INCORPORATING "RHYTHM"

LEWIS, STARDUSTERS, HEATH, HAYES FOR JAMBOREE

"Command Performance"

TEN OF BRITAIN'S MOST FAMOUS DANCE BANDS, INCLUDING SOME EXCITING NEWLY FORMED COMBINATIONS, WILL APPEAR AT THE PROFESSION'S BIGGEST ANNUAL SHOW—THE 1947 JAZZ JAMBOREE—WHICH IS TO TAKE PLACE AT THE GAUMONT STATE THEATRE, KILBURN, LONDON, ON SUNDAY, APRIL 27.

Following the precedent successfully inaugurated last year, the mammoth show will commence at 12 noon (doors open 11.45 a.m.) and will again present the cream of Britain's bands in a magnificent setting.

We are able to announce this week the names of the first six bands who have accepted the much-prized invitation of the Musicians' Social and Benevolent Council, the promoters of this great show. In alphabetical order, they are:

HARRY GOLD AND HIS PIECES OF EIGHT.

HARRY HAYES AND HIS BAND. TED HEATH AND HIS MUSIC. VIC LEWIS AND HIS ORCHESTRA.

THE SKYROCKETS DANCE ORCHESTRA. THE STARDUSTERS.

The two newcomers in this exciting list are Vic Lewis and his Orchestra, formed only a few months ago, and already going places as a modern, eminently musically band; and the co-operative Stardusters, who resigned en bloc from a London Palais in support of Union principles, and have since been making a big name for themselves.

TRINDER TO COMPERE

Both these bands well deserve the break which an appearance before 4,000 fans in the annual "Jazz Command Performance" will give them.

Of the other bands it is necessary to say no more than that they all represent the best in British dance music and will undoubtedly put on a terrific show.

Teddy Foster and his Band were to have played the Jamboree, but have had to cancel in view of their Italian tour (see col. 4).

Four more bands will complete the programme, and will be announced in a forthcoming issue.

Extra good news is contained in the fact that the programme will be compered by the one and only Tommy Trinder, whose genius at impromptu and knowledgeable wise-cracking has become an integral part of the Jamboree's attractions.

The magnificent Gaumont State Theatre, reputed to be the largest in Europe, has accommodation for 4,000 people, but it is certain that, as in previous years, the tickets will be snapped up in a few days, and we therefore advise our readers to apply AT ONCE if they want to stand a chance of gaining admission.

Prices of seats are as follows:

STALLS £2 (limited number only), £1, 16s., 10s.

CIRCLE £1, 15s., 10s., 5s. (limited number only).

All applications for seats MUST be addressed to The Secretaries, M.S.B.C. (Tickets), 118, Shaftesbury Avenue, London, W.1, and accompanied by full remittance with small stamped addressed envelope. All that need be put on the application is:

NAME (in block capitals)/ADDRESS/NUMBER OF SEATS/STALLS OR CIRCLE/PRICE/AMOUNT OF REMITTANCE.

The theatre has been generously provided by Gaumont British, and as usual, the entire proceeds of the Jamboree are devoted to the relief of distress among professional musicians.

WINSTONE SETS THE CZECHS BOUNCING!

EIGHT THOUSAND people attended concert in Prague; have fixed peak-hour radio spot for Sunday... so cabled Eric Winstone from Czechoslovakia whilst in the midst of his Czech tour, playing eight concerts in ten days.

Sensational is the only word adequately to describe his reception in Central Europe, and as we close for press the band is due to board a special plane at Prague for the return journey on Wednesday morning.

The band immediately plunges into work at home, with a "Music While You Work" broadcast to-day (Thursday) from 3.30 to 4 p.m. (Light), followed by an evening dance for University College at the Seymour Hall.

On Friday they have an O.R.E.S. session and on Saturday a broadcast, again in the Light Programme, from 1.10 to 1.30 p.m., and a dance at Rochester Casino.

On Sunday (23rd) the band is due to appear at a National Sunday League concert at the Casino Theatre, London, then on to Leicester for the week at the Palace Theatre, commencing Monday (24th).

CROSSMAN JOINS WINNICK AT CIRO'S

FURTHER additions to the personnel which Maurice Winnick is building up for his Ciro's Club date, on March 31, confirm the appointment of talented "veteran" altoist Joe Crossman as sax lead. Tenor saxist Bill Grilliths is also among the projected team of reedmen.

On drums, Maurice is taking stylish Billy Wiltshire. Currently with Lew Stone at the Embassy Club, as is also Joe Crossman, Bill finishes there when Lew leaves the Embassy at the end of the month, and will step straight into Ciro's.

Bertie King Moving

A SWITCH involving changes in the front-line personnel of two of Britain's leading bands occurs with the news that first altoist Bill Povey has left Harry Roy's Astor Club band to concentrate on freelancing.

Meanwhile, the Roy office informs the Melody Maker that Harry has engaged top-flight altoist Bertie King, who joins him in a week or two.

Bertie is now touring with the famous Blue Rockets, whom he joined only six weeks ago. Until he returns to Town, his alto chair in the Roy Band is being held by Harry Hunter.

SILVESTER TAKING TO THE ROAD

BIG news breaks this week that at long last, and in response to overwhelming public demand, Victor Silvester and his Ballroom Orchestra are shortly to commence a series of out-of-town dance dates.

Victor's decision, coming as it does at a time when the dance band business generally is somewhat in the doldrums, is of great importance, since it is more than likely that his appearance around the country will provide the spark necessary to re-stimulate interest in "name" bands as ballroom attractions.

To cope with this extension of his activities, Victor Silvester is in process of forming a limited company—in conjunction with violinist Oscar Grasso and Joseph Vecchi, the owner of the Hunzaria Restaurant—which will probably be titled Silvester-Grasso Productions, Ltd., and which will handle all his bookings.

UNIQUE RECORD CONTRACT

For one-night stands, Victor will use the "Strict Tempo" Orchestra which he will continue to feature weekly in the "BBC Dancing Club" series, with the addition of five violins, viola and four saxes for the larger halls.

The first date fixed for the band is on Wednesday next (26th), when it will appear at the Pier Ballroom, Southsea, followed by a dance for the Kingston Chamber of Trade at Bental's Store, Kingston-on-Thames, on Wednesday, April 2.

Victor has recently signed a new and unique contract with Columbia, which is of five years' duration and calls for the guaranteed issue of three double-sided discs per month—two with the Ballroom Orchestra, and one with the augmented orchestra, which for recording purposes is known as Victor Silvester's "Strings for Dancing."

TEDDY FOSTER AND BAND FOR ITALY-AUSTRIA

UNDERSTOOD to be the last big show scheduled to be sent to the troops in the Mediterranean area, Teddy Foster and his Orchestra, with a good supporting Variety bill, will be visiting Italy and Austria during April and May.

Taking his band overseas for the first time, and looking forward to the trip as something of a holiday after twelve months of one-night stands all over Great Britain, Teddy will carry 18 musicians and three vocalists.

Travelling overland, leaving London on April 9, the show will be away for seven weeks, opening in Italy and working round to Austria, covering an enormous distance, and endeavouring to bring down the curtain impressively on the series of excellent shows sent to the CMP by ENSA and, latterly, CSE, who are, of course, responsible for this bumper finale.

Arranged by well-known agent Robert Luff, who has also fixed Teddy Foster to appear at a Sunday concert for NSL at the London Casino on March 30, the show going to the troops will play mostly at theatres, doing a variety programme.

When Teddy returns from abroad he is considering making a music-hall tour, building a show around his own strong personality, leading, singing and playing trumpet. Until he leaves for Italy he is continuing his one-night stands and has a broadcast from 5.15 to 6 p.m. to-day (Thursday, March 20), when he is making a special feature of the work of his staff-arranger, Roland Shaw, and using Betty Kent, Dave Kidd and Jean Ricki as vocalists.

"M.M." All-Britain Drum Winner's Big Break with Lewis

MAKING an enviable bound from semi-pro status to top-flight professional activity, percussionist Peter Coleman has now settled into the drum chair with the new Vic Lewis Orchestra. He replaces Reg Swain, who, for health reasons, is unfortunately compelled to abandon touring.

Peter was adjudged Britain's best semi-pro drummer when he appeared with Johnnie Stiles' Band at the Melody Maker 1946 "All-Britain" Final at Blackpool last November.

Vic Lewis, enthusing on the newcomer's prowess, says: "Peter shows terrific promise. He should turn out to be one of the best drummers in the business."

Fans can hear Vic's orchestra with Peter Coleman at the peak-listening period of from 7.30 to 8.15 p.m. (Light) on Monday next (24th), when it is spotlighted in "Band Parade" opposite Jack Coles and his "Music Masters."

Brighton M.U. Benevolent Fund Dance at the Princes Ballroom on March 25 will feature the bands of Syd Dean, Les Hilsden, Howard Leo and Ken Lyon. Other local bands expected to appear. . . After 12 years Sammy Lambert (tenor) left Syd Dean at Brighton to join Harold Sander at the Grand Hotel, Sheffield. . . Altolst Dave Pearce joined Ken Noah at Manchester Plaza on Monday last. . . Arthur Lawes, trumpet with Jimmy Honeyman, at Victoria Ballroom, Nottingham, recently became a proud father.

Fenelope Penny for short—is the newcomer's name. Film Ball at King's Hall, Stoke-on-Trent, a huge success, with both Reg. Bassett's Band and Jimmy Moss's "Regimentaires" featured. Visitors included film star Michael Rennie, assisted by "Jane," of the "Daily Mirror," and noted organist, Stanley Toder. . . Trombonists around the Warrington district should write to Jay Meadows, 34, Pickmere Street, Warrington, who is in a position to offer some good work. . . Newcastle drummer/xylophonist Jack Mosses completes an eighteen months' stay with Enrico Benazzi at the Grand Hotel, Folkestone, on April 14. Is open for offers from this date. . . Saxophones required for each of four bands, for the summer season, in Jersey. Interested parties should contact Johnny Stean at 7, Regency House, Osnaurgh Street, London, N.W.1.

THE Cameo Music Publishing Co., of 27, Denmark Street, W.C.2. ask us to state that they have no connection with the dance band engagement at a South Coast hotel announced in last week's "M.M." This is a personal venture by Eddy Rogers, who has now left the firm.

TRENTHAM GARDENS BALLROOM RE-OPENS

CLOSED to the public for the "duration" the magnificent ballroom at Trentham Gardens, near Stoke-on-Trent, will reopen for public dancing on Wednesday, April 2, when Midlands impresario Arthur Kimbrell will present Eric Winstone and his Band, with Alan Kane and Julie Dawn, back this week from their tour of Czechoslovakia.

In support will be the resident band under the leadership of Norman Jones, who held the job when the premises were requisitioned.

The management's name-band policy will be continued with the appearance on Easter Monday (April 7) of the Blue Rockets, directed by Benny Daniels and presented by H. Newton Lane.

Swinfen's Air-Debut

FOLLOWING immediately after Lou Preager's "Saturday Night at the Palais" broadcast on Saturday next (22nd) from the Hammersmith Palais de Danse, the Palais' other resident band Johnny Swinfen's Ambassadors, will take the air from 11 to 11.35 p.m.

Unfortunately for Johnny, this will only be taken on the BBC's Overseas Programme, but he hopes to have a "Home" date in the very near future.

AFTER 2½ years in a sanatorium, Bobby Richards, swell young ex-Rabin drummer-showman, is now recovered and back in the business. He taught himself arranging during his illness, and is now concentrating on that side of dance music. Welcome back and good luck, Bobby!

TRUMPET player Freddy Clayton wishes it to be known that his new telephone number is Fulham 2870.

CLAUDE THORNHILL BAND BREAKS UP

Red-hot New York News

CLAUDE THORNHILL has been forced to disband his 22-piece orchestra because of rising costs. He will organise a less costly band for the summer season.

Most of his old musicians are expected to return to the new band, but with a sizeable cut in salary.

The orchestra last had a date in New York in February, and since then has been playing a series of one-night stands in New England. The combination broke up on March 15.

Jack Teagarden has been barred from appearance at the Susie-Q Restaurant, Hollywood, by order of James Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, who claims that he owes 400 dollars ($100) to the union in travelling band taxes.

Teagarden's brother, Charilo, has taken over the band in Hollywood while Jack has returned to New York. Ray Noble's Orchestra was banned from a broadcast in Mexico City by the Mexican authorities on March 16. Mexican unionist musicians, recalling Petrillo's ban on Mexican musicians in the United States, demanded a similar ban against U.S. musicians.—BRITISH UNITED PRESS.

New Regency Band

THE Regency niterie in Piccadilly is about to start a new dance band which will contain a host of prominent names. Opened recently at premises formerly occupied by "Au Bijou" Restaurant, the Regency is London's newest, lavishly decorated night spot.

Its music is currently provided by a dance band under the aegis of Howard Baker and led by bassist Bob Long; and by the Latin-American offerings of Roberto Inglez and his Orchestra from the Savoy Hotel, who double the Regency in the late evenings.

Starting next Monday (24th), the new dance band, replacing the Howard Baker unit, will be led by ex-Winstone trumpet-arranger Eric Siddons.

The band will include piano stylist and arranger Jimmy Henry; plus Ghis Condon, Fred Batchelor, Bobby Deeks, Jack Fischer and Clarry Sampson (reeds); Laurie Morgan (late Orchid Room and more recently with Jack Jackson's Orchestra) drums; and Arthur Watts (bass). Currently singing at the Regency is up-and-coming West End nightingale Barbara Lee.

The negotiations for musical arrangements at the Regency have been conducted by Alf Preager.

JAM FOR WEMBLEY

AT the Wembley Town Hall on Sunday, April 6, at 3 p.m., famous Feldman brothers Bob and Monty present the third in their current series of jam session concerts.

The bill of swing fare, which should sate the appetite of the most avid fan, will comprise tasty offerings by Kathleen Stohart (tenor), Ronnie Chamberlain (alto), Jimmy Skidmore (tenor), Freddy Clayton (tpt.), Jack Bain (tmb.), Art Thompson (pno.), Pete Chilver (elec. g'tar.), Coleridge Gode (bass), and Carlo Krahmer (dms.).

Apart from the above, an added attraction will be the London debut of Britain's latest drum sensation, Ronnie Verrali, who is now playing with Claude Giddins' band at the Pavilion, Gillingham.

Kent in Devon

NOTED West End fiddle stylist Michael Kent is currently featured at the Imperial Hotel, Torquay, where his contract has recently been renewed for a long period.

With Michael are: Alf Veat and Darryl Homier (altos); Vic Gatehouse (tenor); Bill Slaney (bass); Harry Green (piano); and Cliff Drinkwater (drums).

The band is due to air very shortly.

Ronnie Scott Joins Jackson

ALMOST immediately after leaving Ted Heath's Band, which he was featured for some nine months, young tenor stylist Ronnie Scott has joined Jack Jackson's outfit at Churchills.

Here, in company with piano modernist Hamish Menzies, biggest guitar discovery of the times Pete Chilver, and Canadian bassist Jack Falton, he is in the kind of environment in which he can take all the soles he wants, in true jazz style.

Ronnie Scott takes the place of Ray Smith who, after a short rest, will be joining Frank Sherry's Trio at the Beechwood Roadhouse, Cleveleys, nr. Blackpool.

Reverting to Churchills, a drum change is imminent, since Laurie Morgan is leaving this coming weekend to join the new band which is starting at the Regency niterie under Eric Siddons. Laurie's successor in the Churchills drum chair will be Tony Crombie, who is already distinguishing himself all over Town.

Jack Jackson, who leads the dance band and presents his own and Edmundo Ros outfits at Churchills, was unlucky enough to have his trumpet stolen last week-end.

Amstell Turns
Bandleader

AMROSE saxist, Billy Amstell, this year celebrating his 21st year in the business, blossomed out as a bandleader last week when he recorded a half-hour's programme for ORES; "Neatly titled "The Amstell Way," the programme consisted of ten of Billy's own compositions, all exploiting four-beat jazz in a two-beat style, which he advocates as the most exciting dance rhythm.

The band he used for the session comprised Leo Wright (trumpet); Don Macaffer (trombone); Alfie Kahn (tenor); Malcolm Lockyer (piano); Alan Metcalfe (guitar); Norman Burns (drums); and Ronnie Peters (bass), with Billy himself leading on clarinet and tenor.

Billy is also in the news these days as a composer, for he has a series of his instrumental compositions published by Peter Maurice. In addition, he recently played the tenor-sax part of Ravel's "Bolero" with the London Symphony Orchestra at the Albert Hall.

BAND SLUMP IN PARIS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

DUE entirely to the present economic situation, with its high taxation, particularly on champagne, many Paris cabarets are now closed, with a consequent high unemployment figure amongst musicians.

Until the situation improves, British musicians can forget any ideas they may have of fixing up work in France, as the French Musicians' Union will advise its Ministry of Labour not to issue permits to foreign musicians.

However, as France is expecting several hundred thousand tourists this summer, who will have to be catered for, there is every possibility of the rule being relaxed in the near future, as once the cabarets reopen, there will not be enough native musicians to go round.

FLASHES: Django Reinhardt, back from his U.S. tour, where he appeared with Duke Ellington, has opened with a 12-piece band at Bouff sur le Toit in Paris.

Hot Club de France popularity poll produced the following result: Swing Section: (1) Duke Ellington; (2) Stan Kenton; (3) Woody Herman. Sweet Section: (1) Duke Ellington; (2) Claude Thornhill; (3) Les Brown. The Bagatelle, Paris, now closed... no news available of Jack Harris, who was resident there.

Fifteen well-known French leaders have declared that they will not in future employ any musicians who work alongside foreign musicians during the present crisis. They will probably have to eat their words before the summer is over.

Hot Club to present a special "Nuit de Jazz" for the benefit of Latin Quarter students who cannot afford the high prices charged at night clubs and dance halls.

U.S. HIT PARADE

1. ANNIVERSARY SONG (2-2-5)
2. MANAGEA NICARAGUA (8-0-9)
3. OH, BUT I DO (3-3-3-4-5-6-9)
4. A GAL IN CALICO (5-1-2-2-2-2-3-5-4-7-8)
5. FOR SENTIMENTAL REASONS (1-4-1-1-1-1-1-3-3-4-8)
6. I'LL CLOSE MY EYES (9-5-8-10-0-8-10)
7. GUILTY (4-9-10-9)
8. ZIP-A-DEE DOO-DAH (6-7-4-2-3-4-5-4-5-9-7-9-0-10-9)
9. HOW ARE THINGS IN GLOCCA MORRA? (10-6-7-5-4-5-8-3-2-3-4-3-6)
10. THE OLD LAMPLIGHTER (10-6-7-5-4-5-8-3-2-3-4-3-6)

Tito Burns and his Sextet are reckoned among the most interesting of Britain's smaller combinations. Here they are (l. to r.): Bernie Myers (str.), Billy Batt (bass), Tony Lytton (drums), Danny Levin (vln.), Pete Cniver (ol. str.), Tito himself, and Jack Gordon (pno.), whose place has since been taken by pianist-arranger Bernie Fenton.

HITS AND PIECES by SAMMY QUAVER

SHHEET sales dived again, even top-sellers winding up below average. "Stars Will Remember" now fighting it out with the leaders... Little change in frame look from last week except for "Rickety Rickshaw Man," which bowed in, out, and in again, all within three weeks... Revival of Horatio Nicholis' "Among My Souvenirs" in Goldwyn's "Best Years of Our Lives," likely to live up song market. Hoagy Carmichael features yesterday's million-copy-hit in movie, and Crosby-Sinatra discs are being readied for early release... New World's Roy Borry just got himself hitched up to pretty Joyce Frazer, of the Sunnysiders Trio. Pellicitations, pals... Lou Preger was first in Britain to introduce "Richard" to Palais dancers, and no arguments, please!

Billy Cotton's Band a boffo hit at the Palladium. Any questions? ... HI, fellers! lend an ear to "Linda," she's kinda fetchin'! ... Issy Bonn, back from U.S.A. trip, observes that baritone singers are the thing over there, with Perry Como the biggest of 'em all... I'm betting blind on "Shell Always be Sweetheart to Me" winning the Palais song contest outright, and it only made the heat last Saturday... Cyril Stapleton's ork. a hit on Sunday concerts... "Fischers" maestro changed his radio ideas past three months, and already paying dividends... Looks like Harry Loss owns a chunk of gold in "Goodnight, You Little Rascal, You."

PAT ON THE BACK DEPT.!—To Dick Royle, Al Leslie and Phil Baker for some fast pitchin' on big ballad; "Sentimental Reasons"... The wise ones have already earmarked Leslie Douglas as a "second Billy Cotton"... Reviewing a recent Dinah Shore disc, a Yank scribe says: "The tune is pleasing, and, for a change, Miss Shore takes the hot potato out of her mouth." That's why they're big over there, 'cos artists like Dinah can take it. Wish some of our big-time brothers and sisters could stand up to a rap or two... "How Are Things in Glocca Morra?" Tune in to A.E.N. most any night, and you'll find out! Derek Roy tried a "Temptation" last Sunday. Oh no, no, no, Derek!!! Leave this type song to singers like Howard Jones...

Jan Wildeman's melodic Crickewood crew clicks for first "M.W.Y.W." (28th)... SHOCK DEPT.!—Aside from Victor Silvester's "Dancing Club," dance music is an "also ran" according to latest BBC listener's research log spotlighted in "Sunday Chronicle" (16th)... Harry Roy's got the stock market bug, and he's having a flutter... I know a few band leaders who won't play so-called corny waltzes. Wonder whether these guys caught Bob Farnon's treatment of "May I Call You Sweetheart" on Vera Lynn's air packet last Sunday? It's the treatment, brothers, just the treatment!

TAKING THE LID OFF DEPT.! (continued)—Joy Russell-Smith says she has no intention of amending her decision respecting song repeats in "Variety Band-Box." Pubs. will still have to wait three weeks, but oh, Joy, "Musio Hall" is still here to fashion the hits... Thank you, Tin Pan Alley, for all the new stuff and gen. I'll be getting around to the best of them pretty soon... TIN PAN ALLEY GOES to Edna Kaye for a swell job on "The Stars Will Remember" in "Band Parade"... to the Song Pedlars for a real "Pied Pipers" on "April Showers"... to George Elrick for a "natural" performance on "Music Hall," and some great competing on "Housewives' Choice" programmes... Our profound sympathies go out to Len Young, whose father passed away Tuesday morning (18th), only six weeks after the death of his mother.

Edgar Jackson's Reviews

THE recent "emergency" fortnight's suspension of the "M.M." and continued reduction of the paper ration have caused this column to get somewhat behind hand, and I still have even some January records with which to deal.

To catch up, the reviews will have to be pretty sketchy for the next few weeks. But here goes to make a start with the January releases:

LIONEL HAMPTON AND HIS ORCHESTRA

*Air Mail Special (Pts. I and II) (Goodman, Mundy, Christian) (Am. Decca 73333/4) (Brunswick 03763-4s, 10j.d.)

Hampton (vibes), with J. Griffin, R. Piater (alts.); B. Kynard, A. Cobbs (tens.); C. Fowlkes (bar.); J. Morris, D. Page, W. Cully, J. Nottingham, L. Wright (tps.); J. Wormick, M. Woods, A. Penn, A. Hayes (kbs.); Milton Buckner (pno.); William Mackell (gtr.); Charles Harris, T. Sinclair (basses); George Jenkins (dms.). Recorded January 30, 1946.

THIS band's idea of swing seems to be a sequence of wild solos badly imposed on a background of ill-conceived and worse-played riffs.

The only parts of either side worth a good word are Hampton's vibraphone contributions.

The rest sounds like a bunch of over-excited exhibitionistic pte-drivers blowing their tops off in a hopeless attempt to show how fast and furious a band can be.

And just in case you think I've merely taken a cue from G. Rhoden in last week's "Letters," may I add that I said exactly the same thing when reviewing this Hampton horror last February for the March "Gramophone"?

ELLA FITZGERALD with RANDY BROOKS AND HIS ORCHESTRA

***Benny's Coming Home on Saturday (Roberts, Fisher) (Am. Decca 73021). (Recorded August 29, 1945.)

***A Kiss Good-night (Slack, Victor, Herman) (Am. Decca 73020). (Recorded August 29, 1945.) (Brunswick 03763-4s, 10j.d.)

ELLA has been a top-liner for over ten years now, having first sprung into fame with the old Chick Webb ork. even before she took over the fronting of it after Chick died in 1939.

Time has done nothing to dim her lustre, and even in these two quite ordinary songs she proves that she is still in front rank of contemporary American coloured (and white!) fem. vocalists.

But equally responsible for the success of these two records is the accompaniment provided by Randy Brooks's Orchestra—a white combination which, as you probably know, has lately been acclaimed as one of America's best swing bands.

It has a grand attack which lends point to its groovy, riding drive and flair for florid colour.

Among its notable soloists is Brooks himself, whose trumpet is the feature of the first chorus of "Home on Saturday," and again after Ella's first chorus in "Kiss."

Songsmiths

THE first meeting in London last week of the British Songwriters' Protective Association was successful enough to suggest that at last the "backroom boys" of the song world are to get proper representation.

The aims and objects of the Association are to champion the cause of the professional men who write the hits that help to make bands and vocalists famous, publishers wealthy and the public happy.

Last week's meeting produced two "bogeys"—the inevitable BBC and the Arthur Rank film organisation, which was severely and rightly chastised for having its songs of "London Town" written by American tunesmiths out of touch with British requirements.

One angle, however, was not discussed and that is the attitude of the British music publisher to home-grown songs.

British songs have been hits, but how many more might have been had the publishers given them the same exploitation as they do to the big U.S. numbers? And how many good British songs are languishing on the publishers' shelves, frozen out by the expensive American catalogues to which some of our publishers are committed?

These are pertinent questions which the new Association cannot ignore. If it is to place British songwriters firmly on the map.

As we believe the Association to be worthy and deserving of all our support, we break tradition by using this editorial column to give it a blatant "plug." Membership is open to all professional British songwriters who are Associate or Permanent members of the PRS. The membership fee is 10s. 6d. and should be sent to the Honorary Treasurer, Irwin Dash, 17, Berners Street, W.1.

ESSENCE

by Pat Brand

"YOU can call me a musical missionary," said Joe Jeanette, with the Irishman's unflinching gift for the right phrase and in the Dublin accent that 20 years' residence in this country has not dulled.

Joe has never been content merely to discover a fact and keep it to himself—and the facts that he has discovered about music during his 12 years with Ambrose, his five with Carroll Gibbons, his six months with Billy Munn just recently, at the Orchid Room, and his periods of freelancing, would fill a book.

Joe Jeanette, Musician, student, editor.

For 20 years, he boasts, he has not read a novel—and redeems a statement that is usually indicative of an empty mind by adding that he has read pretty well every musical book and periodical published in English.

He has done more than read about music. He has studied from the inside almost every aspect of it. From chorbay to choirmaster, from bandman with the Dublin Fusiliers (with whom he served in the ranks in World War I) to studying clarinet under Charles Draper at Kneller Hall, from West End dance music to playing classical and chamber music meantime he has run the gamut of musical experience and learning from Goodman to Goossens and from Spike Hughes to Spiko Jones.

Enough to fill a book, did I say? Easily! His first book is just out, aptly entitled "The Musical Digest." At a bob on the bookstalls it covers music from Rachmaninoff to rebop.

Musically, it is absorbing; journalistically a triumph. From its lighter side, I quote with appreciation the following:

"A fan club is a group of folk who tell a performer he's not alone in the way he feels about himself."—Woody Herman.

DWARPED by the mighty pipe organ in the cloistered Victorian atmosphere of Ealing Town Hall last Thursday night, Tito Burns and his

Sextet gave forth somewhat incongruously with a concert offering that really rode in arrangements that enabled a dance band, for once, to justify its claim to produce "a new noise."

Whether you like accordions or not, you cannot deny that Tito genuinely swings this one. The recent "Accordion Club" series proved his ability as composer and arranger, and he now shares the latter responsibility with Bernie Fenton, the ex-Rabin pianist, who has taken the place of Jack Gordon in the Sextet. Add to these the original compositions and technical ability of guitarist, Pete Chilver—one of the most important newcomers to the profession in years—and you have some idea of the potentialities of this unusual and always interesting combination.

The Sextet is completed by Bernie Myers (rhythm guitar), Billy Ball (bass), Tony Lyton (drums), and Danny Levin (violin). Danny is very much O.K. on his instrument, and it is no reflection on him when I say that I found myself deciding that I would have preferred a clarinet or tenor sax in his place in the outfit.

The Sextet's vocals were taken by Dorothy Brent. The additional vocals by the Harry Roy drummer Ray Ellington were a surprise packet (resulting upon Tito's spotting him among the pathetically poor attendance), and a very pleasant one, too.

In a very different vein from Tito's the accordion playing of guest star Emilio was outstanding in this accordian concert organised by the British Association of Accordionists.

Incidentally, I'm glad to report that Charles Chilton is expecting to commence the second edition of Tito's "Accordion Club" on April 24.

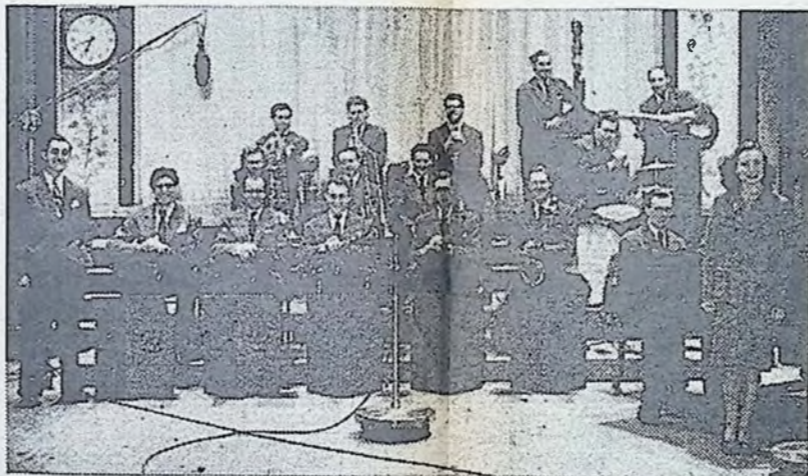

AND whilst I'm on the subject of accordions, I might as well go the whole hog and report the fact that I braved the elements last Friday night to go along to the Albert Hall to hear the first performance in England by Fistolouri of Pietro Deliro's Accordion Concerto No. 1 in E Minor, with Toralf Tollefsen as soloist.

Judging this purely musically, my immediate reactions were first, this Concerto was unlikely to cause any vast repercussions in straight musical circles, and secondly, that this performance was unlikely to further the cause of the accordion as an accepted orchestral instrument. Even in the vast but sparsely populated Albert Hall, it was well-nigh impossible to hear the instrument save in solo passages, and then not always as fully as one would have liked.

Of Tollefsen's technical ability, there is, of course, no question. He looks, and is, a master of his instrument.

Mr. Ralph S. Peer, head of Southern Music, came over to London from the States last week on the start of a world tour of the Southern offices, and held a cocktail party at Claridge's for members of the profession. This cheery "M.M." picture, taken during the evening, shows (right to left): Dave Toff (General Manager of Southern Music in London); Mrs. Gerald; Mr. Peer; Mrs. Peer; Gerald and Mrs. Toff.

Vic Lewis and his Orchestra, with nightingale Helen Maok, snapped by the "M.M." in a BBC Studio after their recent successful broadcast. They will be seen at the Jazz Jamboreo on April 27, and they can be heard airing again on Monday next (24th) at 7.30 p.m. in "Band Parade." Vic has made a big capture this week in Peter Coleman, who comes in on drums. Peter was adjudged Britain's best semi-pro drummer when he appeared with Johnnie Stiles' Band at the "M.M." All-Britain last November (see story on page one).

U.S. News Survey by Marjorie Lewis

THE sensational Joe Mooney Quartet continues to rock at Dixon's here in New York City, now aided and abetted by a new attraction in the persons of the Herman (piano) Chittillon Trio.

Another hot accordionist has popped up, too. Name of Ernie Filios, he plays the thing like a tenor sax and looks like competition for Joel.

Speaking of tenor-saxists reminds me that veteran Bud Freeman, along with Joe Bushkin and Herbert Ward, opened at Rio de Janeiro's super-smart Copacabana late in February. Johnny do Vries went along to write lyrics to the show with pianist Bushkin.

Harry James plans to reorganise his band after vacationing for more than two months, much of it spent training and clocking his horses at Santa Anita. Marion Morgan will handle vocalist chores again.

Charlie Barnet is trying to arrange his plans so that he can leave for Europe this Spring. He'd like to tour each country, organising a group of native musicians as he goes.

CHATTER by Chris Hayes

STAN SMITH, whose rhythm section at the Ikley Moor Hotel, Ikley, now consists of Jack Newstead on piano, Freddie White on bass and Mike Adams on drums, wants three old friends to write to him: drummer Pete Diplock and tenor saxophonists Vic Gatehouse and Bill Moxon.

Regular visitor to the Ikley Moor Hotel, by the way, is radio jazz expert, Dennis Ward.

Stewart Williams, editor of "Jazz Information," who used to be secretary of the Cardiff Rhythm Club, has had a tough time for several months in a sanatorium, but now writes me a bright letter from 2, Caerau Park Crescent, Ely, Cardiff, to say he has recovered and is shortly forming a Hot Club of Wales, with headquarters in Cardiff. Good luck, man!

Donning a top hat and swinging his clarinet like a walking-stick, supple saxist, Jim Easton does a tidy tap-dance on the stage with Charles Shadwell, playing some choice phrases on his slender woodwind, as he elicits-claps around. Quite a Fred Astaire on the go. I very much enjoyed his neat contribution to Charlie's delightful music melange.

Regards to some old friends at home come from London drummer, Harry Hecker, who has been in Cape Town for 16 years. Harry was with guitarist Joe Young and violinist Joe Burns at the Waldorf Palais, Glasgow, where he also knew our former Technical Editor, famous drummer Dan Ingman. Harry, who also mentions Mickey Lowe and Lew Davis, says he and Teddy Foster "started off together in 1927."

Losing trumpeter Frank Potter and violinist Harry Martell, Jimmy Luff, bandleader at Hotel Ryde Castle, I. of W., has secured trumpeter-violinist Dick Ramsden and guitarist-vocalist Reg Davies. . . Guards' Div. Dance Band, stationed in Germany, saw recent CHATTER about their ATS singer, Rita Matthews, who is now vocalist and general manager for London bandleader Teddy Wallace, and sent her a gold watch to arrive on February 23, her 23rd birthday. . .

Best wishes to Dave Mitchell, second trumpet with Les Ayling at the Empress Ballroom, Dundee, who married Miss Dorothy Morris, at Dundee Registry Office, last month. Least altoist-clarinetist, Jack Banks, c/o Mrs. Greenacre, 173, Lymington Avenue, Wood Green, N.22 (Bows Park 5453), is available for any band, coling overseas.

Most ambitious brochure ever circulated by a semi-pro band-provider is surely the lavish twelve-page affair emanating from triple "M.M." All-England contest-champion, Billy Lawrence, who'll be glad to supply a copy to anyone writing him at 16, Ruskin Court, Winchmore Hill, N.21. On glossy cream paper, you can read the whole story of Billy Lawrence Orleans, with excellent photos and sketches.

Just off on a flying visit to the States is Doreen Henry, rated by many as Britain's finest fem. jazz singer, though her visits to the mke for Basin Street, Jazz Society and Jazz Club and with Billy Munn have been all too rare.

to the Editor Letters AT about 12.8 a.m. this morning, N.2 time, I was up. I switched on to catch the start of a few foreign broadcasts. When I beheld I heard the announcer call the Radio Revelers before the mike. I listened for the entire length of their delightful programme. I am prompted to say that not only was it pleasant, entertaining and clever, but that the arrangements of the numbers were superb. My honest opinion is that these four boys make a grand team, and far above some of the so-called stars we have on the air in the States. SOL COWAN. Bronx, 59, New York. DAT BRAND is quite right in suggesting that "Jazz Club" will stem some of the complaints regarding BBC jazz, but the operative word here is "some." "Jazz Club" is an excellent programme, but there is still no programme featuring genuine New Orleans jazz, which cannot the BBC bring back "Radio Rhythm Club"? Better still, why do they not engage George Webb's Dixielanders for a few live N.O. Jazz sessions? STAINES, MIDDLESEX. Brian Gladwell. THAT was good news in last week's THE MELODY MAKER about the new tie-up with American recording companies, resulting in more swing records for us. But there is still no sign of anything happening with regard to the recording of US swing stars: Capitol Records, Capitol waxes the band of all time—The Parade, Margate. M. BLACK.

S.E. London and Derbyshire Contests

CONTINUED curtailment of our paper ration still makes it temporarily impossible to give more than the barest details of contests.

But this is not preventing the season from going ahead with notable success. True, the bad weather made the attendance at Derby last Wednesday week (12th) below expectations, and only four of the six bands entered were able to make the date.

But with an at any rate temporary improvement in travelling conditions in the South, the South-East London Championship at Peckham the previous night (11th) enjoyed a near-capacity gathering of just on 600.

The eight bands entered all duly appeared and their keen fight in a generally high-standard contest, together with the fine show put up by Cyril Green and his Band as "house" combo, provided an evening that went with a swing in all senses of the word.

Full results of both events are given on this page. All who would like judges' reports on the performances of the winning bands can obtain them by sending a stamped addressed envelope to Contests Director, MELODY MAKER, 93, Long Acre, London, W.C.2.

A somewhat unexpected feature of this season's contests is the few bands which have taken advantage of the new rule which allows a rumba or other South American dance to be substituted for the waltz.

Only at Ipswich did any band attempt a rumba; and the two which did so—Steve Stephenson and his Rhythm (the runners-up) and Arthur Williamson's Band—tackled this Latin-American idiom with quite outstanding success.

Competing bands will be pleased to learn that they are no longer required to give clothing coupons for winning band Banners. These are now made from coupon-free material.

First of quite a few contests it is hoped to present on Sundays before seated audiences will take place at Liverpool on April 20. For further details see Fixtures List.

All Set for Yorks 3-Band Week

ON Monday next (24th), as already reported in these columns, the "Three Musketeers"—Billy Munn, Jimmy Leach and Cyril Stapleton—with their respective organisations, make their wholesale onslaught on the Yorkshire swing fairs.

They are commencing the hectic week's tour which will culminate in the grand three-band Sunday Concert at Harrogate on the 30th, when Yorkshire's "Golden Voice of Radio" will be selected from those successful in the local competitions.

As piano-star Johnny Douglas leaves the Stapleton Band on Saturday (22nd) to concentrate on arranging, the piano chair for the tour will be occupied by Doncaster-born Bernie Fenton, famous Oscar Rabin pianist, arranger, while drummer Norman Burns will also take over for the week's tour.

When the Stapleton Band returns to Fischer's—where the "Stardusters" are deputising for the week—Malcolm Lookyer, who is currently with Ambrosia at Ciro's Club, will occupy the piano chair.
