STEWSPOT'S LOOK-OUT

Ever since a cat scratched my arm so badly that I had to go to hospital, I've never been very fond of cats. You never know what they're thinking or whether they really like you. Not like dogs, all wagging tails and wet tongues.

No, cats are too quiet and thoughtful for me. Sometimes I feel they look at me and say: "Stewpot, I know you don't like me, so I won't talk to you, unless you give me another saucer of milk—then I might come over and give you a quick purr!"

The time I like cats most is when they're kittens, but then I wish they would never grow up. Cats are very beautiful, and take great care of themselves, and millions of people love them—but give me a dog any time—at least they 'sit' when they're told to.

Bobby, the cuddlesome ginger puss who snuggles into Minnie Caldwell's arms in Coronation Street, isn't as quiet as he looks.

In fact his owner, Granada engineer Robin McDonnell, says he can be a little terror. He purrs all the time in the studio and Robin has to take him in half an hour before he goes before the cameras to calm him down.

Then there was the time he disappeared from home and was away for two days. Robin has never found out where he went to but thinks he must have got locked in a garage because his picture was in all the papers, as well as on television and no-one could trace him.

Bobby, whose real name is Arthur, became one of the most popular cats on television quite by chance. Robin was in the Coronation Street rehearsal rooms when he heard that the cat which had the role of Minnie's much-loved Bobby had died and a replacement was needed.

So he arranged for Arthur to be auditioned—and after a few purrs Margot Bryant, who plays Minnie, fell in love with him.

Bobby with Margot Bryant (who plays Minnie Caldwell) and his owner, Robin McDonnell.

MODEL MAKER

On April 24, 1961—incidentally, a day after my birthday—the 17th-century Swedish warship Wasa broke surface in Stockholm harbour after 333 years on the seabed.

Following a period in dry dock, the Wasa was towed on a special platform to a more permanent site, where restoration work was begun and the ship was opened for public viewing.

Airfix, the great kit company, has produced a replica of the Wasa that you can build.

During the last eleven months, Airfix designers and draughtsmen have been working in close co-operation with the Wasa Museum in Stockholm to ensure that complete authenticity has been achieved with the 227 part kit.

The model is 19 inches long and stands nearly 15 inches high on its display stand and the main deck detail includes a longboat, capstan, hatches, 15 cannons and other ancillary equipment. It sells at £1.35.

Not Follyfoot! Mike (Adrian Wright, left), Jill (Caroline Ellis) and Steve (Leonard Gregory) are 'saddled up' for 'Freewheelers'.

FAST-MOVING FREEWHEELERS

SUPPOSE YOU WERE A WRITER, and Southern Television said to you: "We want a script for a thirteen-week adventure series which must include at least two super-science-fiction inventions, a plot to gain world domination, a stable full of racehorses and a foolproof scheme to swindle bookmakers, a whole gang of secret agents planning double-crosses and even triple-crosses, spectacular settings ranging from England to Sweden and—gosh, we nearly forgot!—parts for a whole army of actors dressed up as soldiers in the English Civil War in the 17th century!"

You'd probably burn your typewriter and take up an easy job, like selling hair restorer to the Rolling Stones. But the writers of the new "Freewheelers" series took up the challenge, and mixed all these ingredients into a really mind-bending thriller.

Action is what the "Freewheelers" is all about: the drumming hooves of racing horses, the snarl of high-powered engines, the stammer of automatic rifle fire, and the shattering >>>>

Not Timeslip either! But Jill and her 17th century soldiers

FREEWHEELERS

➡→ roar of a bomb that has only just missed blowing the 'Freewheelers' sky-high.

New-comer to 'Freewheelers', Ray Armstrong plays Colin Wade, an agent of M.I.5 (British Military Intelligence) who helps a top scientist escape from behind the Iron Curtain—but then finds himself branded as a traitor. On the run from M.I.5 boss, General Grant, Colin is befriended by the 'Freewheelers', who join him in the fight to prove his innocence. But this leads them into a struggle to stop a gang of villains from threatening the security of the world.

Leonard Gregory (Steve) and Adrian Wright (Mike) are old friends to viewers of the earlier 'Freewheelers' series. In the present show, they have a new girl companion, Jill, played by Caroline Ellis. Brown-haired, brown-eyed Caroline began her professional career at the age of twelve, in the London stage production of that great musical 'The Sound of Music'. She has only recently returned from America, where she has been filming in 'The Bugaloos', a new series made by the team which produced the 'H.R. Pufnstuf' series with Jack Wild.

It's a good thing that Caroline is an outdoor girl who numbers riding among her favourite activities: at one point she is called upon to ride in a steeplechase while disguised as a professional jockey!

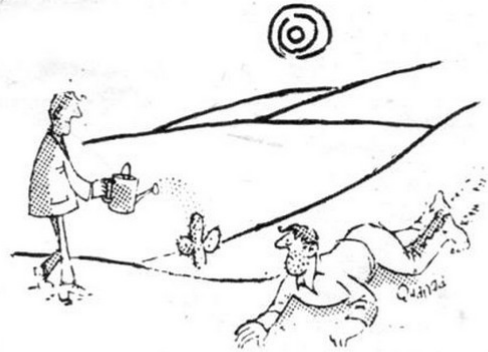

'Jill' (played by Caroline Ellis) drives into adventure in the new 'Freewheelers' series. 'Colin' (played by Ray Armstrong) is on the receiving end of treason!

LIFT OFF

I'm sure a large number of cinema-goers saw the film 'Shaft' because of its fantastic theme music—which subsequently became a Top Ten hit. It was this music that prompted me to find out about its composer, Isaac Hayes.

I had previously heard his L.P. 'Hot Buttered Soul' (which is on the Stax label in England) and thought him a promising newcomer. But how wrong can you be? Isaac Hayes is the other half of the fantastic Hayes and Porter songwriting and record producing partnership, who were responsible for the Soul classics by Sam and Dave, such as 'Hold On I'm Comin' and 'Soul Man'.

Composer Isaac Hayes

If you like Soul music and are too young to remember these records—they were made nearly six years ago—then try to get copies, because they are where Soul really began. I then discovered that Isaac appeared in Hollywood as a guest with the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra—and is now starting a series of personal appearances. Because his early attempts at being a recording artist were mediocre, his advisers were unwilling to let him abandon his successful career, until after a Christmas party at the Stax Record office in New York.

Isaac drifted to the studios and producer Al Bell said: "Come on, Isaac, I'm going to record you!" The result has been a great success for everyone concerned, and Isaac Hayes will be much more than just a name on a record label to me in the future.

Bye for now.

Another load of school laughs next week!

Starts today! A weighty problem for the ancient sorcerer!

CATWEAZLE

YOUR VIEW

This week, Ernest Clark, 'Professor Loftus' of London Weekend Television's 'Doctor In Charge', makes the selection of letters, jokes and pictures from the LOOK-IN Postbag, including the £2 Star Letter...

STAR LETTER

I have a Trafalgar Medal which was issued privately to my great-great-grandfather by Matthew Boulton, after the battle of Trafalgar. On one side is a picture of Horatio Nelson, and on the other a scene from the battle. Can you tell me, please, if these medals were issued only to men who served aboard H.M.S. Victory, or to all the men who fought in the battle?

Simon Newcombe,
Whitstable, Kent.

★ Well, Simon, it seems that the wealthy manufacturer Matthew Boulton (1728-1809) issued these medals at his own expense to all survivors of the battle. Boulton had his own mint, where he struck Great Britain's copper coinage in 1797, and was also James Watt's partner in the development of the steam engine.

WIND-WISE

Why do so many churches and important buildings have weather-vanes on them? Sailors need to know which way the wind is blowing, but why do churches need this information?

Eric Matthews,
Sharpthorne, Sussex.

★ It may not be important, Eric, but I think it is interesting to know what wind is blowing. And many weather-vanes make pleasant decorations on our skyline.

The winged weather-vane from the old Smithfield market.

RUN, RABBIT, RUN!

I went to a fete, where I decided to try my luck on the 'Rabbit Bingo'. Everyone taking part was given a box, and the boxes were placed in a circle. Then a rabbit was put down in the centre of the circle—and the owner of the box into which the rabbit ran became the owner of the rabbit. I won: so now I have a pet rabbit called... Bingo!

M. Saul,
Sittingbourne, Kent.

I have a pet rabbit who is always running away. But she always comes back—so I call her Boomerang!

Jane Miller,
Whissendine, Rutland.

★ Reminds me of the old chestnut about the little bear who had no fur... so they called him Fred—Fred Bear! Get it? Threadbare!

Glenn Wakeman,
Greenhithe, Kent.

REMEMBER, REMEMBER...

... the fifth of November! Well, that's easy enough—but do you know any other verses or codewords that help you remember important facts? You know the kind of thing: like "Richard Of York Gave Battle In Vain", in which the first letter of each word gives you the colours of the rainbow in the right order—Red, Orange, Yellow, Green, Blue, Indigo, Violet. Or like "Thirty Days hath September... etc.". If you know any of these useful little aids to remembrance (the proper word for them is mnemonics, but that's nearly as hard to remember as it is to spell!), send them in to 'Your View'. We'll print the best on this page from time to time.

READERS' PHOTOGRAPHS

Here is another selection from among the photographs sent in by LOOK-IN readers:

Ann and Tina Godward, Carlton,
Nottinghamshire.

Crosbie Fitch,
Oldacre,
Ditchling,
Sussex.

JELLY-FLOP

My mum was mixing a jelly with a wooden spoon, but dad thought it would be easier and quicker to attach the spoon to the spindle of his electric drill. He managed to fix the spoon or firmly, but when he put it into the mixing-bowl and switched on the drill—the worst happened. Jelly flew in all directions, covering mum, dad, the walls, the ceiling and the furniture. After we'd cleaned up, we had a good laugh—and now mum has bought a proper electric mixer.

Michael Harper,
Brixton Hill, London S.W.2.

★ So all's well—provided dad doesn't try to drill holes with the mixer!

CAT WALK

I thought you would like to know about our cat, Dougal, and his girlfriend, Solo, who lives just across the road from us. One night, as I was walking past her house, I saw Dougal walk up to the door and meow. He sat there meowing for about ten minutes. Then, to my surprise, Solo jumped through the cat flap on the gate and both cats went walking off down the garden path.

Melanie Brown,
Taunton, North Devon.

★ That's a nice little story, Melanie. I'm sure you'd like to read about other cats in Stewpot's Look-Out on page four of this issue. Cats certainly seem to be topical this week.

★ Win £2 for the Star Letter and £1 for any other letter or joke, plus, a special signed photograph of the Your View Star. Why not write now to Your View, LOOK-IN, 247 Tottenham Court Road, London W1P 0AU? Remember when you write—enclose a list of your six favourite features in order of preference.

If you'd like to see your photograph in LOOK-IN, please send in one when you write, and we'll try to print it. However, we regret that photographs cannot be returned.

JUNIOR CINEMA

Great Britain's Greatest Leader

A magnificent new film, YOUNG WINSTON, brilliantly portrays the childhood and early life of the late Sir Winston Churchill in the last years of Queen Victoria's reign. The picture of Victorian "high society", in which Winston's brilliant father and beautiful mother were leading figures, is fascinating enough—but for most of us the high-spots of the film will be the action-packed sequences dealing with Winston's war-time experiences.

Before World War One introduced new and terrible weapons like aircraft and poison gas, war could still sometimes be a great adventure, a wonderful game of soldiers played with real bullets and cannons, for young officers like Winston. It's difficult to remember, as you watch on the screen the Lancers thunder into the charge at the battle of Omdurman in the Sudan, or an armoured train steaming into action in the Boer War, that war isn't all splendid uniforms and high heroics.

In YOUNG WINSTON, writer-producer Carl Foreman and director Richard Attenborough, assisted by a cast crammed with stars, have created a movie which will surely rank as a "classic". And in putting on the screen the early life of the man who was to become Great Britain's greatest war-time leader, they have given us an enthralling picture of a young soldier bound to preserve the "Empire on which the sun never sets"

Win—the book of the film

As YOUNG WINSTON goes on release, Fontana Books publish a paper-back edition of Carl Foreman's script, illustrated with "stills" from the movie. It costs 35p—but if you'd rather save your pocket-money for a cinema seat to see the film, why not try to win a copy in this simple 'Junior Cinema' competition?

Printed on the coupon below are the titles of six famous movies with war-time settings. We want you to find out which war provides the background for each; for example, if you think THE DAMBUSTERS was set in the Crimean War, you'd write "Crimean" in the space left on line (b). The senders of the first six correct solutions opened in this office on August 31st, 1972, will each receive a copy of the Fontana Books publication 'Young Winston'.

Send to "Junior Cinema Competition", LOOK-IN, 247 Tottenham Court Road, London W1P 0AU. Closing date for entries: August 30th, 1972.

BUT HE'S NOT GOING TO OFFER HIS ASSISTANCE WILLINGLY...

OF COURSE NOT... THAT'S WHERE ANDREA CARLETTI COMES IN. STRONG WILL AGREE TO JOIN THE CARLETTI RACING TEAM WHEN HE LEARNS OF HER FATHER'S TROUBLE - AND HE WILL BRING THE GOLD TO BRITAIN!

AVALANCHE ORDERS A FILM TO BE PROJECTED... THE IMAGES SHOW THE CARLETTI AUTO FACTORY IN ITALY...

THERE... THE GOLD IS IN THE CAR - OR MORE CORRECTLY, ON IT! MISS CARLETTI WILL BE HERE AT ANY MOMENT... WE HAVE TO PERSUADE HER TO FINALLY RECRUIT STRONG!

AT THAT MOMENT, MARK IS ATTEMPTING TO BRING JUSTICE TO I.C.E. IN HIS OWN, UNUSUAL FASHION...

TIMESLIP

PASSING THROUGH THE INVISIBLE TIME-BARRIER, LIZ SKINNER AND SIMON RANDALL FIND THEMSELVES IN THE AFRICA OF 1910. WITH CASTOR, A MYSTERIOUS AND INCREDIBLE ROBOT, THEY INVESTIGATE THE LEGEND OF THE 'GOLDEN LEOPARD'. TWO SINISTER ENEMIES HAVE THE SAME MISSION...

THERE THEY ARE, CASTOR — THE MEN WHO STOLE OUR BOAT AND TRIED TO KILL US!

DON'T FORGET THEY HAVE RIFLES! YOU MAY BE BULLET-PROOF — BUT WE'RE NOT!

I AM PROGRAMMED TO FORGET NOTHING! LIE FLAT AND TAKE COVER BEHIND ME...

HURRY, SIMON — DO AS HE SAYS!

HIGH ABOVE THE FUSE BURNS...

SHOOTING WON'T STOP THAT ARMoured BRUTE — BUT DYNAMITE WILL. THEY'RE RUNNING INTO A COSY LITTLE TRAP!

LET'S HOPE YOU TIMED THE FUSE RIGHT!

HEY, SOMETHING'S SPARKING UP THERE! STRENGTH! IF THAT'S WHAT I THINK IT IS — LIZ, KEEP DOWN!

CASTOR, LOOK OUT!

AS THE HUGE OUTCROP HURTTLES DOWN...

BLAAAAM!

OH, NO — WE'LL BE CRUSHED!

IT'S COMING STRAIGHT FOR US!

DYNAMITE!

CASTOR DEFLECTS BOULDERS. GREAT STRENGTH...

HE... HE'S HANDING IT OFF. I DON'T BELIEVE IT!

THE RAFT'S GOING OVER... SIMON! OOOOH!

AT LEAST THE ROCK'S ARE FALLING CLEAR...

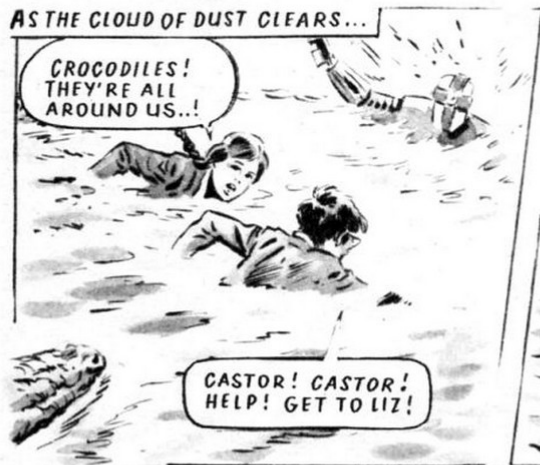

I SUCCEEDED!

MEANWHILE, ON THE LAUNCH...

NO SIGN OF 'EM! I CAN JUST SEE PIECES OF RAFT. I DON'T FANCY THEIR CHANCES!

THEY WON'T BE FOLLOWING US TO WHERE THE MAP SAYS THE 'GOLDEN LEOPARD' IS. TOO BAD WE HAD TO GET RID OF THE YOUNGSTERS!

CROCODILES! THEY'RE ALL AROUND US...!

CASTOR! CASTOR! HELP! GET TO LIZ!

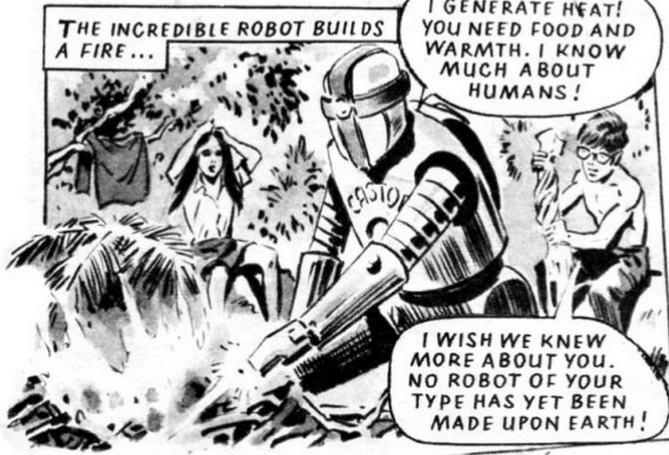

CASTOR CONTROLS HIS OWN GRAVITY...

MAKE FOR BANK- DO NOT FEAR. I WILL TRY NOT TO HURT THESE STRANGE SPECIMENS!

I'M SHAKING ALL OVER. THOSE BRUTES SCARE ME!

SWIM, LIZ! SWIM! YOU CAN MAKE IT!

YOU'RE NOT THE ONLY ONE! JUST THANK OUR STARS CASTOR SCARES THE CROCODILES MORE!

THE INCREDIBLE ROBOT BUILDS A FIRE...

I GENERATE HEAT! YOU NEED FOOD AND WARMTH. I KNOW MUCH ABOUT HUMANS!

I WISH WE KNEW MORE ABOUT YOU. NO ROBOT OF YOUR TYPE HAS YET BEEN MADE UPON EARTH!

YOU ASK TOO MANY QUESTIONS. I THINK EATING WILL OCCUPY YOU!

HE BENDS A TREE LIKE I'D BEND A GRASS STALK!

I GIVE UP!

WE'VE LOST THOSE THUGS AND OUR BOAT. THEY'RE THE ONLY ONES WHO HAVE THE CLUE TO THE 'GOLDEN LEOPARD'.

THEY HAVE ALL THE PAPERS BELONGING TO THE MISSING EXPLORER. WE WON'T CATCH UP NOW!

CASTOR'S STEEL HANDS BITE INTO ROCK...

HE'S CLIMBING!

YOU SHOW INTELLIGENCE - GOOD! I STUDY RIVER COURSE. HUMAN ENEMIES HAVE NOT BEATEN US YET!

I THINK I KNOW WHY! FROM THE TOP HE'LL BE ABLE TO SEE TO THE HORIZON!

HOW did the words "Ich Dien" come to be on the front of the new 2p piece, and from what country do the words come?

David Thompson, Greenhill, Yorkshire.

They are the motto of the Prince of Wales and the ostrich feathers are his badge, as they have been the badges of other Princes of Wales down the centuries. They are almost certainly German words meaning "I serve", and for many years it was believed that Edward the Black Prince, Prince of Wales and son of Edward III, having killed John, King of Bohemia, at the Battle of Crecy in 1346, took over his emblem and motto. But the emblem had been used by English royalty before that, and, though the story of how the motto came to be used may be true, there is another, equally interesting explanation.

A Welsh story goes that Edward I promised Wales a prince who could speak not a word of English. When his second son Edward, first Prince of Wales, was born, he was presented to Welshmen at Caernarvon by his father with the words (in Welsh) "Eich dyn"—"Behold the man". However, as "Ich Dien" are definitely German words, this would seem a good place to pass on to another question . . . !

HOW were sandwiches invented, and how did they get their name?

Julie Seabridge, Ilford, Essex.

They are named after their inventor, Julie, who was the fourth Earl of Sandwich (1718-92). He was a very keen gambler and invented the sandwich so as to save himself the trouble of having to leave the gaming table in the middle of a game. He was a dishonest and incompetent politician, as well as being a gambler, and did the Royal Navy a lot of harm. We can't resist printing a couplet about him:

"Too infamous to have a friend,
Too bad for bad men to commend."

The Earl of Sandwich

HOW and when did golf originate?

Bettina Clift, Hayle, Cornwall.

The great game's origins are a mystery, Bettina. Some say it began in the Netherlands in the Middle Ages, others in Denmark, but as far as we are concerned it is a Scottish game through and through! The Scots were even banning it back in 1457 because it interfered with archery practice! Early feather-filled balls were succeeded by ones of gutta-percha in 1848, then rubber-cored balls came in in 1902. The famous British Open Championship dates from 1860, the American Open from 1894.

HOW did the Earth get its name?

Bruce Shelton, Bedford.

The word is a very ancient one, Bruce. Variations of it were used in the languages spoken in Northern Europe over a thousand years ago, including the Anglo-Saxon tongue, which is an ancestor of English. The word was being used to describe our world at least 600 years ago, probably earlier. And how suitable a word it is! Many people have worshipped Mother Earth down the centuries: after all the Earth gives life!
