ITV'S FEBRUARY FORECAST!

The New Year traditionally sees lots of exciting and entertaining new programmes on ITV — this time around is no exception. There's a mixture of comedy, games, drama and story-telling on the screen right now that is destined to warm up any viewer on a cold February day.

For instance, laughter is on cue in The Faith Brown Chat Show, which began last Saturday at 8.15. The series, from London Weekend Television, arrived for Faith following the huge success of an earlier show in which she burlesqued TV awards programmes.

REAL FAITH

The six half-hour programmes send up chat shows with the 'real' Faith Brown acting as host. She invites her guests to talk and sing and although they look and sound remarkably like Bette Midler, Lena Horne and Barbara Cartland, they are, of course, all played by the multi-talented Faith.

If you were amazed at her talents last week, just hold your breath and take in some more of the 'guests' who'll be appearing with Ms. Brown — Lene Lovich, Lorraine Chase, Dolly Parton, Donna Summer, Diana Ross, Gloria Gaynor, Cleo Laine, Barbra Streisand, Mary O'Hara, Pam Ayres, Moira Anderson, Mae West, Mary Whitehouse, Maggie Thatcher, Hylda Baker (Faith's old favourite), and Angela Rippon, who appears each week on Gossip On 2. Kate Bush also gyrates in remarkably 'Faith-ful' fashion.

Says London Weekend's Controller of Entertainment, David Bell: "We have all enjoyed working on the new characters with Faith and she's accepted the challenge it entailed. Although many of the characters are singers, it is not a music show. There are lots of laughs along the way and it's best described as a comedy 'chat' show."

WAR SERIES

On the dramatic side, Granada TV look back to the closing days of the Second World War with their major series The Spoils Of War (Sundays, 7.45). It's May 1945, and the setting is the Lake District, where we see the effect of the conflict on two families, The Haywards and The Warringtons. In Germany, the devastation is terrible, but at home it is a time for celebration, and when the servicemen return they are full of hope for a bright future for themselves and their families...

For The Spoils Of War, a derelict house was renovated in Millom, Cumbria, and iron mines and works, closed in 1965, were re-opened especially for the production.

SHARP BRUCE

"Bruce's back" will be the cry across the nation tomorrow (February 1st), when the all-round entertainer to beat them all, Mr. Forsyth himself, stars in a new series — Play Your Cards Right With Bruce Forsyth (7.30) from London Weekend. After initial problems, Bruce has made quite a name for himself in America, and the game is based upon an American TV series. All we'll tell you now is that if you like cards, then don't miss Bruce. He's as sharp as ever in an ace show!

Your Favourites

A few weeks before Christmas, you may remember, I asked you to vote for your favourite Look-in features. As usual, you came up trumps with your voting forms and here at the Look-in offices we've been very busy sorting through them. You were asked to vote, in order of preference, for your six favourite items in Look-in, points being awarded in the usual way, i.e. six for first choice, five for second choice and so on.

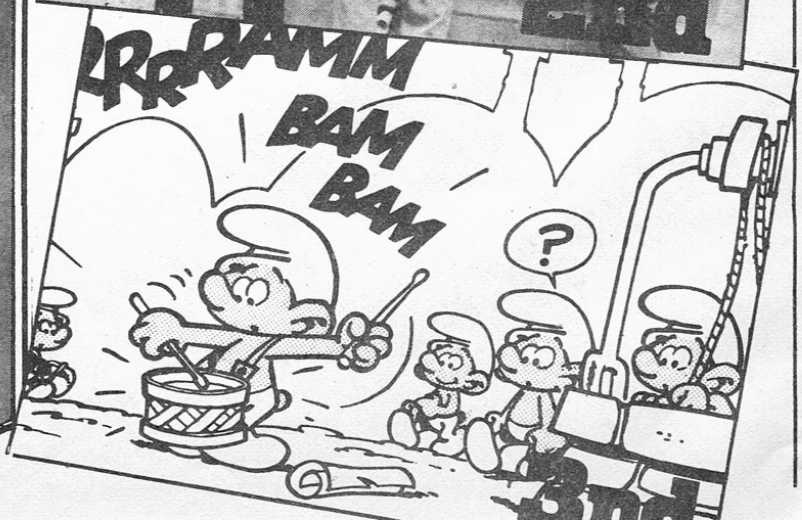

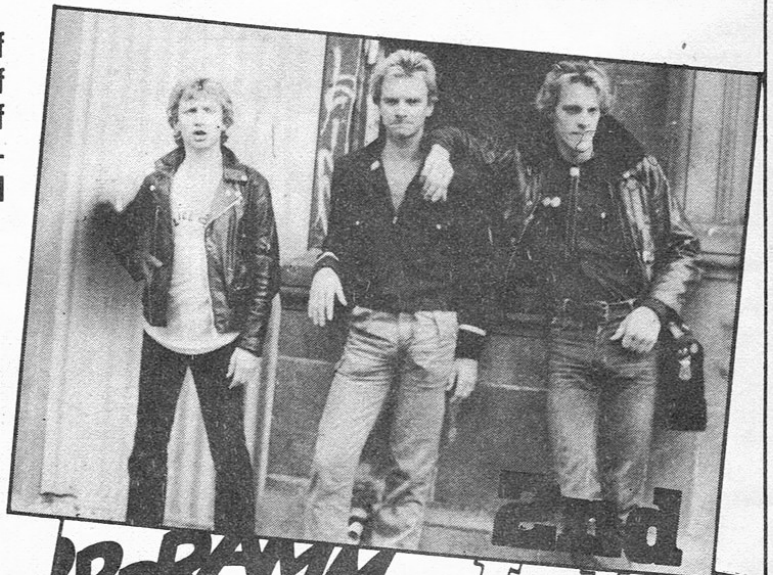

Well, those lovely detectives Charlie's Angels roared straight into first place, followed closely by our pop pin-up and feature. And maintaining their strong position are the Smurfs in third place.

A big thank you for all the votes you sent in — especially the ones for my Newsdesk! — and the Editor is very interested in your suggestions for new features in Look-in, to which he is giving careful consideration.

As promised, I have drawn three of your coupons out of the postbag and the lucky voters are: Sarah Lamb (age 7) of Seahouses, Northumberland, Scott Wheeler (age 7) of Dagenham, Essex, and Angela Hood (age 11) of Stoke-on-Trent, Staffs. They will each be receiving a £3.00 postal order.

Brian Moore spotlights David Johnson, one half of a deadly striking partnership . . .

JOHNSON JUMPS TO IT!

David Johnson has pulled on both the blue shirt of Everton and now the red of Liverpool, while in between he had a successful spell with Ipswich and made such progress with the club that he played for England. Liverpool had always had an interest in this powerful, fleet-of-foot striker (it was rumoured that former boss Bill Shankly made an approach for David when he was still with Everton, but a cross-city transfer ban quashed any deal) and they stepped up their interest as David continued to impress for Ipswich. Manager Bobby Robson finally relented, letting Johnson go back home on the eve of Liverpool's 1976 FA Charity Shield match, for £200,000. Then, as so often happens when established players sign for Liverpool, David had a big job on his hands to claim a place in the side. He even asked for a transfer! Then season 1977-78 saw him getting into the side — only to suffer a bad knee injury that put him out of the action as Liverpool swept all before them in Europe. But patience brings its own reward, and this season Johnson and Dalglish have formed a deadly spearhead that will undoubtedly in the coming seasons bring even more success to Anfield!

David Johnson's speed in the box can't be left unattended and his presence draws defenders away from Dalglish. Kenny returns the compliment by setting up opportunities for David, a typically unselfish act that has enabled Johnson to get among the league's leading scorers this season.

Liverpool have proved time and time again, in the past few seasons, that to stay at the top you have to carry a big squad of quality players. Despite Kenny Dalglish's instant impact on the Anfield scene, it became increasingly evident, even though at times he played like half a team, another striker was needed to relieve him of a portion of the tremendous burden he was carrying. Bob Paisley looked no further than his own squad. There was David Johnson, eager to claim a regular place. Once again, the continuity was maintained, one of the hallmarks of Liverpool's lasting success!

Liverpool's latest striking twosome congratulate each other as the Reds lift yet another major trophy, in this case, the club's eleventh League title, won last season. In hitting this peak the side netted a record 68 points and 85 goals!

COOKING CLUB

Introduced by Kathie Webber, Cookery Editor of TVTimes

Wheatmeal pastry gives this flan a delicious nutty taste. It's packed with proteins and vitamins because it contains eggs, milk, cheese and vegetables, and the ingredients aren't too expensive. I'm sure your family and friends will love it.

COUNTRY VEGETABLE FLAN

125g (4oz.) plain flour

pinch salt

125g (4oz.) wheatmeal flour

50g (2oz.) butter or margarine

50g (2oz.) lard

30ml (2 tablespoons) water

1 large onion

15ml (1 tablespoon) oil

30ml (2 tablespoons) Worcestershire sauce

2 medium carrots

125g (4oz.) green beans, fresh or frozen

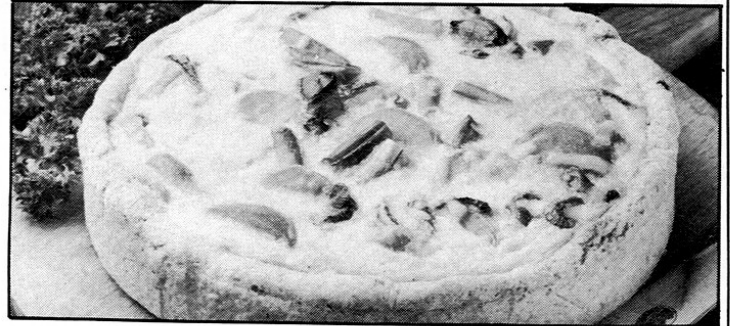

1 tomato

125g (4oz.) Cheddar cheese

Salt and pepper

2 eggs, size 3

150ml (1/4 pint) milk

METHOD

Sift plain flour and salt into a bowl, stir in wheatmeal flour. Rub in the butter or margarine and lard until mixture looks like fine breadcrumbs. Stir in the water and mix to a firm dough, add a little more water if the mixture is very dry. Turn out onto a lightly floured surface and knead until smooth. Roll pastry into a 23-25cm (9-10 inch) round and line a 20cm (8 inch) flan ring or a shallow pie dish. Place in the refrigerator until filling is prepared. Skin and slice onion, heat oil in a pan, add onion and fry until soft for about 5 minutes. Add Worcestershire sauce and fry for a further 2 minutes. Leave to cool. Peel and slice carrots, cook in boiling salted water for 5 minutes. Add green beans (if using fresh beans slice them) and cook for a further 5 minutes. Drain well. Skin and slice the tomato. Grate the cheese. Spread onion over base of pastry case. Layer carrots, beans, tomato and cheese over the top, season with salt and pepper between the layers. Beat together the eggs and the milk and pour over the vegetables and cheese in the pastry case. Bake in oven at 200°C, 400°F or Regulo gas mark 6 for 30-35 minutes until filling has set and pastry is crisp and golden brown. (serves 4-6)

SMILE WITH STEW POT

"You've been collecting car numbers? That's nice dear!"

"I'm sorry Smith — but when the F.A. says you're suspended then you're suspended."

"Oh dear — has Kenneth double-parked again?"

START  STOP

HERE'S a great way to find your way round the world and maybe win our £3 postal order prize.

In the chart this week there are the names of many countries. You'll be able to find them because I'm going to give you the capital cities of each one. Then all you have to do is locate the country in the chart by linking up letters to form the names. You link up in any direction except diagonally, which means you can go up, down, back or forward. You must stop and start as indicated.

Once you've spotted all the countries you will have one word left over — the name of a capital city in Europe. All you have to do is send me that one name and you might be a winner. You use every letter just once, including the prize place name.

Now here are the capitals for you to spot the countries. All answers are one word unless otherwise indicated in brackets.

London; Edinburgh; Belfast; Dublin; Washington D.C. (4 words); Moscow; Paris; Rome; Stockholm, Oslo; Canberra; Wellington (2 words); Belgrade; Lisbon; Peking; Ottawa; Pnom Pen; Delhi; Tangier; Tripoli; Tel Aviv.

That's it — now just spot the capital city from the left-over letters, send me the name on a postcard and you could be a winner. The address for your entry? Starchart, Look-in, 247 Tottenham Court Road, London, W1P 0AU. The sender of the first correct entry pulled from the postbag will receive the prize.

Here are last week's answers

Another Brick In The Wall; Walking On The Moon; The Rappers Delight; Off The Wall; I Have A Dream; One Step Beyond; Daytrip To Bangor; Union City Blue; Please Don't Go; Nights In White Satin; Still. Prize answer: Tears Of A Clown — Beat.

WHAT'S

STICK OUT YOUR TONGUE AND SMURF "AHHHH" — because there's a new Smurf to be found at some National Benzole garages (or at the special shops where you can buy them if you live in Scotland or Northern Ireland). Yes, it's Doctor Smurf (no connection with any kind of 'Elf' service!).

YOU CAN'T BLAME THE AIRLINE HOSTESSES FOR BLUSHING!

Well, you'd go red, too, if you had to fly 230,000 Smurfs a week from Germany to Portugal, and all of them stark naked! In their Smurfdaysuits, as you might say!

It's all part of a massive European operation personally supervised by Pierre 'Peyo' Culliford, the Smurfs' creator, who has the little characters made in a German plastics factory. But there are no facilities there for clothing our friends, so they have to be airlifted to the premises of Maia and Borges near Oporto, where two hundred and fifty Portuguese girls spend their entire working life plying paintbrushes to colour them blue and restore their modesty with white caps and tights!

AND NOW ONTO SMURF SAFETY. Have you seen the Smurf bicycle reflectors and tabards yet? They're great for all you smurfing cyclists! Remember — whenever you're out, it's not enough for you to be able to see other road users. You must be seen, yourselves!

FAMOUS FIVE

THE FAMOUS FIVE RECOVER A CONVICT'S HIDDEN LOOT FROM A SUNKEN BOAT OUT ON THE LAKE CALLED GLOOMY WATER. THE TRIUMPH OF BEATING THE CROOK'S ACCOMPLICES, DIRTY DICK AND MAGGIE, TO THE HULL IS THRILL ENOUGH—UNTIL JULIAN CUTS OPEN THE HEAVY WATERPROOF SACK TO REVEAL A STUNNING HOARD OF JEWELLERY THAT ALMOST TAKES THEIR BREATH AWAY!

WE'D BETTER LEAVE HERE AS EARLY AS WE CAN TOMORROW. WE'VE GOT TO GET THESE THINGS TO THE POLICE.

NOT THAT AWFUL VILLAGE POLICEMAN WE SAW THE OTHER DAY! THE ONE WHO WOULDN'T BELIEVE A THING WE SAID...

IT—IT'S A KING'S RANSOM!

A QUEEN'S, ACTUALLY! THIS TIARA WAS STOLEN FROM THE QUEEN OF FALLONIA. I SAW A PICTURE OF IT IN THE PAPERS!

NO. WE'LL PHONE UP THAT NICE MR. GASTON WHO FIXED TIMMY'S PAW. HE'LL KNOW WHERE THE MAIN POLICE STATION IS ROUND HERE.

AT DAYBREAK, THE FIVE SET OFF. NOBODY WOULD DREAM THAT THEIR RUCKSACKS CONTAINED A FORTUNE IN JEWELS...

I SAY! WHEN WE GET BACK TO SCHOOL, WE'LL HAVE TO WRITE COMPOSITIONS ABOUT WHAT WE DID AT HALF TERM!

MISS PETERS WILL LOOK AT OURS AND SAY "QUITE GOOD, RATHER FAR-FETCHED!"

THEIR HIGH SPIRITS CONTINUE—UNTIL, SUDDENLY, A WARNING BARK FROM TIMMY MAKES THEM TURN!

GOSH! IT'S DIRTY DICK AND MAGGIE! THEY MUST HAVE FOUND OUT!

DIRTY DICK LOOKS MAD ENOUGH EVEN TO TACKLE TIMMY!

GO ON, TIM!

RUN! MAKE TIMMY GO FIRST, GEORGE! HE'LL FIND THE SAFE PATH THROUGH THE MARSH!

THEN THE CROOKS MAKE THEIR CRITICAL MISTAKE! IN THEIR FURY, THEY ATTEMPT TO HEAD THE FRIENDS OFF!

NEXT SECOND, THE MAN TAKES A TUMBLE! HIS ANKLE WRENCHES PAINFULLY...

THEY'RE REALLY IN TROUBLE! SHALL WE HELP THEM?

NOT A CHANCE! THEY WON'T SINK. WE'LL LET THE POLICE PULL THEM CLEAR!

A MILE AHEAD LIES THE ROAD. A PHONE BOX. JULIAN PHONES THEIR FRIEND MR GASTON, AND BEFORE LONG...

HELLO, JULIAN! WHAT'S ALL THIS ABOUT THE QUEEN OF FALLONIA'S JEWELS?

IT'S NOT SOME KIND OF PRACTICAL JOKE, I HOPE!

CERTAINLY NOT, SIR!

WITHIN MOMENTS, THE ASTOUNDED POLICEMEN ARE STARING AT THE FABULOUS HAUL!

IT'S ALL OVER. AN HOUR LATER, IN THE CENTRAL POLICE STATION OF THE NEAREST TOWN...

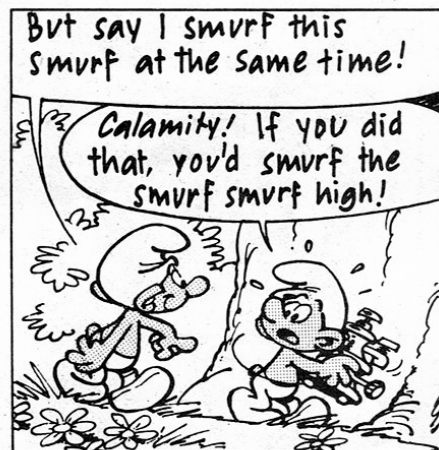

NONE BETTER—EXCEPT THERE'S A FEW CROOKS AROUND WHO WOULDN'T AGREE!

YOU'LL BE GETTING SOME VERY OFFICIAL PATS ON THE BACK FOR WHAT YOU'VE DONE. SPLENDID WORK!

THEY TELL ME THEY CALL THEMSELVES THE FAMOUS FIVE, INSPECTOR. GOOD NAME FOR 'EM, DON'T YOU THINK?

MEET THE SMURFS!

More Smurf-type fun next week.

They're Still The Greatest... ABBA'S DREAM LIVES ON!

There aren't many groups around today whose albums go double platinum — 2,000,000 copies — before they're released, but with super-group ABBA anything is possible! The album in question is ABBA Greatest Hits Volume Two which was released last November and is following boldly in the footsteps of ABBA's Greatest Hits — two million copies and still going strong!

Being the most successful foursome since the Beatles is not an accolade that was won without a great deal of hard work. Last year was probably ABBA's most hectic twelve months so far. It started with the release of the haunting Chiquitita, followed by the smash album Voulez-Vous and the single Does Your Mother Know?

Then came the marathon tour of America and Europe. It was the first time the group had ventured across the Atlantic and, during September and October, they undoubtedly captured the hearts of the Americans and Canadians almost as strongly as they did the British all those years ago! Then they travelled to Europe for a further two weeks' touring before making their way to Britain.

It was ABBA's first British tour for nearly three years and we certainly showed the fantastic four how much we had missed them! They played to around 50,000 people in London with six sold-out nights at the Wembley Arena, before going on to Stafford, Glasgow and Dublin.

With such a non-stop year, it's hardly surprising that the group spent most of December relaxing, and watching their last record, I Have a Dream, climb the charts. Bjorn and Agnetha stayed in their native Sweden, and Benny and Frida in the West Indies. To quote Bjorn: "It really takes it out of you, performing so frequently to so many people. At first you don't notice it because the nervous energy you build up on tour keeps you going. Then, when you get back home, after a few days you start to feel it — really exhausted."

For the uninitiated, the initials A-B-B-A stand for the Christian names of the group's members: Agnetha (the blonde!); Bjorn (the fair-haired guy who produces records as well as sings on them); Benny and, last but not least, beautiful Annifrid, whose name is usually abbreviated to Frida.

But however you care to spell ABBA, there's no doubt that the name stands for an energetic, totally professional and perfectionist foursome. They aren't moody, spoilt "artistes" like many in the pop business today — they have worked hard to achieve success and they work hard to maintain their position at the top.

Even personal problems don't stand in the way of a quality performance on stage. Last year, for example, saw the announcement of Bjorn and Agnetha's divorce, but they made it clear that nothing would change with the group.

One of the sights of the seventies —
ABBA in full flow.

➤➤➤ Without exception each member of the group is highly self-critical and with each new recording, their goal is to improve on or at least maintain the standard set by the previous disc.

Sometimes, the striving for perfection can be very frustrating, especially for Agnetha and Frida. They can spend days in the studio (ABBA have their own, situated on the outskirts of Stockholm) only to find that a song is rejected by the boys, who write the tunes and, after all, are the recording experts. On stage, it is just the same and everything has to be just right — down to the clothes. ABBA set out to stun the audience visually as well as vocally. White is their favourite colour for stage clothes, as they believe it shows up best and is brighter than any other colour. The girls spend ages choosing their gear.

Like all the best performers, they admit to being nervous before going on stage, though they love being under the spotlights — “Ever since I was nine,” says Frida, “when I made my first public appearance at a Red Cross bazaar!”

With all the recording, concerts, filming for TV, and photo sessions to satisfy the endless demands of press and fans, it's hardly surprising that they get little time to themselves. But then no one would deny that they enjoy every minute of it; they've known each other for ten years and, despite speculation to the contrary, it will be many years yet before they grow tired of the ABBA line-up.

So what are the plans of Agnetha, Bjorn, Benny and Frida in 1980? Well, at the beginning of January, Bjorn and Benny went away to the Bahamas for a few weeks to write for a new LP. The boys did the same thing last year, so they obviously feel they've found the right atmosphere in which to produce hit records!

While they were away, Agnetha and Frida started recording a new ABBA LP — in Spanish! There are few countries where the group have not been accepted by the record buying public — they're popular in Israel, India, Nigeria and Kenya, for example — and they think that the Spanish deserve a complete LP to themselves!

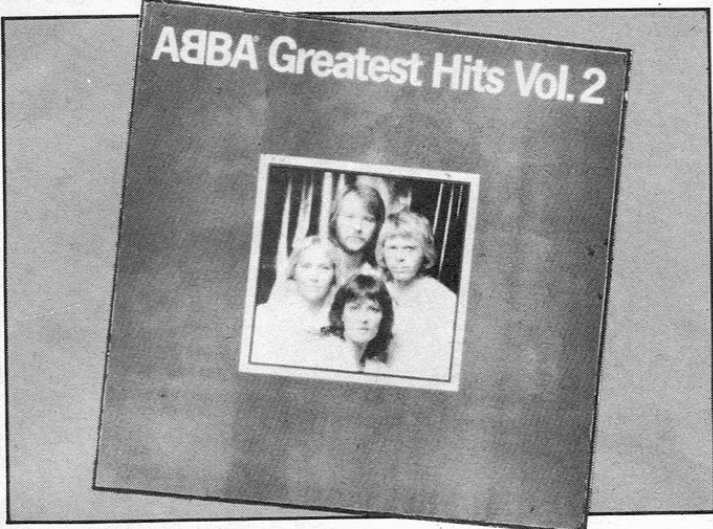

This month the whole group is getting together to start recording the brand new LP . . . then in March they go to Japan to do a three-week tour . . . then it's back to the song writing again for Benny and Bjorn . . . and in May straight into the studio to continue recording the new album. No doubt when it's released it will be an instant platinum, making at least another £1 million in this country alone, and the group will be able to collapse exhausted once more. Until the urge to produce something even better forces them back to the studio again!

Starting next week in Look-in, we'll be bringing you individual portraits of Agnetha, Bjorn, Benny and Annifrid to cut out and collect. DON'T MISS THEM!

Anna and Frida
keeping alive the dream.

The Incredible Hulk — The Movie hit the big screen in London recently and goes on release around the country during the next few months. It's a cinema version of the all-important first episode of Dr. David Banner's bizarre story as seen in the TV series, so it isn't a brand new adventure. But what better time to catch up with the Hulk story so far . . .

IT'S NOT EASY BEING GREEN

At least, that's what the latest reports from America are suggesting. It seems that even when the TV cameras have stopped rolling the Incredible Hulk continues to have a strange influence on the actors who play the twin roles of the raging green giant.

Both Bill Bixby, who portrays the mild-mannered Dr. David Banner, and Lou Ferrigno, who plays the part of the monster that Banner turns into when he becomes angry, have recently split up with their wives and apparently tempers often become frayed at the studios.

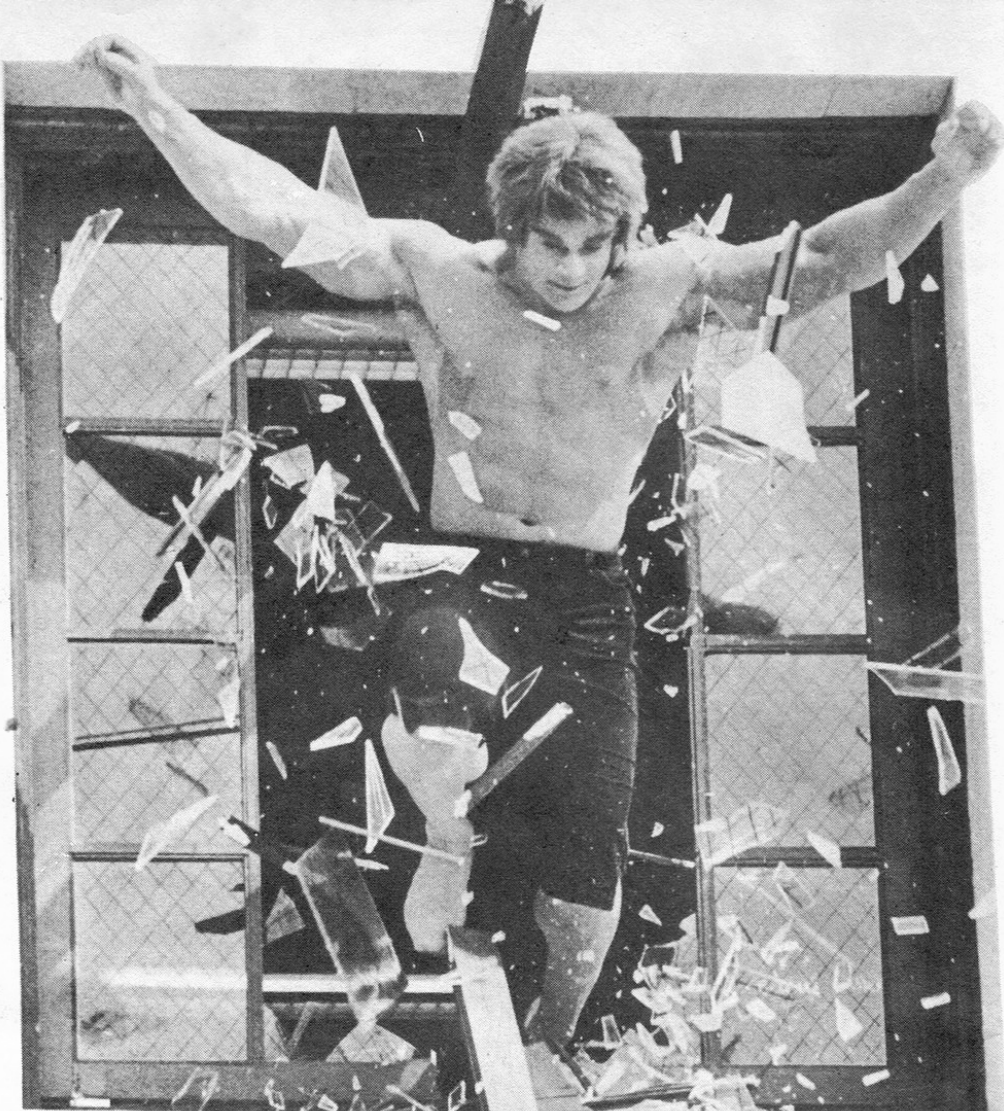

Four make-up men are said to have resigned last year in protest over Lou's tantrums and their union has demanded danger money to work with the 193 cm (6ft. 5ins.) tall actor. But it's hardly surprising that Lou gets rather irritable. It takes two hours before filming starts for him to be painted pea-green and fitted with a wig, foam nose and forehead (which have to be blow-dried), contact lenses, false teeth and caterpillar eyebrows. And to top that, his trailer on the Universal Studios plot is kept arctic-cold so that his make-up doesn't run between shots. (It does when he's under the studio lights, by the way, and needs constant attention).

Away from the set, Lou's attitude is very different. According to him, there's a little bit of monster in all of us, but it's knowing how to control it that matters.

"Sometimes guys try to pick fights with me," he says, "because of my size and just because I'm the Hulk. But it's the Hulk who has taught me how to control my temper. I just walk away when there's any sign of trouble."

"I guess there's a little bit of green monster in us all. For me, knowing that I have the strength to pick a guy up and throw him away means I don't have to prove myself."

The same contradictions of character apply to Bill Bixby. He's been reported as having flown into rages in the studio, pounded his fists on the table and stormed off when things weren't going his way.

Bill admits that he is nothing like the easy-going Dr. Banner: "I'm an intense person and I burn up energy fast," he says. "I tend to attack whatever it is that's trying to make me feel guilty. That doesn't always make me popular."

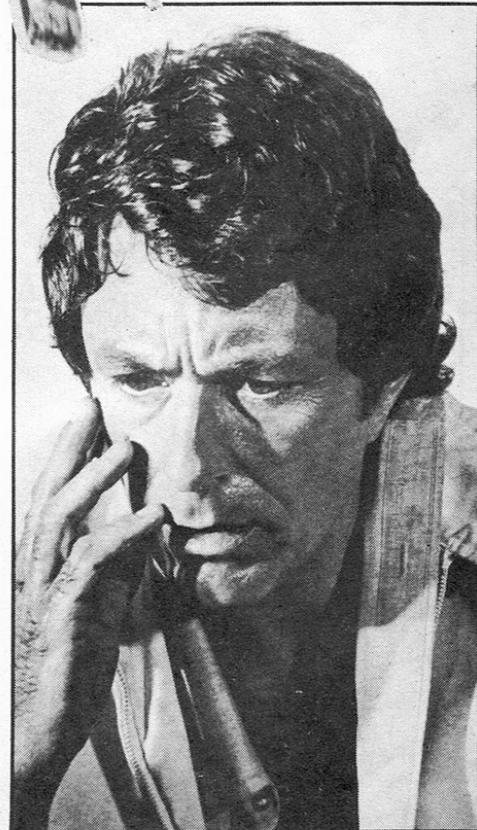

But he must be popular with the children who live in his area, for, whenever he gets the time, he and his driver, Jimmy Pitts, deliver pictures. Says Jimmy: "You see, Mr. Bixby has made it a tradition that any child who puts a request in his mailbox will get a picture."

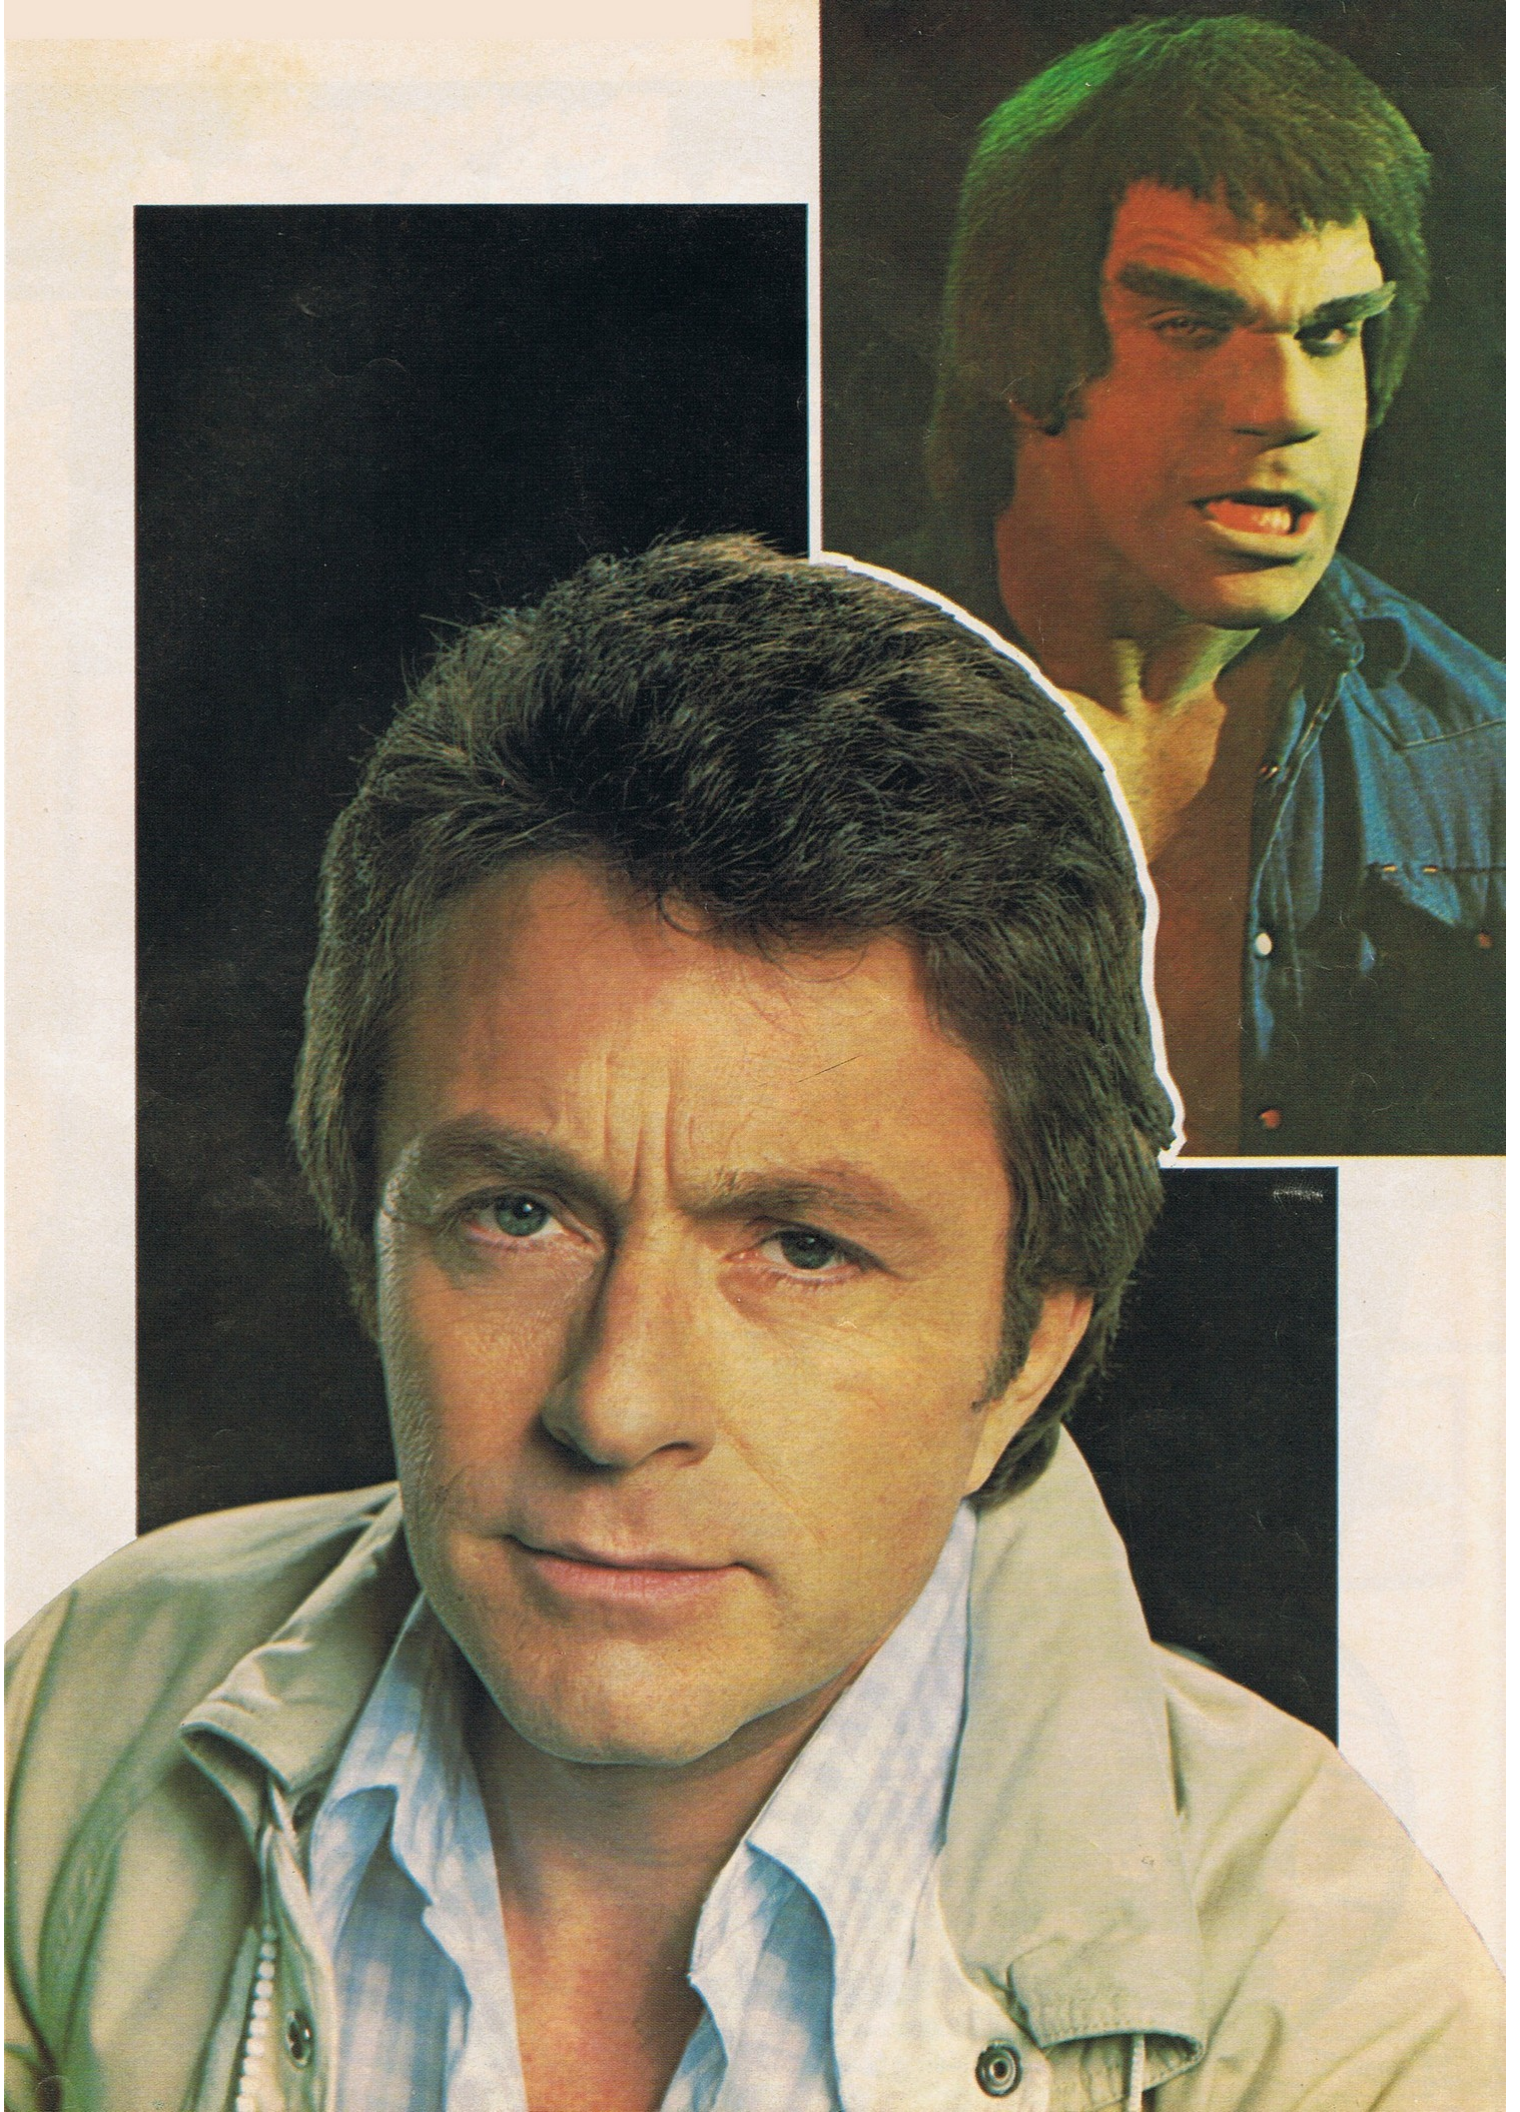

Says Bill of himself: "Boisterous as I am, as energy-filled as I am, I'm really a very, very shy, very withdrawn person. I don't go to parties. I'm not good at social events. If I go out I know I go as Bill Bixby the actor. That means they want to talk to The Magician (a previous hit series of Bixby's) or Dr. Banner. I've come to accept that. I used to hope someone would want to talk to me, to Bill, but I've learned it won't happen."

There have also been reports of friction between Bill and Lou but an executive who has been with the show from the beginning says: "Bix has done everything he could for Lou. He helped him with his acting, got him a trailer, helped him re-negotiate his contract. And why shouldn't he? Bix owns part of the show. He wants it to be a winner."

So whichever of the reports we are to believe, it can't be denied that the show is a winner and the stars — are admired by their many fans. And that can't be bad.
