ACCUSATIONS THAT some of the Lords debating the Copyright Bill are ill-informed and reliant on discredited information are being made by Phonographic Performance Limited.

Managing director John Love says he is unhappy that information presented as fact to the House of Lords had previously been accepted by the Government as untrue.

He points in particular to Lord Julley saying: "It is the Govern-Mulley saying: "It is the Government's White Paper that says some of the independent radio companies are called upon to pay £30 every time they put on a record."

The Home Office stated in writing that it accepted that figure as "How can you build a set of arguments on a figure that is as wrong as that? We charge about £1 for have a certain opinion of you."

Love contends that Lord Mulley made a further eight errors of fact or interpretation during the debate and he also attacks Lord Willis and Lord Harris for what he regards as mistaken statements.

Love says: "They are very illinformed and factually wrong. What makes me particularly un-

Rented CDs 'tops with home tapers'

MUSIC INDUSTRY fears that compact disc rental will lead to largescale home copying are being borne out by the latest research conducted by the BPI. The organisation's figures indicate that, proportionally, five times as many people make copies of rented CDs as home tape from rented CDs as home tape from hired records or consettes.

Half of all CD player owners use the machine to make copies, according to the research, and already five per cent of them rent discs specifically to copy. That compares with the BPI's estimate that only one per cent of all record and cassette deck owners indulge in home taping using rented software.

BPI general manager Peter Scaping points out that the figures do not include the additional copying done using CDs loaned by public libraries. The number of outlets renting CDs commercially is still small but republy growing and small but rapidly growing, and Scaping comments: 'There is not an enormous amount of copying from CDs done at the moment but by comparison, it is very large at this relatively early stage

Organisation chairman Rob Dickins points to the Japanese re-cord industry where turnover drop-ped by one-third in the two years after rental was introduced. "Music is something that you want to enjoy over and over again," he argues. "There can be no other reason for people renting than to make their own copies."

Dickins believes there is a large middle ground of music fans who can be persuaded to home tape if the process is made convenient for them. He feels that the movement of video stores into CD rental will be all the encouragement many people need.

The BPI and other music industry organisations are currently fighting for a provision to control rental to be incorporated into the Copyright Bill now going through Parliament.

Towerbell investigation results soon

CREDITORS OF the crashed Towerbell group have no chance of receiving any of their money, according to the companies' liquidator, but they will soon see the results of an investigation into the Liquidator Jason Ellis says a report should be presented to creditors early this year and it will then be for them to decide whether to pursue the matter further.

Asked about the contents of the report, Ellis replies: "I cannot di-vulge what that is. Suffice to say that a lot of time and money has been spent in producing the report and has gone into the areas that they required us to investigate."

One of the issues the liquidators were asked to report on is the possibility of legal proceedings against Towerbell directors under insolvency legislation. It was stated at the first creditors meeting in October 1986 that Towerbell was "insolvent to some extent" when floated on the stock market.

That meeting was also told that Towerbell had unsecured debts of £2.15m with major creditors being EMI (£1/2m), PRT (£373,000) and the Mechanical Copyright Protection Society (£116,000). Ellis describes their chances of receiving a dividend as "zero".

Midem: DAT kill or cure?

AT MIDEM Music Week will be providing an opportunity for some truitful discussion on key industry issues via a Technology Forum, set to roll on January 27 at 3pm.

The forum will examine how CD manufacturers are coping with overcapacity, what it will take for CD to ultimately achieve mass consumer penetration, whether CDV is more than just another format and whether DAT will be the market's

regard the rationalisation as an erosion of the label's autonomy.

Russell says one of his first priorities will be to re-build Decca's stature. The label has slipped in recent years from being market leader to the point where it is now not even PolyGram's biggest-selling classical marque.

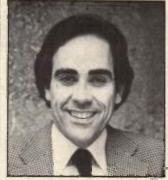

"I want to help to restore it to its former glory," comments Russell who in 15 years has risen from assistant manager of DG in the UK to his present post.

He continues: "I know that De-cca has some excellent forthcoming projects. There are plans to sign exciting new artists and also plans to move into new musical areas — which will help to change its reputation as one of the more conservative classical companies.

Russell maintains that the bed-rock of Decca's exclusive artists — Solti, Ashkenazy, Sutherland and Dutoit — will not appear on Poly-Gram Classics' other labels. "Decca will compete with DG and Philips in the marketplace as it always has done," he remarks.

Michael Letchford, general man-Michael Lerchtora, general manager of Decca, will now report to Russell, as do Mike Sage (Philips) and Bill Holland (DG). Russell will report direct to PolyGram chief executive Maurice Oberstein.

Included in the deal is Teldec's manufacturing plant and, says Lopez, the factory will continue to do work for outside labels.

ERVYN CONN has announced several heavy names as headliners for the 20th Easter Country Festival, to be held, as usual, at Wembley Arena.

Although no sponsor has yet been announced to replace previous incumbents Benson & Hedges, whose Silk Cut brand name has long been associated with the Festival, Conn has signed up three internationally known artists in Willie Nelson (who will be making only his fourth UK appearance in 20 years), Merle Haggard

Two of the successes of last year's Festival, Patty Loveless and Leon Everette, have been booked again, while interesting first timers at Wembley include the O'Kanes, the Desert Rose Band (led by Chris Hillman) and singer/songwriter Michael Johnson. David Allan Coe, one of the unexpected stars of last year, is not on the Wembley bill. A spokesperson for the Conn Organisation explains that Coe was offered either a booking at Wembley or a European tour, and decided on the latter, which he will undertake early next year along with Bobby Bare.

Other Festival names announced include Stonewall Jackson, Margo Smith, Freddy Fender, Carroll Baker and George Hamilton IV, while homegrown interest will be maintained by Raymond Froggatt and Scottish group Colorado.

Negotiations are still continuing for further attractions from both sides of the Atlantic and further details will follow in due course.

BRIEF

THE ALARMING mix up which affected New Country — Gettin' Tough's scheduled BBC-2 screening in early December was caused by the previous programme, which included an interview with Mikhail Gorbachev, over-running.

Gorbachev, over-running.

This in itself would not have mattered too much, but crossed wires resulted in the joint CMA/BBC show being deleted from the programme listings published in most national newspapers, which led to a much smaller audience than Gettin' Tough deserved. Martin Satterthwaite, chief executive of the CMA's European headquarters, has lodged a protest with the BBC and requested a repeat transmission as soon as possible, and while no new date had been set at the time of writing, your ever-lovin' column will keep you informed.

RECENT RELEASES which failed to be properly reviewed, but which should not be overlooked, include Traces by Don Williams (Capital (TC)EST 2048, also on CD), who will be touring here in the spring, Greatest Hits Vol. 2 by George Strait (MCA MCF(C) 3400, also on CD) and The Last One To Know by Reba McEntire (MCA MCF(C) 3401).

Piano Concerto, Khachaturian. Alberto Portugheis, LSO, Tjeknavorian. ASV CD DCA 589.

So you like The Onedin Line and you want more. Khachaturian's (above) Piano Concerto is a little more abrasive, but it has its lush moments. Above all, it is thrilling, dramatic, and emotional, especially in this bravura performance by Portugheis — in fact, he occasionally outshines the orchestra where the strings sound distinctly underpowered. Not profound music, but truly exciting. Two solo piano works, Sonatina and Toccata, are fillers.

Orchestral Works, Frank Bridge. Chelsea Opera Group, Lowri Blake, cello, Howard Williams, conductor. Pearl SHE CD 9600. Oration, Enter Spring, Frank Bridge. Cologne Radio Symphony Orchestra, Alexander Baillie, cello, John Carewe, conductor. SHE CD 9601.

Iwo all too rare recordings of music by Britten's teacher, Frank Bridge. Orchestral Works, including the elegiac Suite For Cello And Orchestra warmly played by Lowri Blake, present a collection of shorter pieces. The second recording, on the other hand, presents two extended works, with Oration offering a perfect vehicle for the passionate playing of the English cellist Alexander Baillie, in a recording taken from German radio.

Piano Quintet, F minor/Ballade, Op 10 no 4/3 Fantasies, Brahms. Barry Douglas, piano, Tokyo String Quartet. RCA Red Seal RD 86673. An unexpected but welcome chamber music release from Douglas, the Tchaikovsky Piano Competition Winner. There is a real relationship between pianist and quartet here — this appears not to be a marriage of convenience — with both agreeing on control and balance within an overall perspective of marvellously committed playing. Thrilling.

The Last Three Sonatas, Schubert. Paul Berkowitz, piano. C minor/Impromptu, Allegretto, Hungarian Melody Meridian CDE 84102. A major/6 Waltzes Meridian CDE 84103. B flat major Meridian CDE 84104.

A rather belated review of these Schubert sonatas, released in their entirety before Christmas, when they immediately made a strong impression. Space demands too brief a paraphrase. But it is clear that this Canadian pianist has a broad technical command which allows him to produce an exceptional range of tonal quality—this is without doubt the most beautifully sounding recording of these works. On occasions, perhaps, the elements of musical urgency may be sacrificed at the altar of exquisite sound — particularly in the B flat Sonata — but there is no denying the quality of playing throughout, and particularly in the A major Sonata.

Opera 1904 to 1935, Volume 6, The Classic Years. BBC CD 653. A repository of historical gems superbly transcribed from original 78s. Highpoints for me here are a youthful Kirsten Flagstad stunning in Ho-yo-to-ho from Die Walkure and Gigli melting in his lyrical Che gelida manina, but other delights include Caruso, Chaliapin, Melba and Peter Dawson.

Horn Concertos Nos 1 and 2, Richard Strauss. Michael Thompson, horn, BBC SO, Edward Downes, conductor. BBC Records, CD 641.

Thompson, the principal horn of the BBC SO at 18, has more than lived up to his promise. His first recordings, Mozart's Horn Concertos for BBC Records, matched virtuosity with toste, and here, he is even more at home, enjoying the declamatory qualities while drawing persuasive lines from the softer moments.

Brands' mark of quality

by Nigel Hunter

"HE WHOLE idea for us is to stand out amongst our competitors by doing things we think other publishers are not doing as well as us."

That, in a nutshell, encapsulates the philosophy and outlook of MCA Music UK managing director John Brands and his colleagues. Their efforts to achieve their aims include retaining an independent record promotion company to work on selected releases published by MCA Music.

Brands underlines that the bullish mood characterises the company internationally as well as here in Britain.

"Our American presence, is extremely strong, with offices in Los Angeles, New York and Nashville, all working for our US and UK writers and setting up collaborations between them where feasible. We have a new MD in Paris — Tom Arena — who has joined us from Intersong, and this month we are opening a Hamburg office headed by Adrian Wolf, who comes from Peer Southern."

Brands is also very confident about increasing co-operation with MCA Records here under its new management which he rates as "a great team". 1987 was a very good year for MCA copyrights. Apart from nice little TV earners such as Miami Vice and the Cry Freedom soundtrack, there were single successes from the likes of Five Star (If I Say Yes, The Slightest Touch, Somewhere Somebody); Johnny Logan (Hold Me Now); Shakin' Stevens (A Little Boogie Woogie); Pet Shop Boys (What Have I Done To Deserve This); Kim Wilde (Say You Really Want Me); Was Not Was (Walk The Dinosaur), and a renewed lease of hit life for Tom Jones' It's Not Unusual.

New signings include Crazy House (Chrysalis Records), Krush and Slide (Phonogram), Fairground Attraction (RCA) and Skin Games (Epic), plus Phil Pickett of Culture Club connections who is now collaborating on songs with B A Robertson as well as production work with The Jets, Helen Terry and Paul McCartney (with Phil Ramone).

"We had a significant chart presence last year," says Brands, "and came number three in the last quarter, our highest ever rating. We've been active on albums like never before, with tracks on every big seller including Michael Jackson, Whitney Houston and the compilation sets.

"We've also got our own extremely good 16-track in-house studio available to our writers all the time to record their songs to master quality. The studio is fully compatible with the in-house equivalents in Los Angeles and New York, allowing writers from both sides of the Atlantic to collaborate freely and learn all the various production techniques."

Albums

THE CHILLS: Brave Words. Flying Nun UK. Just because the band are friends of mine doesn't mean I shouldn't choose their longawaited debut album as this year most resolute model; simply the most honest, surging, atmospheric music to ring around my brain in many a year.

TOM VERLAIN: Flash Light, Fontana. A man who can still re-invest the electric guitar with each and every release. Subtle, fragile and intoxicating virtuosity.

HUGO LARGO: Drum. Relativity. Soaring, dreamlike vocals from Mimi Goese helps lift these drumless Americans into unique and breathtaking folk-jazz territory. Produced and vouched for by REM's Michael Stipe.

THEY MIGHT BE GIANTS: They Might Be Giants. Rough Trade. A huge left-field surprise — a veritable jukebox crammed with inventive, innovative pop, as good humoured as it is memorable.

REM: Document, IRS. Still radical after all these years. REM's fifth was harder and more articulate than before, but every bit as strong. How American guitar-rock should resonate.

Single

THE SUGARCUBES: Birthday. One Little Indian. A beautiful pop gem from these newly-heralded lcelanders, quite unlike anything and anyone else. Unlimited poten-tial.

Performance

THE 'MUSIC OF BULGARIA' TROUPE: Purcell Room, South Bank, London — with TRIO BULAGRK AND TRAKIISKATA TROIKA. 90 minutes of the most heavenly world music; the purest voices, harmonies and local instruments. Heartstopping.

Positive development

The diversity and creativity of independent music now that world music has knocked down the boundaries of fashion.

Prediction

That home taping will not kill the record industry.

MARTIN ASTON

MW reviewers chose their best albums, single and live performance of the past year, adding their thoughts on 1987's most positive development and their prediction for 1988.

he class of '87

Albums

THE PROCLAIMERS: This is the Story, Chrysalis. The twins from Auchtermuchty sing their hearts out, in their own accents, on subjects they care passionately about, using musical styles that they love. What could be more natural? A moving debut.

PRINCE: Sign O the Times. Paisley Park. So many textures — so much brilliance. The four great singles contained herein are only part of the story.

HAPPY MONDAYS: Squirrel and G-man etc. Factory. These Man-cunian mischief-makers were one of the few redeeming features of 1987's generally turgid indie scene. This dirty, funky, riff-ridden LP is a stunning debut and the group's even better live.

HURRAH! Tell God I'm Here. Kitchenware. Maybe not as brilliant as we expected — too much rock and not enough pop — but their songs are still wonderful. Their rough-and-ready live LP, Way Ahead, on Esurient is also essential listening.

ERIC B & RAKIM: Paid in Full. 4th & Broadway. This album, along with those from Public Enemy and Salt 'n' Pepa, proved for the first time that rappers can make great LPs.

Single

PRINCE: Sign O the Times, Pais-ley Park. The record that took relevance, eloquence and innovation into the charts and on to the dancefloor. This is the song that 1987 will be remembered by.

Performance

THE PROCLAIMERS at the Town and Country Club in November were powerful, emotional, honest and direct. A refreshingly responsive audience added to the excite-

Positive development

The revitalisation of hip-hop, the the revitation of house music and the rediscovery of Seventies rare grooves made the dancefloor the best place to be in 1987. Even the British got in on the act with Pump Up The Volume, Roadblock and the Coldcut remixes.

Prediction

A generally unexciting musical year will greatly benefit from new LPs by Dexys, James and The Proclaimers. Also Prince will grace us with his presence this time around. ANDREW BEEVERS

Albums

BLACK SABBATH: The Eternal Idol. Vertigo. Remarkable album full of new ideas and invention, made even more remarkable by the fact that this band's been around for 20 years. Heavy and intense as only Sabbath know

TNT: Tell No Tales. Vertigo. Sharp, witty, subtle and sophisticated, this Norwegian band introduced a new dexterity and finesse into metal with this, their third album. Tell No Tales competently walks the line between the elaborate and the egotistical.

TESLA: Mechanical Resonance. Geffen. Blistering debut from five young Americans who rediscovered how effective hard rock can be when stripped of all superfluous weight. Stark, tight, taut and energetic, Mechanical Resonance was as refreshing as entertaining.

soundtrack album of unpre-cedented quality, boasting a passion and an enthusiasm normally shunned in soundtracks. Max Bacon's vocals are stunning.

MAMMOTH: Fatman. Jive. Delightful combination of strong rock music with the humour of a band unashamed by their size. The B-side, Political Animal, had some biting social comment.

SIOUXSIE & THE BANSHEES: Through The Looking Glass. Wonderland. Universally dismissed as a flight of self-indulgence, this collection of cover versions has nevertheless proved surprisingly enduring. Iggy Pop's The Passen-ger and Television's Little Johnny Jewel shine brightest.

JODY WATLEY. MCA. The former Shalamar singer showed her true colours on a feisty solo debut with some muscular dance tracks that are individual enough to be

MADONNA: You Can Dance. Sire. She proved she could at her Wembley dates earlier in the year and this timely release, for all its studio wizardry and apparent crassness, is a nice reminder of the excitement of her live perform-

THE TWINS from Auchtermuchty proclaim their superiority.

Performance

Every year I try to think of a metal show that was better than Donington and every year I fail. This year, the sheer spectacle of Bon Jovi, Anthrax, WASP and Dio on the same stage made the event exceptional even by its own standards.

Positive development

In the field of hard rock and heavy metal, the most positive development was the indication that Bon Jovi and Europe are dragging us out of the media ghetto we have been in. Perhaps next year we'll get the attention our numbers war-

Prediction

A new New Wave Of British Heavy Metal will be the catalyst for another wave of popularity for the genre. New talent and old hands will combine to excellent effect. JEFF CLARK-MEADS

Albums

ERASURE: The Circus. Mute. An impressive debut bristling with the sort of electric energy that one would expect from Basildon boot boy Vince Clark.

SUZANNE VEGA: Solitude Standing. A&M. Even without the luxury of CD, Suzanne Vega sounds as if she is in the room, and the album is spellbinding for its sense of intimacy. A strong consolidation of her refreshing style.

TOM WAITS: Frank's Wild Years. Island. Just when you thought Tom Waits' voice couldn't get any deeper, out comes an LP that plumbs new phlegmy depths. Wonderfully sinister and evocative.

Single

JENNIFER WARNES: First We Take Manhattan. Cypress/RCA. Warnes gave her best on a truly exciting song, spiced by glowing vocals and interesting lyrics.

Performance

IGGY POP at the Hammersmith Odeon: Iggy was in magnificent, strenuous form peddling the old material rather than the excellent new. Raw, exciting and inexplicably contemporary in spite of its vintage.

KAREN FAUX

Albums

SUPER ALL STARS: Super All Stars. Globe Style. A new release that brings together some of New York's best Latin players. Big band dance mambo with enormous commercial appeal.

NICK KAMEN: Nick Kamen. WEA. This debut album from 1987's only really genuine UK male pin-up stands up better than expected. A sign of the times.

DEPECHE MODE: Music For The Masses. Mute.

BLUE VELVET: Soundtrack, TER. PET SHOP BOYS: Actually. Parlophone.

Single

DURAN DURAN: Skin Trade. EMI. Still as pushy, naff and provincial as ever, the Duranies hit an unexpected high with Skin Trade. Their concerts were pretty good as

Performance

Stupidly regarded by many, as a punk oddball, Lydia pulled out all the stops at her University of London Union gig in order to put the record straight. She is the Des O'Connor of the Eighties real entertainment.

Positive Development

Megastore Culture (more people buying more music), DAT, Network 7 M/A/R/R/S, failure of The Roxy.

Prediction

Worldwide success and acclaim for normal and sensible record labels such as Go! Discs, Go Style, Rhythm King, Ace etc.

JULIAN HENRY

Albums

LOS LOBOS: By The Light Of The Moon. London/Slash. Their punchy, clean, (obviously) Latin-flecked brand of exuberant rock 'n' roll came up trumps again on a set of self-penned material, just months before their Ritchie Valens tributes brought them chart domination.

RICHARD: CLIFF Always Guaranteed. EMI. A writing and production bonanza by Alan Tar-ney, and Cliff rising to the chal-lenge of his best material for years. HERB ALPERT: Keep Your Eye On Me. A&M. Veteron pop trumpeter meets whizzkid black music producers Jam & Lewis. The results add not only a fresh new dimension to his sound, but also throw up three hit singles, with the title track offering the year's cleverest video.

STEVE EARLE: Exit O. MCA. More rural rock 'n' roll than straight country, but whatever you call it, it's wonderful to hear music where guitar and voice are in the driving seat. Earle knows his traditions without ever making his material sound dated.

ELVIS, CARL & JERRY LEE: The Complete Million Dollar Session. Sun. From somewhere, a much longer, better-quality tape has emerged of the Dec 4, 1956 session at Sun, and hearing Presley describe Jackie Wilson's live rendition of Don't Be Cruel is awesome.

Single

KENNY G: Songbird. Arista. Spine-tingling combination of a fine melody and that soaring sound of Kenny's soprano sax, which topped anything any cleverdick producer could come up with. The 12-inch is essential because the 7-inch fades at the trickiest passage.

Performance

The most entertainment I got from a live show was Barry Humphries as Dame Edna and Sir Les, in his current Strand Theatre show; therefore, it has to be that. If you thought the Sex Pistols initimidated their audiences, you ain't seen nothin'.

Positive development

The first signs of intelligent investigation of back-catalogue repertoire on low-price CD. I'm just upset that nobody's asked me to do any

Prediction

The cassette single to go the way of the reel-to-reel tape, but the CD single to become as widespread (and market-manipulative) as the

BARRY LAZELL

PRINCE OF poseurs becomes king of pop.

Compact Discs

Turangalila Symphony/Quartet for the End of Time, Messiaen. CBSO, Simon Rattle. EMI. An immense undertaking but performed with all the flair and spirit for which Rattle is now famous. And superbly

Time Stands Still — Emma Kirkby, soprano, Anthony Rooley, lute. Hyperion. Exquisite singing from Kirkby, recorded here in con-cert rather than studio, showing an artist at the height of her powers in direct communication with her au-

Music della Capella Sistina — Allegri, Josquin, Palestrina. Taverner Consort, Andrew Parrott. EMI Reflexe. The year was packed with superb vocal records, especially from Hyperion and Gimmell — but this was rather overlooked. Hugh Keyte's new performing edition of Allegri's Misere was a revelation.

Suite No 2, Bach etc. Syrinx, pan pipes, Orchestra de Chambre de Zurich. Erato. I have heard Bach on piano, on brass band, on harmonica as well as on original in-struments, but one of the most beguiling records of the year has been Bach on pan pipes, for Syrinx is a highly sensitive musician as well as a virtuoso of the first order.

Symphoniesk Nos 2 and 8 Beethoven. The London Classical Play-ers, Roger Norrington. EMI. The start of what promises to be a revelation of a series, with Beethoven receiving the authentic treatment as seen through the Norrington perspective. The London Classical Players perform with all the verve one could want.

Performance

The Mask of Orpheus, Harrison Birtwistle, English National Opera, London Coliseum. Two decades in the making, this opera will be seen as a milestone in the development of the medium, for its effective use of electronics, its riveting musical and mythical content. It made Glass's Akhnaten seem bathetically simplistic by comparison.

Positive development

There could only be one - introduction of the wide range of classical mid-price compact discs bringing the medium to many new listeners as well as established classical buffs.

Prediction

I predict more reductions of classical companies' full price CD mate-

NICOLAS SOAMES

Albums

MARY COUGHLAN: Tired And Emotional. WEA. MARY COUGHLAN: Under The Influence. WEA. The revelation of the decade, this quite amazing Irish singer has progressed from obscurity to selling out the London Palladium within less than a year. Her magnificent interpretation of stunning material sympathetically produced by Erik Visser (ex-Flairck) will propel Coughlan to heights other European female singers have only dreamt about.

NANCI GRIFFITH: Lone Star State Of Mind. MCA. This first major label LP after four indie albums has a production sheen which its predecessors lacked, while well chosen and often self composed material take the breath away. The best female folk/country artist ever.

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN: Tunnel Of Love. CBS. Following Born In Of Love. CBS. Following Born In The USA, either commercially or artistically, would have been beyond most people, but this refreshing change of direction will only provoke disappointment in the mindless. Another tour in 1988?

GEORGE HARRISON: Cloud Nine. Dark Horse/WEA. An excellent follow up to All Things Must Pass, even if it took 17 years, this is the finest ex-Beatle album since Imagine. These boys (George Elton, Clapton, Jeff Lynne and Ringo) should form a group.

NANCI GRIFFITH: From A Distance. MCA. The most thoughtprovoking song from the Lone Star State album (see above) unfortu-nately ignored by radio and thus invisible to the public.

Performance

Jeffrey Kruger's Peterborough Country Festival added the best vibes to a great bill which catered for many while alienating few. Bill toppers Johnny Cash, Kris Kristof-Ferson and the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band were supported by English debuts for Nanci Griffith (her again!) and Daniel O'Donnell (perhaps the biggest home-grown country star yet), plus the hugely entertaining Hoyt Axton to provide a memorable August Bank Holi-

Positive Development

Continuing growth and commercial acceptance for the New Country movement as pop music in general struggles to emerge from the cul-de-sac of non-songs re-corded with the aid of electronics rather than musicians.

Prediction

It would be great in 12 months' time to applaud the music industry and the media for giving up the belief that because something is new, it must necessarily be superior to what has gone before. This should be applied to DAT and to songwriters who insist on making records when they shouldn't.

JOHN TOBLER

Albums

DANNY WILSON: Meet Danny Wilson. Virgin. Shake the warm hand of pure pop genius and wel-come the sounds of the sophisti-cated steely Danny. The recipe was delicious, but the public failed to bite. We don't care, Mary's Prayer was glorious and the Danny's day is sure to come.

HUSKER DU: Warehouse: Songs And Stories. WEA. Polished overdrive takes four sides to tell the true tale: nobody understands dynamics better than the Huskies. Incomparable theory and execution, unmatched harmony and hysteria, they exist as unchallenged winners.

THAT PETROL EMOTION: Babble. Polydor. The best guitars in town tuned to the surest agit-pop. Little chaps with enormous hearts bringing the fire of Derry to a complacent market place and held in place by the taut life-line of punk tradition at its very best.

REM: Document. IRS. Getting harder by the LP, yet still retaining a firm grip on the country-tinge that makes them this year's hap-piest choice. As is so often the case, put disparate characters together and gain something near to the wonderful. It happened here and also on the retro' Dead Letter Office (A&M).

VAN MORRISON: Poetic Champions Compose. Mercury. Draw a nice straight line from Astral Weeks to the present, take in Veedon Fleece and join up the dots. The result is PCC, Morrison's most accomplished work this decade and once that finds jazz as the main inspiration clothed in Gaelic allegory. Championship

THE LA'S: Way Out. Go! Disc. Stuck in a clammy room, the door burst open and in pile the La's, Scallies on a tide of fresh air. A genuine hope and one to blast away all the muck and nonsense that clutters our lives. A raised glass also to the Pogues for bringing a little reason into the Christmas top 10 singles . . . a fairytale that nearly happened.

Performance

Diving for pearls at the Royal Albert Hall proved to a most re-warding experience when Elvis Costello played. A litany of confessions and covers, sparkling gems plucked from a singular career. To be left breathless was seldom such a pleasure, to be hungry for more, never so pointed.

Positive development

The rise of folk and World Music: the barricades have been broken down, now let's storm the palaces. A revolution for the common good.

Prediction

False icons in the producers' chairs to be exposed as charlatans working against the public's interest. The artist then regains supreme power. A prediction or merely a wish?

DUNCAN HOLLAND

Albums

PET SHOP BOYS: Actually. Parlophone. The lads have their detractors (stand up Jonathan King)

but are still one of the best pop acts to have emerged in the last few years. Like Phil Spector in the Sixties, they have created their own sound, and Actually is packed with PSB classics.

THE COMMUNARDS: Red. London. Jimmy Somerville's soaring vocals grace an album that is capable of filling every dancefloor in the country and yet has moments of sheer pathos and beauty.

HELEN WATSON: Blue Slipper. Columbia. The year's most promising new female vocal talent debuted with an album produced by Glyn Johns, and with a band of musicians that included most of Little Feat, and ex-Eagles member Bernie Leadon. Blue Slipper has become the proverbial turntable hit, without becoming a massive chart hit but there's no doubting that Watson has a big future ahead of her.

THE BEE GEES: E.S.P. Warner Brothers. Exactly 20 years after their chart-topping hit Massachusetts, The Bee Gees returned to the top with You Win Again, just one of the tracks on this immaculately crafted album which proves that the Brothers Gibb have durable appeal.

ALMA COGAN: A Celebration. EMI. A welcome double-album compilation of material by the Fifties pop singer who was developing into one of our finest song stylists before her untimely death in 1966. Under-rated for so long, Cogan's work could finally be rediscovered in the Eighties, thanks to the growing interest in the music of the Fifties and Sixties.

Single

PET SHOP BOYS & DUSTY SPRINGFIELD: What Have I

Done To Deserve This? Parlophone. How this almost irritatingly catchy collaboration between the magnificent pop diva of the Sixties and the Pet Shop Boys failed to reach number one beggars belief. Messrs Lowe and Tennant should be thanked for bringing the voice of Dusty Springfield to a new generation of pop fans.

Performance

Basia at Ronnie Scott's Club. The former Matt Bianco vocalist with a little help from her 10-piece band which included members of Gonzalez and King Sala held court at the well-known jazz venue and captivated everybody with a seemingly effortless but stunning vocal performance.

Positive development

Record buyers both old and new rediscovered the fact that there's nothing that can beat a great lyric and melody being performed by a good artist (à la Alison Moyet, Rick Astley, Jimmy Somerville, Mick Hucknall).

Prediction

In the absence of any discernible new pop trend, the art of songwriting will continue to grow apace with new talent hopefully creating songs that will become standards of the future. CHRIS WHITE

VAN MORRISON continues in championship form.

THE LA's: a pile of Scallies on a tide of fresh air.

THE WONDER STUFF: Unbearable. The Far Out Recording Company. Bright, brash and brilliant, The Wonder Stuff have got everything from teasing melodies and wry lyrics on a sea of raunchy style to a blisteringly sharp attitude and corkscrew hair!

FRAZIER CHORUS: Sloppy Heart. 4AD. Bringing a new meaning to slushy love songs, Frazier Chorus produced a mesmerising and thoroughly haunting de-but. Full of squishy hearts and dripping veins it is both unnerving and infectious.

SLY AND ROBBIE: Boops (Here To Go). 4th & Broadway/Island. An excellent year for dance re-cords from the rise of rare groove to the sampled antics of MIAIRIRS and Eric B & Rakim's Coldcut remix of Paid In Full, but this rhythm twins track proved to be the cut of the summer with its infectious, lilting beat.

ABC: When Smokey Sings. Neutron/Phonogram. Just one of many epic slices of suave, sophisticated pop from their brilliant Alphabet City LP. Classic stuff from a great duo who are at least being appreciated over here again.

HOUSE: Kick Me Again. Jesus. RIP. Plenty of Irish talent has left its mark over the post year but A House are certainly the most original, arriving with this striking rough diamond of a single, bulging with abrasive Celtic soul and stampeding on a flurry of sharp

Album

PETE WYLIE: Sinful. Siren. Although Prince, The Smiths and U2 have produced three of the best LPs of the year, they have also been well covered elsewhere, so this Liverpudlian maverick gets the vote for the undiscovered gem of the year.

Performance

The Mark Stewart & The Mafia extravaganza at the Astoria had not only the Tackhead Sound System but three of the most exceptional and innovative musicians around in drummer/programmer Keith LeBlanc, bass player Doug Wimbish and former Ohio player, guitarist Skip McDonald. Together with ex-Pop Group man Mark Stewart they delivered disturbing, hypnotizing grooves mixed live by the adventurous Adrian Sherwood. An exhilarating experience.

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN: the master of rock goes from good to better.

Positive development

Very little happened of a positive nature in '87 as radio program-ming got narrower, so the charts got blander and Stock, Aitken and Waterman took over. Even the most original British band ever, The Smiths, split up and the only saving grace was the few indie gems that made it to the big boys' chart, most notably, of course, MIAIRIRIS with Pump Up The Volume. The independent scene is the only place where things are happening, throwing up original new bands, crucial dance tracks and world music in its myriad forms. It's still the place to look for diamonds in the rough.

Prediction

'88 looks like more of the same, with all the good stuff going on out of view. Rebels will pick up samplers as they get cheaper causing Stock, Aitken and Waterman's downfall while EMI, yes EMI, becomes the hippest label in the land with Morrissey, Marc Almond, New Order's Bernard Sumner and the Food label! JERRY SMITH

Albums

MICHAEL JACKSON: Bad. Epic. That remarkable voice, a clutch of clever songs, but most of all Bad was the ultimate triumph of Quincy Jones' production and arrange-ment skills.

ROSANNE CASH: King's Record Shop. CBS. An album which contained the cheatin' song of the year in This Is The Way We Make A Broken Heart. Cash was also notable for headlining the first Nashville concert for the Nuclear Freeze in December.

U2: The Joshua Tree. Island. Like Dylan and the Stones of yore, U2's songs provoke the audience into thinking rather than telling them what to think. The band, too, has been the catalyst for a renascence in Irish contemporary music.

BHUNDU BOYS: True Jit. WEA. In the welcome growth of interest in African music there's a distinct danger of purism that dreaded English disease taking over. So here's to one band that has set itself to win over a mass audience for its sonas.

WYNTON MARSALIS: Standard Time Vol 1. CBS. Eloquent re-workings of the modern jazz repertoire by the jazz classicist of the decade.

Single

SUZANNE VEGA: Luka. A&M. A subtle, memorable short story that will become one of radio's golden

Performance

Placido Domingo's La Boheme beamed to outdoor crowds in Covent Garden. With the prices of some rock concerts now rivalling those of opera houses we may see similar giant screens outside Wembley or the Albert Hall soon.

Positive development

John Patrick Byrne's Tutti Frutti proved that television can do jus-tice to rock (take a bow Andy Park and Zoot Money) in a year when Whistle Test was buried by the BBC's Seaside Special ethos.

Prediction

Thanks to Sony and Philips, the hardware industry will finally appreciate the music industry's worries over DAT and an acceptable compromise will emerge.

DAVE LAING

PUSHY AND provincial, Duran Duran hit an unexpected high with Skin Trade.

DOING MY best to keep you up to date, at a tricky time of year when pronouncements written with confidence can be overtaken by subsequent events before you read them, here are at least some of the newest

"movers" on the disco scene.
On import are BIG DADDY
KANE Raw (Prism PS 2016), Marley Marl-produced fast talking nervy rap jitterer with the same screech noise as Public Enemy; ULTIMATE HI I Want You Back (Sutra SUD 071), an undisguised and properly credited but sather lines. unaisguised and properly credited but rather limpy sung remake of the Jackson 5's debut 1970 hit, overshadowed by its far fiercer I Need Some Money rap coupling; M.C. TEE & LORD TASHEEM TAISING LOUG (Profile TASHEEM Talkin' Loud (Profile PRO-7183), haunting slinky rop mutterer with possible nagging appeal; VENNIE "D" $55 Motel (Kolossal Records KA 869497), Jazzy Jeff & Fresh Prince-style go go tempoed story song rap; MANTRONIX Sing A Song (Break It Down) (Capitol V-15353), disappointingly dull label debut by the erstwhile kings of hip hop. Import LPs include of hip hop. Import LPs include SPOONIE GEE Spoonie Gee (Tuff City TUF LP 5551), disappointing rap set selling initially on his reputation but not as good as its included singles;

LEON WARE Undercover (Sling Shot Records LP 80017), Marvin Gaye-ish soul selling to traditionalists more for home listening.

The hottest import immediately before Christmas, as mentioned in the last issue, was the new Noise Version of Public Enemy's Bring The Noise, a more fully fleshed and exciting remix of their already released frenetic rap jitterer, with added squeaky rap jitterer, with added squeaky screech noises, but now it's released here the UK pressing is PUBLIC ENEMY Bring The Noise (No Noise Version) (Def Jam 651335 6) — note the distinction in the bracketed subtitle — which indeed, irritatingly, is without any of the screeching noises. No doubt the US version will be due for creative marketing here? The tune, in whichever version, remains on US pressings only as the B-side to another act, who the B-side to another act, who are now released separately here, THE BLACK FLAMES Are You My Woman? (Def Jam 6513346), an interesting modern adaptation of the old Temptations-type vocal group sound, better suited to radio but weakened for black music buyers by being flipped with a late Sixties-style pap sound by

Other new UK releases include
SWEET TEE I Got Da Feelin' (Cooltempo COOLX 160), the already hot female rap based on James Brown's Cold Sweat;
JERMAINE STEWART Say It
Again (10 Records TEN R 188),
the Clothes Off hit-maker changes direction with a strong changes direction with a strong attractive swayer encased by what sounds like a two years old Mantronix/Full Force go go-hip hop soul backing, most effectively; THE MICROPHONE PRINCE Rock House (Magnetic Dance MAGDT 11), rap treatment of the Commodores' treatment of the Commodores' Brick House that has all along actually been selling far more for its Memory Lane flip, which uses the Dennis Edwards/Eric B &
Rakim bassline; WALTER BEASLEY I'm So Happy (Urban URBX 14), I Found Lovin'-ish pleasant chunky iograes: pleasant chunky jogger;
JEROME 'SECRET WEAPON'
PRISTER AND OUTPUT Say
You'll Be (Sure Delight SDT 4, via Jet Star/EMI), gently soulful jogging duet which, as suspected, proved to be a "grower" on import; THE COOKIE CREW Rok
Da House (Phythm King LEFT)

Da House (Rhythm King LEFT R11T), the currently rapping London girls' earlier fast "house" track reissued, with new US mixes as flip, to satisfy largely Northern and Midlands demand; POINT 3 FM So Delicious (Now & Forever FNWT 1, via Westside Records), wriggly jitterer carefully crafted for, and snapped up by, the London soul market but with little for anyone else; RIO RHYTHM BAND Cuban Jakkin' (Baad! Records BD 666, via 0908-647632), four-track EP produced in Milton Keynes by DJ Da House (Rhythm King LEFT

Eddie Richards, one side at 33½ rpm and the other at 45rpm, with not only this latin jazz flavoured instrumental but also two houses and a rap by, respectively, Noiz Inc, Myster-E, and Sindecut; VARIOUS Hot Plate 1 (Ahead Of Our Time HOTHED 101), likewise a four (and a bit) tracker produced by Matt Black + Coldcut with slightly murky raps and scratches credited to Bass Incorporated, credited to Bass Incorporated,

Squeeze, about for a while;
GWEN GUTHRIE Family Affair

Ventured: Nothing Gained (Silly Dance Remix) (Epic NV T1), USaimed funk snapper by a sometime member of Cameo;
SCHOOLLY-D Parkside 5-2
(Jive JIVE T 158), juddering dull specialist rap 'n scratch.

Albums out here include
ORIGINAL SOUNDTRACK
Penitentiary III (RCA PL86663), consistently selling on import particularly for the sultry Yarbrough & Peoples' Special and La Rue's Can't Let It Go but also including tracks by the Gap Band, Midnight Star and others; FAZE ONE Heroes (Westside Records FAZELP 1), London rappers who are actually managing to shift copies of an

THE CONTROLLERS For The Love Of My Woman (MCA Records MCF 3404), nice Records MCF 3404), nice enough mellow male vocal group soul in the timeless tradition; HIRAM BULLOCK Give It What U Got (Atlantic 781 790-1), largely instrumental jazzfunk with Al Jarreau nicely singing Sam Cooke's You Send Me; MIKE STEVENS Light Up The Night (Jam Today CHIL LP 3, via PRT), jazz-funk instrumentals by a UK saxist.

Hitting the perfect balance

by Barry Lazell
AS THE established dance compilation series move more into the territory of imports and new club buzzes. the balance of alreadycrossed-over pop-dance hit tracks is tending to suffer. To compensate, there are now appearing dance compilations from sources which might previously have licensed their dance hits to one of the spe cialist compilation marketeers, such as Street Sounds or Upfront.

CBS' Epic division has already dived profitably into this newly-perceived market gap. Epic seems to be having trouble deciding whether its Upbeat logo is actually a label for dance product (which appeared to be the original intention) or merely a logo to encompass dance music compilations (the current perception).

Whatever, last summer's collection On The Upbeat (ONUP 1) broke interesting ground for the major, by rounding up long 12inch versions of recent dance and crossover hits from the whole Epic/ CBS/Tabu/Portrait group, and producing an album which served the twin purposes of anthologising singles a la Street Sounds, and serving as a sampler of albums by such acts as Alexander O'Neal, Luther Vandross, Donna Allen, Gregory Abbott and Surface.

It is precisely the same game which CBS played with great success in the rock field at the end of the Sixties with its classic Rock Machine sampler - and since selling non-superstar black and dance albums today is exactly the same hard marketing and educational effort that progressive rock required then, the aim remains simi-

On The Upbeat attracted the punters by offering, side by side, hits like Gregory Abbott's Shake You Down, Oran 'Juice' Jones' The Rain and Alexander O'Neal's Fake. Punters, predictably, bit the cherry, and Epic is responding with a second feast in Up Beat 2, due to hit the shops on January 14. It offers 11 12-inch mixes, and in doing so acts as a sampler for the whole current CBS group black/ dance album roster, which is thoughtfully illustrated and detailed on the rear of the sleeve.

The acts and LPs concerned range from those currently being plugged for breakthrough, like Tony Terry, Mission USA, Charlie Singleton and Lisa Lisa & Cult Jam, to the likes of L L Cool J, Earth Wind & Fire, Alexander O'Neal and Terence Trent D'Arby whose included recent smashes (I Need Love, Systems Of Survival, Criticise and Dance Little Sister, respectively) will be the set's initial selling points to impulse buyers.

Also included are Full House and

Also included are full mouse and CBS' current two first ladies of soul, Regina Belle and Angela Clemmons. All in all, smart programming which should not only sell itself, but also effectively focus some further album-buying attention.

Catalogue number is ONUP 2.

by Dave Henderson IN RETROSPECT, 1987 was the year when the independents were splashed over the covers of the rock weeklies — but the rock weekies — but paradoxically ignored. Sounds, NME and Melody Maker (the latter to a lesser degree) virtually waited for "indies" to break from the ghetto before featuring them, and then they were invariably. and then they were invariably lampooned and lambasted, rather than lauded. MARRS's number one, with Pump Up The olume, surprised even the 4AD label on which it was released, while the press (even the titillating dailies) begged for snippets on this imaginary combo. The Smiths split, The Primitives'
and All About Eve's major label link ups reaped exposure, while The Sugar Cubes were the newest flavour, and New Order, The Housemartins, Depeche Mode and Erasure kept their presence positive and precise.

Possibly somewhat surprisingly, The Fall charted with customary commercial methodism. They opted to cover R Dean Taylor's There's A Ghost In My House, hopefully wrenching open the door for people to listen and begin to get intoxicated with their more unaffected northern slur and swagger. Similarly, labelmates Gene Loves Jezebel reached the national charts with a couple of singles taken for their much-praised House Of Dolls LP.

In a less mainstream move Underground magazine was born from the lack of press exposure for the burgeoning independent masses, and who should field-marshal such an and who should feld-marshal such a exercise? Yours truly, that's who. So, with matchsticks under lids, and a hand-tooled staff, Spotlight Publications launched Underground in April. The sea of surprise, sensationalism, concern and contempt provided 10 monthly instalments in '87. Inside, your less mainstream acts (who'd previously been but three words in bold type in Tracking) received their full paragraph quota.

AS THE year developed, the inevitably slow revolution in independent terms, revealed a ground swell of excitement as the ground swell of excitement as the pointers for '88 were drawn. The Wedding Present's debut LP, George Best, on Reception through Red Rhino, glowed like a beacon and impressed many, suggesting that their astrological progress through '88 will be secure and may even result in major chart action (if they don't walk under any ladders).

major chart action (if they don't walk under any ladders).

Similarly, singles from certain outfits shone through, and planned albums for '88 are inevitably waited-for with clutching claws. Cases in point include Miaow (their second single for Factory was a scorcher, next year's LP should confirm the potential), Frazzier Chorus (their debut Sloppy Heart 45 on 4RD suggesting that their debut LP, Sue, will be vital), Crexyhead (whose independent chart-topping singles on Food have impressed more than a few majors, will have a debut album in due time) and The Throe Wise Mon (Rhythm King's UK hip-hoppers, who aren't a pale imitation of their US contemporaries, with a stunning LP debut).

Other expected developments through 1988 should include a chart success for one of the Medium Cool acts (whose fine blend of pop with guitars has been delivered in various flavours courtesy of The Wathones, The Corndollies, The Raw Herbs, The Siddleys and The Rain), the development into more accessible financial fodder of Subway's The Flatmates (whose most recent You're Gonna Cry was an overlooked gem), The Stupids' continued departure from skateboard thrash to metallic acceptance and their stripling followers development of the thrashing skate style.

The folk/roots music movement should crary on picking up diverse

G

The folk/roots music movement should carry on picking up diverse groovers and universal support, Eurobeat (a movement occuped by the likes of Skinnry Puppy from Canada, Severed Heads from Australia, Front 242 from Belgium and other such like-minded rhythmmongers) will gain credence and either develop a little or have a brief brush with success, and the grebo tag should be finally laid out after the fading of the Emperor's new clothes. The development of US labels like SST, Homestead and ROIR will all see renewed success, through their UK

renewed success, through their UK distribution systems, should be

Sam.

The re-issue roundabout will inevitably continue, but you can't help but think that the wealth of material released, coupled with the lacklustre cover system which pushes major labels into getting their fledgling bimbo's to "try-out" on the classics, might just soil the memories for cotantial pushers. Not very treads. potential punters. Next year's trends will obviously be influenced by the will obviously be influenced by the tack which the Ace, Bam Caruso, Charly, See For Miles and suchlike labels decide to take, and with Ace's serious press push on the Beat Goes Public label — featuring fusion and sleazy-jazz-for-beatniks in the roster — expect to see gangs of black and white hooped, goatee-beard beret vegers standing against agades of wearers standing against gaggles of Afro-frizzed flare-wearers.

LOOKING BACK, '87 was a good year for the independents with the Cartel taking themselves more the Rough Trade distribution nerve centre looks closer to something out of War Games strategy-wise, while Red Rhino's new enlarged premises has the air of something beginning to slip into overdrive). Similarly Pinnacle's ability to break the monopoly and offer a yet wider selection of music (including a more selection of music (including a more recent import section) can only be healthy. With talk of Pacific Export company's plans to try UK distribution, the shop network obviously couldn't be better served, so perhaps it's at that end of the industry where the product is failing to reach a wider audience. That, added the general tack of promotion through the weekly newspapers, the limited time John Peel has to play new releases and the proposed streamlining of local radio proposed streamlining of local radio (which supplies some of the more comprehensive network coverage of less-mainstream music), it's going to be an uphill struggle, still. The end result will be, that without

The end result will be, that without easy access to Tracking each week, or a copy of Underground every month, you'll be missing out on the important things that'll be breaking next. Last year's list of independent groups who went on to sign for majors just goes to prove that the real action zone is still in the independent or comments. prove that the real action zone is still in the independents — as Comper Van Beethoven (to Virgin), A Mouse (to blanco/WER), The Railway Children (to Virgin), Voice Of The Beehive (to London), Colenso Parade (to WEA), Phillip Boa And The Voodoo Club (to Phonogram in Germany), Throwing Muses (to Sire in the States), Gaye Bykers On Acid (to Virgin) all show. After all, the alternative is Wet, Wet Wet.

the right mood, grab Automatic lamini's The D Is For Drum on Idea (through Pinnacle) with your Christmas record token. (Do they still have record tokens?)

Kerrang!'s Readership is Up 17%

Kerrang! krashes on. The brand new NRS shows that, period on period, * Kerrang!'s readership has grown by an inkredible 17% for All Adults. The nation's favourite rock weekly is now kompulsive reading for 359,000 people.

As a result, Kerrang!'s kost per thousand is even more kompetitive. In fact, IN EVERY MALE MARKET KERRANG! OFFERS YOU THE LOWEST CPT for music titles ... that's for mono and, especially, for colour.

"HOW MUCH for the negs?" cries CBS MD Paul Russell, locked in contractual discussions with Patsy Kensit. He gets the Socialite Of The Year award for reaching the parts (Japan, even) other MDs could not reach. CBS Soho Square has already put in a strong bid for the Sushi Bar Of The Year for 1988.

IF YOU can't beatify them, enjoin them. Holier than thou head of press for the CBS label Fiona Grimshaw gets the Sermon Of The Year award for her performance at the CBS sales conference.

PEPSI AND Shirlie and ... Pepsie and Shirlie. Would you buy a used Mate from the motley pair in the middle masquerading as Adrian Sear, Polydor's head of promotions, and Mike Mathieson, TV promotions manager, in the Dodgiest Performance Of The Year at the PolyGram sales conference.

Before launching into 1988 Tom Dooley awards his own accolades for triumphs and achievements — real and imaginary — for 1987.

ANOTHER AWARDS ceremony, another tequila sunrise. The Team Of The Year plaudit (sponsored by The D stillers Co) goes to that little bit of London Records that will be forever known as Table 22, for their outrageous/goodhumourec/disgusting/oafish/boisterous/witty/high-spirited (delete where appropriate) behaviour at the Music Week Awards luncheon last year.

WHAT A difference an award makes. In last year's Diary Awards WEA received the accolade as Team Of The Year. So what do they go and do? They split the company in two. But this trio of WEA US label managers (left to right) Jo Allen, Jo Bolsom and Jo Headland get the Fly The Flag award for nailing their colours firmly to the mast.

COULD THIS be the next MCA MD? We doubt it because after a year of shattering uncertainty for MCA UK and its nominal MD Dave Ambrose, David Simone suddenly left Phonogram, joined MCA, and Tony Powell made the same journey (though not quite as dramatically) to become MD. So MCA boss Irving Azoff gets the Canadian Mountie award for finally getting his man.

"HOW MUCH did you say my Virgin shares are worth?" After his Floater Of The Year award last year for going public with Virgin, we couldn't really give Richard Branson the same title this time, even though he probably deserves it for his flotation of a different kind — by balloon across the Atlantic. Instead he gets the Golden Condom award for putting his money where his (deleted) is to set up the Virgin Healthcare Foundation in the fight against AIDS.

"I ALWAYS work like this," says Dave Dee, who won't take anything lying down. He gets the Performer Of The Year award for his ubiquitous charitable work in aid of Music Therapy. Could 1988 be the year when he makes his mark as a NEVER FLUFFED a cue yet. Alan Freeman gets the Stayer Of The Year award for having worn so well as a DJ in what is supposed to be a young man's game. He is pictured receiving the Radio Academy's first award for his outstanding contribution to UK music radio.

RIGHT 'NANA Of The Year: not only does Radio One's Mike Smith have to get to work when it's still dark, but he also has to put up with being accosted by variously attired pluggers, in this case a bananagram from Sonet promotion. Now it it were a Bananaramagram...

"I'VE GOT the magic formula and I'm not letting anyone else have it," says Pete Waterman, who gets the King Midas award for turning everything he touched to gold, silver, platinum, and so on.

the results of impressive endeavour and achievements by the many diverse sectors of the music industry during last year.

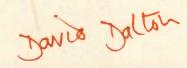

We invite no TV cameras, no public audience and have no worldwide TV audience to impress — this one is for us. We are very conscious of what can go wrong with awards ceremonies and so we are pleased that any hitches and blemishes are contained within the industry. But much more importantly, we are delighted to be recognising — through these awards — the flair, enterprise and sheer hard work that goes on behind the surface glitz and glamour of the music business.

To the man in the street some of the categories may seem like backslapping self-congratulation, or at best irrelevant. To us, they matter, because we recognise the contributions from many quarters which go into making the hits, maintaining the right creative and business framework within which artists can flourish. We value every single category and do not change, add or subtract categories lightly. As happened last year, there are one or two areas where categories have been redefined or streamlined.

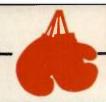

have been redefined or streamlined.

Also in line with last year, there have been record levels of both entries and votes and we thank all those who have contributed to this year's Music Week's Awards.

We do not believe we have necessarily got the formula absolutely right and even before this year's ceremony plans have been laid to make improvements next year. See you then.

HOW THE AWARD IS MADE

T IS 10 years since the Music Week "quaver" made its debut as the first place award. Yet very little has been told of the time and effort that goes into making this most tangible recognition of achievement in the music business.

The awards for this year's event started life at the Surrey premises of craftsman Fred Marten. In a tiny workshop in his back garden, Fred spent more than six weeks preparing, moulding and finishing the shining tributes to hard work and success.

Among a dying breed of skilled craftsmen with decades of experience, Fred and the point-of-sale, design and marketing company Wade advised that tin would provide the best and most durable finish to suit Music Week's needs.

 The same silicon mould, which Fred made himself, has been used since the design was introduced in 1979. It is made of silicon rubber because it can withstand high temperatures yet stays flexible enough to allow the tin to contract without any undue strain as it cools.

The mould is dusted with french chalk and then closed. The tin, heated to 265 degrees centigrade, is poured carefully into the mould and allowed to cool. Fred says that the pure tin "can be funny stuff to work with — it 'crazes', producing a straw-like surface it you're not careful, but it doesn't tarnish easily."

● After seven to eight minutes the musical note has cooled down enough to be taken out of the mould. Excess tin is delicately sawn off, fettled with a file and all flat surfaces are ground down. Three grades of tungsten carbide abrasive paper — each finer than the last — is used to leave the quaver with a smooth finish. It is then buffed on a polishing wheel before being hand polished to gleaming perfection.

Fred cuts the base from seasoned Brazilian mahogany, sanding the corners and surfaces to make sure it is smooth. Then he sprays on two coats of rubbing down primer, followed by yet another sanding down which Fred says leaves the base "as smooth as a baby's bum".

• Two coats of the best cellulose paint are then applied, left to harden and finally polished.

A thin tin sheet, individually cut to fit each base, is polished just as carefully as the quaver and secured on top of the base. The engraved name plate is then attached to the front of the base.

The note and the base are fixed with the help of a precision made steel bolt and the prestigious symbol of good work in the music industry is ready to be handed over at the Music Week luncheon.

MICHAEL JACKSON Bad Epic

THE CYNICS might say that with 10 television appearances a week she couldn't help being number one, but it takes more than that to get nearly 2m people into the shops to buy an album. With the aid of catchy melodies and the bright, poppy productions of you-know-who, Kylie Minogue was the pop success story of

The success story of 1958-1988 was, of course, Cliff. Private Collection was a glittering cavalcade of his best work over the last 10 years. What's the betting he'll be in the frame at the MW Awards in 1998, with the fruits of another golden decade?

Bad was the album of the year in 1987 and it continued to outsell almost every-thing else in 1988. His triumphant live shows helped Michael Jackson's album over the 2m mark and Bad is now heading for its tenth platinum award for UK sales.

CLIFF RICHARD Mistletoe And Wine EMI

YAZZ AND THE PLASTIC POPULATION The Only Way Is Up Big Life

KYLIE MINOGUE I Should Be So Lucky PWL

A CLASSIC Christmas song took the yule-tide chart by storm and Cliff Richard ended his 30th year in the business on the highest possible note. It was a triumph, too, to EMI which has nurtured his career for three dec-

The Only Way Is Up proved the continuing vitality of the British dance scene as a talent source and introduced a personable new star in Yazz. The record's success also struck a further blow for the little labels and struck a further blow for the little labels and for independent distribution.

The biggest little label of them all, however, remained PWL. After producing 1987's top single with Rick Astley for RCA, Stock Aitken Waterman passed the old grey whistle test with flying colours with the maddeningly memorable I Should Be So Lucky Lucky.

ERASURE The Circus Mute

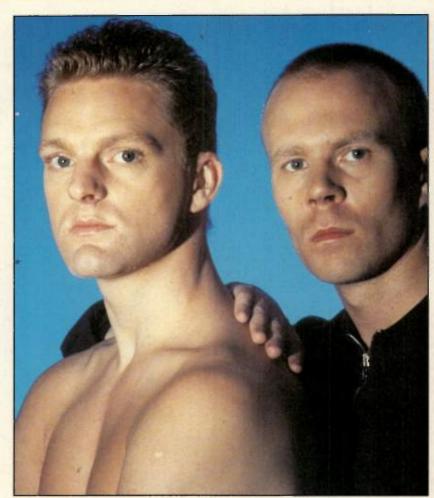

ERASURE The Innocents Mute

KYLIE MINOGUE Kylie PWL

THE SUCCESS of Erasure over the last few years has been phenomenal. Any glance down each week's Gallup charts reveals an inevitable list of Smiths and New Order singles and albums, infiltration by a similar flow from Erasure who have had, at times, no less than eight single titles towards the top end of the chart. Their most recent album, The Innocents, followed the same route and became firmly planted in the top 20 on its release, with the album before that, Circus, moving up and down inside the top 50 with all the regularity of any major-promoted 1988 TV-advertised long-stayer.

Erasure's single chart success throughout 1988 provided constant, returning interest in the group, the sales of Circus steadily increasing as the barriers of their appeal were widened. With the release of The Innocents and the inevitable singles pulled from that platter, not only did The Innocents stay in the public eye, but Circus retained its position furthering the cause of an electronic and soul fusion that very few have managed to emulate. Who's to say that next year's top three won't boast these two Erasure titles, plus the follow-up for '89?

The chart success of singles and their knock-on effect to albums also occurred when Kylie Minogue's pop chart success was capitalised on with her debut album, the simply titled Kylie. With her top selling 45s featuring on the LP and more of the same included to supply follow-up releases, it was bound to be a long shelf-life constant seller, supplying a vinyl earful for an ever-growing gaggle of ever-younger romantics.

ERASURE'S DOUBLE bill aptly illustrates this indie phenomenon

YAZZ AND THE PLASTIC POPULATION The Only Way is Up Big Life

KYLIE MINOGUE Got To Be Certain PWL

DURING 1988, the independent sector discovered a new business head and splintered into even more defined factions. While the spirit of the independents was lived out in a hail of breakneck speed metal and thrash, the money moved on to the dancefloor and into the pop charts, following the success of the '87 M/A/R/R/S number one single, Pump Up The Volume.

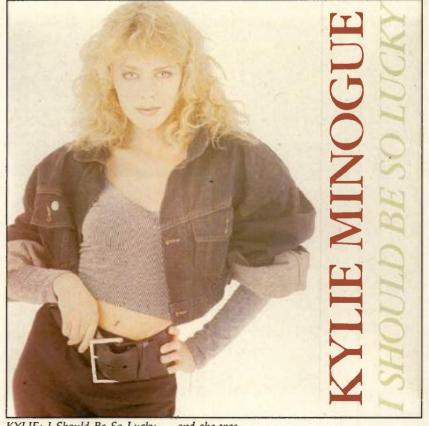

The Big Life label had shown its mettle with Coldcut's Doctorin' The House and, when the wide metals are the success when they dismantled and reassembled Yazz's The Only Way is Up, they had chart topping action with an emotive melody line and a pulsating dancebeat to satisfy every

As the independent dancefloor spilled over into the national charts, it was constantly kept at bay by the never ending, conveyor belt success story of Stock Aitken Waterman, who seemed, by their ever-present image, to be totally dominating proceedings. With the TV success of BBC's nightly soap Neighbours, the image of Kylie Minogue was easy to push. SAW's pop perfection knowledge plus the simple, hook-line-and-sinker style of lovey-dovey lyrics made each Kylie single as heartbreakingly romantic as the next.

For Pinnacle's part, they proved with PWL that they could compete with any major distribution network.

Both these awards are based on Indie Distribution chart performance during 1988.

Hearsay/All Mixed

A CLEAN sweep for the CBS labels in this category, made all the more remarkable by the fact that Michael Jackson's Bad is the best-selling dance album for the second consecutive year, aided not only by its continuing run of extracted hit singles, but also by the spectacular UK leg of the Jackson world tour, and currently, by the success of the film Moonwalker.

If this were not enough, Terence Trent D'Arby's LP is also of 1987 vintage, and his follow-up now seems well overdue. The debut album's multi-platinum sales and healthy complement of hit singles attests to the impact on the scene of a soul voice of notable originality, a fact now also (belatedly) appreciated in his native US.

Almost completing the oldies sweep as well as the CBS hat-trick, O'Neal's album of new remixes is fittingly placed in a year when the art of the remixing producer flourished commercially on a massive scale.

This award is based on Dance chart performance during 1988.

ALMOST THE biggest-selling single of all last year (and certainly the champ on 12-inch), The Only Way Is Up brought Yazz from the session shadows to become easily the year's biggest new pop personality from the dance field. Subsequent hits and eager adoption by TV suggest a career still in the Womack And Womack's Teardrops was one of the year's longest stayers in the upper chart reaches, displaying a sales consistency quite apart from the prevailing blink-and-you've-missed-it UK hit single pattern. For a veteran act (Cecil Womack is well on his way to a fourth decade of R&B-making) the duo's finger rarely fails to strike a contemporary pulse.

Rap — and most notably female rap — arguably came of age in the UK in 1988, and Salt 'N' Pepa have been on the crest of its wave, aided by a very successful slot on the televised Nelson Mandela birthday concert, and an astute choice of material with its roots in familiar R&B oldies.

ELGAR'S CELLO Concerto has been a popular classic for years — certainly since the heyday of Jacqueline du Pré in the Sixties. But its secure position in the classical charts since the tragic death of the cellist in October 1987 shows just how unpredictable even the supposedly staid classical world can be.

Du Pré made two recordings and it is part of the surprise story that they number one and two in the sales charts. Her first recording, made in 1965 with the LSO and Barbirolli for EMI, has, to help matters, the coupling of the Sea Pictures with Dame Janet Baker. It was the flamboyancy, the intensely musical sense and the obvious integrity of Jacqueline du Pré and the perfect partner in Barbirolli, however, that made this recording one of those truly exceptional events in recorded history.

While obviously the CBS recording which joined du Pré with her husband Daniel Barenboim offered a special partnership also, it didn't quite match EMI's version — and so sales have shown. EMI's recording, in its various guises, has sold no fewer than 285,000 units on all formats compared with the CBS recording which is approaching 100,000.

It is interesting to note that of those 285,000, 253,000 were UK sales. No fewer than 84,000 have been bought since the cellist's death. It should also be noted that other versions of the work, notably by Julian Lloyd Webber on Philips, have also been regularly in the charts, while Robert Cohen's CFP recording features in the mid-price charts.

Nevertheless, this award can be seen as a tribute to du Pré herself, for she so stunned audiences two decades ago that she inspired a new generation of outstanding English cellists whom we are enjoying now—including Lloyd Webber and Cohen.

JACQUELINE DU Pré, here with husband Daniel Barenboim, inspired a new genera-

Classics For

SIR CHARLES MACKERRAS/ LPO Tchaikovsky 1812 Overture Classics For Pleasure THE BATTLE for the mid-price and budget area is perhaps the most competitive in classical music today. The CD medium has attracted a host of new labels highly active in this area which, with the established companies, are competing not only for confirmed classical buyers, but the huge, yet still growing market which has become drawn to classical by television, films and radio.

It is particularly fitting that the top midprice spot should be taken by Classics For Pleasure, the company that virtually began classical budget recordings with is first releases in 1970. There is no better way, however, to demonstrate that not only did it start the medium, but that nearly two decades later it is still ahead of everyone else, than by it walking off with the top three placings.

Interestingly, they are all well-established recordings. Kenneth Sillito, the violinist who was formerly with the ECO and the Gabrieli String Quartet, recorded Vivaldi's Four Seasons with the Virtuosi Of England under Arthur Davison in the Conway Hall in 1972, and it has been a best-seller ever since. This pattern continued when it was released on compact disc in 1987.

The recording of Tchaikovsky's 1812 with the LPO under Mackerras was one of the first ever made by CFP and it has been securely in the catalogue ever since curely in the catalogue ever since.

Only the Duets From Famous Operas came from the main EMI catalogue — CFP label manager Patricia Byrne has consistently championed opera on the label since her appointment in 1984. A compilation originating in 1968, it entered the CFP catalogue in 1985 and boasts a superb line-up of Callas, Gobbi, Freni, de los Angeles, Bergonzi and many more.

From its early days, CFP was about quality for money, and although it made a cautious entry into the CD market — it is still catching up with back catalogue CD releases — it is significant that it has now won every top classical musical award in the UK, even though it is formally a budget label.

THE CROSSOVER market can be the most difficult to predict. Often a hit appears almost without warning — the immense success of Bernstein's West Side Story a couple of years ago is a typical example — and following attempts to jump on the bandwagon rarely rise to expectations.

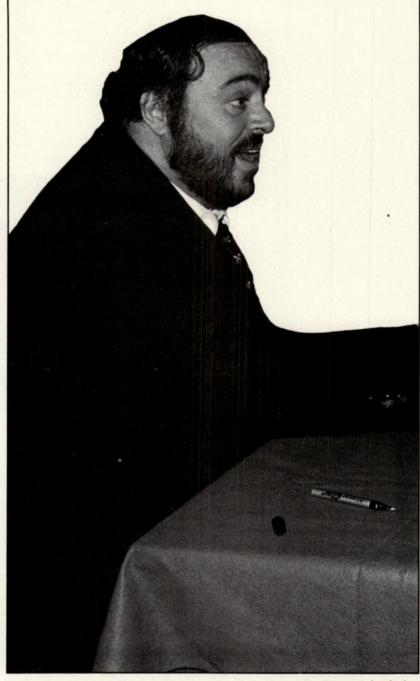

But EMI set out on the trail of The Classic Experience specifically to tap into the potential of crossover. It carried out extensive market research over three months in main UK towns, including Birmingham, Manchester and London, and the result was a compilation of the 33 most popular classics.

The music was well-known because they had a visual expression. They had been used in the worlds of advertisement, TV and films: Hovis, Hamlet, Nescafé and Kleenex, The Lone Ranger, The Onedin Line, This Week, 10, Apocalypse Now, 2001 — A Space Odyssey.

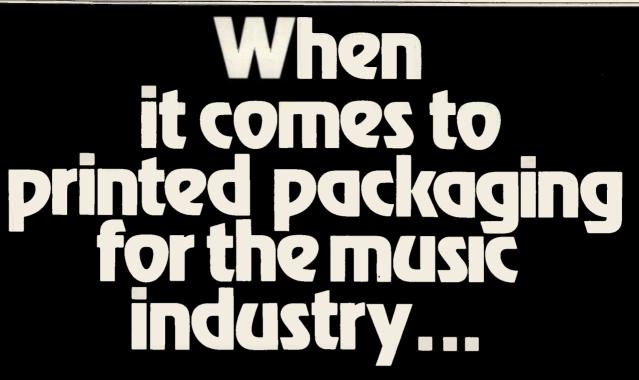

The EMI team then set out to sell it hard, with a campaign that incorporated London and regional television, national press advertising and in-store display. And the company later followed it up with a brochure listing the most popular classical recordings to be distributed through shops.

Its success meant that the two forms of crossover that dominated the sales charts for some considerable time were supplanted. The musicals — which included EMI's own Showboat — were pushed from the top places, allowing Fanfare's Venice In Peril by Rondo Veneziano to slip into second.

And the enduring sellers from Stylus, particularly the Collection series, had to make do with one placing: third for The New Pavarotti Collection Live. Although the sales of that have not matched the starburst of the original Pavarotti Collection, it has still outsold every other Collection this year, despite good performances from Maria Callas, José Carreras and Placido Domingo.

Don't Forget
To Remember

NINETEEN EIGHTY-EIGHT saw a significantly successful marketing campaign on the part of the six major labels — CBS, EMI, MCA, PolyGram, RCA and WEA — which brought a number of emergent US acts to the UK for concerts. Artists such as Nanci Griffith, Lyle Lovett, Randy Travis, Michael Johnson and K T Oslin made their UK debuts and, in most cases, made friends anxious to see what might happen next. In view of this some may find it strange that the three biggest selling country albums of last year were by artists who would not really conform to the "new country" blueprint.

The biggest Irish star to emerge since Bob Geldof is certainly Daniel O'Donnell, whose four albums via Ritz Records have been resident in the country chart since their release. In addition, a concert video has quickly become probably the biggest country music sell through video yet in the UK.

O'Donnell's third album, Don't Forget To O'Donnell's third album, Don't Forget To Remember, was among the top three country albums of last year, and would undoubtedly have featured more strongly in this year's roll of honour had not TV marketing experts Telstar licensed a new O'Donnell album, From the Heart, from Ritz — the result was a spell in the "real" Top 100 and significantly improved sales.

Second placed Steve Earle was showing

Second placed Steve Earle was showing signs of a desire to become a new Bruce Springsteen with his previous two MCA albums, Guitar Town and especially Exit 0. Copperhead Road finds Earle even closer to achieving that crossover ambition. While his stadium rock approach is far removed from much of the new country music coming through, his fine songwriting is capable of interpretation as either country or rock. It's a formula that has paid off.

NOW THAT'S what I call a clean sweep. After carrying all before them at Christmas 1987 with Now That's What I Call Music 10, the EMI, PolyGram and Virgin consortium repeated the trick a year later. The 32 tracks included Yazz, D-Mob, Proclaimers and The Christians.

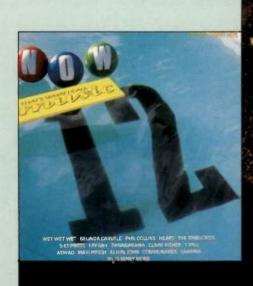

Not content with top slot, the Now team also kept their rivals out of second and third positions. Can they repeat this success in 1989, or will the new compilations chart encourage other companies to challenge for the title?

KYLIE MINOGUE has her critics, but in terms of shifting product she had few rivals in 1988. PWL's first sell through video release notched up multi-platinum sales, an estimated 100,000 copies leaving the racks within three days of its November 14 release. Featuring the promos for five Kylie hits, the 20-minute tape proved popular enough to beat established star Michael Jackson into second place.

The Video Collection claimed largest shipout, biggest-ever advertising campaign and largest projected sales when its Legend Continues . . . tape was released in May. Based on a US television special, the 55-minute programme featured clips from Jackson home movies, promos, TV appearances and guest slots from Elizabeth Taylor and other stars. Like Vestron's Making Of Thriller tape, the video's profile received a massive boost when Jackson arrived in the UK last summer.

CMV's hour-long Bros release was an unsurprising video success story in 1988, again proving the format's importance to the fan market.

PINOCCHIO MAY be approaching his 48th year in showbiz, but he flattened more lusty competition from feature films and keep fit programmes to take the sell through honours for Walt Disney Home Video. The sales of this charming cartoon classic prove that Disney's animation skills are still peerless in the entertainment stakes — even on the small screen.

Keeping the kids quiet must also have been a consideration for the thousands who snapped up BBC Video's Watch With Mother tape, although there must have been a few nostalgic purchases for a compilation starring such as The Woodentops and Andy Pandy.

Pandy.

Demonstrating that children's programming hasn't entirely monopolised the sell through market — now worth an estimated £14m retail — Virgin Video's The Terminator scored highly with action buffs, its cast led by Arnold Schwarzenegger in typically bulldozing form

THE OUTSTANDING use of light and colour in Siouxsie And The Banshees' Peek-A-Boo shone through a preponderance of monochrome in this year's nominations for best promo. Shadows and silhouettes alternated with floods of red and blue to create a melodramatic and sinister piece of film. Director Peter Scammel fully exploited Siouxsie's stunning presence and performance skills while adding to the intrigue with fans, masks and a troupe of menacing, goose-stepping chappies. It all pieced together perfectly, proving that exotic locations and computer graphics aren't yet a requisite of an entertaining promo.

In contrast, all the latest techniques were used by Michael Geoghegan to create the promo for Enya's Orinoco Flow. Presenting the artist against a shifting backdrop of seascapes and nature shots, the soft-hued video was perfect for the vocalist's atmospheric and romantic style.

Strong contenders for third place were Elton John's I Don't Want To Go On With You Like That and Eurythmics' You Have Placed A Chill, but the honours eventually went to the charity animation work on The Christians' Harvest For The World. Under the direction of John Webster, the animators involved in creating the ever-changing visuals were from Aardman Animations, Grand Slamm, Animus Productions and the Molotov Brothers.

IT'S A 24-hour-a-day business at Pete Waterman's studio near London Bridge, which ensured its first position for the second year running. The home of the hits in south London has dominated the Studio of the Month awards in Studio magazine for the last 18 months and it seems unlikely to end. It is a credit to the efforts of Stock, Aitken and Waterman, Harding and Curnow, Mark McGuire and the ever-expanding team of inhouse engineers and staff.

Livingston Studios in north London struck gold this year with Yazz And The Plastic Population's smash dance hit The Only Way Is Up. The complex is run by ex-Abbey road engineer Jerry Boys and to have the second biggest-selling single of the year recorded there is tribute to the work he has Stylo Rouge's sleeve for All About Eve's What Kind Of Fool was perfect packaging for a band which oozes romance and nostalgia. Look at this and you've got a pretty good idea of what lies within.

London Records grabbed everyone's attention with its colourful gatefold that featured some well-arranged shots of Neil Kinnock and Margaret Thatcher in poses that took a while to sink in.

Quite what those two or any of the other politicians mentioned in the ads had to do with Bananarama's Greatest Hits was not clear, but it certainly caused a giggle or two and proved to be one of the most memorable ads in the MW office.

It was nice to see independent retailer Andy's Records clinching the number two position with the ads for its chain of stores which carried the simple message: "Where music matters". The colourful and eyecatching illustration carried the message very effectively.

EMI grabbed third place but not without WEA joining it. The EMI ad for the Pet Shop Boys' single Domino Dancing was also quite simple and to the point, having a smart colour picture of the band with just the titles printed on the page.

WEA's corporate ad Now That's Magic was done in pure old-fashioned style and featured a colourful drawing of a happy couple from the Sixties celebrating their WEA record collection.

COMMENTS from the judges suggested that entries for this award were not quite up to usual standards and that these four really were the pick of the bunch.

Epic's seductive shot of Sade did the trick by emphasising the word style in both her looks and her music. Phonogram went for the old newspaper headline scam and proved quite convincing by using a variety of mock articles.

WEA UK made up for not getting the top spots by getting two ads in third place. It was nice to see a touch of creativity and hu-mour added to its simple but stunning ad for Everything But The Girl's Idlewild album by having a cut-out colour pic of the duo with a few words of wisdom alongside. Sparse but effective.

Others worth mentioning include RCA's ad for the Westworld single Everything Bad Is Good which was simply a picture of disgraced athlete Ben Johnson.

Another notable one was from Woolworths which came up with the astute caption during last summer: Yet another Bad ad. Unfortunately, it was a phrase that the judges felt was probably more appropriate for the majority of other entries.

HOW DO you set about changing the perception of an act as being purely a singles seller with little musical credibility or prospect of heavy album sales? That was the task before the London Records marketing department when deciding what to do next to further the already successful career of Bananarama.

The combination of methodical research, flair and ingenuity Colin Bell and his team applied to the task paid off handsomely as Bananarama's Greatest Hits Collection hit new sales heights for the group, who, by the end of 1988, were established as something of a pop phenomenon with an entry in the Guinness Book of Records.

"Bold, committed and imaginative" was how one judge summed up the overall impression of a campaign which pinpointed the potential buyers it wanted to reach, pulled off a media coup with its use of politicians in ads and video material, which translated into bonus press coverage, and made the most out of the concept of Bananarama as record breakers.

Faced with a diverse mixture of marketing approaches for a broad range of product, the judges plumped for two sharply contrasting campaigns in second place.

Hits compilations are nothing new, so to maximise sales takes a lot of hard work in preparation, as well as execution. EMI was judged to have achieved just that in getting the most out of Cliff Richard's Private Collection package which topped the chart at Christmas

New name Tanita Tikaram was a totally different proposition for WEA's UK division, which had to start from scratch. The judges praised what one described as a "sensitive and sophisticated" approach, allied to "marketing as a science", which took nothing away from her individual character while delivering debut singles and album sales success.

Among the pack of other contenders with support from the judges were Epic, for a clever treatment of new artist Basia, CBS for the Bros image job, WEA for adding to Tracy Chapman's Mandela concert impact, PWL for nursing Kylie Minogue to new sales peaks, Phonogram for resolutely establishing INXS, and PolyGram for clinical treatment of the Hot City Nights package.

BOB'S FULL house could take on a new meaning if CBS's man in the Midlands Bob Hermon keeps on winning this category. Local and regional radio music chiefs single him out for his "pleasant and obliging manner", "realistic approach to product", "unparallelled" knowledge and "awareness of ILR's needs".

This category has possibly the broadest spread of votes of any of the Music Week Awards — particularly when assessing nominations from London-based Radio One and Capital Radio producers — giving the likes of Ferret & Spanner, Oliver Smallman and Nick Fleming, Ron McCreight and Robert Lemon a shout.

It was another "out-of-towner", however, in Rosie Pyne of CBS who made second place. "Regular weekly visits" enthused one music chief, while another cited her "understanding of our station format and target audience combined with excellent service and back-up".

The "always cheerful, prompt, informative, helpful" Sarah Goodyear of Pyramid Promotions gained third slot, while others who did well included RCA's Damian Christian and Phonogram's Myra McPhail.

3 BMG OPERATIONS THE SOLE Music Week Awards category determined by dealers, this has become something of a formality for WEA's slick operation at Alperton. Achieving three times as many votes as its nearest rival, WEA was lauded for its smooth operational system and sheer efficiency.

Retailers rely on the details being right to help their own businesses operate efficiently and many referred to the nitty gritty of clear invoices and few titles going out of stock as factors in their decision.

CBS held on to second spot, with slower delivery time the reason cited most often as the reason for its failing to match WEA.

The two companies which have made greatest strides are BMG — leaping into third position this year at the expense of PolyGram — and EMI. In spite of problems at times during 1988, EMI was acknowledged for having made great strides in tackling some of its deep-rooted problems. It is a measure of achievement that this year it received no unsolicited votes as "worst" distributor.

Wholesalers fared well, as always, with Wynd Up and Terry Blood just outside the overall top three. This year the Manchesterbased distributor won out, perhaps reflecting the revitalising return of Colin Reilly. The Cartel headed the indie distributors

I for the Bros campaign

BARBARA CHARONE WEA (UK Division) for the Tanita Tikaram campaign

SANDRA CASALI EMI for the Red Hot Chili Peppers campaign JANUARY 1988 saw the tabloids champing at the bit for a new line in teen mania. Bros, three trendy lads from Camberley, had a hit single in the bag and were shaping up for perfect media fodder. Their press officer at CBS was Joe Donnelly. Already responsible for building the band's following in a campaign which carefully tapped the club scene and serious music papers before going for the inevitable covers on Just Seventeen and Smash Hits, she knew she wouldn't have to hassle to get publicity for her boys. Instead there was a deluge of coverage throughout the year, good and bad, in publications which ranged from Viz to Woman's Own.

Donnelly's skill was in retaining teen mag loyalty, providing a steady flow of brilliant photographs and photocalls (often turned into news stories in their own right), and combating the muck-raking with tales of the boys' compassion for their fans. She avoided Bros overkill by employing a selective and carefully-timed interview policy, ultimately building the band's musical status with an in-depth NME interview and live reviews across the board.

It is a measure of Donnelly's success that Bros finished the year with both image and credibility intact. The favourable press won the day and, though none of Bros's hit singles feature in 1988's top 20 best sellers, it's a fair bet that most people would name them as the LIK's most people would name them as the UK's most popular band.

The launch of young Basingstoke singer/songwriter Tanika Tikaram on to a public primed for blonde chirrupers, saw a press campaign which impressed the judges primarily with its amplitude. Tikaram was quickly established as both "serious" and

"hip" by Barbara Charone at WEA who capitalised on the artist's "antidote to bimbo rock" stance and, in her no-nonsense style, was sufficiently persistent to gain blanket press coverage in anything from The Guardian to Smash Hits. A lot was achieved with not many angles: Tikaram's moody stare was everywhere in 1988, her records following it into a good few homes.

ing it into a good few homes.

Poll music journalists for their favourite publicity shots of 1988 and The Red Hot Chili Peppers' sock and Abbey Road chucklers are bound to appear near the top. Sandra Casali at EMI ensured that everyone got to see them and her assiduous campaign pumped loads of life into a band which had been written off by many. Coverage in Company, Cosmopolitan, i-D and The Face joined large features in the music press — and all without a hit single.

POLYGRAM HAS notched a double hattrick: three consecutive years as both top singles and top albums company. The feat follows exactly the same achievement from CBS between 1982 and '85.

Once again, though, PolyGram's success in 1988 had a broad base with none of its constituent labels dominating the market. Its highest-placed singles label was London in fourth slot and top albums label was Polydor at 10.

Overall leading albums label was CBS for the sixth consecutive year — and the same marque was top singles label, taking over from stablemate Epic which finished in top slot in 1987.

Biggest improvement of 1988 in the sing-les market came from PWL which, thanks to Kylie Minogue, Jason Donovan et al, rose from an unclassified position in '87 to fifth last year with 4.7 per cent of sales.

Of the indies, Mute did best behind PWL in both singles and albums, notching ninth and 14th positions respectively for companies in those markets.

Biggest artist of the year, though, in both categories was Minogue who outsold Bros, Tiffany, Yazz, Phil Collins and Cliff Richard in the singles market and beat Fleetwood Mac, Michael Jackson, U2, Wet Wet Wet and Dire Straits to the top of the albums tree.

However, Richard's seasonal success,
Mistletoe & Wine, came out as best-selling single of the year, although Kylie dominated the album market. Minogue's contribution also helped Stock Aitken Waterman to be top producer for singles and albums.

MARKET SURVEY 1988

The only way is up ... and down

TEN YEARS ago the music industry was grooving to the sounds of Abba, Saturday Night Fever and Grease EMI was celebrating pole position as leading company in both the singles and album market shares.

In 1988, the song didn't quite remain the same and the only grease around was that which has seen EMI slip from the top spots to be replaced now by PolyGram. But it must be remembered that 10 years ago what now constitutes PolyGram was operating as three distinct companies Phonogram, Polydor and Decca - and if those were considered as one market share, PolyGram would have been up there with EMI then.

The last decade has seen the rise of Virgin to establish itself in the top six of the album and singles shares and with EMI picking up over the last year, these two are now competing with CBS and WEA as runners up to PolyGram. Much of Virgin's success can be attributed to their acquisition/formation of labels such as Charisma, Siren and 10 Records. It is interesting to note that 10 years ago Charisma was higher in the album stakes than Virgin.

Further down in the market share charts, the rise of the independent labels has become apparent over the past decade. In 1978, there were very few indies and most of those were TV merchandisers. But these days it seems there are much greater opportunities for independents to make a mark in the shares by working hard with one or two artists. particularly in the singles market. PWL proves the point.

Major companies that have lost their edge over the decade include CBS, which dropped marginally in both shares, and independently-minded A&M which now stands at its lowest, (1.5) over the 10 years, in the singles shares and dropped to just 2.0 in the album share.

The decline in the singles market is particularly noticeable in the market shares of the six major companies with all of them except Virgin and BMG dropping percentage points. As mentioned previously, the same does not apply to the smaller independently companies.

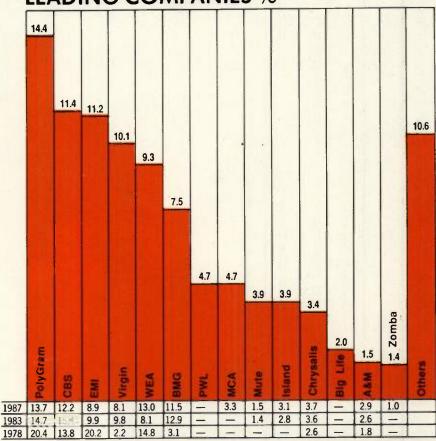

The TV merchandising companies continue to make their presence felt in the album shares but the companies have changed. Whereas 10 years ago it was K-tel and Ronco filling the compilations market, these days it is Telstar and Stylus and, on average, they hold a higher percentage of the market share.

Elsewhere in the share charts, the companies and labels have fluctuated in their fortunes with many joining other companies — for United Artists read EMI, for Pye read PRT, and for RSO read PolyGram, for example. There are, of course, new names on the scene such as Mute and Zomba and PWL which appear to belie the accepted wisdom that the majors are becoming stronger to the exclusion of the

The graphs on these pages were prepared from statistics supplied by Gallup based on a weekly sample of sales through 500 record shops in the UK. Albums are those priced at £2 and over. The 1988 market survey marks the seventeenth year since these were introduced.

THE STRAT AWARD

SYBIL BERESFORD-PEIRSE - exemplary service in an exemplary cause

HE STRAT Award is reserved for those who have displayed exemplary service to the music industry over many years. Even though this year's recipient — Sybil Beresford-Peirse — has never worked directly for a record company, music publisher or any other commercial concern within the business, she is thoroughly deserving of Music Week's premier accolade.

As the music industry has embraced the Music Therapy charity, it is Sybil (characteristically, she would hate to be referred to by surname) who has, more than anyone else, provided the focus for the music industry's enthusiasm to support a worthy cause, winning people over with moving descriptions of children at the Nordoff-Robbins centre.

By galvanising support, she and the fundraising committee have helped to put a more human, caring face on an industry which has struggled to shrug off a selfish, wasteful and self-indulgent image.

For the last 20 years Sybil Beresford-Peirse has built bridges of communication with handicapped children. Her bricks and mortar have been rhythm, melody and harmony, used together to encourage a new form of conversation. Isolated by their mental, physical or emotional difficulties — perhaps violent, retarded or unable to walk or talk — the children she has helped are drawn into a new world and, in some cases, their lives are transformed.

A former music teacher, Sybil trained as a music therapist in 1968 after meeting the founders of the treatment — the late Dr Paul Nordoff and Dr Clive Robbins — in the US. Since then she has devoted her life to helping handicapped children and furthering awareness of music therapy. Besides speaking at countless conferences in this country, she has lectured on the subject as far afield as New York and Israel. Spreading the word has meant stressing that the therapy is not a cure, but a means of helping a handicapped child along the road to his or her full potential.

As she says: "We can encourage a child to be more communicative, less withdrawn and sometimes less violent: it is not permissible for a child to hit his neighbour over the head at school, but here he can bash the drums as much as he likes and express some of his frustration."

Sybil was responsible for co-ordinating the setting up of the Nordoff-Robbins Music Therapy Centre in Kentish Town, North London, and has been its director since it opened in 1981. A registered charity funded entirely by voluntary contributions, many from within the music industry, the centre treats around 60 children each week, maintains a teaching and research library housing the detailed case studies and lectures of the founders and trains professional musicians to become music therapists via the one-year post graduate City University Diploma in Nordoff-Robbins Music Therapy.

A formidable 76-year-old, Sybil is helped at

A formidable 76-year-old, Sybil is helped at the centre by 10 trained therapists she chooses for their stability, imagination, creativity and good health. "You have to be as tough as an old boot," she says. "There's an enormous amount of satisfaction to be had from work but it is also highly demanding. Rather than patience, a good therapist needs understanding, intuition and insight."

As part of her unflagging desire to expand the charity's work, Sybil Beresford-Peirse is now finalising plans for a move to new, larger premises in Highgate Road which, if granted planning permission, will enable dozens more children to benefit from the work of Music Therapy.

• For her unstinting effort in developing the concept of music as therapy, Sybil Beresford-Peirse was presented with the Strat Award for exemplary service to the music industry on Monday, February 27, at the Grosvenor House Hotel. The Strat Award was inaugurated in the memory of Tony Stratton Smith
