TURNTABLE TIPS

Joe Cocker - Civilized Man - Capitol
After the very successful cooperation with the Tax duo G3 Dubon and Robbie Shakespeare old Joe is back with two new producers, Gary Katz for the A side and Steve Levine for the B side. To say he behaves civilized, well not particularly... His voice seems to grow over the years and accompanied by nearly the whole Toto line up. Joe makes some strong impact in songs like Civilization Man, There Goes My Daisy (at Don McLean's tune), Tempted (from Elton John) and Hold On. A very successful album and we are curious to know with whom Joe will line up the next time.

Womack & Womack - Love Wars - Elektra
She's the daughter of Sam Cooke, he's the brother of Sydney Womack and together they deliver one of the finest and most remarkable soul albums since long. With all its warmth and enthusiasm in both the vocals and musician ship, with its array of catchy songs, the album contains no weak spots. The single Love Wars is already in the lower regions of the UK charts and starting to happen in Holland, but they deserve more than that. Listen to Baby I'm Scared Of You, Express Myself and Catch And Don't Look Back and you know what we mean!

The Nylons - Seamless - Attic
The boys from Canada are back with another album full of rockpalooza! This is (for the European market) their second album and in comparison with their critically acclaimed first one, One Size Fits All, a bit of a change. The emphasis lies more on the experiment, which makes the listener interested in a variety of styles, ranging from Doo-Wop (oo-oo, Oh Me, Oh Me, Oh Me) to Caribbean sounds (Samba Samba, Rock 'n' Roll) to sweet, sultry ballads like This Boy. This album contains vocals and percussion only and they are able to bring it out live as well!

EUROPEAN MEDIA TALK

This week there is a lot of Media news in Europe. Therefore a special place for our correspondents.

Please keep on sending your Media Talk News and tell us about your special campaigns, your changes of format, your new personnel, our latest gossip and the-well... we tell you about your creative hobbies like AVRO Holland's Radio and TV personality Ad Visser who has put together a huge audiovisual show based on his popular science fiction novel Sobrietas. Together with this book Ad also released a synthesizer album last year, which yielded the hit single 'Giddy Up A GoGo' together with vocalist Daniel Schubert. This single was not only a hit in Holland but also stayed for more than a year in the Italian charts. Ad had airbrush artist Caspar Coenen work for a year on the stage scenery and the tour is now an absolute Electronic Fællesramme.

Shocking news for Munich based station Radio Brenner. Their transmitter in the Italian city of Udine burned down during a big fire. In the meantime they are back on the air with a new Frequency Range. Talking about a hot station! This time we'll keep our fingers crossed!

TIPARADE 50TH BIRTHDAY

Congratulations go out for the Swiss TV ORS which celebrated its 50th broadcast of Tiparade on the 14th of May. Tiparade is a popular video program for which more than thousand people per week write postcards to choose their most favourite video clips. The producer for ORS Mami Hildebrandt is for more than 10 years involved in making operetta programs and had even a regular video program back in 1974 called Muzicko. This makes in fact the Swiss one of the first country's which started Tiparade. Michael Niisson, producer for the Swedish Radio (Swegocom) in Varese, will continue to have live recordings of Swedish Rock bands in his popular thursday night program Rockickadempartment until june 7th and will be back on the air after 8th. See you then Michael ! And... if you really made our Sessie last week with all the compliments on our broadcast live from Milan, it must have been a hit! And... Leif you really made our受欢迎! And... CHART CHATTING
ON THE EUROPEAN TOP 100

Just in the week that the film Against All Odds is premiereing in Europe, Phil Collins' theme song is finally breaking big on the UK charts (big jump this week from 11 to nr. 2). The single was the highest entry in Germany this week (at nr. 19) and has further charted in the U.K., Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, and France. It was already the best played single in Europe for this last 2 weeks. Another soundtrack that is doing well on the album charts is Footloose which has also entered the German Charts this week at nr. 33. Some singles from the Soundtrack have already been heavily featured in many of our correspondent reports over the last few months; Bonnie Tyler, Shalamar, Denise Williams and Kenny Loggins. Loggins' Footloose and Denise Williams' Let's Hear It For The Boy both went up this week (the first from "12" to 8 and the last from 38 to 7). While England is always the first in setting the trends in popmusic, they are not so fast in accepting Euro hits for their own market. But for those always stating that Euro records do not make it at all in the U.K., it must be a surprise to see the rather late breakthrough of German acts Nena, Peter Schilling, and airplay wise good attention for Masquerade and Alphaville. Alphaville's In Japan is breaking all over Europe now; the single is now at 15 (from 28) and is charted in Belgium, Holland, Italy, Austria, Sweden, and Denmark. And of course Germany. Nena's single 99 Luftballons suddenly went up again mainly due to France and Spain (10 places). Popmusic has certainly been very creative in Germany over the last few years.

Although French singles can use huge quantities in their own market (which make them appear at good positions in the European Top 100) there are almost no French singles that show up in other countries with the occasional exception of Switzerland and Belgium (this is, the French speaking parts of these countries). One noontime seemed to make it all over, Rose Laurens' African VIEA, but it sold only big numbers in Germany last year. The biggest surprise in Paris this year, was the enormous success of The Short 's Thriller album, didn't seem to become a big hit the first weeks after its release but slowly it's coming up, with new positions in Germany at nr.51, charting in the U.K. at nr. 56 and nr. 17 (from 19) on the European Top 100. That will keep the Thriller album even longer at the top, it now already for the 13th week at nr. 1 in the European Top 100 albums. Womack & Womack's fantastic soul single Love Wars moved up 23 places (see also our Review Section for this week), while INXS' Original Sin went up 40 places due to a nr. 3 in France. Thin Lizzy's Under The Bridges also a word of French. How about the chauvinistic image of the French?

CHART CHAT CONTINUED

Chris De Burgh makes waves with his album Man On The Line, which came in straight at nr. 3 in Germany and nr. 13 in the U.K. (The single High On Emotion is not only heavily tipped by our correspondents but also charted in the European Top 100 at nr. 15. One of the most played singles (and best shown videos) in England, The Cockteils' Pretty/ Devotion's Drops is showing nowhere but in England. The single is not even tipped by our correspondents this week which surprises, as the same artists had a nice Central European hit under a different name namely This Mortal Coil with the single Song To The Siren. So correspondents, you know what to tip next week? Islands major campaign for the new Bob Marley album Legend is paying off with a high entry in The European Top 100/Naim at nr. 57. The voice of the single One Love includes many famous fanemus such as Paul McCartney, Ashwood, Stella & Claire of The Belle Stars and Suggs & Chas of Madness.

It seems we're having a kind of 'acoustic/psychadelic wave' going on especially in the US and the U.K. Groups like The Alarm (great single The New Los Angeles) and The Eighties; Joe Cocker- Civilized Man.
