SERENADE TO SPIT

The award for singing the silliest songs on Tiswas probably lands in the capable hands — or should that be throats — of The Clarke Sisters, from Retford in Nottingham (below, with Bob and Spit). Wendy (15), Sharon (13) and Nicola (11) make fairly regular appearances on the show (no-one can keep them away!). "At first," they say, "we were very nervous, but now we have a lot of laughs." The sort of chuckles brought on by their rendition of Spit, one of their typical numbers, the words of which we proudly reproduce below.

By the way, it's sung to the tune of Clementine.

In a kennel, in a back street,
A little dog was born one day,
His mother was a boxer,
But his dad had run away.
As he grew up in the back street
He never learned to beg or sit,
His manners were so awful,
All he learned to do was spit.

CHORUS

How we love you, Spit we love you,
To us you are divine,
You are scruffy, you are naughty,
But we love you all the time.

He ran away to seek his fortune,
And he roamed from town to town,
Till he found a small flea circus,
And became their only clown.
Spit was happy with the fleas there,
But soon he had to go,
When he left he took the artists,
Yes, he really stole the show.

Fascinating Fact

Exactly 52 years ago this Saturday, on December 20th 1928, a fishy legend was started. Yorkshireman Harry Ramsden opened a 3 metre (10ft.) by 2 metre (6 ft.) hut in Guisley to sell fish and chips. In 1931 he built an enormous, and beautifully decorated, shop to replace it. It isn't like any other chip shop because it has carpets, chandeliers and stained glass windows! Each year it fries 180 tons of fish and 400 tons of chips in 44 tons of beef dripping. It's the largest fish and chip shop in the world!

CHEERS!

We had a rule at our school: cheer your team as much as you like, but don't boo. Ever. Anyone heard shouting abuse at the opposing side was hauled off and punished, and the same rule applied to individual sports like athletics, swimming, boxing and so on. It was considered a thoroughly nasty thing to do, apart from being rotten sportsmanship. I wish that it was a rule at professional sports events now; booing, except when done briefly as a joke, doesn't seem to do any good, does it? It just raises bad feelings. And it certainly doesn't make the booper seem very smart. If a player does something wrong it should be up to the officials to punish him, don't you think? What do you feel about putting a stop to booing? Or are there any situations where you consider booing okay? (Maybe there should be 'Booing Sections', like the no-smoking areas in cinemas and trains, where angry people could collect to shout rude remarks, together!). Send your views to me at Ban Booing Forum, Look-in, 247 Tottenham Court Road, London W1P 0AU.

MORE GIFT IDEAS

These super zip-top canvas pencil cases are made by Platignum. They're disguised as all sorts of fun things including a packet of chewing gum, a box of matches, a wild west poster and even the seat of a pair of trousers! From leading stationery shops and newsagents at 75p.

A younger brother or sister who enjoys playing with building bricks would no doubt be delighted to find these amongst the presents on Christmas morning. Happy Days building bricks fit together with the leading bricks available in this country, yet cost much less. They come in various pack sizes ranging from 90p for a small bag to £9.50 for a 1kg tub and can be bought from most toy shops and department stores.

This is a great gift for the member of the family who likes to watch things grow. There's a choice of a Butterfly Garden, Patio Garden, Window Box Garden and Dried Flower Garden, amongst others, and all they need is regular watering. You can buy them at Boots for just 69p each.

World Of Stars is a paperback book published by Armada that contains fascinating facts about today's top celebrities — over two hundred of them, in fact! Just the thing for a star-struck friend, it costs 95p.

FREE TIME

Follow-up!

Your holiday's probably been brightened up this past couple of weeks by the arrival of Free Time on your TV screens, but maybe you need a reminder of some of the fascinating features which were included on the first two shows.

Well, on the first Free Time (shown on Monday the 8th) Mick Robertson included a look at a whole host of fun-filled games that you could play without forking out any previous expense — just by planting yourselves on a chair!

All you require for these games are your own selves — then you can partake in Chair Twist, Body Bump, Leg Wrestling and Balance. The book that supplies details of them all is entitled Games And Odd Collections No. 17 (below, right), published by Puffin at 80p.

Also highlighted in the first Free Time was a feature on concessions which could be gained on British Rail, including a look at half-price student rail-travel — which can be as little as £10 a year for over-14s if more than 15 hours' weekly travel are involved — and family rail-cards, which are operational between now and February, and allow between one and four children to travel on the same journey for just 50p, as long as one adult buys a full-ticket.

Ideal for Christmas time, full information on the family rail-card plus all other concessions can be obtained from the Information Centre of your station or a rail-appointed travel agent.

In the second Free Time (December 15th) Mick looked at country walks and followed up with three make-and-dos, involving leaf and holly imprints using plaster of Paris and plasticine, plus spray-and-paint cones with "sparkle" effect.

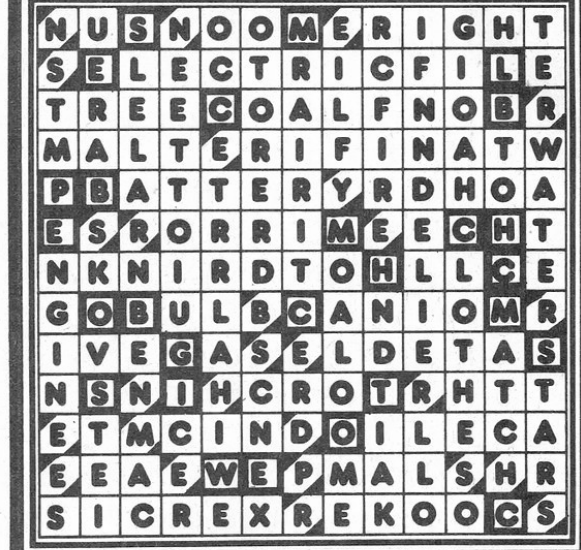

If you would like a detailed information sheet on how to make these rural-type decorations then send a stamped addressed envelope to: Free Time, Thames Television, Teddington Lock, Middlesex, TW11 9NT.

Meanwhile, for information about country walks, go to your local Tourist Information Centre, who will be able to supply local guide/booklets at about 10p to 50p each.

More next week!

STEWART'S STARCHART

START STOP

KEEPING warm this frosty weather is a thing that occupies all of us. That's why this week's Starchart is packed with items relating to heat, light and power in one way or another. Answer all my clues, find the answers in the chart, work out the prize answer and you might win our £3 postal order prize.

Solve the chart in the usual way. First solve the clues, then spell out the answers to them by linking up letters in the chart to form those answers. You must start and stop as directed. You may move in any direction except diagonally (which means you can go up, down, backwards or forwards in every word) to spell out the answers. And you must use every letter just once, including the prize answer.

Let's look at the clues — and remember all the answers are to do with heat, light or power in some way. One word answers every time, unless otherwise indicated.

It heats us from the sky; this is used for food preparation in the kitchen usually; this provides room heating at the flick of a switch (2 words); this burns material from a mine to heat us (2 words); this burns on November 5 all over the country; this will light it; or this mechanical object might also do so; this might give the heat to the central heating (2 words); while these warming things might also be made from it (2 words); this Earth satellite shines at night; while these may also twinkle in the sky; this has lots of electric light bulbs and hangs from the ceiling; old time light provider for rooms (2 words); this may be found in a stick and provides light; light provider you could keep in your pocket; and what power it; this provides light outside the house (2 words); this powers a mill; wearing these should keep you warm; what to do to keep warm and fit; this plugs into a light socket to give light; this reflects light; source of home power apart from electricity; this powers a car; you cook in this; vapour from very hot water.

Get all that lot and you will be left with one, short word. Nothing really to do with heat, light and power. In fact it's usually around when there isn't any heat. Send me just that one word, on a postcard only, and you could be a winner. The address? Starchart, Look-in, 247, Tottenham Court Road, London, W1P 0AU.

The sender of the first correct entry pulled from the postbag will receive the prize.

Here are last week's answers

ANIMAL ALLSORTS

A Christmas Tale...

On Christmas Day, two years ago, a little white collie called Sally (above) was sitting sadly outside her back door. Snow was falling, and the garden was slowly being covered in a soft white blanket.

Sally was quite a young dog, and she hadn't seen snow before. She didn't understand what was happening. All she knew was that she felt very cold and hungry, and that she had been waiting outside for someone to let her in for three whole days. Now and again she whined and scratched at the door, but no-one came to answer it, and this was hardly surprising because her owners had gone away on holiday for two weeks. The house was empty, and Sally had been left behind with no-one to look after her.

Soon night had fallen, and the only lights to be seen were the twinkling fairy lights on a Christmas tree in a window of the house next door. Sally knew the children who lived in this house, and earlier in the day she had seen them unwrapping their presents around the Christmas tree. She had even been able to smell their Christmas dinner cooking, and it had made her feel hungrier than ever.

WEAK AND HUNGRY

Now she knew she had to find something to eat if she was to stay alive. Near the dustbin were two large plastic sacks. Sally nipped through the plastic and had a good sniff around inside. She was in luck. Mixed up with the tins and tea leaves she found a few scraps of stale bread.

By the next afternoon, Sally was feeling very weak and tired, but she was able to bark when the children living next door came out to play. They came to the fence to look at her and then called their parents.

"That's odd," said their mother. "I thought Sally's owners had gone abroad for Christmas. Didn't we see them going off in a taxi four days ago? Surely they didn't just go away and leave the dog by herself in the garden?" "They should have arranged for her to stay in a boarding kennel while they were away," said the children's father, who looked very worried. Sally was very thin by this time, and she couldn't stop shivering.

The children took her into their house and gave her food while their father telephoned the RSPCA. An inspector came and took Sally to the Animal Home where she was seen by a vet who told the inspector that Sally would have died if she hadn't managed to find the scraps of food in the plastic bags.

Sally's owners were found guilty of both neglect and abandonment. They were fined £60 with £130 costs, and were disqualified from keeping a dog for ten years.

And Sally? Well, Sally's story does have a happy ending, because although she was ill for a while she did recover, and was later adopted from the Animal Home by a kind family.

Animal Allsorts is prepared with the help of the RSPCA. If you are interested in becoming a Junior RSPCA Member, you can write for further details to: RSPCA, Causeway, Horsham, Sussex, RH12 1HG.

SWALLOW THIS!

TVTimes cookery editor
Kathie Webber introduces Look-in's weekly fun food spot...

We often use holly to decorate our homes at this time of year, either in the shape of a wreath or just in a bunch. This practice dates back many years and is popular because holly is an evergreen and symbolises everlasting life. Also, the prickly leaves are a symbol of the crown of thorns worn by Christ at His crucifixion, and the bright red berries represent His blood.

In keeping with this old Christmas tradition, I've used holly leaves made out of marzipan as a decoration on this light gâteaux, which makes a tasty alternative if you're not too keen on the usual rich Christmas cake. You'll be able to make the gâteaux yourself but you'll need to enlist the help of a grown-up when it comes to making the frosting as it involves some tricky business with hot water which could be dangerous.

Christmas Gâteaux

Cake:

225g (8oz.) butter, softened
225g (8oz.) caster sugar
200g (7oz.) self-raising flour
25g (1oz.) cocoa
4 eggs, size 3
10ml (2 level tspns.) baking powder

Buttercream filling:

175g (6oz.) butter, softened
350g (12oz.) icing sugar, sieved
50g (2oz.) hazelnuts, chopped

Frosting:

400g (14oz.) caster sugar
60ml (4 tablespoons) water
5ml (1 level teaspoon) cream of tartar
pinch of salt
2 egg whites, size 3

Holly leaves:

125g (4oz.) marzipan
green and red food colouring

Grease a 23cm (9 inch) loose-bottomed cake tin and line the base with greased greaseproof paper. Place all the cake ingredients in a large bowl and beat well with a wooden spoon until evenly mixed. Spoon the mixture into tin. Bake in the oven at 190 deg. C (375 deg F) or gas mark 5, for about 40 minutes, until firm to the touch. Allow the cake to cool in the tin. Buttercream: place butter in a bowl and gradually add icing sugar, beating well with a wooden spoon between each addition. Stir in the chopped hazelnuts. Cut the cake horizontally into three layers and divide the buttercream in half. Spread half of the buttercream over the bottom layer, cover with middle layer and spread with remaining buttercream. Replace top of the cake. This is where you'll need some help from an adult. Frosting: place all the ingredients in a large heatproof bowl over a saucepan of hot water (it must not be boiling and the bowl must not touch the water). Stir until the sugar has dissolved. Beat the mixture continuously until the frosting is thick and stands in peaks. Remove from the heat and continue beating until thick enough to spread. Now you can take charge again! Quickly cover the cake with frosting before it sets, swirling with a palette knife to give a rough effect. Holly leaves: knead most of the marzipan with a little green food colouring until smooth and the colouring is evenly distributed. Repeat with the remaining piece of marzipan adding red food colouring instead of green. Roll out the green marzipan thinly and, using a knife, cut holly leaf shapes. Divide the red marzipan into small pieces and roll into balls. Arrange leaves in pairs around the base of the cake and place berries in the centre of each pair. Decorate centre of cake as you wish.

WHAT'S SMURFING...?

★ BEFORE YOU START CUTTING OUT THE SHAPES, STICK ALL OF THE PART OF THE PAGE INSIDE THIS RULE ONTO CARD: IT WILL MAKE YOUR CUTTING OUT MUCH EASIER!

Here's a smashing way to brighten up your Christmas — or 'Smurfmas' as the little blue folk call it! Our exclusive decoration has been specially designed for you to cut out and make — you can stand it on a table or sideboard or windowsill, etc. or put a thread through it and hang it from a Christmas tree (or even the ceiling!). It's very simple and quick to make, but have a look at the instructions before you start. One tip: stick the whole panel onto card first, before you start any cutting out, (the card from a cereal box is ideal, but any sort will do). Have a super Smurfmas, and we'll be back soon with more of your Smurf news and views!

IF YOU WANT TO HANG UP YOUR SMURF DECORATION (FROM A CHRISTMAS TREE, OR CEILING, ETC.) THREAD A NEEDLE, AND POKE IT CAREFULLY THROUGH THE POINT OF THE PYRAMID. TIE A BIG KNOT AT THE END OF THE THREAD INSIDE THE PYRAMID TO STOP IT COMING OUT! (OR YOU COULD SELLOTAPE IT TO THE INSIDE.)

CUT SLITS IN 4 SIDES ALONG THE HEAVY BLACK LINES.

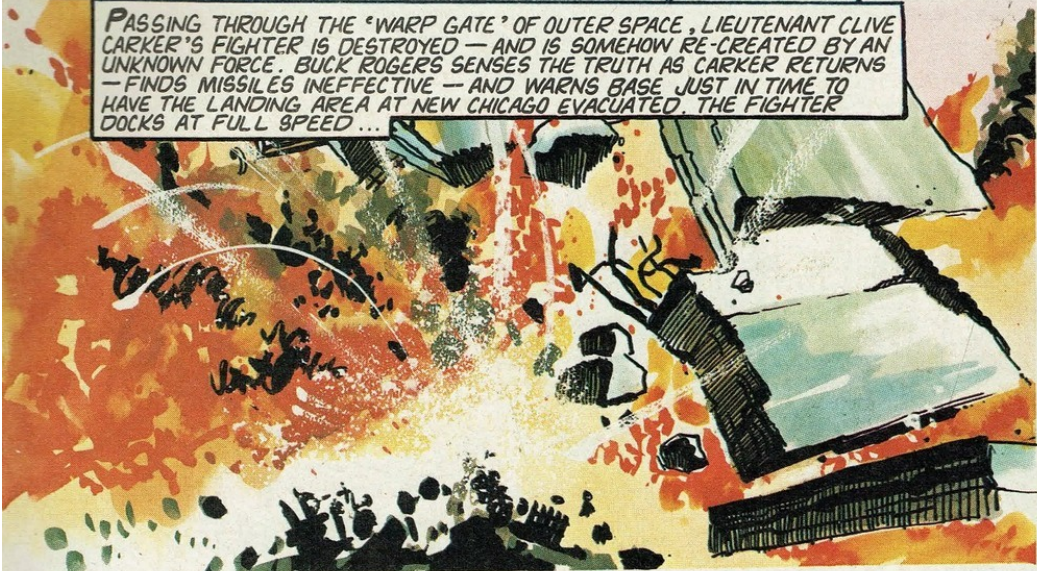

INSERT THE FIGURES INTO THE SLITS. ★ YOU CAN MAKE YOUR OWN FIGURES, TOO, OF COURSE — JUST DRAW YOUR FAVOURITE CHARACTERS ONTO CARD, AND CUT THEM OUT WITH A TAB TO FIT INTO THE SLITS!

BUCK ROGERS IN THE 25th CENTURY™

PASSING THROUGH THE 'WARP GATE' OF OUTER SPACE, LIEUTENANT CLIVE CARKER'S FIGHTER IS DESTROYED — AND IS SOMEHOW RE-CREATED BY AN UNKNOWN FORCE. BUCK ROGERS SENSES THE TRUTH AS CARKER RETURNS — FINDS MISSILES INEFFECTIVE — AND WARNS BASE JUST IN TIME TO HAVE THE LANDING AREA AT NEW CHICAGO EVACUATED. THE FIGHTER DOCKS AT FULL SPEED...

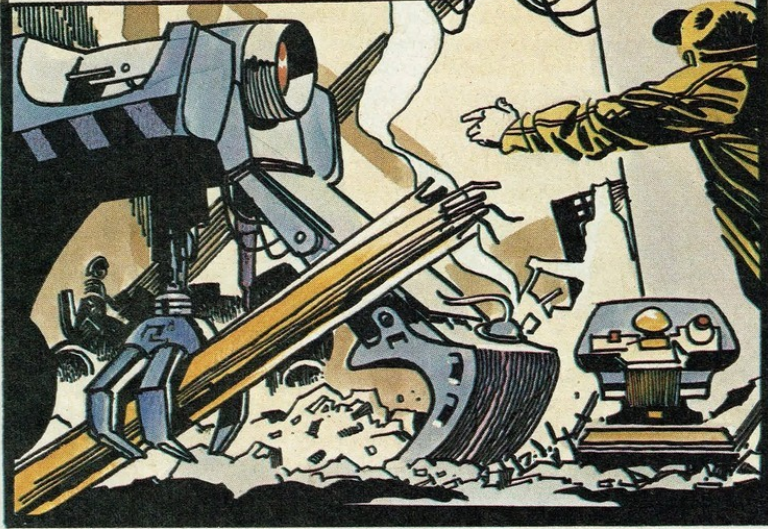

DOCTOR THEOPOLIS AND HIS DRONE, TWIKI, ARRIVE TO WITNESS THE AFTERMATH OF DESTRUCTION...

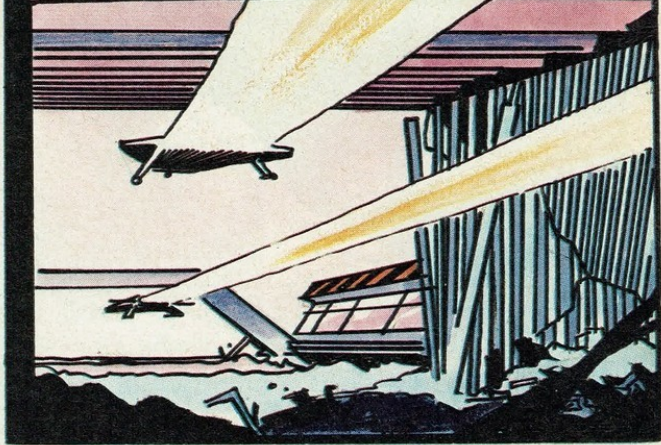

WHAT CHAOS! IF CAPTAIN ROGERS HAD NOT ALERTED US, THERE WOULD HAVE BEEN MANY DEATHS!

BI-DI-BI-DI-BI-DI! YOU CAN SAY THAT AGAIN!

A MASSIVE TEAM OF DRONES IS INSTANTLY MOBILISED TO CLEAR THE AREA...

COLONEL WILMA DEERING'S SQUADRON — BUCK ROGERS' HER WING-MAN — COMES IN AS EVENTUAL CLEARANCE IS GIVEN...

THAT WAS A BAD SCENE! HAVE YOU ANY IDEAS, CAPTAIN?

SURE HAVE, COLONEL HONEY. SUPPOSE YOU FIX UP A TOP-LEVEL COUNCIL CONFERENCE, HUH?

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUGGESTION. AND PLEASE — SPARE ME THE 'HONEY' BIT.

ONLY TRYING TO BE FRIENDLY! SERIOUSLY — THINGS DO LOOK PRETTY GRIM.

THE RULING COMPUTER-COUNCIL...

CARKER'S PLANE, YOU THINK WAS 'TAKEN OVER'? RECREATED AS A PILOTED BOMB WHICH COULD NOT BE SHOT DOWN?

I DON'T THINK, THEO. I KNOW. IMAGINE IF AN ENTIRE SQUADRON WAS CAUGHT BEYOND THE WARP GATE... AND THEN SENT BACK.

BUCK'S RIGHT. WE'D NEVER COPE. THE WHOLE OF OUR CITY COULD BE WIPED OUT.

WHICH MEANS WE DAREN'T USE THE WARP GATE. WE'RE UNDER SIEGE!

IT'S TRUE. AND THE VILLAINS IN QUESTION, LURKING IN THEIR COMMAND-SHIP, ARE NONE OTHER THAN THE DRACONIAN PRINCESS ARDALA AND HER HENCHMAN, KANE!

WE HAVE THEM AT OUR MERCY?

UNDOUBTEDLY, PRINCESS. THEY DARE NOT MOVE. WE CAN NOW STARVE THEM TO SUBMISSION - DESTROYING THE FREIGHTERS BRINGING THE MATERIAL FROM DEEP SPACE...

IT IS GOOD TO TASTE REVENGE, KANE.

THE RE-INTEGRATION BOMBARDER IS OUR GREATEST WEAPON YET.

A MASSIVE, ROBOT-STAFFED VESSEL, LYING JUST FORTY ACROSS FROM THE CONTROL VESSEL...

THEIRS IS THE NEXT MOVE - AND WE ARE ON CONSTANT ALERT!

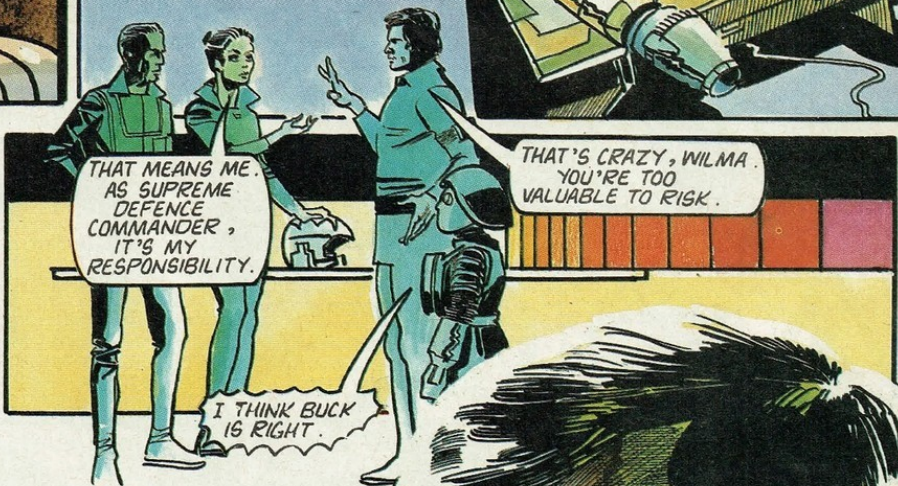

IN NEW CHICAGO, ACTIVITY IS AT FEVER PITCH. THEIR TOP SCIENTIST, DOCTOR HUER, MODIFIES A SQUADRON FIGHTER...

IT'S DESIGNED TO PROJECT ITS OWN WARP GATE. BUT I'M WORRIED. THERE'S SIMPLY NO TIME TO TEST IT...

SO WHOEVER FLIES IT UP, TAKES A CHANCE?

THAT MEANS ME. AS SUPREME DEFENCE COMMANDER, IT'S MY RESPONSIBILITY.

THAT'S CRAZY, WILMA. YOU'RE TOO VALUABLE TO RISK.

I THINK BUCK IS RIGHT.

Walt Simonson

SORRY. THIS IS MY DECISION. SHE'S FUELLED?

WELL - YES.

SHE'S NOT FLYING THIS MISSION! I AM! IF SOMEONE HAS TO DIE, IT'S NOT GOING TO BE WILMA...

But how will he stop her? See next week!

There's some really super entertainment from ITV coming your way this pre-Christmas week. Let's take a look at a small sample of these goodies...

BOX OF TRICKS!

On Friday 19th at 7.30 the pick of the evening's entertainment is LWT's The Black Abbots, the last show from one of Britain's best loved comedy showgroups in their present form. The show features a mixture of madcap comedy and music moving to an exciting climax as 'Superted' Russ Abbot bids farewell to Bobby, Lennie, and Clive to pursue his solo career. Russ demonstrates not only amazing fitness but also shows without doubt that he knows his onions. To say more would be to reveal all, so don't miss the last of these unique shows.

Just the job to brighten up your weekend — that's Cannon And Ball For Christmas at 6.00 on Saturday 20th. Tommy and Bobby star in their first LWT Christmas special and their own brand of family entertainment plus the talents of guest star Marti Caine ensure forty-five minutes of zany comedy.

The fun continues at 6.45, with London Weekend's Search For A Star Special, introduced, as usual, by Steve Jones. The year-long search amongst up-and-coming club and cabaret artistes has now reached its final stages, with the excitement growing to fever pitch as the winner of tonight's final will attract widespread interest in show-biz circles and will be offered a TV special of their very own on ITV in 1981. If you've been keeping up with the show you'll have your own favourite, from comedian Jimmy Cricket, comedy showgroup The Nobodies, comedy instrumentalist Lee Clark, comedian Malcolm J. White, and comedy impressionist Fogwell Flaz.

If you haven't developed square eyes by 7.45 you can see all the regular 'Carry On' team, including Kenneth Williams, Joan Sims, Bernard Bresslaw, and Peter Butterworth in the hilarious Carry On Behind. Elke Sommer co-stars, playing the role of a glamorous Russian archaeologist. She comes to England as an assistant to an eccentric University Professor of Archaeology, and when he also enlists a band of his students to investigate the remains of a Roman encampment behind a caravan site full of happy holidaymakers, the sparks really begin to fly.

Sunday is the traditional day of rest, so what better than to settle down to some great sounds with To Russia With Elton at 2.15. This ninety-minute ATV film gives you a unique opportunity to taste the atmosphere, exhaustion, and jubilation behind Elton's trip beyond the Iron Curtain. That trip was well over a year ago and although it might seem an odd place for one of the world's greatest rock stars to visit, Elton explains: "I needed a challenge rather than the same old routine. For so long I'd toured America, Canada, Britain, Australia and Japan simply because they were the biggest money markets in the world. I wanted to go to Russia in the same way I wanted to go to Northern and Southern Ireland, Israel, places like that. And I wanted somewhere where there wasn't a safe and predictable audience."

A team of 25 top film men accompanied Elton for his trip into the unknown and the result, as you will see, is a film which mixes travelogue, music and star profile; there are unbelievable scenes at the concerts, backstage chats with the star of the show, and a fascinating look at modern-day Russia.

At 5.30, you'll be able to enjoy teatime with those marvellous Muppets. Zany comedian Marty Feldman joins Kermit, Fozzie, Miss Piggy and friends for a retelling of The Arabian Nights; Marty plays the Princess Scheherazade, Aladdin's Genie, and for Wilbur and Orville Wright!

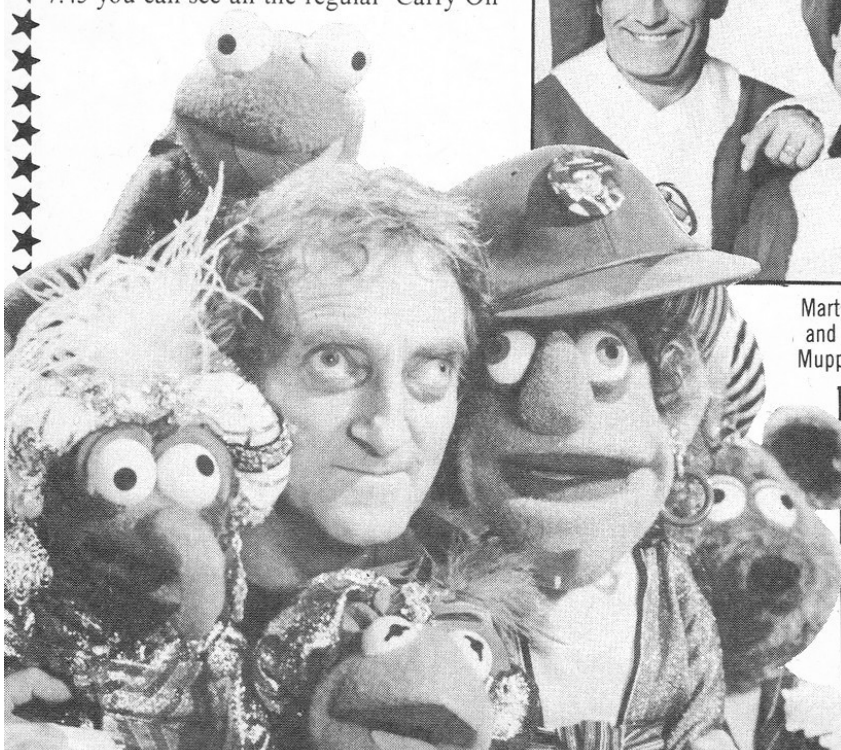

Monday at 22nd 7.00 sees the return of TV's toughest quiz, with a special edition: The Krypton Factor. The winners of the last four series, battle for the title 'Champion Of Champions'.

Remember these programmes are just a training session for a marvellous marathon of viewing (watch out for a round-up of your Yuletide TV highlights next week).

★ Now turn to page 19 for news of the return to your screens of The Book Tower.

Marty Feldman and look-alike Muppet friends!

TERRIFIC COMPETITION

3 'SUPERGOOSE II' BMX BIKES MUST BE WON!

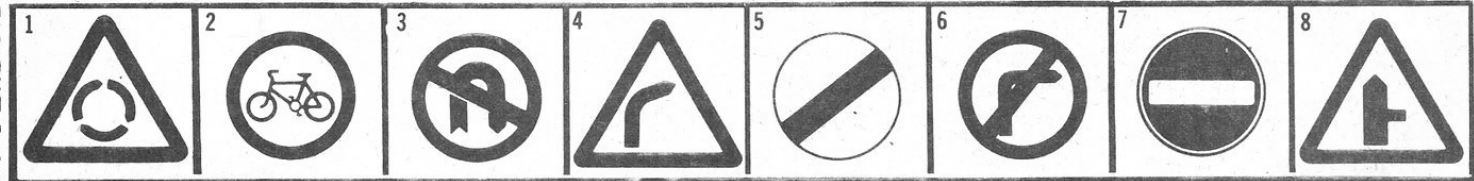

During the Summer, we introduced you to the drama and excitement of BMX — Bicycle Motocross — a terrific new sport which originated in California during the early 1970s, inspired by youngsters on 20 inch wheel tracker cycles imitating the international Motocross stars.

The sport consists of people from seven year olds to adults over 20 racing 20-inch wheel cycles down a short closed course of  $\frac{1}{4}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile, the track consisting of a number of jumps, turns and other obstacles adding excitement for the competitors.

BMX is fun, a fact borne out by the figures for worldwide cycle production — this year, apparently, 40 per cent of all cycles manufactured were for the sport of BMX!

One of the cycles specially for Bicycle Motocross is the Ammaco BMX 'Supergoose II' with light, strong components, including all-chrome moly frame and fork, alloy wheels with freewheel, caliper brake, vinyl seat, lightweight "skinwall" tyres, and full, "show chrome" finish.

We have three Ammaco BMX 'Supergoose II' bikes — which retail at over £200 each — to give away as prizes in this week's terrific competition.

TO ENTER: If you're an avid bicycle fan, then it's very important that you should know your Highway Code. A BMX rider may be a tearaway star of the track, but he or she should know what's what in the different world of town and city roads.

So above we've printed eight often-seen road signs, and you have to tell us what each sign means. We've left you the spaces to do this in the coupon, which you should complete with your name, address and age, and send, on a postcard only, to: Look-in, BMX Competition, P.O. Box 141, London, SE6 3HR.

The senders of the first 3 correct entries pulled from the postbag after the closing date, Monday, January 5th, 1981, will each receive an Ammaco BMX 'Supergoose II' bike.

RULES: Entry is free and open to all Look-in readers aged sixteen and under living in the United Kingdom with the exception of families of employees of ITV Publications Ltd., Ammaco BMX, and their agents. The editor's decision will be final and no correspondence can be entered into. The closing date for the receipt of entries will be first post on Monday, January 5th, 1981.

Send, on a postcard only, to:
Look-in, BMX Competition,
P.O. Box 141, London, SE6 3HR.

WORZEL GUMMIDGE

JOHN AND SUE PETERS ARE INTENT ON ARRANGING A SPECIAL CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR WORZEL GUMMIDGE... BUT NOW THEY HAVE NEW THINGS ON THEIR MINDS! THEY'VE LAUGHED AT HIS CLAIM OF SEEING A GHOST, KNOWING IT WAS REALLY THEIR SNOWMAN - BUT WHEN FARMER BRAITHWAITE TELLS THEM THE SNOWMAN WAS ACCIDENTALLY KNOCKED DOWN A MERE FIFTEEN MINUTES AFTER THEY'D BUILT IT...

ER - MR. BRAITHWAITE. HAVE YOU EVER HEARD OF THIS PLACE BEING - SORT OF - HAUNTED...?

EH? OH, I SEE. CHRISTMAS GHOSTS, AND ALL THAT. WELL, AS A MATTER OF FACT...

SHIVERING - AND NOT WITH THE COLD - SUE AND JOHN SIDLE OFF...

WHAT DID WORZEL SEE, THEN...?

CRUMBS! A REAL SPOOK...? HERE AT SCATTERBROOK...?

M. NOBLE

IT WAS BACK IN THE DAYS OF THE CIVIL WAR. A FUGITIVE CAVALIER WAS CAUGHT HERE BY THE ROUNDHEADS AND PUT TO DEATH...

GOLLY!

G-GO ON...

SOMETIMES WHEN THE MOON'S FULL, AND THE WIND HOWLS, HIS SPECTRE HAS BEEN SEEN FACING THE FIELDS! MEN'S HAIR IS SAID TO TURN WHITE AT THE SIGHT OF HIM!

SOME KIDS'LL BELIEVE ANYTHING! AH, WELL. NO HARM IN GIVING 'EM A THRILL!

THIS PUTS A DIFFERENT COMPLEXION ON IT. I DON'T FANCY AN AFTER-DARK PARTY AT THE BARN IF THERE ARE SPOOKS AROUND!

NO WAY! AND IF WORZEL KNEW, HE'D POP HIS STRAWS! BUT WE CAN'T DISAPPOINT HIM NOW, JOHN...

THEY DECIDE TO CONFIDE IN AUNT SALLY...

H'AS IT 'APPENS, H'I CAN COME TO THE RESCUE COL. BLOODSTOCK WILL BE H'AWAY FOR THE CHRISTMAS 'OLIDAYS...

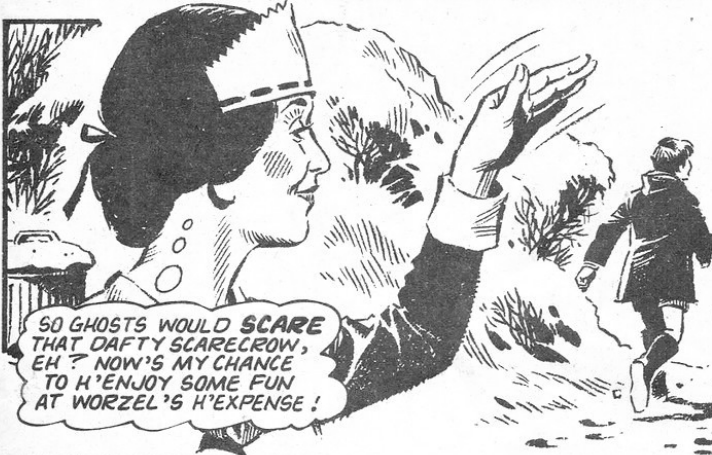

BUT CRUMBS! WE CAN'T HOLD THE PARTY HERE!

DON'T WORRY! JUST LEAVE EVERYTHING TO US!

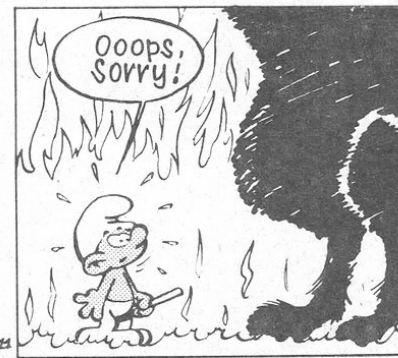

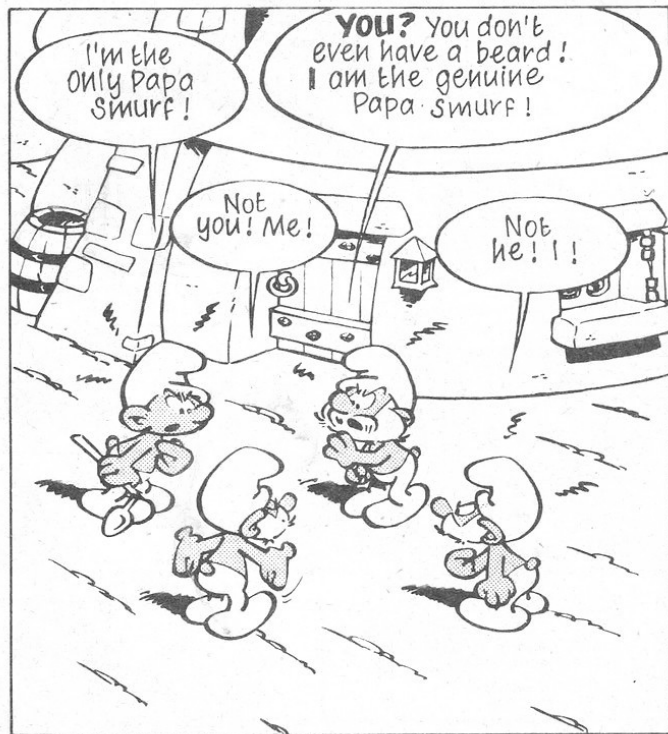

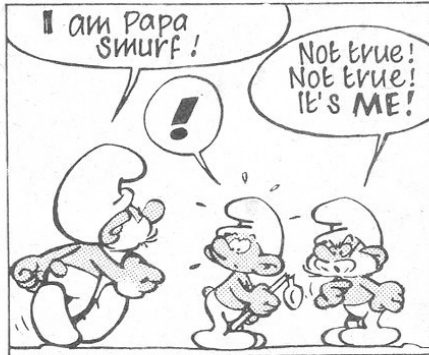

AS THEY GO, NEITHER THEY NOR WORZEL SEE THE STRANGE FIGURE WATCHING FROM THE EDGE OF A COPSE BEHIND THE BARN: A SHROUDED, SPECTRAL FIGURE...

OOOOHHHH

Has the ghost of the cavalier returned? See next week.

MEET THE SMURFS!

Life at the top, by Sting, Andy and Stewart

POLICE CALL!

Being enormously famous might be fun — it's certainly what all bands are aiming for — but it also has to be handled properly once you've achieved it. As The Police are presently one of the most successful groups around (they've had another big hit with De Do Do Do, De Da Da Da we thought it might be interesting to get their thoughts on the subject.

The Police take a close look at themselves.

Flower power for Sting.

First of all — lead-singing superstar STING. One of his main ways of coping with all the pressures is to have his 'escape-hatch' home.

GG We've got our second house on the coast of Ireland — that is me, my wife Frances, and our three-year-old, Joe. It's partly for income tax reasons and partly because it's a place where I can be quiet and have some peace of mind. It does get a bit lonely there sometimes, away from all the lights and fuss, but we're always rushing off on tour so that's no problem.

"Going on tour is a great way to see the world — it's especially interesting when you're playing in places that've never seen much rock 'n' roll — but it's good to get back home, too."

He also tries to keep his feet very firmly planted on the ground.

"I don't think my values have changed much during the last couple of years; but then, I wasn't the typical couldn't-care-less rebellious rock star in the first place.

"I was actually quiet and shy while I was growing up, and still am privately, but when I'm appearing I do have an enormous ego from somewhere and I really enjoy being famous. I don't think that's unnatural; I'd like to be anonymous sometimes but as a rule I like being recognised. I'm supposed to be some sort of figurehead and I don't think I'd want it any other way."

To make sure, though, that he doesn't get too carried away with the joys of just being a singer on a stage, Sting keeps working at his other ambitions — such as song-writing and acting.

"Writing songs isn't so hard, it's remembering them afterwards that's difficult because, for some reason, a lot are written when I'm tired late at night and they then have to be pieced together over breakfast the next morning. Walking On The Moon was one of those.

"I am ambitious about acting, too. Sooner or later I'm going to have to take time off from The Police so I can get on with my film career; I'm always reading possible scripts."

Not that Sting is prepared to get too serious about his dramatic skills.

"It only really started as a laugh," he admits. "It was a quick way of paying the rent. It was a question of appearing in some telly ads or starve — so I wiggled in a famous pair of jeans, appeared with Joanna Lumley in a Dutch commercial, and then got into the X-rated movie Quadrophenia, which meant learning to ride a scooter and do the Sixties dances.

Sting

Andy

Stewart

Andy Summers.

Guitarist ANDY SUMMERS also has his 'escape' home for when the stresses of stardom get too much.

“It’s in Ireland, too, in County Cork and it’s great to get away there with my wife Kate and our daughter, Layla. It’s a fantastic place at the moment, though there’s a risk it could become more popular and turn into a tourist trap. If it does I’ll move, and probably make a profit on the house to buy another one somewhere else.”

What exactly are the things about his life that get him tensed up?

“Well, I must admit I get jealous of Sting sometimes, because he gets most of the attention. That’s really just because he fronts the band, though, being the singer.

“I have got a temper though I keep out of arguments if I can — apart from anything else, I’m only five-foot-five.”

He, too, has acting ambitions. “I fancy going into films as a comedian. I did actually study acting for a while, in America — at the same film school as Jon Voight — and shared an apartment for a while with ‘Starsky’, Paul Michael Glaser.”

Stewart Copeland.

Oddly enough, although he’s not English, it’s the third member of The Police, drummer STEWART COPELAND, who’s keenest to go on living in the centre of London.

“Being an American citizen means I pay different taxes, so I can afford to stay, with my girlfriend, Sonya Kristina, in the house we’ve got in Shepherd’s Bush, West London. In fact, I’ve been putting in a basement studio with the money we’ve made over the last couple of years — makes a change from being evicted for not paying the rent!”

“I have been through that — we were on tour in Germany a year or two back and were doing quite well, but the money hadn’t come through and so the rent hadn’t been paid. You can’t impress a bank manager with records in the charts if you’re short of cash so I was out on the street for the sake of £200 I couldn’t borrow.

“It’s better, I think, to spend the money making house improvements rather than on a Rolls-Royce or something, though I might go flash on a sports car, if only to get me off my motor cycle before I do myself a nasty injury.

“The trouble is that money can stop as quickly as it starts, though I reckon I’ve got faith enough in my ability to survive and make a dollar or two one way or another. I guess I’ll always worry about being able to support myself and pay the bills.”

Success does have its other problems. “It does lead to some dissatisfactions, like when the ideas for songs won’t come — especially if, like me, you don’t like the sound of your own voice so there’s no pleasure until you get it right. I’ve got a house and so on but writing tunes doesn’t get any easier because of all that.

“Sometimes I think I just don’t know enough about music; I think I may have written all that my musical know-how is worth. Then again, now we’re a success we’re not hungry anymore, and that takes away some of the incentive. Life’s a bit too easy, sometimes.

“That’s one of the reasons we like to play to audiences who don’t know us and might not like us, it’s a way to avoid getting complacent. We also live dangerously by cutting things fine — like finishing the last album at four in the morning when the next day we had to go off and start a tour.”

Stewart is also determined not to get isolated from the rest of the world.

“I do my best, I try to go anonymously to as many other bands’ gigs as possible, and not just the big groups but the up-and-coming new ones playing small dates as well.

“Sometimes I think what I’d really like would be to hitch-hike to Greece or somewhere. It’d be a way of keeping in touch with the real world and not getting too attached to luxury hotels, private planes, and all that.”

Like the others, Stewart, too, has ideas of a film career, but not, in his case, as an actor.

“The main reason is that I get bored pretty quickly and now that the drumming’s more or less under control I need something to use up the energy. Making films as a director could be the answer.

“Sting is doing his own films and Andy is thinking about the parts he’s been offered but I can’t see myself in front of the cameras. I like playing the drums and writing the tunes but I haven’t got a great yearning to be a film star. I’m happier shooting the stuff than appearing in it.”

And what are his final thoughts about how to handle the strains of fame?

“You have to stay cool sometimes. I wouldn’t be human if there weren’t moments when I got a bit jealous of Sting because he’s the face of the band. Anyway, compared to most people, I’m famous. I can’t walk down the street without being pestered, it’s just that I’m not as famous as he is. I don’t mind, really, I’ve got as much fame as I need.

“Having some Number One hits does mean a pressure, because it means that the next one’s got to do well or people start saying we’re slipping. That’s more their worry, though, not ours — inside I think we’re probably sure enough of ourselves.”

THE BOOK TOWER, CHAPTER THREE

Monday at 4.45 sees the welcome return to our screens of Yorkshire TV's The Book Tower. Tom Baker, soon to retire as the small screen's most famous time-traveller Dr. Who, is back to host for the third time a series which has won awards such as the Harlequin Award for Documentary Factual Programmes, and the children's category of the Prix Jeunesse Award.

The series, if you're not already a follower, introduces young viewers to all sorts of books from pure fantasy and fairytale to modern-day thrillers and from classics to picture books. It covers the widest possible variety of books available to children today.

Tom, with the help of a brand new team of young book testers, introduces and reads extracts from selected books, most of which have been illustrated or dramatised in some way.

The eccentric Mr. Baker, himself a compulsive book collector, is delighted to be involved in a programme which encourages children to read. "I've always resented the fact that I never had books around as a child, never had the sort of formal education which follows an academic discipline," he says. "That's why I collect books. It's a conscious effort to pretend I had a different past. I suppose I must have about 2,000 books of which about 150 are dictionaries. It's not because they're valuable, I just like the idea of being able to reach for information."

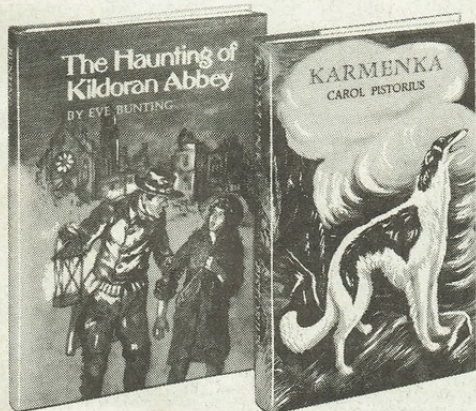

★ In a couple of weeks we'll be printing our own list of all the books featured in the present series of The Book Tower, for you to cut out and keep. And Yorkshire Television have produced a super fold-out memorandum to accompany the series. If you'd like a free copy, write to: The Book Tower, Yorkshire Television Centre, Leeds LS3 1JS.

Karmenka: Carol Pistorius*

Bert had made up his mind. The Borzoi was the best kind of dog in all the world, and a Borzoi was the kind of dog he was going to have. The old Pole with whom he so often discussed his dream-dog was aghast when he heard that Bert and his father were going to Lion's River to buy a Borzoi puppy. He knew of Bert's painfully-saved ten rands and he also knew, as Bert did not, how valuable a pure-bred Borzoi pup would be. Yet miracles do occur, and this is the story of how Karmenka - Little Jewel - came to share Bert's life in the magnificent countryside of Natal.

The Haunting of Kildoran Abbey: Eve Bunting*

It was 1847 and Ireland was in the grip of famine. In a secret room below Kildoran Abbey seven boys and a girl had a secret mission; to rob the rich and feed the poor while staying out of the clutches of the evil Sir James Blunt, the most hated man in Ireland. Facing great danger, the homeless youngsters managed to keep their courage, for they sensed that there were other forces working on their side; invisible forces that lived with them in the old haunted abbey.

CHARLIE'S ANGELS

A TEAM OF BRITISH DIVERS IN FLORIDA, CLAIMING TO BE TRAPPING RARE FISH, ARE REALLY SALVAGING TREASURE FROM A SUNKEN GALLEON — TREASURE THAT LEGALLY BELONGS TO THE USA. SUSPECTING THAT KELLY AND KRIS ARE ONTO THEM, TWO OF THE MEN — TED WILLISON AND PETER MCKAY — DECIDE TO PUT THE GIRLS OUT OF THE WAY UNTIL THEIR JOB IS FINISHED!

THIS IS GOING TO BE AWFUL... BUT IT'S GOT TO BE DONE!

ISN'T IT A BEAUTIFUL EVENING, BOYS? BIT DIFFERENT FROM FOGGY LONDON TOWN, I GUESS!

BUT THERE ARE TWO OTHERS. HARD, IMMACULATE MEN. COOL AND DANGEROUS...

UNBEKNOWN TO TED AND PETER, OTHER EYES ARE WATCHING. ONE PAIR BELONGS TO BOSLEY...

I SURE DON'T LIKE THE GLANCES THOSE BRITISHERS KEEP SWAPPING, BEHIND THE GIRLS' BACKS!

THERE'S TWO OF THE DIVERS PIERO...

YEAH. NOW'S AS GOOD A TIME AS ANY, SEPPI...

WITHOUT WARNING...

YOU BROADS STEP BACK—OR YOU MIGHT GET HURT!

FREEZE YOU!

WHAT ON EARTH...?

THE MEN EXPECT NO TROUBLE FROM KELLY AND KRIS— BUT THEY GET IT, JUST THE SAME!

GO, KRIS!

UUHH...?

GNNNFFF!

THAMMM!

YOWWCH!

WHAPPP!

JIM BAIKIE

WHOOOMPH!

YOOFFFF!

HI, BOSLEY. GENTLEMEN OF THE MAFIA, YOU RECKON?

A FAIR BET. NICE WORK, GIRLS!

ER - THEY WERE ONTO US...?

SEEMS THAT WAY. WHICH MEANS IT'S TIME FOR US TO COME OUT IN THE OPEN WITH YOU...

WHILE BOSLEY GOES TO GET THE POLICE...

WE - UH - GUESSED YOU WERE AGENTS. I HATE TO ADMIT IT BUT TED AND I PLANNED TO LOCK YOU UP.

SOMETHING TELLS ME IT'S LUCKY WE DIDN'T TRY.

OKAY. SO YOU ADMIT YOU'RE AFTER THE TREASURE?

AYE, WE'VE ALREADY RECOVERED A FAIR BIT.

IT'S STOWED AMONG THE GRAVEL IN OUR FISH TANKS. I DON'T KNOW WHAT HARMAN AND DAMON ARE GOING TO SAY ABOUT THIS...

LET'S GO FIND OUT.

THE GIRLS LEAD TED AND PETER TOWARDS THE QUAY WHERE THE DIVING BOAT, SEASCAN II, LIES AT ANCHOR...

AHOY! BILL! JACK! ARE YOU THERE..?

IT WAS A GOOD GAMBLE, BOYS, BUT YOU BLEW IT. THE US GOVERNMENT DOESN'T LIKE LOSING THIRTY MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF GOODIES...

YET THE JOB IS FAR FROM OVER! BILL DAMON AND JACK HARMAN HAVE GONE - AND THE BOAT'S INTERIOR IS A SHAMBLES...

LOOTED! AND THERE'S BEEN A FIGHT!

MORE OF OUR MAFIA FRIENDS? I'M AFRAID THIS COMPLICATES THINGS...

BREAK OUT THE DIVING GEAR. I HOPE WE DON'T FIND YOUR BUDDIES IN THE HARBOUR MUD - BUT WE'VE GOT TO CHECK!

Is there a grisly secret in the mud? See next week.

Aston Villa topped the first division in October. It was so long since the last time, most Villa fans didn't care to remember! With big Peter Withe playing so well in attack, and the rest of the side putting it together, even Ron Saunders can manage a smile!

Back to football this week with Aston Villa's gifted midfielder Gordon Cowans...

GOLDEN GORDON!

If ever there was a sport of ups and downs, it's got to be football. Alex Cropley moved from Arsenal to Aston Villa in a blaze of publicity and quickly became a firm favourite of the fans with his all-action style of play. Then suddenly things began to go disastrously wrong. After breaking a leg the club had no option but to promote Gordon Cowans in Alex's place and the lengthy absence of the Scottish star has allowed Gordon to make the number ten shirt his personal property.

Less than a year ago, all the work that manager Ron Saunders had put into Aston Villa had a big question mark hanging over it, as boardroom wrangling threatened to pull the club apart. However the side survived the crisis and recovered to finish a respectable position in the league table.

This season Villa have continued their policy of giving talented youngsters the chance to establish themselves in the side, players like striker Gary Shaw and midfielder Gordon Cowans!

Despite having a Dad who also works for Aston Villa, Gordon hasn't always been a Villa fan! For some years the Cowans family lived in Mansfield and Gordon used to go and watch the Stags regularly.

Then the family moved to the Birmingham area and young Gordon began to attend Villa training sessions, he signed for the club as soon as he finished school and to date his playing career has gone quite smoothly. He's played for the England Youth and Under 21s and looks all set to make his debut for the senior side in the not too distant future, although there are sides to Gordon's game that he knows he must improve on. His biggest problem is his concentration. There are times when he 'disappears' from a match, and he'll have to improve on this aspect if he is to succeed at the very highest level. But there's no questioning the enormous level of skill that Gordon brings to the Villa midfield! For a start he is two footed and so doesn't lose those precious seconds when a player has to get the ball onto his 'kicking' foot.

Playing from deep he screens the ball well, has excellent close control, and can work the ball into a bit of space before striking one of those excellent passes that seek out tightly marked strikers.

Gordon will always find another team-mate in support to whom he can lay the ball off before finding a good position to take a return pass.

A dejected Alex Cropley is helped onto a stretcher after breaking his leg in a match against West Brom.

DURING A PERFORMANCE OF DICKENS'S 'A CHRISTMAS CAROL' AT THE NEW PENNY THEATRE, THE EVIL FORCE OF TIME SNATCHES THE CHILDREN, JASON AND SARAH HARDING, AND TRANSPORTS THEM TO THE LONDON OF 1864. THERE, THEY FIND THEMSELVES HANDED OVER TO THE SINISTER SORCERER, ZEBEDIA CLENCH...

AAHH! IT IS AS TIME PROMISED! IT HAS BROUGHT ME AID FOR MY EXPERIMENTS...

WHO-WHO ARE YOU? WHAT'S HAPPENED TO US?

THE THIN VOICE OF THE TIME-FORCE, NOW SEEMING TO COME FROM NOWHERE...

THESE ARE YOUR SLAVES, CLENCH. CHILDREN FROM THE FUTURE. THEY ARE INTELLIGENT - THEIR BRAIN-POWER WILL ASSIST YOU TO RAISE THE DEMONS YOU SEEK!

SHOW YOURSELF MIGHTY SPIRIT! SHOW YOURSELF!

... I COMMAND IT!

WHOOFF!

FOOL! YOU HAVE NO HOLD OVER ME! BUT BE SURE I SHALL BE WATCHING. OH, YES, I SHALL BE WATCHING!

I SHALL BE WATCHING!

JASON! I'M - I'M FRIGHTENED!

MEANWHILE, IN 1980, AT THE HOME OF DOCTOR HARDING, THE CHILDREN'S DISTRAUGHT FATHER, SAPPHIRE AND STEEL GO TO WORK...

WE NEED SOMETHING TO HOLD ONTO. SOMETHING THAT'S IMPORTANT TO BOTH JASON AND SARAH...

A TOY. A BOOK. ANYTHING, DOCTOR!

I - I DON'T KNOW - I CAN HARDLY THINK...

HOW ABOUT THIS? IT LOOKS AS THOUGH THEY WERE BOTH DECORATING IT FOR CHRISTMAS...

YES. YES. THEY WERE...

© P. J. Hammond 1980

STEEL. PUT YOUR HAND ON MY SHOULDER. WE NEED THE ENTIRE CONCENTRATION OF BOTH OUR MINDS...

ALMOST IMMEDIATELY SAPPHIRE AND STEEL FEEL THEMSELVES WHIRLING THROUGH THE FOURTH DIMENSION - THE DIMENSION OF TIME ITSELF...

ABRUPTLY, THE MOTION CEASES...

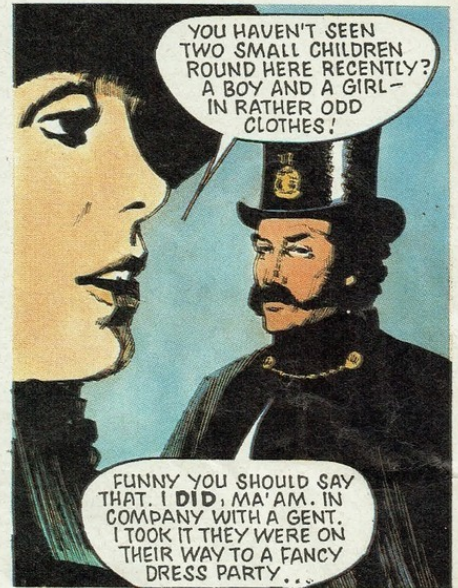

SOMEWHERE - NEAR HERE... I FEEL IT.

BUT THE WHOLE AREA IS A RABBIT WARREN! WHERE DO WE BEGIN TO SEARCH...?

COMPLIMENTS OF THE SEASON, SIR. MADAM, PARDON ME, BUT YOU LOOK LOST.

AH. MERRY CHRISTMAS, OFFICER, NO - NOT LOST, EXACTLY...

YOU HAVEN'T SEEN TWO SMALL CHILDREN ROUND HERE RECENTLY? A BOY AND A GIRL - IN RATHER ODD CLOTHES!

FUNNY YOU SHOULD SAY THAT. I DID, MA'AM. IN COMPANY WITH A GENT. I TOOK IT THEY WERE ON THEIR WAY TO A FANCY DRESS PARTY...

SO SAPPHIRE AND STEEL GET THEIR FIRST LEAD...

SO THEY CAME DOWN THIS WAY...

IT'S A START. WE'LL ASK AGAIN THEY MUST HAVE BEEN NOTICED!

IN ZEBEDIAH CLENCH'S BASEMENT...

YOU - YOU'RE HURTING!

SILENCE, WHELP! YOU AND YOUR SISTER CAN COOL YOUR HEELS IN HERE WHILE I DECIDE WHAT'S TO BE DONE!

THE CHILDREN ARE FLUNG INTO THE DANK, EMPTY ANTEROOM. THE DOOR SLAMS, AND A DROP-BAR PLUNKS DISMALLY INTO PLACE...

JASON! WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO? IF ONLY I COULD UNDERSTAND...!

IT'S LIKE A HORRIBLE DREAM. ONLY - I KNOW WE'RE NOT GOING TO WAKE UP!

Will the nightmare end? See next week!

SNAP 'N GLUE!

A great new idea to get you out of the pits in record time.

SCREECH 'N VROOM!

Faster than a speeding bullet - the new Lamborghini Countach from Airfix.

And it's almost as quick to make as it is on the race-track.

That's because it's a new Snap-n-glue kit.

Simply 'snap' the major parts together and away you go, in lap record time.

The finished model, however, is just as detailed and accurate as traditional glue-together kits.

And the colourful, new press-on decals add even more realism.

Altogether, there are 12 different models in the Snap-n-glue range.

Take a look at them.

But hurry, they're going fast.

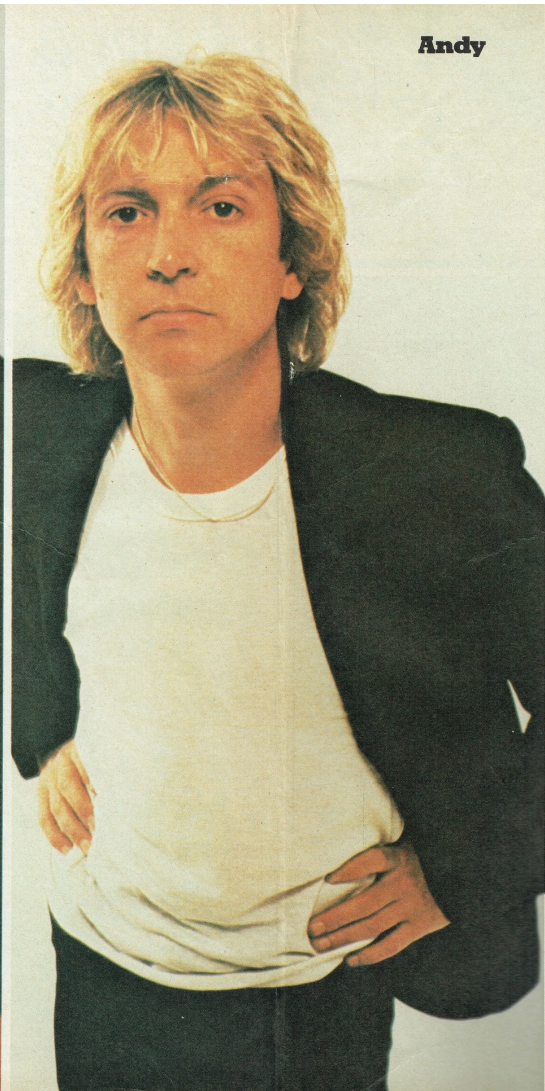

THE FASTEST KIT ON FOUR WHEELS.
