Some time ago it was announced that we would be featuring, on a regular basis, competitions in LOOK-IN. Next week sees the start of this exciting policy and at least twice a month, a new FREE competition will be featured with new and interesting prizes. As well as toys and games, the prizes will include premium bonds, special attractions for you to win for your parents, and a variety of other items. Special offers will also be featured from time to time when all LOOK-IN readers will be able to purchase certain items at a greatly reduced cost. The only way to make sure of taking part in all the thrilling events lined up for future issues of LOOK-IN is by placing a regular order with your newsagent now. Why not fill in the coupon below and hand it to your newsagent today?

STEW POT'S LOOK-OUT

DO YOU KNOW ONE OF MY FAVOURITE PROGRAMMES ON TELLY? It's on a Saturday morning at eleven o'clock and it's called 'Sesame Street'. It's really meant for tiny-tots, I think, but it has so many funny characters in it, I can never stop laughing. Here's a typical example. There are two monsters (there are loads on the programme) and the first one says to the other: "You wanna play a game? It's just to help us learn to count. I'll start with 'I one a sandbox', then you follow with 'I two a sandbox' — and so on. Okay?"

"Okay!" replies the second monster.

Above: a comical couple of characters who appear each week on Sesame Street.

Then off they go until:

"I six a sandbox," says Number Two.

"I seven a sandbox," says Number One.

"I eight a sandbox," comes the reply.

"You what?" asks Number One.

"I eight a sandbox," repeats Number Two.

"What did it taste like?" comes the final line, (followed by the sound of Stewpot splitting sides with laughter).

See what I mean?

Then there's a record you might have heard me play on the radio, called 'Rubber Ducky'. That was a big hit in America and it may well become one here, too. So don't miss 'Sesame Street' — Stewpot's favourite 'prog'!

'How-To' You Do?

There are some grrrrreat new books out at the moment in the form of a new 'How-To' series. They cost just over one pound each and show you how to 'Watch wildlife', 'Make and fly kites', 'Make things grow' and 'Find out about zoo animals'. They're really good to read—and if YOU want to find out if there's a 'How-To' book for you, look on the back of any one in the range, and there'll be a list of the other 'How-To's'! Excuse me, I think I'm going to sneeze. How-Tchhoo!

Fan Club News!

Not many singers can handle a ballad with the velvet touch of VAL DOONICAN, and his admirers can get in touch with his fan club at: c/o Stardust, 122-124 Regent Street, London W.1. And for fans of THE FACES, the address to write to is: Faces Fan Club, 1st Floor, Adelphi Chambers, 30 Brown Street, Manchester 2.

Just a Joke!

A small boy is watching his father play in goal for a local team. Then, after making a mistake, dad says to his son: "I could kick myself for missing that penalty!"

His son replies: "You'd better let me do it. You'd miss again!"

☆ Thank you, David Gullon of Whitby, Yorkshire, for that joke. I certainly got a kick out of it!

PRETENDERS

Don't miss episode 9 of Pretenders, this week! ★ The famous Battle of Sedgemoor — the final clash between the army of the Duke of Monmouth and King James's men — begins. Shown here, the Duke (far left) talks to Lord Gray, the man who will head his cavalry. But Gray is to make a drastic mistake . . .

... and whether it's with a microphone or paintbrush he does it equally as well. For this versatile entertainer from 'down under' is an artist in both senses of the word! Bearded and bespectacled, Rolf's lightning cartoons and sketches are as much a part of his act as such all-Australian songs as 'Tie Me Kangaroo Down, Sport' and 'Sun Arise'. In fact, so much has art played an important role in his life that he even taught it at one time in his hometown of Perth, Western Australia. And in 1956, some years later, he was selected to exhibit at London's famous Royal Academy! It hardly seems surprising that his Welsh wife, Alwen Hughes, has a keen interest in art and is a sculptress. Where did they first meet? At art school, of course! If you're wondering by now as to how Rolf ever came into show-biz — instead of a life-long career before a canvas — the answer can be found during his >>>>

← early years in Australia.

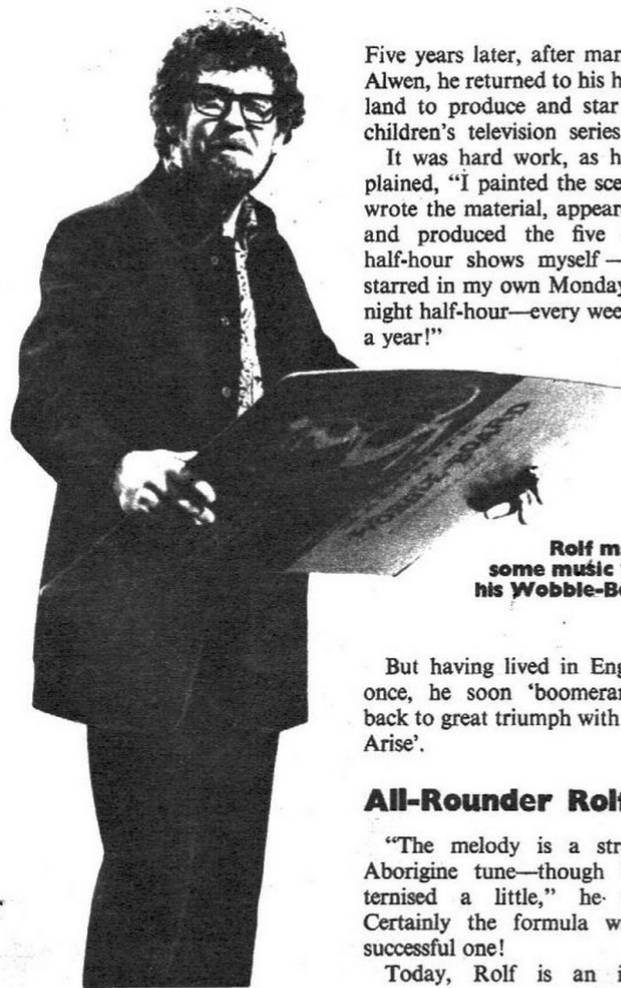

At the same time as he was a school-teacher, he was also playing piano, though mainly for the amusement of his friends. But Rolf had always had an interest in show business, ever since he made his first public appearance as a musician at the age of eleven!

Then he won an Australian-wide amateur radio talent contest and so started to do local radio and theatre dates. Though all the while, he didn't forget his painting.

At twenty-two he arrived in England with his life savings—two-hundred-and-ninety-seven pounds—in his pocket.

His plan? To enrol at art school and pay his way by working his evenings in cabaret.

But his plan worked too well! In 1954, he made his TV debut here as a cartoonist-storyteller.

Five years later, after marrying Alwen, he returned to his homeland to produce and star in a children's television series.

It was hard work, as he explained, "I painted the scenery, wrote the material, appeared in and produced the five daily half-hour shows myself—and starred in my own Monday late night half-hour—every week for a year!"

Rolf makes some music with his Wobble-Board

But having lived in England once, he soon 'boomeranged' back to great triumph with 'Sun Arise'.

All-Rounder Rolf

"The melody is a straight Aborigine tune—though Westernised a little," he said. Certainly the formula was a successful one!

Today, Rolf is an international star, travelling from country to country to entertain his audiences. He is a singer, song-writer, musician, brilliant cartoonist and can sport a laugh without even trying. But of all his activities which does he like the most?

"I enjoy them all equally," came the almost anticipated answer.

Off-stage Rolf loves making things out of papier mâché, is very partial to an Indian curry and goes 'where I'm not known' for his holidays. He also takes trips out to his night club in Malta—though that often means he spends his evenings entertaining.

Even so, he keeps trying different things—and, one day, hopes to make a film: 'not as an actor playing a role, but as myself!' he pointed out.

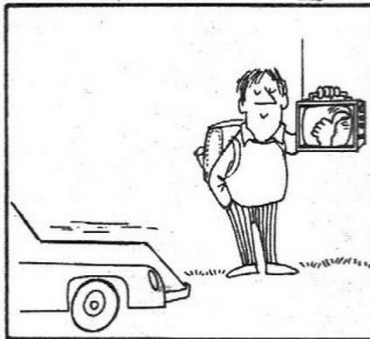

But for the moment he is busy with his new London Weekend Television programmes—seven forty-five minute variety shows—which start this Saturday.

Guest stars include Shirley Bassey, Val Doonican, David Frost and Blue Mink and, as usual, Rolf will be singing and sketching and, no doubt, telling a few funny stories. Why not look in and see?

FISHER SPACE PEN FOR 70p

*****

Because the Fisher Space Pen's sealed, pressurized ink cartridge is the only ballpoint that can write in a gravity-free world, withstand temperatures of 400°F and write at 50°F below zero, it was selected by NASA for all manned Apollo flights including those to the Moon.

The space Pen also writes on Earth! It writes over grease, fingerprints and under water. It even writes upside down.

THE MAGIC OF THE SPACEPEN

*****

1. The Fisher Pressurized Ink Cartridges are hermetically sealed, eliminating all evaporation and back leakage, thereby increasing shelf life from a normal two years to an estimated 100 years.

The sealed ink cartridge is pressurized by nitrogen gas, giving a positive ink feed to the ball. That is why the ink flows uniformly without skipping no matter how fast you write or in what position you hold the pen.

2. Your Fisher Space Pen is unconditionally guaranteed to give you good, satisfactory service here on Earth or in Space. It should write for over 3 miles before requiring a refill—four times longer than most ball pens. With Fisher Space Pen Refills and proper use this pen should last you a lifetime.

The ancient sorcerer goes off the rails—and gets a shock!

CATWEAZLE

Catweazle, the sorcerer from Norman England, is in the twentieth century. Young Joe Bond—son of a stage-magician called 'The Great Bondini'—is hiding him. But on a train journey up to Lincolnshire, Catweazle leaves his converted conjuring cabinet and wreaks havoc in the buffet car...

A HIRE VAN TAKES BONDINI AND HIS EQUIPMENT TO FENBOROUGH, A SMALL TOWN IN THE MARSHES...

WE'LL SHOVE THE PROPS BACKSTAGE BEFORE WE GO ON TO OUR DIGS, JOE!

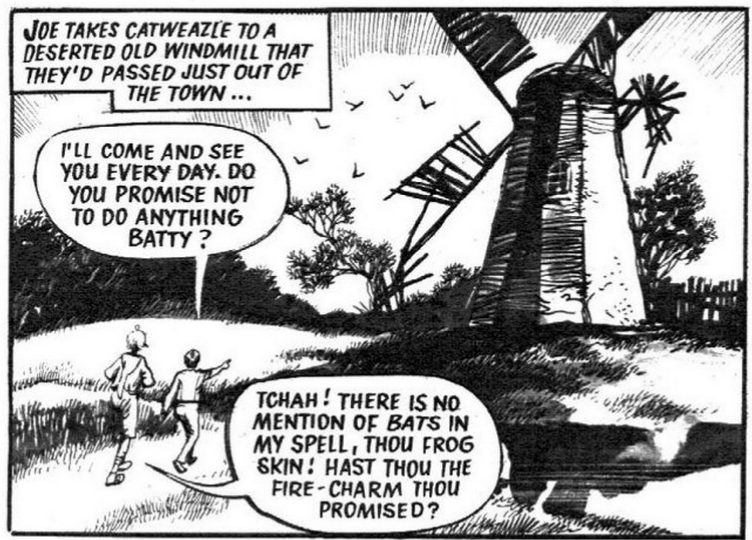

OH, LUMME! YOU WOULD!

AS SOON AS HE'S LEFT ALONE...

COME ON OUT OF IT, CATWEAZLE! I'M AFRAID WE'VE GOT TO FIND YOU ANOTHER HOME FOR A FEW DAYS!

FSST! AND NOT BEFORE TIME, THOU WART! VERILY, 'TIS CRAMPED IN HERE!

JOE TAKES CATWEAZLE TO A DESERTED OLD WINDMILL THAT THEY'D PASSED JUST OUT OF THE TOWN...

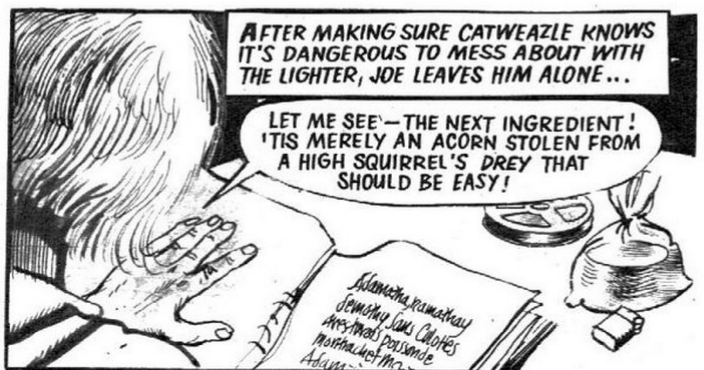

I'LL COME AND SEE YOU EVERY DAY. DO YOU PROMISE NOT TO DO ANYTHING BATTY?

TCHAH! THERE IS NO MENTION OF BATS IN MY SPELL, THOU FROG SKIN! HAST THOU THE FIRE-CHARM THOU PROMISED?

HERE...

AHH... 'TIS WELL, 'TIS WELL...

AFTER MAKING SURE CATWEAZLE KNOWS IT'S DANGEROUS TO MESS ABOUT WITH THE LIGHTER, JOE LEAVES HIM ALONE...

LET ME SEE - THE NEXT INGREDIENT! 'TIS MERELY AN ACORN STOLEN FROM A HIGH SQUIRREL'S DREY THAT SHOULD BE EASY!

THE SPELL WILL ENABLE US TO RETURN, TOUCHWOOD, MY HEART! TO GO BACK TO OUR OWN TIME!

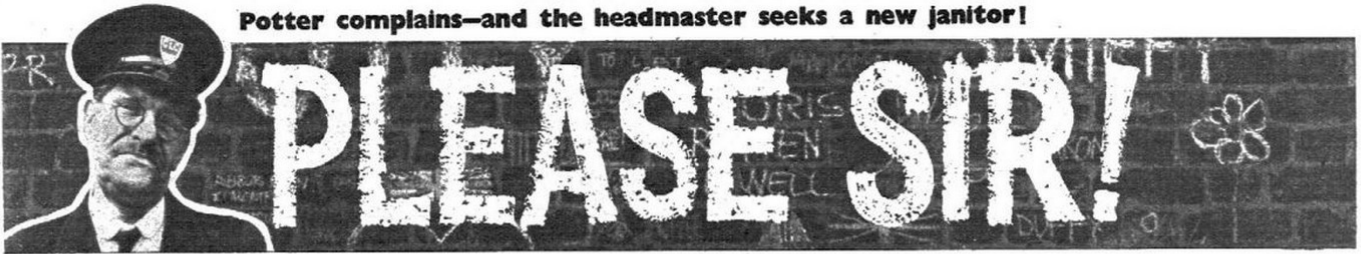

THEN, EVEN AS CATWEAZLE SPEAKS, THE MILL DOOR SWINGS SUDDENLY OPEN...

AAARGH! 'TIS DONE ALREADY! WE HAVE RETURNED - AND OUR ENEMIES HAVE DISCOVERED US!

Potter complains—and the headmaster seeks a new janitor!

SO, FRIDAY LUNCHTIME...

BUT SUDDENLY...

THAT AFTERNOON...

MINUTES LATER...

Based on the London Weekend Television series created and written by John Esmonde and Bob Larbey © 1972 Esmonde Larbey Ltd.

MEANWHILE, IN THE STAFFROOM...

THAT MAN WILL HAVE TO GO, HEADMASTER! POTTER COMPLETELY SNUBBED ME THIS MORNING! DISGUSTING MANNERS!

OH, NO, HE WASN'T! THE PERISHER IGNORED ME, TOO!

MAY I MAKE A SUGGESTION? MISTER POTTER'S COMING THIS WAY, WHY DON'T WE ASK HIM WHAT'S THE MATTER?

NOW, NOW, DEAR DORIS! BE FAIR—HE MAY HAVE BEEN DAY-DREAMING!

WHAT AN INTELLIGENT IDEA, MISS PETTING! COME ON, STAFF, LET'S SEE WHAT'S TROUBLING POOR NORMAN!

'EADMASTER! I'VE A LETTER FOR YOU, SAH!

OH, ER... THANK YOU, NORMAN!

Y... YOUR RESIGNATION? PLEASE EXPLAIN AT ONCE, POTTER!

IF I AM TO BE DEMOBBED, SAH, I FELT IT SHOULD BE BY MY OWN 'AND'!

DEMOBBED! YOU RIDICULOUS MAN—LOOK WHAT YOU'VE DONE! YOU'VE GIVEN THE HEADMASTER ONE OF HIS TURNS!

BUT I SAW AN 'ADVERT' IN THE PAPER FOR MY POSITION!

THE HEADMASTER RECOVERS...

FOOLISH POTTER! I INSERTED THE ADVERTISEMENT IN THE TEMPORARY JOBS PAGE! I MERELY WANTED A REPLACEMENT FOR YOU DURING YOUR HOLIDAY!

S...SORRY, SAH! I K...KNEW YOU'D NEVER DESERT AN OLD WARRIOR!

A LITTLE LATER...

HAH! I KNEW THERE MUST HAVE BEEN A MISTAKE! AFTER ALL, SOME OF US ARE JUST INDISPERSIBLE!

LIFT OFF

Gordon Lightfoot was born near Toronto in Canada and must have served one of the longest apprenticeships in the music business.

For a lot of people in this country, he only arrived with his hit single 'If You Could Read My Mind'. But this was the result of fifteen years' hard work.

He commenced his career studying music at the Westlake College, in Los Angeles. He then began to play in clubs and was greatly influenced by Bob Dylan.

He started to write his own songs and was lucky enough to have several recorded by such stars as Peter, Paul and Mary, Judy Collins and Johnny Cash.

At this time he wrote the now folk-standard 'Early Morning Rain'—which many of you may have heard sung on 'Lift Off' by a folk group called The Dalies.

In 1970, shortly after signing with Reprise Records, he released an L.P. called 'Sit Down Young Stranger' which has recently been re-released. With the title track a huge hit, the album now takes its name 'If You Could Read My Mind' (Reprise No. K44091).

Although it's not music for a party, if you felt like a little bit of relaxation—you couldn't do better than to settle down and listen to this great L.P.

Bye for now,

More chaos when Cromwell plans a clean-up, next week!

FLIGHT TO FORTUNE!

Part Two of another specially-chosen Look-IN adventure story!

BECAUSE BUSINESSMAN JAMES MARCHBANKS FAILS TO OBSERVE CORRECT RADIO PROCEDURE WHEN FLYING HIS PRIVATE JET, HE IS INVOLVED IN A MID-AIR NEAR-COLLISION. UNKNOWN TO HIM, FLYING INSTRUCTOR JANE BURDON IS PILOTING THE OTHER PLANE. SHE LOSES HER ONLY PUPIL AND IS LOOKING FOR A JOB, WHILE MARCHBANKS IS HAVING SECOND THOUGHTS ABOUT FLYING...

THAT NEAR-MISS - MAYBE I WAS PARTLY TO BLAME - TOO MUCH ON MY MIND TO GIVE PROPER ATTENTION TO THE AIRCRAFT...

MARCHBANKS COMES TO A DECISION - AND TWO DAYS LATER, WHEN JANE OPENS HER MORNING PAPERS...

SOMEONE'S ADVERTISING FOR A PILOT TO FLY A PRIVATE JET! CHAUFFEURING A TOP BUSINESS EXECUTIVE AROUND - SOUNDS JUST THE JOB FOR ME!

SO JANE APPLIES FOR THE JOB...

MISTER MARCHBANKS WILL SEE YOU NOW, MISS BURDON.

... AND COMES FACE TO FACE WITH JAMES MARCHBANKS - NEITHER KNOWING THAT THEY HAVE MET BEFORE...

I'VE AGREED TO SEE YOU, MISS BURDON - ALTHOUGH I'M INCLINED TO THINK THAT FLYING A JET IS A MAN'S JOB...

I'VE HEARD THAT BEFORE! SUPPOSE HE BELIEVES IN THE 'HELPLESS LITTLE WOMAN' STUFF...!

I SERVED THREE YEARS IN THE WOMEN'S ROYAL AIRFORCE! YOU'LL SEE FROM MY SERVICE RECORDS THAT I'M QUALIFIED TO FLY PLANES OF ALL TYPES - INCLUDING JETS!

OH... ER... WELL, OF COURSE, THAT MAKES A DIFFERENCE...

... AND I NEED A PILOT IN A HURRY - I MUST FLY TO BARCELONA, SPAIN, TOMORROW!

SOUNDS AS THOUGH THE JOB'S MINE...

BEST ROUTE IS CROSS-CHANNEL ON THE DOVER-BOULOGNE CORRIDOR - TOUCHDOWN AT LIMOGES IN FRANCE - THEN A QUICK HOP OVER THE PYRENEES. IF YOU AGREE, I'LL REGISTER THE COURSE WITH THE AIR TRAFFIC CONTROLLERS ALONG THE WAY...

YES... ER... MOST EFFICIENT, MISS BURDON!

AND SO, NEXT MORNING...

...YOU'VE CHECKED THE FUEL, MISS BURDON?

I'VE CHECKED EVERYTHING! YOU CAN JUST RELAX AND GET ON WITH YOUR PAPERWORK, MISTER MARCHBANKS.

ALL GOES SMOOTHLY UNTIL THE STOP AT LIMOGES AIRPORT, FRANCE...

I'LL GO AND HAVE A WORD WITH THE MET. BOYS - CHECK ON THE WEATHER UP AHEAD...

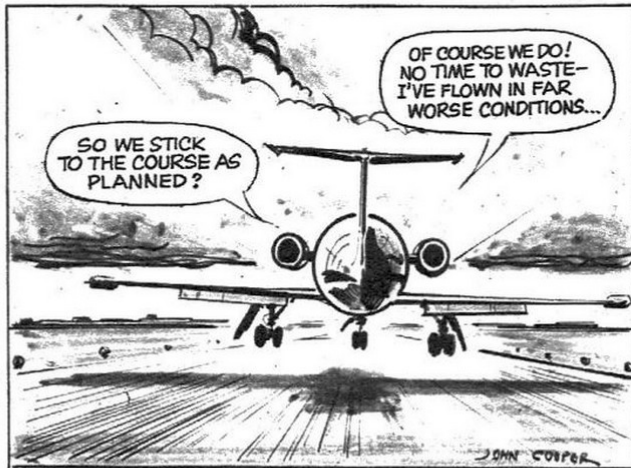

VERY WELL - BUT DON'T WASTE ANY TIME! I HAVE AN IMPORTANT MEETING AHEAD OF ME - MUSTN'T BE LATE!

MINUTES LATER...

IT LOOKS AS IF WE'RE IN FOR A ROUGH TRIP! THERE'S HEAVY CLOUD OVER THE PYRENEES - DANGER OF ELECTRICAL STORMS...

MET REPORTS ARE ALWAYS GLOOMY! ANYWAY, WE'LL ONLY BE OVER THE MOUNTAINS FOR A FEW MINUTES!

SO WE STICK TO THE COURSE AS PLANNED?

OF COURSE WE DO! NO TIME TO WASTE - I'VE FLOWN IN FAR WORSE CONDITIONS...

CAN'T THINK WHAT FLYING'S COMING TO! ONLY THE OTHER DAY SOME FOOL IN A 'TIGER MOTH' NEARLY PRANGED ME...

'TIGER MOTH'! SO IT WAS YOU - IN THIS PLANE!

YOU'RE NOT FIT TO BE IN CHARGE OF A PUSHBIKE - LET ALONE A PLANE!

GREAT BLAZES! THEN YOU WERE THE IDIOT IN THAT MUSEUM PIECE! AND I WAS FOOL ENOUGH TO THINK YOU COULD FLY A JET! I'M TAKING OVER...!

GIVE ME THE CONTROLS! THAT'S AN ORDER!

AS LONG AS I'M FLYING I'M GIVING THE ORDERS! LEAVE THE CONTROLS ALONE!

AND FOR... GOODNESS SAKE - LET ME CONCENTRATE ON WHAT I'M DOING! THE DIRTY WEATHER'S RIGHT ON US NOW!

VERY WELL! BUT AS SOON AS WE LAND...

NEXT MOMENT!

THE ELECTRICS HAVE SHORTED OUT! BETTER STRAP IN TIGHT - I'M TAKING HER DOWN!

BUT... BUT WE'RE OVER THE MOUNTAINS! YOU'LL CRASH - WE WON'T STAND A CHANCE!

Time is fast-running out for the trapped boys!

Follyfoot

ON A PONY-TREKKING EXPEDITION NEAR FOLLYFOOT, TWO BOYS HAVE BROKEN THE RULES AND GONE CAVING ON THEIR OWN. LOST IN A SYSTEM OF UNDERGROUND TUNNELS, THEY BRING A ROCK-FALL CRASHING ABOUT THEIR EARS...

GET BACK! THE WHOLE ROOF'S COMING DOWN!

THE RUMBLE TAILS AWAY INTO SILENCE...

WE'RE TRAPPED! WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO?

WE'LL HAVE TO STAY PUT! WE HEARD SOMEONE CALLING SO THERE MUST BE A SEARCH...

IT'S STEVE, WHO HAS BEEN WITH THE PONY-TREKKING PARTY. THE ROCK-FALL HAS CARRIED CLEARLY TO HIS EARS...

I'D BETTER MAKE MARKS ON THE WALLS SO'S I CAN FIND MY WAY OUT AGAIN...

MARK! JOHNNY! CAN YOU HEAR ME?

THE BOYS' THIN CRIES GUIDE STEVE ON HIS WAY...

THEY'RE BEHIND THIS! BUT I'LL NEVER MOVE IT!

HELP US! PLEASE! THE WATER'S RISING...

LISTEN! I'VE SENT THE OTHER PONY-TREKKERS TO GET HELP. HOW LONG CAN YOU LAST OUT?

NOT...NOT VERY LONG! THE AIR'S BAD, TOO...

I'M GOING BACK OUT! I THINK I MIGHT BE ABLE TO BUDGE THIS ROCK WITH THE HELP OF MY HORSE! NOW KEEP CALM AND DON'T PANIC!

Based on the Yorkshire Television series Follyfoot © 1972 Yorkshire Television Ltd.

BUT STEVE FINDS THAT HE'S RIGHT OUT OF LUCK...

COME ON, BOY! COME ON! THERE'S NOTHING TO BE AFRAID OF!

PLEASE, BOY! PLEASE! CAN'T YOU UNDERSTAND? I'M DEPENDING ON YOU.

FOLLYFOOT'S NOT FAR! I'LL GET ASSISTANCE THERE!

M NOBLE

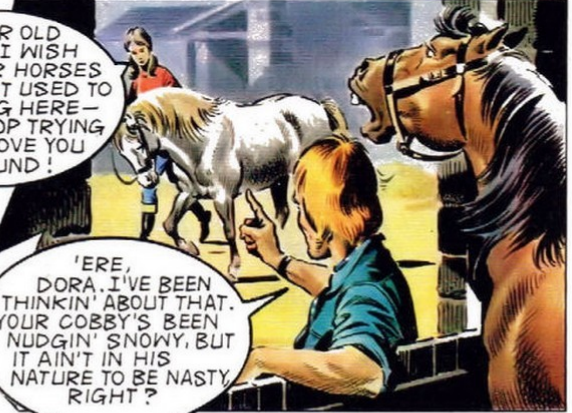

IT'S NO USE! BUT WHAT NOW? I DAREN'T JUST WAIT UNTIL HELP ARRIVES! IT MAY TAKE HOURS!

POOR OLD CHAP! I WISH THE OTHER HORSES WOULD GET USED TO YOU BEING HERE— AND STOP TRYING TO SHOVE YOU AROUND!

MEANWHILE, AT FOLLYFOOT, DORA IS STILL LOOKING AFTER SNOWY, THE BLIND PIT-PONY, WHO HAS COME TO STAY WITH THEM...

'ERE, DORA, I'VE BEEN THINKIN' ABOUT THAT. YOUR COBBY'S BEEN NUDGIN' SNOWY, BUT IT AIN'T IN HIS NATURE TO BE NASTY, RIGHT?

WHAT ARE YOU GETTING AT, RON?

WELL, COBBY KNOWS SNOWY'S BLIND. SUPPOSE HE WAS TRYIN' TO GUIDE HIM LIKE, TO STEER HIM ROUND...

YOU KNOW, YOU MAY BE RIGHT! TURN COBBY LOOSE, RON. THIS TIME, I WON'T INTERFERE...

AMAZINGLY...

SNOWY CERTAINLY DOESN'T SEEM TO RESENT IT...

THEY'RE GETTIN' NEAR THE OLD LIGHTNING TREE! SEE WHAT 'APPENS NOW...

COBBY'S STOPPING HIM BUMPING INTO IT!

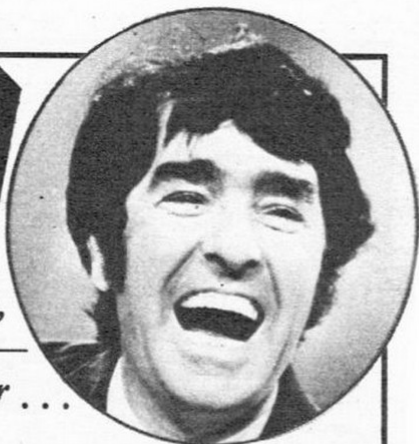

TOLD YOU, DIDN'T I? I RECKON SNOWY'S GOING TO BE 'APPY HERE AFTER ALL...

THERE'S ONLY ONE THING, RON. SNOWY'S GOT JUST AS MUCH OF A MIND AS WE HAVE. WHAT BREAKS MY HEART IS THAT HE MUST REALISE HE'S USELESS. JUST A LIABILITY TO FOLLYFOOT...

YOUR VIEW

This week, Ken Goodwin, raiser of laughs as one of 'The Comedians', presents this selection of letters, jokes and pictures from the LOOK-IN postbag—including, of course, the special £2 Star Letter...

STAR LETTER

I have a weird ambition: to have a double-decker bus in my garden. Whenever I come home from school on a double-decker, I spend so much time dreaming of what it would be like to own one that I almost forget to get off. My other ambition is to own a cats' home, as I love cats and already own two. If both my ambitions are realised, the cats could live in the bus. I have thirty-seven pen-friends, in Britain, America, Canada, France and Germany.

Claire Smith,
Tonbridge, Kent.

★ If all the pen-friends come to stay, you're going to need two double-deckers by my reckoning before they can 'settle down' comfortably.

NAVY DAY

Recently, I became a sailor for a day on H.M.S. Aurora. I was in a gun turret when a sailor came up and put a lifebelt

SCHOOL STORY

My school, Shaw House in Newbury, is a beautiful Elizabethan manor built by a wealthy cloth-weaver in 1581. The second battle of Newbury was fought in the grounds during the Civil War, and in the house is a room called King Charles' Room, because King Charles the First is said to have spent the night there before the battle. The interior of the house has lots of oak panelling and huge stone fire-places. It is now a large secondary school for girls—and I enjoy going there very much.

Judy Miller,
Newbury, Berkshire.

★ So you've got an old school house as well as an 'old school tie', eh, Judy.

and a tin helmet on me. Later, when I went to give them back, he told me I could keep them. Now, I use the lifebelt when I go swimming.

Neil MacLister,
Gillingham, Kent.

★ What about the tin hat? You could always turn it upside down and plant tulips in it!

"How would you fancy a sailor tattooed on your chest?"
David MacDonald,

RALLY ROUND

Please will you print a picture of rally-driver Roger Clark with his Ford Capri, as I think he is a great driver?

Richard Lovejoy,
Soberton, nr. Southampton.

★ Here he is in action, Richard.

HARD CASE

My dad gave my mother a new typewriter in a case. It took us over an hour to open the case—but when at last it was open, there inside were the instructions on how to open it!

Janet Tidy,
Maidstone, Kent.

★ Sounds like an inside job to me or, at least, a hard case to crack, Janet!

Blackburn, Lancs.

TIMESLIP

PASSING THROUGH THE INVISIBLE TIME-BARRIER, LIZ SKINNER AND SIMON RANDALL RETURN TO THE YEAR 1915. THEY SEE A TERRIFIED POACHER PUT TO FLIGHT BY A MONSTROUS, UNEARTHLY HOUND WHICH APPEARS FROM THE VICINITY OF A LARGE, DESOLATE HOUSE...

COME ON, WE'VE GOT TO FIND OUT WHAT'S HAPPENING! WE KNOW THE GIANT HOUND LINKS IN SOME WAY WITH THAT HOUSE!

DO WE HAVE TO? I'M NOT FEELING VERY BRAVE!

I'M NOT EITHER, IT'S JUST I'LL FEEL A LOT WORSE BY RUNNING AWAY...

I SUPPOSE SO! LOOK THERE'S THE POACHER'S GUN! HE DROPPED IT!

AT LAST THEY ARE IN THE WIND-SWEPT, OVERGROWN GROUNDS...

THE STOCK'S CHEWED TO PIECES! AT LEAST WE KNOW NO GHOST HOUND COULD DO THIS!

THAT MAKES ME FEEL MUCH BETTER—I DON'T THINK!

'CAVE CANEM'—BEWARE OF THE DOG! IT'S A FAMILY CREST OF SOME KIND. NO WONDER EVERYONE THINKS THE PLACE HAUNTED!

I'LL LET YOU INTO A SECRET—SO DO I!

AN EERIE BAYING SOUND— THEN...

GAREE0000!

SIMON! IT... IT'S COMING THIS WAY!

QUICK— GET BACK!

WE...WE'VE BEEN SEEN! IT'S HEADING STRAIGHT FOR US!

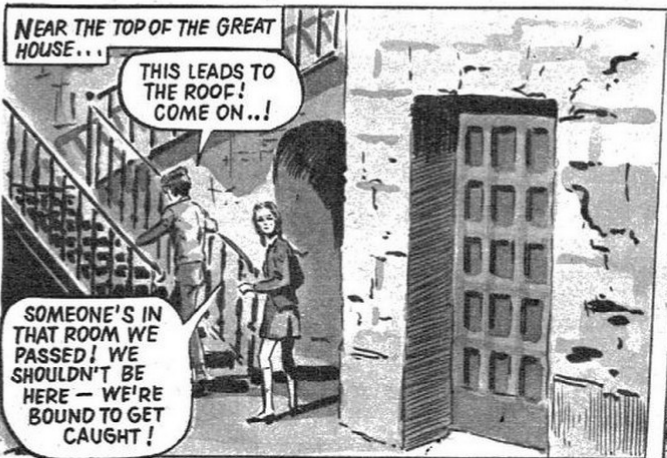

O...OH!

TO THEIR AMAZEMENT...

SIMON, IT... IT HASN'T SEEN US OR SCENTED US! IT CAN'T BE AN ORDINARY DOG— IT JUST CAN'T!

PHEEW! YOU'RE RIGHT! BUT IT'S TOO SOLID TO BE ANY GHOST!

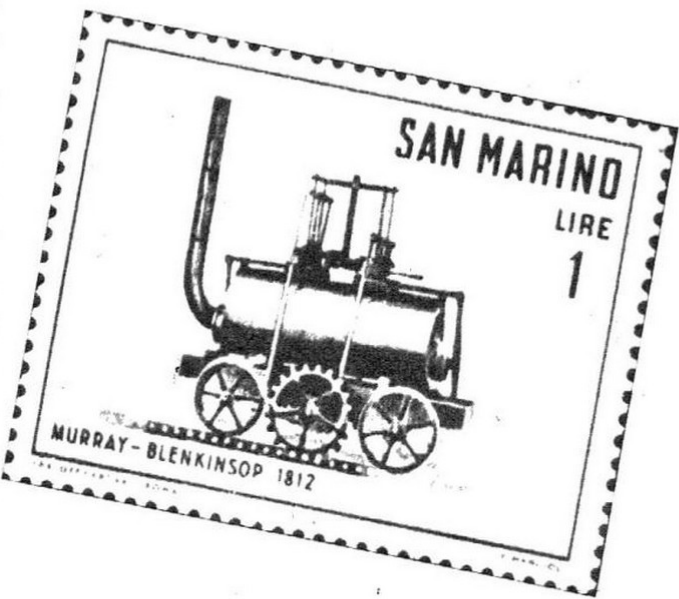

What mystery lies beyond the walls? See next week!

MAGPIE

CYRIL LITTLEWOOD'S...

NATURE NOTES

This week, I'd like us all to take a closer look at one of our most common animals—the hedgehog.

This creature is found in fields, scrub, open woodland and heathland, and in gardens (often under sheds) almost everywhere throughout the British Isles.

During the winter months, they hibernate beneath such places as hedges and piles of leaves.

The hedgehog—very common.

Hedgehogs mainly eat insects, but their diet also includes slugs, snails, worms, frogs, lizards and even snakes (including adders!). They are good swimmers, can run surprisingly fast, and can even climb walls. When threatened, they roll into a tight ball, protected by a coat of about sixteen thousand stiff prickles.

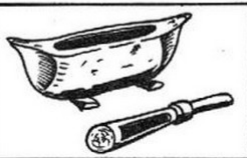

Hedgehogs breed during May to June, producing between three and seven young in each litter, and they live for about six years. They grow to approximately nine inches and weigh up to one-and-a-half pounds.

Magpie Music Makers

Expert Will Yeomans completes his present series with a very basic 'music maker'...

Primitive gongs are hollow sound-producing instruments and have been known to almost all people of all ages. Sometimes, they took the shape of a large hollowed-out tree-trunk, as shown here. They were often made in pairs, however, and were used for signalling. Fine bronze gongs were made in China, Japan and Java.

Graham Hill races in!

Former World Champion racing driver Graham Hill will be setting the pace for an exciting interview during Magpie's 'Tell Me' spot on next Tuesday's programme.

Holder of the O.B.E., awarded to him in 1968, he is currently the number one driver for the Brabham team—and a name to be reckoned with on any race circuit.

So especially for all motor-racing fans—make sure you meet him!

END OF THE LINE

When the famous 'Brighton Belle' makes its last run from London's Victoria Station to Brighton on April 30th, it will mark the end of a tradition that has lasted for nearly a century. For it was in 1875 that the London, Brighton and South Coast Railway Company introduced luxurious Pullman cars on the Brighton line, for the benefit of aristocratic passengers travelling from their London mansions to the fashionable seaside resort.

The Pullman Car Company was founded in 1867. George M. Pullman, an American, had such an uncomfortable journey in the 'sleeping car' of one of the rough-and-ready railway carriages of those days, that he decided to build really comfortable carriages, well lit and heated, with their own kitchens, and hire them out to railroads. Now, Pullman cars are in operation all over the world, and passengers pay an extra charge on top of the normal fare for Pullman luxury.

Electric 'Belle'

In 1881, the London-Brighton Pullman became the first train in the world to be lit by electricity. On the first run, many seats were filled by officials of gas companies—all hoping that the new-fangled electric lighting system would break down! The first 'named' train on the line, the 'Southern Belle', was introduced in 1908, when the first-class fare from London to Brighton was one shilling.

The Brighton line was electrified in 1933, and in June 1934 the train became the 'Brighton Belle'. Except during the war years of 1939-45, it has made four runs daily in each direction, earning a magnificent reputation for its time-keeping over the sixty-minute journey—as well as for the excellent food and wine served in its dining cars.

The modern 'Brighton

An artist's impression showing the interior of the Pullman car 'Belgravia' on the 'Southern Belle'.

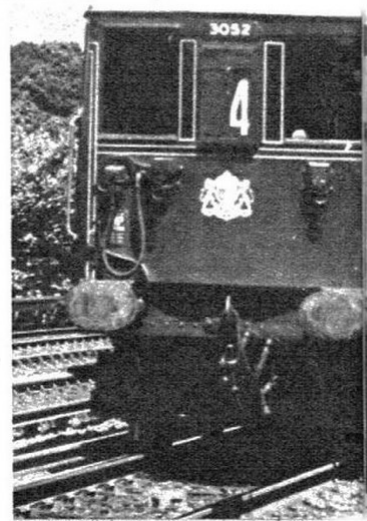

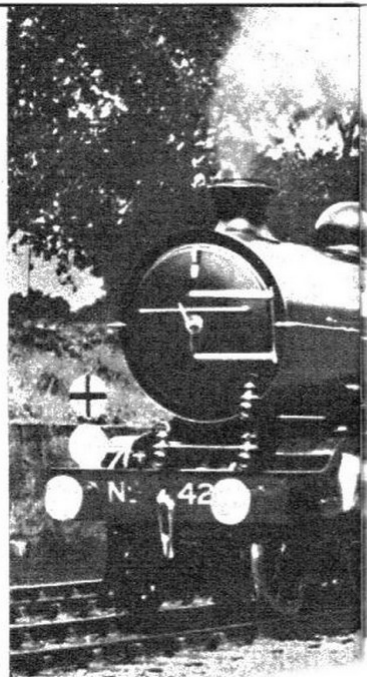

'Belle' consists of two five-car units, each holding forty first-class and one-hundred-and-fifty-two second-class passengers. Each unit is powered by four motor-bogies, with two 225-horse-power motors mounted on each. The tradition of 'naming' Pullman cars—back in 1875, the first Pullmans on the line included 'Louise', 'Adonis' and 'Maud'—is maintained in the kitchen cars, which carry the nameplaques of 'Hazel', 'Doris',

'Audrey', 'Vera', 'Gwen', and 'Mona'.

Dramatic Victory!

One of the most famous of the 'Belle's' regular passengers is Lord Olivier, Britain's greatest actor. In 1970, when the succulent kippers for which the train's dining cars are famous were dropped from the breakfast menu, Lord Olivier protested. After a letter from His Lordship had appeared in The Times, kippers made a reappearance. With press photographers and reporters waiting to record his victory, Lord Olivier entered the dining car—and ordered scrambled eggs!

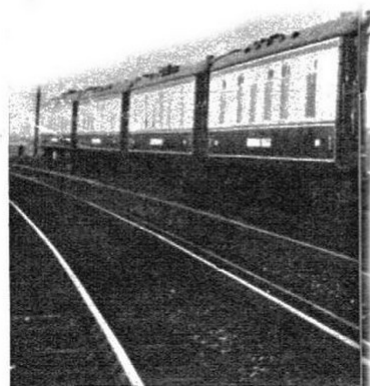

But now the 'Brighton Belle' itself is to disappear. British Rail explains that the present coaches are worn out and would cost too much to replace. Now that ordinary carriages are so comfortable, say railway officials, passengers are not willing to pay extra for a Pullman. The famous coaches will go up for sale—and will probably follow London Bridge and the liner Queen Mary to the United States.

Susan Stranks, herself a regular traveller on the 'Brighton Belle', will give Magpie viewers the chance of a last look at one of the world's best-loved trains during next week's programme on Thursday, April 27th.

So if you wish to pay tribute to the passing of this famous train—make sure you tune in.

SOUTHERN BELLE 1908

The 'Southern Belle' predecessor of the 'Brighton Belle' was the first-ever named train on the line, and in 1908 the first-class fare from London to Brighton was one shilling!

BRIGHTON BELLE 1934

The 'Brighton Belle' was given her famous name in the year 1934. One year before this, the Brighton line was electrified to begin the second phase of the 'Belle' legend.

BRIGHTON BELLE 1972

This year ends the long and splendid history of the 'Brighton Belle'. Throughout its many thousands of journeys, the train has maintained a magnificent reputation for good time-keeping, and has carried such famous passengers as Lord Olivier.

HOW

Note the attractive markings of this swallowtail butterfly.

HOW do butterflies get their lovely markings?

Nicholas Hamlin, Staines, Middlesex.

Not all of them have beautiful markings—though many, of course, do. The colours act as protection from their enemies, just as a green caterpillar is protected by its colour in the grass. Some butterflies look like dead leaves when their wings are together. Nature's camouflage is one of life's miracles, developed over scores of centuries and enabling some species to survive.

Of course, the markings of some butterflies are so incredibly vivid that they stand out even against the brightest flowers. No enemy could miss them. In the case of those, it seems that once a bird had tasted one of them it is off that particular dish, as the butterfly has—for birds—a very nasty taste! Again Nature has provided one of its creatures with a built-in aid to survival!

HOW are icebergs formed?

Steven Ersser, Perivale, Greenford, Middlesex.

These ocean giants, which are mainly found off Greenland and Antarctica, are great masses of land ice which have either broken off from the end of glaciers, or from ice shelves—sheets of floating ice on the edge of coastlines. Glacier icebergs—the ones that come from Greenland—are irregular and jagged in shape. They break off easily from glaciers when they enter the sea, which buoys them up.

As the glacier continues its slow progress the next piece breaks off. Icebergs from ice sheets—the ones in Antarctica—are flat and rectangular and may be as long as forty miles and over three-hundred feet above the water's surface. Greenland icebergs may be as high as that, but are rarely as much as a mile across, usually only a few hundred yards.

Far more of an iceberg is below the surface than above it. Normally between one-ninth and one-sixth shows. Icebergs are still a menace in the North Atlantic in summer months, though radar, special ice-patrol ships and careful navigation now ensure that there will be no more disasters like the sinking of the Titanic. This great liner—believed to be unsinkable—went down in 1912 after striking an iceberg, taking with her more than one-thousand-five-hundred people.

HOW did the saying 'You've let the cat out of the bag' originate?

Gillian Faulding, Tonbridge, Kent.

It means to give away a secret, and dates back several centuries, its origin being an old country confidence trick. Sometimes a cat was put in a sack instead of a sucking pig. If any simple soul bought the sack thinking it contained the pig without looking inside it, all was well, but if he did open it, the trick was discovered—the cat was out of the bag!

The ill-fated liner—the 'Titanic'.

HOW old is the oldest building in the world?

Andrew Davies, Glamorgan.

There is a wooden temple at Nara, Japan, which dates from about A.D. 710, and a church in Syria dating back to A.D. 232. Even earlier is a castle at Goman in the Yemen, which is at least 1,870 years old and once had twenty storeys. But a circle of stones—which were once some sort of dwelling—at Olduvai Gorge, Tanganyika, in Africa, dates back 1,750,000 years!

Two new cars from two of the world's fastest motorways.

The first is a scale model of the Police Range Rover 'Vigilante'.

It's used for high-speed accident work on the M.1. Equipped with model searchlights, warning beacon and black-out shutters, the whole of the back opens up.

It reaches up to 98mph when it has to. We hope you won't see one soon.

The second is a scale model of the enormously powerful new Mercedes Benz 350 SL.

Its bonnet opens. Its doors open. Its seats tilt.

It comes in white or blue. It reaches speeds of up to 130mph on the German Autobahns. We hope you will see one soon.
