackett.

Only two singles are to be released to start with. These will be Dave Brubeck's "Unsquare Dance," backed with "Camp Town Races," and Steve Lawrence's "The Lady Wants To Twist," and "Tell Her I Said Hello." The release date for these is May 4.

Anita Bryant flew in for the launching on Tuesday and Percy Faith was expected soon afterwards.

Jerry Lee Le

Mancini and Rose here on holiday

HENRY MANCINI and David Rose, two of America's most famous film and TV composer-MDs, are due in London together on May 30 for a holiday visit.

Mancini created the modern trend of jazz-influenced TV themes with his music for the "Peter Gunn" series, and recently won an Oscar for his "Breakfast At Tiffany's" film composing, which included the hit song "Moon River" with words by Johnny Mercer.

The Mike Cotton Band is a late booking for ATV's "All That Jazz" for Friday, May 4.

Frank Ifield p Northern circ

AMONG the pop and leg stars who will visit cabaret circuits in the next week are Frank Ifield, Collins, Joan Small, Liza and Rory Blackwell, as Blackjacks.

Ifield stars for the week Southern Sporting Club, Chester, doubling at the Club, Offerton, while Collins will be appearing Manchester Cabaret Club. Joan Small appears Palace Club, Bury and Ashton, and Liza Rota at the Sage Theatre Club, Hanley, Longton.

Rory Blackwell and the Jacks appear at the Cilla Barrow-in-Farness.

Martin in Monroe

DEAN MARTIN and Charisse have signed to play opposite Marilyn Monroe in 20th Century Fox's "Something's Got To Give."

Ricky Martin comes 4.5 minutes at the Winter Gardens, Blackpool, on July 13.

(Left) Gerald Marks, Managing Editor of DISC, presents our Silver Disc for LEROY VAN DYKE'S "Walk On By" to Shelly Singleton, Mercury A & R man in charge of the session, while (below) Helen Shapiro makes a similar award, on behalf of Atlantic, to NEL SEDAKA, for "Happy Birthday Sweet Sixteen" at the Palladium (DISC Pic)

Leyton's 'Jazz' spot

JOHN LEYTON and newcomer Mike Same, whose first disc "Come Outside" has just been released, are to guest in ATV's "All That Jazz" on June 1.

Leyton, whose latest disc, "Lonely City," is released this week, will also guest on the panel of "Juke Box Jury" on May 5, and next week starts work on his second LP for HMV.

At present he has not decided on the songs for the album, but it is expected that the LP will have an early release.

Wilde, Fury top bill

MARTY WILDE, Billy Fury and Karl Denver are to head the summer season at the Windmill Theatre, Great Yarmouth. The show opens on June 8 and will also feature The Vermont Girls and The Jaywalkers.

Karl Denver and The Jaywalkers will also be featured in the Sunday Specials at the Britannia Pier, Great Yarmouth, together with John Leyton, Shane Fenton, Tommy Bruce and Ricky Valance.

Douglas pens film score

WELL-KNOWN arranger-composer and RCA Camden recording star Johnny Douglas has been signed to write his first film score. It will be for the forthcoming Rank Organisation thriller "The Traitors," starring Patrick Allen and Zena Walker.

Gene McDaniels tops the "Sister Cities" bill on May 12.

IN YOUR SHOPS TODAY

Max Bygraves

Down the lane

45-F 12000 Decca

Billy Fury

Last night was made for love

45-F 12000 Decca

Buzz Ives

Parade way of living

45-F 12000 Decca

Pat Boone

Willing and eager

45-F 12000 London

Dear one

45-F 12000 Decca

Ben E. King

The harm of misty mountains

45-F 12000 Decca

Lemon tree

Peter Paul and Mary

45-F 12000 Warner Bros

JOHNNY AND THE HURRICANES

SALVATION

45-F 12000 London

TEARS BROKE OUT OF

BOBBY DARIN

WHAT'D I SAY

45-F 12000 Decca

CYRIL ST

ORCHE

AFRIKAAT

CO

TA

s refuses to British trip

ESPIRE the tragic death of his three-year-old son on Sunday, Jerry Lee Lewis has refused to cancel his British tour which opens this Sunday, April 29, at the City Hall, Newcastle. He will be arriving today (Thursday) as planned.

His son, Steve, was drowned in the family swimming pool at Memphis, Tennessee, on Easter Sunday. As soon as he heard the news Jerry raced home from Milwaukee where he was appearing.

The baby was buried on Tuesday and Jerry was hoping that his 17-year-old wife Myra would have recovered from the shock sufficiently to travel with him.

Eden Kane cuts back American visit

DEN KANE is leaving for the States on June 4, but I stay for only ten days—or a fortnight—instead of original four weeks as agreed.

While there he will appear on TV shows, and make one two personal appearances. All details are still being worked out.

When he returns he will probably headline a mammoth tour, starting with Helen Shapiro, who is being planned for mid-June.

His next disc, the Eddie "I Don't Know Why I Love You or I Do," backed with new single "Worth Number," "Music & Strings," is to be released

May 4, followed by two more TV dates to back this up before "Thank Your Lucky Stars" (May 5), "The One O'Clock Show" (televised on May 6), "The Spinners" (8), "Top With Lemon" (10), and "Sunday Rendezvous" (15).

Shadows cancel date

WING to their film commitments—they appear with us in "Summer Holiday" on April 27, and in "The Shadows" (May 1)—they will be unable to undertake a date at the Civic Hall, Solihull, June 7.

The complete bill will now be Brian Vaughan, Joe Brown & his Brewers, Ned and the Senators and newcomer Tony Greco.

Jerry Miller cabaret

JERRY MILLER, who completes his season at the Victoria Palladium, where he is appearing in "Little Old King Cole" this week-end, makes his cabaret debut when he opens for two week season at London's Olympia Restaurant, on Monday next, April 30.

He will appear on BBC TV, May 4, in a programme of musical music to be broadcast in Britain for "Thank Your Lucky Stars." Including Petula Clark, who makes a guest appearance on the show on May 19, along with Keith Fordyce, one of the original hosts of the programme, who returns as guest DJ in the same edition, Michael Holliday and the Brook Brothers.

On May 12, in addition to Adams Faith and Marty Wilde, other guests will be Eddie Calvert, The Springfields, Kenny Lynch, Dave Carey and newcomer Christine Campbell.

Mark Wynter appears on May 26, along with the Temperance Seven.

ABC TV—new series

ABC-TV are to start a new series this Saturday featuring, among others, several pop stars.

The series will run for six weeks and is to be called "Saturday Bandbox." It will feature different celebrities each week, and guests in the opening programme are Shirley Bassey, the Kaye Sisters and Dr. Crock and his Crackpots. The programme follows "Lucky Stars."

"We have never had such a demand for a concert," Miss Phillips-Williams, Appeals Secretary for the Society, told DISC this week. "It is wonderful for the Society and we are very grateful to Mr. Sinatra."

"We have had to deal with thousands of applications and have been slowed down. The telephone has never stopped ringing at the Society's office."

"It is a pity that we will have to disappoint so many people, but we have been very fair and allocated tickets strictly on a first come, first served basis."

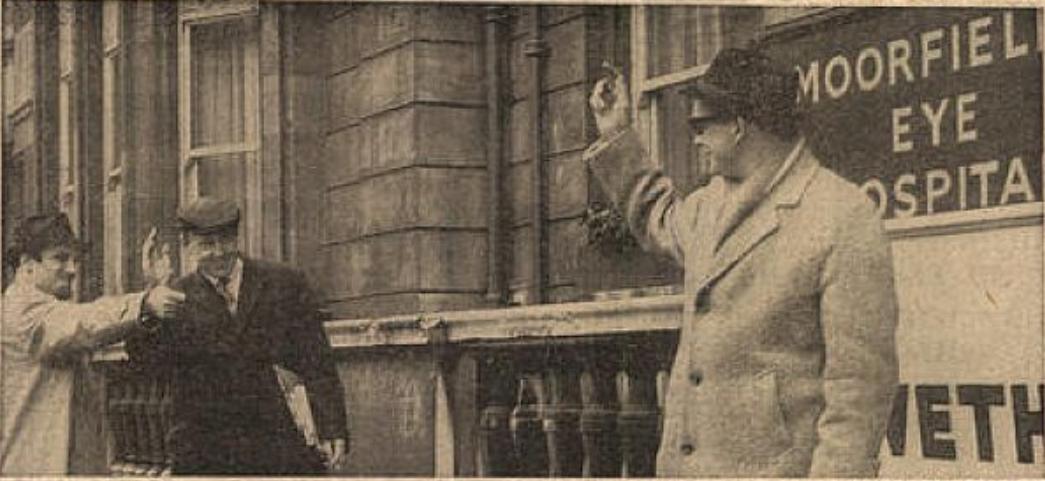

Money back

We have piles of envelopes here ready to go out this week returning the money to unsuccessful applicants. We are hoping to send out tickets this week."

In addition to the Royal Festival Hall concert Sinatra will do three other concerts. One will be another midnight matinee on Saturday, June 2, in aid of the Variety Club's Fund for handicapped children.

The other two concerts will be on Sunday, June 3, in the afternoon and evening. The proceeds of these two Sunday concerts will be shared by the Sunshine Homes for the Blind, the National Society for Mentally Handicapped Children and the Stars' Organisation for Spaniards.

The Hi-Lo's will not take part in the Bassey-Riddle session for BBC-TV on June 11.

THOUSANDS DISAPPOINTED IN SINATRA CONCERT RUSH

THERE has been an incredible rush for tickets for Frank Sinatra's Midnight Matinee concert at the Royal Festival Hall on Friday, June 1. Within a few days of the announcement the 3,000 allocation had gone and one report said that there had been more than 25,000 applications.

The thousands of unlucky fans will have their money refunded by post this week, and the Invalid Children's Aid Society are hoping to be able to post tickets to successful applicants, also this week.

"We have never had such a demand for a concert," Miss Phillips-Williams, Appeals Secretary for the Society, told DISC this week. "It is wonderful for the Society and we are very grateful to Mr. Sinatra."

"We have had to deal with thousands of applications and have been slowed down. The telephone has never stopped ringing at the Society's office."

"It is a pity that we will have to disappoint so many people, but we have been very fair and allocated tickets strictly on a first come, first served basis."

Dick Jordan—U.S. release

BRITISH singer Dick Jordan has his first release in the U.S. this week. The disc is "Some Of The Days," backed with "I Want Her Back," and is released here on Piccadilly.

Hi-Lo's to join Bassey Nelson Riddle tour

TOP American singing group The Hi-Lo's are to appear on the last four dates of the Shirley Bassey-Nelson Riddle tour. They are flying in to join the show following appearances on the Continent.

The four dates they will play are the New Victoria, London (June 7); Odeon, Birmingham (8); Free Trade Hall, Manchester (9), and the Gaumont, Hammersmith (10).

The Hi-Lo's will not take part in the Bassey-Riddle session for BBC-TV on June 11.

NAME CHANGE

TO avoid confusion with Peter Jay and the Jaywalkers, Mike Dee and the Jaywalkers are in future to be known as Mike Dee and the Condors.

They are currently appearing in the Johnny Borneo—U.S. Bonds—Gene McDaniels tour.

Winnie Atwell back

WINIFRED ATWELL arrived in Britain for a cabaret appearance this week after two years in Australia. She is to appear at London's Pugile Club for two months starting this Sunday.

While in London, Winifred will be recording some singles and possibly an album on the Pye label.

Pet Clark for 'Lucky Stars'

MORE names have been announced for "Thank Your Lucky Stars," including Petula Clark, who makes a guest appearance on the show on May 19, along with Keith Fordyce, one of the original hosts of the programme, who returns as guest DJ in the same edition, Michael Holliday and the Brook Brothers.

On May 12, in addition to Adams Faith and Marty Wilde, other guests will be Eddie Calvert, The Springfields, Kenny Lynch, Dave Carey and newcomer Christine Campbell.

Mark Wynter appears on May 26, along with the Temperance Seven.

DJ in BBC's 'Suspense'

D'ALAN FREEMAN is to appear in the second of BBC-TV's "Suspense" drama series on Monday, May 7. The episode is called "Time To Kill," and is a story about a pop singer.

Duffy Power tops bill

DUFFY POWER will top the bill at a beat concert at the Regal, Alderley Edge, near Manchester on May 25. Also appearing will be Julian Scott, Dean Webb and Bobby Shaw.

More for Lee Lewis tour

LATEST names to join the Jerry Lee Lewis package, which opens in Newcastle on April 28, are Buddy Britton and the Regents, and Danny Storm and the Strollers.

IMPORTANT TO ALL DEALERS

CBS RECORDS CAN ONLY BE ORDERED FROM PHILIPS DEPOTS

Order from your nearest Philips Depot STOCKS OF CBS RECORDS ARE AVAILABLE NOW

LONDON

Beddington Farm Road,
Purley Way, Croydon,
Surrey, P.O. Box No. 90
Tel: CROYDON 7766

LEEDS

100 Huddersfield Lane,
Leeds 10.
P.O. Box No. 37
Tel: LEEDS 21694

BIRMINGHAM

Fleetgate Street,
Birmingham 5.
P.O. Box No. 131
Tel: MIDLAND 8411

GET THESE RECORDS NOW

BING CROSBY with Joan Collins

LET'S NOT BE SENSIBLE
(from the film "The Road to Rio")

45 rpm 7" Decca

Eddy Arnold

15/WCA-1226
ECA VICTOR

CRICKETED TNT PANTS E SMALL FRY

LOVE LETTERS

KETTY LESTER

15-BLM 8207 London

DECCA

LONDON

45 rpm records

Brunswick

MONARCH GROUP

The Decca Record
Company Ltd.
Decca House
Albert Embankment
London SE1

DON NICHOLL reviews the latest singles

This can't fail to be a very big hit for Faith

ADAM FAITH

As You Like It: Face To Face (Parlophone R 4598)

D
N
T
TWO more Johnny & Worth songs for Faith to sing, and they'll fit into her repertoire—surely—for sure. "As You Like It" is a good change of pace for the star. It starts out quickly and easily with a neat lyric allied to the infectious melody line.

Faith registers as effectively as another big hit with "Let's Talk About Love."

HELEN SHAPIRO

NEW TO YOU

Film gets Rey off to a good start

Rey Anton
'As If I Care'

LAST week, in more than 800 cinemas throughout Britain, All Pathé showed a short film they had made of window cleaner turned singer Rey Anton, a 21-year-old from Battersea, whose first disc is released this week.

Born and educated in London, Rey didn't start singing because he had a background, but from a young boy he was determined to sing. When he left school he became a window cleaner, but soon ambition got the better of him, and he surrendered his leather to take over his first singing job at Churchill's club in Battersea.

He was a great success, and followed up with a variety, appearing on bills with Matt Monro and Jimmy Wheeler.

Later on, he branched out into television and films.

Quite recently, Rey caught the eye of DISC photographer Richi Howell, who introduced him to John Schroeder, who immediately signed him to Oracle.

Brian Poole
'Twist Little Sister'

BRIAN POOLE, the 20-year-old singer who makes his bow on Decca with "Twist Little Sister," owes his recording contract to a new pair of glasses!

Brian, a butcher's delivery boy, stopped off at his optician's to pick up a new pair of specs, and while there was introduced to Decca A and R man Mike Smith—Brian's optician was a great beat fan and purposely arranged the meeting.

Brian was born in Barking, Essex, and where he was at school he was very keen on sport, especially on tennis, and at 18 was given a trial for West Ham United.

He has been interested in music for many years, but studied the piano and is the leader of a local rock group, The Treecoles, a six-piece combo with whom he is the vocal.

Irving Davies
'The Method'

HAVING already broken into film and the theatre with outstanding success, Irving Davies has at least realized his cherished ambition to sing on disc.

The result is "The Method," a dance he devised as a satire on the Method school of acting, with lyrics written by Peter Ling and Hazel Astair, co-writer of the BBC's "Companions" programme.

REY ANTON

Irving, son of a South Wales tailor, broke into show business at 16, working as a bus boy and later on made his film debut as Gene Kelly's costar in "Invitation to the Dance."

He made his theatre bow in New York, appearing on Broadway with Joyce Grenfell.

Now one of TV's top dancers and choreographers, Irving recently costarred with Ted Heath in "Big Band Concert," the BBC TV entry for this year's Montreal Festival.

Ian Vint
'Cry Baby'

IT was because he appeared as a "goat pig" in a recent ATV presentation of "The Time, The Place and the Camera," that 15-year-old Ian Vint secured himself a contract with Columbia.

In the programme, he was seen modelling for Noelle Parham and Bernard Braden. Parham said that he was impressed with Ian's voice, and in fact, by the time the sequence was shown he had auditioned Ian again and signed him up.

Ian is still at school in Corby, Northants, where he was born, and when he has taken his GCE 'O' levels he goes into a summer school at Blackpool with Tommy Trinder.

In 1959 he won a talent contest in Blackpool, and later appeared in "Mother Goose" during his Christmas holidays. His break to appear in "The Time, The Place and the Camera" came while he was singing at Skegness. He was spotted by a scout from ATV.

JUNE HARRIS

ever, while John Barry keeps the orchestral accompaniment dancing lightly in character.

"Face To Face" is a smart title for Faith—and the television theme is worked out skilfully in the lyrics. The beat will appeal on this half, and Faith's performance shines brighter by virtue of the good studio sound which has been achieved.

BOBBY DAREN
What I Say; Ain't That Love (London HK 5549)

D
N
T
DAREN's treatment of the Ray Charles composition "What'd I Say" is a winner, that's what I'd say. He may not be a first-class beat barker for four minutes of consecutive rhythms.

Get the group closer. In for the latter part of the side to add some variety, for then you're won, anyway. Ray himself ought to applaud this one.

Anybody complaining about the brief running time of current pops will certainly be pleased to note this coupling. "Ain't That Love," a steady rhythm 'n' blues offering, runs for three minutes on the second side.

Altogether there's seven minutes three seconds of playing time on this single.

HELEN SHAPIRO
Let's Talk About Love; Sometimes Yesterday (Columbia DB 4524)

D
N
T
A NOTHER disc from the picture "It's Just Dad," Helen sings a Noelle Parham-Nancy Lewis composition "Let's Talk About Love," and sounds no different about walking into the hit parade again.

The song's a frosty leather which she handles in her deepest tones. Noelle provides the orchestral backing, using vocal group too.

Clive Westlake wrote "Sometimes Yesterday," the Latin blues which makes the turnover. A pleasing ballad which will have its fans in plenty.

JOHN D. LOUDERMILK
They Shall Not Steal; Master Jones (RCA 1287)

HAVING succeeded as a singer with his "Language Of Love" recording, Loudermilk tries again with one of his own compositions.

They Shall Not Steal is a doozy number with a good sort of flavour about it. It is commercial—though not very attractive—as "Language Of Love" and will probably sell well enough.

Loudermilk himself is submerged in a male group effect for most of the performance, however.

There is a slight return to the movement of the country and western song Master Jones. Loudermilk has a better stage this time and makes the most of the lyrics.

JIMMY CURTISS
Five Smooth Stones; You Got What I Like (Warner Bros. WB 6464)*

FIVE SMOOTH STONES is a modern version of the David-and-Goliath story. May possibly offend some people, but there's no real need to take exception. Jimmy Curtiss sings the story clearly, and well to a fitting tune.

You Got What I Like is a straight rocker which Curtiss carries rather too much of times—while the orchestra singles away without much originality.

JERRY LORDAN
Our Good Solid 24 Carat Reasons (Parlophone R 4502)

JERRY LORDAN sings one of his own songs again. One Good Solid 24 Carat Reasons deserves sales if only because it gets out of the current rut.

Jerry's written himself a tricky better to put over. And he puts it over firmly to a big Bill Shepherd accompaniment. Fact that it's not too easy for customers to sing for themselves may be against it however.

Second Hand Dream is a whistled, lost-love ballad which Jerry sings sincerely and comfortably. This one could grow on you.

BOBBY GREGG
The Jam (I and II) (Columbia DB 4525)

BOBBY GREGG and "His Friends" play the leader's own composition. The Jam is a song that's won over two sides of this release.

Organ, guitar, sax and drums form the dominant noise here with the sax laughing away in what may be intended as motor horn honking (presuming this is meant for a traffic jam).

A gutsy instrumental production with plenty of noise to rock the wildest juke corners.

IAN VINT
Cry, Baby! Someone I'd Rather Forget (Columbia DB 4526)

IAN VINT sounds rather oddly when he's trying to spot some more notes. The arrangement, "Cry, Baby," could be commercial I suppose, but the oh-oh-ing arrangement rather got on my nerves I'm afraid.

There's an awful lot of weee-woo-oh-oh all about this one. Charles Blackwell directs the backing for that half... Noelle Parham lays down the best for "Someone I'd Rather Forget." Lyric here has been crammed into the melody so tightly at places it's almost impossible to sing well.

WANDA JACKSON
I Cry Every Time You Hurt Me; Let My Love Walk In (Capitol CL 1524)

THISSE country and western stars certainly spread their wings around—it's a wonder the Southland isn't flooded by now.

Miss Jackson follows the soulful pattern with her rippled ballad here which she sings to rhythm and flying strings.

The second half—Let My Love Walk In—perks the coupling up a trifle. Wanda chants this one with some gospel influences at work in the treatment. Chorus chant along with her.

THE HIGHWAYMEN
I'm On My Way; Whiskey In The Jar (Capitol CL 1525)

NOTHER good, forceful folksong from The Highwaymen. Dave Fisher has arranged and adapted these numbers. Of the two, Fix On My Way stands the better chance of reaching the sellers. Has a steady pace and a clear vocal sound that's completely uncluttered.

Whiskey In The Jar bounces more merrily and will raise a few smiles.

THE ALEXANDER BROTHERS
The Law Of Na-Artard; A Man's A Man (Pye N 1543)

THIS Alexander Brothers made their debut for Pye with a long-player. Now on singles they bring their Scottish sound to the stirring "North Of The Border" marcher The Law Of Na-Artard.

Vocal solo of "A Man's A Man" is not very effective, though the rock 'n' roll tone could be turned into something of a seller.

IAIN GREGORY
Mr. Leibnitz; Pocketful Of Dreams (And Pye Tull Of Tears) (Pye N 1545)

ROBERT DUKE (aka Mr. Leibnitz) sings simply for Iain Gregory for this RGM production. Double tracking to a dancing Charles Blackwell accompaniment, Gregory could catch up on the sales he unwarrantably missed last time out.

For the turnover, Pocketful Of Dreams And Pye Tull Of Tears is sung by Gregory complete with Adam Faith-like pronunciation.

LAURIE JOHNSON
Orchestra (A Perlon Special) (Stock Or Twid) (Pye N 15426)

LAURIE JOHNSON knocks the Palm Court out of Kestely's famous In A Person's Mind for this release. The band underneath wings it in the modern manner with plenty of brass shouting the familiar phrases.

Strong rhythmic section is at work too for this arrangement, with bass too far out above the thudding rhythm and the interminable test six.

ORCHESTRA DEL ORO
Headin' Home; Yes, Oh Yes (Pye International N 25134)

THESSE sides for the Orchestra Del Oro were arranged by Don Costa. Mr. Costa also wrote the melodies. Headin' Home is a steady rocker given a lush treatment.

Stringing all out above the thudding rhythm and the interminable test six.

TAD AND THE SMALL FRY
Checkered Continental Party; Pretty Blue Jean Baby (London HLU 9542)

CHECKERED CONTINENTAL PARTY is a team best known with such songs as "Viva Rocka" thrown in with the familiar rocking instrumental group sound. There's a steady presentation of the song too, by the pastimes known as Lad.

Pretty Blue Jean Baby is a much slower, soft, rocking ballad which the leader sings slightly—almost a lullaby-rock effort.

THE SPRINGFIELDS
Silver Threads And Golden Needles; Aunt Rhody (Philips PH 1541)

FOlk a moment or two I had the pleasure of hearing them sing.

Stick Or Twid will delight

dancers. A big powerful beat production that rigs up its pants to the balloon.

JIMMY ROSELLI
The Sheik Of Araby; A Fool Is Love (Pye International N 25134)

JIMMY ROSELLI goes jazzily comfortably into this revival of The Sheik Of Araby with some of it reminiscent of Dioris's swinging "Mack The Knife" performance.

George Siravo conducts the big band accompaniment.

Roselli has a strong voice and his style is one which takes us back some years, yet he could still find plenty of fans at the present time. He puts over the sad A Fool Is Love ballad with unashamed sentiment for the second side.

RONNIE HALL
My Very Fleet Lovel; The Day After Forever (Pye International N 2509)

AND DODINELL'S music for the new film The Waltz Of The Toreadors is played by the Pinewood Studio Orchestra under Ken Jones' direction. A velvety waltz with visions of drapes and can-can all over it. The mood seems but—I've heard the team do much better for themselves.

The old Aunt Rhody is whipped up in brisk fashion by the group for the second half of the release and I like the break into Latin. An enjoyable arrangement.

PINEWOOD STUDIO

Waltz Of The Toreadors; Picture

Paragon's It's 4900

AND DODINELL'S music for the new film The Waltz Of The Toreadors is played by the Pinewood Studio Orchestra under Ken Jones' direction. A velvety waltz with visions of drapes and can-can all over it. The mood seems likeable—and one which might well edge its way up to big sales.

The Day After Forever (by Ornade and Newell) is a more gracious ballad in the romantic vein. Ronnie Hall could perhaps do with a little more warmth in his performance. Otherwise a pleasant ballad.

JOE HENDERSON
Rickshaw; Beach Ball (Parlophone R 4542)

THIS EMI group is certainly not short of promise. Joe Henderson plays his own Rickshaw composition and his line will not be disappointed. A middle-paced solo with excellent accents of course.

A swingy little item takes by Joe to a good orchestral bucking from Good Lovell.

Another Henderson original, Beach Ball, takes us into Latin sunshine for a holiday special.

Pretty and simple at the same time with strings strumming along behind the piano.

ORCHESTRA DEL ORO
Headin' Home; Yes, Oh Yes (Pye International N 25134)

THESSE sides for the Orchestra Del Oro were arranged by Don Costa. Mr. Costa also wrote the melodies. Headin' Home is a steady rocker given a lush treatment.

Strings all out above the thudding rhythm and the interminable test six.

YES, OH YES is a dragging beat tune for contrast and Costa adds a male group humming and oh-oh-ing to his big orchestral sound.

TAD AND THE SMALL FRY
Checkered Continental Party; Pretty Blue Jean Baby (London HLU 9542)

CHECKERED CONTINENTAL PARTY is a team best known with such songs as "Viva Rocka" thrown in with the familiar rocking instrumental group sound. There's a steady presentation of the song too, by the pastimes known as Lad.

Pretty Blue Jean Baby is a much slower, soft, rocking ballad which the leader sings slightly—almost a lullaby-rock effort.

THE SPRINGFIELDS
Silver Threads And Golden Needles; Aunt Rhody (Philips PH 1541)

FOlk a moment or two I had the pleasure of hearing them sing.

Stick Or Twid will delight

dancers. A big powerful beat production that rigs up its pants to the balloon.

JIMMY ROSELLI
The Sheik Of Araby; A Fool Is Love (Pye International N 25134)

JIMMY ROSELLI goes jazzily comfortably into this revival of The Sheik Of Araby with some of it reminiscent of Dioris's swinging "Mack The Knife" performance.

George Siravo conducts the big band accompaniment.

Roselli has a strong voice and his style is one which takes us back some years, yet he could still find plenty of fans at the present time. He puts over the sad A Fool Is Love ballad with unashamed sentiment for the second side.

RONNIE HALL
My Very Fleet Lovel; The Day After Forever (Pye International N 2509)

AND DODINELL'S music for the new film The Waltz Of The Toreadors is played by the Pinewood Studio Orchestra under Ken Jones' direction. A velvety waltz with visions of drapes and can-can all over it. The mood seems but—I've heard the team do much better for themselves.

The old Aunt Rhody is whipped up in brisk fashion by the group for the second half of the release and I like the break into Latin. An enjoyable arrangement.

PINEWOOD STUDIO

Waltz Of The Toreadors; Picture

Paragon's It's 4900

AND DODINELL'S music for the new film The Waltz Of The Toreadors is played by the Pinewood Studio Orchestra under Ken Jones' direction. A velvety waltz with visions of drapes and can-can all over it. The mood seems but—I've heard the team do much better for themselves.

The old Aunt Rhody is whipped up in brisk fashion by the group for the second half of the release and I like the break into Latin. An enjoyable arrangement.

PINEWOOD STUDIO

Waltz Of The Toreadors; Picture

Paragon's It's 4900

AND DODINELL'S music for the new film The Waltz Of The Toreadors is played by the Pinewood Studio Orchestra under Ken Jones' direction. A velvety waltz with visions of drapes and can-can all over it. The mood seems but—I've heard the team do much better for themselves.

The old Aunt Rhody is whipped up in brisk fashion by the group for the second half of the release and I like the break into Latin. An enjoyable arrangement.

PINEWOOD STUDIO

Waltz Of The Toreadors; Picture

Paragon's It's 4900

AND DODINELL'S music for the new film The Waltz Of The Toreadors is played by the Pinewood Studio Orchestra under Ken Jones' direction. A velvety waltz with visions of drapes and can-can all over it. The mood seems but—I've heard the team do much better for themselves.

The old Aunt Rhody is whipped up in brisk fashion by the group for the second half of the release and I like the break into Latin. An enjoyable arrangement.

PINEWOOD STUDIO

Waltz Of The Toreadors; Picture

Paragon's It's 4900

AND DODINELL'S music for the new film The Waltz Of The Toreadors is played by the Pinewood Studio Orchestra under Ken Jones' direction. A velvety waltz with visions of drapes and can-can all over it. The mood seems but—I've heard the team do much better for themselves.

The old Aunt Rhody is whipped up in brisk fashion by the group for the second half of the release and I like the break into Latin. An enjoyable arrangement.

PINEWOOD STUDIO

Waltz Of The Toreadors; Picture

Paragon's It's 4900

AND DODINELL'S music for the new film The Waltz Of The Toreadors is played by the Pinewood Studio Orchestra under Ken Jones' direction. A velvety waltz with visions of drapes and can-can all over it. The mood seems but—I've heard the team do much better for themselves.

The old Aunt Rhody is whipped up in brisk fashion by the group for the second half of the release and I like the break into Latin. An enjoyable arrangement.

PINEWOOD STUDIO

Waltz Of The Toreadors; Picture

Paragon's It's 4900

AND DODINELL'S music for the new film The Waltz Of The Toreadors is played by the Pinewood Studio Orchestra under Ken Jones' direction. A velvety waltz with visions of drapes and can-can all over it. The mood seems but—I've heard the team do much better for themselves.

The old Aunt Rhody is whipped up in brisk fashion by the group for the second half of the release and I like the break into Latin. An enjoyable arrangement.

PINEWOOD STUDIO

Waltz Of The Toreadors; Picture

Paragon's It's 4900

AND DODINELL'S music for the new film The Waltz Of The Toreadors is played by the Pinewood Studio Orchestra under Ken Jones' direction. A velvety waltz with visions of drapes and can-can all over it. The mood seems but—I've heard the team do much better for themselves.

The old Aunt Rhody is whipped up in brisk fashion by the group for the second half of the release and I like the break into Latin. An enjoyable arrangement.

PINEWOOD STUDIO

Waltz

EPs reviewed by NIGEL HUNTER

Piltdown's rock is some of the best I've heard

EP OF THE MONTH

THE PILTDOWN MEN

Piltdown Rides Again
Piltdown Rides Again: McDonald's Cave, Brontosaurus Stomp, Bubble In The Tropics

(Capitol EAP 1-2015) ****

The exact identity of this powerful beat group is still a mystery, but it appears to be a bunch of top session musicians on the West Coast. If so, they thoroughly deserve the aeronautic and cockatoo pretensions that professional musicians can't play beat music successfully.

The Piltdowners belt their way through these four in fine fettle, helped by an appropriate cavernous and echoing studio sound.

Parades will bleach at what happens to Rodger's "William Tell Overture" in the title tune, but I must confess to enjoying some of the more hokum-clad scenes set up in this way.

The other three are all reverberant presentations which match up to the best of anything I've heard in the rock idiom so far. In addition, there's a thread of humour and mischief in the group's name and arrangements which enhance their appeal.

SEMPRINI

Piano Music You Love (No. 19)
To The Spring (Grieg); Look Is The Clear Air Waltz No. 3; In A Minor, Op. 14 (Copell); Tango

(Columbia SEG 5149) ****

This popular pianist is working through a very acceptable EP set of light classics which comes as a pleasant change and tonic amidst the usual run of pop discs.

Soprano solo, in the first and third titles, Fox, Lark (the featured variety, of course) he is accompanied by Frank Codd's orchestra, and the New Abbey Light Symphony Orchestra back him in Tango.

Quiet and intelligent entertainment, and an ideal gift for Mums and Dads who like the more high-brow type of pastimes.

THE SHADOWS

Shadowland: Nirvana; Baby My Heart; See You In My Dreams (Columbia SEG 5148) ****

FOUR extracts from the boys' first LP, and offering good variety. There's the familiar electronic and beat-pounding in Shadowland; some clean and catchy work bordering on jazz in Nirvana, during which Brian, the lead singer, stands on his head; passable screeching in Baby, and a sickly display by Tony Meehan in See You which shows again what an able and talented drummer beat music lost when he joined the Decca A and R team.

Needless to say, a cert for Shadow fans who don't already own the LP, and worth the attention of any others who have been won over by the group's ability outside the big beat arena.

SHIRLEY BASSEY

Shirley On... 30
There Will Never Be Another Year; If I Were A Bell; Every Time We Say Goodbye

(Columbia SEG 5149) ****

In vocal terms you can fault Shirley a lot in this set as in others, but in terms of sheer vocal power and sincerity of purpose, you can't complain.

Geoff Love and his orchestra provide some typically distinctive accompaniments in another first-rate Harry selection, which is rendered somewhat unconvincing by the fact that Side 2 has only one song which is not particularly long.

THE TEMPLE CHURCH CHOIR

Facsimile Hymns From The Temple Church

The Lord's My Shepherd; The Day Thou Gavest; All People That On Earth Do Dwell Now Thank We Our God

(HMV 7 EG 5134) ****

NOT pop music in the normal sense of the description, of course, but with a most welcome modification. Added by the impressive acoustics of the Temple Church to be a cross between Maygar and the current Vienna.

SEMPRINI . . . ideal for those who enjoy more high-brow pastimes. (DISC Fix)

ADAM FAITH with MD John Barry. They've cut another hit with a Johnny Worth song.

DISC DATE

Picture Parade is a well-known signature tune. No doubt there'll be custom for it from those people who wonder what happens after it's usually faded out on the air.

DAVID WHITFIELD
As Long As You Love Me Impossible

(HMV POP 1015) ***

A N suspicious debut for EMI by Whitfield. He sings a Mediterranean-flavoured melody to which Norman Newell has set a simple romantic lyric which matches very well indeed.

All the necessary Whitfield ingredients are present—and he can belt to his heart's content. The large accompaniment is by Harry Robinson, organ, and the Michael Somers Singers.

Watch this one—it could find its way to the Twenty.

Impossible is a quieter, skip-along ballad for contrast, though there are still opportunities for David to open up at full-blare.

THE ALBERTS
Sheep's Crop Code Melody
(Pathéphone R 4051) **

VOCAL Refrain by Prof. Bruce Lacey—it says on the label. It also says: "Mind-bent by Tommy Ward." So you'd better laugh because it seems to be funny.

Sleepy Valley is a rather heavy-handed combination of vocal humour and extraneous instrumental jokes. It's not for me, I'm afraid, but I know there'll be plenty who will enjoy this sort of fun.

Moose Code Melody is a tuneful skit which did raise a grin or two from me. Mainly because I'm suspecting it to be a burlesque of the Temperance Seven, which is rather like looking through a mirror into a mirror if you know what I mean.

BILLY VAUGHN
Chapel By The Sea (Love's Guitar)

(London HLP 7010) ***

THE BILLY VAUGHN ORCHESTRA Playing Chapel By The Sea is as smooth and jolly as ever, though organ solos, and the saxophones, of course, combine to make a very smooth melodic production. There's a chorus crooning too.

Love's Guitar has the sex sound too, as well as the solo guitar which carries out the romance theme of the title.

IRVING DAVIES
The Method (A.B.C. The Method)

(Decca F 11455) ***

DANCER Davies makes his first song disc with the number which was designed for the dance he created.

The Method certainly makes a lively, twit-trat-side-and-plenty-of-cowboy illustrations, have been woven around Irving as he sings. Voice itself is stronger and better than I'd expected. Could go on to happy tales.

A.R.C. The Method has a neat lyric idea . . . here you're supposed to act out the alphabet. A is for ACKER and Tread . . . etc.

BRIAN POOLE
Twist Little Sister Lost Love

(Decca F 11455) ***

WITH his rock 'n' roll quintet The Twisters, Brian Poole makes a solid disc, albeit churning Twist Little Sister. He has a steady sufficient style which could help to collect steady sales.

When he gathers a little more groove personality he should find himself among the big ones.

Last Love is a gatherer, under dramatic rumour, which is sung to a Latin beat with an odd tempo switch that will either appeal or annoy.

Contd. from page 8

Leyton isn't racing so fast on this one as he usually has to be. Accompaniment is skillfully directed by Charles Blackwell.

H. WOULD BE may almost fit into the C. and W. field, a very simple and tuneful ballad which Leyton sings ably.

REY ANTON
As If I Care After The Laughter Came Tears

(Odeon CB 1722) ***

TEPPER-BENNETT compilation As If I Care provides Rey Anton with his British disc debut and he could make it to big sales. Rey's a London 21-year-old with a good, distinctive voice—husky and manly.

He follows a happy easy-rocking beat for this performance and receives due support from the big band directed by Mick Cheneau.

Same composers for the carol—After The Laughter Came Tears. A pleasant shuffling melody with commercial lyrics—and again a smooth performance from Mr. Rey.

There's a personality here, and that's something which promises a long successful disc career.

BURL IVES
Funny Way Of Laughin'; Mother Wouldn't Do That

(Mercury O 5865) ***

ANOTHER country and western single from Mr. Ives. Concerns another tiny bit of tear, though this time Burl calls it his Funny Way Of Laughin'. A very jolting number which the star performs with expected skill.

Simple rhythm and vocal group accompaniment will help it to become another high seller.

Mother Wouldn't Do That is a short, folksy country spot which has considerable charm and will get under your skin. Apart from vocal over-work, there's some attractive country piano to be heard as well.

BRIAN WESKE
In The Mind Of A Crowd; All Mine Alone

(Odeon CB 1723) ***

ACTOR Brian Weske turns his attention to disc with a couple of his own compositions. The first, In The Mind Of A Crowd, is simple, rambunctious, balled song, nicely orchestrated and vocalised, directed by Frank Barber. Nice—but there could have been more impact from Mr. Weske.

All Mine Alone has a much more exciting feeling about it. A rapid, dramatic, balled with tempo and tone contrasting strongly with the simple love lyric.

Weske tends to be submerged somewhat by the powerful orchestral and girl group accompaniment.

REN E. KING
The Hermit Of Misty Mountain; Don't Play That Song

(London HKL 9344) ***

NOT a very commercial title. The Hermit Of Misty Mountain, but go gosh this is a poem! A dark, moody ballad with rhythm a' bustin' out all over. It's been sold superbly by Ren E. King.

It's quite a let-down high with this one, despite the fact that he's had sales luck generally over here. Stick band backing includes some nice-tugging piano sound.

Don't Play That Song should sell too. A dragging beat shouter which King backs plaintively with some girl group assistance.

where this EP was recorded. The choir sings those four familiar hymns with pure and simple artistry.

ELLA FITZGERALD

Sings Gershwin (No. 4)

A Foggy Day; Strike Up The Band; Body And Soul; My True Love; Oh, You'll Be Sorry

(HMV 7 EG 5750) ***

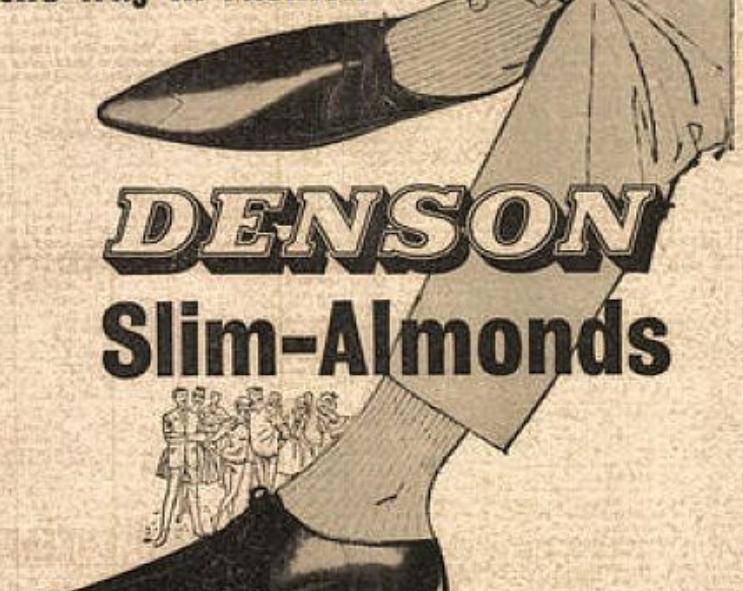

FOUR more Gershwin songs from the '30s included in Ella's Gershwin songbook LP album and now on EP.

Once again Ella's artistry, coupled with the arrange skill of accompanying MD Nelson Riddle, produce a disc-like set of classic pop songs.

Strike Up The Band in particular is a triumph for the Fitzgerald-Riddle partnership.

For the man who leads the way in fashion

THE SHOES TO KEEP YOU
 RIGHT ON YOUR TOES

Sleek...streamlined...neatly shaped at the toe. In smooth or grained leather or soft rich suede. In black, brown, sherry red, or shaded tones. 52/6 to 69/11. (Illustrated above style No. 5124). For a brochure showing all the Denison styles (and where to buy them) send a postcard today to (D.S.), D. Senker & Son Ltd., Kingsland Road, London, E.2.

'SELF-SELECTION OF ALL THE LATEST STYLES AT DENISON FASHION SHOE CENTRES'

JAZZ MOD

REVIEWS BY TONY HALL

Acker with strings? To be frank, I like it

TRAD

ACKER BILK

Stranger On The Shore
Moss To My Green sleeves; Take My Lips; Sentimental Journey;
Nobody Knows Is This The Place? Can't Get Started; Caravan Moon.

(Columbia 33X 1407)**

THOSE strings! Well, why not? After all, we've had Parker with strings, Gillespie with strings, Shavers with strings.

Acker is an excellent clarinet player. In the days when I consistently passed his band, that is up to two years ago, I invariably pointed out Acker's musicianship as a high spot.

The style is not one I admire. George Lewis and his host of copycats have taken the clarinet on the wrong course in jazz. The true spirit that was Creole, Coon, Nootie, Nicholas, Simeon, Dorelli, Howard, and the Moon-men Johnny Dodds, the sentimental approach of the Lewis brigade somehow seems all wrong to me.

But then, of course, that way of playing suits this LP. And you must accept the fact that it is here. There are some people who produce jazz no matter what they play. Louis, Bechet, Parker, and most certainly Acker Bilk.

At the risk of shocking the other critics of among the popular, of bewitching the know-all, the page-holders of jazz, let's just say that I liked this record very much, and that I think there's more jazz in it than meets the ear.

MAHALIA JACKSON

Always Look Up Trouble; Somebody Bigger Than You And I; Always Look Up;
I'm Grateful.

(Philips BBE 125184)

MAHALIA JACKSON's singing is an moving as ever, whether you've got religion or not. But why, oh why, do we have to have those backings? They're getting sloppily managed to sound more like an organ than the voices of human beings.

First it was a choir . . . then a choir and a piano . . . then an orchestra . . . Now we've got an Albert Sandler type of violinist intruding (that's the only word) at all possible moments.

"The Last Train Court-martialed," it's another Albert Sandler piece of nonsense.

Let's have Mahalia with some solid handclapping, shouting if you like, and best piano, organ or guitar. Or has anyone thought of a jazz hand-bassing?

Somebody Bigger Than You And I, to quote from one of the titles, obviously thinks that religious music must have heavenly choir to make it so.

That somebody needs to know something of the history of jazz, needs to hear some real spirituals sung in a church in the Deep South. Then see if he thinks all that clutter improves the music.

JIMMY WITHERSPOON
All That's Good; Then The Lights
Go Out.

(Vogue 45V 2420)**

I LIKE Witherspoon's singing, but wasn't struck by the treatment given the songs by him and the accompanying group.

All That's Good has also appeared by Witherspoon under a different title. It's a pleasant Milt-type composition her colleagues from a vocal group which occurs those backings? They're getting sloppily managed to sound more like an organ than the voices of human beings.

I am constantly amazed by the manner in which composers are determined to take their best artists. Singers like Witherspoon, the Kansas City-influenced blues shouters, get to very well with handclapping, shouting by small groups. And I mean just that and no additions. For what the vocal group does, as far as we have stopped at home.

Then The Lights Go Out isn't such a good tune, but the simplicity of the backing helps sell the record to this reviewer.

DON EWELL with DARNELL
HOWARD and MINOR HALL and POPS FOSTER and Miss Heri Plays The Piano.(Everybody Likes My Baby; Blue

Turned Grey Over You; Am I
Blue; Frisco Rider; You're Driving
Me Crazy; Green Swamp; I Want
A Little Girl; My Home Is In A Southern Town; Save It Pretty Mama; Keeps' Out Of Minnie's
Now).

(Good Time Jazz

LAG 12291)**

This whole of jazz is here, in the few grooves of a 12-inch record, played by four experts.

Darnell Howard should be well known to the many jazz fans for his work with the Kai Ory bands over the years. He has been playing jazz, however, since way back in the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

In the early 20s when he joined the King Oliver Band.

Though billed as the Don Ewell Quartet, Howard is the star of the show and, his neat, sprightly clarinet similar to that of Albert Nicholas and at times Edmund Hall, is superb.

Ewell plays swinging, ragtime-based piano, a perfect foil at all times for the clarinetist's phrases.

Backed by drummer Minor Hall and Pops Foster, another veteran of the Oliver Luis Russell days, the group turns in some of the finest small band jazz it's been my privilege and joy to hear the last few years.

TRAD JAZZ NEWS

Temps go dancing

by Owen Bryce

(b). Dave Moody (bj), and Bill Lothian (ds).

Last year they did three months in Germany and have been re-booked for October, November and December of this year.

On June 4 they play the Hammarish Jazz Band Ball.

* * *

LEW HIRD used to lead the Melbourne Jazz Band on trombone before they left for Britain. At a party in Melbourne he met Pamela Hird sitting in on trumpet. Followed marriage, a new band, and residence in England. Now Pamela Hird leads the band.

They can be heard at the Colyer Club on April 27. During May they have dates at Bexton, Epping, Hampton Court, Braintree, Southampton and Stafford.

A band with a girl trumpeter is something of a novelty. I haven't heard them but have been told they're worth a listen.

* * *

APRIIL turned out to be a Scottish month for jazz shows with no less than 15 "across-the-border" bands featured in the first 20 days.

The trend continues during May with five dates for Alex Welsh, two for the Black O' Town Sycophants, two for Fannie Cairns and one for the Clydes.

Kenny Ball, away for the whole of the month, has as his deps Monty Sunshine (7 and 14), Acker Bilk (23) and Bruce Turner (21).

* * *

FOLLOWING the Elsdon Band's tracks on the Decca "Trad Scene Today" LP, Alan has now signed a 12-month contract with the Decca company with the option to renew for a further two years. The first session will feature two Elsdon originals, one probably in "trad-tion" tempo.

On May 7 the band is at Hammarish Palace, on May 12 on "Saturday Club". They have been booked at Coventry's Mercer's Arms Jazz Club for May 18.

* * *

THE East Coast Jazz Band, current Scottish Champion, visit England for the whole of May and June. Their line-up includes three ex-Clyde Valley Stompers, Dean Kerr (tp), Bobby Happell (tb) and Maurice Rose (p). The others are Jim Mooney and the others are Jim Mooney.

* * *

THREE new bands from Scotland are due to appear in England during May. The first is the Edinburgh-based "The Limerick Viscous," which has been signed by the English record company "Mercury" for a tour of the U.S.A. in July.

The second is the Edinburgh-based "The Limerick Viscous," which has been signed by the English record company "Mercury" for a tour of the U.S.A. in July.

The third is the Edinburgh-based "The Limerick Viscous," which has been signed by the English record company "Mercury" for a tour of the U.S.A. in July.

Diah Washington has revisited on her latest single the big Johnnie Ray hit of a few years back, "Such A Night." Of course, it is a twist version with a great backing by Quincy Jones.

Columbia singing star Jerry Lynn Fraser has been signed to co-star with Joey Dee in the forthcoming movie "Two Tickets To Paris."

Warner Brothers threw a disc jockey party in Hollywood for their newly signed folk group Peter, Paul and Mary who have just been called by Life magazine "the fastest rising folk group in the country."

* * *

ONE of the new comedy albums destined to become a big hit I am sure is by Archie Robins on Tribune Records called "Songs My Mother Taught Me When She Thought I Wan't Listening."

Anna Maria Alberghetti is to receive $17,500 per week for her four-week season at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas. Anna at the moment is having a rest from her starring role in the hit Broadway musical

LPs reviewed by NIGEL HUNTER

The cream of pop music, and a joy to hear

ALBUM OF THE MONTH

NAT KING COLE
The Nat King Cole Story

(Vol. 1)

Straighten Up And Fly Right;
Sweet Lorraine; It's Only A Paper Moon; Reasons Why; The Christmas Song;
Nature's Way; Luck; Let's Calloway;
Blue Moon; Li'l Ole; Doin' Calypso Skirt; Too Young;

Capitol W-1-1613, stereo SW 1-1613**

(Vol. 2)

Unforgettable; Somewhere Along The Way; Walk My Baby Back Home; Pretend; Blue Gardenia; I Am In Love; Answer Me, My Love; Breakfast; The Sand And The Sea; If I May; A Blossom Fell;

Capitol W-1-1613, stereo SW 1-1613**

(Vol. 3)

To The Ends Of The Earth; Night Lights; Ballerina; Stardust; Sweet For Me; St. Louis Blues; Lookin' Back; Non-Dissenter; Paradise;

Oh, Mary; Don't You Wrap; Ay, Coto Linda; Wild Is Love;

Capitol W-1-1613, stereo SW 1-1613**

MORE pop music history, spanning the period 1943-1960, and more illustrations recording sessions of voice-recording studio King Cole.

All these records present Nat's hits which he has cut again especially for this anthology of his disc stardom. Some people might have preferred to have heard a collection of the original recordings instead, but at least they are now available with all the refinements and advantages of up-to-date recording techniques, including stereo.

Vol. 1 presents Nat's earliest successes from the days when he was working with his trio, and still playing a lot of piano as well as singing. "Straighten Up," his own composition, was originally cut at his first Capitol session in 1945, and was never a big hit.

The LP also includes the first number he made with orchestral backing, Mel Torme's "Christmas Song," and an item Nat did originally with the Keating band, "Orange Coloured Sky."

Vol. 2, perhaps the most interesting, revives the hits Nat enjoyed in partnership with arranger M.D. Nelson Riddle, covering the years 1951-55, and Vol. 3 brings the Cole story up to date.

All three LPs are a joy to hear, tasteful, polished, and shifted examples of the cream of pop music by one of its most reliable and permanent stars.

EARTHA KITT

Bad, Bad Beautiful

All I Want Is All There Is And Then Some; Please Do It Again; It's So Nice To Have A Man Around The House; La Dolce Vita; Lola Lola; A Lady Lover; Love For Sale; Always True To You In My Fashion; Whatever Lola Wants; Lola Gets; Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend; Never On Sundays Good Little Girls

MG M C 875, stereo CS 600N

A FINE album whose material closely follows a cabaret act which has been recorded lately at the Talk Of The Town.

Earth's timing is spot-on, as always with the point numbers, and her voice positively oozes suggestiveness. That strange high-wailing delivery is unique on record.

Arrangements are by Billy May and Bill Lowe, who also conducts the orchestra. I can easily imagine Earth singing in single and guitar-backed High Noon.

It's pleasantly effective and helps along some good arrangements which are well placed by the orchestra.

THE TOKENS
The Lion Sleeps Tonight
The Wreck Of The John B.; Michael Stewart; Get Down And Boogie; Shadrack; Water Power; Big Beat; Hindi Lament; Tuna; The Riddler; Louisiana Traveler

(RCA RD-27256) ****

THIS folk quartet from Brooklyn certainly put a lot of zest and enthusiasm into their singing, which can best be described as powerhouse folk music.

Personally I prefer a little more subtlety and depth in the folksy fields, but these boys undoubtedly are up to a good thing in commercial terms.

Somewhat lower provides suitable musical orchestral support throughout.

THE ROSENBERG-KRAUSE ORCHESTRA
Hollywood Sound Stage

Flying Down To Rio; Blues In The Night; Never On Sunday; Love Is A Many-Splendored Thing; The Moon Of Mankato; Written On The Wind; Singin' In The Rain; High Noon; Anna; The High And The Mighty; Southland; On The Auction; Topless And The Santa

EARTHA KITT . . . "Bad, Bad Beautiful" is a fine album.

BING CROSBY

Old Masters, Vol. 2
Lady Is The Light Of My Life; What's New; If I Knew Where My Buddy Is; I Ain't Got Nothin'; Mister Meadowlark; Imagination; A Gal In Calico; Big Beautiful; And The Angels Sing; Oh, The Auction; Topless And The Santa

(Ace Of Hearts TEL 171) ****

MORE wonderful vintage Crosby from the years 1939-1947. That mellow, easy, relaxed and sweetly charming vocal manner sings smoothly through a mixed bag songs, even making a dad look good. His "Buddy" sound like something else.

That other great character, songwriter Johnnie Mercer, joins Bing to duet "Mister Meadowlark," like the height of another art of pop music geniuses.

JOHNNY CAGED/MARIE VANDER

French Folks

The Wedding Of The Painted Doll; Nelly; Pardon My French; You Ever; Caruso; What A Difference A Day Makes; Never On Sunday; Dancers In Love; Fascinating Rhythm; Rehearsal; See Antonio Rose; Temptation Rose

(Fontana TEL 5171) ****

AN interesting musical crossover between the Gregory orchestra and French poised Maurice Vander, who flew over to London to cut this set.

It moves through bouncy-tonk, a French and American in smoothly efficient manner to provide pleasant background sounds for parties and conversations, whatever the land or language.

RAY CHARLES & BETTY CARTER

Every Time We Say Goodbye; You And I; Goodbye, We'll Say More; Again; Cocktail; What's New; In Love; Cold, Cold Heart; Baby, It's Cold Outside; Together For All We Know; Take Two To Tango; Alone Together; Just You, Just Me

(HMV CLP 1529, stereo CSD 1414)

HARRY BELAFONTE

Partly given to his bassoon, an instrumental version of the Elvin hit "Good Luck Charm."

Paul Anka is very proud of the fact that he has an oil painting on exhibition at the United Nations in the art show sponsored by the United Nations Children's Fund.

The Tiarins, who had a big hit a few years ago with "The Banana Boat Song" which helped make calypson popular, have been signed to a long contract with Decca. Their latest single is to be out soon called "Last Night I Had A Bad Dream."

Herbie Mann has written the original score at a background to film star Laurence Harvey's reading of Walter Bensett's poem "And This Is My Beloved" on the Atlantic label.

BUTTY CARTER is horribly bad singing by himself, but dueting with Ray Charles there's tolerable. Mr. C. is his usual unique vocal sort, of course, and although much of this set is hardly his R & B meat, he handles the numbers excellently in his own inimitable way.

Marty Paich arranged and directed the backings, which include the Jack Haskins Singers as well as an orchestra featuring Ray's own small group.

Soundest of the set is a wonderful performance of "Baby, It's Cold Outside—the best version of this number I've yet heard."

"FLOWER DRUM SONG"
Original Sound-track Recording (Brunswick LAT 5921) ***

THE sound-track music from the film starring Nancy Kwan, James Shigeta, Miyoshi Umeki and others.

I don't rate this as one of the best results of the Rodgers and Hammerstein partnership, but at least it produced two more good songs in "I Enjoy Being A Girl" and "You Are Beautiful."

Anyway, if you liked the show or film, you're pretty certain to appreciate this LP.

Cable from AMERICA

edited by Maurice Clark

George ("Route 66") Maharis will have one consolation while he is recovering in a Hollywood hospital from hepatitis—his first disc "Teach Me Tonight" has made the absolute lack of racial discrimination, and the light-weight income tax. Nat says he would like to retire shortly but "Mr. Income Tax" would not let him.

Pat Boone has at last been tempted to accept an engagement in Las Vegas. He starts at the Sahara Hotel on July 24. The Sahara is one of the few Vegas night spots that does not have nodes in its floor show.

Henry Mandini became one of Hollywood's rare double Oscar winners when he

After recording the "Jazz Soul Of Dr. Kildare" at a live performance. So great a success was the last live album, that this time the recording took place on April 20 at New York's Manhattan Centre before an audience of 3,000, mainly show business personalities. Mort Lindsey again conducted for Judy and she did 12 songs she had not recorded before.

Atlantic Records have just released a great jazz version of Richard Rodgers' hit musical "No Strings." Vocals are by LaVerne Baker, Chris Connor and Bobby Short.

New artist on the Clash label calls himself Prince Charles. His first single is "Twisting At The Pool" and JUDY GARLAND . . . another live performance LP.

