Don't miss this year's Look-in Summer Extra

Here's a super new package of summer fun, with lots of puzzles and jokes, stories, features and colour pin-ups! You can Meet The Smurfs in their own special picture strip, read about Madame Tussaud's, discover the secrets of our summer weather, settle down with our brand-new Worzel Gummidge story, find out how to be crafty with nature and celebrate 150 years of steam railways. Watch out, too, for Blondie, The Pretenders, The Tourists and the sequel to Star Wars, The Empire Strikes Back. It's all there, with much more besides!

YOUR FAVOURITES 1st

A few weeks ago I asked Look-in readers to take part in our regular popularity poll to find out what you like best about your magazine. Once more, the Look-in office was flooded with voting forms! You were asked to vote, in order of preference, for your six favourite items in Look-in, points being awarded in the usual way, i.e. six for first choice, five for second choice and so on.

Well, it's the adventures of those little blue folk in our Meet The Smurfs picture strip that have smurfed right up to the no. 1 position — and very happy about it they are, too! There was a strong battle for second position and in the end it was shared by our pop pin-up and features and the competitions.

A big thank you to everyone who voted — especially those of you who voted for my Newsdesk! — and the Editor is very interested in your suggestions for new features.

As promised, I have drawn three of your voting coupons out of the postbag and they were sent in by: Gina Knox (age 9) of Barton, Yorkshire, Jason Prior (age 10) of East Harling, Norwich, and Paula Kilburn (age 12) of Walney Island, Barrow-in-Furness. They will each be receiving a £3.00 postal order.

HOW'S YOUR FATHER?

This Friday (18th) sees the start of a second series of Yorkshire Television's hilarious comedy show How's Your Father?

The father in question is Harry Andrews, played by actor/comedian Harry Worth, a recently widowed, rather bumbling man who isn't quite in touch with his own generation — let alone the younger one. Which is why his life becomes increasingly complicated as he tries to look after his two lively teenage children. Shirley (played by Debby Cumming) and Martin (played by Giles Watling).

So don't forget to tune in at 7.30 p.m. on Friday — it's well 'Worth' watching!

Shirley (Debby Cumming), Martin (Giles Watling) and a bemused Harry!

OOPS!

I always knew you Look-in readers were an eagle-eyed lot — but Gary Crompton of Urmston, Manchester, and Paul Ritchie of Liverpool really take the biscuit! They both wrote to tell us that they'd spotted a mistake on our front cover painting of Kevin Keegan (issue no. 25, dated 14 June). On the centre figure, the red, white and blue stripes on Kevin's shirt run from the neck to the end of the sleeve — when they should run from the neck to the shoulder. I wonder how many other readers noticed?

OLYMPIC GAMES

It is not possible for Look-in to publish full details of ITV's coverage of the Olympics as times are subject to change, but you will find a basic guide on pages 30 and 31. More detailed information should be available in this week's TVTimes.

SO YOU THINK YOU COULD TACKLE THE COURSE..?

... swinging on the rope ...

... crawling through the pipes ...

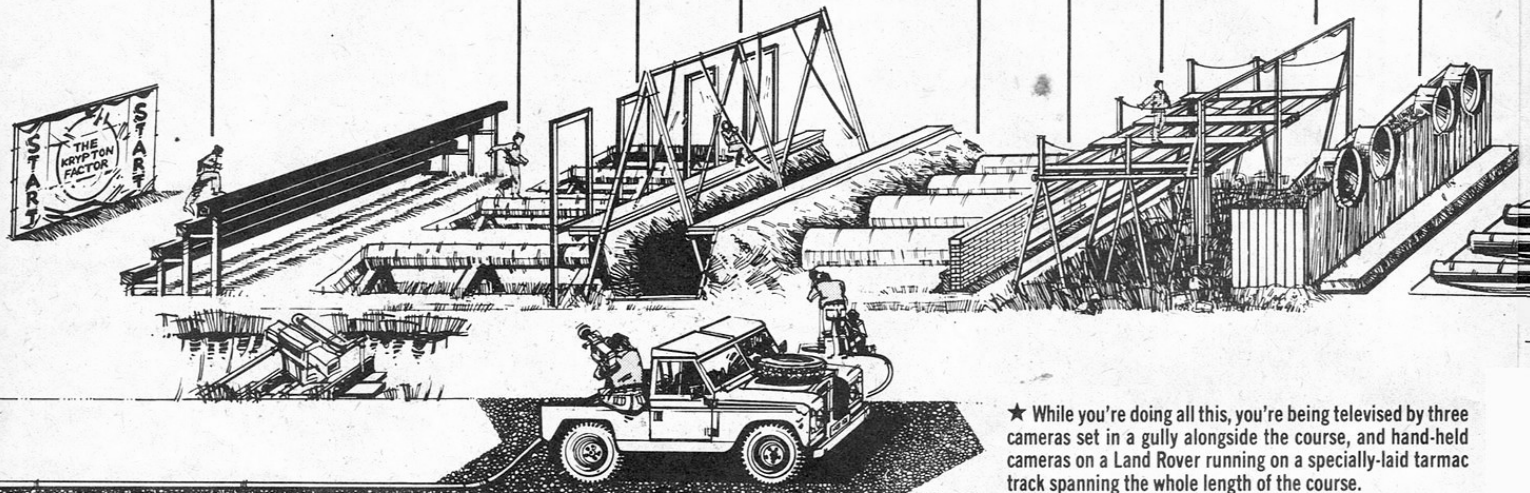

... jumping over the wall ...

... clambering onto and along the high planks ...

... dropping down and ...

... crawling through the angled pipes (they've got ropes inside) ...

THE KRYPTON FACTOR CHALLENGE

A cold, miserable, windy, Lancashire moor. A group of grown-ups is running, jumping, swinging, clambering, and crawling over, under, across and through an assortment of frames, logs, pipes, tyres, bricks, pools and ropes.

Smiling presenter Gordon Burns.

Recognise the scene? You will if you're a fan of The Krypton Factor, now well into its fourth series (on Mondays at 7 p.m.), that unusual show designed to produce a champion combining physical ability, mental agility, intelligence, observation and general knowledge. A real superman (or woman) in fact. And yes, that is why the programme has such a funny name: the fictional Superman was born on a planet called Krypton.

It's the physical ability that's on test on that Lancashire moor, on a £30,000 assault course designed by Captain Denis Sears of the Army's Physical Training Corps (he's the man with the gun who starts things off on screen each week) in conjunction with Granada TV.

When it's not being attempted by The Krypton Factor hopefuls, the course is used for the rest of the year to train teenage cadets and other members of the armed forces. In case you think it all looks very easy on TV, Captain Sears is quoted as saying it's the toughest assault course he's seen outside the Commandos! And the point is reinforced by many of the Army's PT experts, who volunteer to be on hand to instruct and encourage The Krypton Factor's contestants. They stress just how dangerous and exhausting some of the obstacles can be without proper supervision: a punctured lung and a badly sprained ankle were two of the injuries in the preliminary stages of this year's contest.

No part of the body escapes punishment, either. The course was designed to test and strain the whole range of muscles, and brute strength isn't enough. Overall fitness, stamina and what the show's creators call 'courage' are all essential.

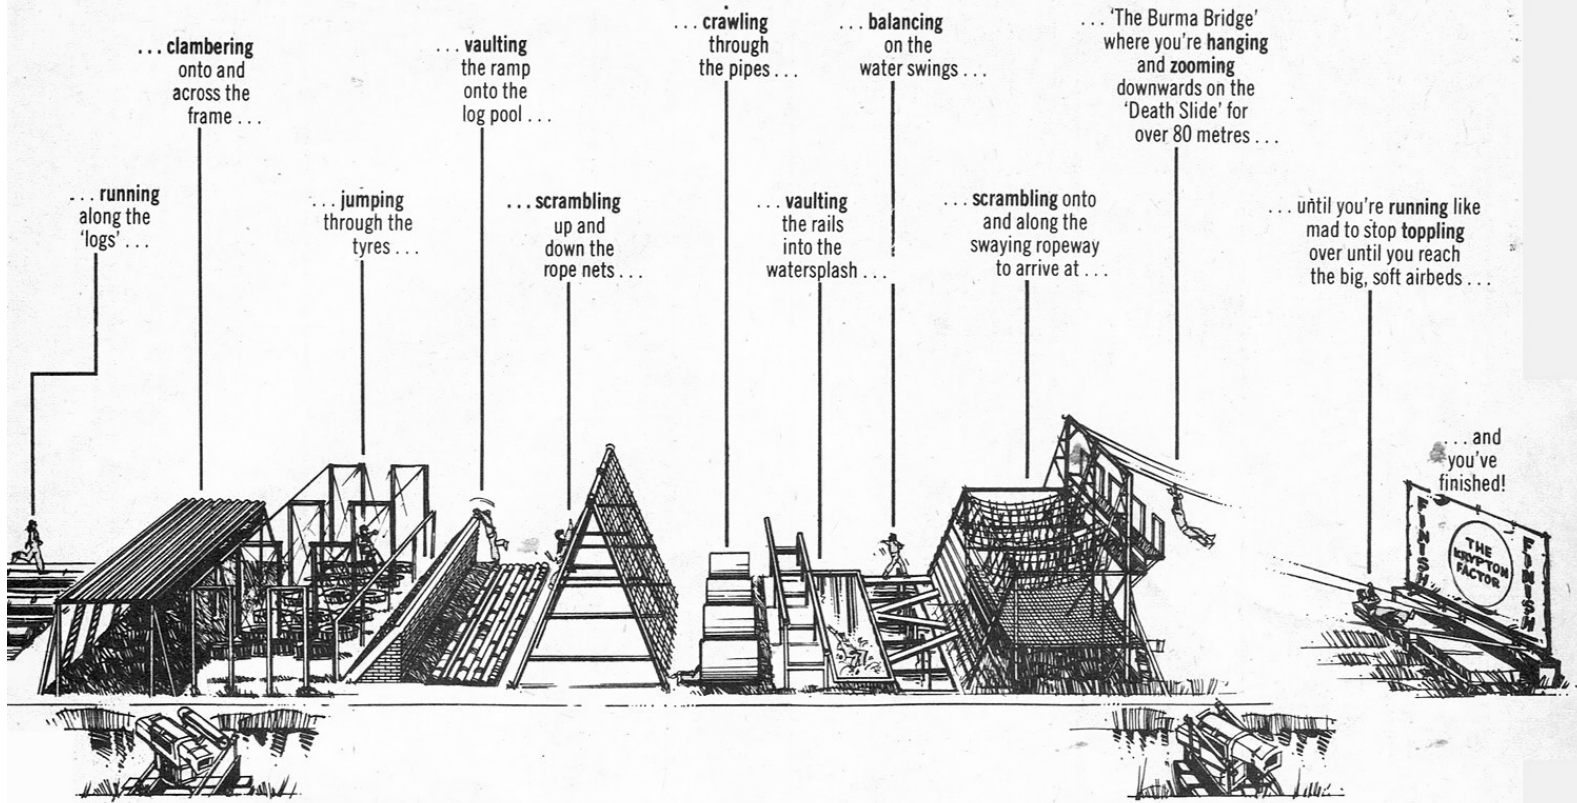

With the contestants' ages ranging from 21 to 47, the time taken to complete the course varies a lot: from under three minutes to well over five. And they must seem very long minutes indeed when you're hanging by a thumb caught in some ropes ten metres up in the air (yes, it did actually happen)!

What does the show's presenter, Gordon Burns, think of the course? "Well, I've run it on three occasions previously, when we were doing the earlier series, just to prove that I could do it, and after the last time I vowed 'never again!' It's more difficult this year, too: those tiring scramble-nets are included in the heats now, whereas before they had only been used for the finals.

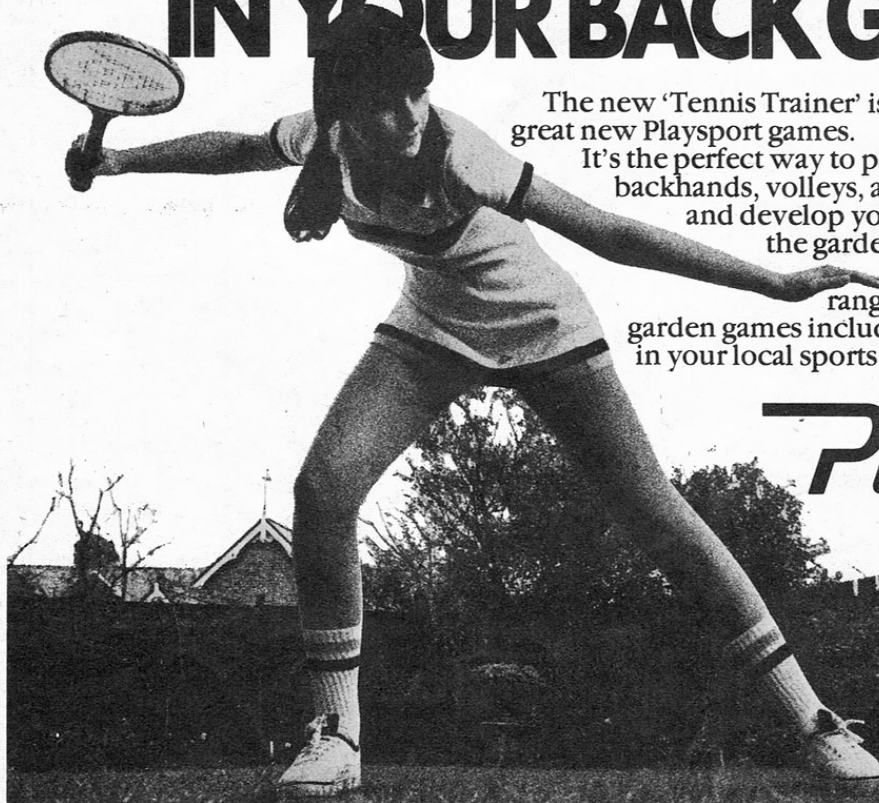

"In fact, I've been banned from doing it this year, for insurance reasons until the whole series is complete, so I suppose that's a kind of blessing in disguise!"

When it's all over, the contestants are allowed to keep those natty Krypton Factor tracksuits as mementoes of the most gruelling few minutes and 250 metres most of them can remember. For several days, though, they won't need any such mementoes to remind them of their performances — the aching muscles will do that for them!

START STOP

Tennis isn't only a big summer game when Wimbledon is on — it's big all the year round. And I am sure it will be even bigger with you if you can find all the words and phrases associated with tennis in this week's Starchart. If you spot them from the clues I give, you'll have one word left over which could win you our £3 postal order prize.

All the answers to my clues are associated with tennis and as you solve them you have to find the words in the chart. You do this by stopping and starting as indicated and linking up letters in any direction except diagonally to form the words you seek. You use every letter just once and that includes those you need for the prize answer.

Now here are the clues, all answers being one word unless indicated.

You hit with this (2 words); and this is what you hit (2 words); this divides a court; the most famous tennis tournament takes place here; this describes a very hard hit; this describes hitting the ball before it bounces; this is another name when the score is 40-40; this forms part of a set; what you win when defeating your opponent; this is one point from complete victory (2 words). This man controls the game; he collects loose balls (2 words); these are complete competitions; these are played without partners; these games have one man and one woman on each side (2 words); this describes when many balls are returned without loss of a point; she is one of Britain's most famous players (2 words); these form the hitting surface on a racket; players wear these sometimes to strengthen their wrist, sometimes as a sweat band (2 words); this is the surface at Wimbledon (2 words); and this is how you start a game.

If you get all those you'll have one word left over of another summer ball player. Tell me that one word — I don't need the completed square — and you could be a winner. Send your entry, on a postcard only, to: Starchart, Look-in, 247 Tottenham Court Road, London W1P 0AU. The sender of the first correct entry pulled from the postbag will receive the prize.

★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★ Here are last week's answers

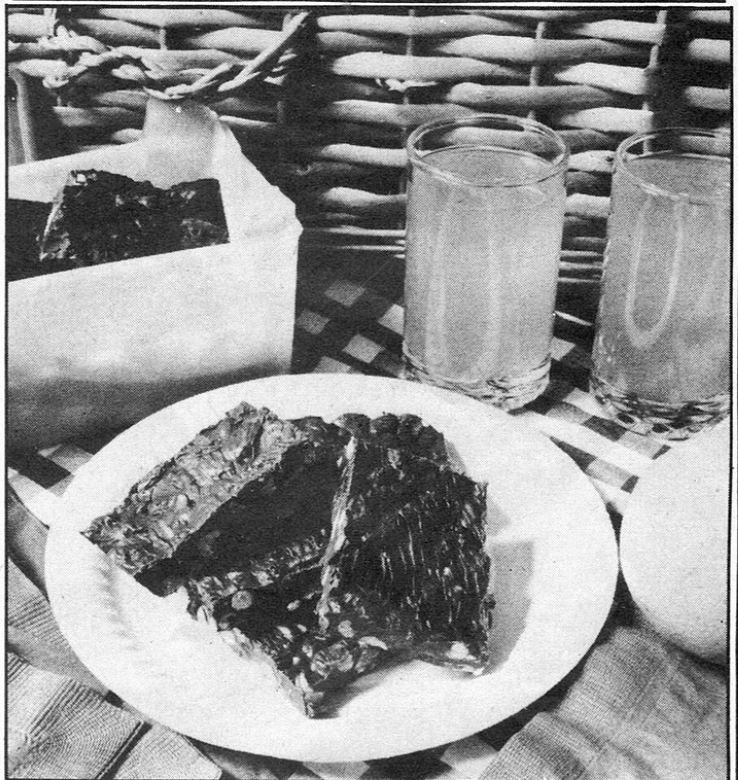

Blackboard; Teacher; Locker; School Dinner; Classroom; Headmaster; Headmistress; Dining Room; Medical Room; Secretary; Playground; Playtime; School Uniform; Corridor; Exercise Book; Ruler; Examination. Prize word: Absent.

Introduced by Kathie Webber, Cookery Editor of TVTimes

This recipe for Picnic Squares was sent in by Look-in reader Karen Blick from Kempston in Bedford. She has called them Picnic Squares because they are ideal to pack up if you're planning a day out. They also make a delicious dessert — or even a mid-afternoon treat if you feel a bit peckish.

PICNIC SQUARES

INGREDIENTS

300g (11oz.) cooking chocolate

225g (8oz.) roasted peanuts

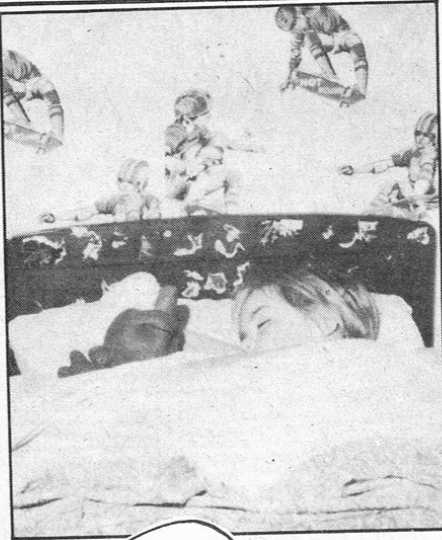

60ml (4 tablespoons) sultanas

METHOD

Place the chocolate in a large bowl over a pan of simmering water until melted. Stir until smooth. Add roasted peanuts and sultanas and stir until combined. Line a swiss roll tin with greaseproof paper. Pour in the mixture and smooth out evenly. Put the tray in the refrigerator until set, about 1 hour, then remove and cut into squares or bars. Store in refrigerator.

★ If you have a recipe you have made up yourself, send it to me and you may be lucky enough to see it on this page. Send your recipe to: Kathie Webber, Young Cooks' Club, Look-in, 247 Tottenham Court Road, London W1P 0AU.

WHAT'S SMURFING...?

It's been a bit longer than usual since the last What's Smurfing...? so this week we've taken a little extra space to print a few of the super pictures you've been sending, as well as bringing you some of the latest Smurf news...

GOOD NEWS, TOO, for all you Smurfers who live in the ATV Midlands area. As from 25th July, the film The Smurfs And The Magic Flute is being shown on your local cinema circuit, so watch out for it. Look for details in your local newspaper.

IF YOU BELIEVE that happiness is a Smurf, take a look at this picture (right) of Carolyn Watson from Gateshead. She's got 48 little Smurfs plus two cuddly ones, so no wonder she's laughing.

FOR THOSE OF YOU who've asked when Pierre Culliford — Peyo — the Smurfs' creator, actually started drawing, the answer is 'back in his schooldays'. Pierre admits to having hated learning Latin, so he spent those lessons doodling cartoons in the margins of his grammar book!

JOKER SMURF has a couple of wisecracks for you this week: Who held the baby octopus to ransom? A squidnapper! Then there were the two burglars who stole a calendar — they got six months each!

Pierre the Clown 'holds the baby' at a recent show.

IF YOU LIVE in, or are planning a visit to, the Isle of Man or Skegness, you'll find that the Smurfs are there, too. They'll be in shows at The Festival Pavilion, Skegness from 21st July to 28th August, and at The Palace Lido, Isle of Man from 21st July to 23rd August.

IT'S GREAT NEWS for fans of Pierre and the Smurfs, for they'll be at Arundel, in Sussex, (with a Smurf house, too) on 22nd and 23rd July where an international heat in the Jeux Sans Frontieres is being held. Up at the other end of the country, Pierre is going to be at the Tyneside Summer Show in Newcastle from 29th July to 2nd August, so go and see him if you can!

AND FINALLY, a little bit of Smurf information: if you're a Smurf collector, you should now be able to buy all sorts of Smurf goodies in some of your local High Street toy shops, as well as at National petrol stations.

SO THAT'S ALL for now, Smurfers! Watch out soon for details of the winners of the Create A New Smurf Competition which was held a few weeks ago at the TVTimes Weekend of Family Sport and Entertainment at the Lakeside Country Club.

What will they do with each other? Follow the laughs next week.

Of all the glamorous rock bands to have ascended and glittered over the past decade, Roxy Music are still shining as one of the brightest. While many so-called superstars glimmer for just a year, the individualistic Roxy — fronted by the extraordinary, fashion-innovating Bryan Ferry — seem content to burn for ever, as their latest single Oh Yeah goes to prove.

Before a fateful November day in 1970 when the band was formed, the world of rock — although quite used to the bizarre and outrageous — had never experienced the like of Roxy Music . . .

While their musical achievement can never be under-estimated, the sound-and-vision fantasy of Roxy Music exploded on the music scene with a bang.

BRYAN FERRY — a miner's son from County Durham — originally studied fine art, planning to become a painter. While at Newcastle University, he fell in love with rock and roll, and formed an 8-piece soul band called Gas Board. Music opened up a whole new world for him. He saw it as a medium through which he could express his personal and stylised vision of the world.

Ferry became fascinated by the outrageous clothes of futuristic fashion designer Anthony Price and paraded on stage in some of his wildest gear, but it had such style that it went rather well with the band's image.

Ferry had an enormous influence on unusual stage costume and once explained his interest in his stage clothes.

"For a long time I couldn't really decide which I was more interested in — music or visual arts. I'd always wanted to be a painter and, as a music fan, I always preferred to see the more exotic black American bands. They always presented themselves so . . . immaculately. That's why Roxy Music pays so much attention to presentation on stage, and packaging for records." And, without doubt, Roxy Music's album covers, with their beautiful artwork of exotic ladies, are so striking that, once seen, they remain with you for ever, even if you never actually buy the record! Roxy Music album covers still stand out in record-shop windows.

Ferry's early dream of forming a completely new and different band attracted the equally revolutionary musicians and thinkers ANDY MACKAY (saxophone and oboe player), BRIAN ENO (an indisputable innovator in synthesiser techniques) and guitarist PHIL MANZANERA.

Their musical restyling of the Fifties' feel — revamped in Roxy Music's distinctive, classy way — earned them an enthusiastic following of fans, and gained them their first chart hit single Virginia Plain.

Hand in hand with their musical approach was the band's unique visual appeal. We were to see a constant stream of fashion vogues modelled by Ferry, rock's most eligible clothes-horse. He went from one extreme to another — through a period of cool elegance, then into the bizarre South American "gaucho look", into his most arresting uniform of all time . . . his modification of Elvis Presley as he had appeared in the film G.I. Blues.

But always underlying Ferry's outward displays of fashion eccentricity is an artist and musician of great sensitivity and a talented composer. Without Ferry there would be no Roxy Music.

He has been accused of being unemotional and even aloof with some he meets, while others say he's just reserved and modest. Indeed, Ferry is very modest about his own, not inconsiderable.

Roxy Music back in the early seventies when their own distinctive style of dress excited the pop world.

Bryan Ferry in his G.I. stage gear.

from p.15 ability as a musician/writer. In 1972, Roxy Music did their first official gig — at the Lincoln Festival — and by June, their first album (now a collector's item), Roxy Music, was released, reaching No 6 in the charts. By the autumn, they were ready for their first nationwide tour, then concerts in the States, a European tour, and another hit single Pyjamarama.

In March 1973, the band's second album, For Your Pleasure, climbed to No. 3. By the summer, Roxy Music were awarded the prized Grand Prix du Disque at the Montreux Golden Rose Festival for "the best album of the year".

Roxy Music just couldn't lose. In the November, Bryan Ferry's first solo album proved a significant milestone for him — These Foolish Things went straight to No. 1, and Roxy Music's memorable single Street-life was a hit.

While the line-up of Roxy Music has often changed from their beginning, kingpins Ferry, Mackay and Manzanera have remained constant. In 1973, a series of differences about the direction the band was taking led to Brian Eno leaving to pursue a successful solo career. His place was taken by an energetic, 18-year-old, Eddie Jobson (violinist and keyboards wizard, formerly with Curved Air).

The first album to feature the dynamic Eddie was the third — Stranded — and, while Manzanera and Mackay made a more upfront contribution assisting with lyrics, Ferry's typically English style still dominated.

The fourth Roxy Music album followed the next year — Country Life. But it was reported that Manzanera was not entirely happy with the album and there was a period of friction between him and Ferry, and for a while they worked on some interesting solo projects.

Mackay wrote the music for ITV's hit series Rock Follies, elevating him to a superior slot in rock music.

Manzanera went off and recorded his Diamond Head album, temporarily reforming his old band Quiet Sun for a one-off gig.

But soon Roxy Music were back in the studios together again. This resulted in the success of one of their best singles Love is The Drug — a hit here and across the Atlantic. The single, and the success of their album Siren, at last won them the right to play full-size rock venues in the States, although they still seek the ecstatic acclaim in the States that they receive on home ground.

In 1976, one of the band's finest albums was released — the live album Viva! — marking another era in their career.

That, of course, means their latest album — the seventh — called Flesh and Blood from which we have already had two sparkling hits Over You and Oh Yeah.

In 1976, rumours of internal disagreement and the band splitting up, threatened us with the end of Roxy Music. That summer, they announced a "trial separation" and they did — for a while — go off and develop individual projects. But, such obviously compatible and mutually inspirational musicians like Ferry, Mackay and Manzanera couldn't stay apart for long, and, fortunately, came back together for their most productive period.

Roxy Music have succeeded where many others have failed, in their refusal to be restricted to the obvious limitations of one style. They have always been ready to experiment, and expand their musical directions so that, even ten years on (long enough to burn out the most dedicated of musicians) they're still with us.

Meanwhile, from July 23, Roxy Music's fans will be turning out to support this most original rock music act on their national tour, and on August 1 and 2, the long-awaited culmination will be their appearance at London's huge Wembley Arena.

For the summer tour, Ferry, Mackay and Manzanera are augmented by bass player Gary Tibbs, Andy Newmark on drums (replacing Roxy's drummer Paul Thompson who broke his thumb in a motorcycle accident), guitarist Neil Hubbard and Paul Carrack.

As Roxy Music play their nationwide concert this month, adoring fans will go to each gig secure in the knowledge that this time will be just as fascinating as the last with just as many surprises, just as revolutionary as ever. That's the promise...!

OH YEAH

Some expression in your eyes
Overtook me by surprise
Where was I, how was I to know?
How can we drive to a movie show
When the music is here in my car?
There's a band playing on the radio
With a rhythm of rhyming guitars
They're playing "Oh Yeah" on the radio.

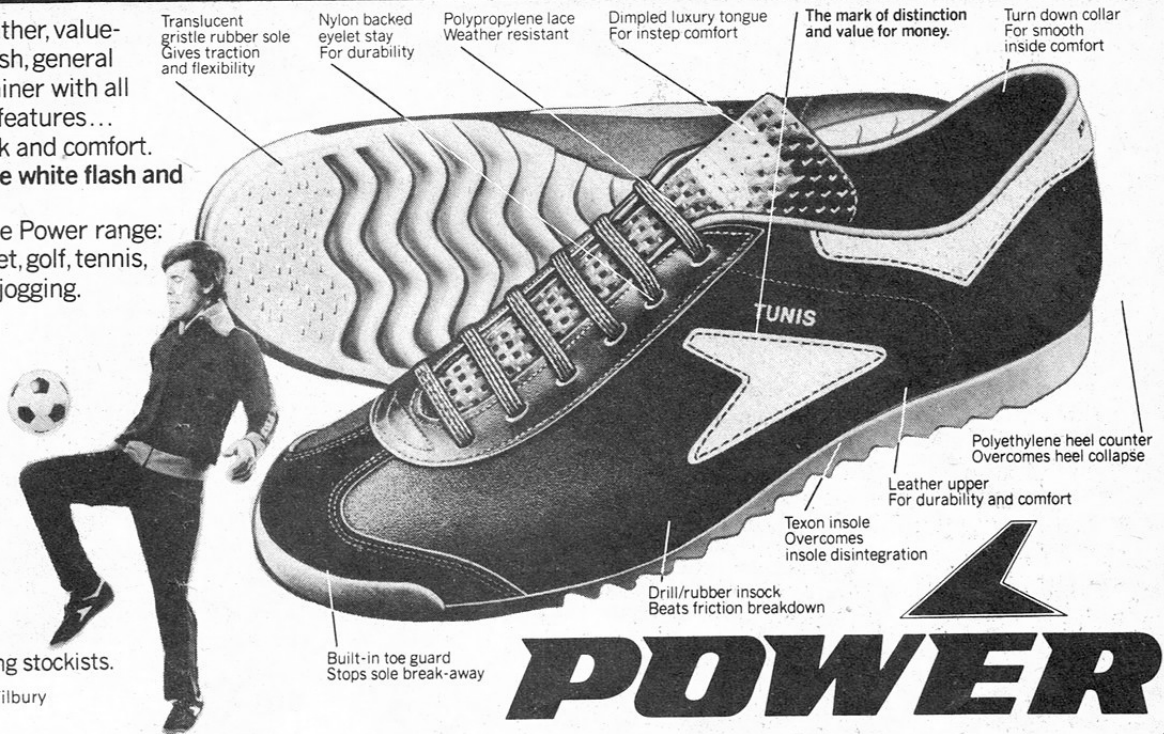

And so it came to be our song
And so on through all summer long
Day and night drifting into love
Driving you home from a movie show
So in tune to the sounds in my car
There's a band playing on the radio
With a rhythm of rhyming guitars
They're playing "Oh Yeah" on the radio

It's some time since we said goodbye
And now we lead our separate lives
But where am I where can I go?
Driving alone to a movie show
So I turn to the sounds in my car
There's a band playing on the radio
With a rhythm of rhyming guitars
There's a band playing on the radio
And it's drowning the sound of my tears
They're playing "Oh Yeah" on the radio.

Battlestar GALACTICA™

THROUGH THE HUMID ESTUARINE SWAMPS OF THE PLANET ZARDAK'S MAJOR CONTINENT RUNS A FUGITIVE. A MAN AT THE VERY GATES OF EXHAUSTION AND DESPAIR...

HE TRIPS. FALLS. WEARILY RAISES HIS POUNDING HEAD...

NO... ESCAPE! THEY - THEY'RE COMING FOR ME...

HALT, VERMIN! IT IS USELESS TO FLEE!

BETTER TO FACE DEATH THAN FALL INTO THEIR HANDS AGAIN!

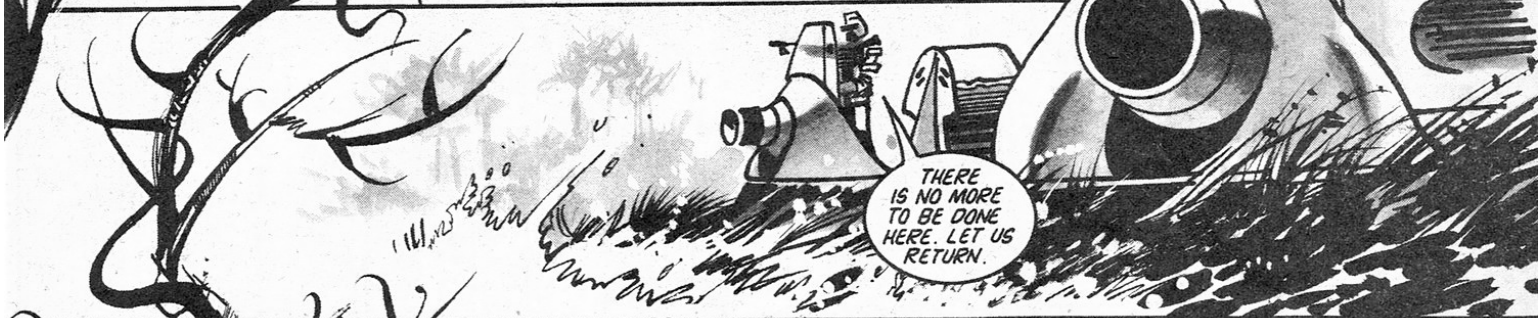

BETTER OBLIVION!

ONE DREADFUL SCREAM, CUT SUDDENLY SHORT, AND THEN ONLY A HORRENDOUS CRUNCHING AND CHAMPING...

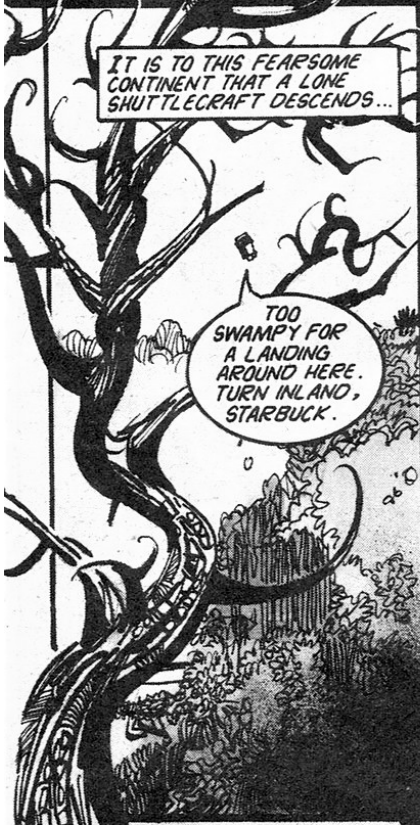

A PITY HE COULD NOT HAVE BEEN SECURED FOR PUNISHMENT. MENDRIX WILL BE DISPLEASED.

THERE IS NO MORE TO BE DONE HERE. LET US RETURN.

THE CYLONS - FOR SUCH ARE THE CALLOUS ANDROIDS - LEAVE THE SWAMPS TO THEIR GHASTLY TABLEAU...

IT IS TO THIS FEARSOME CONTINENT THAT A LONE SHUTTLECRAFT DESCENDS...

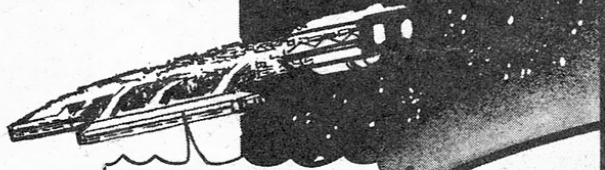

TOO SWAMPY FOR A LANDING AROUND HERE. TURN INLAND, STARBUCK.

DON'T SEE ANYTHING IN THE WAY OF TOWNS OR SETTLEMENTS, APOLLO.

IT'S A BIG PLACE. CALL GALACTICA, ATHENA SEE IF THEY'VE HAD ANY LUCK YET WITH RADIO PROBE.

BATTLESTAR GALACTICA. FLAGSHIP OF THE VAST SURVIVAL CONVOY IN SEARCH OF A NEW HOME...

NO CONTACT AT ALL. THE PLANET MAY BE UNINHABITED. ON THE OTHER HAND, THEY MIGHT JUST BE SHY OF NEWCOMERS...

HIS WAY OF TELLING US TO WATCH OUT FOR POSSIBLE AMBUSH.

HAH! ACTION'S THE NAME OF MY GAME, CAP. WHO KNOWS - MAYBE WE'LL FIND IT'S A SECRET CYLON COLONY! HA HA HA!

How right he is! Follow the drama next week.

DRAW YOUR OWN SPACE ENEMY FOR SPACE RANGER AND WIN A STAR PRIZE!

THE GREAT 1980
ACTION
man
Space
Ranger
DRAWING CONTEST

RON SMITH

Imagine you're out on a mission with Space Ranger. You're crewman of the Solar Hurricane. Rom the Space Knight is out there, waiting to lend a hand. Battlepacks, Helipacks and space walkers at the ready. Then out of nowhere! - an amazing Sinister Space Enemy appears, with his fleet. The battle is on!

Will your Enemy have strange new Powers? Can it resist the blast of Solar Hurricane's laser beam or the effects of mighty Rom's neutralizer? What does your enemy look like? What's its name?

Draw the most Sinister Enemy you can imagine - and win a Super Star Prize.

SIX STAR PRIZES:

Fantastic day out for the six winners to the Action Man Team Headquarters at the Palitoy Toy Factory. Meet the real live Action Man Space Ranger himself. At the end of an exciting day you'll receive a Space Ranger Captain, 5 Patrollers, the Planetary Patrol Vehicle and the amazing electronic Solar Hurricane.

Twelve 2nd prizes of Space Ranger Captains with Battlepacks and Helipacks.

Twenty-four 3rd prizes of Space Ranger Patroller outfits.

HOW TO ENTER.

All you have to do is design and draw what you think could be a Sinister Space Enemy of Space Ranger. And then give it a name.

Send your drawing and the Enemy's name to the address in rule 6. Make sure you complete the coupon with your name, address and age and send it with your entry.

RULES OF THE COMPETITION

1. The competition is open to all UK residents aged 3 to 14, except children of employees of Palitoy and anyone directly concerned with the competition.
2. Entries must be received on or before 5th September, 1980.
3. A toy shop receipt for Palitoy Action Man purchases must accompany all entries. Plus a brief note from your parent/guardian verifying your age and that the entry is your own unaided work.
4. All entries received by the final date will be examined by a panel of judges and prizes awarded for the combination of the best drawing and most original name. The judges decision shall be final and legally binding. No correspondence can be entered into.
5. Age of entrant will be taken into consideration when judging.
6. Winners will be notified by post. A full list of prize winners will be sent on request after 19th September, 1980. Post your entry to: Space Ranger Drawing Competition, Palitoy Consumer Services, PO Box 9, Baker Street, Coalville, Leicester LE6 2DE.
7. Copyright in all entries submitted will belong to Palitoy.
8. All Star Prize winners will be accompanied by an adult, expenses will be paid for by Palitoy.

CHARLIE'S SWEET SIXTH

In one way or another, Charlie's Angels have given us a lot of colour over the last five years, and in this week's Look-in, we've returned the compliment by giving them the colourful treatment with a great new Angels story on pages 8 and 9 - in super full colour!

Meanwhile, back in Hollywood, U.S.A... Charlie has announced his sixth Angel, no less, and the lucky girl to have won the eagerly fought-for role is 24-year-old Tanya Roberts, who was once a star of the hit TV series Vegas.

Tanya broke the news on a TV show in June, and since then her publicity machine has been cranking into top gear.

She lives with her husband in a small Los Angeles apartment, and only just missed landing the lead role in the big hit X-certificate film 10 with Dudley Moore - because the colour of her hair was wrong. Says Tanya: "I don't begrudge Bo Derek (the eventual star of the film) that success. That's show-business."

It certainly is - and the Angels provided more showbiz controversy themselves when Shelley Hack as Tiffany Welles lost her place in the angelic order of things. "Not enough impact," complained the series' heavenly fathers, and Shelley was shown the Pearly Exit.

Now Tanya steps in - the girl who began her acting career at 16 in an off-Broadway show and once had to take up modelling to help pay the rent.

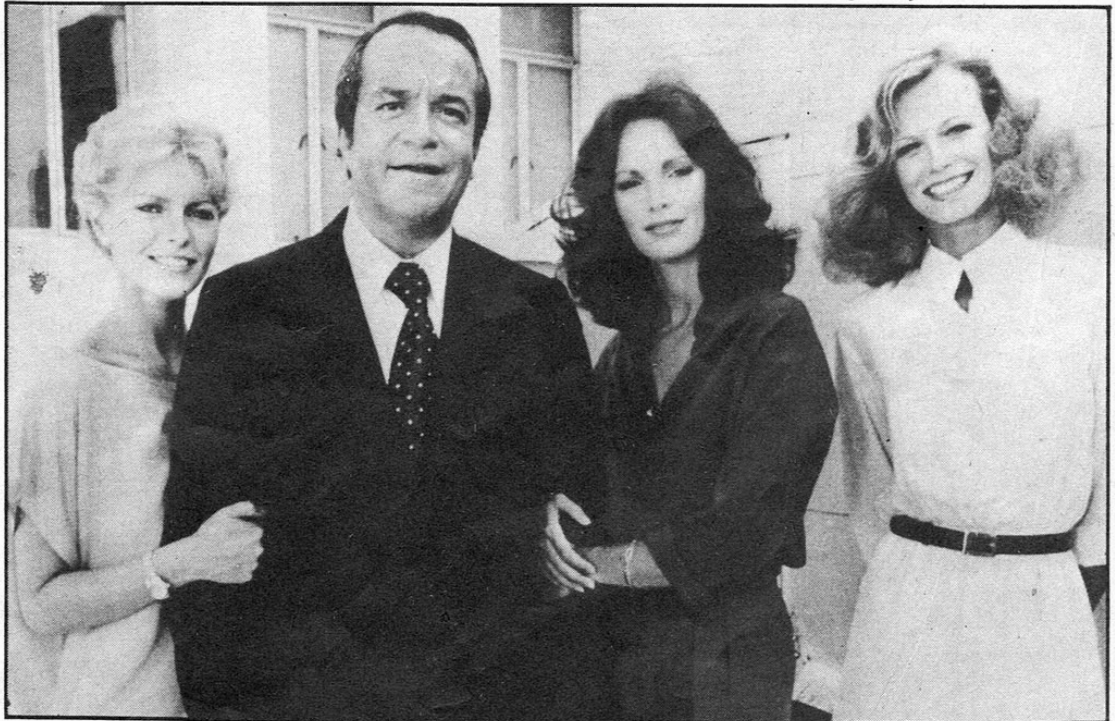

She had to beat 1,000 other actresses to land the role as the newest Angel. Let's hope Charlie is pleased with her.

Certainly, he might be disturbed at the way other trios of TV detectives are sprouting up around him. Tony's Boys and Harper And Co. - two Angels spin-offs - star six young men primed for action, and we might be seeing their antics soon.

The men chosen to play the 'Boys' are not actors, but beefy male models. And playing the 'Bosley' role (if you know what we mean) is veteran Hollywood star, Barbara Stanwyck. We'll keep you in touch with further developments...

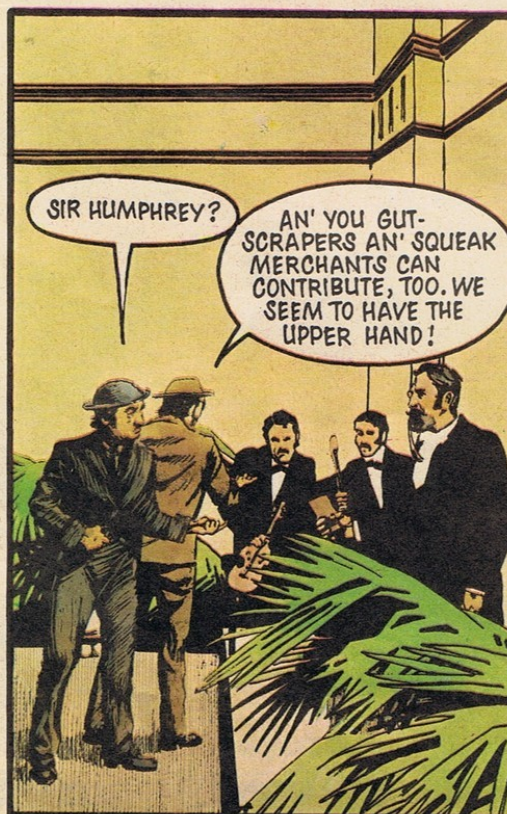

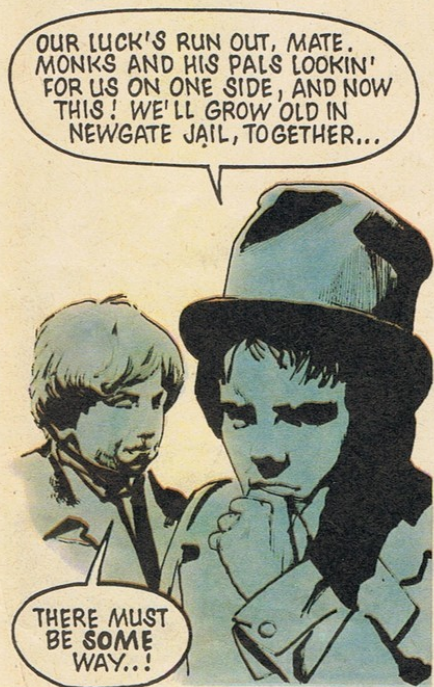

Sixth Angel Tanya Roberts.

The Angelic line-up that's about to change: Kris (Cheryl Ladd), Bosley (David Doyle), Kelly (Jaclyn Smith), and Tiffany (Shelley Hack).

WORKING WITH A.P. ALLAN'S TRAVELLING RODEO, MORK HAS UNDERTAKEN TO RIDE A WILD AND UNTAMED BRONCO ACROSS THE POOL ABOVE DEATH RAPIDS AT MORGAN'S CREEK. IT TAKES FIVE MEN TO GET THE HORSE DOWN TO THE RIVER-SIDE...

TRY AND HOLD HIM STEADY WHEN HE GETS TO THE EDGE BOYS...

HE SURE IS DYNAMITE TODAY, BOSS!

SURE YOU WANNA GO THROUGH WITH THIS, MORK?

NEEMNOT, SHABOOTIM! BEHAVE LIKE AN ORKAN HOOFLER-KANKER, WHICH YOU SO MUCH RESEMBLE. WE SHALL HAVE FUN, YOU AND I!

IT IS PERFECTLY ALL RIGHT, MR. ALLAN. IT WILL BE SAFE, I ASSURE YOU!

AS THE HANDLERS' ROPES STRAIN TIGHT, MORK LEAPS ONTO THE ANIMAL'S BACK...

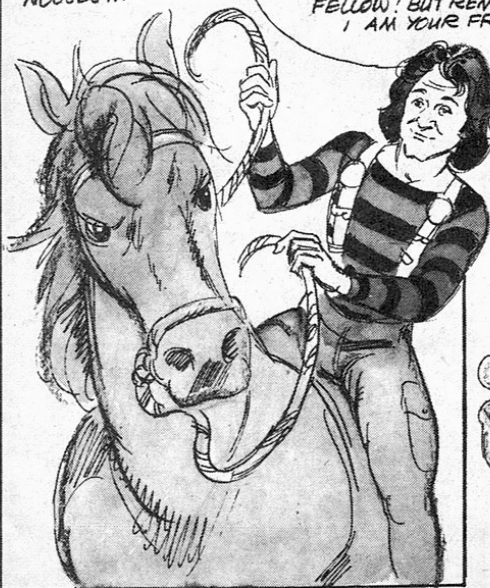

THE HORSE SEEMS TO PAUSE—AND MORK CASTS OFF THE NOOSES...

PARANG MUFFET! YOU AND I HAVE TO PUT ON A SHOW, KICKING FELLOW! BUT REMEMBER—I AM YOUR FRIEND!

YEE-HAA!

WOW! JUST LOOK AT THAT BRONCO TAKE OFF! FIRST TIME I EVER SAW A VOLCANO WITH FOUR LEGS!

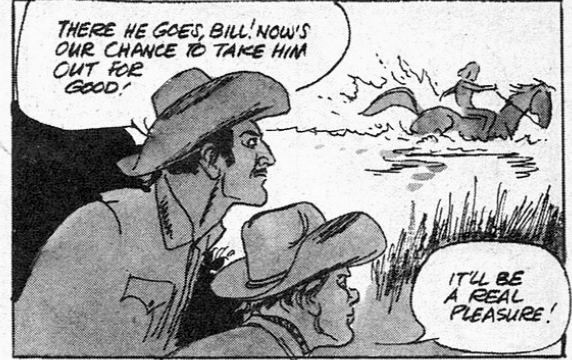

THEN...

ZOWIEEE!

NEITHER MORK NOR MINDY NOR A.P. ALLAN KNOWS THAT ENEMIES ARE AT WORK! JEALOUS RIDERS - IRON BILLY SHANNON AND HIS PAL MULDOON, FORMER STARS OF THE RODEO....

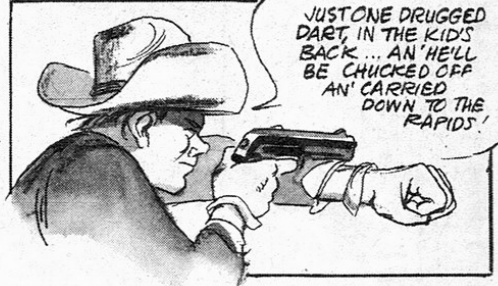

THERE HE GOES, BILL! NOW'S OUR CHANCE TO TAKE HIM OUT FOR GOOD!

IT'LL BE A REAL PLEASURE!

SNORRSH!

YOU'RE DOING FINE, HOOFLKAKKER! YOU ARE A GREAT ACTOR!

JUST ONE DRUGGED DART, IN THE KID'S BACK... AN' HE'LL BE CHUCKED OFF AN' CARRIED DOWN TO THE RAPIDS!

THEN....

PHUTT!

THE POWERFUL DRUG TAKES ALMOST INSTANT EFFECT...

I SAW IT HIT, BILL! YOU GOT THE HORSE!

TARNATION!

WHA...? YOU CANNOT GO TO SLEEP ON ME NOW!

MR. ALLAN! SOMETHING'S HAPPENED!

JUMPIN' CATFISH! THEY'RE BEIN' CARRIED TOWARD THE RAPIDS!

HOOFLKAKKER! WE'RE GOING TO BE BROKEN INTO TINY BRINTS!

Find out what brints are next week!

SUMMER SHADOWS

COMPETITION

Fruit Gums are the perfect summer sweet!!
 Summer brings sunshine—sunshine brings shadows
 —now five famous shadows could bring you a super prize.

£10,000

worth of prizes to be won

25 RALEIGH GRIFTER BIKES

250 SUPER 'RADIO' RADIOS
1000 Fruit Gums Pencil Cases

With "shadows", clues and names (not to mention family and friends) to help you, it's easy! AND you can enter as many times as you like!

HERE'S WHAT YOU DO

Before making out your entry: Study the shadows (A-E) below and read the clues provided on each one:-

- A. Our wartime Prime Minister.
- B. She married Prince Albert.
- C. Founder of the Scout Movement.
- D. A hot-headed Australian bandit.
- E. Tudor King who had six wives.

Now identify each shadow from the names listed below:

NAPOLEON, CHURCHILL, BADEN-POWELL, DICK TURPIN, CAPTAIN COOK, HENRY VIII, NED KELLY, QUEEN VICTORIA, CLEOPATRA.

Finally, study the limerick in the right hand corner of this page and complete with an original and appropriate last line.

HOW TO ENTER

- (1) Use a separate piece of paper.
- (2) Write down your name and FULL address (BLOCK capitals).

 (3) Write down the five letters A-E. Next to each, write down what you think is the correct name (e.g. if you think that Shadow A is Cleopatra, you will write "A - Cleopatra", etc, etc).
 (4) Write out your last line to the limerick As the treat to enjoy in the sun, Rowntree Fruit Gums are second to none, There is flavour right through, And they last all day too.

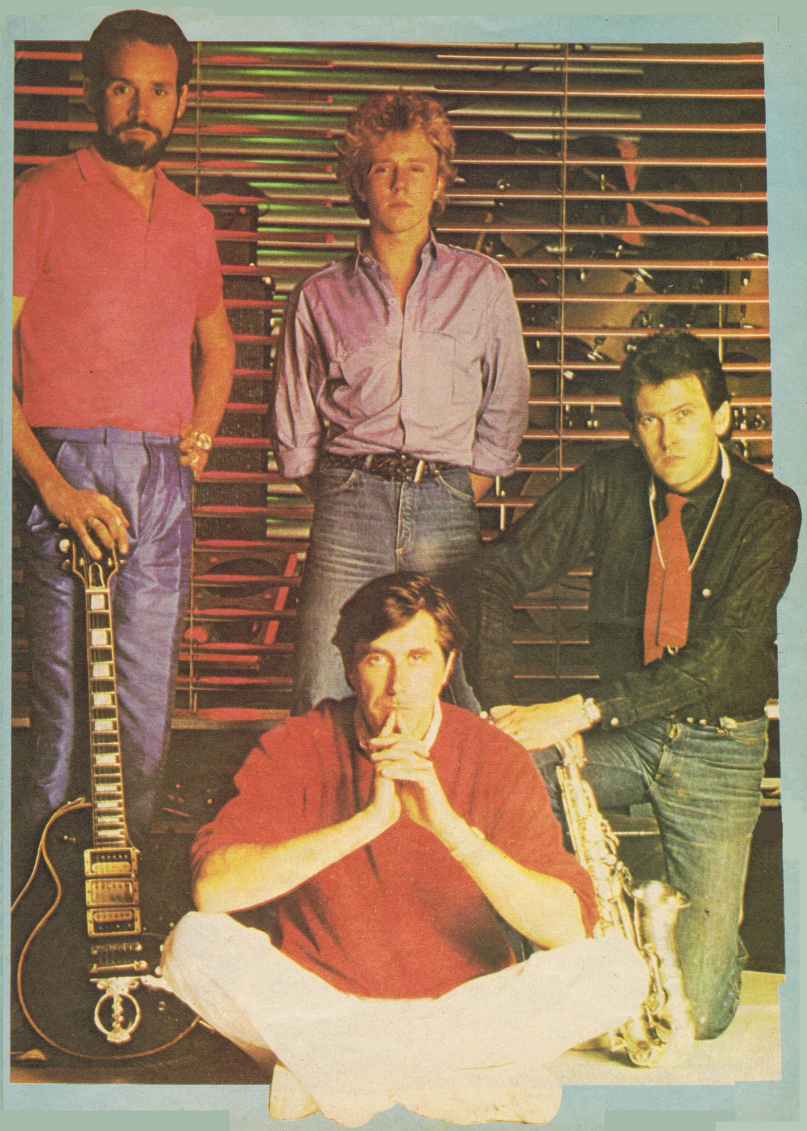

(5) Send your entry with 3 Fruit Gum wrappers (per entry) to:-

 And they last all day too.

SO YOU THINK YOU COULD TACKLE THE COURSE...?

The starting pistol fires and you're...

★ While you're doing all this, you're being televised by three cameras set in a gully alongside the course, and hand-held cameras on a Land Rover running on a specially-laid tarmac track spanning the whole length of the course.

THE KRYPTON FACTOR CHALLENGE

A cold, miserable, windy, Lancashire moor. A group of grown-ups is running, jumping, swinging, clambering, and crawling over, under, across and through an assortment of frames, logs, pipes, tyres, bricks, pools and ropes.

Recognise the scene? You will if you're a fan of The Krypton Factor, now well into its fourth series (on Mondays at 7 p.m.), that unusual show designed to produce a champion combining physical ability, mental agility, intelligence, observation and general knowledge. A real superhero (or woman) in fact. And yes, that is why the programme has such a funny name: the fictional Superman was born on a planet called Krypton.

It's the physical ability that's on test on that Lancashire moor, on a £30,000 assault course designed by Captain Denis Sears of the Army's Physical Training Corps (he's the man with the gun who starts things off on screen each week) in conjunction with Gramada TV.

When it's not being attempted by The Krypton Factor hopefuls, the course is used for the rest of the year to train teenage cadets and other members of the armed forces. In case you think it all looks very easy on TV, Captain Sears is quoted as saying it's the toughest assault course he's seen outside the Commandos! And the point is reinforced by many of the Army's PT experts, who volunteer to be on hand to instruct and encourage The Krypton Factor's contestants. They stress just how dangerous and exhausting some of the obstacles can be without proper supervision: a punctured lung and a badly sprained ankle were two of the injuries in the preliminary stages of this year's contest.

No part of the body escapes punishment, either. The course was designed to test and strain the whole range of muscles, and brute strength isn't enough. Overall fitness, stamina and what the show's creators call 'courage' are all essential.

With the contestants' ages ranging from 21 to 47, the time taken to complete the course varies a lot: from under three minutes to well over five. And they must seem very long minutes indeed when you're hanging by a thumb caught in

What does the show's presenter, Gordon Burns, think of the course? "Well, I've run it on three occasions previously, when we were doing the earlier series, just to prove that I could do it, and after the last time I vowed 'never again!' It's more difficult this year, too: those tiring scramble-nets are included in the heats now, whereas before they had only been used for the finals."

"In fact, I've been banned from doing it this year, for insurance reasons until the whole series is complete, so I suppose that's a kind of blessing in disguise!"

When it's all over, the contestants are allowed to keep those natty Krypton Factor tracksuits as mementoes of the most gruelling few minutes and 250 metres most of them can remember. For several days, though, they won't need any such mementoes to remind them of their performances — the aching muscles will do that for them!
